THE SENATE FOLLOWS SUIT.

Overrides the President's Veto of the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill.

VOTE STOOD FIFTY-SIX AYES TO FIVE NAYS.

Sherman Thinks It Time to Curb the Veto Power and His Sentiments Are Echoed by Others—Cleveland Criticized.

A LAW IN SPIRE OF GROVER.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The senate today took up the river and harbor bill, vetoed by the president, and Vest made an extended argument in favor of passing the bill over the veto. Sherman said he would vote to pass the bill over the veto because the improvement of the waterways of the country was one of the most important branches of national development and one in which other great nations were showing even a greater advance than the United States. Moreover, the legislative branch was given the exclusive right to appropriate money.

"It is time to curb this daily exercise of veto power," declared Sherman. "It is a most extreme power and a dangerous one unless exercised only in the most extreme cases involving constitutional questions. But this wise restriction is set aside and we have a veto every week or so."

Vilas said the bill contained important appropriations for his state, but he could not bring himself to the conviction that this great burden should be added to the distressed shoulders of the people of the country. He regarded the criticisms of the veto by Vest as excessively minute and unimportant. The appropriations by this congress would exceed five hundred million dollars before reaching the river and harbor bill. Congress had come to deal with vast sums as lightly as would some oriental prince who had no comprehension of values. The appropriations of the present congress would outstrip those of the congress which became famous as "the billion dollar congress."

"Where was the money coming from?" asked Vilas. Is it coming from more taxation and more bonds. Of course the secretary of the treasury will have to stop paying when he has no more money to pay with," exclaimed Vilas. "Is it the desire of this congress to drive the treasury into bankruptcy?" The senator from Ohio (Sherman), said Vilas, appealed for more revenue, but raising revenue was some legislative trick. Instead of that, more revenue meant more taxation, sucked from the tremendous force of labor from the product of labor and burning deeper stripes into the shoulders of labor. Because of this recklessness of expenditure he would vote to sustain the veto.

A ROAST FOR THE PRESIDENT. Pettigrew, in expressing the belief that the time had come for a constitutional amendment limiting the veto power, made a violent attack on the president. "The present occupant of the White House," continued Pettigrew, "is not content with the violation of the Constitution by the exercise of the veto power alone, but he overrides laws, influences congress with patronage, enriches his favorites at public expense—in fact, permits no restraint but his imperial will."

"Grover Cleveland has refused to enforce the laws of congress so often that the list of his violations is next only to his list of vetoes. He sold bonds at private sale to his favorites and former associates upon terms and at a price many millions of dollars below the market price of bonds on the day of such private sale. In view of these facts it is time for congress to give some attention to these usurpations. If this government is to survive we can no longer look with indifference upon the shameful autocracy of Grover Cleveland."

Hill upheld the veto power, declaring the fine distinction between limitations which had been stated were in the brains of senators, but not in the Constitution. The senators had quoted Jackson, but Hill reminded them that Old Hickory himself inaugurated the vetoing of river and harbor bills and his was the first veto of such measure. In conclusion, Hill offered a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing that the president may veto a specific item of an appropriation bill without vetoing the bill.

Butler spoke on the presidential use of patronage to influence legislation and elections. This, with the veto power, made the president an autocrat more dangerous than the king of England could ever be. This closed the speech making and a vote was taken.

HOW THE SENATORS VOTED. Following is the vote in detail:

YEAS. Republicans—Aldrich, Allison, Burrows, Cannon, Carter, Chandler, Clark, Culom, Davis, Fairbank, Elkins, Gallinger, Gear, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Lodge, McBride, Mitchell, Ore, Nelson, Perkins, Pettigrew, Wolcott—33. Democrats—Bacon, Berry, Lindsay, Paulkner, George, Gorman, Jones, Ark., Mills, Mitchell, Wis., Morgan, Pasco, Pugh, Tullman, Turpie, Vest, Waltham, White—19. Populists—Butler, Stewart, Jones, Nev., Peffer—4. NAYS. Democrats—Bate, Chilton, Hill, Smith, Vilas—5. Sherman endeavored to go on with the filled cheese bill, but Vest objected, stating that he was tired with having this filled cheese bill thrust forward constantly. Vest said it could be defeated by filibustering but this would not be resorted to. A partial report on the naval bill, covering all questions except the item of battleships and the price of armor plate, was agreed to. Lodge urged that the senate recede from its amendment on battleships. Quay moved to recede from the senate amendment reducing the number of battleships.

HILLMAN BOBS UP AGAIN. An extended debate as to the cost of armor plate was participated in by Quay, Bacon, Chandler and Tillman. Tillman spoke in his usual breezy way on "armor robbers." He referred to the grip by the throat which armor concerns had on congress, and looking around the senate asked if there were attorneys or a lobby here or senators interested in securing these contracts. The final vote on the item of battleships will be taken at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

SILVER MEN HAD ALL THE SAY

Kansas Democrats Select a Free Coinage Delegation to Chicago. TOPEKA, Kas., June 3.—The Democratic state convention met here today to name the delegates to the Chicago convention. Committees were appointed and a recess taken until afternoon.

When the convention finally organized and the permanent organization effected as agreed upon during recess the silver Democrats ruled everything. Besides choosing six silver delegates-at-large, the convention ratified the selection of two from each congressional district. These were chosen by convention members representing their respective districts and then passed upon by the convention which, being strongly in favor of free silver, ensured an entire delegation to Chicago for the white metal.

The following are the delegates-at-large: Ex-United States Senator John Martin; David Overmeyer, Topeka; J. D. McCleverty, Fort Scott; James McKinsley, Hutchinson; J. B. Atwood, Leavenworth; Frank Bacon, Chanute. The platform recognizes President Cleveland, but disagrees with him on finance. The money plank is as follows: "Resolved, That we demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without awaiting the action of any other government or people, as we believe this country is large enough to establish and maintain its own financial system." The resolution was adopted amidst great cheering.

TELLER FOR PRESIDENT.

The Colorado Senator May Be Silver Convention's Nominee.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—A convention of silver men was held this afternoon and elected delegates-at-large to the St. Louis silver convention next month. Not over twenty delegates were present at the conference. In the course of a lengthy speech General Warner said that during the past forty-eight hours he had been in conference with Senators Jones of Nevada, Jones of Arkansas, Morgan of Alabama and others, and all agreed on the proposition that the issue must be fought out this year. It would be divulging no secret, General Warner said, to state whom they looked upon as the coming candidate in the event of the Democrats failing to come out for free silver. This man was Senator Teller of Colorado. Mr. Teller was satisfactory to all of the silver men with whom he had talked. The slim attendance today is explained by the fact there is a strong probability that the Democrats will declare for free coinage at the coming state convention.

MILLERS MEET AT CHICAGO.

Creation of Department of Commerce and Manufacturers Favored.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The third annual convention of the Millers' National association was held at the Auditorium today. Charles A. Pillsbury of Minneapolis, who presided, said the association had taken a high ground on reciprocity, and much of the national legislation according reciprocal trade to other countries was due to the influence of millers. He said the association would strive to secure better export laws from the next congress. Resolutions were passed favoring the establishment in the president's cabinet of a department of commerce and manufacturers and for the promotion of a special tariff commission. The convention then elected its thirty-five trustees from the various states represented and adjourned.

SUPREME COURT SETTLES IT.

Rights of the Democratic Factions in Nebraska Are Equal.

OMAHA, June 3.—The Nebraska supreme court today rendered a decision in the litigation growing out of the split in the Democratic party of the state some years ago over silver. Both elements held conventions, and the state officials of the silver party brought suit to force the secretary of the state to certify that it was the only Democratic party of the state. The court declares it is not within the province of the secretary to determine such question, and in such cases both elements must have an equal chance.

On a Charge of Duelling.

NAMES OF CLEVELAND AND CARLISLE ARE HISSED.

Day Taken Up by Free Coinage Speeches While Awaiting Committee Reports—Blackburn Will Be Endorsed for President.

GOLD IN HOPELESS MINORITY.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 3.—The drift of the Democratic convention today has been to make Senator Blackburn president and General W. P. W. Hardin, the defeated candidate for governor, his successor in the senate. The convention is ten to one for a 16 to 1 ratio. The Louisville district is the only one out of the eleven that the gold men controlled, and the committee on credentials is laboring all night on contests that may wrest the Fifth district from the gold men and give a solid Kentucky delegation to Chicago for silver. In this case the delegation will be instructed to vote as a unit for Blackburn at Chicago, and Blackburn is sitting up all night taking part in the contests before the committee on credentials.

Blackburn's conciliatory course was followed in the resolutions, and the advice in speeches of Messrs. Blackburn and Hardin not to give one iota of their victory away is likely to be followed in the report on credentials, on which even a bolt tomorrow is probable. The First and Second districts today condemn Secretary Carlisle by name in their resolutions and all the districts, except the Fifth, condemn the national administration, but the committee and convention were more conservative. A hot fight is expected tomorrow on credentials and resolutions. Senator Blackburn, W. P. Hardin, John S. Rhea and W. T. Ellis have been determined upon for delegates-at-large.

LEXINGTON, June 3.—The Democratic state convention was called to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Charles Long, chairman of the state central committee, a gold standard man, selected last year. He made a very mild speech, saying he believed the party would make a most grievous error if it declared for free silver. He closed with an eulogy of Cleveland and Carlisle, declaring the latter would be the next Democratic president.

There was a change in the scene to one of continuous applause when John R. Rhea, the champion of free silver, presented the name of Senator Charles J. Bronston of Lexington for temporary chairman. Bennet Young presented Judge Alexander Humphreys of Louisville on the part of the gold standard men. Young commanded attention until he referred to Humphreys as ably representing the views of those great statesmen, Cleveland and Carlisle, and then he could not be heard on account of hissing and yelling. Young had the floor, attempting time after time to proceed. Ollie James, a free silver leader, mounted a chair and begged his fellow delegates to let Young proceed, when the latter was able to conclude.

SILVER MAN ELECTED CHAIRMAN.

Numerous seconding nominations were made amid much confusion. Chairman Long made a most caustic speech in appealing for order and insisted there would be no call of the counties until order was restored. The call of the 119 counties was interrupted by several contested announcements, but was finally announced as follows: Bronston, representing silver; 201; Humphreys, favoring a gold standard; 206. No changing of the vote was allowed.

The thirty votes of Kenton county, the home of Secretary Carlisle, and a good part of the vote of the Fifth district, which includes Louisville, were cast for Humphreys, the gold candidate. He got some other scattering votes from silver delegates. The silver men claim their delegates knew Bronston did not need any help and conciliatory, as well as complimentary votes, are said by them to have been cast.

Chairman Long then introduced Mr. Bronston as chairman. Senator Bronston made an eloquent free silver speech, congratulating the Democracy of Kentucky on no longer being tempted by the lure of gold and at last securing such standing as represented the rank and file of the Democracy of the commonwealth. He denounced the concentration of wealth, class legislation and efforts of the money power, as well as soldiers, to stifle the will of the people.

John S. Rhea next addressed the convention on silver coinage. Like Chairman Bronston, he was greeted with repeated and continuous rounds of applause. Senator Blackburn responded to repeated and continuous calls and addressed the convention for an hour in a most vigorous manner on the lesson of the great silver victory in Kentucky last Saturday and the duty of the representatives of the people at this convention. The senator was frequently interrupted by applause. At the conclusion of his address a recess was taken until 8 o'clock.

On reassembling the committees were not ready to report and the convention was addressed by Evan Settle and others on free coinage. A free silver greeting from the Kansas Democratic convention was read and loudly applauded. At this juncture General P. W. Hardin, Democratic candidate for governor last year, entered the hall. An enthusiastic reception was given him. He addressed the convention, counseling peace and harmony for the future. He believed all Democrats

SMALLEY ON THE ENGLISH. Their Social Life Discussed by the Noted Correspondent to Yale Students.

George W. Smalley, the noted foreign correspondent, recently spoke under the auspices of the Phi Beta Kappa society at Yale on the subject, 'Social Life in England.'

The lecture was for the first time, and was very instructive of the characteristics of society life in England.

Mr. Smalley was introduced by Prof. Edward J. Phelps, of Yale, ex-minister to England. Mr. Smalley admitted in his prefatory remarks that there was much paltry and ignoble in London society, but he confined his description to the bright side of English social life.

Mr. Smalley declared that not wealth, fame, honor, nor even rank alone, gave position in English society, and stated that many of the titled personages of the realm were outside the gates of what is known as society.

He said that position in society in England was obtained and held only by a combination of leading traits of mind and character.

Mr. Smalley interspersed his talk with a vast number of pertinent anecdotes illustrating the different phases of London society life. He spoke of the manifold regard for the company of others by the members of London society, and declared that Mr. Gladstone was the only person in the last half century who had ever been able to ignore this rule without paying the penalty.

He enumerated many of Gladstone's characteristics, showing him to be arbitrary at all times in society. In concluding, Mr. Smalley called the English 'the greatest of actual races,' and said that we had much to learn from them, they from us and the world from both.—Troy (N. Y.) Times.

A VICTIM OF CANDOR.

He Lost Money on the Man Who Told the Truth. 'There's such a thing,' he said, contemptuously, 'as gettin' too much fur yer money. I knowed a little boy onest that got so many peanuts fur five cents that he liked ter die, when of the dealer hed only held out fur a little more profit, he wouldn't of got only what was good fur 'im.'

'Have you been embarrassed by too much liberality?' 'That's what I have.' 'What have you been buying?' 'Hoss-flesh. There never was a time that hosses was so cheap ez now, an' I made up my mind to take advantage of the market. I didn't see anythin' that struck my fancy except one an' he was so sleek that I didn't hardly darer ask the price of 'im. But I braced up my nerve an' when the man said 'one hundred dollars,' I closed the largain.

'Ye've got a good thing,' he says. 'That there is a genuine race-hoss, that is. The only reason I'm sellin' 'im is that he's been ruled off the track. I never could tell when he was gonter do his best. Sometimes he would sulk and again he would come in weth a bust o' speed on the homstretch that paralyzed the multitude and aroused the suspicions of the judges. Finally they got tired of 'is lightning changes in form an' trumped an excuse ter rule 'im off. So I'm jes discouraged an' anxious ter clear out of the business an' do somethin' thet's plain an' respectable fur a livin'.'

'You didn't believe all that rigamarole, did you?' 'Course I didn't. I'd been ter town before. I asked the feller whether they was any green in my eye an' 'ol 'im thet ef he'd look twice mebbe he'd see some gooden hair hangin' down my back. I bought the hoss on my own judgment, though, an' tuk 'im along. I got home a little before noon an' thought I might ez well start right in ter break 'im ter the plow. I got 'im hitched in jes ez luek 'ud hev it the old lady rang the dinner bell. I seen the hoss' ears twitch an' when I said 'gidde' he lit out like all possessed. Furst thing he did was ter break the harness. I hung onto the lines ez long ez I could an' then I laid down in a furrow an' let events take their course. He kep' ez cius ter the fence ez he could an' ez I peeked over a hunk of scd an' seen 'm goin' bickety-split I made up my mind thet he wasn't goin' ter stop. But ez soon ez he got past the place where he started from, he slowed up an' trotted back an' rubbed his nose agin the hired man's shoulder, ez much ez to say: 'How vus thet—purty good?'

'What are you goin' to do with the animal?' 'I'm blessed if I know. He means well, but I'd like mightily ter trade 'im in fur a yoke of oxen. It beats all,' he concluded, with a sigh. 'I've dodged bunco-steerers an' kep' my pocketbook outen the hands of the confidence men without the slightest trouble. The fust city feller thet come right out an' 'ol me the straight forr'd truth is the only one I ever lost money on.'—Detroit Free Press.

JIM M'GUE AND THE RAM.

He Masqueraded as a Woman, with Unpleasant Results. Jim McCue, rancher, politician, philosopher and horse doctor, walked on the ferryboat with a crutch the other day. He also had one arm in a sling and his head bandaged.

'What's the matter, Jim?' inquired two or three acquaintances. 'I'll bet any man in the crowd $20 he can butt harder and longer than any ram or billygoat in the state,' responded Jim, somewhat irreverently. 'But I guess I've broken him off.'

'You look as if you had been broken some yourself,' suggested some one. 'Well, to tell the truth, I did get jammed around a little. I've been breaking a ram of the butting habit. This ram was raised a pet, and that's what makes him so sassy. He knows who to tackle, too. He won't touch a man, because he knows he'd get a fence rail frazzled out over his head; but a woman he will butt clear over into the next pasture.

'The other morning this ram jolted a lady friend of mine clear across a field and through a picket fence, and I thought it was about time to cure him of the habit. I put on an old calico dress, tied on an old sunbonnet, and, concealing a sledge hammer under my apron, sauntered down through the field. The minute the ram saw me he dropped all the business he had on hand and came over to have some fun with me. He squared off, shook his head and made a ram for me. When I stepped to one side to get a good swing at him with the sledge hammer the blamed old dress tripped me and I fell down. I started to get up, but that ram was behind me, and I turned two somersaults before I hit the ground again. I didn't stand any chance at all. He just kept lifting me till he got me over against the fence and then he lit into me. He jammed me down against the fence, then backed off and hit me another crutch, and then another and another, till I thought he'd broken every rib in my body. Finally he jammed me clear through under the bottom rail, and I managed to crawl to the house.

'But I got even this morning. I had the hired man take a green oak log, dress it up in women's clothes and set it to swinging from a limb. That buck lost a horn the first time he hit it, and it wasn't long till the second went the same way. When I left him he was meeting it half way every time it swung back at him, and I wouldn't wonder if he is worn down pretty close to the tail by this time.'—San Francisco Post.

AN EIGHT-DAYS SESSION.

Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Synod of America Meets at La Crosse, Wis.

ALL FOUR DISTRICTS OF COUNTRY REPRESENTED.

Three Hundred Delegates Present and Many More Expected—In Good Financial Condition—Other Church Gatherings.

ITS TRIENNIAL CONVENTION.

LA CROSSE, Wis., June 3.—The Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Synod of America commenced an eight days' session here today. It is the regular triennial convention of all the four districts constituting this church organization, having a membership of 107,000. One hundred and forty-two ministers and 150 lay delegates were present at the opening of the session and many more are expected. The venerable president of the synod, Rev. V. Koren of Decorah, Ia., called the meeting to order.

The president's report, which was a very comprehensive and weighty document, reviewed the work and pointed out the needs of the synod. The report showed general progress in all districts, and in spite of the hard times and usual expenses there was a comfortable surplus in the treasury. Rev. J. Nordby of Lee, Ill., was appointed secretary.

The presidents of the four districts are present, viz: B. Harstad, Tacoma, Wash.; K. Bjorge, Redwing, Minn.; T. A. Torgeson, Sombar, Ia.; and H. Halvorsen, Westly, Wis.

WILL MEET IN MICHIGAN.

Next Annual Session of Congregational Home Missionary Society.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 3.—The various sessions of the seventh anniversary of the Congregational Home Missionary society are now all under way, and one of the most notable features of the gathering is that the attendance is considerably larger than usual. The election of officers resulted: President, Major-General Oliver O. Howard, Vermont; recording secretary, Rev. William H. Holman, Connecticut; auditor, Charles E. Knaveles. It was decided to meet in Michigan next year. The city and date of the meeting was left to the executive committee. The transaction of minor business brought the business of the meeting to a close. A series of meetings with co-operating societies was then opened by the Congregational Church Building society.

ITS NINETIETH SESSION.

Central Synod of the Reformed Church Meets at Catskill, N. Y.

CATSKILL, N. Y., June 3.—The ninety-ninth session of the central synod of the Reformed church in America began this afternoon in the Catskill Reformed church. There were 139 delegates in attendance. The election of synodical officers for the ensuing year followed. Rev. Dr. J. Bodin Thomson of New Brunswick, N. J., was chosen president; Rev. Jas. F. Sumner, Orange City, Ia., vice president, Rev. Dr. Hart, stated clerk. In the midst of a heated discussion over the admission of a member of the classes of Illinois whose credentials were irregular the synod adjourned until tomorrow's session. Dr. Stryker preached a synodical sermon in the evening.

CO-OPERATION VOTED DOWN.

United Presbyterians Will Tend to Own Home Missionary Work.

XENIA, O., June 3.—At the United Presbyterian general assembly the report of the committee on education was accepted, showing the students in attendance at theological seminaries as 143; enrolled in colleges, 1,142. The productive endowment of seminaries is $291,800; of colleges, $352,600; total, $644,400, an increase of $11,400 during the year. The board asks for appropriations of $13,000 for regular work and $20,000 for special educational. The matter of co-operation with the Presbyterians in home missionary work was defeated.

SILVER MEN RUN THINGS.

would soon be together on the financial as well as other questions. At 10:30 the chairman announced the committees could not report tonight, when the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

FOR SILVER AND BLACKBURN.

The committee on resolutions completed its work tonight. The majority report reaffirms Democratic principles; favors an honest dollar, a dollar worth neither more nor less than one hundred cents; favors bimetalism, and to that end demands the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 as the standard money, with equal legal tender power, independent of the action or advice of any other nation; holds that the secretary of the treasury should exercise his legal right to redeem all coin obligations in gold and silver as may be more convenient and opposes the issuance of bonds in time of peace for the maintenance of the gold reserve or for any other purposes; opposes any contraction of the currency by the retirement of greenbacks or otherwise; favors tariff for revenue only; instructs the delegates to Chicago to cast the vote of Kentucky as a unit for J. C. Blackburn for president.

The minority report will be presented by A. J. Carroll, a member of the committee from Louisville. It omits endorsing Blackburn. Its financial plank insists upon a firm maintenance of the present legal standard of values; protests against the free coinage of silver or the compulsory purchase of silver bullion by the United States as injurious to the industrial and commercial interests of the country and especially disastrous to the farmer and laboring man.

THE ARMOURS ARE ACQUIRED.

Elevator Manager, Is Dismissed by Board of Trade Directors.

CHICAGO, June 3.—For two nights the directors of the board of trade have been listening to evidence in the case against the Armours, in which the Armour elevators were some time since declared irregular. The verdict of the directors, which was reached at midnight, was acquittal for P. D. Armour and his two sons by a practically unanimous vote, and the suspension of Manager Valentine of the elevators by a vote of 9 to 8. The charges against the Armours were largely technical, based on irregular proceedings in connection with the transfer and storage of wheat in their elevators and in the issue and dating of warehouse receipts.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Conference in Its Behalf Opens Sessions at Mohonk Lake, N. Y.

MOHONK LAKE, June 3.—The international arbitration conference opened a three days session here today. Ex-Senator Edmunds of Vermont presided. The general subject under discussion was the best means of securing a permanent court of arbitration to determine questions in dispute between the nations and especially between the United States and Great Britain. Among the speakers were ex-Senator Edmunds, Lyman Abbott, Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale and Professor Clark of Columbia University. Most of the speakers were agreed upon the desirability of a supreme court of nations to settle all differences rather than separate commissions for separate cases.

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Tin Plate Manufacturers' association here today. The report of the executive committee on the wage scale was read and discussed the entire day. The result of the meeting was that instructions were given the committee to ask the workmen to accept a slight reduction in wages. What the cut is would not be given out.

HOUSE MAKING READY.

Begins Clearing Decks for Final Adjournment by Lengthening the Daily Sessions.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE ARE SHUT OFF.

Ways and Means Committee Decides to Take Up Prohibitory Bond Bill at This Session—An Adverse Report Is Certain.

BUSINESS TO BE RUSHED.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The house today began making ready for final adjournment by extending the length of the daily sessions. The house met at 11 o'clock and sat until 6 tonight. In addition to this, Dingley, the floor leader of the majority, gave notice that henceforth he should object to all leaves of absence, save such as were requested on account of sickness. The importance of keeping a quorum constantly in attendance, he explained, compelled him to take this step. The conference report on the general deficiency bill was agreed to and the bill sent back for further conference.

The Murray-Elliott contested case, from the First South Carolina district, was debated for four hours. A vote will be taken tomorrow. The majority report favored seating the contestant, who is a colored man and who was seated by the Fifty-first house in place of Elliott.

ADVERSE REPORT CERTAIN.

House Ways and Means Committee Discusses Prohibitory Bond Bill. WASHINGTON, June 3.—The bill prohibiting the issue of bonds, passed by the senate yesterday, was considered by the house ways and means committee today. No action was taken, but the sentiment favored an adverse report. After the meeting the Republican members of the committee, with other Republican leaders of the house, held a conference to discuss the question. The predominant sentiment was that it was desirable to dispose of the resolution without delay so as to put at rest whatever apprehension may exist in business circles. Chairman Dingley said: "The only question is whether, in view of the lateness of the session and the desirability for an early adjournment, it is worth while to take up the matter in the house. There is no question whatever but that the resolution will be reported adversely when action is taken."

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

No action will be taken by the house library committee at the present session on the senate resolution providing for the acceptance by congress of the Pere Marquette statue, now in the statutory hall of the Capitol. The early close of the session, together with the fact the committee desires to present a thorough report on the practices governing such cases, are the reasons assigned for deferring action. Some of the Wisconsin members predict that the legislature of that state may, during its coming meeting, adopt a resolution requesting the return of the statue.

The recount of the votes in the Rinker-Downing contest from Illinois has been completed, but the elections committee is still considering several appeals from the count and has not announced its decision. It seems probable that Downing, the only Democrat from Illinois, will be unseated.

The president has approved the act repealing the clause in the Wilson tariff act exempting from tax alcohol used in the arts.

Senator Morgan today presented a resolution in the senate making another request upon the president for information of the arrest of citizens of the United States in Cuba in connection with the capture of the Competitor. It is understood to be Mr. Morgan's purpose to get the Cuban question in such shape as to permit its further discussion in the senate, which cannot be had upon his joint resolution, as it is still in committee.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

Wisconsin Catholic Foresters Transact Their Business and Adjourn.

APPLETON, June 3.—The Wisconsin state court of Catholic Foresters closed a two days session here this evening. The state officers elected were: State chief ranger, T. J. A delegate to the national high court at Columbus and trustees were also elected. Green Bay was

WHEN FEET ARE CROSSED. Some Observations About a Fad That Seems to Be Popular.

There was a time when a woman who had the temerity to cross her feet in public was considered as quite too bold to be within the pale of good society. Fashion's kinks have taken another twist now, and the woman who is in good society shows it by crossing her feet audibly. That is, she not only crosses them in the privacy of her own room, and when she sends herself in her favorite wide, low chair in the reception-room, but she crosses them in the street cars and the herds, in the railway stations, and in church! She does, indeed!

FAIRBANK PUT UP THE COIN.

Belasco Gives Inside History of Mrs. Leslie Carter's Stake Training. NEW YORK, June 3.—David Belasco was a witness before the supreme court today in his suit to recover $60,000 from N. K. Fairbank of Chicago for services rendered in fitting Mrs. Leslie Carter for the stage. Belasco testified he first met Fairbank in the autumn of 1889 in the apartments of Mrs. Carter in this city. The meeting was at Fairbank's request and had for its purpose, Belasco testified, the discussion of the question of making a dramatic star of Mrs. Carter.

According to the witness, he told Fairbank the cost of the undertaking would be from forty to fifty thousand dollars, which was no more than was paid for preparing Mary Anderson for her career. To this information the defendant responded, placing his hand on the plaintiff's shoulder: "My boy, you have been very frank and would frighten any other man, but I have plenty of money. I lose a million dollars in one day and make it back the next." Belasco further testified he objected to dealing with backers who withheld their names from the public, to which Fairbank replied that it was for weighty business reasons that he did not wish to be known as the financial sponsor for Mrs. Carter.

The negotiations progressed so far that Belasco retired from his other business engagements to devote his entire time to the development of Mrs. Carter's talents. Fairbank had asked the witness several times not to come to him at his hotel, as the witness being a theatrical man his coming was apt to excite gossip. A change of managers for Mrs. Carter was effected at a cost of $500, which Fairbank paid. Fairbank also induced him to go on a tour with Mrs. Carter. He (Belasco) informed Fairbank it would cost $20,000 for a Broadway production, to which Fairbank replied, "Consider Mr. Allen a bank and draw on him for the money." The witness asked to be excused from relating other conversation which took place at this interview, saying he wished to spare Fairbank as much as possible.

Belasco said he met Fairbank a couple of nights after Mrs. Carter's first appearance and was congratulated, and, as Belasco expressed it, "he virtually hugged me." Several telegrams from Manager Price to Allen, asking for money and telling of poor business were introduced. Belasco told of a conference with Morrison in Kansas City on March 14, 1891, when he as proprietor and Price as manager signed a receipt for $5,800 as payment for all salaries due actors and actresses and expenses of the tour. He said he told Morrison at the time he had a claim against Fairbank and did not want to release that claim. Morrison assured him he said that he merely recognized for the purposes embodied in the receipt. The trial was adjourned until tomorrow.

According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 30,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the Digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of these glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Natural because it supplies the materials needed by the glands to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the glands and the stomach until they are able again to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. ### New Sport in Town.

Amusement seekers have something new to attract their attention now and a way to spend a pleasant hour. This is the merry-go-round erected by William Smith (plain Bill Smith, he says) at the end of Front street, just south of the Hotel Marquette.

During the three days it has been running it is no exaggeration to say that thousands have visited it. This merry-go-round is no ordinary cheap affair that can be moved away in a night, but a substantial and handsome one, firmly set up, and made to revolve by a steam engine. It is the handsomest and best of its kind that was ever brought into the peninsula. Mr. Smith is especially proud of one feature of the outfit, and that's the band organ, a magnificent instrument which plays twenty-four different tunes.

The sport is exhilarating and fascinating, and there is absolutely no danger connected with it, even for children. There are attendants on the wheel all the time and a more courteous and gentlemanly lot of men it would be hard to find.

Just to show what kind of a man Mr. Smith is it wouldn't be out of place to tell something that happened night before last. When he was counting up five dollar gold pieces among the nickels. The boy who had taken it in thought that he got it from a little girl, but he wasn't sure. Mr. Smith was in a quandry how to find the owner. Yesterday morning a gentleman came to Mr. Smith and told him that he had given the money to his little girl in a hurry the evening before when she wanted to get on and ride. Mr. Smith was satisfied that he was the rightful owner of the coin and returned it to him.

MIDLAKE AND HARBOR GOSSIP.

Port list: Arrived-Chisholm, Pioneer; cleared-Chisholm, Pioneer, both for Cleveland.

One shipment from Ashland for the last week in May were 79,000 tons. The May receipts at Ashtabula were the largest in the history of the port, running up to 398,393 tons.

The tug Edward Gillen, which towed the Schooners Kent and Moonlight to Cleveland arrived in harbor yesterday forenoon. Both schooners, according to report will be repaired in a week, and put in the coal or ore trade.

President L. C. Hanna, of the Mutual and Menominee Transportation company says that the next marked change in the big ore and coarse freight carriers will be to move the engines forward, so as to admit of three or four cargo batches in the stern portion now occupied by machinery. The Mutual and Menominee fleets are not as large as they will be and it is likely that another addition will be made within a year.

Next season the Bessemer Steamship company will move 1,500,000 tons of ore from Duluth. The capacity of the fleet will almost meet the requirements of the Rockefeller mines. By the close of navigation this year the sixteen boats will be in service. Each of these vessels has a capacity of 4,000 tons on a 14-foot draught, and with the increase of the depth of water at the encampment and the completion of the new Soo lock every boat in the fleet will be enabled to bring down 5,000 or 6,000 tons at a trip.

TIES OF BROTHERHOOD.

They Are Often Very Irrisome, Says Novelist Howells.

Perhaps one reason why people dislike the notion of human brotherhood so much is because the ties of kindred are often made so irrisome. Society holds you to account for your brother's behavior, and even for his character, as if you had invented it, or at least favored it; and his children can bring your children to shame by their misconduct, though they may never have seen one another.

It is hardly enough, on the other hand, that you receive a sort of reflected glory from your brother's excellence or celebrity; you are then expected to live up to him, and that may be another hardship if you have not his talent or temper.

You feel that you are fitly answerable for your son, in a measure, though his great-grandfather on the other side, he could be got at, might sometimes be much more justly made to suffer; but you do not feel that you are fitly answerable for your brother, and you feel that it is cruel of society to hold you so. If he is stupid or tiresome, people will shrink from you, as if you partook of his character because you partake of his origin. Often you do partake of his character. Brothers are often alike; but often they are intensely unlike in tastes, habits, manners, dispositions, temperaments. Often you shall be truly the brother of a man whom you have met rather late in life, and whom you like because he is of kindred nature, while in your heart you may fail to like the brother who is merely of kindred origin. Yet if one allowed the brother of one's blood to come to want or disgrace, society would hold one infamous. If it were the brother of one's soul, society would have nothing to say.—W. D. Howells, in Century.

The Contests Were Heartily Participated in and Much Enjoyed.

The first annual field day exercises of the Ishpeming Country club, held Tuesday afternoon at the club house, proved most enjoyable.

The events opened with a 50-yard dash. The participants were D. P. Householder, Richard Hardy, C. W. Jarvis, M. M. Allen and George A. Newitt.

The participants in the walking race were Joseph Hayden, E. F. Bradt, G. Barnett and C. D. Cole.

The three-legged race was the most amusing event of the day.

In the running jump Richard Hardy carried off the honors.

The tug-of-war two teams were made up of fourteen men on each side and were designated as the Hayden and Bargh teams.

The winners in the different contests were presented with large tin medals, lettered appropriately in black and trimmed with green and white.

At the conclusion of the contests a fire supper was served in the club house, after which a walk through the lanes near by was enjoyed.

The members of the club propose having an outing on the first and third Tuesday afternoon of each month during the remainder of the summer.

JEWELRY IS NOT POPULAR.

Scarcely Worn with Day Toilettes--Colored Stones for Evening Wear.

Jewels seem to be worn less and less every year. With day toilettes they are scarcely seen at all, and the fact was authoritatively illustrated the other day at the marriage of the daughter of Count d'Haussonville, which brought together all that is related to royalty in France.

The festive carring is so nearly out of date that it is hardly found, except on the elderly.

In England, where white linen cuffs are worn with day gowns, sleeve buttons are a part of dress, but French fashion does not tolerate linen cuffs, and so sleeve buttons are as a rule not seen.

There is an awkwardness in placing a watch on a feminine dress. If it is pinned on one side of the bodice it looks foolishly like a society decoration, and if it is worn on a long chain dangling from the neck, the chain is too conspicuous, because it is out of harmony with the dress.

The side combs worn in the daytime are of simple tortoise shell, or with a reception dress they may be backed with gold.

The vogue continues for colored stones. They are set with diamonds or pearls, which, being colorless, form a neutral background, and a means of keeping them apart.

Opals continue very fashionable, as do turquoise and other translucent and opaque stones. There can be combined for color without the disadvantage that pertains to the brilliants, and some of the most beautiful jewels of this year are formed of such stones in contrast.

There is a great deal of colored enameling, and as the French are past masters in this art, some wonderful work is to be seen.

Jewelry designs in general have improved in taste.--N. Y. Evening Telegram.

L'ANSE PRESSED BRICK

Samples Received in Ishpeming are of Fine Grade.

Samples of the pressed brick being manufactured at L'Anse by a company composed of John Campbell and others of that place, have been received at F. W. Read & Co.'s office here.

Several Ishpeming men who know a good brick when they see it pronounce the L'Anse samples first-class.

One man who has been handling brick for several years says that these bricks are unusually fine and he predicts that the manufacturers will certainly meet with success if they continue to turn out an article as good as the samples sent here.

A plant of new machinery has been put in and the company is now manufacturing brick on a fairly large scale.

An Excellent Report.

George A. Newitt of this city, commissioner of mineral statistics of Michigan, has just received printed copies of his first annual report.

The publication is very complete in every respect and contains much valuable information concerning the minerals of the state, also a great deal of general information not usually found in such reports.

Under this head are included the classes of ore found throughout the state, duty on imported ores, the amount of iron ore imported for each of the past six years and the countries from which it has come.

Prices of iron ore from 1895 to 1895 inclusive, transportation of ores from the different ports, shipments of ore from the several ranges for 1895 and the total of all years, concluding with a recapitulation by ranges and ports.

The maps of some of the ranges, showing the location of the active and idle properties, are also included in the report. This is a new and very important addition to the publication. Mr. Newitt has reason to feel proud of his report.

Public Meeting Tonight.

The public is invited to attend a meeting of Sir Humphrey Davey lodge, Sons of St. George, to be held this evening at the Red Men's hall, Heineman block.

In and About Negaunee.

A SINGULAR DISAPPEARANCE.

An Old Man Strays from Home and Cannot Be Found.

Feared That He Has Wandered Into the Woods and Perished.

The friends of Oliver Ranville, an old man who has been living at Hibbard St. Arnauld's home on Main street for the past two years or more, fear he has strayed into the woods and died. He has not been seen since last Friday. He was around the place up to 9 o'clock in the morning but about that time he disappeared as suddenly as though the earth had opened up and taken him in.

The members of St. Arnauld's family were not particularly alarmed on the old man's account during the first day or two he was away, as they supposed he had merely gone off on a visit to some of his friends here or at Ishpeming, as he had frequently done before, always coming back within a day or two. Finally messengers were sent to the houses of everyone whom the St. Arnauld's thought Ranville might be visiting but no trace of him could be found. After making a thorough search for the missing man throughout the city his friends concluded that he must have gone into the woods and got lost. Yesterday searching parties were organized and the woods north of the outskirts of the town were searched. Larger parties will be organized today and a more thorough search will be made. It is not improbable that Ranville has strayed out into the woods several miles, consequently a large area of the country will be traversed in an effort to find him. His friends think he was more liable to go north from the city than in any other direction, as he frequently went that way gathering flowers, vines, etc.

The St. Arnaulds have good reason for thinking Ranville strayed from home, as he has not been of sound mind for some time past, acting very strangely at times. While he was never violent his disappearance in this way is just like one of the things he would do while suffering from one of his fits.

Ranville is about sixty years of age and has been a resident of Negaunee for the past twenty-five years. He is well known to many of the older citizens. Of late years he has not moved away from St. Arnauld's place a great deal, therefore he is not generally known here. He has no relatives in Negaunee, or anywhere else in this section, so far as can be learned.

A larger searching party than was out yesterday will be organized today, if possible. Those who can spare a few hours should assist the old man's friends in their effort to find him.

TRAMPS SENT UP.

They Don't Find Negaunee a Hospitable Place.

Two tramps who were arrested Tuesday night were brought before a justice of the peace yesterday morning and committed to the county jail. One was sent up for thirty days and the other for ten. Two of the four hobos arrested Monday were also sent to the county jail to spend a little of their leisure time. Two others were given a few hours to leave the city and they got out as soon as they were released from the cooler.

Had a Narrow Escape.

Willie, the little son of Thomas Piggot, had a narrow escape from death Tuesday. He was riding on a wagon going toward the Rolling Mill location. The seat on which he was sitting broke and he fell under the vehicle. One of the wheels passed over his foot and crushed it quite badly. His body was also severely bruised and he is now suffering considerably. An effort is being made to save his foot.

LOCAL LAONICS.

The city council will meet in regular monthly session this evening.

C. W. Washburn of Oshkosh did business in Negaunee yesterday.

William Neely got home yesterday morning from a business trip down the line.

Fred Northey and two or three other local wheelmen rode to Champion on their bikes yesterday. They returned on the evening train.

Mrs. A. Broad on Tuesday surprised her daughter Lizzie by presenting her with a new bicycle. The young lady was eighteen years of age that day.

Professor Krogman is giving the members of the running team of the Negaunee fire department pointers on training for the tournament to take place in August.

Kirkwood & O'Donoghue have received a sample of the Rambler bicycle, for which they have taken the agency for Negaunee. The wheel is a fine one and it retails at $80.

About forty men are now employed loading ore from the Volunteer mine stockpile. Mark Elliott, who has charge of the property, was in the city yesterday and hired a half dozen or more men to work on the job.

Jacob Strohauser of Caro, Mich., spent Tuesday and part of yesterday in Negaunee visiting his brother, John. Mr. Strohauser is the manufacturer of J. M. Stewart's horse remedies. He disposed of considerable of the medicine here.

The attendance at the Negaunee public schools is now fully as good as it was before the diptheria scare a short time ago. The superintendent and trustee officer, however, are having some difficulty in keeping the boys who are playing truant in attendance.

BALLAST FROM DUCKS.

A Scientific Discovery That Elucidated a Puzzling Mystery.

"Few people credit a duck with the sense he really possesses," said Fred Ozene, a disciple of Nimrod. "For years I had been wondering what had caused the presence of a good-sized pebble bank on the shore of the lake in the Grandviola section of the Louisiana marsh. Had it been a sand bank I could have understood it, but it was composed of pebbles, all very much alike, rounded and smooth almost to a size, and apparently differing from the small stones found in the gravel beds of the south. Several of the hunters in that section had seen the pebble beach and, like myself, they could not understand it. All winter long it seemed fresher than at other times, and during the summer the grass would kinder cover its upper portion and the mud from the fresh water dim the luster of the stones near the edge. There was not another beach like it in the marsh.

"One winter, in fact, it was just when the first cold spell had struck us, I was hunting with a friend in the lake I spoke of. It was one of the finest ducking spots in the state. This was before they had begun to make glue from the eggs in Canada. When we reached the lake there was not a duck to be seen. The next morning I was hiding in the grass near the pebble beach when I heard a sound of wings and a large flock of mallard settled near me. Before I could raise my gun the entire lot walked on the pebble bank, and to my astonishment, began to disgorge a lot of small stones like the ones already there. This occupied but a short time, and the flock began quacking and sailed into the lake, and I shot several. This settled the mystery of the pebble beach. In the spring I was again hunting in the lake. When the first warm weather came the ducks began to go home. They would come to the beach, and after a few preliminaries swallow a lot of pebbles, then fly around for a minute in order to see if their balance was all right. If they were too heavy they would disgorge a few stones, or if too light swallow a half-dozen more.

"I found by observation that in order for the ducks to make long flights it was necessary for them to fill up with a certain number of stones to secure a proper equilibrium for the return trip. After I found this out I always had plenty of game to show my friends."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

Don't Polish Cut Glass Too Much.

Great care should be taken with articles of cut glass, whether for table service or toilet use. The greatest mistake is made in attempting too high a polish, which, as a rule, many persons consider one of the chief beauties of this ware. Constant polishing reduces the exquisite finish which makes it appear so bright when new. In order to retain this brilliancy, let the article, when quickly cleaned, be allowed to dry alone after being properly rinsed. A soft linen towel should be used but little in the care of cut glass, and it will be always bright and sparkling. There is almost no Russian cut glass brought to this country, and it differs greatly from other makes in being dull and heavy. English and American glass is highly wrought, and new features are constantly in the market. American manufacturers frequently copy Russian patterns. A beautiful loving cup, richly cut, is among the never importations of English glass.—N. Y. Herald.

A SCENE IN ANCIENT GREECE.

The Great Annual Gathering at the Olympian Games.

About the first of the Olympic month war and battle-sound ceased throughout the length and breadth of Hellas. The distant roads which led to Olympia were thronged with pilgrims bound on a journey almost as sacred as that of the pilgrimage to Mecca by the devout Mahomedan. As the distance lessened and the time neared, the travelers became more numerous, and it seemed as if Greece dispatched all her bravest and strongest and noblest sons into these converging currents. On horseback and muleback, on foot and in litter, some carrying their simple luggage upon their backs, some with elaborate wagons containing splendid camp equipage and the richest wines and foods guarded by a retinue of servants, they shoked each route with an army of teeming life. The five festival days were a great national picnic, where almost everything was enjoyed in the open air under a glorious midsummer sky. A few of the distinguished visitors were cared for in the temples; but a majority, even of the wealthy, chose the free life of their own tents.

The daily scene, one can fancy, was rich with life and pictorial effect. One of the fairest of Greek valleys, with snow-crowned heights in the background, its own bosom crowned with the white-pillared beauty of a hundred temples and public edifices, is filled with thousands of tents of every color, like gigantic flowers. During the hours when the visitors do not resort to the stadium to thrill with the terrible struggles of the runners or wrestlers or boxers, or to watch the smoking horses in the hippodrome, they amuse themselves at the booths of the traders and chapmen. For from all parts of the civilized world merchants have gathered to sell their wares, ranging from the rarest jewels and most elaborate goldsmith work to simple articles of daily use.

Olympia was indeed the arena of the greatest public games of antiquity, for we can scarcely call by this name the cruelties of the Roman amphitheater; but it was also the site of one of its busy and active fairs, a "national exposition" under canvas, every four years.

Mental enjoyment of the higher sort was not missing from the entertainment. The leading tragedies were represented in one of the finest theaters of Greece. Poets and historians came here also to recite their new works, and so to publish their fame to the world. It is said that many of the stirring odes of Pindar were made public in this way, and that Herodotus, the father of history, first read his delightful story before the audience at an Olympian festival.—G. T. Ferris, in St. Nicholas.

"BR-R-UTE!" SHE SAID.

The Little Man Gave Up a Seat to a "Wash Lady," Who Crushed Her Sleeves.

Verily, the worm will turn, even the downtrodden, patient male worm found in street cars. He turned the other day on the Madison avenue line. He was a sickly looking man, of middle age, who entered and gazed about anxiously for a seat. About the middle of the car he detected signs of hope where a bird of gaudy plumage had pre-empted a 15-cent reservation with her balloon sleeves. Even a half way civil shrinkage on her part would have made him happy, but her royal thoughts were full of Easter, and she never budged as he stood before her in the aisle.

Her neighbor's heart surrendered a few inches of space, and he used that opening wedge till the gaudy grabber, with the usual street car look of withering contempt, yielded enough more to make him easy—a pinch.

Three or four blocks further on a stupendous recruit was added to the company. She carried a market basket and had the breadth of the Liberty statue. At once the sick-looking passenger became aroused to the demands of chivalry, offered his scant accommodations to the buxom dame and retired to the platform to watch results.

The space resigned was an awful misfit, but that didn't bother the fortunate winner. It was the furious heart of the gaudy creature that broke under the mass of determined plebeian flesh at her side. She turned red, white and blue, bit her lips at the spectacle of crushed wings, and darted javelins of wrath toward the platform. The audience gasped and smiled. She signaled a stop. As she angrily founced past her merciless foe that dear old word "brute" came hissing hot from her mouth.—N. Y. Herald.

Great Power for High Speed.

The large amount of fuel required for very high speed racing boats has been the subject of thorough investigation by experts, in order, if possible, to reduce the quantity of coal necessary for this purpose. Some of the British torpedo boat chasers are thought to be the most perfect vessels of their class in existence, but in order to attain a 30-knot speed, they must carry 60 tons of coal. This is fully one-quarter of their entire sea-going displacement. Under high speed they consume between three and a half and four tons of coal an hour. To propel a vessel with a speed of 20 knots an hour, the consumption of fuel is tremendous. Twenty-seven knots an hour is the best speed of the ordinary torpedo boat. In order to reach the 30-knot line fully 50 per cent. more fuel is required.—N. Y. Ledger.

A New Kind of Thread.

"John," said the young wife, "mind you stop and get me a spool of poultry thread." "What kind of thread, my dear?" "Oh, I couldn't describe it so you'd understand. You men are so stupid. The clerk will know. Tell him you want it for basting the chicken. And you can go on down to the dress goods counter and get the dressing. Just get it in the piece and I'll make it the way the cook-book says."—Texas Sittings.

HIS BED WAS IN FLAMES.

Jim Dempsey, a Logger Has a Very Narrow Escape from Cremation.

MIDNIGHT FIRE IN THE SCANDINAVIAN BOARDING HOUSE.

John R. Gordon and Dan Loftus Hurt in a Runaway—Breakers Ahead for the Electric Light Board.

MAN FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Jim Dempsey, twenty-one years old, whose home is in Kalamazoo, but who has been logging on Sand River, was frightfully burned about the feet and limbs last night in a fire in the Scandinavian boarding house, just across from the depot.

The fire originated in Dempsey's room on the second floor, though the manner of its starting is uncertain. His landlady insists that he was smoking a pipe, but he strenuously denies this, and says his pipe was in his coat pocket.

Some men working about the depot were the first to discover the flames. When they saw the fire they rushed across the track and ran into the house up to the burning room on the second floor. Knocks and yells failed to awaken the occupant, and Tom Hooley kicked the door down. He and Charlie Hanck rushed in with water and poured it all over the bed and the sleeping man. The lower end of the bed was already a mass of flames.

The shock of the cold water did what the heat of the fire had not done—woke Dempsey to life and pain. Without stopping to get a single article of clothing he ran down stairs into the sitting room. He could go no further when he reached here and sank into a chair. Both feet were horribly burned and also his lower limbs. His face, too, was burned, but not so badly. He was attended at the boarding house by Dr. Youngquist and afterward removed to the hospital.

He arrived in the city with a friend yesterday afternoon and each took separate rooms at the house. The friend who was with him says they drank a few beers during the evening, but not enough to make either of them drunk. Unless the landlady's theory is accepted the origin of the blaze is a mystery, and against her statement is the testimony of both Hanck and Hooley, who declare the man was fast asleep when they burst into the room.

The alarm was sounded at 12 o'clock, but it was not until half an hour later that the blaze was extinguished. It was confined mainly to Dempsey's room.

Damage by fire, smoke and water will probably not exceed $200. The place is run by Mrs. August Brandt.

Hurt Both Badly.

While driving from Negaunee to Marquette yesterday evening John R. Gordon and Dan Loftus were thrown from a runaway buggy and badly bruised and shaken up. It is not likely either will be about today.

Mr. Gordon and Mr. Loftus started away from Buske's livery in Negaunee at half past seven in Mr. Gordon's buggy. One of the horses in the team was a new one.

All went well till after they passed Eagle Mills. When they reached Morgan's Kilns, where the road runs close beside the railroad tracks, the team was frightened by the headlight of an approaching engine. The jumped and began to run. Mr. Gordon, who was driving, leaned forward to wrap the lines around his hands, and in doing so fell over the dashboard and down behind the horses' heels. One of the animals stepped on him. To make things worse one of the lines broke as he fell. Mr. Loftus was pitched out of the side of the vehicle and struck heavily upon his shoulder and side.

When both men were thrown out of the buggy the team started on a dead run for home, and when they reached the city though they ran down Washington street at a lively gait, they were completely exhausted when they turned to go up Front street hill, and were easily caught.

Immediately after the team was caught and recognized, Mr. Stewart started in a buggy for Negaunee fearing that the occupants of the runaway vehicle might be in need of aid, perhaps had a leg broken and were unable to walk. When he got out about half way between here and where the accident occurred he met one of the Rublein boys bringing the pair in a one-horse wagon.

It seems that as soon as the men picked themselves up and discovered that their hurts were more painful than serious they started out and walked up the road something over two miles until they came to Rublein's house. Here they got one of the boys to hitch up and take them to town.

Will Get No Money.

The curtain hasn't fallen on that three-cornered comedy now being enacted by the mayor, the council and the electric light board. As they say in the circus when announcing the concert, "The show isn't half over yet, good people!"

"Just wait till Monday night when we tackle the annual budget," said a prominent alderman. "Then you'll see some fun."

"The board has got to come before us with its estimates for the coming year's expenditures, which I understand are to be $16,000. And the board won't get it. That is, the board that's there now won't get it. That board has got to resign, and if the mayor won't or can't make the members do it, the council can. Those fellows have got to get out, or operations will be stopped because the council won't give them a cent to work with."

"Oh the money will be appropriated, but it will be added to the general fund, and it won't be transferred till we get a board that knows how to do something. When the present board resigns and a new lot gets in, why the money will be forthcoming." Judging from all indications, budget night is going to be a "corker." The council will play to a top heavy gallery.

Widows on Wheels.

Men aren't the only kickers that come before the board of review to tax its official patience and take up its well paid time. Widows are also frequent visitors. They want their taxes reduced one-half, or better still their property exempted all together.

An Irish widow from South Marquette came up yesterday accompanied by a lady friend.

"I've got three houses on one lot," she said. "An' what with the taxes and the insurance it is more than I can do to buy a decent dress to me back. I think ye have got them assessed too high. Ye ought to exempt them."

"Well, if ye exempted the property of all the widows where would the taxes come from?" a reviewer asked her.

"I don't know, but ye've exempted the property of widows all over town as has bicycles to ride around on, an' I think if ye can do that ye might exempt mine!"

But the board didn't see it that way.

One Month's Weather.

Weather Observer Patrick's report has just been made out for the month of May. It notes many meteorological facts of interest. The 7th of the month was the hottest of the season. It was on this day that the thermometer registered the phenomenal figure of 96 degrees, the hottest it was at any station in the United States. The coldest day was the 20th. On that day the mercury fell to 33 degrees, just one above freezing point. But on the whole the month was unusually warm, the average excess for the thirty-one days being over two degrees. The rainfall for the month was a little shy, being only 2.46 inches, while last year it was twice as much, and in '94 almost four times as great. The mean atmospheric pressure was 29.87, and the prevailing direction of the wind was northwest. Light frosts occurred on three days, but did no damage.

Beach and Bowers.

The performance of Beach and Bowers minstrel company in the opera house last night drew rounds of applause and roars of laughter from a staid room only crowd. Beach and Bowers always please Marquette people.

Of course all of the jokes weren't new, but then nobody expects all of the jokes to be new, and nobody cares if they are only funny. Some of the business was new though, and clever. In the first part Joe Gomes' song, "A Little Rag Doll," made the hit. Beach and Freeman in their acrobatic sketch, "Nobody at Home," were deserving of considerable encouragement from the house and got it. The performance concluded with the comical afterpiece, "The Telephone Agent."

Safe Blowers at Seney.

Some time during Tuesday night safe crackers attempted to get into the safe in the depot at Seney. They entered the depot through the window, and succeeded in boring a hole half an inch in diameter through the outside plate of the safe door, but for some unknown reason were obliged to suspend operations without getting anything. The agent found the safe in this condition when he opened the office in the morning.

Captain Cleary's Launch.

The fore part of this week Captain received the new launch which he purchased in Oshkosh. She is a handsome little craft, but not so large as the one which he had last summer. The captain has her drawn up out of the water now, and is remodeling her by changing the position of the engine and making other alterations. It will probably take him all this week before she will be ready to launch.

Library Trustees' Annual Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon the trustees of the Peter White Public Library held their annual meeting. The usual routine business was transacted and the following officers elected: J. F. Neidhart, president; Frank Midlam, secretary; Peter White and H. S. Seymour, trustees; A. K. Thiel and Frank Midlam, committee on books; H. S. Seymour and A. K. Thiel, auditing committee.

Lodge Election.

Marquette lodge No. 108, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers at its regular weekly meeting last night: Noble grand, P. L. Herlihy; Vice grand, Niel Nicholson; Treasurer, Louis Getz; Representative to grand lodge, W. A. Ross.

Presque Isle lodge No. 130, K. of P., will confer the rank of Esquire tonight at its regular convocation in Fraternity hall.

Those desiring fresh milk, sweet cream or fresh home laid eggs can get them of Mr. Harris, the dairyman. Mr. Harris has been doing such a thriving business that he has had to purchase some new Jersey cows and good laying hens and is now still better prepared to supply all new customers. Send in your order by either phone and same will have prompt attention. (3-11-tf)
