"AMERICAN MOTHERHOOD."

President Cleveland's Eloquent Tribute at Unveiling of Mary Washington's Monument.

FELICITOUS WORDS UPON A NOBLE THEME

Regrets That He Is Not a Free Mason but Belongs to a Greater Fraternity.

"GOOD WORDS FITLY SPOKEN."

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 1.—The special train bearing the presidential party for the ceremony of unveiling the monument to the memory of Mary, the mother of George Washington, arrived from Washington at 11 a. m. Among those accompanying the party were Vice President Stevenson, Secretaries Carlisle, Gresham, Lamont and Bissell, Chief Justice Fuller, Mrs. Waite, widow of the late Chief Justice Waite, president of the Mary Washington Memorial association, and the cabinet ladies. The military and civic procession was formed on the arrival of the train and wound its way through the town to the green knoll where the monument stands.

The dedicatory exercises consisted of addresses of welcome by Mayor Rowe and Governor O'Ferrall, the Masonic rites, an address by Lawrence Washington, a descendant of Mary Washington, an oration by Senator Daniel, the orator of the day. The monument is a granite monolith fifty feet high, bearing the inscription: "Mary, Mother of Washington."

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S ADDRESS.

President Cleveland presided and responded to the addresses of the mayor and governor, expressing his sincere thanks for the hearty welcome extended to the official guests by the state and city. His appreciation of the warmth of this greeting was not diminished, he said, the thought that, in the highest sense, there were no guests present.

"We have assembled," the president said, "on an equality to worship at a sacred national shrine. Nothing can be more important to those who have assumed the responsibility of self-government than the cultivation and stimulation among themselves of sentiments that enoble and elevate and strengthen humanity. As a clear and wholesome stream must have its flow from a pure fountain-head, so must clean and beneficial popular government have its source in pure and morally healthy men. This purity, this manly health, in nothing is better exemplified than in the love and reverence for motherhood. The man who said he cared not who made the people's laws if he could write their songs, might have said with more truth that he could manage the strength and vigor of any people and their fitness for self-government if he knew the depth and steadfastness of their love for their mothers."

"Let us recall today as a conclusive proof of the close relation between American greatness and lasting love for our mothers, the proud declaration of George Washington: 'All I am I owe to my mother,' and let us not forget when his glory was greatest and and when the plaudits of his countrymen were loudest, he valued more than these the blessing and approval of his aged mother."

"Remembering these things, let us leave this place with our love of country strengthened, with a higher estimate of the value of citizenship and with a prayer to God that our people may hold fast to the sentiment that grows from love and reverence for American motherhood."

REGRETS HE'S NOT A MASON.

FREDERICKSBURG lodge, No. 4, of Free Masons, in which George Washington was made a Mason, gave a banquet at the opera house after the ceremonies at the monument. Covers were laid for 350 people. Vice President Stevenson sat at the head of the right hand table. Chief Justice Fuller presided over the left and the place of honor at the center table was vacant when the banquet commenced. During the banquet President Cleveland entered the hall quietly and was standing in the center of the stage with the members of his cabinet and ladies before he was recognized.

Then the house shook with cheers and Judge James B. Sener introduced the president, pointing to the portraits of Washington and Andrew Jackson above the proscenium arch and alluding to Mr. Cleveland as the legitimate successor of both. The president said in response: "Gentlemen, I am a good deal embarrassed by the mention of my two distinguished predecessors and by the fact that they were both members of the society under whose auspices this banquet is given. I congratulate the members of the fraternity represented here. I am obliged to acknowledge my own shortcoming in not being a member of it. Perhaps it is my fault; certainly it is my misfortune. "Those in fault seek compensation. I too have the honor to belong to a great fraternity, and of which George Washington and Andrew Jackson were prominent members—the fraternity whose grip means a united stand for American interests, whose password is 'The people's cause under all circumstances,' whose temple is not as old as the temple of Solomon, but is as old as American institutions—the fraternity that can never die, for its fruits will always be before the world. You know the name of this fraternity. It is the brotherhood of free and accepted and patriotic American citizens."

Judge Sener acted as toastmaster, introducing first the well known journalist, George Alfred Townsend, who read a poem, Vice President Stevenson followed with a response to "George Washington, the Master Workman of His Age." Associate Justice John M. Harlan spoke to the toast, "Our Distinguished Guest."

SAMOA AND HAWAII.

Latest Advice from Those Troublesome Islands.

APIA, Samoa, April 25, per steamer Alameda, San Francisco, May 10.—[Correspondence Associated Press.]—No fighting among the natives has occurred since the last letter. The German war ship Falk arrived April 15 to protect German interests here. The British ship Curacoa arrived April 31 to perform like duty for British interests. It is believed their presence will be effective in preventing bloodshed for the present.

Much indignation is felt here at the slanderous attack on Chief Justice Ide in a cablegram from Auckland, April 3, in which it was stated that the chief justice and his treatment of certain prisoners caused the war. These statements have no foundation whatever and appear to have been inspired by personal or political malice.

ELECTIONS WERE NEGLECTED.

HONOLULU, May 3, per steamer Alameda via San Francisco, May 10.—The election for delegates to the Constitutional convention was held yesterday and passed off very quietly. No Royalist candidates were in the field and consequently there was no special interest taken in the election. The American Union party had five candidates and six others who ran independently of the regular ticket were elected. One of these, A. Kunnickie, is a descendant of the old reigning family, the Kamehamehas, and the last of his race. The total vote cast was 1,691. The Portuguese voted solidly for their two candidates and elected both. Returns from the other islands are not yet in but there is very little opposition to the American Union party.

G. R. Wilson, the ex-queen's marshal, has been arrested on a charge of being accessory before the fact in a mayhem case and released on $1,000 bail.

"THERE CAME A MIGHTY WIND."

Child Killed in Its Cradle and Several Others Hurt.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10.—A severe wind and rain storm visited this city and vicinity this afternoon and many buildings were unroofed and the loss will be in the thousands. Sheds and outbuildings in every part of the city were blown down. The street car system for a time was demoralized and telephone and telegraph wires useless. The infant child of S. J. Huntsman was killed while sleeping in its cradle and a number of persons were more or less injured by falling walls and flying debris. The roof of the Riley block was blown off and crashed into an adjoining building where a number of girls were employed. Libbie James was cut about the head and face and Amanda Miller injured internally. The Mause brewery was damaged to the extent of $3,000 and a number of other large establishments were also damaged.

RIVER STEAMER CAPSIZED.

MT. VERNON, Ind., May 10.—A tornado reached this city this afternoon, doing much damage. The roof of Wechsler's block was torn off. Sheds, fences, barns and out buildings were blown away. The steamer Eugene was overturned in the middle of the river. Fifteen people were on board but they saved themselves by taken refuge on a barge the boat was towing. The boat was valued at $10,000 and is a total loss.

DEADLY TROLLEY WIRE.

AKRON, O., May 10.—A terrific wind storm struck this city this morning. The street trolley was damaged seriously. A broken trolley wire struck several people, injuring them severely. Two serious runaways resulted from fright to horses.

WRECKED BY THE FLOOD

Stillwater Struggling to Get Out of Mud and Water.

STILLWATER, May 10.—Some of the sights incident to the Johnstown horror were repeated here today as a result of last night's storm. The streets are impassable in the business portion and hundreds of teams and men are at work cleaning up. There is at least three feet of earth on the Sawyer house floor. The damage is at least $50,000. The first train on the St. Paul & Duluth road arrived this morning. There are bad washouts along the line above Dutchtown and holes in the side hills thirty feet deep. Omaha trains are running in by way of Hudson, Wis. Passengers on the Duluth road were compelled to walk a mile. No street cars will run for a week or more. It was far the worst storm ever known here.

NICARAGUANS ARE SAUCY.

Commander of the San Francisco Calls Them Down Sharply.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The navy department has received dispatches from the commander of the United States steam ship San Francisco, now at Bluefields, Nicaragua. He says it has become necessary to take stringent measures to insure proper protection to Americans. He has demanded that Arguelo, charged with the unprovoked murder of William Wilson, be promptly tried instead of being allowed to go about at his will. He has also notified the authorities that Americans are not being adequately protected and that he proposes to see to it that they shall be.

LOOTED THE TREASURY.

Chickasaw Schools Have No Money to Pay Teachers.

TISHOMINGO, I. T., May 10.—The Chickasaw national treasury is empty and the schools will have to suspend for lack of money to pay teachers. Judges, jurors and witnesses will have to take scrip. The district judge, attorney general and governor are under indictment for malfeasance in office and embezzlement.

IRELAND'S WISE WORDS.

Great Archbishop's Sound Counsel to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

STRIKE SHOULD BE AVOIDED AS WAR IS AVOIDED.

Both War and Strike Sometimes Necessary but Justice and Humanity Should Govern Both.

PROPERTY IS SOCIETY'S BASE

ST. PAUL, May 10.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers formally opened its biennial conference this afternoon. The morning was devoted to preliminary routine work. This afternoon the visitors were welcomed by Governor Nelson, Mayor Wright of St. Paul, Mayor Eastus of Minneapolis, Archbishop Ireland and others. Grand Chief Arthur responded. Archbishop Ireland in the course of his speech said:

"I demand for the laborer and his family, so far as through just and rational measures we can reach there, the means of decent livelihood, opportunities to develop intellect, care for bodily health and moral and religious growth and to receive their due portion of the joys of human existence in recompense for the toils which will not fail to press upon them.

"Let me now enter my brief plea for capital. At once you will unite with me in extending over it the shield which covers property, whether this be the extensive investments of the rich or the circumscribed possessions of the poor. Property is the very foundation stone of the social fabric. It is the incentive and reward of industry and energy. He who menaces property is an anarchist, and an anarchist is the deadly foe of order and the rights of society.

STRIKE SAME AS WAR.

"I am not afraid to mention the word 'strike,' nor will I say that never should strikes be counselled. I say this much, however, of strikes. They are in the industrial world what wars are between peoples, to be dreaded for the ruin they cause, and never to be urged except when all other counsels have failed and where great interests are at stake. When strikes do take place they must be like war as between civilized nations, conducted under the dictates of justice and humanity. Why cannot employers and employees avoid discord by peaceful arbitration? He who decides against it and takes to physical prowess awakens suspicion against himself."

PROGRESS OF THE ORDER.

Grand Chief Arthur then delivered his official address. After some general remarks he referred to the depression in general business and the prospects of the Brotherhood.

During the past two years the Brotherhood had paid 405 benefits, to the amount of $943,300, making a total of $4,721,369.61 paid to widows and orphans since the Brotherhood was organized. Thirty-eight sub-divisions have been added since the last convention, making a total of 535 sub-divisions, representing 35,000 members. All differences of opinion with the various railway companies had been adjusted satisfactorily, save in the cases of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan and the Lehigh Valley roads, full report of which was made at the time.

BLOODTHIRSTY BANDITS.

Four Unresisting Citizens Are Badly Wounded by Bank Robbers.

SOUTH WEST CITY, Mo., May 10.—Seven men armed with Winchester and revolvers rode into town at 3 o'clock and robbed the bank, getting between $3,000 and $4,000. Two were stationed on the sidewalk, three entered the bank with a sack and two others guarded the horses. About one hundred shots were fired by the robbers and four prominent citizens were badly wounded. J. C. Seabourn and O. L. Seabourn were shot through the groin. Mort Hambree had his leg broken by a bullet. S. J. Multon, United States deputy marshal, received a flesh wound in the leg.

The robbers were about ten minutes going through the bank, then they mounted their horses and started for the Indian Territory at full gallop. As they were leaving the outskirts some one fired several shots at them, killing a horse and wounding one robber. He immediately secured another horse from a farmer who was passing and followed his companions.

FATAL DISOBEDIENCE.

Engineer and Messenger Killed, Fireman and Two Clerks Hurt.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., May 10.—A head-on collision occurred between a passenger train from Minneapolis and a freight near Menominee Junction, this morning. Both engines were demolished and the cars badly shattered. Engineer James Jeffrey of the passenger train was instantly killed and Express Messenger W. T. Burt met the same fate. Fireman Seth Gardner escaped with a broken leg and several hand bruises. The two mail clerks, H. C. Harlow and W. S. Reese, were hurt, the former seriously and the latter not so badly. None of the passengers were hurt. The accident is supposed to be due to disobedience of orders on the part of the conductor and engineer of the passenger train.

WHAT will the Detroit papers do for a standing sensational topic when the street railway complication there is finally adjusted? There is not any immediate prospect of its adjustment, however, so they have no special cause for worry on that score as yet.

COXEY now admits that he had no warrant for claiming that he represents ninety-nine per cent. of the American people. He represents all we have of the kind of people who accompanied him to Washington and misrepresents the balance when he claims that they have any sympathy with his crazy "Industrial army" movement.

THERE is some talk of putting Hon. Thos. Dunstan of Houghton forward for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor this year. If Mr. Dunstan is willing to make the run the party would make no blunder in giving him the nomination. He would strengthen the ticket in this part of the state and would make a splendid presiding officer for the state senate if elected.

INFLUENCED by the appeals of the people of Virginia, Mr. Corrigan has started work again at the Franklin mine, which was closed down in consequence of the recent strike of the miners employed there. He was urged to do this so that the men might have a chance to earn their own living and not become a burden on Virginia, as they could not find work in any of the other mines on the Mesaba range and had no money to enable them to leave for other regions. Only 125 of the 300 men formerly employed were taken back, however, and these have been selected from the old force with an eye to securing the best and steadiest men. Mr. Corrigan says that all the mines on the Mesaba may have to close down soon if the coal and coke strike in the east continues much longer, as that is seriously affecting the demand for ore.

"HOB" TAYLOR, the editor of the Madison (Wis.) State Journal, is having a difficult time of it working up his gubernatorial boom, despite the fact that he has a paper in his own to pump wind into it with. The Republicans of Wisconsin have pretty much made up their minds to have Mayor Koch of Milwaukee head their state ticket this year and don't listen kindly to the Madison editor's pleas in his own behalf, although he supports his candidacy with forcible arguments showing that his nomination is demanded by the best interests of the state and his party. Modesty was never a failing that Taylor could be charged with, but the people of Wisconsin never before had such an opportunity to size up his gall as he is now according them.

THE Democrats in congress have demonstrated sufficiently that they cannot frame a tariff bill acceptable as a whole to even a majority of their own number. How can they expect, then, that it will be satisfactory to the country at large? They seem to be dominated by the idea that they must pass some kind of a tariff measure to satisfy the people but they should know that the people do not want a bill passed for the mere sake of having a change made in the tariff schedule. If the Democrats would only enact a tariff law whose workings would enable the country to decide between the opposing ideas on the tariff they would do some good, but they can do none whatever by enacting one that is only a modification of that already in operation. They should either put their ideas in a bill and pass it or drop the whole business and let the tariff remain as it is.

TARIFF COMMISSION SENTIMENT. THE MINING JOURNAL was among the first of the papers of the country to urge the wisdom of having a permanent commission created by congress for the purpose of studying industrial conditions, and recommending, from time to time, such changes in the tariff schedule as its researches would lead it to consider advisable. It is gratified to find that there is a steady increase in sentiment favoring this plan of dealing with the tariff problem among the leading journals as well as in congress itself.

The members of that body perceive that it is impossible to frame and pass an honest tariff measure—that is, a bill that will not be warped out of shape by sectional and class interests. They begin to appreciate the fact that a commission whose members would devote their entire time to the study of the economic situation could deal with the tariff question wholly with a view to the public good, whereas members of congress have to treat it with reference to the sentiment of their constituents and the declarations of party platforms, which not infrequently compel the individual member to vote against his convictions and what he knows to be demanded by the common welfare in matters of tariff legislation.

The Washington correspondent of the Minneapolis Journal has been sounding members of congress on the proposition to have such a commission created and finds a strong sentiment in its favor among both the senators and representatives. Commenting on this, the paper named editorially observes that— There are many Democrats, as well as Republicans, who see the folly of handing over such a vitally important task as tariff making to a group of politicians. The work of the Democrats in the present congress, notably in the senate, presents towering proof of the weakness of such a process. The senate bill today is a conspicuous proof of the need of a non-partisan commission. To such a board, no doubt, the Republicans would agree, that the schedules might be made in accordance with the needs of American industries as well as the need for revenue, the difference between the cost of production in Europe and this country to be always considered in adjusting the duties. It is perfectly possible to effect the organization of such a permanent commission of tariff experts. The country would not then be kept in suspense for nearly two years, as has been the case in the present ebullition of Democratic "tariff reform," so called. Business men would not be kept in uncertainty, beset by rumors and threats of radical changes in the dutiable schedules, not knowing on what basis to do business.

Such a state of affairs is simply disgraceful in an intelligent nation like ours. It has resulted in the cutting down of wages, in the closing of factories, in the demoralization of business. Remove the tariff question from the grasp of politicians and we remove a leading procuring cause of business impairment and individual suffering. The failure of the present system of dealing with the tariff is complete. Let Republicans and Democrats come and reason together. The tariff is a business question. Let the nation dispose of it in a business way.

As the Minneapolis paper remarks of it, "the tariff is a business question." Why not deal with it in a business way, then, instead of making it a political issue and permitting our business interests to be a secondary consideration in the arrangement of tariff schedules, as they will continue to be while these are fixed by politicians who think more of gaining votes for themselves and their party than of promoting the general prosperity?

We shall never have a stable tariff policy while the tariff continues to be a political issue, and what we want above all other things in the tariff laws is stability, and the certainty that when changes are made they will be designed to promote the greatest good of the greatest number, and not to unduly favor this section or that, or this or that interest. We may obtain this through the work of a tariff commission properly made up, and in no other way. Let us have such a commission.

A PLETHORA OF GOLD.

The London Economist in a recent issue calls attention to the persistence with which gold continues to flow to London from foreign countries. It states that there has not been a single week since the beginning of the year in which the receipts of gold at the Bank of England have not exceeded the withdrawals. The net influx for the seventeen weeks amounts to $22,020,000. As there has been during the same period a gain of $14,128,475 gold from the domestic circulation, the bank's stock of the yellow metal has risen to the enormous total of $159,191,035, in comparison with $122,442,560 at the end of last year.

To show how immensely the present specie hue exceeds the amount usually held in the last week of April it is stated that in the previous seven years the specie reported by the bank at the corresponding date has never exceeded $120,545,240, and that the average at the end of April in the seven years has been only $115,764,000. Thus the present exhibit is $43,427,035 larger than the average holding for the same time of year.

The Economist draws a pertinent lesson for the bimetalist alarmists from this plethoric supply of the yellow metal. "When bimetalists," it says, "are bewailing more loudly than ever an alleged scarcity of gold, it would be well if they could give us some reasonable explanation of this accumulation. They have always been proclaiming that, unless a larger use was made of silver, the struggle for gold would become so intense as to produce widespread disaster. And we see how their predictions are being fulfilled."

BURGLARS HELD FOR TRIAL.

Attempt on Herrmann's Jewelry Store Lands Three Men in Jail.

THIEVES' REFUGE THAT NEEDS INVESTIGATION.

Peninsula Electric Light & Power Company Duplicates Its Plant at Houghton.

(All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton.)

RED JACKET.

The attempt burglary of Herrmann's jewelry store and the robbery of Dagenas on the Calumet and Lake Linden road had furnished considerable excitement this week. No clue has been discovered to the highway robbers but the prompt arrest of McCarthy, Quirk and Hansen for burglary will probably be a warning to local toughs that they are taking great risks in choosing burglary as a vocation. Mr. Herrmann and his sons at once suspected McCarthy and his pal when they were in his store sizing up the location of the vault and valuable merchandise. Mr. Lucas Herrmann says if he had been able to have raised the window high enough to them would undoubtedly have carried away a leaden souvenir. An examination of the prisoners was held at Justice Sweden's court yesterday morning. There was sufficient evidence against them to warrant their being bound over to appear at the next term of circuit court and in default of bail they were taken to the county jail at Houghton.

Rice, Wolford & Sheridan's Dramatic company arrived here yesterday afternoon and gave its first performance in the Opera House last evening. The company's splendid acting, as reported by THE MINING JOURNAL at numerous and by the audiences who attended at Lake Linden and Houghton, is now giving it full houses.

The special train for the accommodation of those who are going to Houghton to see Keene leaves here at 6 p. m. today.

Mrs. Thomas Hoatson returned last evening from Negaunee where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Cole.

LAKE LINDEN.

Marshal McKinnon made a raid on the green house on the hill and arrested two of the female inmates. A third was too sick to leave the house and appear before the magistrate. They were fined $20 each and costs and ordered to leave the county. A house of ill-fame on the main road from Calumet to this place should not be tolerated as it is a place of refuge for just such characters as robbed Dagenas a few evenings ago and is nuisance to the traveling public.

The Lake Linden fire department is making extensive preparations for its annual ball, to be given in the Opera House on Friday evening, May 18. The Groverson Brass band has been engaged to furnish music.

Miss Kate Fletcher, daughter of Dr. F. E. Fletcher, left yesterday for Detroit and New York City where she will spend several weeks visiting friends.

HANCOCK.

The social club gives a May party at St. Patrick's Hall this evening. The Houghton Silver Cornet band furnishes the music and Charles A. Mayworm will officiate as prompter.

Father Atfield expects his handsome new school building to be completed about June 15. When the fall term begins in September it will be occupied by over 450 scholars.

HOUGHTON.

A 300 H. P. compound condensing engine, made by the Hall Engine company, with the necessary Hill clutches, shafting etc. is to be added to the Houghton plant of the Peninsula Electric Light & Power company. Twenty-six feet will be added to the east end of the present building for the new machinery. This will practically be duplicating the present plant, as the company did with the Lake Linden plant last year, placing both plants in admirable condition to give continuous and first class service. There are few companies who duplicate their machinery in this way but the Peninsula company has a good class of customers and proposes to give them the best service possible.

Carl Findeisen, F. V. Gindole and J. K. Jacobs of the Kerber-Jacobs company were at the Douglas House yesterday on their return from the quarries at Portage Entry. They express themselves as highly pleased with the showing at the quarry.

THE SECRET OF STEEL.

Huntsman and the Modern Process of Manufacture.

To the question "What is steel?" many answers have been given. Before the discovery of the Bessemer process it would have been defined as a compound of iron and carbon, including from 1/2 to 2 1/2 per cent. of the latter, which could be hardened, softened, tempered, drawn and welded. Capacity of tempering and welding still fix the advanced limit of steel, but at the lower end of the scale it has dropped from 1 1/2 per cent. of carbon to 1-10, thereby enormously multiplying its uses and applications. The causes and processes which have effected this advance in metallurgy have created many of the world's most important industries.

In the primitive ages of metallurgy iron and steel were made from iron ores with charcoal fuel, and the iron-maker did not need to trouble himself with the stubborn problems offered by the presence of sulphur and phosphorus. But with the exhaustion of the rich ores which were available for use, and the need of substituting mineral fuel for charcoal, these dangerous enemies came to the fore. The presence of sulphur, beyond a mere trace, in any of the forms of iron destroys its welding power, and renders it highly brittle at a red heat, or, technically, "red short." Phosphorus causes brittleness when cold; that is, makes iron "cold short," and fragile at any sudden shock. When steel ceased to be a direct product of the forge, or to be made in any large quantity from pure bloomery iron, the question arose how it could be obtained from the impure and highly carburized product of the blast-furnace. This was answered by the operation of refining, which did not fully eliminate the evils that threatened, affording but a makeshift product for the raw material of steel. The imperfectly cleaned bars were then treated by the cementation method. It was known more than two centuries ago that wrought iron enveloped in powdered charcoal and retained at a red heat for a long time would gradually change into steel. Until 1740 this process was used, with the further addition of re-heating the "blister-steel" so produced, and hammering it into what was known as "shear-metal," so called because it was first used for sheep-shears. But the product was wretched, and good highly temperable steel was imported from the far east at great cost.

A working clock-maker, Huntsman by name, disgusted with the poor quality of watch-springs, set his brains at work to find a remedy. Being a bright-witted man, he visited the different steel-works and studied the chemistry of his subject; and after several years of research he erected a furnace, which produced steel so excellent as to stir universal wonder and set his own feet on the highway to wealth. But his secret was filched by a rival, who, in the disguise of a drunken tramp, begged shelter at his furnace door one stormy winter night. The keen-eyed thief discovered enough in what he saw and heard to repeat Huntsman's success. The best steel of to-day is still made by this process. This discovery, in the course of a few years, reduced in price of the highest grade of steel from £1,000 to £100 per ton.

The cementation method of steel-making with Huntsman's addition, may be briefly summarized as the packing of wrought-iron bars in charcoal dust. They are cemented in a fire-brick chamber, and suffer a dull-red heat for a period of about ten days. Removal of the bars shows the peculiar condition known as blister-steel, so called from the swellings on the surface, which are caused by the occlusion of carbonic oxide. The metal is hard and brittle, and breaks easily with a hammer-tap. The following stage is that discovered, or, more properly, revived, by Huntsman, for it was essentially in use in the east from early days. Broken pieces are packed in crucibles of from sixty to eighty pounds capacity, with certain proportions of black oxide of manganese. The crucibles are made of refractory clay, graphite, and old pots pounded to a dust, and their manufacture is now an important industry in itself. The pots arranged in pairs in furnaces, the openings of which are level with the floor of the casting-house, while each furnace has a separate fire fed by powerful forced draught. When the steel is thoroughly melted, the pots are withdrawn from the furnace, and their contents emptied into moulds. The lifting of the crucibles is a picturesque sight. The workmen are swathed in masses of woolen rags saturated with water from head to foot, with wet sponges held in the teeth and masking the nostrils. As they grapple the incandescent pots they are enveloped in walls of white flame, which shoot from the furnace twenty feet in height in enormous volume. The rapidity of the operation insures safety to the workman.

The case-hardening of wrought iron (which is merely a transformation of the surface into steel) depends on a law allied to that of cementation. The iron is heated in charcoal, or some organic matter like leather, for a brief period, thus receiving a surface charge of carbon. The Harvey process for hardening a superficial depth of a mild steel armor-plate, of which the world has heard much during the last two years, is based on a closely-analogous principle. -Harper's Magazine.

Among the Greeks there was once a prevalent fashion of composing idiosyncratic words or works from which a particular letter of the alphabet had been purposely omitted. One Tryphiodorus wrote an odyssey from the first book of which he excluded the letter Alpha, from the second Beta, and so on through the entire alphabet. Fulgentius, the Latin writer, wrote a similar work, the first chapter of which has not a single A, the second no B, and so on.

John was an extremely popular Hebrew name, signifying the grace of God or the gracious gift of God.

Yesterday a fairly well-dressed woman went from one business place to another, and also called at many private houses, begging. Her tale of woe was a most pitiful one and she succeeded in finding many who assisted her.

Rode on the Trucks.

At 2:15 yesterday morning when the eastbound passenger train on the South Shore line pulled into the depot two tramps crawled under one of the coaches, where they had ridden on the trucks.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning they tackled the Republic train while it was standing at the depot. One of them was nicely settled on the trucks when the brakeman saw his comrade crawling under the car.

AN ORDINANCE relative to the preservation of the public health, and the duties and liabilities of the board of health.

The city of Marquette ordains: Sec. 1.—The board of health of the city of Marquette shall have, possess and exercise all the powers given by the charter of the said city for the purpose of enforcing the statutes of the state of Michigan relating to boards of health, in addition to those herein particularly enumerated.

Sec. 2. Said board of health shall have power and it shall be their duty to take such measures as they shall deem effectual to prevent the entrance of any pestilential or infectious disease into the city; to stop, detain and examine and, if deemed best by said board, to quarantine for that purpose every person, vessel, ship, train or other conveyance coming from any place infected or believed to be infected, with such a disease; to establish, maintain and regulate pest houses or hospitals; to cause any person not being a resident of the city, or if a resident of the city, who is not an inhabitant of the state, who shall be, or is suspected of being, infected with any such disease to be sent back to the place whence he or she came, or to be sent to such pest house or hospital; to cause any resident of the city infected with any such disease to be removed from his or her home or hospital, if the health officer and two other physicians, including the attending physician of the sick person, if he shall have one, shall certify that such removal is necessary for the public health, provided it can be done with safety to the patient; to remove from the city and destroy any furniture, wearing apparel, or goods, wares or merchandise, or other articles of property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with any pestilence or which shall be, or be likely to be, the cause of such disease; to require the occupants of any dwelling house, store, shop or any other building in which there shall be any person sick with any contagious or infectious disease, to put up and maintain in a conspicuous place on the front of said dwelling house, store, shop or other building, a card or sign to be furnished by the board, on which shall be written or printed in large letters the name of the contagious or infectious disease from which this person so sick may be suffering; and in case of the neglect or refusal of any such member of the board, to require removal of the patient therein to the pest house or hospital and to do all acts which they shall deem necessary and expedient for the preservation of health and suppression of disease in the city and to carry into effect and execute the powers hereby granted.

Sec. 3. The owner, driver, conductor, master or person in charge of any steamboat, vessel, railroad car or other public conveyance, which shall enter the city, having on board any person sick of malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease, shall within two hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the fact, with the name of such person and the house or place where he was residing, to the board of health.

Sec. 4. No person shall knowingly bring or procure, or cause to be brought into the city, any property of any kind, tainted or infected with malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease.

Sec. 5. Every keeper of a hotel, inn, boarding house or lodging house in the city, who shall have in his house at any time any person sick of malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease, shall report the fact, and name of the person, in writing, within six hours after he came to board, or was taken sick therein, to the mayor or some member of the board of health, and every physician in the city shall report under his hand to one of the officers above named, the name, residence and disease of every patient whom he shall have in his house, or in any place of abode, and no person who has been confined with such disease, shall leave his or her place of abode and go about the city, until he or she is furnished with a certificate by the health officer that it can be done without communicating the disease to others; and the health officer shall furnish such certificate without charge.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of every member of the board of health to take care and charge of the ward in which he resides, to ascertain any nuisance which may exist in his ward, and forthwith to report the same in writing to the board; to enter upon the premises and into the house of every person in his ward as often as he shall deem necessary, or the board of health shall order, or assist him to examine into the health, cleanliness and the number of persons inhabiting such house, and inspect the cellars, vaults, privies and sewers on such premises.

Sec. 7. Each member of the board of health shall, upon discovering any person who, in his opinion, is infected with a malignant or infectious disease, promptly notify the health officer of said board.

Sec. 8. Such health officer, if satisfied that such person is infected with a malignant or infectious disease, shall cause notice of the same to be at once given to said board.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of said board, immediately upon receiving such notice, to take steps to prevent the spread of such disease, in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and they shall, as far as practicable, remove all infected persons to the pest house.

Sec. 10. Such board shall not provide assistance or necessities for an infected person at his, her or their residence, unless such person cannot be removed to the pest house, under the provisions of this ordinance, and such board shall only in such case furnish assistance and necessities for those actually sick or infected; in case any member of the same family, not sick or infected, shall be in want of provisions or necessities, the board of health of such board of health to notify the director of the poor thereof, but such board shall not have any power to furnish such persons with provisions or other necessities or necessities for a preventive of disease.

Sec. 11. All bills for necessities furnished by order of such board of health shall be sworn to, and shall be presented to the controller, audited and paid, in the same manner as other bills against the city of Marquette; and in case it is intended, and is proper, to present such bill to the county board of health for payment, then the board of health, through its chairman, shall certify to the said county that the person himself, in whose behalf the bill has been made, is his parents or other person who may be liable for his support, is unable to pay the same.

Sec. 12. Any failure to comply with, or violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, the fine not to exceed $100 with costs, nor the imprisonment more than three months. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent or in any way contravening the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Approved May 7, A. D. 1894. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder. B. O. PEARL, Acting Mayor.

SPEED OF GAME BIRDS.

The Partridge Surpassed by the Grouse and Blackcock. We were talking this over in the gun-room the other morning after breakfast, and almost everyone said the "partridge," or rather "a driven partridge," I ventured to disagree, and now I will explain why. It may be as well to say at the start that it is by no means certain that a driven partridge flies any faster than any partridge not driven.

We look upon the rook as a slow-flying bird, and yet a rook, when chased by a peregrine falcon, can put on a pace in an astounding manner. Yes, I admit that. And I think quite possibly a partridge with a fiend of some sort at his tail would hurry up also. But the driven partridge, put up in one field, is simply flying over to another, although, no doubt, especially with the wind behind him, he goes along at a good round pace; and no one, probably, could have performed the feat of killing a complete covey of five birds—out of hand except the man who did it—Lord de Grey.

Now, it is obviously difficult to estimate accurately the speed of any bird, and those who talk glibly about "one hundred and fifty miles an hour," and so on, are only making shots. We have a pretty good idea of the speed of a carrier pigeon, because we have the two fixed points of departure and arrival from which to reckon. But in the case of other birds there would seem to be but two ways in which to get at it. We could, in the first place, no doubt, after much time and patience, arrive at the absolute speed of many birds by means of a stop watch. In this way it would be possible to time a bird from point to point in an open country, or in an inclosed district, from hedge to hedge. I do not know that it has ever been tried, but it opens up a very pretty line of experiment, and I think I shall attempt it myself some day. Now for a test of relative speed.

It is my good fortune to shoot every season in a rough, open country, half moor, half grass and crops. Grouse, blackgame and partridges frequent in common those bits of heather which border on the cultivated land. Time after time, as the grouse go skimming low down over the moor, they give a warning to these other neighbors, who rise and join them. Time after time, when the men are driving toward the butts, they put up grouse and blackgame, grouse and partridges, or not seldom, all the three together. Here, then, is a criterion. What does it tell? This—that partridges starting to fly with grouse are very soon left behind; that blackgame can fly right away from grouse, and almost leave the partridges "standing still."

A partridge gives the greater impression of speed because it is the smaller bird and moves its wings more quickly. Whereas a blackcock, a large and heavy bird, does not go away in a whirr or "burst," so to say, but climbs away through the air with the most deceptive ease of motion. So it comes about that a young hand, who can very likely shoot partridges well, will miss blackcock after blackcock, because he shoots behind them. It is so very difficult to believe that this great bird, which never seems to be in a hurry, is really traveling at an enormous speed. Yet so it is. And if any man will take the trouble to go out for a few consecutive days, simply to observe grouse and blackgame—taking note of the marvelous manner in which in a few seconds an old blackcock will span the wide moor and be out of sight—he will then, I venture to believe, have no longer any hesitation in pronouncing the grouse faster than the partridge and the blackcock probably the fastest game bird that flies.—Westminster Gazette.

A Monster Balloon.

The largest balloon in the world has been constructed at Holloway, near London, England. It is a sphere of 57.24 feet diameter, has a capacity of over 100,000 cubic feet, weighs one and a quarter tons, and will lift an additional weight of a ton. It is to be used for the purpose of obtaining continuous meteorological observations during a period of six days without descending. It has been successfully tested.

IN THE DAYS OF OUR GRAND MOHERS.

In the days of our grandmothers sulphur fumes and other so-called "blood purifiers" reigned supreme in the spring time. Do you still live in the bygone days and continue the everlasting spring dosing, or have you adopted the use of Humphreys' Specific and recognize spring by new life, flowers and balmy air, rather than by bad doses of medicine and consequent depression? When the stomach is deranged a few of No. 10 corrects the evil and you escape all the distressing symptoms of dyspepsia, indigestion, weak stomach, and loss of appetite. No. 10 cures rising of food, water trash, coated tongue, yellow or earthy complexion, bad taste in the mouth, offensive breath, acid stomach, headache from indigestion, flatulence and bloating of the abdomen after eating. No. 10 consists of a small bottle of pleasant pellets just fits your vest pocket. Sold by druggists, or sent postpaid on receipt of price, 25c. or 5 for $1.00. UNFAITHFUL STEWARDS.

Aldermen Fail to Attend Important Special Meeting as Ordered.

SECOND MEETING CALLED WHICH WILL BE ATTENDED.

"The Merchant of Venice" Presented in a Finished Manner by the Keene Company.

THEY PLAY AT BUSINESS.

Pursuant to call issued by the president the city council met last night at 7 o'clock to reconsider certain transactions of the regular meeting of Monday night last.

President Pearl called the council to order and the recorder called the roll disclosing no quorum present.

Finally a motion by Alderman Moore that the council adjourn until Friday evening at 8 o'clock was entertained by the chair and approved of by all but the alderman from the Second.

"The Merchant of Venice."

Thomas W. Keene played "Richard III" Wednesday night and Thomas W. Keene and his company played "The Merchant of Venice" last night.

Many who had seen Keene's Richard doubted if he would present a good Shylock. They seemed to doubt his powers of versatility; but will doubt no longer for a more finished Shylock would be difficult to imagine.

Mr. Arden won a large share of the general praise by his careful handling of the role of Bassanio. In his conference with his friend Antonio he was earnest without impulsiveness.

As Portia Miss Vaders was charming. Particularly in the trial scene did she display excellent taste and talent.

The chief feature in the audience last night, aside from it being made up of the most critical and intelligent of our people, was a row of thirty or more high school pupils in the balcony under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Osband.

and junior classes and as they had "The Merchant of Venice" as part of their course they were doubly prepared to enjoy all that was best in the play.

All Will Have Seats.

The committee on ceremonies for the laying of the city hall corner stone, decided yesterday to place seats on the first floor of the building to accommodate all who take part in the parade.

The committee will soon be able to announce the position of each society in the parade. Acceptances are coming quite rapidly in and the work of assignment may soon begin.

The orations will be delivered at the building and, owing to the seating arrangements making, all those participating in the parade may hear the speakers.

Will Compete for Rank.

Captain Ball has issued from Company G headquarters general order No. 3 recommending appointments as follows: As sergeants, Dock, Homier, Wilson, Cray and Mitchell.

Hereafter appointments will be made to the grade of corporal by competition open to all members of the company as follows: An examination in tactics to count 40 per cent; proficiency in drill 20 per cent, and attendance at drills, parades, etc., 40 per cent.

Pole No Ornament.

The following pointed communication has fallen into the hands of THE MINING JOURNAL: EDITOR MINING JOURNAL—As the flag-staff near the high school building seems to be of no practical use and it is certainly no ornament, I would suggest that it be cut down.

Come to think of it a flag staff is not a very handsome thing without a flag floating at its head. Other public schools throughout the state and country fly the stars and stripes.

While Mr. T. J. Richey of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it.
