IT IS NOW THE CZARINA.

Strain of Nursing Her Husband Has Seriously Affected Her Mind.

THE CONDITION OF THE CZAR IS UNCHANGED.

Physicians Devoting Efforts to Prolong His Life Until the Marriage of the Czarowitz.

THE FAMILY SORELY AFFLICTED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—News from Livadia of the death of the czar circulated yesterday. These rumors were effectually silenced by a favorable bulletin issued late at night. Today, however, the rumors were revived in an intensified form. It is everywhere recognized that the doctors in attendance upon the czar have no hope for his recovery and that they are only devoting their efforts to prolong his majesty's life until the arrival of Princess Alix at Yalta that her marriage to the czarowitz may be celebrated before the czar's death.

It is asserted the physicians are now compelled to turn their attention also to the czarina, whose mind is said to be seriously affected by the strain of nursing her husband. The city bears its usual aspect only that eager and excited discussion in all public resorts indicate impending evils. The special services in all the churches today were well attended and the reverence displayed and the sincerity of the prayers offered show how deeply the public mind is affected.

This morning an unofficial dispatch was received from Livadia stating the czar had passed a better night and was able to sleep a little. This somewhat alleviated the anxiety, although even the official bulletins are now received with suspicion. After this bulletin nothing was received until 9 o'clock this evening, when another private dispatch reported a continued slight improvement in his majesty's condition and also that he had a better appetite. This was confirmed at 11 o'clock by the following official bulletin: "Livadia, 8:50 p. m.—During the past twenty-four hours the emperor had rather more sleep. His majesty was up today as usual and his appetite was rather better. He was more composed. Otherwise there is no change."

PRESS CENSOR APPOINTED.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A despatch to The Times from St. Petersburg says: Private news from Livadia is in no way reassuring. An official step has just been taken in regard to the appearance of bulletins in the press which is curious to say the least. All Russian papers are requested to print special copies of their respective journals for subscribers in Livadia omitting the bulletins altogether. This is now being done. The wildest rumors are circulating in St. Petersburg and an extra special censor has been appointed to control all press telegrams concerning the condition of the czar and doings generally of the imperial family. Even the ministers and high officers of the state, who themselves are astonished at the mysterious and tarry way the little official news is sent from Livadia, have to telephone all day long and half through the night to the office of The Official Gazette begging for information. As a Russian expressed it, the Russian newspapers are waiting to know when the police will allow them to weep and express their feelings freely.

LIFE MAY BE PROLONGED.

A dispatch to The Post from Berlin says: It is quiet in accordance with the usual course of the czar's malady that, as stated in private telegrams, he should still be able to rise and dress at his usual hour. Suddenly spasms, accompanied by difficulty in breathing, attack him and the nervous crisis is attended by sharp muscular pains, which cause great agony and extort cries of anguish, but there are days when these distressing symptoms are fairly absent and the imperial patient regains his normal condition and even normal spirits. The night time is the most dreaded, as sleep can only be obtained by ever increasing injections of morphine. In spite of the latest bulletins there is reason to believe that the czar's life may be prolonged by careful treatment for weeks, if not for months. The end will probably come after a period of collapse and unconsciousness, which may last several days.

AMBUSHED AND SHOT.

County Treasurer Murdered for Money He Had Collected.

ORANGEBURG, S. C. Oct. 21.—Robert Copes, county treasurer, while returning in a buggy from a tax collection in the country was ambushed and shot. The whole county is aroused and scores of men are searching for the murderers.

As yet nothing has transpired to fix the identity of the murderers. Every effort has been made to apprehend them, but so far without success. This morning Copes' satchel was found in a swamp near the scene of the murder with several slits in it. The satchel had contained money. The amount missing will hardly exceed $75. The men took everything the treasurer had except what was contained in the left hand trousers pocket.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 21.—State bloodhounds were put upon the track of the murderers of Treasurer Copes late last night and they were tracked some distance. Tonight the telegraph operator at Orangeburg reported that five negroes had been arrested on evidence not heard at the coroner's inquest and that they all had been lynched.

WAS WANTED BADLY.

One of the Virginia Train Robbers in Limbo at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 21.—Colonel Lew C. Weir, president of the Adams Express company, telegraphed the chief of police of this city tonight: "Don't let the man with the broken leg get loose. We want him and want him badly." This refers to Charles A. Morganfield, a prisoner with a broken leg under guard in the Cincinnati hospital, whom Colonel Weir suspects as one of the Acquia Creek (Va.) express train robbers. It is believed that other members of the gang of robbers are here. The police are very reticent and very active. Tonight Robert A. Pinkerton wired to Chief Deitch that Morganfield parted from Searcy at Cumberland, Md., on Tuesday night, Oct. 16, and that both had lodged in the same house at Shenandoah Junction.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—C. J. Searcy, who was arrested at Cumberland, Md., for complicity in the Acquia Creek robbery, has been taken to Virginia, upon requisition of Governor O'Ferrall.

THEY TAKE EXCEPTIONS.

Parishoners Do Not Like the Way Mr. Satolli Treated Them.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 21.—The insult offered by Mr. Satolli to some of the parishoners of St. Joseph's parish of this city came in for a good deal of discussion here today. This evening the St. Joseph Parish association met and approved the conduct of the committee appointed to confer with Mr. Satolli last night. The matter was freely discussed and a committee appointed to lay the grievances of the committee before the metropolitan court of Archbishop Corrigan. Speeches were made by a number of those present condemning Mr. Satolli's action and reviewing the efforts to have Dr. Smith removed, which effort the speakers declared was in every way peaceful and honorable. At a meeting tonight very strong exceptions were taken to the treatment received by the committee which waited on the papal legate to hear grievances against Dr. Smith.

STEAMER RUNS ASHORE

For Causes Disaster in New York—Run Down by Ferry Boat.

QUANTICO, S. I., Oct. 21.—There was a dense fog on the upper and lower bays throughout the entire day, preventing the arrival and departure of steamships. The steamer Drew of the Albany line, with 230 passengers on board, ran ashore off Fort Washington Point early this morning. The rocks loomed up on either side and made easy stepping stones from the steamer's deck. In this way the majority of passengers took their departure. The tug F. A. Kirkham was sunk off the Battery in collision with the Jersey Central railway company's ferryboat Mauch Chunk. One man was drowned. The Mauch Chunk fished out another of the crew and a third was saved by a passing tugboat.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS MEET.

About Two Hundred of Them in Session Near Frankfurt.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 21.—The annual German social democratic congress opened this evening in Bornheim, a suburb of Frankfurt, in the presence of an immense gathering of workmen. The congress is being attended by about two hundred delegates of both sexes, including nearly all the socialist members of the reichstag and diets of Saxony, Baden and Bavaria. There are also many Austrian, Hungarian, Swiss and English socialists present. Wilhelm Liebknecht, a well-known socialist leader, welcomed the delegates. An adjournment was taken until tomorrow, when the real business of the congress will be commenced.

ENDED IN STABBING.

An Italian Christening Results Unpleasantly for Some.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—There was an Italian christening in James street tonight and it ended in a stabbing affray, as a result of which two men are lying in the hospital fatally wounded. Data Pasquelli received an ugly gash in the left breast and Rocco Petrallo was stabbed in the neck. Maria Tonti was also cut in the right hand and Valero Dondolio had his right arm gashed from shoulder to wrist. Data Pasquelli and Valero Dondolio are held charged with the cutting.

FIERCE GALE RAGING.

Many Casualties and Fatalities Reported Along British Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A fierce gale raged along the British coast yesterday and today, causing many fatalities. At Spithhead a boat capsized and its four occupants were drowned. A number of vessels, as well as the lightship, are ashore in that vicinity. Many exciting rescues are reported. The loss to owners of fishing vessels is large and a number of fatalities are reported. Much damage is reported on land by the storm.

ROBBERS ON RAMPAGE.

Cook Gang Wrecks Train and Plunders Express Car and Passengers.

DESPERADOES SECURE MONEY AND VALUABLES.

Outlaws Kept Up Continual Firing and Two Passengers Were Wounded, One Fatally.

DASHED INTO THE BOX CARS.

WAGONER, I. T., Oct. 21.—The Kansas City & Memphis express which left here 9:30 o'clock last night was wrecked and robbed by the Cook gang of desperadoes at Coretta, a blind siding five miles south of here. The train was running twenty miles per hour and when within one hundred feet of the switch a man came out from behind the embankment and threw the switch for the sidetrack, running the train into a string of empty box cars. The robbers then commenced firing at the engine and coaches. As soon as the train stopped two of the robbers commanded the engineer and fireman to come down and they dismounted. The robbers marched them to the baggage and express cars. Here they forced Express Messenger Ford to open the doors by perforating the side of the car with bullets.

Meanwhile two more of the robbers had taken up a position at the rear end of the sleeper to prevent any one escaping. Two others mounted the platform between the smoker and baggage car and two more the platform between the first and second coaches, all keeping up a continual firing. Two robbers in the express car meanwhile ransacked it, securing all the money in the local safe. They commanded Messenger Ford to open the through safe, but when he explained that the safe was locked at the main office and could not be opened until it reached its destination they left the car. The two robbers on the front platform then started through the coach, demanding money and valuables. As soon as they reached the rear end of the coach the two men on that platform started through the second coach.

When they were about half way through a freight train following close behind whistled and Bill Cook, the leader, who had all the time remained outside issuing commands, swearing at passengers and shooting, called for all hands to come out. When all were on the cars jumped out and when all were on the ground they fired a last volley at the train and disappeared in the darkness. There were eight or ten men in the party. Two of them were white and the others half breeds.

Jack Mahars, a passenger, was hit in the forehead by a bullet and dangerously, if not fatally, wounded. Walter Barnes of VanBuren, Ark., was seriously injured by a bullet striking him in the cheek. Special Officers Helmick and Dickson of the Missouri Pacific were on the train, also United States Deputy Marshals Brunner and Casaver, but they were covered by Winchester in the hands of the bandits before they had time to make a move. Casaver lost a watch and six shooter.

The train backed up to this place for assistance and the injured were given medical attendance. The entire train was completely riddled with bullets, every window being broken. The engine cab was shot at, pieces, even the steam gauge and lamp being shot away, and the ground around the wreck was covered with empty shells. It is a miracle that many lives were not lost, as fully two hundred shots were fired. The Missouri Pacific immediately started a special train from Little Rock, carrying Superintendent Wm. McKee and picking up deputy marshals. United States Indian Agent Wisdom of Muskogee ordered all Indian police to report for duty and will take the trail immediately.

Express Messenger Ford declined to say anything further than that the robbers got everything they could lay hands on outside the through safe. The mail car was not molested. The loss to the express company will not exceed $500, as instructions had been issued to all agents in the territory not to receive money or valuables for this train and only the company's money remitted by local agents was carried outside of the through safe. Six of the gang passed through Wagoner today going at slow trot and seemingly not afraid being captured.

LYNCHED BY MOB.

Masked Men Take Negro from Jail and Hang Him.

MARLBORO, Md., Oct. 21.—Forty masked came up to the jail and demanded the negro Williams, who had confessed to an attempted assault on Mrs. Hardesty. Jailor Spicer, although wholly unprepared for resistance, refused to give up the keys. He was, however, finally overpowered, and Williams was taken to a bridge near town and hanged. A bullet hole was also found near his heart. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Williams met his death at the hands of unknown parties.

HICKSVILLE, O., Oct. 21.—Charles O'Neill, a negro, was arrested this morning charged with outraging Harriet Hickerman, the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Daniel Hickerman. O'Neill admitted the charge and for a time it looked as though he would be lynched. The law prevailed, however, and O'Neill was safely landed in jail. He will be given a hearing tomorrow.

OSAWATOMIE, Kan., Oct. 21.—Charles Carr, alias Brummel, a tough character, brutally assaulted Rosa Chandler, fourteen-year-old, this afternoon. A pursuing party captured the man and lodged him in jail. Lynching is probable.

GRIFFEY'S SLANDERS REFUTED.

The Negaunee Iron Herald of Oct. 13 contained a long and scandalous diatribe against Mr. Rush Culver, the Democratic candidate for congress. When sifted down and out of the mass of scurrility in which they were imbedded, Griffey's charges were two. Both pertained to Mr. Culver's relations with certain clients—Luke Welch and C. T. Blankenhorn, both of L'Anse. Mr. Culver promptly denied the charges, but Griffey in his last week's issue reiterated them. Mr. Culver has taken steps to prosecute Griffey for criminal libel and to bring a civil action for damages.

L'ANSE, L. S., Mich., Oct. 20, 1894.

To THE MINING JOURNAL:—I notice in the last issue of the Negaunee Iron Herald, the following: "It is at least confirmed by that sturdy, frank Democrat, Luke Welch of L'Anse, who has known Culver to his sorrow ever since his residence in the peninsula. Luke says the comparison is rank injustice to J. Maurice, and authorizes the press to draw upon him at sight for particulars. The editor of THE JOURNAL will at least know more of Rush than he is willing to confess after a little conference with Mr. Welch."

I characterize the above as absolutely false. I did not use any such language. I have had no conference with the editor of the Negaunee paper or its representative, I denounce as beneath decent journalism the use of any man's name to injure another by ascribing to him falsehoods that he never uttered. If I had anything to say against Mr. Culver it would be to his face and not through the press.

LUKE WELCH.

Mr. Blankenhorn sends the following letter:

L'ANSE, Michigan, Oct. 1894. To THE MINING JOURNAL:—My attention has been called to an article published in the Negaunee Iron Herald relative to a certain homestead matter in which Rush Culver is charged with placing a person who had a claim on the six-mile limit lands on the lands of the Michigan Land and Iron company and taking the quit claim himself, out of which transaction the Herald seeks to prove charges of fraud against Mr. Culver.

I feel that it is due Mr. Culver to state that no fraud was practiced. It was purely a business transaction. I was neither cheated, nor swindled. I would state further that Mr. Culver has acted as attorney for me, and that I have always during the six years of my acquaintance with him found him to be fair and honorable. He came here six years ago a poor young man and I admire the pluck and energy which today makes him a candidate for congress.

Respectfully yours, C. T. BLANKENHORN.

THE MINING JOURNAL had hoped for decency in this political campaign. All the candidates, it believed, were decent and honorable men and worthy to be treated as such. Therefore it protests now, as it has protested before, against the lying and scurrility of the Negaunee Iron Herald. The charges which The Iron Herald has made against Mr. Culver were sufficient, if true, to procure that gentleman's exclusion from practice as a lawyer. Such charges no decent newspaper would dream of making without ample and unquestioned proofs.

The above letters show that these charges are unmitigated lies. The men in whose names Mr. Culver's personal honesty and professional honor were attacked wholly and utterly repudiate them. C. G. Griffey, editor of The Iron Herald, is pilloried by Messrs. Welch and Blankenhorn as a convicted liar and slanderer.

It is now in order for Griffey to publish a full retraction of his false and scandalous charges against Mr. Culver. But he will not do anything of the kind. He will persist in his lies until he is compelled to swallow them by judicial process. Griffey is built that way. He delights in falsehood and filth. Such is the nature of the animal. He is not a man—he is simply a Griffey.

PROMISE OF BETTER THINGS.

The interview with Lord Brassey, outlining a new and liberal policy for the Michigan Land & Iron company, published in THE MINING JOURNAL of Saturday, has created a genuine sensation all over the peninsula. Already there are indications that the other great land owning corporations of this region are thinking seriously of taking measures to follow the example set them. It will of course take some little time to get details arranged and the movement fairly started, but there is every prospect that the next few years will see in this region rapid increase in population of the kind which it has long needed—that is, men who will till the land, acquire homes for themselves and enable this peninsula to produce the major part at least of its own food supply.

While the stress of competition has been steadily forcing down the prices of iron and copper and in consequence the wages of men engaged in the production of those metals, the cost of living, while somewhat lessened, has not fallen with anything like equal rapidity. This fact has been the fundamental cause of much of the hard times from which this region has been lately suffering. The real wealth of this section—which, as everywhere, consists of goods produced and exchangeable—has in fact seriously diminished of late years because it has taken more of the things which we produced here to purchase what we required from other points of the country.

The causes of this state of affairs have been two-fold. Men brought up to work in the mines or attracted to them by the high wages formerly prevailing, have not seen their way or have found it impossible to change their modes of life. Their incomes were decreasing while their expenditures were perforce nearly as great as ever. Then these large land-owning corporations, pursuing the phantasm of large gains from mineral resources which even if existent are at present in large measure superfluous, have held fast to their lands and, lacking applications to explore and exploit them for minerals, have done nothing with them.

The owners of these lands have been unable to see that the crying need of this peninsula was diversity of industries. They have looked for large profits under the surface and lost sight of the reasonable and much more certain gains to be made on the surface. Nor have the owners been wholly to blame, for in many cases the very men have clamored because they could not obtain those lands at their own price have been after minerals and timber rather than really desirous of cultivating the soil.

There has been in this peninsula a great shortage of men desirous and capable of cultivating the soil. We have for years been short of farmers, of food producers. THE MINING JOURNAL has many times insisted upon this ill-balanced condition of our population, contending that good lands and a sure market awaited farmers who understood the conditions here and would try to meet them. But the impression has gone abroad that the lands of this peninsula could only produce two crops, timber on the surface and minerals or stone underneath it, and little or no attention could be drawn from any quarter to its agricultural resources. And to this mistaken opinion the owners of these great tracts have largely contributed.

There is now promise of a change. There is now hope that the attention will be attracted to this county of men who wish to harvest other crops than pine and iron ore, who realize that the industrious and skillful farmer is the most independent man on earth and that homes for themselves and their children can be acquired here on easy terms. The resources of this region are not surpassed anywhere and when once the proper balance between food producers and food consumers is reached then abiding prosperity may be confidently expected.

THE MINING JOURNAL

MORNING - DAILY

Is the Only Paper Published in the Upper Peninsula North of Menominee.

Why it Prospers: It is backed by ability, capital and industry, and thrives even in dull times when its imitators are pushed to the wall.

It is the Paper: It is the Paper for news, it is the paper to advertise in and it is the paper that the people want.

Prohibition Nominee for Legislature from the Second District Backs Down.

STEPHENSON AND SATELITE AT HOUGHTON TONIGHT.

Entertainments to Entertain Calumet Society—Scraps of News from All Over Copperdom.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The only authorized collector of THE MINING JOURNAL in Houghton county is Mr. Horace J. Stevens. Receipts signed by other than him will not be recognized as valid from this date.

HANCOCK.

Peter Stroberg, nominee for the legislature from the Second district of Houghton county on the Prohibition ticket, has decided that he doesn't want to run and requested that his name be left off the official ballot.

Postmaster Redmond will remove Uncle Sam's mail business from the present time honored but contracted quarters to the National bank building, taking the room recently vacated by Legnell & Olander, the druggists.

The board of registration of district No. 1, township of Hancock, will be in session at Justice Finn's office from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday, Nov. 3.

Mr. George H. Nichols went south on yesterday's train to Detroit, where he will officiate tomorrow as best man at the Miller-Storper wedding.

The Quincy Excelsior band improved the beautiful weather of Saturday by giving a free concert Saturday evening—in all likelihood the last of the season.

Wendell & Schulte took possession of the Roberts stock Saturday.

HOUGHTON.

Hon. J. L. McPeck and Congressman Samuel M. Stephenson are billed to appear this evening at the Armory, where Judge McPeck, who is a fine speaker, will deliver a Republican address.

Peter Hein has opened a music and auction store at the Hamann block. Some evil-disposed and ill-informed person broke in the first night Peter was in his new stand and stole 500 cigars, but this bad luck was made up Friday, when he sold a Weyman piano to Mr. D. McDonald of Dollar Bay.

Chas. J. Byrns will institute a camp of the Modern Woodmen at Dollar Bay in about a week. If the upper peninsula doesn't become thoroughly organized and fraternally united some day, it won't be Mr. Byrns' fault.

C. W. Kennedy of New York was here Saturday in the interests of S. Dessau of New York, the diamond importer.

Miss Nellie Pearce of Ishpeming is visiting Mrs. Ed Pryor.

The Misses Mahan of East Houghton gave a party to friends on Thursday evening, at which cards and dancing helped to make the time pass quickly.

Reserved seats can be had at Barry & Rube's for the "Old Folks" concert to be given in Pfeiffer's hall tomorrow night for the benefit of St. Ignatius' church.

Mr. Chas. J. Hodge has returned from Detroit and hopes to build the hard iron furnace on the old site as soon as the insurance is adjusted.

The new Murphy building has been enclosed. It is intended to be occupied before Christmas.

CALUMET.

The concert to be given at the Calumet Methodist church this evening under auspices of the Ladies' Aid society will be a musical occasion of considerable merit.

Judge J. L. McPeck of the lower peninsula addressed a large and enthusiastic audience Saturday evening at the Armory from a Republican standpoint. Hon. S. M. Stephenson was also present.

Archdeacon G. Mott Williams of Marquette officiated at Christ church at the morning and evening services yesterday.

The remains of Miss Julia Harrington of Yellow Jacket were interred in the Catholic cemetery yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

A concert which will give to its listeners the best talent in the city is billed for the opera house on Friday evening next. It will be participated in by the Calumet (Fifth regiment) band, Concordia Maennerchor, the Norwegian choir "Viking" and the Finnish Glee club. Miss Martha Dietrichsen, a graduate of an Italian conservatory and said to possess a voice of great power and sweetness, will sing two solos and a new composition by Professor Max von Lenz of the band will be given for the first time. The concert deserves a house filled to the doors.

Clarence Lewis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Lewis, died Friday night of pneumonia at his parents' home on Seventh street. Mr. Lewis was sick but a few days and his sudden death proved a great shock to his parents. The funeral will be held today.

A camp of the Modern Woodmen is to be instituted here about Nov. 1.

Messrs. Austin & Goggin opened their meat market in the Anderson building, Fifth street on Saturday.

Gustave Olson, several years ago an employee of the Calumet & Hecla company, is now the candidate for sheriff on the Populist ticket in St. Louis county, Minn., the county in which Duluth is situated—as much of it as doesn't spill over into Wisconsin and Canada.

The Osceola Baseball club gave an enjoyable dance Saturday night at the Osceola band hall.

Mr. James McHardy left Saturday for London, Ont., to attend the funeral of his mother, who died suddenly, the day previous.

Company B, Iberian Rifles, will give a dance at the Light Guard Armory Wednesday evening next.

LAKE LINDEN.

The Times calls attention to the detriment to the town caused by the high tolls charged by the Torch Lake Canal company. The complaint is just and the town now suffers, and must continue to suffer, from the ten cents per ton—a very high charge—imposed by the canal company until it is removed. There should be some way to secure a free canal. The other canals are free.

Another Exposure.

Mother (after the wedding)—Horror! I'm afraid Clara has made an awful mistake. Her affianced looked young, and had excellent credentials; but I do believe he's an impostor and has been married dozens of times before.

Friend—Goodness! It can't be.

Mother—But did you see him? At the altar he didn't drop the ring, or stumble over his own feet, or act like a half-witted donkey a bit. He's a fraud, and I know it.—N. Y. Weekly.

Hard to Please.

Yachtsman (starting out)—Consarn those workmen! They didn't get the bottom of the boat half smooth. I know by the way she sails. Just feel of her sides. They are as rough as a nutmeg grater. Same Yachtsman (after an upset)—Gee Willikens! How in creation is a man going to hold on to a slippery thing like this?—Good News.

NEW IDEAS FOR FAIRS.

A Church Bazaar That Had in It Much Suggestive Material. A recent fair to raise funds for a church organ was so spirited and original in its design and carrying out that it was not only unexpectedly successful in securing the entire amount needed, but made itself a model for other similar entertainments.

Next to the blue stall, where the pretty girls wore a delicate shade of color, with white fichus and hats trimmed with white wings, came a pink and black one. Here the stallholders were all dressed in pink muslin, with black satin shoulder straps and rosettes on the shoulders, and black satin Swiss belts, with big black lace hats crowning the pretty toilets.

The refreshment stall was draped in yellow, with bunches of real ivy, and the attendants, although in green and yellow, were anything but melancholy. A dairy booth was in red, white, and gray with flags.

A crimson-draped booth was very effective, set off as it was, by loopings of black ribbons, and attended by pretty girls in gowns of the soft sheer black muslin, with big bunches of crimson carnations at their belts and nodding on the big black picture hats which they wore.

This is the moment for many quickly-arranged sales and impromptu fairs. A "butterfly tea" at a summer resort last week puzzled the readers of its announcement until the day arrived. One of the hotel parlors was hung with dark-red cheesecloth, on which were innumerable gilt and silver butterflies.

The tables were in the shape of butterflies two feet square, and were merely stands with tops cut from large sheets of pasteboard, and were then covered with crepe paper of different hues. The only things sold were butterfly cushions and sachets, fans, and hand screens, and especially the candle and gas screens, so prettily evolved in that shape out of crepe paper and gold and silver dust.

A golf stall is suggested, now that we have adopted this game. It should be made gay with golf flags, and among the articles to be sold should be balls, ball-cleaners, puttees, clubs, niblicks, cases and gloves. Score cases and golf manuals, and bags of all sorts will also find easy sale at such a stall.

HARD COAL.

It Was Practically Unknown as Fuel Until the Year 1820. The anthracite coal trade really had no existence worthy of the name until as late as 1820. Its actual beginning, however, was in 1807, when one Abigail Smith ran an ark loaded with coal to Columbia from Wilkesbarre, and he continued to run several arks yearly until 1838.

One more fact in this romance of fact. That the man who discovered anthracite coal was a public benefactor goes without saying, but who was he? In 1801, I remember, the Pennsylvania legislature tried to appropriate two thousand dollars to build a monument to Philip Ginter, of Carbon county, as the discoverer. His right to the title and honor being disputed, a sage legislator said: "We ought to have a discoverer of coal and might as well have him; so whether it was Ginter or not makes no difference. We are willing to concede his claim."

The earliest users of anthracite in Pennsylvania antedated Ginter twenty-three years. They were Obadiah and Daniel Gore, blacksmiths from Connecticut, who lived near Wilkesbarre. Jesse Fell was the first to burn it in a grate as house fuel, and it was not until 1835 that a boatowner in New York could be induced to try it for making steam.—Chicago Times.

"Speaking of the human voice," said the disagreeable man, "have you ever thought what an indication of character it is? Place a woman I have never seen in another room, and let me but hear the tones of her voice, and I can tell what kind of a woman she is."

John B. Blumer, "and I recently had a very thing manifested to a remarkable degree. A woman called on my wife the other day, and although I had never seen her before, I knew, by hearing her speak, just what she was."

"What sort of a woman was she?" inquired the disagreeable man, with intense eagerness. "Why," replied Von Blumer, complacently, "she was Irish."

Swedish Fair Closed.

The Swedish church fair closed Saturday evening and it seemed as though everyone made it a point to be present on the last night and to enjoy themselves as much as possible. The Bethany band of Ishpeming was present and enlivened the occasion with a few choice selections. In the voting contests that took place during the evening Nels Flodin was declared to be the most popular Scandinavian and was presented with a gold headed umbrella while Miss Anna L. Olson was awarded a fancy umbrella as the most popular young lady. Everything saleable was disposed of during the evening and the fair was closed at a late hour, a pronounced success. Following is a list of prize winners:

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

Mrs. F. H. Gooding is in Wisconsin visiting relatives and friends.

L. M. Packard of Menominee was here Saturday and left for home yesterday.

O. W. Blodgett, the Bay City lumberman, was in town yesterday and went west last night.

Charles Johnson came up from Rock River last night and reported Alger county politics extremely quiet.

Mine Host Lewis of the Hotel Marquette set up his usual fine dinner Sunday, and had the usual large crowd to enjoy it.

Enclid Largeness has moved from 737 North Third street to the corner of Third and Superior streets, basement of the Bittner block.

Major C. B. Sears, U. S. A., the engineer in charge of government work on Lake Superior, was in town for a few hours Saturday.

Kassel Oskinsky has a big stock on hand and is offering some great bargains. Interesting details can be found in his advertisement.

Gust Peterson, Democratic candidate for sheriff, was in town yesterday shaking hands with old friends and making many new ones.

The Riggs company which appeared here two nights last week, spent Sunday in the city on its way from the copper country to Ashland.

A. G. Johnson, C. E. Linn, S. W. Williams and E. R. Sundberg were among the usual Saturday and Sunday contingent from Ishpeming.

Thomas Broderick, the policeman at Presque Isle, found yesterday a ripe wild strawberry. Whether the specimen is merely late or second crop is a question.

Grafton lodge, A. O. U. W., held a special meeting with large attendance Saturday evening, the occasion being a visit from Grand Recorder W. Warne Wilson of Detroit.

The regular weekly drill of Company G has been postponed until Tuesday night to give the members an opportunity to attend the performance of "Pinafore" at the opera house tonight.

Charles Beaudry of Seymour avenue was wearing a smile a foot wide yesterday and setting up the cigars to all his friends. He had six girls already but this time it is a boy. Hence the cigars.

Miss Elsie Lucas was married to John Ferris, a fireman on the South Shore road, at Seney last Wednesday. The bride was until recently employed on one of the Buffet cars by E. P. Monteith.

Quite a large number of persons took advantage of the special rates offered by the street railway company yesterday and Saturday to visit Presque Isle and the adjacent territory and return laden with spoils of the autumnal forests.

Nels Shepherd, a woodsman employed in a camp eighteen miles south of Marquette, was brought in to St. Mary's hospital yesterday with a smashed knee, caused by a log falling on him. The injury is a very bad one and the unfortunate man, it is feared, will be permanently crippled.

The next time Charley Shaffer's genial countenance comes looming up Front street just ask him how he got lost in the woods Saturday. He started in from the Onota club Saturday afternoon, got lost and had to turn in for the night in a hemlock tree. This is certainly a strange adventure for a man who has been back and forth through that country for years and the boys down in Alger county are making Shaffer's life a burden in consequence.

No Political Significance.

MARQUETTE, L. S. Mich., Oct. 20, 1894. T. W. Durban, Esq., Ishpeming.

DEAR SIR:—In this morning's issue of THE MINING JOURNAL I notice an open letter addressed to the chairman of the Populist county committee, Marquette, Mich. In reply I would say: That the appearance of your name and that of Mr. McClear on the ticket has no political significance whatever. On the motion of a delegate from Ishpeming, as we had material for the pieces, a Democrat and Republican were placed on our ticket to show that we were not bound in the chains of narrow partisanship.

Concerning your position on the tariff, I reply that the Populists ignore the issue and permit each individual Populist to vote the tariff up or down as in his opinion his best interests may be subserved.

"And if our mines and factories are largely idle, our laborers wages so depressed as to seem to approach the European standard"—I beg leave to say for the present state of affairs, that the Republicans sowed the seed; the Democrats cultivated the crop, and the people are reaping the harvest—and I confidently believe that the Populists will help fix the price of the products on November 6.

In conclusion I assure you that our action was in a friendly spirit toward the individual members of both the old parties, from whose ranks we hope to recruit our own.

Very respectfully yours EDWIN D. COX, Chrm. Pop. County Com.

Odd Thing in Perfume.

Perhaps the most complete metamorphosis of the character and associations connected with any substance in nature is found in the delicate toilet perfume, ambergris. Naturalists tell us that this substance is nothing else than the result of a fit of indigestion on the part of the sperm whale, being, in fact, a kind of intestinal calculus, or portion of the food of the whale imperfectly digested. Bales have a great fondness for ambergris, and congregate on the seacoast in search of it. They eat it and return it in exactly the same state as it was swallowed, in respect to perfume, though changed in color. This is the white ambergris so highly valued. Thus, after passing through the digestive organs of two animals, it retains its delicate and subtle perfume, which rivals that of the fairest flowers, and also retains its value for the toilet.

World's Fair Highest Award.

TREASURER OF NEW YORK STATE. He Gives More Evidence of the Unequaled Worth of Paine's Celery Compound.

Mr. Colvin Had Suffered from a Nervous Complaint With Which Many Are Afflicted—He Tried the Remedy That Makes People Well, and His Experience Was Like That of Thousands of Others.

Mr. Colvin, the treasurer of New York state, holds the highest position of purely financial responsibility to which it is possible for a citizen of this country to be elected.

In many respects the office is second only to that of the great United States official whose secretary himself has just publicly recommended Paine's Celery compound.

Now there comes a letter of the same character from Treasurer Colvin. In the history of the most remarkable remedy this century has yet seen the fact that the ablest and most influential persons in the country and the most progressive physicians were the first to perceive the extraordinary worth of Paine's Celery compound is very significant.

The fact that today this remedy is more widely recommended by grateful people in every walk of life than all the other remedies in the world together is not astonishing. It makes people well!

There have appeared recently published testimonials of Mr. Carlisle's private secretary, of ex-minister to Austria Francis, of Mayor McShane of Montreal, of Miss Mabel Jenness, of President Cook of the National Teachers' association, of General Macaulay and of scores of other equally responsible women and men. The "plain people" by thousands in every state in the union have testified to the merits of the compound.

Gov. Addison B. Colvin, whose likeness is given above, who was elected treasurer of New York state last fall, was born in 1858 in Glens Falls, N. Y., where he was educated in the public schools and where he has since resided. His successful career is known to all well-informed persons.

Writing to the proprietors of Paine's Celery compound on July 12 last he said: "I beg to advise you that three or four years ago, when I was suffering severely with a nervous difficulty, caused by too close attention to business, I took several bottles of Paine's celery compound and the benefit to me was considerable; in fact, since having taken the compound, I have not been called upon to use any other remedy for that difficulty. Very sincerely yours, A. B. COLVIN, State Treasurer."

Every hard-working person should heed this truth, that the most cruel taskmaster in the world is a man's self when he is ambitious and, moreover, successful.

No eight-hour or ten-hour laws have ever been devised to protect such hard-worked, overworked men against themselves.

Very many are tied to their office desks, bent over books and papers for hours in utter defiance of the simplest requirements of health. The steady drain on the store of nervous energy at length shows itself in repeated headaches, neuralgia twinges, rheumatic pains, unrefreshing sleep and a lawlessness of spirits and strength.

In all these cases there is urgent need of restoring the nervous vigor that has been heedlessly squandered. Just why the great body of really capable physicians have had the greatest confidence from the first in ordering Paine's celery compound in these cases of reduced nerve vigor and bodily strength is not only because of the immediate good results that follow but because this great modern remedy is prepared from the formula of the ablest reputed scientist and practitioner in medicine, Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., L.L.D., of Dartmouth college.

There are hundreds of men and women successful in their work for every one who is successful in keeping well. In many instances a fraction of the care and earnestness with which they attend to their business if devoted to getting well would make them strong and well.

To quickly fill the shrunken arteries and veins with ruddy blood and to refresh the exhausted nerves is the task that Paine's celery compound at once sets at work to accomplish. It takes but a short time with a careful employment of this great nerve food to call a halt to wasting diseases and to disorders of the important organs of the body: to dyspepsia, liver, kidney and heart difficulties and to nervous weakness.

It is, perhaps, vague to most persons' minds just what "regulating and strengthening the nerves" really means.

No parts of the body undergo such rapid changes as the nervous tissues. After exertion the brain and nerves demand the promptest repair possible. The proper material must be speedily and richly brought by the blood to ensure the healthy working of these delicate parts.

It is when the vigor of the body is so reduced that the nervous tissues cannot extract these needed elements from the blood, and when the pale, watery blood can furnish but a scanty supply of building material, that the strength fails, sleep becomes broken and unrefreshing, depression seizes the mind and a general feeling of ill-being is the sure forerunner of the breakdown of some special organ, liver, kidneys, heart, brain or stomach.

Paine's celery compound regulates and strengthens the nerves, which govern and give tone to every part of the body.

The tiniest branchings of the nerves everywhere accompany and work in harmony with the marvelous network of blood vessels, so that wherever a pin prick starts a drop of blood, a sharp pain tells that a nerve has also suffered. Paine's celery compound stores the blood vessels even to their minutest capillaries with fresh blood, full of life, and builds up the worn-down nerves, by bathing them, to their utmost filaments in the rich, nourishing stream.

Tired mothers, worn out by the ceaseless care of large families, and fathers worried by business and responsibilities, find just the refreshment to the nerves that they need so much. Overwrought brainworkers, teachers, scholars, young girls in stores and offices regain the sturdy appearance of health in a short time by using this powerful nourishing agent, Paine's celery compound.

TOOK THEM FOR BURGLARS.

Ishpeming Night Telephone Boy Takes Carpenters for a Gang of Burglars.

WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT AND KILLED AT ESCANABA.

Firemen Arranging for Their Annual Ball on Thanksgiving Eve—Races Friday at Union Park.

GAVE THE BOY A GOOD SCARE.

Saturday morning at 4 o'clock the boy who operates the switch board in the local telephone office during the night was aroused from his slumbers by a tremendous racket down stairs. He at once concluded that there were burglars in the building and being desirous of having them captured if possible he rang up Engineer Condon at the fire engine house. On the first tap of the alarm bell Mr. Condon was out of bed, thinking that there was a fire somewhere, and immediately answered the call. The boy was terribly excited but after some sputtering he succeeded in making himself understood. He said that there were burglars down in Voelker's saloon and that they were hammering on the safe, and requested Mr. Condon to go out and notify the police. Jim, of course, complied with the lad's request and hurriedly ran around town in search of an officer. He finally ran on to two of the coppers coming along the street together. In as few words as possible and without losing any time, fearing the burglars might get away with Mr. Voelker's "boodle," Mr. Condon delivered his message. "Oh," said one of the cops, "there ain't any burglars there, it is some carpenters putting down a new floor." On learning this the engineer quietly bid the guardians of the law adieu and made his sneak through the nearest alley homeward. The carpenters had begun work on the new floor at 11 o'clock the previous night when the saloon closed, the proprietor being desirous of having the work done without interference to his business. Condon thinks the joke is all on the telephone boy but the coppers claim that a glimpse at Jim when he discovered that the suspected burglars were carpenters at work was sufficient to convince them at least that he was also somewhat taken in.

Shot by His Brother.

While playing with a loaded revolver on Saturday, about noon, the oldest son of T. H. Brotherton, who is employed as land-looker for the South Shore Railway company, accidentally shot and instantly killed his youngest brother, a lad about ten years of age. The difference in the boys' ages was four years, the oldest being fourteen. Mr. Brotherton and his family reside at Escanaba. Shortly after the accident occurred a message addressed to General Manager Fitch of the South Shore notifying him of the affair and requesting him to communicate the sad news to Mr. Brotherton, came over the wire. It must be a hard matter to reach Mr. Brotherton within a reasonable time, as when he is in the woods it is something of a task to locate him. He very frequently remains in the woods for several weeks at a time, during which he moves about considerably. Mr. Brotherton's many friends and acquaintances along the line will be pained to hear of his misfortune.

Supper at the Nelson.

At the special meeting of the fire department, held Saturday evening for the purpose of arranging details with reference to the firemen's annual ball to be given on Thanksgiving eve at the A. O. U. W. Hall, the proposition of Landlord Outhwaite of the Nelson House to provide supper for the occasion was accepted. The charge for the supper, which will be served in the hotel, will be $1 per couple, or fifty cents a plate. Mr. Outhwaite has assured the boys that nothing the market affords will be too good for the fire lads and their friends that night. Mr. Outhwaite takes great interest in the fire department, having been at its head for several years and for this reason he intends preparing a fine spread.

A committee, consisting of John Lacy, John D. West and Joseph Kennedy, was appointed to engage a band to head the parade from headquarters to the dance hall on the evening of the ball.

The Horse Race.

The horsemen who have been endeavoring for some time to arrange for a trotting race at the Union Park have finally come to an agreement, and next Friday afternoon is the time set for the sport. There will be two races, a 2:45 trot and a gentlemen's driving race. A purse of $200 has been announced for the former, a liberal purse for winners of the latter will be put up. It is said by those interested that five horses will start in each race, in which event some very fair heats may be looked for. The admission will be twenty-five cents.

Have Gone West.

Thomas Nelson, who has resided in Ishpeming at the Cleveland mine location for a great many years, left Saturday with his wife and three children, for Delta, Col. Mrs. Nelson's health has been failing quite rapidly of late, that being their object in leaving here as a change of climate was deemed advisable. Three of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson's sons, Frank, Fred and Ed, will remain in this section, at they all have positions here.

Tucker's Attack on Peterson.

To THE MINING JOURNAL.—In Saturday's number of The Iron Ore of Ishpeming I notice this very dirty fling at Gust Peterson, who is now running for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, following a very flattering mention of Mr. Broad, the Republican nominee: "His (Broad's) opponent on the Democratic ticket is Gust Peterson of Ishpeming, a Republican for revenue only, who during the greater part of his inactive life and under false pretensions of party fealty, has been fed, clothed and sheltered at the expense of the police fund of a Republican city." I am aware and wish here to explain, that Mr. Newell, the publisher and responsible editor of The Iron Ore, has been for some time in the woods taking a vacation for the benefit of his health, and that during his absence the paper has been edited by the Rev. George Tucker, ex-postmaster of Ishpeming and at present city recorder—Scandinavian Republican. Andrew Sandberg was fired last spring to make a place for this insatiable feeder at the public crib.

Now I know Mr. Peterson and I want to say that a better citizen or more deserving man is not to be found on either ticket. He has "been fed, clothed and sheltered at the expense of the police fund of a Republican city" says the Rev. Tucker. At the expense of what funds has Tucker been "fed and clothed" for so many years? He was postmaster during Harrison's term in the presidency and when he was removed from that office an attempt was made to put him in another place, where he could be "fed and clothed" at the expense of the poor fund of Marquette county, by making him superintendent of the poor for the district embracing Ishpeming and Negaunee, but the county board had no use for the chronic place-hunter and the place was given to William Allen.

Then his sevinish squeal was so loud and loud that the party bosses judged it best to provide for him in another way, and honest Andrew Sandberg was knocked out of a city office that he had held for years most acceptably to the people of Ishpeming and Tucker was once more set to feeding at the public crib. He is now being "fed and clothed" at the expense of this Republican city and the grant of satisfaction that he emits indicates how well he likes being taken care of in that way.

How well did the Rev. Tucker and the class of voters for whom he assumes to speak to allow themselves to be held in line by a sense of what "party fealty" demanded of them when the late Sheriff Anderson was defeated by Jack Adams after the latter had been fairly beaten for the Republican nomination for that office and became a candidate against him? By every consideration of political honor and good faith Mr. Anderson was entitled to the vote of the city of Ishpeming for police force. If he has not the city authorities have been culpable in keeping him there. He is shrewd, industrious and thrifty—just the kind of a man to make a good sheriff. I am not urging that he be elected, but I don't propose to see him attacked in this way by a greedy place-hunter like Tucker without saying a word in protest.

I am a Republican, and want to stay with the party, but just a little more of the kind of treatment the Scandinavian voters have been receiving at the hands of the party bosses is this county and in the city of Ishpeming for several years will tend to convince me that I am giving my support to a party that has small use for me and other Scandinavians except as voters. How was Andrew Tucker treated when he sought a second term as sheriff? How was it with Peter Raquist when he was an applicant for the office of mine inspector after the death of Anthony Broad, who held the place from the time the office was created until he died? And how did Andrew Sandberg fare when he tried to get the position of deputy inspector of internal revenue for this district (now held by a Scandinavian under a Democratic administration) but was turned down for a man who when he got tired of holding the office sent it to a Marquette county Scandinavian? Let the Rev. Tucker tell. He ought to be familiar with the subject, for he has been assisting since he had influence in the party to accord just that kind of treatment to Scandinavian voters who had the audacity to seek official recognition.

Mr. Broad may be, as the Rev. Tucker says, "every inch an American citizen," but he is not any more of an American citizen than Mr. Peterson and no better a citizen either of the nation or county or state. Does the Rev. Tucker want us to have it understood that he does not believe a Scandinavian can be as good an American citizen and as much entitled to all the benefits and privileges of American citizenship as citizens of any other race or class? His remarks bear that construction.

George Oatman won a revolver worth $12.50 raffled off by Master Frank Cronin on Saturday evening. It cost George ten cents.

H. F. Hammell went up the line hunting on Friday and returned Saturday with the finest deer brought to this city this season. It weighed one hundred and seventy pounds dressed.

The employees of the Lake Angeline mine were paid on Saturday, in consequence of which business was rather lively about town during the day and evening.

J. C. Fowle of Marquette is shipping eight or nine cars of pulp wood daily from Michigamme to Apitahon. He has quite a large quantity of spruce in the car at Michigamme, which was cut in that vicinity last winter, and is only now getting it to the mills.

Mayor Johnston came down from the Newell-Walters camp on Friday evening after spending a few days there. He brought down a fine deer, which was shot by Charles Kruse, Messrs. Newell and Walters and the other members of the party are expected home today.

Joseph Corkell left Saturday for Spring Valley, Ill. Despite the bad reports regarding affairs in general coming from that section of late there are quite a few men going there from here. A great many of the men who left here about a year ago, have become accustomed to the work there and are now as contented as they were here.

A number of the members of Ishpeming lodge No. 113 A. O. U. W. will visit Negaunee lodge tonight when Casper Brand of Houghton, district deputy grand master, workman, W. Warner Wilson, grand recorder, and several other prominent members of the order will be present. They will go down and return via the street car line.

Driving Windmills by Electricity.

A novel departure has been taken by the owner of a windmill at Bremen, Germany. It is proposed to use the custom to use windmills in conjunction with dynamo for the generation of electricity, more especially for lighting purposes, in places remote from a regular supply of current, and some most successful installations of this kind have been made. The owner of the Bremen windmill proposes to reverse this process, and instead of making his windmill drive a dynamo he will use an electric motor, connected with the town electric mains, for driving his machinery when a calm prevails.

ROBBED A MEAT MARKET.

Amateur Burglar Cleans Up the Cash from Muck & Thomas' Place.

AN AGED NEGAUNEE RESIDENT PASSES AWAY.

Salvation Army Gave Dress Parade Friday Night--A. O. U. W. Will Hold District Meeting Today.

CARRIED OFF THE REGISTER. The meat market of Muck & Thomas was entered by thieves on Friday night and the cash register carried off and its contents being about $2 in small change.

On Saturday morning the register was found on the sidewalk on Jackson street about a block distant from the market. The cash was gone but the register was uninjured.

Died of Paralysis. Benjamin Remillard, who has been ailing for the past eight years, died at his home near Teal Lake on Friday evening.

The deceased has been a resident of Negaunee for the past twelve years, having come here from New York. He is survived by six children--his wife having died last winter--Mrs. Barabee, Mrs. Lacombe, Mrs. John Fish and Dennis Remillard, who reside here, a son in New York and also a son at Anaconda, Mont.

Had a Big Time. The local Salvation Army attracted considerable attention on the street as well as at the barracks Friday night. In the parade the members were costumed so as to represent the people of various nations.

The annual district meeting of the A. O. U. W. lodges of the upper peninsula will be held in this city today at the hall of the local lodge. The majority of the delegates are expected here this morning, but some of them will not arrive until noon.

Death of Mrs. Mulholland. Mrs. Richard Mulholland, of the Home mine location, who has been ill for some time past, died Friday night. She was forty years of age and is survived by a husband and seven children. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, the interment taking place in the Negaunee cemetery.

LOCAL LAOCINIUS. Maurice Wolner came up from camp near Swaney on Saturday. M. J. Cannon of Standish, Mich., was a Negaunee visitor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moar returned Saturday morning from Milwaukee where they have been during the week in attendance at the funeral of their nephew, the late Eugene Longstorf.

The opening of the Adelphi roller rink on Saturday evening was attended by a large crowd. There was a band on hand and all present seemed to enjoy themselves. There were a few young folks from Ishpeming.

A. Maitland and C. L. Sporely have returned from their hunting expedition. They had hard luck, not having even seen a deer during the time they were out. They had a good time, however, and returned feeling just as good as when they had shot several deer.

W. J. Allen, with his wife and daughter, returned from Milwaukee on Saturday. Mr. Allen was in attendance at Professor Clark's school of undertaking during the week and finished his course sooner than he expected when he went away. There were several hundred undertakers in the class with Mr. Allen.

The diagram of reserved seats for the benefit concert to be given next Thursday evening at McDonald's Opera House under the auspices of the members of St. Paul's church choir, can be found at Perkin's drug store. The concert promises to be an exceedingly fine one and all who can possibly attend should do so.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Gen Francis Nash, of the revolutionary army, gave a name to Nashville, Tenn. It was first called Nashville, which was objected to on account of being hard to spell.

Two Birmingham negroes have carried a silver quarter under their togues for thirty-six years. They were first placed there by the men for fear their masters would find and take the money from them, and subsequently kept there because of superstitious belief.

"Nearer, My God, to Thee," was the work of Sarah Flower Adams, and first appeared in a volume of hymns and anthems published in 1840 by Rev. W. J. Fox. Several churches have objected to the theology of the hymn, and have endeavored to improve it, but no substitute was ever received with favor by the public.

Robert E. Stone, of Lexington, Ky., has just erected over the grave of his dog a monument that cost him six hundred and fifty dollars. The stone is a pointed shaft of seashore granite elaborately and fancifully carved. It has deeply chiseled inscription: "Don, for sixteen years our silent brother and friend. His faithful dog shall bear him company."

A famous London will bequeathed "all my black and white horses" to a certain devisee. After the lawyers had wrangled to determine whether all the black horses and all the white ones were meant, or only the pichard, or black and white ones, a witness testified that all the horses of the dead man were mares, and confusion was worse confounded.

The first forgery of a Bank of England note was executed by a man who was anxious to make a good impression on his sweetheart. He forged twenty of the notes and placed them in her hands as proof of his wealth. No attempt was made to pass them, but the forgery was discovered and he was hanged. His name was Vaughn, and his execution took place in 1758.

"I never realized how much noise a load of iron beams could make," said a citizen, "until I heard one go through a residential street, where it was not accompanied with other noises. All the loads I had ever heard before I had heard in busy thoroughfares where, though the noise they made had been heard above every other, it had been softened somewhat by the general uproar. Here it was heard all by itself, and, too, it was after six o'clock in the evening when even the comparatively slight traffic of the street had ceased and it was perfectly quiet. Forty boiler factories couldn't have held a candle to it. It actually made people laugh, it was such a thundering big noise."

An unusual result of the season's drought was noticed in Stockbridge, Mass. Some workmen heard a robin darting from branch to branch of a tree, in great excitement. Close examination showed a red squirrel sitting on a branch close to the trunk, holding a young robin in its paws. The men threw stones at him to make him drop the bird, but he moved around the tree, still holding it. Finally he let it drop to the ground, and darted away. On picking the bird up, it was found to be quite dead, and almost drained of blood, the fierce little rodent having satisfied his thirst at the cost of the bird's life. Squirrels are known to eat birds' eggs; but the long drought is held responsible for this crime.

MILESTONES OF THE GLACIER.

Great Stones That Mark the Course of Ancient Ice Floes.

Many of the glacial traces about New York are buried up by the soil which has been slowly forming over them since the end of the great ice age. If, however, one lingers in his wanderings hereabouts where the ground is being cleared for building, he will observe, almost everywhere, where much soil and earth and gravel are being dug out and carted off to clear the rock surfaces in preparation for blasting, that larger and smaller rounded rocks are found embedded in the gravel. They are usually too round and awkward in shape to be useful in the masonry even of the foundations of buildings. Many of them are too large to be shoveled into the carts and carried away with the dirt and gravel. And so one usually sees them rolled off on one side, out of the way, on the bare rock surfaces, until these are freed from soil, when they too are hoisted up and dragged off to some convenient dumping-ground where land, as they say, is being "made."

If one looks a little closely at these despised boulders he will find that many of them are of entirely different character from any of our native rocks. Sometimes they are rock called trap, like that which makes the Palisades; sometimes rock like that which is at home in regions many miles to the north and west of New York. And they are rounded and smoothed in a way which indicates an enormous amount of wear and rubbing sometime somewhere.

It is curious turning back in the books to the record of a time only a few decades ago, to read the speculations of the learned as to the origin and nature of these erratic boulders, which, from their noteworthy shape and their structure, often so different from that of the rocks over which they lie scattered, early attracted attention. Some thought that they must have been cast up out of a distant volcano in an earlier time, and fell scattered here. For some they were rounded by the wash of Noah's flood, and swept by its fierce torrents into alien regions. Others sank--in theory--the earth's crust hereabouts for many feet, and--in theory still!--let enormous icebergs from some distant arctic region drift over here, and melting, drop their iceborne freight of rocks. Some would have it that the earth was once surrounded by a separate rocky shell which somehow came to grief, and left its shattered remnants sown broadcast. Others, still more dramatic, worked up their facts and fancies to the point of assuming collision with a comet. The record given on the rocks told the true story at last, however, when the people got ready to read it.

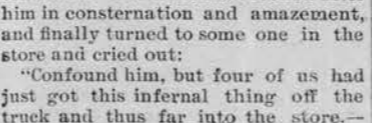

These rounded rocks or boulders--these erratic, waifs and aliens--are, as we well know to-day, the torn-off and transported fragments of rock masses which the great ice mantle brought down here from the back country during the cold weather so long ago, and incontinently dropped when the climate changed and the sun swept its borders back towards Greenland and the pole. Many of these erratics still bear bruises and scratches testifying to their fierce encounters with the old bed-rock along which the relentless ice mass ground them in their journey toward the coast. Here they have lain, these stony aliens, through all the long ages, buried up with other glacial wreckage, covered in by soil later formed, sharing their secrets with the rootlets of vanished generations of plants and trees, until at last another alien, Italian or Celt mayhap, breaks in upon their seclusion with pick and shovel and rolls them ignominiously away. Then, at the seared rock surface the steam drill peeks viciously, puny successor to the gigantic sculptor of the old ice age, whose records it and its explosive allies soon erase.--T. Mitchell Prudden, M. D., in Harper's Magazine.

Help Your Neighbor. A truck was backed up to the curb on Woodbridge street. A large box, evidently very heavy, stood in the door of a store ten feet away. A small man stood with his hands on the box and his face towards the truck. Along came a shoving big chap, with good nature showing in every line of his face and his shirt sleeves rolled up to his elbows, and he took in the situation in a second. "Want the box on the trunk, and you can't move one corner of it, eh? All right--here she goes--no charge--good bye!" And he grabbed the box, ended it over, slewed it around and had it on the truck before you could wink backward him in consternation and amazement, and finally turned to some one in the store and cried out: "Confound him, but four of us had just got this infernal thing off the truck and thus far into the store--Detroit Free Press.

SPEAKING WITHOUT TONGUES.

Prof. Huxley Says the Thing is Not at All Impossible.

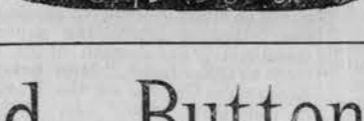

Can we speak without a tongue? Prof. Huxley says yes. Persons suffering from cancer frequently lose their tongues and discover they cannot only talk as well as formerly, but also that their sense of taste is not impaired. The letters d and t are the only ones which, as a rule, those deprived of their tongue find any difficulty in pronouncing properly, and such letters are frequently turned into f's, p's, v's, t's. Many instances are on record of the speaking powers of tongueless persons. In 484 A. D. sixty Christian confessors had their tongues cut out by order of Hunneric, but in a short time some of them went out preaching again. Pope Leo III. is said to have suffered similar mutilation and to have regained his speech. Sir John Malcolm tells of one Zai Khan, who had his tongue cut out and who had recovered his speech enough to tell the physician how it happened. Margaret Cutting was examined before the Royal Society of England in 1743. She had not a vestige of tongue remaining, and yet "discouraged as fluently and as well as others." The tongue actually appears unnecessary to the development of speech.--Family Magazine.

LAST SERMON PREACHED.

Rev. Langan Preached His Farewell Sermon at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday Morning.

RAPID GROWTH OF DESERVING YOUNG MEN'S CLUB.

The Marquette Athletic Club Comfortably Located in the Young Men's Christian Association Building.

SPOKE TO WEeping AUDIENCE.

Rev. James Langan, who has been in charge of the Cathedral parish for about six years, preached his farewell sermon to this congregation yesterday, having been transferred to the church at Ishpeming. Father Keul has been sent from Ishpeming to Menominee, but it is not yet definitely known who will succeed Father Langan here. The change is simply in obedience to the usual custom of the church to change parish priests about at longer or shorter intervals, as the bishop may think the state of the church and the particular abilities of the several priests may require.

Father Langan's departure will be sincerely regretted, not only by the people of his own faith but by the citizens of Marquette generally. He has during his pastorate here won the respect and esteem of all classes of people. He is not only a devoted churchman and a zealous priest but also a scholarly and polished gentleman, whose acquaintance and conversation were a pleasure to all men of intelligence, however much they might disagree with his religious beliefs. Never wavering in his devotion to the cause whose sworn soldier he is, he is still most liberal and tolerant of the honest opinions of others and the charity of his heart and mind ever has room for hope that even those whose opinions varied most from what he believed to be the truth might yet find themselves upon the right track.

In these days when the ugly spectre of religious intolerance and hatred again threatens to raise its head, such men as James Langan, constantly upholding in their lives the standards which they profess, and able to see that others also may have some right on their side, are a blessing to any community. The most bigoted opponent of the Roman Catholic church could not know Father Langan without learning to respect his sincerity and manly piety. While his transfer to another field is doubtless made upon grounds that are wise and expedient, still his departure will be much regretted by all who knew and respected him as a man and who appreciate the great influence of such as he in bringing all branches of the Christian church into sympathy in good works. He carries with him the best wishes of the people of Marquette.

Growth of a Young Society.

The Marquette Athletic club is a comparatively new organization but from its present standing it has the appearance of being an old established institution. Not very long ago a item appeared in THE MINING JOURNAL stating that the young men of the city would form a club. The organization was to be of a social nature, giving the members a place to spend their spare time pleasantly and profitably and at the same time to pay some attention to their physical development. The charter members met and perfected the organization by the election of the following officers: President, P. J. Delf; vice-president, J. G. Kreig; financial secretary, C. H. Wilmar; corresponding secretary, Charles Johnson; treasurer, F. W. Constance. Temporary quarters were taken in rooms in the opera house block while a committee searched for a more convenient home. The Y. M. C. A. building had been closed for some months and with prospects of its remaining so for some time to come and the directors were quite willing to rent it to the new club. Arrangements were so completed and the new club moved into its new quarters and proceeded to make itself at home.

This building is excellently adapted to the requirements of the club from roof to basement and the members were fortunate indeed in securing it. In the basement are the shower and tub baths, lockers and dressing room and a bowling alley. On the ground floor is a well equipped gymnasium, containing nearly all the ordinary apparatus used in the best of gymnasiums. The club will soon add to this, as they intend to make it the best in the upper peninsula. The second floor contains the directors rooms, smoking room, card room, reading room and library. The library is not an extensive one but contains several hundred volumes which will be increased gradually. The reading room is to be supplied with the leading magazines and daily papers, making it a place where many a pleasant and profitable hour can be spent. These rooms are all nicely furnished and fully equipped for their different purposes.

The membership charge is only fifty cents a month and includes the use of baths as well as the rest of the building. The rooms are open throughout the entire day and until 10 o'clock at night. The reading room is also open to members on Sunday afternoon. Already the club has 225 members on its roll and new members are being added daily. No one thing could be started in Marquette that would be of more lasting benefit to the young men than this and the club is to be congratulated on its large membership and present high standing.

"Pinafore" Tonight.

The appearance at the opera house tonight of Sault Ste. Marie's talented amateurs in Gilbert & Sullivan's ever popular opera will be before a crowded house. The seats on the lower floor are practically all sold and many have been taken up stairs. There are still quite a number of good seats in the balcony and these are really better for a musical performance than those in the parquette. The acoustics of the opera house are good in all parts, but still there is a choice of positions and those who care most to hear the music will do well to take their positions in the balcony. THE MINING JOURNAL man knows whereof he writes in this matter from experience, having taken occasion in the past to try all parts of the theatre with this express purpose. Hence no one need hesitate to buy seats up stairs.

A dress rehearsal of the opera was held at Sault Ste. Marie Saturday evening in preparation for the performance here tonight and was largely attended. The cast tonight will be the same as at the performances at Sault Ste. Marie, and is as follows:

Sir Joseph Porter.....A. Mangelsdorf
Captain Corcoran.....J. H. Seymour
Ralph Rockstraw.....L. Fleming
Dick Deadeye.....C. C. Williams
Bill Bobstay.....William Hallam
Bob Becket.....Roy Mead
Sergeants of marines.....H. Roy
Tommy Tucker.....E. C. Sweatt
Miss Mabel Fuller
Josephine.....Mrs. James J. Ryan
Hobbs.....Mrs. L. H. Conley
Buttercup.....Mrs. H. F. Gruendler
Sir Joseph's sisters, cousins, sailors, soldiers, marines.

The chorus is composed of the following ladies and gentlemen:
Mesdames W. B. Busby, C. H. McBean, A. Mangelsdorf, L. H. Conley, J. A. Johnston, C. Squires, L. J. Cody, Joseph Ganley, J. J. Ryan, G. Warwick; Misses Mammie Leeffe, Lou Roach, Minta Kemp, Lillie Fuller, Gerlie Eason, Julia Bellows, Violet Chisholm, Emma Turner, Maggie Lemon, May Knox, Adda Knox, Mable Fuller, Florence Tilt, Myra Trempe; Messrs. James H. Seymour, C. Williams, A. J. Murray, A. Mangelsdorf, L. Fleming, L. Lockwood, E. Roy Mead, R. C. Sweatt, Arthur Williams, Weld Burdick, Edward Lemon, James Moran, Harry Roy, C. Barber, Allie Trempe, Bert Runnels, William Hallam.

General Manager Fitch of the South Shore road, with his usual generosity, has placed private cars at the disposal of the members of the company and their friends and will take them down to Soo junction by special train in time to catch the west-bound express. The party will leave Sault Ste. Marie at 8 o'clock this morning and will reach here at 2:45 this afternoon. A rehearsal will be held with the orchestra and after the performance there will be a lunch and dance at the Hotel Marquette, for which the Marquette Ideals will also furnish music. The visitors will start for home on the early morning train. Besides the sixty members of the company at least forty or fifty other Soo people will be here.

The South Shore road has offered to run a special theatre train to Ishpeming and Negaunee if fifty people will attend from those cities. It is known that quite a number will be down from up the road but whether enough for the special train cannot be said at this writing.

Socially the performance of "Pinafore" will be the musical event of the season.

Rivals Win Again.

Yesterday afternoon was cloudy and threatening rain and but a very small number of people went to the fair grounds to witness the game between the Settlers of Ishpeming and the Rivals. The rain held off, however, and the game lasted until darkness compelled it to be called in the eighth inning. Pascoe of Republic, who was billed to pitch for the Settlers, sent word that he could not come and a twirler of some repute from Champion took his place. Although he was not hit very freely his wild throwing was something wonderful to witness. He kept the crowd at a respectful distance while he was in the box, but gave so many bases on balls that in the fifth inning he was put on the bench, while Paul Shaw donned a gray uniform and went in.

The game at this point stood four to five in favor of the Rivals, but the boys proceeded to make it interesting for the new pitcher and pounded out seven runs before they were retired. This gave them a big lead and so discouraged the visitors that they never got their heads above water after that. Fielder P. Reichman made a brilliant play in left field, making a running catch and immediately after plowing a furrow in the sand. Carney and Navins for the visitors did some fine stick work and C. Reichman put the ball over the fence at just the right time, as the bases were full. But the game was very one-sided, the Rivals having much the best of it, and can still boast of not having been defeated this season on their home grounds. Next Sunday the same clubs will play at Union Park. Following is the score:

Settlers.....2 1 0 1 0 2 0 0-6
Rivals.....0 2 2 7 1 0 *-13

Anniversary Celebration.

The Sunday evening services at the Presbyterian church took the form of a celebration of the seventh anniversary of the founding of the local Christian Endeavor society. The home society has been highly successful from the time of its establishment seven years ago by Rev. Dr. Bonar and now has a total membership of about sixty-five. The general society was organized Feb. 2, 1881, and at present has enrolled 2,033,800 active members and is recognized as one of the most influential societies in connection with the Protestant church. The service last evening consisted of music, responsive readings and the following interesting papers by members: "The Growth of the Movement in Other Lands," Miss Bessie McLeod; "The Growth of the Movement in Our Own Land," Mr. Adriance; "The Value of Convention Enthusiasm," Mr. Smith; "Review of the Year—What We Have Tried to Do," Miss Campbell; "What We Have not Done," Miss McKinnon. Dr. Bonar had intended to address the meeting but was too indisposed to be present. The church was fairly well filled but many more would undoubtedly have been present were it not for the stormy weather.

Judge Steere All Right.

Advices were received from Sault Ste. Marie yesterday that Judge Steere, who left with Guide John Boucher Oct. 4 for a canoe trip down the Tahquamenon river and fears for whose safety were entertained, had returned all right and in good health. The judge's friends were just preparing to start a search party after him when he came in. He was of course gratified at the lively interest taken in his welfare but also somewhat annoyed at the reflection of his skill in woodcraft implied in the fear that he might not be able to get home in safety. He was storm-bound for several days at the mouth of the river and hence was gone longer than he expected.

Kassel Oshinsky's Second Trip to New York This Fall

Secured again $9,000 worth of new and fashionable dry goods and clothing of Wilmerding, Morris & Mitchel, a great jobbing house on White Street of New York City for 47 1/2% on the dollar.

KASSEL OSHINSKY grows day by day in his value to the people of Marquette and vicinity for scores of miles around—because it is governed by a few tried and true principles to which we steadily adhere:

- I—The goods must be here when advertised.
  - II—The goods must be square in all respects with the advertisement.
  - III—Nothing must be said in any advertisement that it is not true—through and through.
  - IV—The prices must be down to the bottom—always
- You are going against your own interest if you buy elsewhere, without attempting to supply your wants here—there's sure economy here—we'll prove it to you.
