Cornell and Pennsylania agreed to this and the referee ordered it back. This took some moments and then the crews lined up again. To be sure there would be no error or claim of unfairness he asked each crew separately, "Are you ready," and got a favorable reply in each case. The referee then sent them off with a pistol shot.

All started with a forty stroke, which Harvard tempered down to thirty-nine at the first quarter, while Cornell came down to thirty-eight. Columbia seemed ASSORTMENT to have a leaden weight on its boat, and it hung in the water as if it were not intending to try and keep with the others. Pennsylvania was rowing thirty-nine, but it was a ragged stroke that rocked the boat and a recovery that stopped it. Both Harvard and methodical way and both were pulling a thirty-eight stroke and working with Harvard's boat poked its nose ahead of Cornell at the half mile, and the Harvard "rooters" yelled with approbation. Then inch by inch the Harvard boat crept by Cornell's until her WARQUETTE ward boat crept by Cornell's until her stern just lapped the latter's nose. It was noticeable the Cornell men never changed their stroke, but worked steadily at thirty-eight and thirty-seven strokes, with good backwork and beautiful clean blade action; and as they neared the two-mile mark this work was noticeable in its effect.

The Harvarde' hard work was begin.

The Harvards' hard work was beginning to tell, for they could not get the stern of their boat away from Cornell's, and gradually the Cornell crew began to gain their lost ground. At the twomile mark they were on even terms. Inch by inch the Cornell boat went forward from the bow of the Harvard boat. Pennsylvania was splashing three lengths behind Harvard, and Columbia was hopelessly beaten. So they went down to the third mile. It was evident Harvard was beaten. Cornell was still pulling a thirty-seven-stroke

**ON THE AGGRESSIVE**

Throughout the country the believers in silver coinage are organizing for an aggressive campaign in support of their convictions as to what the monetary policy of the government should be. The action of the St. Louis convention gave impetus and direction to the move-SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. The action of the St. Louis convention gave impetus and direction to the movement by demonstrating that the cause of silver coinage has nothing to expect from the Republican party, and also that a large element in that party which believes in silver will part company with it on account of its final and entire surrender to the gold standard people. The silver movement is gaining great headway in consequence, and bids fair to become a potent force in the elections of this year.

Much depends on what the Democratic convention will do, of course, but it is tolerably certain that the work of that convention will precipitate a split that will rend the party in twain, the silver Democrats going with the Republicans who repudiate the That ought to be good for a donation of St. Louis platform and the gold men in several thousand at least. The tendency of events seems to creation of a new party, with silver remonetization as its object, which will and will take the bulk of the Populist voters, if it does not absorb that party wholly. Ulitimately the gold standard voters in the old parties will get together under the Republican banner, and the Democratic party will disappear as a political organization.

It may be that the Democratic party will hold stage for another farewell appearance, but if so it will be to no useful born's scheme for an early convention purpose. Inducements Offered Women in Northwestern Canada

Scheme for Encouraging Female Emi gration to a Region Where There Is a Superfluity of Bachelors.

A great deal of money has been spent by the Dominion government in the last ten years to encourage immigration to Canada, and most of the schemes, to judge by the last census, have been more or less futile. Now the chief govern ment organ here comes forward with another project to people the great northwest. This paper, referring to statement by the land commissioner of the Canadian Pacific railway to the effect that the great want of the northwest is more women, says that the bachinexorably in the direction of the elor life of the farmers in Manitoba and the northwest makes them dissatisfied; that they soon get discouraged draw heavily from both the old parties and write to their friends in Great Britain about the cheerless, unattractive lives they are leading; and that it is well known that these letters have been widely circulated in the English provincial press, and have had the effect of turning off the tide of emigrants to other shores—to the United States, Australia and South Africa.

"If these men," the paper adds, "had been mated with plucky wives, the stories of their failure would not have been written home. They would have found life in the northwest tolerable and would have taken a pride in overcoming their difficulties. sand women of the right kind would probably do more to make that country than any other influence that could be brought to bear upon it just now. Suitable immigrants of that kind can find employment, and are not likely to have to go long without husbands. This led to a new scheme for peopling the northwest. It was started here a few days ago, and a committee is now hard at work on the details of the plan A preliminary meeting was held to discuss the matter, and a committee was appointed to report on the feasibility of sending girls to the northwest from the overcrowded centers of population of the older provinces of Canada. "Girls wanted" was the motto of the meeting; but, when one of the gentlemen pres ent unwarily declared that part of the plan was to send girls out west to make wives of them for the prairie farmers the ladies present took up arms against the matrimonial part of the scheme They said that this was too delicate a matter to deal with, and strongly ob jected to associating any marriage scheme with the proposed female emigration to the west. No society, it was contended, could successfully arrange marriages between people whose modes of living had been so different, and no such plan was likely to succeed. While the ladies were willing to take part in any movement to encourage the emigration of girls to the northwest, and find employment as domestic servants for them there, they absolutely refused to have anything to do with any scehme piece of lard and stir the dry mustard having for its object the shipping of a train load of girls to the northwest to be married to the farmers of that part of the country. There was also the possibility of ill-mating couples, and the ladies apparently did not care to undertake the responsibility of so delicate a matter as the promotion of matrimony among the farmers. It was soon made apparent that the matter would have to handled very cautiously, and that if the movement succeeded the question In polishing silver that has been lain of matrimony would have to be kept in by western mer, and was approved by tarnished, it is a good plan to wet a riage left to the emigrants themselves me before any man from the east had soft cloth in sweet oil and then with to work out in the good old-fashioned way. Lady Aberdeen, the wife of the tions to come up for discussion at the meeting of the women's council to be S. M. Jones, secretary of the meeting, eplored the flow of girls to the cities from the country, and thought they should go to the northwest and make homes for themselves and be independent, rather than come to the centers of population and work for a pittance But one of the ladies thought that the girls in the cities were not fit to make farmers' wives. Mr. Jones ventured the remark, rather unfortunately, that they night as well emigrate to the northwest, for the men in the cities would not marry them, anyhow, and the lady snappishly retorted that "the girls would not marry them."

A good deal of cold water has been thrown on the scheme, but the committee is hard at work, and believes that it will accomplish something. There is mated that there are in that part of the dominion between 40,000 and 50,000 more males than females. The organizer of ada when the French king regularly shipped boat loads of girls to become the wives of the pioneer settlers in Canada. The railways would, it is thought, furnish free transportation for any number of girls who would be induced to go to the northwest, and it is hoped that government aid will be given to the scheme. Some who are unfavorable to the movement contend that the bachelor tillers of the soil in the northwest have no need for women, and that they prefer to do their own work. But there are very few who share in this opinion. and it is generally believed that the men up there know how to appreciate the companionship, sympathy and sup-port of women.—Toronto Cor. N. Y.

Letter from a Hancock Man

HANCOCK, Mich., June 21, 1896.

Gem Treatment Co., Marquette: GENTLEMEN-This is to certify that I, James Stephens, was troubled with piles for fifteen years and could not find any cure until I tried the Gem Treatment. After using three boxes I became a well man. I have no piles now. My age is fifty-two years. I work in the Quincy mine as a miner. Before I took the Gem Treatment I was not able to work one quarter of the time. I would like to have everyone who is troubled with piles to know what the Gem Treatment has done for me. It cost me three dollars and it did me more than five hundred dollars worth of good. Yours Respectfully,

THE FOURTH AT HANCOCK.

Program of the Sports and Other Features of the Celebration

By tonight large three-sheet posters announcing the celebration at Hancock of the Glorious Fourth will be hanging in every town in the county. The following are the officers of the day: President, Dr. J. E. Scallon; reader. John Sheehaa; chaplain, Rev. J. E. Reilly; orator, Oscar J. Larson; grand marshal, H. L. Baer; chief of staff. Albert Ley; aides, T. D. Ryan, E. M. Lieblein, Wm. Harry, Albert Mason, Claude Cooper, M. M. Moralee, Sr., W. A. Washburn, Thos. Coughlin, John L. Harris, Phil Johnson, Frank Scheurman, W. B. Jaehnig, Harry Rogers, Dr. W. H. Dodge, Bismark Drittler, M. C. Getchell, Jas. F. Fisher, M. M. Shea, John Erickson and C. O. Oliver.

The program will open with a salute of 100 guns at sunrise, followed by a chorus of the whistles and bells of the city. The calithumpian parade will start at 8:30 a. m. and will be followed an hour later by a grand civic and mili-tary parade, which will traverse the principal streets. This procession will terminate at the band stand, where the morning's exercises will be held. The afternoon exercises will open at 10 o'clock p. m. with a grand exhibition of mid-day fireworks and a balloon ascension. This will be followed by running and novelty races. There will also be a miner's hammer and drill contest, a tug-of-war and bicycle races. At 8:30 p. m. a grand bicycle parade will take place.

Considerable interest is centered in the 100-yard dash. James of Hancock, who has an unbeaten record, will run and pitted against him will probably be two athletes imported for the occasion. One gives his name as Fisher, while the other is said to be Bradfield of the other is said to be Bradfield of the University of Michigan. Both Fisher and Bradfield are taking daily practice and the local sports are considerably worked up, yet they are backing James strongly. It might be added that strongly. It might be added that James is averse to running for any money consideration, he being an ama-teur in the full sense of the word.

AMERICAN NERVOUSNESS

No More of the Disease Here Than Elsewhere.

Statistics Show That the Stamina of the Race in America Has Shown No Deterioration-Vigor of Our People.

The belief in the greater nervousness of the American seems very widespread. The late Dr. Beard, of New York, was one of the first to describe nervous returned from two a weeks visit at De- prostration, and to give it its medical name of neurasthenia, so that it has often been spoken of as "the American disease." In his work on "American Nervousness" he treats chiefly of the causes of the nervousness, and its symptoms, accepting almost as an axiom the statement that Americans are more nervous than any other race, and that there is a vastly greater amount of nervous disease in this country than in Eu rope. He admits, however, that the severer forms of organic nervous disease, such as locomotor ataxia and apoplexy, are probably less frequent, the increas being in the so-called functional condi tions, neurasthenia, hysteria and the like. It is probable that the majority of educated people not physicians in this country would admit without a murmur that as a people we are peculiarly subject to nervous disease.

Although, as I have said, the statistics are not conclusive, nevertheless such statistics as we have, and the con clusions drawn from various general impressions, absolutely contradict this belief. It is only since the war of 1812 that the American has acquired his reputation for restless energy; before that he was denounced as indolent and sluggish. Up to the period of the civil war he was also denounced as physically degenerate, inferior in bulk, strength and endurance to his English cousin The civil war put an end to such talk No armies endured more than ours in the field; no people endured more than those who stayed behind waiting and

The record of the first Kentucky brigade in the confederate army, almost continuously in action or on the march for a hundred days in 1864; retreating from their homes, with the hope of success steadily fading away; 1,140 strong at the beginning, suffering 1,860 fatal or hospital wounds, with only 50 left unwounded, yet mustering 240 at the end, with less than ten desertionssuch a record has never been surpassed. These men were of the purest Amer ican stock.

At about the same time Dr. Brown-Sequard found that the American mainmals survived injuries that were inevitably fatal to the European, and our surgeons found a surprising percentage of recovery from severe gunshot wounds, greater probably than had ever been observed in Europe. Dr. B. A Gould found that the American soldier was physically as well developed as the European, and Dr. H. P. Bowditch found that the American schoolboy was the that the American schoolboy was the equal in measurement of the boys of Eton and Rugby. American life-insurgoods, clothing or groceries. Equipments ance undewrriters, too, have found that the longevity in this country is as great as it is in Europe, or greater. The rise of the south since the civil war, and the prompt recovery of individual communities, such as Chicago, Boston and Portland, after great conflagrations, are further instances of the great recuperative power of our people.

Since the civil war our physical condition has greatly improved. The greater interest in athletics, and better cooking, have probably had something to do with this improvement. We have held the America's cup for nearly 50 years. In shooting, cricket, rowing and periority to Cambridge, and the New York athletes have not only surpassed their London rivals, but have estab lished new world's records in more than one event. In the famous ride a few years ago between Berlin and Vienna the picked riders and horses of the Aus trian and German armies were used up yet our cavalrymen and express messengers on the plains, with ordinary mounts, have made better records both for the time and distance, without the slightest injury to horse or men.-Dr. Philip C. Knapp, in Century.

Paris a Great Fortress. The German chancellor, Caprivi, in a speech said that "Paris is the larges and most formidable fortress the world has ever seen-a stronghold with 56 forts and an outer line of fortification of nearly 100 miles." The wall of Paris is built around the inhabited portion of the city, inclosing all the monuments and business houses. It is surrounded by a broad ditch. The original plans provided for a second wall some thou sand paces beyond this one, but instead there is a circle of forts from one to two miles away from the inner wall. Near ly 2,000 cannons are used to fortify these forts. The first-class forts number about 30. They are polygons in shape, strongly bastioned and bombproof, with bricked-up ditches, covered ways and outworks. - Detroit Free

Queer Telegraphy.

Telegraphy by induction between parallel wires about two miles apart was successfully accomplished recently The cable connecting in Scotland. the isle of Mull with Oban broke, and experiments were made before it was re paired. The channel at this point is from 11/4 to 2 miles wide, and the distance between the overhead wire on the isle of Mull and the mainland is almost uniformly two miles. A gutta-percha insulated wire was laid along the shore of the mainland and grounded at each end. A long inductive circuit was then arranged, and messages sent through either wire could be read on the parallel wire. During four days 110 regular messages were sent, besides a press message of 120 words. The cable repairs were then completed.

MEMBERS ARE STILL UNNAMED. CANTON, O., June 26 .- McKinley and Hanna both deny that any selections have been made for the national executive committee, except that Quay had been offered the chairmanship.

Kinley responded briefly.

Three hundred citizens of Norwalk, with another boy, Samuel Carlson, from with bands and glee clubs, tonight sere naded Governor McKinley. In response to the presentation of the visitors by ex-Speaker Laffin of the Ohio assembly, Major McKinley, after thanking his visitors said in part:

WHERE THE PARTY STANDS.

No man anywhere throughout the country doubts where the Republican party stands today. It stands for a reunited country, for the American factory. American farms, American fireside, American labor and American wages and American prosperity throughout every part of our much loved land. It stands for a protective tariff that protects every American interest; it stands for reciprocity that reciprocates—that gets something for what we give—from the nations of the world; it stands now as it always stood, for sound money with which to measure the exchanges of the people—a dolure the exchanges of the people—a dol-lar that is not only good at home but in every marketplace of the world—and with these principles on our banner we appeal to the deliberate judgment of the American people."

The Singular Exhibition Arranged for the Pleasure of a King. During the reign of Louis XI. of rance there was attached to his court one Abbot De Baigne, a man of considerable wit. The abbot was somewhat musically inclined, and delighted the court with inventions of odd musical instruments. One day the king, after having enjoyed a hearty laugh over one of these curious contrivances, and de-siring to baffle this musical genius, commanded him to produce harmoni ous sounds from the cries of hogs This seemed an impossibility to the king, and he prepared himself to enjoy the discomfiture of the abbot. Much to his surprise, however, the abbot readily agreed to produce them. All he required was a sum of money, upon the receipt of which he declared he would invent the most surprising thing ever heard in the way of musical atrocity. He scoured the country and secured large number of hogs, trying their voices as to pitch and quality, and finally, after having fully satisfied himself, he arranged the animals in a sort of pavilion richly decorated. The day of the trial arrived, and the king and his court entered the pavilion prepared for something, but greatly in doubt as to the success of the abbot with the hogs. However, there were the hogs, sure enough, and, much to the surprise and delight of the king, they began to cry harmoniously and in good tune dering an air that was fairly recog nized. The abbot had arranged a series of stops that were connected with the hogs, and upon pulling one of them out caused a spike to prick the hog it connected with, making him squeal his note. The rest was easy, for by pulling out the different stops he produced the tune.-Philadelphia Press.

Sat Down on a Soythe.

Peter Johnson of the Winthrop location went home from town feeling very tired Thursday afternoon. He concluded, after staggering about the location for some time to sit down in the grass and take a rest. Unfortunately he selected a very bad spot, as someone had concealed a sharp scythe there. The result can better be imagined than described. A surgeon was called in and several stitches were necessary to sew up the gash the scythe inflicted, which was about six inches in length. The cut went to the bone.

The pastor's themes tomorrow at the Presbyterian church will be. "For Whose Sake" and "What Does the Man with Only One Talent Amount To?"

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church will In spite of the opposition of the prov nces and a certain amount of protest from Paris on the score of the defacement of the Champs Elysees, the French exposition of 1900 will certainly be held. The government of the repubgation of the Presbyterian church will be held in the auditorium of the church on next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Reports from all the various branches of church work will be made, lie will contribute $5,000,000, which has already been voted, and the city of Paris is not likely to give less than $3,-000,000. But, as the exposition is to cost $20,000,000, another $12,000,000 will still after which refreshments will be served by the ladies in the church parlor and responses will be made to several aphave to be provided. It is not the custom in France to wait for the returns of gate money to make up the deficiency remaining after payment of the subven-Etinne Brass, the cranesman on one tions. The exposition of 1889 was paid for, and there was money in hand for the cost of administration, before the gates were opened. This was done by n very ingenious scheme of issuing bonds for 25 francs each, each of which bore 25 coupons which were receivable as admission tickets. The extreme period of payment for the bonds was 75 years, but, beginning with the expo-Mark Barber arrived here Thursday on a visit to his mother. sition year, there were to be 81 drawings of the numbers of the bonds to be paid off, and the first two or three numbers drawn were to be entitled to lottery prizes. The holder of each bond > within a time which might be anywhere etween a few months and 75 years. The scheme was a brilliant success and had this, among other unexpected results, of giving the public the benefit of a considerable reduction in the price of admission. The amount paid to the exposition by the syndicate of bankers who took the bonds, after providing a sinking fund, for their gradual redemp-tion, was $4,300,000, which, added to the receipts from concessions and leges, the returns from the sale of old materials and the amount contributed by the state and the city brought the total revenues of the expo sition up to very nearly $10,000,000. As the exposition cost less than $8,500,000, there was a surplus of about $1,500,000 to be divided in the ratio of their contributions between the state and the city of Paris. The problem of 1900 is a more difficult one. It is not a question of getting $5,000,000, but of raising twice that amount, on the pledge of entrance tickets. Profiting by the example of Chicago, which collected nearly ten times as much from concessions and privileges as Paris did in 1889, it is probable that the managers of the show of 1900 will extract a great deal more than $400,000—the amount reported by their predecessors - from that source. But, even if it were $2, at $1.25 per pair. Another lot of new shirt waists and all kinds of summer wash goods have also been received and 000,000, there would still remain $10,-000,000 to be raised mainly on admissions. It will be found a good deal easier to double the size and cost of the exposition than to double the number of its visitors. The indirect gains of the enterprise are less open to question. The provinces argue from experience that it will draw a great deal of money from them, even as the states of the central west found the Columbian exposition a severe drain on their current cash. But the exposition of 1889 brought the government an increase of $5,000,000 in 100 SHETLAND PONIES AND DOGS, marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satustic factory in results." Trial bottles free at E. Farnham's Drug store. Regular size a 50c. and $1.00

Then there was, during the whole 180 days of the exposition, an average addition of 200,000 persons to the popula-tion of the city of Paris. If each of these spent, on an average, for board, lodging and cab hire, $6 a day, there was, taking no account of the cost of their amusements and the purchases they made, a total of $216,000,000, which would not otherwise have been expended in the French capital. It is hardly to be wondered at that the arguments in favor of the exposition have proved stronger than those against it. -Boston Herald.

WILL PLAY THE BLOOMERS.

A baseball team has been organized in Negaunee and a game with the Poston Bloomers has been arranged for next Monday morning at the Union Park grounds. The captain of the local team reports that he had no difficulty in getting players to fill the various positions. The manager of the visiting team has assured the boys here that the game will not be a burlesque at least so far as the girls are con cerned, as they are capable of putting up a fairly good exhibition. The boys will play to win, as they would not relish a defeat at the hands of a team made up of women. The game will be called at 10:30 o'clock and the admission will be twenty-five cents.

The Bloomers will also play at the park in the afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, with a team from Ishpeming or Marquette as their opponents. The admission to the afternoon contest will also be twenty-five cents.

Tired of the Trial.

City Attorney Frank A. Bell got home from Chicago vesterday morning. He spent Thursday night in Menominee and while there talked with the attorneys and also some of the witnesses in the Wendel case. The attorneys were of the opinion that the testimony of the witnesses on both sides would be in last night and that the case would be given to the jury this afternoon or tonight.

Mr. Bell says some of the witnessee especially those who have plenty of work to do at home, are very anxious to get away. They are not permitted to get away. They are not permitted to enter the court room while the trial is in progress but are kept out in the yard during the day. They are not even allowed to leave the yard unless accompanied by an officer. The witnesses are putting in their time whittling sticks, telling stories, reading, etc. The general public is admitted to the court room but only one witness at the court room but only one witness at a time is allowed in. The witnesses expect permission to return home tonight or tomorrow.

Board of Review Meeting.

The annual meeting of the board of review of Negaunee will be held on Monday and Tuesday, July 13 and 14 at the city recorder's office. The session each day will begin at 8 o'clock and will continue at least eight hours. On the following Monday and Tuesday, July 20 and 21, the board will meet again for the purpose of giving the taxpayers an opportunity to examine the assessment roll. The sessions on these

SOME OF THE NEW HATS.

Tulle Is Used for Trimming and, of Course, Flowers Are Pientiful.

There are plenty of picture hats among the new styles, and the tulle ties and loops come in nicely as artistic additions to the costume. You can have tulle ties on any kind of a hat. It is not necessary to have a bonnet to put them on. Green and violet tulle are the prettiest colors. An exquisite little hat is made of yellow straw-straws. I was going to say, for the hat is a peculiar arrangement of little straws set side by side, with a violet at the end, forming an edge of violets all around the brim. Tulle loops almost conceal the crown. Another dream (dream seems an especially appropriate term for a tulle hat) has a combination of two shades of green tulle. There is absolutely nothing on the hat—a round, black straw—but some stand-up frills of light and dark green tulle around the crown. Almost anybody can have a hat like this. All that is necessary to do is to buy an untrimmed hat and cover it over with tulle. A flower or two to stand up at the back or at the left side of the front is a great addition. The tulle ties are knotted in a large bow under the chin.

Flowers underneath the brim are set at the back, where most of the hats turn up. In the case of "nose hats" that tip down over the face, the brim is not always bent up at the back, but instead the whole hat is propped up, as it were, with a bank of flowers and rib. were, with a bank of flowers and rib-Small button roses are very

A Warning to the Gents. The annual ball of the Occidental Ly-

"I am informed by some of the ladies present that some of the gents from over Dead Man's Gulch way air just a little bit too exuberant in carrying out the figgers of the dances and when I sing out: 'Swing yer ducksy-daddles!' these gents swing their ladies clear off'n their feet. Now we want things to go off happy and harmonious here night, but if any more complaints of this sort are made some o' the Dead Man's Gulch gents 'll be likely to go church tomorrow evening. PWho always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? But there is a cause. It is to be found by the intelligent physician in some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs of generation. The woman who half understands herself, feels that she cannot always have the doctor in the house.

The woman girl suffers bodily and mennot always have the doctor in the house. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. The trouble usually comes so gradually it is attributed to some outside cause. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. All these symptoms are simply protests of the silent, long-suffering nerves. The trouble shows in dark circles below the eyes, a downward curve of the mouth, a sallow, brownish-vellow neck.

Unregarded, the trouble grows. A few years of tortured invalidism, probably insanity, before merciful death comes, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the fruit of years of study. It is the product of an investigating mind united with a generous nature. When an intelligent person gives years of study to a subject person gives years of study to a subject there must be some good result. The "Favorite Prescription" is a compound of extracts of herbs that makes a strengthening, soothing medicine. It acts directly upon the distinctly feminine organs. It stops drains from lining membranes by healing diseased parts, thereby curing also the inflammation that is always present.

"I was in a critical condition. Often I was in despair. I experienced a great improvement by taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken six bottles, and I am sure that it will not only cure ulceration but all diseases of females." Yours truly,

ANNUAL REUNION

Marquette Selected for the Yearly Upper Peninsula A. O. U. W. Celebration.

2,000 PEOPLE EXPECTED TO BE IN ATTENDANCE.

Heavy Teaming Ruining Presque Isle Drive-Prof. Stickney and Bishop Williams Agree on the "Woman's Chance"-McBurney's Side.

August 1 a new lodge is to be organized at Negaunee.

It is estimated that a crowd of between 1,500 and 2,000 people will be brought to town to attend the celebration. Ishpeming and Negaunee will furnish large numbers and there is sure to be a big delegation from the copper country where the order is in a flourishing condition. Fully a hundred will come from the Soo and intermediate stations. There will be special trains in all directions and excursion rates, as low if not lower than anything else that will be given this summer.

The plan is to have a big parade, exercises in Washington park in the aftermoon and a dance in the rink at night. Owing to the distance some of the excursionists will have to come there will be no exercises in the forenoon. As soon after dinner as convenient the big parade will form on Superior street and move along a line of march yet to be decided upon, but finally ending in Washington street park, where the speaking will take place. The oratorical part of the program cannot fail to be first class as the committee is already in correspondence with saveral. As soon after dinner as convenient the big parade will form on Superior street and move along a line of march yet to be decided upon, but finally ending in Washington street park, where the speaking will take place. The oratorical part of the program cannot fail to be first class as the committee is already in correspondence with several well known and popular speakers in the order. It is figured that the parade and speeches will occupy most of the afternoon, but that there will still be time left for excursions on the lake.

If the bishop will move with his actime left for excursions on the lake. These are to be made a feature of the day's enjoyment.

A general committee on arrangements has been appointed, and this has been subdivided into committees covering all the lines along which prepara-tion will be needed. Of course it will cost money to bring so many visitors to Marquette and provide for their amusement, but the committee reports that the merchants are responding gen-erously and have already given more than half the sum needed for the cele-

Spoiling the Drive.

Parts of Presque Isle drive are al-

but it is being used now as a thorough-fare for stone wagons each of which a street to a stone quarry.

Friday afternuon a representative of THE MINING JOURNAL in company with Peter White made a trip over the drive. From the city to Fair avenue it is in its old time excellent condition. At this street the teams turn on with their From here to the ice house the road is spoiled by frequent chuck holes, which let a pleasure rig down with an unpleasant jolt, and makes speeding impracticable. Nearing the ice house the chuck holes become more frequent, and are longer and deeper. From the ice house to the bridge the road is miserable. It is absolutely unfit for pleasure driving, or bicycle riding, and in some places it has become too bad for heavy teaming, and loads of sawdust and broken rock have been dumped in some of the worst holes so the teams would not get stuck with their loads. The dressing has been cut clear through and the stones that were on the bottom have worked to the top. The top dressing has given away to a fine sand which is half up to the hubs in places. Where teams have lurned out in passing one another the roadbed has been invari-ably spoiled. At some places there is a little path along the edge which serves as a forlorn reminder of its former excellence.

The railroad officials, so Mr. White says, have agreed to fix those parts of the road which they spoil, but they are paying for the stone delivered in the crib and have no control over the contractor and have no control over the contractor who is having the teaming done. The company will not fix the road he spoils. Somebody has got to fix it though, and Mr. White says that at the lowest figure it will cost $2,000 to repair the damage already done. The figure keeps going up every day, and in a month longer the drive will have to be entirely rebuilt unless the heavy hauling is stopped.

Mr. White thinks that the street commissioner, or someone having authority.

should order the hauling stopped, and cites as a precedent the time when the circus was made to pay for the damage its heavy trucks did the street in front of the Baptist church. Presque Isle drive is just as much in the city as Front street, and more than that it was built by private subscription at a large outlay and presented to the city for pleasure purposes. The stone that has been hauled over it is not worth a quarter the amount it will take to repair the damage already done. damage already done.
