SPAIN PREPARING FOR TROUBLE. MADRID, March 2.-[Copyrighted by patches which have been received from Newspapers here confirm the report general-in-chief. that a Spanish naval squadron, consisting of four cruisers and a dispatch boat, is to be sent to Cuba without delay. In addition, Spanish naval officers and marines are to be attached to Spanish mail boats, which are to be armed and equipped as auxiliary cruisers.

The greatest activity is being displayed in the government navy yards and every preparation possible is being made by the naval and military authorities for the most serious eventualities. It was announced this evening that a number of Italian ship owners have offered, in the event of war, to provide Spain with steamships to be used as privateers.

A number of students during the afternoon assembled in front of the university with the intention of making a demonstration against the United States as a result of the senate's action in regard to Cuba, and their intention was to mob the United States legation. But the authorities got wind of the affair and a strong force of police turned out, all streets leading to the legation were blocked and the students warned ities to suppress all disorders have prevented demonstrations and a large force of police are present everywhere to

The time for which the option ran expired last Friday, but the Consolidated company did not put up the balance of the purchase price. It has concluded not to take the property, and the big deal which had in view giving Rockefeller and his associates another group of iron mines on the Mesaba range is off.

The reasons given for the failure of the Consolidated to close the deal are many, but it is doubtful if any of them are more substantial than mere surmise. A gentleman very close to the owners of the property in question gives as his opinion that the several new and important dis coveries of ore on the Mesaba, the recent decline in the iron market and tendency to stringency in the money market observed of late, all had something to do with the disinclination on the part of the Consoli dated to close the deal. Another reason which may have had its influence is the fact that the apportionment of Mesaba ore for '96, which was made since the option was procured, limits the range to about ne-third of its capacity. There was a rumor that the Consolidated nad offered to close the deal at a reduced figure, $800,000, but this is emphatically de nied by a gentleman who knows. He says the option simply lapsed and nothing was said or done relative to a compromise price. The purchase price of the property had been deposited in the First ! National pank of Duluth in the shape of certified ness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue checks. There was a gold clause in the contract, but the owners of the property agreed later to the checks.

"I do not look upon the failure of the Consolidated to complete the deal as sig-

Singular Railroad Accident.

Santa Fe train in Arizona wa stalled for five hours by an odd accident a few days ago. The engine ran over a ow, and the cow's foot became firmly wedged in the blow-off cock, used to empty the boiler, with the result that all the steam and water went out and the engine was killed. A brakeman had to walk five miles to the nearest telegraph station to telegraph for another engine It was five hours before another engine reached the stalled train, and the pas sengers played games among the sand hills and sage brush during the wait.

COYOTES AMONG THE CATTLE. Western Ranchers Wrestling with the Problem of Extermination

A novel scheme for saving his cattle from the droves of covotes that infest the region has been hit upon by a rancher of Glen Rock, Wash. He has placed a number of bells on the necks of a great number of cattle in his herds and the result has been to scare the coyotes away. In the two months since he belled his herds he has not lost a single animal, while previously his loss averaged at least one steer a day. Co-yotes are becoming more of a pest every ason in many parts of Washington and Oregon, despite all the efforts of the cattlemen and farmers to exterminate them. Thousands of dollars are spent every year in waging war on the beasts but with little result. Poison availed for a time, but now the coyotes refuse to touch the poisoned carcasses of steers strewn about for their consumption. The only way of killing them is by shooting them, and this is a feeble and wholly inadequate means. casionally the residents of a district combine and have a grand round-up hunt, driving the coyotes toward the center of a circle and slaughtering them there, and this is the only means of appreciably thinning them out oc casionally. In some regions the packs of gray wolves are as numerous and troublesome as the coyotes. coyotes are particularly adept chicken thieves, and, indeed, are a general pest around the farmyards.

These were not mad ducks, but merely ducks that hated what people have come to consider their natural element. There were three of them, and they had lived some years in Paris, where they had a small basin and their daily bath. Their owner finally took them to the country to live beside a fine lake, thinking it the ideal place for the amphibious. What was his surprise on putting them into the lake to see them instantly scramble ashore and waddle, Indian-file, to a neighboring stable, whence they never before he discovered where the eye of the needle of a sewing machine should be located. His original idea was to follow the model of the eye at the heel. It never occurred to him that it should be placed near the point, and he might have failed altogether, says the Phila-delphia Times, if he had not dreamed he was building a sewing machine for a savage king in a strange country. Just as in his actual waking experience, he was rather perplexed about the needle's eye. He thought the king gave him 24 hours to complete a machine and make it sew. If not finished in that time, death was to be the punishment. Howe worked and worked and puzzled and puzzled, and finally gave it up.

SOLVED IN A DREAM.

Elias Howe and the Eye of the Sewing Machine Needle. El'as Howe almos! beggared himself

Then he thought he was taken out to be executed. He noticed that the warriors carried spears that were pierced near the head. Instantly came the solution of the difficulty, and while the inventor was begging for time he swoke. It was four o'clock in the morring. He jumped out of bed, ran to his workshop, and by nine a needle with an eye at the point had been rudely modeled. After that it was easy. This is the true story of an important incident in the invention of the sewing ma-

> THE QUEEN IS NO "DUMMY." Some of the Prerogatives of the British Sovereign.

People on this side of the water arc apt to attach too much credence to the oft-repeated but somewhat fallacious assertion that the queen of England has no power; is a mere figure-head, in fact, and nothing but a constitutional puppet in the hands of the cabinet for the time being. It is often stated that the president of the United States is possessed of far more executive power and prerogatives than her Eritish majesty. This is, according to the New York World, a great mistake. more power than people realize. For First National Bank more power than people realize. For instance, she has the power to dismiss erating the passion for African land every soldier in the army, from the commander-in-chief down to the youngest drummer. She could disband the navy in the same way, and sell the ships, stores and arsenals to the first buyer that presented himself.

Acting on her own responsibility, she could declare war against any foreign power or make a present of any section of the empire over which she rules to any foreign power. Acting strictly within her prerogative, she could make every man, woman and child in the country a peer or peeress of the realm with the right in the case of males who are of age to a seat and a vote in the house of lords. With a single word or stroke of the pen she could dis-miss any cabinet that was in power, and could, moreover, pardon and liberate every criminal of any grade that is confined in the British penitentiaries. These are only a few of the things ome Valuable Information About the Operations of the Owners and Projectors of Claims-Stock Speculating.

Cripple Creek, so far as is now known, embraces a little area with a raius of not more than three miles. It ontains, all told, perhaps eight or ten square miles of ground. This at the outside world yield 600 or 700 full claims. On these there would be a possibility, I do not say a probability, of finding veins rich enough to bear the cost of working. There are in the district, so far, some 12,000 located claims. You may judge of the probable value of the most of them.

Of these 12,000 claims of course the many are merely fractional. About 1,300 are patented, and have title established. Of these 1,300, 200 are shipping

To put the matter in another way, upwards of 900 companies have been organized thus far to operate in the district, and dozens more are being put in the field each week. Of these 900 or more companies about six per cent., of also had city matters under consider-ation, and recommendations with refdend-payers.

Of course, in the clever and seductive circulars which the countless mining brokers scatter broadcast, you will read of this or that company which will be a dividend-payer the very next week, the workingmen at the meeting to hear them.

A member of one of the ward committees yesterday informed The Mining Journal that it was pretty generally understood by the committeemen who the candidates for the ward offices on the ticket to be nominated by the laboring men will be. "No selection," said he, "has yet been made for the mayoralty, but the men would like to have Fred Braastad at the head of their ticket. Patrick Small's name has been very favorably mentioned by them or the very next month, or something should lose their senses and invest in all sorts of worthless and "wild-cat" schemes that are thrown on the The annual meeting of the stock- market. than is ever taken out of the mine itself. In Colorado, or, for that matter, all over the mining west, they divide mine--into the men who put money into a nine and the men who get money out of it. The meaning of this is that mining has come to be a business or a science which requires skill and training, and technical knowledge, and the same amount of shrewdness and ability which is required for success in any mines. Just at the moment I think of one—that is, speculating in mining stocks.—Harper's Weekly.

There is no knowing where the trouble may end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of tatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are today countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore negfrom Zanzibar, circumnavigated the embarked my followers, and how, after a course of nearly 1,800 miles, we reached the Atlantic ocean at the mouth of the Congo. One reason why women are so generally troubled with some derangement of the distinctly feminine organism is that as girls they learn nothing about their own physical make up. and young women are becoming more and more able to take care of their health.

Carelessness in girlhood causes the greatest suffering and unhappiness in after life. Little irregularities and weaknesses in girls should be looked after promptly and treatment given at once. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription promotes regularity of all feminine functions, makes strength and builds up a sturdy health with which to meet the trials to come. The "Favorite Prescription" is not a universal panacea. It is good for but one thing. It is directed solely at one set of organs.

"I have been a sufferer from 'female weakness' for six years. I grew worse; had severe cutting pains in left ovary, also in left side and stomach. The pain in left side was constant. I would have light spasms previous to monthly period and when the spasm would leave I would suffer from severe soreness all over and could bear nothing to touch me. I also suffered from severe headaches; burning pressure on brain which almost caused me to be insane. I could not lay my head down without smothering. My face was poor; eyes looked dead; wasted in fiesh. I was constipated and suffered severe pain when bowels would act. I could not eat for the full-ness in region of stomach. I had tried three of the best doctors here but they only gave me temporary relief. I had given up all hope of ever getting well again. At last I concluded to give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial. I have taken two bottles, one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of 'Pellets.' I have not felt any signs of my old disease; headache all gone, menses regular without ache or pain. Indeed I feel like a new person." Yours truly.

AID FOR ARMENIANS

An Appeal in Their Behalf Will Be Made to Negaunee People Sunday.

Rev. V. K. Beshgetoor of Newberry, who is a native of Armenia, will deliver an address in Negaunee at Mc-Donald's Opera House next Sunday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, on the persecutions to which his countrymen are being subjected at the hands of the brutal Turks. He will relate many interesting incidents which have occurred there during the recent massacres in that country. Mr. Beshge-toor has a large collection of maps and charts which he uses to explain his discourse. He will give a very interesting history of the oppressed people of luth, Armenia and will also relate some facts concerning the difficulties which have already led to the slaughter of almost fifth thousand natives of that country. No admission will be charged, but an offering in aid of the suffering people of Armenia will be called for. Revs. Green and Wilcox, pastors of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches, re-spectively, are taking a keen interest in the affair and they are desirous of seeing a large turnout.

A SYRIAN LOVE DRAMA:

Mike Tannoos Weds the Babe He Once Rescued from Death.

Neighbors in Syria Run Across Each Other in Cleveland and the Result Is a Romantic Marriage.

The last act in a pretty love drama was enacted in the probate court at Cleveland, O., the other day. About four o'clock two pretty girls, an elderly woman and five men crowded up to the marriage-license desk. A look at the group showed that they were natives of a foreign clime, and their na-tionality was disclosed by the man who acted as interpreter when he addressed the clerk, stating that they were Sy-

"Dis little girl," said the interpreter pointing to the older of the two girls, who blushed furiously, "is in love with

"Dis man" was Michael Tannoos, a strapping big, fine-looking young man. The license was granted to "Michael Tannoos and Mary M. Zagaib," after which, while the party chatted gaily in their native tongue, the interpreter told the following story:

Mary Zagaib, with her parents, lived in Syria, where Mary was born 17 years ago. The Tannoos family were neighbors of the Zagaibs, and "Mike" was a boy of eight years when Mary was an infant. One day one of those gigantic fires, typical of the country, broke out and destroyed the entire village. The inhabitants fled to the hills, and when the Zagaibs reached the outskirts of the village in their flight, the mother discovered that she had forgotten her baby Mary. "Mike" Tannoos, hearing her pitiful pleadings for some one to go back for the deserted infant, ran bravely through the flames at the peril of his life and succeeded in rescuing the little one. After the fire the Zagaibs, who had lost everything, came to America, settling in New York. Three months ago they came to Cleveland. The mother was delighted to find "Mike" Tannoos a resident of that city, and when she told Mary who he was, love was immediate. The wedding will occur at St. Anthony's Catholic church next Sunday, under the Syrian rites, and will be the first ceremony of the kind ever held in Cleveland.

FINE MARKET IN GERMANY. California Dried Fruits Find Ready Sale

Here. Germany offers a fine market for California dried fruits, according to partment by Frank H. Mason, United States consul general at Frankfort-onthe-Main. Sun-dried California apricots, peaches and pears, he says, sell at retail in Frankfort and neighboring towns for 22 to 25 cents a pound and their use in Germany, even at those prices, is steadily increasing. Mr. Mason points out that there is a margin of 16 cents between the price the grower gets in California for each pound of this fruit and the price he an obtain in Germany, thus giving him a chance for large profits by shipping his sun-dried product abroad. The cost of the fruit, when landed at Hamburg or Bremen, freight and duty paid, would not exceed nine cents per pound, exclusive of packing and hand-

Aluminum has proved a failure in the Yarrow torpedo boat built about year ago for the French government. Water has so corroded the metal that it can be penetrated with slight pressure. M. Caterpillars in Winter.

In early autumn, the tent caterpillar moth lays a cluster of 200 or 300 eggs in a circle around the twigs of appl and other trees, and covers them with a glue-like secretion that protects them until they hatch in the following spring. In the bright days of winter, while the branches are bare, these clusters can be easily seen, and should be removed and destroyed.

TELEPHONES IN EUROPE. Not So Extensively Used as in the United States.

The world-wide reputation of the American, not only for inventiveness, but for the quick and ready adoption and use of all the appliances of practical science, is well sustained by the statistics recently published concern-ing the use of telephones. It appears, says the Youth's Companion, that in the number of their telephones the United States are far in advance of any of the European nations. We have some 636,000 telephones in use, while England and Germany together have probably about half that number, and it is said that they exceed all the rest of Europe combined.

But there are two small countries which, in proportion to their population, use more telephones tha other European nations. Switzerland. according to late statistics, has one telephone to every 147 inhabitants, and Sweden one to every 184, while in England and Germany there is only one telephone to every 260 inhabitants, A curious reason has been suggested for the extensive use of telephones in Sweden, namely, that they have proved particularly useful on account of the difficulties of locomotion there, and the great length of the winter nights, which tends to increase those difficulties and perhaps to inspire, like the twilight of more genial climes, a desire for closes human communion. The obstacles to locomotion in the Alps are thought to furnish a similar reason for the great development of the use of telephones in Switzerland, although the enormous influx of summer tourists is perhaps the most effective cause of their popularity in that country.

PARISIAN BOARDING HOUSE.

Landlady Who flas Made a Fortune Off of Americans.

Few American women can afford to pay hotel prices for long stays in Europe, but are forced to live in boarding houses when they are abroad, a thing at which they turn up their noses when they are at home. The pension prices in Paris range from seven to fifteen francs a day. It is well to give up the idea of getting into a "swell private family." Swell private families in Paris do not keep boarders. There is a swell pension, however, in Paris which has many well-known Americans under its roof all the time. Among others Duchess de la Rochefoucauld, when she was Miss Mattie Mitchell, of Oregon, lived there with her mother. This boarding house is near the Arc de Triomphe, and the landlady has made information furnished the state de- a fortune out of her American boarders; she says her daughter's dot is 200,000 francs. The food is not any too goodone gets rather too much veal therebut the cooking is excellent. There is another large pension in the Champs-Elysees quarter where rooms the size of a packing case are seven francs a day, more comfortable ones 12. Light, fuel, towels, etc., are extra. All the servants have to be tipped all the time, as the landlady pays them starvation wages. You will see at this pension at the table d'hote decayed Spanish grandees, Portuguese marquises, Greek diplomate, Belgian barons, queer French counts and queerer French countesses, South American heiresses, Persian generals and any number of American mammas and daughters. At this place the food is good and well cooked.

> NO INDIAN WARS IN CANADA. The United States Contrasted with the Dominion-A British View.

The great fact stands boldly that Canada has never fought the Indians, and she will not begin to do so now. Never has Canada had an Indian war: an Indian massacre is unknown in the annals of her history. She is too poor to seek glory by slaughtering the natives born of her soil and too proud to defame her character or stain her escutcheon. Contrast with this, says the Westminster Review, the policy of Jig Spangler's dog "Uno" and Mr. Hol- the United States, that is nearly always fighting its red men. Indian wars are very expensive matters to deal with. The small episode of last year, beginning with the Messiah craze and ending with the tragedy at Pine Ridge agency, covering but a few weeks, cost the United States government $2,000,-000, besides the lives lost, and in addition unsettled the natives through out the country. It is to the credit of the Canadian Indians that, although sorely tempted, the Messiah craze had no charms for them. There was in Canada, it is true, Riel's last rebellion, that cost Canada $7,000,000 and the lives of some of her noblest citizens. But that was not an Indian uprising. Nevertheless, it taught both the white men and the red men a lesson. It taught Canada that it would be cheaper to ration all the Indian tribes than to have another rebellion; and it taught the Indian the prowess of the authorities, and this was emphasized by the trips given the Indian chiefs to Ontario, where they beheld tokens of the power, wealth and glory of the white
