A LIVELY COUNCIL SESSION. Mayor Andrews Enlivens the Proceedings by Raising a Question.

It Was Energetically Debated but a Decisive Vote Was Not Reached. The city council held a regular session Wednesday evening, but very little business was transacted, as the time was taken up with a discussion relative to the wages paid certain of the city's employes under charge of the board of public works.

The discussion started with the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting. It will be remembered that Alderman Haslam moved at that meeting that the salary of the superintendent of the board of public works remain the same as it was last year. When the recorder read the minutes Mr. Haslam noticed that his motion had not been properly recorded, that a clause placing the salary of the superintendent at $75 per month had been inserted. As this is not the amount of the superintendent's salary, Mr. Haslam asked that the minutes be corrected. Mayor Andrews and some of the aldermen objected to the change on the ground that the clerk had recorded the motion as it had been put.

A petition from Gust Johnson of Wabash street, asking to be exempted from payment of general taxes, was referred back to the petitioner on recommendation of Alderman Persons from the finance committee, who stated that the committee had no power to grant the same.

A petition from E. W. Fiske and Charles Johnson, asking that West Empire street be graded, was read and was referred to the committee on sewerage.

A petition from William Smith, asking that he be granted a special license to run a merry-go-round, was read. On motion of Alderman Chapman the petitioner will be asked to comply with the city ordinance regulating such business.

A number of bills against the city were read. They were referred to the committee on claims and accounts.

Alderman Hawes, from the claims and accounts committee, reported favorably on bills amounting to $647.82. The report was accepted.

Alderman Hawes then reported that the committee on claims and accounts had examined the city pay rolls for May, found them correct, and recommended that they be paid. The recommendation was concurred in.

The discussion which started at this point and continued until an adjournment was taken was red-hot, with Mayor Andrews on one side and seven or eight aldermen on the other. The mayor began the debate by stating that he wished to ask the council one question and the city attorney another.

Before the motion was put Alderman Storey moved an amendment to the effect that an adjournment be taken until such time as the mayor and aldermen had cooled off. The motion prevailed.

CAPE COD TERRAPIN.

Interesting Facts About a Very Popular Reptile. The "Diamond Back" Affords a Comfortable Living to Those Who Are Engaged in Capturing It.

It will be a great shock to the pride of Maryland and Pennsylvania to learn that terrapin are caught on the coast of Massachusetts and that they command a higher price in the New York market than those from anywhere else.

Where the Massachusetts "diamond backs" come from or when they come or whether they are natives of these waters are questions that have never been answered. Indeed, naturalists seem to have entirely overlooked, until very recently, the fact that the terrapin was to be found on the Massachusetts coast.

When the presence of terrapin was brought to the attention of a few men who were interested in natural history it was thought at first that the reptiles had migrated from the south. But many of the terrapin were fully grown, and as a full-grown terrapin is believed to be not less than 50 years old it was concluded that they were probably natives of Massachusetts.

Terrapin were first discovered in Massachusetts by a southern negro, Dempster Hill, who happened to see several of the "diamond backs" sunning themselves on a sandbar. He had not lived in the south for nothing, and recognizing the value of his find, he said not a word to anybody, but suddenly developed remarkable energy.

This was a number of years ago, and when Hill died his mantle fell on a white man, who is now the principal terrapin fisher on Buzzard's bay.

Terrapin are to be found all along the Cape Cod coast as well as in Buzzard's bay. This year both the "diamond" and smooth back terrapin have been very scarce in these waters or else the fishermen have not had their usual success in finding them.

Twelve years ago terrapin were caught in great quantities in Barnstable, South Wellfleet and other points on Buzzard's bay, but most of the fishing is now done in East Wareham and vicinity, where the most expert "diamond back" hunter on the coast lives.

Terrapin are known on Cape Cod as "turpin" and the visitor from the city who gives the word three syllables is regarded as hopelessly ignorant.

The Law and the Lady. Patient Man—Suppose a woman makes it so hot for her husband that he can't live with her, and he leaves her, what can he do?

Infant Curiosity. A careful mother had impressed upon her little boy the necessity of ejecting the skins of grapes, and a few days afterwards she told him the story of Jonah and the whale.

A Plain Fact. "I would lay the world at your feet!" exclaimed the young man who reads novels.

MEN GROPE.

A WOMAN SEES THE LIGHT. She Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] How gladly would men fly to woman's aid, did they but understand a woman's feelings, trials, sensibilities, and peculiar organic disturbances!

Those things are known only to women, and the aid a man would give is not at his command. This is why so many women suffer.

Twenty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham gave to the women of the world the result of her years of study in the form of her Vegetable Compound,—a universal remedy for all female complaints.

She well deserves the title, "Saviour of her Sex." She saw the light of reason, and gave it to her suffering sisters.

All female diseases put forth their symptoms, such as nervousness, lassitude, paleness, dizziness, faintness, leucorrhoea, fluttering steps, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, backache, and consequent melancholy and the blues.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has for twenty years saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—"Five years ago at childbirth I did not have proper attention. I became very weak; could lift nothing without bleeding from the womb, which was ulcerated badly. I was examined by a physician, and treated for a time, but I decided then to give your medicine a trial. I improved rapidly on the first bottle of Compound, and now feel like a new woman."

MAGGIE HOLMES IS SHOT.

Young High School Girl is Struck by a Carelessly Shot Spent Rifle Bullet.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Miss Maggie Holmes of 526 High street, a young high school girl, while standing on the Blaker street steps yesterday afternoon, was struck by a partially spent rifle ball which inflicted a slight scalp wound. Dr. J. H. Dawson was shooting birds in his back yard about that time, but he offers good reasons to show that the ball could not have come from his rifle. From whatever source it came the shot was accidental.

Miss Holmes and two girl friends were standing at the top of the steps. She was looking toward Ridge street. They heard a rifle crack, and an instant later Miss Holmes was struck by a bullet. Neither she nor her companions knew definitely from which direction it came, but she thinks it came from the direction of Lake street.

She was fearfully frightened, but not so badly hurt as to fall or lose consciousness. With her friends she hastened to the house of Dr. Patterson, the nearest physician. From here word was sent for the family physician, Dr. Dawson. Two other physicians were called in as counsel. Probing for the bullet was unnecessary, as upon investigation it was found to have entered the scalp just to the left of the crown, to have passed under the skin a couple of inches, and to have come out and fallen in the coil of her hair. The wound was dressed, and Dr. Dawson took her home in his phaeton.

Dr. Dawson was the first to suggest the possibility of his having accidentally shot the girl. As he came into the house he inquired what was the matter, and upon being told exclaimed: "I hope I haven't shot her. I was shooting in my back yard."

When seen by a reporter at his home last evening Dr. Dawson talked freely and pleasantly and gave his reasons why he could not have shot Miss Holmes.

"It is true that I was shooting," he said. "I was in my back yard with a 22 short rifle trying to get a bird. I wanted it for a special purpose. I wanted to feed it to an animal, and I didn't wish to go to the country to get it."

"The time I was shooting was about twenty minutes before two, and I had been in the house ten minutes when the telephone call came for me. I don't see how it was possible considering our relative positions for me to have hit Maggie."

"After the bullet was secured it was weighed, and found to weigh 28 grains, which proves that it could not have been a 22-short like I was using. Part of the ball is gone. It appears to have struck something and glanced. I judge from the weight of the part we have that it was a 32. I think this fact exonerates me."

Mrs. Sidney Adams says she heard several shots away from the yard about the time of the accident.

County Fair is Wanted.

There is an ardent desire that Marquette county should have a fair this year. There has been none held for several years, and the kick is quite general against the decision of the directors of the agricultural society. Even here there was a difference of opinion, but those who wanted a fair, or were neutral, seem to have been moved by the more stubborn spirits who were not in favor of the exhibition. There is now quite a likelihood that another meeting may be called, and the decision reversed. As representatives of two entirely different, yet equally interested, classes F. H. Vandenberg and Louis Grabower are well entitled to speak.

"I think we ought to have a county fair and I wish THE MINING JOURNAL would say something about it," said Mr. Vandenberg when approached on the subject. "There's lots of dissatisfaction with the decision of the directors not to hold a fair. People are stopping me on the street every day and asking me if the Farmer's Institute won't get up a fair in place of the agricultural society. We want a fair, but we would prefer to have the regular society handle it. I know, though, that the Marquette county people want a fair."

"Do I favor holding a fair?" repeated Mr. Grabower. "Of course I do. We ought to have a fair. There hasn't been one for several years. We ought to hold a fair this year, and we ought to hold one every year. It is a mistake to give it up. It's a great help to business. But there is one thing that I would suggest, and that is that the time of holding it be changed. It ought to be a little later, after the equinoxial storm. October is a lovely month here, and business is good then. Hold it either the latter part of September or the first of October. But we want the fair just the same."

Season's Best Games.

With good weather for Saturday and Sunday the two best baseball games of the season will be played at the fair grounds on those days.

Duluth is coming down, and Marquette has a score to pay off with the lake enders. The boys are still smarting under the defeat administered to them in that city two weeks ago, and are bound to do them up on the home grounds or leave town for the rest of the season.

Since the Duluth club last played here it has been much strengthened by the addition of several salaried players, and has been putting up winning games all season. The hardest team the Duluths have been against is the Marquette aggregation, and at home with its own enthusiastic rooters to back it up, there is small doubt but that the Marquette club will beat anything that is likely to come this way. It will need both games to take the conceit out of Duluth, and the boys announce their intention of getting them.

The management of the club is considerably worked up over the way a certain class of people is trying to beat it out of gate receipts. Tearing down fences and sneaking in is getting to be too common. Beginning with the Saturday game all these people will be watched, and as soon as they get comfortably located they will be removed by the police to the outside of the grounds.

Saturday the admission will be a quarter to everybody, but ladies will have free seats in the grand stand. Sunday the rate will be fifteen and twenty-five cents, but everybody pays to the grand stand.

A Moderate Summer.

The weather man is almost as much bothered as an editor with communications from curious people desiring information on subjects supposed to come within his range of knowledge. Letters are written to him from all over the peninsula asking him to forecast special days and the season as a whole. One man would like to know if it is going to be a good year for huckleberries, and another man, superintendent of a Sunday school, would like to know if Aug. 21 will be a propitious day for a picnic. There isn't a more obliging man in the government building than the observer, yet nobody can blame him if the letters, that aren't weighted down with return postage do sometimes blow out of the window.

He was just inditing a sixteen page epistle to one of these thirsty information seekers when the reporter climbed up into his sky parlor.

"There's a man who wants to know what kind of a summer we're going to have," he remarked by way of greeting.

"Well what did you tell him?"

"Oh, I told him that it was going to be moderately hot, nothing like we had it last year. You see it's this way. When we are going to have a hot summer the storms pass to the south of Marquette, and when it's cold they go to the north of us. This year the general track of the storms is right over us."

"Then why don't we get thunder storms and cyclones and all those things?"

"It isn't the big storm that makes cyclones and rain. It's the little fellows along the edge of the parent storms. They whirl along with an awful velocity and do lots of damage, but with a big storm there is commotion in the atmosphere, but it isn't that kind. Storms keep circling around the globe, and have a regular course of travel. Generally speaking we're in that track, but as the seasons vary it may be north or south of us."

Having thus elucidated the subject, he announced, "I've three more of these," and dipped his pen in the ink.

Promotion for Hibbard.

George W. Hibbard, the most popular passenger agent ever connected with the South Shore, has received a deserved promotion at the hands of the company.

An official circular was issued yesterday by General Manager Fitch. It contained this pleasant information: "Mr. George W. Hibbard, who has been in charge of the passenger department of this company since June 15th, 1895, as acting general passenger agent, is hereby appointed general passenger agent. Appointment effective this date."

Mr. Hibbard as passenger agent of the company has made himself a favorite with everybody with whom he has had dealings, and has secured a big business for his road. There will be universal rejoicing all along the line at his promotion. His new position will not cause him to remove from Marquette, but will make his position here all the more permanent.

Trip to the Rocks.

Captain Taylor of the City of Marquette has planned an excursion to Pictured Rocks Saturday. This is the inauguration of a season's series of these delightful excursions. The boat leaves Spear's dock at 8 o'clock, reaches Munising at noon, lays over there an hour, then goes to the Pictured Rocks. Returning it leaves Munising at 7 in the evening and arrives here at 11. Money will be promptly refunded for tickets purchased for any excursion canceled on account of unpleasant weather.

There Were Some.

The delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention have come and gone, and now the stories which shed the sidelights on their stay are beginning to come to light.

On the whole the delegation appears to have made a favorable impression on a townswandy, who was overheard to say to a friend:

"There were some really intelligent looking ladies attending the convention!"
