THREE TIMES AND OUT.

Talmage Now Has Very Good Excuse for Retiring from the Pulpit.

TABERNALE DESTROYED THE THIRD TIME.

Flames Appear Just After Morning Service—Hotel Regent Burned and Thirty Dwellings Damaged.

FIRE SEEMS TO FOLLOW HIM.
BROOKLYN, May 13.—Just after service at noon today, while Dr. Talmage was shaking hands with members of his congregation, fire burst out between the pipes of the organ and within ten minutes the big Tabernacle was doomed.

Adjoining the church was the Hotel Regent, eight stories high, with a frontage of ninety feet and extending back two hundred feet to Waverly avenue. The fire spread from the Tabernacle to this hotel and then to the dwelling houses on Greene and Waverly avenues opposite the Tabernacle.

The winds carried the blazing cinders in such quantities in a southeasterly direction that the dwelling houses on Washington avenue two squares away and also Summerfield Methodist church were soon on fire. The total loss reaches over $1,000,000.

Mrs. Talmage tells the following story of the fire:

"Doctor Talmage was still on the pulpit shaking hands with the people, of whom there were nearly one hundred probably left in the building. His back was to the organ. I was standing at the end of a pew and upon looking up towards the ceiling saw a tongue of flame burst out between the pipes of the organ. I at once called aloud: 'Doctor, the church is on fire.' He turned and told all the people to retire while he went into his study to get a few things. I waited for him at the door. The flames spread rapidly, so quickly that some of the trustees were overcome and had to be helped out. Dr. Talmage joined me soon after."

TALMAGE'S OWN ACCOUNT.

Dr. Talmage held quite a reception at his home during the afternoon and gave a graphic statement of incidents connected with the fire. He said: "At the close of the church service I was standing at the foot of the pulpit shaking hands with about one hundred people. I was about through and walked toward the center of the church, where my wife stood, when she called my attention to the fire. I saw at once that it was under full headway and my first impulse was to see how many people were then in the house and to my great joy there were only about twenty. I felt that they would all escape and then went into my study, passing under the blazing piping, to get my hat and coat and then I said to myself: 'Is it manly to run off?' I walked up and down my study, rejoicing that the fire had occurred when there was no chance of fatality. A friend rushed in and asking me said: 'Get out of this room immediately or you will not get out at all.' We went out into the church. One half of the organ was down and fire had leaped to the roof. I saw nothing could save the building and I came out."

TALMAGE SHEDS TEARS.

Tears were coursing down Talmage's cheek and his voice broke as he told the story but in an instant he spoke with his old vigor: "There is mercy on top of this disaster. If it had occurred half an hour before it would have been the calamity of the century. The church and all the rooms adjoining were packed with people and a panic would have left the scene one indescribable horror. Or if it had occurred three hours later, when the Sunday school was in session, there would have been a thousand households bereft in Brooklyn. Those little children—what would they have done! God cared for them and even in this calamity His mercy is infinite. Our church has been burned three times and always on Sunday. It is a mystery that I adjourn till the next world shall let us know."

When asked for his opinion as to the cause of the fire he said emphatically: "The electric lights; electricity caused this fire as it did that in the last Tabernacle on Schermerhorn street." Continuing Dr. Talmage said: "This fire may change my entire program and I don't think I will start on that trip around the world as I intended to-morrow night. I do not know what I shall do."

PROGRESS OF THE FLAMES.

It was nearly twenty minutes before the firemen arrived on the scene but they soon had a hundred streams turned on the blazing pile. It was seen that the church was doomed and every effort was devoted to saving adjoining property. In three hours only the bare walls of one of the costliest structures in Brooklyn remained standing.

The inflammable nature of the material and the great open amphitheater of the Tabernacle gave such a draft that the fire was forced into the air in columns of glowing flame that made a fearful picture of destruction. Pieces of burning wood and red hot cinders shot up as from a volcano and carried by strong breeze swept through the air. Before long houses on both sides of Greene avenue were ablaze and so were those on Waverly avenue. The people and the firemen extinguished them but then the walls of the Tabernacle began to fall and the great rush of flames which followed started the houses burning again. At the same time the flames were seen bursting forth from the roof of Summerfield Methodist church, two blocks in the rear of the Tabernacle.

Within half an hour the magnificent

Hotel Regent, which joined the Tabernacle, was on the road to destruction. The guests lost no time in snatching up a few valuables and ran. Much wearing apparel and other effects had to be left to the flames.

HOTEL REGENT DESTROYED.

From the fifth floor Mrs. Loomis and her newly born babe had to be carried down the fire escape to the street. A woman appeared at a window on the eighth floor, shrieking and waving her hands to the horror-stricken crowd below. She was brought down the fire escape in safety.

The intense heat was very trying to the firemen. George Cunningham had to be carried from his post but soon recovered. John L. Laferty of engine No. 14 had an epileptic fit from heat and was carried to the hospital. Two more firemen, Edward Sheridan and John Kelly of truck No. 10, were prostrated by heat.

The loss on the Hotel Regent is placed at $350,000 by the manager but this will be largely increased by individual losses of guests. The loss on the Tabernacle is not far short of $500,000. About thirty dwelling houses were damaged on which the loss will reach fully $50,000. The loss on Summerfield Methodist church will be $50,000. A number of other buildings were slightly damaged.

FLAMES IN A FIRE STATION.

Incendiary Fire at Sioux City Will Cost Two Lives.

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 13.—Incendiaries sneaked into the fire department stables at Station 2 early this morning, poured a gallon of gasoline over the bedding and set fire to it. The entire first floor was ablaze in a trice. City Electrician Prevost slid down the post to liberate the horses but immediately cried to the others: "Don't come; I'm burning up." But Captain Hargers had already started and slid into the flames. Both managed to get out of a window, but were so badly burned as to make recovery doubtful. Fireman F. B. Iglew was also terribly burned in trying to save the horses, which were lost, together with the apparatus and the fire alarm battery. A big door hooked on the inside was opened to give the fire a draft. There is no clue to the identity of the incendiaries.

HOGAN WANTS TROUBLE.

Insists on Reinstatement of Law-Breakers by the Company.

ST. PAUL, May 13.—The situation on the Great Northern is unchanged today. President Hill said he would gladly receive President Debs of the American Railway union on his arrival tomorrow morning. At that time another conference will be held between the officials of the company and the employees' committee and Mr. Hill expresses the greatest confidence in the result of the conference.

Organizer Hogan of the union evidently wants another strike and did not talk as if a settlement would be easily reached. "The company has refused to reinstate strikers who during the strike broke the laws and are under arrest for their offenses," Hogan said today. "This is our position. We arbitrated the strike and supposed it settled. An agreement drawn up and approved by Hill has been violated by him. Our retaliatory measure will be another tie-up unless the Great Northern president backs down and grants our demands to reinstate these men, no matter if they are under arrest."

"Arbitrate again we will not. I am convinced moreover that Debs will take the same stand that I do. He can but act as our committee dictates, for we represent the men. The tie-up this time will be complete. The strike gave us strength. Hill in his proposed restoration of wages failed to include three very important classes of employees: namely, clerks, office men and train dispatchers. These men now know the attitude the other employes toward them and will be with us."

"Of course we don't want to be considered as bullies with chips on our shoulders ready to attack Hill without provocation. We are representatives of thousands of men. We have a duty to perform which forces us to trample under our own desires in the matter."

EXPLOSION ON A WARSHIP.

Officer of British Cruiser Galatea Killed and Another Injured.

EDINBURGH, May 13.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday on the British cruiser Galatea, twelve guns, Captain Ernest N. Rolfe, C. B., resulting in the death of one officer and the injury of another and two members of the crew. The Galatea, a twin-screw steamer, 5,600 tons and 5,500 horse power, is the coast guardship at Queen's Ferry on the Firth of Forth, about nine miles from this city. A German squadron arrived and the Galatea fired a salute to the German flag. After the tenth round had been fired an explosion occurred. Instructor Lawrence's head was blown to pieces and Instructor Whitehead's arm was blown off at the elbow. Two members of the crew were slightly injured. The charge for the gun apparently exploded in the hands of Instructor Lawrence while he was preparing to place it in the gun.

ATTACKED THE EMPEROR.

Vienna Police Disperse Seditious Gathering With Some Trouble.

VIENNA, May 13.—At a meeting of workmen here today some speakers indulged in violent language against the emperor. The police attempted to disperse the gathering but met with determined resistance. It was finally found necessary to summon reinforcements and before the hall could be cleared several scrimmages occurred between the police and the workmen in which the latter came out worsted. The hall was at last emptied of its occupants, who became comparatively quiet when the found themselves on the street with a strong police force in the vicinity.

SWEPT BY FIBRY RAIN.

Oil Refinery Fire Ends With Explosion of Tank of Benzine.

FIREMEN SCORCHED AND SPECTATORS TRAMPLED.

Fortunately Most of the Fluid Burned in the Air Before It Reached the People.

AT LEAST ONE HUNDRED HURT.
BRADFORD, Pa., May 13.—The barrel house at Emery's refinery burned this morning. The loading racks and five oil tank cars on the side track were also destroyed.

While the firemen were making their final stand and thousands of people were watching them, there was a tremendous explosion. A tank car holding 4,100 gallons benzine had let go with a mighty roar. Fortunately the burning benzine, which was flung into the air in sheets of liquid fire, had consumed itself before settling down over the crowd.

The explosion was followed by a panic and in the stampede men, women and children were thrown down and trodden over by the flying masses that surged up from behind. Thirty-five firemen were burned so that the skin peeled off their faces and hands and the hair was singed off the heads and faces of many others who were slightly burned.

There is no record of the total number those burned and injured in the stampede but it will probably reach hundreds of persons. With all the suffering caused by the fire the property loss will not exceed $5,000.

SHIPPING COAL EAST.

Milwaukee Dealers Find Ready Market for Surplus Coal.

MILWAUKEE, May 13.—Representatives of eastern railroads as well as extensive coal dealers of Chicago have been scouring this section of country for soft coal and 35,000 tons just purchased at Mantolowice is now being shipped to the eastern roads, while between 500 and 600 cars have been shipped out of Milwaukee during the past two weeks. The scarcity of coal in the east seems general and all that can be had is being quickly bought up and shipped.

Milwaukee wholesale coal dealers state that there is still plenty of soft as well as hard coal on hand for all ordinary purposes, but that orders from Chicago and other points are not now being completely filled here. That is, where an order comes in for 100 cars not more than fifty are shipped. It is not proposed that Milwaukee shall run short simply to accommodate outsiders who were not so wise as dealers here when coal was plenty at the mines. Milwaukee is said to be better stocked than any other city in the northwest.

MEN'S DELEGATES ARRIVING.

CLEVELAND, May 13.—About fifty coal miners to attend the conference to-morrow in advance of the meeting with the operators have thus far arrived. In the absence of President John McBride the delegates are disinclined to talk. They say, however, that they are anxious to arrive at an amicable agreement with the operators. Not a single operator has yet arrived and it is impossible to learn how many are expected.

CANNOT GET COAL.

PEORIA, Ill., May 13.—The American Glucose company today closed its factory in this city, throwing 350 men out of employment. Inability to secure a sufficient supply of coal was the reason for suspension.

THOUGHT HE WAS SUSPECTED.

Newell Parsons' Crime Drives an Old Employee to Suicide.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 13.—Charles Davis, for many years in the employ of the Wells-Stone company, lately as night watchman, committed suicide in a room on the second floor of the mercantile department last night. The body was found by the men working in the department this morning. He piled several barrels on one side, leaving a clear space on the floor, then mounted a barrel, tied a rope around his neck, fastened it to a bolt in the ceiling, shot himself in the right temple with a .38-caliber revolver, and fell off the barrel.

After all the members of the office staff had gone home last night Davis wrote a letter and left it in the desk of W. C. Phipps, a member of the firm, in which he stated that since the locking of the Wells-Stone vault, and the subsequent arrest of Newell B. Parsons, he was fearful of being implicated. He denied all knowledge of the affair, however, also of a number of petty thefts around the office lately, but said he could not stand suspicion. He was sixty-one years of age, and leaves a wife, who is very ill, and several children.

WILL GO TO SIBERIA.

Russian Police Arresting Hundreds for Daring to Have Ideas.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—Arrests continue to be made as a result of the discovery of the organization known as "Friends of Political Liberty." Hundreds of persons were arrested today and it is certain that many of the prisoners will be transported to Siberia.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 14. Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

"WE NOTICE" observes the Range-Tribune of Iron Mountain, "that some of the men who were crying so loudly for 'bread or work' are among the last to go to work when the opportunity is offered them. Well, let them go without bread." So say we, all of us. Hunger is a wholesome medicine for such cattle and they should be given a strong dose of it.

We find this cheerful bit of information about this region in the Detroit News of Saturday:

A traveling man who has just returned from a trip over the upper peninsula says things aren't so bad as represented. Marquette, he says, looks prosperous, and most everybody is employed. Negaunee and Ishpeming are unusually dull, because of the closing down of iron mines. All the lumber towns, St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, L'Anse, Baraga and the rest are nearly as prosperous as ever. Everything is booming in the copper country, which the drummer considers his Mecca, while even at Ironwood and Iron Mountain the distress is not apparent. He believes the troubles in the Gogebic range are due more to injudicious speculation and extravagance than to any other cause. The great Chapin mine at Iron Mountain would never have been shut down were it not for the Schlegel failure, as it has always been, and is now, a paying industry.

The Democratic senators are said to be getting together on their compromise tariff bill, and the statement is made that they now have votes enough assured to make its passage certain. The bill, properly named, for by its adoption the Democrats will put their party in what may be properly denominated a "compromising situation," as they will thus give the lie to their platform declaration of principles and purposes and admit that they fought the last national campaign on a false tariff issue. The bill is a protection measure, and if the Republicans had offered it instead of the McKinley bill when the latter was enacted it would have been denounced unsparingly by the very men who are now supporting it as a bill which contemplated "robbery of the people for the benefit of the manufacturers" and a most infamous piece of class legislation.

AS AN organ of the disgruntled element in the Democratic party in this state the Detroit Evening News is rendering the Republican party even better service than Mr. Scripps' other paper, the Detroit Tribune, is as a straight-out Republican organ. The News is devoting great attention to the Bourbon kickers just now, and hardly a day passes that it does not have an interview with one of them in which the administration and the leaders of the administration party in the state are roundly denounced. The last of the fossilized reminiscences hunted up and pumped by The News was poor old Winans, whose one term as governor did the business pretty thoroughly for the Michigan Democracy. Winans is sore on everybody and everything, of course, prates glibly about the unhappy system of dispensing federal patronage in Michigan and supports Whiting for the gubernatorial nomination this year. The News and the Democrats for whom it speaks are fixing things for a big Republican victory in Michigan this year. This is no doubt what The News desires, but the poor innocent Democrats whom it is beguiling are making pitiful spectacles of themselves.

MUST STAND BY SOUND MONEY. We extract this from the column conducted by "Politician" in the Detroit Tribune:

Ex-Senator Galbraith of Pontiac told me yesterday that in his judgment the Republican party could not afford to take a single backward step on the silver question, but, on the contrary, should continue to stand for an honest dollar. He claimed that there was considerable opposition to his radical silver views. Brewer would not again be a congressional candidate, but he understands that Sam W. Smith has a bee buzzing in his bonnet and might be a candidate if much opposition was manifested to Mr. Aitkin's renomination.

Some time ago ex-Governor Luce stated that Aitkin "represented his views on the silver question." The ex-governor's views on what the government's policy as to silver should be caused a strong protest to be made against consideration of his claims on the party in connection with the appointment that Governor Rich wisely gave to Patton. Now let Aitkin be sent to the rear to keep Luce company. No man who entertains Populist views on one of the most important issues now before the country should be given political recognition by the Republican party. The Democratic party is drifting toward a free silver policy and it is at once the duty and the interest of the Republican party to set its face rigidly against every proposition that looks to a debasement of our currency, or impairment of the nation's credit in any way. The party that does this will have the support of the great bulk of the thoughtful voters from this time forward, for the thinking voters desire to perceive the danger to our business interests that lies in the adoption of a financial policy which would disturb values, destroy confidence in the integrity of the government and place us at the mercy of the money-changers of Europe. Let the Democrats flirt with the free silver lunatics if they will, but the Republicans should keep their party clear of any suspicion of being willing to cater to their mischievous purposes.

IRON PRODUCTION.

The monthly blast furnace report of The Iron Age shows a heavy reduction in the output of the coke furnaces, as the result of the strike. Against ninety-two coke furnaces, producing 105,011 tons of pig iron weekly, on April 1, there were only seventy-five, with a weekly capacity of 88,580 tons, running on May 1. Telegraphic advices show that since then seventeen furnaces, with 21,192 tons capacity, have been forced to close down, and a number of others, representing a tonnage of 8,900, will stop next week. There has been little change among the anthracite stacks, thirty-five, with a capacity of 17,607 tons a week, being active on May 1. Only seventeen charcoal furnaces were running on that date, their weekly capacity being 4,023 tons. It is estimated that on May 9 only 104 furnaces, with 89,018 tons weekly capacity, were running, against 144 furnaces, with 126,732 tons weekly capacity, on April 1.

"The falling off in the iron output," says the Philadelphia Ledger, "seems almost balanced by a shrinkage in the demand, so that relatively the situation has not changed. Higher prices are demanded for all steel products, and offers are subject to delay from strikes, so that there is not much new business. Buyers claim they can wait until the labor disturbance has blown over. If a demand should spring up the reduced stocks would soon be exhausted, but a demand must be the result of general conditions."

POSSIBLY they were right in what they did, but THE MINING JOURNAL cannot commend the action of the Republican senators in voting for the resolution introduced in the United States senate which proposed retaliatory tariff regulations against England unless the latter country consents to take part in an international agreement for the coinage and use of silver as money. The resolution was offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and was defeated by the votes of the Democratic and Populist senators, who certainly did themselves more credit in voting it down than the Republican senators did in supporting it. The proposition to undertake coercing England in this way was puerile, undignified and essentially unwise. Suppose England should attempt to force us to adopt a free trade system by coercive measures, does anybody think she would succeed? Most assuredly not. And does any sensible person suppose that we can drive England any more readily than England could drive us? Senator Lodge offered the resolution knowing that it would be voted down and with a view to making a little party capital with classes of our citizens who are presumed to entertain an insupportable hatred of England. It was a paltry dodge and unworthy of any man who is worthy to hold a seat in the senate of the United States.

It's Education—

simply a matter of education—the use of Pearlina for washing and cleaning. The bright women, those who learn quickly, are using it now. The brighter the woman, the larger her use of it—the more good uses she finds to which she can put Pearlina. Dull women, those who never use new things until their bright sisters have drummed it into them—they'll use it presently. It's just a question of sooner or later, with every woman who wants the best.

How a College Amateur's Stage Fright Upset Booth and Barret.

During my senior year at Brown, says a writer in Harper's Magazine, Booth and Barret played a week's engagement in Providence, and secured among the students such amateur aid as they needed.

Among these amateur supernumeraries was one Attleboro, who was given the part of Othello's lieutenant, Cassio. He practiced constantly the scene where he was to interpose between Brabantio and the Moor. He had but three words to say, but it was astonishing what varieties of inflections, gestures and expressions so short a speech admitted.

Our hall constantly resounded as he bravely paced his room, and frowning angrily at a lamp or picture swept his arm toward these offending objects, shouting: "Hold your hands!" On the evening of the performance the military strides with which he entered the scene and the haughty and martial air with which he grasped the hilt of his sword did honor to his interpretation of the part. We noticed, however, as the noise of the approach of the irate father and his followers was heard our college Cassio became nervous, and when the two parties of angry men met he was completely held by that form of temporary aberration of the intellect known as stage fright.

The momentous instant arrived when blood would be shed unless he intervened. Booth glanced at him impatiently. He stepped forward, waved his arm and attempted to utter the words of mediation so necessary to preserve the public peace, but to the now quiet house no sound was audible. Othello glared at him, lago scowled. Again he waved his arm, again moved his lips, but no words came. This pantomime was repeated several times, and the painful silence had become almost unendurable, when, with a supreme effort, Cassio found his tongue. Again stepping forward and looking desperately at Booth, he shouted: "Cheese it!" At this far from classic sally Booth and the other actors lost their self-control, and the remainder of the scene lacked much of its accustomed dignity.

Several of the old soldiers have approached THE MINING JOURNAL reporter and requested him to call the attention of the Young Men's Christian association to the very questionable taste of preventing Memorial Day, a day set aside to the sacred duty of commemorating the brave soldiers who fought and died for their country, into a day of sporting and pleasure, detracting in the minds of the rising generation from the true purpose of the day, making it a day of hilarity instead of a day of sacred remembrance and mourning.

MAY TALK UNTIL AUGUST.

Senate Is Making Almost No Progress at All With the Tariff Bill.

REPUBLICANS WILL CAUCUS ON IT TONIGHT.

Radical Members Want to Continue Present Policy of Obstruction—Hill's Head Very Sore.

THOSE SLOUGHISH SENATORS. WASHINGTON, May 13.—The proceedings in the senate this week depend largely upon the result of the Republican caucus to be held Monday night.

"DEMOCRATIC HARMONY." The managers of the Democratic tariff bill in the senate are highly elated over the fact that on Thursday and Friday they were able to dispose of three paragraphs in the bill.

The advocates of the bill now are loudly insisting that it will pass. Notwithstanding that the Republican leaders are able to secure a display of temper from Senators Mills, Voorhees and Harris every day, advocates of the bill want the public to believe that harmony exists on the Democratic side.

HILL'S HEAD IS VERY SORE. Of course they except Hill. The New York senator is growing bolder daily in his attacks upon the compromise bill.

GORMAN WON FIRST ROUND. Gorman won the first round with Hill, but it remains to be seen whether the Marylander or New Yorker scores a knock-out in the fight over the present tariff bill.

Discouraging Study. The case of the honest Irish servant who could never understand why his master perpetually required him to wash his chaise, since he went directly out and mudded it up again, is paralleled by an actual reply by a dull boy to an examiner in a French school.

CHIEF SENATORS PRESENT. Only four senators were in the chamber when the senate met yesterday morning. The bell brought twenty-eight senators into the chamber—fifteen less than a quorum.

FOR DEEP WATERWAYS. Senator McMillan gave notice of an amendment of the civil bill appropriating $235,000 for "deep waterway" improvements on the great lakes.

PROGRAM OF THE HOUSE. WASHINGTON, May 13.—Appropriation bills will continue to have the attention of the house during the coming week, unless the state bank element succeeds in its effort to have the Hawley bill taken up Wednesday.

AN OREGON LOVE AFFAIR. Law, Bullets and Abduction Play Parts in It. CORVALLIA, May 13.—Dr. J. M. Applewhite, treasurer of the State Agricultural college, lay in wait last night near this place and shot Charles Kenyon and Mrs. Kenyon. On complaint of Kenyon Applewhite and Mrs. Kenyon were arrested recently. Mrs. Kenyon turned state's evidence and the charge against her was dismissed and she returned to her husband.

CAUGHT THE RUNAWAYS.

Cole and His Girl Gone Nearly Two Years. LOOMIS, Mich., May 13.—In November, 1892, Henry Cole, forty years of age ran away with Minnie Reed, his thirteen-year-old cousin.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES. Saginaw Valley lumbermen interested in Canadian timber met at Bay City Saturday and appointed a committee consisting of General Alger, S. O. Fisher and others to go to Washington and see if some means cannot be found to force the Canadian authorities to act reasonably as to the oppressive and useless duty on beamsticks and chains taken across the lake to bring back logs.

HYATTSVILLE PEOPLE ALARMED. Hyattsville, where the army camps today, is a small village. Most of its men are engaged in business or in the government departments during the day, so that the population during the business hours consists mostly of women and children.

STOLEN TRAIN DITCHED. LAKE CITY, Utah, May 13.—Carter's Industrials moved from Lehi late last night to American Fork, where they captured a Union Pacific engine, switched it to the Rio Grande Western track, attached it to some empty cars, and started east.

THE PASSING OF COXEY.

His Battalion of Tramps Compelled to Leave District of Columbia.

ALL HONEST WORKERS HAVE DESERTED HIM.

Only Professional Tramps Unloaded Upon the People of Hyattsville—Stolen Train Ditched.

HIS WELCOME WORN OUT. WASHINGTON, May 13.—The excitement over the Coxeys movement is rapidly dying out in Washington. The District of Columbia authorities have succeeded in forcing Coxeys and his "hoboes" out of the District and into Maryland, and the income the army has been deriving from paid admissions will be largely decreased if not cut off altogether.

COXEYITES BREAK CAMP. Tents were struck at Camp Tyranny yesterday and the Coxeites were soon on the march for the new camp near Hyattsville, Md. Carl Browne made a parting speech in which he told the men that it would be impossible for him and Coxeys to accompany them because of their engagements in the police court; so the command was turned over to young Jesse Coxeys.

HYATTSVILLE PEOPLE ALARMED. Hyattsville, where the army camps today, is a small village. Most of its men are engaged in business or in the government departments during the day, so that the population during the business hours consists mostly of women and children.

SCAFFOLD PROTESTATIONS.

An Instance Which Shows that Dying Men do Not Always Tell the Truth. The judge was talking to the man who knew it all. "I see," said the judge, "that there has been some talk in the newspapers lately about scaffold protestations of innocence. It is argued in many cases that a man who knows he is going to die, and that nothing on earth can save him, will not stand and deliberately tell a lie on the threshold of the hereafter. It is an awful responsibility that a judge takes on himself when he sentences a man to death. Why, I remember one case that haunted me for a long time. A fellow named Mullen was charged with the murder of his wife. There was a strong chain of circumstantial evidence. He had money, though, and his lawyers fought the case to the bitter end. He had quarreled with the woman and had threatened to kill her. He had heard to say on the very day of the tragedy that he would put her out of the way. The chain was complete, with the exception of one link. There was nobody who could swear that he was at or near the house in which the woman was killed at any time near the moment when the murder was done.

A STRANGE BREAK. Under a Great Pressure a Bar of Iron Parts in Two Places. At the Scranton shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad there were recently made some tests of wire rope and fastenings for it. One and a half inch steel cables are used in some of their mines, and these tests were made to determine whether or not the fastenings were as strong as the cables. Sockets with taper holes, known as rope cones, to receive the rope, and ending in a fork to fasten to the cage, are used. The rope is passed through the hole and the ends of the wires turned back, making a bushy head; into this mass of twisted and doubled wire they pour lead or rabbit metal. The pieces were tested in their regular wheel press. It was soon proved that the rope was amply strong, sustaining seventy tons, with no other effect than a reduction of diameter owing to the compression of the soft center. Lead proved very soft for fastening the wires—they pulled through it; a composition of three parts lead to one part antimony did far better. The forks sustained load enough to bend steel pins two inches in diameter before breaking, but when they did break a curious thing happened—one side of the fork broke in two places, and a piece about an inch long dropped on the floor; this happened when the load was about seventy tons. The cross section of metal was the same where each break occurred—but why should two occur?—Locomotive Engineering.

From Pulpit to Pew.

At the close of a sermon preached yesterday morning with much apparent effort Rev. J. B. Bonar, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read his resignation, which he wished presented to the Presbytery which meets this month and wanted it accepted. Falling health has compelled Dr. Bonar to take this step. While his inclinations are still toward what he has made his life work, physical infirmities force him to give up active ministry. Ten years and a half ago Dr. Bonar took charge of the Presbyterian church and congregation here and has faithfully conducted his trust ever since. His method of teaching has been based solely on the gospel and he seldom discarded on creeds, preferring rather to teach love and duty than dogma and doctrine. In former pulpits, as here, he has won a name as a sound reasoner and interesting speaker and counts his admirers by hundreds.

After reading his letter of resignation Dr. Bonar spoke briefly regarding it. He said he did not wish his friends to look upon it as a farewell. He was not going to preach a farewell sermon or to say goodbye. He would simply step from the pulpit to the pew and continue to worship, for a time at least, with those whom he had endeavored to serve so many years. There was a deep pathos in every sentence which fell from the aged divine's lips that touched all hearts and many a handkerchief found its way to eyes that blushed not to show in nature's strongest language how much he was beloved and how sorely his ministrations would be missed.

Dr. Bonar will not leave Marquette for a time. He will remain to see what rest and a delightful climate may do for his failing energies. He will endeavor to fill his pulpit for the two coming Sabbath mornings.

Fortnightly Club's Last Meeting.

Saturday night members of the Fortnightly club met with Miss Bessie Hanscomb for the last session closing the year just past. The chief work of the club during the term has been a critical consideration of French history and its members consider marked advancement has been made. The meeting Saturday evening was fully attended and a very happy one. The club takes its customary rest in a very healthful condition and with good prospects for a successful resumption of its instructive meetings.

Ariel Ladies' Sextette Tonight.

The well known Ariel Ladies' Sextette will appear in refined concert in the Methodist church tonight. This will furnish an excellent opportunity of enjoying a delightful musical treat given by an organization thus highly spoken of by the Detroit Free Press.

The second of the series of entertainments of the original star course under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was given last evening when the Ariel Ladies' Sextette made their first appearance here. Association Hall was almost filled to its seating capacity, and if the reception which the audience tendered this company is any criterion, Detroit has not heard the last of them. The varied musical and literary program presented contained fourteen numbers in all, but these were added to by several encores, given in response to enthusiastic calls. Miss Gertrude, particularly, took the audience by the sweetness and range of her voice. In her wrabling song she reaches a high register, her voice being as sweet and melodious as the lark's. Miss Mae Marguerite was a whole company in her humorous child's talk and Miss Grace Greenwood was a remarkable example of a sweet baritone.

Divided the Money.

The newly organized "Coxey Nine" drew first blood yesterday from the ill-starred Union Stars defeating them by three runs, the score standing twenty to seventeen. This victory has filled the Coxeyites with ginger and they now challenge any club in the city excepting the Rivals.

The Union Stars have lost the only two games played this season the result being so intense a disgust of their ill-luck that they have disbanded. The treasury yesterday showed $13 and this amount was solemnly divided between the crestfallen members. The club will reorganize and set about strengthening itself very shortly, then look out for some sweeping victories.

Hixson and Gorman Step Up.

Saturday the accounts of the South Shore freight office here were transferred to M. Gorman who has been appointed agent to succeed F. E. Hixson. Mr. Hixson resigned and has accepted the appointment of traveling auditor of the road succeeding Sidney Brown. Mr. Gorman has been with the company and the Marquette Houghton & Ontonagon road twelve years and now steps into well deserved promotion. Mr. Hixson came to Marquette seven years ago as chief clerk of the local freight office and, was appointed agent three years ago. He takes hold of his advanced position today.

Organized the Board.

The directors of the Building & Loan association held a meeting Saturday night and reelected last year's officers. A committee of three was also appointed to confer with the stockholders' committee concerning proposed changes in the association's by-laws. This joint committee will hold frequent meetings from now until the time for reporting in June.

Will Hold County Fair.

The Marquette County Agricultural society held an adjourned annual meeting in the Wilkinson bank building Saturday and elected the following directory board: Henry Vandenberg, W. W. Osband, C. H. Call, W. J. Stevens, A. Mathews, B. W. Wright, E. C. Anthony, E. B. Palmer and Sidney Adams. The directors elected as officers, Henry Vandenberg, president; W. W. Osband, secretary; C. H. Call, treasurer.

Considerable time was occupied in a discussion of plans and suggestions for holding a county fair this fall. It was finally decided to hold a fair and to put forth every effort to make it a very successful one. Several entirely new features will be introduced and a united effort be made to interest the entire farming community of the county in the exposition of their products and every citizen in the value of the enterprise.

THE MINING JOURNAL has received a letter from A. W. Anderson, 616 Mill street, Alpena, Mich., inquiring about one John Taylor who was last heard from at Duluth, and was reported to have had both legs crushed in a logging camp somewhere in the upper peninsula, from the effects of which he died. ## FATALITY AT LAKE ANGELENE

William Extrom, a miner employed at the Lake Angeline East End mine, was instantly killed Friday night shortly after 11 o'clock. He and two others, John Hanna and John Nolan, were just about to start work after relieving the men on the preceding shift. The gang that had just finished work had prepared the drift for a new set of timbering but did not have time to put it in place. As Extrom and his partners were entering the drift they heard the timbers crashing and the ground falling immediately in front of them. Between them and another drift coming from an opposite direction was a raise extending from the level below. The mouth of the raise was only a few feet distant. When the men saw the ground beneath the raise and began falling on him as he descended the ladder. Two or three boulders, weighing from 200 to 500 pounds each, rolled into the ladderway and it appears that some of these struck Extrom on the head and knocked him to the level below, a distance of sixty-five feet.

When the miners found Extrom he was dead. His skull was badly fractured and his hands and body cut and bruised. He was covered by about a foot and a half of earth. From the cuts on his hands it was evident that some of the boulders must have struck him both on the head and shoulders before he fell away. The dirt was removed and the body was taken to surface soon after the accident occurred.

Extrom was a new man in the mine. He started to work there on the 1st of this month. He had been working at the Wintrop mine for some time before that property closed down.

Saturday morning Coroner Rogers empaneled the following jury in the case: Timothy Hughes, Fred J. Eggan, Robert Maxwell, John Murfar, John C. Funston and William Andrews. The jury viewed the body at the dead man's home, 601 Cleveland avenue and at 2 o'clock the inquest was held. The testimony of the six witnesses, Captain Tregemble, Shift Foreman Sinciox, Mine Inspector James H. Rough, John Hanna and John Nolan, Extrom's partners and Thomas Tyson, who worked in the gang that had just finished its shift in the drift, was taken. All these were either familiar with or had examined the ground and testified that in their opinion the place where the accident occurred was fairly safe. The drift was being worked on the cave-in system and when Tyson and his partners left the place the ground showed no signs of falling away. As the place had not been thoroughly examined after the accident the witnesses were unable to tell whether the cave came from the side, breast or roof of the drift, but they were inclined to think it came from the roof. After hearing the testimony the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts stated, exonerating the company from blame.

Extrom was thirty-two years of age and had resided here for some time. A wife and two small children survive him. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home on Cleveland avenue. The religious services were conducted at the Swedish Mission church, which the deceased was a devoted member.

Old Teachers Retained.
The school board held a meeting Friday evening and decided to retain all teachers of the present corps who desire to remain at the salaries as fixed by our board recently. The resignations of two teachers, the Misses Funston and Dyke, were received and accepted by the board. There are three of the other teachers who have reported that they would not accept places next year at the reduced salaries but they had not sent in their resignations, consequently the board did not take any action in their cases. There are two others who have not yet fully decided whether they will remain or not.

B. W. Wright and E. F. Bradt were appointed to examine the applications now in and to select teachers to fill vacancies from those applying for places and report the same at the next meeting of the board. The committee met Saturday afternoon for the purpose of considering the applications.

Accepted the Invitation.

THE CHINESE LANGUAGE.

It Is Not So Monosyllabic as Is Commonly Supposed.

Nor Is It as Difficult to Learn as a Hearing of It Would Lead One to Believe—The Method of Study.

There are about sixty thousand characters in the Chinese language proper, but the average Chinaman no more learns all of these characters than the everyday American learns the one hundred thousand words in the English language. The Chinaman, however, learns on the average more than does an American in a similar position in life. A Chinaman who can neither read nor write is a rarity, according to the New York Evening Post. Chinese is not a monosyllabic language, as many suppose, and it is impossible to utter in Chinese any but the shortest sentences in monosyllables. In writing the Chinaman makes one complicated but integral character for each word, but that word may be properly spoken in two, three or four syllables. His syllables are divided by no longer initials than are his words, and that is what makes the language sound to a foreigner like a sing-song jargon. We do not know whether he is telling a story or attempting a song. The Chinese perhaps thinks the same thing of an American who bites off his words and swallows them or telescopes one into the other. Business men thrown in contact with Chinese merchants who speak pure Chinese say that it is not difficult to learn. Instead of twenty-six letters, not including the useless & Chinese have five hundred or six hundred syllables, and these are combined into various forms to make the sixty thousand words in their "dictionary." These syllables vary in meaning according to the tone in which they are spoken or the strokes used in writing them.

A Chinaman can unite any two of the six hundred syllables and make an intelligent word. This is not the case with the English language. This flexibility is perhaps owing to the shortness of their words (seldom more than three syllables) and the tone or strokes belonging to the syllables when spoken or written. A syllable may mean one of a hundred things, and its particular meaning is limited by placing another syllable of similar significance before or after it, using its particular tone, or stroke when writing. Sometimes the syllables are uttered in such rapid succession that they seemingly form one word, but the trained Chinese ear notes the tones, and he is easily understood—the marvelous subtleties of accent conveying the expression to a nicety. He does not have to state a proposition, and then, in order to make himself clear, restate it by the usual "or, in other words." There are no "other words" with the Chinese. The tone gives the meaning. The Chinese have a system of two hundred and fourteen radicals, having various strokes from one to seventeen, which are combined with the characters. Each radical has a separate meaning, generally denoting the simplest object, as man, sky, earth, water, king. The student first learns these, which answer to the A B C; he next studies the syllables, or combinations, and thus he has learned to read and spell. Grouping the syllables into words depends upon his powers of speech or of composition in writing. What is popularly known as "slang" is not known to the Chinese. Their language is sufficiently copious without resorting to the brutal forms of speech. The most withering contempt or the keenest of satire may be expressed in the politest terms.

CLOSED ON THE DUCK'S BILL.
How an Oyster Resented Impertinent Curiosity in Chesapeake Bay.
The meek and lowly oyster can sometimes become a revengeful as well as a dangerous antagonist, as an unvary duck found to his cost a day or so ago over on the eastern shore, says the Baltimore American. This careless duck, belonging to the tribe known as "fishermen," was swimming about in search of food off the shore near Chiborne, when he espied an oyster—a nice, fat, juicy oyster he was—willy nilly parted, feeding, doubtless, on the simple and rather intangible diet upon which an oyster is supposed to feed. The duck, true to his greedy instincts, dived for that supposed juicy morsel and was about to swallow him whole, without salt or pepper even, when the angry passions of the oyster arose, and snapping his shells together, caught the unsuspecting duck's bill in a vise-like embrace. The duck rose to the surface, shook his head, mumbled apologies through his tight-shut mouth, but the bivalve's heart was hardened, and he held on. Soon the constant load pulling down his head, and growing weightier and weightier, began to tire the duck and his neck arched lower and lower until finally it sank into the water and he was drowned. A deckhand on the steamboat Tangier saw the duck floating with his head submerged and picked him up. The oyster was still clinging to his victim with a relentless, deadly grasp, and the tragedy that must have been enacted as described was revealed.

In at the Finish.
Crossing a field one day President Lincoln, it is said, was pursued by an angry bull. He made for the fence, says Life's Calendar, but soon discovered that the bull was overtaking him. He then began to run around a haystack in the field and the bull pursued him, but in making the short-circles around the stack Lincoln was the faster, and instead of the bull catching him, he caught the bull and grabbed him by the tail. It was a firm grip and a controlling one. He began to kick the bull, and the bull bellowed with agony and dashed across the field, Lincoln hanging to his tail and kicking him at every jump, and as they flew along Lincoln yelled at the bull: "Damn you, who began this fight?"
