FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

An Over Charged Blast Causes An Awful Explosion of Coal Dust.

ACCIDENT DUE TO IGNORANCE OF GREEN ITALIAN.

Seven Persons Were Killed and Many Others Badly Injured by the Frightful Accident.

BODIES FRIGHTFULLY MANGLED.

WHEELING, Nov. 20.—The most appalling mine disaster that ever occurred in this section took place today shortly after noon at the Blanch coal mines on the Pan Handle railroad at Colliers station. A new Italian put off an over charged blast which ignited the coal dust in the mine and a fearful explosion followed, carrying death and destruction in its path. There were forty-eight men in the mine at the time and the following are known to be dead: MICHAEL ROONEY, THOMAS JORDAN, THOMAS TUCKER, married, DAVID ROWLAND, married, JOHN DONNELLY, married, leaves ten children, ANTONIO SATTIE, married, MAZZELE GISSIEDEO, married. The following were badly injured: JOSE REEL, married, RAFFLE NECK, will die, JASPER LAWRENCE, THOMAS MOIRIS, colored.

After the explosion there was a terrific whirlwind in the mine carrying everything before it. Donnelly and Rooney were in the mine some distance from the mouth. The force of the explosion drove them nearly a hundred yards out of the mouth and landed Rooney on the railroad track killing him instantly, while Donnelly landed in a gully, striking his head against a post. His brains were dashed out and scattered for yards around. His wife was the first to find him and she swooned away and is now lying prostrated by the shock. There is little hope that she will recover. News of the disaster quickly spread and in a few moments hundreds of people crowded about the mouth of the mine. Many heart rending scenes were enacted. Wives and children of the miners became frantic and strong men were overcome. In a short time the rescuing party went into the mines after the bodies. When the bodies were brought to the surface many women swooned at the sight. The miners charge that the accident was due to the inexperience of the Italian miners and declare they will not work with them any more.

EVIDENTLY MEAN BUSINESS. Guatemalan Forces Preparing to Invade Mexican Territory. OAXACA, Mex., Nov. 20.—The situation on the Guatemalan and Mexican borders is very threatening and it is believed Guatemalan troops are preparing to make an aggressive move against Mexico within the next few days as the different regiments are being drawn close together as if the invasion of Mexican territory was their object. There is a feeling of great apprehension among the people of the states of Tabasco, Chiapas and Oaxaca which are situated on the border over the threatened invasion and many settlers are leaving the turbulent section pending a settlement of the difficulty.

IMPORTS LITTLE MEAT. Government Officers Say Denmark Uses Little American Meat. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Officials of the agricultural department say the meat and cattle exports from the United States to Denmark are insignificant in amount and are inclined to believe that Germany induced the Danish government to take the step as a method of making its exclusion of American products more effective. The officials will not be surprised at the announcement before many weeks that Holland and Belgium, which are as closely allied to Germany as Denmark, have followed her lead.

SMOKE STACK COLLAPSED. Broke Through a Skylight and Injured Many People. CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A sixty foot steel smoke-stack was torn from the university club building today and fell on the skylight of the Hand abstract building, driving showers of broken two-inch glass into the offices below. H. H. Handy, president of the company, and C. O. Bostrick, one of the clerks, are seriously and possibly fatally injured and all of the remaining hundred and twenty-five employees in the building more or less cut and bruised, among them being ex-United States District Attorney Milchrist.

TAKE A DETERMINED STAND. Alabama Kolbites Will Try to Capture the Government. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Colonel Leo Crandall, who ran for congress on the Kolb Democracy ticket against General Wheeler in the Eighth Alabama district, was today fresh from a conference of Kolb men, at which it was determined to issue a manifesto. Mr. Crandall says Colonel Kolb will be duly sworn in as governor on the first of December by some magistrate qualified to administer oaths and will then proceed to attempt to perform the functions of governor. When asked whether fighting would ensue Crandall said: "Oates' men have the militia back of them and the support of the administration while we have not many arms, but you know what Napoleon said about fight. There will be contests made in the house against six of the eight Democratic candidates who were given certificates of election and we will present such indisputable evidences of frauds that the committee cannot overlook them."

Senator Pugh of Alabama arrived today fresh from home. He declined to discuss the Kolb matter further than to say that if Captain Kolb should attempt to put his plans in execution he feared and believed there would be serious trouble. The senator in reply to a question said Governor Jones is a man of courage and determination.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED. Mrs. Willard Is Re-elected President of the W. C. T. U.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—After the devotional exercises at the opening of the Women's Christian Temperance union today when the order of election of officers was reached Miss Frances E. Willard was re-elected president with Mrs. Stevens as vice president. The other officers chosen were: Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clara Hoffman, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen M. Barker, re-elected treasurer. At the afternoon session exercises were held in memory of Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, late recording secretary of the national organization, who died about a month ago. At the conclusion of an impressive service an adjournment was taken. The evening session was devoted to the topic, "The Development of the Crusade Idea." A number of interesting addresses were made on the subject. Later thirty-two ladies, in charge of Captain Truelove of the Salvation Army, went on a tour of the slums of the city.

POWDERLY WAS NOT IN IT. Knights of Labor Reelect Sovereign as Grand Master.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—Grand Master Sovereign was re-elected today without opposition by the Knights of Labor general assembly. At the afternoon session the election of an executive board was in order and the present incumbents were re-elected with but few dissenting votes. The members are T. B. McGuire, H. B. Martin, C. A. French and James M. Fenney. Washington was chosen as the place for holding the next annual convention. The new officers were then installed. There is plenty of work before the assembly and an adjournment will not probably take place until the last of the week. Powderly and his delegation left the city tonight without springing any sensational charges and applying for writs of injunction against the officers of the general assembly as had been announced.

PLEASED WITH THE ELECTION. New York Chamber of Commerce Gives Annual Dinner.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The hundred and twenty-sixth annual dinner of the chamber of commerce of New York was given tonight at Delmonico's. The theme of the speakers was "Good Government." There was general rejoicing because of the result of the recent elections in New York city. The dinner was the largest one in point of attendance in the history of the chamber. Letters of regret were received from President Cleveland and Rev. Dr. Parkhurst among others. The speakers included Mayor H. H. Hall, General Scofield, General Miles, Admiral Erban and Hon. James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency, who touched on the financial situation.

RECEIVED WITH HONORS. Ambassador Bayard Welcomed by Southampton City Officials.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The North German Lloyd steamer Havel arrived at Southampton tonight from New York. Among the passengers were Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, American ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Bayard. On the tender which went out to meet the Havel were the mayor and corporation council of Southampton, the American and German consuls and others. The mayor handed the ambassador an address of welcome and referred to the famous speech at Wilmington, Del., in which the ambassador highly praised the British queen. The German consul also made a brief speech of welcome. Bayard expressed his thanks for the reception tendered him.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS. Michigan's Highest Tribunal Hands Down Batch of Opinions.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The supreme court handed down the following opinions today: Affirmed—Fitters vs Atkinson; Gardner vs Hickock; Whitaker vs Erie Shooting club; Duquette vs Richard; Fuller vs Byrns; Fields vs Colby; McTee vs Garth Lumber company; Thompson vs Morley; Honselman vs Dovel. Reversed—Lucas vs Swarouth; Kraft vs Kraft; Preston National bank vs Emerson; Reeder Bros. Shoe company vs Pryluck; Olen vs Lockwood; Rogers vs Raynor; Knight vs Duff.

GIVES UP ALL HOPE. Central American States Will Never Form a Union.

GAUTEMALA, Nov. 20.—The projected Central American union has fallen through now, as before when ever attempted, and even Reyna Barrios, who is most anxious to carry out this scheme to satisfy his personal ambition, considers the union impossible to be carried out.

Mexican Indian Outrage. URES, Mex., Nov. 20.—A courier from Soyova brings the information that a band of Yaqui Indians visited the ranch of Pedro Hernandez, killed three women, two men, burned the ranch buildings and drove off several hundred head of cattle.

CHINESE AGAIN DEFEATED. After Sharply Contested Fight Near Port Arthur the Japanese Are Victorious.

JAPAN OFFICIALLY DECLINES OFFER OF MEDIATION

Three Nations Involved in Japanese Capture of Men Contracted to Blow Up Their Navy.

CHINESE ACTUALLY FOUGHT SHANGHAI, Nov. 20.—The Mercury publishes a telegram stating that the Japanese on Monday renewed their attack on the Chinese forces twenty miles from Port Arthur. The Chinese made an obstinate resistance but the Japanese ultimately succeeded in driving them from the entrenchments. The losses on both sides were severe. The Chinese force fled to Port Arthur.

TOKYO, Nov. 20.—It is learned that the Japanese government has sent its reply to the note of the United States Minister Dunn asking whether the tender by the president of the United States of his good offices in the interest of restoring peace in the east would be agreeable to Japan. Before reaching a conclusion the minister gave the matter consideration for several days and finally stated to Dunn that although the friendly sentiments which prompted the action of the government and the people of the United States was appreciated, the success of Japanese arms was such that China should approach Japan directly on the subject. In view of the absence of Japanese and Chinese diplomatic representatives at Peking and Tokio respectively it would imply that any communication between the two governments would be made through the American ministers to China and Japan, who since the outbreak of the war, have had in charge the interests of the two countries.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 20.—The steamship Empress of China arrived today with Yokohama advices to the effect that some excitement was created in Yokohama by the detention of the steamship Galle on its outward voyage to Hong Kong in order that a search for contraband goods might be made by the Japanese authorities. Captain Peare protested against the search but the officials offered no opposition. The proceedings were conducted with perfect courtesy on both sides, Nothing liable to seizure was found, however.

Later the intelligence was received that the suspected travelers had transferred themselves and belongings to the French mail steamer Sidney and were on their way to Shanghai by way of Kobe. In obedience to telegrams sent to the latter port permission to search the ship was obtained from the French consul and the discovery was soon made that a passenger calling himself John Brown, an acknowledged alias, and claiming to be an American bound for China, was under contract with the authorities of that empire to "destroy the Japanese navy within eight weeks after his arrival." He was accompanied by an American assistant registered as George Howie and a Chinese interpreter furnished him by the Chinese legation at Washington. The men arrested are under close guard in Kobe.

The affair concerns more or less directly three western nations, the United States, France and England, and it is already under diligent consideration by diplomatic agents of the respective governments. The Japanese will claim that a seizure of this description is justified by the recognized principles of international law. The parties arrested bore a letter to Li Hung Chang from the envoy at Washington and also a formal contract promising to pay $1,000,000 for the destruction of the Japanese navy and a specified sum for every merchant ship destroyed. It appears that $160,000 had already been paid on account. The Japanese army in Manchuria continues its march of invasion with scarcely a show of opposition.

OTHER LINES WITHDRAW. Western Passenger Association Will Probably Be Reorganized.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Two more lines withdrew from the Western Passenger association today, the Chicago, Great Western & Burlington and Cedar Rapids & Northern being the ones to pull out. All of the remaining lines may withdraw before the end of the week. Several of the lines that have pulled out of the association have already declared themselves in favor of reorganizing the association and such action will undoubtedly be taken at the meeting next Monday.

THE TOWN IS BURNING. Business Portion of a South Dakota Town Is Doomed.

BERESFORD, S. D., Nov. 20.—Late this afternoon fire was discovered in the Davis livery barn and spread rapidly to the adjoining buildings. The Beresford and Centerville fire departments are working hard to check the flames but it is thought nothing can prevent the fire from sweeping through the business portion of the town, as a strong gale is blowing.

FIVE MEN WERE KILLED. Were Caught Under the Wreck of a Coal Train.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 20.—It has been definitely learned that five men were killed in the wreck of the Pennsylvania road at Larimer station last night. Their names are George Rice, August Thorne, his son Fred, and two Italians. All were miners. So far only the remains of Rice and Fred Thorne have been recovered from the wreck.

PLAYED TO CROWDED HOUSE

Houghton Armory Packed Both Nights to Hear the Calhoun Opera Company.

LARGEST AUDIENCES HOUGHTON EVER HAD.

Knox & Wilner Have Become the Possessors of William Wall's Stock of Goods at Calumet.

[All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich.]

The Calhoun Opera company presented "The Black Hussar" on Monday evening and "Amorita" on Tuesday evening at the Armory house in Houghton county on the peninsula. Special trains from Calumet and Lake Linden brought in some two hundred visitors Monday evening and when the curtain went up at 8:30 o'clock every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium. The Armory seats 650 people—actual measure, not by estimating the capacity at 50 per cent. above the true figure and throwing in a few for good measure, as is done with most halls in guessing at their capacity. The Armory is probably the largest hall in the upper peninsula with the exception of the one at Sault Ste. Marie, and it was filled to the doors. The crowd was not quite so large on Tuesday evening, as no special train was run on that evening from Lake Linden, but it was a big house notwithstanding. It fell a little below the standard of the previous night. The Calhoun Opera company as at present constituted contains no great artists. The company as a whole barely escaped mediocrity in acting but, taken as a whole, it is satisfactory. Its staging is excellent, its orchestra is good and its ballet is well drilled and dressed as would be seen in the best theaters of the large cities. None of those who attended regret doing so and the entertainments were of a nature much superior to the average of those given in the upper peninsula. Manager C. A. Maymora worked diligently to make the operatic season here a success and his fondest hopes were realized. A temperature of 5 degrees below zero has already been noted—a promise of greater things to come. The close of navigation is evidently near at hand. Ice formed both Sunday and Monday nights on Portage lake and the heavy snow fall rendered navigation on the big lake an extremely hazardous matter. The Calhoun Opera company struck snow in abundance for the first time this winter on arriving here Sunday night and took advantage of the occasion to indulge in a sleigh ride the following day. People having business with THE MINING JOURNAL can call up the office at Houghton by phone today—that is if the telephone company keeps its promise to get the instrument in.

The No Name club, which has made a reputation for enjoyable social gatherings, will give a social and musicale this evening at the residence of Mrs. Chas. Kehl. Harry Cannon is expected home tomorrow from Chicago, where he has been purchasing furniture and supplies for the new Houghton county club. There is now ample snow on the ground to guarantee sleighing until spring and woodmen are happy. The only thing to worry their contentment is the danger that if the present rate of supply of the beautiful is continued the tops of the pines will be covered by the beginning of the new year.

Knox & Wilner of Green Bay, who also have a store at Negaunee, have taken possession of the recently purchased stock of William Wall's and are rearranging and modernizing the store and stock. Mr. Wilner is here at present but the store will be under the management of Mr. J. Brown.

The foundation for the hoisting engine at No. 1 shaft house of the Tamaraack has been completed. It was the settling of the foundation at one end of the heavy shaft which caused the breaking of the latter, and all the delay and expense to which the Tamaraack company has been put in consequence. Every care has been used in the selection of material and workmanship and little danger exists of any further trouble of the same sort. It is but fair to state that at the time the foundation was first built practically nothing was known about the terrific strains to which such heavy and swift moving machinery subjected all portions of the machinery and the foundation as well.

Mr. D. T. McDonald left on the noon train Monday for Duluth where he will spend a couple of months looking after property interests. Williams & Christian are canvassing the town for the Japanese improved carpet sweeper and wall and window cleaner, an article which has met with ready sale and is highly commended by all who have used it in the iron country. Rev. J. Edward Reilly's lecture on Ireland and its people, illustrated by a hundred more handsome stereoscopic views will be given at the opera house this evening. It being one of the course of lectures given this winter by the local Y. M. C. A. It will be worth attending. Champ Kehoe and Frank Black are both in training for their match which is to be pulled off on Monday evening, Dec. 3. Members and friends of Calumet campment No. 77, I. O. O. F., will dance at the opera house on Friday evening of this week. Tickets are $1 per couple. Martha lodge No. 1 of the Sister of Herman's Sons will give a neekle social at the Armory next Saturday evening. Doors will be open at 5 o'clock. Supper will be served from 6 till 9 o'clock and the Red Jacket Cornet band will be present to furnish music. Mr. Jenkins' discovery of a 5000 mass of flat copper just beyond Lakeview has set all the property owners in that suburb at work searching for similar masses, but so far without success.

MONOCLES IN EUROPE. Believed to have originated in the British Army—Favored by Continental Officers. In every capital of Europe the monocle is common enough, says the New York World. It attracts no attention on the street. In a row of men at a theater a considerable proportion are sure to have it. Perhaps half the officers in the German army wear monocles. They are seen in abundance at any meeting of the French academy. Even socialist deputies in France are not ashamed to go among their constituents wearing them. A session of the English house of commons glitters with solitary eyeglasses. The single eyeglass is said to have originated among the officers of the British army. About the beginning of the century an order was issued that army officers should not wear eyeglasses or spectacles. It was supposed that they gave the wearers an un military appearance. The order caused severe inconvenience to many short-sighted officers, and one of them belonging to a crack regiment invented the single eyeglass; its use was no contravention of the order which prohibited spectacles and eyeglasses. It soon became very popular in the army and was afterward adopted. On account probably of this origin the single eyeglass is very generally worn in Europe by army officers. It is by some thought to give an aspect of determination and ferocity to the wearer, whereas eyeglasses lend an air of feebleness.

LAKE LINDEN.

The Social club's dance at the opera house last night was a highly enjoyable affair and was participated in by many of the young people of the town with a considerable number of guests from Calumet, Red Jacket and Opechee.

ONE DRUMMER'S MISTAKE.

He Took the Wrong Traveling Bag and Didn't Find It Out Until Too Late. The small traveling bag is used for a good many purposes nowadays. Office girls carry them, typewriter girls use them and women who sell books disguise their real business with them. The latest use to which they have been put is for marketing.

The idea is said to have been originated by a young married woman who wanted to go to market, but who wouldn't be seen coming therefrom with her arm full of packages or a basket in her hand. At last she hit upon the idea of the traveling bag. That would do first-rate. It looked business-like. It was far better than a clumsy basket. The idea was approved by other young wives, and now when young women are seen in the street in the evening carrying traveling bags they are probably headed for the market.

One of these neat, prudish young wives lives in an uptown flat. She is the right kind of a woman, for she helps her husband by driving close bargains on meat, vegetables and provisions generally. She enjoys marketing, and has one of the popular leather bags in which to carry home her purchase. This little woman has a brother who is a commercial traveler, and most of his time is spent on the road. The other evening the young wife returned from a marketing trip and placed her traveling bag on the dining-room table while she went to remove her hat and gloves.

Suddenly there was a sound of steps outside the door, and a moment later a strong shake was given it and a hearty voice outside said: "Let me in, Lou: I've got just three minutes to spare." It was her brother. She hadn't seen him for months. She threw the door open. The brother rushed in, put his traveling bag down on the table and wrapped his sister in his arms. "I leave for Buffalo to-night, Lou," he said. "I was going by on my way to the train, and I thought I'd drop in to get a look at you."

Three minutes were spent in lively conversation, then with a "Good-by, Lou. Give my regards to the old man," the traveling brother picked up a traveling bag and ran down stairs. He reached Buffalo that night, and when he went to his room to retire he opened the traveling bag to get a night-shirt. But he didn't find it. What he did find were three tomatoes, a small head of cabbage, an egg plant, a box of baking powder, two boiled crabs, a bunch of celery, lettuce, four lamb chops and a small package in which were samples of dress goods. The traveling bag belonged to his sister.

CROOKED COINS. Criminal Operations in Doctoring Uncle Sam's Currency. How skillful Manipulators Derive Large Profits from Clipping, Sawing, Gouging, Boring and Gilding Gold Pieces. One of the many unlawful schemes to prostitute the coin of the nation has recently been suppressed by ex-Chief Drummond. It first came to my attention early last year, says a New York Herald writer. I refer to what was known as the "coin sticker," which made possible the extraction of, without discovery, part of the silver in coin. The inventor of this "coin sticker," which was an advertisement printed on paper to be pasted on coins, sold territorial rights to print and use it. The "coin sticker" cost the government a great deal of trouble and expense to suppress. On fifty cent and one dollar coins was pasted the advertisements with a paste of glue which almost defied removal, covering the inscription on the reverse of the coin, deadening the resonance and of course enabling the swindler to take out part of the silver and substitute base metal. Spurious coins of very common workmanship also passed readily with the coin sticker on them. There is a great increase of late in the number of skillful men who are constantly studying ways and means of stealing a part of the genuine metal from our coins and substituting base metal. One of the most successful swindlers in this line was a man named Wilcox, who was recently taken into custody in Chicago by secret service officers. He made an average income of from fifty to one hundred dollars a day from clipping gold coins. By cutting a rim from around the coin, as a fire might be removed from a wheel, he took away from each twenty-dollar gold piece an amount of gold not exceeding twenty-six or twenty-nine grains in weight, or the value of one dollar. The subsequent reeding of the double eagle, done with a machine, rendered it as perfect as ever to the eye of the casual observer. The apparatus was small and easily packed, and on reaching a fresh locality all that was required was a quiet room in an obscure street and a supply of gold coin. The latter he secured from the bank. He would deposit a considerable sum of money, and after awhile he would draw it out in gold. The clipped coins were passed by Mrs. Wilcox at dry goods shops mostly. One of the most interesting processes consists in sawing a double eagle in two through the edge and gouging out the inside, so as to remove about fifteen dollars' worth of gold. Thus the piece is reduced to a hollow shell in halves. It is then filled with platinum, which is nearly as heavy as gold, and metal and costs at the present market rates, though this varies, somewhat less than one-half. Lead is too light for the purpose. The cut edge of the reconstructed coin is disguised by a rim of gold soldered on, and a reeding machine renews the corrugations of the minting. The result is really a work of art, being a combination of five different metals. Only an expert can distinguish anything wrong about it. A method somewhat similar, though less artistic, is to substitute for the interior portion of a gold piece a core in the shape of a planchet of silver. A better plan, though somewhat laborious, consists in boring into the coin from the edge so as to remove a considerable part of its internal substance. In this manner about seven dollars' worth of gold may be conveniently removed from a twenty-dollar piece, the hole being filled up with a metal composition and soldered at the opening with gold. Fortunately for the currency, practically all the gold in circulation in the United States passes every few hours through the treasury and subtreasuries. Every piece received at those institutions is weighed, and, if found light in weight, is stamped with a big "L." Such coins are redeemed as bullion. The loss to the government by wear and tear on silver coin in circulation is considerable. It averages three cents on every dollar. Last year it amounted to $39,293. The people have not all become familiar with the faces of the new silver coins. The obverse and reverse of the older coins they have known so long and intimately that the draped figure of Liberty and the majestic pose of the eagle are fixed in their mind and always recognized, but the new coins, with changed designs, to which, puzzling them more, were added the Columbus souvenirs, have not yet established their identity. The manufacturing counterfeiters, quick to discover and take advantage of whatever favors deception, almost immediately followed the government's issue of the coins of new design with their fraudulent issue in likeness of them, and reaped a rich harvest because the originals were known, but not well known. The gliders—counterfeiters, too—saw in the new twenty-five-cent coin, if gilded, a presentable, beguiling ten-dollar piece, and pocketed a full percentage of profit until discovered. The lack of weight should, of course, and does make known the fraudulent character of the gold coin. This last, the gliders' scheme to falsify coin, as it requires neither skill nor expensive plant, and promises so much for so little, is always a seductive one to the unprincipled or weak of will. Prices a Century Ago. One hundred years ago beef sold in New York city at 3 1/2 d. to 3 3/4 d. a pound; mutton, 3 1/2 d.; veal, 5 1/4 to 5 3/4 d.; live pigs, 3 1/2 d.; butter, 1 s. 1 1/2 d.; new milk, 3 1/2 d. to 4 1/2 d. a quart; chickens, 10 d. to 1 s.; hay, 2 1/2 s. to 2 1/2 1/2 s. 3 d. a ton; wheat, 5 s. 7 1/2 d. a bushel; barley, 3 s. 1 1/2 d.; corn, 2 s. 9 1/2 d.; rye, 3 s. 1 1/2 d.; oats, 1 s. 8 1/2 d. The average yield of wheat per acre in the state then was 13 bushels; of corn, 25 bushels; and of buckwheat 15 bushels.

LAKE LINDEN.

The Social club's dance at the opera house last night was a highly enjoyable affair and was participated in by many of the young people of the town with a considerable number of guests from Calumet, Red Jacket and Opechee.

ONE DRUMMER'S MISTAKE.

He Took the Wrong Traveling Bag and Didn't Find It Out Until Too Late. The small traveling bag is used for a good many purposes nowadays. Office girls carry them, typewriter girls use them and women who sell books disguise their real business with them. The latest use to which they have been put is for marketing.

The idea is said to have been originated by a young married woman who wanted to go to market, but who wouldn't be seen coming therefrom with her arm full of packages or a basket in her hand. At last she hit upon the idea of the traveling bag. That would do first-rate. It looked business-like. It was far better than a clumsy basket. The idea was approved by other young wives, and now when young women are seen in the street in the evening carrying traveling bags they are probably headed for the market.

One of these neat, prudish young wives lives in an uptown flat. She is the right kind of a woman, for she helps her husband by driving close bargains on meat, vegetables and provisions generally. She enjoys marketing, and has one of the popular leather bags in which to carry home her purchase. This little woman has a brother who is a commercial traveler, and most of his time is spent on the road. The other evening the young wife returned from a marketing trip and placed her traveling bag on the dining-room table while she went to remove her hat and gloves.

Suddenly there was a sound of steps outside the door, and a moment later a strong shake was given it and a hearty voice outside said: "Let me in, Lou: I've got just three minutes to spare." It was her brother. She hadn't seen him for months. She threw the door open. The brother rushed in, put his traveling bag down on the table and wrapped his sister in his arms. "I leave for Buffalo to-night, Lou," he said. "I was going by on my way to the train, and I thought I'd drop in to get a look at you."

Three minutes were spent in lively conversation, then with a "Good-by, Lou. Give my regards to the old man," the traveling brother picked up a traveling bag and ran down stairs. He reached Buffalo that night, and when he went to his room to retire he opened the traveling bag to get a night-shirt. But he didn't find it. What he did find were three tomatoes, a small head of cabbage, an egg plant, a box of baking powder, two boiled crabs, a bunch of celery, lettuce, four lamb chops and a small package in which were samples of dress goods. The traveling bag belonged to his sister.

CROOKED COINS. Criminal Operations in Doctoring Uncle Sam's Currency. How skillful Manipulators Derive Large Profits from Clipping, Sawing, Gouging, Boring and Gilding Gold Pieces. One of the many unlawful schemes to prostitute the coin of the nation has recently been suppressed by ex-Chief Drummond. It first came to my attention early last year, says a New York Herald writer. I refer to what was known as the "coin sticker," which made possible the extraction of, without discovery, part of the silver in coin. The inventor of this "coin sticker," which was an advertisement printed on paper to be pasted on coins, sold territorial rights to print and use it. The "coin sticker" cost the government a great deal of trouble and expense to suppress. On fifty cent and one dollar coins was pasted the advertisements with a paste of glue which almost defied removal, covering the inscription on the reverse of the coin, deadening the resonance and of course enabling the swindler to take out part of the silver and substitute base metal. Spurious coins of very common workmanship also passed readily with the coin sticker on them. There is a great increase of late in the number of skillful men who are constantly studying ways and means of stealing a part of the genuine metal from our coins and substituting base metal. One of the most successful swindlers in this line was a man named Wilcox, who was recently taken into custody in Chicago by secret service officers. He made an average income of from fifty to one hundred dollars a day from clipping gold coins. By cutting a rim from around the coin, as a fire might be removed from a wheel, he took away from each twenty-dollar gold piece an amount of gold not exceeding twenty-six or twenty-nine grains in weight, or the value of one dollar. The subsequent reeding of the double eagle, done with a machine, rendered it as perfect as ever to the eye of the casual observer. The apparatus was small and easily packed, and on reaching a fresh locality all that was required was a quiet room in an obscure street and a supply of gold coin. The latter he secured from the bank. He would deposit a considerable sum of money, and after awhile he would draw it out in gold. The clipped coins were passed by Mrs. Wilcox at dry goods shops mostly. One of the most interesting processes consists in sawing a double eagle in two through the edge and gouging out the inside, so as to remove about fifteen dollars' worth of gold. Thus the piece is reduced to a hollow shell in halves. It is then filled with platinum, which is nearly as heavy as gold, and metal and costs at the present market rates, though this varies, somewhat less than one-half. Lead is too light for the purpose. The cut edge of the reconstructed coin is disguised by a rim of gold soldered on, and a reeding machine renews the corrugations of the minting. The result is really a work of art, being a combination of five different metals. Only an expert can distinguish anything wrong about it. A method somewhat similar, though less artistic, is to substitute for the interior portion of a gold piece a core in the shape of a planchet of silver. A better plan, though somewhat laborious, consists in boring into the coin from the edge so as to remove a considerable part of its internal substance. In this manner about seven dollars' worth of gold may be conveniently removed from a twenty-dollar piece, the hole being filled up with a metal composition and soldered at the opening with gold. READS LIKE A ROMANCE.

Holmes, Under Arrest for Insurance Swindling, Tells the Story of His Life.

IS THE PERPETRATOR OF MANY SERIOUS CRIMES.

Defrauded Other Insurance Companies on About the Same Plan as the Present Scheme.

A LIFE BLACKENED BY CRIME.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—The arch-conspirator, H. H. Holmes, accompanied by Mrs. Pitzel and a pretty woman who calls herself Mrs. Holmes, arrived in this city today in the custody of Detective Crawford and Special Agent Perry of the Fidelity Mutual Life association.

Mrs. Pitzel's sixteen-year old daughter Meda and one-year-old boy were also with the party. After their arrival the party was closeted with Superintendent Lydan until late in the afternoon.

When the conference was over Detective Crawford detailed the story of the trip, the most important feature of which was the relation made to him by Holmes of the story of his whole life. It reads like one of the most sensational romances.

The train had scarcely emerged from the Boston depot before the prisoner tried to bribe his captor. He offered the detective $500 if he would allow him to hypnotize him so he could escape.

When he saw his words had no effect Holmes entered into a general conversation and told the story of his life. He said he was raised in Burlington, Vt. For some time he went to college there and later in Detroit, Mich.

Here he formed the acquaintance of a medical student who, he said, furnished the body in New York in the present case. He refused to divulge his name. During vacations they worked on farms to reduce college expenses but one summer they found themselves without means and it was then the medical student suggested the idea of getting a body and beating an insurance company.

This was twelve years ago. The doctor got his life insured for $12,500. They obtained a body in Chicago, took it east, arranged the details of action and successfully beat the company, with which they continued their studies. He refused to name the company thus swindled. They worked the scheme afterward with success. Holmes continued obtaining sums ranging from $10,000 to $20,000.

Once Holmes got his own life insured for $20,000, he went to a hotel in Rhode Island. At that time he wore a beard. He secured a corpse in Chicago, cut off the head and took the body to a lonely spot not far from the hotel. Then he shaved off his beard, returned to the hotel and asked for Holmes and engaged a room to wait for him. He brought the head with him and burned it beyond recognition in a fire place of the hotel. This scheme, however, fell through on account of his wife. When she discovered it she threatened to tell the police and Holmes fled west.

Resuming the story of his life that while living in Chicago about eighteen months ago he fell in with a typewriter girl and furnished a house on the outskirts, where they lived together. A younger sister came to visit them and the woman grew so jealous that in a quarrel one day she struck her sister over the head with a stool and killed her. To save the woman with whom he was living Holmes said he put the body into a trunk, loaded it with stone and sunk it in the lake. This girl had property in Texas and he and Pitzel took it off her hands and hid the money. It was worth, he said, $40,000 and after getting it into their hands they went through Texas buying carloads of horses on notes on this property but as they never had any legal title to the property the notes were worthless and it is for this affair that they are wanted in Texas. He said that this property Holmes said he and Pitzel formed the scheme of swindling the Fidelity company.

He told the detectives that for the crimes he had committed he deserved to be hanged a dozen times. Holmes is not lacking in money as he himself admitted that at the present time he is supporting nearly two dozen persons, including the girl murderer, her mother and imbecile brother and two orphans in Chicago, who live in one of his properties, three separate alleged wives and their children and his own mother and father in Kanaksee. He would not give names of the women. He firmly maintained that Pitzel is alive in San Salvador and that he will hear from him through the personal column of a certain New York newspaper.

Neither of the detectives would make public anything concerning the interview with Superintendent Lydan, but Perry said that as a result it was decided to arrest a number of other persons whose names have not yet been given out. Perry said that in the secret conference today nothing was said that in the slightest degree refuted the original theory that Pitzel was murdered. In corroboration of his murder theory Perry said he would have from Mrs. Pitzel an exact description of her husband agreeing in every respect with that of the corpse found in the Callow Hill street house. Mrs. Pitzel, he continued, is perfectly innocent of any complicity in the whole affair. In conclusion Mr. Perry said: "I believe that in this matter Mrs. Pitzel has been duped and robbed. She acted under instructions and she has thus far, and will hereafter, held her tongue. I believe her husband is murdered. About the children I have nothing to say." When pressed to give his opinion on the theory that to his, too,

Holmes Probably Murdered Minnie Williams for Her Money.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 20.—There is every reason to believe that H. H. Holmes, who went by the name of O. C. Pratt in Fort Worth, is guilty of murdering Minnie R. Williams and her sister, Anna Williams, the crime having probably been committed in Chicago and that in this crime the man who claimed when here to be a citizen of Chicago and calling himself Benton T. Lyman is an accomplice.

Some time in February he came here from Chicago and placed on record a deed from one Bond to Lyman for 100 feet front on Bond and Second streets. Bond got his title by deed from Minnie R. Williams. Lyman sold the lot to a Fort Worth citizen who, fearing that the title was clouded by Lyman's connection, began to investigate. He found that Minnie R. Williams was working for a writing concern in Chicago, known as Allen & Co.

She wrote late in 1893 to her sister, Miss Annie Williams of Midlothian, Tex., to come to Chicago, that she was going to be married and go to Europe. The sister, who is a teacher in the Midlothian academy, at once packed up and went to Chicago, leaving orders to forward her trunk in a week. No word ever came from either of the sisters. After a year the express company at Chicago notified the principal of the Midlothian school that the trunk had never been called for. Minnie R. Williams was by will left half a block of property in the heart of Fort Wayne valued at $60,000 and a farm valued at $15,000. The property had all been alienated ostensibly by Miss Williams. A detective had been sent recently to find the girls but no trace could be found. Chicago was the last place where Miss Williams had been seen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The police know nothing concerning the reported murder of Miss Williams. The first intimation that she had disappeared came through an officer from Fort Worth, Texas, who came here asking the local officers to assist him in locating the girl. No trace of her was found and the officer returned to Texas. Holmes and Miss Williams lived together in a flat erected by Holmes at 701 Sixty-Third street. People living near the building have no knowledge of a murder having been committed there.

SUSPECTED OF ANOTHER CRIME.

May Have Murdered an Old Man at Fargo, N. D.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20.—The developments of the last few days in the case of George Swearingen of this city, who attempted to murder August Vetter near Buchanan, Mich., lead to a strong suspicion that Swearingen brutally murdered a man seventy years old near Fargo, N. D., Saturday, Sept. 15. Fargo officers learned of the arrest at South Bend of George Swearingen and will come to Buchanan to see if he is the same George Swearingen who murdered the old man there.

DUE TO VOLCANIC ACTION.

HUNDREDS OF PERSONS KILLED BY RECENT SHOCKS.

Whole Villages Destroyed and Many Persons Injured—Great Damage to Buildings and Property.

VERTIBLE REIGN OF TERROR.

ROME, Nov. 20.—Earthquake shocks continue at Milazzo, on the island of Sicily, and the fact that the volcano of Stromboli is nearly in a state of eruption is accepted as proof that the disturbances are of volcanic origin. The inhabitants of Milazzo continue in a state of terror. Elsewhere the feeling of alarm is subsiding and business is resuming a normal course.

Reports from the province of Reggio De Calabria state that two hundred corpses were extricated from the ruins of houses at San Procopio. Forty-eight bodies were found beneath the ruins of the church. The number of persons injured is said to be enormous. It is estimated that the damage done to buildings at Palmi, not counting the loss incurred in furniture destroyed, will amount to 2,000,000 lire. Fifteen buildings collapsed entirely and 300 others are irreparably damaged. Every house in town suffered more or less and not one remained habitable.

At Palmi six persons were killed and over three hundred injured. The com-mune of De Lianora and Pollitena suffered equally but no deaths are reported. Eight persons perished at Seminara and two hundred people injured. Tombstones and mortuary chapels in the cemetery of Seminara were upheaved and completely shattered. The villages of Barapier and Santa are destroyed. In Reggio itself the postoffice, prefecture, town hall, court house and prison were almost wrecked.

LYING AT POINT OF DEATH.

Daughter of Vice President Stevenson Is Dangerously Sick.

ASHVILLE, N. C., Nov. 20.—Miss Mary L. Stevenson, daughter of Vice President Stevenson, contracted pneumonia on the New England coast last summer and never fully recovered therefrom. She came here very ill and her condition is now serious if not critical. One of Miss Stevenson's sisters arrived here Monday and another is expected today. The vice president is here with his wife and everything possible is being done for the invalid.

ONE ANARCHIST LESS.

Spain Rids Herself of a Desperate Character Today.

BARCELONA, Nov. 20.—Jose Salvador Franch, probably the most desperate anarchist now living, the man who on November 7, 1893, threw a dynamite bomb into the Liceo theatre here killing twenty people and wounding fifty others, will be executed between 7:30 and 8 a.m. tomorrow. Franch was this morning taken to the prison chapel there to pass the last twenty-four hours of his life. He refused the offices of priests.

GENERAL McCLERAND ILL.

Famous Old Soldier Is Lying on His Death Bed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 20.—General T. McClernand, a well known soldier of the Civil war and for several terms between 1843 and 1862 a member of congress from Illinois and an able lawyer, is lying dangerously ill at his residence here with carbuncle on the neck. If blood poisoning sets in the physicians fear there will be no hope for recovery owing to his advanced age, eighty-two years.

LOST PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

Oregon Savings Bank Obligated to Close Its Doors.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20.—The Portland Savings bank failed to open its doors this morning. Lack of public confidence and unremitting withdrawals of deposits is given as the reasons for closing the bank, which will now go into liquidation. The assets are given at $1,650,000 and liabilities at $1,430,000.

WRECKED THE WRONG TRAIN.

Robbers Cause Accident to a Freight Train With Several Fatalities.

FRAZEE, Tenn., Nov. 20.—Train robbers threw the switch on the Chesapeake & Ohio Southeastern with a view to derailing and robbing the passenger train. The south bound freight was wrecked, one of the trainmen killed and three possibly fatally hurt. Three tramps were also seriously injured.

ST. PAUL WILL PLAY BALL.

Takes the Place Vacated by the Sioux City Club.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The adjourned fall meeting of the Western Baseball league met here today. St. Paul was admitted to fill the vacancy made by the retirement of Sioux City. The business of the old league was wound up at the meeting. Tomorrow the re-organized league will hold a meeting.

LAND OF HAPPY HOMES.

The Women of Canada Have Reason to be Proud of Their Attainments.

IS OLD AGE PITIABLE?

Not While Vigor and Zest in Living Lasts.

Bismarck, Gladstone and Holmes Full of Years and Honor.

They Keep Their Blood Well Stocked, Their Nerves Well Fed.

Some people carefully disguise the fact. But a coat of paint on an old building only makes it look smart; it doesn't keep the rickety old staircases from creaking nor make the framework stronger.

What is needed is fresh bricks and mortar. Fresh blood and new tissues are the building materials that tired human bodies need. Paine's celery compound supplies all the elements for building up the worn-out, exhausted nerves and tissues.

One is never older than he feels. Many are young at seventy, and the world is full of men and women who are old in heart and aspires at thirty.

Nothing "ages" one like illness. To keep young, keep well; keep the nerves calm, the blood ruddy, the system fed. And when the sudden attack of fever or the heavy cold comes the sturdy, because well-nourished, body will resist and prevent calamitous results.

All over the country there are hard-worked business men and men in public offices subjected to incessant criticism and fearful nervous strain, who appreciate the saving power of Professor Paine's remarkable discovery, Paine's celery compound. In the thousands of cases where over-wrought brains have at last refused the sleep that they so vitally needed, this great modern nerve nutrient has brought the happiest results. Multitudes of women re-learned in strength, half sick and on the road to becoming life-long invalids, have sent in heartfelt stories of their rapid gain in vigor after a trial of Paine's celery compound.

It takes years off their aching shoulders. As the years go on the regular tick-tick of the heart and the rhythmic action of the digestive organs and the brain slow up and the strength must be economized. The important organs need more frequent assistance and encouragement. Paine's celery compound gives just the needed stimulus to digestion and assimilation that the system requires. It purifies the slowly moving blood of any bad humor that its stagnant flow is apt to engender and thus removes rheumatism, neuralgia, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness and troubles with kidneys, liver and stomach.

It was a favorite remark of the famous Dr. Farr when 109 years old, that he had always taken care to keep his body well nourished. Pure blood and healthy activity of the nervous system makes a happy, useful, useful old age. Paine's celery compound makes people well.

FERTILITY OF ALASKA.

Interesting Information Concerning Its Soil, Climate and Natural Resources.

A good deal of interesting information concerning Alaska, its climate, lands, natural resources and industries is contained in a report lately submitted to the house of representatives from the committee on agriculture. The climate of many of the regions there is less severe than might be inferred from the latitude in which they lie. In Europe, between the same parallels of latitude, there is a population of twenty millions. There are vast stretches of Alaskan territory in which the climatic conditions are much more favorable than would be supposed by those who take account merely of their geographical situation. There are extensive areas of land, both in the south and in the north, that are suitable for agriculture, and there is a bill before congress for the erection of agricultural experiment stations within these areas.

In a letter about Alaska, recently written for the information of congress by Maj. Powell, late of the United States geological survey, there are some interesting statements in support of others recently made in official reports. Maj. Powell gives the area of tillable land in southeastern Alaska as fifteen hundred square miles, a tract larger than the state of Rhode Island; and he makes an estimate that along the shores of Cook inlet, the peninsula and adjacent islands, including the Aleutian isles, there are five thousand additional square miles capable of successful cultivation.

Apart from the statements made in Maj. Powell's letter there is reason to believe that upon a large section of the mainland south of the Yukon river the hardier grains and vegetables can be raised to advantage. In the upper regions of the country also there are arable tracts of land; and the authority of Prof. Dawson, of the Canadian geological survey, is given for the statement that in the angle formed by the eastern boundary of northern Alaska and the northern boundary of British Columbia a population of one million could be sustained by agriculture alone.—Boston Transcript.

Some people carefully disguise the fact. But a coat of paint on an old building only makes it look smart; it doesn't keep the rickety old staircases from creaking nor make the framework stronger.

What is needed is fresh bricks and mortar. Fresh blood and new tissues are the building materials that tired human bodies need. Paine's celery compound supplies all the elements for building up the worn-out, exhausted nerves and tissues.

One is never older than he feels. Many are young at seventy, and the world is full of men and women who are old in heart and aspires at thirty.

Nothing "ages" one like illness. To keep young, keep well; keep the nerves calm, the blood ruddy, the system fed. And when the sudden attack of fever or the heavy cold comes the sturdy, because well-nourished, body will resist and prevent calamitous results.

All over the country there are hard-worked business men and men in public offices subjected to incessant criticism and fearful nervous strain, who appreciate the saving power of Professor Paine's remarkable discovery, Paine's celery compound. In the thousands of cases where over-wrought brains have at last refused the sleep that they so vitally needed, this great modern nerve nutrient has brought the happiest results. Multitudes of women re-learned in strength, half sick and on the road to becoming life-long invalids, have sent in heartfelt stories of their rapid gain in vigor after a trial of Paine's celery compound.

It takes years off their aching shoulders. As the years go on the regular tick-tick of the heart and the rhythmic action of the digestive organs and the brain slow up and the strength must be economized. The important organs need more frequent assistance and encouragement. Paine's celery compound gives just the needed stimulus to digestion and assimilation that the system requires. It purifies the slowly moving blood of any bad humor that its stagnant flow is apt to engender and thus removes rheumatism, neuralgia, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness and troubles with kidneys, liver and stomach.

It was a favorite remark of the famous Dr. Farr when 109 years old, that he had always taken care to keep his body well nourished. Pure blood and healthy activity of the nervous system makes a happy, useful, useful old age. Paine's celery compound makes people well.

FERTILITY OF ALASKA.

Interesting Information Concerning Its Soil, Climate and Natural Resources.

A good deal of interesting information concerning Alaska, its climate, lands, natural resources and industries is contained in a report lately submitted to the house of representatives from the committee on agriculture. The climate of many of the regions there is less severe than might be inferred from the latitude in which they lie. In Europe, between the same parallels of latitude, there is a population of twenty millions. There are vast stretches of Alaskan territory in which the climatic conditions are much more favorable than would be supposed by those who take account merely of their geographical situation. There are extensive areas of land, both in the south and in the north, that are suitable for agriculture, and there is a bill before congress for the erection of agricultural experiment stations within these areas.

AFFAIRS AT ISHPEMING.

Marshal Carlson Will Not Take Charge Until Early in December.

MEANWHILE DEPUTY MARSHAL NOLAN WILL BE IN CHARGE.

Getting Ready for the Skaters—Shin Pans to the Fore Again—Thanksgiving Festivities Planned.

THE NEW MARSHAL. John Carlson, who was appointed chief of police of Ishpeming to succeed Gust Peterson Tuesday, has accepted the office but will not enter on discharge of his duties until his bonds are approved at the next regular meeting of the city council, which will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 5. Mayor Johnston has instructed Deputy Marshal Nolan to attend to the duties of the office until that date.

Although Deputy Marshal Nolan aspired to the marshalship he does not feel disappointed over his failure to secure it. When he called on Mr. Carlson to extend his congratulations yesterday he assured the marshal-elect that he would be pleased at all times to assist him in every way. Mr. Carlson said he realized that he has much to learn about the office and that he appreciated Mr. Nolan's kindness in tendering him his aid.

Mr. Carlson will make an excellent marshal, as he is well qualified for the office. He is very popular in Ishpeming, where he has resided many years, and ranks as one of its best citizens. Mr. Peterson will occupy the jail residence for a few weeks until he has secured a suitable place for his family. He has asked for and was granted a reasonable time in which to make the change of quarters. As soon as the rooms are vacated they will be repainted and otherwise improved, preparatory to their occupancy by Mr. Carlson and his family.

Making Ice.

McDowell & Simons, who will conduct the Cleveland avenue ice rink this winter, began making ice Tuesday. If the cold weather holds out they expect to be ready to open the rink in a few days. The waiting rooms are being enlarged and the place is also being improved in other ways.

The snow storm yesterday put an end to the skating on Lake Bancroft. The ice has been exceeding good the past three or four days and numerous skaters have been attracted to it.

Shin Pans Will Reorganize.

A special meeting of the Shin Pans Snowshoe club for the purpose of reorganizing for the coming season has been called for next Monday evening. Several of the old members of the club have removed from here, but new ones stand ready to take their places. The club expects to hold regular meetings and tramps during the winter and will endeavor to get as much enjoyment out of the sport as possible.

Thanksgiving Festivals.

The members of the Swedish Lutheran church will give a festival at the Young People's society hall Thanksgiving night. There will be music and literary exercises, and a lunch will be served by the ladies. A small admission fee will be charged. All who attend will be made welcome and are assured a good time.

The Ishpeming Temple of Honor society will give a supper at the Temple of Honor hall on East Division street Thanksgiving evening. The feast will continue from 5 until 10 o'clock p. m. Adults will be charged twenty-five cents a plate and children fifteen cents.

Good Music Promised.

During intermission at the firemen's ball Thanksgiving eve, (a week from tonight), the Twin City orchestra will play a couple of new selections. One of these will be the "Night Alarm," which will be quite appropriate. The piece calls for drum solos and also contains a number of imitations which will be given by the drummer. The music of the Twin City orchestra is up to date this season. It has a new supply of dance music and is prepared to play for large or small parties.

Social Tonight.

The program for the social to be given this evening at the Convent hall by the ladies of St. John's church is as follows:

- Scarf drill.
- Class of St. John's school.
- Trios, violin, mandolin and piano.
- Miss Collins, Page and LeBeebe.
- Vocal solo, "What a Wonderful World."
- Miss Minnie Sullivan.
- Violin solo.
- Mrs. A. G. Shoemaker, accompanist.
- Mrs. Josie Flannigan.
- Duet, banjo and guitar.
- Mr. J. Silney and Mrs. A. G. Shoemaker.
- Delsarte attitudes.
- Class of school.

The numbers on the program will be rendered at stated intervals during the evening and during the time intervening card games will be played. At the conclusion of the entertainment the ladies will serve lunch. The doors will open at 7 o'clock and the program will begin at 8:30 sharp. All will be made welcome.

Herbert Sprague Friday Night.

Herbert Sprague, the impersonator, who has been selected to give the first entertainment of the course under the direction of the Ishpeming Teachers' association, will be here Friday night. The Division street Methodist church has been secured for the entertainment. His characterizations are taken from "Kip Van Winkle" and are said to be very interesting. The teachers have met with good success in disposing of tickets for the course. Quite a number of the pupils of the High school have purchased tickets. Professor Hardy is particularly desirous of having these attend, as he realizes the benefit they will receive from the entertainments. Those who have not secured season tickets will be admitted to each per-

Many Ladies Called.

A great many ladies called at J. H. Quinn's store yesterday to examine the superb line of fur goods displayed there by Mr. J. E. Monroe, representing Hansen's Empire Fur factory of Milwaukee. The goods were as fine as any seen here in years. Quite a number of the garments in stock were sold and a number of ladies were measured for coats.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

M. D. Crawford was up from Marquette yesterday.

W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland-Cliffs company, is in Ishpeming.

E. Eddy, manager of A. W. Myers & Co.'s meat market, was on the sick list yesterday.

C. J. Regstrom, the contractor, expects to begin work on the Cleveland Lake shaft engine house today.

Harry Harwood has presented the boys of the Division street school with a fine football. The boys are very thankful for the gift.

Persons having cows or pigs to kill can secure the services of Oliver Bodeau, an experienced butcher, by leaving word at J. J. Leffler's meat market.

Mrs. J. Vandeverger gave a card party to a number of her older married friends at her home last evening. The younger married and unmarried friends will be entertained tonight.

A candidate will be initiated into the mysteries of the Grand Orient at the Knights of Pythias Hall next Sunday afternoon. Members are requested to attend as there is fun in store.

The members of the Harmonica society and their friends, who will render "Queen Esther" at the Division street Methodist church Thanksgiving night, are holding rehearsals during the evenings this week.

Business in the clothing and gents' furnishing goods line has been so lively at Braastad's during the past few weeks that additional clerks have been employed. Braastad has an unusually large stock of goods this fall and is selling at prices to suit the times.

Parties desiring draft horses are invited to call at Losselyoung's and see our stock which have just arrived. F. HAMMILL & CO.

Will have another lot of fine horses in Ishpeming in about a week at Losselyoung's stables. Wait for us. F. HAMMILL & CO. (10-29-16)

Of course you noticed what the Republicans did. They made the Democrats sick. Our fine liquors will cure all, whether Democrats or Republicans. P. H. Donahoe.

THE FAD OF NERVOUSNESS.

Soda Fountains Responsible for Much Human Misery.

"Nervousness is as much of a fad as anything else," said Dr. Egbert Dixon, of Buffalo, "and the modern soda water fountain has more to do with the increase in the mania than anything else. In days of old, when soda water was first added to the vases of the druggist, it was devoted entirely to satisfying the public taste for something cool, sweet and refreshing. Fruit syrups of a harmless character were fitted up to a proper degree of gaseous bubbling, and the mission of the soda fountain was a commendable one. Nowadays it is devoted to bromos, nervines and lots of other things that are made from the deadliest sort of drugs, while they are hung with signs inviting people to become their own physicians by trying some of the countless nostrums which are alleged to cure anything from a headache to an ingrowing toenail in an almost inconceivably small space of time. The third-out individual sees one of the nervous signs and mistakes his weariness for nervousness, and straightway proceeds to doctor himself with something, he knows not what, but which on account of its powerful properties, braces him up and makes him feel bright. The natural result follows. He takes some more of the soda water fountain stuff whenever he gets tired, and in a month or so his system is on the road to a general breaking up. Drugging one's self at a soda fountain is dangerous, and, as I said in the beginning, nervousness is largely a fad. If supposed sufferers from nervous attacks would only go out and split wood for half an hour, if men, or take a brisk walk, if women, and then take a bath and take a nap, there wouldn't be so much heard of this silly rot about nervousness being our national disease."—Washington Star.

CHURCHGOERS TAKE NOTICE.

Hints on the Way for Yourself and Others to Enjoy Sunday.

When your journey next leaves you stranded in the great and delightful city of New Chickadee on the Sabbath day, if you should go to the church of St. Indolence—(I can recommend it as having the slowest singing and the softest pew cushions, with a preacher to match, in this city)—you will see the following "suggestions to worshippers."

1. Fall or slide in the pew nearest the aisle. Stay there. Do not sit erect, but lop.
2. Do not rise during the singing of the hymns. The fact that you played tennis or baseball on Saturday afternoon, or walked four or five miles around a billiard table Saturday night, entitles you to a little rest on Sabbath morning.
3. Extend your legs as far under the pew as you can without sliding off the seat. Gracefully and politely cover your mouth with your hands while yawning during the sermon.
4. After looking at your watch, always turn your head and gaze longingly and earnestly toward the door.
5. Do not move if a stranger, accompanied by his wife and daughter, attempts to enter your pew. Permit him to climb over your legs, no matter how much it may annoy you.
6. Do not annoy strangers who may enter the church by looking at them, or even glancing in their direction. If they really want a seat, they will find one without the intrusive interference of other people.
7. At the close of the service remark aloud, but to yourself, that you are hungry as a shark, and set off for home at a brisk trot.—Pacific Churchman.

The Flame is a Witness.

It is interesting to know that the burning lamp or the flame of any fire is still largely used throughout the world in confirmation of covenants or agreements. It is one of the most ancient modes of ratifying covenants, and is mentioned in several places in the Bible as having been in vogue in the time of the patriarchs. In Corea, Farther India, Hindoostan and in parts of China and Japan it is the custom, when making a solemn promise, especially should the other doubt sincerity, for the one making the promise to point to a flame and say: "The flame is my witness." On occasions of greater importance, when several join in a compact, where the fidelity of one or more is questioned, the company repair to some mosque or temple, form in a circle around the "lamp of the temple," and in the presence of a mandarin or priest each solemnly agrees with the other, pointing each time to the flames as a witness. The Tartars, in taking oaths or making covenants, use the liver of a sheep, goat or horse, rub their fingers in the blood and then make circles on their foreheads, the whole proceeding having the same symbolic meaning that the flame has in the orient.—St. Louis Republic.

Put a little spermaceti, lard or kerosene in the boiled starch and borax in the cold, and your linen will be both stiff and glossy.

Quite a number of tickets have been sold for the annual concert of the English Oak band to be given at McDonald's Hall Thanksgiving night.

A number of Negaunee people purpose attending the entertainment to be given under the direction of the "Teachings" association at Ishpeming Friday evening. Dr. Sprague, an impersonator, will be the attraction.

Mrs. Sheldon, who has been here visiting her son, Dr. Sheldon, for some time past, left Tuesday evening for her home at Topeka, Kan. She was accompanied as far as Chicago by her son, who is expected home today or tomorrow.

Miss Lizzie McLaughlin, who has been here visiting Mrs. Thomas Connors for the past few weeks, departed for Menominee yesterday. She was attended a farewell party by a number of her young friends at Mr. Connors' home Tuesday evening.

The storm which prevailed yesterday was not severe enough to prevent the street cars from running but it made climbing the grades somewhat difficult for them. The cut between the power house and the park caught considerable loose snow, and filled in on the track about as fast as it could be removed.

HAPPENINGS AT NEGAUNEE

Street Commissioner Looking After the Sewer Catch Basins.

Church Society Supper Thanksgiving Night—Finnish Seminary Plans to Be Considered.

CLEANING THE CATCH BASINS. Street Commissioner Harrington has begun cleaning out the sewer catch basins. In some of the basins considerable sand has accumulated which would be apt to interfere with the flowing of the water in the spring if it were not removed now or later in the winter.

Thanksgiving Supper. The members of the Swedish Mission congregation of Negaunee will give a supper Thanksgiving night at the "Mission Home" on Cyr street. The ladies in charge of the affair intend preparing a fine spread and will be pleased to receive a call from their friends. Twenty-five cents a plate will be charged for the meal.

Plans for the Finnish Seminary. John Mitchell, one of the members of the committee selected to procure plans and award the contract for the erection of a Finnish seminary at Superior, has gone to Calumet, where a meeting of the committee will be held today. A couple of weeks ago it was intended that the committee should meet in Negaunee as soon as the revised set of plans were ready for consideration, but a change to Calumet was recently made. Quite a number of architects have submitted plans for the structure but it is quite certain that those prepared by Mr. Scoble, of Superior, will be accepted. Neils Majhannu of Ishpeming, also a member of the committee, will not be present at the meeting, but whatever the other members decide on will meet his approval.

Fur Sale Today. Mr. J. E. Monroe, representing Hansen's Empire Fur factory of Milwaukee, will be at M. C. Quinn's store, Negaunee, Wednesday (today) with a full line of ladies' fur wraps in seal, beaver, black martian, krenler, Persian lamb, electric seal, astrakhan; also a complete line of muffs and scarfs and men's fur coats. Measures taken and garments made to order if desired. This is an opportunity to get garments direct from the manufacturers. The ladies are invited to call and look over the assortment.

LOCAL LACONICS

L. C. Lingham of West Superior visited the twin cities yesterday.

W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland-Cliffs company, was here yesterday.

Sleighting is excellent here. The snow that fell yesterday bettered it materially.

The ladies of the city are invited to cut at M. C. Quinn's store and examine the line of furs on exhibition there today.

SPEARING THE SHOVEL CAT.

A Missourian Tells a Fishing Experience of His Boyhood.

"No queerer fish swims," exclaimed the tall Missourian who was talking fish and fishing in the office of one of the down-town hotels the other evening, "and no fish that will give a more furious fun for an hour or so than our homely old shovel cat of the west."

A number of well known anglers had gathered in a cosy corner and were listening to the big man's stories, told between vigorous puffs of his corn-cob pipe.

"In all the creeks and branches tributary to the Mississippi and Missouri one may catch this awkward, heavy fish, and if one be only out for cats alone, he will give rare sport. But to the crappie fisherman he is a great nuisance, sealing the shoal as fast as it can be put on the hook, and seldom allowing himself to be hooked. Despite his clumsy shape he is agile to a remarkable degree.

"From a side view the fish is not ungraceful, its long broad nose showing only an edge, and appearing as slender as a swordfish's weapon. His tail is sharply forked, and his fins are large and of rakish cut. He often attains a length of six feet, and weighs as much as fifty pounds. A stranger whose dug-out has drifted into shoal water or up into one of the shallow bays where he is angling for crappie, will suddenly be startled by a loud splash, and if he is quick enough he may turn and catch a glimpse of a shovel cat at work. The great fish will throw its entire body out of water, double over in mid air, and descend head foremost like a professional diver. He is feeding, and as he lives mostly upon the tiny animalcules and creeping things hidden in the soft muddy bottom, this leap is necessary to give him impetus enough to make the deep plunge. He drives his wide shovel flat into the mud, and, turning up a long furrow, catches whatever food is washed out in the process.

"Our people do not care to eat these cats, for the flesh is coarse and flavored with a taste of black mud, but it is sold in the large towns or cities under various disguises with its tell-tale head and tail cut off to prevent recognition. Only a few knowing folk, darcies for the most part, understand how to cook shovel cats so as to make a palatable dish. They dig a hole in the ground, line it with flat stones, and into this tightly pack the slices of fish wrapped in wet corn leaves and a lot of sweet potatoes. They roof over this oven with one large stone, and on top build a fire. The fish and potatoes are left to bake slowly for an hour or two, and when the smoking mass is removed the strong, muggy taste seems to have in some way been baked out, and the white flesh is delicious.

"On a light rod one of the big fellows will give a lively tussel, but it requires the patience of a Job and the enthusiasm of an I. C. Walton to sit a whole afternoon and broil under a hot Mississippi sun in the dreary hope of hooking a cat. The fish are too fickle in biting to furnish reliable sport in that way and the market fishermen generally resort to nets to insure a catch.

"But the real hair-raising, line-stretching, bubble-tossing fun is spearing. We used to always choose a gray day when the sky was overcast and no breeze blowing to ruffle the surface of the water. Two of us would set out for the branch about two hours before sunrise, and with a short home-made harpoon consisting of a steel barbed hook loosely set in a hickory shaft. To a ring in the lance-head was made fast about one hundred feet of heavy line. Arriving at the bank of the creek we would cut off a cottonwood limb to lash to the end of our line, to act as a float if we had to let the whole business go overboard.

"Then one would paddle the dugout while the other stood in the bow watching for the shovelers. Of course we had to hunt only in the shallows, and if we had struck a big one how our keen old trout would roll and jump as we were dragged up creek by the mad shoveller. The flurry is short, however, for the steel soon exhausts the energy and courage of the fish. But the first few moments of excitement are wild. Many and many a time our dug-out upset and we would swim and wade through the water and mud to shore, dragging our shipwrecked craft and our yet unconquered captive behind us.

"Once I remember leaving school with my cousin Jed at noon-time recess, and hooking off to the creek for shovelers. We would both be well flogged if it were found out, but that danger only added another charm. We had hidden our spear under a willow root the day before, and in a few moments we had it and were afloat on a raft of old boards. We were only small shavers, Jed ten and I twelve years old, and could pole our vessel only very slowly. For a long time we saw no game. Jed remarked uneasily that we were drawing near our house, which then stood on the bank of the creek about a mile above where we had started. We had both taken off our trousers, for fear the swash of the river would wet them and thus betray us at supper time, and stood with our shirts flapping in the breeze—two eager sportsmen if such ever lived.

"Just as I sighted the house around the bend through the young cottonwoods and the dreaded form of my mother hanging out clothes on the line, Jed gave a long 'Shish!' and, bending forward, sent his spear flying with all his might. An angry splash answered, and I was terrified to see Jed's blue shirt and white legs tumble headlong from the raft. He had struck a monster, and was being towed down stream at a lively rate. We could both swim like ducks, and I, like a flash, dove after him. After being yanked along for two hundred yards or more, we struck a shoal sandbar where we got a foothold. Just as we had begun to gain a bit and were hauling the giant cat landward, we heard a yell from the shore, and were both petrified to see mother standing there with a switch. At every plunge of the shoveller she gave another shout, and it was the greatest relief my heart ever knew when, as we came nearer, she shook her fist and screamed:

"If you two young uns let that yer shovel-nose git away I'll cane yer till yer both walk bowlegged. I will I say!"

"And," concluded the big man, rising and knocking the ashes out of his corn-cob, "you can wager we landed that fish, for my mother never broke her word."—N. Y. Sun.

MANNERS OF MEN.

Personal Department is no Indicator of True Gentility.

Manners are important. They mean much in the world. They form a large element in the success or failure of life. Yet, like all good things, they are both over-valued and under-valued. It is a human characteristic to judge by appearances, and from them to draw conclusions, even though the experiences of life should teach us differently. When we see a man with an attractive personality and refined manners we have no hesitation in deciding that his inner self, his character, must correspond with his outer self, for few people are able to resist the charms of polished and agreeable conduct. Happily the natural conclusion is most often the true one, but we should not forget that appearances are deceitful, and that the old saying that the broadcloth coat hides the rogue is not always untrue. On the other hand, some of the truest and best people in the world, men and women who are widely known for their genuine excellence, their intellectuality, their goodness of heart, possess only the most indifferent and unattractive manners. Even though they stand pre-eminent in ability and character, we are apt to harbor unpleasant judgments against them because of abrupt and unpolished conduct.

When we understand this we should realize that a man's personal department is not a safe guide. We should learn that manners, while unquestionably to be desired and cultivated, should neither be over-estimated nor underestimated. There is a happy medium, a fortunate union. Of course character is to be preferred to polish in genuine worth, but there is no good reason why the two should not be united. While such undue prominence should not be placed on manners as to make them the chief qualification of success, they should not, on the other hand, be deemed as frivolous or foppish accessories to earnest manhood. To forgive a man every social vice, to condone even his offenses against honor or honesty, to sympathize with his well-merited punishment, because of his manners, which attract and please all coming in the reach of his influence, are attitudes of society highly dangerous to that perception of truth and fact which is necessary to all right thinking. A fascinating address is allowed to cover too much mental and moral turpitude, and the owner of such personal gifts should only be held to stricter account for missing so potent a means of inspiring affection and confidence in his fellow-men. Yet this is not an argument for rudeness, for good manners should be held as absolutely indispensable. They mean to the handsome man greater beauty, to the intellectual man greater mental power and wider influence. Perfection—that is, human perfection—is impossible without refined and careful manners. Their value is absolute, not fictitious. "Rudeness is a social sin, for it transgresses against the charity which avoids from principle the giving of needless offense to any one." There is no excuse for intentionally giving away to one's own arrogance and petty personal tyranny; to allow the coarse, selfish snarl of one's

NOISELESS ROYSTERERS.

The Whoopsies Spree Indulged In by a Trio of Mutes.

Three men went out on a quiet drunk the other night, says the Kansas City Times. They drank early and often. In the descriptive parlance of the north end they "made a night of it." Unlike the majority of men, the more intoxicated they became the less they "talked." They were mutes, all three of them, deaf mutes. They visited the saloons of the north end and imbibed copious libations of the extract of malt. They lined up before a bar and chatted to each other on their finger ends, and drank and smiled and smiled and smiled. Words were written in the air with startling rapidity early in the evening, but as the night wore away the insidious something that steals through one's system after repeated iterations to the white-aproned monarch to "fill 'em up again," began to tell on the mutes. Their fingers began to grow "thick" and did not readily respond to their owner's will as was their wont in periods of sobriety. Toward midnight it became plainly apparent that their artificial source of expressing their thoughts was losing its integrity, also its orthography. This fact pleased the mutes. They looked as if they would like to whoop a few times in defiance of the police and the public. But as this pleasure was denied them, they pounded the bar and nodded to the bartender to fill the glasses again. But the deaf-mute humanity wears out the same as the other kind, and shortly before dawn stole down from the Sni hills they dropped off into sound and unbroken slumber. Then only they became audible. Their sleeping could be heard.

—Mrs. B. S. Leathers, wife of the commander of the Mississippi steamer Natchez, has been granted a captain's license. She is described as a "gentle little woman, with a very pretty face," and she says: "For thirteen years I have lived on the river, knowing, I may say, every turn and twist in the Mississippi, every landing from New Orleans to Vicksburg, and every corner of the Natchez, from pilot-house to lower deck, as thoroughly as though it were a home on land."

—Daniel Nathaniel Dell, a resident of Truxton, Mo., is said by his neighbors to be in his one hundred and tenth year, and the records seem to bear them out. He enjoys the distinction of never having taken part in any of our wars, but he claims to have seen Gen. Washington.

TALES OF THE TEMPEST.

Vessels Came in Yesterday With Their Stories of Sunday's Gale.

THE NICOL'S ROUGH PASSAGE FROM THE SOO.

Election Contests in Alger County May Be Taken Into the Courts for Decision.

BLINDING SNOW STORM.

Vessels entering this port yesterday brought in tales of the great storm which swept over Lake Superior Sunday and part of Monday. They were loaded down with ice and had been out many hours in the gale. The experience of the J. M. Nicol is a fair sample of the force and fury of the gale.

The Nicol left Sault Ste. Marie at 4:35 Sunday morning. When about off Sable point the gale struck her. The snow came down so thick that one could not see the length of the vessel. She was unable to take shelter at Grand Marais or behind Grand Island and had to stand out into the open lake.

The Nicol had her gangway smashed in and jettisoned four large plates of boiler iron, 12 by 14 feet in size. She did not exactly throw them overboard for the sea saved the crew that trouble.

The steamer Hopkins even yesterday was unable to load at the Dead River dock and had to take shelter in the harbor.

The schooner Chris Grover missed her way in the snow and came near going on the beach at Chosolay but was caught and towed in by a tug.

The Ketcham and Aberdeen are ashore at Whitefish point. Both are reported resting easily on sand and their crews safe.

Photographer Hall took several good pictures yesterday of the ice-clad Pioner and Nicol.

The last cargo of coal is due here Friday and will probably be brought by the Pontiac. It is not expected that the last ore carrier will get away before Dec. 1.

So far as reported here last night no loss of life has occurred on Lake Superior on account of the gale.

More Trouble Promised.

It is quite possible that Frank H. Peters will bring quo warranto proceedings to oust H. B. Freeman from the office of prosecuting attorney of Alger county, to which the canvassing board at its session Saturday night declared Freeman elected.

It will be remembered that the face of the returns showed the election of Peters by a majority of nine. It is alleged that at first Freeman agreed not to contest and effected a sale of certain property on the basis of such agreement. Meanwhile a contest had been instituted by the Democratic candidate for county treasurer, which resulted in confirming the election of McIntyre, the only Republican on the county ticket who pulled through on the face of the returns. Then Freeman decided that he would contest also.

Peters was at Newberry engaged in court and it is alleged that he was not given time to file a petition asking to have re-counted certain townships other than those asked by Freeman. At all events the canvassing board by a tie vote refused to adjourn over Sunday and made a re-count which showed the election of Freeman.

Copies of the rejected tickets were seen here yesterday. Several were thrown out because of ink blots on the back, apparently caused by the carelessness of the inspector who initialed the ballots. On a number of others the voters had failed to put their marks in the proper place and in a few cases the voter seems to have had a fancy for making other marks on the ticket before he voted it. Some ballots were so curiously marked as to make the inference fair that the voter was too drunk to see where he was putting his crosses.

The county canvassers having adjourned the only course open to Mr. Peters, if he thinks himself entitled to the office, is to sue out a writ of quo warranto, which will reopen the whole case.

Pythian Visitation.

Fred J. Cutler, Jr., of Ionia, deputy grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Michigan, will visit the knights of Marquette at their castle hall in the Fraternity block Friday evening of this week. Iron Cross and Presque Isle lodges will hold a joint session on that evening and the deputy will exemplify the new secret work of the order and hold a school of instruction. He will be tendered an informal reception and banquet after the meeting in the parlors and dining room of Fraternity Hall. The attendance of every Knight of Pythias in the city is cordially requested.

Fell by the Wayside.

A deck hand on one of the vessels in port got into a difficulty with the mate Monday and was badly whipped in the resulting encounter. The captain seemed to think the mate had gone rather too far for he gave the man a ticket to St. Mary's hospital and $3 and told him to go and get fixed up. The sailor fell into the first gin-mill he came to and proceeded to accumulate for his $3 a large and vociferous load. As a result he was run in by the police and before Justice Cray yesterday morning presented a sickening sight. He told his story as above to the justice, who dismissed the charge of drunk and disorderly and sent the poor fellow up to the hospital. The man asserted that he could not remember the name of the boat on which he worked and the name of the brutal mate is therefore unknown.

The Firemen's Ball. Morse Hose company will give a ball at Armory Hall tonight and requests the attendance of citizens generally. The treasury of the company is at a very low ebb and it needs some help that it may go ahead with various useful enterprises. It will be remembered that Morse Hose company organized the great charity ball last winter, gave $50 out of its own treasury and carried out the affair with such zeal and enthusiasm that nearly $1,500 was raised for the poor of the city. Now the company asks the people to remember its services. All who attend will get the worth of their money and will assist a useful and public spirited organization of young men. Mrs. T. M. Donovan will serve supper for the dancers in the Armory dining room.

DRESS MAKING. Miss Winter and Mrs. Dumond will take orders for dress making, or go out sewing, Ida Block, corner Fourth and Washington streets. (11-21-94)

A MARTYR TO INDIGESTION Cured by Using Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Words of Comfort to All who Suffer from Dyspepsia.

"For years, I was a martyr to indigestion, and had about given up all hope of ever finding relief, as the complaint only seemed to grow worse instead of better, under ordinary treatment. At last, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I hereby testify that after using only three bottles, I was cured. I can, therefore, confidently recommend this medicine to all similarly afflicted." - FRANKLIN BECK, Avoca, Ia.

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Beck and believe any statement he may make to be true." - W. J. MAXWELL, Druggist and Pharmacist, Avoca, Ia.

"I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla for general debility and, as a blood-purifier, find it does exactly as is claimed for it." - S. J. ADAMS, Ezzell, Texas.
