FIRST DAY OF DEBATE.

House of Representatives Takes Up Consideration of the Carlisle Currency Bill.

SENATOR HILL DECLARES IN FAVOR OF CLOTURE

Believes Republicans Will Make Such a Rule If They Ever Again Get Control.

SPRINGER DEFENDS THE BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Springer moved that the house go into committee of the whole for consideration of the currency bill. The motion prevailed and Springer took the floor to make an argument in favor of its passage. Springer began by relating the amount of consideration by the committee to the bill, including the taking of opinions of the ablest financiers of the country besides having the assistance of government financial and executive officers. Bill as reported is a compromise of the ideas of the fairly represented sentiments of the members of the committee. While Springer was discussing the provision looking to the ultimate redemption and retirement of legal tenders and emphasizing the necessity for this by pointing out that the treasury within a year has twice been forced to issue bonds to protect redemption, Cannon asked whether it was not true that $100,000,000 borrowed to maintain redemption had really been used to pay the current expenses of the government.

"There is nothing in the bill on the subject," responded Springer curtly. Springer gave notice that at the proper time he would offer sundry amendments looking to the perfection of the bill, among them, one permitting the deposit of currency certificates issued under the act of 1872, $54,000,000 of which is outstanding.

Dingley charged Springer with inconsistency in supporting a bill which contained a provision for the repeal of the ten per cent. tax on state banks, a measure which he earnestly opposed less than six months ago. Springer insisted he did oppose the repeal of the tax on state banks as a separate measure, but when made part of a general system of financial reform he considered it safe, although he was frank enough to say he would prefer simply national bank circulation.

Walker, who is in charge of the opposition to the measure, then took the floor. He began with a statement of the Baltimore plan. It afforded not a shadow of relief and did not deserve a moment's consideration, he declared. Again, the bill presented by the secretary of the treasury was an amazing scheme. The bill had not a feature that could be enacted except after remodeling without endangering the financial interests of the country. Walker spoke of his own bill and its superiority over the Carlisle bill. He expressed the hope that his bill would pass instead of the Carlisle bill.

Walker's elaboration of the terms of his bill attracted the closest attention. Speaking of the onerous work placed upon the secretary of the treasury by an attempt to keep up the gold reserve in times of financial depression Walker created a laugh.

"Manning died in office," said he. "Wisdom died in office. I say to you that any man who runs the treasury department under the existing conditions for four years and does not die has not done his duty."

Hall, also a member of the committee on banking and currency, who followed, contended that the Carlisle bill was opposed by the national banks because they preferred the Baltimore plan because in the Baltimore plan the government stood behind the notes issued and in the Carlisle bill the banks themselves were responsible for their notes. Hall insisted that every bank official summoned before the committee was forced to admit when cornered that the currency issued under the Carlisle bill would be entirely safe. He repudiated the statement that this bill was prepared in haste. It had, he said, been prepared after fifteen months investigation by the banking and currency committee and twenty months suffering by the treasury.

At the conclusion of Hall's speech the committee rose. Henderson reported the postoffice appropriation bills and the house adjourned.

HILL FAVORS CLOTURE.

Senate Should Be Able to Transact More Business.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Hill took the floor of the senate and made an argument in favor of a change in the rules of the senate so that business might be facilitated. He said it was not a partisan matter but one involving the welfare of the whole country. He said: "The sentiment of the country seems to desire the adoption of some new methods of procedure here whereby necessary legislation may be better facilitated, the sessions of congress materially shortened and the best interests of the country more securely preserved in their normal conditions. I assert that the privilege of unlimited debate in the legislative body is inconsistent with and destructive of the right and power of legislation. I believe the present affords an opportunity for the accomplishment of the proposed innovation. It is as certain as anything in political affairs can be that if our Republican friends obtain control of this body and desire to enact important legislation to carry out their principles they will boldly amend the rule to enable them to do it promptly and their reluctance to join with us now in framing reasonable rules to regulate debate leads to the suspicion that they intend to do something altogether more radical and sweeping than anything we have proposed.

"Besides there is another view of our duty which presents itself and which ought not to be ignored. The president in his recent annual message has seen fit to recommend certain legislation pertaining to the tariff, a few material modifications of the existing law. But the spirit largely seems to have crept over this body, creating the general impression that nothing is to be enacted this session of a political nature or at least nothing to which the minority does not consent. I am strenuously opposed to any such policy of inaction."

The senator also argued in favor of counting a quorum and closed by declaring that no cry of "gag law" should prevent an amendment to the rules. At the conclusion of Hill's remarks Turpie resumed his speech on the Nicaragua canal bill. He devoted some time to the consideration of the question of concessions and forfeitures possible in the event of its non-completion within ten years from 1887. There is nothing to mortgage and nothing to sell. The concessions gave no title and no sort of property rights to the company. Taking up the question of the physical construction of various portions of the canal the senator went on to point out the great difficulties that would have to be overcome and to argue that the estimated cost of minor canals forming a part of the whole system was too low and in one case—that of the canal between Lake Managua and Nicaragua—the estimate was mere guess work. The whole thing appeared to Turpie as having every indication of being a gorgeous bubble. To grant $70,000,000 would be an instance of national credulity or national verandancy and unreasonable without a preliminary survey and an estimate of the cost. "There is nothing in the bill to secure the completion of the canal or any part of it."

Without waiting the conclusion of the speech the senate went into an executive session and later adjourned.

BLIXT STRANGELY INFLUENCED.

Defendants in Gine Murder Case Preparing for Trial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 18.—It is settled that W. W. Erwin, the criminal lawyer, will undertake the defense of Harry Hayward in his trial for the murder of Catherine Gine. W. W. Hayward, Harry's father, today declared the defense had evidence that Blixt was in the power of a gang and committed the crime under their dictation with the understanding that if discovered it would be ascribed to Harry Hayward. This gang he added was not composed of Minneapolis people.

Mrs. Claus A. Blixt today made a long statement to her husband's attorney, the purport of which is that she had long known of the immense influence exerted over her husband by Harry Hayward and that she tried in vain to counteract it. This is to be used in connection with the evidence of Blixt's father and brother to show that the man is of a temperament most susceptible to any influence that approached hypnotic in its character. It is a question as to whether the court will permit testimony of a hypnotic character but the defense will make a strong effort to show at least that Blixt was not a free moral agent when he committed the crime.

HUNTINGTON NOT A THIEF.

Mystery Surrounding That Lost Note Has Been Cleared Up.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Dec. 18.—The theory that Huntington, the bank clerk who shot two bond company inspectors and then committed suicide, was shot by other hands than his own was exploded today, and the jury accordingly decided. The jury went to the hotel to hear the testimony of Hayden and Cromwell. Both decided much the same way as it has already been given to the public by the papers. Cromwell's testimony did much to strengthen the belief in Huntington's innocence of any financial crookedness. He said he could not specify any particular check that was missing, so far as he could see the bank had not lost $500.

The mystery surrounding the note about which the inspectors questioned Huntington Sunday morning was cleared up this afternoon. The note was for $50 and was paid this month, although Huntington could not tell where he got the money with which to pay it. Judge Bennett, cashier of the State Savings bank, testified that on the same day the note fell due Huntington borrowed $50 at his bank. There is no doubt the whole miserable affair resulted from Huntington getting his accounts mixed and that he was not a thief but thought he was to be so branded.

FIVE MEN WERE KILLED

The Engine Explodes in a Bay City Box Factory.

BAY CITY, Mich., Dec. 18.—Five men were killed and a number injured by an explosion in Russell Bros. box factory. The dead are: JOHN CALCUTT, fireman; SIGEO PFUND; ALBERT RAHEN; JOHN BRAUER; AL HAVENBACHER. One boy is believed to be buried in the ruins. The injured are Fred Wildanger, Charles Doge, George Hudson. The boiler exploded while the mill was temporarily shut down and the men flocking to the engine room.

CHARGED WITH REPEATING.

St. Louis Grand Jury Is Still Investigating Pension Frauds.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—As a result of its investigation into the alleged election frauds the grand jury today handed down about twenty more indictments against men charged with repeating, mostly in the First and Second wards. As yet the names of all the indicted men are not made public. Four have already been arrested—Edward McElvaney, Frank Pessagno, Ed Miller and Wm. Cahill.

NOT A LABOR ORGANIZATION

American Federation of Labor Members Denounce the Knights of Labor.

CONVENTION DECLINES TO RECOGNIZE THE KNIGHTS

The Convention Passes Complimentary Resolutions in Honor of Its Officers and Then Adjourns

WILL FAVOR UNITY OF ACTION.

DENVER, Dec. 18.—At the last day's session of the American Federation of Labor Chairman Braunwood, of the committee on the Phillips bill providing a commission to consider labor laws, reported favorably and the majority report was adopted. Daring Gompers' absence from the hall the United Mine workers of America presented a series of complimentary resolutions which were unanimously adopted expressing appreciation of Gompers' work and extending the heartiest good wishes for his future.

At the afternoon session a special committee appointed to bring about unity of action in the labor movement made its report. It recounted the proceedings of a conference with other labor organizations and recommended annual conferences of a similar nature to be held hereafter. Penna made a speech in which he made a bitter attack upon the present officers of the Knights of Labor. He mentioned sovereign, Bishop and Hayes, saying:

"I favor harmony between labor organizations but I charge that the committee libels true union labor men when it classes such men among them. I do not refer to the Knights of Labor as a whole for the majority of the members are in open revolt against their officers. The officers in past years secured a power that makes it possible for them to absolutely control all general assemblies of the organization and thus perpetuate themselves in office."

McBride offered a substitute to the committee's report favoring unity of action of trades unions, but declining to affiliate in any way with the Knights of Labor so long as that organization occupies its present position upon important questions concerning organized labor. It was adopted.

Secretary Evans was quietly called from the hall and while absent resolutions highly endorsing his past record were adopted.

Hon. David Holmes of England was introduced and made a speech to the convention. He pledged his brethren at home to a hearty welcome for Delegates Gompers and McGuire next summer. President Gompers responded and was received with great enthusiasm.

P. J. McGuire took the floor to make denials of some charges against him in the press attributed to T. J. Morgan. Morgan responded and for a time gall and wormwood flowed freely as they reviewed their quarrels. Then Gompers recited his grievance against Morgan and finally, upon a proposition by McGuire, old differences were thrown aside and the old comrades in the battle for labor agreed to stand shoulder to shoulder against their common enemy—capital.

At 6 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

OBJECT TO THE BILL

Illinois Bankers Do Not Favor Baltimore Currency Plan.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The executive committee of the State Bankers' association met here today. It was the intention of the members to express themselves against the Baltimore currency plan but after consideration it was deemed inadvisable to assume to give expression for the association though it is evident the great majority of the bankers of Illinois are opposed to the plan. It was decided to present a bill to the coming session of the legislature for the abolition of the three days of grace. To the same committee which will have charge of the measure was also referred another bill to make the endorser of a note or commercial paper equally liable with the maker. The next convention will be held at Rock Island, June 6 and 7.

ADMITTED HIS GUILT

Another Pension Fraud Conspirator Receives His Sentence.

DURQUE, Ia., Dec. 18.—Another of the pension fraud conspirators was disposed of this afternoon. The case of Dr. Kessel of Cresco, Ia., indicted with VanDeuven, was called but did not come to trial, the defendant pleading guilty to the charges made in the three indictments. Judge Shiras sentenced him to eighteen months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs in each case. The sentence as far as it affects imprisonment was suspended and the defendant paid $3,500 into court and was discharged.

MAY JOIN THE COMMISSION.

American Consul May Yet Investigate the Armenian Outrage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—It is now stated that President Cleveland after all will accede to Turkey's request and send a delegate with the commission to inquire into the Armenian outrage. Inquiry at the state department shows that the president has taken no fresh action in the matter of sending Consul Jewett to investigate Armenian atrocities since his last report to congress.

PRIZES ON PATENTS.

How to Get $100 and Perhaps Make a Fortune.

We secure patents and to induce people to keep track of their bright ideas we offer a prize of one hundred dollars to be paid on the first of every month to the person who submits to us the most meritorious invention during the preceding month. We will also advertise the invention free of charge in the National Recorder a weekly newspaper, published in Washington, D. C., which has an extensive circulation throughout the United States and is devoted to the interests of inventors.

Not so Hard as it Seems.

The idea of being able to invent something strikes most people as being difficult; this delusion the Company wishes to dispel. It is the simple things and small inventions that make the greatest amount of money, and the complex ones are seldom profitable. Almost everybody, at some time or another, conceives an idea, which, if patented, would probably be worth to him a fortune. Unfortunately such ideas are usually dismissed without thought. The simple inventions like the car window which could be easily slid up and down without breaking the passenger's back, the sauce pan, the collar button, the nut lock, the bottle stopper, the snow shovel, are things that almost everybody sees some way of improving upon, and it is these kind of inventions that bring the greatest returns to the inventor.

The prize we offer will be paid at the end of each month, whether the application has been acted upon by the Patent office or not. Every competitor must apply for a patent on his invention through us, and whether he secures the prize or not, the inventor will have a valuable patent.

NEW MACHINERY ADDED.

Quincy Company Making Necessary and Important Improvements to Its Property.

SOME SAND BADLY NEEDED ON THE ICY STREETS.

The Houghton High School Football Team Did Not Play on the Ripley Sands.

[All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich. Telephone connection.]

HANCOCK.

The Quincy Mining company is making a most important improvement on its property, chief among which are the construction of new rock-houses and the installation of a large amount of new and efficient machinery. When these improvements are completed, which will be by next summer, the Quincy will be enabled to handle a much larger amount of rock than ever before. The old shaft and rock-house at the westernmost or main shaft has heretofore handled all the rock from the mine, the rock hoisted from other shafts being hauled over a trestle in cars by a cable to the rock breaker. By next summer the Quincy will have three rock houses in active operation, the old one at the western end of the property, one at No. 6 or North Quincy shaft and one at No. 2 shaft. The two latter named will take rock direct from the skips and after breaking will dump it into chutes or direct into the cars of the Quincy & Torch Lake road, which will take it to the mill on Torch Lake.

Some new machinery is being placed in the machine shop, among which is noted a Universal Radical Drill press weighing 3,000 pounds and capable of doing any work in its line that may be required, and two Lodge & Davis lathes, the largest having a 24-inch swing and 24-foot bed and weighing 5 1/2 tons, the smaller having a 22-inch swing and a 11-foot bed and weighing two tons. A new hoisting plant is being installed at the No. 2 shaft, and when complete will rank well up with the mammoth machinery with which the Calumet & Hecla and Tamarack mines are equipped. The engine will be 43x34 with a 26-foot flat hoisting drum, having a 13-foot face. The machinery is being built by the E. P. Allen Iron works at Milwaukee and is of a very substantial nature. The engine will be of the direct hoist plan, the drum revolving one time and taking up a little over thirty feet of rope with each revolution of the engine. The bottom of the shaft to which this engine is to be attached is nearly 4,000 feet below surface and great power and speed is required to economically handle the rock.

Since its purchase of the Pewabic property, the Quincy has expended a vast amount of money in improvements. A dozen or more substantial stone structures have been erected for shops and engine houses, and two monstrous new shaft and rock houses have been built, and the second of these is now being equipped. The purchase of the Pewabic guaranteed the life of the Quincy for an indefinite period, and it is not at all surprising that the stock of the Quincy is taking an upward turn, as the mine is without doubt one of the most valuable mineral properties in the country.

HOUGHTON.

The condition of the street leading up to the Catholic church and parish school is such as to require immediate attention. The street is so bad that the sidewalks are infinitely worse. The street is laid out at such a terrific incline that even in summer it is no easy task to climb it, but in winter, with legions of youngsters coasting down the sidewalks on sleds, bare feet, and ice, the sidewalks and portions of the own anatomy, the sidewalks acquire a polish that is beautiful to behold, but most dangerous to venture upon. A few bushels of sand strewn over the sidewalks on this hill would soon cause the children to transfer their coasting to some place where less harm would be caused by it.

Thos. Downs and Mrs. Bessie Wial were wedded on Sunday last at the home of the bride, Atlantic mine.

Fred W. Kroll is showing a fine line of toys, books, plush goods and imported booklets for children, and many other goods suitable to the holidays and not beyond the reach of a modest purse.

Peter Hein will auction off a large number of musical instruments at his store in the Hartman block, on Saturday and Monday next. The goods will go for what they will bring and some good bargains can undoubtedly be secured.

The skating on the lake has been stopped by rain and snow, and for the present there is little danger of drowning accidents.

The game of football played on the Ripley sands last Saturday was not between the Houghton High school club and the Hancock Cyclones, as has been stated by the Portage Lake representative of a Calumet paper. The club playing from the Houghton side of the lake was picked up on short notice to play the Cyclones. It was recruited principally from the high school, but was not the regular high school team, nor was it so represented to anyone. The score was 8 to 4 in favor of the Houghton team, and not 4 to 4 as stated by the newspaper mentioned. The decision of the referee was in favor of the Houghton team, and a disputed point has been referred to football authorities for a decisive answer.

The local employees of the American Express company are getting ready to change their livery with the death of the old and birth of the new year, when they will become vassals of the Western Express company.

A wagon load of sand scattered on the steep streets of Houghton, as was done recently in Hancock, would place the town on a much better footing than it now enjoys.

latter takes the management of the place at the beginning of the year.

People who keep their children off the streets at night will as a rule bring up young men and women who will be a credit and a comfort to their parents. There are entirely too many boys and girls of tender years running the streets of Red Jacket at night. The streets are the first recruiting station for the legions of the evil one.

LAKE LINDEN.

The new school house at South Lake Linden has been completed at last and will be occupied shortly after the first of the year. It is a large and commodious structure and will be appreciated by both teachers and pupils.

The German Aid society will give one of their charitable balls for which that society has become famous at the opera house on Monday evening, Dec. 31.

ABOUT ICEBERGS.

Correction of Wrong Impressions About the White Mountains of the Ocean.

The only two varieties that are worthy of consideration, owing to their importance, are icebergs and ice floes, says Home and Country. The icebergs are originally simple in form—just huge hunks of ice. They are entitled to the name of "bergs," or mountain, only because they appear as such when floating on the flat surface of the open sea. When seen close to the mountainous, rock-bound coast of Greenland, most of which is covered by the snow and ice, they look remarkably small and insignificant. Roughly speaking, they are about as large as a house, and vary in size about as much as houses do. To be more accurate, few are over one hundred and fifty to two hundred feet in height, and icebergs reaching a height of three hundred feet are exceptions.

The bergs of northern seas are not so broad and long as those of the Antarctic ocean, the latter not infrequently covering a surface of over a square mile. The former therefore look like huge blocks, rather than the huge fragments of ice plateaus of the southern polar seas. Furthermore, the southern icebergs appear to be composed of two or more strata or layers of ice, and are far clearer than their northern sisters, on account of their freedom from foreign matter and the purity of the ice which composes them. These distinctive features are not so prominent in the old bergs which have been partly melted and broken away by the water.

The porous glacial ice of the bergs is about one-seventh lighter than seawater, and only one-seventh of its bulk juts above the surface of the water. It must not be imagined, however, that an iceberg one hundred feet high reaches six hundred feet below the surface. This would be the case if the berg were an exact geometrical figure, which it is not. It is one-seventh of its bulk that appears above the surface, and not of its height. The part under the water—the remaining six-sevenths—may be made up in width and breadth, rather than depth, as is indeed generally the case.

CASTLES IN THE AIR.

Time spent in Building Them is Worse Than Wasted.

There is no habit of youth more enticing, and yet more dangerous to practical effort, than the habit of castle-building. Like real castles, perhaps the inheritance of an impoverished heir, they must be kept up. Fully half the folly and suffering of poor human nature may be traced to the failure to reach a practical idea of life, to a vain reaching out for an imaginary state of things.

The woman who lives within the limits of her own circumstances and, purse, content to lift herself by degrees to the higher things to which she aspires, and to which every one ought to aspire, is far more likely to be successful than she who dreams forever of a higher sphere and despises the humble surroundings that are hers.

Happy and beautiful these castles in Spain, but they cost a vast deal to keep up." To them must be sacrificed the joy of the genuine, the fruition of full success. It is true that some geniuses have been moody, dreamy people, but it is equally true that only a small proportion of moody, dreamy people have been geniuses. The vast mass of people must be up and doing, must be alert and in full sympathy with the human life around them, if they would win success. There is a great difference among people as to the meaning of this word success. To the vulgar mind, a great financier, speculating without heart or scruple, and winning, is the highest embodiment of success. To the strict moralist he may be an example only of successful crime, a name chiefly to "point a moral or adorn a tale." Wise people will probably most generally agree, however, that the man who has been most useful to his kind is the greatest success, rather than he who has pursued his own selfish aims.

There is a certain amount of failure in all selfishness. The selfish life fails to accomplish the end of its desires, which is contentment. The selfish financier is forever reaching out for larger gains, for the more he has, the more inordinate become his desires. The selfish public man is never contented with the honors he has gained.

The great danger in castle building lies in the fact that the flights of the imagination, especially in young people, weaken the energies for practical work. In so far as castle-building may be useful, so far as the scheme dreamt out can be put into practical use, does it become legitimate. Many an able man has thought out schemes for the help of mankind, which in another world would have been the vaguest castle-building, but he had that assurance which Milton describes when he said that he believed it was given to him to write a work that mankind "would not willingly let die." Most men of genius have an inward sense of their own power, in whatever sense they may have power. Their castle-building is of quite a different order from the foolish dreams of idlers, who seek only vainglory. Let no one think because a child is dreamy and moody that he is therefore serious-minded. The most useful and serious-minded people sometimes take life lightly. Dreaminess is most often the result of indolence and sometimes of moroseness and downright indifference to others, possibly also of a sensitive temperament that shrinks from contact with the world.

Over forty different kinds of surgical instruments were found in the house of a surgeon at Pompeii. Some resembled the instruments now in use, while others are so completely different from anything of the kind now employed that their use is entirely conjectural. All were included in brass or boxwood cases, and some even retained the exquisite polish that they had when buried.

A good story is told of a number of boys who were playing on Saturday in front of an Episcopal church. The rector suddenly came out of his parsonage and told the boys to be quiet in front of the Lord's house. "That is all right, mister," said the boys. "The Lord is not here to-day. He is down the street at the Jewish synagogue."—Jewish Messenger.

WILL BE PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE TODAY.

A Permanent Commission Is Created to Arbitrate Labor Trouble on All Transportation Lines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Labor Commissioner Wright has sent Representative Erdman, (Penn.) a draft of the bill for the national arbitration of strikes, the measure prepared by Wright and his associates on the strike commission appointed by President Cleveland to investigate the great Chicago strike.

Not more than three commissioners shall be appointed from the same political party. One of them shall have had experience in the management of railroads and the other is to be selected from an incorporated association of railway employees.

The bill provides that the system of arbitration and conciliation shall apply to all common carriers engaged in transportation between states and by water and to all persons and corporations leasing cars used for such transportation and all of their employees.

Whenever receivers are appointed by the federal courts in control of a railroad the employees shall have the right to be heard in court upon all questions affecting the terms of their employment and no reduction of wages shall be made by receivers without the authority of the court after due notice.

Eminent Men Partially Blind. Four of the most eminent men in Europe are at the present time suffering from partial blindness. In all cases the nature of the ailment is the same, namely, cataract. Mr. Gladstone has had several operations performed upon one of his eyes. The other eye is still sound enough to enable him to read and write. Sir William Harcourt's eyes are both much obscured, and must soon have relief or be altogether darkened. M. Jules Simon is in a like plight, and Sig. Crispi, in whose case the ailment has not proceeded quite so far as in the others, has already sought the services of a skilled oculist.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, an when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. TEACHERS AND PUPILS WORKING WITH A WILL.

Orchestra to Give a Masquerade Ball. Another Postponement of Kinney's Hearing.

FRIDAY AT THE SCHOOLS.

Never before in the history of Ishpeming's public schools has such attention been paid to the exercises at the Christmas closing as is being given them this year. The superintendent, teachers and pupils are all interested and every child in all the schools will take part, in some way or other, in the exercises. A special program of musical and literary numbers has been prepared, and in all of the rooms, with the exception of the high school room, in the High school building, Santa Claus will appear during the afternoon, and in several of the primary rooms Christmas trees will bear a rich burden of gifts for the little ones.

Teachers have sent parents of their pupils invitations to attend the exercises and they are desirous of having all who can possibly do so present. At the Division street, Salisbury and Ridge street schools, the exercises will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and at the High school building they will take place in all the rooms, with the exception of the high school room, at 2 o'clock. The exercises in the High school room will begin at 4 o'clock. The principal feature will be a Christmas dinner at which the pupils were served. Professor Hughes of Marquette will assist in the musical part of the program. An admission fee of twenty-five cents to defray expenses will be charged.

A Masquerade Ball.

The Twin City orchestra has decided to give a masquerade ball at the A. O. U. W. hall Friday evening, Feb. 1, a week after the German Aid society's mask ball at Negaunee. Quite a number of those who prepare costumes for the German Aid masquerade will also attend the ball here. The orchestra will secure the services of experienced persons to conduct the dance. Competent floor and reception committees will be named, and everything will be done to have the affair pass off to the satisfaction of all. The orchestra has gone to considerable expense to provide itself with new music this season, and, being assured that the society under whose auspices the masquerade was given last year did not intend to give one this year, it expects that the ball will be liberally patronized. The fall orchestra, consisting of eight pieces, will play for the dance. Liberal prizes will be given and the admission will be fifty cents for each person.

Hearing Postponed Again.

The hearing in the case of James Kinney, which was in progress Saturday and Monday at Justice Funston's court, will be taken up again on Thursday, the 27th. Prosecuting Attorney Young has other matters to occupy him between now and Christmas, consequently could not continue the hearing to a finish yesterday. Quite a number of witnesses have been examined for both sides and there are several yet to be sworn. Kinney was in possession of a revolver and other articles a few months ago which have passed through quite a number of hands and thus far it is impossible to tell who really stole them. There are two young men—one in Chicago and one in Bay City—who have some knowledge of the revolver transactions between Kinney and his chums and it is possible that these will be brought here to tell what they know about the affair.

Lost a Hand.

Joseph Farley, a resident of Frenchtown, had his right hand cut off a little above the wrist while operating a circular saw at the Salisbury mine yesterday morning. He was cutting some lumber for the mine and in showing the piece against the blade it slipped to one side and the arm fell upon the saw. The hand was held to the arm by the skin on one side. The arm was bandaged temporarily by some of the men at the mine and as soon as a team could be secured the unfortunate man was taken to the Ishpeming hospital, where the surgeons dressed the wound. Farley is a married man but has no children.

Taken Back to the Asylum.

Thos. White, who returned from the asylum at Traverse City about ten days ago, apparently entirely sane, became violent again Saturday night and up to yesterday noon, when he was sent back to the asylum, he was in charge of his friends. It became necessary to keep a close watch over him. Marshal Carlson and John Quinlan accompanied Mr. White to Traverse City.

Paid His Fine.

The friends of Marino Carso, the Italian who was committed to the county jail for fifty days in default of payment of a fine imposed for an assault on a fellow boarder, raised the required amount and released him. It is said that Gussie, whom Carso assaulted, contributed to the fund.

A New Pastor.

The members of Calvary Baptist church are preparing to make a call for a new pastor. They have about decided to call Rev. Mr. Slocum of Urbana, O., who is said to be a very fine preacher and a hard worker. Rev. Green, the present pastor has not yet accepted a call.

Met Him on an Equality.

A self-important little country gentleman entered Baron Haussmann's office in Paris one day, having some complaint to make, and proceeded to state his errand in a pretty lofty tone and without taking off his hat. The officer was equal to the occasion. "Wait a moment," he said, and he rang a bell. A servant answered the summons. "Bring me my hat," said the prefect. The hat was brought, the officer put it on and turned to his caller. "Now," said he, "I will hear you."

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

M. Barthelemy's plan for a metropolitan railroad for Paris comprises a section under ground from the Gare du Nord to the Hotel de Ville, then above ground and across the Seine to the Halle aux vins, then under ground again to the Place Medicis, near the Luxembourg. Another section will run above ground from the Porte de Vincennes to the Halle aux vins, and a third section partly above and partly under ground from the place Cluzy to the Champs de Mars and La Muette, in the Bois de Boulogne. The cost is estimated at one hundred million francs.

Agnetta Park, near Delft, in Holland, is the result of an interesting experiment in co-operation. A tract of ten acres has upon it one hundred and fifty houses, each with its little garden, and with certain common buildings and common grounds. The houses are occupied by the employees of a great distilling company, who form a corporation which owns the park. Each member owns shares in the corporation and pays rent for his house. The surplus, after expenses are paid, comes back to him as dividend. If he wishes to go away or dies, his shares are bought up by the corporation and sold to the man who takes his place.

Camels are now in general use throughout Australia. Within twenty-five years, by scientific breeding, a race has been produced larger in frame, sounder in wind and limb, and able to carry more weight than the Indian camels originally imported. A quarantine for imported animals is established at Port Augusta, two hundred and sixty miles northwest of Adelaide, where they are carefully guarded for three months, during which time they are subject to a destructive mangle, which carries off most of them, but to which they are no longer liable when once acclimatized. There are ten thousand camels at work, which not only transport loads upon their backs, but are trained to draw wagons, yoked in teams of eight like oxen.

For many years Japan has been trying to secure the independence of Corea and place that kingdom on a political equality with its neighbors. It is in every way to Japan's interest that Corea should be subject to the domination of no external power—neither her own nor that of China or Russia. It is no secret that since the adoption of a reformed system of government by the Japanese, Corea has striven by every means at her command to obstruct the operation of that system. One of her methods was to instigate the Coreans to maintain an immovable attitude of defiance, to offer perpetual affronts to all Japanese officials who visited the kingdom on public business, and to impede the trade between the countries by vexatious restrictions.

On the site of the great palace of the kings of Babylon, where Belshazzar held his feast, a black basalt statue, covered with fine inscriptions, has been found by Arab diggers and sent to Constantinople. The finds of the French and American explorers in southern Babylonia all belong to the Turkish government, and are taken to the Imperial Ottoman museum at Constantinople, where there are now no less than fifty thousand newly-discovered inscribed objects from Sippara, where the Turks themselves are excavating; from Tel-loh, where the French are, and from Nalir, the American field. At Tel-loh, lately, after M. Sarzae, the French agent left, the Arabs employed by him came upon a large chamber filled with inscribed clay tablets, most of which they sold to American, Syrian, and Jewish brokers, who succeeded in getting a part of the collection to London and Paris. The remainder was seized by the authorities at Bagdad.

CHRONIC CHILLINESS.

The Remedy Suggested is Outdoor Exercise at All Seasons.

How many people suffer in winter! They are constantly having chills; a feeling of cold water trickling down the back or some local stagnation of blood, with altered nervous sensations, is experienced; the hands, feet, nose or ears are especially likely to give inconvenience. Such individuals can not get warm even in bed, and, as a consequence, often suffer from insomnia, for sleeplessness is often caused by cold feet. Many such conditions arise from the fear of taking outdoor exercise, because the weather is too cold. Hence the circulation is not kept going, and the blood, vitiated by the close, impure air of the house, has no chance offered it of being allowed to purify itself. The foulest river or stream of water is rendered pure by exposure to the air as it comes along, and after a run of a few miles becomes fit for consumption. Why, then, will delicate people deny the stream of life an opportunity to purify itself as it courses through their veins? Here is the secret of how to keep warm in winter—outdoor exercise in pure air.

Many individuals mistake the feeling of cold for "catarrh." But feeling cold and "taking a cold" are different things. A shiver from exposure to cold—indeed, a half-frozen condition—is not in itself likely to end in a so-called "cold," so long as the exposure has been in open air; but we hold that by breathing the impure air of badly-ventilated rooms a chill may be very easily contracted that will end in a "cold." In cold weather we distinctly recommend the ordinarily healthy man or woman to try the effect of outdoor exercises, especially when the feeling is strong, that it is too cold to go out of doors. Exercise under such circumstances will usually act as a tonic to the whole frame and brace up the nervous system, the special function of which is to regulate the heat of the body. The skin should be freely exposed to the air before dressing in the morning, and after the morning washing or cold tepid bath rub the body into a glow with a coarse towel, and you will be very nearly cold and water proof.—Philadelphia Times.

FOR A POULTRY SHOW.

Movement on Foot to Hold One Here in the Near Future.

POULTRY FANCIERS START ORGANIZATION.

New Express Company Will Begin Business January 1—Mayor Had the Wrong Dress Suit.

HEN EXPERTS ORGANIZING.

A well attended meeting of poultry fanciers was held at Lobdell's store last evening for the purpose of organizing the Upper Peninsula Poultry and Pet Stock association, with a view of getting together those interested in that subject and of holding a poultry show in this city later in the winter. Poultry and pet stock fanciers, breeders, and all persons interested in eggs of later vintage than 1776 are cordially invited to take a hand in the movement.

There was considerable discussion of plans and prospects for a poultry show in this city and it was decided to call another meeting on Friday evening, Dec. 28, to perfect organization, elect officers, etc. The temporary secretary was directed to find out what the services of an expert judge of poultry could be secured for and report to the next meeting.

All persons in the upper peninsula interested in thorough-bred poultry or pet stock are requested to send their names and addresses to A. J. Lobdell or George W. Freeman, and if possible to attend in person the meeting to be held Dec. 28. Several poultry shows have been held or are now in progress in lower Michigan towns and it is believed that a good exhibition can be given here. Of course a date will be selected that will not conflict with similar shows in this or neighboring states. The place of the next meeting will be announced later.

A good poultry show might attract to the city a considerable number of visitors and would doubtless be pleasing and profitable.

Will Begin January 1.

Manager W. A. Stout of the Dominion Express company was in the city yesterday on business connected with the new Western Express company, which will shortly succeed the American on the South Shore and Soo lines. Mr. Stout said that the new company would be ready to begin business on Jan. 1, or within a few days thereafter. He also said that the new company would afford the public all facilities now enjoyed at no higher rates than now charged. The new company will do a money order business and conduct all other departments now general in the express service.

Mr. Stout could not say where the local office of the Western would be located, details of the organization being in the hands of the superintendent of the new company, Mr. G. Ford. Mr. Ford has been going over the South Shore and Soo lines of late and has been in the city twice for a few hours. He is an experienced expressman, having been for years in the service of the American and Dominion companies.

Agent S. E. Hughes of the American said yesterday that he had received no official notice from the headquarters of his company of discontinuance of service on the South Shore road. Neither had Mr. Hughes heard anything official about the wagon service between this city and Negaunee.

Though no one seems authorized to speak definitely upon the subject there are many indications that the American will not retire from at least part of this field without a struggle and will at all events keep its office in this city. Of course Marquette has no objection to having two rival express companies competing for business in and out of this city. The more the merrier.

Sent the Wrong Dress Suit.

The Detroit Free Press of Monday contains the following good story of Marquette's jolly mayor and his experience with some other fellow's dress suit:

When Nate Kaufman was at the Cadillac for the purpose of attending his brother's wedding, a rather ludicrous incident occurred, in which the popular mayor of Marquette, large capitalist and all-round good fellow, was a participant. Nate, upon the examination of his evening togs discovered that they had a wrinkle or two in them. So he sent them to the tailor's to be properly pressed and brushed up.

The evening before the wedding a dinner was given to Colonel Kaufman and fiancée, and Nate of course was one of the honored guests. Just before it was time to dress for the occasion, the bell boy brought up a large parcel, and Nate rightly surmised that it contained his suit. He proceeded to dress and donned the clothes the tailor had sent him.

Now Nate is of a short, jovial kind of proportion, with considerable girth. The dress suit, however, had been made for a gentleman about six feet four inches, and so there was about a foot to spare when Nate donned them. The coat tails nearly touched the floor, while the trousers could have been turned up six inches and then scraped the floor.

Most men would have got mad, then the clothes out of the window or called the tailor on the carpet and unceremoniously blessed him, but Nate did none of these things. He just started to laugh, and laughed long and loud. But his friend Price McKinney of Cleveland did not think it was a good joke.

"This is a case where I'd be furious," he said. "What the dickens are you laughing at?"

"Oh," said Nate, as he surveyed the surplus yards of wrinkles, "I was just thinking how the other fellow would look in my suit."

The story spread and the ladies wanted to see how Nate looked, so he gayly posed for them in his borrowed plumage.

"Who says this suit doesn't fit," he remarked. "The tailor says it's mine, and he should know."

The dinner, it may be believed, passed off none the less merrily on account of the episode.

Returns had not yet been received from the other fellow, the one to whom the tailor's blunder consigned the mayor's evening clothes.

Will Not Change Terminus.

Mr. W. E. Tyler, travelling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, was in the city yesterday and said that the stories published at Menominee as to the reported intention of the St. Paul to change its northern terminus from Champion to Menominee were without foundation. Some of the sheets published in Menominee emitted a few weeks ago a great amount of rejoicing over the rumored intention of the St. Paul to make that place its northern terminus, to run trains solid from Chicago to Menominee and to leave nothing but a stub train on the line north of Ellis Junction. THE MINING JOURNAL discredited the story at the time, not believing that the St. Paul would thus sacrifice or jeopardize the profitable passenger business which it has built up with the iron and copper countries. Mr. Tyler says that the present very satisfactory service to Champion will be continued and improved and that such a change as the Menominee organs announced would not be made.

Woodmen of the World.

A meeting of the Charter Oak society of Marquette, composed of the members of the late Charter Oak camp, No. 29, Woodmen of the World, was held at Fraternity Hall last evening for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the defunct organization. N. B. Sweet, who organized the Woodmen of the World here early in October, was present and after hearing all he had to say by way of explanation the twenty-two members present voted that they had had all the experience they cared for and were ready to quit.

The treasurer announced that he had paid all bills and was ready to return to each member his proportionate share of the funds remaining on hand. All present received what was coming to them, amounting to 85 per cent. of the several sums they had paid into the beneficiary fund. It has not been learned, however, that Sweet has returned to any of the thirty-four persons whom he induced to join the Woodmen of the World any part of the $6 which each of them paid to him to get into that organization.

Any member of the late Charter Oak camp, Woodmen of the World, who was not present at the meeting last night can obtain his share of the funds remaining when the camp was dissolved by calling upon Rawson Bennett any evening between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock at his office on the third floor of THE MINING JOURNAL building and signing proper receipts. They are requested to call only at the hour named, 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., as that is the only time at which Mr. Bennett can certainly be found at his office.

Swedish Crown Officers.

The Swedish Crown Society at its meeting last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year, the president and several other officers being re-elected: President, L. G. Hallstrom; vice president, Adolf Anderson; secretary, Robert Nygren; financial secretary, C. F. Rydholm; treasurer, A. Peterson; chaplain, Alfred Swanson; marshal, August Anderson; conductor, Gust Larson; trustees, Neils Flodin, August Meline and Fred Anderson; inside guard, Fred Stack; outside guard, Gottfried Ingelson.

Phillip Morgan's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Phillip Morgan was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Third street. Services were conducted at the house by Rev. C. S. Eastman of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. W. E. Freeman of the Baptist. The members of the Salvation Army were also present. The attendance of friends was large, nearly the whole block being filled with carriages. Interment was at Park cemetery.

Knights of the Maccabees.

There will be a special review of Superior tent, No. 28, K. O. T. M., at Maccabees' Hall, Wednesday evening, Dec. 19, for election of officers, initiation and other business that may properly come before the tent. By order of Sir Knight James Patterson.

CHRISTMAS IS NEAR.

Remember and see what Bigelow has before buying Christmas presents. His idea of selling cheap is just the thing these times.

Patronize home industry and enterprise and buy your storm sash from The Rice Manufacturing company, Marquette, and thus save five times their cost in fuel. Saying nothing about the comfort they afford and the sickness they save from the cold and chilly winds during our long winter months.

J. B. Lewis Co., Boston are now making extensive alterations in their factory at Avon, Mass., so that they can take care of their largely increased business. Last season they were obliged to decline some orders in justice to their customers. This speaks very loudly the praises of this concern, and while other manufacturers were closed, they were running overtime. The Boot and Shoe Reporting Co.'s statistics show this firm to be doing the largest volume of business of any manufacturer selling to the retail trade from Boston, which is the heart of the boot and shoe industry of the country. This means, in these days of competition—that up to date styles courteous treatment, and prices lower than others care to offer, makes success.
