SIXTEEN WERE CREMATED.

Seattle Hotel Burns to the Ground in the Middle of the Night.

GUESTS AROUSED FROM SLEEP TO FACE THE FLAMES.

Many Save Themselves by Jumping from the Windows While Others Were Overcome by Smoke.

FIREMEN COULD NOT SAVE THEM.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—A fire which resulted certainly in sixteen deaths and the injury of three more broke out in the West Street House at Columbia and West streets early yesterday morning. All the dead were burned beyond recognition and the coroner has decided to allow the bodies to remain where they are in the hopes that the proprietor may identify the victims by the location of the remains, the hotel register having been saved. The flames broke out so suddenly and so fiercely that the occupants were taken by surprise and there was a wild panic, men and women jumping from the windows in all manner of attire.

A sharp explosion was heard in the kitchen in the rear part of the second story by S. F. Butler, a son of the proprietor, and immediately the flames began to spread rapidly through the dry inner timber of the corrugated iron building, which is one of a range of two-story structures owned by J. M. Coleman on the east side of West street. Butler raised a cry of fire, which aroused the guests, with which the house was crowded, and a rush for life followed. It was not any too soon for the flames were racing through the long narrow halls like invading soldiers attacking a city. In the meantime Officer F. E. Ryan had discovered the flames and turned in an alarm, which brought the fire department to the scene. Then he turned his attention to saving the people who appeared at every window with the flames fast creeping upon them from behind. He found Mrs. Susie Allen and her two-year-old child at a window on the West street side, the woman crying for someone to save the child. "Drop the child!" shouted the officer. She did so and he caught it safely in his arms. Depositing it on the ground he snatched a plank and set it against the window. The woman slid down it and suffered no further injury than a few scratches.

W. F. Butler, proprietor of the hotel, was in bed when the fire was discovered and escaped in scanty attire. His son, S. F. Butler, was night clerk. He says the fire undoubtedly originated from a kerosene lamp in the kitchen, which was located on the upper floor near the rear wall. The flames made such rapid progress that before the inmates could possibly be aroused the fire was upon them. Then the people began to drop from the windows on both sides of the building, the flames closely following them. W. C. R. Lewis, who was in room "A" at the corner, dropped twenty feet to the ground and escaped unhurt. Joseph A. May, who was in room 64, tied the sheets together and used them as a rope to slide on. C. B. Glass jumped out a window, but he lost his hair and was burned. He struck on his back and lay struggling on the ground. He was picked up and carried to the passenger station, and with two others were taken to a hospital.

One poor fellow, whose identity is unknown, was caught in the rust of the contradiction near the top of the West street stairway and sank down overcome with smoke and flames. The firemen fought to keep the fire away from his body, but were driven back, and when last seen the victim's right arm had been burned to a crisp. Two streams of water were kept trained upon this place and the water fell in torrents on the stairway and was hot enough almost to scald.

It was only after the fire department had gotten well to work that the full horror of the affair began to show itself and by that time the building was a mere shell. There was some unaccountable delay in getting the water on, owing to the slowness of the fire-boat getting up steam. When at last the pressure did come the building was a raging furnace and all that could be done was to confine the flames to the block where they started. Up to noon yesterday fourteen bodies had been taken from the ruins of the burned hotel and two more bodies are in the ruins. None of the bodies have been identified as yet.

THREE VICTIMS WILL DIE.

Omaha Tough Fatally Stabs a Number of Persons.

OMAHA, Oct. 28.—Charles Sherman, a local tough, ran amuck with a knife at Douglass and Fifteenth streets early this morning and slashed a number of people, then jumped into a hack and escaped. He became enraged at the hack driver. Those injured were Harry Scales, the hack driver, cut four times; Jim Overton private watchman, stabbed eight times; Charles Moore, hotel clerk, stabbed three times. The enraged man attacked George A. Iseman, a Chicago commercial man who was passing, but was stood off with a gun. The victims will die.

WAS STORED WITH GRAIN.

Large Freight Depot and Contents Destroyed by Fire.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—The East freight depot of the St. Louis Terminal company caught fire from some unknown cause tonight and was almost totally destroyed with its contents. The loss is about $150,000. It was leased to the Jacksonville, Southeastern & Chicago and Peoria & St. Louis roads. It cost $50,000 and was nearly new. It was filled with corn, cotton and wheat in transit. The cars on the sidetrack which were destroyed or practically so numbered nearly a hundred and the majority of them were loaded. As nearly as can be ascertained the insurance is about two-thirds of the loss.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—1:50 a. m.—Though the fire department thought the flames were under control the fire about 1 a. m. took a new shoot, attacking the adjoining warehouse filled with a large quantity of miscellaneous freight. This was also destroyed, together with a sufficient number of freight cars to swell the total to 200. By this new sweep the loss was increased to fully half a million dollars. The additional insurance, if any, cannot be learned. The fire is now under complete control.

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE.

Construction Train Wrecked and Three Men Are Killed.

BRISTOL, Pa., Oct. 28.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad near Crofton this evening in which three men were killed and a score or more injured, some seriously. A construction train having on board about forty laborers pulled up near Crofton and stopped to take on more workmen. While the train was at a standstill, freight No. 117 crashed into the work train. The trainmen were caught by jumping. Several cars were wrecked and in the crash John McNulty, Stephen Danley and Frank Stone, all of this place, were caught and instantly killed. Of twenty or more who were injured nearly all live in Bristol. Three or four are so badly hurt they may die from their injuries. All the Bristol physicians were summoned to the scene of the wreck and after attending to the wounds of the injured sent some to this place and others to the Philadelphia hospital.

CAUSED BY A HUNTER.

Wisconsin Town Badly Shattered by Explosion of Dynamite.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Oct. 28.—This city and vicinity was terribly shaken this forenoon by an explosion on Summit Hill, a mile from town, where was stored five tons of dynamite. It is presumed a bullet fired by a hunter lodged in the powder and the person lost his life. The ground was torn up while trees and fences were twisted out of the ground. The glass in every farm house for miles around was shattered. In this city the effect was disastrous to plate glass fronts and windows and a number of dwellings were blown down. The shock came while people were on their way to church and threw children and ladies down and caused intense excitement.

The citizens of Bloomer, twelve miles from the scene, appear to have felt the force of the shock more severely than here.

A handkerchief and a piece of coat sleeve were found about fifty rods away and they are thought to be part of the clothing of Paul Brobar, an Austrian, who was seen going in that direction a short time before the explosion.

GREETED BY POPULISTS.

Colorado's Star Governor Addresses an Illinois Audience.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—When Governor Waite of Colorado reached Chicago this morning he was met by a delegation of several hundred Populists with brass bands and escorted to the hotel where he held an impromptu reception. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a procession of 300 People's party men, headed by a band, escorted the governor to Lake Front park. There a crowd of perhaps ten thousand people had assembled. The governor was received with cheers when he was introduced and responded with a half-hour's speech in which he assured his hearers that the Populists would be triumphant in Colorado. Continuing, he scored both the old parties severely, claiming the panic and depression was due to their management. This evening the governor spoke to a large audience at Tattersall's pavilion on the same lines.

ARGENTINE SHOOK UP.

Twenty Persons Killed by Earthquake in South America.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 28.—An earthquake which was felt throughout Argentine Republic yesterday was most severe in the province of San Juan de la Frontera and Rio Jan. Churches, theatres and private houses were destroyed. Twenty persons are known to have perished. The inhabitants are in a state of panic, fearing a repetition of the shocks. The government is sending aid to those who lost their homes and everything possible will be done to alleviate the suffering. Though the shock was felt in other parts of the country it was less severe than in the two provinces above mentioned.

TWO CHILDREN RUN OVER.

Careless Driver of Transfer Wagon Causes Serious Accident.

STREATOR, Ills., Oct. 28.—Two children of Joseph Dixon were run over by a transfer wagon last night and Mary, aged ten, was killed outright. John, aged fourteen, had both legs broken and was injured about the head. Robert Spoule was arrested and held in $10,000 bonds to await the action of the coroner's jury for causing the accident. Only for the advice of cooler heads Spoule would probably have been lynched.

NO HARD TIMES THERE.

Indianapolis Stove Company Increases the Wages of Its Men.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—Henry W. Bennett, treasurer of the Republican county central committee and president of the Indianapolis Stove company, employing several hundred hands, in an interview in the Indianapolis Journal says that within the past week he has advanced the wages of all his employees 5 per cent. in justice to the men. The advance was caused by a revival of business.

IMPRISONED MEN RESCUED.

Pewabic Miners Freed From Their Underground Prison by a Rescuing Party.

WERE MORE THAN FORTY HOURS UNDERGROUND.

With Plenty of Air and Water the Men Suffered Little and Are Now All Right.

GRIEF TURNED TO REJOICING.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 28.—

[Special.]—The entombed miners at the Pewabic were all rescued alive yesterday morning at 5:30. At 3 o'clock it was known they were all alive as the workers were near enough to talk with them. They said they were all alive but that they were suffering from chills. Hunger had not bothered them very much. In an interview with W. Oliver he said:
"It was the longest forty-eight hours I ever put in. It was terribly dismal but we all felt better when we heard the distant knocking and noise for we knew it was a rescuing party."
Superintendent Brown and Captain Holland did not leave the scene until every man was taken out. The men were in very fair condition considering what they had gone through. They are now at their different homes in bed and asleep.
There were practically no sensational incidents in connection with the rescue of the miners. The men were imprisoned for over forty hours, but at no time did they consider themselves in danger or despair of rescue. The men were plentifully supplied with water and the air was pure, and beyond missing a few meals the men suffered no inconvenience. When the upper works gave away the men were at work back in the drift and their experiences were very commonplace. The greatest sufferers were the wives and children of the imprisoned men and several of them are nearly at death's door from nervous prostration. The men view their experience in the nature of a joke.
The loss to the company will amount to several thousand dollars, and to the men as much more in wages, for all work was suspended during their imprisonment.

WILL BUY THE CHAPIN.

Representatives of Wealthy Eastern Capitalists in Iron Mountain.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 28.—M. A. Hanna of Cleveland arrived here yesterday morning and will remain until after the sale of the Chapin mine, which will take place Monday morning. Mr. Hanna will undoubtedly be the purchaser although there are other bidders in the field. Peter L. Kimberly, the Pennsylvania furnace and mine owner, is also here. It is rumored that Rockefeller & Corrigan and McKinnis & Co. have representatives here.

SPRANG A LEAK AND SANK.

Steamer Wilson, Coal Laden, Strikes Bottom in Lake Huron.

ALPENA, Mich., Oct. 28.—The steamer D. M. Wilson sprung a leak on Lake Huron and was taken in tow by the steamer Hudson, but sank at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when within two miles of Thunder Bay island in eight fathoms of water. She was coal laden from Cleveland to Milwaukee. Her crew is at the island safe.

AMERICAN CATTLE REFUSED.

Germany Claims the Stock In Infected With Texas Fever.

HAMBURG, Oct. 28.—The senate yesterday published a decree prohibiting the importation of American live cattle and fresh beef on the ground that two cargoes which have just arrived contained several animals suffering from Texas fever. Consignments which are proved to have left America by Oct. 27 are exempted from these provisions, but the animals imported must be killed at the abattoir here immediately after they are landed.

KILLED FOR SNORING TOO LOUD.

John Hoffman Commits Murder Because He Was Kept Awake.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 28.—At St. Joseph's hospital John Hoffman shot Hubert Allen in the head with a revolver for keeping him awake by loud snoring and then shot himself in the head. Both are dying. They are more than sixty years old and for ten years had been inmates of the hospital and employed as janitors.

COTTON FIELDS IN FLAMES.

Fire Is Destroying Crops and Timber of Mississippi.

CORINTH, Oct. 28.—Forest fires are raging in this vicinity and dense smoke overhangs the town. Several cotton fields were destroyed, valuable timber ruined and the country laid waste. Hundreds of farmers are fighting the flames.

Condition the Same.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—

An official bulletin from Livadia at 10 o'clock this morning says the czar slept well last night and that his appetite is good. His condition is unchanged.

Weavers Return to Work.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 28.—

The weavers of Shove mills have decided to return to work Monday. It is expected the result will be a general return to work.

Heavy Snow Storm in Nebraska.

HAY SPRINGS, Neb., Oct. 28.—This section of the state was visited by a heavy snow storm today lasting eight hours. The stock is suffering greatly.

MARQUETTE, MICH., OCTOBER 29. Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

THEY are saying some pretty harsh things in Kansas about Governor Lewelling. One paper remarks that the reason Kansas horses are so cheap this year is "because street cars are run by electricity, threshing machines by steam and the state by a donkey."

INFORMATION has been received through private sources at Ishpeming that Marcus Petersen has joined the Democratic ranks and will be the editor of a Democratic morning daily shortly to be started at Lansing. The political reflections which make up the bulk of Petersen's recent book would lead most readers to infer that the present leanings of the versatile Marcus were toward Populism rather than Democracy. This inference is strengthened by the fact that persons evidently connected with the Populist literary bureau in Lansing are handling the book in this state.

IT has been often said that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. This is evidently not the case with the Michigan Mining School. Its excellent work is fully appreciated by its neighbors, as the appended extract from the advance sheets of the annual report of the mine inspector of Houghton county clearly shows:

I desire to just mention the Michigan Mining school, which is now doing such excellent work. This institution, which is still young, is making an enviable reputation for itself. It has an able director and corps of professors and is becoming widely known as a seat of learning. No better place in the world could be found for the situation of such an institution than Houghton county, as it is not only almost surrounded by mines, being in the heart of the greatest copper mining district in the world, but is in close proximity to the iron district. The managers of our mines take great interest in seeing the school a success and offer every facility possible to the students for the practical study of mining.

WHEN George Westinghouse, Jr., invented his air-brake he took it to Commodore Vanderbilt in the hope of getting him sufficiently interested in it to adopt it on the New York Central road. The old commodore went right on with his correspondence while Westinghouse explained how by an air pressure of thirty pounds to the square foot the brake was applied by the engineer, and when he finished waited patiently for the verdict. The old commodore raised his head long enough to jerk out: "What's that you say about air?" Westinghouse told him. Looking him steadily in the face the old man replied in freezing tones: "That will do; I have no time to waste with a d---d fool." Then Westinghouse went to President Tom Scott of the Pennsylvania railroad and so impressed him that the road adopted the brake. Other roads followed suit and the inventor soon achieved fame and fortune. When that time had arrived he one day received a letter from Commodore Vanderbilt asking him to call at the Central's office. Mr. Westinghouse's reply was terse and to the point. He simply wrote: "I have no time to waste with a d---d fool."—Electrical Review.

FOREST RESERVATIONS. It is time for the people, and especially those of the wooded regions, to be seriously considering the state of their timber resources. The end of the supply of white pine, at the present rate and with the present wasteful methods, is not only visible but at hand. Lower Michigan is now practically stripped and the great mills of the Saginaw valley are living almost entirely on logs imported from Canada. In a few years this peninsula will be in the same condition.

There is no reason why a forest should not be cropped as regularly and systematically as a farm and made to yield a steady and permanent return instead of being exhausted in a few years. The governments of continental Europe have been doing this for years. The English government is doing it in India. Experience in Germany and France has shown that the production of a forest may be actually increased by proper care, by cutting the trees as they ripen and only those which are fully grown instead of turning in an army of choppers to take everything which may be sold. Some of the great paper mills of New England have acquired large tracts of spruce and are working them as systematically and economically as the skillful farmer does his fields.

In a recent letter to Hon. Peter White of this city the venerable Bela Hubbard of Detroit makes some valuable suggestions in this direction. After congratulating Mr. White on his work in securing for this city its beautiful natural park the writer says:

We have thrown away enough in donations to worthless corporations, whose only object is to grab all they can get with little cost to themselves. Now let congress make better use of the few remaining public lands than to foster monopolies. Would it not be a grand thing for the northern peninsula if congress were persuaded to set apart most, if not all, the public domain remaining there and have it managed as a forest reservation? Not in a way to exclude mining operations or agriculture (so far as the land may be suitable for such purposes) but for the preservation of the timber, for the future good of the commonwealth. Would not a forest commission, properly organized, with a competent superintendent, free from political influence and under proper civil service rules, be able to prevent disastrous forest fires, preserve the forest cover necessary to protect the sources of river supply and preserve for future use the timber which is now being ruthlessly wasted?

We Americans are a wasteful people. We have been accustomed so long to dealing with apparently unlimited resources that it is hard for us to learn that even the bounties of nature have an end. In no direction has this senseless and criminal waste gone farther or with greater speed than in our forests. We are not content to use; we waste and destroy. The subject is one worthy the serious consideration of all thinking men and good citizens.

THE last issue of The Iron Trade Review has the following survey of the general conditions:

Market conditions are still furnishing arguments for both bearish and sanguine views of the future. In raw material the predictions of those who began in September to prepare the trade for a slump, have not been realized—certainly not to the extent conceded by the less hopeful. Bessemer pig has held its own since the recovery a week ago of a portion of the ground that had been lost and $11 is the market today. In foundry iron there is a fair demand in some selling centers, with indication that consumption is increasing though slowly. The chief southern producers are endeavoring to hold prices in territory in which southern iron has no competition. In other markets they are meeting the low prices made by northern furnaces. In Chicago, in pursuance of this policy, local coke furnaces are not having the field so completely to themselves. A sale of southern No. 2 soft was recently made there at $10. For shipment east some sales of No 2 soft have been made by southern producers at $7.50 at furnace. There is an evident determination by the furnace firms of the south to regain some of the ground that has been lost to them in the reign of low prices made possible by the cheapest coke and the cheapest Lake Superior ores in the history of the trade.

Eastern reports indicate a more active market during the past week. While prices are weak more business has developed in that section. In finished material the aggregate of orders in the east is larger, though the promise of future business is not especially assuring. Several hundred tons of iron plates were taken in one Philadelphia order. Wrought pipe demand has caused some activity, also in skelp. There has been some improvement in the buying of billets for eastern mills, Pittsburgh sellers coming to a basis of $17.75 to $18 delivered at Philadelphia. In most instances Pittsburgh finishing mills are still well supplied with orders, structural contracts from the east helping out the large producers; but evidences appear in the western market that some sellers are crowding for business. Prices in general are thus kept on a low level, with an exception here and there. Plates have been advanced by one producer, though the general market is not firmer. Sheets are an active market and the shut-downs due to the tin-plate deadlock have shortened the supply.

A WELL ATTENDED RALLY.

Governor Rich and Judge Hubbell Address a Political Meeting in Houghton.

HANCOCK POSTOFFICE MOVED INTO BANK BLOCK.

Calumet Streets Much Improved This Season—Champ Kehoe Will Fight Frank Black December 3rd.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The only authorized collector of THE MINING JOURNAL in Houghton county is Mr. Horace J. Stevens. Receipts signed by other than him will not be recognized as valid from this date.

For the first time in the present campaign a political rally was held here Friday night which filled the hall and the Armory Hall at that, the largest in the copper country.

The Norwegian society, "Fremad," held its social and concert at Olson's hall Saturday night according to program. The hall was comfortably filled with members and their families and a pleasing program was presented for the entertainment of those who were there.

Charles Willeson, messenger of the American Express company on the Houghton-Calumet run, has been laid up for the past week. The physicians diagnosed the case as appendicitis, a newly invented disease of great popularity among the medical and surgical gentlemen who delight in probing into its internal anatomy.

The Swedish Epworth league gave a concert Saturday night at the opera house which was well attended by friends and well wishers and netted a neat little sum for the replenishment of the depleted coffers of the society.

The Salvation Army barracks is enclosed and present quite an imposing front. J. P. Roberts will put on a Sparhan roof this week and the militia of the cross will be fighting Satan inside its walls by the time snow falls to stay.

An operation for appendicitis was performed Friday on the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Shea.

William J. Hannavar died Thursday evening last at his home in Opechee of pneumonia, aged thirty-nine years. He leaves a wife and six children.

The German Maennerchor went out to Renova Saturday night and rendered a number of selections at a ball given in Messner's Hall.

Captain W. E. Parnall of the Tamarack is in Milwaukee on business occasion by the serious mishap at No. 1 shaft.

Alexander Agrassiz of Cambridge, Mass., president of the Calumet & Hecla company, arrived here Saturday morning and is quartered at his cozy cottage.

John H. Burt and Miss Elizabeth Cocking were married Saturday evening at the Kearns and left Sunday morning for a week's bridal trip.

The artisan well being driven by the Calumet & Hecla company near the new electric light station is now over five hundred feet in depth. It is hoped that water in sufficient quantity to supply the flow required will be tapped within the next hundred feet or two, although there is no certainty that such will be the case.

The county meetings of the Epworth league held Saturday afternoon and evening at the Methodist church and the Y. P. S. C. E. county meeting which took place the same afternoon and evening at the Congregational church were both well attended and of deep interest to those participating. There can be no question that these societies have succeeded in the purpose for which they were formed—the awakening of a deeper interest in church matters and in practical every day religion.

Senator John Patton, Jr., of Grand Rapids will deliver a Republican address at St. Patrick's Hall this evening. Messrs. C. A. Wright and T. B. Dunston will also speak. The meeting will probably draw out a full house as many Houghton people will attend.

C. J. Byrns will institute a camp of the Modern Woodmen at Pequanung this evening. The new camp will begin chopping with a membership of nearly thirty of the best citizens of the village.

The Salvation Army enjoyed an old-fashioned blow-out Saturday night and gave such a twist to old Satan's tummy that he will probably shun Hancock for some time to come.

Mr. E. J. Hocking, manager of the Commercial House, Iron Mountain and a resident of Hancock for many years until recently, is visiting friends here.

rock have been spread on the streets of Red Jacket this season with the result of wonderfully bettering the thoroughfares of the village. The crusher will be closed down and the macadamizing will cease at the close of this week.

The Young People's society of the Swedish Lutheran church gave a necktie social at the Armory Saturday night at which there was much enjoyment on the part of the large number of young people who attended and were paired off in ill-mated but merry couples.

The Norwegian society, "Fremad," held its social and concert at Olson's hall Saturday night according to program. The hall was comfortably filled with members and their families and a pleasing program was presented for the entertainment of those who were there.

Rev. Dr. Todd of Escanaba officiated yesterday at both services in the Congregational church in place of Rev. D. Stalker, who is visiting in Escanaba and filling the pew of the church there.

Champ Kehoe and Frank Black have signed articles for a glove contest to be held here Dec. 3 for $200 a side, half of which is already posted.

Owing to the indisposition of School Commissioner Bath on the day set for the special examination here Judge Dooling, who is a member of the county school board, propounded the questions and received the papers. The session lasted over Saturday as well as Friday and there were twenty-five applicants in all for third-grade certificates.

Patrick Henry O'Brien of West Superior, born and reared in Calumet, for several years a laborer in the Osceola mine and now a prominent attorney in the second city of Wisconsin, delivered a Populist speech in Italian Hall Saturday night. There was a large and enthusiastic audience, as the strength of the People's party is centered at Calumet in this county and between that fact and a considerable following of personal friends Mr. O'Brien enjoyed the attention of an audience that was both large and friendly—more than could be said of the audience that listened to his speech at Hancock Friday night.

ENORMOUS AFRICAN SNAKE.

Captured. After Swallowing a Small Ox, and Put Into a Cage. The colony of Natal, South Africa, abounds in boa constrictors and pythons. While they do not attack men, they are especially destructive of cattle, sheep and oxen, and for this reason parties are formed by hunters and natives to burn the bush and forest in order to exterminate the pests.

Some of the soldiers at Pietermaritzburg were recently informed by a party of neighboring Zulus of the whereabouts of a huge python that had been destroying their oxen. The soldiers, with two hundred natives, started off to capture the snake, and having located it, the forest was fired for about a mile roundabout, an enormous pit having been previously dug in toward the center of the inclosed space. What with the burning brush and the shouts of the excited Kaffirs, they soon drove the reptile toward the pit, where, closing in upon him, they forced him into it. The python proved to be of enormous size, being thirty-two feet long and forty-one inches in circumference.

It appeared to be quite stupid or dazed, having just eaten a young ox that had been let into the enclosure. An enormous cage with iron bars half way down the front having been constructed, the snake was got out of the pit and taken into Maritzburg in the cage. Here it is kept on exhibition at the barracks, and is fed twice a week two Kaffir goats at each meal. It will not eat anything that has already been killed for it prefers to kill its food itself. The goats are thrust through a small door at the end of the cage alive, when, fixing its great eyes upon them, the snake suddenly lunges forward and crushes them in its powerful fold. After covering them with a thick slime about an inch deep, before swallowing, it flattens them out by squeezing them and then devours them almost at a gulp. After this the python goes to sleep and does not wake until it is time to feed again.

A gentleman in Maritzburg owns a python that has been confined in a cage for over thirteen months. During this period the snake has not eaten a mouthful of food of any kind, although every conceivable delicacy of likely snake diet, such as frogs, birds, rats and meat, has been sent to tempt its appetite. Its fast seems not to be broken, and the owner has at last abandoned the idea of coaxing the colly prisoner with food. It drinks a very small quantity of water. In a dormant state this fasting would be better understood, for in this state reptiles of this description have been known to exist for periods of eighteen months, or even three years.—London News.

BLOWN UP BY DYNAMITE.

Fiends Completely Wreck a Large Hungarian Boarding House With Fatal Results.

THREE INSTANTLY KILLED AND OTHERS WILL DIE.

Perpetrators of Dastardly Deed Unknown but Robbery Is Supposed to Have Been the Motive.

BOARDERS BLOWN INTO TREES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 28.—A large Hungarian boarding house at Laurel Run was blown to atoms by dynamite at 3 o'clock this morning. Three inmates were killed outright, four fatally and half a dozen seriously hurt. The killed: FRANK NOWASKI, MICHAEL CALLETZ, GEORGE SELOCKY.

The most dangerously injured are: JOSEPH CALLETZ, back broken; MIKE LOSHITZ, head and face cut; arm broken; KASHA CATARESE, one leg broken; other crushed, necessitating amputation.

MICHAEL URITZ, abdomen torn; BLAS KRELL, both arms broken; KOTCHIN, shoulder broken; injured internally; ANTHONY SECHLEK, back and breast crushed; URITZ MINSKI, legs crushed.

The fiends who planned the explosion did their work well despite the fact that part of the plan failed. They placed twenty-four sticks of dynamite, each weighing half a pound, under the building and a wire connected the sticks with a battery. When the signal was given only about half a dozen sticks exploded. They were sufficient, however, to completely wreck the building, not a plank being left standing. The inmates were hurled in every direction. Some escaped fatal injuries by alighting in trees. A special train with physicians aboard was sent to the scene and the injured brought to this city.

The boarding house boss says he is at a loss as to what prompted the dastardly deed. So far as he knows he has no enemies. Some of the boarders think the motive was robbery as several of them were known to have considerable money. It is this was the object it is plain why so much explosive was placed under the building, as the fiends wanted to kill every person in the house in order to get the plunder and escape detection. Up to 7 o'clock tonight no arrests were made. One of the wounded says immediately after the explosion he saw four strange men running down the road way. A fifth stranger approached him and rifled his pockets. Another of the injured gives it as his opinion that the men were tramps. The dynamite used was Pittsburgh dynamite which fact may lead to their discovery as dynamite of that character is used only by railroad contractors.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 28.—Michael Bellakovich, the proprietor of the boarding house, was arrested tonight and sent to jail. The authorities say they want him as a witness. He had money in his possession and Saturday last told a friend he was going to start for the old country Monday.

FIRED BY INCENDIARIES.

Toughs Nearly Burn an Arkansas Town to the Ground.

NEW PORT, Ark., Oct. 28.—Last night fire destroyed the barn of Dr. Willis with its contents. The department had hardly turned in when a second alarm was given and the stable of Judge Phillips was burned at a total loss. Later a third alarm came from the New Port Ginning company. The plant, costing $6,000, burned at a total loss. The city by this time was in intense excitement and alarm. A large number of armed men patrolled the city all night but no further alarms were reported. Today at a mass meeting thirty deputies were sworn in and divided into squads with the purpose of ridding the town of the numerous thugs and thieves called here by the fair. This evening twenty-one of the gentry were escorted out of town and a woe to the man falling to give a good account of himself tonight.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE SOLD.

M-dill's Interest Bought by M. E. Stone and H. H. Kohlstaet.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Negotiations which have been pending for some time for the sale of Joseph Medill's controlling interest in the Chicago Tribune to a syndicate headed by H. H. Kohlstaet, formerly of the Inter Ocean, are said to have ended successfully. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, is interested with Mr. Kohlstaet in the deal and is mentioned as the probable editor of the Tribune under the new management.

DOCK AND VESSELS BURNED.

Valuable Shipping Property Destroyed by Fire at Pensacola, Fla.

PENSACOLA, Oct. 28.—The most disastrous fire which has occurred here in ten years happened yesterday. Muscogee wharf, the property of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, upon which is located all the warehouses of the coal chute of the Export Coal company, burned. Several sailing vessels alongside the wharves have caught fire and are now burning. The exact loss cannot be ascertained but it will not fall short of $500,000.

BROWN STONE BLOCK BURNS.

Large New York Building Is Entirely Destroyed by Fire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fire starting in the five-story brown stone Ayres building, corner of Broadway and Leonard street, early yesterday, had gained full control of the building before the firemen reached the scene, so that their most strenuous efforts were required to save the adjacent structures. The interior of the Ayres building was burned out, the loss being estimated at $150,000. The building was occupied chiefly by the restaurant of Holtz & Freystead. The fourth floor was untenanted, the third floor was occupied by the auction rooms of Nathan S. Captin, and on the fifth floor was the cigar factory of Edward Rodenberg. A third alarm was sent in before any water was played on the burning building, but by the time the engines were at work the interior of the structure was a roaring furnace, and the flames poured out at the doors and windows. The six-story Townsend & Yale building sustained some damage and considerable window glass in the vicinity was broken by the heat.

HOWGATE APPEARS IN COURT.

Claims He Violated No District of Columbia Laws.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Captain Henry Howgate was in the criminal court of the District of Columbia yesterday and through Attorney A. S. Worthington withdrew his plea of not guilty to all the indictments entered against him in October, 1891, and entered a demurrer to each and all of them. There are seven indictments for embezzlement and four for forgery. To the embezzlement indictments the demurrers were to the effect that the facts averred in the indictment constituted no offense under the laws in force in the District of Columbia prior to the filing of the indictment; that they do not state any offense of which the court has jurisdiction, and are too general and uncertain in allegations. The forged indictment demurrers were of the same purport, want of definiteness being alleged.

Refuses the Chancellorship.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The statement that Prince von Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, governor of Alsace-Lorraine, has been offered the chancellorship resigned by General Caprioli is confirmed on good authority. It is added that the prince has declined to accept the responsibility of that office.

Another Case Found.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Another well developed case of small-pox was discovered today the victim being Charles E. Williams, a colored messenger in the interior department.

THE WEST INDIA LAND CRAB.

A Migratory Shell-Fish That Travels in Countless Armies.

The males begin their march several days earlier than the females, who form the main body of this exodus, their battalions extending for a mile or a mile and a half in length, with a breadth of forty or fifty paces. So closely do they march together that the noise of their shelly integuments as they jostle each other is said to resemble the rattling of the armor of a regiment of cuirassiers. Should the rain cease and sunny weather supervene before they reach the sea, they are forced to halt—perhaps for several days—otherwise their supply of moisture would be exhausted and their respiratory organs thrown out of order.

These difficulties overcome, and the ocean reached at length, they precipitate themselves into the welcome element and soak. Then they betake themselves to holes on the shore and rest. The next item on their programme is an all-important one—the females again enter the sea and deposit their eggs. This accomplished, the whole army falls in again and marches back to the mountains, but not with the vigorous bearing and intrepid marching that characterized its seaward progress. The crabs are now worn and weak, their flesh poor and worthless as food for their human enemies. Their return is like that of a defeated army—spiritless and protracted.

Their old haunts reached, they begin at once to feed and pick up strength and substance, so that by July or August they have accumulated a fair store of fat and can then afford to go into hiding for a time, while they get rid of their old shells and develop new and more roomy ones. As a preliminary step, they collect a quantity of dry grass and leaves with which to furnish their burrows and close up the entrance after they have retired within. At this period their enemy, the negro, knowing them to be then at their best, digs many of them out of their burrows and sups royally upon them.—Good Words.

America's First Savings Bank.

The first savings bank in this country was the Philadelphia Savings Fund society, organized in 1816. It is still in existence. Later, in 1816, a savings bank was founded in Boston and in 1819 one was started in New York. A savings bank is a bank in which savings are received—small amounts, which the bank will not pay out except on presentation of the bank book. A national bank is one which, besides its ordinary powers, rights and duties as a bank, has the right to issue bank notes. National banks were authorized by various acts of congress in 1863, 1864 and 1865. The plan of the government was to get the banks to buy government bonds and to do so, it gave them the right to issue notes to the amount of 90 per cent. of those they had bought. A savings bank is not a bank of deposit; apart from its character as an issuer of notes, a national bank is a bank of deposit.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Appropos of the Season.

They were about to be married, and she inveigled him into a confectionery store where oysters were served in every style. "Now, we will have a little feast," she said, and he handed her the bill of fare and tried to look happy. "As they are the first of the season, I think a dozen on the shell would be nice," she twitted. "Yes, love." "And an order of panned oysters—I just dote on them." "Yes, dear." "And—oh, yes, a Boston stew." "Yes." "I could eat a fancy roast if—"

SECOND ARMY HAS LANDED.

Japanese Troops Under Marshal Oyama Have Forced a Landing Near Ta-Len-Wan.

CHINESE FORCES COMPLETELY ROUTED ON THE 26TH.

Another Battle Billed for the Near Future if It Has Not Already Taken Place.

STILL FORCING THE FIGHTING.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Japanese legation tonight received the following cable from its government: "The second army of Japan, under the command of Marshal Oyama, has effected a landing near Ta Len Wan with great success."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Japanese legation received a telegram which confirms the Shanghai despatches published this morning of the second victory of the Japanese army under Marshal Yamagata. The telegram was dated Hiroshima and says: "Before dawn on the 26th the Japanese under Yamagata attacked Kin Len Cheng, one of the important strongholds upon the Chinese frontier. The place was defended by 16,000 troops under Generals Lin and Song. They fled, after offering a slight resistance, and the Japanese took possession of the fortifications and city. They captured thirty large field guns, an immense quantity of rice and food of other kinds and more than three hundred tents. The Japanese loss was twenty killed and eighty-three wounded. The Chinese lost over 200 killed; the exact amount of their wounded is not known."

The Japanese press go to extremes in their demands of indemnity from China. One of them says China must pay Japan ten times the cost of the war and must agree to let the Japanese troops be stationed throughout China hereafter. A Tokio paper states that prior to the Chinese naval inspection by Li Hung Chang the men manufactured cannon balls out of clay, painted them black and passed inspection with this bogus equipment. Large coal merchants in Japan are charged with secretly furnishing coal supplies to the Chinese navy. Count Oyama, the war minister, issued a proclamation urging the troops to show kindness to the Chinese wounded adding that they "should not be more anxious to display carnage than charity." Japanese naval experts say the torpedo boats proved a failure at the Yalu naval battle.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette at Chefoo cables that the fleets of China and Japan are now off the port and that a battle is expected shortly. It is announced today that China is negotiating in London for a loan of £1,000,000. It will be a 7 per cent. silver loan and the issue price is expected to be 95. This loan will be secured on the revenue of the treaty ports.

DON'T LOOK FOR IT.

There is no "Safest Car" on a Railroad Train.

"Which is the safest car on a railroad train?" repeated an old Detroit railroad man, as he stroked his chin and seemed to reflect on the query. "Well, the best answer I can make is that it is the car which doesn't run off the rails when all others do, and which is left on the bank when the rest of the train goes through a bridge."

"You've traveled thousands of miles by rail?"

"Yes; tens of thousands."

"And been in half a dozen accidents?"

"I've been in exactly seventeen railroad accidents, but some of them were hardly worth mentioning."

"And do you locate yourself in any particular part of the train?"

"No. When I first began traveling I wouldn't ride in any coach but the rear one. I had about two dozen reasons why that was the safest car, and for six or eight weeks I went rolling over the country feeling as safe as if in my own brick house. One night we lost too much time at a station and a special overhauled us and smashed into the rear coach. You'll think it funny, but out of sixteen people in that car I was the only one badly hurt. I had a leg and two ribs broken and covered with bruises. When I was able to be out again I went dead back on the rear car."

"And took the next one to the smoker, eh?"

"That's what I did. A dozen different railroad men had a dozen reasons apiece why that was the safest place, and for three or four months I rode in that car and laughed at the chaps who carried insurance policies. Then my fond dream of safety was rudely shattered. The engine, baggage and smoking cars passed over a certain switch while running at the rate of forty miles an hour, but the forward trucks of my car caught somewhere and the car was twisted out of the train. Yes, sir, it was torn loose at both ends and rolled down an embankment, and not another car left the rails. We had two killed and a dozen hurt, but I got off the car with a bad shaking up. My confidence in the first car was gone, however, never to be restored."

"And then you took the middle of the train?"

"I did, my son. Yes, I sat down and reasoned it out to my perfect satisfaction that the middle car of the train was as safe as sitting on the post office steps in Detroit. It was about a year before anything happened to undeceive me. One afternoon, when we were dusting along to make up some time, we crossed the tracks of another road just a few seconds too soon or too late, just as you will have it. An express train on the other road came booming along and waded right through us. It struck my car, of course, and what was left of it after the grand smash couldn't have been worked over into a wheelbarrow. Five killed was the record, and I got a broken arm, a scalp wound and a general bad shaking up."

"And after that?"

"After that and up to the present date I have no choice. I drop into a seat wherever I can find one and don't worry about accidents. I've known a whole train except the last coach to go through a bridge, and I've known every car but the last to pass safely over. In a head-on collision the forward coach may be smashed to splinters or it may rear up on end and escape all injury. I was on the train once where a locomotive struck the rear car, rolled it aside without serious injury to anybody, and then killed or wounded every passenger in the next coach. The man who goes hunting for the safest car on a train is throwing away his time. He may take any car and travel for ten years and never even be delayed by a hot box, or he may settle down in the car of his choice and be killed in a ride of ten miles. I once saw twenty-two people smashed to a pulp in a coach, and yet two fellows who were stealing a ride on the trucks underneath got off scot-free. Just buy a first class ticket, get aboard before the train goes and leave the rest to providence. If you win it's all right; if you lose your keels can get from three thousand to ten thousand dollars damages from the company."—Detroit Free Press.

Water a Disinfectant.

It is a fact that appears to be not generally known, perhaps because it may not be generally credited, that pure, fresh, cold water is one of the most valuable disinfectants, inasmuch as it is a powerful absorbent. Every sick room should have a large vessel of clear water, frequently renewed, placed near the bed, or even beneath it. This not only absorbs much of the hurtful vapor, but by its evaporation it softens and tempers the atmosphere, doing away with the dryness which is so trying and depressing to an invalid, or even to persons in health, for that matter. It has frequently been shown, by actual experiment, that troubled sleep and threatened insomnia are corrected by so simple a thing as the placing of an open bowl of water near the sufferer's bed.—London Telegraph.

"Little Madge came crying into the house, her little apron gathered up in one hand, as if to preserve some spacious relic. 'I've broke my smelling bottle,' she sobbed. 'Your smelling bottle?'"

"I repeated. 'I didn't know you had one. Where are the pieces?'"

She held open her apron, and there lay, scattered, the petals of a rose. This was her "smelling-bottle," and while she was using it it had fallen apart.

"The city is an epitome of the social world. All the belts of civilization intersect along its avenues. It contains the products of every moral zone, and is cosmopolitan, not only in a national, but a moral and spiritual sense.—E. H. Chapin.

"Boo, the exclamation used to frighten children, is a corruption of Boh, the name of a famous Gothic general. It has been used as a terror word for many centuries.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—With every mummy was deposited a papyrus containing an itinerary of the other world, prayers suitable for the use of the deceased in his new mode of existence, and magical formulae designed to prevent the corruption of the body.

—"Just as I Am" first appeared in the "Invalids' Hymn-Book," in 1836. It was the work of Charlotte Elliott, who became an invalid in 1821 and remained such until her death in 1871. To this remarkable collection of hymns she contributed over 100 lyrics of striking beauty.

—"There's a good time coming, boys, a good time coming; the pen shall supersede the sword, and right, not might, shall be the lord in the good time coming. Worth, not birth, shall rule mankind, and be acknowledged stronger; the proper impulse has been given, wait a little longer.—Charles Mackay.

—"The metal caps on the tops of the bottles in the bars of metropolitan hotels, which allows them to obtain the fine polish given to attract customers. They cost from 70 to 85 cents each. The metal inscription placed upon the neck of the bottle is made of the same material and costs $1.25.

—"A guest at the table a century ago was expected to take of the same dish at least twice, and by doing so three or four times was supposed to compliment his hostess. When he had enough he crossed his knife and fork on his plate, and was no longer pressed to eat.

—"The painting of the catacombs of Trier is so well done that after a lapse of 4,000 years the colors are as bright as when freshly laid on. This fact is in large degree due to the dryness of the atmosphere. In some parts of upper Egypt rain has never been known to fall.

—"Chloroform was the result of ages of experiment in an effort to do away with the pain of surgical operations. Opium and many other drugs had been tried with more or less success. In executions by crucifixion, vinegar and gall or myrrh were given to the victim to stupefy him.

—"The first antiquarian to take an interest in the Roman catacombs was Father Bosio, who spent more than thirty years in exploring their recesses, making excavations, clearing galleries and preparing sketches of the objects he found. He died in 1629, while finishing his work on the subject, and the volume appeared two years later.

—"A chemist has discovered a process for solidifying liquors—such as cognac, whisky, kummel, chartreuse, ueroca, etc., and converting them into tablets similar to those made of chocolate. You can thus eat your liquors or dissolve them at pleasure. Flasks will henceforth contain nothing but water. You can quench your thirst on horseback, in a carriage, in the train, in a balloon, without any fear of spilling the fluid.

—"The potato masher made of wood answers the purpose very well, but is apt to get soggy, the moisture penetrating the wood, and in course of time rendering it unpleasant to use. From time to time porcelain and other materials have been substituted. Porcelain seems to be the best, but the difficulty has been to get a solid and permanent connection with a wooden handle. This problem has, however, been solved within the past year or so, and a very good article has thus been obtained.

DUE TO MARRIED PEOPLE.

A Social Rule to Be Observed by Young Persons.

A little observation will convince any young person that it is important to be able to command the fullest respect and confidence among the home controllers of his or her acquaintance; for, in our country especially, social success begins and ends in the home, and there is no royal road to the happiness looked forward to by youths and maidens save that which leads through the flowery gateway of a suitable marriage.

It is to married people then that young persons must look for introduction, instruction and advancement, and from them they must receive almost everything preliminary to a full draft of rational and healthful amusements, pastimes, recreations, as well as all of those broader yet more formal opportunities to see life at its best in the season of greatest receptivity and capacity for enjoyment. This is the practical basis upon which rests the social obligation binding the young to treat married people with a certain formal respect and to concede to them leadership and at least conventional precedence and superiority. The moral obligation holding young people to strictest reverence of age and wisdom need not be considered here. The rule of social life is that, for all practical purposes, married people are not to be classified by age. What is due to one is due to all. A woman of twenty, married and the mistress of a home, is a queen, and her husband, though a mere youth, is a king, so far as absolute power in that home is concerned. Marriage has invested the twain with a dignity which demands the respects of all the world and has given them an influence in society which can be of immense benefit to their young unmarried friends.

The respect due to married people from young persons, considering it with the most practical view to social economy, and leaving ethical elements out of sight, is a debt of honor; in paying it youth shows both prudence and fine business tact. It is one of those obligations which when discharged turn themselves into life-long annuities of credit.

FASHION NOTES.

Hints About Woman's Dress for the Fall Season.

With the return of cooler days and the necessity for wraps of some sort, the enormous bow of watered ribbon reappears as a finish for the front of the outside garment. There are also some new models, with ends of soft silk or Japanese crepe attached to either side. These ends are tied in a bow at the front and hang half way down the skirt. If one does not like the crumpling and musing of the material, the bow may be ready made and hooked underneath the front. These bows have points of advantage in that they give a drossy effect to the costume and do away with the necessity of elaborate vests. Some of the new early autumn suits have the skirts cut with the corselet point. This, while not in many senses new, is always desirable, and as it continues in fashion those who have skirts made in this way may congratulate themselves on being in good form.

There is very much to be approved in the present style of dress—that is, the style that one may adopt if she so chooses. It is not at all arbitrary, but laced down to the supporting point, and very many women rarely wear dresses that so constrict their bodies. Some women have a special corset and style of costume for receptions, and the rest of the time go about in a comfortable fashion, wearing a blazer and skirt or the ever-present and exceedingly popular fancy waist.

The tailor costume is a perennial subject of interest to women. They must have one or more at their command. There has been a good deal of effort to get out something radically new in tailor costume this season, with what result it is as yet a bit early to say. Among the novelties to be presented, however, are dresses with very narrow breadths, each breadth piped or corded either with fancy woven cord or one with a silk cord.

Years ago, dresses with corded seams were all the rage. The older members of the feminine community will recall the old-time gabrielle or princess dress with every seam piped with bright or contrasting color. The newest idea is a dress somewhat on the redingote order, the sides and backs of the dress being full length, the front of the skirt piped all having a vest-front effect with a pointed bottom. This is all very well to look at, but any woman who has found it necessary to insinuate herself into and out of one of these dresses, has an extremely poor opinion of it as far as convenience is concerned. However, that counts for nothing with the arbiters of fashion.

There is much to indicate an invasion of violent contrasts. It will probably be only a passing fancy, but just now the most startling combinations are made, and that, too, in some cases, without even good sense as a guide.

A dress shown the other day was made of brocade with a pinkish-white ground and small bouquets of bright roses in brocades. The trimming of this was black velvet in enormous revers, corselet, belt and sash ends. There was a great deal of white lace about the costume, and the front was of chiffon of the color of the ground of the dress. Fine and heliotrope are used in the same costume, and pink and heliotrope, the latter being not so bad if the proper shades are selected. A novelty trimming for dresses is of perforated cloth. The edges are scalloped or pinked out, and a pattern in arabesque or lace design is cut through the fabric. A stylish dress had the entire front of the skirt made in this perforated fashion, also very deep shoulder ruffles and cuffs. This perforated material is much improved by being lined with bright silk or something that shows color through the perforations. It is said that this cut-out trimming is to be in general use for wraps, capes, dresses and millinery. It takes extremely fine and handsome goods to bear it well, and this fact alone will add to its popularity.—N. Y. Ledger.

Salt Water Injures Hair.

It will be always observed that those who are careless in regard to getting the hair wet, while bathing in salt water constantly never have fine heads of hair. The brine must be extremely prejudicial, for this is an unvarying rule. Hence it would be well for all ocean bathers to guard the head and see that it is protected by an oilskin cap or equal preventive of ducking.

AN INTERESTING CASE

The following case at Grand Jury yesterday afternoon was very interesting. The case was against Fraxer and his assistant. The case was heard by Judge Fraxer.

Each party had actually put up $100 of his own money, making a total of $200, which was divided into three parts. The first part was for the first trial, the second for the second trial, and the third for the third trial.

When Fraxer made a desperate bid for more money, the grand jury was divided. The case was heard by Judge Fraxer.

MOTEL SEATS.

It takes a long time to find a hotel. It takes a long time to find a hotel.

Lots of hotel people who don't know any better make a considerable kick at the strict rules enforced by the big hotels.

They do not stop to think that those rules are rendered necessary by the traveling public. They are not intended for hotel people, and every proprietor would be glad to see them.

Mr. Bailey has been in the business eighteen years. He has stood behind the desk in some of the largest hotels at Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Columbus and Pittsburg. There is a complete system of detective work carried on in large hotels in Chicago.

Every three days that baggage is inspected. He cannot leave from his room until he has paid his bill. In fact he is under surveillance from the time of his arrival till his departure.

The system is the best in the world and almost impossible to beat. When I was at the Palmer house John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, was there one week and took pretty near the whole party floor. He had vertically pinned up a grip and started to go down stairs with it.

It is this thing that the strictest detective get best sometimes. Eternal vigilance is the only protection. Every hotel in this city does money on people that are taken and never paid for. They are mostly persons who are indicted here by grand and the grand jury to report to the office.

A room with a bath costs fifty cents or more than one without. Some time ago a traveling man came here and took a room without a bath. He stayed a week or so. When the week was up he was called to the office.

Now there is another illustration of how easy it is to cheat a clerk who does not keep his eyes open. Continued Mr. Bailey, as he handed a guest his key. That man came in this morning when I was not on duty and had an E to know whether he is a guest or a man who wants to get into the room to rob it.

Was I ever caught? Well, I got caught for fifty dollars once in the nearest kind of a way. It was in Cincinnati. There was a Mr. Brewster stopping at the house. We knew him well, and he could have anything he wanted. One day there was a call at the telephone and Mr. Brewster told me I thought that there would soon be a package delivered at the hotel for him with fifty dollars charges on it.

Another favorite game is for a man to register and tell us to pay the charges on any messages sent to him. The game is usually worked on four or five places at once, and sometimes it pans out well. It is always easy to pick up a messenger boy on the street, and to stand at a corner until he comes back.—Pittsburg Times.

A COTTON-SEED OIL MILL. Sights Among the Machinery for Turning Out Oil and Cotton-Seed Meal.

A great pile of "hulls," massed in dull, gray compactness, as high as the upper story of the mill, its broken outlines closely resembling the jagged surface of an enormous cliff, gives evidence of the work that is carried on within the big building.

The walls are shaded with a tinge of this green-yellow roof, I shall term it, for want of a better word; the floor seemed of the same yellow hue. Even the conventional attire of the superintendent is tinted with the badge of his occupation, and the transient visitor brings away on his hat or coat a reminder of his visit.

Most people, says Father Guerlach, in his journal recently published, "would die of hunger rather than eat a toad, which, is nevertheless, I beg you to believe, an excellent food. Whenever I could procure toads, I was able to give myself a banquet. But in France, your prejudices prevent you from knowing and using what is good."

However, a Paris journal affirms that the cookery of toads has made some little progress in France. Nothing is better, this journal says, than a dish made of the backs and legs of toads—with the skin first carefully removed, it needs hardly to be said.

On the Train.—First Passenger.—"Beg pardon, but what are you reading that you find so interesting?" Second Passenger—"It's an article showing the terrible effects which are likely to follow reading in a moving railway car. It is very interesting, and so convincing, too." (Proceeds with his reading.)

Evangeline O'Glary came home from the ball weary and distraught. Prior to the ball she had been working all day in the telephone office. Despite the fatigue and weariness which crushed her, however, she felt it would be impossible to sleep with the memory of Archibald Rooney's manly voice ringing in her ears.

CHAPTER II. Worn out with fatigue and sorrow and heedless of the fact that she must be at the down-town telephone exchange at eight in the morning, Evangeline did not fall asleep until the onyx and ovoid ormolu clock on the mantel told the hour of three.

CHAPTER III. "Evangeline! Evangeline!" It was her mother's voice calling her in the morning. "Evangeline! Get up! You told me to call you up at seven, and it's seven-thirty!" Evangeline turned uneasily in her slumber. The spoken numbers had dimly reached the innermost recesses of her brain.

STRANGE MEATS. Frogs' Legs as an Article of Diet in This Country.

The French have taught other people a great deal about what is good to eat, and not the least of their services in this department of knowledge is the teaching of the world that frogs—and especially frogs' legs—are an excellent article of food.

People in this country do not commonly eat frogs, any more than they eat rabbits, squirrels and other equally accessible and equally palatable meats; but frogs' legs are a regular item on the bills of fare in first-class city hotels and restaurants, and a considerable industry in supplying them for the market has sprung up.

Often necessity is required to teach people that they have good things to eat which ordinarily they do not touch. A camping expedition of young men on a northern lake ran out of provisions, and found the fish in the lake insufficient for their wants. They had no firearms with which to shoot wild game. At the lower end of the lake, basking on some old logs, were hundreds of fine, fat frogs.

Impelled by hunger, the boys fell upon these frogs, and for several days lived delicately and well on a diet of which frogs' legs constituted the principal item. All the members of that party are now fully aware that frogs are good to eat.

Recently a French missionary in Indo-China, Rev. Father Guerlach, has made the discovery that toads are also good to eat. Reduced by necessity to resort to toad-flesh, he found it no less palatable and nutritious than the frog.

CHAPTER IV. "You want to succeed in the world you must make your own opportunities as you go on. The man who waits for some seventh wave to toss him on dry land will find the seventh wave is a long time in coming. You can commit no greater folly than to sit by the roadside until some one comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.—John B. Gough.

CHAPTER V. "On the Train.—What are you reading that you find so interesting?" Second Passenger—"It's an article showing the terrible effects which are likely to follow reading in a moving railway car. It is very interesting, and so convincing, too." (Proceeds with his reading.)

CHAPTER VI. "He'd Been There Before.—Wall street banker to customer—"I have a splendid investment which will net you 10 per cent on your money. Everybody is going into it." Customer—"Did you say everybody was subscribing for it?" Banker—"Yes, General Jackson, Tom Jones, the Rev. Dr. Smyth and—" Customer—"Well, never mind. I'll stay outside this time."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Does economy bore you? It ought not to, always. Take the matter of washing with Pearline, for instance. That is a pleasant economy. There's your work made light and short for you; and while you're doing it, in this easy, pleasant way, you can be thinking of the actual money that you're saving by not rubbing things to ruin, as in the old way.

Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

VICTORY FOR THE VISITORS.

The Marquettes Went Down Before Negaunee's Heavier Rush Line Saturday.

AN IMPORTANT PINE LAND SUIT NOW IN PROGRESS.

Will Elect a Pastor This Evening. "Amorita" by the Calhoun Opera Company—Other Notes.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENED.

The Negaunee High School football team beat the Marquette High School team easily in their game at the fair grounds Saturday. The visitors won chiefly by superior team play and also had the advantage of greater weight in the rush line. The Marquette players could not stand before Negaunee's revolving wedge, although their work improved greatly toward the end of the game. There is good material in the Marquette team but every player must realize that football games are not won by individual plays, no matter how brilliant, but by steady and united work. The running and tackling of the local players was rather sharper than that of their opponents but some of the tackling was foul and had the rules been strictly enforced the penalties would have been many.

The weather could not have been better for a football match. This was the first game of Rugby ever played here and the two hundred people who witnessed the contest displayed much interest and enthusiasm. The small boy scaled the fence in large numbers but despite his ignorant enthusiasm managed to keep out of the way of the players pretty well. The visitors came down in busses and carriages and brought about twenty of their girl schoolmates along, as well as two or three teachers. Negaunee has adopted the University of Michigan colors—yellow and blue—while the Marquette colors are a flaming scarlet. Even those present who had never seen a game of Rugby before admitted that the sport was good and those who understood the game were kept busy answering questions as to the meaning of the various movements.

Negaunee kicked off and right there Marquette's troubles began. The Marquette player who got the ball failed to drop on it, fumbled it and a Negaunee man came up in time to get it and thus turn the disadvantage of the kick-off into a positive advantage for his side. The visitors then bucked the center steadily and the revolving wedge moved down the Marquettes until the first touch-down was made and a goal kicked inside the opening ten minutes. Soon after the next kick-off Marquette was set back for foul tackling but managed to hold Negaunee near the center of the field and to get the ball for the only time during the half. On the next down Wilson made a very pretty run around the left end but took it too wide and was downed inside of fifteen yards. Negaunee got the ball again and rushed it steadily through for another touch-down. The half was nearly over and ended a few minutes later with the score standing thus: Negaunee, 19; Marquette, 0.

Busch kicked off in the second half but Negaunee made no mistake and gained ten yards. Marquette was beginning to meet the wedge a little better but Negaunee kept her gait and in the seventh down Foley, her speedy halfback, got round the right end and made a clean run into goal in spite of the best efforts of the Marquette backs to head off or catch him. The ball was not held steady for Krogman's kick but 4 more had been added to Negaunee's score.

In the remainder of the half the contest was closer. The Marquettes having learned their opponents' tactics and being better able to meet them. The local players got the ball once more but Primeau failed to improve his chance for a run and it went back to the Negaunees, who after the prettiest piece of center-bucking in the game forced it through for another touch-down but again failed to kick a goal.

The remainder of the game was wholly in the center of the field. Marquette got the ball once more but not only could not advance but was rushed back twelve yards. On the third down Price made a very pretty kick as a last desperate chance for a gain but Marquette was a trifle slow in following and Negaunee got the ball. Before three downs more could be played time was called and Negaunee had won 18 to 0.

Negaunee is most fortunate in her coach and captain, Principal Krogman of the High school. He played for several years on his class team while in the University of Michigan and also in the 'varsity eleven. He has gone at the formation of a school team in the right way, requiring every player to refrain from the use of tobacco and other injurious practices and keeping them at work steadily. The Marquette team contains some good material, but there are one or two men in it who are too fond of grand stand play. Goodman has the weight for center, but must learn to move quicker. Primeau is one of the most promising players on the eleven, but must learn to tackle correctly and fairly. Hodgkins and Price ought to make good players with practice. Wilson is undoubtedly the fastest runner in the two teams.

A school team should be composed of boys actually in school. Then if a game is won the school gets the credit while if outside players are admitted it becomes an open question whether it was not the outsiders who achieved the victory. There are only twenty-two boys enrolled in the Negaunee High school. The enrollment at Marquette is considerably larger and while it may not be possible to put a winning team in the field this year with the material at hand it is only by admitting only school boys that a school tradition and proper discipline can be established and proper credit obtained. The foregoing remarks are not made to disparage the outside players who appeared in Saturday's game but simply to point out the proper course for both high schools to pursue in organizing what is a new sport in this region. The two teams will meet again next Saturday at Negaunee, probably at Union Park. The local team will need to practice hard and steadily this week if it wishes to avoid another defeat. It is requested that as many young men interested in football as can come out to the fair grounds this afternoon to assist the high school boys in practice. A scratch eleven will be organized to give the high school team the benefit of practice in actual play. There is no reason why a good team of older and heavier men should not be organized here. The Hancock Y. M. C. A. eleven wants to get a game at Marquette but is said to be composed of men too old and heavy for the high school boys to be a fair match for them.

In this connection it is earnestly suggested that in future school matches the halves be reduced to twenty or twenty-five minutes. If rightly played football is not a dangerous game but there is none which so tests the endurance of the players. Thirty-five minute halves are too long for boys of the age and development of the average high school attendant. Shorter innings would be just as interesting to the spectators and much better for the players.

Testimony Being Taken.
Testimony is being taken before United States Court Commissioner F. M. Moore in a case of considerable importance. The case is brought by Fayette Brown of Cleveland to regain title to a tract of pine sold by him to Mr. J. Connolly of this city. M. H. Maynard as agent for Mr. Brown, gave an option on the pine, near Munising, to Ira Webber at $18,000, the latter, it is alleged, representing that much of the timber had been damaged by fire. Webber sold his option to Mr. Connolly for $1,000 and the latter bought the pine at the stipulated price, selling it shortly after to Jameson of St. Ignace for $20,000. Brown is trying to have the sale set aside on the ground of misrepresentation on the part of Webber. The case will be argued at Grand Rapids before Judge Severens.

To Elect a Pastor.
A meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church will be held at the church this evening at 7 o'clock for the purpose of electing a pastor. All members of the church, pewholders and contributing members of the congregation have a right to vote and are urged to be present. The action of the session in calling this election is indication of a desire on the part of the church of forming a more intimate relationship with the clergyman now filling the pulpit, Rev. C. D. Spencer, who came to the Marquette church this fall as stated supply for one year. This evening's election will undoubtedly result in the church extending a call to him.

"Amorita" by the Calhouns.
The Calhoun Opera company fully realized the most favorable anticipations that had been made concerning it. It is one of the strongest operative organizations that has ever visited Davenport and will always find a cordial welcome in this city. The company is unusually strong in its soloists and the chorus is all that could be desired. "Amorita," Czibulka's charming comic opera in three acts, was the opening bill, and it was presented in a manner to evoke the warmest commendation and stamp the company as a lyric combination of the first rank. Laura Millard is the prima donna of the company, and in the title role captivated the audience from the outset. She possesses a voice of much sweetness, and the power to use it with good effect. Adele Farrington as Angelo Melonatti, the young nobleman in love with Amorita, sustained her part most admirably and proved herself a capable actress as well as a pleasing vocalist. The "Perpetua" of Gerlie Lodge was a fine piece of comedy work. George Lyding, the tenor of the company, was seen to advantage as Fra Bombarda, and his singing was only equaled by his admirable acting. The comedy roles were most capably handled by Douglass A. Flint and Edward Webb, whose humorous mannerisms were responsible for considerable laughter.

The chorus is a most excellent one and is noticeable also for the comeliness of the girls who compose it. It is well drilled and in the finales of the first and second acts especially was heard with good effect. One of the pretty numbers of the opera was the mandolin and guitar serenade at the opening of the third act, which was rendered in a manner that brought an enthusiastic encore.

The opera was handsomely mounted and the costumes were all rich and elegant. The production in its entirety was a most charming one and fully deserving of the flattering commendations that had been heralded in advance of its presentation.

Between the first and second acts a series of living pictures were presented that fairly took the house by storm. The "Goddess of Liberty" was the finale and the enthusiasm rose to a high point when it was unfolded, the applause lasting for some time. The pictures are works of art and there is nothing in connection with them to jar the sensibilities of even the most fastidious.—Davenport, Ia., Daily Times, Oct. 18.
