SEVENTY-FIVE MILLIONS.

Deficiency for Current Fiscal Year Certain to Reach That Figure.

MONEY OBTAINED FOR BONDS IS ALL SPENT.

Revenues Not Large Enough to Meet Expenditures and Gold Reserve Again Trenched Upon.

CONGRESSIONAL WASTING.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The present depleted condition of the treasury and the discouraging outlook for the future are sources of considerable anxiety to the treasury officials. Already the gold reserve, which was brought up to the last bond issue to $107,390,842, has been reduced by expenditures since March 10 to less than $80,000,000, with no indications that foreign demand will cease until it has reached a much lower point.

With the exception of the gold reserve, counting every available dollar, the government today has less than $80,000,000 with which to meet its obligations, nor does the future show any signs of encouragement. On the contrary the probable deficit of $5,000,000 for the month of May is likely to be increased by $15,000,000 during the two succeeding months.

The closest calculation that can now be made shows that the deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 will be approximately $74,500,000, the total receipts being $291,510,000 and disbursements $365,575,000. The exact amount of receipts and expenditures for the present month and for the fiscal year to date are as follows: Receipts of the month to date, $20,459,888; receipts of the fiscal year to date, $262,280,637; expenditures of the month to date, $26,271,800; expenditures of the fiscal year to date, $337,528,196.

POLISH CHURCH BRAWL.

Was Mrs. Janicki Stabbed for Knowing Too Much?

CLEVELAND, May 27.—Mrs. Elizabeth Janicki was found wandering in the streets in the southern part of the city late last night, suffering from a bad wound in the head. She said she had been assaulted by a man, but before she could give particulars she became unconscious and was removed to the hospital. She has not yet recovered consciousness. Rev. A. F. Kolaszowski, the deposed pastor of St. Stanislaus Catholic church, makes a startling charge in connection with the assault. He declared Mrs. Janicki was the principal witness in possession of information about the plot to blow him up with dynamite when the row at St. Stanislaus church was in progress. He says Stanislaus Koscinski was deputized to place the dynamite bomb in his buggy. After his deposition Father Kolaszowski went to Syracuse, N. Y., and he declares Koscinski followed him to that city and with a crucifix in his hand confessed the part he was to take in the plot. The Polish printing office in this city was destroyed by fire and in the ruins of the building the dead body of Koscinski was found with a knife wound in the abdomen. Father Kolaszowski says Koscinski was murdered and his body burned to conceal the crime by persons who knew of his confession and that an attempt had been made to put Mrs. Janicki out of the way because her knowledge of the plot. The St. Stanislaus congregation laughs at the priest's story but the police are investigating the assault.

KILLED IN A CHURCH RIOT.

HAZELTON, Pa., May 27.—During a riot today at St. Casimir's Polish church at Freeland, Victor Sipnoky and Peter Yasmanski were fatally shot, James Travinski and Joseph Dutchless were seriously injured by police clubs and Chief of Police Gallagher and Officer Jones were injured by stones thrown by the crowd. A factional fight has been waged for a year in the church and today the enemies of the pastor, Father Mazotko, attempted to prevent him from entering the church. His police escort was attacked by the mob and the officers fired upon them.

SNOW IS MELTING FAST.

Disastrous Floods Are Resulting in the Pacific Northwest.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 27.—The entire northwest is just now suffering from floods caused by melting snow in the mountain ranges. The Willamette river is now about twenty-five feet above low water mark and rising half an inch an hour. The water today reached Front street and all day long merchants on the water front were moving their goods to upper stories. In Albina small houses are under water and their occupants have moved to higher ground. The Spokane river and Coeur d'Alene lake are higher than ever before known and immense damage has already been done to railroad property in western Washington and northern Idaho.

BOULDER ON THE TRACK.

Engineer and Fireman Killed and Messenger Fatally Hurt.

PITTSBURG, May 27.—The Baltimore & Ohio express west-bound was wrecked today near Pine Grove station. The train was twenty-five minutes late. A huge rock weighing about fifty tons was loosened from above by the heavy rains and fell across the tracks. Owing to a curve the engineer did not see the obstruction until too late. The engine crashed into the boulder with terrific force and was completely demolished and three express cars were wrecked. The engineer, William Nicholson of Glenwood, was so badly crushed and burned that all his remains to be found were gathered up and placed in a bucket. William H. Reinhard, fireman, Glenwood, was burned and scalded to death. O. F. Stahl, express messenger, Baltimore, was badly scalded, sustained severe internal injuries and will probably die. Fortunately no passengers were seriously injured although many were bruised and all received severe a shaking up. The three wrecked cars caught fire and were entirely consumed.

TRUCE AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

Another Effort to Arbitrate the Dispute Is in Progress.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 27.—A delegation from Colorado Springs, consisting of Dr. Slocum, president of Colorado college, C. G. Coltais, president of the Trades assembly, L. W. Bottes, president, and Charles Geissler, secretary of the Carpenters' union, and Rev. Evans Carrington, came here this morning with the hope that something might be done to settle the bloody controversy that has arisen. They were courteously received by President Calderwood and other representatives of the Miners' union and all the miners of the vicinity congregated about the building in which the meeting was held. Dr. Slocum addressed them, stating the grounds upon which arbitration could be sought, and was loudly applauded. A meeting of the Miners' union has been called for tomorrow and there is every reason for thinking that a committee will be appointed which will arbitrate and settle the whole trouble. In the meantime there will be a complete cessation of hostilities on all sides. Prisoners are to be exchanged and it is hoped this unfortunate affair will soon be settled. The strikers strenuously deny that anyone was killed in the strong mine explosion.

EATING AWAY THE LAND.

East Atchison Seems Doomed by the Missouri's Flood.

ATCHISON, Kan., May 27.—During the past forty-eight hours the Missouri river has risen six feet. Great damage is being done to property in the vicinity of East Atchison. During the past twelve hours the stream cut away nearly 200 feet of land near that town and the work of destruction continues. East Atchison was protected heretofore by a strip of land known as "The Point," which extended for several yards into the river. This point has been cut away and the main current now strikes the town almost directly from the north. It will probably be only a question of a few hours until the current has full sweep at East Atchison from this direction and then no power on earth can save the place from being swept away. Great excitement prevails there and a great many persons have moved to this city for safety. Buildings which stood in the north end of the village are being torn away or moved by their owners. Probably a dozen buildings were moved today and the work continues throughout the night.

BANISHED TO SIBERIA.

Count Sollogoub and Four Others Convicted of Will Forgiving.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 27.—The sensational will case that has been before the courts here ended today in the conviction on charges of forgery of Count Sollogoub and four other persons, including two lawyers. Some time ago a wealthy man named Vladimir Gribalov died. Shortly afterwards a document purporting to be his will was offered for probate. According to this will the sum of 1,000,000 roubles was left jointly to Madame Gribalov and Count Sollogoub. Suspicion arose that the will was not genuine and the matter was carried to the courts with the result stated above. All five of the convicted persons were sentenced to banishment to Siberia.

SHORT OF ANTHRACITE.

Floods Have Stopped Work in Many Hard Coal Mines.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—The anthracite coal trade, like the bituminous trade, is at a standstill, though from different causes. The floods throughout the anthracite region have forced the suspension of work in many mines until they can be relieved of surplus water. These enforced stoppages, together with the curtailment of production by anthracite mining companies for several months past, has produced scarcity of hard coal. Especially is this the case with the Reading company, which has been compelled within the past few days to decline orders.

HIRED TO THROW A BOMB.

Evidence That Anarchist Muller Works for Money, Not Glory.

PARIS, May 27.—Since the arrests of the anarchists, Guerin, Beauille and Gauch, the police have discovered that the latter paid Muller, who is also in custody, to execute the bomb outrage in Liege. Gauch is also shown to have been the accomplice of Matha and Fenelon in the Cafe Very explosion. Several meetings were held today to celebrate the establishment of the commune. A number of Socialist members of the chamber of deputies were present. Violent speeches were made but there was no disorder.

Railway Employees in Session.

New York, May 27.—The convention of the railroad employes of America assembled here today. Representatives were present from every state in the union and from Mexico and Canada. E. A. Clark, grand chief of the Order of Conductors, was made permanent president of the convention.

Rothschild's Filly Won.

PARIS, May 27.—The race for the Prix-de-Diane (French Oaks) of $37,850, three year old fillies, at Chantilly today was won by Baron de Rothschild's brown filly "Brisk."

RIOTOUS COAL STRIKERS.

Latest Phase of Troubles Is Stopping All Trains Carrying Out Coal.

SEVERAL ENGINES DERAILED AT MINONK, ILLS.

Similar Outrages on Roads Traversing the Indiana Fields—Troops Are Going to Minonk.

ILLINOIS MILITIA KEPT BUSY.

LA SALLE, Ills., May 27.—Owing to information received by Sheriff Taylor this morning that the loud reports heard last night were signals for the massing of foreign strikers at Spring Valley to be in readiness to march to La Salle today, there was considerable excitement at Camp Matthessen and visitors were carefully scrutinized but tonight all is quiet.

It is known, however, that the comrades of the rioters arrested by the troops yesterday are organizing an armed mob to avenge the arrests. Colonel Bennett and command are well prepared for trouble and as extra precaution the pickets were doubled this evening.

Six of the prisoners taken by the troops at the instance of the sheriff were carrying concealed weapons when captured. They were this morning lodged in the county jail at Ottawa where they will be given a preliminary examination tomorrow.

RIOTING AT MINONK.

Word was received from Minonk that the riotous miners there had taken possession of the town and stopped a train on Illinois Central which the railway officials were obliged to abandon; also that the sheriff of Woodford county had telegraphed to Governor Altgeld for troops, being unable to control the mob.

MINONK, Ills., May 27.—Another day has passed without bloodshed but how much longer it will be before the clash comes cannot be told. The strikers have defied the authorities and stopped all coal passing this point. To accomplish this they put coupling pins and links between the rails at the crossing of the Illinois Central and Santa Fe roads, so that the engines were derailed. Freight is now transferred to the Santa Fe, it being in the hands of receivers and so under the protection of the United States courts. The strikers have built fires around which they are gathered tonight, intending to stay up and allow no coal cars to pass. Militia are said to be on the way here from Peoria. In the meantime Sheriff Tool has sworn in 100 deputies and has taken all precaution possible to prevent loss of life or property and to preserve the peace.

TROUBLE FEARED AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Ills., May 27.—The six riotous strikers arrested at La Salle were brought here today by deputy sheriffs and placed in the county jail. As numerous threats are made by their comrades to release them by force if necessary, considerable anxiety is felt here. Fifty men armed with Winchester rifles have been placed on guard at the jail tonight and should any mob come it will meet with a warm reception. At Marseilles, Ills., today all was quiet but miners at that place will not go to work tomorrow, fearing the strikers from Streator will carry out their threat of marching on them. The sheriff at Marseilles has made preparation for a visit from the Streator men.

ALTGELD SENDS ARMS.

SHRINGFIELD, Ills., May 27.—Governor Altgeld had the following telegraphic correspondence today:

PANA, Ills., May 27.—To Governor Altgeld: Things are quiet this afternoon; not even a rumor of trouble. A. E. BOYLE.

ELMWOOD, Ills., May 27.—To Altgeld: This place has been twice visited by a mob of striking miners for the purpose of closing the mines here. We are creditably informed that a much larger mob is organizing to come here again and that they mean mischief. Please send by express immediately 100 stands of arms and 2,000 rounds of ammunition for the use of deputies. J. A. TOON, Mayor.

To this message the governor replied: "Have sent forty-five stands of arms 900 rounds of ammunition. That is all we have left."

TROOPS SENT TO MINONK.

MINONK, Ills., May 27.—To Altgeld: An Illinois Central train has been stopped by armed miners and the track obstructed. The city and county authorities are unable to suppress the rioters without bloodshed and want militia immediately. J. A. SIMPSON, Mayor.

MINONK, Ills., May 27.—To Altgeld: A mob of 300 strikers is obstructing the coal traffic on the Illinois Central and the mayor have done our best to disperse them but are unable without bloodshed. The strikers are determined and armed. I call on you for militia. I have plenty of deputies but no arms except revolvers. It is no use in your telling me to try and disperse them again without assistance for I cannot. Sheriff of Woodford county.

To which Governor Altgeld replied: "Tool, sheriff of Woodford county, Minonk: Have ordered three companies of troops to Minonk. They should reach there soon after midnight."

To Colonel J. S. Culver, Pana, Ills.: Order the Peoria, Canton and Delavan companies to Minonk in Woodford county at once. Take special train and enforce the law. ALTGELD, Governor.

Lieutenant David J. Baker, Twelfth Infantry, U. S. A., on detail here, was ordered to Minonk at 8 o'clock tonight.

PANA, Ills., May 27.—To General Orendorf, Springfield: I go to Minonk via Springfield and Bloomington on the 12-35 Alton train. I take the Springfield and Taylorville companies as I go.

J. S. CULVER, Colonel Fifth Infantry.

SHERIFF TAYLOR PROTESTS.

CAMP MATTHESEN, LA SALLE, Ills., May 27.—To Altgeld: I fear the withdrawal of simply a matter of education—the use of Pearline for washing and cleaning. The bright women, those who learn quickly, are using it now. The brighter the woman, the larger her use of it—the more good uses she finds to which she can put Pearline. Dull women, those who never use new things until their bright sisters have drummed it into them—they'll use it presently. It's just a question of sooner or later, with every woman who wants the best.

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, he is honest—send it back.

TALKED ABOUT SCHOOLS.

Educational Rally at Houghton Was Largely Attended and Very Interesting.

GUSTAF KYALA WAS IN HASTE TO GET MARRIED.

But He Trotted His Horse Over the Bridge and Had to Pay Fine First.

(All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton)

Houghton. The packed Opera House Friday evening showed the interest the copper country people take in educational matters. The occasion was the grand rally originated by State Superintendent Pattengill and carried out by County Commissioner Bath, assisted by the school principals. The program as published in THE MINING JOURNAL was carried out with only one change, Rev. E. W. Frazee taking the place of Dr. R. H. Osborn. A special train on the Mineral Range brought two full coaches of teachers and others interested from Calumet, Red Jacket, Tamarack and Osceola; Lake Linden, South Linden and Dollar Bay people came in carriages while the Chassell people chartered the tug Valerie and came up over twenty strong. Every school district in the county was represented.

Judge Hubbell made a splendid address of welcome. In the five minute address Judge Dooling made a good plea for supplementary reading in the schools.

G. C. Bentley of Chassell, in speaking of the "Faults of Teachers," was of the opinion that each teacher should assume responsibility for the discipline of the school instead of shifting it on the superintendent. He thought the system of keeping back bright pupils for dull ones to catch up as gross injustice; also that the present system of education failed to fit scholars for the real business of life but led the pupils to the belief that they would all become prominent public men and women.

Mr. R. H. Shields thought teachers were insufficiently paid when the years of preparation and cost of obtaining the education to fit them for their responsible profession was considered.

Dr. E. T. Abrams of Dollar Bay made some very good hits on the qualifications of a school officer.

Mr. J. E. Scallon of Hancock spoke in favor of frequent recesses, especially for the little ones. He gave some practical illustrations of the amount of air space required for school rooms and their ventilation.

Charles Smith of South Lake Linden made a most eloquent appeal for the teaching of patriotism to school children.

Professor Cooley of Calumet talked on the importance of the point and was punctual in closing his talk when his five minutes were up.

Attorney Streeter spoke on the general culture of the teachers and made the point that if the teacher was not able to inform the scholar on the varied subjects on which the child necessarily looks to teacher for knowledge, that scholar lost respect for his teacher in the proportion to which he found the teacher unable to answer his questions.

Superintendent W. E. Parnall of the Tamarack mine related his early school experiences forty years ago and made a comparison in detail the cross-examination of Col. Breckinridge.—Detroit Tribune.

The Greek colonies, commercial rather than military in character, soon became independent of the mother country. The Roman colonies remained in the closest possible connection, being governed from Rome through military governors.

Sportsmen can find the finest line of fishing tackle, fish poles, baskets, reels, etc., ever seen in this city at F. W. Kroil's drug store. Were bought and are sold at hard times prices. (4-20-1m)

AN ORDINANCE relative to the preservation of the public health, and the duties and liabilities of the board of health.

The city of Marquette ordains: Sec. 1.—The board of health of the city of Marquette shall have, possess and exercise all the powers given by the charter of the said city of Marquette and the general statutes of the state of Michigan relating to boards of health, in addition to those hereinafter particularly enumerated.

Sec. 2. Said board of health shall have power and it shall be their duty to take such measures as they shall deem effective to prevent the entrance of any pestilential or infectious disease into the city; to stop, detain and examine and, if deemed best by said board, to quarantine for that purpose every person, vessel, ship, train or other conveyance coming from any pestilential or infectious disease into the city, or if a resident of the city, who is not an inhabitant of the state, who shall be, or is suspected of being infected with any such disease, to be sent back to the place whence he or she came, or to be sent to such pest house or hospital; to cause any such disease to be removed to such pest house or hospital; if the health officer and two other physicians, including the attending physician of the sick person, if he shall have one, shall certify that the removal of such person is necessary for the public health, provided it can be done with safety to the patient; to remove from the city and destroy any furniture, wearing apparel or goods, wares or merchandise, or other articles of property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with any pestilence or which shall be, or be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate disease; to require the occupants of any dwelling house, store, shop or other building in which there are persons who shall be, or be suspected of being infected with any pestilential or infectious disease, to put up and maintain in a conspicuous place on the front of said dwelling house, store, shop or other building, a card or sign to be furnished by the board, on which shall be written or printed in large letters the name of the contagious or infectious disease from which the person so sick may be suffering; and in case of the neglect or refusal of any person to comply with such requirement to remove the patient therein to the pest house or hospital, and to do all acts which shall seem necessary and expedient for the preservation of the health and suppression of disease in the city and to carry into effect and execute the powers hereby granted.

Sec. 3. The owner, driver, conductor, master or person in charge of any stage, steamboat, vessel, railroad car or other public conveyance, which shall enter the city, having on board any person sick of malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease, shall within two hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the fact, with the name of such person and the house or place where he was put down in the city, to the mayor or some member of the board of health.

Sec. 4. No person shall knowingly bring or procure, or cause to be brought into the city, any property of any kind, tainted or infected with any pestilential or pestilential or infectious disease.

Sec. 5. LAKE LINDEN.

An old miserant of sixty years is missing from this town. He has been guilty of being too familiar with a very young and feeble-minded girl.

CALUMET.

The grand educational rally at the school hall Saturday evening was the most successful ever held here. The hall was packed and nearly all the teachers who attended at Houghton the previous evening were present. The exhibition of kindergarten work and specimens of drawing and penmanship by the several grades and schools was particularly fine and reflected credit on teachers and scholars.

The copper country hills were covered with a little of snow Sunday morning and large flakes were falling all the forenoon.

DEGRADED RUSSIA.

Its Social Aspect and Moral Condition in the Eighteenth Century.

Peter the Great said of his country, and said truly: "Russia is rotten before she is ripe." To realize the true meaning of these words and the fullness of their implication, one must study in detail the reigns of Elizabeth and Catherine II. In Russia, during the eighteenth century, were to be found side by side the vices alike of savagery and civilization. Add to the lack of social instinct, of humanity in the wider sense, and of moral responsibility that is to be found in a Zulu kraal, the worst corruptions that are bred in courts like that of Louis XV., and one can form some faint notion of the Russian capital under Elizabeth and Catherine.

The country, as a whole, was oriental in its want of civil organization, but without the idealism of the east. The capital was a welter of blood and lust, barbarism and superstition, atheism and superstition, drunkenness, and savage violence, indolence and semi-insane activity. The moral condition was reflected in the physical. Never was there such a mixture of squalor and magnificence as in the palaces of the Empress Elizabeth. The richest and the most costly furniture were fumbled together. Filth and splendor were always alternating, and the vilest food was eaten off plates of gold.—Spectator.

Strong Paper.

The tough paper which comes from China and Japan is made from manilla fiber. The new and fresh fiber is not used, it being too expensive, but after it has served its purpose as a rope or cordage and has become old it is carefully picked to pieces into a stringy pulp and manufactured into paper.

The paper is singularly strong; when rolled up into a string or cord it is a very good substitute for cotton or flax twine. Its strength is solely due to that of the manilla, which is one of the strongest fibers known to the manufacturer.—Chicago Herald.

The Case.

"Woman, dare not to defy." She was pale but resolute, and she met the eyes of the angry man without quailing. "Give it to me," with a savage snarl he seized her wrists. A cry burst from her lips. "Brute!" she shrieked. The paper fluttered from her hand. With a smile of malignant triumph he snatched it and, returning to his coffee, resumed in detail the cross-examination of Col. Breckinridge.—Detroit Tribune.

The Greek colonies, commercial rather than military in character, soon became independent of the mother country. The Roman colonies remained in the closest possible connection, being governed from Rome through military governors.

Sportsmen can find the finest line of fishing tackle, fish poles, baskets, reels, etc., ever seen in this city at F. W. Kroil's drug store. Were bought and are sold at hard times prices. (4-20-1m)

AN ORDINANCE relative to the preservation of the public health, and the duties and liabilities of the board of health.

The city of Marquette ordains: Sec. 1.—The board of health of the city of Marquette shall have, possess and exercise all the powers given by the charter of the said city of Marquette and the general statutes of the state of Michigan relating to boards of health, in addition to those hereinafter particularly enumerated.

Sec. 2. Said board of health shall have power and it shall be their duty to take such measures as they shall deem effective to prevent the entrance of any pestilential or infectious disease into the city; to stop, detain and examine and, if deemed best by said board, to quarantine for that purpose every person, vessel, ship, train or other conveyance coming from any pestilential or infectious disease into the city, or if a resident of the city, who is not an inhabitant of the state, who shall be, or is suspected of being infected with any such disease, to be sent back to the place whence he or she came, or to be sent to such pest house or hospital; to cause any such disease to be removed to such pest house or hospital; if the health officer and two other physicians, including the attending physician of the sick person, if he shall have one, shall certify that the removal of such person is necessary for the public health, provided it can be done with safety to the patient; to remove from the city and destroy any furniture, wearing apparel or goods, wares or merchandise, or other articles of property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with any pestilence or which shall be, or be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate disease; to require the occupants of any dwelling house, store, shop or other building in which there are persons who shall be, or be suspected of being infected with any pestilential or infectious disease, to put up and maintain in a conspicuous place on the front of said dwelling house, store, shop or other building, a card or sign to be furnished by the board, on which shall be written or printed in large letters the name of the contagious or infectious disease from which the person so sick may be suffering; and in case of the neglect or refusal of any person to comply with such requirement to remove the patient therein to the pest house or hospital, and to do all acts which shall seem necessary and expedient for the preservation of the health and suppression of disease in the city and to carry into effect and execute the powers hereby granted.

Sec. 3. The owner, driver, conductor, master or person in charge of any stage, steamboat, vessel, railroad car or other public conveyance, which shall enter the city, having on board any person sick of malignant fever, or pestilential or infectious disease, shall within two hours after the arrival of such sick person, report in writing the fact, with the name of such person and the house or place where he was put down in the city, to the mayor or some member of the board of health.

Sec. 4. No person shall knowingly bring or procure, or cause to be brought into the city, any property of any kind, tainted or infected with any pestilential or pestilential or infectious disease.

Sec. 5. Every keeper of a hotel, inn, boarding house or lodging house in the city, who shall have in his house at any time any sick traveler, stranger or stranger, shall report in writing the fact, and name of the person, in writing, within six hours after he came to board, or was taken six therein, to the mayor or some member of the board of health, and every physician in the city shall report under his hand to one of the officers above named, the name, residence and disease of every patient whom he shall have or written notice to the members, and any five members of the board being present at any meeting shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 6. All fines imposed under this ordinance shall be, when collected, paid into the city treasury and covered into the general fund of the city of Marquette.

DECISIVE VOTE ON SUGAR.

Fate of Tariff Bill May Be Decided in the Senate Tomorrow.

TEST VOTE EXPEDITED ON SUGAR SCHEDULE.

If Democrats Stand Together on That Whole Bill Will Go Through to Income Tax.

CRITICAL POINT IS NEAR.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The main interest in the proceeding in the senate this week centers in the prospective contest over that sugar schedule, which will probably be reached Tuesday.

PROGRAM OF THE HOUSE. The coming week in the house will be much broken up by special orders and the adjournment over Decoration Day.

ANTIOS OF A MAD DIVINE.

Rev. A. F. Tollemache Committed to an Asylum.

LONDON, May 27.—Rev. Dr. Augustus Francis Tollemache, one of the most prominent clergymen of the Church of England, who has written numerous pamphlets in defense of the Protestant faith and whose writings have regularly appeared in the church papers for over twenty years, was today taken to private asylum at Frome on an order issued by Master in Lunacy Maclean.

For nine months the divine has been manifesting symptoms of aberration of mind, beginning with eccentricities, and winding up with demonstrations that made manifest his loss of mind. At one time he dressed himself in a policeman's coat, strapped a bull's eye lantern to his belt and searched his church all night for ghosts.

CANT GIVE OUT JOBS.

Ozar Takes the Appointment of All Officials to Himself.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 27.—The most important reform of a centralizing character yet executed by the present czar is announced in an imperial ukase dated May 18. This ukase has struck the entire Russian official world with consternation. It deprives all ministers, governors and other high dignitaries of the power they have hitherto freely exercised of appointing and dismissing their official subordinates of all classes, and establishes under the czar's direct supervision a special committee of control to whom all questions of appointment and dismissal must be referred.

ASSAULT ON A PHYSICIAN.

Dr. Mitchell of St. Paul Brutally Treated by Several Men.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 27.—Dr. S. H. Mitchell, a physician at St. Paul Park, was tarred and feathered, with red paint in place of the tar, and otherwise terribly maltreated late last night by half a dozen men, who have been arrested. John M. Newburg suspected the doctor of too great intimacy with Mrs. Newburg, and with his son, a relative named Harry Newburg, Albert Fielding and Mr. Sagor are charged with enticing the doctor from his home and assaulting him. Several ribs were broken and he was twice stabbed.

CHIEF RAMSAY ON TRIAL.

Charges Against the Head of the Railway Telegraphers.

DENVER, May 27.—The trial of Grand Chief Ramsay before the Order of Railway Telegraphers' convention is in progress behind closed doors. He is charged in thirty-nine counts with violation of the laws and usages of the order. One of the most serious charges is that of obtaining money irregularly and destroying records by tearing leaves from the cash book and other books. It is also charged that Ramsay has reported in his expense accounts as having paid railroad fare when he rode on passes. Some members estimate that $25,000 has disappeared for which no satisfactory account has been made.

WESTERN WHIST TEAMS WIN.

University Club of Chicago Are Champions of America.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—The final games of the whist congress were not concluded until 3 o'clock this morning and resulted in the University of Chicago defeating the Hamilton club of this city and carrying away the Hamilton trophy by a score of 631 to 617, and the Minneapolis club defeating the Chicago Whist club and winning the American Whist League challenge trophy. The Hamilton trophy is a magnificent silver cup valued at $1,000 and the team winning it become champions of America for the ensuing year. The American Whist League challenge trophy is a silver cup valued at $500. The next convention of the league will be held in Minneapolis.

LASKER DEFEATS STEINITZ.

HER BOILER EXPLODED.

Six Killed by an Explosion on a Norwegian Steamer.

MADRID, May 27.—An explosion occurred yesterday on the Norwegian steamer Norden at Grijon on the bay of Biscay. The steamer was taking coal when one of her boilers exploded with terrific force. Her decks were shattered and boats and deck fittings blown to splinters. Some debris was carried across the quay at which the vessel was lying and a piece of timber struck a dock laborer, killing him instantly.

IN MEMORY OF A DOG.

The Noble Animal's Burial Place Fondly Cherished for Five Centuries.

It is seldom given to dumb brutes to win eternal remembrance. Many a human hero might envy the fame of the dog Gelert. For generations his story has stirred the hearts of pitying childhood, wherever the English language is spoken, and his grave has been visited more frequently and devoutly than the shrines of many holy martyrs. Indeed, his grave has given the name to the village within whose bounds it lies—Bethelgeret.

Prince Llewellyn of Wales, so the story runs, went out for a hunt one day, but, contrary to habit, Gelert, the hound, did not accompany him. On returning home the prince found Gelert covered with gore and his child's cradle vacant. Grief for the child and anger at the dog, which he supposed, had murdered the little one, seized upon him, and in an instant he plunged his sword into the side of poor Gelert. But presently came the wail of his baby from another spot, and at the same time, lifting the coverlet of the cradle, the prince discovered the body of a gaunt wolf. All was now clear, and great was the despair of the prince at his impetuous act. He had murdered the dog which had saved the life of his infant. A grave—Bethelgeret it was called in Welsh—was prepared for the faithful hound, and visitors to the little hamlet do their part to preserve the ancient and well-worn footpath that leads to it.

DOCTORS GIVE CHLOROFORM A TRIAL AS AN ANAESTHETIC.

Stunning Results Obtained from Administrations of the Entirely New—Digitized Physicians in Grossetesque Attitudes.

While the discovery of anaesthetics in surgery was made by an American—it is claimed for three different men—it is claimed for three different men—it is claimed for three different men—it is claimed for three different men...

It was one evening in November, after having tried several other substances with little effect, that Dr. Simpson thought himself of a small bottle of chloroform which he had meant to try and which must be somewhere about the place. A search was instituted, and it was found under a heap of waste paper.

It was tried at once. Immediately a delightful excitement seized upon the doctors; their talk became brilliant, mirthful and then positively hilarious. Prof. Miller, Mrs. Simpson, and one or two members of the family who were present, became much interested in listening to the doctors as they expatiated upon the charms, qualities and agreeable effects of the new fluid.

On awaking, Dr. Simpson's first perception was mental. "This is far stronger and better than ether," said he to himself. His second was to note that he was prostrate on the floor, and that among the friends about him there was both confusion and alarm.

"Hearing a noise, he turned about and saw Dr. Duncan beneath a chair; his jaw had dropped, his eyes were staring, his head was bent half under him. He was quite unconscious, and was snoring in a most determined and alarming manner. More noise still and much motion.

"Then his eyes overtook Dr. Keith's feet and legs making valiant efforts to overturn the supper table, or more probably to annihilate everything that was on it. I say 'more probably,' for frequent repetitions of inhalation have confirmed, in the case of my esteemed friend, a character for maniacal and unrestrained destructiveness, under chloroform in the transition stage."

"It is little wonder that Mrs. Simpson was alarmed. But the daring doctors were extricated from among the legs of chairs and tables, and soon recovered themselves and were filled with triumph at the success of their new anaesthetic. When Dr. Simpson became Sir James Simpson, he took for his motto 'Victo Dolore' (pain conquered), which certainly meant more and was more honorably earned than the mottoes of most noblemen and noble houses.

"When the assistant fell up the chancel stairs this morning he reminded me of the father of the prodigal son." "In what respect?" "Don't you know, when he saw his son afar off he ran and fell on his neck?"—Harper's Bazar.

NEWS OF NEGAUNEE.

Memorial Services at the Methodist Church Were Well Attended Yesterday.

Choke Off That Small--Drowned in the Rainy Lake Country--Wednesday at the Park.

MEMORIAL SERVICES YESTERDAY

The members of Charles Towne Post, G. A. R., under escort of the Robert Emmett Light Guards of Ishpeming, attended memorial services at the Methodist church in this city yesterday morning. The Ishpeming members of the Grand Army and the Guards came down over the street car line and marched from the Breitung House to the church. Rev. Whitney, the pastor, preached a very appropriate sermon and the services throughout were interesting.

Should Be Filled.

"That old creek running under the sidewalk on the south side of West Iron street should be filled up before the warm weather sets in," remarked a citizen Saturday. While the old ditch threw out a very disagreeable odor during the winter season it will certainly be a great deal worse during the summer. On Friday and Saturday the odor was quite strong and could be detected on the opposite side of the street.

Lost His Brother.

S. E. Potts, late chemist at the Swaney mine, and a brother from Muskegon, who went to the Rainy Lake district about two weeks ago on an exploring expedition, passed through Negaunee Friday evening en route to Escanaba. The day previous he sent a message to friends here stating that his brother had been drowned on Wednesday. No further particulars of the sad affair were given in the message. Mr. Potts was here only for a minute or two while changing cars and gave no particulars regarding his brother's drowning other than that the body had not yet been recovered.

Sport at the Park.

The town was billed Saturday for the races, baseball and other sports to take place at Union Park on the afternoon of Memorial Day, Wednesday next. The exercises, commencing with a baseball game, will begin immediately after dinner and will continue during the remainder of the day. The complete program of sports can be seen on the Ishpeming page of THE MINING JOURNAL. The admission to the park will be twenty-five cents. The street car line will make an extra effort to accommodate all who wish to attend from both cities.

Will Sell Single Tickets.

The Negaunee & Ishpeming street car line will hereafter sell single round trip tickets between this city and Ishpeming for fifteen cents. The tickets are similar to those used on the railroads, are perforated in the center and have no time limitation. Heretofore the company sold tickets in coupon form at a certain price per dozen. In that way the round trip tickets cost sixteen cents. In Negaunee the tickets can be purchased at the office of the company in the Sundberg block and at Ishpeming they will be sold at the company's quarters in the Jones block.

Quite a Blizzard.

Negaunee was visited by a genuine snow storm yesterday morning. When the people got up in the morning they found the ground covered by almost two inches of snow. The wind was sharp and cold but during the day the snow nearly all disappeared. On the 25th of last May there was also quite a snow storm.

LOCAL LAOCONICS.

Captain Thomas and Henry Pentecost of the Swaney were in town on business Saturday.

It was Dr. Mackenzie's mother who died at Lancashire, O., recently. Instead of his wife's mother, as was stated.

A. Boulson, the tailor, is confined to his home by sickness. His physician says he will be out again in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Beecher of Detroit, formerly of Negaunee, arrived in the city Saturday on a visit to friends.

Willie, son of Mrs. A. Gauthier, of Gauthier's Spur, aged thirteen years, sustained a compound fracture of the elbow joint Saturday. Dr. Hudson was called and reduced the fracture.

The committee which has in hand raising funds to assist in buying uniforms, etc., for a baseball team to be organized in Negaunee will start out among the business men to solicit subscriptions today or tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Whitney, pastor of the Methodist church, and Charles Jennings as a delegate, will leave tomorrow for Lake Linden to attend the ministerial district convention to be held there for three days, beginning tomorrow.

PHOTOGRAPHED.

How a Camera Spoiled a Rogue's Neat Plans.

Every room in Harley Hall was occupied; omnibus, brougham and luggage cart had been to and from the station so often that Mr. Binder, the head of the stable department, had been heard to murmur something not very complimentary about people who went about with "trunks as big as haystacks," and who expected to find "carriages and 'osses waiting for 'em everywhere to drag 'em up the hills."

Among the latest arrivals were two young men who were as unlike each other in every respect as two young men could be. Gilbert Hurst was a barrister, whose father owned a certain number of acres of land in the country. Gilbert was doing fairly well at the bar and was a steady, right-minded young man, with a pair of broad shoulders and a pair of honest gray eyes that told the story of a frank and honest nature. John Beasley, his companion, was tall, narrow shouldered, well groomed and very rich.

Mothers smiled on John Beasley, but John Beasley mostly smiled (when he had the chance) on a certain enterprising widow at South Kensington. As Gilbert entered the drawing-room his heart gave a mighty leap when he saw that Dorothy Lane, whom he had been for two years desperately in love with, was helping Lady Harley with the distribution of teacups. He had met Dorothy often in London, and to make her his wife was the cherished dream of his life.

John saw her, too. His heart gave no leap—it was not of the leaping kind, but he thought he had never seen her to such advantage as now, as she stood in the soft light of the shaded lamps, her dark red dress edged with sable at the throat and wrists, fitting her to perfection and showing every curve of her graceful figure. John promptly rushed into conversation with a Miss Green, who was among the guests assembled, and who was favored by fortune to the extent of five thousand pounds sterling a year.

The next morning he felt a glow of satisfaction when his servant opened the shutters of his bedroom and his eye lighted on the coronet worked in red wool on the blankets, and he thought of the society he was going to distinguish himself in during the next ten days. In the half hour devoted to his toilet he made three resolves—first, that he would make himself agreeable to everybody; secondly, that he would "make the running" with Miss Green, with a view to matrimony and the possession of five thousand a year, at the same time amusing himself with Dorothy, whose looks pleased him mightily; thirdly, that he would write to the South Kensington widow, omitting in his letter any mention of either Dorothy or Miss Green.

He attired himself with great care in shooting clothes that were a great deal too new, and not a suspicion of scent hung about him as he walked, with a self-satisfied air, into the breakfast-room.

He cast a sharp and critical eye over Gilbert, hoping to find that want of means or want of taste would betray themselves, but not a fault could be found with the shooting suit, that looked worn, but was well worn, and John realized, as he looked, that there was an indescribable something about the wearer that he (John) could not arrive at.

He played his cards very well, he thought, during the days that followed—days in which Gilbert had plenty of opportunities for finding himself with a bad headache as he watched John making secret love to the girl he cared for so much.

The men started early one morning for an outlying court that was generally supposed to produce rocketeers and that was kept as a bonnie bonnie for the end of the week's shoot. The ladies were to drive out to lunch, and Dorothy and Miss Green, who were rival photographers, were to send their cameras out in the luncheon carts.

Dorothy and Miss Green came out before lunch to enable them to see a drive down in the low ground. As the guns were placed behind a high, straggling hedgerow John was sorely tempted to ask Dorothy to stand by him to witness his skill and prowess, but prudence conquered, and Miss Green was selected as his companion.

"Will you stand by me, Miss Lane?" asked Gilbert. "I am afraid you will not see any brilliant shooting, but I will do my best. Let me unroll your waterproof and I can make you a comfortable seat here in these dry leaves and you will be sheltered from the wind."

"I am so afraid," said Dorothy, scanning the sky, that had become somewhat overcast since morning, "that it will be too dark for photography, and I want to go to get a group; it is getting late, too, and the beaters seem a long time getting into line." She knelt down in the leaves that carpeted the side of the hedge and peered through a small opening.

"Oh, I can see them now quite plainly. Just look—they are down, the osiers, and will soon be here."

Gilbert knelt by her side and held back some brambles that had intercepted his view, his heart beating furiously and his hands trembling as he found his face so dangerously near to Dorothy's.

A sudden peal of laughter and John Beasley's voice calling out: "Are you saying your prayers?" brought Gilbert to his feet and the blood to Dorothy's face.

Angry words sprang to his lips, but he was silenced by an appeal from a pair of very soft brown eyes, and turning toward Dorothy he said: "Yes, I was kneeling by your side; can't you guess what?"

"Look out, sir, there's a lot of duck coming over." This from the loader, who had been munching twigs in a ruminative manner. Gilbert picked up his gun, but it was too late, and he knew that Beasley would have another chance of saying something unpleasant about his shooting. After that there was no time for talking; it was hot work for ten minutes and a big mixed bag was the result.

Before lunch was over Dorothy settled to go home by a returning dog cart that had come out with a fresh supply of cartridges, and as she was leaving she saw Miss Green preparing her camera for action, a young man in attendance busy with the tripod and the legs.

John helped her with her wraps, saying as he did so: "I am sorry you are going home, Miss Lane, I wanted you to be in the group" and then, in a lower voice: "You know very well I shall not care to have a copy unless you are in it."

"Never mind, Miss Green will be there," said Dorothy, as she clambered up into the dog cart.

John made a pretense of settling the rugs round her feet and whispered: "Thank goodness, she will be busy with her camera; I have had enough of Miss Green's society for one day, and you know very well that at all times I infinitely prefer yours."

Seeing a doubting look in Dorothy's face, he added: "You do not believe it, Dorothy, but it is true. I swear I will not go near Miss Green again to-day."

The cart moved off, and Dorothy had plenty to think of during her homeward drive. She knew very well that she had cared for him ever since she met him on the river two years ago; they had often met since, and now had been for a week together under the same roof. Surely those honest gray eyes could not lie; yet why did he so often avoid her and why did he always make way for John Beasley whenever he tried to monopolize her society? Yet, surely he must have meant something just now—or was he only amusing himself, and did John really care more for her than Gilbert did?

After dinner that evening she was playing some dreamy German music that seemed to have a particularly soothing effect on Lord Harley, who was half buried and half asleep in a big arm chair before the fire, when John came up and leaned over her shoulder till his lips almost touched her hair, and said in a low voice: "I kept my word this afternoon; what is to be my reward?"

"That you shall be allowed to turn over the next two pages of music for me," she answered. "And this, after," she added, nodding toward the "gardenia that she had left with her gloves and fan on the piano.

Gilbert's jealous ears heard the answer, and he went off with rage in his heart. The following day it rained in torrents. Miss Green and several of the guests were leaving, and Dorothy went off to the dark room at the far end of the house to develop some negatives that she had taken of a ruined castle in the neighborhood.

She found all in order as she had left it, and soon had everything ready for business, developing solution, alum, hypo, all in their respective places, and red lamp lighted, the matches close at hand and the candle blown out. She reached up to the shelf for the slide, took out the negative and slipped it quickly into the developing tray for the preliminary wash and then poured the solution over its surface.

She gently rocked the tray to and fro in the dim red light and saw the high lights make their appearance one by one. She searched in vain for the turrets of the ruined castle and for the high belt of trees on the hill beyond, and began to fear she had taken two pictures on the same plate. Presently odd shapes and strange figures began to appear, which, after a little fresh developer had been poured over them, took the form of folding chairs and benches, and Dorothy saw the shooting party at lunch before her.

Her hand groped about for the match box, but the thought struck her that the negative was not hers and must not be wasted, so it was left in the alum for a few minutes and after a wash was left in the hypo bath, but her quick eyes had seen enough to tell her that John Beasley had lied to her, for, fixed in her memory as surely as it was now being fixed on the plate, was the picture of that young man sitting by the side of Miss Green, his head turned toward her, his hand almost touching hers.

She sat thinking for some time, and was only roused by hearing footsteps in the passage, followed by a knock at the door. "Yes, who is it?" "It is I," answered Gilbert's voice. "They are trying some new music in the drawing-room and Lady Harley wants your help. May I come in?"

"Yes, the negative is fixed now, the light will not hurt it. You can come in." Gilbert groped his way into the room and found Dorothy seated at the developing table. "May I see the photograph you have taken? Has the castle come out well?"

She lifted the plate from under the running water tap and held it up before the red lamp for him to see. She turned her head, and their eyes met for a second as he leaned over her shoulder, but before he could say a word of surprise there was a sudden flare, a snap and a gurgling sound, and with one wild flicker the lamp went out and they were in darkness.

"Where is the door? I know I shall tumble over something and do some damage. Will you lead me? You know the room better than I do." A small soft hand was slipped into his, and though Dorothy did not know that room quite well they were a very long time finding the door—but then, you see, the room was very dark—London World.
