The School Exercises.

Over five hundred visitors attended the exercises at the different schools on Friday. The greater number of these were parents. The program in each department was well carried out. Great credit is due the teachers for their work in preparing the children. Every child attending the schools was given a pres-ent, consisting of candy, oranges, pop corn, etc. Shortly after dinner Santa Claus began making the rounds. PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

Probably It Was Venus at Its Most Bril-liant Stage.

Some time ago various newspapers of Europe and America contained the startling intelligence that the star which guided the "wise men" would again appear. This star was con-nected with that celebrated one which, three hundred and eighteen years ago. suddenly disappeared from the con-stellation of Cassiopeia, and it was found that this star of 1572 had previously appeared in the years 1264 and 945, and, if counted back, must have appeared in the year of the birth of Christ. If these facts were well estabsta- to appear again in our days. We should then see a new body in our heavens, entirely unlike any fixed star, to be seen in full daylight, which would in a short time again disappear. Every astronomer in recent times has asked hundreds of questions on the subject. It is true that the Star of Bethlehem will again appear? Is it periodical? Is its place in the sky appointed? The next question is. What really happened in 1573?

It was a few months after St. Bartholomew's Night, Tycho Brahe, the great observer of those days, tells us that: "One evening, as I was watching the heavens in my accustomed manne". I saw, to my great astonishment, in the constellation Cassiopeia, a brillight star of unusual clearness." This was on November 11, 1572. Three days before the star had been seen by Cor nelius Gemma, who spoke of it as "this new Venus." In December of the same year it luster began to wane; and in March. 1574. it had entirely disappeared, leaving no trace. As to the stars of 945 and 1264, we have no authority except that of the Bohemian astrologer, Cyprian Lowitz. No historian mentions them, and the Chinese chroniclers, who watched all appear-ances in the sky with great care, do not speak of them. Even granting the appearance of these stars to have been a fact, their resemblance to the Star of

That it was a pe-riodical star is scarcely likely, for lecting these goods Mr. Perkins has displayed excellent taste, as a better assortment would be hard to find anywhere in this section. Drop in and where the term of term of the term of the term of te was suggested in 1826 by the German astronomer Ideler, and repeated by Encke in 1831. In the year 3, B. C., Samuel Moyle, who left here for Montana about eighteen months ago, is Jupiter, Mars and Saturn on May 29. knew how to distinguish a comet from other stars, and besides, we have no knowledge of a comet at that time For all these reasons we have not the least occasion to expect the return of twenty-sixth such case observed in historical times, and the interest at-tached to it would be purely astronom-

-M. Stoiloff, the Bulgarian prime minister, has just received from the sultan the grand cordon of the Osma-nieh order, and M. Nacheviteh, the foreign minister, that of the Medjidieh. These are the first official distinctions which the Turkish government has conferred upon Bulgarian ministers.

-James Watson, an engineer on the Big Four, has run between Cincinnati and Indianapolis thirty-five years, and Edward Wall thirty-four years. The running time of the best trains between Cincinnati and Indianapolia when these men began work was four hours and twenty minutes; now the lished, we must certainly expect the best trains cover the distance in two hours and fifty minutes.

-Geronimo, the ferocious Apache chief, who has been confined in military prisons in Florida and Alabama, has behaved himself so well during his captivity of eight years that the war department will soon issue a general order stating officially that it will be safe to give him and his little band of followers lands near some military reservation and let them go to raising

-Ex-Minister Lothrop says that he never knew an American who on meeting the late czar was not impressed by his stature and bearing. But though a man of remarkable physique, he always had the appearance of bashfulness, and like many physical giants his mind moved slowly, but when once made up, it was not easy to change. For the absolute monarch of one hundred millions of people, he seemed modest and 2-23-tf rather retiring.

-Prince Bismarck, according to the book recently published by Hans Blum. "The German Empire at the Time of Bismarck," is not a wealthy man in the American sense. The mortgage on his estates requires him to pay about thirty thousand dollars every year. The income from his Friedrichs wh property has been as much as sixty thousand dollars a year, but it has averaged only about half that sum. His entire income is not far from one hundred thousand dollars.

-Prince Clodwig Carl Victor von Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst, the new German chancellor, is seventy-four years of age. He will be called Hohenloha for short. His wife was the Princess von Sayn-Witthenstein-Berleberg, and they have five children, of whom the eldest is a Prussian cavalry captain Prince von Hohenlohe was ambassador to France during the troublous days following the war, and subsequently was made governor of Alsace-Lorraine. Two more difficult positions no man could well hold successfully.

-One winter morning the late Prof Swing was sauntering slowly along near his home in Chicago. The stone pavements were coated with ice, and a woman who lived in the neighborhood was cautiously picking her way along. Suddenly her feet flew out and she came down hard upon the sidewalk. Prof. Swing paused to satisfy himself that she was not seriously injured. Then he dryly remarked: "Mrs. S----, in my opinion you are a very good woman." Piqued at his remark, and at the same time at her predicament, she retorted: "I don't know why you think so. What do you mean?" ripture has it,"gravely replied Prof.Swing, "that "the wicked stand in slippery You seem to be sitting down. places.

People by Whom the Eating of Huma Flesh Is Still Practiced.

In the northern parts of Canada there are still several Indian tribes who eat human flesh. In Guiana and on the Orinoco we still find Caribbeans who have the honor of having furnished the name for that horrible custom of eating human flesh. Cannibal comes from Caribs, or Caribales, corruptions of Galibis, or Canibis, the name of the inhabitants of the Antilles when Columbus arrived there. On the upper Amazon, between the river and borders of Bolivia, live the Tupis Guaranieus, who manifest a lik-ing for human flesh. Canni-bals are common in Australasia, the Papuans, Kanrkiens, and Battakiens being the most distinguished. There are more human-flesh eaters in Africa than anywhere else. Cannibalism is not a sign of a low state of civilization, for many cannibal races stand higher in culture than those who ibhor the custom. Many cannibals ive in regions filled with ordinary food. but they prefer human flesh as a delicacy, the men forbidding their wives and slaves to eat it. In northern Australia it seems that the dead are eaten. Herodutus tells us that it was the cus tom in India for the young to kill the old and eat them, to insure their future salvation, and we are told that the old folks desired to be killed before they grew too old and less appetizing.-Veg-

More than a quarter-thousand little girls had a jolly time at the rooms of the Sewing school Saturday. The big hall in the Bertha block was crowded with smiling little faces and rang with cheerful voices. Mr. Hughes kindly came with his violin and the children sang "America" and "Michigan. my Michigan" very nicely. Then there was a pretty grand march led by Mrs. Bhalls and special music to be rendered by the vested choir. The decorations of the church are very elaborate. The offering will be for the aged and infirm clergy of the diocese. At St. Margaret's chapel there will be evensong with Christmas sermon by Archdeacon Williams this evening at Phales and Miss Stone who took the Ti30 p. m. and special music with in the history of the great Christian festival were brought out. While there were controversies in the early church about the time of celebrating Easter there seems to have been little dispute about the Christmas festival. Not un-til the Fourth century does the date now accepted for the birth of Christ ap-pear to be distinctly mentioned and re-cent calculations have made it tolera-bly certain that the actual birthday of Jesus was probably some time in Octo Jesus was probably some time in Octo ber. Come early and avoid the rush. Everybody can eat turkey now. [12-24-1t] CHAS. DAMP. does much attention appear to have been paid to the various church festi-vals now so much in evidence.

When great numbers of people began to adhere to the Christian faith many of them retained a belief in their old gods—with this difference, that from gods they were converted into devils. Benjamin Franklin proposed that the wild turkey be made the American nation-al bird. His suggestion was not accepted but at Hathaway & Peters' Palace market you can find the largest stock of Christmas unkeys in form (2-24.1t) There was little doubt that Christmas and most of the other Christian feasts turkeys in town. were instituted to supersede the old pagan popular festivals. Dr. Williams dis-cribed many curious old customs con-nected with the Christmas season and nected with the Christmas season and gave some very amusing quotations from some of the old carols. While to us Christmas was always connected with cold weather yet the English-speaking race in its spread over the globe actually celebrated the day in all sorts of weather. If we now lived in

Then Santa Claus arrived in full costume and made a brief speech, after brated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Vertin. The which there were games and music. music on this occasion has been pre which there were games and music. Eight little girls who sang in "The Shoemaker" chorus at the recent school concert repeated that number by gen-eral request in a very pleasing manner. The exercises closed with the distribu-tion of an orange and a bag of candy to each girl, of whom there were 256 pres-ent by actual count. As everyone of these girls is a pupil of the sewing school some idea may be formed of the magnitude of the latter's work and of the pressing need of more teachers who

Then Dr. Thiell read a very beautiful allegorical rhapsody upon Christmas, entitled "How the Song Grew Sweet." No sum-mary could do justice to this and beau. mary could do justice to this and hence none is attempted. Then the quartette sang "Boreen" and some other rollicking college songs and a substantial lunch closed a very pleasant evening.
