Great Excitement Throughout the Land of the Dons Over the Senate's Action.

UNITED STATES CONSULATE AT BARCELONA STONED.

American Flags Trampled Upon and Other Manifestations of Public Wrath—Naval and Military Forces Being Increased.

AROUSED AGAINST UNCLE SAM.

MADRID, Spain, March 1.—[Copyrighted by Associated Press.]—If one may judge by things that have been said and some things that have been done today, the Spanish people are enthusiastically determined to go to war with the United States and to speedily avenge the insult which it is fancied has been offered to the haughty pride of Spain by the United States senate in determining to recognize the Cuban provisional government as a belligerent power. The public openly declares that the bankruptcy of the Spanish government would not prevent the Spanish people from taking up the quarrel on their own account and fitting out expeditions and maintaining themselves at their own expense while combating the insolent assertions of the United States.

AMERICAN CONSULATE STONED.

The day has been characterized by many manifestations of public wrath and excitement, and in Barcelona the Spaniards have gone to the extreme by stoning the United States consulate. If such stress of feeling continues any length of time it cannot but afford a serious menace to the peaceful relations of the two countries. The Spanish authorities were evidently apprehensive of the form the people's wrath might take and provided special safeguards for the oppression of disorders and especially for the protection of the official representatives of the United States.

The preparations of the government are not all of peaceable character, however. It is significant that the minister for the marine has issued orders for the training squadron to be prepared to sail. It is regarded as probable that this squadron will proceed shortly to Cuba. It has also been ordered that all other warships available be forthwith armed and equipped and put into condition for active service. For the military branch of the service a fresh expedition of 20,000 infantry and 8,000 cavalry will be equipped and put on a war footing and be kept in readiness to leave on short notice.

"DEATH TO UNCLE SAM."

In view of the excited state of the public the United States legation in this city has been placed under special surveillance by the police. At Valencia yesterday nearly all the students gathered in front of the United States consulate, shouting: "Death to Uncle Sam," "Viva Spain" and "Long Live the Army." Bands last night at numerous cafes in this city made it a point to play only national airs, and the patriotic music unflinchingly aroused the greatest enthusiasm. The music was followed by shouts of "Long Live Spain" and "Down with the United States."

It is understood the Spanish minister in Washington has been instructed to make diplomatic representations to the United States government regarding the action of the United States senate. The Imparcial today says on the crisis: "If things reach the goal which the Americans desire the whole of Spain will arise against the United States. Neither in the Mediterranean, whose entrance we command, or in the Atlantic will American merchantmen be safe, for we shall organize privateers on a great scale."

VIOLENT SCENES AT BARCELONA.

BARCELONA, Spain, March 1.—[Copyrighted by Associated Press.]—The fever of indignation and hate against the United States which seems to have taken possession of all hearts in Spain over the action of the United States senate in recognizing the provisional government of Cuba as a belligerent power and in calling upon President Cleveland to use his good offices with Spain to secure the independence of Cuba culminated in violent scenes today and an attack upon the United States consulate. The trouble did not arise out of the spontaneous formation of a mob which did violence, but was the outcome of a public meeting which had been influenced by fervid speeches. A mob of students marched to the consulate, shouting "Long Live Spain" and "Down With the Yankees." When the consulate was reached they threw stones, breaking a number of windows. The police dispersed the crowd and wounded several. The students who took part in the disorderly demonstrations clearly had the sympathy of the people with them. Onlookers from neighboring houses cheered them with the greatest enthusiasm. The riotous students tried to force an entrance to the consulate but they were repulsed by mounted policemen. The students publicly tore up a number of American flags which they had bought in the town.

SPAIN NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Matters Can Be Easily Adjusted Through Diplomatic Channels.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Intense interest centered here tonight in the dispatches showing the demonstrative feelings existing in Spain against Americans regarding the Cuban question and the statement that the Spanish government is increasing its naval force. The unfriendly spirit shown is regarded here simply as that of mob violence, for which the Spanish government has not in any manner been responsible.

As far as learned tonight no official news has been received here by the government. Steps will undoubtedly be taken very promptly tomorrow to ascertain the situation through state department channels. The violation of the United States consulate at Barcelona makes a disavowal necessary by Spain and the United States will probably enquire of the Spanish government what amends it will make for the outrage against the consulate at Barcelona, which is looked upon here as the work of a mob for which Spain is not directly responsible.

On the contrary it had, as shown in the dispatches, taken precautions to protect the consulate and exercised the diligence in the matter. This being the case, Spain may be expected to make an expression of genuine regret or a proper explanation of the unfortunate occurrence, and possibly reparation for the damage done. This, at least, is the opinion of Chairman Hitt.

As the case now stands nothing has happened that would be easily and readily adjusted by the means always at the disposal of diplomacy and that, too, in a manner that will leave no stain upon the honor of either parties in this affair. Even if the Spanish government should be reluctant to undertake to do what is essential to heal the wound voluntarily, which may well be doubted, there is every reason to suppose some one or more of the great European powers who have sound reasons for preventing, if possible, any hostile collision between the United States and Spain would exercise their good offices to bring about a peaceful conclusion of the incident.

LODGE CONSIDERS NEWS GRAVE.

Senator Lodge, in speaking of the attack on the consulate, said: "The news from Spain is grave, for it shows the Spanish people and the Spanish editors utterly fail to comprehend the situation here. However, there is nothing in all of this which should affect us. The United States must do what is right and what is its duty to do. We can not suffer this British warfare to go on or to allow our large business interests in Cuba be destroyed right at our doors and under our eyes without a protest and without every effort which a great and civilized nation should make to end the war and to restore peace to the island and its people who are struggling for the freedom which we ourselves enjoy."

Senator Sherman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said he did not think the incident would lead to any trouble between the two governments. Senator Lindsay of Kentucky, who made a speech in the senate favoring Cuban independence, said: "The outrage seems to be the act of an irresponsible mob. Trouble may come out of it, but there is no cause for such results."

Efforts were made several times during the evening to see Secretary Olney, but the latter gave a dinner to a large number of friends, and denied himself to reporters. If the incident should lead to hostilities the war would be a naval one principally. It is believed the Spanish navy is not sufficiently strong to warrant offensive operations by it, and it would probably be kept off the Spanish coast to protect home ports. Spain's navy does not rank with that of the United States, but it is still a formidable weapon of war.

HOW IT STRUCK THEM.

Spanish Newspaper Comment on Passage of Cuban Resolutions.

MADRID, March 1.—The Imparcial yesterday in referring to the action of the United States senate in regard to Cuba, said the international situation is very grave, adding that the recognition of the Cubans as belligerents by the United States involves the danger of daily conflict. The Imparcial also accuses the Spanish premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo of "excess of patience before Yankee pride," and adds:

"Spain must prepare for every eventuality. Our maritime resources are not great, but we have not before us a gigantic naval power. Our armaments have been badly construed, and our enemy, instead of being appeased, thinks she could treat Spain as she could Turkey. A firm and resolute attitude would have gained us more consideration, for we are not so weak as to render our hostility indifferent to a trading people, which have no warlike qualities. Moreover, Spain is not isolated in Europe."

El Liberal devoted an article to show that "nothing is more unjust and more opposed to law than the recognition of filibusters and who do only represent the Cuban people, of whom the majority are faithful to Spain. Such a minority cannot change the power established by a nation supported by historical rights." The article concluded with the declaration that the "pretention of the chambers at Washington in begging President Cleveland to interpose his good offices for the recognition of Cuban independence is irreconcilable with such an attack upon the sacred cause of the country. Spain will not be found wanting in supreme energy and vitality of resistance, and Spanish soil will be reached with the blood of those who have never submitted to the affront of any foreign intervention."

Correspondence asserted that the vote of the United States senate on the Cuban question created a profound impression in this city, adding: "The extraordinary majority shows that the senate is entirely hostile. The United States' recognition of the rebels is a graver event than has happened to Spain for a long time."

Others newspapers expressed themselves in about the same terms.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Ballington Booth, ex-commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, and wife, gave out the following statement tonight: "Being continually pressed on all sides to state definitely the action we shall take in the future, we desire to make known our present position."

"First—We did not wish it said we have taken leave of the Salvation Army, that we, through ambition, might sweep that organization in this country out of the general's hands or that we have taken the property which we acquired while owing allegiance to him. Furthermore, we did not want the influence of those under his authority, through their loyalty and steadfastness to us, nor have it said we proved faithless to the trust reposed in us so far as administration is concerned. We had no alternative but to accept our dismissal, which closed our allegiance and negotiations with London."

"Second—We cannot, however, close our eyes to the fact that we have another allegiance; we are not our own and cannot dispose of our lives and influences to please ourselves. God has called us to work for him. We dare not, therefore, remain idle. We also have at heart the interests of our country, which so loudly calls to us to continue our mission. Seeing the people of the United States of America have in so urgent and unmistakable manner voiced their desires that we inaugurate a movement affording us an opportunity to continue our labors for uplifting the unchurched and un-Christian people of our country, we have decided on our former course of action. It is furthest from our desires that such new and independent movement should be hostile to the one we have labored so long and so hard to uphold."

"Third—It would be premature to decide on the details of our future labors. The organization cannot be formed in a day; and one that owns Christ as its head cannot be founded on the opinion and enthusiasm of the moment."

"Fourth—We shall stand for the principle we have hitherto upheld."

"Fifth—We cannot at this juncture, overture in body and overstrained in nerve, give the date when we will be able to commence our public work. In closing, we desire to say to all who are interested in this matter that we have earnestly consecrated our lives to the service of strengthening righteous principles and extending God's kingdom in America."

MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGED.

Heavy Rains Cause Bad Floods in New York and Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn. March 1.—A great rain storm which was in progress all day Saturday, last night and today caused great damage to property throughout the state. Many serious accidents, washouts and wrecks are reported. The Connecticut river has swollen until it has reached a point three times greater than its normal proportions. The bursting of the copper mine dam in the town of Bristol caused the greatest flood ever known in that section and it is estimated the damage there will be over $100,000. People living along the banks of the Pequabuck river have been obliged to leave their homes and many lost nearly everything they possessed. Ten highway bridges across the river were swept away and the tracks of the New England railway washed out in many places.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The rain of yesterday, last night and today through New York state has done considerable damage to property by flooding cellars and carrying away bridges. Traffic on many railroads is seriously delayed by washouts and in a number of cities the street car service is entirely suspended on account of high water. At Saratoga cellars and streets are badly flooded. Three dams at Schuylerville and all bridges between Balston and Rock City Falls have been carried away. At Whitehall water in Wood creek is higher than it has been for twenty years. The damage to property in Whitehall alone will exceed $30,000. At Amsterdam much damage was done to mills and buildings by a creek overflowing.

FIERCE WHIRLWIND IN CUBA.

Two Towns Devastated, Immense Property Damage and Some Lives Lost.

HAVANA, March 1.—A terrible whirlwind passed through the towns of Rodas and Los Abreus on the evening of Feb. 28, doing an immense amount of damage. In Rodas the wind destroyed forty houses. One person was killed and a large number injured. In Los Abreus the damage to life and property was even greater. A large number of houses were shattered and all traces of them obliterated. A white woman and a negro were killed and fifteen persons seriously wounded. Many also, have disappeared. The money loss from the whirlwind has not been estimated, but it is known to be immense. The loss on crops was very large.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MARCH 2.

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The Chicago Record admits that the silver question is going to cut a large figure as an issue in the elections of this year. It does not call for extraordinary visual power to enable one to perceive that. Being the largest issue now before the people, the politicians will not be able to sidetrack it or dodge it, no matter how much they would like to.

"THE MARQUETTE MINING JOURNAL strongly opposes the re-nomination of Congressman Stephenson, which, by the way, is one thing in favor of Sam's re-nomination," observes The Iron Port. The Escanaba paper weakly supports the Honorable Sam for a fifth term in congress—and that, by the way, is about as good a reason as can be urged in favor of his being given it. The Iron Port as a newspaper and Sam as a congressman are about on the same level.

An Escanaba paper, The Iron Port, says the project to construct a railway connecting that city with the "Soo" line is "practically dead," the city being debarred from bonding itself to pay the bonus of $30,000 asked by the originators of the scheme and the effort to raise the amount by subscription having failed. Escanaba stands in sore need of the connection the proposed line would give it, and it is not much to the credit of its people that they do not exert themselves more earnestly and unitedly to secure it. If they wait for outsiders to do all the work and furnish all the money to give them what they need they will be apt to be kept waiting till well along toward the crack of doom.

"CAN any of the congressmen who are now attacking the secretary of agriculture for his neglect to distribute seeds point out a man, other than a congressman, who has been a loser by reason of that neglect?" enquires the Escanaba Journal. Certainly not, and all the congressmen have lost through the secretary's action is a chance to gain a little cheap popularity with backwoods constituents at the expense of the nation. By the way, the secretary did not "neglect" to distribute seeds. He squarely refused to expend several hundred thousand dollars that way, and by so doing incurred the displeasure of several imitation statesmen at Washington. Secretary Morton has the right kind of nerve, and lots of it.

It is now stated that the Apapists will prevent the Pere Marquette statue from being given a place in statutory hall of the national capitol by mutilating it before the date set for installing it there. Really those fellows are becoming so crazed with senseless bigotry that there is no telling what they might attempt. But there are some things they will not be permitted to do, just the same. It is unfortunate that any considerable number of the people of this country should have worked themselves into so unhappy a state of mind, but if they are only allowed to exploit their lunacy without restraint, except to the necessary extent of preventing it from interfering with the public peace, they will get over their madness in time. These things run in the body politic about as an attack of typhus induced by disease germs does in the physical system of a person who has been drinking unwholesome water or partaking of tainted food.

WE beg to correct the Newberry News. This paper holds no "grudge" against Sam Stephenson. It earnestly disapproves of having the district represented in congress by a man who is so wanting in fitness for the office that he is unable to comprehend the effect of a measure on which he votes unless that is explained to him by somebody, as was demonstrated recently by his voting as a member of a house committee to favorably report a bill that if enacted would have struck a telling blow at the prosperity of a valuable state educational institution in his own district, the Michigan Mining school, located at Houghton. Against Sam Stephenson, the lumberman, it has no word to say, for it recognizes his qualifications for management of a sawmill or boss of a logging camp, but against Sam as a congressman it has a most decided objection, and has the courage to urge it as often as he comes up as a candidate for a position which belongs to the people of the district, and which they are deeply interested in having filled by a competent man. Does the esteemed News catch on?

If there was a Bonaparte, with only a tithe of the ability of the founder of that dynasty, he might have a chance, now, to take the throne of France; the republic has pretty nearly run its race; there is no man of the elder Bourbon line or of the Orleans branch who can command the support of the nation, and "Napoleon IV," if there was such a man, would find his work out for him. It is a great pity that Eugene's son threw away his life in Zululand.

It surprises THE MINING JOURNAL to find such a sentiment as the above embodied expressed in as good a Republican paper as the Escanaba Journal.

Instead of its being great pity that there isn't some Napoleon or Bourbon living with capacity enough for mischief to take advantage of a crisis in the affairs of the French republic when one arises, the fact that there isn't one is a great blessing, not only for France but for the world at large. We should not soon forget that had it not been for sentiment favorable to free government in France at the time the American colonies threw off the rule of England the revolution that gave us our republic would have ended in utter failure, and the names we now revere as being identified with a glorious and successful uprising for human rights would be remembered only as those of the Irish patriots whose lives were given in fruitless endeavors to free their country from an intolerable system of misrule and oppression. Nor is it true that the French republic is tottering. It is passing through trials, certainly, but so is our own, and it is open to question whether the rights of the people are not as well protected and as jealously guarded under that republic today as they are under ours.

FOR a paper that complains of not receiving the support it ought to obtain from its "home" people the Copper Country News, published at Calumet, is strangely indifferent to the claims on it of persons in its county who are put forward by their friends for political recognition. When Judge Hubbell was placed in the field for the senatorial seat now filled by Senator Burrows last winter he stood an excellent chance of securing it had the upper peninsula delegation supported him solidly and loyally. But just to deprive him of any chance, Sam Stephenson, who had just been elected to serve a fourth term in congress as the representative from this district, and whom Judge Hubbell took the stump for in the campaign, came out as a candidate for the senatorship and divided the delegation with Mr. Hubbell. This gave Burrows an easy victory. But that piece of despicable treachery to Mr. Hubbell and the district did not cause the Copper Country News to waver in its friendship for the ungrateful Sam. It is now doing what it can to give him a fifth term in congress, in the face of the fact that a much more capable and deserving Republican in its own county, Senator Carl Sheldon, is a candidate for the nomination. It is also in a row with Sheriff Dunn, whom it charges with neglect of his official duty, though that official ranks as one of the very best sheriffs in the state, and is a royal good fellow as well as an excellent officer. There must be a tendency toward treachery in the make-up of the editor of the Calumet sheet, or he would not be so invariably found fighting the men who come up for or obtain office in his own county. Perhaps his crooked treatment of his own people explains why he has so much cause to complain of the meager support given his paper.

ONE CONTRACT AND ONE PRICE.

The Cleveland Iron Trade Review has this relative to the ore market in its last number:

While March is the month in which it has been assumed that something definite will develop as to iron ore prices for 1896, it is plain that the condition of the market will decide rather than the calendar. There is no more indication today of a beginning of negotiations than existed two months ago. Nearly every sales office has done some business in the past few weeks, several consumers requiring lots ranging from 5,000 to 10,000, to carry them into May. In these sales Bessemer ores have brought $1 a ton above last year's prices. On non-Bessemer prices for the year are expected to be enough higher than those of early '95 to cover higher labor cost and higher freight and a margin of profit that was wanting on early sales last year. On non-Bessemer ores of which there is never any over supply—those desirable in foundry mixtures because of the phosphorus they carry, counteracting the tendency of other ores to red-shortness—no trouble is anticipated in getting a fair price. Some talk about freight is heard, and while it is quite certain charters could be made at 95 cents, Marquette, and $1.10 from the head of the lake, these figures are a little above what shippers are willing to take chances on, with ore prices still undetermined.

PINGREE COMING OUR WAY.

Mayor Pingree of Detroit has decided to take a run up and through the upper peninsula during this month. He has been invited to address meetings at several of the towns up here on the subject of municipal reform, and while here will visit all the principal points in the district for the purpose of meeting and getting acquainted with the people. He is booked for an address at Escanaba on the 17th, and for one at Menominee about the same time, and will speak at Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee in this county, also at Iron Mountain, Houghton, Ironwood, Manistique, St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie. It is very certain that the fighting mayor of the leading city of the state will receive a hearty greeting at every place he will visit in the upper peninsula, and that the people will turn out to hear what he has to say, for they are deeply interested in the subjects that he proposes to discuss, no less than in his gubernatorial candidacy.

His friends in this part of the state should see to it that proper arrangements are made for the meetings which he will address, for the movement to make him governor is a "people's movement" and whether it will succeed or fail rests largely with the voters who are not office-holders or office-seekers. If the people of Michigan desire to obtain a proper voice in the selection of their state and other officers they must work to that end, for they can hardly expect the professional politicians to assist in digging their own graves. The time is ripe for successful revolt against machine rule in the party to which Mayor Pingree belongs and from which he will seek the nomination for a party party paper, but it hopes to see the Republican party make Mr. Pingree its candidate for governor because it is convinced that he would give the people relief from some abuses which have been endured so long that the beneficiaries of these have come to regard the "snaps" they enjoy under them as "rested rights." Michigan needs a governor who has the courage to determinedly attack these abuses, and this paper confidently believes that the man who has done so much reform work as mayor of Detroit would make such a governor.

Let him be royally welcomed to the upper peninsula by the sturdy workmen whose votes determine political results in this part of the state, for he brings to them a message that it will benefit them to hear.

IDEAS OF EDUCATORS.

Teachers of the County Hold a Battering Rally at Republic.

There was held in the town hall Friday evening a teachers' rally, which was a very interesting meeting and one from which all who attended it gained valuable information. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and everyone present seemed deeply interested, more especially those who have children attending the schools. The meeting was opened by a song, entitled "America for Freedom," by Miss Richards and four of her young lady pupils.

An address by Mr. Montgomery of Champlain on the subject of compulsory attendance and along the line of school work came next on the program. His ideas were practical and were forcibly presented. Next came a duet, rendered by Mrs. Tom Gibson and Mrs. Peter Pascoe, which was loudly applauded.

Superintendent Sterne of the Michigan public schools was then introduced, and spoke briefly on the subject of school work, after which a song, entitled "The Busy Bee," was sung by some small boys who are pupils in Miss Irwin's class. The little fellows were trained well and their effort elicited hearty applause. Professor Davis of Negaunee was then introduced and spoke briefly on the subject of obligations to school work which arise in the way of both teachers and scholars. He pointed out how parents could aid greatly in keeping some of these from impeding progress in our schools by giving the teacher, the school and the scholar more attention. He spoke to the point and parents who should attend our schools will be benefited by his suggestions. Next came a song by Miss Tucker and four of her pupils, entitled "A Boy's Best Friend is His Mother."

Miss Chandler, principal of the Marquette public school, was then introduced and talked at length on the subject of a teacher studying his or her pupils and what an advantage a teacher had who knew the homes and surroundings of the pupils over the one who knew but very little or nothing relative to these. Miss Chandler insisted on mothers visiting the public schools and that teachers should be acquainted with parents and the homes of the pupils, thus enabling them to more readily reach the child's sympathies. Her address was exceptionally good and was listened to with deep interest.

Professor Hardy of Ishpeming was then introduced and talked briefly along the line of abolishing the use of the whip in the public schools. His opinion was that the whip would shortly be a thing of the past and would sink into oblivion never to be resurrected. He related several instances in which whippings had done more harm in the public schools than good. Last but not least by any means came a few remarks from Thomas Pascoe of Republic. Mr. Pascoe spoke briefly of the good our schools are to the country, and what would be the probable end had we not a system of public schools throughout the land. Professor Northmore closed the program with a few remarks, after which the entire audience joined in singing "America."

Professor Northmore deserves much credit for having arranged such a splendid program for the meeting. He is in the deepest earnest, and takes great delight in renewing his spirit for the work. Mr. Northmore has been superintendent of the public schools of Republic for a number of years and is highly respected by his teachers and pupils. His good work is fully appreciated by the entire community and it can be truly said that Republic's teachers and public schools rank among the best in Marquette county.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, etc.

THE usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, coughs and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy that combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

ITS FIRST TRIUMPH.

Life of a Seamstress Saved by Means of Rontgen's Discovery.

A Practical Test in Berlin That Demonstrates the Valuable Aid to Surgery of the New Photographic Method.

A special cable to the New York Journal from Berlin says: To-day the first Berliner to benefit by the wonderful discovery of Dr. Rontgen was a poor young seamstress, who had swallowed a needle last week.

Since Saturday morning she grew steadily worse. Frequent spells of vomiting increased her unendurable tortures. It was also noticed that she expected blood in the morning which caused the doctor to surmise that the needle was imbedded somewhere in the lining of the stomach, causing a flow of blood at every sudden movement.

The physician called an eminent surgeon of the university staff in consultation, who did not believe that her life could be saved, as the incessant expectorations of blood gave evidence of considerable ulceration having ensued. It was determined as a dernier resort to bring the patient to the Rontgen laboratory in the hope that the X ray would locate the needle, and that the same might be extracted without endangering the young woman's life. To the great joy of all interested the experiment at the laboratory proved a brilliant success.

A camera holder containing a sensitized plate was placed against a heavy block of wood at one side of the bare breast of the patient, who in order to secure a steady position was bound to the back of a heavy oak chair. When all was in readiness the electric light was turned on, and after five minutes the current was cut off, the bandage loosened and the plate taken to the dark room for development.

All felt highly gratified at the results, as the plate plainly showed every bone of the upper part of the body, and the needle was found lying downward in the lower right angle of the stomach. Its position accounted for the patient's loss of blood as it would puncture the flesh whenever she would get up from the chair or bed.

Surgeons being present, it was resolved to remove the needle at once. The patient was placed under the influence of chloroform and the cause of her excruciating sufferings, which threatened her life, was taken from the stomach by skillful surgical manipulations. The patient is doing well and is pronounced entirely out of danger.

DEAD GRANDMOTHER APPEARS.

Singular Message Delivered to Jason Collington at Muncie, Ind.

Jason Collington, of Muncie, Ind., and his family are greatly excited over a peculiar happening that occurred to him a few nights ago. He says that during the night he was awakened by a soft wrinkled hand being rubbed over his face. He opened his eyes and was horrified to see the image of his dead grandmother standing before him. He started as if to jump from the bed, but she commanded him to lie still. She then said to him: "Your rich uncle, Thomas Cross, who you believe died in Newark, N. J. several years ago, has just died, and you will be the only heir to his fortune of $50,000."

After conveying this message the image disappeared as quickly and mysteriously as it came, and Collington was left in wonderment. He knew that his uncle was quite wealthy, but supposed that he had been dead several years and had left his fortune to other relatives. He has written to Newark to learn, if possible, if his Uncle Thomas is still living. Collington is a laborer living in a Muncie suburb.

ASEPTOLIN USED ON CONVICTS.

Experiment with Dr. Cyrus Edson's Remedy in Progress at Auburn.

An experiment with aseptolin, Dr. Cyrus Edson's new cure for consumption, was made in Auburn (N. Y.) prison the other day by Drs. Thomas C. Sawyer and S. E. Austin, of Auburn, under the supervision of Prison Physician Conant Sawyer. Fifty minims each were injected into C. H. Johnson (colored) and Arthur Kelly (white) convicts. This will be followed by the administration of the other forms of treatment as laid down by Dr. Edson, and the developments will be watched with much interest.

Testing a Thermometer.

Prof. Sofshu says: "Before purchasing a thermometer invert the instrument; the mercury should fall to the end in a solid 'stick.' If it separates into several small columns the tube contains air and will not register accurately. Nine persons out of ten think the mercurial column is round, but this is not the case; it is flat, and the opening in the tube is as small as the finest thread."

Sea Water for London.

Arrangements are being made to bring daily 10,000,000 gallons of sea water to London for use in public and private baths and for road water and sewer flushing. The water is to be taken from the ocean 60 miles away. Sea water is now used in several English towns for sewer flushing, and is pronounced satisfactory.

Heating the Vatican.

The recurring indisposition of the pope has again raised the question of heating the vatican, a problem which, so far, has never yet been satisfactorily solved. There are no fewer than 11,000 rooms in the papal palace.

Slaughter of Game.

Tired, Weak, Nervous

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Strength and Bodily Vigor.

The cause of that tired, weak, nervous condition in which so many people find themselves, is the failure of the blood to properly nourish the nerves and tissues. Feed the nerves upon pure blood, and they will be steady and strong. Read this: "It is with pleasure that I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent nerve tonic and blood purifier. Mrs. C. H. Venable I have taken it more than once and am taking it now. I was tired, my body ached, and I felt very badly all over. I was afraid I would be sick. I thought I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and

It has cured me, and I find that it is cheaper than the doctor's bills. Hood's Pills are the best I have ever taken and I use no other. I am glad to have an opportunity to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. C. H. Venable, Keithsburg, Ill.

Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. It is six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headache, etc.

INCREASES THE ARMY.

Miles and Lamont Plan for Its Reorganization.

Bill Submitted to Committees of Congress Raising Limit of Enlisted Strength from 25,000 to 30,000 Men—Its Main Provisions.

Secretary Lamont has submitted to the military affairs committee of congress a bill for the reorganization of the army. It embraces his own ideas and those of Gen. Miles. It provides that the army shall consist of ten regiments of cavalry, seven regiments of artillery and 25 regiments of infantry, and that the total number of enlisted men, including Indian scouts and army corps, shall be limited to 30,000.

No special provision in the new bill is made with regard to the cavalry. All that the bill contemplates for it is to man the skeleton troops and complete the squadron formation. The total number of troopers would remain unchanged.

For the artillery arm the secretary's bill proposes to give to each regiment of artillery one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, three majors, 12 captains, 14 first lieutenants, 12 second lieutenants, one sergeant major, one quartermaster sergeant, one chief musician, two principal musicians and 12 batteries. It is left discretionary with the president to organize two batteries as field artillery, and each battery so organized shall have, in addition to the battery organization now authorized by law, four corporals, two farriers and one saddler.

It is left discretionary with the president to organize two batteries as field artillery, and each battery so organized shall have, in addition to the battery organization now authorized by law, four corporals, two farriers and one saddler.

OPPOSE NAME OF JEFF DAVIS.

Hot Fight in Mississippi Over Title for New County. Mississippi is fighting the civil war over again because of a proposition to create a new county out of parts of Hinds, Madison and Rankin.

When Jefferson Davis was secretary of war Kansas and other states of the west honored him by bestowing his name on several counties. At that time he had an estate worth about $20,000. If Encarnacion were alive to-day he would undoubtedly be disappointed at the way his $20,000 has been scattered around. For over 25 years his estate has been going through administration, and it has had a very expensive trip. Its journeys are now over, for the other day Public Administrator Kelsey finally settled it up.

ABDUL'S THRONE TOTTERING

The Authorities Discover a Seemingly Widespread Conspiracy to Depose the Sultan.

DEMANDS OF THE YOUNG TURKISH PARTY.

Want a Constitution, a Parliament and Free Institutions—Army and Navy Ready for Revolt and Situation Critical.

NUMEROUS ARRESTS MADE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 1.—[Copy-righted by the Associated Press.]—The police authorities have been taking steps to get at the facts in what seems to be a widespread conspiracy, with headquarters in this city and branches in many parts of the Ottoman empire. Yesterday and today affairs reached a point when it was judged energetic action could no longer be delayed, and over two hundred Armenians and numbers of Turks have been arrested. The Turkish officials claim that the arrests are made simply as a precaution against the possibility of hostile manifestations against the sultan, Abdul Hamid, upon the occasion of his visit to the Tokkapou palace, the Stamboul quarter, upon the occasion of the Midramazah festival yesterday.

There is no denying that the Turks are rapidly becoming far more dangerous to the rule of Abdul Hamid than the half-crushed Armenians. Although the revolutionary agents of the latter are busily at work, their plan of campaign seems to have undergone a decided change, for they appear to have become convinced that their only hope of any kind of redress in the nature of partial self-government lies in the young Turkish party. This continually strengthening party is becoming bolder as time elapses, the murmuring among the populace is more distinct, and it has reached the ears of the palace officials in an unmistakable manner, causing the utmost uneasiness and anxiety.

Outwitting the hostile powers when secretly backed up by Russia is a comparatively easy task when compared with confronting a possible uprising of a strong section of the Turks themselves.

The Turks are incensed against the Armenians for the agitation which they fostered, but they are also very bitter against the long-continued misrule of the palace people. Thus the Armenian agitators have really been playing into the hands of the government, and it is only now, when the disturbances and their sequences have subsided, that the real situation is becoming apparent. Therefore the feeling among the Turks against the sultan has nothing to do with the Armenians, the treatment they have been subjected to or their alleged grievances. It is due to the wrongs suffered by the Turks themselves and the terrible oppression of the secret police and tax gatherers. Among the lower classes here the matter might not go further than the plundering of the palaces, etc., the ousting of the palace favorites and a probable improvement thereby in the general situation. It takes a good deal of abuse of power, however, to rouse the Moslem population to this pitch of revolt.

But among other classes of the population the feeling of discontent is far deeper and much more serious. The sofas and the ulema, the army and the navy, are fairly ripe for an outbreak, as is well known at the palace. The army and the navy, it should be added, may be calculated to follow the lead of the ulema and sofas in anything, and when it is admitted that the two latter classes are dangerously discontented, the situation is indeed critical.

Then again among the official class generally the deposition of the sultan is eagerly looked forward to now, no longer as a vague possibility, but as a decided probability. The young Turkish party demand a constitution, a parliament and free institutions, and there are people bold enough here to predict that they will get them.

HE'S OUT OF THE RACE.

Dr. Hunter Withdraws from the Kentucky Senatorial Contest.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 1.—Dr. Hunter has withdrawn from the senatorial race.

The fact that there were a number of absentees at the Republican caucus Friday night made it certain that although the caucus decided to stand by the nominee he would fail to get the full party vote. The absentees included Senator Landes, who sprung the sensation in regard to the silver agreement signed by Dr. Hunter. Senator Landes, as well as several others, is said to have expressed the determination not to vote for Dr. Hunter.

Perhaps the biggest crowd of the session saw the joint assembly ballot for senator Saturday. The call of the roll showed 130 members present; necessary to choice, 66. At the conclusion of rollcall Representative Lyons arose and read a communication from Dr. Hunter, in which he withdrew from the race. He said, among other things, that as the session was drawing to a close he would abjure the members of his party from their pledges to vote for him as the caucus nominee. The communication was received with applause and a hum of excitement at once went up. The withdrawal of Hunter caused the wildest excitement. It was taken to mean that he realized that further desertions would occur and that rather than prolong the agony he would get off now and not wait until he was forced. The Blackburn people were smiling. They voted for the nominee with enthusiasm. The ballot resulted Blackburn, 61; scattering, 69.

Forecast of the Weather. WASHINGTON, March 1.—10 p. m. The weather bureau reports the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours: For upper Michigan: Fair; colder; northerly winds.

THE SPANIARDS WANT WAR.

length on the indignation excited among all classes throughout the country by the action of the United States senate and the unanimity of the press in calling upon the government to tolerate no interference. The Daily News says in an editorial: "There are many reasons why the president should not act hastily. In the present fierce temper of the Spanish people recognition of Cuban belligerency would almost certainly lead to war, though the ultimate issue could not be doubtful if the Americans put their whole heart into the business."

COMMENT ON SENATE'S ACTION.

The Westminster Gazette, commenting on the Cuban resolutions adopted by the United States senate, says: "It is difficult to think of Spain's knuckling down even to the United States, especially at a time when she has just defied the American feeling by appointing a man with such a reputation for severity as General Weyler to the captain generalship of Cuba."

The St. James Gazette says: "The jingo eggs which the president thought proper to hatch in a highly artificial incubator in December have produced a brood which will give him and the statesmen of the United States a great deal of trouble if it grows to maturity. It is an easy task to stir up national self conceit and pretensions to a fever heat, but it is not so easy to reduce the temperature again. The steam developed must be blown off somewhere."

ONE KILLED, OTHERS INJURED.

Carriage Containing Six Persons Struck by a Train at Marinette.

TWISTING NECKS OF CRIMINALS.

Novel Device Proposed for the Execution of Murderers.

Ohio solons are noted for doing many queer things, but the most noted bill of the session has just been introduced. It provides for the execution of a murderer in a startling manner—twisting a victim's head until it breaks. The invention consists of a chair having a hinged back and a hinged footrest. Both the back and the footrest are hinged to the seat portion of the chair and provided with means whereby they may be adjusted to and fixed in the horizontal plane of the seat, so as to form a sort of table or bier upon which the body may be examined and carried away after death. Swiveled on the end of a screw that passes through a collar in the upper part of the back of the chair is a block having a curved recess in its front side, in which rests the back of the prisoner's neck when seated in the chair, and fastened to one end of this block is a strap that is passed around the prisoner's throat and is detachably secured on a pin at the opposite side of the block. The contrivance is worked by a spring, and the downward movement breaks the neck of the prisoner, causing instant death and insensibility to pain. When life has been thus extinguished the back of the chair is lowered and the footrest raised, so that the body is in a horizontal position for examination or other post mortem treatment.

QUEER TEST OF MULET LAW.

An Iowa Saloonkeeper Seeks Under It to Evade His Creditors.

A suit has been filed through Attorneys McEvoy & Heindel by an Illinois liquor firm against John Feehan, a saloonkeeper of Ottumwa, Ia., for $500, being a bill for liquors to this amount sold to Mr. Feehan. Mr. Feehan opposes the granting of the judgment on the ground that the sale of liquors was not a legitimate business in the state of Iowa, and hence bills for liquors sold could not be collected. This demurrer sets forth the claim that the Martin mulet law simply stops criminal proceedings against keepers of saloons, and does not legalize the traffic any more than it was legalized under the prohibitory law.

NO FORMAL UNVEILING.

Threats to Deface Father Marquette's Statue Cause a Change in Program.

ITS COVERING PRIVATELY REMOVED YESTERDAY.

Capitol Police Watching the Statue Day and Night—Apa Linton Introduces a Resolution Providing for Its Removal.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—To avert any trouble over the unveiling of the Father Marquette statue in the Capitol, which has aroused antagonism from the A. P. A., the covering was removed from the statue today and will not be replaced. Judge Losey of Wisconsin and Signor Trentanove, the sculptor, went to the Capitol and took the wrappings from the statue. No arrangements for the formal unveiling had been made and Judge Losey, who represents the state of Wisconsin, which is the donor, concluded the ceremony might be dispensed with.

Many threats to deface the statue had been heard by the Capitol police, and yesterday an arrest was made for such threats. It was that of a well-dressed, well-appearing man of about fifty years of age, who gave his name as Edward Jones of New York city. He said that he would like to be around at night with a broadaxe, when he would make short work of the statue. After this demonstration by the crank yesterday it was feared a public gathering about the statue might be attended by some unquiet incident. Hence Judge Losey's decision. Captain Garden of the Capitol police has instructed his men to watch the statue night and day.

LINTON INTRODUCES RESOLUTION.

Representative Linton of Michigan, who is an advocate of the A. P. A. doctrine, yesterday introduced a resolution to have the statue taken from the Capitol, and the matter riddled the Cuban question in the gossip on the floor. Linton said that the statue was objectionable, in his view, chiefly because Father Marquette is represented attired in his priestly robes and with the crucifix, and because the pedestal has after his name the initials S. J. (Society of Jesus). It will be necessary to secure recognition from the speaker to bring his resolution before the house. The statue was presented to congress by an act of the legislature of Wisconsin and it was formerly accepted by a joint resolution of both houses, passed in the special session of the Fifty-third congress.

THE CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

Forecast of the Doings in the House and Senate This Week

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The senate will probably pass the agricultural appropriation bill early in the week. Mr. Mitchell, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, has given notice of his intention to call up the Dupont election case Wednesday, but it is not expected a decision will be reached the present week. The calendar continues to grow and will afford plenty of material for work if circumstances permit it to be taken up. A conspicuous feature of the house proceedings this week will be in connection with the Cuban resolutions, which are now on the calendar. After the objection raised by Mr. Bontelle Thursday last it is almost certain unanimous consent cannot be secured for the consideration of the resolutions, and as senate resolutions were referred to the foreign affairs committee, it is certain unusual methods will be required to get the subject before the house. The remainder of the week will be occupied with appropriation bills.

Fire Bugs at Berlin.

BERLIN, March 1.—Incidendi fires in Berlin and its suburbs continue at the rate of three or four daily in spite of the large rewards offered by the police and the House Owners' association. Although scores of arrests have not been made, the real culprits have not yet been traced. Circumstances point to a well organized band of incendiaries, numerous fires breaking out at different quarters at the same time.

Noted Crook Captured.

ST. PAUL, March 1.—A man whom the police identify as A. H. Holmes, the famous bank swindler, was arrested here today, with Joe McCuskey, charged with attempted bank swindling. Holmes is wanted in San Francisco for swindling the Nevada National bank out of $21,000.

A SEMICOLON IN COURT.

A Legal Treatise on Punctuation or a Changed Method Needed.

It appears that, if the matter has been correctly reported, the issue of a law before the supreme court for construction depends upon a semicolon. That mark of punctuation may change the whole tenor of an important act in the legislature. It is not the first time that the semicolon has made trouble in laws. A semicolon in two or three sections of tariff laws has led to decisions hostile to the revenue and to home industries. It was some semblance of that nature in the Morrill tariff act which gave the Singer industry its Great Britain. It was a semicolon which caused thousands to be admitted to the importers of women's hat trimmings, through the intent of those who passed the law was perfectly plain.

In these instances, and probably in the law of Indiana, were those semicolons the supreme court is said to be cogitating, the trouble seems to arise from an inability to fix the function of the semicolon. In the rules for punctuation in the old Webster's spelling-book, the comma indicates "a pause long enough to count one," and the semicolon "a pause long enough to count two," the colon "three" and the period "four," with a full of the voice. If those who have been writing rules for punctuating compositions had stopped there, we would not have had all this trouble, but these teachers have been going on making new rules for years until no one can undertake to follow them, but even punctuators according to his pleasure, rather than his familiarity with rules. Many writers have adopted the plan of punctuating as little as possible, leaving the reader to gather their meaning from the clearly constructed sentences, rather than from the interjection of commas and semicolons. Unfortunately, the verbosity and intricacy of the language and construction or lack of construction, in which statutes are written, renders punctuation necessary. This being the case, it seems that so much trouble comes from the indiscriminate use of punctuation marks that there should be a legal treatise on that subject, defining the force of the different marks as they are scattered through the statutes.

If this cannot be done, why should not those who must construe the laws consider them with a view to ascertaining what was the design of the legislative bodies which enacted them? Why not have judges take the laws without punctuation marks, except periods, and punctuate them in a manner which will enable them to be construed so as to carry out the intent of the legislators who enacted them—a fact which could be ascertained by inquiry if it was not declared in the titles of the acts themselves. Why make an indefinite semicolon, when an engraving or scribbling clerk might substitute for a comma or some other punctuation mark, so important as to annul or change the meaning of the law?—Indianapolis Journal.

SHEEP IN FINE SHAPE.

All the Animals on the Wyoming Range Doing Remarkably Well. Joseph Desert, a prominent sheep man, came into town the other day from 100 miles north of Casper, Wyo., and reports that the fall of snow in the country traveled over will average six inches. All the sheep in that section are in prime condition. The loss on the range so far amounts to nothing.

Two hundred and fifty thousand sheep are being winter-ranged in Natrona county. A bunch of yearling ewes sold the other day at Rawlins for $2.35 per head after shearing. A herd of mixed sheep sold lately for $2.25. This is a considerable advance over last year's price for the same class of sheep. Local sheep men look for wool to bring seven to eight cents a pound this spring. Not much money is being advanced by commission men, owing to the fact that wool growers want to sell rather than consign their wool. At this time last year over $500,000 had been advanced to local wool growers, while this season so far only $150,000 have been advanced.

All the local sheep companies declared dividends last season and mortgages of record against individuals were reduced 40 per cent. of the gross amount. Locally the range sheep business is looking up. Four hundred thousand sheep will be sheared in the pens around Casper.

Hard on Alpine Guides.

The people who live to make life hard for others are at work in Switzerland. A Tyrolean court has recently ruled that the Alpine guide is to be held responsible not only for the adequate equipment, but for the physical soundness, of tourists who charter his services. This making a medical inspector of the guide will be a decided thorn in his path. The next slip will be to render sea captains liable if their passengers are seasick.

ROPE TOBOGGANING.

The Startling Performance of the Badi in India.

Some curious customs are to be found among the inhabitants of the north-west provinces of India. The following, for instance, is related of a ceremony performed by Badi, or rope-dancers, to bring prosperity to the villages to which they belong. The rite is commonly performed in the Garawa hills villages dedicated to Mahadeva, at propitiatory festivals which are annually held in his honor.

A rope is stretched from the summit of a cliff to the valley beneath, the ends being made fast to stakes driven into the ground. The Badi, seated astride on a wooden saddle, well greased to make it run freely, rides from the top to the bottom of the rope. The pace, of course, varies according to the degree of inclination given to the rope, but, as may be expected, it is always very rapid, and sometimes terrific.

Precautions are taken to prevent accident. The saddle is fastened, for instance, so that it cannot slip round the rope (as saddles on horses have been known to do, to the discomfort of the riders) and the Badi's feet are ballasted by sand bags to maintain his perpendicular; and the only danger is from a possible breaking of the rope. This is usually made of bhabar grass, and naturally the Badi takes great care to see that it is equal to the strain.

The remuneration paid to the Badi for this novel form of Blondinism is one rupee for every 100 cubits of rope traversed, and the longest journey of the kind on record is one for which 20 rupees were paid, and which accordingly measured 2,000 cubits.

The practice is not so dangerous nowadays as it was in the "good old times" of native rule, when to the risk of a fall was added that certainty that such a mishap would entail death, because it was the custom whenever a Badi fell, for the surrounding spectators to promptly dispatch him with swords. That part of the excitement has been eliminated, and it is on record that no fatal accident has resulted from the performance since 1815, though it is probably still celebrated at upward of 50 villages every year.

The rope or bast used for the ceremony is supposed to be endowed with remarkable properties by the successful accomplishment of the feat, and it is cut up and distributed among the people of the village, who hang the pieces to the eaves of their houses in order that they may serve as charms.

The Badi's hair is believed to have similar properties, and is cut off and preserved, and he himself is supported by contributions of grain from the villagers, in addition to the monetary reward for his feat, the theory being that his share in propitiating the gods to secure fertility to the lands of others makes his own land unlucky, and that any seed he might sow would be certain not to germinate.—Toledo Blade.

STEERS AND A BICYCLE.

Ranch Cattle Give a Wyoming Doctor a Lively Race.

Herd is Stamped by the Rider and His Two-Wheeled Horse and a Broken Shoulder Blade and Smashed Bike End the Story.

Men who are posted in the ways of western range cattle, and especially those of the Texas breed, know it is extremely hazardous to approach them on foot or in any unusual manner. Mounted cowboys ride through and around the herds without trouble, because the animals are accustomed to seeing men on horseback, but the appearance within close range of any strange object arouses their curiosity and ire. Pedestrians are a rarity on the cattle ranches; likewise bicyclists.

Dr. A. B. Hamilton, of Laramie, Wyo., should have known better than to try to cross the range near a big bunch of steers on his bicycle, says the Chicago Tribune, but it seems he didn't, and now the doctor is laid up with a broken shoulderblade, his hair is blanched by fright, and his new $100 wheel is ruined beyond repair. The doctor had occasion to visit a patient on the Little Laramie river, and was within four miles of Laramie town on his way home when he ran onto a herd of Texans. It was probably the first wheelman the cattle had ever seen, for they pawed the ground and snorted viciously for a moment, and then made a concerted charge for the doctor, who, realizing his danger, pedaled away at the top of his speed in an effort to escape.

There are few living things, except a race horse of high class, that can outrun a Texas range steer when once in full motion. Dr. Hamilton made a brave race, but the cattle gained on him at every jump, and he could feel the hot breath of the leaders almost at his side before had covered half a mile. Just as he thought one particularly vicious-looking beast was about to pick him off with its horns the wheel struck a hummock, and the doctor took a header which landed him safe in a buffalo wallow, where he lay quiet while the cattle jumped over him. The steers were under such headway they couldn't stop, and, besides, it isn't the nature of western steers to stop when they have once started on a stampede until they drop from exhaustion.

The bicycle did not escape. It lay directly in the path of the maddened animals and was crushed into a worthless wreck.

OUTWITS HIS RIVALS.

Greer Sells Them Salt for Sugar and Ends a Lively War of Prices.

A sugar war between rival grocery firms in the village of White, S. D., has terminated in a curious manner, says the Chicago Record. The war was occasioned by one of the merchants offering 20 pounds of sugar for one dollar. A couple of rival business men entered into a scheme to punish the merchant for offering sugar so cheaply and sent confederates to him to secretly buy sugar for them at the reduced price. After removing a couple of pounds out of each one dollar package they sold the remainder to their customers, thus beating their rival out of two pounds of sugar on each investment of one dollar. The victim learned of the scheme, and in retaliation filled some packages about half full of salt, put sugar on top of it and disposed of the packages to the parties whom he knew were buying the sugar for his rivals. These packages were then sold by the rival merchants to their customers, after deducting the customary two pounds. After the man who made a specialty of sugar had sold his rivals about a dozen barrels of salt at five cents a pound some of the customers of the dupes entered protests against paying sugar prices for salt, and the trick was exposed and the "war" brought to a sudden end.

PLEASED THE CHILDREN.

An Ishpeming Educator's Talk Highly Appreciated by School Children of a Southern City.

Superintendent Hardy of the Ishpeming public schools received more letters Saturday than he will find time to read during the coming week. They were from children attending the public schools at Chattanooga, Tenn. While in that city recently Mr. Hardy visited the schools and was invited by the superintendent to talk to the pupils. He spoke in several of the departments. He observed that there was a vast difference in the methods of working in the schools there and here, so he gave the pupils of the higher grades an explanation of how our schools are conducted, the nature of the work, etc. In the lower grades he told the little ones what the boys and girls here do for amusement. His description of the vast snow drifts, the snow-shoeing, skiing, etc., were quite a treat to them. The youngsters were delighted with Mr. Hardy's discourse and they showed their appreciation of it by presenting him with bouquets of violets and other flowers gathered from the gardens there. After he had left Chattanooga the school children who had heard his entertaining talks decided to write Mr. Hardy, telling him how much they appreciated his discourses, and extending him a hearty invitation to soon visit them again.

Mr. Hardy will turn the letters over to some of the children attending the schools here with the request that they open a correspondence with the Chattanooga children, telling them more of this country, its resources, etc.

Since returning from the south Mr. Hardy has delivered two lectures to the pupils of the Ishpeming high school. He observed many things of interest to the pupils in the schools here in schools visited by him while he was away. He says the schools of the south do not compare in any respect with those of the north. Methods long since cast aside here are still in vogue there. This surprised and amused Mr. Hardy. While in Chicago Mr. Hardy visited the Cook County Normal school. He was escorted through the different departments and saw many things that were worthy of attention. He observed closely the new methods of work and proposes giving the pupils here the benefit of his observations.

One Will Be Held at the High School the Latter Part of This Month.

Miss O. Oleott and H. B. Krogman, principals of the Ishpeming and Negaunee high schools, respectively, met here Saturday and partially arranged a program for a teachers' rally to be held at the new high school here the latter part of this month under auspices of the Teachers' association of Marquette county. The principal of the Marquette high school was expected to attend the meeting but he did not show up. The date for the rally has not yet been settled, but it will probably be held on the last Saturday of the month.

It is proposed that four sessions be held during the week, from 10 a. m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. President Hovey of the Milwaukee Normal school will be present and will address the teachers. Seven topics, all bearing on school work, will be taken up. Twenty minutes will be allowed for the discussion of each and the papers on each will be limited to two, with not over six or seven minutes allowed for their presentation. The remaining time will be given up to a general discussion of the subjects.

The teachers of the grammar departments will hold their session in the high school assembly room of the new building and the teachers of the higher grades will meet in one of the other rooms there. All who desire to attend the teachers' meetings can do so. It is quite likely that a public rally will be held that evening, especially if Mr. Harvey can be induced to deliver an address. It is quite likely, however, that he will consent to discourse in the evening as the school superintendents and teachers are quite anxious for a meeting in the evening as they are for sessions during the day, as they realize that the subjects treated on them will not be touched on at the day session.

A special rate of fare over the South Shore line from all points in the county, will be applied for and it is expected that nearly every teacher in the county will be on hand. The rally will doubtless be of great benefit to the educators of the county.

WAS ANOTHER MAN.

John Locher Denies Having Signed an Affidavit in the People vs. Wendel Case.

John Locher of the Lake Angeline location called on THE MINING JOURNAL representative yesterday and asked that a word be said in his behalf with reference to the signing of an affidavit asking for a change of venue in the case of the people vs. Carl Wendel. He says he did not sign the affidavit; that "John Locher" whose name appeared in the list of signers printed in The Iron Ore of Saturday was some other man. There is a difference of one letter in the two names, but still they are so much alike that nearly everyone thought this Mr. Locher was the signer of the affidavit. Mr. Locher was not down town the day the affidavits were signed.

CHOOSE A SECRETARY.

Members of Fire Department Fill a Vacancy.

At the regular meeting of the Ishpeming fire department held Saturday evening William Verran was elected secretary, to succeed Albert J. Pearce, resigned. A committee of five, with Chief Mennie as chairman, was appointed to make all necessary arrangements for the entertainment of the department at the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association, to be held next August at Sault Ste. Marie. The boys anticipate having a good time at the "Soo," consequently a large number of them will attend the tournament. The firemen's symposium is now provided with a complete equipment and the members have been requested to visit the place more frequently than they have during the past two or three weeks.

Entertainment Tonight.

Following is the program for the entertainment to be given this evening at the A. O. U. W. hall under auspices of Lake Superior castle No. 12, Knights of the Golden Eagle: Vocal selection, "Gathered Once More," First M. E. Church Choir. Remarks on L. S. Vocal solo, Selected. Miss Sarah Martin. Vocal selection, Selected. Hematite Quartette. Vocal solo, Selected. John C. Rule.

Supper will be served by the lady friends of the members. The price of tickets, including entertainment and supper is thirty cents for adults and fifteen for children. Supper begins at 5 o'clock.

Was Disappointed.

Prosecuting Attorney H. O. Young got home Saturday from Lansing. He was very much disappointed when he learned that a change of venue in the case of The People vs. Carl Wendel had been granted by the circuit judge. When Mr. Young left for Lansing he was given to understand that in case Mr. Flannigan, attorney for the defendant, made a motion for a change of venue it would not be argued until he returned.

Mr. Young completed his business at Lansing as soon as possible, in the hope that he would get back in time to argue the motion. He was at the depot ready to start for home when he received a telegram advising him that the motion had been granted.

Back from Rat Portage.

W. H. Williams, who gave up his job as conductor on the Negaunee & Ishpeming street railway line and went to Rat Portage during the summer, has returned and has taken Josh Murray's place as motorman on the line here. Mr. Williams was well pleased with his job at Rat Portage, but he didn't like the climate, as it is much colder there than here.

Will Tramp Tonight.

All members of the Ishpeming Snow-shoe club are expected to come prepared to tramp previous to the meeting at the clubhouse this evening. The start will be made at 7:15 sharp. Ladies as well as gentlemen are expected to turn out. A large attendance is desired as it is quite possible that this will be the last tramp of the season.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

F. J. Eggan has been slightly under the weather the past few days.

R. E. Stephenson of Ontonagon spent Friday and Saturday in Ishpeming.

W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, arrived here Saturday.

A regular monthly meeting of hose and hook and ladder companies No. 1 will be held this evening.

R. N. Griswold of Winona, Minn., has been in the city, the guest of Al. Smith, the past couple of days.

A. J. Youngbluth, who has been suffering from an attack of the grip the past few days, expects to resume work today.

R. C. Mann, auditor of the Cleveland-Cliffs company, who has been in Ishpeming for the past ten days, left Saturday evening for Cleveland.

A. H. Davis, who has been engaged to take charge of the manual training department of the Ishpeming high school, arrived in the city Saturday. He will begin work today.

Joseph Birl, manager of the Nelson, Mason & Co.'s business here, was on Saturday for the first time in two weeks. He was ill with an attack of inflammation of the bowels.

The members of the Division street church choir yesterday morning presented their leader, William J. Whitford, with a beautiful Methodist hymn book. Mr. Whitford works hard in the interest of the choir and the members appreciate his efforts very much.

Rev. W. C. Clemo, pastor of the Division street Methodist church, is down with a slight attack of pneumonia. Rev. William Credland, pastor of the Salisbury Methodist church, supplied Mr. Clemo's pulpit yesterday morning, and Rev. Henry Hosking conducted the services and preached in the evening.

William Mutton, who has been conducting a saloon business in Charles P. Sodergren's building for some time past, has moved into William Uren's block across the street from Sodergren's. He intends conducting a boarding house in connection with his saloon. Mr. Sodergren proposes re-engaging in the saloon business the first of May.

QUEER CORPULENCY OF GIRLS.

Sisters, Fourteen and Sixteen Years Old, Weigh 450 and 385 Pounds.

Constantine, Mich., boasts of two sisters who, considering their ages, are without an equal in the state as far as weight is concerned. Lulu and Flossie Steppy are 14 and 16 years of age, respectively. They went there about one year ago from De Kalb county, Ind. Lulu now weighs 450 pounds and her sister 385. Lulu weighed only six pounds at birth and Flossie 6 1/2 pounds. Neither girl is of unusual height, Lulu standing about five feet three inches and Flossie five feet two inches. Each is growing rapidly, however, in height as well as in corpulence, and to what dimensions they will ultimately attain is an unsolved problem. The father is comparatively a short man, weighing about 150 pounds, while the mother is a slim-waisted woman of 125 pounds. When Lulu was six years old she weighed 208 pounds. Flossie at four weighed 125. Each now measures 63 inches around the waist. They can perform prodigious feats of strength. The only physical ailment with which they are troubled is weakness of the eyes. They attended school until they became so large that it was impossible for them to walk between the aisles or sit at the desks.

MONKS MAKE WHISKY.

Illicit Distillery Discovered in the Trappist Monastery at Oka, Quebec.

For about 18 months past the local officials of the inland revenue department of Canada have been aware that quite a lot of whisky was coming into Montreal from the little settlement of Oka, but were unable to learn the source of supply. A few days ago they decided to solve the mystery, and a couple of inland revenue officers paid a visit to the Trappist monastery at Oka. After making a careful investigation, they succeeded in finding a full-fledged whisky still of 25 gallons a day capacity. The superiors admitted that the matter looked serious, but claimed that the whisky was distilled without their knowledge. Subsequently, however, two monks from Oka called at the inland revenue offices and offered to pay a fine for illicit distilling of whisky. They were referred to the government at Ottawa. The Trappist monastery in question is a large concern on a farm of 1,000 acres, on which are a cheese factory, dairy and sawmills. The monastery also runs a hotel which does good business during the summer months. The monks make considerable wine, their output last season being about 30,000 gallons.

PADEREWSKI'S MANAGER.

Held for the Nonpayment of a Debt Seventeen Years Old.

Herr von Gorlitz, the manager for Paderewski, was arrested the other day at San Francisco by Deputy Sheriff Byington, on a justice warrant charging him with being an absconding debtor. The arrest was made at the instance of G. Verdier & Co., who assert that Gorlitz owes them a bill of $251.55 for dry goods purchased 17 years ago. To this they have added $295.35 interest. The manager and his wife were in 1879 connected with an opera company. When the company went to pieces Gorlitz was unable to pay for the goods used for his wife's costumes. Gorlitz deposited $600 cash bail. He says he was never legally responsible for the bill.

Men and Women Nearly Alike.

In Annam, an empire occupying the eastern portion of the Indo-Chinese peninsula, with a population of 6,000,000, men and women wear their hair in the same way and dress almost alike. Like the man, the woman wears a turban, a long tunic, wide, loose trousers and a bright sash, the end falling below the knees. The physiognomy is almost the same, as the men are beardless and have their hair done up like the women. The only clew to distinguish them is found in the earrings and finger rings, which are worn by women only.

A BOSTON GIRL'S LIFE

Saved from Ruin and Despair by the Timely Aid of a Noted Woman.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Is there anything more truly pathetic than the cry for help that springs from the anguished heart of a young girl—a beautiful girl who sees ahead only suffering and uncertainty? But oh, what joy and gladness her young heart pours forth when she realizes that her dreaded enemy, the blasting influence, is gone,—banished forever.

This sunshine and joy is now the happy portion of Miss Florence of Beacon Street, Boston.

She often tells of her suffering from the suppression of the menses. The pain was excruciating. The doctors, instead of removing the cause of her ailment, plied her each month with morphine to prevent convulsions; but the trouble was permitted to exist.

When she could endure no more,—prostration was imminent and future hopeless,—her family procured a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, surprising to all, rapidly and permanently cured her.

In writing to Mrs. Pinkham, pouring forth her gratitude and happiness, she says: "Oh! that I could make every suffering woman try your valuable medicine! How they would bless you!"

In and About Negaunee.

ORDERED NEW TRAM CARS.

Negaunee Mining Company is Having a Dozen Fine Ones Built.

Richard & Lemin, boiler makers of Ishpeming, are manufacturing twelve large steel tram cars for the Negaunee Mining Company, to be used at the Negaunee mine. The cars have a capacity of two and a half tons each. The contract is quite a large one and the manufacturers will not have all the cars completed for at least three or four weeks. The cars will be among the best in use on this range. They will have all the latest improvements and will be substantially built.

A Successful Run.

Some of the boys attending the Negaunee High school indulged in a four-mile run in the game of hares and hounds Saturday. Ben Miller and Mertie Sullivan, two of the hares, made the run in twenty-nine minutes. They arrived at the starting point about fifteen minutes before the hounds put in an appearance.

The Athletic association of the High school has secured the Adelphi roller rink as a training place for the boys who will take part in the field day contests in June. They will begin training there this week.

Goest to the Copper Country.

Ben Weber, who has made Negaunee his home for the past eight or ten years, will leave here tomorrow for the Copper Country, where he will remain permanently. He has two brothers in business there, one at Houghton and the other at Hancock. Ben has an opportunity to work for either of his brothers, but he is as yet undecided what he will do. He will likely follow the painting business, however, as his brother Frank is engaged in that line.

TORQUATO TASSO.

Love Had Turned His Brain—A Widely Celebrated Poet.

Tasso was beyond question the most celebrated poet in a day of immortals. His epic had found an audience before it was finished, wherever the Italian language was studied or spoken. Queen Elizabeth, as though neither Shakespeare nor Spenser had begun "to live with the eternity of her fame," desired Tasso's rhymes to be remembered, and envied the Estian princes. His genius and sufferings, perhaps not without a suspicion that love had turned his brain, were known at Paris and in the court at Greenwich. But Montaigne, who republished his "Essays" in 1582, speaks of having seen him at Ferrara, "en si piteux estat, suivan't ses ouvrages, lesqueles, sans son sen, et toutesfois, a sa veue, on mis en lumieres, incorriges, et informes." It was too true. From the sale of his poems the author did not receive one single scudo. Worse still, as if it had been a property delict, editors, not asking leave nor with Tasso's revision before them, flung themselves upon it—"ubiquitous, ibi aquilae congregantur;" they published each his own version at Venice, Parma, Mantua, and in the same year no less than eight editions saw the light.

Of these the first published in Venice by Celio di Malespini—a brigand who well deserved his name—was literally stolen; but, as Cherville remarks, had Celio not committed this robbery, we might never have seen the original poem. Febo Bonna alone had Tasso's assistance during his publication. But the long battle with Silvio proves that, even in the earlier stages of his mental disorder, the poet would have kept to the first design. It was not until weakness grew upon him that he changed the personages, hardened the outlines and added the fierce strokes which make the "Conquistata" both gloomy and a morbid legend of untempered zeal. The world has passed judgment on this attempt to deface a noble work. When the "Conquistata" came out some few read, and fewer still applauded. The last good edition is dated 1593, and only the curious are aware that it contains a description, so detailed as to seem prophetic, of the calamities which just two centuries later were to overwhelm the house of Bourbon, or that, on account of what was deemed an insult to Henry IV., the parliament of Paris ordered these verses to be erased from all the editions, which in France was accordingly done.—London Quarterly Review.

WINTER TOURS TO THE BERMUDAS,

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic R'y., have made arrangements whereby they can book winter tourists from any of their stations to the Bermudas at the very low rate of $30.00 for the round trip. Tickets being good for six months from date of issue. The route is via the direct line to New York by way of Sault Ste. Marie and Montreal, thence via the well known steamers Trinidad and Orizono of the Quebec Steamship Company. This delightful winter excursion trip to Bermuda has no equal. A passenger can leave Marquette on Monday reaching New York Tuesday night, leave New York Wednesday morning and be in the Bermudas Friday. In that short time he effects the wonderful change from a Lake Superior winter to the balmy climate of an island of the southern seas famed for its scenery and clad in the fresh verdure of Spring.

First class accommodation can be secured at the principal hotels at rates from $2.00 to $3.00 per day and at the leading boarding house at from $10.00 to $14.00 per week.

For further particulars of the journey and descriptive matter of the Bermudas apply to the General Passenger Department of the D. S. S. & A. R'y., Marquette, Mich.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Some Hints Which the Wise Woman Will Do Well to Note.

There is little change to record in table linen, except that the pretty colored lunch cloths are no longer in vogue, and I am sorry. They were much more cheerful than the small square of linen in the center of a bare oak table now preferred. The colored cloths now serve as a cover when the table is not in use. There are very pretty ones, in delft blue and white; and another dainty pattern shown is on pale pink and silver.

If you wish pie-crust to be very nice, fold it, lay it on a plate, and stand in the refrigerator over night. This will improve a good plain paste so that it is almost as flaky as a puff paste. In sealing a pie moisten the inside, but not the edge, with a pastry-brush dipped in water or the white of an egg. Put the upper crust in place and press the two together with the thumb dipped in flour. Press together, but not on the exact edge, or the pastry will not rise.

When the ice chest smells queer and yet it is immaculately clean in every nook and cranny of the compartment, pour some boiling hot soda water down the escape pipe and look at the fearfully and wonderfully made rope of solid matter that is washed down by the soda water. The pipe ought to be thus flushed once a week to keep the refrigerator sweet. No servant does this of her own free will. Many mistresses pour cold water after ward to cool off the box and wipe dry. Food keeps better in a dry, cold atmosphere than it can in a damp, cold one.

A great many women in this world who fancy themselves good cooks spoil every bit of food that they prepare, except, perhaps, hard-boiled eggs and baked potatoes. They are careless and indifferent. If a recipe calls for more than they happen to have they make it up with water; if they do not happen to have the herbs and seasonings for the turkey stuffing, they do not bother to go or send to the grocer's for them—just leave them out. They cut down the amount of butter that a recipe calls for because butter is expensive, and the result of these little economies and carelessnesses is that the food is flavorless, spiritless and wearisome to the palate. Really, there is a good deal because the food, not being especially good, is not all eaten, and some must be thrown away. Generally, economy is excellent, but not economy of that kind.

When particular baking is receiving attention and several unfamiliar dishes are being manufactured, it is of special importance to have the oven in perfect condition, and as far as possible under the control of the cook. The best of stoves, says an experienced housewife, are tricky sometimes, and bear watching. Nearly each one has its peculiarity. A tendency to burn at the bottom, or a habit of scorching at the top, while the lower part remains raw and sodden. Familiarity will enable the cook to correct these difficulties. She will overcome the first fault by placing the grating of a pan under the baking dish, and the other by covering the cake or loaf with a pan or paper until the bottom is done. A plain piece of manilla paper laid over the top of a cake will insure thorough, even baking, when without this arrangement the top would become scorched long before the cake was baked through.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A GREAT RAFTING FEAT.

Six Hundred Immense Pine Logs Have a Long, Perilous Trip.

Towed by Four Powerful Tugs from North Carolina to Camden, N. J.—Some of the Difficulties Encountered and Overcome.

A raft more than two-thirds of a mile long, composed of giant sticks of North Carolina yellow pine timber, was safely towed into port at Camden, N. J., by four powerful tugs the other night, after a tedious but somewhat adventurous voyage lasting six weeks. There are 600 logs in the raft, some of them 95 feet long, the lot averaging 82 feet in length, 12 to 22 inches in diameter at the stump and from 8 inches upward at the top. They are to be used as pilings in the construction of the new Delaware river piers.

It was the first time the experiment had been tried, and as the raft was the largest ever sent out of North Carolina, Mr. Frazer is delighted with the success that attended the venture.

The raft was put in chains, each stick having two iron rafting dogs to hold it in the chains. Fifteen sticks were placed side by side and fastened together to make one section of the raft. There were 42 sections, and when these were fastened together they stretched out nearly a mile in length.

It was very tiresome work towing the great pine serpent through the rivers and canals in the old north state, but in the sounds it was very lively and risky business. Time and again the men on the tugs feared that the raft would be torn to pieces in the storms, and the utmost caution was exercised. Had any of the chains broken serious trouble would have been encountered in catching the runaway sections, if indeed they could be captured before they had plunged out to sea to menace the coastwise steamers which frequent that ocean path.

On the way up the Chesapeake bay the most violent storm of all was encountered, and the four tugs and their convoy were compelled to put into harbor until the danger was over. In the canals it was necessary to uncouple the sections to pass them through the locks one at a time, and this, together with the fact that much ice was encountered therein, made the process very slow. In the summer it is believed the voyage could be made in less than four weeks. So great is the danger with a raft of this size that it was impossible to have it insured in any reliable company at this season.

Future Mrs. Harrison Making Elaborate Preparations for Her Marriage.

On or about March 6, it is said, Gen. Benjamin Harrison will claim Mrs. Mary Scott Dimmick as his bride. Before many days have elapsed that portion of the trousseau embraced in the term "lingerie" will be complete. Busy hands in the workroom of Altman & Co. are tying bows and fashioning ribbon rosettes to the dainty belongings of the prospective bride.

Mrs. Dimmick has chosen pale blue as the color scheme of her artistic lingerie. Of course, the greatest interest centers upon the bridal set proper, of which there are three pieces. They are designed in the empire style. The sheerest linen cambric has been selected for their development. The night dress is cut low in the neck, and Valenciennes insertion form a square yoke to the depth of several inches. An upstanding ruffle is attached to a narrow beading, through which ribbon is threaded, which at the left side near the shoulder abruptly ties in loops and flowing ends.

The full balloon sleeves are shirred into a bend of the beading and finished off by a deep frill of Valenciennes. Blue satin ribbon of a very delicate tint is drawn through the band and ties in a truss-lover's knot at the wrist.

The decorative scheme is repeated in the formation of broad epaulettes which fall in graceful folds over the shoulders, continuing in a cascade to the waist line. The black corset-strings with the front, and ungored widths of material hanging free. A ribbon belt inserted in the under arm seam ties loosely in front in a fascinating bow, producing the desirable short-waist effect. The character of the lace is exceedingly fine and of the popular fleur-de-lis pattern.

The remaining two pieces of the set are elaborately decorated in rows of Valenciennes insertion and linen of equal width cut in vandykes, which have a deep ruffle as their finish. A beading heads the full frills of lace, through which ribbon is run.

A Chinese University.

A Vienna journal publishes a letter from a Shanghai correspondent saying that a Chinese university, after a European model, will soon be established in Tien-Tsin. Charles D. Tinney, an American, is to be the head of the university, one of the chief objects of which will be to cultivate technical science. The teachers will be foreigners and natives. The university is to be opened next autumn, together with a preparatory school. Several such schools are also to be established in different parts of north China. Great importance is attached to this educational revolution in China.

Thought She Owed Another Fare.

A blockade on a trolley line in Boston lasted so long that one lady arose, and as she was about to leave the car, offered a nickel to the conductor. "Why, madame," said he, "you have already paid your fare." "I know it," said the lady, "but I've been here so long I thought I owed you rent!"

Valuable Collection of Roses.

Miss Alice Rothschild has a passion for flowers. Her collection of roses alone is worth $50,000.

THE SPOTS ON THE SUN.

What the Scientists Think About Their Influence on Our Weather.

The vexed question of the influence of sun-spots on the weather seems to be as far from settlement to-day as it was ten or twenty years ago, says the Youth's Companion. So great an authority as Lord Kelvin has recently expressed a doubt as to whether the coincidences noticed by students of this subject are not, after all, deceptive and misleading. Other investigators, however, continue to think that a real connection exists between the spottedness of the sun and the condition of the weather on the earth.

Among the latest contributions to our knowledge on the subject are those made by Mr. W. L. Dallas, who has investigated the weather records kept from 1856 to 1879 on board ships in the Bay of Bengal, and by Dr. P. Polis, who has reviewed the records of 64 years at Aix-la-Chapelle. Mr. Dallas concludes that, as far as the Bay of Bengal is concerned, the heat is greatest when sun-spots are most numerous. Dr. Polis, on the other hand, finds that at Aix-la-Chapelle the warmest seasons formerly coincided with the smallest number of sun-spots, but that since 1878 a change has apparently occurred and now it is hottest when the sun is most spotted. Dr. Polis also finds that the number of thunder storms generally increases with a decrease of the sun-spots.

These facts and inferences are particularly interesting just now, because from this time on we are likely to see the sun-spots rapidly decreasing in size and number for several years to come.

TWO REASONS.

The Judge's Able Support of His Own Decision.

At a circuit court held some years ago in a western state an action of covenant was tried "by the court without a jury." The decision rendered was couched in such a way that it caused considerable amusement.

The suit was brought, says the Youth's Companion, by a religious society to recover possession of a cemetery. The defendant was a physician in active practice, who, as one of a committee appointed by the church, had bought the ground for the use of the society.

Afterward he severed his connection with the society, and it was found that he had taken the title in his own name, and intended to appropriate the premises for his private use. The defendant insisted that he had bought the ground in his own right after his relations to the society had ceased.

The court, after hearing the evidence and arguments, proceeded to state the grounds for his decision, and ordered judgment for the plaintiff. Whereupon the defendant's counsel arose, and asked the court to state more fully the reasons for the decision.

"Certainly," said his honor, promptly "but as you have heard what I have said, I have only two additional reasons to give: One is that the church seems to need a cemetery, and the other that the doctor has failed to show that his practice is sufficiently large to make it necessary for him to keep a burying ground of his own."

HARDWOOD FOR BATS.

One Concern Consumes Two Million Feet of Lumber in This Way.

The correspondent for the Northwestern Lumberman at Grand Rapids, Mich., says there is a concern in that city that probably makes more bats than any other in the country. This year the output will be 288,000, a record that has not been broken since 1889, when 316,800 were turned out. The best bats are made of second ground white ash; ordinary ones of common white ash, and very ordinary bats—such as the boys play out on the commons with—of maple and basswood. These latter are run through an automatic lathe at the rate of 1,400 a day, while the league bats are turned by hand. A small quantity of "willow" bats are made of poplar. Twenty years ago about half the bats were poplar, but the style has changed. Some of the crack players will not condescend to use a stock bat, but go to the factory and have bats of the size and weight they desire made for them. If we figure it will be found that this Grand Rapids factory alone will consume about 2,000,000 feet of hardwood a year in the manufacture of ball bats. The others all told will consume a good deal more than that. Therefore, when you see a baseball player with his fingers knocked askew you can reflect that the sport of which he is a victim calls for several hundred carloads of hardwood lumber annually.

Phosphorescent Diamonds.

An expert in gems has lately called attention to a property in the diamond which has not hitherto been fully appreciated. Robert Boyle mentions a diamond that became phosphorescent simply by the heat of the hand, absorbed light on being held near a candle, and emitted light on being briskly rubbed. Observations by Mr. Kunz, the gem expert, confirm Boyle's statement that diamonds become phosphorescent in the dark after exposure to sunlight or electric light by being rubbed on wood, cloth or metal. This property is an important one, as it will help the non-expert to distinguish between the true diamond and other hard stones, as well as imitations, none of which is said to exhibit this phenomenon.

Beats a Good Wife.

Courtship and marriage are recognized targets for witticisms, of which Mr. Punch's famous "Don't" is undoubtedly the most brilliant example of a happy answer. Most of them are of the same cynical character. A careworn divine is reported to have said, in reply to the ecstatic declaration of an intending benedict that "nothing in the world beats a good wife." "Oh, yes; a bad husband often does and—vice versa!"

THE COST OF CITY WATER.

Annual Report for '95 of the Board of Fire and Water Commissioners.

JOHN MILLER, CHARGED WITH GRAND LARCENY, BOUND OVER.

A Former Resident of Marquette Accidentally Killed While Working in the Furnaces at Newberry.

THE NEW DAM COMPLETED.

The annual report of the board of fire and water commissioners for the calendar year 1895 has been prepared by the secretary, John P. Kern. It will be submitted to the council on the 10th inst. by Controller Bay at which time the annual statements of all city departments will be laid before that body. Dec. 31, 1894, there was $16,630.18 cash on hand. During the year 1895 this sum was increased by the receipt of $22,594.46 from water rates and rentals, of $800 from the sale of old machinery and of $40.97 from other incidental sources, making the total receipts $34,065.61. The principal items of expense in the past year were $6,971.15 for operating the pumping plant, $10,500 in retiring bonds due on Jan. 1, 1896, $5,314.45 in interest on bonds and $3,835.67 in maintaining the fire department. One bond of $500 expiring on Jan. 1 last was not presented for payment and is still outstanding, though drawing no interest since the first of the year. The bonded indebtedness of the city on account of the water system is now $89,500. There is also outstanding a promissory note of $1,178.05, making the total indebtedness $90,678.05.

No permanent improvements of importance were made during the year. The board has adopted a careful system of sampling the water furnished users, with a view to detecting any injurious germs, should they exist. Every month a fifteen-gallon jug of water, collected in equal quantities daily, is sent to an Ann Arbor chemist, but no impurities have yet been found. The expense of operating the water plant decreased $402.20 compared with 1894. Fire department expenses were $2,131 less in 1895 than during the preceding year, chiefly for the reason that considerable hose was purchased in 1894.

The report closes with the following comment to employees: "To the members of the fire department the board extends its grateful acknowledgments for the prompt and efficient performance of duties, which are at times arduous and hazardous and upon the loyal performance of which the preservation of valuable property often depends. To the other faithful employees of this department the board cheerfully accords due credit for the successful operation of every branch of this service during the year." Embodied in the report is a complete and detailed statement of all expenditures made in 1895.

Pythian Lore.
By mistake the date for the ball to be given by Iron Division No. 41, U. R. K. of P. was last week announced in these columns as being set for Monday, April 13th. The date definitely decided upon is Tuesday night, April 7th, the first Tuesday after Lent. So many having expressed disappointment at not witnessing the ceremony of installation which was to have been publicly performed last Tuesday night, that ceremony will be repeated April 7th. The committee will avail itself of the additional time afforded by the extension until after Lent to prepare additional features that will be novel and attractive. These will be announced in due time. The arrangements already made as to music, refreshments and hall remain in effect.

Colonel Joseph C. Cosford, commanding the 5th regiment of the Michigan brigade of the U. R. K. of P., started by last evening's train on a tour of installation. Division officers for the ensuing year will be installed at Escanaba, Manistique, Menominee, Iron Mountain and Crystal Falls. There is also a prospect of the institution of a new division at Gladstone. The news that the national encampment of the Knights of Pythias at Minneapolis has been declared off has not disconcerted the members of the order on the upper peninsula. There is unusual activity and interest in Pythian circles and especially in the uniformed rank. Divisions almost moribund have awakened to new life and have elected to command new officers who are enthusiastic and ambitious. All but one of the nine companies of the 5th regiment have prepared to swing into line and applications are at hand at regimental headquarters for the institution of two new companies. Attention to these applications will be given as soon as possible. Meantime the subject of a regimental encampment in August is being agitated, should it be officially promulgated that the Minneapolis meeting has been positively abandoned, though there still lingers a hope that the national affair can be satisfactorily arranged. The work of installing the officers of the various companies in the regiment will be completed by the middle of this month and soon thereafter orders will be issued for a meeting of the field and line officers of the regiment, probably at Escanaba, for the election of a lieutenant colonel and two majors. That will complete the regimental organization and from that point a rapid development of the rank and the order at large is anticipated.

Debated the Financial Question.
The Literary society of the Upper Peninsula Business college is now in perfect running order. At the regular meeting Saturday evening about thirty-five members were in attendance. The Business College Herald was read by the editor, Miss Gaynor. The debate, which was on the subject "Resolved, That the United States should adopt the free coinage of silver" and in which

Mr. Campbell and Mr. Vandenberg were the affirmative and negative leaders, respectively, was won by the single standard advocates. Miss Doer favored those present with a recitation and Messrs. Joseph and Ambrose Hogan gave selections on mouth organ and banjo. The following are the officers: Joseph Hogan, president; Ed. Finn, vice president; Ben Gill, treasurer; Vetella L'Hullier, secretary; August Conolly, sergeant-at-arms.

Former Marquette Man Killed.
James Mackey, a former resident of Marquette, was killed at Newberry, Mich., Saturday while at work in the furnaces there. He was turning a valve on an exhaust pipe when it blew outward, striking him on the head, fracturing his skull. He died two hours after the accident. Mr. Mackey lived in Marquette a number of years, being employed the greater part of the time at the Carp furnace. He was about fifty years of age.

Miller Waives Examination.
John Miller, who was arrested at Ishpeming Friday night for the larceny of a pocketbook from Mrs. Scheech, with whom he boarded, was brought to Marquette Saturday morning and in the afternoon was taken before Justice Gray to answer to the charge of grand larceny. The prisoner waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court. He is now behind the bars of the county bastille.

Progress of Lighting Improvements.
The new water wheel for the electric light station, which arrived here a week ago, was taken Saturday from the powder mill sidetrack to the lighting station. It will not be put in place until spring. The new dam is completed and water is now running over it, having been shut off in the flume.

Marquette Water Continues Pure.
The fire and water board has received the latest report of V. C. Vaughan, director of the Michigan state laboratory of hygiene, as to the condition of Marquette city water. Having tested the contents of a 15-gallon jug, Mr. Vaughan writes: "In its present condition the water cannot cause disease."

Gard of Thanks.
To the L. L. Hood lodge No. 10, B. of R. T., Iron Division No. 41, U. R. K. of P., Presque Isle lodge No. 130 K. of P., and all who showed their sympathy during the illness and at the death of J. W. Donahue, and also to the friends in Houghton and Escanaba, we extend our heartfelt thanks.
Mrs. August Lorenz and Daughter Lizzie.

THE DISCOVERY SAVED HIS LIFE.
Mr. G. Caillonette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at E. Farnham's Drug Store.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.
"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75 cents. Sold by Frank Pendill, Druggist, Marquette.

SUNDAY TRIPS.
To THE QUEEN CITY OF THE UPPER PENINSULA.
