MOORE BROS., Chicago Stock Brokers, Fall for Millions Betting Diamond Match. CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE SHUTS ITS DOORS INDEFINITELY. Fallen Firm Also Operated Extensively in New York Biscuit-Greatest Speculative Deal in History of Chicago. MOORE BROS. FAIL. CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The speculative deal in Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stock has come to an end. Moore Bros. have failed. The greatest speculation ever known in Chicago has culminated in the failure of the people who were behind the deal. The Chicago stock exchange will adjourn at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for an indefinite period.

This action was decided upon at a meeting held this evening at which were present members of the stock exchange governing committee and a number of prominent capitalists. This meeting assembled informally in the afternoon and was informed by Jas. H. Moore that margins on call no longer could be met. That announcement was made to the few men most heavily interested, and it was thought best to call a meeting to discuss the situation. Those who assembled discussed best means for restoring confidence after the shock which would be given to speculative circles by the announcement of the failure. It was the general opinion that it would be the wisest possible move to close the stock exchange for a period. The point was made that nearly the entire business at the stock exchange for a number of weeks had been in Diamond Match and New York Biscuit and that the closing of the exchange could interfere only in a slight degree with general financial affairs, and that the present was a particularly opportune time, owing to the fact that settlements in the July account had just been completed, and there had been as yet comparatively little trading in August accounts. The governing committee of the stock exchange discussed the situation at length and passed a resolution adjourning the exchange at 10 tomorrow indefinitely. It is thought the adjournment will last only a few days, and that matters can be within that time straightened out, so as to make losses easy as possible to bear.

Those present at the meeting said that should the exchange open as usual tomorrow the bears would make a slaughter of values that would cost a great, and in large measure unnecessary, loss. As far as the banks are concerned they are indifferent personally, as to whether the exchange be closed or not. All stock held by them are arranged to a point which leaves them secure in any event. The great speculative deal, of which the failure is the culmination, is by all odds the most important in the history of the Chicago stock exchange. It began early in this year. The stock of the Diamond Match company had been selling along about 130 for quite a time and there had been no special activity in the market. Just prior to the Venezuelan incident the tip had gone out from the inside circles that there were to be some important European developments in connection with Diamond Match affairs, and the buying of stocks was commenced by strong people. The Venezuelan panic interfered with speculation and the stock dropped during the general decline at that time to 131. Then the rise started which is the most remarkable in the history of the exchange. A strong group of speculators headed by James H. Moore and William H. Moore began buying stock. It moved up with scarcely a halt. Then came the announcement that the Diamond Match company had closed a contract with the French government under which the patents and machines controlled by the match company were to be sold to France and a royalty of a hundred thousand dollars a year paid on the work. This announcement caused the stock to advance with great rapidity. Negotiations were opened for the formation of a new company in England, which would unite with the Bryant and make the largest match producer in Great Britain, and would give to the English the advantage of labor saving machinery. Negotiations were also opened for the formation of companies in Austria, Belgium and Italy.

The shrewdest men in Chicago believed in the property. Some of the richest Chicago speculators operated on the market heavily. Head and front of the speculative movement was Moore Bros., but they were ably seconded by most prominent local and eastern speculators and kept in absolute control of the situation. The stock sold up as high as 248. Then came the decline and another advance but it hardly had the snap that characterized the first rise. Moore brothers bought stock with a confidence that inspired confidence in others. Prices were held through all the sharp fluctuations in other stocks. The stock, however, came out in enormous quantities. The Moores were almost alone in supporting the market. Today there was an outpouring of long stock which led keen observers of the market to fear that the load might become too heavy and events late this afternoon proved these fears correct. Moore Bros. attempted to carry New York Biscuit over the same course as Match. The stock sold up from 720-21, and for weeks held steady near that figure. In time the accumulation of stock resented a great sum, and the operations in Biscuit will add largely to the total sum involved. It is not at present possible to make any estimate whatever of the figures. The capital stock of the Diamond Match company is eleven millions, the New York Biscuit company, nine millions. Of this it is said the Moores purchased one-half the capital of the Match company and other purchases in the business bears the same proportion. James H. Moore's active manager in the speculative campaign tonight declined to make any statement of the amount involved. CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT. Trap Shooters Did Great Work in Chicago Monday. CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—All records at live bird or any other kind of trap shooting have been eclipsed in this preliminary day of the Du Pont world's championship tournament which will be in progress here during the entire week. As yet not half the contestants have arrived. In the five bird "warmup" there were 134 entries, and in the seven bird 120 entries. There would have been many more had not darkness interposed. In order to facilitate matters in the shooting tomorrow, the first regular day, the first squad will be called at 8 a. m., instead of 10 o'clock, as advertised. The management has been forced to do this through necessity, for a much longer program has been arranged for and there will be many more competitors. The shooting today was of a very high order. In the first event there were forty-nine ties for first money and in the second twenty-nine. The wind blew from the southeast and the heat at times was intense. The birds were a splendid lot. Over sixteen hundred were killed. Attendance is large. If the weather is propitious, it is estimated Wednesday there would be 10,000 people present. This day is set apart for first money and in the second twenty-nine. Forty-three have already entered for the world's championship matches Thursday, and the entries do not close until the twentieth gun has been fired. WILL HE DECLINE? Bryan Won't Answer Questions Regarding Populist Nomination. LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 3.—Bryan tonight declined to be interviewed on the rumor that he will decline the Populist nomination. "I have nothing to add," he said, "to the statement which I gave out at the close of the convention." CHANGES HIS TRIP. LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 3.—Bryan today announced the change he has been contemplating in his trip east next Friday. Instead of leaving here Friday evening, he leaves Friday afternoon over the Rock Island, and will reach Des Moines, Ia., 9 o'clock same evening. He will stay overnight at Des Moines where a reception has been planned. He leaves Des Moines Saturday morning reaching Chicago in the evening. MISSOURI DEMOCRATS. JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 3.—The advance guard delegates to the Democratic state convention which meets here Wednesday have arrived. The silver men will probably control the convention by an overwhelming majority. Strong efforts are being made to defeat Lon V. Stephens for governor. GLADYS WIPED OUT. Forest Fires Break Out in Chippewa County. SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 3.—Much damage is being done by forest fires in this vicinity. This afternoon Gladys's station, eight miles from here, was wiped out and its residents had to flee for their lives. Brimley was threatened with total destruction this afternoon and may have been wiped out by this time. Scores of farmers lost their hogs, and the farmers themselves barely escaped with their lives. Several settlers lost their farm buildings. Unless there is rain soon the damage will be far greater. FIRST FEMALE JURORS. Chicago Judge Allows Two Ladies to Serve. CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Judge Horton, sitting in the criminal court, created a great deal of comment among lawyers and others today by accepting two women as jurors. Their names had been taken from the poll list by the jury clerks. Both women said they are willing to serve, and were told to appear for service Wednesday. This is the first instance of the kind in the history of the county. VALUABLE HORSES HURT. Racine String Injured in a Railroad Wreck. INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 3.—In a wreck on the Big Four north of Indianapolis this morning a palace horse car was smashed. Every horse was so badly injured it is thought none will ever race again. They belonged to J. E. Bush of Louisville and were valued at $6,000. The string included Hal Porter, 2:12; Buster, 2:12 1/4; Sally Bronson, 2:13 1/4; Minnie Defoe, 2:15. Four men in the car with them were more or less hurt. Forecast of the Weather. JOHNSON IS GOVERNOR. Partial Reports Show Democrats Carried Alabama by a Good Sized Majority. REPUBLICAN-POPULIST FUSION CANDIDATE WASN'T IN IT. New Governor Estimates His Majority at 40,000—Republicans Concede His Victory by 20,000—Gains Almost Everywhere. DEMOCRATS CARRY ALABAMA. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 3.—The size of the Democratic majority seems to be all that remains in doubt with regard to the results in today's state election. Because of the slow process of counting votes under the new ballot law the returns are necessarily slow in coming in, but there is no doubt of a complete Democratic victory. Incomplete returns from about half the counties so far received indicate Democratic gains in all but Mobile and Macon. In the former the Democrats appear to have lost 500 votes by stay-at-homes, but the county is still in the Democratic column by 500 majority. In Macon county, which gave Oates a majority of 800 in 1894, the result is close and doubtful. The Democrats, on the other hand, carried Tuscaloosa county by a thousand majority. It gave Kolb but two hundred majority two years ago. Chambers county, with four hundred majority for Kolb in 1894, is in the Democratic column. Marshall, Lee and Fayette, Populist counties, are in the doubtful column. In the black belt, every county will roll up its usual large Democratic majority, ranging from three to six thousand each. Jefferson, which gave Oates less than one hundred majority, will give Johnson probably five hundred majority. Green county increases its Democratic majority. The same is true in nearly every north Alabama county. In this section, where the Populists are stronger than elsewhere in the state, that party lost heavily. The negroes of north Alabama generally voted for Goodwyn, but the number of Populists who voted for Johnson was larger than the negro vote cast for Goodwyn. Captain Johnson tonight said he stands to his original figures, placing forty thousand as the lowest estimate of his majority. From reports which he received he feels like increasing these figures to fifty thousand with two-thirds of the legislature Democratic. Wm. Vaughan, chairman of the Republican state committee, tonight gave out the following signed statement: "At 11 o'clock tonight, news of the election in this state is meager, and nothing like an accurate estimate can be made. But it is evident that the returns will give Joseph F. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor, a majority of 20,000. The usual count-out has evidently been resorted to in order to defeat Congressman Goodwin, candidate of the Populists and Republicans, for governor. By this means the Democrats will probably secure the state legislature. Goodwin's state ticket doubtless carried by a considerable majority in counties where white voters are in the majority, and Democrats got their majority in the black counties." At Populist headquarters, Secretary Valtreille said: "We have received no returns whatever from the interior of the state. We feel that if we had a fair count Goodwyn has won. The size of his majority would be governed by the number of votes cast by Democrats. We expect horseback mails to show Goodwyn's election."

Other Yellow Fellows Resign from Illinois Central Committee. CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—At a meeting of the Democratic state central committee today the gold standard members all resigned except Ben T. Cable and he was removed. Hon. W. R. Morrison, Illinois member of the interstate commerce commission, in an interview today is quoted as saying he will vote for Bryan and free silver. A resolution has been adopted that no proxies be recognized hereafter unless made in writing and accepted by the whole committee, and that no person shall be eligible to act as a proxy unless he is a member of the committee or holds from the district to be represented by him. The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. The executive committee will meet tomorrow and prepare extensive plans for the campaign. It was to have two new members—Frank Quinn, to fill the place of W. S. Forman, and A. C. Bentley instead of John P. Hopkins. YOUNG VANDERBILT WEDS. Cornelius, Jr. Marries a Miss Grace Wilson. NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Miss Grace Wilson were married at noon at the Wilson residence. The wedding was private. None of the Vanderbilt family were present. The ceremony was very simple. There was no music and no wedding breakfast. The bridal gown was of a pure white material with a lace cape. After the wedding, congratulatory cablegrams were received from the Prince of Wales, Earl and Countess Pembroke and the Duke and Duchess of Malborough. Both bride and groom looked radiantly happy after the marriage and smiled at each other broadly as he assisted her into the carriage. The couple go to Saratoga, where a portion of the honeymoon will be spent.

OF INTEREST TO LOGGERS. The case of Longyear and others against Gregory and Schliemann, copartners operating as the Amberg Cedar company, decided by the supreme court of this state July 21, 1896.

The opinion was rendered by Mr. Justice Moore, and extracts from it are as follows: In November, 1893, the Amberg Cedar company, through the agency of one Whitney, purchased of the firm of Mann Brothers, five hundred of timber lands in Dickinson county. One of these tracts was the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 8, town 42, Whitney, as agent of the Mann Brothers, took defendant Schliemann over the lands before the purchase and pointed out the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter, instead of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter, of the above section as a part of the lands. The said southwest quarter of the northeast quarter is the property of the plaintiffs.

Defendants located their lumber camps on this forty and commenced operations. They also cut the timber on the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter. On March 27, 1894, they had cut nearly all the timber from this forty. A few days after they were notified by one Lewis, plaintiffs' agent, that they were trespassers; that the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section eight was the property of the plaintiffs. At this time a good deal of the timber was yet on the ground and a good portion of the balance was piled on the adjoining forty. Defendants shipped and sold all of the timber, posts, trees, etc., they cut from this land.

Testimony was introduced tending to show that Schliemann never saw the bill of sale of the lands, and consequently did not know the descriptions it contained; that Gregory read the bill of sale, but was inexperienced in the lumber business and the description of lands; that Schliemann placed the camp on the land designated by Whitney as part of the lands for which Schliemann was negotiating, and that Gregory visited the camp occasionally and paid the men. The record discloses that what was done was done by the direction of Schliemann and Frank Gregory, so far as the active operations resulting in the trespassing was concerned. The defendants having cut and removed the pine, cedar, hemlock and tamarack in controversy, plaintiffs brought suit in an action of trespass and sought to recover treble damages under the provisions of section 7957, How. Ann. Stat.

The important question in the case is whether, under the facts shown by the record, judgment could be rendered for three times the amount of the damages assessed by the jury. The statute reads: "Every person who shall cut down or carry off any wood, underwood, trees or timber, or shall girdle or otherwise despoil or injure any trees on the land of any other person, without the leave of the owner thereof, or on the lands or commons of any city, township, village or other corporation, without license therefor given, shall be liable to the owner of such land, or to such corporation, in three times the amount of damages which shall be assessed therefor in an action of trespass by a jury, or by a justice of the peace in the cases provided by law.

It is urged that this case does not come within the spirit of the statute; that there is nothing to indicate willfulness, wantonness or evil design in what they did, and that unless they committed a willful wrong the statute would not apply. Citing: Wallace vs. Finch, 24 Mich., 355. Russell vs. Meyers, 32 Mich., 523. Clark vs. Field, 42 Mich., 342. Michigan Land & Iron Co. vs. Deer Lake Co., 90 Mich., 143.

These cases undoubtedly do hold that damages provided for in the statute are in their nature punitive and are not designed to be inflicted in the absence of active misconduct. In the last named case it was held that the burden of proof was upon the defendant to show that the trespass was casual and involuntary. We do not think the record shows this was done in the case before us. The inference to be fairly drawn from the proof cannot be harmonized with the idea of good faith on the part of defendants. It will be remembered the statute applies not only to those who cut down, but to those who carry away, timber, etc. Not only did the defendants cut the timber from the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter. Any inspection of their bill of sale would have indicated to them that they had no right to cut the timber from both of these tracts; neither would it require a great amount of experience in the woods to indicate they had no right to cut over eighty acres. The record discloses that when Mr. Lewis, acting for the plaintiffs, visited them, a large quantity of posts cut from this land were still on the land; other portions of the timber were near by on an adjoining description, and after they knew the title to the lumber and timber was not in them the defendants shipped it away and appropriated the proceeds to their own use.

It cannot be the law that no degree of care is required of one who goes on land to cut timber, or that they may recklessly and without trying to ascertain the facts, cut and carry away timber, and then say that the owner, who may have wanted to keep his timber, must content himself by receiving as his damages only that what the timber was worth on the land. It was to meet such cases as the one at issue that the statute was passed.

WE ALL KNOW HIM. Listen and you will hear him say, About a dozen times a day, When things refuse to go his way: "That's just my luck!"

He mingles with the market's throng And plunges into stocks headlong; Excusing all his guesses wrong With "Just my luck!"

From large events of loss and gain To failures just to catch the train, The sole consoler of his pain Is "Just my luck!"

Fools now and then are right by chance; And when luck seems his way to glance And all his pleasures to enhance, Beaming with self-complacency, "I think I planned that well," says he, "Ah, me! what fools these mortals be!" —Mary Willard, in Puck.

A LITTLE YALLER BABY. BY EUGENE FIELD. I hev altus hed a good opinon uv the wimmin folks. I don't look at 'em as some people do; uv course they're a necessity—just as men are. Uv course if there warn't no wimmin folks there wouldn't be no men folks—leastwise, that's what the medikil books say.

I hev altus hed a good opinon uv the wimmin folks. I don't look at 'em as some people do; uv course they're a necessity—just as men are. Uv course if there warn't no wimmin folks there wouldn't be no men folks—leastwise, that's what the medikil books say.

The mornin' after I got that letter from Col Sibley I started for Saint Louey. I took a bunk in the Pullman car, like I hed been doin' for six years past; 'nd I reckon the other folks must hev thought I wuz a heap uv a man, for every half-hour I give the nigger half a dollar to bresh me off. The car wuz full uv people—rich people, too, I reckon, for they wore good clo'es 'nd criticised the scenery. Jest across from me there wuz a lady with a big, fat baby—the pruttiest woman I hed seen in a month uv Sundays; and the baby! why, dog-gone my skin when I wuzn't payin' money to the nigger, darned if I didn't set there watchin' the big, fat little cuss, like he wuz the only baby I ever seen. I ain't much of a hand at babies, 'cause I haint seen many uv 'em, 'nd when it comes to handlin' 'em—why, that would break me all up, 'nd like 's not 't would break the baby all up, too. But it has allus been my notion that nex' to the wimmin folks babies wuz just about the nicest things on earth. So the more I looked at that big, fat little baby settin' in its mother's lap 'cross the way, the more I wanted to look; seemed like I wuz hoodooed by the little tyke; 'nd the first thing I knew there wuz water in my eyes; don't know why it is, but it allus makes me kind ur sloop over to set 'nd watch a baby coolin' 'nd playin' in its mother's lap.

"Look a' hyar, Sam," says I to the nigger, "come hyar 'nd bresh me off agin! Why ain't you tendin' to bizness?" But it didn't do no good 't all; pretendin' to be cross with the nigger might fool the other folks in the car, but it didn't fool me. I wuz dead stuck on that baby—got durn his picture! And there the little tyke set in its mother's lap, doublin' up its fists 'nd tryin' to swaller 'em, 'nd talkin' like to its mother in a lingo I couldn't understand, 'nd at which the mother could, for she talked back to the baby in a soothin' lingo which I couldn't understand, but which I liked to hear, 'nd she kissed the baby 'nd stroked its hair 'nd petted it like wimmin do.

It made me mad to hear them other folks in the car criticizin' the scenery 'nd things. A man's in mighty poor bizness, anyhow, to be lookin' at scenery when there's a woman in sight—a woman and a baby! Pruttly soon—oh, maybe in a hour or two—the baby began to fret 'nd worrit. Seemed to me like the little critter wuz hungry. Knowin' that there wuzn't no eatin'-house this side uv Bowieville, I jest called the train boy, 'nd says I to him: "Hev you got any victuals that will do for a baby?" "How is oranges 'nd bananas?" says he. "That ought to do," sez I. "Jist do up a dozen uv your best oranges 'nd a dozen uv your best bananas 'nd take 'em over to that baby with my compliments."

But before he could do it, the lady hed laid the baby on one-uv her arms 'nd hed spread a shawl over its head 'nd over her shoulder, 'nd all uv a suddin' the baby quit worrin' 'nd seemed like he hed gone to sleep. When we got to York Crossin' I looked out'n the window 'nd seen some men carryin' a long pine box uv towards the baggage car. Seein' their hats off, I knew there wuz a dead body in the box, 'nd I couldn't help feelin' sorry for the poor creature that hed died in that

After diving he failed to come to surface within a reasonable time, and his companions realized that he had drowned. After diving for two hours one of the boys found the body, which was removed to the home of the heartbroken parents. The funeral will be held today with services at the M. E. church.

The Young Woman's Guild of St. Paul's cathedral will hold an important business meeting at Morgan Memorial chapel at 10:30 a. m. today. All members are urgently requested to be present. One of the finest minstrel attractions that has yet appeared before a Marquette audience is that which is booked for this evening. The prices are low, thus you should not miss this opportunity for a good laugh.

The merry-go-round which has operated for the past two weeks on the rocks across from the Hotel Marquette, was taken down yesterday for shipment. It did not do so well as the one here earlier in the season. The annual basket picnic in connection St. Paul's Cathedral Sunday school will take place a week from Wednesday. Mrs. E. P. Montiehl and daughter were in Lyons, Mich., last week visiting a sick sister. Last Wednesday, while there they received a telegram from Osego, Mich., apprising them of the death of James Montiehl, who is a brother of E. P. Montiehl of this city. The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at 341 West Bluff street. The topic for the day will be "Temperance Temple Work." The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Monford, superintendent of that work. Mrs. Law, district president, well known to Marquette people as an excellent speaker, will spend Aug. 16 and 17 in this place, speaking morning and evening of the sabbath in the M. E. church and holding a meeting of the local union Monday afternoon.

A pleasant feature of the A. O. U. W. festivities on Saturday, though not printed on the program, was the quiet marriage of a young couple, who late in the evening were wedded by Rev. F. J. Mallet, who at the special request of the groom performed the ceremony. Rev. Mallet had just reached the city from a long journey in Indiana, where he had lectured at Island Park assembly, but made the contracting parties happy by the use of the short but beautiful service of the Episcopal church. Yesterday afternoon Frank Moore received a telegram from Detroit, telling of the death in that city of Alexander McGregor. The dead man has been grand sentinel of the grand commandery, Knights Templar, for years, and his has been a familiar face at every meeting of the grand commandery. He was one of the best known Masons in Michigan and probably had the largest Masonic acquaintance of any man in the state. His funeral is to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. As Mr. Moore did not receive his telegram till too late to take the train for Detroit he will be unable to attend.

Parties holding bills against the A. O. U. W. on account of the recent rationing, will please present the same to Dr. C. O. Boice. (S-4-1d)

The Value of a Ton of Metal. So remarkable are the results obtained in the manufacture of wire that a scientist has chosen this subject as a topic for a lecture. Ordinary wire is, as everybody knows, not at all expensive, but when metal is worked up into some of the articles in common use, its value is enormously increased. Attention was called to pinion wire, which is worth over $43,000 per ton. It takes 734 hair springs to weigh one ounce, and 27,000,000 of them are required to make a ton. These trifles are not at all expensive per piece, but a ton of metal worked up into them has a value of over $400,000. The most expensive ton of metal mentioned was one which if made up into the tiny instruments used by dentists for extracting the nerves from the teeth, would be worth $2,150,000. The relation between the crude metal and the articles into which it is made seems not very close, and only a careful computation gives an approximate idea of what a single ton of iron or steel can represent in cash value.—N. Y. Ledger.

The Stormy Equinoxes. The popular belief that storms are more frequent about the time of the equinoxes, or when the "sun crosses the line," in March and September, receives some slight degree of support from the recent investigations of Prof. Hellmann concerning the weather of Europe. In southwestern Europe March is the stormiest month, while in the British Islands and Norway January takes the lead in that respect; but considering Europe as a whole, it appears that storms predominate near the season of the equinoxes.—Youth's Companion.

Hundreds of people have visited the Marquette City dairy this season to investigate the stock and stables and learn why there is so much more demand for Vandenberg's fresh milk and Jersey creamery butter than for any other. Many of them remark, "It is no wonder there is a big demand for these goods; just look at the excellence of everything connected with the business."

Go and hear the orator at the book auction, Nester block, Washington street. (S-4-1d) WANTED, WORK! The undersigned having been born and bred to mining and having served in and about mines as boy and man for over thirty years, desires work as a miner, timberman, engineer, blacksmith or mechanic—not as a handy man but as a skilled workman who thoroughly understands all these trades, and can produce testimonials to his ability and responsibility from the best mining men on Lake Superior. Having been idle for more than a year, and being now able to work again, I take this means of calling myself to the attention of mining men. Of those having need of a competent and experienced man in any or all of the callings named, I respectfully ask for a chance to show my references. Address JOHN E. The City of Marquette made a special Sunday run to Munising and Pictured Rocks. About forty passengers were taken from Marquette, and at least sixty got on at Munising. The tug Wisconsin, which sank on Lake Erie and was then raised and taken to Toledo, has disappeared. A libel was issued in favor of the Toledo Marine railway company for $925, but the United States marshal cannot locate his boat.

The mammoth steamer Sir William Fairbairn, built at Wyandotte to the order of John D. Rockefeller, was launched according to program Saturday afternoon. Nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the affair, and the large crowd which had gathered in spite of the injunction that it was to be private, gave her a general meed of applause.

Letter from a Hancock Man.

HANCOCK, Mich., June 21, 1896. Gem Treatment Co., Marquette: GENTLEMEN—This is to certify that I, James Stephens, was troubled with piles for fifteen years and could not find any cure until I tried the Gem Treatment. After using three boxes I became a well man. I have no piles now. My age is fifty-two years. I work in the Quincy mine as a miner. Before I took the Gem Treatment I was not able to work one quarter of the time. I would like to have everyone who is troubled with piles to know what the Gem Treatment has done for me. It cost me three dollars and it did me more than five hundred dollars worth of good. Yours Respectfully, JAS. STEPHENS, Hancock, Mich.

INJURED IN CHICAGO.

A Young Woman Formerly of Ishpeming Hurt on an Elevated Street Railway.

Miss Denia Reiten, who is well known and has many friends in Ishpeming, she having resided here for some time prior to three years ago, met with an accident in Chicago last Friday morning which is likely to result in her death. During the last two or three years of Miss Reiten's residence here she was employed as pastry cook at the Nelson House. The Chicago Inter Ocean of Saturday gave the following account of the accident:

Miss Denia Reiten was hurled from the platform of the Sheldon street station of the Lake street elevated railroad this morning and plunging to the ground below sustained injuries which are expected to prove fatal.

The injured woman is now lying at the Cook county hospital suffering from severe internal injuries and fractures of both legs. Miss Reiten resides at 32 Ogden avenue, living with a friend, Lizzie Shea, who employs as a cook at the cafeteria in the New York Life building. Miss Reiten left her home at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning for the city. She arrived at the station long before the train approached, so the station guards say, and having purchased her ticket walked up and down the platform for some moments.

When the train for the city pulled in the woman for some unknown reason was delayed in going aboard. The guard then partly closed the gate when the woman rushed toward the platform of one of the rear cars. Grasping the iron railing she tried to force open the gate as the train pulled out of the station. The end of the platform the iron guard ran brushed the struggling woman from her hold and she was thrown upon the trestle work, falling into the street below.

When the woman struck the ground she lay for a moment as stunned as she then, rising, tried to walk again toward the steps leading to the platform. Few pedestrians were on the streets at the time and but a few passengers on the train were eye-witnesses to the accident. As the woman endeavored to walk along the sidewalk she reeled from side and a gentleman who caught her as she was about to fall to the ground was under the impression that the woman had been seized only with faintness.

The passengers who had noticed Miss Reiten clinging to the car railing set up cries of fear before the train reached the end of the platform. As the body of the woman struck the ground she sprang to her feet and sprang to the bell cord and the train was stopped at once. A crowd soon collected upon the scene and the police were compelled to fight their way to the ambulance when the injured woman was removed to the hospital.

The stories regarding the accident differ greatly. Miss Reiten could talk but little and she asserted that the train was pulling out when she reached the station and that as she stepped upon the platform the conductor deliberately closed the gate and as the train was moving rapidly she was compelled to cling to the railing of the car until the end guard rail swept her from her position. Conductor Braatigan was in charge of the train, but would say nothing concerning the accident, preferring to await the result of an investigation.

The gateman at the station asserts that Miss Reiten reached the station long before the train arrived and that she spent several minutes in walking about the platform. Train Dispatcher Fox of the Lake street "L" was on the train ahead and immediately hurried to the scene. He would say nothing more, however, than that it was a very serious accident and that an investigation would probably straighten out matters.

"We can't keep people from jumping on moving trains," said he. "It's simply impossible. If it could be waited for the guards are powerless to prevent people who are in a hurry from jumping trains." Officers were at once detailed from West Forty-eighth street station to arrest Corgan and he will probably be held to await the outcome of Miss Reiten's injuries. The train passengers who saw the accident assert that the train men are not to blame, as the woman attempted to board the train after the gates were closed.

Dr. J. J. Anger was the first physician to attend the injured woman. He found her pulse so low that he at once ordered the patient removed to the hospital. Here the physicians found that both legs had been fractured and the victim was at once placed under the influence of an anesthetic and the wounds dressed. The worst results are feared from the internal injuries which Miss Reiten sustained.

Miss Reiten lives with a friend, Miss Lizzie Shea, at 32 Ogden avenue, and has lived in Chicago for the last three years, being employed most of the time at the New York Life company's office. She is twenty-seven years of age and is of Norwegian descent. An only sister resides in Minneapolis. The latter will be sent for, as the county physicians have but slight hopes of the woman's recovery. Shortly after the accident all the employees of the elevated road were cautioned to speak but little concerning the accident and all inquirers were referred to the officials at the company's offices.

SWAMP FIRES.

They Are Furnishing Occupation for the Firemen These Days.

No. 2 hose company of the Ishpeming fire department was called out Sunday and again yesterday to fight the swamp fires in the southern end of the city. There was quite a large strip of the Lake Superior iron company's swamp near Joseph St. Antoine's farm at the Badger hill ablaze yesterday. The grass and peat were burning fiercely. Considerable of the brush and stumps there were also burned. It was feared Sunday that the fire might reach some of the dwellings in that vicinity, as the firemen were called out and worked a few hours.

Yesterday the firemen labored on a brush fire near the Lake Angeline East End mine. The wind blew quite hard all day and it was feared that the fire would reach the dwellings or mining buildings. A number of the company's employees were also at work on the fire.

The most stubborn fire of all is near West Ishpeming. There is also considerable fire between there and the Greenwood location. The fire in that vicinity was not considered dangerous Sunday, but yesterday the high winds caused it to spread over considerable territory.

Easing Up on Street Work.

The board of public works has stopped hauling gravel from the pit near the Carp river for street dressing. The work done during the past six weeks has added very materially to the appearance of the business streets of the city. A few men will be kept at work for a time removing the larger stones from the streets recently given a dressing.

A Clever Performer.

The Young People's society of the Swedish Lutheran church, under whose auspices Miss Effie Elaine Hext, the elocutionist, will appear next Monday evening at the Ishpeming Opera House, will endeavor to bring out a large attendance. The City band has been engaged to play in front of the opera house previous to the commencement of the entertainment and to also assist with other local talent in filling out the program. The price of the tickets will be twenty-five and fifty cents, the latter for reserved seats, which can be found at Sinclair's drug store. The Omaha, (Neb.) Bee, gave Miss Hext the following mention during her engagement in that city recently:

One of the finest entertainments of the kind ever afforded the people of any community was given last night at the Park avenue United Presbyterian church. The chief feature of the evening was the brilliant rendering of well selected pieces by Miss Effie Elaine Hext, elocutionist. It was her first appearance in Omaha, and she convinced her audience that she is an artist of high order. Miss Hext's postures in Greek costume were an exhibition of the highest art.

Sewer System Improvement.

The cutting down of the bottom of Carp river, between the outlet of the main trunk sewer and the falls at Deer Lake, will greatly improve Ishpeming's sewer system. It will be necessary to do a good deal of dredging in order to obtain a fall sufficient to carry off all the water from the sewer. Some of the dirt removed from the bottom when the system was being put in has washed back into the river. Had this not occurred the fall would be sufficient to carry off the surplus water from the sewer at all times, except during a few weeks in the spring when the river is unusually high.

The board of public works, which has the work in hand, is in possession of plans and specifications for the projected improvement. These can now be seen at the office of the board in the city building. Bids for doing the work will be opened at 3 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, Aug. 12. The party to whom the contract will be let will be required to give a bond, and the board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

THE LOVING CUP.

Renewal of a Custom of Far-Off Eastern Asia.

According to present indications, the "loving cup" has come to stay. First-class silversmiths are making them by the score; first-class glassmakers are blowing them by the hundreds; potters have them by thousands; beer mugs take their name, counters are covered with them wherever well-bred mortals are served, and no family with the slightest pretension of distinction or a long-winded ancestry is supposed to be without one.

Societies of all names and for all purposes have their "loving cups" on tap, so to speak, and have begun to bestow them upon those they delight to honor, and the ceremonious rite of the presentation and use of the "loving cup" is the prodigious fad of the hour all over America.

The renewal of an ancient custom originating in Eastern Asia many thousand years ago, is due to the poetic forethought and enthusiastic ancestor worship of May Whitney Emerson, of Washington, D. C., who called together a company of her kindfolk in July, world's exposition year, in Chicago, and gave them all a drink from a "loving cup" made expressly for her and the occasion, from a model known to be over 1,000 years old and once belonging to her (and their) ancestor, Heolf, conqueror of Normandy.

The original had been used at a certain yuletide festival in 893, when Lieff Ericson "took a vow on the cup" that he would find and colonize "Vineland," already discovered by Bjorri, Heolf's son. The vow was kept the following year.

This is, however, not the only time that the loving cup has figured conspicuously in American history. Two hundred and seventy-two years ago a great silver loving cup, with two handles, brought to America on board the Mayflower from Leyden, was used by Gov. Carver at Plymouth when Massasoit, the great Indian sachem, made his first visit of welcome to the white invaders. In the cup was "posset," made of Holland gin, sugar, spices and water.

Gov. Carter first tasted from the cup and passed it to Massasoit, who, nothing daunted, drank courageously, though such a concoction was unknown to him as the Greek tongue. The cup was then passed to each of the red men of his party and after to all the whites, who drank in turn.

This was the same "fealty-vow" use of the cup of old Norse days revived on American soil by the Puritans after 700 or more years, and is called by Jane Austen "the first international treaty."

The loving cup used in Chicago at the Sancto-Claro banquet to the Vikings, July 19, 1893, contained one good California orange wine, and after its use ther it was taken to Norway by Capt. Magnus Anderson, to whom it was presented by Mrs. Emerson, who, lineal descendant to Heolf through her father, is also, through her mother, derived directly from "Pastor John" Robinson, of Leyden-Mayflower fame, who sent the great silver loving cup of "the first international treaty" to America.

The loving cup of to-day is in its symbolism identical with the "Arvel cup" of Norway, the Holy Kraal, or Graal, of Africa, the Sacred Arc of Syria, the covenanting cup of the Jews, the sangreal of France, the mother cup of ancient China and the grail of King Arthur's quest.

It is also the same in meaning and derivation as the "cup" of the communion service of the Christian church, and was always and everywhere used with a "formula of remembrance" and fealty, its contents signifying the "united blood" of the drinkers.

Its significance in America, if called a loving cup, means brotherhood and fealty to the gods of Truth, Justice, Liberty and Love.—Washington Times.

BLOOM ON ICEBERGS.

The Steamer Maryland Passes Several on Which Shrubbery Was Growing.

Capt. Marshall, of the steamer Maryland, which reached here the other day, reported that the vessel passed through a running sea of ice in latitude 42.03 on May 15. It covered an area of about one mile square, and after the vessel had passed through it seven huge icebergs hove in sight. One of the latter was at least 500 feet high and one-half mile long. The largest one was topped with huge pinnacles which appeared at a glance from the northward side like the towers of some old cathedral.

On the second in size of the bergs Capt. Marshall claimed he could see distinctly through his glass what appeared to be a thrifty patch of clover ten yards square. On each side of it there was what Capt. Marshall believed was shrubbery in bloom. Besides this, the surface part of two of the bergs was blackened as if coal dust had been dashed upon it. The bergs were watched with the greatest interest by the crew of the Maryland until they passed out of sight.

Just about the time the interest in the icebergs had subsided a beautiful sunset came over the waters, followed by a mirage of such an attractive make-up that Capt. Marshall, who was on watch, immediately called the crew. It was a double reflection of a steamer projected against the sky. After the mirage had been viewed through the glass by captain as well as crew, all agreed that it was, without question, the reflection of the steamer Mohawk, although the real object was not in sight. A peculiar feature of the occurrence is that the steamer Mohawk was reported recently as having been on that day in precisely the same latitude and longitude as the mirage.—Philadelphia Press.

Product of a Walnut Tree.

In the Baidar valley, near Hakaklava, in the Crimea, there stands a walnut tree which must be at least 1,000 years old. It yields annually from 80,000 to 100,000 nuts, and is the property of five Tartar families, who share its products equally.—Detroit Free Press.

In and About Negaunee.

A WHEELMAN'S MISHAP.
Run Into and Badly Injured by a Couple of Ishpeming Youths.
Otto Olen of Negaunee had a narrow escape from death Sunday evening. He was out on his wheel and while riding on Teal Lake avenue a couple of young men from Ishpeming came driving along in a very reckless manner and ran into him. Olen fell under the horse and was trampled on by the animal. The wheels of the buggy also passed over him. The horse stepped on one of his arms, cutting it quite badly. He also had several cuts and bruises about the body. When picked up Olen was unconscious and had to be taken home in a rig. His bicycle was completely demolished. The horse got his feet tangled up in the wheels of the bike and kicked it to pieces.
The two young men who were responsible for the accident got out of the way so rapidly that no one recognized them. They were apparently badly frightened, as they doubtless thought Olen had been killed. They did not even stop to ascertain what the poor fellow's injuries might be.

DEATH OF MRS. SCHWARTZ.
She Was One of the Oldest Residents of Negaunee.
Mrs. Charles Schwartz, one of Negaunee's oldest residents, died Sunday at her home on Peck street. Her death was caused by a cancer, from which she had been suffering for some time. During the past two months she sank rapidly and it was known that the end would not be long delayed.
Mrs. Schwartz was seventy-two years of age. She and her husband were among Negaunee's first settlers. They arrived here nearly forty years ago. The deceased lady was well known and will be sincerely mourned here. The husband and three adult children, one son and two daughters, survive her. The children are Henry Schwartz and Mrs. Louis L. Miller of Negaunee and Mrs. G. Mueller of Ashland. The latter has been here for some time attending her mother. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. John's Episcopal church. The services will be conducted by Rev. Robert Wood, the pastor.

Noted Minister Coming.
P. J. Sward, D. D., doubtless the best known Swedish minister in the United States, will be in Negaunee a week from next Sunday and will preach to the Swedish Lutheran congregation that evening. He will be at the Ishpeming Lutheran church in the morning, spending but one day in the two towns. Rev. Sward is president of the Augustana synod. The members of that organization living in the upper peninsula have been trying for the past two years to induce him to pay this section a visit. He has been so busy that he could not find time to come this way until now, and they are greatly pleased over the prospective visit.
Rev. Sward is said to be one of the best Swedish orators in this country. Those of his countrymen who know of him will surely attend the meetings he will address.

Beer and Size of Feet.
The very peculiar theory has of late been propounded that all women who partake to any extent of malt drinks have large feet! The women of Holland, Germany, are quoted as examples, while the women of the wine countries—France, Spain and Italy—are, on the other hand, famed for their small and shapely feet.
A curious and slightly known fact is that it is impossible to move the eye while looking at its reflection in a mirror. The eye is the most movable part of the face, yet if you try to look at it and move it a thousandth part of an inch you will be balked in your purpose. The moment you endeavor to perceive the motion of the eye it becomes fixed. That is why a person's expression as he sees himself in the glass is entirely different from the one by which his friends recognize him.

Boiling River
It is sure enough. It is not as large as the Mississippi, but it is quite small, but a mighty interesting stream for all that. It issues from the sides of a mountain in a thousand tiny rills, more or less, and of almost as many colors. These gather themselves into pools and lakes on the mountain's side, covering an area of about 300 acres. Overflowing their boundaries they slowly trickle down the sides of the mountain forming small cliffs, the most wonderful in the world. From a distance one can hardly believe what the eyesight reveals—white, black, orange, lemon, terra cotta, green, blue, red, pink, separate and in manifold combinations stand out before him. It is a hall of painted cliffs on the sides of the mountain that rises high above. And the odd part of it is that each of these exquisite colors represents a different temperature. Does that startle your credulity? Even so it is true.
When through with this beautiful painting process, these waters again come together and then, as if full of mischief like a pack of small boys trying to play hide and seek, dive down and remain under the surface of the pool, and then flow out from the mouth of a convoluted one of the clearest, most beautiful, green streams imaginable. Where these waters emerge from the mountain into the little lakes they are hot, boiling hot. During their dark underground journey they fire several hundred feet and also many degrees in hotness, so that when they again see daylight they are much cooler. This then is Boiling River, an underground mountain stream of hot water.
But you ask, where is it? Where can I see it? It is in Yellowstone Park at Mammoth Hot Springs. It is one of the lesser, mind you the lesser—wonders of this land of wonders. Go there and see it by all means but first send to Chas. S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railroad, St. Paul, Minn., six cents for Wonderland '96, that tells all about this renowned region.

Funeral of I. D. Hanscom—Fined for Beating a Horse—Will Initiate Forty-two Candidates—Condemnation Proceedings.

SCHOOL FOR ORATORY.

Talk is cheap, and it came in large quantities at the council meeting last night. There has not been a meeting for general business for a month, and nearly all of the aldermen came with something on their minds, and there were some with several topics for discussion.

An invitation was extended to the council by the park board, which was present in a body, for the council to come out to Presque Isle as the guests of the board and see the work that has been done there this summer in improving the roadways of the island. Coupled with the invitation was the statement that the board had on hand at the present time only $1,500, and as it proposes to spend $500 on Washington street park there will not be enough to pay current expenses and complete the roadway. Mr. White emphasized that the council would not be asked for an appropriation, but hinted very broadly that an additional outlay would be of advantage to the city and appreciated by the board.

The council accepted the invitation, and agreed to go on Wednesday. When the method of transportation was up for discussion, Alderman Sherman favored street cars. Alderman Desjardins wanted to go in carriages. Alderman Blanchard rose slowly and said: "I rode over Presque Isle drive in a bus when the Detroit party was here. I sat over the wheels. I haven't gotten over the effects of it yet."

After this brief address he sat down painfully and carefully. It was plain to see his opinion on the transportation question.

The next thing to engage the attention of the council was a petition asking an appropriation of $100 toward building the cinder bicycle path between the city and the island. After considerable oratory, mostly in favor of the request, a resolution was passed appropriating the money. The only vote against it was cast by Tobin.

Upon the suggestion of a petition presented to the council Washington street park was given a new name. From now on it will be called Harlow park, in honor of Amos R. Harlow who donated it to the city.

Four ladies residing in the western part of town sent a communication to the council complaining of the nuisance the cows were in that section of the city. The animals, it was asserted by several aldermen from the floor, are driven through the streets in large droves by small boys who are either unable or too indolent to keep the bovines off of the sidewalks. Bossy likes the sidewalk and the pedestrian has to vacate. This resolution provoked all the oratory that should be needed to float a $10,000 bond. Finally the matter was referred to the committee on pounds.

Alderman Desjardins introduced a motion that until the street commissioner got around to make a permanent improved roadway on Washington street that the city pay for sprinkling the thoroughfare, as he claimed the white stone dust given off was injurious to the health of those living along the street. This suggestion met with considerable opposition, as every alderman seemed to think that the streets in his ward, should with equal justice, be sprinkled free. Alderman Robinson suggested that the Washington street residents pray for rain. This idea seemed to strike the council favorably. The motion was finally lost by a heavy majority.

Before the meeting adjourned Alderman Clark offered a resolution appropriate to the memory of ex-Mayor Pickands. It follows:

Whereas, Since the last meeting of this council we have learned with deep regret of the sudden death of Colonel James Pickands of Cleveland, O., who was in his earlier years a resident of our city, which he honored, as one of its mayors, now therefore,

Resolved, That we express in this public manner our high appreciation of his worth, patriotic devotion to country in the hour of its peril, loyalty to friendships, faithfulness to public and private duties, benevolent and sympathetic action which need appealed to him for help, and for his ever widening business energy.

Resolved, That this expression of our remembrance be spread upon the records of this council, and that a certified copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased by the city recorder.

Alderman Clark moved its adoption, and at the suggestion of Alderman Blanchard the vote was made a rising one. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Brampton Times, Ont., says: "A very fine and high class entertainment was given in St. Paul's church last evening. Miss Hext's readings show rare artistic merit. She has exceptional control of her voice, and her enunciation and gestures are particularly good. As an elocutionist she is established in the front rank, showing unusual ability in both light and heavy pieces. The posing in Greek costume was a most pleasing feature of the entertainment and was warmly applauded. This highly cultured and talented young lady has a brilliant future before her, and we predict that should she appear again in Brampton she will be greeted with a crowded house." Miss Ethel L. Lovejoy will discourse two or three choice selections on the violin. Tickets will be on sale at Bigelow's Wednesday morning.

Deaths and Funerals.

The funeral of the late I. D. Hanscom will take place at 2 p. m. today from his late residence, the Venerable Archdeacon officiating. The pall bearers will be Hon. Peter White, Messrs. Jopling, Merritt, Midlam, Blake and Hill.

All the friends of the deceased are invited to attend, also the G. A. R. and Odd Fellows. Lake Superior Commandery, Knights Templar will attend in full uniform and act as escort.

MRS. CAMPBELL'S DEATH.
From the immediate effects of a paralytic stroke after a lingering illness, Mrs. Christine Campbell, sixty-five years of age, passed away last evening. She leaves a family of three daughters to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held from the family residence, 625 North Front street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GUSTAVE L. ANDERSON.
Gustave L., sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of 607 Rock street, died Sunday from the effects of a tumor. He will be buried at 2 this afternoon from the Lutheran church.

The funeral of the late Robert Murray, held yesterday afternoon from the house, was well attended.

Grist of the Courts.
Judge Clifton devoted the most of the day yesterday to hearing testimony in the condemnation proceedings begun by the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railroad against the Pendill heirs to gain possession of a right of way through a piece of land just outside of Negaunee. Court adjourned late in the afternoon with enough evidence and arguments still before it to occupy at least two days.

Wallace Hogan was taken before Judge Byrne yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Marshal Emmons, charging him with cruelty to animals. Hogan is the man who beat a balky horse Sunday on Front street near Washington. Judge Byrne soaked him $10 and costs, amounting to $15 in all. It was paid. The suit against Henry Blumberg to make him pay his assessment for property improvement is set for today before Judge Meads.

Found a Waif.
Monday afternoon the men at work on the new breakwater discovered a bottle floating by which appeared to contain some paper. It was fished out of the water and opened. The paper was a piece of ordinary white manilla paper. On it was written in lead pencil:

"Tour from Duluth to Cleveland, Ohio. 16-foot sailboat. Thrown overboard at Pine River. John A. Johnson, C. F. Deitrich, John Linstrom."

There is no date on the message. The waif may have been floating about in the water for several seasons, or perchance a few days only.

Work for the Goat.
The A. O. U. W. goat will deserve a liberal feed of tin cans and waste paper after his work tonight, as there are forty-two new members to be initiated into the order. This goodly number is largely due to the efforts of Deputy Grand Master John F. C. Hollings, who spent about a week here prior to the celebration, working in the interests of Grafton lodge. Mr. Hollings wishes all candidates for initiation to meet at the lodge hall at 8 o'clock this evening.

Lots of Taxes.
Friday being the last day on which taxes could be paid at the city treasury without having a penalty added, there was a big rush of business at the office. The amount paid in was $12,700. From July 15 to July 31, inclusive, $27,800 was paid into the treasury. This leaves about $16,000 back and owing. This money is coming in slowly, $1,500 being collected Monday. Treasurer Machts says the people are paying up a little more promptly than they did last year.

A. O. U. W.
All members of Grafton Lodge No. 111, A. O. U. W., are requested to attend the special meeting tonight. John F. C. Hollings, deputy grand master workmen, will be present and initiate a large class of new members.
