F. HEPPNER,

THE WORK OF A FIEND.

Aged Ohio Farmer and Wife Are Murdered and Bodies Horribly Mutilated.

TWO DAUGHTERS AND HIRER MAN FATALLY HURT.

Masked Men Entered the House in the Dead of Night and Making Rounds of the Rooms Attacked the Occupants.

MOTIVE FOR CRIME UNKNOWN.

AKRON, O., March 29.—Late last night a masked man entered the Stone farm house, near this city, and committed a horrible butchery. When he took his departure Stone and his wife, both aged, were laying in bed horribly mutilated and Ira Stilson, the hired man, and Eldred Stone, the oldest of the three daughters, unconscious from blows dealt by the murderer. The murderer entered the house by means of a ladder, which he raised to the upstairs window. Going down stairs into the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Stone slept he attacked them with a blunt weapon of some sort, hitting both upon the head. They were probably rendered unconscious and possibly killed by the blows, but the fiend, not satisfied with that, proceeded to mutilate the bodies with a knife. He cut off one of Stone's ears, slashed him across the face and stabbed him in the back, then he laid Mrs. Stone's cheek open with a knife.

After satisfying his fiendish desires down stairs he proceeded to Stilson's room up stairs. The hired man heard the intruder, apparently, for he had arisen when he was dealt a stunning blow on the head. Next the murderer turned his attention to Emma Stone, who slept in a room by herself. When he entered the room she screamed, and that awakened the other girls, who slept across the hall.

Hattie Stone arose to go to her sister's rescue but as she reached the room she was felled by a blow on the head, but fortunately not rendered unconscious. Regaining her feet she ran to her own room, locking the door. She leaped in which Hattie had left her younger sister Flora. Finding the door locked she battered it down. He asked Flora where the other girl was. When told she had gone for help he hastily left the house and made his escape.

Hattie, with blood streaming from the wound in her head, managed to reach the neighbor's house, told her story and then fainted. After she had been put to bed the neighbor, calling for help, went to the Stone house. There evidence of the butchery was discovered. Flora Stone, aged sixteen, was so badly frightened she could tell nothing about the murderer, except that he wore a mask over his face. The crime is a mystery. There was no possible motive for the murders as far as can be learned. Certainly the murderer was not bent on robbery, for in the bureau drawer in Stone's room were two gold watches and some money and nothing had been taken. The sheriff has been searching all day for clues, but nothing has been discovered. Ira Stilson and Emma and Hattie Stone have not yet recovered consciousness, and it is feared that Stilson will die, while the chances for the recovery of the two girls are very small.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Long-Time Family Quarrel Results in a Tragedy at Virginia, Ills.

VIRGINIA, March 29.—Conrad Becker, a wealthy farmer at Arenzville, this county, was shot dead yesterday by his step-son, William Becker, the latter then suiciding by firing a bullet through his brain. The terrible tragedy was the result of a long-time family quarrel, which recently terminated in a lawsuit and the ordering of the step-son off some land. The murdered man leaves an estate worth $80,000. The murderer and suicide each carried life insurance of $20,000.

CRIME OF A MANIAC.

Arkansas Farmer Kills His Wife, Little Son and Himself.

BENTONVILLE, Ark., March 29.—A triple tragedy occurred near here today. Pulaski Duckworth, a prominent and highly respected farmer, killed his wife by striking her on the head with an axe. He then attacked and fatally wounded his four-year-old child with a pocket knife. The murderer then slashed his throat from ear to ear, dying instantly. Duckworth was undoubtedly insane.

THE MAN IN THE BOX.

Coroner and Chazal's Friends Differ in Regard to Identification.

CHICAGO, March 29.—After the examination today at the morgue of the body found in the box Henry Devere and Bas Marcel, two Frenchmen, identified it as their friend Joanes Prosper Chazal, who disappeared from Salt Lake in February, 1893. The coroner, however, is not satisfied the identification is complete. He says there are some details lacking in the description given by the Frenchmen.

BIG COMBINE FORMED.

Embraces Nearly All Prominent Steel Makers in United States.

PITTSBURG, March 29.—A gigantic industrial combination was practically effected at a meeting of steel producers held in New York last week. Another meeting will be held at Pittsburgh soon for the arrangement of the details. It is proposed to regulate the production of steel to actual requirements by methods similar to those used by the rail pool. It is learned from one of the attendants at the meeting that at the start the price of billets will be fixed at $20 per ton and will be changed according to the price or changes of raw materials. Pending the completion of the combination the steel producers have withdrawn from the market and will make no new contracts. Nearly the entire production of the United States was represented at the meeting, embracing capital of several hundred million dollars. Among the prominent firms present were the Carnegie Steel company, Jones & Laughlin, the Illinois Steel company, the Hainsworth Steel company, the Bethlehem Steel company, the Johnstown Steel company and the Cambria Iron works.

CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

Forecast of This Week's Proceedings in House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The sundry civil bill will probably consume the major portion of the time of the house this week, and by many it is considered doubtful whether it will be disposed of when the house adjourns next Saturday. The bill will precipitate general opposition on the Democratic side because of the fact, already pointed out, that for all continuing work now under contract (river and harbor and public building work) the bill carries an appropriation for eight months. This is an entirely new departure and will bring up a general discussion of appropriations all along the line. It is the intention of Chairman Hitt, of the foreign affairs committee, to call up the conference report on the Cuban resolutions as soon as the sundry bill is out of the way. It is not thought the adoption of the report will encounter much antagonism. If Hitt was so disposed he could call up the report tomorrow and move its adoption under a suspension of the rules. The leaders of the house are making all effort to hasten in appropriation bills.

It is expected the appropriation committee will report the postoffice bill to the senate Monday, and if it should be the disposition will be to take it up Tuesday and it will probably be passed in two or three days. The appropriation committee hopes to have the Indian and naval bills ready to report by the end of the week. If there should be any time between the disposition of the postoffice bill and the report of these two bills, the calendar affords plenty of material to work upon. The foreign committee is anxious to get up the bill to prevent the extermination of Alaskan seals as soon as possible, and it may be pressed to the front during the week. The Dupont election case will also, it is expected, be taken up.

ON THE OTHER TACK.

France's Position on the Nile Expedition Undergoes a Change.

PARIS, March 29.—The political world of France is again in a highly perturbed condition and there are indications going to show that the government seeks to retrace some of the steps by which it has been placed in a position of impotent acquiescence in the dispatch of the Egyptian expedition up the Nile and the defraying of the expenses for it out of the Egyptian surplus. The government will be interpellated in the chamber of deputies tomorrow and the making of a statement in reply. An important debate is expected to result and there is a feeling in some quarters that far-reaching changes of policy may be announced.

Among the numerous rumors current tonight are the recall of the French ambassador to London; that France's naval reserve squadron has been ordered to be placed upon a war footing and that France and Russia will convene a European conference to discuss the powers of the Egyptian debt commission to act against the vote of the minority of the powers guaranteeing the duty of and to discuss, also, a growing feeling that the entente between Great Britain and the dreibund is not as cordial as when the Nile expedition was first announced.

THE MAYOR WINS AGAIN.

Supreme Court's Decision in the Rockford A. P. P. Injunction Case.

OTTAWA, Ills., March 29.—The A. P. A. injunction case of Edward J. Hoffman, fire marshal of Rockford from 1891 to 1894, against Mayor Hutchins, elected as a candidate of the A. P. A. during the fierce religio-political fight in Forest City in 1893, was last night decided in favor of the mayor by the supreme court. Hoffman was fire marshal when Hutchins took office, and the latter at once appointed one of his own party to the position. The council refused to confirm the appointment. In May, 1894, the mayor removed Hoffman for alleged cause. Hoffman at once secured an injunction restraining the mayor from interfering with his control of the department until a new man could be confirmed by the council. The injunction being permanent the mayor applied to the appellate court, defeating Hoffman. Hoffman then appealed to the supreme court, but was defeated by the decision just rendered.

Three-Story Tenement House at New York Burns With Disastrous Results.

FOUR PERSONS ARE KILLED AND TWO INJURED.

Fire Breaks Out on Second Floor and Occupants of Upper Floor Are Awakened to Find Escape by Exit Cut Off.

PROPERTY LOSS ONLY $15,000.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Four people were killed and two injured in a fire which started this morning in the three-story tenement building at 374 Hudson street. The burned building was one of a row of three-story structures owned by the Trinity church corporation. The fire originated on the second floor, occupied by the family of Thomas McManus. The McManus family consists of Mr. and Mrs. McManus, two sons and two daughters, all of whom escaped. Nicholas McManus, one of the sons, turned in the alarm and awakened the tenants. He succeeded in helping several people out by leading them down stairs through the blinding smoke. With the tenants on the top floor the chief danger lay. Some of them ran to the roof and escaped in that direction, but others sought to get down by the stairway. The dead are:

THOMAS MALLOY, aged twenty-three, fireman on steamship St. Louis, suffocated.

ARCHIBALD GROGAN, twenty-three, waiter, suffocated.

MARY McMAHON, single, twenty-two; suffocated.

MARGARET RYAN, sixty; died on way to hospital from injuries received by jumping from a window.

Those who were injured are:

KATE HIGGINS, thirty-five; leg fractured by falling.

EDWARD WALASH, twenty-nine, foreman; internally hurt by falling from ladder.

Miss Margaret Ryan and Miss Kate Higgins, one of the household, on being awakened ran to a front window on the third floor. Ladders were placed in position and on one of these was Foreman Walsh. As he was ascending a sheet of flames shot out of a window and he was sent reeling to the street. As Walsh fell Miss Ryan leaped from the window, and Miss Higgins, apparently overcome by smoke, fell to the ground the same time. Miss Ryan was placed in an ambulance but died before the hospital was reached. After the flames were extinguished a search of the building was made and the bodies of Thomas Malloy, Archibald Grogan and Mary McMahon were found, all of whom were suffocated. The property loss was fifteen thousand dollars.

ORGANIZED AT CHICAGO.

A Post of Ballington Booth's New American Volunteers.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Ballington Booth's followers in Chicago fired the first volley for the American Volunteers this afternoon at a hall on the west side in close proximity to the Salvation Army headquarters. Majors Blackhurst and Trumble, who arrived from New York to organize the Chicago contingent, were greeted with cheers mingled with countless "Amens" and "Hallelujahs" when they explained the causes of revolt. Many former prominent members of the Salvation Army grasped them by the hand and co-operated in the organization of the Volunteers. One hundred others enlisted at the afternoon meeting and the number was increased in the evening. Major Blackhurst was the principal speaker. As the official mouthpiece of Ballington his remarks created interest. He said the fundamental cause was the fact Ballington was in too close touch with American ideas, which conflicted with those in London. This was a revolution of right and liberty. It was not true Ballington had resigned. Frankly speaking, he said, Ballington had been summarily dismissed by Commandant Herbert Booth of Canada, who represented the English general. The major confirmed the rumor General Booth had once ordered down the American flag in a certain office of the Salvation Army over which Ballington had jurisdiction, and to this incident Blackhurst attributed the widening of the chasm which separated father and son.

GOOD THING FOR RUSSIA.

Details of the Treaty With China—The Concessions Granted the Czar.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The North China Daily News prints what is said to be a translation of a secret treaty entered into between Russia and China. The treaty allows Russia to use any of the harbors along the coast of China, to mobilize fleets therein, buy coal and supplies, recruit forces in Chinese territory, buy horses, hire coolies, etc. Russia is to have the use of Port Arthur as a winter harbor, but if complications with other powers should arise, Russia may use any other ports on the coasts of Kiang Su and Che Kiang. In return Russia is to help China in case of war with other powers. Russia will be permitted to build a branch of the Siberian railway through the Manchuria, the line to be controlled jointly for fifteen years by China and Russia. At the end of that time China is to be allowed to purchase Russia's share of the branch road.

DENVER, March 29.—Thomas O'Dennis of this city rode a mile, unpaced, on the Mount Clear straightaway course today in the phenomenal time of 1:13.5. It was the fastest time ever made on a wheel. The wind was at his back, blowing nearly fifty miles per hour. The best previous straightaway record was 1:25.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MARCH 30.

Entered as second-class of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

There is altogether too much excitement over the great effort of Mr. Pingree to become governor of Michigan, declares the Gladstone Delta. No doubt it is trying to the backers of the other candidates, but it is notable that Mr. Pingree and his supporters in the party appear to enjoy the exhilaration of it.

At Iron Mountain the Republicans have decided not to draw party lines this spring, and have joined with the Democrats in putting up a "Citizens' ticket," with a Democrat at its head for mayor. This is because of an apprehension that a straight-out ticket this year would not be successful at the polls, as the labor element there has a ticket in the field this year. It is not many years ago since the chairman of the Republican committee at Iron Mountain announced that a partisan ticket must be put up, as he had orders to that effect from the chairman of the state central committee. Times are changing, and the policy of the political bosses are changing with them.

MARK A. HANNA makes a square denial of Senator Chandler's charge, that he has been conducting a boodle campaign for McKinley. Mr. Hanna says his reputation is as good as Chandler's, on whose unsupported word the charge rests, and that he is willing to let the public decide which to believe. Hanna has rather the best of it, as the matter stands, for it is not to be denied that Chandler is not so free from suspicion of political crookedness himself as to warrant him in bringing so grave a charge against his party's leading candidate for the presidency - and, besides, Hanna has been gathering in the delegates at an unexampled rate while Chandler has accomplished nothing by impugning his methods. There can be little doubt of McKinley's strength with the rank and file of his party in the states which have already chosen delegates pledged to him and that he has been legitimately successful in these states.

EDITOR GRIFFEY of the Negaunee Iron Herald denies that he came to this region to establish a Democratic paper and only changed his mind about it after he got here and found that the field was not a promising one for such an enterprise. But he half concedes the truth of the charge by asserting that the Democratic party there, under the leadership of such men as Sam Randall and Samuel J. Tilden, was a party that it would be no discredit to belong to. It was while these men were prominent in the councils of the Democracy that Griffey came up here to start a paper, and on his own statement he would not have considered it discreditable or unpatriotic to run a Democratic paper then and advocate policies which they championed. Mr. Griffey had nothing good to say of either Randall or Tilden while they were living, however, and his laudation of them now is probably because they have passed away. His theory as a partisan probably is that there are "no good Democrats but dead Democrats." There are a good many Republicans in this county who do not feel very kindly toward Mr. Griffey now who would be willing to speak a good word for him under the same conditions that have prevailed with him in the case of the deceased Democratic statesmen in posthumous praise of whom he raises his voice at this late day.

THE current number of the Iron Trade Review of Cleveland gives these details relative to the agreement on ore prices for the coming season:

The position of the Lake Superior Bessemer ore interest for 1896 has been definitely announced within the past few days, both as to the basis of prices and the probable production. For standard Gogebic Bessemer ores like the Norris and Tilden #4 will be asked. Aurora, on the same range, will have its usual relative advance over the price of the two first named. For high grade soft ores of the Vermilion range $4.25 will be the price. The hard ores of the Vermilion and Marquette ranges will carry the same proportionate advance over standard hematites as in 1895. On the Mesaba range the maximum will be $3.75 for Franklin ore, with $3.65 for Biwabik, and other prices scaled according to quality, the minimum being $3.05. For the cheap the figure is $3.55. The output of 9,700,000 tons of Bessemer, originally expected, will be reduced to about 7,750,000 tons. In the reckoning for the coming year no account is taken of dock stocks. The amount that will remain on dock May 1 is figured, is not more than should be carried regularly as a precaution against interrupted transportation, either through mine or dock or other strikes in the upper lake country. As intimated in these columns recently, the calculations of those who have figured on a total ore movement of 12,000,000 in 1896 are likely to be disappointed. It is said to be the intention of shippers to keep shipments close to the total of ore sold. There is no new chartering, though offers of tonnage have been made at $1.10. Shippers are not considering the absence of ore sales, though it is quite certain that they would take some tonnage today if available at $1.

In this number is given the last of a series of papers on the monetary question from the pen of Judge Hubbell of Houghton which THE MINING JOURNAL is very sure its readers have perused with interest and also with profit. Special attention is asked to that in this morning's number, as it brings out certain facts with which the general public is not sufficiently familiar, bearing on the depletion of the treasury's gold reserve, and the immediate cause of it in the opinion of Judge Hubbell. It appears from this letter that a ruling of Secretary Foster, who was at the head of the treasury department during the latter portion of President Harrison's term, opened the crack through which the gold reserve has since been slipping, and thus prepared the way for the financial difficulties that have so embarrassed the government under the present administration. But the most important point brought out by the showing of facts made in this letter is that a policy which has resulted in forcing the government to increase its public debt by over two hundred millions of dollars was determined by the ruling of a department officer, and that, his ruling having been made, it is not judged "prudent" to reverse it. Could this be under a stable system which would hold both metals as entitled to equal recognition for coinage purposes, without any discrimination against either, or any restriction on the use of both as "ultimate" money, save as to fineness and the coinage ratio? Surely not. It is for such a system THE MINING JOURNAL pleads. The careful reader will discover that it stands on substantially the same ground as Judge Hubbell on the monetary issue, the only difference being, apparently, that he believes we could get along all right for awhile if the government had not, through Secretary Foster, surrendered its option on the redemption of paper notes in either silver or gold, while THE MINING JOURNAL doubts this; also that he holds that the United States, France and Belgium might be able unitedly to hasten the day of silver coinage, whereas this paper believes that this nation is strong enough and influential enough to do it alone. But Judge Hubbell concedes that free coinage of silver is a necessity and is coming, and THE MINING JOURNAL is unfeignedly glad to have his testimony to that belief.

THE Iron Port of Escanaba thus defines its position on the gubernatorial contest in the ranks of its party: THE MINING JOURNAL is in error as to the position of the Iron Port. It "raises objection" not to the nomination of Mr. Pingree for governor if the Republican state convention shall so decide, but to having any man thrust upon that convention and the party by the clamor of Democrats and Populists. Perhaps THE MINING JOURNAL can perceive no difference, but there is one. The Iron Port will support the nominee of the Republican party for governor, be he Pingree or another.

Glad to know that The Port will support Pingree if he is nominated. That is about all that can be expected from an organ that trains with the "machine crowd" in the Republican party. But will The Port please inform us how "the clamor of Democrats and Populists" can avail to force the action of the Republican state convention in the matter of nominating candidates for state offices? Democrats and Populists cannot take part in the caucuses or county conventions which will determine the complexion of that convention. If Mr. Pingree will be nominated in the convention it must be by Republicans, acting through a body in making up which Republicans only will have a voice. Democrats and Populists in very large numbers will vote for Pingree for governor if the Republicans nominate him. They will do this because they believe he would make an honest and courageous governor and would stand by the people if he should be elected to that office. Surely this element of strength which he possesses over any other of the candidates for the Republican nomination should not tell against him with his own party. We can recall more important elections - of quite recent date, too - when Republican papers were filled with announcements of Democrats who had come out for the Republican candidate for president, and these papers then seemed very willing to welcome such accessions. In the campaigns of 1888 and 1892 both the Iron Port and our friend Griffey's paper, the Iron Herald, gave much space to such announcements. Do they imagine that the Republican party is so strong now that its ticket will not need any but Republican support? Or are they inclined to deny Pingree what they gladly welcomed for Harrison because the former is not the choice of the party bosses, while the latter was?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY. "Mytic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75 cents. Sold by Frank Pendell, Druggist, Marquette. (1-38-1yr)

Where the Monetary Trouble Lies.

Houghton, March 27, 1896. EDITOR MINING JOURNAL: - In my letter of the 25th inst. in answer to Hon. O. W. Robinson's query as to whether this country had remonetized silver, I quoted from the financial report of Secretary Sherman for the year 1875, in which he advised congress and the country how he construed the laws relating to the redemption of greenbacks by the government, and wherein he used these significant words, "but * * * reserving the legal option of the government," etc. Now while this legal option to redeem either gold or silver was adhered to, as the law required it to be, and from Jan. 1, 1875, to July 1, 1891, only a little over $34,000,000 of greenbacks were presented for redemption and redeemed.

But in October, 1891, Mr. Elihu B. Hayes, secretary of the Republican club of Massachusetts, addressed a letter to the Hon. Charles H. Foster on the status of the greenback and how it was to be redeemed. The letter contained five questions and the fifth was as follows: Fifth - Are not the present notes redeemable in either gold or silver coin at the United States treasury? Does the government not redeem them when presented? Mr. Foster in reply to this letter answered these questions seriatim, and his reply to the fifth question was as follows: Fifth - Treasury notes are redeemed in gold when so presented for redemption at the treasury, or any assistant treasury of the United States.

On the 13th of the same month the following telegram was sent to Secretary Foster: BOSTON, Mass., October 13, 1891. Noticing in your letter of October 10, 1891, to the Republican club, published here this morning, that treasury notes are redeemed in gold at any assistant treasury, I sent a one thousand-dollar note to the sub-treasury here this morning, requesting such redemption in gold. This was refused. If your letter conveys the policy of the treasury will you please send instructions to sub-treasurer here to redeem notes in gold. PHINEAS PIERCE, 22 Sumner St.

Here is Secretary Foster's answer to that telegram: PHINEAS PIERCE, 22 Sumner St. Assistant Treasurer Kennard has been instructed to redeem treasury notes in gold. CHAS. FOSTER, Secretary.

Now can any man in his senses inform me what right the secretary of the treasury had to violate the law by surrendering the option of the government to redeem these notes in either gold or silver coin? What has happened as a result of this surrender? This has happened, that from July 1, 1891, to July 1, 1895, over $300,000,000 of greenbacks or treasury notes have been redeemed in gold. Did the people want this gold? What was the matter with the greenback or the treasury note? Who questioned either as money and wanted gold for them? Was it the business man? Was it the professional man? Was it the laboring man? Nay, verily! The gold bugs of the country entered into a conspiracy to deplete the treasury of its gold and force the government to issue more bonds, and when, by a departmental ruling, clearly in violation of law, they induced the secretary of the treasury to yield the option of the government and order the greenback to be redeemed in gold coin alone, they had at hand the means by which they could disgrace the silver dollar and deplete the treasury of its gold. And after they began to apply these means, and had committed the government to a policy which, as Secretary Carlisle stated to a committee of the house of representatives, it could not prudently abandon, then these gold conspirators raised their hands in holy horror and denounced it as "forcing on the business interests, and on the poor laboring man, a fifty-cent dollar."

The Anglo-Saxons are a virile race of people. They are as a body slow to move, but when moving, irresistible. They always conquer and never surrender to any foe, and I predict that when they realize the enormity of this great wrong which has been inflicted upon them and which has a strong tendency to reduce them to a condition of peonage and servitude to the gold bug power they will protest, and it will be well indeed for the present order of things and for the prosperity and progress of that race if this protest is recognized and heeded in time. Abraham Lincoln is credited with saying: "You can fool all the people some of the time and some people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time." I commend this homely phrase and the lesson it inculcates to the earnest and prayerful consideration of the whole gold standard fraternity. Bimetallism with free coinage is surely coming, because it is a necessity. While its friends who see this necessity, some more clearly than others, cannot now exactly agree as to how it should come, there will surely yet be found, because of that necessity, a common ground upon which they can all place their feet. No political party which entertains the least hope of success, it seems to me, will wisely dare ignore it. I feel confident at least that the great political party to which I belong, and which has such a brilliant history behind it, will not do so. Good things come slowly. Wait!

I have written these letters, not through any impulse of partisanship, not because I had anything very original or new to say about the money question - for men much abler and wiser than I am have devoted much time to its consideration and have discussed every phase of it - but because I desired, if I could, to put the legislative and departmental history of it in some short and narrative form so that readers of THE MINING JOURNAL might be able to obtain a clear understanding of it, and determine for themselves where they are at. I recognize the full right of others to reach from their standpoint different conclusions from those I have reached, and I have assumed that, in the present juncture of affairs, discussion is both wise and proper. I thank the editor of THE MINING JOURNAL for the space which he has so kindly and freely allowed me in his paper, and shall ever hold his kindness in that regard in grateful remembrance. JAY A. THAT ONION TABOO.

Spanish Vegetable Boycott May Lead to Trouble.

Action of Preachers in Youngstown, O., Has Far-Reaching Possibilities - Foreign Nations May Retaliate by Twisting Tail of American Hog.

Shall the Spanish onion be relegated to the bottom shelf of the pantry or hung in effigy? Chicago restaurant proprietors were asking themselves this question after reading the report of a ministers' banquet at Youngstown, O., the other night, where the patriotic guests refused to eat the onions set before them because they were Spanish onions. The preachers passed resolutions declaring that no one in sympathy with the gallant struggle Cuba is making for liberty could consistently, persistently and knowingly partake of the Spanish onion. It was a strong stand for the Youngstown preachers to take, and its general effect on patriotic Americans is likely to be far-reaching. Not only will the lovers of Cuba shed tears when the Spanish onion is cut in their presence and refuse to partake of it, but the Chicago restaurant men fear even more complications, says the Tribune.

The people who sympathize with Venezuela in its little difficulties with England are likely to haughtily spurn English muffins, while those who are horrified at the Armenian atrocities will refuse to enter a restaurant where turkey is sold. The citizens who do not side with Kaiser Wilhelm in the Transvaal matter will pass up the German pancake, and the citizen who rejoices in the victories of King Menelek will turn down the festive Italian spaghetti. If the threatened crash comes between the European powers the bill of fare in American restaurants will be smashed to smithereens. French peas, Russian caviar, Danish mackerel, Swiss cheese and Spanish olives will all be repudiated. Railroad restaurant keepers are in a frightful stew over the new method of expressing national sentiments. In case the deposed Queen Liliuokalani should win the approval of the traveling public the American lunch counter is doomed. People would refuse to eat sandwiches. This would show their detestation of the islands which deposed Liliuokalani.

The most serious consequences would arise in case the people of the Emerald Isle again declared for freedom. For all who were opposed to them would throw down one of the greatest industries of the country - the raising of the Irish potato. It is hardly probable the thoughtless men dressed in black, who sat down to the banquet at Youngstown and trampled upon the Spanish onion, thought of these things. Some of them, possibly, will not happen for some time, but the wars of South America will occur every few minutes, and the national troubles in Mexico would keep the steward at a hotel in a cold sweat rushing cans and bottles back and forth to prevent national complications. Chili sauce, which would be immensely popular one day, would be a gory object on the floor the next. Brazil nuts, which this week would crack pleasantly as the guests sat around the table at Sunday dessert and told stories, would be used for munitions of war when the morning papers were opened next day.

The abdication of the president of the republic south of the Rio Grande would be followed by a direful slump in the Mexican bean market. Everywhere would be confusion and distrust. The worst trouble of all would be in an expression of the animosities between different sections of our land. Florida oranges would be tabooed on the western slopes, while California vines would mix with the waters of the St. Johns. Maine codfish would not wiggle their dried and salted tails in the states where Tom Reed is a displeasing person, and when Maj. McKinley was not over popular Ohio buckeyes would be down-trodden. Maryland oysters would be a dead loss in some sections, while civil war might result over an insult to Boston baked beans.

Chicago is more interested in the Spanish onion incident than any other American city. As soon as the news gets abroad foreign nations will adopt retaliatory methods. They will twist the tail of the American hog.

ON NICARAGUAN SPECULATION.

Timely Words of Advice from the United States Consul There.

On the basis of inquiries made concerning the town of San Juan del Norte, Nicaragua, indicating that the commencement of work on the Nicaragua canal would at once open a new and promising field for American capitalists and laborers, Thomas O'Hara, United States consul at that place, writes to the state department to discourage any idea that a Rio Janeiro or a Buenos Ayres will be erected at the mouth of the San Juan river. He thinks that railways, wagon roads and bridges following the construction of the canal would tend more to the modest growth of many towns rather than the sudden growth of one great commercial and manufacturing city. American laborers, according to Mr. O'Hara, would hardly be contented in Nicaragua as such.

Literary Feasibility.

Some one with taste for figures has noticed the fact that Miss Braddon, the novelist, has in the 33 years since she began to write produced just 60 romances, each of them in three volumes, making 180 in all. She has, therefore, made copy enough for six printed pages on each day in all those years.

The Iowa Successfully Launched from Cramp's Yard at Philadelphia Saturday.

GOVERNOR DRAKE'S DAUGHTER STANDS SPONSOR.

New Man-of-War a Veritable Floating Fort With Guns That Throw a Thousand-Pound Projectile Seven Miles—Her Armament.

NOTABLE GATHERING THERE.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—The launch of the battleship Iowa from Cramp's ship yard yesterday partook more of the nature of a national event than any similar one since Mrs. Cleveland christened the St. Louis two years ago.

It was exactly 1:33 o'clock in the afternoon when the last block was knocked away and the marine monster began her brief journey.

The Allison boom was brought to the front just before the launch, accidentally or otherwise, Governor Drake, who was standing on the christening platform, called to the heads of the crowd to Senator Gear, who presently came along with Senator Allison and Secretary Harbert.

Officially the Iowa is known as "sea-going battleship No. 3." Distinguishing her from coast line battleships like the Indiana, Massachusetts and Oregon. She is a floating fort—a terrific engine of destruction.

In the matter of giving punishment the Iowa will surely be a terror. At each end of the main deck rise great revolving turrets made of 18-inch armor plates.

12 inches in diameter. These are the great guns, and can hurl accurately steel-pointed shot weighing nearly 10,000 pounds seven miles or so.

The southern people say that a northern man, after living south a few years, is a fierce negro-hater, far outdoing the southern man in his antagonism to the negro race.

SERVED HER RIGHT.

Young Lady Loses a Seat Offered Her Through an Unkind Remark.

A well-dressed lady apparently about 30 years of age walked into a crowded car on the Metropolitan elevated road shortly after six o'clock the other evening. Apparently she was not acquainted with Chicago ways.

She saw a number of other ladies hanging on the straps and then made an effort to balance herself likewise. West of Canal street, where the road curves, she lost her equilibrium and fell against a young man who was sitting reading a paper and who had not looked up. Visibly affected by her embarrassment he arose and offered her his seat. She took it and then said, angrily: "I think it is about time."

The young man fumbled in his pocket a moment and then said to her: "Excuse me, lady, but I left my handkerchief in that seat." She arose to let him get it, when he promptly resumed his seat and nonchalantly began to read again. The lady stood the rest of her journey.

Long Bicycle Path Being Planned.

A movement which started in Indianapolis for a bicycle path between Terre Haute and the capital has been taken up in the latter city. It is proposed to build a path four feet wide, following the old national road, which runs through a thickly-settled country, the entire distance of 73 miles. It is proposed to organize a stock company and to distribute enough stock along the line to pay for the cost of construction.

THE BLUE BOOK.

Comment on Britain's Presentation of Venezuelan Dispute.

London Baffles with One Exception Consider 11 a strong case. Daily Another Reason for Arbitration-Views of American Newspapers.

The issuing by the government of Great Britain of a blue book on the Venezuelan boundary dispute has excited much comment both in this country and across the water. The criticisms are necessarily superficial in their character, as a careful study of the work has as yet been impossible, but they are nevertheless interesting and in a measure informing. In selecting the comments care has been taken that a fair presentation of the views held in both countries is made.

Through British Eyes. "The British case is simply overwhelming. Why, with such a case, Great Britain ever allowed the dispute to reach the present phase is a mystery." - London Daily Graphic.

"The historical and geographical claim is the strongest possible, but we delude ourselves if we suppose that a settlement has been virtually realized by the publication of these elaborate and exhaustive blue books." - St. James Gazette.

"Though the British case has thus been brought into court, it is a profound mistake to assume that it will be submitted formally to a joint commission. The latter Great Britain has never recognized any American tribunal and jurisdiction whatever in the matter and never will." - London Globe.

"The case is impressively strong, but the stronger it is the less reason Lord Salisbury can urge against unconditional arbitration. A great friendly power has interposed in the interests of peace. What will be the next step? We must have either a court acknowledged by both parties or a joint commission. The latter is probably the most hopeful course." - London Daily News.

"We must confess that we are dissatisfied with the presentation of the case by the strict advocates of the line that has been pursued. The weak points have been studied and undue emphasis laid upon unessential matters. We are compelled to conclude that in this as in other high concerns that have been committed to Lord Salisbury's care he has shown himself a not too skilful, tactful or well-informed defender of the honor and interests of the empire." - London Chronicle.

"Unless Venezuela possesses evidence which has been carefully suppressed and quite unknown to Great Britain, the fact is now placed beyond doubt that the true history of the case is the opposite of that assumed gratuitously by the Secretary of State. The latter predicts that when the case is studied in the United States the people will completely reverse their judgment, and admit that Great Britain's case against Venezuela has been an honorable example of moderation, forbearance and fairness." - London Morning Post.

As Americans See It.

"It may be said frankly that while Sir Frederick has produced an interesting historical treatise, and one worthy of high respect as a controversial essay, he has shown a marked tendency to dwell upon unimportant and irrelevant matters and to pass very lightly over some points of crucial interest. He is not to be blamed for so doing. His work was a purely ex-parte one. He was to make the British case appear as strong and the Venezuelan case as weak as possible. It was natural and proper that he should magnify everything in favor of the one, and minimize everything in favor of the other. The impartial American reader will take that fact fully into account, and not be misled thereby." - N. Y. Tribune.

"Indeed, if the result of Sir Frederick Pollock's researches be all the St. James' Gazette asserts, it still leaves the Marquis of Salisbury on the horns of the dilemma of either withdrawing from the last summer, upon which his lordship, with characteristic obstinacy, saw fit to impale himself: The stronger the title found for Great Britain in the disputed South American territory, the more reason for arbitration; the weaker the British case, the less cause for British insistence." - Chicago Tribune.

"It is strikingly suggestive of Great Britain's usual way of settling difficulties with weaker countries that, as her claim in all the Venezuelan matter is presented to the consideration of the world, gorgeous in the regulation blue of the diplomatic service, a fleet of her warships should appear on the horizon not far from the most convenient port in Venezuela. A case so excellent as the English claim to have needs no protecting ships." - N. Y. Journal.

"The case presented by the British government in the Venezuela controversy is of less importance for the facts and arguments it contains than for the spirit in which it is brought forward and the comments of the British press upon it. It is, of course, necessarily an ex-parte statement, but it is not, of course, to be expected that the American commission appointed by the president will accept as final the statement of the British case." - N. Y. Times.

A Fishery Experiment.

An experiment will be made in Vermont this year with 5,000 sea trout eggs, which came from Scotland. The attempt to hatch the eggs of this fish has never before been made in the United States. An effort will be made by a New York fish culturist, and the small fish will be placed in the pure water of an inland lake near Rutland, where they can be closely watched.

How Silk is Wound.

The thread on the cocoon of the silk worm is not wound around and around, as might be supposed, but irregularly here and there, as the worm moves his head to and fro within his self-made house. Many yards of thread may sometimes be unwound from the cocoon without turning it over at all.

Location of Garden of Eden.

Noah's wife is said by Armenians to be buried on Mount Ararat, and the Armenians trace their ancestry back to Japhet in one long genealogical tree. They have a tradition that the Garden of Eden was located in Armenia.

Cork.

Cork, according to some, got its name from Corc, a king of Munster, in the fifth century. Others derive the name from Corcaiy, a swamp, as the city stands on a group of islands in the Lee, at one time a swamp.

The coming Artist who knows enough to paint a popular subject.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

Citizens' and Labor Party Caucuses and Conventions Tonight.
The Citizens' party will hold its ward caucuses this evening at 7 o'clock for the nomination of a supervisor, alderman and constable in each ward, also for the selection of delegates to attend the city convention to be held an hour later at the Nelson House. The places designated for holding the caucuses and the number of delegates are as follows: First ward—Fire engine house, two delegates; Second ward—Ishpeming hospital, two delegates; Third ward—Jones' barn, three delegates; Fourth ward—Hose house No. 2, three delegates; Fifth ward—Hose house No. 4, two delegates; Sixth ward—Eric Anderson's store, Third street, two delegates; Seventh ward—Lake Angelina mine office, two delegates; Eighth ward—Basement of the Division street school building, two delegates; Ninth ward—Basement of the Ridge street school building, two delegates; Tenth ward, Hose house No. 3.
The Citizens' party has not yet made up its slate for the city ticket, nor yet have many candidates been decided on for the ward offices. For the mayoralty Dr. T. A. Felch, E. F. Bradt and H. F. Heyn, have been mentioned, but it is said that none of these will accept the nomination. THE MINING JOURNAL has not heard of any candidates for the treasurer's office but there are two candidates in the field for the recordership. These are Robert Crabb and John Qualey.
The caucuses and city convention of the Labor party will also be held this evening. The places for holding the caucuses in the different wards were published in THE MINING JOURNAL last week. The convention will be held at the Mine Workers' Union hall at 8 o'clock. At this writing it seems certain that the candidates on the Labor ticket will be the men whose nomination were stated to have been agreed on in an article on the subject in this department last Friday.

Death from Alcoholism.
Andrew Mati, a Finlander, died in the jail here about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been arrested early in the morning for drunkenness—had been drunk for three weeks, ever since he came here from the woods near Onota, where he had been working. The physician who was called said his death was caused by acute alcoholism. Mati had been in this country, mostly in Ishpeming and the copper country, for nine years. He has a brother living in Ishpeming. An inquest will be held in the case today.

Has a Fine Line.
J. H. Quinn has taken the exclusive agency in Ishpeming for one of the largest carpet manufacturers in this country and he advertises in this issue of THE MINING JOURNAL a $5,000 stock to select from. All the latest patterns are included in the line carried. Mr. Quinn is in a position to meet city prices on carpets. Those in need of carpets will do well to call and inspect Mr. Quinn's fine line.

Goed Up a Notch.
J. E. Dalton has been given the management of the Ishpeming Beef company's business here. He has held the position of salesman with the concern for the past six months or more and the promotion is a merited one. Gust Buyer has been given Mr. Dalton's place as salesman.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.
Frank D. Carlton of Calumet did business in the city Saturday.
Dr. G. B. Barnett and wife got home from Ripon, Wis., Friday evening.
M. R. Goldworthy and daughter of Hancock were in the city Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Montgomery of Champion were Ishpeming visitors Saturday.
Joseph S. Bargh is up from Fond du Lac, Wis., on a visit to Ishpeming friends.

LARSON WASN'T IN IT.
The Copper Country Champion Got Away With Him Easily.
The one-mile race between "Sib" Larson of Ishpeming and Albert J. Davey of Calumet at the Bancroft rink Saturday evening was not as lively a contest as was expected. Davey won the race with apparent ease. The skaters started on opposite sides of the rink. Larson kept pace with Davey for the first two laps, but the copper country skater gradually kept gaining. In the fifth lap Larson fell. By the time he had got fairly started again Davey had caught up to him. Larson held the lead for three or four more laps, when Davey passed him. Larson dropped out of the race at the end of the twelfth lap. His opponent was then almost a lap ahead. Davey finished the mile—fourteen laps—and the time-keeper announced his time as three minutes and twenty-five seconds. This was, perhaps, not his exact time, as the record was kept by an ordinary watch. In case the time announced was correct Davey broke his own record for fast skating. He says the best time he ever made in the copper country was three minutes and thirty-one seconds. In the race here Charles T. Fairbairn was timekeeper and George A. Newett of Ishpeming and John Saitz of Calumet acted as starters.

Davey is a very skillful skater. He turns the corners quite rapidly and instead of losing time there, as most skaters do, he increases his speed. His manner of turning the corners is different from that of any skater ever seen here. Davey is the possessor of five gold medals which he won in the copper country. He was very much pleased with the Bancroft rink. He says it is a way ahead of any rink in the copper country and is the finest he has ever seen.

DEATH OF DR. WEBSTER.
It Occurred at Chicago Saturday Morning.
The many Ishpeming friends of Dr. Lawson W. Webster will be pained to hear of his death, which occurred in Chicago Saturday morning at 8:45 o'clock. James McCutcheon, uncle of the deceased, received a telegram at 10 o'clock giving the sad tidings and in a very short time the news had been communicated to his many intimate friends here.
Dr. Webster was a very promising young man. He worked his way through college under very trying circumstances and without the assistance of anyone. He began the practice of his profession at Englewood Hospital, Chicago, about a year ago and was fast coming to the front as a physician and surgeon. He was about twenty-six years of age.
Mr. McCutcheon and Hugh Sparks, the latter also a relative of the deceased, left Saturday evening for Chicago. They arranged before leaving here to have the remains brought to Ishpeming for interment, although Mr. Webster's home is in Canada. He resided in this city for ten years or more and was very generally known and well thought of here.

Changed the Dates.
The "Josh Simpkins" company, which was booked for an engagement at the opera house here a week from tomorrow night, has changed its date to next Monday, election night, on account of H. S. Pingree's date here Tuesday evening. The company was booked at Negaunee for the 6th but will appear there on the 7th instead. By making these changes in its dates the company gets out of Mr. Pingree's way in both cities.

TO BE FINISHED THURSDAY

The New Merchandise Dock of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Will Be Completed This Week.

PILE DRIVERS WILL BE TRANSFERRED TO ORE DOCK

Captain Blanchard Receives the Jewel Voted to Him Last January—The Arrangements for the Reception to Mayor Pingree Next Saturday.

PROGRESS OF RAILROAD WORK

The new merchandise dock of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railway at Presque Isle, will be completed Thursday of this week. The two pile drivers now working on it will be removed in the course of a few days and, with a third added, will be stationed at the ore dock. One hundred twenty-five men are now employed. The approaches to the ore dock have been driven, two hoisting engines are at work at the east end of the approach and the raising and framing are now going on rapidly. When completed the ore dock will be 54 feet high and 52 feet wide, containing 200 pockets. Both docks will be ready for use some time before the dredging is done or the tracks laid on the railway.

Work on the breakwater will probably not begin until summer, when it will be taken up and pushed so as to be completed in the fall. The breakwater, which will be 500 feet in length; will lie on the reef of rocks off the point. It will not be made of concrete, the new style with which the government experimented to some extent last season, but will simply be a crib filled with stones. The expense of this improvement will be borne by the United States, the appropriation having passed both houses of the congress, and probably, by this time signed by the president.

Doesn't Want Blood

Ordinarily men who have suffered for crimes they did not commit are imbued with the most vengeful feelings toward their prosecutors and they proceed without delay to make their resentment felt. Dumas in his great work "Monte Cristo" represents Dantes wrecking a most awful revenge upon the men whose conspiracy caused him to spend the best years of his life in a dungeon. John McDonald, the martyr convict of Marquette, appears to be of a temperament far different from the one possessed by Dumas' hero. He does not want to "get even" with the men who perjured themselves to convict him; he feels no anger toward them.

"If I give them rope enough," said McDonald to a Mining Journal man. "Beveridge and Redpath will hang themselves, and I have my hands full to build up an honorable reputation for myself, and to make what I can of my life. I do not think these two men were my enemies; they simply wanted to save themselves by putting the murder upon another and I happened to be that unfortunate other. If I had been acquitted they would not have been sorry, but they were well satisfied to see me convicted in order to divert suspicion from themselves."

Tomorrow Evening's Play.

A play of realistic rural character, entitled "Joshua Simpkins" will be produced at Marquette Opera House Tuesday evening. The piece is said to have plenty of life and vigor in it and an ample supply of wholesome fun and laughter. The story told is of the rural variety and very similar to the "Old Homestead." When it is said there is a real saw mill shown on the stage, with a real four foot circular saw, producing real sawdust, and that one of the characters is bound on a log and dragged to within an inch or two of its glittering teeth, it is enough to arouse the intense curiosity of intending visitors. A specially fine orchestra is carried by the company which gives a variety of descriptive selections including all the latest musical numbers out. The band will parade the principal streets about noon.

"Joshua Simpkins" was written with the view of keeping an audience thoroughly amused and fully carries out the author's intention. The plot is not allowed to interfere with the comedy parts to any appreciable extent, thus producing a play that is not only interesting and thrilling but is said to contain as many laughs as there are grains in a "heaped up" bushel of wheat. The character sketches are said to be very clever, while there is an abundance of good music, singing and dancing in it. These lovable old country characters are introduced and their doings and sayings create an amount of amusement. The company comes well recommended as a good one throughout.

New Washee Washee Stand.

Needham Bros' steam laundry and dye works are now located on West Main street, in the old Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. Fred Needham has superintended the moving of the apparatus from the Fraternity block to the present location and has the plant in better condition than ever before in Marquette. Needham Bros. came here two years since and have built up the business to its present high standard. Strict attention to business and the high grade of work have been the secret of their success. They have been in the laundry business for the past fifteen years, and with their numerous branches now control the laundry trade of the upper peninsula.

They have made extensive improvements in their plant which now occupies double the room of the old building and they are prepared to take good care of all the work brought to them. The gymnasium room is fitted up as the ironing and finishing room and office, the three taking half the building. The other portion is used for washing, starching and drying room. A new boiler house has been erected on the north side of the building. It is not necessary to speak of Needham Bros. work, as everyone knows they do the best.

Mademoiselle Rhea.

Mr. Sanford B. Riechy, representing the famous actress "Rhea," arrived in the city yesterday and is completing arrangements for her appearance at the opera house next Monday night. He reports that Mademoiselle Rhea has had a most successful season. She is a most fascinating lady off the stage and everywhere is received with great social attentions, receptions, etc. Mademoiselle Rhea has just received a most flattering letter from Prince Victor Bonaparte the heir to the throne of France, enclosing his picture with the following words: "To Mlle. Rhea, the admirable interpreter of the Empress Josephine"—Signed; Prince Victor. Her appearance here will be the greatest theatrical event in the history of Marquette, as she will bring her entire brilliant New York company numbering some twenty ladies and gentlemen. The costumes and accessories are said to be the most sumptuous of any company in America.

Will be Warmly Welcomed.

The executive committee of the Pingree club has partially completed its arrangements for the mayor's reception next Saturday. A delegation will be sent to Champion to meet him on his arrival there over the Milwaukee road, the party to return here at 11:30 a. m. It has not been decided what the city will do with its guest during the afternoon but it is probable that the time will be filled with a reception to the local Pingree men who compose most of the city. In the evening the mayor will speak in the Casino rink which will have seating capacity for about 1,500 people and standing room for as many more. The Marquette city band will be in attendance during the evening, adding not a little to the enjoyment of the occasion. More handshaking will follow the address. Mr. Pingree will also spend Sunday in Marquette, leaving for Ishpeming Monday morning.

In Mr. Stephenson's Favor.

Acting Secretary of the Interior Reynolds has rendered a decision on a contest in which Representative Stephenson is a party as scrip locator. The title of the contest is George A. Hamilton against Solomon Greenhoot, Jacob Buckholtz, William Holmes and Samuel M. Stephenson, and involves a portion of the land granted to the state of Michigan in aid of the construction of the Marquette & State Line road, which grant was forfeited by the act of March 2, 1889. Hamilton, according to the secretary, was a bona fide settler under that act, and would have prior right to the land but for the fact that he failed to make application for citizenship until after the date of the act granting lands to the state. The decision holds, therefore, that his homestead entry is void.

Past Grand High Priest Honored.

Captain C. D. Blanchard has received, via the Western Express company, a past grand high priest's jewel which was voted him at the annual meeting of the grand chapter, in Detroit last January, as a token of respect and honor. He was the presiding officer at the time. In the jewel is a large diamond which can be detached and worn in the shirt front. It also contains twelve stones emblematic of the order, and is on the whole a very beautiful and expensive gift by the receipt of which, considering it not much for the inherent as its extrinsic value, Captain Blanchard rightly has reason to feel proud.

Notice of Caucus.

A People's caucus for the first ward of the city of Marquette to put in nomination a candidate for the office of alderman of said ward, will be held at Ryan's building at the southwest corner of Genesee and Division streets, on Wednesday, April 1, 1896, at 7 p. m.
