NIHILISTS WERE FEARED.

Funeral Procession of Late Czar at St. Petersburg Guarded by Armed Troops.

HOMAGE TO THE DEAD RULER BY IMPOSING PAGANTRY.

Immense Procession Follows the Remains of Alexander III to the St. Petersburg Cathedral.

NEGLECT THEIR WOUNDED.

Chinese Soldiers Left Dying on the Battle Fields.

ANXIETY IS NOT YET REMOVED.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—There is evidence to prove that the accession of Nicholas has not removed the anxiety caused by nihilists, an anxiety which undoubtedly shortened the life of Alexander III. Under the police orders nobody was allowed on either the balconies or roofs of houses during the funeral procession today. Though here and there a few daring or privileged people were seen in such positions they ran the risk of being arrested and fined fifteen roubles, the penalty provided for infractions of the order. Further, all windows and doors were ordered closed by the police and householders were held responsible for the good behavior of visitors during the passage of the procession. The event has shown that these precautions might have safely been dispensed with. The imposing line of troops which kept the route clear was not needed for anything but decorative purposes, or as a symbol of Russia's imperial pomp and power.

The funeral train with the body of the late czar arrived last night and was placed upon a sidetrack until this morning in order to enable the imperial family and relatives to finish their night's rest. As soon as all the preparations for the funeral were completed the body was transferred to the hearse in waiting and conveyed to the cathedral through densely crowded streets guarded by thousands of troops. The route followed by the cortege altogether was a distance of six miles. The czar's Cossack bodyguard headed the procession and was followed by other detachments of cavalry. Then came fifty-one standards, each escorted by officers. Next came the horse of the dead czar and a man-at-arms in gilt armor holding the sword of state and mounted upon a splendidly caparisoned charger. Following was a second man-at-arms in black armor carrying a naked sword. He preceded a number of high officials who bore the mourning standard of black silk. Behind the standard was a retinue of officials bearing the standards of the various Russian provinces. The remainder of the procession until the end of the twelfth section was composed of high imperial and provincial functionaries with staffs of office and numbers of other officials bearing different banners. The rear of the twelfth section was brought up by another detachment of officials who bore on velvet cushions the late czar's medals, orders and imperial insignia. The thirteenth section of the procession was headed by the choir of the cathedral of St. Isaac and of the convent of St. Alexander Newski. Following the choirs were the clergy bearing lighted candles and behind them came the czar's confessor, Fr. Yanichief, holding the image of St. Alexander Newski, the patron saint of the dead monarch.

Behind the image of the saint came the hearse drawn by eight horses. The tassels of the hearse were held by sixteen generals in full uniform. Sixty pages carrying lighted torches walked on either side of the hearse. The hearse or funeral car consisted of a platform on wheels. The platform was covered with black cloth with silver bands. The spokes of the wheels were also silvered. Columns stood at the corners and from them was suspended a magnificent baldachin. At the foot of each column on a platform there stood a general. Both the columns and baldachin were gilded. The top of the baldachin was surrounded by gilded helmets surmounted by white plumes. The coffin rested on a bier covered with black velvet. Over the coffin there was a great silver pall bordered with gold. Behind the hearse came the carina and the imperial hearsehold. They were followed by the king of Greece and by the Prince of Wales. Then came a long line of grand dukes and princes followed by various suites.

After the latter marched a detachment of grenadiers and following the grenadiers came the imperial carriages with ladies of the imperial and royal families. After the carriages came thousands of troops of all the armies who brought up the rear of the funeral procession. As the car appeared the multitudes along the route bowed reverently, crossing themselves. Many spectators wept as the coffin of the czar passed them. The craped gas lamps along the route shed a sickly light which, combined with the mist in which the city was enveloped, enhanced the depressing character of the spectacle.

Prior to the arrival of the body at the cathedral a short service was held there in the presence of the czar, diplomats and many of the Russian nobility. The hearse arrived at the cathedral a few minutes past two o'clock. Four of the chief pall bearers removed the pall. The czar and other Russian imperial personages and foreign princess then carried the coffin into the church with the same ceremony as was observed in Moscow and deposited it on the catafalque. An impressive service was then conducted.

MAY TEST ELECTROCUTION

Physician Wishes to Try to Resuscitate Executed Criminal.

New York, Nov. 13.—An Associated Press reporter called on Governor Flower at the Windsor hotel this evening and showed him a copy of Dr. P. J. Gibbons' Syracuse letter requesting permission to attempt the resuscitation of Charles F. Wilson after he has been electrocuted in the Auburn prison. Governor Flower said: "I can conceive of only one objection to the superintendent of prisons granting such a request. The point may be raised that if the person sentenced to be electrocuted should be resuscitated it might not be possible to punish him again. Would he not be a free man on the ground that his life could not be put in jeopardy for the same crime more than once? This is a question which the attorney general will be asked to decide."

CHANGED THE RETURNS

Two Republicans Will Lose Their Offices in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—Voters of all parties received a shock today. From election day until now they all believed that W. T. Jamieson (Rep) and J. William Slogan (Rep) were elected prosecuting attorney and county marshal respectively. The returns as announced by the recorders of votes said so but the official returns give different results which turn Jamieson's plurality of 363 in the city to a plurality of 23 for J. H. Bremmerman (Dem.). This sudden change caused amazement but consternation struck the town when the announcement was made that Slogan's before unquestioned plurality had dwindled away and the count actually gave Joseph Keshlear (Dem) 33 plurality. Nobody knows how it all happened. There are loud cries of fraud. The Star (Ind) publishes an article declaring that the election was stolen. The Journal (Rep) declares that the boldest fraud was sprung at the last moment. Justice Hawthorne wired the secretary of state that the returns had been manipulated and advising him not to issue commissions to Bremmerman and Keshlear. County Clerk Caldwell has issued certificates of election to Bremmerman and Keshlear.

SHOWS VOTERS INTENT.

Opinion Regarding Ballot Marking Rendered Under Act of 1893.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The supreme court today granted a rehearing in the ballot marking case of Scott vs Glaser and filed an opinion in which it says: "Ballots having a name erased under the party ticket and the name of an opposing candidate marked by a cross should be counted. The erasure of the name is recognized as appropriate to express the voter's intent not to vote for such candidate and we do not think that when such an erasure is made on the party ticket and the voter in addition places a cross before the name of the opposing candidate either mark should constitute a distinguishing mark. Taken as a whole we think it was intended by the act of 1893 that such an erasure should be treated as permissible though not necessary."

Court adjourned until Tuesday, Nov. 20.

UGHT TO BE EDUCATED

Colorado Women Went Against Party That Enfranchised Them.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 13.—In an interview today Mrs. Waite, wife of the governor, who is one of the foremost women in advocating equal suffrage before the legislature, said she is disgusted with the result of enfranchisement of women. "The conduct of the women of Capital Hill both before and after election," she said, "was perfectly scandalous. They have simply gone and cut the throat of the party that gave them the right to vote and disgraced their womanhood. The governor opposes enfranchisement of women as much as I do now. I don't think he is absolutely against giving them the right to vote in other states but he thinks they should receive some education in citizenship before they get the full privilege of American citizenship."

ACCUSED OF PREJUDICE.

Report of United States Strike Commission Claimed to Be One-Sided.

CHARGED WITH MISREPRESENTATION OF FACTS

American Railway Age Declares the Report Will Only Inflammate the Workmen Against Corporations.

COMMISSION REPORT ANSWERED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The Railway Age in its next issue will contain a reply to the report of the United States strike commissioners addressed to those gentlemen. It says in part:

"All good citizens must of necessity be interested in the commission's official conclusions and it appears to be a part of good citizenship to call attention to and if possible correct any of the oversights or misstatements of facts in which the commissioners may have fallen. The report says: 'It should be noted that until the railroad set the example a general union of railroad employes was never attempted. Unions had then not gone beyond enlisting men upon the different systems in separate trade organizations.' This statement is wholly false.

"The report itself says in another place: 'The order of Knights of Labor always advocated solidarity of labor.' The history of railway labor organizations of the last twenty year is largely made up of what the report says was never attempted. Again and again have efforts been made to consolidate, federate or absorb the various existing orders into one. Ignorance of this fact and the further fact that it was the repeated experience of it which at length drove the railways reluctantly to unite also in self defense is, to anyone at all familiar with the history of labor, almost incomprehensible. The misstatement is made more gross by the importance which the commission seems to attach to its assertion." The Railway Age continues at great length denouncing the various statements of the commissioners as not facts warranted by evidence and says:

"The errors of fact in the report range all the way from inaccurate quotations of comparatively trifling figures to false generalizations as to the whole scope and essence of the trouble. A curious accident is that the misstatements of fact are all on the same side—all tending to throw discredit upon the corporations and to increase the bitterness of the laboring classes against capital. It is an accident from which one would prefer to draw no inferences. One conclusion only may be drawn, which is that no matter on which side the errors are the mere existence of such errors, so many and some of such enormity alone suffices to make the report entirely worthless and discreditable as a public document—discreditable alike to the commissioners themselves and to the country."

FIRES ARE STILL BURNING.

Forest Fires Are Scattered Over Much Southern Territory.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Forest fires are still raging in Arkansas but fortunately in a section where but little damage is being done except to timber lands, fences, etc., the dwellings being few and far between. Fires in Mississippi are doing more damage and have now broken out in the vicinity of Haywood, Miss. In LeSoto and Tunica fires have done considerable damage to fences, out houses, top growth cotton, etc. Fires are also reported at Paris, Tenn., and Florence, Ala., but no details have been received.

Later reports from Mounds Bayou, Miss. and Merigold, Miss., just below Tunica, reports that light rains had the effect of checking the progress of the fires. Many farmers had great difficulty in saving their crops in this section.

At Benova, Miss., a colored couple named Harry Owsley and wife were burned to death in their cabin which caught from the forest fires.

THE "OLD ROMAN" REMEMBERED.

Eighty-First Birthday of Judge Allen G. Thurman Celebrated.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Judge Allen G. Thurman celebrated his eighty-first birthday today and tonight. The Thurman club called upon him in a body at his home. The judge is a sufferer from rheumatism and received his guests reclining in an easy chair. He made a brief speech, chiefly of a reminiscence nature. A telegram was sent by the Thurman club to President Cleveland recalling the fact that he joined with them in celebrating the seventy-seventh birthday of the "Old Roman" and extending greeting upon this present occasion. The club in the telegram renewed its pledge of loyalty and fidelity to true democracy as exemplified by President Cleveland and Judge Thurman.

FORCED TO STAND TRIAL.

Must Answer for Refusing to Obey Investigating Committee.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Judge Cole overruled the demurrer in the case of the brokers who refused to answer questions before the sugar investigating committee and held the defendants for trial. This is in the nature of a test case and the decision means that Havemeyer, Searles and Seymour, recently indicted, and the newspaper men, Edwards and Shriver, who were first indicted, will have to stand trial.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—9 p. m.—The weather bureau reports the following as the forecast for the next twenty-four hours. For upper Michigan: Fair, preceded by snow flurries in early morning; warmer; west winds becoming variable.

COPPER COUNTRY NEWS.

Members of the Hancock Camp of Modern Woodmen Elect Their Officers.

SOCIAL CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED AT HOUGHTON.

Huge Shaft for Tamarack Company Was Cast at Bethlehem Iron Works in Pennsylvania.

[All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich.]

At the meeting held last Friday evening in the Hotel Northwestern by the members to be of the local camp of Modern Woodmen the following officers were chosen for the first term: V. C. Dr. W. H. Dodge; W. A. Hubert; J. Stevens; danker D. C. Harrington; clerk, M. J. Carroll; escort, E. Murphy; watchman, G. J. Hecker; sentry, J. W. Payne; manager, for three-year term, Anton Wendell; for two-year term, John Schulte; for one-year term August Pelto. Deputy head consul C. J. Byrns expects to institute the camp this evening the officers elect being installed at the same meeting. Mr. Byrns has now pretty effectually covered the copper country and will probably go from here to the Soo where a promising field awaits his labor, although it is possible that he may leave the state, the choice of five states having been offered him as organizer by the supreme lodge, of the order, which has a very high opinion of Mr. Byrns capabilities as a missionary, having noted the great work he has been doing in the upper peninsula despite the general depression in all lines of business and in all sections of the district.

In Monday evening's issue of the Calumet News the gentleman who furnishes the intonations of that patent-outside publication, devotes a half column of space to a labored explanation of how his paper was right in saying the Franklin had not bought the Peninsula, while THE MINING JOURNAL was, as usual, wrong in making the assertion that such a sale had taken place. He also publishes an apology to Trinity church for asserting that the congregation was to hand up to afford an organist. Between explanations that don't explain, and apologies that do apologize the young man in question is having a decidedly hard row to hoe.

The near approach of winter brings out the weather prophets. The lake froze over on Nov. 23 last year although the Otego came in with a cargo on the 25th but found the ice too heavy in the canal and returned here for the winter.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Carah on Saturday, Nov. 10, a daughter.

A. Kauff went to Milwaukee on Sunday and will spend ten days there and in Chicago.

Mondloch & Yazel are putting a steam heating plant in the handsome new store of J. Vivian Jr. & Co. at Calumet village. The work is to be completed this week.

E. Richard Sundberg of Isbeping finished a visit in copperdom on Monday, returning home on the afternoon train.

Houghton. Harry S. Cannon, for a number of years proprietor of Cannon's cafe and later manager of the Douglass House, has leased the large residence opposite the National bank of Houghton, commonly known as the Sheldon residence, for a term of years and will go to Milwaukee on Monday next to buy furniture, billiard tables, crockery and all other supplies required to fit the building up for club purposes. Mr. Cannon has conferred with a number of the leading residents of both Houghton and Hancock and has met with such unanimous encouragement that he has decided to go ahead and will have the building fitted and furnished ready for opening Dec. 1, if possible. Under the plan which has been decided on a payment of $10 will entitle the person paying that amount to membership in the Houghton county club but after the organization of the club the members will elect their own officers and make their own rules as to membership. Care has been taken to secure members of the proper sort to start with. Mr. Cannon will take out a liquor license and will also secure a good chef for a restaurant to be run in connection with the club. Liquor will be sold only to members of the club and their friends enjoying the privileges of the club. The rooms will be fitted up as reception room, reading room, dining room, ball room, restaurant, billiard room, saloon, etc. A barber shop will be run in connection with the club, also bath rooms, which will be for the use of members only. As arranged by Mr. Cannon the initiation payment will be the only one required. The plan certainly seems feasible and there is every prospect that it will be carried to speedy fruition.

Seats for the star course of entertainments are for sale at Kroil's drug store. The next number on the program will be the lecture on Ireland by the Rev. J. Edward Kelly of Hancock at the Armory on Saturday evening of this week.

The sale of seats for the "Black Hussar" and "Amorita" will begin on Thursday morning at 9 a. m.

F. G. Conrad, advance agent of the Calhoun Opera company, is assisting C. A. Mayworm in securing full houses for the Armory on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Recent advices from the asylum at Flint are to the effect that the condition of Dr. J. P. Mason is somewhat improved. Dr. Mason is not suffering from paresis as is supposed by many, and there is always hope of recovery in cases of insanity where softening of the brain has not set in. That proves incurable and eventually fatal in every case. Dr. Mason has a great many warm friends here and no enemies and his recovery would be hailed with great delight by all.

The county board met yesterday and counted the ballots cast a week ago in Houghton county. Everyone supposed to be elected was found to be safe. The changes in the official canvass from the figures given in THE MINING JOURNAL are slight.

Circuit court is in session and steadily grinding away on the civil calendar the criminal cases on the docket having been disposed of.

CALUMET. THE MINING JOURNAL was in error in stating that the thirty-eight-foot shaft for the Tamarack company to be placed in No. 3 engine house, was cast by Krupp, the famous German gunmaker. The shaft was cast at the Bethlehem Iron works. This is the concern which has furnished many of the heaviest castings and forgings of the United States navy within the past five years and has, without doubt, the largest and most complete foundry plant this side of the Atlantic. It now competes with Krupp in making the heaviest steel castings. The shaft was turned down at the Reliance works of the E. Allis company in Milwaukee and is a credit to all who have cooperated in turning out the finished work. The new shaft to replace the one recently broken by reason of the settling of one side of the foundation in No. 1 engine house is being made at the same place. In all probability the new shaft will not be here, and the other work completed in time to allow hoisting before Jan. 1. The product of the Tamarack will not be cut down, however, as much as might be anticipated as breaking and hoisting is going on in the other shafts to the greatest extent possible.

E. Ulseth is making the necessary arrangements at his ice rink to open as soon as the weather allows, which from present appearance may be almost any day.

Seats for the opera at Houghton can be secured here at Fichtel & Rupprecht's drug store.

LAKE LINDEN. The people of Lake Linden who will attend one evening's entertainment by the Calhoun Opera company at the armory, Houghton, have been successful in securing a change of play for Monday evening, on which occasion the special train will run from here to Houghton returning after the opera is over. "Amorita" had been billed for Monday evening and "The Black Hussar" for Tuesday night, but a special train for the benefit of Lake Linden people will be furnished only on the first evening and the Lake Linden people naturally preferred to see "The Black Hussar" the change has been made at their request. The people of Calumet will be given an opportunity to attend both evenings.

The wiring for electric lights now being done in the Congregational church is to be finished before next Sunday if all goes well.

H. W. Cake, superintendent of motive power at the Calumet & Hecla mills, who left for Pottsville, Pa., two weeks ago with the remains of his wife, will not return to Lake Linden until after Thanksgiving, having arranged to attend the meeting of the American Institute of Mechanical Engineers, which will hold its annual session in Philadelphia the latter part of this month.

Rev. H. C. Scottford's lecture on the triumph of a Republican form of government will be delivered on Friday evening.

RIDE FOR LIFE IN ARIZONA.

A Plucky Woman Who Saved a Snake-Bitten Miner from Death.

At Smith's mill, fifty miles northwest of Phenix, arising from his cot the other night for a drink of water, says the Tucson Miner, Harry Carroll stepped squarely upon a rattlesnake and was bitten upon the bare foot. There were two pints of frontier whisky at the camp, and one of these Carroll immediately dumped into his pocket. Stowing the other in his sash, he then mounted a horse and started for the stage station at the canyon of the Hassayampa, a dozen miles away. On the road he drank the remaining flask, and from that time on knew nothing, save that he fell from his horse. Mrs. Conger, the custodian of the station, was alarmed to see the horse coming back, and mounted the animal, and accompanied by her dog, she started on the search. Eight miles away, in the stony hills, fully exposed to the glare of Arizona's July sun, solely through the intelligence of the dog, Carroll was found lying unconscious. He had been there eleven hours. The plucky woman loaded the suffering man on the horse and, bringing him to the mill, nursed him out of danger. The day was hot in the extreme, and the dog, searching for the man, became overheated and on returning to the camp died within a few hours. It may be believed that he was given a burial as good as the camp could afford.

Chickens Fried With Rice. Take two or three chickens, cut them up and half fry them; then boil half a pint of rice in a quart of water, leaving the grains distinct but not too dry; one large tablespoonful of butter stirred in the rice while hot; let five eggs be well beaten into the rice, with a little salt, pepper and nutmeg, if the last is liked; put the chickens into a deep dish and cover with the rice; brown in an oven not too hot.—Kansas City Times.

ANOTHER ORIENTAL WAR

Imminence of a Struggle between Holland and Lombok.

An Island in the Dutch East Indies That Is Contesting the Supremacy of the Fatherland—History of the Trouble.

Besides the war between China and Japan the orient is the scene of another war. The sovereigns who are contending for the mastery are the fourteen-year-old Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and Balinese Rajah, who claims sovereignty over the island of Lombok, Dutch East Indies.

The contest, writes Thomas Parke Gordon in Golden Days, is not as unequal a one as might at first be supposed; for the young queen's troops have met with such serious reverses as to cast a gloom over the whole kingdom.

The queen's birthday was to have been celebrated on a grand scale at The Hague, August 31, but on account of the losses sustained by her troops at Lombok she gave orders to abandon the usual festivities.

For over half a century the Dutch have exercised sovereignty over Lombok, in trying to discipline whose oriental ruler their troops have met with so disastrous a defeat; but this sovereignty has been merely nominal, the real ruler being Balinese Rajah. The latter—a strict Brahmin—has been for some years trying to rid himself entirely of the Dutch influence in his country's affairs, and recently, with this end in view, he tried to secure the support of the British government.

That was about four months ago. When he found that his efforts were ineffectual he procured a small flotilla of naval vessels, and made other warlike preparations.

The Dutch authorities protested against such proceedings, but the rajah paid no attention to them. War was then declared and three battalions of the colonial army were sent against him, with artillery, and five men-of-war to support them, to teach the oriental potentate a lesson. But the Dutch, instead of teaching him a lesson, met with overwhelming defeat, as has been recorded in the cable dispatches which have been received at this writing. There had been bloody battles before in the East Indies, but never have Europeans been so badly beaten.

Lombok—called Tanah Sasak by the natives and Selaprang by the Balinese—is an island of the Sunda group, lying east of Java, with the island of Bali intervening. It has an area of about 2,000 square miles, which is watered by numerous small streams, scattered any of which are navigable, and dotted over with many mountain lakes.

There are two mountain ranges, between which is a well-watered plain, wholly planted with rice, the hillsides producing coffee and Indian corn. The scenery throughout the island is beautiful—forest-clad mountains and thorny jungles alternating with the rich alluvial plains, which are cultivated like gardens under an ancient and elaborate system of irrigation.

To the naturalist, Lombok is of peculiar interest as the frontier island of the Australian regions, with its cockatoos and mound-builders and bee-eaters and ground-thrushes. The population is about half a million.

There can be but little doubt as to the outcome of the war. While the rajah may be able to keep off the Dutch for months and years, sooner or later Wilhelmina's troops must be victorious.

At best, the war can only cause her the loss of that one island, although if all the other Dutch colonies, encouraged by the outcome of the war in Lombok, should link hands and revolt, their independence would probably result.

It is interesting to call attention to the colonies of Holland. This little European kingdom, with an area of but 12,048 square miles, and a population of 4,692,576—which is about the area of Delaware and Maryland together, and half a million less than the population of the state of Pennsylvania—rules a colonial territory of 766,137 square miles, with a population of 33,000,000.

The colonial possessions fall naturally into two groups—the East Indian possessions including Java, Madura, Bali, Lombok, Sumatra, the Moluccas, Celebes, Timor, parts of Borneo, and the western part of New Guinea—and the West Indies, the chief of which are Dutch Guinea and Curacao. Holland once had considerable territory on the coast of Guinea, but this was disposed of by sales to Great Britain in 1872.

Queen Wilhelmina, whose birthday festivities were abandoned on account of the Dutch reverses in the East Indies, was born August 31, 1880, and succeeded to the throne on the death of her father, King William III., on November 23, 1890.

She is now a fine, tall girl of fourteen. Her birthday festivities last year, by her special desire, took the form of school treats on a very large scale. Next winter the young queen is to figure on a new issue of coins and stamps, with her hair done up in a womanly fashion.

Sharp Traders.

The native Adirondacker is an odd compound of honesty and extortion. He likes fair dealing, but he esteems the health-seeking, pleasuring or sporting sojourner his natural prey. He charges the highest market rates to all such, and seemingly believes them all rich. "What have you to sell?" asked a visitor of a hawkler mounted on a laden wagon. "Oh, things for the poor folks about the country." "I'm one of the poor folks camping on the lake over yonder, and I'm tired of paying double prices for everything. Can you supply me with your wares?" The hawkler looked his man over thoroughly, and, recognizing in him the genus visitor, replied: "I hain't got nothing you'd have, 'cept, perhaps, tea," and without awaiting further parley he drove on.

BONDS ARE NOW OFFERED.

Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle Issues the Anticipated Call for Bonds.

GOLD DRAWN FROM TREASURY TO TAKE UP LAST BONDS.

That Little Scheme Will Be Watched This Time by the Officials of the Treasury Department.

CALL ISSUED FOR $50,000,000. WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary Carlisle late this afternoon issued a call for bids for $50,000,000 in 5 per cent. ten-year bonds, interest to be paid in coin, which interpreted means gold. It is confidently expected at the treasury department an amount will be realized considerably in excess of that received on the February issue. For the last issue of bonds a very considerable amount of gold—approximately at $15,000,000—was withdrawn from the sub-treasuries for the express purpose of using it again in paying for bonds. With a view to more exactly estimating the amounts withdrawn for such purpose the sub-treasuries will keep a record of all withdrawals from now till the accounts under call are settled and the names of persons making the withdrawals. Following is the secretary's circular calling for bids:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13, 1894.—By virtue of authority contained in an act of congress entitled "An Act to Provide for the Resumption of Specie Payments," approved Jan. 14, 1875, the secretary of the treasury hereby gives public notice that sealed proposals will be received at the treasury department, office of the secretary, until 12 o'clock noon on the 24th day of November, 1894, for United States 5 per cent. bonds, in either registered or coupon form dated Jan. 1, 1894, redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the government, after ten years from date of issue and bearing interest payable quarterly in coin at the rate of 5 per centum per annum. Bidders whose proposals are accepted will be required to pay 20 per cent in gold coin or gold certificates upon the amounts of their bids as soon as they receive notice of the acceptance of such bids and to pay in like coin or certificates an additional 20 per cent at the expiration of each ten days thereafter until the whole is paid but they may at their option pay the entire amount of their bids when notified of acceptance or at any time when an installment is payable. The first payment, however, to be not less than 20 per cent, must be made when the bidder receives notice of the acceptance of his proposal.

The denominations of the bonds will be $50 and upwards and bidders, in their proposals, state the denominations desired, whether registered or coupon, the price which the bidder proposes to pay, the place where it is desired the bonds shall be delivered and the office, whether of the treasurer of the United States or assistant treasurer of the United States, where it will be most convenient for the bidder to deposit the amount of his payments. The bonds will be dated February 1, 1894, in order to make the proposed issue uniform with the date of existing issues but the interest thereon begins November 1, 1894, and bidders will be required to pay accrued interest at the rate of 5 per cent on the face of their bonds from November 1st to the date of dates of payment.

The total issue of the bonds in pursuance to this notice shall not exceed the sum of $50,000,000. The secretary of the treasury hereby expressly reserves the right to reject any or all bids. A proposal should be addressed to the secretary of the treasury, Washington, D. C., and should be distinctly marked, "Proposals for the purchase of 5 per cent. bonds." Blank forms for proposals may be had on application to the secretary of the treasury.

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary of the Treasury.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR IN SESSION.

Settling the Cases of Seven Contesting Delegations. NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 13.—The Knights of Labor consumed the whole evening in settling contested seats. Seven delegations were contested. At tomorrow's session reports of committees will be received and election of officers will follow. Sovereign and Hayes are both fighting for re-election. A scheme for the consolidation of all labor bodies will probably be brought up immediately after the election.

WHOLESALE GRAVE ROBBING.

Dead Bodies Stolen and Shipped to Medical Colleges. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 13.—The grand jury is engaged in investigating what is claimed will prove to be a wholesale system of grave robbing that has been going on for some time. Evidence brought before the grand jury discloses that bodies were stolen from various cemeteries and shipped out of the city, and it is claimed that some of them found their way to dissecting tables in the city.

VIOLATED REVENUE LAWS.

Attempt to Land Goods at Closed Port Results Disastrously. SIERRA LEONE, Nov. 13.—On Nov. 7 a Liberian gun boat fired upon the boats landing at Setrakoo a cargo from the African steamship company's steamer Amriza. Twenty-five persons were killed. The captain of the Amriza was previously notified that the landing of the cargo at Setrakoo would cause a breach in the revenue laws, the place not being a port of entry.

PLURALITY IS ASSURED.

Democratic Candidates for Governor Elected in California. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Official returns have been received from over half the counties in California and the result shows a plurality for Budd, the Democratic candidate for governor of over a thousand. It is not probable this will be greatly reduced by the official returns from other counties.

COMMISSION WILL REPORT.

Territorial Government Recommended for the Civilized Indians. ARDMORE, I. T., Nov. 13.—The Dawes commission completed its labors and is taking its departure for the east. The report of the commission, which will be submitted to the secretary of the interior not later than the 25th inst., will recommend a territorial form of government for the five civilized tribes, cutting off about four-fifths of the Chickasaw nation and Kiowa and Comanche are to be annexed to the state of Oklahoma. The west line of the Seminole nation will extend south to the Red River and form the boundary between Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

IVES TAKES THE LEAD.

Schaefer-Ives Billiard Tourney Draws a Good Crowd. NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The second night of the billiard tourney between Jacob Schaefer and Frank C. Ives at the Madison Square concert hall tonight drew a good crowd. The score was as follows: Ives—0, 154, C. 9, 60, 233, 0, 54, 0, 10, 122—632. Schaefer—30, 1, 1, 6, 7, 15, 0, 124, 2, 47—233. Total score—Ives, 1,200; Schaefer, 833.

STRIKING MINERS IMPRISONED.

Shot and Killed a Negro During a Waco Riot. PEKIN, Ill., Nov. 13.—The jury in the murder case against John Geher, Charles Jones, John Heatcote and Dan Caddell returned a verdict tonight finding the said defendants guilty of manslaughter. The sentences of Geher and Jones were fixed at five years in the penitentiary. Heatcote and Caddell got three years. The men were among a body of striking miners who visited Little Bee mine in Tazewell county June 6 and during a riot shot and killed a negro employe named Dixon. The jury was out five hours.

CLAIMS THE ELECTION.

One More Democratic Congressman Comes from Texas. ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 13.—J. V. Cockrell (Dem.) whose defeat for congress was conceded to Gilliland (Pop.) several days ago today reclaims the election. He claims the returns received today show him to be over 600 votes ahead in the district with more returns yet to be heard from which are favorable to his election. The defeat of Gilliland is generally conceded.

HUNDRED PEOPLE KILLED.

Western Coast of South America Shaken by Earthquake. LA PAZ, Bolivia, Nov. 13.—There have been violent earthquakes along the northern coast of Chile and this country. A hundred people were killed within a radius of forty miles of this city. The cathedral here was rendered unsafe, one tower being overthrown.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Cleveland today appointed the following postmasters: Franklin P. McMurrin, Neoga, Ill.; Hermann J. Blank, Lebanon, Ill.; William Lakin, Fayette, Ia.; John F. Page, Mystic, Ia.; Homer L. Stafford, South Milwaukee, Wis.

May Retire the Government.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 13.—White-waites swept St. Johns, overwhelming the government with majorities greater than ever before attained in an election on the island. It is extremely doubtful whether the government will be able to remain in office.

Baptist Clergymen in Council.

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—Nearly a hundred leading Baptist clergymen and educators are here attending the twelfth annual Baptist congress.

Will Be Ready Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Ericsson's contractors report that the boat will be ready for another trial Saturday.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Grain and Produce. CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Wheat, Corn, May, and values. Wheat: 59 1/2, 60 1/2, 59 1/2, 59 1/2. Corn: 50, 50 1/2, 49 1/2, 50 1/2.

Cattle, Hogs and Sheep. CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Prices at the stock yards ranged as follows:

CATTLE—Receipts, 10,000; calves, 500. Ripe steers were wanted today by exporters at steady prices and there was also a steady feeling in butchers and consumers stock. There was good inquiry for stockers and feeders. Natives sold principally at $1.75 @ 2.65 for cows, heifers and bulls, and $3.75 @ 5.00 for steers. Extra quality of steers sold at $6.00 @ 6.40; westerns, $1.75 @ 4.55; Texas cattle $1.40 @ 3.40.

HOGS—Receipts, 34,000. The market opened 5 @ 10c higher, best heavy being quickly taken at $4.95 @ 5.00. Bidding was brisk, but the closing hours saw slow movement with prices barely as good as at the close yesterday. Popular figures were $4.55 @ 4.70 for averages from 300 to 350 and $4.95 for heavier weights. There were some sales at $4.95 @ 5.00.

SHEEP—Receipts, 16,000. The market was 15 @ 20c lower on account of liberal receipts. Sheep ranged from $1.00 @ 3.25; lambs, $1.75 @ 3.00.

METAL PRICES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Pig iron quiet; Scottish, $19.00 @ 20.25; American, $10.00 @ 13.00. Copper, easy; brokers price, 9.50c; exchange for spot, 9.50 @ 9.55c.

COPPER STOCKS.

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name and Price. Boston, Nov. 13.—The closing prices of copper mining stocks were as follows: Alton, 10 1/2; Atlantic, 10 1/2; Boston & Montana, 28 1/2; Butte & Boston, 10 1/2; Calumet & Hecla, 350 00; Centennial, 10 1/2; Franklin, 12 00; Kearsarge, 7 00; Osceola, 22 00; Quincy, 92 00; Tanamarack, 148 00.

HELD UP BY COOK GANG.

Express Train Run Onto a Siding and Robbed by Masked Men.

FOILED IN ATTEMPT TO ENTER EXPRESS CAR.

Robbers Go Through the Cars and Relieve the Passengers of Their Money and Valuables.

A TRAIN ROBBERY EVERY DAY. FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 14.—Train No. 2, south bound, on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad was held up and robbed at 10:30 o'clock last night at a little siding named Blackstone, five miles north of Muskego. There were fifteen men in the gang and all were masked. The switch was thrown and the train run onto the side track on which were several box cars. An attempt was made to enter the express car but it was unsuccessful.

The robbers, finding themselves foiled in this, commenced robbing the passengers who, up to this time, had been merely kept under guard by men stationed in either door of each coach. Two hundred and sixty dollars in money and eight gold watches were secured. The robbers then withdrew. One of the train crew claims to have recognized Bill Cook as one of the bandits. The fact that more money was not secured was owing to the passengers hiding many of their valuables while the robbers were endeavoring to get into the express car.

The scene of the hold-up is in the midst of the Cook rendezvous. Almost the entire force of Marshal Crump is now up in that country and can go to the scene of the raid in a few hours if so ordered. He is as yet ignorant of the affair, however, the news not having reached here till 1 o'clock.

THE CASH BALANCE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The cash balance in the treasury today is $103,758,986; the gold reserve is $62,001,106.

HE WAS HONEST.

And Deplored the Baseness of the Age in Which He Lived. "Honesty in politics," said the man who was dining at the table next the window. "Huh, there isn't any such thing. That's a fiction that was played out long, long ago. Nowadays, it is the man with the biggest fortune who gets the office. I tell you that this country has reached a deplorable state of morals."

"How's that?" asked the man who sat across from him.

"Why, there is no honesty in business, social or political life. The elections are crooked. The vilest sort of schemes are resorted to in order to get votes. Men are openly bribed. Men who get into office steal everything they can get their hands on. It's the same way in business, too. You can never tell when to trust a man. People who have dealt with for years do not hesitate to do you up if they get a chance. They sell you poor goods at high prices. They use all sorts of dishonest means to get your trade, and when they get it they at once proceed to get even by cheating you. And in society—why, society is rotten to its core. Honesty is as scarce as purity. There is nothing that is too mean for these people who pretend to be the leaders of the social sets. I am disgusted with the whole business. I had a good mother who taught me to be honest and I have always tried to live up to her teaching. I can look any man in the face and say that I am an honest man. But—let's get out of here and back to the office."

His friend picked up the check and passed it over to him. As he did so he remarked: "That fool of a waiter has made a mistake of sixty cents in our bill."

"Too much?" inquired the honest man.

"No; too little."

The honest man grabbed his hat. "Hurry up," he said, "and perhaps we can get out of here before he finds it out. That's just so much money saved."

The Colors of Gold.

Most people suppose that all gold is alike when refined, but this is not the case. An experienced man can tell at a glance from what part of the world a gold piece comes, and in some cases, from what part of a particular gold district the metal is obtained. The Australian gold, for instance, is distinctly redder than the Californian, and this difference in color is always perceptible. Again, the gold obtained from the placers is more yellow than that which is taken directly from the quartz. Why this should be the case is one of the mysteries of metallurgy, for the placer gold all comes from the veins. The Ural gold is the reddest found anywhere. Few people know the real color of gold, as it is seldom seen unless heavily alloyed, which renders it redder than when pure. The purest coins ever made were the fifty-dollar pieces that used to be common in California. Their coinage was abandoned for two reasons—(1) because the loss by abrasion was so great, and (2) because the interior could be bored out and lead substituted, the difference in weight being too small to be readily noticed in so large a piece. These octagonal coins were the most valuable ever struck.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

All for a Quarter.

"Here, sir, you have left your umbrella," said the head waiter of a restaurant, running after an elderly patron who was departing. "Ah, that's so. Here's a quarter, my good fellow," and the man walked off with the umbrella. A few minutes later when the gilded youth to whom the umbrella belonged called for it there was a scene, and the only satisfied participant was the waiter who had received the tip, and who discreetly held his tongue.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

MONEY IN SAMPLING TEA. WHERE TEAKWOOD GROWS.

Enormous Sums Paid to the Few Tea Tasters of the United States. A tall, slim man, with a black mustache, dark eyes and closely cropped black hair, registered at the California hotel a few days ago, and has since been going and coming in a nervous sort of way. He registered as G. C. Smyth, of New York. He seemed a man who had important business on hand, but what it was no one knew. He was dining in the cafe at the hotel, and it was noticed that he drank plentifully of the wine, though not so much as to make the effect noticeable. "I do this," he said, "to get my nerves into proper condition. The fact is I am a tea taster, and this profession is very hard on me physically. I have been following it for several years. Yes, you may know it is an important business, since there are only ten tea tasters in the United States. We are engaged both by large merchants or tea brokers, and by the government. I have visited this city several times to taste teas and have often visited Vancouver for that purpose.

"Since the Canadian Pacific railroad was completed, a line of steamers established from the Orient, immense cargoes of tea have been going there from China, Japan and other countries. It has been my business to examine and taste various samples from these cargoes. I have also visited Ceylon and nearly all of the tea-growing countries of the Orient to observe the mode of putting up the tea.

"It is astonishing the way they manage to adulterate it over there. The packers are so skillful that they slip in a great deal of inferior tea and work it off under good brands. This makes the merchants who afterward handle complain. Packages of tea of a certain brand will be found all that could be desired, while other packages bearing the same brand and in the same cargo will be highly adulterated.

"As this tea is very costly there is need of experts to examine it. They must be good ones, for everything depends for the time being on their judgment. A taster can only taste a few hours at a time, when he is weakened and has to take a rest. Besides this, when he begins a job of tasting he must take special pains to get himself in shape for it. I was about six weeks getting myself ready for examining some cargoes in the warehouses here for the government.

"Before I began I did not taste intoxicants in any form and did not even smoke. At the same time I was careful not to eat strong peppers or spices, or in fact anything that could distort the taste. One must be in as perfect condition in order to properly judge of the teas he tastes as a horse is when prepared for the Derby or Colerbert or Jackson when about to begin a fight for the championship. He must be at his best and must feel that he is.

"This afternoon in six hours I made two thousand nine hundred dollars tasting tea, so you see from this how valuable the time of a tea-taster is, and how careful he must be of his condition. On each of the two or three previous days I made almost as much. The best tea-tasters of the country make enormous sums, considering the time employed; ten thousand dollars a year is a low sum, and oftentimes twenty thousand to thirty thousand dollars is made, and even more. I know a man in the business who made fifty thousand dollars. It all depends on his standing, the number of times he is called as a taster and what he can endure.

"In my case this time the government has sent me to examine teas in order to collect certain statistics about the adulterations. You know there is now a very large number of men collecting statistics throughout this country and Europe in regard to labor, the costs of various products and other things. It has lately desired to learn all it can about the adulteration of foods and drink, and this is why I have been engaged here.

"I am substantially through with my tea-tasting in San Francisco for the present, and this is why I have been drinking wine, which, as I said, is the best restorative for the weakness after a long strain at tasting."—San Francisco Examiner.

IN AKBAR'S PALACE.

A View of the Royal "Hall of Repose" of India. In the royal "hall of repose" Akbar's colossal bedstead of red sandstone with sculptured pillars still occupies its accustomed place. Like David of old, the great mogul climbed into his bed, a broad flight of stone steps assisting him in this gymnastic feat, though a final leap was required to land him safely in the gigantic four-poster. External stairs ascend to the red arcades and fantastic kiosks of the level roof, where shadowy cloisters offer cool retreats from the burning sun and extensive views of the surrounding country. Indigo, poppy, jute, and tobacco alternate with the pale green of spring corn and the vivid emerald of waving rice.

The metallic tints of castor-oil plants glisten against the black belts of jungle, and innumerable tombs dot the wide expanse of rolling plain, with gray domes and pillared porticoes; for northern India, like ancient Egypt, is thickly strewn with memorials of departed greatness. The blue waters of the Jumna flow in a shrunken current through a waste of sand and the scene, though destitute of actual beauty, suggests the impressive idea of infinity, which is only conveyed by a level landscape viewed from a lofty height.

EVEN THE KING

Had to Make a Return Like a Common Citizen.

Of all the extraordinary communications that have ever reached King Humbert since he ascended to the throne, says a Rome letter, one which he received the other day for the purpose of inquiring in all seriousness whether he could read or write was perhaps the most extraordinary. And, to make matters worse, he was informed that he was required to give proof that he possessed a certain amount of education to do so. The letter in question was not the work of some irresponsible crank, but was a full-fledged communication bearing the signature of the burgomaster, or mayor, of the little town of Rheine Notre Dame, in Piedmont, where King Humbert happened to own some landed property.

As a land owner of the district the name of the king figures on the electoral register and every citizen, before he is permitted to cast his vote, is obliged to furnish satisfactory evidence that he can read and write. Of course King Humbert has complied with the demands of the burgomaster, and has set an example to his subjects by performing his duties as a citizen.

Italy is about the only country where such an incident could occur, since in other monarchial countries, particularly England, the sovereign and the prince of the blood are subjected to the same restrictions as the peers of the realm, and are debarred from casting votes at the polls for the lower house of the legislature, the theory being that, possessing by virtue of their birth seats in the house of lords, it is not proper that they should in any way influence the elections to the lower chamber.

Rapid Development in Alaska.

Some late reports show that Alaska has been rapidly growing in commercial importance. Very few know the size of this part of the United States or appreciate its value. It is as large as England, Ireland, France and Spain together. It is a spacious territory, filled with mineral wealth and likely in time to become of the first importance to this country. Even now its fisheries stand in the front rank and its production of gold increases year by year, and in time it may develop into a new California or Australia. Immigration is increasing and the statistics of exports and imports show a steadily growing volume. Business has grown so rapidly that there is a demand for a revision of the statutes and the enactment of laws to govern the concerns of the territory.—Cincinnati Tribune.

"O sacred head, now wounded," is a translation of a translation. The original hymn was the Salve Caput, by St. Bernard. In 1656 it was translated into the German, "O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden," by Paul Gerhardt. This was translated into English by J. W. Alexander.

A Corrected Bill.

Householder—Did the master plumber make the corrections in that bill I returned to him?

Collector—Yes, sir, and he found an overcharge of two dollars.

"Ah! Just as I said."

"Yes, sir; but it took him about an hour to look up the items, and he charges five dollars an hour for his time. Three dollars more, please."

Sick Headaches

Life-Long Troubles Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have been troubled with sick headaches, since I was a child. Doctors and remedies all did me no good, until I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would give it a trial. Five boxes insured me. I shall always be a warm friend to Hood's Sarsaparilla and I do not know anything better for a family medicine. I have also used Hood's Vegetable Pills and think them the best."

Mrs. LIZZIE PERSON, Box 122, Hamlet, New York.

TEACHERS TAKE CHARGE.

Series of Entertainments Arranged for by Them at Ishpeming.

FIRST-CLASS TALENT SECURED FOR THE COURSE.

Ishpeming's Snow Shoe Club Elects Officers—Examination of Applicants for Places in Postal Service.

THE ENTERTAINMENT COURSE.

The teachers of the Ishpeming public schools held a meeting Monday evening and organized the Ishpeming Teachers' association. For some time past the teachers have contemplated arranging for a course of entertainments here during the winter and in order that all might become interested in the affair the association was formed. The association will not only have charge of the entertainment course but will remain a permanent organization for the advancement of educational interests here. It is officered as follows: O. R. Hardy, president; Miss Agnes Johnston, secretary; and Miss A. F. Olcott, treasurer. The executive committee is composed of Professor Hardy, the Misses Olcott, Lacy and Hister.

The proposed course will be made up of seven entertainments. The first will be given by Herbert A. Sprague, a talented young impersonator, whose characterizations will be taken from "Rip Van Winkle." Mr. Sprague has the remarkable faculty of impersonating a dozen characters in a play with astonishing accuracy without any change in costume.

The May Leggett Concert company is the second attraction on the course. This company is composed of the popular young American violinist, Miss May E. Leggett, who recently returned from Paris, where she took a two-year's course on the violin; Mr. John Wilson Dodge, tenor; Miss Lela Harlow, soprano, and Miss Alice Girardeau, a member of the New England conservatory and one of the best recitationists on the American platform. The third engagement will be that of Professor George W. Blish, president of the Blish School of Elocution and Oratory, of Boston.

Mr. Blish will be followed by Frederic C. Lee, a popular, eloquent and humorous lecturer, who will speak on "The Lady and the Tiger." John R. Clarke, a lecturer of national reputation, will follow Mr. Lee. His subject will be: "To and Fro in London." Ella S. Yoatcheff, the noted Bulgarian statesman, orator and editor, who will lecture in costume on "The Social Life of the Turks," will be the sixth attraction on the course.

Seventh and last will come Colonel Francis W. Parker, president of the Cook County Normal school. Mr. Parker is one of the most eminent educators in this country and his discourse alone will be worth the price charged for the entire course. His subject will be: "The Child."

The engagements, with the exception of Mr. Parker's, were made through the Detroit Entertainment bureau. Mr. John Western, its manager, was in the city Saturday. He stated that he had completed arrangements for giving the same series of entertainments at several places in this peninsula. Ishpeming is the only city where Mr. Parker has been engaged to lecture, consequently it was quite difficult, as well as expensive, to secure him.

The teachers have taken the matter of disposing of tickets for the course in hand and have already sold quite a number. Owing to their having decided to give seven entertainments, instead of five as they at first intended, the aggregate cost of the course will be more than was previously announced. Thus far the teachers have met with very far success in disposing of tickets, but they have not yet sold enough to cover the expense. Season tickets are being sold at $1.50 each for adults and $1 for children. The price is very reasonable and the ladies should have no difficulty in selling a sufficient number to give them the guarantee necessary.

The first entertainment of the course, by Mr. Sprague, will be given some time next week.

Snowshoe Club Reorganized

At the meeting of the Ishpeming Snowshoe club Monday evening officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, W. H. Johnston; vice president, J. L. Bradford; secretary and treasurer, C. H. Moss; captain, Henry Thompson; lieutenants, Dr. Jarvis and M. W. Barringer; executive committee, George Haslam, Fred Tommeson and Manville Jenks. The names of thirteen new members were proposed and accepted. The regular meetings of the club will begin on the first Monday in December. Ladies' nights will be on the first and third Mondays in each month.

The executive committee was given charge of the construction of a toboggan slide. At the close of the meeting Monday evening the committee, together with several of the members, looked over the hill with a view to ascertaining the most desirable location for the slide. It is quite probable that it will be built a little farther north than last year in order that the lower end will strike the street which runs east and west a block north of Empire street. It will be run on a perfectly straight line and will be provided with a large search light placed at the top. The light will be furnished by the Electric Light company which will extend its wires to the top of the hill.

Civil Service Examinations.

A competitive examination, under the rules of the United States civil service commission, of applicants for the grades of clerk and carrier in the classified postal service at the postoffice in the city of Ishpeming will be held December 8, commencing at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. Applications for this examination must be made on blanks furnished by the United States civil service commission, which can be obtained at the postoffice from James F. Mullins,

A Victim of Consumption

Miss Johannah Roach, who resided with her parents at the Lake Angeline location, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock of consumption after an illness of four or five months. Miss Roach was a bright young lady. She graduated with high honors from the convent school last June, and was universally esteemed by her friends and acquaintances. She was born, and has lived all her life, in Ishpeming and was aged twenty years and nine months. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. John's church.

CARPENTER BEES.

The Queer Nests Made by These Interesting Insects. Of the instincts of insects we find examples to parallel those of the larger animals; by one important test, the construction of buildings and habitations, the sagacity of these tribes outstrips that of all others, and vies in its way with the most singular efforts of humanity. Urged by the necessity of the preservation of their species, many, whose term of life does not admit of them nurturing their young—which, moreover, are peculiarly exposed to danger—exhibit a foresight truly marvelous, and an indomitable perseverance in anticipating wants which they cannot supply at the time of need. In like manner, other insects, in their architectural skill, while they have the interests of their offspring at heart, chiefly or otherwise, as the case may be, keep also their own conservation in view against changes of temperature and natural enemies.

The art of boring symmetrical tunnels in wood culminates with the carpenter bees, so termed from their carpenter-like capabilities. Numbers of the members of this class are enormous, and very beautiful. Xylocopa violacea—the generic name signifies a woodcutter—larger than the largest humble bee, exhibits choice contrast of color in its brilliant, velvety black body, its wings of a rich violet. Several African species claim more than a passing glance from those to whom beauty affords delight; black body with bronze green iridescent wings; body pale yellowish green with transparent wings—these are lovely combinations of hues displayed. England is believed to possess no specimen of these charming creatures. Their tasks are as interesting as they themselves. They show partiality for old posts or palings, or the woodwork of houses which is soft, because commencing to decay; but apparently they do not form fresh tunnels save when old ones are not to be had.

The bee usually begins boring obliquely across the grain of the wood, about two days being taken to make the workman's own length, but this may not be so easily done as the remainder, which runs parallel with the sides of the wood for from twelve to eighteen inches. Sometimes an excavation or two suffices, which generally take opposite directions from the opening; sometimes the bee cuts extra galleries, one above the other, using the same opening. Sharp jaws, moved by powerful muscles, are its only tools; and as it descends into the heart of the solid wood, the funnel is swept clean and regular with stiff brushes of hair on the legs, and all raspings made in eating the burrow out are cast forth from the entrance. The sawdust expelled becomes of subsequent use. One by one successive partitions of the stichely fluid, probably saliva, are constructed, dividing the entire funnel into cells somewhat less than an inch long. Each is supplied with an egg and a compound of pollen and honey; the door is closed; but before deserting her burrow finally the bee forms a lateral opening from the outside to the bottom of the cells and chokes it with sawdust paste; and through this the young escape when the time for their emergence arrives—Chambers' Journal.

THE SEA'S INVASION.

Old Ocean Tearing Away the English Coast by the Rod.

The flat marshes of Pevensey have gained half a mile since the days of Edward II, when the sea almost washed the walls of the castle that now stands high and dry inland. The same thing has happened on the Romney flats, where the ancient castle of Lympne has receded a mile or more. Such spots as these look as though the next spring tide would add their grassy meadows to the lost ground of sea bottom. But on the rocky parts of the Antrim coast, we have the sea slowly working its way inland, despite the rock fortifications and stony intrenchments that look so resistless. Under the waves lie tracts of bogland that once upon a time must have stood well in shore, and Dunluce bears witness to the ravages that have taken place within a few centuries—a few ticks of the clock as geologists count time.

The sea, ever washing and tearing at its foundations, one day broke down a considerable part of the castle, and several persons were killed by the catastrophe. This was in the days when Dunluce was held by other tenants than the birds. Then a home and a stronghold, now but a memento of past joy and glory.

Another marked example of the insecurity of rock defenses where the sea is the invader occurs at Filey, on the Yorkshire coast. Only twenty years ago there was a pathway running around the ancient Church of St. Hilda, which is built on the solid rock—now this is so broken away on the seaward side that it is impassable. Another twenty years may see the church undermined.—Argosy.

NEWS OF NEGAUNEE.

Remains of a Former Resident Brought Here for Interment.

Came Near Being Lifted by a Locomotive—Street Car Line Again in Operation.

BROUGHT TO NEGAUNEE. The remains of Mrs. Patrick Gleason, who died recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Mockler, at Benton, Wis., arrived here from that place yesterday morning and, after religious services at St. Paul's church, were given interment in the Catholic cemetery.

The remains were accompanied to this city by Jerry Mockler of Milwaukee, Mrs. William Mockler and Mrs. McCormick, also a daughter of the deceased, and other relatives from down the line.

In a Tight Place. A Finlander who came in from one of the farms adjoining the city with a load of wood on a one-horse sleigh came very near returning home without his horse Monday afternoon. As he was driving over the Tobin street crossing, from which the snow had been shoveled, the horse got stalled and was unable to pull the load across the track.

Running Again. Superintendent Pearce and his men began removing the snow from the street railway line at an early hour yesterday morning and had the line open between this place and the depot at Ishpeming shortly before supper time last evening. The snow covered the track to quite a depth and had to be shoveled off, as the cars could not make their way through it.

Sons of St. George Officers. At the regular meeting of English Oak Lodge Sons of St. George Monday evening officers for the ensuing six months were elected as follows: President, James A. OUTWITTED BY A HOUSEWIFE.

How She Suppressed Backyard Enemies of Sleep and Comfort. Housekeeping would be exceedingly enjoyable, said Mrs. Harding, as we sat in her little apartment and sipped the cheerful and chatty Bohemia, if there were not some drawbacks.

We moved in here and everything was lovely until the next morning, when, bright and early, so early that even a self-respecting lark would have stayed in bed, there arose a hoarse cry from the rear. It was a cry so shrill and high and piercing that Mr. Harding and myself both started up to look for burglars or rescue a maiden in distress.

Rushing to the back window we beheld standing on the dividing fence a man who balanced himself with the ease of a professional tight-rope artist. From his countenance, ignorant of the barber's care, and his rusty clothing we thought he was a sneak thief, but we were mistaken. When he espied us, "Want a line, lady?" was his salutation, and then we saw clothes line hanging from a belt about his waist.

Up to his left ear went his hand, and then the mystery of the cries was solved. We laughed at our fears and crawled back to finish our sleep, but we didn't sleep, for a whole army of these backyard fakirs visited us.

The next morning there was the same state of affairs. Complaints to the landlord did no good and the police laughed at our tale of woe, and so I took the matter into my own hands and the neighbors followed my example and we are pretty nearly free from the nuisance.

The next time one of the clothes line fiends came, I went to the window and beckoned to him. He came just under the window. I motioned for him to come upstairs.

He came up from the courtyard, five flights of steps. I stood at the door and requested him to stand where I could see him.

"I can recognize you again," I said as he stood in the light, "and if you ever yell your wares out here again I'll have you jailed," and with that I shut the door.

That morning I made another of the enemies to sleep and comfort mount the same long stairs, and, elated with my first success, was even more forcible.

My maid told other servants of the occurrence, and now as soon as one of the fellows appears some one hails him and goes through the same performance. If he begins again a second hail is sent from some other apartment, and now the fakirs have learned that we don't buy clothes lines, but simply take up their time and fool them.

But don't tell the landlord we have almost rid his houses of this nuisance, or he may raise the rent.—N.Y. Herald.

MAILLOT AND QUININE.

The Story of a Revolution in the Practice of Medicine. An important epoch in the career of Dr. Maillot, a distinguished French physician who died in Paris lately at the age of ninety-one years, illustrates the great timidity of medical science in taking up a new method of treatment or abandoning an old one.

Dr. Maillot is known to the medical world as the practical introducer into French practice of the use of quinine in the treatment of malarial and other fevers.

In 1832, when the French were conducting a campaign of conquest in Algeria, the mortality among the troops and colonists there was frightful. France was being continually called upon for fresh levies of men and youths to supply the terrible loss, chiefly from fever incidental to the climate and the life the French in Algeria were leading.

At that time the practice of bleeding still prevailed. "Bleed them till they are white," was the injunction which Broussais, the medical master of the French, gave to his followers when the condition of the soldiers was reported to him.

At Bône, in one year, out of an effective force of five thousand five hundred men, one thousand one hundred died of illness in the hospital. Most of them had been "bled to the white."

At this time the effects of sulphate of quinine were known, but few physicians ventured to employ it. Maillot had interested himself in the new remedy; and going to Bône in the medical service of the government, he resolved to see if it would not reduce the frightful mortality, which was one to every three and a half men who entered the hospital.

At first he employed the quinine merely as an adjunct to the bleeding. He soon found that bleeding was killing the men, and that quinine was saving them. Little by little he left off bleeding to the great scandal of the medical profession.

Exactly in proportion as the bleeding ceased, the death in the hospital decreased. In two years the deaths fell off from one to three and a half, of all who entered the hospital, to one in twenty, and finally to one in forty-six.

Maillot, quite naturally enough, became an earnest opponent of bleeding; but he was so actively resisted and so ceaselessly vilified by members of the medical profession that he became embittered toward his colleagues.

Nearly thirty years passed before Maillot saw the complete triumph of his ideas. Doctors continued to bleed their patients heartily for all manner of ills. But in 1860 Maillot was made commander of the Legion of Honor and chief of the French army, and his influence, with others, in bringing about a virtual revolution in the practice of medicine was fully recognized.—Youth's Companion.

STOPPING PAYMENT.

Effect of Such a Course on a Bank of England Note.

It is quite a mistaken idea that "stopping payment" of a banknote has the effect supposed by very many people. It simply means that the Bank of England carefully keeps a lookout for the note which has been "stopped," and, though it cannot refuse to pay such a note immediately on its being presented, a notification would at once be made to the person who stopped it, and the bank would give all the assistance in its power to enable the loser to recover the amount.

The bank in such cases also insists on a guarantee being given by a banker or two householders that it shall be repaid in the event of the document ever turning up and being again tendered for payment. In this connection it is interesting to glance for a moment at a very wholesome rule enforced by Scotch banks in regard to mutilated and spoiled notes presented for payment.

The system adopted in these institutions is a simple one, being merely to pay in proportion to the size of the banknote; that is to say (unless there is the clearest evidence that the mutilation of the document is purely accidental), if the half of a one-pound note is presented the bank only pays ten shillings for it, on the perfectly fair plea that, for all they know the remaining half or three-quarters may be presented at a future time by a second person.

It is not at all an unusual circumstance for a mutilated note to be presented for payment, burned perhaps half through, with marks of burning on the fringes. Nor is the damage always accidental. The men who indulge in the luxury of lighting their pipes with a banknote are not always, as some may think, millionaires or recognized lunatics of society. The spoiled notes are more often than not presented by workmen or laborers, who confess without hesitation that they have intentionally "lighted their pipes with them from mere bragadochio."—Cornhill Magazine.

WILKINSON LED TICKET.

Candidate for State Treasurer Got Heaviest Vote in Marquette County.

GOVERNOR RICH WAS NOT FAR BEHIND HIM

Other Republican Nominees Got Somewhat Fewer Votes—Culver Led the Democratic Ticket.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

The county board met at the court house yesterday morning and canvassed the official returns of the late election. As was to be expected Mr. James M. Wilkinson of this city, the candidate for state treasurer, led his ticket slightly, getting sixty more votes in the county than the candidate for secretary of state.

The variations in the votes of the several candidates while not conspicuous are still noticeable. With the exception of the leads given Governor Rich and Treasurer Wilkinson, largely attributable in the first instance to special work of personal friends and in the second to local feeling, the variations are in the main evidently the result of imperfect ballots. This is shown by the fact that the candidates who ran lowest were, with one exception, on the lower half of the ballot.

On the Democratic side Karste for treasurer ran somewhat behind, polling seventy-two votes less than Fisher. The large vote given Mayo for lieutenant governor is due to the fact that his name was on both the Democratic and Populist tickets. Culver led the Democratic column, getting 154 votes more than Fisher, while Stephenson polled 210 less than Rich. That Anderson got some of the votes which went against Stephenson but not for Culver is shown by the fact that he led Nichols by seventy-six. Smith's vote as registrar of deeds of ninety-six greater than as county clerk, showing that some who scratched his name where it first appeared forgot to do so the second time.

Mr. Smith received on the two offices an average of 3,550 1/2 votes and came very near leading the county ticket, being surpassed slightly by the Republican candidates for the minor offices of surveyor, coroners and court commissioners. Mr. McClear being on both the Democratic and Populist tickets looms up with their combined vote. Mr. Young's plurality is hence the lowest but still reaches the comfortable figure of 1,549. Braastad leads the Democratic county column with 1,358, while Peterson is a close second with 1,281 and Crawford a good third with 1,106. None of the other Democratic candidates reached the 1,100 mark.

Of the Prohibition candidates Quayle for representative in the Second district makes the best showing, getting in that district alone only two votes less than the head of the ticket in the entire county. The Populist vote was evidently cast pretty straight, averaging about six hundred and forty on all offices. In the First district Bleimhuber for representative ran a trifle ahead while Sheldon for the same office in the Second ran somewhat behind.

Not more than one-sixth of the voters paid any attention whatever to the two constitutional amendments. The totals for the county on each office are as follows:

For governor—Rich (rep.), 3,945; Fisher (dem.), 1,041; Nichols (pop.), 345; Nichols (top), 651; Rich's plurality, 2,704; Rich's majority, 1,908.

For lieutenant governor—Milnes (rep.), 3,920; Mayo (dem-pop), 1,657; Warner (pro), 347; Milnes' plurality, 2,303; Milnes' majority, 1,916.

For secretary of state—Gardner (rep.), 3,913; Irland (dem), 1,624; Allen (pro), 340; Fangborn (pop), 632; Gardner's plurality, 2,280; Gardner's majority, 1,917.

For treasurer—Wilkinson (rep.), 3,973; Karste (dem), 369; Scott (pro), 341; Brown (pop), 632; Wilkinson's plurality, 3,004; Wilkinson's majority, 2,031.

For auditor general—Turner (rep.), 3,918; Gill (dem), 1,016; Perrine (pro), 341; McDougall (pop), 628; Turner's plurality, 2,982; Turner's majority, 1,929.

For attorney general—Maynard (rep.), 3,911; O'Hara (dem), 1,035; Giberson (pro), 339; McBride (pop), 637; Maynard's plurality, 2,882; Maynard's majority, 1,910.

For land commissioner—French (rep.), 3,911; Mulvaney (dem), 1,037; Roelofs (pro), 339; Kelley (pop), 637; French's plurality, 2,874; French's majority, 1,898.

For superintendent of public instruction—Pattengill (rep.), 3,933; Jennings (dem), 1,011; White (pro), 341; Graves (pop), 629; Pattengill's plurality, 2,922; Pattengill's majority, 1,952.

For member of the board of education—Powers (rep.), 3,903; Deveraux (dem), 1,027; Hatch (pro), 346; Olmstead (pop), 634; Powers' plurality, 2,889; Powers' majority, 1,886.

For member of congress—Stephenson (rep.), 3,733; Culver (dem), 1,205; Anderson (pop), 757; Stephenson's plurality, 2,530; Stephenson's majority, 1,833.

For state senator—Pascoe (rep.), 3,873; White (dem), 1,066; Cox (pop), 679; Pascoe's plurality, 2,807; Pascoe's majority, 2,138.

For representative, First district—Mulvey (rep.), 1,842; Hoch (dem), 737; Johns (pro), 177; Bleimhuber (pop), 480; Mulvey's plurality, 1,105; Mulvey's majority, 448.

3,887; McClear (dem-pop), 2,088; Young's majority, 1,549. For circuit court commissioners—Ball and Brown (reps), 3,808 and 3,861; Midlam and Hayden (dems), 1,067 and 1,067; Arner (pop), 644. For surveyor—Cummings (rep), 3,891; Clark (dem), 1,051; Cavis (pop), 648.

For coroners—Crary and Rogers (reps), 3,837 and 3,890; Kennedy and Mervault (dems), 1,080 and 1,061; Smith and Burt (pros), 341 and 339; Muehhaeuser and Gerard (pops), 637 and 613.

From the foregoing it will be seen that all the Republican candidates secured not only pluralities but absolute majorities over all opponents and that these majorities in all cases where the vote of the whole county is included exceed 1,000.

The vote on the constitutional amendments was as follows: Allowing inmates of soldiers' homes to acquire residence where such home is situated—Yes, 892; No, 108.

Relating to the qualifications of electors—Yes, 735; No, 109.

Dooley's Bold Def. A challenge was received at this office yesterday from Michael Dooley of Ewen, who claims the title of champion middleweight of the northwest. Dooley wants to wrestle Thomas O'Rourke of Ewen, Cornish style, best three in five, for $50 to $100 a side.

EWEN, Mich., Nov. 12, 1894. To THE MINING JOURNAL.—I hereby challenge Thomas O'Rourke of Ewen, Mich., to wrestle me Cornish style, best three out of five for $50 to $100 a side; match to take place Jan. 1. If O'Rourke does not accept this challenge it is open to any man in the northwest at 150 pounds, to weigh in at the ringside.

THE CHALLENGE IS APPENDED: EWEEN, Mich., Nov. 12, 1894. To THE MINING JOURNAL.—I hereby challenge Thomas O'Rourke of Ewen, Mich., to wrestle me Cornish style, best three out of five for $50 to $100 a side; match to take place Jan. 1. If O'Rourke does not accept this challenge it is open to any man in the northwest at 150 pounds, to weigh in at the ring.

SALE OPENED WELL. Quite a crowd was in line when the opera house box office opened yesterday morning for the sale of seats for the Calhoun engagement next Saturday afternoon and evening and when the chart went over to Bigelow's at noon practically all the divans had been sold for "Amorita" and a considerable number for "Black Hussar".

FOR RAILROAD MEN. Peter Patenaude, the well known South Shore engineer of this city now running on the Houghton local, has materials on the ground at Houghton and begins today the erection of a hotel for the special accommodation of the railroad men running into that town. The building is located down near the round house and will be a great convenience to the railroad boys, who now have to go a mile up town from their trains to reach the Douglass or the Butterfield House. Mr. Patenaude is a general favorite with his fellow employees and will doubtless do well in his new venture. He will of course remove his family to Houghton as soon as the building is finished.

FUNK & WAGNALL'S GREAT VENTURE. The Standard dictionary of the English language is now completed and to this New York firm is due the credit of producing the grandest literary monument that the world has ever had. In spite of wholesale exclusion of obnoxious compounds the Standard spells and defines 301,778 vocabulary words besides giving nearly fifty thousand biographical and geographical names and terms in the appendix, thus getting ahead of the Century with its 225,000 and all other dictionaries are so far in the rear in this respect as to be almost out of sight.

On the thorny field of spelling reforms Dr. Funk and his colleagues march resolutely. They accept the list of 3,500 words spelt on the principle of dropping useless letters.

The liberality in illustrating the work is amazing, about four hundred of the illustrations appearing in color and the plate representing the solar spectrum is said to have cost $5,000. Yet the astonishingly low price at which it is sold places it within the reach of every family. Sample pages, prices, terms, etc., will be sent free to any address upon application to the general agent, J. W. Clayton, Duluth, Minn.
