CITY WRECKED BY STORM.

The Business Portion of Little Rock Destroyed by a Fearful Tempest.

PRISON AND INSANE ASYLUM BOTH WRECKED.

Several Persons Were Instantly Killed and Many Wounded but the Complete List is Unobtainable.

THE CITY IS PANIC-STRICKEN.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 2.—A terrible cyclone struck this city at 7:30 o'clock this evening and almost devastated the business portion of the city. Several people are known to have been killed and injured while it is feared scores of others met the same fate. The main portion of the business centre is practically in ruins. The total property loss will probably approximate a million dollars. The cyclone was accompanied by a terrible storm and the stocks of goods in the business houses that were unroofed, though not otherwise wrecked, were destroyed by water.

The storm struck the state penitentiary which stands on a hill in the western part of the city with fearful force, destroying the dinner room, tearing down the stables and shops, unroofing the main cell building and demolishing the warden's office. Several convicts were seriously injured, one of whom died in hour afterwards. Down town lightning struck the Martin block, totally wrecking the third floor. William Eaton was fatally injured there. The Tilles building was unroofed and part of the fourth floor of Gleason's hotel was blown away. At Main and Second streets the tops of several adjacent buildings lie piled up in an indescribable heap.

The worst damage, however, was done to property on Markham and Commerce streets. Nearly every building in that district was unroofed and many are totally wrecked. The large three-story building occupied by the B. H. McCarthy company is a total wreck as is also the two-story building on the opposite corner occupied by Max Elkans as a saloon. The third story of the old Deming house was blown off and several stores under it were flooded by water and filled with debris. The streets are filled with tin roofs, electric wires and other wreckage and it will be several days before the extent of the damage can be accurately known.

The large cotton warehouse of J. H. Bacon was wrecked. It fell on the Western Union Telegraph office next door and wrecked it, thus cutting off all telegraphic communication with outside points. The city is in dense darkness and the streets are veritable streams of mud. Rescuing parties are busy searching for the wounded but the list of casualties is utterly unobtainable.

Among those known to have been seriously and probably fatally injured are C. F. Monroe, member of the Arkansas legislature and Sam Smith, a passenger on a bus, was also badly wounded. Others are known to have been more or less injured but their names are not obtainable.

All kinds of rumors are afloat. One is to the effect that the insane asylum, in which some six hundred patients were confined, was blown down and many patients injured, but the asylum is situated a mile from the city and the rumor cannot be confirmed. A number of escaped lunatics were captured near the Union depot and this fact gives color to the rumor.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 2.—Late tonight a message was received from the insane asylum situated outside the city and the state penitentiary just west of the Union depot calling for a corps of physicians and other assistants. At the insane asylum was found the greatest wreck. The roofs of the main buildings were completely demolished and several wards caved in, completely destroying everything inside. Several insane patients made their escape but were recaptured. It is reliably stated a number of patients at the asylum were fatally injured and great damage done to the building. Dr. Jacob T. Ingale of the asylum was killed. Reports from the penitentiary say six convicts were badly injured by falling timbers, two of whom will die. Mayor Hall as soon as possible called out the entire fire and police departments and sent them with physicians to the insane asylum and penitentiary.

NO LIVES WERE LOST. WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 2.—Last night's cyclone, while it played all sorts of tricks with buildings, twisting and turning them almost inside out in some instances, fortunately passed on toward the northwest without having destroyed any human life. No news of damage outside of this city has been received.

HONOR TO THE FOUNDER.

Monument Erected to Memory of Major B. F. Stevenson.

PETERSBURG, Ills., Oct. 2.—The monument erected to the memory of Major B. F. Stevenson, founder of the Grand Army of the Republic, was dedicated here today with appropriate ceremonies in the presence of 5,000 veterans and civilians. Addresses were made by Captain Samuel H. Blane, president of the Monument association, National Commander Thomas G. Lawler, Department Commander H. H. McDowell, General John A. McClelland, ex-Governor Richard Oglesby and Major James A. Connelly. Large delegations were in attendance from Grand Army posts in central Illinois. The monument is a handsome though modest shaft of Quincy granite. It was erected with funds appropriated by the Illinois department of the Grand Army and contributions from private sources, its cost being $1,500.

WOULD-BE ROBBERS RUN IN.

Detective Mingles With Them and Finds Out Their Plans.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 2.—Lee Jones and "Scar Faced" Charley Frizzell were arrested here today charged with conspiracy to rob a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific train. The pair have been under surveillance for some time, it being known that they with others were planning a train robbery. The conspirators were betrayed by one of their own band. A week ago it was planned to rob the west bound Rock Island train and blow it up if necessary. This was postponed and last night was finally abandoned, the would-be robbers learning that the police were after them. Two arrests followed and others are expected.

Since the attempt a month ago to rob the Denver express the officers of the road have been looking for the men concerned in the enterprise. Suspicion pointed to "a long-haired crook from the Indian Territory known as Jones" as the prime mover. Among the associates of Jones was Frizzell and a man named Coghlan. It was learned by the police that Jones was a shining light and attempt and that Jones and Frizzell had not abandoned hopes of gaining possession of the treasure in the mail and express cars. Special Agent Flynn returned to Chicago and Detective Burchard went to St. Joseph.

Burchard found it an easy matter to gain access to the society circle in which Jones was a shining light and Sept. 17, in the guise of a Chicago gambler out of luck, he was in a position to introduce himself. Burchard was told there was a deal on foot and was finally admitted into all the plans. The party was to consist of Jones, Linburg, Frizzell, Burchard and two "good people" who were to be on hand in time. Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, was the time set for the attempt. It was postponed and finally abandoned and then the conspirators were arrested.

TRIED TO RUN THE ELECTION.

Deputy Sheriffs Invalidate the State Election in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 2.—The state and county election in this city today resulted in a tangle which it will probably take the courts to straighten out. This morning three deputy sheriffs walked into each of the polling places and signified their intention of remaining. The inspectors all over the city thereupon closed the voting booths awaiting instructions from the leaders. A compromise was effected in several of the outlying wards, but in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth, the three most populous wards in the city, not a vote was cast.

ESCAPED BY A MIRACLE.

Wagon Load of Powder Struck by a Passenger Train.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 2.—An accident with possibilities which are horrible to contemplate occurred today at Dupont's private crossing on the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore railway. That it did not prove a terrible disaster is a miracle. A large wagon drawn by four horses and containing a ton of smokeless powder was struck by a passenger train which left this city for Philadelphia at 12:05 o'clock, and hurled a distance of about twenty-five feet. Two horses broke loose and ran away. The other two were thrown down an embankment and the driver badly injured.

LORRAINE MILLS CLOSED.

Weavers of Pawtucket Protest Against Reduction of Wages.

PAWUCKET, R. I., Oct. 2.—What will in all probabilities result in the biggest strike of textile workers this city has ever seen was inaugurated today when 250 weavers left their looms at the Lorraine mills protesting against the reduction in wages. The operatives are firm in their determination to remain out until the justice of their demand is recognized, and in this event 1,300 operatives will be involved within a few days.

FIVE KILLED AT A BULL FIGHT.

Exhibition of Mexican National Sport Has a Disastrous Ending.

ZACATECAS, Mex., Oct. 2.—At a bull fight in the town of Mosquito, state of Jalisco, two bulls were turned into the arena at once to bring all the bull fighters into action. Finally one of the bull fighters in action with one bull forgot the other, which charged and impaled him on its horns, killing him. The other bull leaped the bars into the crowd of spectators, goring right and left and creating a panic. Four persons were killed outright and a great many gored or crushed in the stampede.

QUIET INSPECTION ORDERED.

Chicago Letter Carriers Will Not Be Allowed to Parade.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Acting Postmaster Jones sent a letter to Postmaster Hising of Chicago today concerning the inspection of letter carriers in that city next Sunday. General Jones directs for business reasons that there be no parade or assembling on the lake front. Hising was directed to have the inspection take place at the postoffice without parades or any unnecessary demonstrations.

SPOKE TO A MULTITUDE.

Governor McKinley Addresses a Vast Audience at a Kansas City Opera House.

THE TARIFF QUESTION WAS HIS ONLY SUBJECT.

Two Years Ago Workmen Were Looking for Shorter Hours; Now They Are Looking for Work.

THE OPERA HOUSE WAS PACKED.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—Governor McKinley spent the morning receiving callers at his hotel and this afternoon delivered an address in the Auditorium. When the governor went to the stage entrance of the Auditorium he found it necessary to make full use of his physical strength to get in the crowd in front of the doors was so tightly packed together. The stage, too, was jammed and when he finally reached the footlights he looked out upon a throng that filled all the seats and aisles and even the ventilating openings were used as places of observation. A great roar went up from thousands of throats. Mayor Davis introduced the governor in a speech in which he eulogized Ohio and said that unless the signs of the times were wrong its present governor would two years hence be the leader of the Republican hosts. This sentiment was vigorously applauded.

The governor found subject for reflection in the fact that Wilson had gone to a foreign country to get congratulations for the passage of the tariff law which bears his name and when some one in the audience sang out that the only industry which had been called into existence by that law had been that of free soup houses McKinley responded that "That there is no American citizen but would rather earn his own soup than beg it off others, and under the policy of the Republican party we never had to have free soup houses, for every one who was willing to work had work, and he had his own soup at his own table. Everybody disowns the Wilson law and yet you are asked to approve it. Why, the Democracy of New York disowned it formally and officially when it nominated for governor David B. Hill, the only Democratic member of the senate who voted against it."

"Mexican ores are just arriving; Australian wool is coming in by the cargo; every foreign product upon which the duty was reduced under the Wilson law is coming into this country in unusual quantities and that competition with our own displaces just so much American products. And when these are displaced the American labor required to make them is displaced and yet they ask the workmen of the United States to approve it. Why, the Democracy of New York disowned it formally and officially when it nominated for governor David B. Hill, the only Democratic member of the senate who voted against it."

"Yes," retorted Governor McKinley, "and it is because congressmen employes are tearing down the defenses of protection that there is no work for any one else. When I spoke in this city two years ago a gentleman in one of the galleries wanted to know what I thought of the eight-hour law. The question then among workmen was how to reduce the hours of labor (laughter and applause). There is no trouble of that kind now. Workmen are not looking for shorter hours now, they are looking for longer hours."

At the close of his address in the theater Governor McKinley spoke for a few minutes to a large crowd outside and then crossed the river to Kansas City, Kan., where another large crowd was gathered. He will leave tomorrow morning on a special train for Topeka and Hutchinson. He will speak briefly at several points enroute.

CAR JUMPED THE TRACK.

Rolled Into the Water and Two Persons Were Drowned.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 2.—The local train on the narrow gauge road lost one of its cars at a draw-bridge near Webster tonight. It rolled down the bank into the water. Nearly all the passengers jumped from the car before it went over and a dozen or more were severely bruised. Fifteen passengers were in the car when it left the track and fell into the water. P. J. Kiley, employed by the Denver & Rio Grand agency here as ticket seller, was killed. Another body in the car is not yet recovered. Captain J. C. Wilson of San Francisco was badly hurt. Several other passengers were injured although not seriously.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Californians Want Government to Control All Railroads.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—General Hampton, commissioner of railroads, has just returned from an extended trip of inspection over the government-aided roads. He reports the roads in good condition and doing a fair business considering the situation. The commissioner says he encountered in California a great deal of clamor for government control not only of the Union and Central Pacific roads but all roads. Both these propositions are opposed by the commissioner.

CABINET MEETING CALLED.

Complications Between England and France Cause the Order.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A special cabinet council is called for Tuesday next and the members of the ministry who are absent from the city are hurriedly summoned to return. Sudden new developments regarding the relations between Great Britain and France are without doubt the reason for the hasty summoning of ministers.

A TRIANGULAR CONTEST.

There are now three candidates for representative in congress in nomination in this district, and if all three remain in the field the campaign will be the most animated and interesting ever witnessed in the district. First of these to be named by his party is the present representative, Hon. Samuel M. Stephenson, of Menominee, who was nominated at Escanaba sometime ago. Next is Dr. A. E. Anderson, of Ironwood, who obtained the Populist nomination at Lake Linden Monday, and third and last of the trio is Rush Culver, whom the Democrats chose as their standard-bearer in their convention in this city yesterday.

Now that the candidates of the several parties are before the people it will do no harm to speculate somewhat on the outcome. With such a complex situation as exists in the district to consider, he would be gifted with political prescience of a high order who could with any degree of accuracy predict approximately what the vote each candidate will receive will be. But it is safe to assume that Mr. Stephenson's chances of coming out a winner are very much the best, for the district is Republican by a good majority and his party is the best equipped for a campaign of the three, both in respect to organization and through being in possession of more of the sources of financial strength than any of the others.

The unknown quantity in the problem is the vote that will be cast for Dr. Anderson, Ironwood's hustling and nervy mayor. He was so much the first choice of the Populists for representative that they have not given thought to the claims or availability of any other candidate since it was known that he would take the nomination on their ticket. The phenomenal run he made for mayor of Ironwood last spring, and the fact that he has held his popularity with the elements that then supported him in the municipal contest in that city, are assurance that he will start with a big vote in his own county. In Houghton county the Populists showed surprising strength two years ago, and they appear to have kept up their organization in that county remarkably well. In this county they will poll quite a vote—much larger than is generally supposed—and in Delta, Dickinson, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties they will show surprising gains if the reports from these counties are not very misleading. In all parts of the district there are workingmen who will quietly vote the Populist ticket, though they do not avow themselves in sympathy with the new party for reasons not necessary to state, and we venture the prediction that the vote polled for the candidate of that party in the district will be a revelation and surprise to many who deem themselves well informed regarding political movements, but who fail to make sufficient allowance for the peculiar state of the popular mind at this time and the extent to which dissatisfaction with the old parties has spread among the people who toil for a living. The Populist candidate will get the benefit of most of this quiet voting, and if he stays in the race he is going to make a better showing on the returns than those who deride the Populist movement would be willing to concede at this time.

The Democratic nominee has special strength in many portions of the district through his work on behalf of the homesteaders and his well known sympathy with the common people. He has a record that will appeal powerfully to the bulk of the voters of the district, regardless of their political affiliations, and he will make a most excellent run. As a land lawyer he has no superior in the district, and his talents as such have been at the command of the settlers on public lands in the district ever since he first began practicing here. Indeed it may be said that the familiarity he has acquired with the land laws has come to him largely through battling for the rights of settlers on these lands against corporations which have sought to unjustly hold them. By reason of his connection with these cases he has become deeply interested in the issue created by the possession of so large a share of the land in this peninsula by corporations, and is as keen on their trail as a hound on the scent of its favorite game. Culver in congress would be a source of unceasing anxiety and danger to every corporation that holds an acre of land in the district to which it cannot "read its title clear," and the knowledge that this would be the case is at once his strength and his weakness as a candidate—his strength because it will recommend him to a very large proportion of the voters, and his weakness in that it will ensure for him the earnest and united opposition of the powerful land-owning corporations who have so much at stake in the contest.

One thing may be set down as certain. If Culver should be defeated in the district his defeat will go far toward settling the land disputes in this part of the state between the settlers and the corporations favorably to the latter, for it will be regarded as an expression of the people against the claims of the settlers and in favor of having the corporations permitted to remain in undisturbed possession of their holdings. The issue on the land question is now fairly made up and presented to the people of the district in the persons of the candidates representing the two old parties, and the verdict rendered on it at the ballot box will have a significance that will not be overlooked.

To sum it up, it may be said that Mr. Stephenson, the Republican nominee, is likely to be elected; that Anderson, the Populist candidate, will poll a surprisingly large vote, and that Culver will not be very far behind when Stephenson pushes his nose under the wire. Mr. Stephenson will have the support of all the corporations, but their power over the voters is not by any means what it was before the new system of balloting went into operation, though it is still great enough to give the candidate in whose favor it is thrown a very decided advantage.

WHY CHOLERA KILLS.

Generation of the Deadly Nitrate by the Bacillus.

When an adventurous scientist declared that he had swallowed any amount of cholera cultures without injury, there was a good deal of incredulous head-shaking, and while the doubters could not really dispute the statements made, they insisted that there must be something behind it all; for if cholera bacilli were really themselves and nobody else, why didn't the man die? And now it appears that it isn't the well-bred, properly-conducted bacillus that does the mischief, but a substance that they manufacture from the contents of the human interior where they take up their abiding-place. The bacilli proceed to form what is known as ditrate, a most deadly poison. This substance is by the bacilli generated from many vegetables, especially cauliflower, lettuce, beets and turnips. Meat contains but a limited amount of convertible material, hence the prevailing idea that vegetables are to be eaten with prudence during cholera seasons, while meat in small quantities and Indian corn, barely and the like are much safer articles of diet. It is further asserted that there are other bacteria found in the intestines of men and animals that are capable of generating nitrates, but that the cholera bacillus produces over forty thousand times more than any other creature. If there is no suitable substance found by the cholera bacilli upon which to work, they form lactic and other acids, but these rarely cause serious ills. They sometimes give rise to what is known as cholera, which frequently prevails to a considerable extent during epidemics of cholera.—N. Y. Ledger.

Hobson's Choice.

The gentleman from the far west sauntered into the finest hushery in the city of New York, and having been seated, he was approached by a garcon. "Got any bacon and cabbage?" he inquired. The garcon shook his head. "Got any corn pone and side meat?" Another shake. "Got any pickled pork and saleratus biscuit?" Another shake. "Got any turnip greens and bulk shoulders?" The garcon responded in the negative again, and the gentleman from the west, with a weary sigh, stretched his legs under the table. "Well," he said, resignedly, "bring me some champagne and terrapin with the usual trimmin'."—Detroit Free Press.

What He Was.
"He is distinctly eligible."
"What is he worth?"
"O, he's entirely worthless—but he's rich!"—Truth.

THAT WONDERFUL BABY.

Each land has its wonderful babies That ever the sun shines upon.

The almond-eyed darling of China, The chubby, low-browed Eskimo, The flaxen-haired little Norwegian.

And yet the most wonderful baby That ever came down from the sky Is one that I sleep I am rocking.

WOMAN'S WASHSTAND.

She Seems to Cherish It Above All Things.

If you take up any society novel that pretends to portray American life and manners, and open it at the place where Percy Algernon Fitzdutch goes to call on Miss Gladys Heapstyle to propose marriage, or elopement, or suicide, or to do nothing at all—which would be more in accordance with the tradition of the society novel—you will find that it goes something like this:

"Percy had hardly touched the Heapstyle door-bell when he was admitted by the old butler, whose dignified visage brightened at the sight of the young man, whom he ushered at once into the sunny morning-room."

"Why, how late you are!" cried Gladys, half rising from her delightful nest among the multitudinous pillows of the great divan.

"A discreet knock upon the rosewood door was all that was necessary to gain admittance for our hero to the dainty boudoir where Gladys Heapstyle lay back languidly in her luxurious fauteuil."

"That is about the way it reads, isn't it? Yes? Well, it isn't so. It never happened that way. Not in this country. Not on your mother-in-law. Not if Gladys Heapstyle was an American girl."

For, to the true American woman, there is no room in the world like her bedroom; and life without a bed, a washstand, a pitcher and a basin, a soap-dish and a sloop-jar, is a barren blank.

The bedroom disease pervades all classes of American womanhood. It knows no restrictions of wealth, fashion, locality or social position.

THRONE OF CHINA TOTTERING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The officials of the Chinese legation are very incredulous today of the reports for Shanghai that the Chinese emperor is about to be dethroned and the place occupied by the son of Prince Kung.

The officials here who have been closely watching the premises of the war in the east are puzzled to account for the landing of 5,000 Japanese troops at Posselt Bay as announced officially from Tien Tsin.

The purpose is evident of the other movement reported from Tien Tsin of the reconnoitering by the Japanese fleet off the Chinese coast near Shan-hai-kuan.

HOW TO CLOTHE CHILDREN.

A PROBLEM THAT MAKES MOTHERS STUDY.

A Minister's Wife Who Dresses Her Family in Excellent Taste—How a Small Income Went a Long Way.

The puckers in many a mother's forehead are deepened as she studies how to dress her boys and girls in a respectable manner on the small amount that is available.

A minister's wife in a small town near Marquette was confronted by this discouraging situation, but her woman's wit and a few ten cent packages of diamond dyes solved the problem, and handsome clothes were soon evolved from a pile of odds and ends.

The Home, Housekeeper, Ladies' Home Companion and other household papers have published many articles telling how to use diamond dyes in making new clothing out of old.

The ease with which diamond dyes are used is really surprising. They make beautiful colors that never crack and are non-fading.

Pete Baker This Evening.

Pete Baker, the German dialect comedian, is conceded to be the only person capable of filling the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late "Fritz" Emmet. Mr. Baker is a fine actor, charming vocalist and a genial gentleman, and being possessed of a large amount of personal magnetism makes himself a favorite with his audience so soon as he appears before the footlights. This talented artist is to hold the boards of the local play house this evening and no doubt will be welcomed by a large and appreciative audience.

Upper Peninsula Failures.

R. G. Dun & Co. report that there were in the upper peninsula during the quarter ending Sept. 30 ten business failures with total liabilities of $37,260 and assets of $20,850. During the same quarter last year there were twenty-two failures with total liabilities of $175,614 60 and total assets of $97,750. This certainly shows a much improved condition of business as compared with a year ago. THE MINING JOURNAL is indebted for the figures to Mr. L. P. Witzleben, local manager of The Mercantile Agency.

A mass convention of the Prohibitionists of Marquette county will be held on Thursday, the 4th day of October, 1894, at 7:30 p. m., at the Loyal Temperance Legion Hall, 1,100 North Third street, for the nomination of candidates for all county offices to be filled at the next election. Also to nominate candidates in the First and Second legislative districts. By order (10-3-24) COUNTY COMMITTEE.

USE IT IN TIME.

Catarh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

BOTH ACHING FOR A FIGHT.

Two Desperate Men Restrained by a Lucky Occurrence.

On Hastings street, the other day, a young colored man about twenty years of age sat on a doorstep drowsing in the sun. Many passed him by, but after a time along came another young man of about the same age carrying a cane. Of course he stopped and poked, and of course there were results. The sleeper awoke and angrily demanded: "Who dat passon who kept techin' me all de time?" "I s'pects yo' am looking right at him, sah," replied the one with the cane.

Upper Peninsula Failures.

R. G. Dun & Co. report that there were in the upper peninsula during the quarter ending Sept. 30 ten business failures with total liabilities of $37,260 and assets of $20,850. During the same quarter last year there were twenty-two failures with total liabilities of $175,614 60 and total assets of $97,750. This certainly shows a much improved condition of business as compared with a year ago. THE MINING JOURNAL is indebted for the figures to Mr. L. P. Witzleben, local manager of The Mercantile Agency.

Marquette Athletic Club.

Those who have subscribed during the past few weeks will be called upon by C. H. Wellman, secretary, who is authorized to collect all dues for said club.

Private advices from Iron River say that the festive E. P. TO DETECT EARTHQUAKES.

An Instrument for Recording Shocks at a Distance.

In Birmingham, England, they have a very cleverly-constructed apparatus for detecting earthquakes. Of all things in the world, you no doubt believe, an earthquake might be most easily detected without the aid of any instrument.

Thus when all Greece was shaken the other day, destroying Thebes, as you know, the shock traveled at the rate of one hundred and eleven miles a minute, and was detected in Birmingham fourteen minutes after Thebes was stricken.

The apparatus which has proved all this consists of a pendulum which is so connected with a rotating mirror that a tilt of the ground on which the apparatus stands appears magnified three thousand times. It is easy to see, therefore, how a motion too slight to be discovered by people not thinking of it could be distinctly indicated by this.

Had other instances of shocks traveling at great rapidity not been known, this testimony from the Birmingham instrument might not be accepted. But scientific records are full of verified instances. One of these given in an account from which these facts are taken cites the California earthquake of February 23, 1892, which was felt at the Arequipa observatory, in Peru, a distance of four thousand five hundred miles, two hours and thirty minutes later. The rate traveled by those shocks was, then, twenty-eight and one-half miles a minute.—N. Y. World.

MAKING A WINEGLASS.

A Process Typical of the Blower's Whole Art.

The making of an ordinary wineglass is typical of most of the processes employed in glass-blowing. We start with the bulb at the end of the iron tube or blowing-iron. The bulb is blown so as to be of the same diameter as the bowl of the future wineglass, but somewhat longer. A small knob of solid glass is gathered, and dropped upon the end of the bulb. The knob is quickly pulled out to form the future leg by means of a tool closely resembling a pair of sugar-tongs. A smaller bulb, blown by an assistant, is attached to the end of the leg, and severed from the assistant's blowing-iron. The small bulb or cup—there is an aperture where it has been severed—is now heated; the point of a tool is inserted in the aperture, and the cup is thrown out into a flat disk (the future foot). The bulb, which is to become the bowl of the wineglass, is quilted from the blowing-iron by the application of cold steel. The wineglass is complete, but the edge of the bowl is rough and uneven. It is picked up by the foot by a spring clip attached to an iron rod, and the edge is reheated. The combined action of scissors and heat gives a smooth edge to the bowl, and the wineglass is finished, but not ready for use. All glassware requires to be slowly cooled or "annealed."—Work.

NEW HEBRIDES ISLANDERS. Why the Children of Polynasia Always Seem So Happy.

If you glance over a good map of the Pacific ocean, south of the equator, it will look to you like a white paper dotted with specks like pepper. These specks represent islands or groups of islands, like Hawaii, the Navigator's islands, the Friendly islands, Fiji, and so on through a vast number of groups, many of which the men who compile geographies take no note of.

The New Hebrides group extends for four hundred miles southwest of the line of northern New Guinea, and as its conical forms show, it is of volcanic origin. There are a great many islands in the group, the most important of which is Erumanga. This island is particularly famous because it was here that that great and good man, the Reverend John Williams, was killed by the natives whom he had come out to help.

The inhabitants of the New Hebrides islands are almost as dark as the negro. They are tall, very well formed, and many of their habits and traditions are like those of the African tribes across the Indian ocean, and further away from them than even America.

Usually the women in savage lands are very much inferior to the men in looks; this is because they have to do all the hard work, and the lazy men, except when they go off to fight, which is their only serious occupation, have nothing to do but eat, drink, and scold their wives. The women of the New Hebrides islands are an exception to the rule. They are beautifully formed, for the men help them in their work and treat them as equals and not as slaves.

One of the largest and most populous of this group of islands is called Vate--pronounced "Vatey"--and this I had the pleasure of visiting in 1893. The people were no doubt very fierce and cruel to visitors a few years ago, but that I think was because they were afraid of them. Now they are as gentle and kind as those most amiable savages in the world, the people of the Navigator's islands, or "Samoa," as we now call them.

For a week I lived with the people of Vate, sleeping in their conical roofed huts, and eating of their food and living exactly as they did themselves, and they seemed to like me the better for it. The only English word they know--it was originally a Spanish word--is "dollar," and all money, whether a nickel or a gold coin, is to them a dollar.

While the New Hebrides men, to use the expression of an American president, "are now at peace with all the world and the rest of mankind," yet they love to carry their long, cruel spears, with tips of shark's teeth, and their murderous war clubs, and the boys use miniature articles of the same character for toys. Here, as all the world over, the girls are very fond of dolls, and they carry them on their backs, as their mothers do their children.

On nearly all the islands of Polynasia tattooing is a very common custom, that is, making figures on the skin by means of coloring matter introduced under it, but the people of the New Hebrides islands have another form of what they consider decoration. By means of sharp shells, they make scars in various figures on the face, along the arms and legs, and frequently across the breast. When healed, these scars look white in contrast with their very dark skins and have much the appearance of designs drawn on a black-board.

One thing impressed me very strongly among the people of New Hebrides as well as among all the savage tribes I met in these islands, and that is the extreme happiness of the children. This is due to the fact that they do not suffer from cold or hunger. The climate is so warm that they do not need clothing, and nature is so generous on sea and land that food is always abundant and so they never know what hunger is.--N. Y. Advertiser.

Novel Suggestions. Since Turpin's invention for destroying an army wholesale the professor of one of the principal colleges in Paris has proposed to the French minister of war that large blowflies should be bred and kept in large cages, being fed upon blood placed between the artificial skin of lay figures dressed up in the German uniform. When war was declared these flies would be rendered venomous by feeding them on the sap of tropical plants and taken to the front in their cages, from which they would be released, and make short work of the enemy. Another patriot suggests that dogs should be trained to bite lay figures wearing the German uniform, and that each soldier should be accompanied by a dog in time of war.

Elephants in Africa. The elephant of Africa is still a tolerably abundant animal. Its numbers, though doubtless diminished by more than one-half within this century, are probably to be counted by the hundred thousand. Nevertheless, in less than one hundred years the field which is occupied has been greatly reduced, and between the ivory hunter and the sportsman, armed with guns of ever-increasing deadliness, it will certainly not require another century of free shooting to annihilate the African species.

CULVER FOR CONGRESS

Is the War-Cry of the Unterrified of This Peninsula.

MR. CULVER NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION.

Land Question Will Evidently Be the Leading Feature of the Democratic Campaign.

FOR HOMESTEADERS' RIGHTS.

The Democrats of the Twelfth congressional district met in the Marquette Opera House yesterday and nominated Rush Culver by acclamation.

The convention was called for 11 o'clock but at that hour not all of the delegates had arrived and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

On motion the chair then appointed the following committees: Credentials—James Russell, E. C. Anthony and Dan McVie; permanent organization—Dr. A. Desjardins, John Seiner and A. W. Myers; resolutions—M. J. Doyle, Leo M. Geismar and J. L. Maloney.

In opening Mr. Doyle reminded the convention that seven years ago his had been the honor to present the Democratic standard bearer under whose leadership a most gallant fight was made and the district almost redeemed from Republican rule.

The following officers of the new camp were elected and installed: Consul commander, R. A. Willson; adviser lieutenant, William Hicks; banker, Rawson Bennett; clerk, F. H. Schwartzberg; escort, C. H. Brown; watchman, S. E. McKinney; sentry, Charles A. Lussiere; managers, L. G. Hallstrom, Charles Retaille and R. J. Sparling; physicians, Dr. James H. Dawson and Dr. F. McD. Harkin.

There were no other nominations and Mr. Culver's nomination went through by acclamation with a whoop.

The committee returned with Mr. Culver, who was introduced by J. F. Fitzpatrick as the next congressman from the upper peninsula and applause.

"Gentlemen of the convention: I thank you sincerely for the honor you have conferred upon me and shall do my best to deserve it.

"If elected to the seat in congress for which you have made me your candidate, I shall do my utmost to restore to the public domain every acre of land in this upper peninsula.

refusing to improve them, refusing to sell one acre, keeping out the hardy pioneer who desires to carve out for himself and his family a home [applause].

"We must protect the people's rights. The duty lies before the Democratic party and that duty it must do.

"I propose to make this contest upon these issues and I will do my best to make 'Our Sam' tread before me get through [laughter and applause].

"Gentleman, again I thank you for this honor."

While the convention was waiting for the committee on resolutions C. F. Sundstrom came on the stage and congratulated the convention on the character and ability of the candidate.

"If we had regarded character more two years ago," said Mr. Sundstrom, "this district would now have been represented in congress by Ed C. Anthony."

The convention approvingly applauded this evident side-wipe at J. Maurice Finn and Mr. Sundstrom went on to endorse free silver and the other points presented by Mr. Culver.

"We have nominated a man against a barrel of money," said Mr. Sundstrom in conclusion. "Which will the people choose—the man or the barrel? [applause].

Mr. Doyle presented the resolutions, which after the usual preamble and ratification of the Grand Rapids platform are as follows:

We favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio proposed in the Grand Rapids platform.

We favor the creation of a tribunal invested with full powers to adjudicate all disputes between capital and labor, and to affirm our belief that such a tribunal, making justice a question of fact in each case of dispute and awarding full justice to all concerned, would preserve the public peace and satisfy all parties interested.

We are in favor of the restoration to the public domain of all lands illegally held by corporations in this district under color of congressional land grants.

We endorse in every particular the wise and patriotic administration of Grover Cleveland.

Phil McKenna was called on for a speech and said he had not prepared one, but would say that Delta county would do her duty on election day.

The convention then adjourned with three cheers for Culver.

Woodmen of the World. Charter Oak camp, Woodmen of the World, one of the largest and strongest of the beneficiary orders, was organized at Fraternity Hall last night by Deputy Sovereign Consul Commander N. B. Sweet, assisted by James Richardson as sovereign escort.

The following officers of the new camp were elected and installed: Consul commander, R. A. Willson; adviser lieutenant, William Hicks; banker, Rawson Bennett; clerk, F. H. Schwartzberg; escort, C. H. Brown; watchman, S. E. McKinney; sentry, Charles A. Lussiere; managers, L. G. Hallstrom, Charles Retaille and R. J. Sparling; physicians, Dr. James H. Dawson and Dr. F. McD. Harkin.

The Woodmen of the World claim some particular advantages over most of the other fraternal beneficiary societies and starting with a good list of members and able officers will doubtless build up a strong organization here.

The primary object of this order is protection for those dependant upon its members and as such it appeals to the best instincts of every good citizen.

The next meeting of the camp will be held in A. O. U. W. hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, after which permanent quarters will be secured.
