SUN'S FATAL RAYS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The police reported more than a score of deaths today in which extreme heat is supposed to have been the real or contributing cause.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.—Not before in the history of St. Louis has its inhabitants suffered so much from heat as during the week just ended. City Physician Sutter declared tonight that the record of heat prostrations and deaths at the city hospital for the week is unprecedented in its history. He reports 110 cases, all serious, cared for, and that nineteen of these died, while many more are still in a critical condition. This is not a complete record for the city, for at least as many more cases have been taken to dispensaries, where many have died. Today there were twenty prostrations, two of which were fatal. Others will die.

FIFTY MILITIA MEN PROSTRATED.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—The heat has been intense today. Three prostrations were reported. During dress parade at the National guard's encampment this afternoon, fifty militia men were prostrated. All the men will recover.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—The heat the past week has caused many deaths, but there have been only two fatalities directly from sunstroke. John Snesdorf, a laborer, dropped dead at 6 o'clock tonight from heat. Harry Helman, a moulder, was sitting in his yard when a neighbor called to him and slapped him on the back. Helman dropped dead. The physicians said he died of sunstroke. There were an unusual number of prostrations today, of those who will recover.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 9.—Ninety was the highest point touched by the mercury today, a heavy rain lowering the temperature several degrees and causing a break in the five days' hottest weather Milwaukee has experienced since '72. No prostrations or deaths were reported today.

FIFTEEN STRUCK DOWN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Again, today the sun scorched this city and the record of deaths and prostrations will approach that of yesterday. The total cases of sunstroke, up to 10 o'clock, numbered fifteen, while several others are not expected to live. Prostrations of not a very serious character numbered over thirty.

Many people are mentally affected, and on one of the bridges the police had a hard struggle with a Swede of great strength, who attempted to throw people into the river. The heat had made him crazy.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 9.—One death today from heat, but the mortality among negroes was never so great in this city. Dead animal carcasses are having great difficulty in removing the carcasses promptly.

REACHED 103.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—Since Monday last sweltering hot weather has prevailed in Kansas City and vicinity. The maximum temperature today, as reported by the United States weather bureau, was 97, which is the lowest maximum temperature reported since Monday last, when 97 was first reached. Friday the record was 102, but the extreme heat was reached Saturday, when 103 was reported.

Notwithstanding that the weather has been unusually hot, and the spell of long duration, there have been comparatively few prostrations, and but two deaths which are directly attributable to the heat.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 9.—Only one fatal prostration from intense heat was reported today.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 9.—For the past week the weather has been the hottest ever known here since the establishment of the local weather bureau, the temperature in the Little Rock district averaging the highest in the United States. Twelve or fifteen fatal prostrations have occurred.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 9.—A thunderstorm this evening was a happy relief from as hot a day as this summer has produced. For the second time the thermometer registered 93, the first time being last Thursday afternoon. Had it not been Sunday, when most men are idle, many prostrations from the heat must have resulted. Only one fatal case of sunstroke was reported today.

NEWARK, Aug. 9.—Hot weather today was responsible for the death of three persons in this city.

GALE BROUGHT DEATH.

Small Craft Capsized in the Angry Waves.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 9.—The heavy wind and thunder storm which swept over this city this evening resulted in drowning at least five men in the Detroit river, while several yachtsmen had narrow escapes after the capsizing of their craft. The dead are: Jeff Judd, Frank Hughes, William J. Thieme, John Helke, Jr., Unknown man.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 9.—Four men were drowned in Lake Michigan this afternoon a mile north of here. Two were caught in the undertow and the others went to their rescue. All four were drowned. The dead are: Martin Manning, James Buttrick, Frank Yerring, "Frenchy," stranger.

TROLLEY FATALITY.

Broken Gear Wheel Causes Three Deaths and Fifteen Injuries.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Aug. 9.—Three persons were instantly killed, and fifteen injured, some probably fatally, by the derailment of a trolley car on the Columbia & Donegal electric road tonight, just outside the limits of Columbia. As the car was descending a hill the gear wheel broke, rendering the brakes useless. The car descended at a terrific rate and at the bottom of the hill was thrown up against an embankment. The dead are: Adam Foehlinger, motorman; Henry Smith and an unknown person. At least one, and probably two of the injured, may die before morning.

GOOD FOR DIAMOND MATCH.

Important Contract Closed With Foreign Financiers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—A cablegram was received today from Director George T. Smith of the Diamond Match company, which bids fair to greatly enhance the stock of that enterprise. It reads: Deal with Laender bank of Austria closed. Have contract. It is worth more than all decline in match stock.

GEORGE T. SMITH.

This is the most important contract that President Barber and Director Smith were negotiating in Europe, and it was the hope of making this contract that brought President Barber home from Europe last spring, when he was accompanied by Dr. Furth of the firm of Bernard & Furth, the largest manufacturers in Austria. Dr. Furth represented the Laender bank, one of the biggest financial concerns in Vienna, which had signified a willingness, if the machines were as represented, to make a contract on the following terms: "The Laender bank to furnish all the capital necessary to construct buildings and supply working capital, while the Diamond Match company should furnish its machines. The match company was to hold 51 per cent. of the capital stock in the new corporation and the Austrians 49 per cent."

WORSE THAN SLAVERY.

Negro Colonists in Guatemala are Shamefully Missused.

MONROE, La., Aug. 9.—Letters received in this city tell harrowing tales of suffering experienced by a colony of Louisiana negroes in Guatemala who were induced to go there last May to work on the railroads. The letters say four of their number have been killed, and those who are still alive are in condition worse than slavery, and they are anxious to return to their homes.

Last May a number of young negro men in this vicinity and at Jacksonville contracted with agents to go to Central America to work on railroads. Flattering inducements were held out to them. They were promised high wages, easy work and a lenient treatment, but the letters written home indicate they were badly deceived. They state that four negroes were killed near Panzo while attempting to escape. The negroes are guarded by Guatemalan soldiers. They receive scant rations and small pay.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Fatal Fluid Kills a Prominent Milwaukee Business Man.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 9.—Rudolph Salomon, president and treasurer of the Ernest Salomon company, grain commission merchants, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock by lightning, while in the warehouse at 97-101 Erie street. His body was taken to Peacock's undertaking rooms on Broadway, and this morning will be removed to his home, 509 Maryland avenue. Mr. Salomon was forty years of age and was one of the best known commission men on the chamber of commerce, of which he is a member.

A TOTAL WRECK.

Steamship Goes Ashore on the Californian Coast.

MONTEREY, Cal., Aug. 9.—The Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer St. Paul went ashore at Point Pinos this morning, and probably will be a total wreck. There were about fifty passengers, but all were landed safely and no lives lost. There was a dense fog at the time, and it is supposed the captain lost his bearings.

The St. Paul ran between San Francisco and San Pedro, carrying freight and passengers, and was on her way up from San Pedro.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—10 p. m.—The weather bureau reports the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours: For upper Michigan: Partly cloudy; local thunderstorms; light to fresh southerly winds.

BRYAN EASTWARD BOUND.

Anxious Chicagoans Through the Hotel Where Candidate Bryan and His Wife Stop.

THEIR JOURNEY WILL BE BROKEN NEXT AT PITTSBURG.

Grand Demonstration at Canton, McKinley's Home—To Speak at Almost Every Town Between Chicago and Pittsburg.

CANDIDATE BRYAN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Thousands of enthusiastic free silver Democrats called at the Clifton House to see Bryan and his wife today. Those that came early were disappointed as the Democratic presidential nominee slept late, being weary and worn from fatigue and the hot weather of yesterday.

After breakfast Bryan and his wife took a carriage and went alone to the Presbyterian church in Englewood and listened to an orthodox sermon preached by the Rev. Hill.

After returning to the hotel Mr. and Mrs. Bryan took dinner. After that they went to the parlors and held an informal reception. The throng then began to pour in and the Democratic nominee and his wife were kept busy shaking hands and kissing babies and children until nearly time for their departure.

They left on the 11:30 train over the Pennsylvania for the east. They will arrive at Pittsburg tomorrow night. The train stops at all the stations between here and Pittsburg, and at every point during today and tomorrow Bryan will give the citizens a chance to hear him talk and shake hands. It is understood there will be a grand demonstration at Canton, O., McKinley's home, where the train arrives at 1 o'clock.

HOW HE SPENT SATURDAY.

Addresses a Crowd from the Clifton House Balcony.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 9.—Long before the hour arrived which had been announced for the coming of the Bryan party, the street in front of the Clifton House, from the balcony of which Mr. Bryan was to deliver his brief address to the people, was crowded with a dense throng completely filling up the space between the building lines and curb stones. The open windows of the adjacent buildings were filled with crowds of women and even the superstructure of the "L" road on the Washburn side of the hotel was lined with rows of spectators like a flock of blackbirds on a country fence.

The crowd below surged and swelled in the heat and manifested considerable good-natured impatience at the non-arrival of the guests of the evening. Eight o'clock p. m. passed; the quarter was struck, and still no speaker. The throng became denser, the yells and cries became louder and more pronounced.

ARRIVAL OF MR. BRYAN.

At last, when 8:35 arrived, Mr. Bryan came upon the platform and was greeted with immense cheering. The party was escorted to the hotel by the Cook County Democratic Marching club, Captain Farrell in command, and the police, with great difficulty, made way for the carriage, drawn by four white horses, to the entrance of the hotel on Madison street. Mr. Bryan sat in the barouche with his face wreathed in smiles and his hat in his hand, and bowed repeatedly in response to the shouts of welcome. His face showed pleasure and astonishment at the enthusiastic reception, and he alighted from the carriage and was escorted into the hotel as soon as the police could make a way through the throng for him. He was followed by Mrs. Bryan and the rest of the party, and after their disappearance from sight, the crowd surged in and filled up the gap like the parted waves of the Red Sea upon the hosts of Pharaoh.

William J. Strong, chairman of the reception committee of Cook county, appeared with Mr. Bryan upon the balcony and delivered the following brief welcoming address:

THE WELCOMING ADDRESS.

On behalf of the toilers, the real business men of this great city, I welcome you to our midst. We honor you for the fearlessness and courage of your public life; for the faithfulness with which you have performed every public trust. We admire and trust you for the purity of your private life and for the noble example you have given us of American citizenship. Your many acknowledgments of the honor and praise due to that noble woman who shares all your struggles, who has strengthened you by her courage and guided you by her discretion, has touched our hearts. Among the thousands who greet you tonight are the brewers of wood and the drawers of water. These are they who produce all the honest wealth of our country. Among them are hundreds of noble, courageous men, who have felt their little children tugging at their coat tails for bread that they could not give them because they could not find work. None of these drones of society who produce nothing but laws and panics are here to honor you. Not one of that class who arrogate to themselves the holy name of leading citizens and who form trusts to control the necessities of life will be found in this vast assembly. None of these toadies who think it is stylish to be called gold bugs are here tonight. There are many honest but misguided men whom we wish were with us, who are still under the terrorism of the public press, but whom we hope will yet recognize the justice of our cause and vote with us in November. This is not the demonstration of any party alone, but a spontaneous outpouring of independent American citizens, who refuse to be bound any longer by the shackles of gold; who believe the United States is great enough, strong enough and brave enough to make its own laws for its own people without first asking the consent of the aristocracy of England; men who resent the monstrous doctrine that the seat of our government shall be transferred to PINGREE was welcomed with unbounded enthusiasm on his return to Detroit after his nomination at Grand Rapids. Brass bands tooted for him, cannons boomed for him, and orators split their throats voicing his praises. Governor Rich was in the city and witnessed the welcome accorded the man who had twice unsuccessfully contested with himself for the gubernatorial nomination. The governor probably felicitated himself on his good luck in having got out of the way in time, for if he had been in the field this year instead of Bliss he would have met the fate of the latter. This is a Pingree year, and it is fortunate for Rich that he had his innings before the tide of popular sentiment for his old-time opponent had swelled to its present overwhelming volume.

THE current number of the Cleveland Iron Trade Review gives this information concerning the ore market:

Reports from Lake Superior mines tell of further reductions of force, though there is no basis as yet for sensational dispatches about starving miners. The unfortunate feature of these shut-downs is that is, auriferous and argentiferous ores—the source of attractions in this country has been almost wholly toward the west and northwest, while a section of the country much nearer home and possibly as rich in mineral resources has been passed by almost unnoticed, and remains to-day practically undeveloped. That the Appalachian range of mountains from Virginia on the north to the extreme end of the range in the state of Alabama on the south is mineral-bearing has been fully determined by the most expert geologists and mineralogists of the country. In addition to gold and silver there are to be found tin, zinc, lead, corundum, monazite and other valuable minerals, while diamonds and other precious gems are included in the wealth of nature's storehouse along the slopes of this picturesque mountain range. This is no fairy tale, and as relates to auriferous ores and deposits we have only to say that what has been done at Dahlonega, Ga., may with proper management be repeated on a more extensive scale in other sections along the range. It is related of a student of Chilton county, Ala., with a decided aversion to manual labor, that when he wanted a little money he would take an old pan and go over to Mud creek and in a short time wash out gold enough to satisfy his immediate wants. I have seen specimens of gold-bearing rock taken from a drift on the banks of the Waxahatchie in Shelby county, of the same state.

The question is sometimes asked, why, if the south has such valuable mineral resources, have they not been more thoroughly developed? The question is a pertinent one, and there are various reasons for this lack of development, but the most prominent one is the fact that prior to the late war the south was a sealed book, controlled almost exclusively by wealthy men who were slaveholders, and the raising and selling of cotton, tobacco, corn and other products of the soil afforded magnificent revenues, with which they were well satisfied. These men looked upon the intrusion of outside "Yankees" as detrimental to the best interests of southern institutions.

The subject of the sources of southern resources temporarily, and the end of hostilities found the once opulent southern gentleman very poor in this world's goods, and his broad plantations were divided and subdivided between numerous small owners. For years after the "unpleasantness" there existed a very strained feeling between the two sections of the country, which would not admit of northern capital and industry developing southern resources to any great extent. Fortunately this feeling is rapidly dying out, and the true southerner, with his characteristic and traditional generosity, now stands ready to welcome any industry or enterprise that will be for the best interests of the south, and is willing and eager to assist in the development. In the few southern workings of auriferous ores, with but few exceptions, only primitive methods of extracting the metal have been in use, and it remains for men of energy and perseverance, backed up with a little capital and possessed of modern appliances for extracting the auriferous deposit from both rock and placer, to astonish the country with a showing of the wealth of the Appalachians—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

THE IRON INDUSTRY AND ITS PROSPECTS.

An analysis of the condition of western blast furnaces after six months production for 1896 is worth the study of every economist and manufacturer. For the first time in the history of statistics the real output of basic pig is ascertainable, and the last report of the American Iron and Steel association presents matters of accurate detail, which, considered carefully, may furnish an outlook for future production. For the entire country up to July 1 the same was 4,976,236 gross tons, or 888,678 tons more than for the corresponding period last year. It shows a deficit of 382,514 tons, however, as compared with the last half of 1895. The production of pig iron of Bessemer quality totaled 2,793,673 gross tons. Basic iron is credited with an output of 199,595 gross tons.

Taking those western states which have a place in this industry, we find a list including Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Missouri and Colorado. Ohio leads with 743,444 tons; then comes Illinois, 638,186 tons; Michigan, 65,193 tons; Wisconsin, 102,586 tons; Missouri, 4,758 tons, and Colorado 30,665 tons, making a total of 1,584,832 tons. Three of these states—Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin—increased production materially. So far as known, the unsold stocks of pig iron amount to 644,887 tons. The west should not be credited with more than 200,000 tons of this surplus, estimated on a pro rata basis. If anything like the demand sets in that marked the latter half of 1895 there will be sold between now and Jan. 1 not only the west's small surplus, but an additional million tons. It will be seen from these figures that the west not only maintained the current pace of supply, but ran ahead of its usual average, and the good record of western iron and steel securities during the selling period of 1895 further indicates the favorable inclinations of both purchasers and speculators towards western properties. Three representative iron and steel companies scored an advance in stock value of something like 83 per cent. The reaction from last year's boom in connection with disturbing influences from without of course depressed these stocks after January 1, but it is safely predicted that last year's high standard would again be secured should active trading set in.

In regard to the possibility of this, what has been said repeatedly in these columns of late can only be reiterated. The sounder element in the industrial field is staking everything on a judgment of better prospects close ahead. If this were not so the millions invested in new plants since the new year and other millions now being invested in like enterprises and in extensive improvements would have hung back, just as outside capital has hung back since the depression set in. Capital without energy and courage is not the kind that is building up the west, however, which makes the resolute and confident attitude of our representative manufacturers all the more creditable and worthy of emulation.

GOLD IN THE SOUTH.

Only a Few of the Many Veins Have Been Opened.

In the search for valuable mineral—that is, auriferous and argentiferous ores—the source of attractions in this country has been almost wholly toward the west and northwest, while a section of the country much nearer home and possibly as rich in mineral resources has been passed by almost unnoticed, and remains to-day practically undeveloped. That the Appalachian range of mountains from Virginia on the north to the extreme end of the range in the state of Alabama on the south is mineral-bearing has been fully determined by the most expert geologists and mineralogists of the country. CRAPS BEFORE DUTY.

The Darky Thought That the New Yorker Was Very Inconsiderate.

A Wall street man tells this story: "I was making the trip from New Orleans to Memphis in April by a Mississippi river steamer. On the first day of the barber's services and learning that the Memphis Belle was tonsorially equipped I sought out that office. I found a single barber in charge, a rather pompous, tall person of color with flowing Dunderreary whiskers. He was engaged in doing nothing at all with that grace of execution peculiar to the southern darky. I seated myself in his chair and was soon wrapped in thought upon some business I had begun in New Orleans. The barber began his work leisurely, the while carrying on a one-sided flow of talk to which I replied in monosyllables.

"The day was warm and I was almost dozing away under the soft splashes of his brush when another customer entered. He was a nervous, fidgety sort of man and as there were no newspapers in the room he amused himself in looking at a few prints hung on the walls, the attraction of which soon palled upon him. Then he walked to the door and looked down the deck where a group of roustabouts were engaged in the game of craps. Figaro had by this time completed the lathering of one side of my face and roused me by turning my head around. I intimated that life was short, and I didn't care about passing too much of it in being shared. He was evidently disgusted with my taciturnity and replied with great dignity, but with no haste either of speech or action; 'Cert'nly, sah, cert'nly.'

THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO.

If Grouchy Had Prevented Prussian Junction with English—

Napoleon would have won the battle of Waterloo had Grouchy prevented the junction of the Prussians with the English army, because he would not have had to fight two battles at once. Few persons realize that the so-called battle of Waterloo was in reality a double battle, somewhat like Jena and Auerstadt. Napoleon fought one battle at Waterloo against the English. On the arrival of the Prussians he was forced to go in person toward Planchenoit and there fight another battle against the Prussian army, leaving to Ney the conduct of the troops at Waterloo. It is a well-known maxim in war that a very great or decisive victory cannot be gained unless one commander makes a serious blunder, of which the other takes immediate advantage. It is very evident that the fact of the emperor's having to fight two battles at once, instead of concentrating his attention on one alone, enormously increased the possibility of a mistake. Moreover, Napoleon did not have the able lieutenants of his former campaigns. Dessaix, Kleber, Lannes, and Bessiers were dead, Massena and Macdonald had taken the oath of allegiance to the Bourbons, and Murat had split with the emperor.

Poisonous Cooking Utensils.

The subject of pure food has long been a pet theme of legislators, and I admit that the discussions on the subject have done a great deal of good. I believe, however, that pure and wholesome utensils in which to cook the food are of more importance than the food itself. Only those who are familiar with the affairs of large kitchens are aware of the eternal vigilance which prevents the formation of chemical poisons in culinary utensils. Is there the same watchfulness in the kitchens of cheap eating houses? I trust the day is not far distant when rigorous laws will be passed compelling boards of health to inspect the cooking utensils of every establishment in which food is served to the public. My first inspection of the kitchen of the restaurants at the national capital made me shudder. One of the utensils which was in daily use was so covered with verdigris that the original color of the metal could not be seen. The utensil was a steam-heated oyster stew pan. The hands even of the colored attendant were stained green from contact with the pan. I questioned the servant, and she told me that I was the first person to complain to her about the condition of the pan. She went on to say that she "could not wash the 'green stuff' off her hands."—Twentieth Century Cooking.

Stuffed Cucumbers.

Cut the cucumber into halves and remove the seeds. Boil four tablespoonsful of rice for 30 minutes; drain, and add to it an equal quantity of chopped meat. Peel two tomatoes, cut into halves and press out the seeds; cut them into small pieces, mix with the other ingredients; add a half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Place this mixture into the cavity from which the seeds were taken; put the halves together, bind the cucumbers into shape with a piece of twine and stand in a baking pan; add half a cup of water; bake slowly for one hour, basting four or five times. These may also be baked by stuffing the mixture into the space from which the seeds were taken, and baking in the halves.—Boston Globe.

FAMOUS SONG.

The Song That Reaches Our Hearts Is "My Old Kentucky Home."

There is one song in the English language that, perhaps, comes closer to the hearts of Americans, particularly if they are far from home and kinsmen, than any other. That song is "My Old Kentucky Home." The simple, tender story it tells and its irresistible melody are familiar to nearly every one. It has been sung by noted singers in every civilized country on the globe, and has been eulogized by authors and critics of classical taste; yet its author, Stephen Foster, died unremembered and unsung, and unconscious of the masterly work he had wrought. Like nearly all other great artists, however, Foster's recompense came after he was dead, and it is safe to say that "My Old Kentucky Home" and its writer's name will live so long as human sentiment and love of home endure.

Those Americans who were present at a Patti concert in the Grand opera house of Paris in the early seventies are, many of them, old men and women now, but they can still vividly recall the indescribable scene when the diva appeared in response to an encore and sang, as only Patti could sing, this sweet, simple ballad. It was entirely unexpected, and before they were aware strong men were weeping and women were hysterically giving vent to emotions they did not try to control. At its conclusion the great singer was listlessly showered with flowers and costly gifts. One rich American threw a roll of bills over the footlights that was said to contain a sum of money up in the thousands. The demonstration was perhaps the most magnificent ever accorded a suitor for public favor.

LYNCHED IN COLD BLOOD.

Three Louisiana Murderers Strung Up Without the Semblance of a Trial.

FOUND SWINGING FROM THE RAFTERS OF A SHED.

Crowd Couldn't Abide Legal Delay—Guilt of the Poor Wretches Sure—Broke Into the Jail and Took Them Out.

STRUNG UP THREE.
HARRISVILLE, La., Aug. 9.—There was a triple lynching in this town just before midnight last night and this morning the bodies of three Italian murderers were found swinging from the rafters of a shed near the court house.

One of the men is Lorenzo Saladino, who so foully assassinated Jules Gueymard, at Freetown, last Tuesday night, and the other two are Decino Sorcoro and Angelo Marcuso, who murdered an old Spaniard on the Ashton plantation near Boutte Station some time ago.

FEVER HEAT OF EXCITEMENT.
Since the murder of Gueymard this parish has been in a fever heat of excitement over the affair, and even on the first night after the murder it was with great difficulty that the sheriff prevented the lynching of Saladino. As evidence accumulated against Saladino this feeling grew in intensity.

At half past eleven last night the mob, which had collected on the outskirts of town, moved on the jail, captured the guard and by vigorous use of axes with which they came well supplied, soon demolished the jail and cell doors, and took prisoners out and executed them.

Jules Gueymard, who was killed by Saladino, was one of the prominent planters and merchants in that section. Saladino had several times threatened Gueymard's life because the latter testified against him in a suit brought because he (Saladino) endeavored to defraud his New Orleans creditors. The crime for which the other two Italians were hung was the wanton murder of an old Spaniard. The incentive in this case was that the old Spaniard was their rival in the business of gathering moss.

SPANISH ARMY DEFEATED.

Given a Crushing Blow by the Cuban Insurgents.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Passengers arriving on the Ward line steamer Niagara, in today from Santiago de Cuba, report that the Spanish troops suffered a crushing defeat in the battle fought near Santiago Tuesday, July 28. The Spaniards were ordered to attack the insurgents and three bodies of troops were ordered to leave Manzanillo, Guantanamo, and Santiago respectively and to march on the insurgents, who were supposed to be a short distance from the city of Santiago. On the approach of the first Spanish column the news was brought to the insurgents that the enemy was approaching. Generals Gomez and Garcia immediately gathered their troops and succeeded in engaging each column before they could effect a junction. The Spaniards met a crushing defeat, leaving numerous dead and wounded on the battlefield. The hospitals and private houses at Santiago were reported filled with wounded Spanish troops.

PHENOMENAL SPEED ATTAINED.

St. Louis, Aug. 9.—E. E. Anderson this afternoon made a mile in one minute and three seconds, on a bicycle geared to 92, while paced by a locomotive pulling one coach. Anderson could have bettered this time a few seconds but he mistook the signals and slowed up too soon. The trial took place near Oldenburg, Ill., on the "Bluff Line."

THE BEST FAMILY MEDICINE
She Has Ever Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equalled."

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent a gripe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-around family medicine I have ever known. Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 363 Elder Avenue, New York City.

BRYAN EASTWARD BOUND.

Europe; men who have more fear of being Europeanized than they have of becoming Mexicanized. They know that no reform ever came from the aristocracy. They know that when the United States of America places its sovereign stamp on 412 grains of silver and calls it one dollar, that it means just what it says, and that it will be a 100-cent dollar. They do not believe our factories are closed down for want of confidence, but from the want of sufficient primary money. They have had this confidence game played on them long enough, and will have no more of it. They ask you to take this message to their tolling brothers in New York and New England. Tell them that the tollers of the west have a common interest with the tollers of the east; that we extend the hand of fellowship across the Alleghenies, and ask them to grasp it with a grip of iron, so that by our united strength we may free our common country from the blighting curse of a single standard of gold.

We look to you as our leader, and may kind Providence watch over you and protect you from all harm.
"Our hearts, our hopes, are all with these;
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears;
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee, are all with thee."

BRANDED A LIE.

Bryan Not a Hireling of Silver Mine Owners.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 9.—The Rocky Mountain News recently sent the leading mining and smelting men of the country the following letter:

"We presume you have noticed Senator Thurston's statement that the Bonanza silver mine owners have maintained extensive bureaus, with a corps of speakers and writers, and that William J. Bryan has been in receipt of a salary from them for some time. Kindly reply to the following questions: "Do you know of any such bureau or organization of mine owners or persons interested in mining?"

"Do you believe it has now or ever had an existence?"

"Do you know of Bryan ever receiving a salary or any other remuneration for advocating bimetalism?"

"Have you ever before heard it charged or intimated that Bryan received such remuneration, or do you know any possible foundation for such a charge?"

Replies were received from seventeen prominent mining men, all of whom deny the existence of any bureau or organization of silver mine owners for the purpose alleged by Thurston, and denounce as a falsehood the statement that Bryan ever received a salary or any remuneration whatever from them for advocating the free silver cause.

RECEPTION IS DEFERRED.

Oconto Will Celebrate Major Scofield's Nomination on Wednesday.

OCONTO, Wis., Aug. 9.—On account of the indisposition of Major Scofield, the public reception has been postponed until Wednesday, when all the state officials will be here. Arches are being built at several points on the Main street, and temporary electric lights have been strung to enable workmen to continue work during the night. On Wednesday special trains will bring excursionists from Marinette, Green Bay and other points. Speeches will be made on the court house square and a parade by the citizens and civic societies will follow. Fireworks and illuminations will be displayed in the evening. Oconto was never in such a state of excitement before, and every one tried to outdo his neighbor in honoring the Republican nominee for governor. Major Scofield left Saturday morning to spend Sunday at his summer cottage at Berry Lake, to recuperate from the excitement and worry of the gubernatorial campaign.

TO MAKE GALVESTON A PORT.

Steamship Lines to Lead Immigrants in the South.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The North German Lloyd and Hamburg American steamship companies have resolved to make Galveston, Tex., one of their ports, but in so doing they have agreed with the western railroads not to ticket immigrants for points west of Louisiana and Texas. The trans-Atlantic steamship lines have asked the western roads to withdraw their immigrant agents from Europe, abolish their immigrant clearing house at New York, and allow the steamship companies to handle and divide this traffic in Europe and at New York. The western roads are agreeable to this proposition, providing the steamship lines withdraw their immigrant agents from the territory west of Chicago. The whole matter will be considered at a meeting of the railroad and steamship agents in New York next month.

TO BE CUT SHORT.

Li Hung Chang Will Curtail His United States Visit.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The plans for Li Hung Chang's visit to the United States have been greatly curtailed. He will hurry home in haste, and it is hinted that this is due to intrigues against him in China. He will arrive in New York on Aug. 21, Friday, and will hold his first reception on Saturday, the following day. On Sunday, Aug. 23, he will take the early train for Philadelphia, where he will lunch and remain for a few hours. During the afternoon he will proceed to Washington, where he will remain a week. He will then go direct to Vancouver, B. C., where he will embark for China. He much regrets that he cannot stop at Chicago. In Washington, he hopes to see all the secretaries after his audience with President Cleveland, when he will present his credentials.

German Authority Denies That Hohenlohe Has Thrown Up the Chancellorship.

WENT TO WILHELMSBEE TO REPORT ON EASTERN AFFAIRS.

Germany's Policy Toward Russian Products May Have a Boomerang Action—U. S. Ambassador Uhl Takes a Short Trip.

HOHENLOHE HAS NOT RESIGNED.
BERLIN, Aug. 9.—A dispatch to the Neuste Nachrichten from Munich denies the report that Prince Hohenlohe, imperial chancellor, has resigned. It says that the sole object of his visit to Wilhelmsbee, where Emperor William is staying, was to make a report on affairs in the east.

For some time past, the government, goaded by the agrarians, has rendered the importation of Russian products very difficult. Contrary to treaty stipulations, vexatious fees and inspectors' dues have been imposed and added to the regular tariff rates. Russian fresh pork has been excluded, under the pretext of hygienic precautions. Russia made a most vigorous protest against this treatment and threatens reprisals. Austria adopted the same policy against German goods, especially hides and leather, that Germany adopted against Russian products, and as a result industrial and manufacturing circles of Germany are alarmed and intend to urge the government to reverse its boomerang policy.

Emperor William's Norwegian cruise has been rather a failure, owing to bad weather, and the emperor has used himself on the wet days with long walks to places of interest inland. Every Sunday the emperor conducted divine services on the upper deck of the imperial yacht Hohenzoellern, upon which occasions he read a homily freely interspersed with his own remarks. The singing was very fine, and there was a full band and a trained choir of 100 sailors on board. The emperor also occupied his leisure moments in composing a march in honor of the Moscow coronation, which he dedicated to the czar, and in elaborating an idea for a new picture as a pendant to his wonderful yellow plague picture. The motive of the new work is the protection of arts and industry by the army.

The proposition to incorporate in the court practice of the different states a paragraph, making a differential condition pardon to law breakers depend upon their emigrating, is being favorably received in imperial and legal circles, and a committee of experts is now drafting a government bill on the subject.

In spite of denials, it is generally believed that Prof. Mendel, the insanity specialist, has been summoned to St. Petersburg to attend the czar, who is said to be in a state of extreme nervous excitement, owing to the discovery of renewed nihilist activity. The czar is reported to be in hourly dread of his life, and hundreds of arrests have been made during the past fortnight at St. Petersburg, Warsaw, Kieff and Moscow.

There were several suspicious occurrences during Emperor William's recent railway journey, and they have caused the police to decide to increase the precautions on all future trips.

Since the London congress the feud between socialists and anarchists of Germany has been intensely bitter, and there is now a complete split. The Marx societies deny, and the others the right to call themselves socialists and work with the party.

Terrific heat and severe storms have prevailed in many parts of Germany during the week. Thirty-five persons died of sunstroke at Koensburg. In Saxony a cloudburst and lightning did great damage.

The German press dwells on the fact that by the amalgamation of the last three independent firms at Mannheim, Bremen and New York, the Standard Oil company controls the petroleum market of Germany; and the States trader Zeitung calls upon the government to take vigorous steps to prevent a sudden rise in prices.

Mr. Henry D. Allen, representing a joint committee of congress, has just arrived in Germany, specially to investigate the commercial and artistic uses of alcohol and German legislation on the subject.

United States Ambassador Uhl and family have started on a short trip to Brunswick and Hildesheim.

The czar has sent an intimation that he will arrive with the czarist at Breslau during the early part of September.

THIRTY-FIVE BANDS COMING.

Large Attendance Promised at the Oconomowoc Convention.

OCONOMOWOC, Wis., Aug. 9.—Thirty-four uniformed brass bands, aggregating some 800 musicians, are promised at the convention of the Northwestern Band association to be held in this city on Aug. 22 and 23. Processions on each day at 11 a. m., will form on Milwaukee street in front of the city hall, and march to Schuttler Park to the music of the united bands. Each band is on the program for two pieces of its own selection each afternoon, and there is to be a ball each evening.

MEETING LAKE SUPERIOR MINING INSTITUTE, ISPEMING, COM-MENCING AUG. 18.

For the above meeting, the D. S. S. & A. Ry. will sell tickets to Ispeeming and return at a rate of one-fifth more than single fare.

Tickets will be sold only to delegates presenting certificates signed by Mr. F. W. Denton, secretary, and will be issued on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 17th and 18th, good for return until Saturday, Aug. 23nd, inclusive.

For further particulars delegates are respectfully referred to the agents of the D. S. S. & A. Ry. (8-7-10)

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The wheat market was firm Saturday. It closed at 57c, or 3/4c lower than the day before. It became very apparent for the strength of the wheat market after the New York stock exchange had closed for the day that if the latter institution would follow the example of its Chicago namesake, the price of wheat might have a chance to advance. Wheat is statistically and commercially in a strong position, seeing the boll front it holds in the midst of the demoralization in the stock. Corn and oats were also firm, but closed without any change worth noticing. Provisions were lower, apparently suffering from a too violent exertion earlier in the week.

The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

	Opened	Highest	Lowest	Closed
Wheat: Sept.	56 1/2	57 1/2	56 1/2	57
Corn: Sept.	34 1/4	34 1/4	34	34 1/4

They Wear Paste Gems.

A curious fact concerning the festivities over the coronation of the czar is the enormous impetus it has given to the manufacture of paste gems. Russians, it appears, even of rank and status, are prone to the weakness known as kleptomania, and wise women prepared for possible loss by substituting sham jewels for real. A pageant and display such as has been described must inevitably call for the wearing of such gems as are seldom seen. It is rather amusing to learn that much of the splendor is pretense, and that, too, because the grand dames do not dare trust their treasures in a crush, even though the crowd is composed of their own kind. Among the Muscovites, however, the sin is said to be held a trifling one, and the story is told that one lady of high rank was caught appropriating her cousin's emeralds, and that victim declined to prosecute, merely saying: "Poor Sophie! It is a very painful and nervous disorder."

Taking Refuge in the Bowl.

Since the hard times, said a barber, home hair cuts are more common, especially among the foreign population. The housewife puts a bowl on the heads of the men and boys in the family, then cuts off all the hair which shows below it.

Railway Around Etna.

The new railway around Etna is about 62 miles in length.

Must Show Cause.

John O'Connors, a homesteader living twenty-seven miles south of Ontonagon, was served with papers Saturday by the deputy marshal to come to Marquette at the next sitting of the United States court and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Just before midnight Saturday there was a lively scrap on Superior street, a little east of the depot. The principals in the mill were Felix Perro and Alex Arso. They started to quarrel along about noon, and when they did finally come together they went at each other in good shape.

Four boys were arrested Sunday afternoon for swimming off Spear's dock in a state of undraped nature. After spending some time in the cooler they were let out on bail to be tried this morning before a justice.

There are a number of wheelmen, some of whom hold prominent business and social positions, who persist in riding on the sidewalk despite the ordinance recently passed. The marshal says he has been lenient with the offenders to give them time to learn his provisions, but from now on he is going to enforce the ordinance strictly and arrest anyone he sees riding on the sidewalk, regardless of social or business standing.

"In Old Madrid."

It is a conceded fact that "In Old Madrid," to be presented in Marquette Saturday, Aug. 15, is one of the brightest and wittiest comedies on the road this season, having been a pronounced success from the opening night.

Big Catch.

One of the banner catches of the season was made at Stewart's Cove by B. S. Kaufman and W. C. Brandon. The fishermen left here Friday night and returned Sunday night, and had the good luck to hook forty-three pounds of fine brook trout.

MIDLAKE AND HARBOR GOSSIP.

The Republic discharged a cargo of coal at Pickand's dock Sunday.

The City of Marquette is billed to take a big excursion to Pictured Rocks next Saturday under the auspices of the Salvation Army.

The steamer J. C. Suit, enroute to Milwaukee from Saugatuck with fruit, principally peaches, ran ashore in the bay Saturday morning during the dense fog. The tug Welcome accompanied by Captain Boutin and his life saving crew were dispatched to the Suit, which was taken off the beach without difficulty and brought to port with her cargo intact.

The steamer W. D. Rees, second of the big fellows to load grain at South Chicago last week, cleared at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. She had for her cargo 124,500 bushels of corn and 61,650 bushels of wheat amounting to 5,335 tons. With the big load of the Queen City this makes 11,089 tons of grain taken by two boats. The Corlis, now at the elevator, will certainly load 5,500 tons. This will make 16,589 tons taken away by three boats.

The steamer Brazil, Captain James Gibson, made a great record for the rapid handling of cargoes on her present trip. She arrived at Sheboygan at 5 o'clock Friday morning with 3,953 tons of coal. It was unloaded, and at noon Saturday she was at the Armour elevator. At 5 o'clock she had on board 102,000 bushels of corn. At 5 o'clock Sunday morning the Brazil was abreast of Sheboygan, bound down, having handled 6,000 tons of cargo and navigated 280 miles in forty-eight hours.

CITY BREVITIES.

R. L. Boynton of St. Ignace was a Sunday visitor in the city.

John M. Hartnett, postmaster of Escanaba, was in the city Sunday.

Miss Pauline Mitchell, of Ypsilanti, is the guest of Miss Laura Broad.

Several awnings on Front street were badly torn by last evening's squall.

Miss Mamie Beadon is visiting friends in the copper country for two weeks.

Miss Lonnie Byrne has gone to Chicago where she will enter school in the fall.

H. E. McKevitt and Miss Helen Havenga were down from Ishpeming Sunday.

Mrs. Kate B. Joclyn, grand chief of honor of the Degree of Honor, who has been in the city since the A. O. U. W.

celebration leaves on the late afternoon train for Republic to visit the lodge there.

John Lawrence was brought home from Munising Saturday suffering with a broken leg.

Thomas Coughlin of Hancock spent a couple days on business here, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Crouch and daughter of Omaha, Nebr., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crouch.

Josiah Broad, Jr., returned Saturday to his home in Gogebic, after a short visit with his parents.

Charles Young, clerk at the Nelson House in Ishpeming, spent Sunday at Presque Isle with a party of friends.

Chief Marshal Arthur Emmons returned to the city Saturday after spending two days at the Sault tournament.

E. H. Scott, of La Porte, Ind., and Hon. Timothy Nester went down to Munising Sunday. Mr. Nester has been in town since Saturday.

Ex-Marshal James Maloney has been appointed foreman of the new L. S. & I. dock, which will soon commence active operations shipping ore. Mr. Maloney's appointment is the best one the road could have made.

TESTS OF ENDURANCE.

Methods in Vogue in Africa of Trying Man's Fitness for Marriage.

No other country offers such opportunities to those desiring to marry as America. In that respect it is truly the home of the free and the land of the brave, not to say the foolhardy. In some countries those matrimonially inclined have to get the parents' consent, in others the prospective bridegroom has to show that he can support a wife. Uncle Sam throws no such obstacles in the path of true love.

WHERE THE BEAVER DIVED.

Kind of Picture Which is Full of Suggestion to the Sportsman.

Forest and Stream prints from a photograph a wood scene that should bring a far-away look into the beaver trapper's eyes the moment he sees it. There are fallen logs in a tangle of brush trees denuded of leaves mostly, and down a slight incline, surrounded by the brush, is a pool. Ripples of water are wagging the shadows of the trees, which were caused by a beaver that had just dived, alarmed by the approach of E. Hofer, who took the photograph.

No picture is so suggestive to a sportsman as one which shows where game has been. Sportsman's papers print photographs of the tracks of deer, bears and other game, and these are more suggestive than a view of the game itself. A fox's track, leading away across the snow-covered fields, or the ripple where a fish has slapped the water's surface are full of life to a sportsman. There is a chance with such evidence before him of exercising his craft and skill.

It is related of an amateur photographer of field scenes that one day he tried to catch a running gray squirrel with his little camera. When the negative was developed he found that he had a picture of the animal's tail alone, but because of the very incompleteness of the scene he values that picture above any six in his collection.

COULD NOT PAY HIS FARE.

Rothschild Was Once Placed at the Mercy of an Omnibus Driver.

Baron Rothschild was once caught in a predicament that many people experience daily, and that is getting into a conveyance of some kind and then not having the money to pay the fare. The driver of the omnibus into which Rothschild entered, says Harper's Round Table, demanded his fare, and the baron, feeling in his pockets, discovered that he had no change. The driver was very angry. "What did you get in it for if you had no money?" "I am Baron Rothschild," exclaimed the great capitalist, "and here is my card."

The driver scornfully tossed the card away. "Never heard of you before," said he, "and don't want to hear of you again. What I want is your fare." The banker was in great haste. "Look here, I've an order for a million," he said; "give me the change." And he proffered a coupon for that amount. The driver stared and the passengers laughed. Fortunately a friend of the baron entered the omnibus at the moment, and, taking in the situation, immediately paid the fare. The driver, realizing his mistake and feeling remorseful, said to the baron: "If you want ten francs, sir, I don't mind lending them to you on my own account."

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Marquette Building & Loan association will be held at the office of the association on Tuesday, Aug. 11, 1896, at 8 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing directors and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

W. W. OSBAND, Secretary.

YEAR'S RECORD BROKEN.

Friday F. W. Vandenberg delivered in Marquette the largest quantity of butter that has been delivered on any single day this season. Mr. Vandenberg's increasing deliveries go with numerous other things that attest the popularity of his wares.

BAD DIET FOR HORSES.

Stale Bread Will Not Do as Regular Fare.

The Failure of a Brooklyn Baker's Plan for Using Surplus Loaves—Some Facts for Stock Feeders.

One day a man was standing alongside a big furnace door in a bakery where tons of bread is mixed and baked daily. As he stood there he meditated, and well he might, for loaves of bread were being thrown into the furnace. They were stale loaves which had been returned by dealers, and burning was the cheapest way of disposing of them.

He had observed time and again that pet horses enjoyed a crust from the hands of their masters and mistresses. He read horse and stock books and found considerable information for stock-owners, particularly horse-owners, on the desirability of cooked food. It printed the claims of a Chicago cooked grain concern, which said that cooked and ground feed was much more palatable than the uncooked, being much easier to masticate.

The hard, dry covering of grain, when steamed and ground, becomes as nutritious as other parts, and the entire grain is digested, thus saving 20 or 30 per cent. of the grain, and also much energy. The proper care of a horse's stomach means a good healthy horse in most cases, and good, easily digested food means a healthy stomach.

Now, the man reasoned, if steved oats, and hot bran mash, or shorts and hay tea were so good for horses, why couldn't bread be fed to them? It could be and was. The last was given in John Shultz's bakery stables over in Brooklyn a short time ago. Bread was not a success so far as horse feeding went. Dry bread, with its carbonic acid gas, had the same effect on horses that green apples have on small boys.

Some of the horses positively refused to eat the stuff, and those that did eat it suffered from colic. The horses were fed on bread for about ten months in connection with a short allowance of oats, hay, and cut hay. A good deal of the bread was disposed of, but the horses were pretty nearly done for, too. They were weak and dejected, and in spite of fine grooming looked miserable, and they haven't got over the effect of the bread diet yet, although they are picking up now on the regulation oats and hay.

Potatoes, carrots, and other roots are fed to horses for a change. Even the speck horses of rich people get the plebeian dishes, a little better in quality, perhaps, being free of mold and at least a year old, but save for this difference the food is the same, and the horses would not like any change.

A. G. Bennett, who is an expert in the matter of horses, says that work horses have got to have oats—meaning by work horses all that go into harness. Otherwise the horses break down under the strain. The farmer who has grassed horses cannot get the same work out of them as the man who feeds his horses on oats.—N. Y. Sun.

Tan Spots Over Dogs' Eyes.

These spots are believed to afford an example of protective markings perpetuated by natural selection. They seem to have been acquired at a comparatively recent period, when the dog had become semi-domesticated. The original dog was red, and did not possess these spots. When he slept he hid himself from possible enemies, but this the semi-domesticated dog could not always do. Now, when the color changed by domestication and selected breeding, and dogs became pied and black, those which had spots over their eyes would look, when asleep, as though their eyes were open and still on the watch. Therefore, their enemies would be deceived, and they would be less liable to be killed during sleep than dogs which had not such spots. Thus they survived, and transmitted their peculiarity to their offspring. These spots are supposed to be the most, if not the only, permanent markings on dogs.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Japanese Art Symbols.

If a Japanese artist wishes to describe in color and design the anticipation of happiness he draws a picture which is a combination of an April evening, a moon, a nightingale and a plum tree or two. Victory is symbolized by the iris; grace and quietness by the willow tree, and the swallow for symbols. Patriotism is sometimes indicated by a spray of cherry blossoms; the almond flower is the flower of spring, and symbolizes beauty. The dragon twines and writes an artistic course through all Japanese art, root and branch. His name is Tatsu, and when you see him pictured as fighting with a tiger it is the symbol of religion fighting against power. A dragon floating about in the clouds means success in life; torii, the cock, perched upon a drum, signifies good government. Both the Greeks and the Japs use the butterfly to symbolize immortality.—Boston Transcript.

Letter from a Hancock Man.

HANCOCK, Mich., June 21, 1896.

Gem Treatment Co., Marquette:

GENTLEMEN—This is to certify that I, James Stephens, was troubled with piles for fifteen years and could not find any cure until I tried the Gem Treatment. After using three boxes I became a well man. I have no piles now. My age is fifty-two years. I work in the Quincy mine as a miner. Before I took the Gem Treatment I was not able to work one quarter of the time. I would like to have everyone who is troubled with piles to know that the Gem Treatment has done for me. It cost me three dollars and it did me more than five hundred dollars worth of good.

Yours Respectfully, JAS. STEPHENS, Hancock, Mich.

FIREMEN WELCOMED HOME.

Enthusiastic Demonstration in Their Honor on Their Return.

OSBORNIAN POLITICS IN THE TOURNAMENT.

How the Thing Was Worked in a Congressional Candidate's Interest.

The Ishpeming firemen who attended the tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association at Sault Ste. Marie arrived home Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Although the boys did not bring home a majority of the best prizes, as they have done at other tournaments, they were royally welcomed.

When the train arrived there were fully 2,000 people at the depot. As the firemen stepped to the platform they were greeted with cheers, and many went forward to shake hands with them. Mayor Andrews, the aldermen, police officers in uniform, and other city officials, were on hand to greet them. A procession was formed with the police officers at the head. Then came the city band, followed by Chief Mennie, Henry Routhier and the entire department. The steamer "John P. Outhwaite," hose carts, hook and ladder truck, all decorated, were next in line. Following these came the mayor, aldermen, city officials and citizens in carriages. There were about twenty carriages in line. As the procession moved up First street to Division, on Division to Main and on Main to the Nelson House, the bystanders frequently expressed their admiration for the firemen by loud and enthusiastic cheers.

The procession halted opposite the Nelson House, when Mayor Andrews briefly addressed the firemen. He spoke appreciatively of their work and alluded to the unfair treatment they had received from the time-keepers at the "Soo." The firemen were joined by the crowd in giving three cheers and a tiger for the mayor when he concluded. One of the firemen then ironically proposed three cheers for the time-keepers. The response came in the shape of groans and shouts of disapproval.

Chief Mennie then made a few remarks in behalf of the firemen. He said it is generally conceded that there is no honor in being a fireman, but in view of the hearty support always accorded the Ishpeming firemen, together with the welcome now given them, they certainly could not retain that idea. "While the Ishpeming team did not come home covered with laurels," said he, "we have returned with the satisfaction of knowing that we had the best team on the grounds. We participated in every contest and our team was the only one that did its work without misses." Mr. Mennie concluded by extending his thanks to the citizens for the reception tendered the firemen. The chief was given three cheers and a tiger and the firemen then marched to their headquarters.

The boys brought home a "dummy" attired in firemen's clothes, which formed a portion of a "Soo" business man's decorations. They obtained possession of this Friday night when the boys were all out for a good time.

It is to be regretted that the tournament was run wholly for Chase S. Osborn's benefit. Great dissatisfaction has resulted from the political turn given the convention and also the contests. A reporter for THE MINING JOURNAL was on the ground and he had a better opportunity than perhaps anyone there to observe the fraud and deception practiced by the timekeepers.

In the first place two of them had never before seen contests of this kind, consequently they were utterly disqualified for the position. Both were residents of the "Soo" and they were apparently out in the interest of Osborn, as every opportunity to favor the two teams from the Gogebic range was taken advantage of. The third time-keeper was a Gogebic man and he naturally favored the teams from his own place. The officers of the association certainly made a great mistake in selecting such men for the most important positions connected with the contests. The time-keepers really had the whole affair in their hands. Not more than a few times did they credit the teams with their proper time. The time was invariably adjusted so as to bring the Gogebic teams in the lead. Had the time been fairly given out the Gogebic county teams would have had several prizes less than they took home with them.

There is no denying the fact that the Ironwood team was a good one, and it fairly won three prizes—the flag race, 100-yard dash and the hub and hub race against the Hancock team. As to the Bessemer team, it did fair work, but it was not entitled to a single prize. The coupler's contest, in which it was declared the winner, was stolen from the Ishpeming team, and the novelty hose race belonged to the Hancock team, but was given to the Bessemer team.

In the coupler's contest the Bessemer coupler practically admitted that he was defeated. Several of the Gogebic men expressed dissatisfaction over the award made in this contest, conceding that it was won by the Ishpeming team. When Ishpeming's boy coupler had completed his work, Stranberg, champion coupler of Michigan and Wisconsin, walked up and congratulated young Trewack, the lad who handled the nozzle, saying that it was the prettiest coupling he had ever seen. Stranberg said the boy would certainly be the winner as he knew that there was no man on the grounds who could beat him. When asked if he could win against the boy, Stranberg admitted that he was afraid he could not. The correct time of the Ishpeming couplers was 4 4-5 seconds, but the time-keepers credited them with 5 1-5 seconds. The Bessemer couplers' correct time was 5 1-5 seconds but the timers placed them at 4 seconds. The fact of the matter is the Ishpeming lads did their work so rapidly that the timers did not catch their correct time.

The result of the ladder climber's contest (which was not reported in Saturday's issue) was as follows: Michigan, 6 2-5 seconds; Ontonagon, 5 2-5; Marquette, 7 2-5; Republic, 8 2-5; Sault Ste. Marie, 6 1-5; Ishpeming, 5 3-5; Bessemer, 5 1-5; Hancock, 5 2-5; Negaunee, no time; Ironwood, 5 and Calumet 5 2-5. The Ironwood and Bessemer teams were given the prizes in this contest. They should have gone to the Hancock and Calumet teams, both of which made the run in 5 seconds. The Ironwoods correct time was 5 1/4 seconds and Bessemer's correct time was 5 1/4. The teams from the Marquette range as well as those from the copper district made as good a showing as the Gogebic teams but they were robbed from start to finish. They were justified in pulling out of the races after the first day, but they did not do this on account of their regard for the association.

In the novelty hub and hub race, which was the last on the second day's program, Hancock gave way to Bessemer. The copper country boys thought there was no use making the run because they knew they would not be given the race even if they should win it. At the convention held Tuesday evening Chase S. Osborn button holed every delegate present and tried to influence them to vote for Ironwood as the place of holding the next tournament. A delegate from the "Soo" department told the reporter that he had pledged himself to Houghton but that Osborn came to him and asked him to turn over to Ironwood; that by so doing he (Osborn) would receive the support of the Gogebic county delegates at the congressional convention. Every fireman present from this section of the upper peninsula admits that some town in the copper country should have been given the next tournament, and had Osborn kept his nose out of the affair Houghton would have captured it. As matters now stand it looks very much as if the Gogebic county firemen will have the next tournament all to themselves. It is believed that Osborn has injured himself of helped his chances of becoming a congressman, and has also done the association a great injury, by his work at the tournament.

While the Marquette county firemen and their friends were thoroughly disgusted and angry at the way they had been treated, this did not prevent them from getting out Friday night and having a rattling good time. They paraded the principal streets, headed by the Ishpeming City band. The Gogebic firemen also had a procession, but they were "not in it" with the Marquette county boys. The chief of the Ishpeming, Marquette, Negaunee, Michigan and Republic departments were with the boys and they did as much cheering as any in the line. At the city hall, where the prizes were distributed, the Gogebic fellows cheered for Osborn for congress. The Marquette county boys listened to this for a time, but finally they began to cheer for Gad Smith as their choice, shouting for him vigorously and enthusiastically until they became so hoarse that they could yell no more.

Osborn had badges printed advertising himself for congress. These were worn by the Gogebic fellows but the Marquette and Houghton county firemen declined to wear them, and they all left the tournament bitterly hostile to Osborn.

The firemen have nothing but kind words for the Soo firemen. The latter are gentlemen and they treated the visitors splendidly. Chief Van Wyck and Secretary Suppe were unusually active in their efforts to entertain the men, and regretted sorely that the tournament had been used as a political machine by Osborn and his home supporters.

Miss Hext Tonight.

Quite a number of tickets have been disposed of for the entertainment to be given this evening at the Ishpeming Opera House by Effie Elaine Hext, the elocutionist, assisted by local talent. The members of the Young People's society of the Swedish Lutheran church, under whose auspices the entertainment will be given, have secured the services of the City and, George Tucker and F. C. Bennett, and Miss Edith (Gy) King, soloists, also the Bethany male choir, to assist in the program. The price of tickets will be twenty-five and fifty cents, the latter for reserved seats. A fine entertainment is promised all who attend.

GOLD FOR DEER'S TEETH.

The Man Who Found It Is Now Trying to Discover a Gold Mine.

Gold has been found in a variety of queer places, among others in the dust in the crops of wild turkeys, and between the toes of a wolf hound. The latest odd place for gold is as the filling for a deer's teeth, and it is told of by John A. Bryant, of Kansas City, Mo.

A Kansas City taxidermist was found in a great state of excitement by Mr. Bryant. He had recently got two deer heads for mounting from Colorado. The jaws of both deer were being scraped, and then the taxidermist observed a peculiar substance crusted on the teeth. This sediment was brownish-yellow in color, and just for fool's luck the man scraped it off and sent it to an assayer. The assayer got a lump of gold, pure yellow gold, from the stuff, and the taxidermist made haste to find out the precise locality where the deer were killed. Then he asked about the deer hawks where the animals got their seal. He doesn't know yet whether the gold came from a salt lick or from the dust blown onto the grass or browse on which the deer fed.

The taxidermist said that the deer were killed not more than a hundred miles from the Cripple Creek gold mines, and, further, that he knows the spot exactly. He thinks if deer can get gold filling for their teeth in the ordinary course of nature, a man could get bushels of it. He has so much faith in this that he is going to sell out his business, buy a burro, a grub stake, a prospector's pick, and then go to prospecting on the deer's trails.—The Nidologist.

A Village Bell.

For more than 20 years the quaint old town of Bowmansville, Pa., has had what is known as a village bell. It is swung between two high upright poles and was paid for by public subscription. The leading object of its ringing is to announce to farmers and other working people the time of day. The first bell in the morning at Bowmansville is the signal for the people to arise, and in summer most of the residents are out that early. The 11 o'clock bell announces that it is time to leave the fields and prepare for dinner. At four o'clock in the afternoon they prepare for supper when the bell rings. This bell saves the farmers and town folks the necessity of providing dinner bells of their own. The people in this vicinity rely upon it as much as other folks do their watches and clocks.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., were permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at E. Farnham's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

HAD A GOOD TIME. Firemen Enjoyed the Tournament and Did Good Work There.

The Negaunee firemen, with the exception of Chief Jackson, who has gone to Canada to remain a week or more, got home Saturday morning on the special train, arriving here in the midst of a heavy rain storm shortly after 5 o'clock.

The boys did not anticipate defeating the older teams, but their average work, all things considered, was much better than was expected.

BICYCLES IN WAR.

The Wheel Has Become Popular in the National Guard.

As an Auxiliary to Military Facilities the Two-Wheeled Vehicle Will Be of Inestimable Service.

A secure foothold has been obtained by the bicycle in the army and in the national guard. Officers, who by long service under old conditions are likely to be conservative to a degree, admit that before long the wheel will be a valuable aid to military movements in time of war.

The results obtained under the most adverse and discouraging conditions prove conclusively that the bicycle will in the future become a most valuable auxiliary in military operations, not only for courier service, but also for rapidly moving organized bodies of men over the country.

Gen. Miles said in a subsequent speech to wheelmen that the use of the bicycle for military purposes is one that would attract naturally the attention of every soldier.

"We all know," said Gen. Miles, "that in military matters one of the principal arts in war is rapidity of movements and the power to move troops and munitions of war rapidly from one part of the country to another.

"Now, the question is whether the American forces mounted on wheels can do as much as if mounted on horses. It is true that a man mounted on a wheel can move over the ordinary roads with greater rapidity and make greater distances than he could possibly move on foot or mounted upon a horse.

It is estimated that there are in this country over 250,000 men who are accustomed to ride the bicycle.

Not long ago Lieut. Hunt, of Sheridan, and a few enlisted men, with but little experience in riding, made a march of 15 miles on wheels in one hour and 25 minutes.

Some national guard officers of rank do not take as hopeful a view of the service of bicycles in time of war as does the ranking officers of the army.

"If each regiment were allowed to organize one of the additional companies provided for in the new drill regulations in the vicinity, the guard would be much benefited.

ALL HAD THEIR BASKETS.

Hibernians and Their Friends Spend a Very Jolly Saturday in Meeske's Grove.

NEARLY A THOUSAND ATTEND THE BIG A. O. H. PICNIC.

Swarms of People Were Out to Presque Isle Sunday—Tournamenters Return—Baraga Defeats Marquette—Bathers Caught.

HIBERNIAN PICNIC.

Saturday was a big day for the Irish. It was a day off, and how they did enjoy it! It was the day for the annual picnic of the Hibernians.

This order is well represented in Marquette, and with the aid of several hundred people who weren't Irish, but would like to be, their picnic was made a big success, as to numbers, and in everything else that is required for a picnic to be a success.

Green ribbons and A. O. H. buttons seemed everywhere, and from ten in the morning till nightfall there was a constant stream of people of both sexes riding or walking out to Meeske's grove, which was the scene of the day's enjoyment.

As is almost always the case the day of a picnic it rained in the morning, and rained with a vigor that threatened to continue the process indefinitely. At 5 o'clock it was raining hard, and early risers feared the day was spoiled for the purpose of picnicking. The rain finally stopped though, and during the latter part of the forenoon the sun came out, and encouraged the Hibernians and their friends to get their baskets and hurry off to the grove.

The parade started just before 11 o'clock from the lodge hall on Washington street. It was made up of the members of the Hibernian society led by the Marquette City band playing an inspiring march. Going down the street, the Hibernians in their green regalia, and the band members in their natty uniforms, the procession was a very pretty sight.

Upon reaching the grove the paraders broke ranks and scattered among their friends who had come out with heavy laden lunch baskets, filled with good things both wet and dry. It being so near noon when the procession arrived at the grove the viands were soon set out on the grass, and the paraders and their friends fell to with well whetted appetites, and did ample justice to the spread.

After dinner there were a number of amusements to aid in passing the time away. The one most generally indulged in was dancing, but there were the customary fakirs with lung testers, cane racks and "nigger baby" stands, all of which could be indulged in for the small sum of ten cents, with the chance of getting a couple of inferior cigars if successful. With these amusements, harmless, always time-killing, and occasionally exciting, the afternoon was passed away.

Meeske's new dancing pavilion was the scene of the greatest life, and the floor was filled during the afternoon and early evening with happy couples dancing the hours away to the gay strains of the band. For the waiters there were prizes, a gold chain each for the best lady and gentleman waiter. Some thirty young people contended for the prizes, which, according to the decision of the judges, finally fell to Ed McCarthy and Miss Mary Whalen.

SUNDAY AT THE ISLAND.

Presque Isle's popularity is demonstrated anew every Sunday. Yesterday the crowd out there was so large that it reminded one of the crowd in a metropolitan city park, where the people come from the thickly settled residential districts, and even from the tenements, to enjoy the trees and the grass and breathe the purer atmosphere. If Presque Isle were adjacent to a big city hundreds of thousands of dollars would be spent in its improvement and care, and it would be world noted as a pleasure resort.

The people began going out yesterday pretty soon after breakfast, and there were a number of picnic parties for dinner and supper. The street cars carried heavy loads all day long.

DAILY CONCERTS.

Sunday afternoon and evening there were more people than usual at the Hotel Superior concerts. The programs rendered by the Salisbury orchestra are of the finest character. The organization is the best of its character ever brought to a peninsula resort, and its music is free to any who will take the trouble to go up to the hotel. "People aren't under any obligation to stay to dinner or supper," said Manager Evans yesterday. "The music is here, and we are more than glad to have them come and enjoy it and help to swell the crowd. If the people had shown their appreciation of what we have already offered them, I would have had a number of other attractions here this summer."

Firemen Return.

The Hose company boys who went to the Sault tournament returned Saturday afternoon. They were thoroughly tired out, but all of them report having had a splendid time. The boys are a little sore over the races, and think that they were by good right entitled to two of them, however, they got the prize for making the best appearance of any department in the parade and have less to complain of than some of the companies.

One of the firemen from Marquette, who held a seat in the convention as a delegate, says he doesn't think it was so much Chase Osborn's work which lost the tournament for the copper country as it was the lack of harmony between the three aspirants in that section of the peninsula. He doesn't believe that as Calumet first came out for the convention. Hancock and Houghton did quite the fair thing in trying to take it away from her, and voting for Calumet on every ballot. He admits, however, that it didn't look exactly right for the Ironwood people to go around wearing green badges with "Attend the next tournament at Ironwood and vote for Chase Osborn" or words to that effect on them. The thing that probably did the Marquette boys as much good as anything was to see James beaten in the hundred-yard dash. According to a Marquette fireman this event was not timed any better than many of the others on which there was a good deal of kicking done. He quotes the starter, a professional sprinter, as saying that there wasn't any man who could have got over that course in 10 2-5 seconds.

A Delightful Trip.

The people of Marquette and the surrounding cities hardly appreciate how enjoyable the Saturday excursions via the steamer City of Marquette to the Pictured Rocks and return are, or the boat would carry a full load of excursionists to that famous point of interest every Saturday. The fare has been put so low that the excursion is within the reach of the humblest purse, and certainly a day cannot be more delightfully spent than in participating in one of them.

The steamer is now equipped with first class machinery, its engines being powerful enough to drive the boat through the water at a speed of twelve miles an hour, and it works so smoothly that there is no jar or noise. The round trip is made between the hours of eight in the morning and ten in the evening, the boat arriving here on the return trip in time to permit up-the-road people to catch the night train west on the South Shore road. A stop is made for an hour at Munising, going and returning, which allows the excursionists to look over the growing young town. This pleasantly breaks the monotony of the ride—if, indeed, there is anything monotonous about a trip through such lovely scenery as is spread on every side for the greater part of the way. The boat leaves Munising at six in the evening and this gives the excursionists an opportunity to make the run through the channel between Grand Island and the shore when the islands and headlands with the shimmering water, between are glorified, and rendered divinely beautiful by the rays of the setting sun, the whole forming a picture of indescribable glory and grandeur.

Captain Taylor and his assistants on the vessel are unceasing in their efforts to care for those who take in this excursion, and the wonder is that hundreds do not avail themselves of the opportunity it affords them to enjoy it every Saturday. They surely would did they know how delightful it is.

Defeated at Baraga.

A special to THE MINING JOURNAL from Baraga says that the Marquette ball team was easily defeated there Sunday, by a score of 15 to 10. Baraga made 11 of her runs in the first inning by terrific batting, and knocked Smith out of the box in the fourth inning. Healy, Houghton's crack pitcher went into the box then, and held the Baraga sluggers down better, but he was also batted heavily. Bender pitched three innings for Baraga, without a hit being made off his delivery. He was relieved by Berriman in the fourth inning, who also kept the hits well scattered. The batteries were Bender, Berriman and Nugent for Baraga, and Smith and Martin, and Ploof, Healy and Rivers for Marquette.

Registered Pharmacists.

Seven of the fourteen candidates who appeared before the state board of pharmacy while it was in session here Friday and Saturday secured certificates. They are now full grade registered pharmacists. The names of the successful ones are: E. W. Bromley, Port Huron; R. W. Edley, Menominee; H. F. Miller, Ann Arbor; W. H. Roberts, Laurium; W. H. Rizin, Iron Mountain; L. M. Sawyer, Chicago; C. F. Watkins, Stanton.

The members of the examining board left for the south on the afternoon train Saturday. The class they had here is a small one, and the examination is considerably in the nature of an outing for the board members. Marquette is their favorite upper peninsula town, and they have held three sittings here in the last five years.

Nobby Rig.

John Lewis is the possessor of a new and stylish turnout which he purchased the last time he was in Chicago. It is complete and up to date throughout and is one of the swiftest rigs in town. All it needs to give it a proper set off is a boulevard with a row of brown stone fronts on each side.

NOTICE. To the property owners, taxpayers and other persons interested in the proposed improvement of Seventh street from the south line of Spring street to the north line of Superior street, by grading the same and making a macadam road way therein.

Notice is hereby given that the specifications for grading and macadamizing Seventh street from the south line of Spring street to the north line of Superior street, together with estimates of the expense of making said improvement, and plat of work to be done and district to be improved and assessed to pay the cost thereof, are now in the office of the city controller for public examination.

The district to be assessed to pay for the said improvement comprises all the property abutting on said portion of Seventh street on both sides thereof.

The common council of said city will meet on Monday, August 24, 1896, at 8 o'clock P. M., and consider any objections to said improvement and the district assessment roll prepared therefore and for the final consideration and confirmation of said roll.

Dated August 8, 1896. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder.
