MINING CAMPS IN FLAMES.

Fires Raging in the Pine Forests of the Mountains of Colorado.

SEVERAL CAMPS BURNED AND OTHERS IN DANGER.

Fire Originated in Saw Mill and Sweeps
Over Mountains Carrying Destruction in Its Path.

WILL CAUSE MUCH SUFFERING.

BOULDER, Col., Nov. 15.—The fire in a saw mill west of the mining camp of Ward, which started last night, has spread to the timber and has been doing great damage and this morning caused intense excitement here by reason of sensational reports to the effect that the mining camps of Ward and Gold Hill had burned to the ground. Ward, however, did not suffer but Gold Hill at a late hour this afternoon was burning and other camps are threatened.

The fire started just west of Ward in the heavily timbered districts and swept to the east. The inhabitants were alarmed early in the evening,
dense clouds of smoke settling down on the camp. The fire spread through the dry pine timber with terrible rapidity and the settlers along its path were forced to leave their homes to burn and get into the camps. The fire burned the outskirts of Ward and advanced toward Gold Hill, sweeping over an area of about eight miles.

The fire is spreading toward Copper Rock and it is believed many small camps will be burned. The residents of Gold Hill who did not come to Boulder
are assembled on the top of Horseshell mountain watching the progress of the fire. The wind is blowing furiously and drives the fire before it.

The property loss cannot at present be told but it will amount to over two million dollars. There will necessarily be great destitution as a result. The fire is spreading toward Left Hand and in the direction of Sunshine. Among the important mines at Gold Hill for which fears are expressed are the Al-mackee and Cash Deerkin.

A courier reports the destruction of about half the property of Camp Talcott and the Prussian mine and mill.
The ranch house of Mr. Ely at Left Hand is completely destroyed and Mr.
Ely badly burned. Mr. Seaman, whose ranch was burned, also suffered injuries. Fred Ehler's property near Sunset was burned and Ehler found unconscious in an out-building where he had gone in the endeavor to save something.
He is seriously burned.

BOULDER, Col., Nov. 15.—11:30 p. m.
—Over three hundred men are fighting the fire approaching Gold Hill which seems to sweep everything before it.
Women and children are continually arriving in this city for protection and the scene is one of excitement. Teamsters from Ward, Gold Hill and Sunset are bringing panic-stricken people from the burning districts, which include Talcott, Sunset, Copper Rock, Left Hand and Gold Hill. Lew Jain, the proprietor of the Ward-Boulder stage line, brought the mail today on horseback because it was impossible to run coaches through the burning district.

He reported that the fire is raging furiously and the wind is blowing a gale.
The fire was then within a mile of Gold Hill.

Sunset will be wiped out before morning if the wind continues in the same direction. Copper Rock is in imminent danger of being cleared out and Salina will be served to the same fate. Ward is reported safe as the fire is playing east and north of the great camp and unless the wind changes over to the east no danger is looked for. Gold Lake is entirely burned out and nothing is left of the pretty cottages. The air of this city is heavily laden with smoke.
The fire is spreading north and south
and the damage will be great to property and timber. One life is reported lost.

NEGRO CHILDREN OREMAT.

Three Pickaninies the Victims of Southern Forest Fires.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 15.—Details
from the forest fires come in slowly and in most cases indicate only nominal damage. From Oakland, Tenn., comes the story of the death of three children.
Jeff Raynor and wife, colored, were busy in the field when the house caught fire and before they could reach it the little ones perished.

CARLYLE, Ills., Nov. 15.—The timber lands south and north of Carlyle are being swept by fire. It is feared several houses are burned. The air is filled with the smoke of the burning leaves,
making it difficult to breathe.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 15.—The large breaker over No. 3 mine of the Delaware and Hudson company at Plymouth was entirely destroyed by fire this evening. Six hundred men are thrown out of work. The loss is $100, 000.

PAYMASTER GENERAL REPORTS.

More Soldiers in Regular Army Now
Than Usual.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Paymaster General Smith in his annual report to the secretary of war calls attention to the fact that the soldiers' deposit had increased to $79,583 during the year, a gratifying increase in view of the fact that deposits had been falling off in preceding years. The expenditures account of the pay of the army show an increase of $275,633 over the preceding year, due in part to the fact that the enlisted force was more nearly kept at the maximum limit. The fact that the expenditures account for pay of volunteers was $493,653 less than last year is taken as an indication that these claims are being exhausted. The paymaster general questions the beneficial effect of the system of withholding a portion of the soldiers' pay until he is discharged. Therefore it is recommended that the system be abolished. It is also recommended that there be but one common pay chest for the army and that all disbursements be made through the bonded officers of the pay corps instead of being divided upon between non-bonded disbursing officers who last year distributed half of the army appropriations.

NO NEED OF FIRING.

Coroner Finds Shooting of Mob by Militia in Ohio Unnecessary.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, O., Nov.
15.—Coroner James M. Edwards of this city began an inquest on the five persons shot in front of the court house
Oct. 17 two or three days after the occurrence and today the verdict was given out. It is as follows:

"After having viewed the bodies and heard the evidence I do find that the deceased, Smith Welch, Mac Johnson, Jesse Judy, William A. Sams and Theodore Ammerman, came to their death from being struck while in front of the court house on the evening of Oct. 17, 1894, with leaden balls fired from the interior of the court house in Washington Court House by Ohio State National guards who, under Commander James E. Cook, as sheriff of Fayette county, and A. B. Coit, as colonel of the Fourteenth regiment, Ohio National Guards;
and I do find that at the time of firing
by the guards there was no imminent danger of the serious destruction of property or harm to any one inside the court house or the remotest danger of Prisoner Dolby, colored, being rescued
from the custody of Sheriff Cook."

The coroner turned over all the testimony taken in the inquest and his verdict to the prosecuting attorney and the action of this court is now awaited with intense interest. It is said in case of indictments being found against Coit and Cook there will be a change of venue and the trial will be held in some other county.

TWENTY-TWO WERE DROWNED.

a Heavy Storm.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The British steamship Culmore foundered off Spurn Head.
Twenty-two persons were drowned.

The storms and floods continue in southern England. The loss of life and property is increasing greatly.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—This city was visited by a terrible storm. Many were killed, numerous roofs blown off, wires prostrated and provinces flooded. The velocity of the wind was so great the anemometer on Eiffel tower was unable to register it.

LARNACA, Island of Cyprus, Nov. 15.—
The seaport town of Limason is greatly damaged by floods. Twenty-one were drowned.

CAN EXPLAIN TO THE HOUSE.

Will Want to Know Facts About China
and Japan Mediation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Representative Storer of the committee of foreign affairs of the house of representatives intends presenting to congress when it reassembles a resolution of inquiry as to the action of Secretary Gresham in suggesting to China and Japan that this country act as mediator in the settlement of the present war. Storer says he has no desire to embarrass the executive branch in any foreign policy they wish to pursue but as a member of the committee on foreign affairs he says
such a foreign policy as is now contemplated should properly have the attention and judgment of congress.

ROBBED BY AN EXPERT.

Sixteen Hundred Dollars Disappears
While at the Theatre.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Geo. Debolt of Stewart, Iowa, was robbed of $1,600 by unknown thieves as he was coming from the Grand Opera house tonight. The thief was so clever in his work that Debolt did not become aware of his loss until he had gone some distance from the theatre. He immediately reported the loss to police headquarters and although the officers were detailed ten minutes after the robbery occurred no trace of the thief has yet been found.
Debolt arrived this morning with a car load of stock and the money was the proceeds of the sale.

been looking since election night, surrendered himself today. He is charged with having wounded two men that day and is also wanted for alleged complicity in the murder of Gus Collander,
a judge of election who was killed ballot box. O'Malley denies he had anything to do with the ballot box theft.

ties. It is said she is wanted for alleged opium smuggling. The schooner authorities will make no statement as to the case. It is said more seizures will follow.

UNION OF LABOR INTERESTS.

Scheme of Consolidation of All Labor Unions Submitted to Knights of Labor.

MASTER WORKMAN SOVEREIGN
FAVORS THE PLAN.

Knights Are Advised to Oppose All Efforts to Increase the United States Regular Army.

ALL LABOR UNDER ONE HEAD.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—The morning session of the Knights of Labor was consumed in listening to an address by George Howard, vice president of the American Railway union. He presented a proposition for the consolidation of all labor organizations of the country into one body under a single board of management with an amalgamation of interest. Grand Master Sovereign also spoke in favor of Howard's plan. A general discussion of the subject followed.

At the afternoon session Master Workman Sovereign delivered his annual address, which was an exhaustive and elaborate resume of the work of the order from its inception. He attributed the decreased membership of the order to the depression in business circles, prevalent bankruptcy, low wages and the enforced idleness of the laboring class. He stated that he had traveled 35,464 miles since his stewardship had begun and organized eleven new assemblies and made ninety-seven public addresses. He reviewed the action of last January when he secured the services of Judge C. C. Cole and filed a bill in the district court of the District of Columbia setting forth the special grievances of his order and protesting against the issuance of bonds
by the secretary of the United States treasury. He characterized the writ of injunctio as a despotic injunction.

Referring to the American Railway union affiliations he advised a coalition with this as well as all labor organizations. His resume of the Pullman strike terminated in a severe criticism of Major General John M. Schofield and the recommendations of that officer for an increase of the army, together with the action of Chicago's aristocracy which presented a standard of colors to the Fifteenth infantry "as an indication of an uneasy desire to subjugate labor through the military powers of the nation." He urged the assembly to take strong grounds against an increase in the national military force and to "advocate a decrease in the regular army and the abolition of the state militia, for from them are coming to surface sentiments of military despotism."

He also made a sharp criticism of the banking laws. At the close of his address the report of the general executive board was presented and referred to several committees. It is a voluminous affair but contained much of interest to the delegates.

The meeting then adjourned until tomorrow.

DISCUSS INTERESTING TOPICS.

Episcopal Church Congress at Boston Is Well Attended.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—"Religious Order in the Protestant Episcopal Church Today," was the topic which occupied the attention of the morning session of the Episcopal church congress today. This afternoon the visiting clergy and members of the congress were entertained at a banquet given in their honor by the Episcopalian club of Massachusetts.

This evening session of the congress was largely attended. The topic for the evening, "How to Relieve the Poor Without Pauperizing Them," created unusual interest. Writers for the evening were Robert Treat Payne of Boston and Rev. Geo. F. Nelson of New York.
The appointed speakers were R. Fulton
Cutting, Rev. Joseph Reynolds and Rev.
W. S. Rainford, D. D.

John Dillon Looks Forward to a United

LONDON, Nov. 15.—John Dillon, the well-known anti-Parnellite member of the house of commons, delivered an address at Glasgow this evening. His speech was devoted to pointing out the necessity for union between Irishmen.
He said he was glad to bring the good news that the meetings in Dublin on Monday and Tuesday seemed to have established a center of unity around which all the loyalty of the Irish race would once more rally and which would be entitled in the future to speak the name of "Irish nation."

COPPER COUNTRY NEWS.

Sale of Seats for Calhoun Opera Company Went Like Hot Cakes. OPERA HOUSE WILL BE FILLED BOTH NIGHTS.

Rev. Scottford Lectures on Republican Government at Lake Linden Congregational Church This Evening.

The spectacle of fifty people in a line awaiting the opening of the sale of seats for the opera is one never seen in Houghton until yesterday morning.

The death of Henry Wegman which occurred last month will not interfere in any manner with the operations of the Wegman Piano company, which has just decided at a stockholder's meeting to put additional money into every instrument made.

Portage lodge No. 126, Ancient Order of United Workmen, held a meeting last night at which four candidates rode the goat across the alkaline plains and arrived safely at the harbor of refuge on the other side.

H. S. Cannon left Thursday instead of going on Monday next as was anticipated to purchase the furniture, crockery and fittings for the Houghton Country club.

J. F. Grip arrived yesterday from Ishpeming. He reports business as materially improved in Marquette county and prospects of considerable building in both the iron and copper districts during the coming year.

Sheriff Dunn went to Marquette Thursday afternoon, taking with him John Taiso, who will serve six years for shooting Myrland Lahti of Red Jacket, and Daniel Millillahti, who will spend three years at the Marquette branch prison for abducting a fifteen-year-old girl.

The village authorities have removed the unsightly pile of building stone on North Fifth street that lay so long in front of Steve Agnitch's lot.

William Jewell is having plumbing and heating apparatus placed in the Shea block at the corner of Oak and Eighth streets, and by Jan. 1, when he is to occupy the building, will have a complete though rather small hotel, which will be trebled in size next spring.

The funeral of the late John Rowe of the Osceola location was held from the Osceola Methodist church yesterday afternoon.

Contractor J. F. Grip assures THE MINING JOURNAL that the Swedish Lutheran church building will be completed and turned over for dedication by Dec. 1. The basement is already in use by the congregation.

Rev. H. C. Scottford will deliver his lecture on the triumph of Republican government at the Congregational church this evening. Some handsome stereopticon views will be shown by calcium light, and the edifice will be lighted by electricity for the first time.

The sale of seats reserved for Lake Linden and South Lake Linden people took place yesterday morning at Wisconsin and in the manner in which the seats were gobbled up assures a good representation of Torch Lake people at the Armory in Houghton next Monday evening.

AN APPLE PIE ROMANCE.

The Old Way to a Man's Heart—Through His Stomach.

"Heigh-ho! I wish something would happen. Something good, I mean. It seems as if something ought to happen on such a pleasant day, and I sort of feel it in my bones that it will."

Miss Barbara Brown sighed a little, as she looked out of her sunny west window on a mellow September day, and listened to a partridge whistling "Bob White" in a neighboring cornfield.

Miss Brown had often wished for a romance of her own, but had never had one, though she was thirty odd. She was tall and slender, with a rather long face, thin, yellow hair, very smooth and straight, and a small mole on her chin, which she imagined people were always looking at.

Perhaps her sigh was for the missing romance; at any rate she sighed again as she glanced across the neat paling fence to where Mr. Peter Perriman was busy gathering his Northern Spy apples.

"If he would only give me plain bread 'n' meat, with potatoes, and a bit of pie to top off with, I'd be perfectly content," he groaned inwardly, as he dispatched the mussy fricassee, sloppy hashes and "made-over" dishes, and the fearfully and wonderfully concocted puddings of his sister's production.

"If he would only give me plain bread 'n' meat, with potatoes, and a bit of pie to top off with, I'd be perfectly content," she stirred and mixed, and seasoned, at the elaborate messes, which tried the soul of Peter and injured his digestion, as well as kept herself and daughter in the kitchen for the best part of the day.

Neither was he a "ladies' man." In fact, he had always been exceedingly shy of the "women folks," and while Miss Barbara Brown had for years been in the habit of visiting and receiving visits from the Tibbinses with neighborly freedom, she had never had the pleasure of exchanging as many as a dozen words with Mr. Perriman in her life.

To-day, however, Mr. Perriman found himself in a rather unusual mood. Whether the mellowness of the apples he was gathering communicated itself to his feelings, or whether his obdurate bachelor heart was softened by the gentle September sunshine is a matter of uncertainty.

At all events, after casting several glances at Miss Brown's window he remarked to himself: "That woman looks kind of lone-some like, setting there all by herself. But no wonder; staying shut up in the house, darning or sewing on a day like this, instead of being outdoors gathering apples."

"Come to think of it, she hasn't got any apples to gather. Just like a woman," he grumbled. "Not an apple tree about the place; nothing but a lot of old gooseberry and currant bushes, by way of fruit! Maybe she couldn't help it, though, seeing she's all alone. There now, maybe I'm a booby, but I believe in my heart I'd go take her a mess or so of these here apples."

Mr. Perriman took a large tin pan with which he had been gathering apples, heaped it high with the rosy fruit, carried it to Miss Brown's door, and presented his fragrant offering with a few hasty and not very appropriate words.

spices. A neatly crimped border and a spray of fern leaves cut into the paste gave an artistic finish to the dainty structure.

When Peter Perriman's eyes beheld Miss Brown's offering, when he tested its undeniable excellence, dispatched a generous wedge of it and yearned for more, a sentiment of gratitude to the donor sprang up in his breast.

"Tip-top-est crullers ever I eat," meditated the bachelor. "Barbara Brown is a good cook. I'll bet a nickel she can cook meat 'n' vegetables as good as she can pie 'n' crulls. 'N' then she's sensible," continued Peter. "I hear her a-tellin' Tildy she'd rather hev a meal o' plain roast meat 'n' potatoes, with a good pie of some kind, or a batter pudding, with dip sauce, than all the rag-groos 'n' Frenchified messes that ever was put together."

"She's good tempered, too. A body can see that with half an eye, an' not bad lookin', particlar about the mouth and eyes. Some way I like these blue-eyed, yaller-haired wimmin. There's some vim about 'em. Seems to me she'd make a stavin' nice wife for some feller that ain't too young—me, for instance. I never thought much about it before, but seems like a man hadn't ought to be a mizzable old bachelor all his days, particlar when there's a nice single lady handy that's sensible 'n' knows how to cook. Not as I want to marry a woman jest cause she can cook, but a good meal o' vittles goes a long way towards keepin' a man contented 'n' cheerful."

"If she'll hev me—though I know she won't—I've a notion to resit it. That last batch of griddle cakes of Tildy's lays heavy on my stomach yet. Another dose of 'em'll give me the dyspepsy, sure as shooting. The only way out of it is for me to marry, so there ain't no use in shilly-shallying. Might as well pitch right in, first as last, so here goes!"

With an air of determination, Mr. Perriman deposited his hoe by the side of the fence, mopped his brow, and started toward Miss Brown's white-painted cottage with resolute strides. The door stood wide open, and through the screen Mr. Perriman could see Miss Barbara flitting briskly about in her tiny kitchen, and hear her singing, in a clear voice, the old-time melody:

"When shall I hear the bees a-hummin' All round the comb? When shall I hear the banjo tummin' Down in my good ole home?"

She broke off suddenly at the sound of a rap on the door, and came forward with a pleased smile on her lip and in her eyes.

"O, Mr. Perriman, I'll have to ask you in here, or my shortcake will burn," she apologized, hastily, bringing forth a splint-bottomed chair, and placing it near the window, which was hung with morning-glory vines, their purple cups still showing among the thick, green leaves. "I'm doing my Saturday baking, you see," explained Miss Brown.

But she got no further. Mr. Perriman had his mind made up and had no notion of dallying with his fate. Popping the question did not seem so easy a matter as it had a short time before, but it must be done, he felt, and the sooner it was over the better.

"Miss Barbara," he blurted out, looking her straight in the face, "I think you are a very selfish woman."

Miss Barbara blushed furiously. "I selfish?" she cried, aghast. "To be sure," nodded Peter, growing more composed at her evident agitation. "Don't you call it selfish to be baking shortcake and boiling ham (it smells mighty good) for your Sunday dinner, when your next-door neighbor is a poor old bachelor, who never has anything good Sundays—or any other day, for that matter?"

He paused and looked at her pathetically. Miss Barbara had never had a proposal before, but with a woman's unerring instinct she knew what was coming.

"Who is to blame because you are a bachelor?" she asked with a tremulous smile. "You are," declared Peter, boldly. "At least you will be if you don't promise to marry me." He held both her hands by this time in a firm clasp. "My shortcake is burning! Do let me go," begged Barbara.

"Not until you answer me, if it burns to a crisp," declared Mr. Perriman, ruthlessly. "Will you be my wife, Barbara? Yes or no?" And how could any woman hold out when her shortcake was in jeopardy? "Yes, Peter," murmured Miss Brown, demurely.

BOLD FRAUD PERPETRATED.

Election Returns of Kansas City Discovered to Have Been Tampered With.

TWO REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES WERE THE VICTIMS.

Politicians of All Parties Are Very Much Excited and Sensational Developments Are Expected Soon.

RETURNS WERE MANIPULATED.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.—Absolute and glaring fraud perpetrated on the tally sheets used in the recent election were today unearthed in the office of Recorder Viles. The fraud was discovered by W. T. Jamison, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, who was elected on the face of the returns but was counted out, and his attorney. The discovery was made in the presence of Recorder of Votes Owsley and was admitted by that official. Great consternation was caused among politicians generally by today's discovery and startling developments may be expected within the next few days.

Holding the sheet on which the figures are written between himself and the light Attorney Small could distinctly see where the erasures had been made with an ink erasure and new figures written in. By looking at the judge's returns in the same way both men were sure they could see evidence of figures in the tens column in Jamison's and Bremerman's votes altered. The recorder himself agreed that erasures and changes must have been made. Bremerman and Keshlar, the Democrats who were given the election in place of Jamison and Sloan, offered to submit to a recount. This proposition, however, was refused by the defeated candidates, who assert it is a scheme to trap them. They urge if the returns could have been altered the ballots could have been and probably were fixed to correspond.

WILL CONTEST STATE ELECTION.

Nebraska Republicans Confident They Have Been Defrauded.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 15.—It is now asserted on good authority that there will be a gubernatorial contest in Nebraska. The Republican state central committee is quoted as follows: "The committee believes it will have no trouble in satisfying the people of the state that gross frauds were committed and that Majors was elected. We continue to get information confirming our belief that enough votes were cast to elect Majors." It is said the committee will file the necessary papers before Nov. 26, the date on which time for the beginning of contests expires. Many of the leading Republicans are opposed to the contest.

NUMBER REMAINS THE SAME.

No New Clubs Will Be Added to National League.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A majority of the baseball magnates were present today when the Twentieth convention of the national league reassembled. It is practically acknowledged that all probability of a change at present is at an end so far as the number of clubs is concerned. The convention at once took up the discussion of the disposal of 10 per cent. of the gate receipts. After a long session it was agreed by a vote of 7 to 5 to abolish the 10 per cent. assessment to the league. The course was not adopted without a hard fight as the western clubs, or all but two of them, are largely benefited by the assessment plan. Together with the abolition of the assessment rule it was decided that each club competing in a championship game shall draw 50 per cent of the net receipts of such game. It is said that direct effect of this decision will be shadowed as to the future of the league the western clubs would not have submitted. President Young was re-elected to the presidency as well as being chosen secretary and treasurer. The remainder of the session was taken up with consideration of miscellaneous business.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION PROSPERS.

ROCK ISLAND, Ills., Nov. 15.—The directors of the Western Baseball association met here today and awarded Rock Island the pennant for the season of 1894. All the clubs were present except St. Joseph and that organization being in arrears was notified to make up the deficiency or stay suspended. The league is prosperous and the salary limit for 1895 was advanced from $800 to $900 per month. Rock Island, St. Louis and Denver were applicants for membership in the association.

O'DONNELL WANTS A FIGHT.

Challenges the World but Prefers Hall or Maher.

GALLESBURG, Ills., Nov. 15.—Champion James J. Corbett announces to-night that Steve O'Donnell is preparing to issue a challenge for a match with any man in the world for $5,000, Maher or Jim Hall preferred, the match to take place the week Corbett fights Fitzsimmons. Corbett says O'Donnell and McVeagh are training him daily for his fight with Fitzsimmons. Corbett runs twenty miles today and is in excellent condition. The champion offers $500 reward for the restoration of the stolen belt.

COULDN'T KNOCK THEM OUT.

Two Men Up Before Jim Hall Four Rounds Each.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Jim Hall failed tonight in an endeavor to put out Henry Baker of Milwaukee and Billy Woods of Denver in four rounds each. Fully 5,000 people assembled at Tattersall's tonight to see these and other exhibitions. In the Hall-Baker contest the first round was principally devoted by the men to "sizing each other up," although toward the close Hall hit Baker freely. In the second Baker let wildly and in return received blows which left him badly wounded. In the third Hall landed on Baker's face as he pleased. In the last round Baker

COMMERCE NOT ENCOURAGED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The second general session of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers met today. A number of papers were read upon subjects of national interest. Richard W. Meade, rear admiral of the United States navy said in the course of a paper: "If I had my way not a single cruiser should be added to the navy until at least twenty battleships, 100 torpedo boats and a number of rams were ready for service. The vessels least satisfactory to the practical men of our profession are the Columbia, Minneapolis, Detroit, and Cincinnati. The Majestic and Teutonic can laugh at them for speed. As to fighting I doubt the superiority of the Columbia over the American liner New York, suitably armed."

Next Session of New York Legislature Will Be Legal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Governor Roosevelt P. Flower today met a number of New York lawyers who were invited by him to discuss the questions raised with reference to the constitutionality of the legislature which is to assemble after January first. After a long general talk on the subject it was agreed that the validity of the acts of the legislature for the year 1895 do not present a sufficiently grave emergency to justify the expense of an extra session of the present legislature before 1895.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Alost says a serious conflict occurred today between the populace and twenty gendarmes. The officers resisted, and a desperate fight occurred, during which several men on both sides were wounded. The crowd was finally dispersed and the officers lodged the prisoners safely in jail.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

FOR THE WEARY FEET. MAKING OF A MAN-OF-WAR.

The Evils of Tight Shoes and How to Cure Them. Built on Paper First, Then of Wood and Finally of Steel.

A man who has made the human foot an object of research and study declares that short stockings are very nearly as injurious as short shoes. Hose of insufficient length press the knuckles of the toes upward, and when the shoe forces them down the natural result is a painful excrescence that vulgar folks designate as a corn.

"But surely you don't consider an ill-fitting stocking the cause of bunions, do you?" I inquired. "One of them," he replied. "Corns are the result of pressure. You see, the blood is forced from the sebaceous glands, therefore an excessive or unnatural quantity of oil is thrown off. This discolors the blood and the oil forces its way to the surface of the toe. As it reaches the cuticle it evaporates, leaving the top layer hard. Layer upon layer of oil forms downward and deepens until it presses on the nerves. Corns have no roots. That idea is fallacious. But they can not be cured until an instrument goes beneath all those layers of diseased oil and removes them. A soft corn is more easily treated and is largely the result of acid in the blood.

"After a corn has been removed, find out literally where the shoe pinches, then bathe the feet in cold water every morning upon arising and rub the part with prepared chalk."

"My informant added that for dry feet always use ice cold water; for moist feet, inclined to perspire freely, the water as hot as the skin can stand it, and bathe just before retiring. If the feet swell after much walking, put a little vinegar in the hot water; if they ache, use a few drops of ammonia or borax.

Rest the feet often. To do this change the shoes as frequently as possible. Even from an old to a new shoe is a rest. The muscles of the foot tire of one position, no matter how easy the leather or last may be. Four or five times a day, if it is convenient, are none too often to take this trouble, and its benefits are astonishing.

Ingrowing nails are the result of the corners being cut too close, allowing the shoe to press against them. This again requires skilled treatment. The pedicure's patronage is becoming as extensive as that of the manicure, for, apart from the treatment of painful excrescences, beautifying the foot is greatly in vogue. Preparations to whiten the skin are in use, and all the art of the manicure is called upon to assist that of the pedicure. Some society women can now present as well kept a foot as hand, the nails rounded and polished with equal daintiness.

LIFE OF A SPY.

Military Espionage and Military Methods of Gaining Information. The utility of the actual spy in time of war nowadays is limited, especially in actual warfare, by the fact that they are seldom able to convey their news fast enough, and during the turmoil of war it is only the very latest news that is of any value. When there is a temporary lull in the hostilities, they can be utilized in the camp of the enemy, and they are specially adaptable during the period of preparation for war, while the armies are occupied with the equipment and marching orders. Under such circumstances, important personages, who are seldom seen in intercourse with the others, mix freely among the ordinary herd, and thus an opportunity is afforded to the spy to study both country and people. If the "theater of war" is just on the boundaries, there is never any lack of self-sacrificing men who are willing to risk their lives and reputations for the sake of their country, and here again espionage loses a great deal of its abhorrent characteristics. Still the enemy is bound, in self-defense, to punish even these patriotic efforts with extreme severity, and the command issued by the Germans on August 19, 1870, was that all spies and traitors should be punished by death. Although the decree was greatly criticized at the time, it was in point of fact simply a necessary precaution. Other armies have gone still further; for instance, in the American war of independence, in 1780, the British major and general adjutant, Andre, was arrested on a tour of espionage in the enemy's lines and hanged, although he begged for the privilege of being shot "like a soldier."

Such espionage as this, however, can not be looked on as dishonorable—on the contrary. In this case the end certainly justifies the means. The spy who sacrifices reputation, honor and life for his country, may be looked on as a true hero.—Count Erich Von Walden, in Home and Country.

SOME WONDERFUL BOYS.

Marvelous Mental Feats Performed by Prolific Youngsters.

There are, of course, many excellent books which deal with boys in fiction, and there are also actual biographies which narrate what promising young persons certain individuals were who in after life achieved greatness, but in the latter case the prophecy is made after the event, and somehow or other the youth thus eulogized has generally too little of the boy about him to be quite believed in. What I venture to propose is that some sympathetic writer should tell us "what boys have done" when they were boys.

This is by no means so small a matter as may be supposed. There are, of course, the musical boys. Handel, who at nine years old "composed a church service for voices and instruments every week," and at fifteen brought out three successful operas, and Mozart, who also at nine had a reception in London "such as the curious give to novelty, the scientific to intelligence, and the great to what administrators to stately pleasure;" at ten he "composed a mass for the dedication of the church of the orphans at Vienna, and acted as director in person."

These were certainly boys who made some noise in the world.

Then there were the calculating boys—who, it is noteworthy, distinguished themselves as juveniles much more than as grown-ups—Zerah Colburn, who astonished the scientific world of London as a child "by raising the number eight progressively up to the tenth power," and whose mind was a fertile soil for cube roots when his contemporaries were learning addition.

One gentleman, by way of a sidelish during a feast of figures, asked him how many seconds there were in forty-eight years, and before the question could be written down he answered it correctly.

George Bidder made even this youth take a back seat, for at twelve years old, when taken to the stock exchange, he was asked this little question, and answered it in one minute: "If the pendulum of a clock vibrates the distance of nine and three-fourth inches in a second, how many inches will it vibrate in the course of seven years fourteen days two hours one minute fifty-six seconds?"

Even with pencil and paper I know persons (who shall be nameless) that could not answer this in seven years.

Then there was Chatterton, "the marvelous boy, who perished in his pride," and in quite another line of business, Thomas Malkin, who died not "a dotard at seven," but undeniably the greatest scholar of his age. He was an "all-around" genius. He knew more about Greek at four than some people (again I forbear to mention names) at fourteen.

At five he made copies of some of Raphael's heads so admirably that connoisseurs prophesied he would be a great artist. His most remarkable feat, however, because it showed imaginative powers of a high order, was his description of a visionary country called Allston, of which he considered himself king.

He wrote its history in a number of tales and letters, and drew maps of it, giving names of his own invention to its mountains, rivers and seaports.

He was probably the most remarkable boy—though, indeed, he was but a child—who ever lived.

The most excellent boy from the financial point of view was, however, undoubtedly, William King West Betty, better known as "the young Roccusius," who at fifteen years of age retired from the stage, having made something like thirty thousand pounds for his family.

Here was "something like" a boy—though, in fact, he was not in the least like one—and happy should be the father who has his quiver full of such.—James Payn, in Illustrated London News.

ISHPEMING AND VICINITY.

Preliminary Work on the Proposed Snowshoe Club's Toboggan Slide.

WILL HONOR THEIR INCOHNEE.

Thanksgiving Entertainments Planned. Able to Walk Again—Colorado Agrees With Him.

THE LINE SURVEYED.
The line for the toboggan slide to be built by the Ishpeming Snow Shoe club as soon as the weather permits was surveyed yesterday. The grading will be done within a few days so that the slide can be built without delay when the proper time comes.
The club house will be provided with two arc lights, which will be supplied by the Lake Superior Iron company this winter. With the electric lights in use the members of the club will be able to play indoor baseball and other games to better advantage than was possible with the oil lamps heretofore used. The first ball game of the season was played at the meeting last Monday evening.

Thanksgiving Entertainments.
There will be quite a number of entertainments and socials given by the societies and churches in Ishpeming Thanksgiving night. Among those already announced is a bachelors' supper at the Salisbury Methodist church. The affair will be entirely in the hands of the men, who will serve the supper and do all the work in connection with the feast without the aid of their lady friends. It promises to be a very novel as well as pleasant affair. At the conclusion of the supper a musical and literary entertainment will be given.
At the Swedish Methodist church the Young People's society will give an entertainment and hold a bazaar at which a variety of useful and fancy articles, prepared by the ladies, will be disposed of.
The English Salvation Army will also give an entertainment and serve supper Thanksgiving evening, for which a reasonable price will be charged.

Abandoned the Crutches.
Thomas J. Nugent, who went to Chicago about four weeks ago to undergo a second operation, returned yesterday. When he left here he was using crutches, and it was feared that he would never again have good use of one of his legs. The second operation, however, was a very successful one, as in less than ten days after it was performed Tom was out of the hospital and walking around with the aid of a cane. He is improving rapidly and will soon be able to lay the cane aside. Mr. Nugent's many Ishpeming friends will be pleased to learn that he is getting along so nicely.

Improving.
The Ishpeming friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph La Londe, who left here for Denver, Col., a few months ago (Mr. La Londe having been advised by local physicians to remove to a warmer climate on account of his falling health), will be pleased to learn that he is improving. He has become accustomed to the climate and is gaining in weight quite satisfactorily. Mr. La Londe was troubled with weak lungs. He advises his Ishpeming friends that the cough which seemed to affect him greatly during the past few months of his residence here has disappeared and he now has every hope of soon being as well as ever. He will remain in the west.

Will Remain Three Days.
Andrew H. Patton, the great in-cobonee of the Red Men's society of the United States, who will visit several of the principal lodges of the order in the northwest, will arrive in Ishpeming on Saturday, Dec. 1, and will remain here until the following Tuesday. On the night of his arrival he will be entertained by the members of the Pochanah-tas degree and on Monday evening Gitchee Gummee will take him in charge. Interesting programs are being prepared for both evenings and a big time is anticipated. This is the first time in the history of the order in this region that the head official of the order has visited the upper peninsula. The members of the local lodge feel greatly elated over the prospective visit of their distinguished brother, and they will spare no effort to make his stay at Ishpeming pleasant. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the affair is composed of William T. Cole, Thomas W. Tremberth and William Verran.

Change of Quarters.
Court Widows' Friend, No. 7,896, Ancient Order of Foresters, will meet hereafter, beginning next Monday evening, in Odd Fellows' Hall, post-office block, instead of at the Temple of Honor Hall on East Division street. A social entertainment will be given in honor of the event at the close of the regular meeting, which will be called at 7 o'clock sharp. The members of Court Pride of Ishpeming and Court Pride of Humboldt, with their ladies, have been invited to attend. Refreshments will be served and a musical and literary program will be rendered. A large turnout is looked for.

SAME GIRLS.

A Sympathetic Traveler Makes an Accidental Discovery.
A man had occasion to go to the union depot the other afternoon to meet his wife. When he had got to the station he found his train was half an hour late, and he bought a paper and sat down.

Not long after he had seated himself a rather pretty girl, who wore a pink waist and had nice, red cheeks and clear blue eyes, and who looked to be not over seventeen, came and sat down next to him. The man who was waiting for his wife took a casual look at the girl and went back to his paper.

Pretty soon another pretty young girl, who also wore a pink waist and had blue eyes and a fresh complexion and all that sort of thing, came along and stopped in front of the first girl. The second pretty girl looked as if she wanted to cry. She said with tremulous voice: "Why, Nettie, what do you think? The fare's a dollar."

"A what?" gasped Nettie.
"A dollar; and she told us it was only fifty cents; and I haven't got enough to get the tickets, and oh, dear, I don't know what we will do."

She sank down beside Nettie and the two looked at the tiled floor with very solemn faces. Presently Nettie looked up and said: "I'll take a walk around the room. Perhaps there is somebody here I know." She made the tour of the room and came back with her face gloomier than before. "Nobody here I ever saw before," she said, brokenly. The other girl sprang to her feet. "I'm going to tell the ticket man just how it is," she said. "Perhaps he will take what we've got and let us send him the rest." She came back with tears in her eyes. "He won't," she said sadly.

The man who was waiting for his wife heard all of this. His heart was touched. So he leaned over and said: "I beg pardon; but, ladies, I—that is, will you allow me to help you in your hour of trouble?"

The pretty young ladies started and looked at the man with frightened air. The man hastened to reassure them that his intentions were honorable, and, after many protests, and arranging for repayment and exchange of names and all that, he gave the pretty girls $1.50, and they thanked him prettily and went to get their train.

It so happened that the man's wife did not come on that train, and he went down to another train in the evening. While he was sitting on a bench waiting for the train he got to thinking of his afternoon experience and concluded he had done a right worthy act. As he was in the midst of this train of thoughts a pretty girl in a pink waist sat down beside him. Pretty soon another girl, looking all woe-begone, came along and said: "Why, Nettie, what shall we do? The fare's a dollar."

The man who was waiting for his wife got up and walked slowly to the door. He had seen a great light. They were the same girls.—Buffalo Express.

A VICTIM OF HABIT.

The Deplorable Fate of a Man Who Doted on His Mother's Cooking.

"Beautiful scenery here, is it not?" asked the young man of a solitary traveler whom he found pacing along the seashore.
"Well, no," replied the stranger. "I can't agree with you. I think the ocean is too small. It is no such ocean as my mother used to have."

"Your mother's ocean was superior, then?"
"Oh, yes, vastly superior. What tumbling breakers! What a magnificent sweep of view! What amplitudes of distance! What fishing there was in my mother's ocean."

"But the sky is magnificent here, is it not, sir?"
"Too low, and too narrow across the top," replied the stranger.

"I hadn't noticed," said the young man.
"Yes," said the stranger, "it is too low, and there isn't air enough in it, either. Besides it doesn't sit plumb over the earth; it is wider from north to south than it is from east to west. I call it a pretty poor sky. It is no such sky as my mother used to have."

"Pardon me, but did your mother have a special sky and ocean of her own?"
"Right here an old resident came up and drew the young man aside.

"Don't talk with him," said the old resident. "He is a hopeless lunatic. He is a man who always used to tell his wife about 'the biscuits my mother used to make,' 'my mother's pies,' 'my mother's puddings' and 'my mother's doughnuts.' The habit grew on him so much that he became a confirmed lunatic, and now he does nothing but compare everything he sees with the same thing his mother used to have."—N. Y. World.

NEGAUNEE LOSES A PIONEER. One of Its Early Business Men Obeys the Final Summons.

Changes on the Street Railway Line. New Horse for the Fire Department.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE. Although the death of Gottlieb Sporey, which occurred Wednesday afternoon, came rather suddenly it was not wholly unexpected, as he had been in very poor health for the past two years.

Mr. Sporey had been a resident of Marquette county for the past forty years. He came to Marquette from his native place in Germany. He remained in Marquette a little over two years, when he removed to Negaunee, where he lived since. He was born and married in Germany and was in his sixty-seventh year when death called him.

Mr. Sporey erected the first frame building in Negaunee. It was the old Jackson house, which stood on the ground now occupied by the Sundberg block on the south side of West Iron street.

Changes on the Railway. Louie Nelson and Eugene Rose, two of the motormen on the Negaunee and Ishpeming street railway line, have given up their jobs, and their places have been given to Ek, Johnson and T. Williams, two of the conductors.

LOCAL LAOCIONS. R. C. Mann, auditor of the Cleveland-Cliffs company, was in the city yesterday.

The stage line between Negaunee and Cascade has been running the past few days.

N. A. Eddy of Bay City, secretary of the Platt Mining company, has been in the city and at Cascade the past few days.

Justice John Jones is suffering from an injured knee. He got hurt by slipping while descending a stairway at his home.

Mrs. J. Trah of Chicago, who was here visiting her brother, Rev. Father Laugher of St. Paul's church, left for home Wednesday.

M. C. Quinn offers in this issue a reward for the return of a plain gold ring which he lost Wednesday. On the inside of the ring is the inscription "Sept. 4, 1884."

The Negaunee Literary club met at the residence of Mrs. A. Maitland Wednesday afternoon. The Whist club will be entertained by Mrs. M. C. Quinn next Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johns, who have resided in Negaunee for some time, expect to leave tomorrow or Sunday for their native place in England. Mr. Johns will go from there to Africa, where he expects to find employment.

The admission to the Adelphi rink tomorrow evening, when the Negaunee and White Star football teams will play a game, will be twenty-five and ten cents, the former price being for gentlemen. There will be skating before and after the game. A band will be in attendance.

One of the street cars jumped the track at the Union Park switch at supper time Wednesday evening and it took some time to get it back on the rails.

DOUBLE CONSCIOUSNESS. A Man Who Became a Child and Had to Be Educated Twice.

The subject of "double consciousness" had a most interesting exemplar in the person of David P. Jamieson, who died in Detroit in 1875 or 1876.

It cannot be truthfully denied that Jamieson was what the world usually denominates a "crank," but the crankiness did not interfere with the conduct of a prosperous business, nor with the usual obligations of the well being of society.

On the anniversary of his seventeenth birthday, Jamieson, who had been placed in a drug store in the city of Cleveland to learn the business, returned to his home to spend a few days with his parents. While walking in the garden with his mother he was suddenly stricken with what appeared to be catalepsy. He remained in an unconscious condition for four days, and when he came to himself he was to all intents and purposes a child.

My mother, who had been summoned, arrived just in time to witness my return to consciousness; and to her surprise and great joy, I awoke in possession of my first mental endowments, which, apparently, had been dormant for eighteen years.

My first expression astonished my mother, it being a repetition of the same question asked on the evening of my first transition, eighteen years before, viz.: "Does my father know that I have come home?" She replied, pointing to my bewildered parent standing near. "Your father is here—my dear child, what has come over you?"

When safely at home I was much surprised at the changed appearance of everything. My only sister, whom I had known as a child of seven years, now appeared so very much changed that no amount of argument could convince me of her identity.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Backen's Arnica salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at Farnham's Drug Store.

FOUR BIG SUCCESSSES. Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale.

Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver, stomach and kidneys. Backen's Arnica salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill.

That is merely one one-hundredth part of the experience of this strangely constituted man. At the time of his death—he was fifty or thereabouts—he was as he had been from babyhood to the time when his mentality changed so suddenly. The long period following this change was a complete blank.

Jamieson's case is one of the most interesting cases of "double consciousness" on record and it is not generally known.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Don't Laugh. The young electrical wizard, Tesla, says that he can supply the world with artificial sunshine as soon as he can safely care for the eight million volts necessary for that purpose.

Do not laugh at him nor compare him to the ancient philosopher, who said that he could move the world if he could secure a fulcrum for his lever. Nothing seems impossible to electricity, and some day even grim Chicago and dull London may be provided with the best three ply, yard-wide Italian sunshine, guaranteed to mellow the temper and consolidate the health by electrical contractors who have found out the secret of imitating the sun.—N. Y. Journal.

Other Parts of the Peninsula Will Doubtless Be Heard From Very Soon.

GOOD WORK GOES ON.

The movement for better game laws is going well here and nearly all approached on the subject have readily signed the roll as members of the Game Protective association. Lists were circulated yesterday and the membership is now nearly fifty. There ought to be no trouble in getting a membership of at least two hundred in this city. The more members that can be enrolled the more pressure can be brought to bear on the legislature in the direction of better laws.

The committee on correspondence is sending copies of the article printed in yesterday's MINING JOURNAL all over the peninsula. The cooperation of all sportsmen and good citizens is solicited. The newspapers of the peninsula are also being requested to publish such summary of the proceedings here as they may deem of interest, in order that the movement may receive all the publicity possible. It is too early yet to look for returns from other counties but several prominent citizens from Alger county who were in town yesterday expressed themselves as heartily in accord with the movement and agreed to try and organize a similar association in that county.

It should be clearly understood that the object of the proposed association and the legislation which it will endeavor to promote is not to curtail any one's liberty of action. It is not intended to prevent any man, no matter what his worldly condition, from having honest sport in the woods. It is intended to stop as far as possible the indiscriminate slaughter of game for profit instead of pleasure and to promote healthy recreation in our forests. It should be clear to everyone that unless something is done soon the deer in this peninsula will be wiped out as was the buffalo on the western plains.

No class of men are more interested in having the game preserved than those who make their living in the wood as guides, etc. They find their most profitable employment, not from the market shooters, who invade this territory and slaughter everything that will sell at any price, but from the men who hunt for pleasure and as a means of recreation and health. In the Adirondacks this fact has become so clear to the guides and trappers that they have made themselves volunteer game wardens to see that the laws are obeyed and under the sensible enactments of that state deer have actually increased in number during the last few years.

Keep the ball rolling.

Tickets for the Opera.

Persons at Ishpeming and Negaunee who have sent for tickets to the opera Saturday will find them at the box office before either the matinee or the evening performance, as the case may be. Residents of those cities who desire to secure seats can do so by letter to the management of the opera house or by telephone to THE MINING JOURNAL counting room. The best seats obtainable at the hour when orders are received will be reserved for them. This is a case of first come first served.

As the South Shore road has made the low rate of fifty cents for the round trip from Ishpeming and Negaunee, tickets good returning Sunday as well as Saturday, a considerable attendance from those towns is anticipated. The Calhoun company will undoubtedly give the best performances of comic opera to be seen anywhere on this peninsula this season and those who miss "Black Hussar" and "Amorita" will miss a musical treat. There are more good seats—though none in the house are poor—yet unsold for "Black Hussar" than for "Amorita," and while not so gorgeous a spectacle as the latter the former opera is justly preferred from a musical point of view.

Colder Weather Tonight.

The weather bureau reports a cold wave as following the area of low barometer which was central over Lake Superior yesterday. The thaw continued locally yesterday and on all open ground the sleighing was practically spoiled. Hence even with cold weather today or tonight the streets will be more less rough until another good fall of snow comes. That will probably not be long delayed for after the three mild winters of '89-90, '90-91 and '91-92 Marquette seems to be in for a swing of the pendulum the other way. In '91-92 the first snow storm and sleighing in this city was on New Year's day. Last year, on the other hand, the South Shore engines had to put on their snow plows Nov. 18 and this year some plows had to be put on Nov. 12.

An Accidental Omission.

Mr. Hoelscher's name was accidentally omitted in yesterday morning's account of the entertainment at Morgan chapel the night before. The ladies of St. Paul's would regret the omission and desire herewith to extend their hearty thanks to Mr. Hoelscher for the charming music which he so generously furnished throughout the entire evening. They feel that they are largely indebted to Mr. Hoelscher and to Miss Jones for the success of their entertainment.

The Contest in Alger.

According to all reports they are having a great time with election contests in Alger county. The only Republican who pulled through on the county ticket, by the face of the returns, was McIntyre, the nominee for treasurer. His Democratic opponent has filed a petition for a recount, which is now going on. Meanwhile the defeated Republican candidates for prosecuting attorney and county clerk are scrutinizing the count closely and may ask for a recount of their votes at any time. The vote at Munising was much larger than expected, a number of men from lumber camps south of there who were not expected to vote at all coming in unexpectedly. The fact that the Republican state ticket pulled through by less than fifty votes while none of the apparently successful candidates on the Democratic county ticket got over twenty plurality makes all the disappointed very restive. Alger county has been much mixed politically for the last few years and never more than now.

Shot for Turkeys.

Quite a crowd of local marksmen were out at the old race course yesterday afternoon to try their skill in the turkey shoot organized by Kit Bushnell. Three distances were shot, seventy-five, 140 and 130 yards. Bob Humes sustained his reputation as a crack shot, coming out of the match with three turkeys. R. A. Willson corralled two and William Fassbender two. Humes and Willson also shot for others and got birds for them. Several others got a turkey each. There will probably be another shoot in the near future.

Stopped the Dust.

Fraternity Hall has received a coat of strong size and one of calcimine on top of that. Of late the jar of dancing has sifted down considerable dust from the ceiling but this is now stopped. The dance hall has been otherwise decorated and now presents a much better appearance. Ever since its completion this hall has been the best in the city for medium sized parties and the improvements just made will doubtless tend to increase its present popularity.

Four Stocks In Trade
Comprising a grand choice of economic principles were offered to the people last week by the political bosses and the unfortunate ones that will now have the care of the public trusts, (incidentally the fat salaries too,) had their stocks loudly praised. Some thought they would get there with a RUSH, yet others got there all the SAMY.
The people though, the dear people have fought it out on an entirely new issue, promises weren't worth a cent.
Comparison Carried the Day.
Comparison is our stronghold, our hobby, merchants like politicians will praise their wares above that of the other fellows, but the people decide it by comparison.
For instance:
COMPARE OUR
