MARQUETTE, MICH., MARCH 7.

DULUTH'S new mayor, Henry Truelson, has been inducted into office and all the Duluth papers predict that he is going to make a great success of governing the city.

KNOWING that Speaker Reed desires an early adjournment of congress in order that he may have some time to look after his presidential campaign before the convention takes place, the members who want McKinley nominated are now playing to prolong the session, and it is declared that it cannot possibly come to an end before the first of July.

BABCOCK, the Wisconsin congressman, was not fired from the chairmanship of the national congressional committee of the Republican party after all, the McKinley men having either discovered that they could not muster votes enough to depose him or having concluded that it would be unwise to take that action.

A CONFERENCE of the mine owners and sales agents interested in standard Bessemer ores was held Wednesday of this week at the office of Pickands, Mather & Co., Cleveland, for the discussion of prices for 1896, but nothing definite was done to establish quotations for the season.

IF Mr. Scripps could read Pingree out of all the parties represented by his newspapers he would have the mayor on the hip. The Tribune could dispose of him so far as the Republican party is concerned, while the News, which advocates the doctrines of all the others in turn, would be able to prevent him from finding a political resting place in those remaining.

SENATOR THURSTON of Nebraska appeals to the Republicans of his state not to allow themselves to be beguiled into giving their delegation in the St. Louis convention to General Manderson, the Nebraska candidate for the presidency, the candidacy of the latter being, he says, only part of a scheme to defeat McKinley.

ONE of the Massachusetts congressmen very neatly stated the reason which influenced the delegation from that state to vote against suspension of the rules for the purpose of considering the house resolution in the Cuban matter the other day, when he said: "The initiative should come from the president and from the department of the government that can best arrive at a full knowledge of the facts."

On the invitation of Mayor Pingree of Detroit James E. Scripps has resigned as a member of the park board of that city. Simultaneously with his resignation his two papers, both daily, (the News and Tribune), have thrown off all pretense of neutrality in the gubernatorial contest and are now vindictively assailing the mayor's candidacy for the highest state office in the gift of the people of Michigan—the News with ridicule and misrepresentation and the Tribune by attacking his Republicanism.

BLISS AND BOODLE. The Detroit News calculates that it will cost Colonel Bliss a cool $100,000 to secure the Republican nomination for governor if his campaign throughout the state is conducted on the same plans of expenditure as he has inaugurated at Grand Rapids, where he has established his headquarters.

But we opine that Mr. Bliss has chosen the wrong year for that kind of a campaign. The people of Michigan have been having boodle campaigns, followed by high taxes, for several years, and as the people who pay the taxes get none of the cash dispensed in the political contests they are much disposed to go in this time for a man who will not seek to buy the governorship, in the hope that after he is elected the man who gets it will administer the office with some regard for economy and the interests of the masses.

Bliss can afford to squander money in politics if he chooses, for he has waxed exceedingly wealthy in the lumber and salt business, but the people cannot any more afford to let him buy the office of governor with his easily made thousands than that Grand Rapids reporter could to sell his integrity for one of the colonel's five-dollar bills.

PINGREE AND POTATOES. Pingree's plan of assisting the poor of his city to provide for themselves by procuring for them unused ground which they could cultivate is still commanding attention in other municipalities and winning fame for his originator. The Boston Transcript of Tuesday had this to say about it editorially:

There is good reason to believe that the "Pingree Potato Farm," which the mayor of Detroit has so successfully championed, will be more generally imitated the coming spring in other cities. When the plan first shaped itself, and opportunities were given to plant the various lots of that city it was soon demonstrated that the unemployed and poor were willing to work. About three thousand applications came in for plots of ground, but the committee could only guarantee that 945 families would be served.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

SPECIAL SUNDAY RATES TO MARQUETTE. Commencing Saturday September 28th, the D. S. S. & A. R. Y. will sell Sunday excursion tickets to Marquette and return from the stations named below at the following low fare:

and charge a small rental for their use, thus removing the taint of charity that some see in the present arrangement.

The "Pingree potato patch" is no longer an experiment, and its success for two years in Detroit will popularize it all over the country. It has been a success in this city, and will be more generally adopted the coming spring.

HEIR TO TURKEY'S THRONE. Interesting Gossip About the Sultan's Younger Brother.

Mr. Richard Davey, perhaps the ablest and best-informed correspondent in Constantinople, writes the following interesting royal gossip to the Westminster Gazette:

Sultan Abd-ul-Hamid II. has four living brothers. These princes are the deposed and insane Sultan Murad V., who is his majesty's senior by four years; Rehed Effendi, the heir-apparent, and two much younger brothers, War-ed-din Effendi and Suleiman Effendi. Prince Selim—or, as the Turks say, Selim Sultan—is the present sultan's eldest son, but he stands no chance of succeeding to the throne until his uncle's and the three sons of his eldest uncle, Murad V., are dead, because the succession in the Ottoman imperial family passes to the eldest survivor, and not from father to son, as with other European and eastern dynasties.

The People of Labrador. Labrador is not considered a desirable place in which to live, yet the people who live there seem to enjoy it. One of the advantages is that they do not have to pay rent. Most of the people own a summer house and a winter house. The summer house is on the coast. The people live in these houses from June to October. The good fishing season is during these months and this is the principal industry of the people. They catch, dry and sell the fish to traders and thus purchase their winter supplies.

Kindred Feeling. Conan Doyle, in a letter to the London Times, says that he returns from America with two controlling impressions from his visit here. One is the kindness with which individual Englishmen are received. The other is the frequent expression of bitter feeling in the press and in the community against England herself.

THROUGH RESERVATIONS Chicago to the Pacific Coast can be made. In addition, on and after the night of Wednesday, October 30, 1895, there will be run a Pullman Tourist Sleeper EVERY Wednesday Night.

CITY OF MEXICO Via New Orleans, by the Illinois Central and the Southern Pacific Railroads. Ticket RATES AS LOW AS BY ANY OTHER ROUTE.

PEARLS FOUND IN SCOTIA.

One from Aberdeenshire Said to Form One of the Queen's Jewels. One is so much accustomed to associate pearls with the eastern and gold with the southern and western countries of the world, that the discovery of pearls in Scotland and gold in Wales seems somewhat opposed to the order of things.

But the pearls of Scotland have quite a different history. For centuries pearls have been found in the river Ythan, in Aberdeenshire, and only last year an Aberdeen man made some notable hauls, which he disposed of to jewelers of the northern towns. It was recently stated in a London paper that a pearl taken from the river Ythan is believed to form one of the queen's crown jewels. It is to be hoped that the belief is well-founded, for in that case it may be reasonably claimed that the precious stone in question is the only one contributed by the British islands, a thought calculated to gratify our national pride, for Scotland might be worse represented than by a pearl in the national regalia.

A story is told of an Aberdeenshire farmer who found a very large and perfect pearl in the shell of a mussel taken from the Ythan. Happening to visit London some time afterward, he displayed his treasure to a West End jeweler, who, struck with the size and beauty of the gem, asked the price. The farmer demanded what possibly he regarded as a big price, viz., £100. Now, this was in the days when Scotland had her own coinage, and a pound (Scots) was equivalent to 18s, so that the £100 he asked would only have represented £8 6s 8d English money.

His surprise and delight may be imagined, therefore, when he received for his pearl £100 sterling. It is doubtful, however, whether the English jeweler would have shared these feelings had he known the exact meaning of the "hunner pun" demanded by the owner of the pearl. However, he had no occasion to complain, for he is said to have sold the gem subsequently at a large profit.

BRITISH GUNS.

They Are Capable of Raining Steel Upon a Coast Town. The following startling statements were made recently by one of the most important military officers in New York city:

"One British warship, which is among those which Great Britain would put in service in case of war, could throw more than 22,000 shells into the fortifications of her foes in four minutes. The public in general imagines that rapid-fire guns are Gatlings or Maxims, or other forms of very small caliber automatic guns. These are really machine guns. Rapid-fire guns carry projectiles varying in weight from three pounds to the 280-pound shell, carried by the six-inch breech loading rifle. They are designated as 'rapid fire' on account of the facility with which they may be handled.

"As to the destructive power of the projectiles, it needs only to be stated that the six-inch guns will penetrate 14 inches of armor, and the three-pounders four inches. These rifles throw all explosive shells, and such a rain of destructive missiles as one of these ships could hurl upon a fortress or a city would render it impossible for garrisons to work their guns, unless they were thoroughly well protected, which ours are not.

"With a 12-inch, 45-ton rifle on board the Colossus four shots were fired within three minutes during recent trials, and three hits out of four shots were scored. On the Thunderer a ten-inch rifle was used, loaded and fired by hand, without the use of the hydraulic machinery which usually facilitates this work. It was found that one projectile could be fired every two minutes and ten seconds.

"The Trafalgar's great 13-inch, 67-ton rifle discharged four perfectly directed shells in nine minutes and seven seconds, and the monster 16 1/2, 110-ton gun on board the same ship presented its compliments in the shape of a ton of steel once in every two minutes. These are things worth thinking about."—N. Y. Journal.

ROOM FOR REFORM, HE THINKS. Rev. Mr. Hicks Would Apply Roosevelt Methods in Houghton.

On Sunday last Rev. W. C. Hicks, pastor of Grace M. E. church, preached on "Religion in Houghton." He characterized the town as one of the hardest places in the country in which to do evangelistic work, and ascribed as the cause for this state of affairs the indifference of the public to religious matters, the worldliness of the town's social leaders and the keeping open of the postoffice on Sunday nights.

So strongly has the pastor considered the last named cause as an obstacle to religious work that this week he has personally gone around among the business men, urging them to join in an effort to have the postoffice closed on Sunday night. It is probable that a petition to this effect will be circulated soon, though with what degree of success it would be difficult to say.

RESCUED IN THE NICK OF TIME. Two Portage Entry Boys Break Through the Ice While Skating.

On Wednesday afternoon Peter and Alfred Dync, two brothers residing at Portage Entry, were skating on the lake just opposite Carlson's dock when the ice gave way, precipitating both lads into the water. The accident was witnessed by the little four-year-old son of Leander Singo, who at once rushed into the house and told his mother what had occurred. In a moment help was summoned and willing hands threw out a rope to the two boys struggling in the icy water. Peter, the elder, was nearly gone and was sinking for the last time when his younger brother Alfred grasped him and, supporting him with one hand, managed to get hold of the rope with the other and wind it around both of them. In this manner they were hauled into safety.

Y. M. C. A. Notes. The next attraction in the Y. M. C. A. course will be the appearance at Hancock Thursday night, March 19, of Byron W. King, the famous "teacher, reader, lecturer, actor, author, student and scholar," as he is advertised.

Mr. King is really a man of more than usual ability in his line and has received the most flattering press notices from leading dailies in all parts of the country. He will be followed by ex-Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas, whose lecture on March 20 will close the course.

At the Y. M. C. A. at Hancock Sunday afternoon Rev. John Sweet, the presiding elder of the M. E. conference, will probably address the men's afternoon meeting. Mr. Sweet is to deliver a lecture at the Pewabic church this evening on "Father Matthews," and tomorrow morning will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. church. This is the quarterly conference of the church, so in the afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Sweet will also administer the holy sacrament.

The Hancock Y. M. C. A. membership contest will close at 6 o'clock tonight, at which time the scores will be counted. The ladies auxiliary contest will also close at the same time. On Tuesday night a grand banquet will wind up the contest in a blaze of glory. It is likely that between six and seven hundred people will sit down to the tables in the association's rooms.

C. A. Stringer of Hancock returned home from Kalamazoo last night, where he had been presiding over the state Y. M. C. A. convention. Mr. Stringer will probably address the local Y. M. C. A. association briefly tomorrow on what was done there.

Examinations Today. G. W. Leadley, a civil service examiner from Washington, D. C., arrived at Calumet yesterday and will take charge of the examinations which open at the opera house there this morning at 9 o'clock.

The examination will probably last until noon. The branches in which applicants for the positions of carriers and clerks will be examined are orthography, penmanship, copy-writing, letter-writing, geography, delivery and card reading. The last two subjects are the most important to carriers and the drill in them will be especially thorough.

Out of the forty-nine applicants to be examined but ten can obtain places at the present time—seven carriers and three substitutes. The others, however, who receive meritorious standing will be given positions as soon as vacant in the order of their standing.

The Manitou to Visit Copperdom. Mr. Nathan Leopold, of the Austrian & Leopold steamer line, told THE MINING JOURNAL representative yesterday that the steamer Manitou, one of the largest and most magnificently equipped passenger boats on the lakes, would make a trip to the copper country this summer to give the people of this section an opportunity to see a vessel about which a great deal has been said ever since it was built. The steamer will leave Chicago about the 10th of June with an excursion party on board directly under the supervision of Mr. Leopold. It will remain here about twenty-four hours and then go on up to the head of the lake. The boat's regular run is between Chicago and Mackinaw three times a week.

Created Wide-Spread Interest. The bit of history pertaining to the origin of the K. P. order and the writing of its ritual which was published in Tuesday's edition of THE MINING JOURNAL has created wide-spread interest throughout the country, the article

"HUNGRY JACK."

Inglorious Rout of the Terror of the Staked Plains. Hungry Jack, the daring Indian scout, stood on the back of his faithful steed and swept the broad plains with his eagle eyes. He was clad in the fringed buckskin dress of the dime museum hero, his exuberant hair fell in tangled masses down his back and was saucily toyed with by the frolicking breezes, which, on that barren plain, could find nothing else to play with.

Dismounting, he placed one ear to the sandy earth and listened intently for quite a few moments. Not a sound was in sight. Being thus assured that no painted foemen were lurking near with covetous eyes glued upon his luxuriant scalp, he grew brave and recklessly bit off a chew of navy plug, jumped up and cracked his spurred heels together, and, addressing his horse, which stood eying him suspiciously, said:

"Bagobones, I'm the terror o' the trail! I'm the howlin' hurricane o' the Estacados, an' I'm famishin' fur blood! W'en Hungry Jack fetches a yell the red niggers burrow in the sand to get outen his sight, an' the wolves an' catamounts shake their claws off with keer. Whoop! Did you feel the airth tremble an' see the fringes fly from that cloud up thar at the sound o' my voice? I'm hungry, Bagobones, an' I want some Injun liver to satisfy my stummick!"

The horse bowed as an indication that he would like to have something to eat himself, and the fearless scout continued:

"Whar's the copper-pated imp o' Satan that kin make Hungry Jack weaken an' hit the back trail? Whar is the saffron-hided nigger that kin do him up in a squar' han'-to-han' scrimmage with only a cayote fur referee?" The horse shook his head as if to say he gave it up.

Seating himself upon a low mound the daring scout pulled a black bottle from the bosom of his buckskin shirt and took another drink. "I'm the howlin' hyena o' the hills!" he yelled as soon as he could catch his breath. "Whar is the fresco-faced cur that kin make Hungry Jack light out fur the eternal hills! Whar is the bug-eyed brother o' Belybub that kin cause him to make tracks from the slippery field o' car-r-r-r-nage? Whar is the—the—the!"

But the next conundrum had for the moment escaped him. Then a tremor of pain shook his stalwart frame, he moved uneasily in his seat, and a moment later, with an ear-shattering shriek of terror, he sprang to his feet, clasped his hands behind his abdomen and fled precipitately from the spot. He had been sitting on a hornet's nest!—N. Y. World.

FOR COOKING CEREALS. Rules by Which the Best Results May Be Obtained.

The following rules for cooking cereals will be found correct in the quantity of liquid and the amount of time. Water may be employed, but many cereals are better for the addition of a cup of milk to every three cups of water. Some cereals, however, are better cooked in water alone:

Pearl Wheat.—Four cups of water and two of milk, with from one to one-half cup of wheat; an even teaspoonful of salt. Pearl Barley.—The same. Coarse Hominy or Samp.—Six cups of water and a tablespoonful of salt to two cups of hominy, soaked over night. Add water as fast as it boils away, keeping the hominy an inch under water for nine hours while it is cooking. Let it cook dry for another hour. Two cups of dry hominy make three quarts when properly cooked.

Fine Hominy.—Six cups of water and one teaspoonful of salt to one scant cup of fine hominy. Cook steadily for one hour. It should be thick enough to pour when taken off the stove.

Coarse Oatmeal or Groats.—This is the entire kernel of the oats. It is used more in Ireland than in Scotland, and is sometimes called "Irish" oatmeal. To four cups of water add one cup of "groats" and a teaspoonful of salt. Cook in a double boiler for six hours, add a cup of hot milk and cook one hour longer.

Fine Oatmeal or Scotch Meal.—To one cup of milk and four of water add one cup of oatmeal and a teaspoonful of salt. Cook for two hours in a double boiler or earthen pipkin.

Crushed Wheat.—Cook exactly the same way as oatmeal. Rice.—Six cups of water, one of rice and one teaspoonful of salt. Cook rapidly 17 minutes; then drain and steam for ten minutes longer.

Indian Meal Mush.—Gradually pour six cups of boiling water on one cup of Indian meal. Stir to prevent lumps forming. Add a teaspoonful of salt and cook slowly for two hours.

Farina.—Use six cups of milk and water in equal parts for one cup of farina and a teaspoonful of salt. Cook in a double boiler for one hour.

All these preparations except rice and large hominy are best mixed to a paste in cold water, then put in the boiling liquid and boiled rapidly for five minutes, stirring all the time. After this they should be transferred to a double "Puritan kettle" and left to slowly work out their own perfection. They are all improved by being cooked the night before and left to cool on the back of the range and in the morning heated up rapidly for breakfast. This process lightens them.—N. Y. Tribune.

STATEMENT FROM CASTILLO

Spain Will Do Everything Possible to Preserve Friendly Relations With United States.

THE SITUATION IS ONE OF EXTREME DELICACY.

Demonstrations Hostile to United States Will Be Promptly Quelled and Promoters Sent to Prison—The Policy as to Cuba.

AS TOLD BY PRIME MINISTER.

New York, March 6.—The World will print tomorrow the following authentic statement of the policy of Spain as to Cuba and congress from Prime Minister Castillo. It is accompanied by a personal message to Joseph Pulitzer from the president of the council of state at Madrid, authorizing its publication. The statement is as follows:

"Madrid, March 6.—We have as yet no official notification of the intentions of the American government and cannot, therefore, take cognizance of, or protest by note against, any proceedings of the senate and the house of representatives of the United States. We have taken no official notice whatever of the proceedings and speeches in Washington the past week, nor have we sounded the European powers or courts regarding their support, and Minister Taylor can testify that we have endeavored to enforce respect for the American legation and consulates, repressing so sternly the disturbances that we ordered the Madrid, Granada, Barcelona and Valencia universities closed, and we will close all universities, schools and establishments where the students dare to make demonstrations hostile to the United States.

"We will send to prison all the authors and promoters of such disturbances. We believe they were prompted by advanced republicans. Nothing will be omitted on our side to show our desire to preserve cordial relations with America. I am convinced we possess sufficient means to quell any hostile demonstrations. The government regrets and has made all amends possible for the manifestation already made at Washington naturally excited among every loyal people of Spain. The situation is now one of extreme delicacy. Indeed, I cannot define how far it will be possible for the government of Spain to permit the amicable and careful mediation of a foreign power, however honorable and disinterested it may be, without incurring the grave risk of being accused of submitting to outside interference, pressure and dictation in the midst of civil war.

"The United States is a great power and until it recognizes the object and encourages the aims of the insurgents in Cuba, it is friendly to Spain. After recognition of the belligerents in Cuba by the United States it would be impossible for the government of Spain to accept the good offices of President Cleveland or permit any interference whatever. Nevertheless, I still hope that some means will be found by the president to avoid among the friendly relations with the United States which Spain has shown this week she prizes highly. I am fully alive to the significance and the possible consequences of the vote of the United States congress to the rebels, as well as Spain in her relations with the United States, and especially in connection with the right of search on the high seas and in the matter of privateers and filibustering expeditions.

"The only new and seemingly warlike preparations yet made by Spain are made simply with a view to equipping a fleet of warships and trans-Atlantic steamers to chase filibusters and guard the coasts of Cuba. That is the sole object in view. General Weyler having said he has enough troops, only the usual relief will be sent to Cuba until autumn and no naval demonstration is contemplated. The elections will not interfere with the action of the government, as it intends to conduct them in a tolerant spirit for all parties, a fair representation being arranged for even the West Indian constituencies. Besides, in every imperial and international question the Spaniards have always shown a patriotic spirit.

"The misapprehension concerning General Weyler's character and methods as a soldier originated in a misstatement of facts in his career and his assignments and instructions. Both in Cuba twenty years and in the Philippine islands since then, General Weyler had only carried out the orders of his chiefs. Before he left for Cuba the last time I saw and spoke to him and approved his views. Consequently, he has simply acted in harmony with the requirements of this war, in which the insurgents have not only set at defiance the rules of civilized warfare, but have violated the provisions of the treaty of 1877 respecting the lives and property of all real and alleged American citizens in Cuba.

"I have determined to carry out the administrative and political reforms already voted by the cortes as soon as the pacification of the island permits, and even such economical tariff reforms as may be inconsistent with the interests of both colony and mother country. But it is impossible to attempt reforms during civil war or under any foreign pressure in the present condition of the island. When General Campos was sent to Cuba as governor-general the government would certainly have allowed him to institute reforms, if he had deemed them advisable. But he soon discovered that it was impossible to do so.

"We cannot admit that the slightest ground exists for the recognition of the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents, whose so-called president—the Marquis Santa Lucia—and members of his executive council are nomads—like rebel bands, ever on the move. For instance, they were nearly surprised and captured this week by a Spanish column in the province of Las Villas. Canovas del Castillo."

MADRID, March 6.—There have been renewed demonstrations of hostility to the United States today at Valencia, Demores and Alicante. There was also a demonstration of sympathy made before the French consulate at Valencia. The French consul appeared upon the balcony in response to the acclamations from the crowd and saluted them.

The news from the United States of the insults offered to the Spanish flag by students of Princeton University produced the greatest indignation in this city.

ORDER FOR LEASE GRANTED.

Wisconsin Central to Use Northern Pacific Tracks at St. Paul.

MILWAUKEE, March 6.—Judge Jenkins today authorized Receivers Bigelow and McHenry to execute a lease with the receivers for the Wisconsin Central line for the right to use the terminal tracks and facilities enjoyed by the Northern Pacific company under lease from the St. Paul & Northern Pacific. The latter company owns and controls terminals in St. Paul. By the terms of the lease the Wisconsin Central binds itself to pay as rental a sum equal to one twelfth of the annual interest on the value of the terminal property, reckoned at 6 per cent. The value of the property is fixed at $437,279. The Wisconsin Central is also obliged to pay its share, proportionately, of the expenses, repair and maintenance of the property.

Sage Must Put Up the Coin.

New York, March 6.—The appellate division of the supreme court has affirmed the judgment for $40,000 obtained against Russell Sage by William R. Laidlaw for injuries sustained by the latter in the bomb explosion in Sage's office several years ago. Court also allowed Laidlaw $3,000 for counsel fees and costs.

DEATH IN BURNING BUILDING

G. H. Oldhouse, Wife and Five Children Perish in Their Home Near Alma, Wis.

DIED IN THEIR BEDS FROM SUFFOCATION.

Fire Is Thought to Have Originated from Lamp Usually Left Burning All Night—Robbery and Arson Also Rumored.

SEVEN LIVES ARE SNUFFED OUT

ALMA, Wis., March 6.—The house of G. H. Oldhouse, five miles from here, burned last night. The entire family—Mr. and Mrs. Oldhouse and five children—was burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have originated from a lamp which they had been in the habit of burning all night. There is some talk that the fire was caused by robbers who might have set fire to the house to cover their tracks after murdering the family for their money, amounting to $500, which Oldhouse was known to have had in the house. As some money has already been found in the ruins, this theory does not appear probable. From the position in which the bodies were found, all except Oldhouse died in their beds from suffocation. The father's body was found near the window in the room adjoining the bedroom.

WEEKLY TRADE RESUME.

The Business Situation as Found by R. G. Dun & Co.

New York, March 6.—The Cuban resolutions and the appointment of receivers for the Baltimore & Ohio were events of sufficient importance to affect almost any genuine market, especially for securities. It therefore argues either a remarkable strength of conditions or an entire want of life and genuineness in the market that the prices of sixty of the most active railroad stocks, which averaged $49.74 per share on Feb. 1, have never fallen since that date lower than $49.36, nor risen above $50.85 per share.

The industries all report a slightly lower range of prices, except for iron and steel products, and it is noteworthy that while the combinations in structural beams and wire and cut nails are advancing prices, the quotations for Bessemer pig have fallen to $13.40 at Pittsburgh and southern No. 2 is offered at $7.75, delivered at Birmingham, and billets are sold at $17 at Pittsburgh. The bar combination, which raised prices not long ago, finds an increasing part of the business absorbed by outside works. The demand for no class of iron products is at this time brisk, but the latter in the domestic market is expected in the spring and there is still much hopefulness about railroad orders, as earnings continue to improve.

The prices of wool declined, according to quotations by Coates Bros. of Philadelphia, an average of 2.4 per cent. within the month of February, presumably because of the failure of the proposed tariff bill, which includes duties on wool. At present the sales are the smallest recorded for years. There is no improvement whatever in the demand for woolen goods and a number of establishments have closed, or reduced the working force.

There is also a retarding effect from the further reductions that have been made in the prices of cotton goods, although it does not appear that the concessions have thus far been successful in calling out new business. Reports are frequent that many of the largest mills are about to stop production for a time, in order to give the market an opportunity to clear itself.

Speculation in breadstuffs has not been particularly active, nor has the change in prices been important. The failures in the United States for the week were 285 against 234 for the corresponding week of last year.

New York, March 6.—A statement compiled by Bradstreet's shows the total bank clearings of the principal cities of the United States the past week to have been $1,061,846,907, an increase of 5.7 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

A BIG CONCEALMENT GOES UNDER.

Talmage & Son of New York, Largest Rice House in Country.

New York, March 6.—Dan Talmage & Son, the largest house in the rice trade in the United States, made an assignment today to J. Gilla, with preferences for $14,459. The creditors of the concern number about seventy. Counsel for the assignee says: "The direct cause of the failure was the inability of the firm to secure ready money promptly to meet some maturing obligations. The schedules are now being made up, but at present it is impossible to give even an approximate statement of the actual liabilities and assets. The firm has real estate which, if disposed of at forced sale, would net 25 per cent. of its value." The firm, consisted of John F. and Dan Talmage. It had branches at Savannah, Charleston and New Orleans. It did a large commission business, and at times held large quantities of rice to be sold on the account of the Japanese government.

Yale Will Participate.

New York, Conn., March 6.—The students of Yale University tonight by the decisive vote 460 to 16 decided in favor of allowing a crew to go to England to take part in the Healey regatta in June.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

DETROIT, March 6.—It took but one ballot by the jury in the trial of Mrs. Alice B. Lane to convict that person of manslaughter this afternoon. Mrs. Lane was charged, jointly with Dr. J. Seaman, with the responsibility for the death of Emily J. Hall, the girl who was brought here for treatment from Birmingham, England, by her pastor, Rev. Jonathan Bell, with whom she had been unduly intimate. Mrs. Lane was the proprietor of the lying-in hospital in which Miss Hall died. Dr. Seaman, who attended her, was recently sentenced to ten years in the state prison for manslaughter. Mrs. Lane has not yet been sentenced.

Pattison Declines to Talk. PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—When asked today whether or not he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency ex-Governor E. Pattison replied: "I appreciate greatly the compliment which has been accorded me by the mention of my name in connection with the nomination for the presidency by resolutions of recent gatherings of the Democracy in Pennsylvania, but I must decline at this time to discuss the question."

Steerage Rates Increased. New York, March 6.—The trans-Atlantic steamship companies have increased their rates for third class steerage prepaid tickets. The German lines have fixed the new rate at $36.50 from Bremen to Hamburg. The other lines, are in proportion and depend entirely on the port of embarkation. These are the highest figures ever reached, veteran steamship men say. The increase in German lines is more than $4.

Scalded by Steam.

CHICAGO, March 6.—By the bursting of an elbow on a small boiler in the building occupied by the Troy Laundry Machinery company this afternoon E. W. Graff was fatally burned, dying within an hour, and Theodore Hubbard was so badly injured that his recovery is very doubtful. Eight other men who were working in the basement were also severely burned, but none of them will die.

—"Why did you break off your engagement with Miss Bertha?" "Because her parrot was always saying: 'Stop that, George.'" "But what difference did that make? Your engagement was not a secret." But my name is not George."—Fliegende Blatter.

—"So you kin be coaxed but not druv, kin yo'?" said Uncle Mose to the young yellow man who had just declared himself. "My ole marster had a mule ob dat kind, an' when de ole man died dat beast brought jis' seven dollars, w'en odder mules was sellin' fer 200.'"—Indianapolis Journal.

—Mrs. Nuovo Reesh—"She called me a bar maid, and I flew at her and pulled her hair." Mrs. Toploffy—"Oh, how terrible! Still even that didn't justify you in fighting her." Mrs. Nuovo Reesh—"Yes, but if you had ever been a bar maid, you would understand how mad it made me."—Pick-Me-Up.

Dining-Room Decorations.

One of the prettiest decorations for dining-room walls in houses of moderate price is pottery and brasses in the form of plaques, jugs, beer mugs and other articles of fine shape or color. Such articles need not be expensive bits of china that it would break one's heart to see if they came to grief. Such things make a charming over-mantel decoration, covering the entire space to the ceiling. If they are to be truly enjoyed, however, they must be securely placed, and are not recommended to the woman who is her own maid.—N. Y. Post.

A HOUSEHOLD TREASURE.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dyeman, Druggist, Canajoharie, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at E. Farnham's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00."

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.

"Mythic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75 cents. Sold by Frank Pendill, Druggist, Marquette.

TOOK THE WHIP HAND.

Bismarck's Physician Would Not Yield to the Old Man's Humors.

Von Paschinger's work on Prince Bismarck, which has just appeared, contains several hitherto unpublished anecdotes. One of these relates how Dr. Schweningen became the chancellor's private physician and subjugated the great man to his will. Dr. Schweningen, who was indebted to Herr Doetz, deputy, for his introduction to Bismarck's household, recognized the strong temperament with which he had to deal, and resolved to assume the whip hand at the very outset. Three days after his advent the chancellor fell ill. The doctor forbade him to partake of a certain dish of which he was particularly fond. Bismarck rebelled, and had it placed before him, notwithstanding. Hearing of what had been done Dr. Schweningen entered the room, took the dish forcibly from the patient's hands, and flung it out of the window. The man of iron perceived that he had met his match and was ever afterward the most docile of patients under Dr. Schweningen's hands.

Vegetarians Use Freshly Names.

Vegetarian restaurants are by degrees giving up the use of such titles for their dishes as convey the idea of a meat diet, but they still find the word "steak" indispensable. Otherwise their bill of fare is much improved and of a more inviting character than it used to be. "Indian broth" reads well on a cold December day, and "braised onion with tomatoes" appeals to many. But what is "vegetable turkey?"

It seems to be rather a confession of weakness to be dependent on the animal world for names wherewith to invest the various preparations of vegetables, cereals and fruits. To America they owe many forms of succulent and tempting food, such as fried corn, maize with plums, and pineapple pudding made from the tinned fruit. The use of cheese, forbidden by some of the strictest followers of vegetarianism, enables the caterer to offer such savory dishes as Welsh rarebit, cheese fritters and custards, and the oysters that are omitted are of the most savory and appetizing description.—London News.

—Quintillian laid down certain rules for the wearing of rings. He protested against the use of too many, and said that it was not in good taste to wear rings below the middle joint of the finger.

If you eat what you like, and digest it, you will surely be strong and healthy.

—If you don't digest it, you might almost as well not eat, for what good can your food do you if it doesn't nourish you? If you find that you can't digest it, there is a simple help for your stomach. It is Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon. It has never failed to cure the worst case of indigestion. Strength and health come from the food you eat, after it has been digested and has gone into the blood.

HANGMAN'S ROPE TOO LONG.

Expedient of the Texas Sheriff to Overcome the Difficulty.
"Hangings?" said the man from Texas, "talk about hangings—there's no country in the world that can beat the borders of the Rio Grande for neck pullin'. Capital punishment out there is as common as pig tracks. They look on a hanging out there like every other habit of life, and it don't make no more excitement than a man getting drunk does in Atlanta. The people go 'long and mind their business and wouldn't step out of their path to see a man swung up. The first year I was out there the population decreased so rapidly on account of hangin's that half the farms were left uncultivated. The first day I got there a little rope party was on deck. I made up my mind to see it, as I always had a curiosity about such things, and I saddled my mule and rode over to a little settlement where they said the feller would be strung up. It was the quietest place I ever saw. I expected to see the people comin' in from miles about, but the place looked as dead as a door nail, and I was makin' up my mind that the thing was off an' turned to ride away, when I see a feller with a slouch hat on an' a big key in his hand comin' down the road. I asked him 'bout the hangin', and when it was goin' to be.
"Soon as I can git to the jailhouse," sez he.
"Can I witness it?" sez I.
"In course yer can," sez he, peerin' at me curious like.
"An' I won't have to get no special permit from the court?" sez I.
"Court be darned. I'm the ruler of this ranch. Can't you tell a sheriff when you meets one on the road?"
"It was all right then, so I jes' tied my mule an' followed 'long behind. We went by one or two houses an' the people looked at me kinder pitiful like, an' I heard one feller say I had a long neck for a noose. They thought the sheriff was goin' to swing me up.
"That jail was the funnest place I ever seed. It didn't have but two rooms, an' they didn't have no windows. The gallows was out to one side in a grove of live oaks. I went out there an' took my seat 'gainst one of those trees. It was as still as death. There warn't nobody to be seen nowhere. The wind blowed kinder mournful 'bout the gullows an' flopped the rope ag'inst the sides. I staid there about ten minutes an' was about to give up the game when the door opened an' the sheriff comes out leadin' a pale, lean lookin' individual with a big rope tied about his hands. Another man that said he was the jail keeper an' the sheriff's deputy came on behind. They told the po' mortal to git on the scaffold. He got up there tremblin' an' quiverin', an' pale as a sheet.
"Got anything to say?" says the sheriff.
"The prisoner shook his head.
"Want to make any confession?" the sheriff said agin.
"But the prisoner didn't say anything an' jes' shook his head.
"Want to say yer prayers?" said the sheriff said agin.
"The man kept on shakin' his head.
"Then the sheriff told the deputy to come up, an' they tied a towel about the man's eyes.
"Commend your soul," said the sheriff. "Let her go, Bill!"
"The trigger was knocked out, but, by holy thunder, when the man shot down his feet touched the ground an' he stood there kinder tiptoe-like, jumpin' an' jerkin'. I almost fainted, but that sheriff stood there an' didn't move.
"Bill," sez he, bitin' off a chaw of tobacco, "go up to the house an' git a shovel."
"I didn't wait to hear no more. I got on my mule an' went back home as fast as I could. That country 'bout the Rio Grande is the blamdest country for hangin's I ever seed."—Atlanta Constitution.

Paine's Celery Compound the Best Spring Remedy Today in All the World.

It Purifies the Blood as Nothing Else Can Do---It is Food for the Tired Brain---It Makes Strong Nerves!

Publicly Recommended as No Remedy of Any Kind Ever Was Before by Thousands Whom It Has Made Well.

Endorsed and Prescribed by the Ablest Physicians in Every City in America.

Where every other remedy has failed Paine's celery compound has made people well!
It cures disease! It has saved the lives of thousands of sufferers. It has made the weak strong.
Paine's celery compound purifies the blood as nothing else can do; it is nature's brain food; it builds up shattered nerves; it is preeminently the one great health-maker known to medicine.
First discovered after laborious, studious, scientific research by the ablest physician America has produced, Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, it is prescribed and publicly endorsed by the best practitioners in every city of America. It has been so enthusiastically recommended by grateful men and women in every walk of life that it is today in every sense the most popular remedy in the world.
It has proven itself so easily the greatest of all spring medicines, making the weak strong and the infirm well, that in the big cities, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis and the rest, the leading newspapers, making their own canvasses again this year, have found that the demand for Paine's celery compound as far surpasses that of all other remedies as the curative power of this great compound surpasses that of all others together!
Paine's celery compound, taken during the early spring days, has even more than its usual remarkable efficacy in making people well. It makes short work of all diseases of debility and nervous exhaustion. It rapidly drives out neuralgia, sleeplessness, dyspepsia and rheumatism from the system. It removes that lassitude, or "tired feeling," which betokens weakened nerves and poor blood.
Overworked and tired women are but one class of persons who are in urgent need of this wonderful remedy to make and keep them well. Business men who are not sleeping soundly, shop girls made pale and sickly by long hours of indoor work, and the countless sufferers from dyspepsia, kidney and liver trouble, need the invigorating effect of Paine's celery compound now that spring, with all its dangers, is at hand. Its preeminence as a health-maker comes from its extraordinary powers of supplying appropriate nutriment to the blood, nerves and brain.
Just as the great lawyer studies each one of his cases till he knows it on every side and in every possible aspect, so Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, the discoverer of Paine's celery compound, has studied the nerves in health and disease, when well nourished and when under-nourished, in men and women and children years before he looked for the remedy. Paine's celery compound was the outcome of his entire professional life. A fitting memorial to a life of hard study and close observation—a remedy that the world could not lose today at any price!
The advantage of the remarkable power of this greatest of all remedies for restoring vigor to the blood and strength to the nervous system. In these first days of spring one has every chance for getting well. Don't neglect it.
Paine's celery compound calms and equalizes all the nervous tissues and induces the body to take on solid flesh. It purifies the blood, as is so clearly shown by the rapid clearing of the skin of all evidences of bad humors within. It is an infallible relief for salt rheum, eczema and all blood diseases.
Physicians recognize Paine's celery compound as the one scientific spring remedy, and it is universally prescribed by them wherever there is great need of a vigorous and prompt restoring of health and strength to the worn-out system.

CHARMING GRANDMAS.

When They Are Youthful and Interesting They Object to the Title.
It is with rather a comical feeling of mixed pleasure and dismay that an up-to-date woman of the period finds herself a grandmother, and it is safe to say that, in most instances, the dismay rather preponderates, as the tiny scrap of humanity placed in her arms causes her to realize that she is entitled to that venerable title which she has always associated with old age and more or less decrepitude. As many of the grandmothers of our day are charming women, still in the zenith of their good looks and power of attraction, it is hardly to be wondered at that they should dislike a name that is not even pretty or loving, and that they should teach their children's children to call them by some more attractive title, so that nowadays the name "grandamma" is seldom heard.
"Bonnemamma" is the pretty French adaptation which is often used, and "granny" is also in vogue. "O' mütterchen" is the caressing diminutive used by a little girl who has a German nurse and the most beautiful and devoted of grandmothers. "Madre mia" is another pretty title, taken from the Italian, which serves in another instance to distinguish a still youthful grandparent from the parent. "Gan" is the tiny name which one little maid bestowed upon her charming grandmamma.—Chicago Inter Ocean.
Vivisection at Harvard.
Tender-hearted Bostonians became so excited over vivisection a short time ago that the professors in the Harvard medical school issued a statement of what sort of vivisection was practiced under their supervision, what its uses was and how it affected the dumb creatures most intimately concerned. The report was not satisfactory, however.—N. Y. Sun.
—We should be careful to deserve a good reputation by doing well; and when that care is once taken not to be too over-anxious about the success.—Rochester.

Ishpeming and Vicinity.

VETERAN OFFICER HONORED.

President James Clancey of the A. O. H. Presented With a Watch Charm.
At the regular meeting of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians of Ishpeming, held this week, James Clancey, who has been president of the organization for five years prior to his present term, was presented with a handsome watch charm, valued at $30. The presentation speech was made by State Secretary Matthew Dennison. Mr. Clancey was greatly surprised, as well as somewhat embarrassed, when he was handed the beautiful token, but despite this he responded admirably, thanking the members for the gift. A monogram of the order is neatly displayed on the front of the charm and on the back there is an appropriate inscription in raised gold.

Among the business transacted at the meeting was the selection of two delegates—Joseph Kennedy and Patrick Cronin—to attend the state convention of the order on the 16th of June at Jackson. All the divisions of the society in the upper peninsula have petitioned the state officers to hold the state convention at Detroit in July, as the national convention of the order will be held there. The delegates to the state convention would be greatly pleased to attend the national convention, as the meeting promises to be one of the grandest of its kind ever held in Michigan. It is thought there will not be less than 10,000 military men in the parade to take place there. The Hibernian rifles of Hancock and Calumet will be in attendance and it is not improbable that the Emmett Guards of Ishpeming will be represented.

The members of the local division have abandoned the idea of holding a county reunion here on St. Patrick's day, a week from next Tuesday. The day will be observed, however, in an appropriate way. The members of the society, together with the Emmett Guards, forty strong, will attend services at St. John's church at 10 o'clock a. m. At the conclusion of the services a parade through the principal streets of the city will take place. In the evening an entertainment will be given for the benefit of the Emmett Guards. The Ishpeming division of the Hibernians is in a flourishing condition. The amount of cash on hand is $1,200 and there are now 190 members in good standing on the roll, with more being added almost at every meeting.

NOTED TEMPERANCE LECTURER.

Hon. John G. Woolley Will be in Ishpeming Next Week.

The citizens of Ishpeming will have an opportunity on the evening of the 12th inst. to hear one of America's greatest statesmen, the Hon. John G. Woolley. He is an orator of wonderful power, a genuine patriot, prohibition's foremost worker and its most popular agitator, although party is a secondary matter with him so long as the temperance cause is advanced. Much has been said of Mr. Woolley's life, his success, his fall through drink, his conversion and his devotion to the cause in which he is now working. Mr. Woolley is said to be one of the possibilities for presidential honors in the forthcoming campaign.

He has been secured at great expense to deliver his lectures in Ishpeming and Marquette. The local organization under whose auspices he will appear here is desirous of having a large turnout to hear him. The lecture will be given at the Division street Methodist church. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

Sunday Services.

Rev. V. K. Beshtetor of Newberry will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. He will talk on America and its suffering people. A collection will be taken up for the cause. All will be made welcome. At the morning services the pastor will preach a special sermon. His subject will be "Is the Christian Religion Philosophical?"

At Grace Episcopal church the services tomorrow will be as follows: Holy communion at 8 o'clock; morning prayer, litany and sermon at 10:30; Sunday school and bible class at 12 m.; evening prayer and sermon at 7 o'clock. The Rev. C. E. Curzon, rector of the Episcopal church at Houghton, will exchange pulpits with the Rev. T. Cory Thomas. The Lenten services at Grace church the coming week will be as follows: Daily services at 4:15 and 7:30. Wednesday afternoon the rector will address the children of the parish and on Friday evening the special weekly Lenten sermon will be preached.

At Calvary Baptist church tomorrow morning the pastor's subject will be "Is Life Worth Living." In the evening the Rev. F. A. Holtzhausen of Marquette will preach on the theme of "Secret Societies."

Will Organize a Ladies' Branch.

Fred J. Eggan, past grand president of the Scandinavian society of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, will organize a ladies' branch of the order at Escanaba this evening. This will be the second lodge of its kind in the three states mentioned. The charter membership of the new organization will be about twenty-five. Mr. Eggan has been invited to institute a ladies' branch of the order at Bessemer, and it is quite possible that he will accept the call at a near date.

That Winthrop Elopement.

Captain John Trebilcock of the Section 21 mine yesterday advised THE MINING JOURNAL representative that he had been misinformed regarding the facts of the Blee-Wills elopement. Mrs. Wills did not accompany her daughter to church that evening, as stated, but the girl was accompanied to the Winthrop by her father, who attended a meeting at the Woodmen lodge there. Mr. Wills supposed the girl was at church. The parents had never been consulted regarding the marriage.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

W. G. Mather returned yesterday from a business trip to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walters got home Thursday from New Mexico.

W. H. Harvey of Merrill, Wis., is in the city visiting his sister, Mrs. Fred Tenneson.

Mrs. N. E. Skud and her children have returned from their visit to friends at Ironwood.

M. W. Barringer, got home Thursday from a visit to friends at Saginaw in the lower peninsula.

M. A. Kahn will leave tomorrow evening for Bessemer, where he will spend a week or two looking after his business interests there.

Mrs. Wasler, of the Murdoch House, lost a pair of spectacles on the street Thursday. She will pay a reward to the person returning them to her.

Kahn & Skud have rented the upper floor of the McEnroe building for the storage of a portion of their goods. Their stock has outgrown their quarters on the first floor.

Seventeen new members were initiated at the regular meeting of the French tent of the Maccabees Thursday evening. Several more new members will be taken in during the next month or two.

The Ishpeming and Marquette polo teams will meet in a contest at the Bancroft rink tonight. The band will be in attendance. Game will be called at 9 o'clock. A lively contest is expected.

The members of Ahmeek lodge, I. O. O. F., entertained about thirty of the members of the Neegaunee lodge of that order last evening. At the conclusion of the meeting a banquet was served at the Nelson House. The visitors returned home shortly after midnight.

USE IT IN TIME.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a ringing and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

PITH AND POINT.

—Bobby—"Popper, what do they have to have a man to pray for congress for?" Mr. Perry—"They don't. He takes a look at congress and then prays for the country."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

—Patient—"Doctor, do you think I will recover?" Dr. Sooner—"Yes; I am sure of it. You are the 40th. One in 40 recovers from your disease, and the 39 that I have treated are all dead."—Texas Sifter.

—"Laura," said the fond mother, "what are the intentions of that young man you are permitting to call on you so often?" "Never mind that, mother," answered the maiden; "I know what my intentions are."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

—Trouble Ahead—"Is that De Fitz coming here again to-night, Ethel?" "Yes, papa, and I hope you'll be nice to him, for he's a real swell." "All right, but if he stays as late as he did last night he'll be a howling swell!"

—"And the name is to be—?" asked the suave minister, as he approached the font with the precious armful of fat and founesse. "Augustus Phillip Ferdinand Coltrinton Chesterfield Livingston Snooks?" "Dear, dear!" (turning to the sexton): "A little more water, Mr. Perkins, if you please."—Tit-Bits.

—Chattie—"I hear that old De Cash is dead." Chinnie—"Yes, died yesterday, and his widow has retained me to contest his will." Chattie—"Eh? I always understood he intended to leave his young wife his entire fortune?" Chinnie—"So he did; but it was on condition that she should not marry again."

—"The egg of the dogfish is provided with a system of spiral cables like the tendrils of climbing plants. These feelers reach out in every direction, and whenever they encounter an object which they can seize twine themselves around it and hold the egg in position until it is hatched."

THE FANCIERS.

An Industry That Is Greater Than That of Wheat.

But few people aside from those engaged in the industry can estimate anything like approximately the immense number of fowls and eggs produced in the United States. When told that the value of poultry and eggs of the United States produced each year is greater than that of the wheat crop most people would receive the statement with a degree of doubt bordering on disbelief. Yet such is the fact.

The poultry fanciers of the United States have done a great work in improving the breeds of fowls and bringing out new breeds that surpass the old varieties in both delicacy of flesh and increased egg production. Great poultry shows have been held in different parts of the United States and premiums given as an incentive to fanciers to show fine birds, and in this way efforts have been put forth that have done great benefit. Yet, notwithstanding the fact of the wonderful proportions of the poultry industry, eggs sufficient to meet the requirements of consumers are not produced. About 10,000,000 eggs are imported from Canada alone each succeeding year. From 1880 to 1890, when the most recent figures were gathered, there was an increase in the number of barnyard fowls of 153 per cent, and in turkeys, geese and ducks of 15 per cent. During the same period egg production increased 79 per cent.

In 1890 there were 258,472,155 barnyard fowls in the United States, and of turkeys, ducks and geese 26,816,700, or a total of 285,288,700 fowls. In these figures given fowls consumed during the year are not included. These would amount to fully one-third more, making the sum total 380,384,933, which at the low estimate of 35 cents each would amount to $133,134,726.55.

The diligent hens in 1890 laid 817,211,146 dozen eggs. In the eastern markets the average price was 18 cents; at Atlanta, Ga., 24 cents, and at Cincinnati, 13 cents. But to make an intelligent average price per dozen it would be about 17 cents. Now, 817,211,146 dozen of eggs at 17 cents per dozen would be $138,925,948.82. Adding to this the value of the poultry, $133,134,726.55, the sum total of fowls and eggs was $272,060,621.37.

But this is not all. Thousands of fine-bred fowls were sold at from $3 to $15 a trio. If this ratio of increase in barnyard fowls from 1890 to 1895 were equal to that between 1880 and 1890 (153 per cent.) the number of fowls and the number of dozens of eggs produced in 1895 was simply amazing. The increase in eggs, as will be seen between 1880 and 1890, was 78 per cent, and it is fair to say that with the rapid increase in population between the years named the proportionate increase between 1890 and 1895 was fully maintained. The United States department of agriculture has given the crop of wheat of 1895 at 425,000,000 bushels. Calculating the average price of wheat (the different grades and prices paid to farmers) at about 50 cents, the value of the wheat crop to farms in 1895 was $212,500,000. Deduct this from the value of poultry and eggs—$272,060,621.37—the balance in favor of the latter is against the wheat crop is $59,560,621.37.

From these figures it will be readily seen why there is so much interest taken in poultry and why there are so many fanciers' associations. — Toledo Blade.

THE BRAIN.

There Are Two Working Sides to the Mental Organ.

It is well known that each side of the brain is connected with the movements and sensations mainly on the opposite side of the body; the right brain moves the left arm and leg, and vice versa. Now, cases are not infrequent in which, with or without "a shock," or at least some degree of obvious loss of muscular power on the right side of the body, the faculty of recalling and reproducing spoken words is totally or almost totally lost. Such loss of speech is technically called aphasia. It was first shown some 35 years ago by a French physician that this particular symptom is associated with damage to a limited and very definite part of the brain substance on the left side, which has since been known, in honor of its discoverer, as Broca's convolution. When the power of speech has thus been lost it is possible, if the mental faculties are not otherwise damaged, to acquire it again by just such a course of training and practice as the child passes through in learning to speak at first, even where Broca's convolution has been so damaged as to be quite incapable of performing its functions. In such a case, the portion of the brain on the right side corresponding to Broca's convolution is capable of taking up its work; but only by being educated to do so, just as the damaged portion of the brain has been originally. If, after this, the power of speech is lost again by damage to the right side similar to that which has impaired the left, there is no hope for its being restored a second time.

It is thus clear that there are two organs or portions of the brain capable of controlling speech, and that under ordinary circumstances only one of them is trained to do so, the other lying fallow. All the education is given to one favored side, and all the work is done by it; but the neglected one, if called by necessity to undertake the work, can be trained to do it, apparently, as satisfactorily as the other.—Chamber's Journal.

A Grim Reality.

Merchant (on discovering a man in his cellar)—Who are you?
Stranger—The gas man. I have come to see by your meter how much gas you have used during the last month.
"Good gracious! I was hoping you were only a burglar."—Le Progress de Bolbec.

—Virginia City was the product of a single mine, it having been built around the famous Comstock.

What the Wonderful New Invention May Show Regarding Things We Already Know.

"It is an astounding discovery—one of the most marvelous of the present age!"

It was in these words that an eminent scientist lately referred to the new and wonderful invention in photography which everybody is discussing. This great invention, as most people are aware, enables photographers to take pictures of objects completely hidden from the sight. In a recent experiment, for instance, a portrait of a man was secured, although he was separated from the photographer by a three-inch partition. In another case, a picture was obtained of all the bones, muscles, blood vessels and internal organs in a man's body.

In speaking of this wonderful discovery a well-known New York physician recently said: "If thousands of people who are walking the streets today and attending to business could only see a photograph of their internal organs they would be filled with alarm and dread. They would see their liver and kidneys clogged with impurities and their blood filled with deadly secretions which poison the whole system. They would see these delicate organs slowly but surely giving way under this corroding poisoning influence. Oh, what an effect such a picture would have!"

The doctor is perfectly right, but at the same time there are thousands of people who need no photograph to tell them that there is something wrong with their health. They know that they do not feel as well as they ought to feel. They complain of tired feelings, nervousness, headaches, backaches, stomach troubles, constipation and dull, heavy sensations. They feel miserable, but do not know why they suffer. It is only the skilled physician who knows that these symptoms are all caused by the liver and kidneys being out of order. When these great organs of the body fail to act properly the health speedily breaks down.

It was a knowledge of this important fact that led to one of the greatest discoveries of modern times. For long years, the brightest men in the medical profession sought for a remedy which would cure all these derangements of the liver and kidneys, and at last they succeeded in finding it. This great remedy, which has proved a blessing to thousands, is Warner's Safe Cure, a remedy that today is known and honored all over the world. No other remedy has ever equalled it for making weak, run-down people feel strong and well. It is universally admitted to be the safest and best remedy for curing every form of liver and kidney disease. It puts an end to stomach troubles, purifies and enriches the blood and restores long vitality.

This great Safe Cure is not an experiment. It has been in use for over twenty years and has been the means of saving millions of lives. It is the only remedy prescribed by the world's leading physicians. No other remedy compares with it for building up the system and imparting new life to every part of the body.

THE COUNCIL'S WORK.

What It Did at the Regular Monthly Meeting This Week

A regular monthly session of the city council was held Thursday evening. President Wollner presided, in the absence of Mayor Foley, and a full board of aldermen was present. The minutes of the last regular meeting, held Feb. 6, were read and approved.

Alderman Perkins, from the committee on street lighting, reported that Superintendent Pearce of the Electric Light company had been consulted regarding the raising of certain of the company's poles and that he had promised to make the improvement directed at the last meeting of the council as soon as the snow left the ground. The report was accepted.

On motion of Alderman Collins, from the committee on police, the January report of Marshal Rough was accepted. The February report of the marshal was read and referred to the committee on police.

The recorder was instructed to deduct $12.34 from the Electric Light company's bill for lights out during February. On motion of Alderman Shea the following places were designated in each ward for the meeting of the board of resignation April 4 and the holding of the municipal election April 6: First ward—Joseph Rogers residence, west side of Barn street; Second ward—City Hall; Third ward—E. C. Anthony's office, south side of Iron street; Fourth ward—James Sheehy's vacant house, corner of Brown avenue and Beck street; Fifth ward—No. 2 hose house.

On recommendation of the finance committee a number of bills against the city were ordered paid. A bill from Abraham Boulson was laid over until the next regular meeting.

On motion of Alderman Connors attorneys Frank A. Bell, J. L. McClellan and E. J. Carey were appointed election commissioners for the approaching municipal election. Alderman Keenan moved that the recorder be instructed to send a bill to the city of Negaunee for the work done on the township road by men in the employ of the city. The motion prevailed. The council then adjourned.

Was Leader of the Band.

Henry Longfill, who was killed Thursday evening at the Lillie mine, was the leader of the Negaunee Finnish band. He was a quiet, industrious man and had many friends among his countrymen here and at Ishpeming. He had been a resident of Negaunee about two years. His wife has been out from the old country only a few weeks. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home of the deceased on Lombard street. Religious services will be conducted at the church by Rev. Mr. Tolonen, pastor of the Finnish church at Ishpeming.

Coroner Samuel Rogers, came over from Ishpeming yesterday morning and commenced a jury in the case. After viewing the remains at the house and also looking over the place where the accident occurred, the jury adjourned until today, when testimony will be taken.

Want to Hear Pinere.

A good many of the citizens of Negaunee, and especially the laboring men, are desirous of having Hon. Hazen S. Pingree of Detroit, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, visit this city and address the voters here. A petition, which will be forwarded to Mr. Pingree asking him to favor Negaunee with a visit at a near date, was very generally signed here yesterday. About 350 signatures were attached to the petition within a few hours and it is expected that as many more will be obtained today. The names of many of our leading citizens, irrespective of party, are attached to the list. With such a pressing invitation extended Mr. Pingree to visit Negaunee it is quite likely that he will respond.

A Joke on Dave.

Dave A. Barnes of Chicago, who has been visiting his uncle, Charles W. Taylor, in Negaunee the past two weeks, left for home Thursday. He has a "bone to pick" with his brother, J. F. Barnes, whom he left in charge of his business during his absence. The fool explains itself, it being the exact wording of a hand which Mr. Barnes had printed while his brother was sojourning at Negaunee: "Lost, strayed or stolen from 458 Taylor street, Chicago, one man, weighing about 235 pounds, six feet three inches tall, with dark hair, light mustache, blue eyes answers to the name of Dave. Anyone returning the person so described to the above address will be amply rewarded by J. F. Barnes."

NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH.
(From Cincinnati Gazette.)
Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble may end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are today countless invaders who can trace their complaints to "cold," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected. When troubled with a cold, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by The H. H. Stafford Co.

LOCAL LAONICS.

S. J. Beahan of Houghton did business in Negaunee yesterday.

H. B. Krogman received his new bicycle, "The Royal," from the manufacturers yesterday.

Miss Horrihan of Crystal Falls, who taught school here last year, is spending a few days with Negaunee friends.

Mrs. Major Stillwell and her corps of young lady singers of the Salvation Army will be the attraction at the local barracks tonight.

The Misses Macomber entertained a number of their young friends at their parents' home on East Main street Thursday evening.

John D. Campbell, local agent of the Chicago & Northwestern company, will spend the next ten days or two weeks in the west. He will visit Denver, Cripple Creek and other places in Colorado.

John Shea has purchased Mrs. Mary Maas' residence property, consisting of two houses and one lot. Consideration, $2,000. Mr. Shea will move his family into one of the buildings within the next week or two.

Con Kearan, who went to Hibbing, Mesaba range, a short time ago, returned yesterday morning to take a job with the Cleveland-Cliffs company at Ishpeming. He will have charge of the motors at the company's Lake mine. Con did not like Hibbing. He says some of the mines there have closed down for the remainder of the winter. The management of the properties assert that they do not care to stock any more ore than they now have on hand.

All last winter Mr. Geo. A. Mills, of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. At times it was so severe that he could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. "I tried different remedies without receiving relief," he says, "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since. For sale by The H. H. Stafford Co.

SLEIGHING NOT WHAT IT WAS.

Seasons Are Too Brief, and Customs Have Changed of Recent Years.

In the past few years sleighing has undergone a marked change. In the good old days one of the chief attractions for sleighers was the road houses, and to a large majority of the sleighing public an afternoon of the sport was not complete without a visit to one of those famous hostleries of the road. But commercial improvement was the cause of the downfall of these hospitable places where frost-bitten pleasure-seekers were wont to toast their shins before cheerful fireplaces and warm up the inner man with steaming "hot scotches" and substantial "Tom and Jerry's."

Sleighing, as it is indulged in to-day, is more of a passing show than in former years. To be sure, there is little speeding down the center, but this feature does not bear comparison with the fast and furious driving which once characterized the sleighing on the Arsenal road and the "mile ground." The racing over the snow was the attraction then, and the people who did not join in the lively brushes found ample enjoyment in watching the fun from the side lines. Any kind of a sled on runners was good enough, and style did not cut much of a figure, so long as the horse was fast. While the sport has not lost any of its popularity, those who indulge in it have of late shown a decided inclination for showy turnouts, and the frequenters of the Brookline boulevard seem to take as much delight in exhibiting their nobby sleighs as they once did in showing the pace of their sleek-coated roadsters. Handsomer sleighs will be seen this winter than ever before, and the craze for novelties is on the increase. There is no vehicle in which there is so great an opportunity for beautiful lines as in the sleigh, and none which has in late years been more improved in that direction. The manufacturers are continually aiming at the artistic, while keeping comfort and lightness in view. This year's rigs show a remarkable brilliancy of color instead of the sober colors of other years, all of which seems to indicate an evident desire to make the sport a more enjoyable one than ever.—Boston Herald.

STILL-HUNTING FOR BUFFALO.

The Indians Disguised Themselves in Wolf Pelts and Crept on the Herds.

It was the next morning after this hunt that the chief, Little Bear, came to my tent, just as I had finished my steak, biscuit and coffee. He brought two wolf-skin disguises, which I had before seen in his tepee. Each was made of two wolf pelts sewed together, with mounted nose and tail, and there were armholes with short skin sleeves, and leggings for the thighs, which came nearly down to the knees, the whole covering fastened to the body with deerskin thongs.

He had before promised to take me on a "wolf hunt" after buffalo, and he now put on the largest of the coverings, and maneuvered about in front of my tent, showing the various attitudes of the wolf, in shambling along, in trotting, and in sneaking upon its prey.

His squaw, who was wielding her vevejababa (fleshing knife) upon an upturned buffalo pelt pinned to the ground with wooden pegs, stopped her work and grinned approval. He certainly mimicked the wolf well; and the disguise, excepting the legs and the size, was perfect.

"Hoogh!" he said, when he had shown me how to act in crawling up to game, "we go hunt um tewan that way;" pointing to the northwest up the creek. I was glad to go upon a still hunt; for, to tell the truth, the mixed hurly-burly of the usual Ponca method, and its useless dangers, did not recommend it to me when I had had time to reflect after the excitement was over.

When Little Bear and I mounted our ponies and rode out that morning, the camp was in an uproar, as usual in the preparation for a hunt. A scout had come in with news of a big herd to the eastward, and the Indians were running in ponies, saddling and cinching them on all hands, and there was much bucking and plunging among the wild and skittish ones, as usual. Squaws were bustling about at the command of their lords and masters, and young lads, in half-leggings and short shirts, were rushing to and fro, making a great parade of helping to get the hunters started.

Little Bear must have told his leaders of the proposed hunt with me, for no one paid the slightest attention to our going out.

We jogged directly up the little valley for an hour or more; and then, rounding a point of the hill, sighted a large band of buffalo feeding among the ravines and upon the slopes on the opposite side of the valley. There was an immense number in sight, but, as the high grounds were covered as far over as we could see, we knew there must be more beyond.

Little Bear grunted with huge satisfaction, and gave me to understand in hurried words of Ponca and pigeon English that the big herds were coming down from the north.

We hustled our ponies into a ravine near at hand, and tied them to some bullberry bushes. Then, carrying our disguises and guns, the chief with his bow and arrows at his back, we slipped down the ravine into the creek channel, keeping entirely out of sight of the herd. The wind was fairly in our favor, and we kept along the bed of the stream, in which ran a little trickling brook at the bottom, until we reached the mouth of a dry run leading across the valley and through the middle of the herd. There were such runs and ravines cutting back into the hills every half mile or so.

Up this gully we went at a jog-trot, bending low, until it became so shallow that we could begin to see the buffalo upon the hills above.

The chief then squatted and motioned me down. We put on the wolf skins, he taking the largest; for, despite his name, he was a large and powerfully made man.

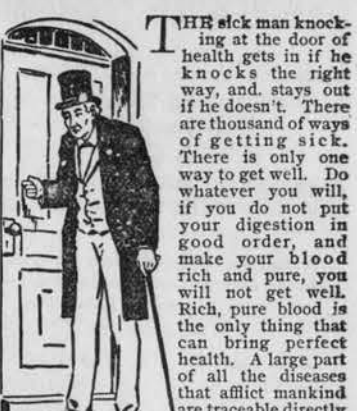

Adjusting the eyeholes so that we could see plainly, we crawled out upon the open ground upon our hands and knees. Almost the first thing that happened to me was to get one of my knees filled with cactus spikes and while I writhed about trying to pull them out, I heard Little Bear growling under his breath: "Hoogh! tewan heap plenty—we kill heap!"—Frank Welles Calkins, in St. Nicholas.

Almond Shelling.

An interesting and novel method of shelling almonds is being introduced at the Hatch ranch in this valley. The foreman has a force of Chinese at work in the large warehouses handling the almonds by means of a machine, which rubs the nuts through at the rate of nearly two tons a day. The crop consists of about 50,000 pounds and is being handled by the bank of Livermore. Two or three Chinese work a machine, rocking the cradle back and forth, the crushed shells and kernels falling through to be shoveled into the fanning mill. Here the shells are blown off like chaff and the smooth kernels drop off the apron into the boxes. The rest of the work is sorting, picking out the waxy and broken kernels; but this has to be done by hand. Out of every 4,000 pounds of nuts 2,200 pounds of sound, whole kernels are obtained, in addition to about 50 pounds of cracked kernels, which are marketable. Last year the almond people paid three cents a pound to have their nuts shelled. This year the bank has contracted with the Chinamen to shell and box the crop at one cent a pound. It is thought that next year the cost of shelling and packing can be reduced to 50 cents per 100 pounds. In previous years the work was done by hand, but the crop was smaller.—San Francisco Call.

The Angler's Angles for his Prey.

From the upper part of his head project two long tentacles with fleshy extremities, which wave about in the water and attract small fish that, approaching and attempting to seize the supposed bait, are themselves captured by the angler. Without this device to attract his prey he would probably starve to death, as he is heavy and of comparatively slow motion.

THE sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of people getting sick. There is only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. A large part of all the diseases that afflict mankind are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating these impurities. That most dreadful of all diseases, consumption, is a disease of the blood. The disease shows in the lungs because of some inherited or acquired weakness there. If the blood were always pure and without germs, the disease would never develop and in time weakness itself would be overcome. Germs and impurities in the blood float along through the body until they find a weak spot for lodgment. They stick there and develop and people call the disease by the name of the organ afflicted. As a matter of fact, the disease is always a disease of the blood, and if the blood be purified, the disease will be cured. That is a perfectly natural, rational conclusion, endorsed both by common sense and the highest medical authority. It is in accordance with these facts that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites the copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out diseases wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

If you care to know more about it, and more about your own body, send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and you will receive absolutely free a copy of Dr. Pierce's book, Common Sense Medical Advice, Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 63 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COMPANY G MUSTERED OUT.

Disbanded by the State Because of Dissatisfaction With Its Present Condition.

CAPT. BALL NOTIFIED TO RETURN PROPERTY OF COMPANY.

A Marquette Woman Dies at an Advanced Age, at Duluth—The Funeral to Take Place in This City.

MILITIAMEN IN DISGRACE.

The following dispatch from Lansing, in reference to the local militia company, appeared in a Detroit paper yesterday:

"Co. G, Fifth infantry, located at Marquette, has been mustered out of the military service of the state, to date from March 4, and Captain J. E. Ball has been directed to ship all stores in his possession to Quartermaster General Kidd at once. The muster-out order is the result of an inspection made Feb. 19, by Inspector General Walsh, who recommended the disbandment of the company because of a want of care of state property, total disregard of orders governing the drills and meetings of the company, internal dissensions, subversive of all discipline and a total ignoring of the recommendations and orders of the inspector general, made at a former inspection."

The muster-out of the company had been apprehended for some time. Yesterday Captain Ball went to Calumet to confer with Colonel Lyon and make arrangements, if possible, for the retention of the company in the national guard. He will return today. During Captain Ball's absence two letters, addressed to him, arrived from headquarters at Lansing. Presumably they contain notice of the company's disbandment.

Sympathize with Ballington.

Capt. and Mrs. Dinwoodie, who are the only commissioned officers of the Salvation Army in this city, are yet undecided whether or not to join the new army to be formed by Gen. Ballington Booth, on American lines, but both intimated in a talk with a MINING JOURNAL representative last night that their sympathies were with the deposed commander and that, if his stand against his father should prove to have been right, the whole branch of the Salvation Army in the United States would join him in the new movement.

Capt. Dinwoodie was inclined to be non-committal. He said Salvationists generally expected the breach to be healed before it should grow wider and before it should become necessary to throw off the allegiance to England. However, he said, if a second army should be formed, most of the American soldiers and officers would be likely to join it. Capt. Dinwoodie is himself an Englishman by birth but has lived in this country nearly all his life.

Mrs. Dinwoodie, who has been in Salvation Army work for nine years, was more outspoken. "I think the American army goes," she said. "Of course, we are waiting to hear from Gen. William Booth, the commander-in-chief. He is now on the ocean and we all hope he will see fit to reconsider his action, removing Ballington. If he does not, and investigation shows Ballington to have been in the right, as it looks now, we will all go with him, although nothing will be done until we hear the general's side of the story. I have no hesitation in condemning the actions of Col. Eddie since he has been in this country, and he should be recalled. I think he has caused most of the trouble. There is no doubt that the Salvation Army cause in this country has been injured by the disgrace of a quarrel among the members of the Booth family, the English members of which seem to be jealous because the army is gaining more converts in the United States, than anywhere else. Still we hope the general will settle the dispute without disrupting the army."

Another Old Resident Dead.

Mrs. George Wilks of Marquette died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Macy, at Duluth, Minn. Her age was eighty years and one day. The remains will arrive here on the 3 o'clock train Sunday morning. The funeral, the time to be announced later, will be held from the residence of R. B. French, 325 East Michigan street, in the Park cemetery.

Mrs. Wilks came to Marquette in 1854 and lived here for more than forty years. She was widely known and highly respected. The deceased lady leaves one son, George Wilks, Jr., of Camanche, Iowa, and two daughters, Mrs. Theodore Macy of Duluth and Mrs. R. B. French of Marquette.

Too Much Athletics.

The high school debating club met in executive session at the high school last night. The program consisted of a piano solo by A. B. Holley; an essay, by Leo Rose; paper, "Events of the Week," by John Hanley; clarinet solo, by W. A. Anger. A debate, on the subject "Resolved, that athletics are carried to extremes in our schools and colleges," was won by the affirmative. The debaters were: Affirmative, Arthur Hallam, John Hogan; negative, Joseph Reau, W. E. Long. The general debate was participated in by nearly everyone present. The regular order of business was then taken up and a large budget of business transacted. Before adjourning the members listened to a few impartial remarks by the critic, Raoul W. Vannier.

Will F. Mitchell Promoted.

The many friends of Will F. Mitchell, formerly of this city, will be pleased to learn of his promotion to the management of P. M. Church & Co.'s hardware store at the Soo. The following clipping, in reference to Mr. Mitchell, is from the Soo Democrat: "W. F. Mitchell, manager of P. M. Church & Co.'s hardware business, made a trip to Soudbury a week or so ago and took orders from American lumbermen operating on the other side for their supply of peevies, pike poles and cant hooks. He sold 170 dozen of them, which arrived Monday. This is probably the largest order for these goods ever sent out by a Soo firm and speaks well for Mr. Mitchell's abilities as a salesman."

Church Services.

The services at the Baptist church Sunday will be conducted by the pastor. The theme for the morning will be "The Cure of Trouble." In the evening the first of a series on "Some Modern Delusions," will be presented. The sub-subject for the evening will be "Spiritualism." All who attend these services will be cordially welcomed.

Services at the M. E. church Sunday will be as follows: Morning subject "The Grand Possibilities of a Prayerful Frame of Mind." Evening subject "Steadfastness of Faith, a Great Requisite to True Manhood and Womanhood." Excellent music, and a cordial welcome.

St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Rev. Frank J. Mallett, rector. Third Sunday in Lent. Holy communion 8 a. m. Matins, with sermon 10:30 a. m. Evensong and sermon by the rector on "Popular Objections to the Episcopal Church," 7:30 p. m. All persons having no church engagements are invited to the services. Lenten services daily throughout the week.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday there will be the usual services. In the morning the subject will be "The Function of the Christian." In the evening the address will be upon "Cheap Men." All are cordially welcomed.

Singing Brigade at Salvation Army.

Mrs. Stillwell, assisted by a corps of lady singers, consisting of Lieutenant May Martin, Lieutenant Anna Nelson, Cadet Pratt, Mrs. Wheeler and daughter Blanche and Miss T. Narraway, will conduct the services at the Salvation Army barracks tomorrow and Monday night. Lieutenant May Martin will no doubt be remembered by many Marquette people as she was stationed here about six months ago, when she became well known as a singer. Monday night there will be a service of song conducted by Mrs. Stillwell, entitled: "Life and Death of Mrs. General Booth." This song service has drawn large audiences wherever it has been given. Tickets for Monday night are being sold at seven cents.

CITY BREVITIES.

Weather Forecast: Snow and much colder today.

Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 28 degrees; 12 m., 37 degrees; 7 p. m., 33 degrees.

Peter W. Pascoe of Republic is in the city.

Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, one of the court commissioners, was in Marquette yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry Geroux will take place at 2:30 this afternoon at the French Catholic church.

In the circuit court yesterday a jury was empaneled in the case of Sullivan vs. the Ross estate. It will be tried today.

James Reed, ex-mayor of St. Ignace, but now of Bay City, is here as a witness in the case of Sullivan vs. the Ross estate.

A. Delf advertises a large variety of fresh vegetables. The array is very tempting and will help to make the Sunday dinner in keeping with the day.

The first annual report of the electric light commission is now being prepared. It will be completed today and submitted to the council Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McNulty and Miss Bernadette Butler of Ispenning, who had been visiting Mrs. James McNulty the past few days, left for home last evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Hubbard was held from St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. There was a very large attendance of the friends of the deceased.

The relatives of the late Mrs. Ann Hubbard wish to express their thanks to the friends who gave their assistance and particularly to the sisters of the hospital who nursed her during her last illness.

The Marquette polo team goes to Ispenning this evening on the 5:30 train to play a game at the Bancroft ice rink with the team of the Hematite City. A fifty-cent return trip rate has been secured, and it is expected many from the Queen City will take in the game, which promises to be an exciting one.

The "mum" social at the Methodist church last night was a very jolly affair, there being many laughable occurrences caused by the desire of everyone (particularly those of the gentle sex) to talk even when it cost a penny to do so. Five dollars in fines was collected. The musical program was well carried out and received favorable comment.

Sam J. Beahan, agent of the Lake Superior Soap company of Houghton, the manufacturer of Ingot soap, arrived in Marquette last night and will begin canvassing the city today in the interest of his company. The sales of Ingot soap are increasing rapidly, due to its excellent cleansing qualities, and the fact that it is put upon the market by a home concern, makes it doubly popular.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

We will give a sale of Embroideries this week at

GRABOWER'S.

We have purchased a lot of Cambric Embroideries and wish to dispose of them in as short a time as possible. We have decided to make the lowest prices on the goods ever made by a Dry Goods House anywhere in the country. These Embroideries are all of an extra good quality and wide and every yard is worth more than double the price we ask for them.

NOTE THE PRICE:—2,000 yards, of Embroideries worked on Cambric, worth from 20 to 25 cents a yard your choice for 10 cents a yard. Come early and get choice of quality and designs.

We sell all kinds of wash goods. India Linens, Swiss Mulls, Dotted Mull Challies at lower prices than same goods can be bought in Chicago or elsewhere.
