MARQUETTE, MICH., AUGUST 19. Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The copper production of the United States for the first seven months of the current year, expressed in tons of 2,240 pounds, was 93,336 tons, a decrease of 2,634 tons in comparison with the production for the same months last year.

FRIDAY'S News Bureau of Boston states that the Calumet & Hecla will in a few days announce a re-adjustment of wages by which all classes of labor in its employ will be benefitted. It is surmised that an advance of ten per cent., to date from August first, will be made, and that all the other copper mines which have not already advanced the wages of their men will follow suit.

It was stated at an Apost meeting recently by a clergyman connected with the order that Governor McKinley of Ohio is an A. P. A. The governor has since denied in a letter given out for publication that he is, or ever has been, a member of the order. The question of veracity being between Governor McKinley and a minister of the gospel who belongs to the A. P. A., few people will hesitate to believe the former.

The Menominee Herald thinks that since Sam Stephenson has enlarged his hotel in that city he ought to go a step further and "beautify" it by placing a life-size statue of himself on the top of the dome at one corner of the building. This is a brilliant idea on The Herald's part, and Sam ought to act on it regardless of expense. If he will have the statue carved out of a pine log with the bark on the appropriateness of the ornamentation will be universally recognized and conceded.

The story now goes that in order to get rid of a formidable rival President Cleveland will appoint ex-President Harrison to the seat on the supreme bench made vacant by the death of Justice Jackson. The appointment would not be a bad one, but it isn't likely that Harrison will be disposed of that way. The president will be pretty certain to select a Democrat for the place, and it is just as certain that he has no intention of seeking to again be the candidate of his party for the presidency. Mr. Cleveland is not a fool.

The coal handlers' strike at Superior has not yet been settled, although the common council, headed by the mayor and assisted by many of the leading business men of that city, have been trying to bring about an adjustment of the difference between the men and the coal companies operating there. The men demand 50 cents an hour for vessel work and 20 cents for dock work. This is a higher rate of compensation than the companies at Duluth and Ashland are paying, and the Superior companies say they cannot pay a higher rate than is paid at competing points. New men are being brought in to do the work but the companies find it difficult to hold them, as the strikers get them away almost as fast as they are brought in. The strikers have thus far been quite orderly but they appear to be determined not to work for less than the scale demanded, so there is no telling how long the strike will last.

In the opinion of the Iron Ore of Ishpeming, this paper has been "abusing" Sheriff Broad, and also doing that in an inopportune time. As a matter of fact this paper has indulged in no abuse of that official. It has stated some facts about his official conduct, but did not attempt to color them. Furthermore, THE MINING JOURNAL is not aware of the existence of any extraordinary conditions which render it unwise to tell the truth about the sheriff at this time. If he is the wise and prudent official which the Ore makes him out to be he is awfully misjudged by the great majority of the people of Marquette county. So far as THE MINING JOURNAL'S treatment of him is concerned, it has been exceedingly lenient, even the opportunities which he repeatedly furnished for harsh criticism not being made use of until he invited the showing up that he received at his hands. If he does not like his strictures he has only himself to blame for having been subjected to them.

SHOULD BE GUIDED BY REASON. A crisis has been reached in the miners' strike in this county, and prudent counsels must prevail with the men or serious disaster will be entailed on them and the great business interests of the county involved with them in the consequences of the action they will take at their meeting today.

They are really to determine at this meeting whether the great mines of the county shall continue to be wrought, or shall be closed down for an undetermined interval. This is a serious question for them to decide, and in disposing of it they should not allow themselves to be influenced by passion, or by vague promises of assistance from sources outside their own ranks.

There can be no reasonable doubt of the intention of the mining companies which have announced it to be their purpose to close down their mines absolutely and allow them to fill with water if the men do not at once come to an agreement as to wages and go to work. If this is done it will compel the men hitherto employed in these mines to seek other fields of labor, and will deal a crushing blow to the business interests of the communities directly dependent on them, as well as to those of the county at large. Undoubtedly it will also entail heavy loss on the mining companies, but that will not make the hardship brought on the men and the rest of us any easier to endure. Whatever the men may do today the companies will survive and the mines will remain here; but if they decide not to go back to work the men will have to find employment elsewhere, and infinite distress to hundreds of others in the county will be an outcome of their determination.

THE MINING JOURNAL does not desire to discuss the merits of the controversy between the strikers and their employers at this time. It is too late for that. It contents itself with putting squarely before the men the consequences of a refusal to return to work on the terms proposed by the companies, (which seem to be fair), leaving it to them to decide whether they will accept the dire consequences to themselves, and imposed them on hundreds of others, of voting to continue the strike. But it earnestly hopes that prudent considerations will prevail with them, and that they will avert impending disaster to the many who will be affected by their action by deciding to return to work.

They have borne themselves admirably during the strike in respect to preservation of order and obedience to the law; let them not now forfeit the good opinion of the public by a display of obstinacy with which none could, or would, sympathize.

THE BICYCLE CRAZE. Lively Stablesmen Say That It Has Seriously Affected Their Profits.

The competition of the bicycle has become a serious factor in the problem of successfully operating livery and boarding stables. An inquiry among a number of proprietors of large and small stables in this city brought out the fact that their business has been seriously interfered with by the bicycle craze, says the New York Sun.

"The livery stables, and particularly those making a specialty of letting out light traps for an afternoon or an evening, feel the competition heavily," said a livery stable man.

"The young men who formerly made a practice of taking their best girls buggy riding all have wheels now, and the girls have wheels, too, and they go cycling instead of driving. It's cheaper and they like the exercise better."

"This is more noticeable in the small country town than in the city. The stablemen up the state and all through New Jersey are feeling it badly. I have been told that some of them have been forced out of the business entirely, and that others are losing money, but are keeping on in the hope of making up for it when the snow comes."

Another livery stable man said that he thought the advent of self-propelled vehicles would still further interfere with business.

"They have proved successful in France," he said, "and I do not think it will be long before Central park will be full of them."

The riding academies do not fear the wheel.

"The horse and the bicycle appeal to different persons," said the manager of one of the academies. "Of course, those who ride horseback will often try a wheel for fun, but never think of neglecting the horse for its sake."

"Nobody who is fond of horses and accustomed to them will give them up for anything short of extreme necessity. We have some patrons who use bicycles as substitutes for street cars, but not for horses. They will ride here on their wheels and hire horses."

Mending Cleopatra's Needle. Cleopatra's Needle, on the Place de la Concorde, Paris, is being mended, lest another severe winter like the last should endanger the obelisk. A crack has existed in the pyramid ever since it was first erected in Paris, and as the filling up of the fissure has perished through time, it is being replaced by new material.

MOORS OF DELAWARE. A Curious People Who Live by Themselves and Are Various Accounted For.

There has been much speculation about the so-called Moors living in Kent and Sussex counties, Del. These people are usually swarthy, black-haired, and black-eyed, though sometimes of a fair complexion. They are mostly farmers. They have their own schools distinct from the general public school system, and they associate neither with whites nor with blacks. One theory has been that they are of the Moorish race, and that their ancestors were Spanish Moors wrecked on the coast more than a century ago. Another tradition represents them as descendants of the Nanticoke Indians.

George P. Fisher, a lawyer long practicing in Delaware, writes to the Milford Herald to present what he regards as satisfactory evidence as to the origin of these people. He has been acquainted with these people all his life. Nobe Newwood, a giant of the tribe, erect and black-haired at seventy-five, he knew from childhood. When Mr. Fisher became attorney general of the state he was called upon to prosecute Levin Sockum, one of the race, for selling ammunition to Isiah Harmon of the same race, the indictment having been found under a statute of Delaware making it a misdemeanor to sell arms or ammunition to any negro or mulatto. Harmon was a man of twenty years, with excellent Caucasian features, dark chestnut hair, rosy cheeks and hazel eyes. Mr. Fisher thought him the handsomest man in the courtroom. Nevertheless, Lydia Clark, a kinswoman of Harmon, testified for the state that, according to family tradition, some years before the revolutionary war broke out, when she was a little girl, their ancestor, a woman of Irish birth, owning and cultivating a farm in the Indian river hundred, Sussex county, a few miles from Lewes, bought of a slaver that was driven into Lewes creek a negro slave who professed to be a chief of one of the Congo tribes. The woman, whose name was Regua, shortly after married her slave, and her children, not being allowed to associate with the whites, intermarried with the remnants of the Nanticoke Indians, then still living in Sussex county. The woman, a very old woman, looked like an Indian of pure blood.

These people for several generations were confined principally to the southeastern part of Sussex county, but have since gone into Kent county, and even northward into Newcastle county. They have always refused to associate with the colored people. Although chiefly engaged in farming, they have managed to pick up sufficient mechanical skill to build their own houses. Mr. Fisher says that they are thrifty, industrious, frugal and law abiding. He has known of but two instances where one of the race was brought into court for a violation of law. One case was that of Sockum and the other of a man charged with attempted murder, but acquitted.

DISLIKED IN BERLIN. The German Emperor Apparently Dislikes to Associate with the Capital.

The emperor has become extremely unpopular during his six years of reign, and this fact is so patent to every casual observer that it would be folly to deny it. It can not be disputed, either, says a writer in the New York Post, that the emperor furnishes, every little while, abundant cause for this feeling. Thus, by his express orders the whole neighborhood where a military or court ceremony is to be enacted is every time shut off against the populace—a precaution which William I. never took, although the aged monarch was, as will be remembered, the victim of a number of attempts on his life. Again, a government bill is now talked of to shield still farther the life of the monarch against possible assassins.

If, however, one thing more than another has estranged the sympathies of the lower classes from the present emperor, it is the recent order prohibiting the holding of the Christmas fair on the Schlossplatz, adjoining the royal castle, where such a fair had been going on a fortnight before the holidays since time immemorial. The thousands of petty dealers and the myriad of small lads and aged women who, during the fair, were given a chance to earn a few marks by selling cheap wares of every description, and who have now been driven into the poorer and more thickly-populated quarters of the city, feel deeply aggrieved at this latest change. Again, the emperor cordially reciprocates the dislike of the Berliners, and he simply testifies to that fact by spending as little of his time as he possibly can in his capital, preferring the inconvenience of residing in Potsdam, with the ceaseless riding to and fro in a railroad carriage, to remaining in the midst of the critical, sarcastic, outspoken people of Berlin. This studied neglect of the capital city means more than a slap at the local patriotism of Berlin—it means a loss of millions of marks, the money going to the tradesmen of other cities and towns, especially of Potsdam. As an excuse this year the emperor has given it out that the thorough renovation of the old castle, inside and out, was responsible for his late coming early going, but nobody here accepts this excuse. All the less is it accepted because of the undeniable distress throughout Berlin this winter.

Banking in Russia. In Russia the state bank advances money at four and one-half per cent, a year on all kinds of goods in amounts as high as two-thirds of their value; it takes money on deposit at one and one-half per cent. A little while ago, to assist the grain trade, the government bought largely direct from the producers, and will soon be the largest holder of grain in the country. It has nearly completed the absorption of private railroad lines, has acquired the monopoly of the manufacture of spirits, and the control of the retail trade, is about to take the wine and sugar trade into its hands and very likely the coal trade as well.

BACKACHE

AND BEARING-DOWN PAINS. Nearly Drove Mrs. Martin Hale Wild. How She Obtained Relief.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] "Nearly all last winter I was sick in bed, and was attended by different physicians; none cured me, none helped me very much. When I attempted to get up, it was always the same story; my back would ache, I was dizzy and faint, the bearing-down pains were terrible. I also had kidney trouble badly. I knew I must have help right away. I resolved to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The results were marvellous. I have gained in every way, and am entirely cured." - MRS. Men Employed at the "Bigelow" Group of Mines Made Happy.

THEIR WAGES RESTORED TO THE OLD SCHEDULE.

Onigaming Club Will Hold Another Regatta Tuesday - Other Copperdom Notes.

[All communications intended for this department should be addressed to Horace J. Stevens, Houghton, Mich. Telephone connection.] CALUMET.

Saturday was pay day, and the employees of the Calumet & Hecla, Tamarack, Tamarack Junior and Osceola mines were glad to receive their wages. Their wages had been increased during the year, but on August 1st, the average increase being about 10 per cent. The Kearsarge mine, which is one of the Bigelow group, will also give the same increase from the same date. The Wolverine and Quincy are the only mines in the county which have not raised wages, and there is little doubt that they will swing into line also at an early date. This little increase means something like a half million dollars yearly added to the wages of the mine workers of Houghton county and half a million dollars per annum will do a great deal toward lubricating the wheels of trade.

The residence of R. A. Goulette, Laurium, was struck by lightning during the severe storm of Friday night. The building was not fired, but the erratic force splintered things badly. Lightning also struck the Central mine office, doing a slight amount of damage, and also struck at a number of other points in Houghton and Keweenaw counties, although no other buildings nor persons were hit so far as known.

HOUGHTON. The eight annual commencement of the Michigan Mining school was held at the Armory on Friday afternoon, Aug. 16, the exercises beginning at 2 o'clock. Twenty-two graduates were given degrees, fourteen of this number being present, while seven were for members of former classes and one for Robert S. Rose, who left three months before the completion of his course to accept a very responsible position as manager of extensive gold mines at El Cocheno, Mexico, for the owners, who are Cleveland capitalists. The graduating class taking the full degree of mining engineer was the largest which has yet been graduated from the Mining school. The high standing of this school is best evidenced by the speedy absorption of its output. Of the graduating class of this year, all but two or three have accepted positions of responsibility, carrying excellent prospects of rising to better things.

The speech delivered by Hon. Washington Gardner was without doubt one of the finest orations ever delivered at a commencement here or at any other Michigan college. It was eloquent without being ponderous and the "Does Education Pay?"—was handled in a masterly manner. A banquet was given at the Douglas House by the Alumni association in the evening, at which there were many witty speeches and a fine flow of feeling and affection for the school.

BRAZIL'S NEW CAPITAL.

The Proposed Site Selected by the Government Commission.

Popular Demand for the Removal of Official Headquarters from Rio de Janeiro—A Project That Looks Very Unpromising.

After leisurely searching for more than two years, the scientific commission appointed to find a site for the new Brazilian capital has reported. And as nobody except themselves knows anything about the chosen locality, their data, if not their conclusions, will, no doubt, be received with all the respect due to so well discussed a question. Naturally, the first point to be considered is whether Brazil needs a new capital. In Rio de Janeiro it has a splendid city, of historic fame, with all the buildings and other offices required for a seat of government, so that to people less endowed with a mania for brand-new constitutions than the quondam subjects of Dom Pedro it may seem as needless for the Brazilian federal rulers to leave Rio as it would be for the monarchial ones to leave London for the Wolds, of Yorkshire. But Brazil "enjoys" home rule to such an extent that every state or province is in itself a little republic, which—as the world is by this time aware—is at intervals struggling to break loose from the rest of the confederation. Each of the provincial capitals is naturally jealous of Rio, and of the splendid opportunities which the local politicians of that city have for place, and pelf, and pronouncements.

Hence the outcry, says the London Standard, for a more centrally situated capital, the inhabitants of which shall be less subject to corrupt influences than those of a great city like the present metropolis. The result was the appointment of a commission of geologists, engineers, meteorologists, doctors, astronomers and political economists, to report on some desirable locality for this ideal capital, with a goodly guard of soldiers to protect them, in case the wild Indians of the interior might entertain a prejudice against the disturbance of their primeval forests. Twenty thousand pounds was voted for the expenses of the party, the consequence of whose impudent inquiries required the services of one hundred and eighty horses, mules and asses. Brazil is, however, so large a land that had the explorers received a roving commission, they might have died of old age, of "yellow jack," or by Indians, long before they had examined a tithe of the possible sites suited for the purpose indicated. Their attention was, therefore, devoted to the Brazilian highlands northwest of Rio—a rolling country covered with stunted trees and grass, inhabited by a poor-spirited race, reputed to be too lazy to either rob or murder, and too few to be of any account, if forced to fight for their birthright. It is in this region that the commissioners have found the sought-for site, on a plateau some thousand feet above the sea level, well-watered, free from yellow fever, and naturally—this point is made much of, as it is eighteen hours by railway from Rio—not liable to be bombarded the next time the fleet revolts or the republic feels it necessary to flatter the electors by insulting a European power.

And there the scheme is likely to end. The report will be printed, and possibly debated. But it is quite certain that the new capital is to-day as far off as it was before the commissioners set out on their travels. For to build even the bare outlines of a government city would cost more millions of millions than Brazil can obtain credit for on the money markets. Railways, in the first place, be constructed to the chosen spot. Offices for the state, business, legislative buildings, and a host of similar necessities must be provided, even if private enterprise created hotels and houses, and a municipality which does not exist undertook to lay out roads, make drains, erect gas and water works, and generally constitute this capital in the outer world fairly habitable. And, of course, barracks would have to be built, otherwise a change of government might be suddenly precipitated by the opposition playing Cromwell on a large scale, by not only turning out the legislature, but—what would be much worse—by putting the late officials in jail, and their adherents in the posts recently filled by them. All this, it may be added, is apart from the endless political difficulties inherent in the proposal, all of which are perfectly well known to those concerned.

Turk and Armenian. The feeling of the Turks against the Armenians is very bitter now. Talk of massacring them is very common in the coffee houses of Constantinople. The situation is very critical. We do not know what may turn up before help arrives. We have hopes that Europe is going to do something for poor Armenia. There will never be any peace while the Turk is left in sole or even leading control over Christian subjects. Safety and equality are impossible for them under Moslem rule. Joint control by European powers would seem to be the most practicable and beneficial method at present, rather than giving it over to any one power, especially if that be her nearest neighbor.

Out of Love for His Mother. A notable case of filial love came to light in Pittsburgh a few days ago, says the New York Sun, when a seventy-six-year-old son came to the office of an old society to claim his mother, who is two years past the century mark, from whom he had been separated by the long illness of both. It was shown that the man had remained a bachelor all his life in order to care for his mother. They came from Ireland thirty years ago, and had lived together since that time, as they had previously in the old country, until five months ago, when both were taken sick and had to be removed to a hospital.

A FALSE DIAGNOSIS. La Grippe is confounded by many people with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the forehead, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

A NATION'S GRATITUDE.

Foundation Stone of National Monument to Emperor William the Great

Laid Yesterday by Emperor William II

Amid Booming of Cannon and Cheers from Thousands of Lusty German Throats.

HIS MEMORY EVERLASTING.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—Today, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Gravelotte, which had such a decisive influence upon the Franco-Prussian war, was signaled here by the laying of the foundation stone of a national monument to the late Emperor William I by his grandson, Emperor William II, in the presence of many German sovereigns and other dignitaries.

A flourish of trumpets at 9 this morning announced the arrival of Emperor William. The emperor deposited under the foundation stone of the monument to his grandfather a memorial document, in which he referred to the enthusiastic uprising of the German nations under his grandfather, Emperor William the Great, who had restored to the German nations their ardently desired unity and who had succeeded in securing for the newly arisen empire its prompt weight in a system of states.

The emperor then briefly addressed the brilliant assembly in which he said the statue of William the Great should form a testimony of the inextinguishable gratitude of the princes and people of Germany. After the emperor had spread the cement on the stone, Baron von Bernberg, president of the reichstag, gave his majesty a mallet, at the same time declaring that the memorial would be a bronze monument of the inextinguishable gratitude of the nation.

The imperial and social personages present, beginning with Crown Prince Frederick William and the Grand Duke of Baden, then tapped the stone in succession while a salute of one hundred and one guns were fired and bands played. The chancellor proposed three cheers for the emperor, which were given with great enthusiasm.

The whole ceremony was most brilliant and all who witnessed it were deeply impressed. The streets were thronged with people to witness the ceremony. In the evening the emperor attended a banquet at Potsdam, given by the First brigade of Foot Guards to celebrate the anniversary of the war of 1870. In replying to a toast the emperor said: "The great successes which the army, under the leadership of Emperor William, and more especially which the Prussian Guards achieved, derived their origin from the precepts instilled in us by the blessed emperor. What was it that constituted the great strength of the army? It was implicit submission to the will of its supreme commander. Therefore, we ought to constantly remember the three virtues which he described as the main pillars of the army—Courage, honor and implicit obedience. Let us, with unremitting efforts, maintain and strengthen these qualities. Then will the army remain such as the great emperor created it. It will then form the basis for the peace of Europe and justify the saying of Van Moltke: 'We are not only strong enough to maintain the peace of Europe but to enforce it.'"

ARE NOT LIFE TAKERS.

Prominent Chinamen Come to Defense of the Vegetarians.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The better class of Chinamen in this city, notably those connected with the Chinese legation, discredit the report that the recent riots in China have been committed by the Vegetarians. Said one of these gentlemen, in discussing this report: "It is incredible. The Vegetarians in all eastern countries are persons who abstain from the use of all flesh as an article of diet because of conscientious scruples against the taking of any form of life. They are of Buddhist faith and do not believe in killing animals, much less human beings, and it is not to be believed that they would have let their antagonism to the Christian religion betray them into any violence that would cause the loss of life. They are more or less fanatical, to be sure, but they are regarded as of submissive disposition."

Discussing the matter further, the gentleman said it was true that strong prejudice existed among the Vegetarians against the missionaries, because of the former's abhorrence of meat as an article of diet and because they believe that the practice of meat eating is a part of the Christian faith. Many of them think that if they should become Christians they would be compelled to adopt a meat diet, and some of the native converts to Christianity, between whom and the followers of the other faith there is always a sharply defined antagonism, have done much to intensify the feeling by performing acts especially calculated to shock the sensibilities of the anti-flesh eaters. But, intense as is the feeling on the part of the Buddhists on this account, the gentleman quoted does not believe that it would have led them to commit an act in direct contravention of their primary doctrine. He thinks it more likely that advantage has been taken of the knowledge of this antagonism between the Vegetarians and the Christians to lay the blame for the killing of the missionaries at the doors of the anti-meat-eating sect, when, in fact, they were in no way responsible for it.

KU-CHENG COMMISSION ARRIVES.

Hong Kong, Aug. 18.—The commission appointed to investigate the recent massacres of missionaries and their families at Ku-Cheng, which left Foo-Chow on Tuesday last, has arrived safely at Ku-Cheng. Important arrests have been made in connection with the massacres. The natives are quiet and appear to be much alarmed at the arrival of the commission. The commission consists of R. W. Mansfield, the acting British consul at Foo-Chow; J. C. Hixon, the United States consul at Foo-Chow; E. L. B. Allan, the British consul at Padoga Island; Rev. Messrs. Bannister, Gregory and Starr, and Lieut. Evans, of the United States warship Detroit, together with a number of Chinese officials of high rank. The commission is escorted by 100 Chinese braves.

MEXICAN BOY SHOT.

Had Caused Wreck by Placing Stones on Track.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 18.—A boy named Garcia, who twice placed stones on the track of the Hidalgo railway, the second time causing the wreck of a freight train, was shot today at Pachuca, under a new law suspending constitutional guarantees in the case of persons obstructing public mails or railway trains. Garcia's father has committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a train on the same road, being frantic with grief over the fate of his son. The new law is being universally enforced and the penalty will be inflicted on a man in the state of Jalisco for obstructing a railway track. The same law was in force a few years ago and then was suspended, with the result of an increase in attempts to wreck trains.

HOLMES' CASTLE BURNED.

Scene of Many Crimes Wiped Out By Fire Early This Morning.

BLAZE ORIGINATED IN STORE ON GROUND FLOOR.

And Only by Hard Work Was Adjacent Property Saved—Pecuniary Loss Was Small.

A FAMOUS BUILDING GONE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—H. H. Holmes' "castle," at Sixty-third and Wallace streets, which is said to have been the scene of numerous murders by the owner, was discovered to be on fire at 12:30 o'clock this (Monday) morning. It is now believed that it will be entirely consumed, and the adjacent property is in great danger.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—At 2 a. m. the fire is under control. The firemen worked hard and it did not extend beyond the "castle." This famous building was tenanted only on the ground floor by a drug store and a small restaurant and it was in the latter that the fire originated. The interior of the building is practically ruined. The losses will aggregate $15,000.

U. S. COURTS WILL ACT.

Jackson's Hole Settlers Who Killed Indians to Be Punished.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—In spite of reports to the contrary, it may be definitely stated that the Indian bureau has yet taken no steps whatever looking to the punishment of the Jackson's Hole settlers for the killing of Bannock Indians. The bureau has taken cognizance of the matter and the department of justice. It is probable, however, that steps will be taken immediately to bring those engaged in the killing to justice.

The delay has been caused by the fact that no law was known under which the United States courts could take cognizance of the matter and the further statement being made, it is regarded as practically impossible to secure a conviction in the Wyoming state courts, owing to the strong feeling against the Indians.

Today, however, it was discovered that the treaty of July 3, 1852, between the United States and the Bannocks and Shoshone Indians had a provision directly applicable to the present case under which the machinery of the United States courts might be invoked to determine judicially the culpability of the settlers. The second paragraph of the first article of the treaty reads as follows:

"If had men among the whites or among other people subject to the authorities of the United States shall commit any wrong upon the persons or property of the Indians, the United States will, upon proof made to the agent and forwarded to the commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington city, proceed at once to cause the offenders to be arrested and punished according to the laws of the United States, and also reimburse the injured persons for the loss sustained."

Under ordinary circumstances on its course of action, it is decided that arrests will be made by United States marshals under the provisions of the treaty. The persons arrested can then sue for writs of habeas corpus, thus bringing the validity of the treaty and the whole status of the Indians into court.

ANOTHER JOB FOR RANSOM.

May Be Sent to Japan to Take Minister Duties.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 18.—A special to The Journal from Washington says it is believed there that within the next twenty-four hours the president will be besieged by a crowd of eager statesmen, all anxious to succeed Matt W. Ransom as minister to Mexico. The opinion of the solicitor general yesterday, deciding that Mr. Ransom is not legally entitled to hold the office, has resulted in creating a vacancy.

Under ordinary circumstances there would be no question but that Mr. Ransom would be immediately reappointed; but, although he was given the office about March 1, he has really acted as minister only about two weeks in the five months which have expired since his appointment. His friends stress positively that the climate of Mexico is such that it will be impossible for him to continue to live there, and that if he remains in the diplomatic service at all it will only be at some other post. There is a rumor current this morning to the effect that he may be assigned to Japan to succeed Minister Dun, who was appointed to the diplomatic corps during the first Cleveland administration, and that some one else, possibly Mr. Wall of Wisconsin, may be assigned to the Mexican mission, while Mr. Dun is said to be slated for retirement to private life. The Mexican mission, while not an embassy, now ranks as first class, the salary being $17,500 a year, paid in gold, which is equal to $35,000 in Mexican money. Ex-Senator Butler of South Carolina is also regarded as a probable successor in case of a change.

FOUGHT WITH REVOLVERS.

Two Portland Doctors Use Each Other as Targets.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 18.—Yesterday the reports of several shots in rapid succession were heard to come from the office of Dr. H. R. Holmes, in the Dekum building, Third and Washington streets. The tenants of the building rushed in and found the prostrate bodies of Dr. Holmes and Dr. Robert K. Aushlund, each of whom was holding a smoking pistol in his hand. There were no other persons in the room. Aushlund had a hole in his body and one in his head, another in his breast, another in his right wrist. Holmes was wounded in two places, one ball having entered an arm and the other the body just below the left nipple. Aushlund was taken to the hospital and Holmes to his residence. Aushlund's wounds will undoubtedly result fatally, while the physicians think Holmes will recover. It is not known what was the

CRICKET FIGHTING.

One of the Favorite Sports of Chinese Gamblers.

The Chinese are inveterate gamblers, and never lose an opportunity to bet, no matter how trivial the cause may be. One of their great institutions is cricket fighting, the crickets being caught, fed and trained carefully as a blooded horse.

There is a fixed diet for them, part of the food consisting of honey and boiled chestnuts. If they get sick they are fed with mosquitoes. Prior to fighting their weight is ascertained and duly recorded, there being a fixed regulation as to their size and weight.

On the door of the house in which the fight is to take place the record of each cricket is pasted up, and the owner of the winner gets ten per cent. of all the bets.

The cricket pit is a low tub placed on a table, and, after weighing, the combatants are put in it and tickled with straws until they rush at each other with loud chirps and fight until one of them is killed.

THE WALLS COLLAPSED.

Partially Constructed Church Wrecked by Storm—One Killed.

DETROIT, Aug. 18.—A thunder storm, accompanied by heavy gusts of wind, which came up suddenly at noon yesterday, caused a fatal accident at the United Presbyterian church, which is being erected at Twelfth street and Grand River avenue. The walls of the church were up and about ready for the roof. When the squall came portions of the front and rear walls collapsed, several men being hurled from ladders and scaffolds and buried in the ruins.

Frank Senova, a middle-aged bricklayer, was on a scaffold outside the rear wall when the crash came. The scaffold fell and Senova was buried under two feet of brick and mortar. Death must have been instantaneous, for his body when dug out, was found to be frightfully mangled. Senova leaves a wife and three children.

Chris Johnson, foreman of the bricklayers, was on a ladder inside the wall and Jesse North, bricklayer, stood on the scaffold. Both fell into the cellar and had to be dug out. Johnson was sent to Harper hospital with an ugly scalp wound and his eyes full of lime, which may cause him to lose his sight. North was taken home in an emergency hospital ambulance wagon, not very badly injured.

Frederick Dekerske, a laborer, who was standing on the rafters of the top floor when the walls fell, was carried down to the cellar and received a painful wound in the abdomen.

BURIED IN THE OCEAN.

Charles Linder of Hancock Dies en Route to Germany.

HANCOCK, Mich., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Charles Linder, who left here six weeks ago for Carlsbad, Germany, to take the waters for his health, which was fast failing, died at sea before reaching Germany and his remains were buried in the sea. The date of his death was July 25 and the information was received through a letter from the American consul at Hamburg, sent the mayor here. Mr. Linder had been in failing health for several years and was a great sufferer from diabetes, which in all likelihood proved the cause of his taking off. He leaves a wife and several young children to mourn his untimely death.

PEPPER DENIES IT.

The Kansas Senator Has Not Deserted the Silver Banks.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 18.—A state official who wrote to Senator Pepper of Kansas asking him whether the newspaper reports that he had gone back on free silver was true, received a reply this morning denouncing the "partisan newspaper press" and asserting emphatically that the newspaper craze was not dying out but was fast widening its field. It was like a volcano which could not be suppressed by covering the crater. The belief in the east that it was dying out, he added, was due to the fact that it had now passed the pyrotechnic stage of noise and demonstration and the time for sober thought had arrived.

LYNCHED BY A MOB.

Colored Murderer Strung Up and Jailor Killed.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 18.—Samuel Lewis, the murderer of three men, was taken from the jail at Juno this morning by a mob of masked men and lynched. When the mob demanded Lewis the jailor said they could have him if they would harm no one else, to which they consented. As the door opened a negro deputy ran out. Some one fired, missing him and killing Gustave Kasier, the jailor.

BARAGA BEATEN TWICE.

Marquette Ball Tossers Took Both Games from the Sawdust Shovellers.

SATURDAY'S WAS RATHER RAGGED BUT EXCITING.

Sunday's Was a Funeral Procession for the Visitors, Who Barely Escaped Coat of Whitewash.

HOME TEAM WON BOTH.

Baraga dropped both games to Marquette on Saturday and Sunday. In Saturday's game there was lots of excitement for the spectators, the balance of victory swinging back and forth as the contest progressed.

Marquette led off with two in the first of Saturday's game, but Baraga swung in three in the second and two in the third, while Marquette was making one more. The locals hammered out one in the fourth and three more in the fifth, again leading the visitors, who got but one in the two innings.

In the seventh Baraga's balloon ascended and for a few minutes it looked as if the visitors had the game, as they made three runs by consecutive batting after two men were out. But the Marquette boys concluded that it was time for them to have a parachute drop of their own.

Rivers got to first on an error by Shepherd and Brennan made a hit. Then Price whacked the horsehide way down into center among the crowd and made the circuit of the bases while the audience yelled itself hoarse.

Covian's double and C. Reichman's single brought in another and in the next inning Rivers' double and Shaw's single nailed the game down, for Shepherd's home run in the eighth was made with the bases clear.

Baraga... 0 2 2 0 1 0 3 1 0—10 Marquette... 3 0 1 1 3 0 4 1 0—12 Base hits—Marquette, 16; Baraga, 12. Errors—Marquette, 5; Baraga, 6. Home runs—Price and Shepherd. Two-base hits, C. Reichman, P. Reichman and Rivers (2); Gingrass and Berryman. Struck out—By Shaw, 2; by Berryman, 5. Bases on balls and hit by pitcher—By Shaw, 5; by Berryman, 2. Passed balls—By Navins, 1; by Nugent, 2.

Berryman went in again Sunday but the first six Marquette batters made him weary and he was retired in favor of Shepherd, who was replaced at short by Goodman. Shepherd proved a pudding for most of the locals and they touched him for eleven hits while five batters walked to first. Only four safe hits were made off Smith and only two Baraga batters walked to first. Notable features were Brennan's fine run and catch of Nugent's hit to center and double plays by Price and Smith and Price and Covian. Goodman, Gingrass and Curley also made a good double play in the seventh, putting out P. Reichman at first and cutting off Navins at third. It was in this play that Navins hurt his ankle while trying to slide to third and had to retire. C. Reichman was then moved in to short while Shaw went out to right field.

The lone run of the visitors was made in a peculiar manner. Shepherd had walked to first, stole second and got to third on the play when St. Arnaux was put out. Gingrass knocked up a foul which Rivers got after a hard run through the crowd over by the open stand. Smith had apparently forgotten Shepherd and failed to come in to cover the home plate. Shepherd, who is the fastest runner in the two teams, got home before Rivers could recover himself. The legality of the run was doubtful, for it seemed almost impossible for even Shepherd to run the distance after the ball was caught. But the Baraga coacher declared that Shepherd was on the bag when the ball was caught and no one of the Marquette team was prepared to dispute the assertion. Score by innings: Baraga... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1 Marquette... 4 1 4 0 2 0 0 0 0—12 Base hits—Marquette, 14; Baraga, 4. Errors—Marquette, 4; Baraga, 6. Two-base hits—Price, P. Reichman. Struck out—By Smith, 7; by Shepherd, 5. Bases on balls and hit by pitcher—By Berryman, 1; by Shepherd, 5; by Smith, 2. Passed balls—By Nugent, 2. Wild pitch—By Shepherd, 1.

Striking Miners at Ishpeming Obtain the Companies' New Schedules.

THEY FINALLY DECIDE TO GO TO THE MINES.

Are Well Received and It Now Appears Probable That the Great Strike Will End Today.

A SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

There is a cheering prospect that the great strike of Marquette county miners, which is now entering upon its sixth week, may be settled today. The strikers who attended the meeting at the park Saturday voted to go to the mines in the manner proposed by the companies to ascertain the new scale of wages. Many of the men knew there was no time to be lost, as the mine managers meant what they said when they announced that the pumps would be stopped this week in case work is not resumed. So, immediately after dinner, large delegations of them called at the different mines where they were formerly employed. Inasmuch as the men had finally concluded to comply with the wishes of the companies the bosses were more than pleased to treat with them. The men were very tractable and many of them appeared anxious to get back to work.

The scales were presented to the men in writing so that all might understand them. The mine managers have not yet made public their schedules, their desire being that their proposals should be first announced by the men at their meeting at the park. It is quite certain, however, that the average pay for miners on contract will be $1.70. This is an advance of twenty cents over the old price. Miners working on company account will be paid $1.60; trammen, $1.40 and surface laborers who formerly earned $1 will be given $1.25. All employees will be granted an increase ranging from ten to twenty-five per cent. The schedules of the different mines are not all alike, as the quality of work and other things are taken into consideration, consequently some of the companies will pay more for certain kinds of labor than others. It is generally believed, however, that the average pay for miners will not be less than $1.70 at any of the mines.

It is said that the men who were called at the mines to receive the new wage rate expressed themselves well pleased with the scale, and judging from the way some of them spoke Saturday evening they will favor its acceptance at the meeting of the men to be held today. There is no telling, however, what decision will be reached, as a number of the strikers are still opposed to accepting the companies' new wage rate. Those who favor returning to work will attend the meeting and will do all they can to have the propositions favorably acted upon. The continuance or settlement of the strike depends entirely on the outcome of this meeting. It is generally conceded that in case the men vote to remain out the result will be exceedingly disastrous to all the interests involved.

Judging from the way the mine managers talk the companies will certainly not wait on the men any longer. The announcement that the pumps will be pulled is made in entire good faith. The Cleveland company has concluded to stop its pumps tomorrow unless the men today determine when they will go back to work. President Mather and August Mills of the company positively assert that this announcement is in no respect a "bluff." They say that in case the pumps are stopped at the mine permitted to fill with water it will be some time before they are started up again. The strike has continued so long now that the better part of the season is over and the company has concluded that it might as well close down for the winter. This is certainly the company's view of the situation and it is now evident that it will not wait on the men any longer. The local officials assert that they must and will carry out the instructions of the company to the letter. They have unquestionably been instructed to pull the pumps and they positively state they will do it at the hour named.

Agent Kidder of the Lake Angeline mine received a telegram Saturday from his company instructing him to pull the pumps at the mine tomorrow evening unless the men decide meanwhile to return to work. Preparations for closing down the mine were instituted and Mr. Kidder says if the pumps are once stopped there will certainly be no work at the Lake Angeline for months to come. The miners understand what this means and it is believed they will act wisely and not further prolong a losing contest.

The strike has now reached a point where something must be done very speedily. Disaster to the interests of the entire community is threatened and it now lies in the hands of the strikers to determine whether or not they will be obliged to abandon their homes and seek other fields of labor. It appears to those who are in position to understand the situation thoroughly that the men will make a grievous mistake if they do not decide to at once return to work. The crucial moment has arrived and the result of today's meeting will be anxiously awaited by thousands of men, women and children here and elsewhere throughout Marquette county.

Pleased With Treatment.

The members of the Sault Ste. Marie fire department who attended the tournament here ten days ago are enthusiastic in their praise of the treatment accorded them by the fire department and citizens generally while here. The following, from the Soo Democrat, explains itself:

The Soo firemen who took in the Upper Peninsula firemen's association tournament at Ishpeming returned last Saturday morning, after being most royally entertained by the firemen of Ishpeming and having witnessed one of the most successful tournaments ever held in the state of Michigan. As entertainers, few are equal to the members of the Ishpeming fire department and the who had the arrangements in charge during the gala days of Aug. 7, 8 and 9 in that city. The streets and principal business places and fine residences were gaily decorated with flags, bunting and evergreens. Beautiful arches illuminated with red, white and blue electric lights were built on the principal corners. Banners, with "Welcome," "The city is yours," etc., were profusely strung across the streets. In front of the Nelson house the gas company erected a neat sign "Welcome," illuminated by gas. This being the first tournament of the association the committees in charge had to plan everything in the dark, but so perfect were the arrangements in every detail that it would have done credit to the oldest association. Thousands of people swarmed the streets during the three days of the tournament and few of them voted the affair anything but a grand success. The finance committee met with liberal responses when soliciting subscriptions. The city of Ishpeming donated $500, and three of the principal mining corporations subscribed $150 each, thus one can see the interest taken in these events. At the convention the Soo delegates, Chief G. F. Van Wyck and Secretary Otto Supe, were successful in making a majority of those present see that the next tournament ought to be held in the Soo, though others earnestly pleaded for it to be held elsewhere, and our city can feel justly proud of having here, in the month of August, the city of over two hundred firemen with their wives, sweethearts and admirers, will be here for three solid days. The tournament will be held in August and preparations for it will not begin until next spring, when it is hoped that every citizen will take hold in the proper spirit.

Cash Plan Goes.

Ishpeming merchants who contemplate the organization of a business men's association in the near future held another meeting Saturday to determine what steps they should take to guard against the disaster which a continuance of the strike would entail on them. The greater number of the grocery and provision dealers of the city signed an agreement to adopt the cash plan, commencing a week from today, the 24th. A communication addressed to the miners' union was prepared and sent to the men at the park. It was to the effect that the cash plan would be adopted on the day mentioned whether or not the men resumed work. The merchants are now in a position where they will either have to get money for their goods or close their doors. Many of them have large accounts outstanding and the condition of business is such that they cannot continue the credit system. They are all in sympathy with the men and have done all they can to help them. They now perceive that in order to save themselves they must take this step. There is little or no money in circulation and without money they cannot meet their bills. The wholesalers are kicking and the merchants are compelled to shut down on credit.

Held Him Up.

Anthony Beaty of Humboldt came to Ishpeming for some groceries and other articles needed by his family Friday afternoon. He remained in town until supper time, or perhaps a little later. While here he purchased some groceries and he also had some shoes for his children. While driving along the road in the vicinity of West Ishpeming four or five men stepped into the road and stopped his horse. One of them held the nag by the head while the others went through his pockets and relieved Beaty of his supplies. He made no resistance as he knew it would be of no use to enter a protest, so when he was directed to drive on he did so. The men were all strangers to Beaty.

The members of the mechanics' union here desire THE MINING JOURNAL to state that they have not decided to call out the engineers in charge of the pumping engines, etc., as reported in some of the outside papers. The union never contemplated such a move.

The Ishpeming fire department decided at the meeting held Saturday evening to give a picnic for the benefit of the firemen a week from next Saturday. A group picture of the hose team was also ordered. The department will meet again a week from Saturday night for the purpose of auditing such bills as were not presented at this meeting.

THE DISCOVERY SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. G. Callouette, Druggist, Beaverly, Ill., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at E. Farnham's Drug Store.

A DANGEROUS PLAYHOUSE.

The Children Were Lighting Matches Over Dynamite Cases.

Among the many adventures that befell Mr. Jebb in the course of his Rocky Mountain mining experiences was one connected with dynamite, says the Youth's Companion. A line of rooms had been built for the accommodation of clerks, the storing of dynamite and so forth. Then the superintendent sent for his wife and family. The children, numerous and turbulent, were made free of the place, with the necessary exception of the dynamite storeroom.

Probably for the reason that this one room was forbidden to them they were constantly caught hanging about it, to be dismissed promptly with a caution. Finally after it was thought they had forgotten the subject, Mr. Jebb was going home to bed early one morning, after sitting up all night with a refractory furnace, when he happened to notice that the outer door of a room containing plant powder was ajar.

Thinking of the gross carelessness of which some one had been guilty, he went to shut the door. As he did so, he glanced inside and, to his horror, he saw the whole half-dozen children sitting on the various cases, trying to see which could make a match burn longest.

There was enough explosive substance in the room to blow up the entire town, and it seemed extremely probable that that was just what was going to happen, for it dashed through Mr. Jebb's mind in a second that if he startled the children they would drop their matches and run, when the result would be pretty certain.

They were too busy to have caught sight of him. He moved a little away from the door and then called to them softly. Probably his voice was somewhat shaken by what the novelists call "conflicting emotions," for at first the children did not recognize it, but at the second or third call they came gingerly out of the room, fearful lest retribution for their disobedience might be about to befall them.

The moment the last child—carrying a still-burning match—crossed the threshold Mr. Jebb rushed into the storeroom just in time to extinguish a smoldering match-head on the floor and, after searching look around to see that all was safe, he went out again and locked the door with a gasp of relief.

Then he marched the children off to their father, with whom, to judge from the sounds, they spent an exciting half-hour.

Bacteria and Not Thunder.

Scientists long since "went on record" as believing the ozone produced by electrical discharges during thunderstorms to be the cause of milk coagulation and souring during the prevalence of such phenomena. Recent experiments by Prof. Freadwell prove that the souring of milk is not due to oxidation caused by ozone or other products of the electric discharge, but that it is produced by the growth of bacteria in the fluid, the growth of which is exceptionally rapid in sultry, hot weather, such as usually precedes thunderstorms.

AN APPEAL FOR AID.

Negaunee Business Men Asked to Assist Needy Ones Among the Striking Miners. A PURSE OF OVER $100 RAISED FOR THE RELIEF FUND.

But It is Evident That What Can Be Done for the Men Will Fall Far Short of Their Needs.

CONTRIBUTED TO STRIKERS. The business men of Negaunee held another meeting Friday evening for the purpose of ascertaining what assistance could be given the striking miners and their families...

Before leaving the hall, however, all those present put down their names for different amounts, ranging from $1 to $10. A purse of between $125 and $175 was raised and donated to the relief fund.

Edwin Cox of Marquette, who is always in sympathy with the laboring man, was in Negaunee Saturday. He attended the meeting of the men at the park but it could not be learned what encouragement he had to offer them.

Obtained the Scale. Delegations of strikers called at the mines in Negaunee, as well as at Ishpeming, Saturday and obtained the proposed new scale of wages.

A Big Turnout. The turnout of Negaunee and Ishpeming people to Marquette Saturday was much larger than was expected.

WATCHING FOR DEAD MEN.

The Grim Summer Occupation of Niagara Falls Fishermen. There exists at Niagara falls and along the river from that point to Lake Ontario an industry, the like of which cannot probably be found in the civilized world.

The annual number of cases is large, so large that a number of men exist on what they make in picking up floaters. The falls have always been a favorite spot for suicides, and many a mysterious disappearance has been solved long after by the finding of a floater in the Niagara river which is identified as the missing one.

Youngstown is an especially good spot for the finding of floaters. Here there is an eddy that brings the bodies in close to shore, and often they become becalmed, as it were, for days, long enough to rise to the surface and be picked up instead of drifting out into the lake.

The men are mostly fishermen and longshoremen, who fill in the dull season in the winter by fishing through the ice. They are a hardy set, rough in appearance and manners, and dulled by their long association with corpses so that they do not feel any qualms at handling the most decomposed body.

"Your servants are always so civil," remarked one woman to another. "Have you any special training methods that engraft such courtesy into their manners?"

"Not especially," was the answer, "but maybe you can find a keynote to their good temper in the fact that I always select as a commencement to each day a cheery 'good morning!'"

"In southern households I know the first greeting of the day comes from the domestics, but when one must differ with the ignorance as well as indifference of foreigners about one's household, it is better to take the initiative in acts of politeness and let them learn by example."

ANOTHER GIBRALTAR.

England's New Stronghold on the Straits of Fuca. Great Secrecy Maintained During the Construction of the Fortress - Description of the Works and Armament.

Within a year it is confidently expected the Straits of Fuca will echo the music of the shore guns at Esquimalt, Great Britain's new and most modern line of defenses at the southern extremity of Vancouver island. Never has a military undertaking in time of profoundest secrecy been prosecuted with stricter secrecy than the construction of these fortifications, and all that the Victorians know all about the marvelous system of protection at their doors might be told in a few brief paragraphs.

At present the subaqueous mines are being placed in position at the entrance to Esquimalt harbor and in the Royal roads, and the point is beginning to again assume more of the appearance of a well-ordered military barracks and less that of a great mining camp.

Readers of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer were, when the work commenced, given an idea of the plan of fortification—a system of great tunnels and ordnance rising therefrom on giant elevators hydraulically operated; the guns visible and exposed only in the brief moment required to sight and fire them.

Now that the greater part of the work of construction is over it is probable that less secrecy will be exercised, but at no time can the general public hope to gain admittance to the forts as they do to the warships. They are not established for the gratification of sightseers.

It is not thought likely that any large additions will be made to the permanent forces of Royal Marine artillery and Royal engineers under Col. Kawston and Maj. Muirhead respectively. The force of two or three hundred at present in possession of the barracks will be quite sufficient to keep the place in order in peaceful days, and should war at any time cast its shadow over the land the British Columbia Battalion of Garrison artillery will be found quite competent to defend their homes and England's honor.

Just now the special training of the battalion is suspended. The men who have taken the prescribed course have been examined and inspected and certified. Each and all are, however, required to take a further course with in the fortifications as soon as the heavy ordnance shall have arrived and been placed in position.

And as the artillery must be "proved" at least once in every three months, according to regulations, citizens of Puget Sound need not be alarmed if they hear heavy cannonading during the present summer. It will not be the thunder of a hostile fleet; simply the barking of the watchdogs on guard at her Britannic majesty's Pacific headquarters.

Preparing for Good Time. Already French architects are sending in plans for the great exhibition of 1900. No fewer than one hundred and twelve competing designs are on view in the Palais d'Industrie. The conditions laid down by the French government allowed designers either to remove the Eiffel tower and the Machinery gallery from the Champs de Mars or not. They were also left to produce schemes involving the removal of other buildings standing on the ground.

This is tiresome. Rubbed off in the wash you see. But the wonder is that any buttons at all are left on, when you grind them up so against a washboard. It isn't necessary, if you wash with Pearline. No washboard; no rubbing; no buttons worn off; no holes worn in. Think of the different kinds of work that you save, with Pearline! And the money! Remember, too, that if you keep to things proved to be absolutely harmless, there's nothing you can use that is equal to Pearline, the original washing compound.

'T'WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

St. George Celebration Attended by Nearly Two Thousand Visitors.

FINE WEATHER AND MANY INTERESTING FEATURES.

Crowd Had a Good Time and Marquette Will Be Glad to See Them All Again.

THEY OWNED THE CITY.

The annual celebration of the Sons of St. George has come and gone and was a great success. The attendance of visitors, though considerably under the estimates of some over-sanguine persons, was larger than was expected by the conservative and those of greatest experience in getting out and handling crowds. It was an extremely good-natured gathering. Most of the men brought their wives and families and best girls and came to have a good time and all apparently succeeded in that endeavor. The weather was perfect and the scene on the streets in the evening was a pretty and pleasing one. In fact the evening was so pleasant and the attractions outdoors so many that the concert which the local committee had arranged at the opera house for the entertainment of the visitors was very sparsely attended. The ball game in the afternoon, though not remarkable for skillful playing, afforded plenty of amusement and was quite exciting in its ups and downs. The bicycle races were well contested and were witnessed by several thousand people, and altogether the day was a most satisfactory one for Marquette and her visitors.

THE PARADE TO THE FAIR GROUNDS.

The special trains from the copper country and Ishpeming rolled in at 11 o'clock and brought nearly 1,500 visitors. The Casino rink was headquarters for the visiting lodges and the parade formed there instead of on Superior street. The column was a long one and the several lodges made a very good showing while six bands supplied plenty of music. There were all told nearly 1,000 men in line. The uniformed Knights of St. George, an organization that has not been seen here before, made a very pretty appearance and showed good drill. Arrived at the Fair grounds the marchers and other visitors filled the grand stands and lined up in the field during the speaking. Mayor Jacobs briefly welcomed the visitors and presented to D. W. Powell, the president of the day, a huge key decked with ribbons to signify that the city belonged to its visitors. Mr. Powell replied in appropriate terms and then introduced Rev. F. J. Mallett, who made a brief address appropriate to the occasion, getting in a clever shot at a certain un-American organization against which he cautioned his hearers. Then James Russell was seized upon by the president. He had not expected to speak but was able to give point to his words of welcome by recalling the magnificent manner in which the Sons of St. George turned out to Marquette's Fourth of July celebration a few years ago. After the speaking the crowd scattered to dinner, many taking it on the grounds while others came down town.

THE BALL GAME AND RACES.

In the afternoon the Ishpeming and other visiting bands played several fine selections on different parts of the grounds and there was a ball game between the Marquette and Baraga teams for a purse of $50. The game was witnessed by fully 1,000 people and was quite exciting, the score swinging up and down in a way that kept the crowd wide awake. A more detailed account of the game will be found in another column.

Immediately after the game the races were run and although time was not taken nor the distances accurately measured they afforded considerable amusement. The first was a boys' race of 200 yards. About fifteen boys entered but Jesse Meads quickly showed his heels to the pack and won with John Gillett a close second. Following this was a 150 yards dash won by Bennie Barasa of Negaunee with Tim Downs of Marquette second. John David and his partner won the three-legged race. Will Dwyer and Clinton Byrne being second. The representatives of the iron district then engaged in a tug-of-war with outsiders supposed to represent the copper country and pulled them all over the field, thereby gaining a purse of $10. The prizes for the three races were $2 to first and $1 to second. The tug-of-war ended the sports and what was left of the crowd proceeded to town.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

The bicycle races proved a great attraction, a large part of the spectators at the ball game coming down town at once to them without waiting for the other events announced at the Fair grounds. The bicycle races were run on Washington street from Taird to the Polygonal works and back, and while the character of the course gave little chance for fast time the contests proved very interesting to the great crowd which lined the street. Will Boone of Red Jacket came in first in both events, though legally disqualified for the second. The surprise of the day was the good showing made by Jay Spear of this city, who appeared on the track for the first time and defeated several much more experienced riders for second place. The first event was a race for boys for prizes of $5 and $2.50. The only competitors were Harry Retaille and Chris Trevarrow, both of Red Jacket. Retaille won in a sharp contest, with Trevarrow a good second.

The second and largest event was a free-for-all for a medal of the value of $20 or the equivalent in cash. For this there were six entries: Will Boone and Will Barrett of Red Jacket; Charles Young and Louis Siel of Ishpeming; Will Phillips of Calumet and Jay Spear of Marquette. Boone came in first with Spear about thirty feet behind him while Phillips was fully 200 feet behind Spear and Barrett 30 feet farther back. Young and Siel did not show at the finish.

The third event was a handicap for medals of $15, $10 and $5. This was announced as an amateur event but Boone, who is certainly now a professional rider if he was not before, was allowed to enter. The start was made with Boone at the scratch, Spear being allowed 20 feet, Ben Neely of Negaunee 40 feet, and Albert Wallace of this city 60 feet. Wallace fell at the start and Boone came in first with Spear a close second. Neely arrived far behind but of course got third money, there being no time limit.

It was freely stated on the street that Boone has ridden for money before and under the League rule is a professional rider. It is certain that he is such now for he took his prizes here in cash. Spear gave notice to the committee in charge that he would insist on the medal. Under the circumstances he certainly ought to have first place medal, as Boone, whatever his previous status, was disqualified for the handicap, which was advertised as an amateur event, by accepting a cash prize in the preceding race.

THE CONCERT IN THE EVENING.

In the evening there was a concert at the opera house, chiefly by local talent, the only exceptions being Messrs. Blackwell and Treloar of Ishpeming. The concert was very meagrely attended, the fine evening and the decorations keeping the people on the streets and the committee making the mistake of not coralling all the visiting bands of the opera house. There were solos by Messrs. Blackwell, Treloar of Ishpeming, and Hoelscher and Misses Harlow and Greene, and duets by Messrs. Blackwell and Treloar and Miss Harlow and Mr. Erickson. The Marquette City band played a very pretty number and all the music was good. The entertainment concluded with a laughable farce by the Tuxedo club entitled "The Coming Man." The concert deserved a much better house but was at a disadvantage from the multiplicity of attractions.

The majority of the visitors went home on the special trains, and a large number stayed over, their tickets being good to return until Tuesday. The railroad reports show that the actual number of persons arriving in the city Saturday was close to 1,800. This is not an estimate but the actual figures, the absence of reports from a few stations preventing greater precision. Of this number over 600 came from Houghton county and more than 1,000 from the various towns of this county. The Gogebic range did not turn out in any strength and neither did the Menominee range but the attendance surpassed the anticipations of the railroad people though it fell below the predictions of some other persons.

Altogether it was a very orderly and good-natured crowd and one that Marquette will be glad to welcome again. The only disturbance on the street was made by a man living here and was not at all chargeable to the visitors. The Sons of St. George evidently know how to enjoy a holiday with pleasure to themselves and to their hosts and Marquette will be glad to have them come when in the course of events they shall again honor the city with their presence.

Miss Gaffney's Farewell.

Miss Josephine Gaffney, who for over two years has been soprano in the Presbyterian church choir, will soon leave the upper peninsula and the Young Men's Sunday Evening club, as a token of the appreciation in which she is held by its members and by the general public, has asked her to give a farewell concert under its auspices at the church next Monday evening. Few singers have been more popular or have commanded more general esteem in Marquette than Miss Gaffney. Her talents have always been freely at the service of any worthy cause and her unfailing good nature and readiness to help have set an example which some other professional or semi-professional singers might do well to imitate. It is not likely that she will return here soon, if at all, as the family will shortly remove to Ann Arbor for the education of some younger children and that will be a matter of several years. Josephine Gaffney is a warm-hearted, sweet-tempered and talented girl whom Marquette is very sorry to lose, and the members of the Sunday Evening club will take pleasure in seeing to it that on her last appearance here she is greeted by a packed house. She will be assisted in the concert by the best talent of the city.

Ontonagon Summer Normal.

The first session of the Ontonagon Summer Normal school closed last Wednesday. All the students expressed themselves as well satisfied with the work done and the majority signified their desire and intention of returning another summer should the school be continued. Naturally the largest representation was from Ontonagon county but students from Hancock, Baraga and Marquette were also in attendance. The attendance was not large, only twenty-eight, but students could pursue any subject desired and found the small classes a benefit, as each could receive more individual attention. The institute was conducted by Professor H. C. Rankin of Lapeer, assisted by Messrs. H. A. Graham of Ontonagon and A. C. Adair of Rockland and Miss Clara Williams. When all expenses were paid there remained a balance which the board of managers decided to use as the nucleus of a fund for the summer of 1896.

OUR CLOSING SALE OF SUMMER GOODS

Has kept all hands here busy as bees for the past few days. Nevertheless we place before you a complete revision of already low prices to keep up our reputation of never being undersold, giving the people trading here more for their money than can be had elsewhere. We name prices way below those quoted by our competitors. It's like a man grasping in the dark to hold us off, for our aim is to always undersell. People come here expecting more for their money than can be had elsewhere and they are never disappointed. No matter how low a quotation is made by our competitors we always go them a notch lower, besides showing you three times the stock to pick from than is shown by any other concern.
