SENATORS SAT UP LATE.

Wrangle Over the Tariff Bill Kept Them in Session 11 1-2 Hours.

REPUBLICANS FINALLY FORCED ADJOURNMENT.

Battle Was Practically Drawn for Sessions Will Begin at 10 O'clock After Monday Next.

REPUBLICANS BROKE QUORUM.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Mr. Lodge's resolution to investigate the charges of attempted bribery of senators and the allegations of contributions to campaign funds by the sugar trust was passed after amendments offered by Messrs. Cockrell, Hoar, Chandler, Faulkner, Allen and Vilas had been incorporated, making it a veritable drag-net.

As passed the resolution includes all charges of bribery, all allegations of contributions by the sugar trust directly or indirectly to the campaign funds of either party, or that any senator has been improperly influenced in tariff legislation or has been speculating in sugar stocks.

Mr. Hansbrough read a letter from Butz asking for an investigation. Messrs. Hutton and Harris asked a speedy investigation and Mr. Allen, on behalf of Mr. Kyle, who is absent, declared he would demand it.

The tariff bill was then taken up and Mr. Gallinger delivered another installment of his tariff-history speech. Mr. Gallinger yielded to Mr. Higgins, who spoke at length on the effect of protection on prices.

A number of Jones' amendments to the chemical and drug schedule were agreed to and the vice president then announced the appointment of the following committee in accordance with the Lodge resolution: Gray, Lindsay, Lodge, Allen and Davis.

REPUBLICANS BREAK QUORUM.

At 6 o'clock, Mr. Harris, manager of the tariff bill, moved that the senate take a recess until tomorrow morning with the intention of continuing the legislative day for the consideration of the tariff bill to the exclusion of all other legislative business.

This meant the inauguration of the policy of duress that made famous the struggle over the federal election bill, the repeal of the Sherman law and other big legislative contests in the senate.

The Republicans under leadership of Mr. Manderson resisted vainly, protesting that they did not seek to delay action on the tariff bill. Then they used filibustering methods, breaking the quorum by refusing to vote, although a certain number of their western colleagues declined to join in the filibuster.

At 7:30 the motion to adjourn was voted down by the Democrats. Both sides by this time had evidently come to the conclusion to "sit it out," and prepared for a siege. Mr. Faulkner was in the chair and ruled that no remarks were in order in the absence of a quorum.

At 8:20 Sergeant-at-Arms Bright submitted a report which showed that of the absentees on the roll call ten were absent from the city, twenty-two could not be found, one (Mr. Morrill) declined to attend, and nineteen were either present now or had reported that they would immediately respond.

FIGHT ENDS IN A DRAW.

This did not satisfy Mr. Harris. He was in favor of adopting more heroic measures and moved to compel the attendances of the absentees. At 10:30 p. m., after sitting for eleven and one-half hours and after very sharp and plain talk on both sides, the Republicans succeeded in forcing an adjournment.

Although the Republicans won tonight's battle in one sense yet it was really a draw for a compromise was practically agreed upon before adjournment by which the sessions will begin at 10 o'clock after Monday. Republicans generally assert that they will resist unusual hours or extraordinary proceedings and Democrats say that it has become evident from the long speeches that unless the hours are extended the disposal of the bill will be unreasonably delayed.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The house spent the day committee of the whole considering the agricultural bill. When this was concluded the committee rose, the bill was reported to the house with no amendments of importance and passed in spite of efforts to have it re-committed.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Two important projects for inland ship canals were favorably acted upon today by the house committee on railways and canals today. Appropriations were voted for surveys for a canal to connect the Hudson river and the Great Lakes and for one between the Ohio river and Lake Erie.

TORE UP THEIR NIGHTSHIRTS.

Law Students Have a Parade and Are Roughly Handled.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 17.—The campus of the university was a scene of pandemonium last night. The occasion was the nightshirt parade of the law students in ridicule of the cap and gown debut of the senior literary students. About one hundred laws appeared in nightgowns, each man armed with a heavy cane and tin horn, and headed the parade about the campus and adjoining streets. A crowd of over twenty-five hundred students and townspeople followed. They made this the biggest demonstration that has been seen here for two years.

Soon the students began to form by departments and indulge in "rushes," in which the literary students had the advantage. The cry for a "scalp" arose among the latter and at 10 o'clock not one of the paraders had a piece of a nightshirt left as large as a pocket handkerchief. In the rushes one student was badly cut across the face by a blow from a cane. The crisis that was expected this morning when the literary students made their cap and gown debut was prevented by the faculty prohibiting the laws from attending chapel.

ORE CARS RUN AWAY.

Coaches Wrecked and Passengers Have a Very Close Call.

IRONWOOD, Mich., May 17.—Over one hundred people on the Chicago fast newspaper train of the Chicago & Northwestern road had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. A string of eight cars heavily laden with iron ore got loose from the trainmen at the Aurora mine and made a rush down grade past the depot here toward Hurley, where the limited train was stationed at the time. Brig W. Shore, agent of the company here, made a rush into the station and telegraphed warning to Hurley. The conductor and engineer at Hurley were quick to respond and the limited took its departure a few seconds before the runaway rushed past the station and collided with another train, which passengers were just about to board. Two coaches were smashed and the engine thrown from the track, but there was no loss of life.

BRIBERY IS CHARGED.

Senator Brice's Name Mixed With Ohio Legislative Scandal.

COLUMBUS, O., May 17.—During the discussion of the Earnhart bill to lease the Hoeking canal to the railroad company in the house tonight there occurred the most sensational scene of the session. Mr. Sleeper, who championed the original bill, alleged that a straw company had been formed in Senator Brice's office in Wall street to defeat the real object of the bill and his (Brice's) business representative, Colonel Lemert, was here. Mr. Griffin with considerable force denied the charge.

Then Mr. Sleeper pointed to Lemert and said that the latter's attorney had offered him (Sleeper) $5,000 to withdraw his support from the Earnhart bill. Mr. Earnhart offered a resolution providing for an investigation of the charges of bribery and report by Saturday, May 19, which was adopted.

AGREED TO DISAGREE.

Coal Operators and Miners Unable to Reach Agreement.

CLEVELAND, May 17.—The joint conference of coal operators and miners resumed its sessions this morning and the joint committee announced that it could not agree. Arguments pro and con were continued at length. Then the operators and spectators were requested to retire and the miners held a private consultation lasting an hour. At its conclusion President McBride offered a resolution reciting that a large number of operators had refused to attend the conference and it was impossible to make any settlement with the operators who had met them here. These resolutions were offered to the conference as expressing the views of the miners and as there seemed to be nothing more to do the conference adjourned without day.

BRYAN KICKS OUT.

Nebraska's Flowery Orator Ready to Join the Populists.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Representative Bryan of the First Nebraska district has sent a letter to the chairman of his congressional committee, Judge J. H. Broady of Lincoln, declining to be a candidate for reelection. In the letter he expresses some doubts as to the future of the Democratic party, saying: "If the president's financial policy becomes the policy of the party I do not see any reason for the continued existence of the party, because the Republicans have followed this policy longer and are better prepared than we to support it. On the other hand, if the party repudiates Cleveland's financial policy and renews its devotion to the common people it may yet become an effective instrument in securing good government."

BACKS HIS WORD WITH CASH.

Father O'Reilly Offers $100 for Proof of Saloon Open Sunday.

ADHAN, Mich., May 17.—Rev. Dr. O'Reilly, the Catholic priest connected with the Irish "parliament fund," is pastor of St. Mary's church of this city. He recently made an onslaught on Sunday saloons and succeeded in shutting up most of the saloons on Sundays. Afterwards he remarked in a sermon: "Not a saloon was open last Sunday." This brought on Rev. Dr. Spencer, Presbyterian pastor, with the statement that saloons were open on that day. Dr. O'Reilly now deposits $100 with a local newspaper to be paid for proof that any saloon was open on the Sunday stated. It amounts to a wager with Rev. Dr. Spencer that what the latter said was not so.

MUTCHMORE IS MODERATOR.

General Assembly Meets and Elects Presiding Officer.

SARATOGA, May 17.—The Presbyterian general assembly met in biennial session today. Dr. Samuel A. Mutchmore of Philadelphia was elected moderator and inducted into office, after which the assembly adjourned till tomorrow.

SLAIN BY THE CYCLONE.

Bodies of Victims Literally Torn to Pieces by Its Force.

PICKED UP AND WHIRLED THROUGH THE AIR.

Whole Family Wiped Out and Members of Another Will Die of Their Wounds.

UNSURPASSED IN FURY.

TOLEDO, O., May 17.—A cyclone and hail storm struck Kunkle, a small town in Williams county this afternoon. Couriers report five killed and seven wounded and much destruction of property.

KUNKLE, O., May 17.—A cyclone passed a quarter of a mile west of here at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, killing five persons, fatally injuring two others and slightly wounding several. The dead and fatally wounded are:

DANIEL BARRETT.
MRS. DANIEL BARRETT.
MARTHA DASO.
GEORGE OXINGER.
MYRTA DASO.
CHARLES COLE, fatally.
MRS. CHARLES COLE, will die.

The scene of the cyclone is hard to describe. Houses, fences, trees and obstructions of all kinds in the path of the storm were carried away bodily and nothing is left to mark the spot except huge holes in the ground. The strip devastated is about one mile wide and six miles long.

The building in which Daniel Barrett, his wife and two grand daughters, Myrta and Martha Daso, lived is so completely demolished that not even any portion of the foundation is left. About forty rods from where it stood is the roof almost intact together with portions of the frame work.

VICTIMS TORN TO PIECES.

Mrs. Barrett was the worst mangled of the victims. She was carried over a quarter of a mile and dropped in the cemetery in a dismembered condition, parts of her body being found about one hundred yards further on. There was very little left of the woman's body that resembled the form of a human being. Her breast and abdomen had been rent in twain and the viscera were scattered broadcast through the fields.

Daniel Barrett was carried about forty rods. His hand was torn off at the wrist and one leg was beaten into a pulp. He was still breathing when found but died soon afterward.

Martha and Myrta Daso were in another part of the house and were dropped where the house seems to have gone to pieces. Martha, aged fourteen, was severely injured only about the head, which was crushed in on the left side, showing a great hole from which the brain oozed. Myrta, aged ten, lay almost in the arms of her sister. The bones in all parts of her body were broken and ground through the flesh. Nothing could be done to relieve the little one's suffering and she died at 10 o'clock.

George Oxinger, a hired hand of Barrett's, witnesses say was lifted from the ground and whirled into the air at least one hundred feet, together with timber, fences, trees and other debris. Oxinger's lifeless body was found about one hundred rods from where he was lifted into the air. His bones protruded from the flesh and the body indicate that he came in contact with many of the flying trees and beams.

RUSH RIVER IS RAGING.

Every Bridge Gone and Many Houses Swept Away.

RED WING, Minn., May 17.—In Pierce county, Wis., Rush River rose high above its banks as a result of Tuesday's storm, carrying out every bridge from its headwaters to the Mississippi. At Martell, El Paso and other places flouring and sawmills were swept away by the flood, entailing great losses. Three farm houses with their occupants are said to have been washed away. One dwelling was seen going past Martell. Rush valley is a scene of complete devastation and buildings not washed away by the stream are in many instances ruined and covered with mud. From the meagre reports received the loss will reach $100,000 or more.

STILL RISING AT HUDSON.

HUDSON, Wis., May 17.—The flood in Willow river is still raging. Since last night nearly every dam above the city on this river has been swept away, carrying part of the Green flour mill. All dams in this city are out. The wagon bridge and Omaha railroad bridge are also gone. The electric light plant and others are in great peril. The water is rapidly gaining ground. The total loss is $75,000.

HARRISVILLE, Mich., May 17.—

The severe rain storm last night carried off three dams and two bridges. The water is running down the principal street at a furious rate.

ATLANTA, May 17.—The Populist state convention today nominated J. K. Hines of Atlanta for governor. Hines left the Democratic party only a few weeks ago.

CHATTANOOGA, May 17.—H. C. Snodgrass (Dem.) was renominated for congress today on the 437th ballot.

THE Detroit Tribune's "Politician" will not leave much for the political conventions to do at the rate he is going on.

EX-GOVERNOR LUCE has discovered that he is not such an ultra silver man after all. It has probably helped him to make this discovery to learn that many influential Republicans of the state protested against having him thought of in connection with the senatorial appointment on account of the free and easy character of his views on silver.

IT IS strange how much more the Detroit Evening News thinks of Winans now than it did when he was governor of the state. When he was holding down the executive chair the News derided him and his administration mercilessly, but now it seems to think him quite a worthy old gentleman and one of the greatest Democrats in Michigan.

AN UNWISE POLICY. As the days go by the outlook for the passage of the senate tariff bill becomes less assuring to the supporters of that measure.

THE caucus of Republican senators held on Monday evening for the announced purpose of arriving at some conclusion as to the course to be pursued in reference to the tariff bill was barren of results.

THE caucus of Republican senators held on Monday evening for the announced purpose of arriving at some conclusion as to the course to be pursued in reference to the tariff bill was barren of results.

the sooner it is disposed of the better for the country. It ought to be defeated, and it will be if some Democrats in the senate are not whipped into the traces by the party lash.

WHERE THE MONEY STAYS. The Wall Street Indicator states that an abstract of the reports made to the comptroller of the currency by the forty-nine national banks of New York city showing their condition on the 4th of the current month discloses that they had on that date loans and discounts amounting to $330,597,055; lawful money reserve, $191,958,052; of which $79,552,474 was in gold or gold treasury certificates; individual deposits, $315,933,180. Average reserve held 39.52 per cent.

This statement, as compared with that of February 28, 1894, showed an increase in the loans and discounts of over $25,000,000. The reserve in bank has also increased by over $14,000,000. The greatest change, however, is in the amount of individual deposits, which increased over $35,000,000 during the last sixty-five days.

The facts set forth denote that there is money enough in the country, but that it is not in circulation. It remains idle for this reason—it is unable to find profitable employment at present. To illustrate what we mean by this, we may say that nobody wants to borrow money in order to use it in the iron mining business just now because there is no profit in mining iron ore.

What we need is activity in business rather than more money. Get the machinery of trade in motion and it will bring out the money and distribute it among the people, and then everybody who is willing to earn it will have money. But accumulated stocks must be worked off before there will be any encouragement to producers to re-engage in production at a normal rate.

MAYOR PINGREE IS ANGRY. Mayor Pingree of Detroit is somewhat exercised over the difficulties that confront him in conducting the government of his city in the interest of the people who elected him.

EDUCATIONAL COUNCIL.

Program for Public Meeting to Be Held at Houghton Friday Evening.

DEPOT BURGLARS GOT ONLY A FEW CENTS.

[All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. [sic, Houghton]

HOUGHTON. Next Friday is the date set for the grand educational council and rally at the high school building. The council meets at 2 o'clock and is intended for commissioners, examiners and school officers. The rally opens at 7:30 o'clock at the Army Opera House and the public is cordially invited to attend. The following will be the order of exercises:

Reading of scripture and prayer, Rev. William Reid Cross. Opening remarks, Commissioner William Bath. Address of welcome, Hon. Jay A. Hubbell.

FIVE MINUTE SPEECHES. "Supplementary reading," Judge Thomas Dooling. "The dress of the teacher," D. W. Sutter, Lake Linden. "Faults in teachers," George C. Bentley, Chassell. "Teachers' wages," R. H. Shields. "Duties of school officers," Dr. E. T. Abrams, Dollar Bay. "Recess," Yes," Mr. J. E. Scallion. "Schools of forty years ago," W. E. Parnall, Tamarack. "Teaching pupils to think," Dr. M. E. Wadsworth, Mining school. "Mutual duties of teachers and parents," Dr. R. H. Osborn, Calumet. Closing remarks by State Superintendent R. H. Pattengill.

A terrific electrical storm accompanied by heavy thunder and floods of rain prevailed throughout the copper country for about an hour on Wednesday evening between 6 and 8 o'clock. No serious damage to property has been reported. A washout occurred on the South Shore railroad near Chassell, which however was soon repaired and which did not detain any passenger trains.

Surveyor James P. Edwards was on the witness stand all of yesterday morning in the case of Ruelle against the D. S. S. & A. railroad. In the afternoon a special train took the jurors to the Sturgeon River flats, where the farmers report the water has caused them damage.

Mrs. Henry Sewell left Wednesday for Great Falls, Mont. to join her husband, who went there about six months ago.

Miss Nellie Spring went to Bessemer Wednesday to attend the funeral of her aunt, the wife of Captain Tallon, formerly of the Portage mine.

Mrs. A. P. Thomas arrived from the Delaware on Wednesday afternoon and will probably make this city her permanent home.

George D. Swinton and James McHardy of Calumet were made full citizens at the circuit court on Wednesday.

The Mineral Range depot was entered by burglars Wednesday night. The thief is thought to have been hid in the closet of the waiting room when the depot was locked for the night, for all the doors were locked and windows were fastened. Next morning one of the windows at the east end of the depot was open, by which the burglar made his escape. All the plunder obtained was a few old copper cents, for no money is allowed to remain overnight in the ticket or freight office. Before the clerks go home it is all put in the burglar proof safe in the general office.

The Calumet & Hecla employees received a notice in their monthly pay envelopes yesterday that hereafter all men garnished for debt would be at once discharged from the company's service.

Contractor Uiseth has men at work on one of Mrs. Anna Olson's buildings damaged by fire. The prompt settlement by the insurance adjusters enabled him to go to work sooner than he expected. The amount allowed on the damaged building was $907. The other building was a total loss and Mrs. Olson will receive the full amount of her policies, $2,500.

Stephen Agnitch, who had two buildings and contents totally destroyed by the late fire, intends to build but one large building on the site of the two. He will probably put up a building suitable for a hotel or large boarding house.

William Isaacson is clearing the site of his building. He estimates his loss not covered by insurance at fully $4,000.

Mrs. Will A. Childs and Mrs. F. B. Lyon left Wednesday on a visit to Mrs. Edward Daniell at Menominee.

It is reported that the Calumet & Hecla company will quit farming and pay attention strictly to mining. The reports of the barn and farm superintendents, Danielson and Thompson, for the past three years show that the hay and other products raised on the company's land cost very much more than the market rates. All farm land owned by the company will probably be leased to the employes of the company.

THE CRUSADES.

Permanent Results Which They Effected Upon European Countries. On Europe the results of the crusades had a most marked influence. When Godfrey left for the east he sold their freedom to the burghers of Metz, and many another seigneur after his time pawned or sold his lands, and gave immunities in return for money to the towns. St. Louis, after his experience in the east, not only encouraged learning, protecting the university of Paris and collecting manuscripts in monasteries, but he remembered the Italian communes of Syria, and fostered the growth of the middle class in his city as a check on both barons and clergy.

The Italian republics were the first to be benefited by the conquest of Jerusalem, and the German cities became free during the struggle with the pope. In Italy and Spain first, and afterward in France, the philosophy and science of the Moslems and of Aristotle were studied. Bologna and Salamanca became famous, and the obscure university of Oxford followed in their wake.

The art and culture of Venice, Genoa and Pisa were almost entirely of oriental origin. The Syrian glass, the metal work of Damascus, the pottery of Persia, gave models for Italian manufactures. Cimabue owed his inspiration to the school of Byzantine artists, who came to Italy after the Norman conquest of Constantinople in 1204 A. D. The roots of the Renaissance are found in the civilization of the crusades.

The wise laws of the Latin kingdom set an example, not vainly placed before great kings like St. Louis, Richard Lion Heart or Edward I. The wider thought, which resulted from a wider knowledge of ancient philosophies, of varying Christian beliefs, of Moslem simplicity and Buddhist tolerance, led to the birth of that free spirit of inquiry which rejected the discredited authority of Rome.

Peter the Hermit preached unconsciously a far-distant reformation. Frederick II. laid the foundations of European science. Surely, when we recall the actual results of this great period of schooling in the east, we can no longer regard the crusades as having been merely futile efforts, which weakened and retarded the progress of the west. Nor when we read in detail the account of that great building up of the kingdom which was founded by valor and preserved so long by justice and wisdom, can we regard its rulers as ignorant fanatics or religious enthusiasts. The history of the kingdom of Jerusalem is the history of the birth of freedom for all Europe.—Edinburgh Review.

THOUGHT THE FEE TOO MUCH.

But His Newly-Made Wife Soon Convinced Him It Wasn't. "I had a queer couple in my office a few days ago," remarked Squire House, of Jeffersonville, recently, to a Louisville Commercial reporter. "They were the most rural-looking couple I ever saw. There was a lady in her whiskers, and she had the appearance of having ridden hard all day on a sulky plow. They came all the way from the briar patches of Bullitt county, and regarded everybody they met as a sort of bunko steerer. After I had tied the nuptial knot the groom asked me what I charged, and I told him the usual fee was two dollars. He argued that they were very plain people, that it had taken but a few moments of my time, and that the woman was far from being handsome, accordingly he thought two dollars was a trifle steep for such a wife. I might have only got one dollar out of it had not the husband referred to his new wife's personal appearance disparagingly. At this she flew into a passion and declared there wasn't another girl he ever kept company with that could touch her as to looks. She referred in cutting terms to some of his old sweethearts, and swore she was worth every cent of two dollars.

If he did not pay it she said she would apply for a divorce at once. She was determined, and her husband finally had to shell out the other dollar."

Sec. 3.—The owner, driver, conductor, master or person in charge of any stage, steamboat, vessel, railroad car or other public conveyance, which shall enter the city, having on board any person sick of malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease, shall within two hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the fact, with the name of such person and the house or place where he was put down in the city, to the mayor or some member of the board of health.

Sec. 6.—All fines imposed under this ordinance shall be, when collected, paid into the city treasury and covered into the general fund of the city of Marquette.

Sec. 7.—The said board of health shall meet in the common council chamber of the city of Marquette at such times as the members shall decide, and the recorder of the city shall be clerk of the board and shall keep a record of the proceedings of such meetings, and shall file the same in his office. Meetings of the board may be called forthwith by any member of the board, by giving oral or written notice to the members, and any members of the board being present at any meeting shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 8.—No person having the small pox or varioloid, or other contagious disease shall go about the city, and all persons having small pox, varioloid or other contagious or infectious disease, are hereby required to be kept closely confined within their respective dwellings or places of abode, and no person who has been confined with such disease, shall leave his or her place of abode and go about the city, until he or she is furnished with a certificate from the health officer, that it can be done without communicating the disease to others; and the health officer shall furnish such certificate without charge.

Sec. 9.—It shall be the duty of each member of the board of health to take care and charge of the ward in which he resides, to ascertain any nuisance which may exist in his ward, and forthwith to report the same in writing to the board; to enter upon the premises and into the house of every person in his ward as often as he shall deem necessary, or the board of health shall deem it necessary to examine into the health, cleanliness and the number of persons inhabiting such house, and inspect the cellars, vaults privies and sewers on such premises.

Sec. 10.—Each member of the board of health shall, upon discovering any person who, in his opinion, is infected with a malignant or infectious disease, promptly notify the health officer of said board.

Sec. 11.—Such board shall not provide any medicine, or other necessary articles, for any person at the residence of such person, unless such person cannot be removed to the pest house, under the provisions of this ordinance, and such board shall provide such assistance and medicines as may be necessary for those actually sick or infected; in case any member of the same family, not sick or infected, shall be in want of medicine or assistance, it shall be the duty of such board of health to notify the director of the poor thereof, but such board shall not have any power to furnish such persons with provisions or other necessities, except medicines as a preventive of disease.

Sec. 12.—All bills for necessities furnished by order of such board of health shall be sworn to, and shall be presented to the controller, audited and paid, in the same manner as other bills against the city of Marquette; and in case it is intended, and is proper, to present such bill to the county of Marquette for payment, then the board of health, through its chairman, shall certify to the said county that the person himself, in whose behalf the bill has been made, his parents or other person who may be liable for his support, is unable to pay the same.

Sec. 13.—Any failure to comply with, or violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, the fine not to exceed $100 with costs, nor the imprisonment more than thirty days. All ordinances and provisions inconsistent or in any way contravening the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

The steamer City of New Baltimore had quite a lively trip to Partridge Island and back yesterday. The small pox patient in the pest house at Thoney's quarry is reported as doing well and will soon be out of danger. The health officer pays him regular visits one of which he will attempt today and any person who has driven over the sixteen miles of road between the city and there, even in fair weather, will sympathize with the doctor who attempts it today. The drive will doubtless prove a little better than swimming and a little worse than walking.

William Penglase of Ishpeming, representing the Superior Fly Oil company of that city, was in Marquette yesterday introducing to the trade here his company's preparation for protecting people from the attacks of mosquitoes and gnats. This preparation is called Mosquito-rep and is the best thing of its kind on the market. It is sure to have a large sale in this region, where mosquitoes and gnats are such a plague to people who have to go into the woods during the warm season. The company also has a good thing in its Superior Fly Oil, which is intended to prevent animals from being tortured by flies and gnats and is said by horsemen to be the best preparation known for that purpose.

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

A special meeting of the common council of the city of Marquette was held in the council room on Friday the 17th day of May, A. D. 1894, President Pearl presiding. There were present Aldermen Brown, Hennessy, Hoch, Homier, Holley, Jamerson, Moore, Pearl, Rosetter, Schoch, Sherman, Tobin and Vandenberg. Alderman Hallstrom appeared later and took his seat. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and as amended approved. The recorder read the call for the special meeting of the council at this time, stating its object, and presented affidavit of service of notice of said meeting showing due and timely notice on all of the aldermen of this city, which was duly filed.

The matter of re-consideration of the action of the council at its last regular meeting in regard to releasing Emil Bruce for his $2,500 bond was taken up.

Moved by Alderman Hennessy and supported that it be referred to the committee on parks, cemeteries, public buildings and grounds, which was lost.

Moved by Alderman Homeier that the vote taken at the last meeting, granting the petition of Emil Bruce and releasing the money deposited by him, be re-considered, carried.

The president stated "the question now recurs on the original motion, namely that the petition be granted and the money released," which was lost.

The matter of a banquet was left to a special committee.

Moved by Alderman Hennessy and supported that the action of the council in relation to the purchase of maps from McCarthy & Johnson at the last meeting be sustained. Carried by the following vote: Ayes—Aldermen Brown, Hennessy, Hoch, Homier, Hallstrom, Jamerson, Rosetter, Schoch, Tobin, Vandenberg.

Nays—Aldermen Holley, Moore, Pearl, Sherman.

Moved by Alderman Hennessy, supported and carried that the action of the council at its last meeting establishing the price and hours of labor for those employed by the street and park commissioners be sustained.

Ayes—Aldermen Brown, Hennessy, Hoch, Homier, Jamerson, Rosetter, Schoch, Vandenberg. Nays—Aldermen Holley, Moore, Pearl, Sherman, Tobin. Petition of M. J. McGuire to erect a small frame building, to be veneered with brick or iron, on the back part of the Clume property on Lake street was granted.

The council then on motion adjourned. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder.

LIBERAL PRIZES. At a special meeting of Hese company No. 2 of the Negaunee fire department, under whose auspices a celebration will be held here on the Fourth of July, it was decided to abandon the picnic at the Teal Lake grove which was originally proposed and confine the sports entirely to the city.

The committee of arrangements has thus far raised $175, and only a portion of the business men have been called on for assistance. The committee will close the work of soliciting funds at an early day, and expects to raise at least $300, all of which will be offered in prizes. There will be bicycle races, foot racing, jumping, putting shot, sack races, wheelbarrow racing and numerous other sports.

The committee has been given instructions by the company to appoint its own sub-committees to assist in completing arrangements for the celebration.

New Camp of Modern Woodmen.

Deputy Council C. J. Byrns, assisted by about twenty members of Hematite Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America of Ishpeming, instituted a camp of that order in Negaunee Wednesday night at the A. O. U. W. hall. Following the initiatory ceremonies officers for the balance of the year ending in December were elected as follows: Venerable council, Thomas H. Harris, Jr.; worthy advisor, Fred E. Nightingale; excellent banker, Joseph Barabe, Jr.; clerk, Carl F. Moll; escort, L. C. Finch; watchman, Hugo Muck; sentry, Henry Anderson; physician, Dr. J. H. Hudson; representative to the grand lodge, Thomas H. Harris; managers, Maurice Wollner, Harry Pearce and Frank M. Henny. The camp will be known as Lake Superior Camp of Negaunee. The managers have been instructed to secure a hall for meeting purposes and to select meeting nights. Thirty members were initiated Wednesday night and there are several more whose applications have been approved who will be initiated at the next meeting.

Delayed the Trains. The heavy rains of Wednesday night washed a large amount of sand into the south side railroad track between Negaunee and Marquette, causing a delay of a couple of hours to the ore trains running between Marquette and Ishpeming. The first train that started out in the morning got stalled a few miles out of Marquette and some of the crew had to walk back to town for a gang of section hands to remove the sand, which was a foot or more thick in some places.

Caused Sorrow in Negaunee. Alfred W. Gibbs, who died yesterday morning at his home in Ishpeming, was well known in Negaunee and the news of his demise caused general regret here. He resided here for a year prior to thirteen and a half years ago, during which time he was engaged as a painter in H. E. Richardson's shops. His connection with the Ishpeming lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen brought him in contact with many other peninsula people. He was a past master of that lodge and was its recorder up to the time of his death. A large number of the members of Cui Bono lodge, A. O. U. W. of this city anticipate attending the funeral, which will be held Sunday afternoon.

LOCAL LAOGONICS.

A son was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. A. Ethier.

Mrs. Z. Deshambo and family left yesterday for Talbot, Mich., where they will join Mr. Deshambo, who went there some time ago.

A number of Negaunee people will go to Ishpeming tonight to see "The Train-Wreckers" by the Rice, Wolford & Sheridan Dramatic company.

Editor Griffey of the Iron Herald left yesterday on an extended visit to his old home at Conneaut, O. He will be away at least three or four weeks.

The remains of the late Henry Quinn will arrive here from Republic at 10 o'clock this morning and the interment will take place immediately following in the Negaunee cemetery.

G. G. Johnston of Ishpeming, a member of Charles Towne post, G. A. R., was in the city yesterday conferring with the management of "Crawford's Claim" regarding the production of that play in Ishpeming on the evening of Memorial Day.

The Rivals of Marquette and the Settlers of Ishpeming are booked for a game of baseball at Union Park Sunday afternoon. The admission will be fifteen cents. Mike Curley and Fred Webb of this city will do the battery work for the Settlers.

SPECIAL RATES FOR HUNTING, FISHING AND CAMPING PARTIES.

The South Shore have placed on sale at their Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming ticket offices, excursion tickets to the stations on their Duluth extension west of Nestoria to Lake Gogebic inclusive, at the very low rate of single fare for the round trip. These tickets will be sold only to parties of five or more and will be made good for fifteen days from date of issue. They will remain on sale until September 1st, 1894.

ALASKA'S TINY PRINCIPALITY. Queer Annette Island, Its Aborigines, and its Missionary History.

Rev. William Duncan, ruler of Annette island, a queer principality in the Pacific south of Sitka, lately visited San Francisco after a long absence from civilization. Father Duncan, who is a minister of the Church of England, has a record for heroic self-sacrifice surpassing even that of Father Damien, the priest of Malokai, whose experiences among the lepers have been heard around the globe.

He has for thirty-seven years been a missionary among the Metlakahla Indians, who, as long as they have been known, had practiced cannibalism, and among whom one had to take his life in his hand. He first settled among the Metlakahlas just across from his island in British Columbia, in sight of Mt. St. Elias and the great Fairmeath range, and there remained until five years ago, when, owing to too tight a rein by the Church of England and the British Columbia government, he removed to Annette island. He first received assurances from the government at Washington, however, that this island should be deeded to him and the Indians in fee simple, if he removed there, and this has since been done.

The Metlakahlas, to the number of about seven hundred, followed him there and he has since built up a town called Metlakahla, after the former town in British Columbia. The strange island of Annette is about fifty miles long, and twenty-five miles wide, and covered in the center by a snowy mountain range. All around the shores are valley and rolling lands, on which are great forests of pine, cedar, and other similar trees. There are also some open glades, and there are many pretty coves. All things considered, however, the island is unfit for occupancy, except by natives of the far north, accustomed to the changing climate incident to the raging ocean about. The island was unpeopled before, and the government, thinking it would never be valuable for any other purpose, gave it to the missionary and his wards.

The missionary, who is the absolute ruler and king of the island, has built on Annette island a practical reproduction of the first Metlakahla, though with some new features. He has built a saw mill, and the Metlakahlas have created a large number of buildings, modelled somewhat on the plan of American huts, yet having distinct Indian characteristics. Father Duncan has also caused a cannery to be built, and has given the Indians shares in it, when they so desired, in return for their labor. They have caught a great many salmon, halibut, and other fish this year, he says, and have made considerable money. He thinks his queer colony will be as great a success in Alaska as it was in British Columbia.

"I have about eight hundred Indians with me now," said the white haired old missionary, "and they are increasing slowly all the time. The Alaska Indians are coming over and joining us. They are not as good Indians as the Metlakahlas, since they have for a long time been able to get whisky from the traders along the coast. This has debased them, and since they have acquired the taste for spirits it is hard for them to desist. There is no drinking in the island of Annette, for I have prohibited liquors of all kinds from coming there. I do not allow any cards either, or any other kind of gambling. This is thought to be a very strict rule, for if there is anything an Indian likes to do it is to gamble. Gradually, however, I have cured them of all this.

"I have now come down to buy some small engines to be run by petroleum. These I intend to put in boats, so that the Indians can better move about in these northern waters to catch fish. They have hitherto gone as far up as the Naas river, in British Columbia, over on the mainland. They have done this in their ordinary boats, but with the engines they can move about with far less effort, especially when there are contrary winds.

"When I left the Metlakahlas were at work building a wharf on Annette island. As I stood and looked at them, and contemplated how wild and fierce they had been, and how severely believe it possible the change had been so great. When I first went among the Indians on the mainland the Hudson Bay Co., which had just established a post there, cautioned me that my life was in imminent danger every time I went among them. I speedily learned this was true. The buildups of the company were within a stout stockade, formed of great logs and reaching very high. The houses, too, were what are known as block houses. There were two high and stout gates, or more properly great doors, to the formidable stockade, and at the side of each was an outpost manned with cannon which could be turned to sweep the Indians right and left should they attack the fort.

"I went among the Indians every day, and returned to the fort each night to sleep. In this way I picked up their language and began to think of getting some books published in their native tongue. But my progress was slow. I had oftentimes to go into the fort in day time when an attack was imminent. Once I had to take my position on the outpost, in charge of one of the guns, and on numberless occasions had to, in one way and another, help defend the place. The Indians were the worst when the different clans were at war. At such times they particularly wanted to wreak vengeance on us. I have seen them kill Indians with whom they were at war, and cut off their arms and bite out pieces. They would also, when infuriated, bite pieces out of the arms of their allies, or even out of their own. They did not practice cannibalism in the sense of cooking the flesh, but they believed that to eat some of it would add to their valor.

"All this is now changed. I succeeded in translating parts of the Bible and other books into their language, and have now got them pretty well Christianized. In addition to the steam boilers for their boats, I am introducing a little electric light plant at Metlakahla, and hope soon to have an Indian village lit up in this way. The Metlakahlas no longer give me any trouble, and ere long they will be a credit to the American government that has given us the pretty island of Annette."—N. Y. Sun.

PLEA FOR WILD FLOWERS. A Danger That Some of Them May Be Extirpated.

The importance of protecting our forests, wild game and native song-birds is no longer questioned, but the work begun in these directions should include the preservation of beautiful, curious and useful plants indigenous to our woods and fields. In many instances, those who could prevent their destruction are indifferent to the rapid disappearance of wild flowers. Among the forces active in this extermination are the woodman's ax, the drainer's spade, the farmer's plow, the herdsman's sheep and the collector's trowel. There are other causes of perhaps minor importance, which are of too much significance to be entirely ignored. To a more enlightened public opinion, the establishment of Arbor day and to wholesome legislation, we must trust to the preservation of our woods and of the lowly plants that only thrive under their shade. If the farmer's mind were enlarged by broader culture he would spare a few rods of swamp land as nature dressed it. The lily would then be allowed to brighten the fence-row, and the clematis, with its feathery plumes, might be left to drape his fences without subjecting the owner to the charge of shiftlessness. And as sheep graze much closer than any other domestic animal, they are peculiarly destructive to plant life. In many instances they are allowed to graze in woodlands with other stock when they might as well be kept in other pasturage.

The species of wild plants which disappear most rapidly are those possessing, or supposed to possess, medicinal qualities, as the blood-root, sarsaparilla, orange-root and ginseng. Professional root diggers gather supplies each succeeding year from the same section as long as the yield is profitable. When they have so nearly exterminated the plant that the gathering no longer proves remunerative, new fields are sought in which to repeat their depredations. It is stated that ginseng can be cultivated successfully, and the production of ginseng may yet become a paying business. Many other wild plants also admit of cultivation. I heard complaints last Decoration day that plants, such as the trillium, once plentiful in this locality, are now almost exterminated by overgathering. Plant collectors are charged with being largely responsible for the extermination of wild flowers, and this is, perhaps, true in a way. But, after all, collectors are among the most active agents indirectly in perpetuating them, among town and city people, by giving an opportunity to buy them, and among country people by awakening them to the fact that native plants are worth money, and, consequently, worth keeping; for many people see no value in anything excepting the cash value.

If wild flowers are to be saved from extermination the people must be educated to understand their beauty and usefulness. Natural plantations in city parks make their value known, and the florist, who is each year adding new species to his stock of native plants, is also a teacher. But there is, perhaps, no better way in which to reach the masses than through the country schools. Teachers should call attention to the marvels of plant-structure and plant-life, and Arbor day exercises should not be called complete until a bed of wild flowers is made a part of the decoration of the school yard. The daily study of the plant, its habits and development will prove an efficient aid in the advancement of elementary science; a source of inspiration that will purify and make nobler the lives of all who come within its influence.—Garden and Forest.

INSURANCE FOR WOMEN.

The Terms on Which Companies Receive Women Are Harsh. Is your life insured? and, if it is not, why is it not? Woman now numbers it among the rights she has been striving to attain that she may be insured in certain companies. Of course the conditions are rather severe. She will have to pay more for the privilege than a man does, for the insurance companies still maintain that they take a greater risk in insuring women—gentle, domestic, early-to-bed and early-to-rise women—than they do in insuring men, who revel late at night, court delirium tremens, engage in fights with one another, seek death on the railway and in other ways endeavor to dispose of their lives.

Insurance is an admirable investment for women, despite the discrimination against them. The woman who has one depending upon her will lift a load of anxiety from her mind by having her life insured. She will know then that whatever happens she has provided for her charges. And the woman who has no one at all dependent upon her will find it equally pleasant to reflect that she is able to leave money to some one whom it will benefit.

An ordinary policy is issued for any sum desired. As long as the person insured lives, she must pay the premiums on that sum, and at her death the sum will be paid to her beneficiary.

The endowment policies are the most gratifying to those selfish beings who look forward to enjoying money themselves with almost as much keenness as they do toward leaving money to their heirs. These policies are known as the fifteen or twenty-year endowment policies and are supposed to be particularly adapted to needs of women. If a young woman takes out a twenty-year endowment policy of a thousand dollars, she pays a certain premium, and if she dies during the twenty years the face of the policy is payable to her beneficiary. But if she lives, at the end of the period the company will pay to her a thousand dollars with accumulated surplus and interest.—N. Y. World.
