KILLED BY FALLING WALLS.

Earthquake in Sicily and Southern Italy the Cause of Many Fatalities.

INHABITANTS STILL CAMPING IN THE OPEN AIR.
Fearful a Further Disturbance They Refuse to Return to Their Already Half Ruined Homes.

MUCH PROPERTY IS DESTROYED.
Rome, Nov. 18.—The earthquakes in Sicily and southern Italy caused considerable damage to property and great loss of life. The province of Reggio Di Calabria suffered severely. Seventeen communes were involved in the disturbance. The village of San Procopio, near Palmi, is almost entirely destroyed. Here sixty persons were killed. Forty-seven of these met their death in a church to which they had fled for refuge.

At Baginara seven persons were killed. Eight lost their lives at Mamerlino and San Esameia while many others were injured. In the Calabrian towns of Triparni and Milto many houses were destroyed and a number of persons injured. Much damage was also done in the adjacent province of Catanzaro.

Renewed shocks were felt yesterday and today at Milazzo. So severe were the movements of the earth that great seams appeared in the walls of many houses. The inhabitants of this place are badly frightened and remain camped in open spaces. No further shocks have been reported from other places.

TWO THOUSAND SLAUGHTERED.
Another Slaughter of Armenians Is Reported from Smyrna.

VIENNA, Nov. 18.—A letter has been received from Smyrna reporting that Zeki Pasha, the Turkish marshal, with a detachment of Nizam and a field battery, massacred two thousand Armenians at Sassun. The bodies of the dead were left unburied and their presence caused an outbreak of cholera. So far there is no official confirmation of this news but, if true, it is time for the powers to act as they share in the responsibility by their failure to enforce article 61 of the Berlin treaty which imposes upon them the duty of seeing that the porte takes measures to protect the Armenians.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says the energetic action of Sir Philip Curie, British ambassador to Turkey, has caused consternation among the members of the Turkish government. Everything has been done to keep the facts of the outrages secret. Information from various sources tends to prove the Sassun affair most serious.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A dispatch from Constantinople to The Standard says the sultan has decided to send a commission to Sassun for the purpose of making an impartial inquiry into the outrages. The latest news is to the effect that many Armenians who were supposed to have been killed had fled and are now returning.

ARE PREPARING FOR WAR.
Mexican Government Preparing for Unpleasantness With Guatemala.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 18.—The national arms factory here is turning out cartridges as fast as possible. The greatest bustle is noticeable in the war department. This is giving rise to many rumors. It is rumored that assistants of the secretary of war are going to Vera Cruz within a few days to see about better transportation for troops to the Guatemalan frontier.

COMTAN, Mex., Nov. 18.—There is the strongest possible feeling here in favor of war with Guatemala. The people from the adjacent section of Guatemala are most bitter in their complaints against the Guatemalan government which has lately relieved all authorities who were from this section and appointed people from the interior to fill their positions, and an uprising is imminent.

SAN CRISTOBAL DE LA CARAS, Mex., Nov. 18.—The greatest enthusiasm exists in this state in favor of war. The government has been asked to accept volunteers.

BLACKLISTED MEN STARVING.
Over Two Hundred Families of Railway Men Destitute.

DEVER, Nov. 18.—After a careful canvass a committee has reported that 215 families of American Railway union men are on the verge of starvation and 400 unmarried men destitute in consequence of the black list enforced by the railways against the men who struck last summer.

DEMANDED THEIR WAGES.
Discharged Employees of Chicago Water Department Raise Disturbance.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—A large detail of police was called out at noon yesterday to quell a bread riot in the city hall. Two hundred and fifty discharged employees of the water department gathered about the comptroller's office and demanded the wages due them. The comptroller sent a clerk to inform the men that there was no money in the city treasury to pay them. Instantly the crowd became riotous. Cries for bread and threats of instant vengeance were howled forth by the angry crowd, and the comptroller, gathering his clerks, barred the doors to his office and sent a hurried call for policemen.

Half a dozen officers appeared, but were promptly pushed out of the corridor by the thoroughly aroused men. A battalion of patrolmen was summoned, and after a liberal use of force the rioters were clubbed into submission and driven from the city hall. The large crowd which had been attracted by the disturbance was heartily in sympathy with the ex-employees, and threats to compel instant payment of the overdue wages were numerous until the police succeeded in dispersing the throng.

ATTENDED SUNDAY SERVICES.
Woman's Christian Temperance Union Held No Regular Session.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Business was laid aside today by the delegates and officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union convention. The time was devoted to worship and rest. Many visitors spoke in the pulpits thrown open to them by the city pastors. A mass meeting was held in Music Hall this afternoon. President James W. Bashford of Ohio Wesleyan university was accorded the honor of delivering the annual sermon, which office has heretofore been filled by women. Dr. Bashford in his address discussed Tammany and the municipal corruption existing in the chief cities of the land and the temperance question. He held that the Prohibition movement could be brought about much quicker by placing ballots in the hands of women. He urged the women to influence their husbands and brothers to attend the political caucuses and put themselves on record as believers in woman suffrage. After the sermon a rousing suffrage meeting was held presided over by Susan L. Anthony, and this evening meetings were held in different parts of the city.

MAY CAUSE RATE WAR.
Missouri Pacific Leaves Western Passenger Association.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—The Journal tomorrow will say: "When Chairman Caldwell, of the Western Passenger association, opens his mail in Chicago Monday he will have a notice of withdrawal from General Passenger Agent Townsend of the Missouri Pacific. At least it is a positive fact such notice was mailed to Caldwell Saturday night. The action of the Missouri Pacific practically dissolves the Western Passenger association. Various causes are assigned for this action by the Missouri Pacific. The chief one is that rates in general have been demoralized, especially those to the southwest and Pacific coast. It will not be at all surprising." The Journal continues, "if the breaking up of the Western Passenger association, which seems probable, will precipitate a general western passenger rate war."

FOILED BY THE ENGINEER.
Refused to Stop the Train When Signalled by the Bandits.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 18.—Shortly after midnight this morning an attempt to hold up a passenger train on the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley road at Panther Run, Miss., was balked by the coolness of Engineer Honer. After nightfall half a dozen strange men were seen hanging around the place for an hour or two, when they disappeared and were not seen again until the train was starting out when one appeared on the track signalling the engineer to stop. The engineer, however, sent the train through. As it passed the signal light half a dozen men stood there with revolvers in hand and all fired at the locomotive cab. Fireman Cole received a bullet through his arm and is seriously wounded.

HAVE BEEN DISORDERLY.
Great Crowds Still Waiting to View the Czar's Body.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—Following the custom that has prevailed since the time of Peter the Great imperial heralds paraded throughout the city today and announced that the funeral of Czar Alexander would take place tomorrow at the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. Immense crowds are still waiting to gain admission to the cathedral to view the czar's body for the last time. So great have been the crowds and so intense the desire to get into the cathedral that there has been some regrettable scenes of disorder. Lamp posts and trees have been knocked down and many persons badly hurt by crushing.

ALASKA IS PROSPEROUS.
Has Passed a Year of Prosperity in All Directions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—James Sheakley, governor of Alaska, in his annual report, says the fisheries have been successful, the mines have yielded profitable returns, the population was largely augmented by immigration and the people have enjoyed a season of unusual progress and prosperity. The patrol of Bering Sea has not prevented poaching and the governor says "it is obvious if this destructive marauding is allowed to continue it will be but a few years until the seal rookeries will be entirely deserted and the business of fur sealing will have passed into history."

CHEROKEE BILL WOUNDED.
Deputy Marshals Have the Lawless Bandits Surrounded.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Nov. 18.—The report that Cherokee Bill was badly wounded in the late battle with deputies has been verified by dispatches to United States Attorney Jackson tonight. The information from the fighting grounds is that Cherokee Bill's band is surrounded and another bloody fight is looked for.

Must Be Hunting Revenge.
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 18.—Governor Waite has decided to go upon the lecture platform. He will make a short tour in the west before his term expires, delivering the first lecture in St. Louis, November 19 and 20, and going from there to Chicago.

KNOCKED INTO ETERNITY.

Con Riordan Died From the Effects of a Blow Struck While Boxing.

FITZSIMMONS IS HELD UNDER $10,000 BONDS.
Badly Broken Up Over the Accident and Fears He Will Be Unable to Meet Corbett.

SPORTING CIRCLES EXCITED.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Riordan, the pugilist who was knocked unconscious by Fitzsimmons, the coming opponent of Champion Jim Corbett, died at the Candee House at 3:30 yesterday morning. At about 3 o'clock he was in the same state of unconsciousness which he had been all evening, when his laborious breathing and nervous twitching of the muscles of his face and body warned the physicians that his death was approaching. At 3:15 o'clock his breathing had almost entirely stopped and at 3:30 Dr. D. M. Tolman pronounced him lifeless. At his bedside at the time of his death were three physicians and about twenty members of the local sporting fraternity.

His funeral was held today and was attended by the members of the Fitzsimmons variety company and a large number of sporting men. The services were conducted by Rev. A. S. Durston, secretary of the local Young Men's Christian association. The body was taken to the vault at Oakwood.

An autopsy was held on Riordan's remains. The certificate issued gives the cause of death "hemorrhage within the cranial cavity, causing compression of the brain." Riordan was found to be in perfect health. Dr. D. M. Tolman, who conducted the autopsy, says that Riordan must have been struck a terrific blow on the chin, which communicated direct with the base of the brain. The depression of the right side of the brain was very deep and remained for half an hour after the clot was removed.

When Fitz appeared before Judge Northrup for bail it was discovered that the attorney had failed to waive examination in his behalf. This formality was necessary before he could be released, and he was locked in the court house cells until the police justice could be found. At 3:35 the errors in Fitzsimmons' arrangements were corrected and bail was fixed at $10,000. Sullivan and Charles Gang signed the bail bond and Fitz was released. "Yank" Sullivan brought the news of his sparring partner's death to Fitz. "My God, you don't mean to tell me 'Connie' is dead?" said the pugilist. "I cannot believe it. I did not hit him hard enough to injure a child." Fitzsimmons was completely broken up over the affair. He did not sleep at all last night and refused to eat this morning. The Australian champion sobbed like a child when the prospects of his match with Corbett being declared off was mentioned to him. He said it was his greatest ambition to meet the American champion but the turn of affairs looks very dark for him at present. "Fitz" said it was the first time in his career that he had met with an accident in the ring although he once knocked out Frank Bosworth, his former sparring partner, by a chance blow.

Lawyer Friend of New York, Fitzsimmons' counsel, arrived today. He said in his opinion it would take expert testimony to get at the exact cause of Riordan's death. He felt sure Fitzsimmons would be tried for manslaughter and would be acquitted.

Captain Glori, Fitzsimmons' manager, said: "Riordan had been drinking heavily for months. I advised him several days ago to stop drinking and go to work and train. He promised he would and had started out and walked about ten days, causing swelling of the feet. He was accustomed to fortify himself with whisky before his performance each evening and last night he probably took an extra large dose, as he felt more than usually out of sorts. I am convinced that had we known more of his condition we would never have let him go on the stage."

KILLED BY PHYSICIANS.
Riordan May Have Been Alive Until Autopsy Was Performed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—The Sentinel will publish an interview with Dr. H. S. Tanner, the physician who has given so much study to psychological subjects, in which the declaration is made that Con Riordan was probably killed by the physicians who made the autopsy. Tanner condemns such hasty action and makes the assertion that they violated the law of New York in holding the autopsy in less than twelve hours after the supposed death and without the consent of the relatives of the deceased. The doctor is of the opinion that Riordan was in a state of suspended animation at the time of the autopsy.

THEY RUN THE SLEEPER.
Drunken Cowboys Enjoy Themselves on a Passenger Train.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 18.—The conductor on the Wagner sleeper, who came in from Galveston on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway, says the passengers were terrified in the Indian territory by a dozen drunken cowboys. They boarded the train at a small station and made themselves at home in the Wagner sleeper. They demanded whisky, telling the porter if he did not "cough up" they would blow up the buffet. They got the whisky. After keeping up an uproar for some time they listened to persuasion and got off without doing any damage, excepting to the passengers' nerves.

PROTECTS THE NATIONAL GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The result of the recent deliberations of the National League magistrates is embodied in a manifesto drafted by a committee of four appointed for that purpose and is made public today.

"The fundamental principle of the national agreement as originally drawn and which is now in operation is a respect for territorial rights.

It is a matter of public rumor and also fact which come to our knowledge that men identified with clubs and members of the national agreement, have been co-operating in the formation of clubs or organizations whose purpose is in conflict with the national agreement.

"We furthermore request your board to take like action in the case of any player, manager, umpire or club official who in future identifies himself with a similar movement."

At a meeting of the national board of professional baseball clubs held at New York, November 16, the above manifesto was received from the National League and American Association of professional baseball clubs.

RATHER EMBARRASSING.

3r. Masher Makes a Mistake in His Calculations. She was a cute, pretty little thing, so small that her feet didn't touch the floor of the car. It worried her, too, for occasionally she tugged away at her skirt to hide the display of silken hose.

A GOOD LESSON.

Respect for the Court Taught an Applicant for Citizenship. Judge Ferris is a man who believes in maintaining the dignity of the courts. While he does not use his position to be captious about it, yet he never fails to impress on a person who displays a lack of respect for the court and through it the law, that the court must be respected and its dignity maintained.

The "Ship of the Desert" Now Known to Thrive in Cold Countries.

According to a recent dispatch from St. Petersburg the wild camel has been discovered in large numbers in that portion of Asia which lies between Lobnor and Sajoy. This will dispose of the doubts that have hitherto prevailed on the question as to whether the "ship of the desert" really exists in an untamed condition.

A LITTLE BIT TALK.

James Payn recalls in a certain mess-room the conversation after dinner turning upon a Capt. Mosely in the regiment who had the gift of prophecy; though it must be confessed it was mainly limited to sporting events.

COMPOSING ON THE MARCH.

Melody Came to Him in the Ranks, and It Almost Caused Trouble. Benvenuto Coronaro, the composer, recently published some reminiscences in one of the Italian musical papers.

PATTI CHANGED HER MIND.

A distinguished instance of a complete revulsion of feeling over one's first impression is said to be afforded in the case of Mme. Adolina Patti. Some years ago she took a pronounced dislike to a French tenor, allowing her unfavorable impression to influence her professionally to the degree that she refused to sing with him.

FLOCKING TO FRENCH CITIES.

French Farms Left Largely in the Hands of Children and Old Men. The complaint of overcrowded cities and decaying rural population is heard in France, and one very probable explanation of the diminishing numbers and virility of the French peasantry is given by Jules Simon.

DOWN THE ANDES.

A Rough and Exciting Ride on the Transandine Railway.

A correspondent sends an interesting description of a crossing of the Cordillera de los Andes, in the present state of the Transandine railway. The letter says:

"By seven a. m. we were at the first inn on the Chili side. We there chartered a four-horse carriage to drive us to the end station (on this side) of the railway, which feat was accomplished in two hours' time. I call it a feat because the road is all along the river cut into the mountain side, and often there is hardly room for four horses abreast to pass, and when I looked out of the window into the roaring river below I often wished I had been on my mule.

The following is a correct copy of the first letter ever received by the queen from her ever-lamented husband: "Bonn, June 28, 1837. My Dearest Cousin--I must write you a few lines to present you my sincerest felicitations on the great change which has taken place in your life."

A BIRD-HUNTING PIG. He was as Reliable as Any Pointer Dog in the Field. We call pigs stupid creatures. This is not fair. They are really as intelligent as the majority of domestic animals.

As a baby pig she belonged to a person named Toomer, and she was reared with a family of young pointer puppies. She took kindly to her playfellows, and when they became old enough to follow the keeper in his walks, she, too, would come trotting and grunting after him.

He had, he said, broken many dogs as obstinate as pigs, and could surely break a pig that was so much more tractable than the rest of her kind. So he taught her to "back," that is, to stand perfectly still whenever a dog had found game and was pointing at it.

But this was not all. He discovered that piggy, like many other pigs, had a keen sense of smell. She learned to scent the game, and point at it for herself, but not quite like a dog. A pointer dog when he has found game stands generally with one of his forepaws held up till his master comes to him.

Piggy, as soon as she was sure that she had found a partridge or a hare or a rabbit, would drop on his knees and so remain for five minutes if necessary. Unfortunately before her schoolmaster had time to teach her any further accomplishments he died. His widow sent piggy to a man with whom she lived for three years. But, alas, piggy did not escape the common doom of pigs. In the end she was shut in a sty, fattened, and made into bacon, as all her ancestors had been before her.

A FALSE DIAGNOSIS. La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the forehead, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time.

DOES NOTHING FOR MAN.

Scepticism Does Nothing to Ameliorate the Condition of the Race.

SECOND OF MR SPENCER'S SERIES OF DISCOURSES.

Calhoun Company Pleased All by Its Fine Productions of "Black Hussar" and "Amorita".

ITS CLOTHES ARE BORROWED.

Despite the inclemency of the weather the Presbyterian church was well filled last night at the second of Rev. D. B. Spencer's series of discourses on "The Sceptic." The preacher's theme last night was "The Sceptic on Borrowed Clothes" and the general idea was that the unbelievers who claimed credit for the progress of the human race in freedom of thought, in works of humanity and mercy and in hatred of hypocrisy and cant were masquerading in borrowed raiment—that these were really the outgrowth of Christian thought and Christian teaching. The speaker sustained his thesis well and in general made out his case, though the exception might be taken that most of the reformers and teachers whom he called Christian were held to be heretics if not unbelievers and infidels by the mass of so-called Christians of their time. But the saint of this century has almost always been the heretic of the last century.

Mr. Spencer began with a brief summary of his discourse a week ago, wherein he had set forth the intellectual difficulties of accepting the sceptical creed. The sceptic who looked at his own creed and considered its difficulties could only say that he had been so occupied with the difficulties of the Christian symbols of faith that he had not had time to work out his own ideas. But the sceptic would claim that the sceptic, the sceptic, the pro-... an dogma had led testers against freedom: "at scepticism had released men from men's despotism, that it had cultivated freedom of thought, that it had advocated the brotherhood of man and works of mercy, that it had stimulated hatred of hypocrisy and cant. What were the historic facts, the speaker inquired. Whence had come these noble ideals which so pervade and bless the world today? All were Christian; all had been borrowed from Christian thought and teaching, and the sceptics were parading in borrowed garments.

First, as to freedom of thought. What thinker or teacher had attained to that conception until Christ said: "If the truth shall make you free, then shall you be free indeed." The people who heard him did not understand that saying. No one, at least in the western world, had previously reached farther than the idea of physical freedom as opposite to slavery. No one had formulated the thought that though the body be in chains yet the soul might be free. Galileo, a devout Christian, had contended for the freedom of scientific thought. John Huss, a Christian, had contended for liberty of spiritual thought. Martin Luther, the stout old monk, had faced the assembled potentates of Germany at the diet of Worms and when called upon to abjure his assertion of the freedom of individual opinion had refused, saying: "Here I stand; I can do no other; God help me!"

In England the army of Cromwell, which had destroyed despotic power and brought to the scaffold a king for his offenses against the people, was a Christian army. The three thousand ministers who went forth from their homes into the world, not knowing where to lay their heads or to get bread for their children, because they refused to accept from Charles II license to preach and teach contrary to the liberties of England, were followers of Christ. The pilgrims who crossed the stormy Atlantic into the wilderness to found a new nation where they might have freedom to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences, were all Christians. And where in all these contests were the sceptics, the scoffers and the unbelievers? On the side of despotic power, of oppression, of restraint of mental freedom and of tyranny over both mind and body.

Then as to love for humanity, and works of charity and mercy. Where in Rome at the height of its power, in the golden Augustan age, when scepticism pervaded the educated and powerful classes, was there a hospital or an orphanage? The pagan philosophers had taught that exposure of undesired children to death was no crime. The first hospital for the care of the sick and infirm of which history contains any record was founded by a Christian woman. And when tender women looked upon the bloody sports of the arena with laughter and gave the signal of death to the vanquished it was the Christian monk Telemachus who had sprung between the swords of the gladiators and by his own death had started the tide of mercy on its flow.

All these virtues of freedom, humanity and the truth which makes free were the gifts of Christ to man, the legacy of Christianity. Scepticism when it claimed these virtues for its own was masquerading in the borrowed robes of Christ.

The third of this series of discourses will be given next Sunday evening.

Spectators Were Delighted.

The performances Saturday afternoon and evening by the Calhoun company surprised and delighted the audience on both occasions. The company has been greatly strengthened and improved since its appearance here two years ago and is a well-balanced and very competent organization. The management proceeded on the correct idea that it is better to have a good ensemble—plenty of good average well-trained voices—than a few singers with a lot of dummies who cannot sing and only fill space. In this idea they deserve and are obtaining public support, for theatre goers are becoming very tired of so-called operatic performances given by one or two stars and a bundle of sticks. The Calhoun company has the best chorus ever heard here—the male chorus in particular being an agreeable surprise—and while none of the principals can be called great singers all are thoroughly competent. The general verdict on the two performances was that they were the best of light opera ever seen in this city.

At the matinee, when "The Black Hussar" was given the house was of good size, though not so large as the merits of the company deserved, but the favorable impression then made doubtless served to augment the crowd in the evening. George Lyding, the leading tenor, has a voice of good quality and range. From his first appearance he captured the house and played the soldier disguised as chaplain well. The great quartette which closes the first act of "Black Hussar" was most beautifully done by Misses Millard and Farrington and Messrs. Lyding and Wagner. Mr. Lyding's solo in the second act—"Now swells each warrior's breast"—was his most striking number. Miss Millard is a stately blonde with a good soprano and Miss Farrington's solo in the third act—"Somebody loves me"—was deservedly encored. The male chorus which opened the third act—"Comrades in arms"—was also a great hit. The comedy parts were extremely well handled by Messrs. Flint (Hagenback) and Webb (Piffkow) and Miss Lodge (Barbara). It is worthy of notice that in this company even the comedians can sing and in fact Mr. Webb won a recall by his very pretty solo in the second act of "Amorita."

The latter opera was new to most play-goers here. It falls somewhat short of "Black Hussar" in melodic beauty but contains many pretty airs, notably the waltz song—well known from its popularity as a dance air—and Amorita's air in the third act. Miss Millard sang the title role very well and Miss Farrington made a very engaging lover. Mr. Lyding did not have so many opportunities as in "Black Hussar" but the finale of the first act, in which he is the central figure, so pleased the audience that a curtain call was insisted upon and the principals had to reappear on a stage half stripped for the next act. The comic parts were well handled by Messrs. Flint and Webb and Miss Lodge. Several local hits were introduced by the former with good effect. "Amorita" was quite elaborately staged, the moonlight scene of the third act eliciting a burst of applause from the audience as the curtain rose. Mention should be made of Miss McKensie, the very shapely captain of the guard and of the fact that the ladies of the chorus far surpassed in good looks any collection ever seen here. Both operas were very handsomely costumed. Musically Miss Farrington and Mr. Lyding rather carried the honors of "Black Hussar" and Miss Millard and Mr. Webb of "Amorita."

The South Shore railroad held the west bound train twenty-five minutes to accommodate visitors from up the road and as the performance was over at 10:55 all who cared to could get home. The company remained here until yesterday afternoon and then left for the copper country, appearing in Houghton this evening.

Genuine Winter Weather.

This region is promised some pretty cold weather for today and the progress of events up to an early hour this morning indicated that the promise would be fulfilled. The sharp and rather raw cold of Saturday moderated a little that night and about noon yesterday a snow-squall began, which continued until after dark. The weather grew steadily colder and at 10 o'clock last night the mercury stood about 6 degrees above zero and was going down. Observer Patrick received yesterday afternoon the following message from Chief Harrington of the weather bureau:

"Hoist cold wave signal. The temperature will fall 30 degrees by Monday afternoon." At 7 o'clock last evening the thermometer in the weather station here marked 9 degrees above zero. Hence it is reasonable to expect that by this evening the mercury will be down to 10 or 12 degrees below zero. People who have not yet put on their storm windows had better do so early this morning.
