TO RECONQUER THE SOUDAN

British Government Now Making Active Preparations for Another Campaign.

TROOPS WILL SOON MOVE UP THE NILE TO DONGOLA.

Relief of Cassala Outward Cause for Advance, but Possession of Nubia's Fertile Acres May Be What John Bull Is After.

EL MAHDI'S POWER FEARED.

LONDON, March 15.—There is much rejoicing in the British army at the prospect of another campaign in the Soudan, in spite of past experiences with the fierce, tireless troops of El Mahdi and the recent defeat of the Italians by the Abyssinians. That a British-Egyptian advance up the Nile from Wady-Halfa has been determined upon is no longer in doubt. All British officers in the Egyptian army who have been absent on leave have been ordered to return to their posts immediately. A dispatch from Cairo announces that the Connaught Rangers already have been ordered to Wady-Halfa.

The proposed campaign has been impending for a year past, although it was undoubtedly hastened by the crushing defeat of General Baratieri at Adowa, which, it is believed, must have a depressing effect upon the prestige of European arms and may consequently lead to an advance northward of the dervishes. But the real reason for the campaign being prepared by the British war office may be found in the fact that Egypt will never be secure from attack and disaster so long as El Mahdi's power remains unshattered. Although the relief of Cassala may be the outward cause of the British advance the possession of the fertile regions about Dongola is what Great Britain is really after; and there is little doubt that an attempt to capture El Mahdi's stronghold, Omdurman, will follow.

The plan of campaign, as submitted at a cabinet meeting yesterday, is that five black infantry battalions, seven Egyptian battalions and a large force of artillery and cavalry, with 100 British officers, shall compose the expeditionary force. The same route that was taken in 1884 will be followed; but owing to the low water in the Nile this season the transport of ammunition and supplies must be by camels, of which a very large number will be required. It is proposed to reconquer the Soudan province by province. Dongola will be first taken, and a great deal will then depend upon circumstances.

AN IMPORTANT POLITICAL MOVE.

The Associated Press is able to state in connection with the reopened Egyptian question, the British government consulted with and obtained the approval of a majority of the powers before deciding upon the advance on Dongola. This makes the new Soudan campaign of far-reaching political importance in its bearing upon Great Britain's relations with the European powers. That the disclosure by recent events of Great Britain's complete and friendliness isolation in the community of nations had given a shock and feeling of uneasiness to responsible statesmanship of Great Britain has been frankly admitted by British statesmen themselves. That England's diplomacy has been busy with efforts to make some inroads into the universal hostile array of nations has been generally understood.

The announcement of a new Soudan campaign is clear and convincing evidence that there is to be no rapprochement between Great Britain and France. If further evidence were needed of this, it is seen in the prolonged visit Friday to the foreign office of the French ambassador in London and his subsequent departure in person for Paris to impart the result of his interview to the French cabinet.

The advance upon Dongola was decided upon by the British government with a view to the favorable effect it would have upon the Italian situation in Abyssinia. The question of the hour in European politics is whether Great Britain has thrown her fortunes with the dreibund, as against France and Russia. A statement which has been promised for tomorrow in the house of commons of the purposes of the proposed advance up the Nile, by the parliamentary secretary for foreign affairs is looked for with keen interest in the hope it may disclose something of the shifting of international relations now being adjusted in Europe.

CAIRO, March 15.—Lord Cromer, the British agent, yesterday announced that one thousand British troops drafted at European stations were coming here directly to take part in the advance on Dongola. It is alleged from French sources that no movement exists in the Soudan warranting the campaign contemplated, and that on the contrary Khalifa Abdullahi, successor of the late mahdi and military chief under him in the former war, has lost all his authority and has withdrawn his loyal adherents from the Cassala district, himself fearing assassination.

ROME, March 15.—The latest news from the front in Africa is that the main body of dervishes is advancing upon Cassala.

GREAT INTEREST AT BERLIN.

England's Proposed Soudan Expedition Causes Much Comment.

BERLIN, March 15.—The proposed advance of the British in Egypt excites a vast deal of attention and comment in political circles and in the press here. German newspapers, in commenting upon the proposed Egyptian advance to Dongola, still show intense hatred for England. The National Zeitung, for instance, scorns the idea that she will do anything to help Italy in the straits into which that unfortunate power has come in Africa, and hints that England will acquire Cassala as a result of the campaign. Most newspapers here regard the Dongola movement as a clever move on England's part to silence the clamor on the Egyptian question and to offer an answer to France and all those who press her for the evacuation of Egypt for years to come.

THE CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

A Forecast of the Doings in the House and Senate This Week.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—A variety of matter is the make-up of the program for the week in the house. Tomorrow is committee suspension day under the rules, and several bills will probably be called up and acted upon. The bill for the reform of the administrative features of the tariff law, which has been carefully formulated as a result of extensive hearings before the ways and means committee, will be brought forward Tuesday. As the administration of custom laws is largely a technical matter, concerning which there is little general information, the bill will probably be passed in a day unless a general tariff discussion is precipitated. This is not at all unlikely in view of the political activity in the country. The naval appropriation bill will follow. The whole question of the expediency of adding to the navy is involved in this bill, and its possibilities as the subject for debate are very wide. It is not believed it can be disposed of this week.

The indications are that the Cuban question and the Dupont election case will continue to claim the greater share of the attention of the senate during the present week. There is an understanding that in case it is made apparent that the Cuban matter can be speedily disposed of the managers for Dupont will not stand in the way. Senator Sherman is exceedingly desirous of getting the Cuban resolutions out of the way at the earliest practicable time and will press consideration. The senators who oppose the resolutions are, however, not inclined to fall in with this design and there is now no prospect of an immediate vote on the conference report.

It is intimated the president is likely to send a message to the senate on the Cuban question in response to Senator Hoar's resolution of inquiry, and if he should do so it unquestionably will have influence either in expediting or retarding the final consideration of the question in the senate. Senator Morgan will probably make the next speech on the Cuban question in reply to Senators Hale, Hill and Hoar, and Mr. Chandler will lead off the debate on the Dupont case when its consideration is resumed.

DESERT THE OLD ARMY.

Independent Meetings Held at St. Louis by Ballington's Sympathizers.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—A revolt has taken place in the ranks of the Salvation Army in St. Louis. Tonight a body of recruits from the various stations in this city, under the leadership of Cadet Vincent, paraded the streets and held open-air exercises similar to those of the Salvation Army. The members of the band each wore a red ribbon, over which was pinned a picture of Mrs. Ballington Booth, and had the words "God bless our leader" inscribed upon it. In a talk with a representative of the Associated Press Vincent said that as soon as Ballington Booth signified his intentions they would organize under his direction. They express the opinion that the movement here will grow and stated emphatically that their work would not be in opposition to the Salvation Army, but along the same lines.

POISON IN THEIR COFFEE

Farmer Taylor Is Dead and Five Others of the Family Are Dying.

CRAIG, Mo., March 15.—The family of W. B. Taylor, a wealthy farmer, was mysteriously poisoned yesterday. The drug is supposed to have been introduced in coffee, though by whom and for what purpose is a mystery. W. B. Taylor died last night and his three sons, one of their wives and Taylor Oriman, a cousin, are dying. It is rumored a near relative of the family administered the poison. There is much excitement.

OMAHA, Neb., March 15.—For forty hours snow has been falling throughout Nebraska, averaging five to twenty inches in depth. It is generally pronounced one of the finest snowfalls in years in this state. In addition to being timely, no drifts are reported and mild weather prevails throughout the state. Railroad trains are slightly delayed.

THE MILITIA ORDERED OUT.

Kentucky's Capitol in Possession of State Troops and Martial Law Proclaimed.

GOVERNOR YIELDS TO REQUESTS OF ORDERLY CITIZENS.

Armed Men Had Been Gathering Several Days With Evident Intention of Taking Charge of the Joint Assembly Today.

BLACKBURN MEN DESPERATE.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—A special to The Commercial Gazette from Frankfort, Ky., says: The riot bell rang from the fire engine house at 11 o'clock tonight and at the same moment Governor Bradley ordered out the militia. Ten minutes later the McCreary Guards, fifty-two strong, were in possession of the state house and martial law was proclaimed.

Until today Governor Bradley had persistently refused to call out the militia, though urged to do so by citizens irrespective of party. The Blackburn leaders, he was informed, had been preparing all day to take forcible possession of the state house tomorrow. Threats were made the senate would arrest the governor tomorrow for usurpation of authority in giving the instructions he gave last night to the sheriff of Franklin county to clear the corridors and cloak rooms.

All trains today brought in reinforcements for the men beat on mischief tomorrow. It was only at the last moment when the presence of these crowds donated serious danger that the governor yielded to the repeated requests of orderly citizens of both parties and called out the militia. The sergeant-at-arms has sworn in Jack Chinn, James Williams, Eph Lillard and other desperate men as deputies. It was also reported to the governor by numerous affidavits that armed men had been collecting in the Capitol two or three days with a view to take charge of the joint assembly Monday.

The guards surround the state house and permit no one but state officers, senators, representatives and others having constitutional right to pass. The excitement in the city is great and the streets are full of people. No little apprehension is felt. Six hundred armed soldiers will be here in the morning and it is hoped they will be able to preserve peace.

CINCINNATI, March 16.—A special to

The Commercial Gazette received at 1:30 this morning from Frankfort, Ky., says: Governor Bradley, in an interview at midnight, said in explanation of his action that the presiding officers of both houses had called on him for protection and that he had called on the mayor to give it. He learned afterwards from the sheriff that the mayor's police had been insufficient and done nothing to remove the disturbing element. The security of the lives of citizens and officers of the commonwealth required quick action on his part. Under these circumstances he had called out the state guard.

Poor, a Populist, has pledged the Republicans to vote for Boyle tomorrow, and if he does Boyle will likely be elected.

LOUISVILLE, March 15.—A telegram was received here tonight from Governor Bradley ordering the four companies of the Kentucky State Guard here to Frankfort with all possible haste. Three hundred men, under command of General John B. Castleman, leave on a special train at 7 o'clock in the morning.

FOUND DEAD IN BATH TUB.

Prominent Citizen of Toledo, With a Bullet Hole in Head.

TOLEDO, O., March 15.—Dr. Charles Massbacher, a prominent physician of this city, was found dead in his bath room this morning with a bullet hole in his head, and under most mysterious circumstances. He was found lying in the bath tub and a revolver was found in the farthest corner of the room. Relatives are of the opinion he did not commit suicide, and the police are at a loss to account for his death.

FRAUDS IN MANAGEMENT.

Minor Stockholders of a Cripple Creek Company Bring Suit.

DENVER, March 14.—A suit has been filed in the county court by sundry stockholders of the Copper & Gold Mining company of Cripple Creek against the principal owners of the company, charging that they, as a majority of the board of directors, have fraudulently transferred to themselves treasury stock valued at $1,500,000 and declared dividends on it to the amount of $175,000, which should have been divided among the stockholders at large.

SAVED THE OWNER TROUBLE.

Burglar Opened a Safe When the Combination Was Lost.

The proprietor of a large store on High street went to his place of business at an unusually early hour one morning; in fact, the sun had not yet risen when he turned the key in the door.

"Don't be in a hurry, my friend; come back and sit down awhile and smoke a cigar, while I straighten things up a bit, and then come to breakfast with me. You have done me a great favor."

"Why, how's that?" asked the burglar, in great surprise.

"Well, you see, I had the combination of the safe on a bit of paper, and last night I accidentally locked it in the safe and forgot how to work it. I spent most of the night trying to get the thing open, and came in early this morning to have another try at it."

A DETECTIVE MYSTERY. Was the Noted Sleuth Himself a Successful Bank Cracker?

"The most mysterious affair I ever knew in detective circles," said a well-known sleuth to a Washington Star writer, "was a case in the west. Early Piety. D. L. Moody, the evangelist, told a story in Philadelphia recently about his life before his conversion, when a boy of 17. A SOCIETY ITEM.

An Object Lesson in the Ethics of Nomenclature.
It was at the Emerald ball, and the young society reporter sharpened her wits and her pencils, that full and satisfactory description of each costume might be presented. Surrounding her were these most desirous of seeing their names and gowns in print, and in the crowd stood a shop girl, gowned in flimsy pink cheesecloth of indescribable cut.
When her turn came for inspection, says the New York Times, it was with a hopeless eye that the reporter surveyed the toilet. The artful question, however, was asked as usual: "And your name and gown?"
"Miss Matilda Jenkins, attired in pink crepon and diamonds," was the studied and prompt reply.
"Pink crepon," wrote the newspaper woman, delighted with the new and elegant name for cheesecloth, but her pencil refused to add "and diamonds" until her quick eyes had discovered on the girl's collar a tiny rhinestone as big as a pinhead. Then "and diamonds" went down in the notebook as proudly as if announcing tiaras and stomachers of purest luster.
The next day all the girls behind a notion counter exclaimed enviously over a well-worn newspaper clipping, which read: "Miss Matilda Jenkins, attired in pink crepon and diamonds," and when the society reporter glanced over the printed words she felt never a pang as to the accuracy of the information she had given to the public.

THEIR TURN TO RUN.

The Experience of Two Bear Hunters in the Mountains of Oregon.
A bear hunt which terminated in a manner once disappointing and surprising, is described by the Portland Oregonian. It occurred in the mountains of Oregon, whither two gentlemen had betaken themselves for a vacation trip.
Several days were spent in trout fishing. Then one of the men expressed a strong desire for a day's shooting for larger game. They set out the next morning bright and early, and after hours of fruitless tramping were about returning to camp, when suddenly they saw straight before them a brown bear sitting on his haunches, under a birchery bush, and gorging himself with the berries.
Both hunters fired, and the bear, with an ugly growl, disappeared. The men hastened after him, but were unable to overtake him. For half an hour of more they followed the trail. Then all at once they came to a clearing. In the clearing was a cabin, and on the porch of the cabin sat the brown bear with one of his forelegs in a sling!
The hunters were greatly taken aback, as may well be supposed, but were still more surprised when they saw a man hastening toward them with a gun. They turned and ran, the man after them. They got away in safety, and learned afterward that the bear was a family pet, the owner of which was naturally angry at finding it ill-treated.

A LAND WITHOUT ANIMALS.

Strangers in Japan Are Forcibly Struck with This Lack.
Japan is a land without the domestic animals. It is this lack which strikes the stranger so forcibly in looking upon Japanese landscapes. There are no cows-the Japanese neither drink milk nor eat meat. There are but few horses, and these are imported mainly for the use of the foreigners. The fruit cars in the city streets are pulled and pushed by coolies, and the pleasure carriages are drawn by men. There are but few dogs, and these are neither used for watch dogs, beasts of burden nor in hunting, except by foreigners.
There are no sheep in Japan, and wool is not used in clothing, silk and cotton being the staples. There are no pigs-pork is an unknown article of diet, and lard is not used in cooking. There are no goats or mules or donkeys. Wild animals there are, however, and in particular, bears of enormous size. One of these, seen stuffed in a museum, is described as "big as an ox." Beside another stuffed museum bear is preserved in alcohol the mangled body of a child the bear had eaten just before being killed.

A HOT POLO GAME.

Negaunee and Marquette Teams Met at the Bancroft Rink.
The polo game between the Marquette and Negaunee teams Saturday evening at the Bancroft rink was decidedly warm from start to finish. The Marquette team was victorious, the score being 2 to 0. The teams were very evenly matched and it was difficult to tell which side did the best work. The Marquettes made their two goals in the first half. The first goal was made in three minutes. The Negaunees did not play as well in the first as in the last half of the game. They got warmed up to their work after their opponents had scored the two goals. Some excellent plays were made but the field players had many bad falls in their efforts to rush the ball to the cages. The Negaunees had the sympathy of a majority of the spectators and the encouragement they received from the crowd doubtless had much to do with their good work, as the team had no practice whatever previous to the contest. Tom Lynn acted as referee. The attendance was quite large.

PLEASED THEM AT HOUGHTON.

Browne Company's Production of "Damon and Pythias."
E. R. Penberthy, a well-known resident of Houghton, writes O. A. Sinclair, chancellor of Zenith lodge No. 33, Knights of Pythias, as follows, regarding the production of "Damon and Pythias" by the James H. Browne Theatre company at Houghton last Thursday evening: "I am more than pleased to inform you that the play of "Damon and Pythias," rendered here last evening by J. H. Browne's Theatre company, under the auspices of Columbia lodge, No. 144, of Houghton, was a complete success in every respect and therefore gave entire satisfaction. All the members of the order throughout the county, as well as other friends who came to see the play, were delighted with the performance. The parts taken for Damon Pythias Dionysius, Calanthe and Hieron were exceptionally good and brought great applause from the large audience we had."
There promises to be a very large attendance at the production of the play in Ishpeming next Wednesday evening.

A Successful Engagement.

McEwen, the Scottish mind reader, hypnotist and mesmerist, closed his weeks engagement at the opera house Saturday with a performance in which the interest was fully maintained. He has given the highest satisfaction in Ishpeming, and there are no skeptics here as to his remarkable powers of the honesty of his work. His engagement has been a most successful one both in the attendance attracted and the return given the people in amusement coupled with a marvelous exhibition of the professor's occult powers.

A Neat Token.

The members of the Sunday school society of the Norwegian Lutheran church gave Nels Thompson, president of the school, a surprise at his home one evening last week. After the crowd had assembled one of the members addressed Mr. Thompson in behalf of the society and presented him with a gold ring worth $50. Mr. Thompson has labored in the interest of the society for the past twenty-three years. A lunch was served during the evening and a very happy time was had.

Rev. Varner Will Speak Here.

Rev. J. P. Varner, who was pastor of the Division street Methodist church for a number of years prior to four or five years ago, will deliver a lecture at the church here on the evening of Good Friday, April 3. Mr. Varner has not yet announced his subject. Whatever his theme may be he will certainly handle it well, as he is an entertaining talker. The proceeds of the lecture will be added to the church building fund. The price of admission will be announced within a few days.

AMBULANCE ON WATER.

Steam Launch Added to the London Hospital Service.

The managers of the Metropolitan asylums board, London, have just passed upon plans for an ambulance launch for river service. Her dimensions, says the Philadelphia Record, are as follows: Length between perpendiculars, 60 feet; breadth, 12 feet 6 inches; depth, four feet; draught of water when fully equipped, two feet eight inches. The hull is built of Siemens-Martin mild steel throughout to board of trade requirements for passenger certificate. She is built in five compartments. In the fore part of the vessel is a cabin for the accommodation of the staff and for visitors proceeding to visit patients in the hospital ships in Long Reach, Dartford, and is capable of accommodating about 20 persons. In the after part there is a cabin fitted up as a hospital, with four berths—two being fixed and two portable—and with all the necessary requirements for carrying four recumbent patients. Both of these cabins are heated with steam and are provided with suitable skylights and all the necessary fittings for a boat of its class.

The machinery is fixed amidships and is of the triple-expansion type, with surface condenser, and capable of driving the vessel at a speed of ten knots. A water-tight trimming tank is built at the fore end of the vessel of sufficient capacity that when filled with water it will bring the vessel to an even keel of two feet eight inches.

PNEUMATIC MAIL TUBES.

Will Probably Soon Be Put in Between New York and Brooklyn.

Postmaster General Wilson has shown a marked interest in the project for the establishment of a pneumatic tube over the New York and Brooklyn bridge for the carrying of mail matter between the New York and Brooklyn post offices.

Postmaster Sullivan, of Brooklyn, and Postmaster Dayton, of New York, are both anxious that some such system shall be established at the earliest possible day.

It is probable that the work of laying the tubes for such service will begin shortly. Postmaster General Wilson has appointed a commission to visit Burlington, N. J., where a pneumatic tube is in use, and make an investigation as to its workings, and report to him as to the adaptability of such a system in the service between New York and Brooklyn.

Cleanly Japanese Tramps.

A traveler in Japan says that the Japanese tramp takes his hot bath daily if he has a fraction of a cent to pay for it, or his cold bath if he hasn't a cent. He carries a comb, toothpicks, a razor and a toothbrush in a little bundle. A few Japanese tramps might well be introduced as missionaries in the American brotherhood, whose members do not seem to appreciate what cleanliness is "next to."

A Quickly Prepared Dessert.

Although the Bellamy system of house-keeping has not yet been fully developed, the women of the day are to be congratulated upon the vast strides that are being made toward convenience and economy in house-keeping, and especially as regards the home bill of fare.

In this connection, the Merrell-Soule Company, of Syracuse, has come conspicuously to the front with their None Such Mince Meat, a material for desserts, the prominent features of which are its wholesomeness, richness of flavor, and its remarkably short time in which it can be prepared for the table.

The ingredients of this Mince Meat are prepared by exact rule, and with the greatest care. In no kitchen in the land is there more scrupulous cleanliness. The choicest apples, and the selected meat are chopped by steam power; the currants are washed and re-washed by the same method. The raisins are seeded, the sugar ground, the spices mixed, and every operation performed with the skill that would meet the approval of the most particular housewife.

The proprietors recognize that the immense sales of their product rest entirely on its being maintained at the highest possible standard, and it is their experience that those who try it once are unwilling to go back to the old laborious way of making mince pies, but accept the new order of things as thankfully as they do the sewing machine or the electric light.

The Merrell-Soule Company have issued a charming booklet entitled "Mrs. Poppins' Thanksgiving," written by one of our most popular humorous writers, which they are sending free to all who send name and address.

EVEN SILK IS ADULTERATED.

Tannate of Tin and Silica to Give It Weight.

Some improvements in the treatment of silks are announced. Ordinarily silk is "weighted" by depositing tannate of tin on the fiber; the material receives a bath of tannic acid and then another of perchloride of tin, a repetition of this being made until an increase of the weight amounts to from 15 to 20 per cent, beyond which it is not considered safe to go in the case of silk intended to be dyed light shades or to be bleached. Recently a German inventor has brought forward a process in which silica is the weighting agent. In carrying out this method, says the Detroit News-Tribune, three steps are described. First, the silk, raw or in any stage of manufacture, and either before or after dyeing, is worked for an hour in a bath of perchloride of tin; then, after squeezing and washing, it is worked in a warm solution of water glass or soluble silicate of soda for about an hour, followed by washing, having also been previously passed through a solution of phosphate of soda. The operation may be repeated again and again, with no harmful effect on the fiber or on the subsequent dyeing, and in five operations the silk may be increased in weight some 100 to 120 per cent. The silk is now soaped, and, if already dyed, is cleared in an emulsion of olive oil and acid.

SAVED BY A WORD.

Knowledge of a Musical Term Proved Useful to an American Abroad.

There are more advantages in a musical education than most of us think, remarks the Washington Post. A certain physician here in town, who is just home from Europe, says: "I never appreciated the advantages of a musical education until I went into a barber shop in Italy. Nobody about the place spoke a word of English. I was stretched on a rack that passed as a chair and swathed in a towel. The barber made an impressionist sweep from the upper cheek to the lower chin. Gee whizz! how it hurt. My mouth and eyes were full of lather; I didn't know a word of Italian. I yelled. The barber seemed to pause for a moment. Perhaps he was gathering strength for a new onslaught. You have heard that a drowning man can think 50 years in a second. I thought whole libraries and dictionaries. Not a word of Italian. The razor was raised again. Suddenly I remembered a word that I had seen on my daughter's music, and had asked the meaning of. "Adagio! adagio!" I yelled. "D-n 't! Adagio!" "Si, signor," said the barber, and my life was saved.

DANGEROUS FIRE RISKS.

Insurance Companies Ask High Rates for Some of Them.

The marine store business is a risk which most companies prefer to avoid. A dealer may have stuff on his premises, consisting of rags, old dresses, and the like, which is probably worth several thousands, yet the insurance companies will refuse to insure the stock at any price. In the case of an ordinary household, most of these articles would be insured without a demur as household goods.

Lumber yards and sawmills are not regarded by insurance companies with a very favorable eye. The stock of a lumber yard was once insured at a moderate premium, but when a small sawmill was built on one portion of the premises, the insurance company rates. Owing to the addition of the mill, where the premium before was something like $25, about $300 was required, and this favor was only to be granted on the strict condition that no lumber was to be stored within 15 feet of the mill.

HARD SKULL SAVES HIM.

Mexican Receives a Volley of Bullets in the Head and Lives.

A Mexican was condemned to death for stealing a can of kerosene, remarks the Buffalo Express. He was taken out by a party of soldiers, received a volley of bullets at close range, and was left for dead. As soon as the soldiers had gone he sprang to his feet and walked to the City of Mexico, many miles away, where he entered a hospital. The doctors found three rifle bullets imbedded in his skull, but he was not fatally injured. Now the authorities of the town which ordered him executed want him back in order to shoot him again.

But he objects. He argues that if subjected to the discomfort of execution a second time his health might be greatly endangered. There is logic in that. The man's plea ought to hold good. It is a serious menace to a man's health to be taken out and shot, and the fellow who survives the experience once should be spared a second exposure, in order that he may come to the states and go the rounds of the museums as the man with the iron skull.

English Humor.

A strange society was brought to light during the hearing of a case before the Thames magistrate. Several men were charged with stealing a watch from a sailor, and were all discharged except Alexander Fullerton, on whom was found a savings bank book for $245 and a card of membership of a society with a curious title. It bore the following inscription: "National Liars' association—Having been a member of the above association, and finding you are a bigger liar than myself, I must congratulate you on relieving me of this card." It must be gratifying to the East end community, as well as a tribute to Fullerton's own abilities, that he had found no one worthy of relieving him of the card. The magistrate remanded him for inquiries.

Death in Japan.

There are no undertakers in Japan. When a person dies his nearest relatives put him into a coffin and bury him. The mourning does not begin until after burial.

BEAUTY IS POWER.

Perfection of Form, Feature, and Mind. Render Women All-powerful.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Yet blended with those perfections must be perfect health. Women are today stronger in their character, better in their nature, truer in their love, warmer in their affections, than they ever were.

But most women do not know themselves; and often when their influence is doing the most good, break down. They drift gradually and unconsciously into that tempestuous sea of woman's diseases. Then they should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures leucorrhoea, — the great forerunner of serious womb trouble, — relieves headache, strengthens the muscles of the womb, and restores it to its normal condition, regulates menstruations, relieves and cures of all kinds of female complaints. So say the druggists.

Here is another one of thousands who speaks that others may know the truth:— "For five years I suffered with falling of the womb, and all the dreadful aches and pains that accompany the disease. I tried several doctors and different medicines, until I lost all faith in everything. I had not tried your Compound. I watched your advertisements from day to day, and each day became more hopeful. At last I resolved to try it. I have taken seven bottles, and have gained forty pounds. My pains have all left me, and I am a well woman. I do all my own work, and can walk two miles without feeling tired. Your Compound has been worth its weight in gold to me. I cannot praise it enough." MABELA ENHAM, Columbia, Lancaster Co., Pa.

PAROLA LIABLE.

May Be Held for Damages on Account of Tapain's Death.

The coroner's jury in the case of Abraham Tapain, who was found dead
in a room at the rear of Oscar Field's saloon last Thursday morning, rendered a verdict Saturday. It was fully demonstrated at the examination Saturday that John Parola violated the law in dealing out the liquor which Tapain drank and which caused his death. Prosecuting Attorney Young attended the examination and questioned some of the principal witnesses.
Among these was Parola. The latter testified that he knew Tapain to be an habitual drunkard. Mr. Young says Parola is liable for heavy damages provided his friends, or anyone else, for that matter, will push the case.

It took the jury about three hours to agree on a verdict, which was based on the testimony of the physicians who examined Tapain's body. The verdict was to the effect that death resulted from acute alcoholism and lack of proper food.

Coroner Samuel Rodgers was seen regarding the affair. He says he understood before leaving Negaunee
Saturday that the case would be taken up by disinterested parties. He is of the opinion that Parola made a very serious mistake in allowing Tapain to drink such a large quantity of liquor.

Mr. Rodgers will be in Negaunee again today to make further inquiries regarding the affair.

Tapain has a brother living at the Atlantic mine and a sister at the Osceola, in the copper country. These have been notified of their brother's death. The funeral of the deceased took place Saturday morning.

SAMPLING OUR ORES.

An Iron Maker Visiting the Mines in and Near Negaunee.

C. W. Kimberley, who is interested in some of the iron furnaces at Scranton, Pa., spent Thursday and Friday in Negaunee, looking over the mines in the city and also on the Cascade range.
He took samples of the ore produced at all of the properties on the Cascade range and also of some of the mines here. He thinks the ore from the Mesaba Friend, Star West and the exploration of Alexander Mattland and others at Cascade is very desirable as a mixture with the Mesaba range ores.
He was very much interested in these ores and he was quite particular to procure good samples. While in Ne-gaunee Mr. Kimberley was shown the different mining properties by Mayor Foley. He took particular care in looking over the Cambria and Lillie mines as the ores from these properties are quite extensively used at the furnaces he represents. Mr. Kimberley left Saturday for Iron Mountain.

ever it has appeared during its tour through the upper peninsula. The two comedians, J. F. McEary and Harry E. Sutherland, will do some specialties tonight which alone are worth the price of admission. The reserved seat tickets are on sale at Perkins' drug store, the price being thirty-five cents each.

NOT TO BE TRIPLED WITH.

(From Cincinnati Gazette.)
Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end, and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year
ushered in by a little innocuous exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are today countless invasions who can trace their complaints to "cold," which at the time of occurrence
gave no concern and were therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use

DUG HIS OWN GRAVE.

Intended for His Brother, But Filled
It Himself.

The statement is often heard that a man is digging his own grave, but it does not prove true literally very frequently. In the cemetery at Pratt City, Ala., is buried a man who dug his own grave. He was no crank, preparing to die. On the contrary, he had no idea that he would fill the grave when he was preparing it. The story is a peculiar one. The man was James Thomas, a railroad worker. His brother had been ill in Tennessee for quite awhile.
James received a telegram announcing his brother's death, and saying that the body would be shipped to Pratt City on a certain train, and that it was imperative, on account of the condition of the corpse, that it be buried immediately upon its arrival. In his hurry to prepare a grave for his dead brother Thomas dug it himself. The next day the body had not come, and he received a message saying that it could not be shipped, and had been interred in Tennessee. The grave was left unmolested, and just ten days later
Thomas himself was ground to death under the wheels of his train and his body laid in the grave he had dug for his brother.

CHRYSOPRASE IN CALIFORNIA.

Vein of the Rare and Beautiful Stone Discovered in Tulare County.

A rich lode of chrysoprase, a rare
variety of chalcopryite of great value,
has been discovered by Curator Wil-comb, of the Park museum, in Tulare county, Cal.

Chrysoprase, in its perfect state, has hitherto only been found in Siberia, and there only in small quantities. An inferior grade obtains in Vermont.
Recently a gentleman named Braver-man discovered some beautiful specimens of the gem in Tulare county,
and forwarded them to Tiffany, of New York. The jeweler promptly notified him to send on all he could secure,
as the specimens received were of the finest quality, and when cut for mounting would bring anywhere from $50 to $100 each. Mr. Braverman disclosed his find to Curator Wilcomb, who visited the spot, which the gentlemen prefer to keep secret for the present, and together they unearthed a very rich vein of the stone. Should it turn out as anticipated, it will result in the development of a new and unique industry in California mineralogy.

Skunks Desecrate a Cemetery.

The people of Corbin, in Sumner county, Kan., are horrified to find that skunks have dug into many graves in the neighborhood cemetery and eaten
the hands and feet from the bodies buried there. All day the other day the people were at the cemetery engaged in repairing the graves and planning for the extermination of the vermin.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract. "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at E.

Ely's Cream Balm has completely cured

SOUND OF THE SUNBEAM.

Delicate Mechanism Which Determines
the Vocal Properties of Color.

One of the most wonderful discoveries in science that have been made within the last year or two is the fact that a beam of light produces sound.
A beam of sunlight is thrown through a lens on a glass vessel that contains lampblack, colored silk or worsted or other substances, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. A disk having slits or openings cut in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light so as to cut it up, thus making alternate flashes of light and shadow.

On putting the ear to the glass vessel strange sounds are heard so long as the flashing beam is falling on the vessel. Recently a more wonderful discovery has been made. A beam of sunlight is caused to pass through a prism
so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum, or rainbow. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it.

Now place the ear to the vessel containing the silk, wool or other material.
As the colored lights of the spectrum
fall upon it sounds will be given by different parts of the spectrum and there will be silence in other parts.

For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it loud sounds will be given. Only feeble sounds will be heard if the red and blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel and other colors make no sound at all. Green silk gives sounds best in red light.

Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors and utters
no sound in others.

BIRD CATCHING.

The Natives of India the Most Expert in the World.

There is something almost supernatural about the dexterity of the natives of India. A bird is seen perched on some overhanging bough. Very well, then. The native, with his cat-like tread, creeps underneath and takes up his position, motionless, breathless,
a living statue crouching down among the grass. In his hands are a bundle of reeds, one of which is tipped with bird lime. To this he adds another at the lower end, and another and another. Slowly the rods grow, so slowly that the unsuspecting victim does not notice that every second it is creeping nearer and nearer. Length after length is joined, until the bird sees for the first time a tall reed quivering slightly in the breeze. There is nothing terrifying in this. The next instant the reed flutters against the gay plumage of the victim and the waiting Indian springs to his feet with a cry of exultation. As a rule, however, the bird is soon released again. The native carries his treasure into the town, and finds out one by whose religion the lives of birds are sacred. He then demands the little creature's ransom with a threat that unless immediately paid the bird shall be killed. The bargain concluded, he lets the frightened creature go, pockets the money
and sets to work to capture it again.

A CHINESE SERVANT.

Ah Sing in a Kitchen of Southern California.

Ah Sing agreed to come to us for the trifling sum of $35 a month and all his afternoons to himself, says a writer in Lippincott's.

"Me go see Joss afternoons," and go to see Joss he did, or rather to some opium-joint to smoke his pipe, with the greatest regularity every afternoon. But on the whole, he was a good servant; he cooked well—all the "China boys" do that—he waited horribly; they all do that likewise.

One day as I was giving him some orders, Ah Sing looked at me. "Mrs.
S—, your husband dead, or him run away?"

"Oh! In California most times him run away."

For which delightful comment on the divorce system of southern California
I found it in my heart to forgive Ah
Sing many iniquities.

If you can put up with the entire independence of the Chinese, with their absolute unteachableness in every department except the kitchen, you are better off than with the Spanish. A Chinaman is only too delighted to get a new receipt, and will practice with the utmost patience till he acquires perfection; but suggest to him to sweep down the stairs, and see what a response you meet with!

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S PEACH.

A Hostess' Mistake and the Guest's Good Nature.

A young lady sends to the Chicago
Tribune a little anecdote of Abraham Lincoln. She says that a good many years ago, when her father was a small boy, her grandfather brought Abraham Lincoln home one night to supper. He was then a poor young man practicing law in Woodford county, Ill.

It was a cold, stormy night, and grandma hurried around getting supper. To have something nice, she opened a jar of preserved peaches. Lincoln spent a long time over his peach,
and finally left it on the plate.

Grandma noticed this, and as soon as he and grandma had gone into another room she went to look at the dish.
Then she saw that instead of a peach
she had given the visitor the little muslin sack which contained the peach kernels and the spice. She hastened into the other room and began an apology, but Mr. Lincoln said:

"That was all right, Mrs. Perry. My mother used the same thing, and it was so good that I wanted to get all the juice out of it."

To Encourage Matrimony.
Belgium proposes to facilitate marriage by reducing the legal age for both sexes to 21 years, instead of 25 for the man and 21 for the woman, as the law is now, and by making the consent of the father alone necessary,
instead of that of both parents.

OUR THRIVING NEIGHBORS.

Description of the Rapid Growth of Munising Into a Prosperous City.

LIKELY TO BECOME AN IMPORTANT LAKE SUPERIOR PORT.

E. E. Halsey Officially Notified of His Appointment as Receiver of the U. S. Land Office—Bishop-Elect Williams Accepts.

THE BUILDING OF A NEW CITY.

A representative of THE MINING JOURNAL took a flying trip to Munising Saturday to note progress in the young manufacturing town which is springing into being on the site of the historic old hamlet of the same name where a blast furnace, which has been slowly crumbling into a state of picturesque ruin during the years which have intervened since it was active, was years ago the principal source of such prosperity as the place then enjoyed.

Everything indicates that there will be great activity there as soon as spring opens. Already a number of business places have been built, and several of these are occupied by dealers in one line or another who are having a good trade. The two saw mills are well along toward completion, as is also the stove factory connected with one of them, and the Munising company has a pile driver at work driving piles for its dock. Within another month or so the company, which is to put in the big tannery there, will have a force of four hundred men on the ground to push construction of its buildings and dock, and as soon as the snow disappears the townsites company will put about two hundred men at work clearing up the site and preparing for the street improvements which are to be made the coming season. The mills will be ready to begin operations early in the season, and it is estimated that the forces they will employ, together with those that will be given work by the tannery company and those employed on the streets and in building, will make an aggregate of not less than 1,500 or 1,800 men—enough to make things exceedingly lively there during the summer season.

A postoffice has been established there, with Arthur Nester as postmaster, and he says the receipts have run up from a mere nominal sum when the office was first opened, some three months or so ago, to about $100 a month, and that the office will do a business several times as large as it is now doing within the next two months. There are already two newspapers there, one of these being the newly-established Munising News. The News will have pleasant and convenient quarters when the building now being fitted up for it is ready for its occupancy, and with Bob Wright wielding the editorial quill on it there is no doubt of its being a raucy exponent of Munising life and a servicable agency in spreading broadcast the advantages offered by the new town for those who are seeking a place to grow up with.

Sales Agent Timothy Nester is on the ground looking after the interests of the companies represented by him and occasionally taking a run to Chicago and points east to gather in another big industry. He is now negotiating for the location there of a chemical plant which will turn wood into charcoal and bye-products and supply the fuel for blast furnaces at a cost which will enable them to make iron at figures which will surprise charcoal furnace managers in this region. Mr. Nester has the whole scheme worked out, and his estimates have stood the test of investigation by competent furnace men, so it is safe to say that he will carry the chemical plant and attendant blast furnaces in time, as that will not be anything more wonderful than what he has already accomplished for the new town which he and his associates are building up on the shore of the beautiful bay that has for so many years been noted mainly for the excellence of its fishing.

The business portion of the new town is cosily located on a plateau lying on the bay between the sites of the mills and factories on one side and that set apart for the big tannery on the other. The railroad runs right into the heart of the business section and the depot is but a step from the dock, which the company is building. There are three streets laid out, the main one being appropriately named Munising avenue. No building has been done on this avenue as yet, but several fine blocks will go up there early in the spring. The place has already one hotel and a larger one is in process of construction, but there is certain to be a dearth of hotel accommodations when the rush comes later.

On the whole the new town is starting off finely, and there is no possible doubt of its future as one of the important points on the south shore of Lake Superior.

Receiver Halsey Now.

E. E. Halsey received his commission as receiver of public monies at the United States land office, at Marquette, Saturday, succeeding Rush Culver. Mr. Culver has held this position more than two years. He was appointed in February, 1894, when the present Democratic administration was yet young, but resigned in October of the same year on account of extreme dissatisfaction with a ruling of Hoke Smith, secretary of the interior, in certain homestead cases which Mr. Culver had in charge as attorney and argued before the secretary previous to his own appointment. The resignation was accepted but no successor was named until this winter, though Mr. Culver repeatedly requested to be released.

About two months ago the appointment of Mr. Halsey to fill the vacancy to be created by Mr. Culver's retirement, was announced, and yesterday the appointee received his official notification. Mr. Halsey will enter upon his duties today. It will take three or four days to complete the transfer and to make out all the necessary reports. Mr. Halsey has had sufficient land law practice to qualify him for his new position. He is a young attorney of good ability and was prosecuting attorney of Baraga county for three terms before moving here.

Accepts the Bishopric.

Bishop-elect G. Mott Williams announced from the chancel at St. Paul's cathedral yesterday morning that he had decided to accept the position to which he had been chosen and that a letter, containing his formal acceptance, was then on its way to the presiding bishop, Rt. Rev. John Williams of Connecticut. He said further that the preliminary arrangement for his consecration would occupy some little time, possibly several weeks. In conclusion he stated that, while his relations with the congregation would be changed somewhat, they would remain intimate and that he hoped to live and die in Marquette.

To a representative of THE MINING JOURNAL last night the bishop-elect declined to say anything beyond what had been announced in the morning. His letter of acceptance had been mailed Saturday and he did not consider it proper to authorize the publication of its contents, especially as it had not yet reached its destination.

A Civil Service Examination.

The following letter has been received by the Secretary of the Civil Service board at Marquette:

"Washington, D. C., March 6, 1896.—Sir:—The commission has decided to hold a special examination for the railway mail service in Marquette, Mich., commencing at 9:00 a. m. on May 22. A representative of the commission will be present to conduct the examination. The examination is held for the accommodation of persons who may desire to enter the railway mail service but who cannot conveniently go to other parts of the state for examination. Persons desiring to apply should write to the Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C., for an application blank and information in regard to examination, specifying that they desire to be examined for the railway mail service. All applications must be on file, in correct form, not less than six days before the examination, and it is better to file them as much earlier as possible. (Signed.) John R. Proctor, president."

Can't Razzle Marquette.

The baseball team of the H. G. Razall Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, said to be one of the strongest amateur clubs in Wisconsin, is desirous of arranging one or more games for the season of 1896 with the local ball tossers. Manager Nhea says that, satisfactory terms being made, the Milwaukee men will be accommodated either Memorial Day or July 4. The Duluth team, which was Marquette's most dangerous rival for last year's championship, has been challenged to play here May 30 and 31, but as yet no response has been received, though it is still hoped one will be. If Duluth feels she has had enough and doesn't care to try again, the Razall people will be given an opportunity to play in Marquette on the former date.

A Week of Attractions.

McEwen, the hypnotist and mind-reader, whose advent has been awaited by all lovers of the wonderful and mysterious, will be at Marquette opera house tonight, also tomorrow and Wednesday nights. That there will be a large audience to hear him can hardly be doubted as his performance is of sufficient merit to deserve the patronage of those, at least, who are at all interested in the sciences of which he is the master.

Following McEwen, Brown's theatrical company will play three nights. This company has drawn large audiences elsewhere, receiving favorable comment from press and public wherever it has appeared.

A Name Good Carries the Day.

The meeting of the Business College Literary club Saturday evening was largely attended and was the most interesting of the season. Several piano solos were well rendered by different members of the club, followed by reading and recitations. A debate on the subject "Resolved, That a Good Name Is Better than Riches," was quickly decided in favor of the affirmative. The meeting closed with the reading of the College Herald by Miss Maud Brown.
