"Crawford's Claim" to be Produced in Ishpeming by the Negaunee Dramatic Club.

FINE TURNOUT ON MEMORIAL DAY ASSURED.

THE GRAND ARMY BENEFIT.

The Negaunee Dramatic club, which was requested to produce the drama, "Crawford's Claim," in this city on the evening of Decoration Day for the benefit of Charles Towne Post Grand Army of the Republic, yesterday decided to comply with the wishes of the old soldiers. The club asks no compensation whatever, save payment of its expenses, for its work.

The Negaunee ladies and gentlemen who have so kindly consented to assist the veterans of the G. A. R. post here in the endeavor to raise money to defray expenses incurred in properly observing Memorial Day will be greeted by a full house. In addition to the benevolent purpose to be subserved, the drama itself is well worth seeing and those who attend will certainly be repaid for the time spent and money expended. The play has been produced twice at Negaunee, the last time by special request of those who attended the first presentation. The prices of admission will be arranged by the Grand Army committee, Messrs. O. B. Robinson and George Scott.

The members of the post are exerting themselves to arrange an interesting program for the Memorial Day exercises. A speaker from outside will be engaged to deliver the oration. Hon. Washington Gardner of the lower peninsula was invited, but he was obliged to decline as he had previously made an engagement for that day.

An effort is now being made to secure Mr. Chas. A. Towne of Duluth, who is one of the finest speakers in the northwest. On last Friday, Grand Day, Mr. Towne addressed the Marquette club in Chicago. His discourse on that occasion was eloquent and was enthusiastically received. If the post is not successful in engaging Mr. Towne some other speaker will be secured.

Quite a number of the Ishpeming societies have responded accepting the invitation of the post to turn out in a body on Decoration Day. The Robert Emmett Light Guards are included in the list. It is quite certain that the turnout this year will be fully as large, if not larger, than that of a year ago, judging from the number of societies which have already accepted the invitation to participate in the exercises.

The post will hold a meeting Friday evening next when matters now in the hands of the committees will be considered. The Decoration Day committee consists of Charles L. Sheldon, George Scott and Charles Merryweather.

Business Changes.

Joseph A. Voelker, junior member of the firm of Voelker Bros., retail liquor dealers and wholesale agents for the Joseph Schlitz Brewing company of Milwaukee, yesterday purchased the interest of his brother, George Voelker, and will hereafter conduct the business on his own account. The firm has been doing business for nearly twenty years. For nearly twenty years prior to that time the business was conducted by George and his father, the late Nicholas Voelker. J. J. Voelker also had an interest in it for a time before starting for himself.

Will Play Here.

The Rice, Wolford & Sheridan Dramatic company, which is filling a three nights' and matinee engagement at the Marquette Opera house this week, has been secured by the management of the opera house here to play in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 17, 18 and 19. Without doubt the company is the best of its kind, considering the prices of admission—ten, twenty and thirty cents—that has yet visited the upper peninsula. This company carries its own special scenery, all of which is new. Mr. Rice, the manager, was in Ishpeming one day recently and obtained the dimensions of the City Opera house stage and assured the management that that the scenery could be used here.

The company will produce the same plays here that it is presenting at Marquette. They are "The Smugglers," "The Train-wreckers" and "Underground." The company is attracting big houses and giving excellent satisfaction at Marquette.

Several Saloonists Retiring.

Quite a number of the Ishpeming saloon keepers closed their doors permanently Monday night. Among these are Gunville Bros., Martin Peterson, Sodergren Bros., Thomas Williams and George Campbell. The saloon business has been rather light during the past winter and many of the dealers did not have patronage enough to enable them to meet expenses. It is thought that the number of saloons here this year will be reduced to about thirty. The city council will hold a regular meeting tonight when the liquor license bonds will be presented for approval.

Frozen to the Ice.

Many have wondered what has caused so many of the fish in Lake Bancroft to die. A gentleman who resides near the lake yesterday informed THE MINING JOURNAL that the fish in some manner came in contact with the ice and were frozen to death. When the ice began to break and move toward shore some of the fish were found frozen in the center of the cakes. This shows that they had been killed by the frost instead of by the impurity of the

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF

W. S. Taylor of Appleton was in the city yesterday.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the city council will be held tonight.

A large quantity of mud was scraped from the principal business streets of the city yesterday.

Dan Coughlin and his brother Thomas, of Hancock visited friends at Marquette yesterday.

The Lake Superior Iron company is getting its two switch engines in readiness for business. They will be brought out in a few days.

Henry Lepiaw, Sr., of Appleton is expected here today with two carloads of new milk cows. He will make headquarters at Losselyong's place.

Three new players will be taken into the setters base ball club to take the places of Ginnings, Lynn and Heard, who recently went up the road.

The prices of admission to the Nibbe Burlesque company's performance tomorrow evening will be twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents. Reserved seats will be sold at the door.

Peter Sennett left last night for Merryville, Mon., where he has relatives residing. He expects to secure work shortly after his arrival there. His wife will remain here for the present.

Pope & Billings moved their saloon furniture and fixtures from Negaunee to this city yesterday. They will be ready for business at Thomas Williams' old stand, corner of Main and Division streets, today.

Gunville Bros. offer their saloon fixtures—an entire outfit complete—for sale in this issue of THE MINING JOURNAL. They have a fine outfit and will sell it at a bargain, as they have gone out of the business.

The Kirkwood pharmacy is exhibiting a new Imperial bicycle of the latest design. It weighs thirty pounds, which is the heaviest wheel made by the company manufacturing this kind of a bicycle. A lady's Imperial wheel will be received in a few days.

Dock Carter, a notorious character, who hung around Ishpeming for a while a little over a year ago, passed through here yesterday en route from Houghton to the branch prison at Marquette. This is the second time Carter has been sent to prison within the past ten years.

Thomas J. Dundon, the newly appointed stamp clerk for the First district, will take charge of his office today or tomorrow, as soon as everything is in readiness for the transfer. Mr. Sandberg did not expect a removal on such short notice, he not having received notification of the transfer until Monday.

BANK OF ENGLAND ODDITIES.

Curiousities Which Include a Note for $50,000,000, the Amount Written in Ink.

Among the curiosities which are occasionally shown to favored visitors are some specimens of ancient notes, a number of them for denominations no longer in vogue, such as £1, £15 and £25. There is also carefully preserved the oldest surviving note, one of the year 1699, the amount being written with ink, says the Pall Mall Budget. Another curiosity is a note for £1,000,000, which was required for some transaction between the bank and the government, but in this case, too, the amount is written with a pen. The longest time during which a note has remained outside the bank is 111 years. It was for £25, and it is computed that the compound interest during that long period amounted to no less than £6,000. There is quite a labyrinth of vaults where the disused notes are stored until they have reached the necessary maturity of five years. They are estimated to weigh ninety-one tons and number about 77,745,000, filling 13,400 boxes, and were of the original value of £1,750,626,000. The Bank of England note is a legal tender for any amount in excess of its face value, but not for less. Thus a person might refer to take a £5 note in payment of a debt of £4 19 s 6d, though, as a matter of fact, nobody would be so foolish as to do so. It must be remembered that bank notes are only legal tenders as between members of the public, so long as the bank pays in gold on demand. If such an unlikely thing were to happen as the bank being unable to redeem its promises to pay, then its notes would at once cease to be legal tender. Even as it is their legal tender quality does not extend to Ireland or Scotland.

WILL NOT WEAR TROUSERS.

The Woman of the Future Will Have Due Regard for the Beautiful.

This is a picture of the woman of the future as drawn by a well-known society leader of New York: "She will not wear trousers. On the contrary, her garments will be prettier, more effeminate, more gentle and tender than she is now. Why? Because she will realize, by being all these, that her power will be increased in a corresponding ratio. Woman's rights are invariably associated in a man's mind with the loud-voiced woman, the woman without little personal vanities, the woman who is indifferent to her appearance, who wears big boots and would like to wear high hats and make other incursions on his wardrobe. He is the reigning power now, and, looking at things from this point of vision, can he be blamed for not wanting to abdicate in favor of anyone so unattractive to him as this person? There will be more marriages for love in her day than there are now, for the reason that natural selection will replace convenience. She will be qualified for work, and not fearing it, will not marry for support. She will be able to provide for herself, and when she marries it will be because she loves the man, because he is congenial and sympathetic to her and will not retard her mental and moral development. She will be fearless and frank, and will have the courage of her convictions."

CAPTURED STRANGE BIRDS.

They Were Flitting About the Streets and the Police Netted Them.

EMIL BRUCE LETS SOME MORE SUB-CONTRACTS.

Rice, Wolford & Sheridan Dramatic Company Scores a Second Success in "The Train Wreckers."

KEEP THEM WALKING.

Monday night two animals, strange to Marquette, were captured in Washington street by the police. They were prowling about in search of such prey as might chance to fall into their hands. This consisted chiefly of nickels and dimes wrung by piteous appeals from soft hearted persons and deposited straightway in the mite box of some neighboring shrine of Bacchus.

When the strangers had offered sundry—or about that many—libations they became possessed of a wondrous zeal to serve their particular god in proper fashion and it was at this moment the minions of the law interfered, captured the odd birds and put them in the municipal cage. Here a strong search light was turned on them and under the marshal's microscope they were discovered to be two perfect specimens of the genus homo, species ambulans. Yesterday morning "Judge" Meads donned his official ermine as the peculiar birds were brought before him and in his severest tones he upbraided them for their unjustifiable course against the peace and dignity of society, and as they had not a sufficient number of begged nickels to make a sum total of $10 they were each ordered taken to the stronghold of Sheriff Broad for ten days.

The actions of the tramps, for such they turned out to be, pure and simple, were of the cheekiest brand imaginable. They would take a collection until enough was gathered to make a visit to a saloon a probable success and after dissipating their aims in bowls of foamy mead would once more sally forth to tempt the unwary. They claimed to be railway men "down on their luck" and this touched the sympathies of some South Shore boys who gave them money to get their dinner. They got gloriously drunk on the donation and then wanted to clean out the Northwestern Hotel because the landlord refused to feed them for nothing. As soon as their ten days are up it would not be an unwise idea for the police to see that they promptly shake the dust of the Queen City from off their feet and keep right on shaking until their ragged, soap untortured forms make pigmy silhouettes atop of the distant horizon.

Marquette has boasted for years an absolute freedom from tramps and it would be wise to keep up the good record. We are far enough from the great tramp highways to keep the few stragglers who chance within our borders moving until they leave us far behind again. There is no room here for such lawless, lazy animals.

On his way back from depositing his first wheelbarrow load of laundry Policeman Steinberg found another jag carelessly ensconced in A. H. Palmer's doorway. This one was not so drunk, however, but that a boot rapidly applied to the quarter deck of his overhauls aroused him and helped him to make fairly speedy tracks to his home, the policeman's foot closely following him to keep him awake.

More City Hall Work Let.

Contractor Bruce of the City Hall, was in the city yesterday and announced the letting of a few more sub-contracts. The rough lumber and flooring for the building will be furnished by F. W. Read & Co. The Lakeside Iron works will look after what structural iron is necessary and W. F. Porter & Co. of Minneapolis will put in the heating apparatus.

H. H. Farnham, representing Porter & Co., was in the city getting necessary measurements and other details so that his company may begin making the plant at once. In each case of sub-contract awards Mr. Bruce has given preference to the lowest bidder, offering first-class materials, without reference to place of residence. Marquette firms appear to have been favored as much as possible, but where outsiders have underbidden the home people the lowest man, other things being equal, has got the job.

The basement foundation is almost finished and Mr. Klarquist hopes to have the first floor down and the foundation properly protected within a week. Considering the length and thickness of the walls the advance of work is very gratifying. Four great windows at the northwest corner already mark the position of the new city jail and Mr. Klarquist was heard yesterday offering to give away the combination to two aldermen and a newspaper man for $25 apiece. Why he should have selected these is beyond comprehension.

Saturday, May 10, has been set for laying the corner stone and preparations are making to do the occasion justice.

"The Train Wreckers."

At a time when this land is touched throughout its length and breadth with labor agitations; when some of the most gigantic strikes on record are in operation and daily spreading, a dramatic production dealing at all with questions at stake or interests involved concerning the contest between organized labor and equally organized capital, is likely to touch an active cord of interest in the hearts of the average theater goers.

Such was the experience of the Rice, Wolford & Sheridan company last night at the opera house in its presentation of the "The Train Wreckers." The play deals with a big railway strike of some years ago; but only incidentally allows its labor features to show. The chain of the plot passes through the actions of individuals rather than masses and deals more with human passions than economic principles. It is a story culled from the strike rather than an attempt to work up public sympathy by running in the most passion rousing consequence the story is pleasing and not particularly overdrawn, at least it managed to hold the attention of a well filled house and send every person away with a good word for the well balanced company that told it so intelligently.

F. C. Walton, was the chief drawing card of last night's production, presenting as Baldy Trask, a really memorable portrayal of a genuine city "bum" and tough who would commit any crime for a pittance. His work was not overdrawn and his grim humor infectious. W. J. Deming showed to advantage as Jeremiah Scroggs and sang a well received topical song. Light comedy without dialect seems best adapted to his talents and in such a line as last night's impersonation he should attain more than passing success. As Jabez Kraft C. B. Barrington sustained the good impression made Monday night and added an additional leaf to his laurel. Lawrence Holmes handled carefully the part of Jack Barry and his disguise as an Irish servant and August Wolford was fair as the aged Rosel Rutherford. Josina Holmes and Fannie Ogden lent their assistance to rounding a satisfactory performance in which all acquitted themselves with credit.

The scenic effects were excellent throughout. The prison scene and lightning effects, the blown-up bridge, tramps' lodging, in fact each feature was realistic and handled in a prize-worthy manner. The rain did not keep many away and a decided compliment to the quality of the plays and company was the presence of many who had witnessed the previous night's performance.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, in order to accommodate school children, "Mystic Mountain" will be played at a special matinee. Admission ten and twenty-five cents. Tonight the company will make its last appearance in "Underground," which they announce as containing the best scenic effects of the entire stand.

Wheelbarrow Full of Jags.

Superintendent Retalle of the street railway company is known to be one of the most obliging men in the city and has got so used to carrying people on his cars that a great deal of surprise was not shown by a MINING JOURNAL man who last night about 12 o'clock ran across the good-natured gentleman in Third street sturdily grasping the handles of a wheelbarrow in which reposed in unstudied carelessness one of the most teetotally unstrung specimens of utterly jagged humanity it was ever the reporter's fortune, or misfortune, to see. Policeman Nels Steinberg walked by the side of the barrow to steady it and at the intersection of Washington street took his turn as a propelling power. The strange procession halted at the opera house and while Nels lubricated his hands in the approved fashion the reporter took a general survey of the bundle of man and whiskey lying dead like in the bottom of the primitive vehicle.

A small crowd quickly gathered. At first glance the man appeared dead, but on feeling his pulse a strong beat was perceptible and his breath threw two men against the fence and knocked chips off the cornice of the opera house block. The greater part of his body was curled up in the barrow, but his legs dangled on either side of the wheel as limp as a last year's carrot. The roughest shaking failed to break his drunken stupor and the cold rain beat against his face and bare head without making the faintest impression on him. By the time the inventory was taken some new comer exclaimed: "Why, that's John Swanson; he was at work yesterday on the Ohio street sewer. Great Scott, but isn't that a jag for your life!" Then Nels bent his back, Mr. Retalle steadied the barrow and the procession proceeded towards the police station where Swanson will sleep off his load and perhaps explain how he came by such a pyramidal tank.

Mr. Retalle said he ran across the drunken man lying on the sidewalk in Third street near La Jennesse's saloon. He got Policeman Steinberg and together they half carried, half dragged the dead drunk man four blocks, when they found an old navy wheelbarrow and dumped him in it. From the time of finding him until he was rolled on a bunk in the police cell he showed not the slightest outward sign of life.

Will Be Quarantined.

As may be noticed in a dispatch from the Soo in the marine items the steamer Peerless was detained yesterday at that port by the health authorities because it was supposed one of the crew was suffering from small pox, but that later she was released from quarantine and cleared at 7 o'clock for Marquette.

THE MINING JOURNAL at once notified Health Officer Harkins of the contents of the dispatch and he has taken measures to have the vessel quarantined in the harbor here until a thorough inspection is made. The Soo authorities did not send word as to what was the result of their search and Dr. Harkins will take every precaution to assure himself definitely on the matter before the Peerless is allowed to land a man.

This may only be an idle rumor but as the scourge is reported prevalent to some extent in Detroit and other ports touched by the boats making regular calls here it would be a wise precaution for our health board to take measures to inspect every boat touching here until more favorable news comes from lower lake and river ports. Dr. Harkins will not likely take any other health officers' judgment on this rumor but thoroughly investigate for himself.

SUMMER EXCURSIONS TO ONOTA, AU TRAIN AND MUNISING.

The South Shore have placed on sale at their Marquette station ticket office, excursion tickets to Onota, Au Train and Munising at the low rates of single fare for the round trip. These tickets will remain on sale during the entire season and will be good for fifteen days from date of issue. Hunting, fishing and camping parties take notice.
