MAKING SLOW PROGRESS.

Senate Has Only Twelve Days in Which to Pass Remaining Appropriation Bills.

GRAVE CHARGES MADE AGAINST THE PRESIDENT.

Accused by the Senators With Attempting to Lower the Credit of the Country.

WILL HOLD LONGER SESSIONS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—There is beginning to be a slight uneasiness on the Democratic side of the senate that some of the appropriation bills may fail. There remains only twelve more working days of the session and by far the most important bills are still entirely unconsidered in the senate. These are the Indian sundry civil, legislative and general deficiency bills. Democratic managers expect to gain considerable time by moving at an early day for an 11 o'clock session and following by prolonging the daily sessions into the night. The probabilities for any general legislation such as that proposed in the pooling, territorial admission, Pacific railroad, navy personnel and bankruptcy bills are growing smaller and smaller every day. Vilas has given notice of an effort to call up his gold bond bill tomorrow.

The rush of the closing days of the house session begins tomorrow. Only two appropriation bills are undisposed of by the house, the navy and general deficiency. The former has been considered for two days and will probably require two more. The general deficiency which follows will take up two days. Conference reports will consume the rest of the week unless another opportunity is given the Pacific railway committee on the funding bill.

CLEVELAND HELD UP TO SCORN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—In a speech in the senate Saturday afternoon Mr. Teller (Col.) arraigned the president in severe terms. He characterized the recent bond transaction as a most monstrous fraud. During the long years he had been a student of the affairs of this county there had never been a time when opportunity was offered for the public to charge dishonesty in a financial transaction by the government. It was idle for senators to say that this was the best the president could do. With bonds less desirable selling on the market at 110 it was futile to say that a better price than 104 1/2 could not be obtained. It was impossible to characterize too strongly a transaction which placed the credit of the best government in the world 4 per cent. below that of Egypt.

Mr. Hill's resolution, which announces the policy of the government of bimetalism and on payments of gold obligations in the best money available, then came up.

Mr. Sherman offered a substitute declaring the policy of the government should be toward maintaining the parity between the two metals so that every dollar coined should be equal to every other dollar. Should there be any disturbance in the parity then bonds should be paid in standard gold coin.

Mr. Hill took the floor to discuss the resolution. After he concluded his remarks Mr. Wolcott (Col.) rose to reply. In a speech bristling with sensationalism and denunciation of the president for the recent bond sale he declared that he was informed by a resolution of a New York bank that the bond syndicate would never be compelled to pay more than 10 per cent. of its investment, that the bonds it had purchased at 104.50 were already being taken at 112 in New York and there was a great demand for the bonds at that figure. The president, he declared had attacked the government credit. He said that his message to congress contained a lying statement that he desired to maintain the parity of our currency when he had already negotiated contracts which discredited silver. He had been assured that in New York alone 1,123 had been tendered for $130,000,000 worth of bonds and said he had the authority of one of the leading bankers in New York for the statement that within sixty days the whole issue would be worth 1.30.

He referred to the proceedings in the German Reichstag of yesterday concerning silver as an indication that there was to be a change in the interest of silver. "We are working toward it," he concluded, "but if any act could serve to paralyze progress in that direction it is the disgraceful and dishonorable dicker of the president and the Rothschilds."

Mr. Lodge (Rep. Mass.) said the substantial and important part of the resolution was the last half of it, declaring the right of the holder to receive his pay in the best money. He agreed with Mr. Wolcott that the president had assailed the credit of the country, but asserted that he had made the attack by his assault upon our coin bonds.

Mr. Hill replied to Mr. Wolcott in another plea for his resolution. In closing he declared himself an earnest bimetalist and hoped to see the restoration of silver succeed. He was rejoiced to read a dispatch just received from Berlin announcing that action had been taken looking toward the rehabilitation of silver. Mr. Hill defended the president from the attacks on his contract with foreign bankers.

Mr. Teller declared that the bond transaction was the most scandalous he had ever known, and it was the first time in the history of the administration affairs that the people had ground for charging absolute dishonesty. He did not, however, charge that the president or secretary of the treasury had profited pecuniarily by the transaction.

TALKING ABOUT WAR SHIPS.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—In the house the bill for the sale of isolated tracts of public land was reported from the senate with an amendment reducing the minimum price for the sale of land from $2.50 to $1.35.

The senate amendments to the joint resolution suggesting arbitration for the settlement of boundary line dispute between British Guiana and Venezuela was agreed to.

The house went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill. Mr. Washington (Dem., Tenn.) argued that it was bad policy for the American republic to attempt to construct and maintain an immense naval equipment. Mr. Adams (Rep., Pa.) reproached Mr. Washington for his sentiments. He had never expected to hear them from the lips of a man bearing the name of Washington. If the Monroe doctrine was to be preserved, a navy was absolutely essential.

Mr. Bartlett (Dem., N. Y.) speaking for the metropolis appealed to his colleague to abandon the policy first advocated by William C. Whitney in 1885, when he was made secretary of the navy.

CAPSIZED SCHOONER

Found Off Point Reyes, Cal., With Crew Undoubtedly Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The steamer Umatilla, which arrived from Puget Sound ports reported passing a capsized schooner off Point Reyes. The identity of the wrecked vessel could not be made out, and only a general description of the wreck could be given by the officers of the steamer. As soon as the Umatilla reported the derelict the tugs Vigilant, Fearless and Sea King were sent in search of it. The Sea King sighted it first, and was soon alongside. By the time she reached the derelict the sail was awash and little of it showed above the water. It will be a hard tow, and it is not likely that the Sea King will get into port with the schooner before this afternoon. There is little hope that the crew of the unknown wrecked schooner were saved. A vessel of her size would carry about six men, and they likely found death beneath the waves.

LOST FORTUNE AND LIBERTY.

McKane Must Restore Fortune to the Rightful Owners

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—By a decision rendered yesterday by Referee William G. Choate, John Y. McKane, the ex-chief of the Coney Island, must restore to its rightful owners an estate variously estimated to be worth from $150,000 to $300,000.

The estate belongs to Mrs. Catherine Bauer and her daughter Katie, widow and daughter of the late Paul Bauer, a well-known Coney Island hotel keeper, who died in Bloomingdale insane asylum January 2, 1889. In addition to relinquishing the property, McKane also within sixty days must file an accounting showing what he has done with all the money he has collected in rents and from other sources. The big estate fell into his hands nearly seven years ago.

MISUNDERSTOOD ORDERS

Conductor's Mistake Causes a Railway Accident and One Death

GUTHRIE, O. T., Feb. 17.—The Texas express and a through cattle train on the Santa Fe collided five miles south of here at midnight. The freight was coming around a short curve so neither headlight could be seen until within thirty feet of each other. Freight engineer Charles Ugleby was killed and Passenger Fireman Patrick Coltrone fatally injured. The injured are James Moorman, Freight Conductor Edward Kitchen, Passenger Conductor R. Deagle, Baggage-master George Neville, Mail Clerk Hutchins Roadmaster McKinney, Bridgeman John J. English and H. A. Shrow, Harry Trover of Kansas City, A. Mahan, the firemen of the freight and A. J. Graves, a freight brakeman. None of these will die. Many cattle were killed. The wreck was caused by the misinterpretation of orders by the freight conductor.

HAS CONFESSIONS ON TAP.

Blixt Makes More Than One Statement Regarding King Murder

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 17.—Miss Wachetier, the stenographer about whose testimony there was a dispute yesterday, tonight acknowledged that Blixt made another confession than that allowed in the trial which would change the whole course of events. She asserts that Blixt stated that Adry Hayward put him up to the job of murdering Miss King and the details of the story agree almost exactly with those stated by Blixt on the stand with the exception of the substitution of the name of Ardy for Harry.

EX-MAYOR IN TROUBLE

Rumored That Gilroy Has Been Indicted by Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Thomas F. Gilroy, a son of the ex-mayor, who, it is claimed, was indicted by the grand jury and former grand jury yesterday, called at the district attorney's office early this morning. He was laboring under considerable excitement and was vehement in his denunciation of the article in a morning paper. He said: "The publication so far as my father is concerned is absolutely false and a lie and steps will be taken at once to sue the paper or papers which published it."

AFTER THE BONDSMEN.

Treasurer Lost State Funds Owing to a Bank Failure

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 17.—Just before the legislature adjourned sine die a resolution was unanimously adopted instructing the attorney general to proceed against the bondsmen of Otto Gram, ex-estate treasurer and assignee of the T. A. Kent bank of Cheyenne, to recover $55,000 in state funds which the treasurer lost on account of the failure of the bank in July, 1893.

CONFESSION BY TORTURE.

Hawaiian Officials Secure Evidence for Their Military Court Through Barbaric Methods.

AMERICAN CAPTAIN STRUNG UP BY THE THUMBS

Endures Six Hours of Horrible Torture Before He Yields and Gives the Desired Evidence.

IMPORTANT EVIDENCE GIVEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The Call prints the following from Honolulu: "The success of the government of Hawaii in conducting its treason cases was due to the incriminating evidence given by Captain William Davies of the steamer Waimanalo. "The manner in which the sworn statement was wrung from Davies is interesting as showing the peculiar process at present existing in the Hawaiian islands. Davies and his mate, Knudson, were arrested on the morning of Jan. 5. Knudson made a confession, telling what little he knew. Davies, who is an American citizen, refused any information and while protesting his innocence demanded an interview with United States Minister Willis. This was refused. Davies was then taken into the prison yard, where he was shown two ring bolts in the wall above his head. The uniformed inquisitor of the government then gave the captain to understand that if a complete confession was not forthcoming he would be strung up by the thumbs. "Davies did not flinch, but determined that if the American minister could not come the consul-general should be informed that he was an American citizen and wished to see him. His protest was in vain. His legs were bound below the knees and his thumbs were lashed with whipcord to the bolts. A cord was placed below him so that the unfortunate man's toes just touched it. Davies was stripped to the waist while Marshal Hitchcock, Attorney General Smith and Surgeon Cooper, with a stenographer, awaited the statement which they believed would be forthcoming. They were mistaken. Davies would not weaken. Sweat oozed from every pore. The strong man in his agony begged for a drop of water to cool the thirst that consumed him. The tendons of the victim's limbs stood out like strands of rope, blood vessels knotted on his arms and legs, swelling as if to burst with congested blood. "His tormentors urged him to implicate all known to be politically opposed to their methods, but without avail. Davies refused to surrender the secret he had sworn to protect. At last, when it was apparent by his respiration that it would be impossible to hold out longer, nature succumbed, and Davies, cursing the fiends who were torturing him, fainted. Dr. Cooper used salts and ammonia to revive the captain, who had passed into the painless realms of unconsciousness. As soon as he revived two negro convicts suspended him again by the thumbs. This inhuman operation was begun at noon and it was 6 o'clock in the evening before Davies, more dead than alive, made the statement that respited him from the inhuman barbarity of his persecutors. "Another case of torture was brought to light in the military inquiry. A young native, who was known to be intimate with Carl Wedemann, was handcuffed at the wrists. Then, with a refinement of cruelty which would shock the Persian satrap, he was placed in a tank of ice-cold water. He was kept there until circulation of the blood in his extremities had almost ceased and Dr. Cooper, who appears in the unenviable light of an arch-inquisitor, declared that action of the heart was almost suspended. The chief of police, Marshal Hitchcock, had the young Kanaka taken from the tank and, after being restored from his condition of semi-consciousness, the torture was administered again. Flesh and blood could stand such inhumanity no longer and the much-needed confession was given."

DEMAND INVESTIGATION.

Government Demands the Suspension of Seward's Sentence

PITTSBURG, Feb. 16.—According to Judge Slagle of the Allegheny county bench, the federal government sent word by the last steamer to Honolulu to hold up the intended execution of W. T. Seward, the American implicated in the revolution, until the case could be more fully investigated. Slagle is a brother-in-law of Seward and personally interested himself in the case, going to Washington and seeing Secretary Gresham and a number of senators, among them Senator Hawley, who knew Major Seward during the war.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Mr. Thurston, the Hawaiian minister, had a long interview with Secretary Gresham today. It was surmised that he was consulting the secretary relative to the application made by United States Minister Willis to the Hawaiian government for a stay of sentence and copies of the records of the military commission in the cases of Gulick and other alleged American citizens who were sentenced to death for participation in the rebellion.

THE HAWK KNEW HIM. A Trained Bird That Had Deserted a Ship Is Recovered. I don't know the ancient sport of falconry has ever been in vogue in this country, said Capt. L. E. Metcalf, of Montreal. HOSPITABLE EWEN. Its Snow Shoe Club as an Entertainer Leads Them All. EWEN, Mich., Feb. 16.—To say that the members of the Ewen Snow Shoe club go in for jolly times is putting it decidedly mild. Last evening the club had its regular weekly tramp, after which all returned to their cosy club house and there found awaiting them a well-prepared lunch of cold turkey, salads, ice cream, cake and coffee provided by a committee of the following ladies and gentlemen: Mr. and Mrs. James Redy, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Garvin. This committee went to a great deal of trouble in preparing the lunch, sending to Heppner's at Marquette for ice cream and other dainties. After the lunch the club was called to order by its president, Mr. Benjamin Moore, who in its name extended to the committee the thanks of all its members, although he said that personally he thought the committee was deserving of no special commendation.

MINERALOGISTS have known all along that Mexican onyx is not a true onyx, but a species of marble. It is especially an aragonite, made up of calcium, oxide of iron and magnesium. To the last two it owes its peculiar beauty of color. Several of the Mexican states send onyx to us, but the largest deposits are found near Tezcali, in the state of Puebla. It was used by the ancient Mexicans for masks, idols and other small objects, and some of the modern Mexicans, finding these works of their ancestors admired by travelers, turn out like objects from the stone and sell them at good prices. William Cooper, of Esperanza, found about seven years ago in a volcano of Mexico a deposit that is now called mosaic agate. It is a peculiarly beautiful sort of Mexican onyx, in which the formation has been broken up under pressure. There are a California onyx and an Arizona onyx, each being a marble of amber hues, and aragonite is also found in Iowa.

AN EXTENSIVE DEALER in Mexican onyx and other marbles says that the stone is less used than it was ten years ago, so he thinks, because other and cheaper stones, notably African marble, are more beautiful. There have been within a few years several notable speculative importations of Mexican onyx. In some of these cases the importers, finding the sale unexpectedly slow, were unable to pay the duties, and the quantity in port broke the price. Mexican onyx sells in the rough at six to twenty dollars a cubic foot. Large pieces fetch more than their proportional price. The sawing into slabs adds about two dollars a cubic foot to the price, and the further cutting, fitting and polishing greatly increases the value of the stone. There is often a loss of forty per cent of material in preparing it for wainscoting, so that the finished product fetches as high as six dollars a foot. When one inch thick especially beautiful specimens fetch even more, and it is possible to run up the cost of a building decorated with specially chosen onyx to a fabulous sum.

IN REGARD to the difficulty of making up lost time on railways, a writer in a foreign paper says: Thus, to take a case, ten miles to be run at sixty miles an hour, average line, suppose the engineer is a couple of minutes late when he comes to this length of ten miles, which he generally runs in ten minutes. If he runs it at sixty-five miles an hour, he is then only making up one minute in every thirteen miles; and if he runs it at seventy miles an hour, he makes up one minute in every seven miles. He is probably timed to make it necessary to do the ten miles about as fast as he can every day, so that trying to gain even a couple of minutes in this length is out of the question. Again, if he relaxes the speed ten miles, say to fifty, he is losing time at the rate of one minute in every five miles. Thus, from a speed of sixty an increase of ten miles only gains one minute in every seven miles; but a decrease of ten miles loses one minute in every five miles.

MEXICAN ONYX. A Species of Marble That is Much Used in This Country. Used by the Ancients for Making Masks and Idols—Where the Largest Deposits of the Agate are Found.

Some officers of the United States army in the war with Mexico noticed in a chapel of that country a rarely beautiful window made of thin translucent pieces of richly colored stone. One of the officers brought home some pieces of the stone and left it with a jeweler in this city to be dressed and shaped, but being ordered to the frontier he went away without receiving the finished material back from the jeweler. This was the first of the stone seen in this country, and it attracted no great attention. About thirty years later considerable quantities of the material were exhibited as Mexican onyx at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia.

MINERALOGISTS have known all along that Mexican onyx is not a true onyx, but a species of marble. It is especially an aragonite, made up of calcium, oxide of iron and magnesium. To the last two it owes its peculiar beauty of color. Several of the Mexican states send onyx to us, but the largest deposits are found near Tezcali, in the state of Puebla. It was used by the ancient Mexicans for masks, idols and other small objects, and some of the modern Mexicans, finding these works of their ancestors admired by travelers, turn out like objects from the stone and sell them at good prices. William Cooper, of Esperanza, found about seven years ago in a volcano of Mexico a deposit that is now called mosaic agate. It is a peculiarly beautiful sort of Mexican onyx, in which the formation has been broken up under pressure. There are a California onyx and an Arizona onyx, each being a marble of amber hues, and aragonite is also found in Iowa.

AN EXTENSIVE DEALER in Mexican onyx and other marbles says that the stone is less used than it was ten years ago, so he thinks, because other and cheaper stones, notably African marble, are more beautiful. There have been within a few years several notable speculative importations of Mexican onyx. In some of these cases the importers, finding the sale unexpectedly slow, were unable to pay the duties, and the quantity in port broke the price. Mexican onyx sells in the rough at six to twenty dollars a cubic foot. Large pieces fetch more than their proportional price. The sawing into slabs adds about two dollars a cubic foot to the price, and the further cutting, fitting and polishing greatly increases the value of the stone. There is often a loss of forty per cent of material in preparing it for wainscoting, so that the finished product fetches as high as six dollars a foot. When one inch thick especially beautiful specimens fetch even more, and it is possible to run up the cost of a building decorated with specially chosen onyx to a fabulous sum.

IN REGARD to the difficulty of making up lost time on railways, a writer in a foreign paper says: Thus, to take a case, ten miles to be run at sixty miles an hour, average line, suppose the engineer is a couple of minutes late when he comes to this length of ten miles, which he generally runs in ten minutes. If he runs it at sixty-five miles an hour, he is then only making up one minute in every thirteen miles; and if he runs it at seventy miles an hour, he makes up one minute in every seven miles. He is probably timed to make it necessary to do the ten miles about as fast as he can every day, so that trying to gain even a couple of minutes in this length is out of the question. Again, if he relaxes the speed ten miles, say to fifty, he is losing time at the rate of one minute in every five miles. Thus, from a speed of sixty an increase of ten miles only gains one minute in every seven miles; but a decrease of ten miles loses one minute in every five miles.

AFTER VALUABLE LANDS.

Hearings of Settlers on Old Canal Lands Will Begin Today.

ABOUT SEVENTY-FIVE CASES NOW PENDING.

Organizing to Obtain the Marquette Statue for This City—Other Local News Notes.

SETTLERS HAVE THEIR TURN.

Hearings begin today at the local land office of the cases arising under the decision of the supreme court last December in the celebrated Cunningham case.

The Lake Superior Ship Canal company claimed the right to select lands under its grant within the limits of lands granted for railroad construction but never earned.

The supreme court decided that the selections by the Canal company of lands inside railroad grants were void, such lands having already been set over to the state by the United States for other purposes.

Thus the controversy has been reduced to this question of fact in the case of any particular tract of the lands in controversy: Was there a bona fide settler on that tract May 1, 1888, and has such settler maintained his rights since?

The Marquette Statue. The work of organization to obtain the bronze copy of Trentanove's great statue of Father Marquette for this city is going on well and in a few days forms of subscription will be circulated and letters soliciting contributions sent out.

The Societe St. Jean Baptiste has undertaken the detail work of raising the necessary fund and has appointed a strong committee and appropriated $500 from its treasury.

ton in this state. The original name of that place was "Pere Marquette" but many years ago the name was changed and only survives now in the Flint & Pere Marquette railroad.

Among the Churches.

Archdeacon Williams preached at St. Paul's last evening upon "Prejudice." The archdeacon's sermons are always worth hearing for the pithy sentences of good common sense which they contain, aside from their merits.

Mr. Spencer at the Presbyterian church spoke to a full congregation upon the text "Thy will, not mine, be done." His sermon was one of the series called "Gates of Heaven" and was devoted particularly to the "Gate of Surrender"—of renunciation and submission.

Yesterday morning Mr. Eastman of the Methodist and Mr. Spencer of the Presbyterian church exchanged pulpits and both preached to good congregations.

The men's meeting in the parlors of the Baptist church yesterday afternoon was well attended, Archdeacon Williams making an interesting address upon the subject announced Saturday.
