Is the place to buy shoes.

BEAR IN MIND

This is cold weather. You should wear overshoes. Felt shoes or rubbers. It is poor economy to wear good shoes and have them spoiled with salted snow. Cold and wet feet don't pay. We have rubbers and overshoes. And felt shoes at low prices. They are worth the money. We have better ones at higher prices. They are real rubber and felt. It is economy to buy the best. You will find a full assortment of styles and widths in our rubber Department. We can fit any size shoe. And any shape shoe too. We have them all styles from a French heel narrow toe to a Common sense.

HEPPNER'S,

CONFEREES FAIL TO AGREE.

Senate Members Stand by Cable
Appropriation and House
Against It.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION ON SEALS FAVORED.

Bill Reported to the House Providing for Conference With Great Britain,
Japan and Russia.

WILL REPORT DISAGREEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The predicted controversy between the houses over the senate amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill to expend $500,000 for a survey and preliminary work on a cable to connect the United States and the Hawaiian Islands is at hand. The conferees held their first meeting today and agreed on all the amendments except that for the cable. This disagreement will be reported to the senate tomorrow and it is expected a motion will emanate from the Democratic side to instruct the conferees to abandon the cable item. The report will be made by the house conferees probably Wednesday and the proposition will doubtless come from the Republicans that they be instructed to accept the amendment. Thus the question may be brought before both houses for debate.

A new factor which has come into the cable proposition is the effort of a company headed by Admiral Irwin to secure from congress an act of incorporation authorizing it to organize and construct a Pacific cable connecting California, Hawaiian Islands, New Zealand and Japan. The argument being advanced by the Democrats and to be made in the debate is that it is entirely unnecessary for the government to give funds to a cable enterprise when capitalists stand ready to do the work.

BILL FOR SEAL COMMISSION.

Chairman Wilson of the ways and means committee, today made a report to the house upon the bill framed as a substitute for Dingley's bill and providing for the organization of an international commission to investigate the condition of the seal herds of the North Pacific and Bering sea and authorizing the president to arrange a modus vivendi with Great Britain, Japan and Russia pending the report. The regulations determined upon by the Paris tribunal, were reviewed and the declaration by Baron Courcel, Justice Harlan and Senator Morgan quoted, which states that in view of the critical state to which fur seals had been reduced the arbitrators recommended both governments to come to an understanding to prohibit killing fur seals on land or sea for a period of two or three years, subject to such exceptions as the two governments might think proper to admit of and that such a measure might be resorted to at occasional intervals, if found beneficial. The report says the result of the first year's season under the new award have fully demonstrated the wisdom of this declaration and it is being apparent that the extinction of the seal here is a question of a very short time unless more effective regulations are adopted to prevent slaughter, the committee unanimously reported the bill.

CIVIL BILL AMENDED.

The full senate committee on appropriations today decided to report the amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill for a hundred million certificates of indebtedness of denominations of twenty, fifty and one hundred dollars to run two years and draw per cent, the bond to be for gold only for supplying the treasury deficiency. The bill with this amendment was reported later in the day. A new appropriation of $100,000 is made for renewing the superstructure of the Rock Island bridge the cost of which, it is provided, shall not exceed $400,000. The house provision making the appropriation for rivers and harbors immediately available is stricken out. The entire appropriation made by the bill is $41,559,145, an increase of $3,321,424 over the total of the house bill.

The senate and house conferees on the bill extending the time for making income tax returns today reached an agreement on the amendments made to the bill in the senate.

It is officially denied that Gresham intervened specially in the case of Major Seward, the American under sentence of death at Honolulu for treason.

The fact is never questioned that Price's Cream Baking Powder is absolutely pure.

STILL TALKING ABOUT BONDS.

Sherman Expresses Himself Regarding the Recent Bond Issue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—In the senate the resolution of Stewart declaring that the government had no authority to buy gold coin in preference to silver coin for any cause whatever came up. Stewart spoke of the humiliating position of the United States beginning to be held by the throat by the gold commission which had the power to coerce and squeeze the country up to next October, when the contract expired. Gray defended the action of the president. Sherman said:

"The real question is, shall this government pay its obligations in gold or in some other coin? I wish to point out that in every act, every loan, every sale of bonds since 1869 this government has demanded gold." Referring to the recent bond contract he said: "I must say, and I do not like to say it for I have the highest personal regard for the integrity of the president and the secretary of the treasury, but I most say that this last contract was most faulty for the United States. To deliver bonds at the rate given was at least imprudent. Within the next thirty years we would be able to redeem these bonds at one-half the rate of interest we have bound ourselves to pay. And now are we to refuse to pay these obligations in the same coin we received for them? If this question is fairly presented and understood by the people no honest man will say we should pay in any coin other than we received. It was a bold contract but it was a hard bargain wrung from our officials.

"No issue of bonds should be made," said Sherman, "except to the people of the United States. If a reasonable proposition had been made to our people and they had been asked to take bonds they would have found the gold to pay for them. We have no need to look abroad." Sherman closed by saying he had not intended any personal criticism of the president or secretary of the treasury. "They made a bad bargain—that is all," said the senator, "but being a bargain we must live up to it."

The agricultural appropriation bill was then taken up and after some debate passed. Immediately there was a report from every quarter of the chamber to get recognition from the chair. It was clearly a race between the silver bill, appropriation bills and the pooling bill. Jones (Ark.), in charge of the bill for unrestricted coinage of silver, succeeded in getting the first recognition and moved to take up the silver measure. Hale moved to adjourn. The motion to adjourn was defeated—17 to 36, a signal victory for the silver men. Gorman urged that the motion to take up an appropriation was especially privileged. After a sharp and excited discussion the motion was defeated—26 to 30 and the silver men were again victorious. The yeas and nays were then taken on the direct question of taking up the silver bill according to Jones' motion and the silver men gained their point; yeas, 30; nays, 27.

Jones then asked that the time be fixed for taking a vote. He asked unanimous consent that the vote be fixed for 2 o'clock but Vilas objected. "Then I give notice," said Jones, "that I will keep the bill before the senate until a vote is secured before adjournment tomorrow." Upon this final announcement the senate adjourned.

THE DAM BILL VOTED DOWN.

House Objects to Having Dam Across Wisconsin Rivers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The bill to raise the rate of pensions for Mexican war veterans to $12 a month passed the house. Lynch (Dem., Wis.), from the committee on Indian affairs, moved the passage of the bill to authorize the construction of certain dams across St. Louis and Cloquet rivers in Minnesota. The purpose of the bill was to permit the Altamont Water company to erect dams across these rivers to furnish power to Duluth and other places and for that purpose to overflow, condemn and pay for lands overgrown on the Fond du Lac Indian reservation. Lynch said the project was one of the largest in the west. Haugen, (Wis.), and Baldwin, (Dem.) supported the measure. The vote resulted in 124 to 92. Two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative the bill was lost. On the motion of Lynch the house went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill. Almost an hour was spent in discussion of points of order but the chairman desired to reserve his decision until tomorrow. The house then adjourned.

FATAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Twelve Men Fatally Burned in a Pennsylvania Coalery.

ASHLAND, Pa., Feb. 18.—By an explosion of gas at the West Bear Ridge colliery twelve men were fatally burned. Five men have been taken out of the mine dead. The other six have little chance of escaping. The dead are: PETER KLINE, JOHN PITTS, THOMAS DURKIN, BERNARD REED, PETER GUNDEL. Some of the dead men are burned almost beyond recognition. The mine is still on fire and an effort is being made to extinguish the flames by means of a hose to the water main.

MINE WORKERS ADJOURN.

Decides Not to Take Action Regarding the Wage Question.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—The convention of United Mine workers adjourned today sine die. On the recommendation of the scale committee action on the wage question was deferred. Resolutions to donate money and employ counsel to assist miners in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, who are in prison or likely to be, were referred to the executive board for such action as may be right. The action of the National Trade assembly 135 in joining the new independent Knights of Labor was ratified.

DEFENSE SCORES A POINT.

Stenographer Maggie Wachter Occupies Witness Chair at the Hayward Trial.

PROVES TO BE A TRUMP CARD FOR THE DEFENSE.

Her Testimony Contradicts That of Blix and Lays the Blame on Adry Hayward.

NOT CHARY WITH COMPLIMENTS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—This was a banner day for the defense in the Hayward case. The state withdrew its objection to Miss Maggie Wachter testifying and she proved to be fully up to the expectations of the defendant's lawyers. She could not be shaken by the cross-examination.

She called Blix a liar, Odell a schemer to make money out of the county and Assistant County Attorney Hall a bulldozer of women. During her testimony Harry was jubilant and several times laughed loudly. Miss Wachter's testimony impeached the testimony of Blix and again accused Adry.

After the court adjourned Hall said there was no truth in what she said about him; that her assertion that he had called on her and attacked her character was entirely untrue. The other witnesses of the day did not testify to anything of particular note.

Tomorrow a large part of the time will be taken up with reading depositions from Illinois relative to insanity in the Hayward family.

HARMONY IS NOT PROMISED.

National Populists' Convention Will Be Held This Week.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18.—A lively time is expected here in the convention of the National Reform association Feb. 22, when it meets in annual session. The future policy of the Populist party in regard to financial and other national questions will be decided. Two factions of the Populist party, one of which is loyal to the Omaha platform and the other which would like to make a new departure, will be well represented and they are expected to clash and make things lively.

Dr. S. C. McCallin, editor of the Kansas Advocate, has promised a sensation. When the national committee of the Populist party recently made an appeal for funds McCallin warned the Populists of Kansas to make no contributions. He said he would attend the Kansas City meeting and would make startling revelations there.

H. E. Taubeneck, chairman of the national committee of the People's party will speak on the problem of getting independent telegraph news for the Populist papers. General J. B. Weaver will speak on the necessity of unity of action by all Populist papers.

BURGLAR OUTWITTED.

Drove the Robber from the House With a Revolver.

ALTON, Ill., Feb. 18.—Mrs. George A. McMillen had an experience with a burglar last night that makes her the heroine of this place. She was alone in the house with her sixteen-year-old son when the burglar entered and demanded money. She agreed to get what she had and went to the bureau drawer ostensibly to procure it. On opening the drawer she seized a revolver and pointing it at the burglar she commanded him to leave the house which he immediately did without securing anything.

WILL OPPOSE THE BILLS.

Wisconsin Lumbermen Preparing to Fight Insurance Companies.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Feb. 18.—The united lumber companies of Chippewa valley are protesting against the passage of certain bills at Madison that practically confine all insurance to board companies and are a blow at the Lumbermen's Lloyds concern and the one removing the limit of $5,000 liability in case of death of employees by accident. Circulars have been sent out and ex-Senator Rust left here tonight to fight the bills.

ELECTED BALL DELEGATES.

Iron County Chooses Delegates to Republican State Convention.

CRYSTAL FALLS, Mich., Feb. 18.—[Special.]—At the Republican county convention here today P. O'Brien and C. M. Rogers were elected delegates to attend the Republican state convention. They are for D. H. Ball for the supreme court.

The Midwinter Fair confirmed the World's Fair verdict. "Dr. Price's Baking Powder is absolutely pure."

Base Ball Directors Meet.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—A meeting of the directors of the Western Base Ball association was held here today and a number of controversies amicably settled. The spring meeting will be at Milwaukee March 11.

ARE PERFECTLY SATISFIED. Upper Peninsula Members of the L. A. W. Not Anxious to Join Wisconsin. EMIGRATION ENTHUSIASM IS ON THE WANE. Railways Decline to Furnish Free Transportation to Canadian Emigrants and Schemo May Fail.

(All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens Houghton, Mich. Telephone connection.) CALUMET. The upper peninsula newspapers have, with a few honorable exceptions, published a half-column article, setting forth that owing to the predominance of Milwaukee as the trading port for the upper peninsula and the near vicinity of the Wisconsin boundary, and for various other reasons, the upper peninsula members of the L. A. W. wished to join fortunes with the Wisconsin division, separating the upper peninsula from the lower and attaching it for administrative purposes to the Badger state.

In response to queries from the Michigan headquarters of the L. A. W., the writer has investigated the alleged dissatisfaction and fails to find it existent. There was a time, two years ago or so, when there was much dissatisfaction in the entire state, outside of Detroit, with the administration of affairs in Michigan. The Detroit circle has finally been overthrown, and the present administration gives general satisfaction. The laws of the two states are different on many points of interest to wheelmen, the Wisconsin division has no road book of this peninsula, and there are a dozen good reasons against the change proposed. There is just as much sense in the change as there would be in the detaching of this peninsula from Michigan and tacking onto Wisconsin for political purposes.

Calumet village will have its new snow roller, which it won an auction in commission this week. While the roller will come into service rather late in the season, it is so built that it will be available for many winters to come, and will doubtless be found useful before spring. Some of the views of snow-bound trees near here were the finest for many years, two weeks ago. The scenery from the Mineral Range passenger train windows still possesses a weird interest, the bushes and young trees being covered with mantles of white which leave it barely known that there are trees under the snow somewhere. Once the limits of the village are left, the country houses are banked up with snow, in some cases to the eaves. To the lover of nature in her various forms, even winter in its sternest mood has much of interest to offer. Some repairs in the postoffice, principal among which is a new coat of paint, are being made. A general overhauling of the Merchants & Miners' bank book is in progress.

Dr. L. L. Hubbard, state geologist of Houghton, will give his interesting talk—he does not call it a lecture—at the auditorium of the Red Jacket Congregational church Thursday evening of this week. The subject will be "Camping in the Woods of Maine," illustrated by a large number of pictures from a stereoscope. Some World's Fair views will be shown. Admission fifteen cents for adults, ten cents for children, proceeds to go to the church fund.

The local lodge, A. O. U. W., will give a musical and literary entertainment at the opera house tomorrow evening, which should pack the hall to the doors. The entire proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the alleviation of suffering among the poor of the city. The object of the order is to afford protection to the families of members in case of death, and to assist each other in sickness as well as adversity. Not satisfied with doing this, the Workmen here will assist their neighbors who are not affiliated with the order, a pretty good sign that the hearts of the workers are in the right place, and of good development as well as in excellent working order.

The ladies of St. Cecilia's church, South Lake Linden, held a fair yesterday at which much merchandise of all sorts was exposed for sale with satisfactory results. The "B. B." club, connected with St. Joseph's congregation, will give a concert at the Lake Linden Opera House this evening. General admission will be thirty-five cents with fifty cents for reserved seats. An excellent program containing a large number of fine vocal and instrumental selections has been prepared.

A reunion of all the tents of the K. O. T. M. and hives of the L. O. T. M. in Houghton county will be held here Thursday night under the auspices of the local tent and hive. The Maccabees are wonderfully strong in Michigan and although comparatively new to the copper district, have obtained a firm foothold here and are rapidly increasing in numbers.

LAKE LINDEN. It is apparent to experienced observers that the Canadian emigrating movement fostered by the Rev. C. A. M. Paradis has reached its apogee, and is now rapidly declining. There are a large number of people here and elsewhere in the county who will gladly go to Canada, Washington or to Hades if someone else will pay their transportation, feed them and give them a farm free of taxes with a county poor fund large enough to take care of them in case they should become too strong to work. The necessity of paying fare although at reduced rates and transportation on farm and household supplies is bitterly resented by these parties as an outrage. Once more are they convinced that the railroads are monopolies and should be extirpated, or at least run for the benefit of the worthy and lazy poor. Of the people with means who were considering removing to Canada, it is difficult to speak definitely. A man who has saved a few hundred dollars does not tell all his business affairs to chance comers as readily as the loafer who works with his jaw and eats at the expense of the taxpayers, or has his wife take in washing. The prospects, however, are by no means so rosy for the reverend colonizer's plans as they were two or three weeks ago. He is expected home daily from Toronto, where he went to consult the officials of the Ontario government relative to the concessions of lands, and the railroad managers with a view to obtaining lowered or free rates of transportation.

HANCOCK. The Teachers' meeting of the Houghton and Keweenaw county association, held here Saturday afternoon and evening, was pronounced by the teachers to have been the most successful gathering ever held in the copper country, and ensured the success of future meetings. Some able papers were read and the interest manifested was genuine, and gives every promise of permanence. Dr. L. L. Hubbard of the Mining school will give his lecture, "Camping in the Maine Woods," at Germania Hall this evening. It will be illustrated by a large number of excellent photos, thrown up on a 15-foot canvas by a powerful magic lamp. The entertainment will conclude with a number of views of the World's Fair. A uniform admission fee of ten cents will be charged at the door, the entertainment being under the auspices of the local branch of the Y. M. C. A.

Hancock is the smallest place in the northwest boasting of a branch of the Y. M. C. A., but, strange to relate, it supports one of the strongest branches, both in membership and financial results. Dritler Bros. have received a consignment of the celebrated Havana leaf cigars manufactured by Jaedecio Bros. at Ishpeming. There were so many inquiries for the goods from customers who had bought them in the iron district that it was concluded the cigars must be satisfactory and a trial order was placed. The goods are manufactured in the largest, oldest and best equipped cigar factory in the peninsula and the goods have been standard for the past fifteen years.

KENTON. Foreman O'Brien, who recently began work for F. & L. Neff & Co., was killed at an early hour yesterday morning while loading logs from a skidway. The logs spread out at the bottom and caught him between them and the partly loaded sleighs squeezing him to death in a short time. Mr. O'Brien had been working as foreman during the winter for William Kroll but had accepted the same position for F. & L. Neff & Co. but a few days before the accident. He came from Saginaw and has many friends in the upper peninsula who will regret his death.

SIDNAW. Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, will be celebrated in Sidnaw by the Citizen's Cornet band with a grand musical concert and ball. The concert will commence at 8 o'clock in the evening and will last until 9:30 and dancing will immediately follow. Good music has been engaged and a fine supper has been arranged for at the Ferguson House. The committee is as follows: W. C. Barry, Dr. McBarney, D. H. Robinson, W. Brown, W. S. Ellis, P. Paquette, J. Griffiths and F. J. Muck and from the names on same a good time is certainly in sight.

USE IT IN TIME. Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

CULTIVATING MEMORY. How the Library Attendants Come to Know Volumes by Their Abstract Labels. "It is remarkable to what a degree the memory for abstract number may be cultivated in a short time," remarked one of the fifty thousand card-holders of the public library. "For instance, I called the other day at the library to get a work on meteorology by Prof. Davis, of Harvard college. When I handed my slip to the young lady, whom I think had only been connected with the library a short time, as her face was new to me, she said: 'I don't think that K7494 is in.' She came with it presently, however, and as she was making the entry on my card I asked why she thought it was out. 'Because,' she replied, 'it has been out a great deal and I didn't think it had been returned.' 'Now, as a matter of fact, the book was published only recently and was purchased by the library in July. I think from the look of it when I got it that it had not been read much; very likely not at all. I had taken it out, kept it a month by having it renewed once, and having returned it the day before wanted another two weeks' try at it, as I had only been able to give a little spare time to it now and then, and was not quite through with it. From the character of the book and the comparatively short time it had been in the library I thought it odd that it should have impressed itself on the mind of the young lady so that by simply looking at the number she should have remembered that it had been out a good deal.

"The reason the young lady remembered about the book I found upon inquiry to be a rather simple one after all. When a book is out the books on the shelf where it belongs are not shored up together, but its place is left vacant until it is returned. The attendant having occasion several times each day to pass by the shelves where the 'K' books are located had noticed that No. 7494's place was vacant, and that it remained so a long while. She carried a mental picture of that vacancy in her mind, and as soon as she saw the number on my slip recalled it. "A young lady formerly connected with the library told me that the numbers of popular books were so impressed on her mind that, although she had been out of the library for two years, she never saw a number corresponding to one of these books but what she thought of the book. 'For instance,' she said, 'whenever I see 7490 I think of 'Ben Hur.' There are twenty-five copies of 'Ben Hur' in the library, and as they are out all the time the number gets pretty well fixed in one's mind. I doubt if I shall ever forget it.'"—Chicago Tribune.

WORDS WORTH COMPOSING. His Work at Writing Was Piled so Closely That He Was Often Prostrated. Over and over again the sister records, "William wearied himself with composing." On the very day (9th of May, 1892, on which the "Castle of Indolence Stanzas" were begun, she writes, "William worked at the 'Leech Gatherer' almost incessantly from morning till tea time. I was oppressed and sick at heart, for he wearied himself to death, and on the following day—William is still at work, although it is past ten o'clock. . . . My heart fails in me. . . . I am sure. . . . He will be tired out, I am sure. . . . My heart fails in me. . . . William did not sleep till three o'clock." And the pages of the journal, during the early months of 1892, bear witness again and again to William's frequent fits of nervous derangement—excitement alternating with prostration and depression of spirits—the result wholly, it would appear, of repeated efforts of composition. Thus from Tuesday, 23d December, 1891, to Tuesday, 9th March, 1892—a period of nearly three months—he is busily engaged on the poem which Dorothy sometimes calls "The Pedlar" and sometimes "The Ruined Cottage," and the entries concerning the progress of the work read monotonously to this effect: "William tired with composition. . . . had tired himself with working. . . . made himself very ill. . . . was much tired. . . . did himself harm. . . . went to bed tired out. . . . wore out himself and me with labor. . . . was worn to death," and so on ad infinitum. It must be borne in mind that when the composing fit would come—or, as Dorothy puts it, when William would kindle—the tramping poet's first move would almost always be out of doors, for, as he says in the Fenwick note to the "White Doe" and elsewhere, "My intellectual labor has been generally carried on in the open air." It is to his particular effect of the fit of poetic inspiration that the lines in stanza four in "Castle of Indolence Stanzas" allude: "But verse was what he had been wedded to; And his own mind did like a tempest strong come to him then, and drove the weary wing along."—Fortnightly Review.

Care of the Ears. A prominent physician says that more than half of the ear-troubles from which people suffer during the cold weather can be traced to the habit of picking at the ears with the fingernails or hairpins or some other hard substance, which irritates the delicate inside of the ear. Instead of this injurious "picking" the ears should be washed out with warm water and a little good soap, and thoroughly dried after the operation. If the ears are sensitive a little cotton may be put in before going into the open air, though this is apt to make them even more sensitive. In extremely cold weather before venturing out a good way to clean the ears is to wrap the corner of a towel around the finger, and with a little cold cream carefully wipe out the auricle. It will remove every particle of dust and will really protect the ears from the cold, but it can scarcely be recommended for regular use.—Philadelphia Press.

It is Missed. "What's the matter with the South Shore's buffet chair car service between Marquette and Houghton," enquired a traveling man of the reporter yesterday.

The pursuer of news items had to admit that he didn't know. "Well, it's off," said the traveling man, "and I tell you the people who ride between the two places miss it. Say, do you know the meal service on those buffet chair cars is just immense? One can get a fine meal, well cooked and well served, and everything as fresh as though you sat down and ordered what you wanted in a first-class restaurant. I tell you fellows who have to knock around the country on wheels from one year to another, as I do, appreciate such service as we get on that train, and we miss it between here and Houghton."

Inquiry disclosed that one of the cars on the run between Houghton and the straits is undergoing repairs at the shops here and will be replaced on the run as soon as these are completed. Meanwhile meal service is given only between Mackinaw and Marquette, the buffet car being dropped at a station a short distance down the line on the trip up and taken on the down trip in the afternoon.

The homestead claim of Mrs. Ann Patterson, claiming to be a settler on the disputed Canal lands May 1, 1883 and thus to come under the Cunningham decision, was heard yesterday at the local land office. Benjamin Vosper appeared for the claimant and Bail & Bail for the Canal company. Mrs. Patterson is required to prove that she was a bona fide settler on the date named and has made the improvements required by the general homestead law. The hearing will be concluded today.

The funeral of the late Jacob Brown was held yesterday morning from his late residence, corner Ohio and Front streets. Rev. D. B. Spencer conducted the services and the pall bearers were George P. Cummings, August Machts, H. J. Hopkins, F. M. Moore, A. J. Lobdell and James M. Stiles. It is learned that Mr. Brown resided at Sault Ste. Marie as early as 1849 and went from there to Detroit in 1855, coming to Marquette about 1860. He was thus one of the oldest residents in this peninsula at the time of his death.

THE ANAXAT BABY SHOW

Peculiar Predicament of a Young Married Couple.

Several years ago, the following letter was posted in the Boston central post office:

"BOSTON, Mass., April 10, 18—'DEAR HENRY and thinking of having a baby show at Anaxat some time early next month. You know I am an old hand at getting up such things and think it may be made a success. I have seen a great number of babies whenever I have been out there, and in pleasant weather, such as we are apt to have in May, I think a 'show' will draw a crowd. Now may I ask you to take care of some things for me. In the first place, I want to see some perambulators, and beg you to see them stored in Smith's warehouse, sending me the bill. If you will do this I shall be much indebted to you. Hoping you and your wife are in good health, I remain yours truly,

"S. QUINCY LAMB. 'MR. HENRY WOODS, Anaxat, Mass.'"

This letter was unfortunately lost in the mails, for I never received it. Unfortunately, I may well say, for it involved me in the worst scrape I was ever in.

About two weeks later, as I was seated at the breakfast table and was half way through the meal, the maid brought in a telegram. Tearing it open, I read:

"One hundred perambulators will come by 7:30 express. Store them as agreed."

I found out afterward that, chancing to meet a friend in Boston soon after he sent the telegram, Lamb casually mentioned that he intended having a baby show at Anaxat in a week or so. This friend, one Charles Cardine, as it happened, had a brother in Anaxat and he happened to be at his house on the very afternoon of the tea party. As he said good-bye to his brother at the station, on his way into town, he remarked that he believed there was to be a baby show there soon. As his brother was about to question him the train came by, and getting on, he left for Boston. On his way home his brother thought over his last remark, and after much pondering the idea came to him that that was the cause of my receiving one hundred perambulators that very morning. He was immensely pleased at having found the answer to the problem which no one had been able to explain, and informed his assembled family at supper that he knew why Mr. Woods had bought those baby carriages—that he was going to have a baby show within a few days. It never struck him as peculiar that a young lawyer recently married, as I was at that time, should have a baby show in his private residence, or, if it did strike him, the thought was vastly outweighed by the evidence against it.

The news spread like wildfire, and by the next night it was known all over town that I was to have a baby show in a day or two. It naturally followed then that every mother who had a baby was anxious that it should be entered in the show for others to admire and wonder at, and I came down to breakfast on the following morning in fear and trepidation lest some eager mother should come to see me before the day was out.

My fears were justified, for just as I was finishing my breakfast the servant told me there was a lady on the porch who wished to see me. With a premonition as to the cause of her visit I hastened to meet her. She was sitting on the porch with her baby in her arms. She immediately arose and informed me that she had heard that I was to have a baby show and desired to enter her little darling, when, to my dismay, she should I see approaching my gate but two more mothers with their precocious infants. At this sight I hastily informed her that it was all a mistake, there was to be no show, and—but to my horrified gaze was presented another pair approaching.

"I am very sorry to have caused you this annoyance," I said, "but there has been a false report." And leaving her I advanced to meet the approaching forces, intending to address them from the porch, hoping that the first mother would have sense enough to leave. Alas! it was not so. The sight of the others had emboldened her and she advanced into the house and selected the best carriage in the parlor for her own darling.

With a groan I saw another trio approaching from the other direction, and hastened to the gate to forewarn them, allowing the others to gain the porch and thence to struggle into the house in search of resting places for their burdens. More and more approached. Seeing the parlor full of women, the newcomers thought they had better hasten also and were spreading all over the house in order to find perambulators for their children and perambulators gave out. My words had no effect, the sight of others spurred them on. Hannibal, Marc Antony, Rienzi—their tasks were nothing as compared with mine. Their audiences listened—I spoke to deafened ears.

My wife came out to me at last in despair. "The house is full," she said. I caught a glimpse of a group just then marching up to the porch and seating themselves there, and still they came. I shouted at them. "Twas useless. The sight of other babies filled the approaching forces with a desire that theirs should also share the privileges of their rivals.

Suddenly Helen jerked my sleeve. "Look," she said. I turned and saw my friend Quincy approaching along the street, waist in hand and a happy smile on his face. Just then a lively infant on the porch sent up a piercing shriek, which was joined in by several others, and a general hubbub followed. But the reception he received at our house I am sure he will never forget.—Arthur's Home Magazine.

closely, leaving only a narrow path through which to pass.

Lunch was over and Helen informed me that we had accepted invitations to an afternoon tea for that date. "Can't I get out of it?" I groaned, but prepared to go, knowing that the chief topic of conversation would be my extraordinary purchase of a hundred perambulators. As we started Helen said that perhaps her friend Louisa Hass might drop in to tea. She lived in Boston, but had a standing invitation to take tea with us whenever she pleased. "She said she'd come some day soon, when I saw her last Tuesday in town," my wife said. Off we went, and as I had predicted my wondrous purchase was the chief topic of interest.

On our return we found our friend had come, had been told that we were not at home and had concluded to wait for us. "I saw some baby carriages in the hall," she said, "but thought nothing of them until I went upstairs to take off my bonnet. There I found them galore. I was amazed and couldn't account for so many in any way. What is the matter?" she asked. We showed her the telegram, told her all that we knew about it, and asked her what she could make out of it. We had given up wondering some time ago. At last I went to bed tired out with the day's excitement, but my dreams were filled with endless rows of baby carriages.

Malaria in Italy. A malarial map of Italy has just been issued by the government bureau of statistics, based on the deaths during the years 1890-92, and showing the intensity of the disease by modifications of color. In three years there were 50,000 deaths from malarial causes, or 32 in 100,000. The worst districts, where the mortality is as high as 8 in 1,000, are in southwestern Sardinia, southeastern Sicily, the Pontine marshes, the district at the head of the Gulf of Tarento, and the southeastern slope of the promontory of Gargano south to the Ionian sea. Districts where malaria prevails, but not so intensely as to be fatal, are the lower reaches of the Po, Grosseto in Tuscany, the mouth of the Tiber, and the district near Salerno and the temples of Paestum. In Rome itself malaria has sensibly declined; the deaths in 1881 were 650, in 1892 only 139. The general mortality from this cause in Italy has remained pretty constant; the average is 15 or 16 per 100,000.

A Chinaman's Ideal Wife. Chinamen of Australia, when they take a notion to marry, write to a matrimonial agent in Hong Kong, some-thing as follows: "I want a wife. She must be a maiden under twenty years of age, and must not have left her father's house. She must also have never read a book, and her eyelashes must be half an inch in length. Her teeth must be as sparkling as the pearls of Ceylon. Her breath must be like unto the scents of the magnificent odoriferous groves of Java, and her attire must be from the silken weavers of Ka-la-Ching, which are on the banks of the greatest river in the world—the overflowing Yang-tse-Kiang."

Angry Faces. Japanese, amused by visitors from the western world, speak of their "angry faces" because they do not smile. Japanese children have been known to run shrieking from an American or English lady, frightened by what seem to them her huge size, fierce face, staring blue eyes and white, unsmiling skin.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. A Democratic convention for the county of Marquette will be held at the Hotel Marquette, in the city of Marquette, on the 28th day of February, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of naming delegates to attend the Democratic state convention to be held in the city of Saginaw on the 28th day of February, 1895. Also for the purpose of transacting such other business as may properly come before the convention. The several wards of the cities and townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

GREAT MEDICINE. Cod-liver Oil is useful beyond any praise it has ever won, and yet few are willing or can take it in its natural state. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not offensive; it is almost palatable. Children like it. It is Cod-liver Oil made more effectual, and combined with the Hypophosphites its strengthening and flesh-forming powers are largely increased.

NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS. The idea of being able to invent something strikes most people as being very difficult; this delusion the Company will dispel. It desires to get into the hands of the public the fact that the things which seem so absurdly trivial that the average citizen would feel ashamed to bring them to the attention of the Patent Office are the most valuable. It is the simple things and small inventions that make the greatest money, and the complex ones are seldom profitable. Almost everybody at some time or another conceives an idea which if patented would be worth a fortune. Unfortunately such ideas are usually dismissed without thought. The simple inventions like the car-window which could be easily slid up and down without breaking it, a passenger's back, the sauce pan, collar-button, nut-lock, bottle-stopper, suspender-button, hook, buckle, and snow-shovel are things that every one sees some way of improving upon, and it is such simple inventions that bring the greatest returns to the inventor. The prize we offer will be paid whether the application has been acted upon by the Patent Office or not. Every competitor must apply for a patent on his invention through us, and whether he secures the prize or not, the inventor will have a valuable patent. Send for circular. For further particulars, address THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, Gen. Manager, 618 F St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

PRIZES ON PATENTS. HOW TO GET $100.00 AND PERHAPS MAKE A FORTUNE. We secure patents, and to induce people to keep track of their bright ideas, give away one hundred dollars as the first of every month to the person who submits the most meritorious invention during the preceding month. We will also advertise the winning invention free of charge in the "National Recorder," a weekly newspaper published in Washington, D. C., which has an extensive circulation throughout the United States, and is devoted to the interests of inventors.

NOVEL FEAT IN CYCLING.

An Ishpeming Wheelman Rides to Marquette and Back Over the Snow.

REMARKABLE TIME MADE ON THE TRIP.

Ex-Firemen Make a Tart Rejoinder to Alderman Hawes—Death of an Aired Lady.

MADE A LIVELY TRIP.

John A. Olson, who has few superiors as a bicycle rider in the upper peninsula, rode to Marquette and return on his wheel Sunday morning. He left here about 8 o'clock and was back before noon, making the round trip in less than four hours. When he started out he had no intention of going to Marquette but when he arrived at Ne-gaunee he was just getting warmed up to his work, so he decided to continue on to the Queen City. He rode over the South Shore track the entire distance. He kept close to the rail on the side of the track where the scraper of the engine had scooped out the snow, leaving a space six or eight inches wide almost as hard and smooth as a floor. The wheel ran just as easily as it would on a solid road and the trip down was made in an hour and fifteen minutes. After spending three-quarters of an hour with some of the boys at the Armory Mr. Olson started back, covering the distance in just two hours on his return run.

Considering that this was the first time Mr. Olson ever rode a wheel on snow he certainly did well. He thinks, however, that in case he were to attempt the ride again, with the track in as good condition for wheeling, he can make Marquette in less than an hour. He had to get off his wheel at almost every street crossing, and by so doing lost considerable time.

Died at a ripe Old Age.

Mrs. Claven, mother of Joseph and Andrew Claven, died Saturday at the home of the latter on Cleveland avenue. She was over eighty years of age and had enjoyed good health up to a short time ago. She is survived by several adult sons and daughters, most of whom reside here. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church.

In the Drug Business.

Hugh Tillson, who expects to leave Ishpeming for Dixon, Ills., tomorrow, will engage in the drug business in that city with his father, who recently acquired an established business with a good trade there. The senior Mr. Tillson and Hugh have both had many years' experience in the business, and Dixon being their home they will be sure to do well. Mr. Tillson's many Ishpeming friends regret very much to have him leave here, but wish him success in his new venture.

The young people will give an informal hop in honor of Mr. Tillson at the Knights of Pythias hall tonight.

Saloon Men Arrested.

Three saloon keepers were arrested yesterday for selling liquor on Sunday in violation of the state law. The offending dealers are Joseph Remillard, J. A. Dunseath and John Morin. Dunseath and Morin have had their hearing and were placed under bonds to stand trial in the circuit court. Remillard will be given a hearing today.

Resumes Business

J. H. Mortley, who spent the greater part of the winter hibernating, has decided to re-engage in the tailoring business and will open a shop in the Nelson building on Bank street today. He has taken orders for about twenty suits and will start in with four or five hands. He advertises in this issue for two good coat makers.

Miss Traver Remains.

Miss Annie Traver, music teacher in the Ishpeming public schools, who tendered for resignation to the school board a week ago, has decided to retain her place until the end of the school year. She is an excellent teacher and the members of the board are much pleased to learn that she has decided to remain.

Price's Cream Baking Powder is always found by official government tests to be absolutely pure.

The Firemen Talk Back.

To THE MINING JOURNAL.—In view of the fact that Alderman Hawes of the Sixth ward erroneously interpreted the meaning of our communication, which appeared in a recent issue of THE MINING JOURNAL, regarding his implied charges against the members of ex-Hose company No. 2, we will be pleased to bring the matter more squarely before him, that is, if he possesses manhood enough to do so. We are not desirous of engaging in a newspaper controversy over this matter but we feel as though we cannot afford to have a man like Hawes throw dirt at us without at least offering a word in defense of our good names and characters.

In his reply to our communication Mr. Hawes says he has no apology to offer for his insinuations to the council reflecting on the members of the disbanded company. Who asked him for an apology? Surely the alderman knows that an explanation is not an apology! All we asked for was an explanation, and that, it appears, he cannot give. Mr. Hawes says: "I simply said that I thought it was not needed (meaning a reading room) that it was reported around that said hose company kept the lights burning at a very late hour. I never said (neither did The Iron Ore say it) that it was for immoral purposes." In this Mr. Hawes trips himself. We never asserted that the alderman said that the hose house was being used for immoral purposes. We simply said that he intimated that it was, which was true. Mr. Hawes didn't say that the lights were kept burning at a "very late hour," but he said they were kept "burning all night." That the lights were kept burning all

THE HUNT IN FRANCE.

How the Hounds are Worked in Pursuit of the Stag.

The cowboy on a hunt in the Rockies tracks his game with a dog or without one, as the case may be, finds the quarry that day or the next, and brings it down, if he is fortunate, some time during the week. In France it is quite a different matter. Long before the marquis' guests are on the train coming down from Paris, long before the marquis himself is up in his hotel in the Faubourg St-Germain—just at dawn of the day, in fact, and while the morning mist is in the valleys and hanging over the pools—the chief piqueur has sent out a valet de chiens, with a limier in the leash, to discover the lair of a stag. These limiers are a variety of hounds bred for this one special purpose; and partly because they know the habits of the deer so intimately, and are so practiced in this one work, and partly because they are too old for any other use, they are kept for this work alone.

Both hound and man are old stagers; and they make a wise pair, the one with his fine instinct and scent, the other with his knowledge and eyesight. They go out in the first light of the morning, with the keeper in the lead, both calm, and imbued with a sense of the responsibility before them. With his long tried experience of the forest and his knowledge of all the "runs" and feeding-grounds, the keeper makes a shrewd guess, that has some elements of certainty, as to where they may come upon a scent. He stoops, picks up some leaves, holding them to the hound's nose, and the keen animal sets about "covering" the spot in the vicinity. The moment he stumbles on a scent he is completely changed. His stern begins to wave, his hackles rise, and, from a lagging brute, he becomes an active, intelligent being. Things are reversed; he takes the lead now, pulling the harbinger after him, yet neither man nor hound utters a sound, and even the brate steps carefully to avoid rustling the autumn leaves.

While the hound rubs his nose along the ground, going wherever the scent leads him, straining on with feverish eagerness, the man, letting himself be led slowly, watches for signs that would be quite invisible to an untutored eye. And so, as instinct keeps them to the course the stag has wandered over during the night, reason is making up a conception of what the animal is.

The man measures the distance between broken twigs on either side of the course, estimates thus the spread of the deer's antlers, and will tell you shortly the animal's age, and if it is a stag or a doe. The direction of the trail, the kind of shrubbery the deer has fed on, the drag, and the nature of the places where he has lain down—all define more clearly size, sex, age. Should the game be of the wrong sex or less than three years old, the good hound is broken away from the trail and sent to search for a new one.

For a French sportsman is no indiscriminate slayer of youth; and then, too, the marquis must have a quarry of the right age, or the run may be too short or too slow.

These two silent beings make a ghostly pair, straining along out of the thick mist, going with unerring wisdom along the record the stag must always leave behind him, just as sure to come up with him in time as if they were crawling toward him led by a silken thread that wound about in the labyrinths of the woods. It is fascinating, if you go out with them some morning, to see the two intelligences working together, to see the hound understand a long detour that will bring them upon the leeward side of the quarry, and to watch him, when he at last knows where the stag is lying, look up at his master from the corner of his eye as he stands motionless, heading towards the thicket that shelters the deer. They know their business well.—Hamblen Sears, in Harpers Magazine.

Too Cheap.

A writer who does not believe much in the honest judgment of amateurs in matters of art, cites the case of an American, traveling in Paris, who saw a picture in a shop window, took a fancy to it, and went in to ask the price. "Five francs," said the dealer. "That's twenty-five dollars, isn't it?" said the American to the friend at his side. "Oh, that's all right," said the dealer. "No, monsieur," said the honest shopman, who understood some English. "Five francs, not five louis. About a dollar, I think, in your money." "Oh, then I won't have it!" exclaimed the American, and he left the shop in haste.—Yonth's Companion.

The Worm Turns.

Emancipated Woman (1900)—My dear! Emancipated Husband (timidly)—Yes'm. Emancipated Woman (sternly)—Your bill is perfectly outrageous! The idea of paying three dollars for that bit of shoddy stiffened over a block! If you were not a mere butterfly of fashion, and the very personification of extravagance, you would let your hair grow long and go without a hat, as the foot-ball players do.—N. Y. Weekly.

—When French men-of-war lie in New York harbor one commonly sees the officers at the Frenchiest of French hotels and restaurants, manifestly reveling in the clever simulation of the fatherland to be found at such places. Two or three such houses of entertainment always have a semi-European air that is manifestly not assumed in order that Americans in search of sensations may be satisfied, but because the European element preponderates among the guests.

—Civil service seems to be aimed at in Japan's reform programme for Corea. One of the items reads: That men of due qualification be allowed to hold secretariats and clerkships in the government departments, which posts were formerly monopolized by the nobles.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

James Elliott was up from Marquette yesterday.

James R. Dee was down from Houghton Sunday.

Peter Fitzpatrick got home from Chicago yesterday morning.

George A. Newett returned from the lower peninsula Sunday.

Mrs. R. R. Goodell and Miss Goodell of Detroit were visitors in Ishpeming Sunday.

Miss Mamie Carey of Republic concluded a visit to Mrs. J. H. Brown here yesterday.

Mrs. J. R. Gordon was up from Marquette Sunday and spent the day in the city with her husband.

Captain Thomas Walters is home from New York, where he went to inspect some tale property in which he is interested.

The entertainment to be given under auspices of the A. O. H. lodge at the Convent hall tonight will be largely attended and abundantly enjoyed.

T. H. Bargh has taken Thomas Martin's place as bookkeeper at the Cleveland Lake shaft, Mr. Martin having been transferred to the company's main office.

The Salvation Army band made a good showing Sunday. The band is now under the leadership of John Bohemia, who led the Star Cornet band for some time.

Mrs. John Kennedy of West Ishpeming was taken to Marquette Sunday, she having shown signs of temporary insanity. Physicians here who examined her think she will recover the use of her mind soon.

Louis Voelker, leader of the Marquette Ideal orchestra, will lead the orchestra made up of Ishpeming musicians which will furnish music for the hop to be given at the conclusion of the Red Men's concert next Friday evening.

Professor Hardy has gone to Cleveland to attend a national convention of school superintendents. All the leading school superintendents of the United States are expected to be present at the convention and some very interesting school topics will be discussed.

The Phoenix of London and the German American insurance companies, in which the stock at the Kirkwood Pharmacy was insured, paid the amount due for damages on account of the recent fire there yesterday. The loss was paid through William Sedgwick, the companies' local agent.

The "Sojer Boys" and Aids Gettin' Things in Readiness for the Military Bill.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS PASSED. Representative John Mulvey got home from Lansing Sunday afternoon.

The clause struck out by the house committee to which the bill was referred was one providing that persons who took possession of city property might acquire a title thereto through lapse of time.

Mr. Mulvey says the legislative body is grinding out a heap of business, but that thus far its work has been mainly confined to the amendments of city charters and other similar legislation.

THE FAIRY STONE. It is Found in Virginia and is Supposed to Be a Talisman Against Evil.

The "Mother of Statesmen" has produced a number of good things from first to last--chivalrous men, fascinating, soft-voiced women, fine horses, and the like.

Upon each stone a representation of the cross is distinctly, though delicately, traced, and a legend concerning them states that a band of fabric, dwelling at Jerusalem during the life of our Saviour, and witnessing the awful scene on Calvary, were so horrified by it that they fled to this remote region and transformed themselves into these petrified emblems.

The reputation was local, however, until that era in Virginia's history known as "the boom." Then her superstitions and sacred traditions, along with her other commodities, became objects of barter.

The traditions concerning their wonder-working power are as inexhaustible as the beds from which they are taken, and would furnish endless themes to writers of fairy tales and folk-lore stories.

LAFAYETTE LEADS A MOB. Starving Parisians Force Louis to Return to Paris.

In the preceding autumn famine was actually stalking abroad. In Paris the populace grew gaunt and dismal, but at Versailles there was food in plenty, and the contrast was heightened by a lavish display.

Through the long and trying winter the masses remained, nevertheless, quietly expectant. There was much tumultuous talk, but action was suspended while the assembly sat and labored to solve its problem, making a fine paper constitution.

NOT FOR SALE. Eggs That Appeared to Be Too Valuable to Part With.

A well-known magician is a wag, and finds amusement in mystifying simple-minded folks. A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, writing from Washington, where the sleight-of-hand man had been exhibiting his skill, tells of his success in astonishing a group of colored people.

The magician one morning went down to the market. Washington has one of the largest and finest market-houses in the world, and one of its most picturesque features is the row of comfortable negro mummies with baskets of eggs and vegetables, sitting outside the building, laughing, chatting and smoking.

BURNED OUT SETTLERS.

Congress Has Passed a Law for the Relief of Such Cases.

TIME OF MAKING FINAL PROOF EXTENDED.

Absence on Account of Fire Excused and Directed to Be Taken as Constructive Residence.

NO PROVISION FOR CONTESTS.

Many homesteaders in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota were burned out by the great forest fires last summer and fall. Some lost their lives and others lost all their improvements. The result of these losses was to prevent many from proving up on their claims because they could not show the improvements which the law requires. Congress was appealed to and has passed an act, which was approved by President Cleveland Jan. 19, for the relief of these burned out settlers. The terms of the act are quite liberal and will be found set forth, together with the necessary procedure to take advantage of its provisions, in the appended circular of instructions, received yesterday at the local land office.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, GENERAL LAND OFFICE, WASHINGTON, Feb. 4, 1895.

Registers and receivers, United States district land offices in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

GENTLEMEN:—Your attention is called to the act of congress, approved Jan. 19, 1895, entitled, "An act for the relief of homestead settlers in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan."

The first section provides for an extension of time of two years within which to make final proof and excuses temporary absence for any period within two years from the date of the act in all cases where any homestead settler in your respective districts was compelled to leave the land settled upon by him because of the prevailing forest fires of the summer and autumn of 1894, and by reason of the destruction of buildings and other property by such fires. The same relief is extended to the heirs of any settler who perished by such fires. Any settler desiring to receive the benefit of these provisions will be required to file in the district land office having jurisdiction over the land embraced in his or her claim an affidavit corroborated by two parties setting forth the number of the entry, if one has been made, and the description of the land; the date of settlement upon the land; the amount and character of the improvements placed thereon; the character and extent of the damage to the settler's property caused by the fire; the date when the same occurred; whether or not the party was thereby obliged to leave the claim, and such other facts as may be relied upon as bringing the party within the scope of the act. Where a homestead settler perished by such fires, the heirs (i. e., the successors to the right under the homestead law, if they desire to receive the benefit of the provisions of said section), or one of them, will be required to furnish evidence consisting of the affidavits of the respective claimants, or, if a minor, of his or her guardian, corroborated by two witnesses, setting forth the number of the entry, if one has been made, and the description of the land; the date of the settlement upon the land; the character and value of the improvements and the circumstances attending the death of the settler. The affidavits of the claimant and his co-claimants may be made before any officer authorized to administer oaths using a seal.

Upon receipt of the required affidavits, you will forward the same to this office, with your joint recommendation in regard to the case. Should the evidence be found satisfactory you will be so advised, whereupon you will make such notes upon your records for your future guidance as will indicate that the parties are entitled to the benefits of the provisions of the first section of the act, and in these cases you will not issue the usual notice of the expiration of time within which to make final proof until ten years from the date of the entry, and no contest for abandonment or non-compliance with the law will be held against any of the entries until after the expiration of two years from the date of the act. Entrymen temporarily absent for any time within the two years from the date of the act will not be required to show any additional period of residence when they make final proof, because of such absence, as the act explicitly directs that such absence shall be deemed constructive residence.

Parties coming under the act whose claims rest upon settlement alone are not relieved from the necessity of making their original homestead entries as heretofore required by the law and regulations in order to protect their settlement rights.

The second section provides that homestead settlers whose property was destroyed by such forest fires, or in case the settler perished by the fire, then his or her heirs, or in the case of the successor to his or her homestead right, as defined in section 2301, R. S., may upon satisfactory proof of compliance with the law upon the part of the settler, to the date of the fire, and upon payment of the minimum price under existing statutes, receive a patent for the land embraced in the claim of such settler. The procedure in such cases, where the original entry of the settler will be the same as is now required in making homestead proof, except that compliance with the law need be shown only to the date of the fire, and, in addition, proof will be required as to the date of the forest fire and the extent of the damage done to the claimant's property thereby, or, where the settler has perished by the fire, proof as to the time and manner of his death. The payment required to be made for the land is the "minimum price under existing statutes," which in ordinary computation of homestead entries under section 2301, R. S., is $1.25 per acre, except where the lands are within the limits of railroad land grants and thereby enhanced in price to $2.50 per acre, and in other cases such amount as is required by any special laws which may govern the disposal of the specific tracts of land.

You will make no change in your method of reporting these entries, but will be governed in each case by the instructions heretofore issued, should there be any entries embracing land of a special character. In all cases where parties intend to avail themselves of the benefit of the said second section under claims resting upon settlement alone at the time of the fire, they will be required, when they apply to make the original entry, if such application is not made within three months of the date of settlement, to file affidavits explaining why such entry has not been made sooner, and when parties whose entries have been made since the date of the fire submit proof, as heretofore required for the purpose of perfecting title to their claims, under the provisions of the said section, you will forward the proof submitted to this office for consideration and withhold the cash certificate until advised that such proof is satisfactory to this office.

Section 3 provides for cases in which the forest fires only partially burned the timber on the homestead, and the settler may desire to purchase only a portion thereof, retaining the remainder of the tract under the general provisions of the homestead laws.

In such cases and when the quantity of timber burned does not exceed seventy-five thousand feet of merchantable green timber, the entryman may file with the register and receiver of the district in which his claim lies a sworn statement setting forth the fact that the timber on his claim was destroyed or injured by the forest fires during the summer and autumn of 1894, giving a description of his entry, the date and number thereof, and a description of each of the smallest legal subdivisions of his claim upon which the green timber has been injured or destroyed by said fires, together with an estimate of the amount of such timber so injured or destroyed upon each of the said smallest legal subdivisions. Also that he has complied with the requirements of the homestead law in respect to the smallest legal subdivisions of his claim, which the legal subdivisions of his claim, which the settler desires to purchase under this act, and with his application to purchase and sworn statement above referred to, he must tender the necessary amount of money to complete the purchase at the minimum price per acre.

Upon the presentation of the above required application and sworn statement together with the purchase money, if the same be found satisfactory to the register and receiver they shall thereupon issue the certificate and entryman's receipt, giving them current numbers in the regular series. On the margin of the certificate, receipt and duplicate receipt there shall be endorsed in red ink the words "Burned timber entry, Act of Jan. 19, 1895."

On the back of the duplicate receipt there shall be endorsed the license or permit to cut the burned timber.

Very respectfully,
S. W. LANGRISH,
Commissioner.

Approved:
ROSE SMITH, Secretary.

The local land officers, while recognizing that the provisions of the act will afford great relief in many cases, and that congress did not see fit to devise some plan that would cover cases where contests are pending, so that the burned timber from such lands could be saved. Under the act the claimant whose entry is not contested can come in and obtain leave to remove the burned timber and thus save it from destruction. But where the title is contested, as is often the case, there appears to be no provision for allowing the timber to be removed. It is possible however that the department may be able to devise some means to reach these cases or that congress may pass a supplemental act.

Marquette Dancing Club.

The Marquette Dancing Club has issued invitations for its fifth social at Fraternity Hall on Friday evening of this week, the 22nd inst. That this popular organization has come to stay is evidenced by the fact that this week's party will be complimentary to its members. No heartily have all interested themselves in the club's welfare since its organization that even persons heretofore skeptical now admit that the club could not be more successful. There are now considerably over seventy-five members enrolled and the list is steadily increasing. The officers and directors are working hard to make the dance Friday evening the most enjoyable of the series and already the indications point to a large attendance and a correspondingly good time. Handsome souvenir programs will be used on this occasion and the grand march will take place immediately after intermission and dancing will commence promptly at 9 o'clock. Hughes' orchestra will furnish its customary brand of fine music, Joe Mack will officiate as prompter and supper will be served in the hall by Mrs. T. M. Donovan to those who wish it. Cards of admission to the dance have been placed at fifty cents to non-members. This will be the last club dance before Lent, the sixth being scheduled for Friday evening, April 25.

Carnival Masquerade.

The old French Canadian custom of holding a masquerade ball at the end of carnival week will be observed here this year. There will be a masked ball at Macabees Hall next Monday evening, Feb. 25. The affair has been gotten up by a number of young men of French descent. More than sixty persons have already agreed to attend in fancy costume and the affair gives every promise of a brilliant success. Of course Tuesday is Mardi Gras but as the festivities will continue until after midnight the ball is given Monday evening so as not to run over into Ash Wednesday.

The committee in charge wish is distinctly understood that no objectionable persons will be allowed to enter the hall on any terms. None such have been invited and none such will be admitted. In order to see that no such persons get in all who attend will be required to unmask before the door-keeper and be identified. This rule will be rigidly enforced without any deviation whatever. All who attend are expected to wear costume but veils may be substituted for masks, by any who find the latter uncomfortable. Good music will be provided.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to return sincere and hearty thanks to the Ladies and Knights of the Macabees and other kind friends for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of my late wife. Their sympathy and help in the hour of affliction will ever be remembered.
ROBERT BEACON,
Marquette, Feb. 18.

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "boil" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a key of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood. Finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a bilious stomach or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. They can only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slothfulness, or torpor of the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly.
