HOKE OUT OF THE CABINET

Secretary Smith of the Interior Department Hands in His Resignation.

DIFFERED WITH CHIEF ON QUESTIONS OF PARTY POLICY.

Will Go Back to Atlanta to Resume His Law Practice and Work for Bryan and Sewall—Gossip About His Successor.

HE GIVES UP HIS PORTFOLIO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—For some time rumors have appeared in print on the probability of the early resignation of Secretary Hoke Smith. There can now be no doubt but that he has resigned and that his resignation has been accepted. For some days past shipments have been made to Atlanta of his books and papers, and it is learned that he has declined to set any departmental business to be heard by him for a date later than this month. It can safely be assumed that a successor will be in charge in a very short time.

After the nomination of Bryan and Sewall it became known that Secretary Smith was the only member of the cabinet who announced the purpose to support that ticket and that this action on his part, while not in any way affecting his personal relations with the other members of the cabinet, seemed so material to him that he felt constrained to tender his resignation.

Hoke Smith was the original Cleveland man of the state of Georgia. When the Howells and Pat Walsh were for Hill, Smith carried the state delegation for Cleveland in the Chicago convention of 1892.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The news Secretary Smith's resignation had been accepted by the president created considerable stir in political circles today, although the probability of Secretary Smith's retirement had been anticipated ever since his paper declared it would support Bryan and Sewall. Mr. Smith so far has declined to discuss the subject, but it is known that the personal relations between the president and Mr. Smith have not been disturbed. Mr. Smith's resignation, his friends say, grew out of differences with his chief on the question of party policy and a delicate desire not to embarrass the president.

Gossip as to his successor.

There has been a good deal of gossip about Secretary Smith's successor today. It seems altogether unlikely that John M. Reynolds, second assistant secretary, will be promoted, but he has been an excellent executive officer. He has had charge of the difficult work of review of pension decisions of the pension bureau and has given general satisfaction. He is a native of Pennsylvania. The new cabinet officer will have only a little more than six months to serve, and it is said in some quarters that President Cleveland would prefer to fill the vacancy from the department rather than to fill the place by appointing some one who would be new to the work, which involves acquaintance with a great variety of matters affecting directly the public welfare.

But it is regarded as much more probable that a new man will be selected, probably from the middle west—Indiana, Illinois or Missouri. The names of ex-Governor Francis of Missouri, ex-Congressman Bynum of Indiana and ex-Congressman Ben Cable of Illinois are those around which gossip most persistently clings. All are pronounced gold standard Democrats.

THE RESIGNATION WAS EXPECTED.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 23.—The resignation of Secretary Hoke Smith occasioned no surprise here, as it has been understood among the secretary's intimate friends ever since he came out for the Chicago ticket that he would sooner or later retire from the cabinet. It is understood that he will return to Atlanta and resume the practice of his profession. The secretary's law office has not been closed since his departure for Washington, his partner, Judge John T. Pendleton, remaining in charge. The sign "Hoke Smith" has remained on the door, and the secretary's desk has been kept waiting his return. It is well known that Mr. Smith, on entering the cabinet, left a law practice which paid several times the salary of a cabinet officer, and he will return to enter upon one which will be much more profitable still. The secretary owns a handsome home on West Peach Tree street which the tenant holds to a vacant on demand. His law office and home, therefore, being ready for re-occupancy, Secretary Smith's return to Atlanta need not be delayed long after his resignation has taken effect.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—10 p. m.—The weather bureau reports the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours: For upper Michigan: Fair; light to fresh westerly winds; warmer Monday evening.

British to Attack Dongola.

CAIRO, Aug. 23.—An immediate advance of the English forces upon Dongola has been decided upon.

MAY REVOLT AGAINST SPAIN.

Discovery of Conspiracy in Philippine Islands Causes Excitement.

MADRID, Aug. 23.—An official dispatch from Manila announces the discovery in the Philippine islands of a Separatist conspiracy, the object being to secure independence from Spain. According to the official advice, twenty-one persons have already been arrested, several being Free Masons. The news has caused great excitement in Madrid and the police in consequence tonight raided the Hispano Philippine club and seized a large quantity of papers.

Madrid papers received here this week contained frequent expressions indicating that a revolt in the Philippine islands might be expected in the near future. It was even suggested by some of the papers that Japan was endeavoring to foment trouble in that part of Spanish possessions for the purpose of extending the jurisdiction of her island empire over the Philippine islands. They lay only about 250 miles south of the newly acquired Japanese possessions of Formosa, a number of small islands intervening.

Spain's army in the Philippine islands is estimated at seven regiments of infantry and one of artillery, with a squadron of cavalry, the total effective force being 864 officers and 20,000 men.

WANT INDEPENDENCE.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Developments of troubles of Spain are followed here with considerable interest. The outbreak in the Philippine islands is regarded as seriously increasing her difficulties, and the news of the discovery of the cons piracy caused a great deal of excitement in Madrid, where it is stated that the government is considering the advisability of promptly reinforcing the Spanish garrisons. The object of the conspirators is to secure the independence of the Philippine islands, and they are said to have friendly relations with the Cuban insurgents. The Spanish police are extremely active in towns throughout that country just now, in endeavors to get at the bottom of a supposed republican plot to cause an uprising by exciting the masses who oppose the departure of further troops for Cuba. Numerous arrests have been made among advanced republicans, and great precautions are being taken in Madrid and other large cities.

MATABELE WAR AT END.

Cecil Rhodes' Mission a Success—Reforms Are Promised.

BULUWAYO, Aug. 23.—The mission of Hon Cecil Rhodes to the Matabeles is reported to be a pronounced success. The natives have yielded and the war is considered at an end. Cecil Rhodes inspired the confidence of the Matabele chiefs by going among them unarmed. The chiefs complained that ill usage by the native police had provoked the rebellion, and Mr. Rhodes promised them that reforms in this respect would be inaugurated at once. Earl Gray, in charge of affairs within the jurisdiction of the British South African company, believes the surrender of the natives is practically unconditional.

SURRENDER WAS UNCONDITIONAL.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—According to special dispatches from Buluwayo to the London papers, the Matabele chiefs promised not to fight the English forces provided Cecil Rhodes agree to remain in the country and care for them. They also asked the removal of a prominent government official, of whose conduct they complained bitterly. Rhodes replied that the official referred to had already left the government service. Then he asked the chiefs whether they were for peace or war. Secumbo, the leading chief, laid a gun before Rhodes, signifying they were in favor of peace. Rhodes promised to spare their lives, but said the surrender must be unconditional. At the conclusion of the conference Secumbo cried: "Go in peace, my father, the greatest of chiefs." After describing the scene, Rhodes is reported as saying: "It was one to make life worth living."

BLACK FOR GOVERNOR.

The General May Be the Illinois Gold Democrats' Nominee.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The state executive committee of the national Democratic party met this afternoon to make final arrangements for the state convention Tuesday. General discussion of the situation brought out reports which were said to be encouraging to the idea of a third ticket. No word has yet been received from General Black as to whether or not he will accept the nomination for governor, but members of the committee expressed themselves satisfied that he would do so. Lloyd Hamilton of Springfield will probably be temporary chairman of the convention.

A Destructive Wind Storm.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2.—A terrible wind storm passed over Wood county, Ohio, today, unroofing houses and leveling forests. Hundreds of oil derricks were blown down. The loss in the Bowling Green oil field was over $100,000.

Comes Out for Bryan.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Wm. R. Morrison, in a letter to a prominent state politician, announces that he will take the stump in Illinois for Bryan in October.

TO DINE WITH DAVID B.

New York Senator Will Entertain the Bryans at His Home Tuesday.

LOOKING FOR A SEAT ON THE BAND WAGON?

This Invitation to Lunch Is Taken as a Practical Announcement of the Senator's Decision to Support Party's Nominee.

HILL'S ATTITUDE CHANGING.

UPPER RED HOOK, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The fact that Hon. William J. Bryan will lunch with Senator Hill became known today. Everyone assumes that the New York senator has resolved to support the nominee of the party else they argue that he would hardly invite him to sit at his table. The invitation to lunch is taken as a practical announcement of Mr. Hill's determination, which is expected to be followed by a formal declaration of the senator's attitude. Mr. Bryan will arrive at Albany Tuesday afternoon and will spend two hours before his speech, according to the program, at Wolfert Roost, Senator Hill's home. This visit will mark a distinct epoch in the campaign. The invitation comes, it is understood, through Chairman Hinkley of the state committee.

A QUIET DAY FOR BRYAN.

This was a very quiet day with Mr. Bryan. There were many callers from the surrounding country, however. In the morning Mr. Bryan plodded through the rain and mud with his host, Mr. Perrine, to the worshiping place of the Dutch Reformed Communicants. After the services the minister and members of the congregation shook Mr. Bryan's hand.

ALBANY, Aug. 23.—Ex-Senator Chase, chairman of the Democratic city committee, was asked tonight whether he knew anything about the story that Mr. Bryan would be entertained by Senator Hill. He said: "Yes. As a matter of personal courtesy to the distinguished Nebraskan, Senator Hill, through the committee, has invited Mr. Bryan and wife and a few personal friends to dine at Wolfert's Roost Tuesday afternoon and Mr. Bryan has accepted the invitation."

CHARGES OF RECKLESSNESS.

Ex-Congressman Foreman Writes Gov. Altgeld a Sensational Letter.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Ex-Congressman William S. Foreman has written Governor Altgeld a sensational pen letter, in which he makes various charges of recklessness in the handling of state money, and declares that he, as a Democrat, cannot support the governor for reelection. Among other questions, Mr. Foreman asks the governor: "Why did you place the price of the nomination for state treasurer at the convention at $10,000, the money to be used to help your reelection?" "Why did you borrow from fifty to sixty thousand dollars of Rufus Ramsay, state treasurer, now deceased, without paying interest?" "What became of your bills, if there were any, between the time of the official sealing of the state treasury vaults after Mr. Ramsay's death and the opening of the same when his successor was named?"

Mr. Foreman cites instances in which Governor Altgeld borrowed hundreds of thousands of dollars to run state institutions, paying as high as 7 per cent interest, and asks: "Out of what appropriations have you paid thousands of dollars interest, or to be more explicit, under what appropriation do you propose to cover it up?"

The letter declares that the governor has practically wrecked the Democratic party in Illinois.

DEBS AND HIS ORDER ROASTED

Sensation at the Railroad Brotherhood Meeting at Terre Haute.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 23.—A public meeting of the brotherhoods of all the railroad men was held at the Harrison Casino today. It was largely attended, and the following chiefs were in attendance: Sargent of the locomotive firemen, Morrissey of the trainmen, Arthur of the locomotive engineers, Clark of the conductors, Powell of the railway telegraphers.

A sensation was created when Grand Secretary and Treasurer Austin of the O. R. T. attacked the A. R. U. It referred to President Debs as "the self-elected saviour of labor." He attacked the organization and said it was in danger of losing control over itself because it was composed largely of a radical and dangerous element. Chief Arthur of the B. L. E. also criticized the A. R. U., but in a milder tone.

CARLISLE HIS FIRST CHOICE.

Henry Watterson Not After the Gold Democratic Nomination.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—In an interview with The Herald today Colonel Henry Watterson said: "If anything could make me bolt the third ticket in the presidential canvass of the United States it would be my own nomination." Mr. Watterson's first choice is Secretary Carlisle, and then Generals Palmer, Buckner and Bragg and Secretary Morton.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL.

AWFULLY WORRIED.

An editorial on the congressional outlook in this district which appeared in the last number of the Iron Ore of Ishpeming denotes that the editor of that valuable sheet is disturbed by the apprehension that THE MINING JOURNAL will have a candidate in the field, and that Rush Culver may be that candidate.

Two years ago the editor of this paper earnestly advised Mr. Culver not to take the nomination, but the advice of other friends of his had more weight with him. He is a good lawyer and is building up a lucrative practice, and it would be a sacrifice for him to go to congress.

Mr. Culver is a clean man, with a record that he has no reason to feel ashamed of. He never "confided" a friend out of a dollar, or bartered his convictions for patronage.

CHANGES THE SITUATION.

The failure of Mr. Smith to secure the nomination which will represent and act for this county in the congressional convention at Ironwood greatly impairs, if it does not entirely destroy, any chance there may have been of having the nomination fall to a Marquette county man.

What makes the defeat of Mr. Smith in the county convention at Negaunee Saturday especially aggravating to that gentleman and his friends is the fact that the movement against him has not been conducted in an open and manly way.

It is now well among the possibilities that the congressional nomination may fall to Chase S. Osborn, the editor of the Soo News.

men can retain control of the party in the county in the face of a majority sentiment against them by resorting to such practices.

THE MINING JOURNAL is not complaining, or bewailing the result of the convention held Saturday at Negaunee. It is simply stating facts, as an independent observer, leaving it to the public to draw such conclusions as these may warrant.

Undoubtedly the defeat of Mr. Smith Saturday improves Mr. Stephenson's show for getting the nomination, for he practically had very little before, but it by no means ensures him the prize which he is so bent on securing.

When the electors meet in their respective states and cast their ballots for president and vice president, "they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president and of all persons voted for as vice president, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate."

THE CONVENTION MEETS Thursday, and as it takes 36 to nominate the outlook is that Ironwood will witness the most interesting struggle that has taken place in a Republican congressional convention in this district since the memorable one in which Hubbell and Stephenson locked horns so stubbornly.

A READER OF THE MINING JOURNAL at Dollar Bay, Houghton county, sends us a clipping from the New York Tribune in which the London, England, correspondent of that paper quotes the London Financial News of Aug. 13 in repudiation of an article alleged to have appeared in that publication under date of March 10, in which loss of trade with South America, China and Japan was predicted as one of the consequences to England of letting the United States take the lead of that country in adopting free silver coinage.

At last a break in President Cleveland's cabinet has occurred, Secretary of the Interior Smith having resigned and his resignation having been accepted. Mr. Smith proposes to support the Chicago ticket and platform and the president has no use for advisers who advise that way.

It is now well among the possibilities that the congressional nomination may fall to Chase S. Osborn, the editor of the Soo News. THE MINING JOURNAL has not favored his candidacy, but is constrained to admit that the energy which he is putting into his contest for the nomination and the address that he displays in the conduct of his campaign prove him to be possessed of qualities which would render him a serviceable member if elected.

A show for the nomination as any of his competitors. If he should be the nominee this paper will have no tears to shed over the result, though, as the fight stands now, its first preference is Senator Sheldon.

After discussing the Bland-Allison act of 1878, Mr. Sherman, in the speech above referred to, said: "When congress met in December, 1880, there was a strong desire in both houses to utilize silver as legal-tender money, under conditions that would not demonetize gold."

FELINE FAITHFULNESS. Pierre Sacrificed His Life to Avenge Jeanne's Death. Some time ago in a quiet little corner way down on the Rue Royale, I chanced upon a quaint little creole creature whom the neighbors call 'Mam'zelle.'

Pierre is a handsome black and white fellow, with a noble head, and he and the little canary, Jeanne, were about the same age. Mam'zelle told me in her pretty creole patois how devoted the two pets were to each other, and I myself saw frequent evidences of their kindly relationship.

Just this very thing happened recently for the thousandth time, probably, but for the first time on record, grief followed the move. Pierre and Jeanne were taking their usual morning game in the sunshine of the little shop door, when a big brindler stranger appeared on the banquet without.

Taking advantage of Pierre's protracted absence, an ugly tortoise shell from the next block strolled to the lit-shop in search of Jeanne.

Then, letting Mam'zelle take the little corpse from under his paw, he swooped down upon the tortoise-shell.

BOSS PLATT FOR GOVERNOR

He Will Probably Be the Choice of the New York Republican Convention.

SAYS HE DOESN'T WANT THE NOMINATION

But Sentiment in His Favor Continues to Grow—A Bolt and Separate Convention by the Miller Faction Is Also Probable.

A LIVELY MEETING ASSURED.

SARATOGA, Aug. 23.—Thomas C. Platt will probably be the nominee of the Republican state convention for governor of New York unless he can successfully combat the great and growing sentiment, progressing all day. It has almost ceased to be a matter that Platt can control. His name, it is thought, will be presented to the convention, every other candidate will withdraw and he will be nominated without debate. This statement was shown Mr. Platt tonight. He said:

"I am not a candidate and do not want the office. I do not want the nomination. I prefer plain citizenship and shall decline to stand for the nomination."

It was, however, a significant fact that late tonight Edward Lauterbach and Lemuel Galt were working among the delegates and Platt had not instructed them to desist.

The state convention promises to be full of interesting incidents, virile and even vicious personal attacks and allusions and a breach in the party that will probably lead to a third ticket. If reports are true the state organization will place Warner Miller on the outside of the convention. It is said tonight that Senator Raines, who made a personal attack on Mr. Miller in the meeting of the New York delegation at St. Louis, will be chairman of the committee sitting in judgment upon Miller's claim. Upon the report of the committee on credentials of this convention, if it be adverse to Miller, there will be a fight in the convention, and if the convention acquiesces in such decision it is said tonight by Miller's followers and the McKinley league that there will be a separate convention.

IN FINANCIAL STRAITS.

Big Saginaw Lumber Firm Cannot Meet Its Obligations.

SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 23.—Merrill, Ring & Co., operating an extensive lumber manufacturing plant at Duluth and a big lumber yard at Toledo, yesterday issued a letter to their creditors asking the latter to meet them at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago, Aug. 25, to arrange a plan whereby the assets may be saved from sacrifice and obligations paid in full. Their liabilities are estimated at $900,000 and assets at $2,200,000. Inability to convert property into cash and a large amount of short time paper about maturing is the cause of the firm's embarrassment.

Held Interesting Meetings.

OMAHA, Aug. 23.—The Presbyterian Young People's national convention transacted no business today. Rev. McCarty of Pittsburg spoke in the forenoon on "Christ in Our National Life." In the afternoon a missionary meeting was held. At night Rev. McClurkin of Pittsburg spoke on "The Church."

Stephenson Mills Closed.

ESCANABA, Mich., Aug. 23.—The I. Stephenson company's two mills situated at Flat Rock have been closed on account of low water. Thirteen million feet of logs are hung up.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

McKinley's Letter of Acceptance May Be Published Wednesday.

CANTON, O., Aug. 23.—Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance will not be published before Wednesday or Thursday. The major has a constantly increasing number of visitors and his mail has grown to mammoth proportions. Newly organized Republican clubs continue to send greetings. Despite the constant demands on his time Mr. McKinley continues in good health and Mrs. McKinley appears better than for years. Major and Mrs. McKinley took a short drive today with National Committeeman Dawes.

THE LATEST INVENTIONS.

A portable bicycle, one wheel of which folds upon the other, has been invented by a mechanic in Gratz, Austria.

A machine for catching grasshoppers is owned by Henry Crow, of Garden City, Kan. It scoops them in by the bushel. Mr. Crow boils them, and feeds them to his hogs.

A new street corner indicator has been invented. The name of the thoroughfare is, in fact, inclosed in a glass brick of special construction, and is intended to be made the corner stone and to be held in place by the other paving blocks.

German cyclists have an effectual way of getting rid of troublesome dogs. Bicycle bombs are now manufactured in the fatherland—small, but extremely noisy, explosives, which exercise a magical effect upon the cur of aggressive propensities.

A novel way of illuminating a tunnel has been devised in Paris. Reflectors throw light from many electric lamps 16 feet above the rails to the sides of the tunnel, where it is again reflected by burnished tin, a soft and agreeable light. The trains automatically turn the current on and off in entering and leaving the tunnel.

The automatic postman is a new invention. This is an adaptation of the pneumatic principle already in use in connection with the London telegraph offices. A car driven by air pressure is propelled through an underground tube, and automatically gathers the letters deposited in boxes at the various stations and carries them to a central office.

There is considerable risk incurred in shoeing vicious horses, both to the blacksmith and to the horse itself. To remove this risk altogether an Australian has invented a sort of wooden cage, the sides and top of which are padded. The horse is led in, the door is fastened and the cage is then turned completely upside down, the animal resting on its back with its feet up.

Railroading in Germany.

Germany has made some bold experiments at railroad speed on the line between Berlin and Gortitz. The best performance was 65 1/2 miles, which was 12 miles better than the highest speed of the fastest German train, the Berlin-Hamburg lightning express, which does 177 1/2 miles in 2 1/2 hours. Ordinary German express trains make 43 1/2 miles an hour.—N. Y. Sun.

—China last year consumed 92,400 pounds of American meats and dairy products, valued at $12,025.

ROYAL TELEPHONES.

All the Palaces of Europe Provided with the Instrument.

Queen Victoria Was Very Reluctant to Adopt the Invention, But the Prince of Wales and Emperor William Are More Up-to-Date.

Now that Queen Victoria has at length permitted the installation of the telephone at Windsor castle, Osborne house and Balmoral and Buckingham palace, there is not a sovereign in Europe who does not utilize this instrument for communicating royal and imperial wishes, as well as commands to subjects and officials. Even the pope, who has lately decided that, while a confession may be heard over the telephone, the priest cannot use the wire for the purpose of granting absolution, has had a receiver installed in his private apartments, by means of which he often communicates with the Propaganda Fide, which is situated on the other side of the Tiber, and at a considerable distance from the vatican. It is generally his valet, Cintra, who does the talking over the wire for him, but he occasionally speaks over it himself, and only the other day, when a Jesuit priest was taken suddenly ill during a private audience, the pope rushed to the little red-lined booth and personally called up the Jesuit college.

King Leopold is enabled, by means of the telephone, to communicate with his ministers at Brussels, without leaving either his palace at Laeken or his marine residence at Ostend. When, a year ago, the little king of Spain was prostrated with the measles, and secluded at one end of the huge palace at Madrid, the queen regent was able to hold intercourse with him, located in a distant wing of the edifice, not only daily, but almost hourly, over the wire.

Queen Victoria, however, is so ultra-conservative that it is most difficult to get her consent to any modern innovation, and it was only two years ago that she permitted the installation of electric light in the state apartments of Windsor. Previously electricity, as well as gas, had been uncompromisingly barred from her private apartments. Yet it is almost impossible to aggregate the importance of thus placing the various residences of the queen in telephonic communication with London, as far as transaction of official business is concerned.

Until now, whenever the queen was desirous of consulting one of her constitutional advisers upon any point, or when any cabinet minister had some matter of urgency to impart to her majesty, the unfortunate dignitary had to travel all the way from Windsor to Osborne, which entailed a sea trip across the stormy Solent, very often for the sake of only ten minutes' talk with the sovereign. Then, too, Lord Salisbury and even Mr. Chamberlain, both of them busy men, have had to spend a good deal of their time explaining matters to the queen in writing, the library at Buckingham palace containing many volumes of letters such as these written to the queen by her various ministers through her long reign of well-nigh 60 years. Henceforth the queen will be in a position to be consulted by her ministers at a moment's notice, which will greatly simplify matters.

In the same proportion that the queen is old-fashioned in her views, in her surroundings, in her manner and in her appearance, so is the prince of Wales up to date. Marlborough house and Sandringham are fitted up with telephones and electric lights, in the most approved style. Should the prince survive his mother, his advent to the throne is likely to be marked by all sorts of innovations, which will have the effect of simplifying the present intricate manner of conducting the business of state.

In this respect he resembles his nephew, Emperor William, of Germany, whose predilection for the telephone is a source of disgust to the various government officials at Berlin. There are instruments in his library and workroom, as well as in a number of other of the imperial apartments, and he is all day long engaged in ringing up one government official or another, or else talking with his friends and courtiers over the wire. He seems to find the same pleasure in calling up the various government departments over the telephone that he does in alarming the various garrisons at night time, being evidently under the impression that by so doing he keeps the officials strictly attentive to their duties, and convinced that if not the eye, at any rate the ear, of the emperor is upon them.

Although it may flatter the pride of the telephone people at Berlin to have the emperor among the subscribers of the system, yet he gives them far more trouble than any other subscriber. For when he telephones to any of the government departments the operators at the central office are under the strictest orders to abstain from listening to the conversation.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Fortunate Tide.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men," said the man who habitually quotes Shakespeare, "which, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune."
"Yes," replied the man who had married an heiress, "I remember the tide that led to my fortune well."
"What tide was that?"
"It was eventide, and we were sitting in the garden."—Washington Star.

QUIBBLES IN CRIMINAL CASES.

Proper Legal Safeguards Prostituted for the Protection of the Guilty.

The sixth amendment to the constitution of the United States provides that in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him. This is a principle of English jurisprudence older by some hundreds of years than our constitution. It is a sound principle, and one which no people loving justice and liberty can afford to surrender. Arguments are not necessary to bolster such a provision of the organic law, but were such arguments needed none better could be found than by criminal law writers—that the accused may have opportunity to meet a certain and specific charge, first, in order to prepare his defense and summon his witnesses to meet the charge, and second, that if it sought to try him a second time for the same offense he may have no difficulty in proving that it is the same offense, and thus escape being put twice in jeopardy.

Simple and plain as are these reasons, which have become crystallized into rules of law and which are such as naturally commend themselves to everyone, yet they have been made, in the pretext for the existence of most, if not all, of the quibbles and artificially refined niceties of criminal pleading that enable the adroit criminal lawyer to shield from punishment those notoriously guilty who dare not stand upon the simple issue of guilt or innocence. How numerous such cases are even a slight acquaintance with criminal courts and criminal methods will demonstrate. How successful such quibbling is in shielding crime is notorious.

A few illustrations of criminal convictions which have been set aside because the indictment was not sufficiently specific or because it charged an offense which was not proven at the trial may not be amiss in showing to what extent criminal courts go in their fanciful interpretations of the apparently simple and logical basic rules of criminal law given above:

"P. was indicted for the murder of Robert Kain. The case was fully proven, except that none of the witnesses for the prosecution identified the murdered man as Robert Kain. They knew him simply as Kain and did not know his Christian name. The conviction was set aside.

"In a case of larceny the indictment charged that the defendant stole a gray gelding. The proof went no further than to show that it was a gray horse. Conviction set aside.

"In another case of horse stealing the indictment charged that the horse was the property of A. As a matter of fact, it was the property of A and B. Again the conviction set aside.

FIRING UNDER WATER.

A Curious Experiment with Cannon in England.

The most curious experiment ever made with a piece of ordnance was that at Portsmouth, England. A stage was erected in the harbor within the tide mark; on this an Armstrong gun of the 110-pound pattern was mounted. The gun was then loaded and carefully aimed at a target, all of this, of course, during the time of low tide. A few hours later, when the gun and the target were both covered with water to a depth of six feet, the gun was fired by means of electricity. We said "aimed at a target," but the facts are that there were two targets, but only one was erected for this special experiment, the other being the hull of an old vessel, the "Griper," which lay directly behind the target and in range of the ball. The target itself was placed only 25 feet from the muzzle of the gun. It was composed of oak beams and planks and was 21 inches thick. In order to make the old "Griper" invulnerable a sheet of boiler plates three inches thick was riveted to the water-logged hull in direct range with the coarse the ball was expected to take if not deflected by the water. Of all of these, the oaken target, the boiler plates and the old vessel hull, the effect of the shot from the submerged gun was really startling. The wooden target was pierced through and through, the boiler iron target was broken into pieces and driven into its "backing," the ball passing right on through both sides of the vessel, making a huge hole, through which the water poured in torrents. Taken altogether the experiment was an entire success, demonstrating, as it did, the feasibility of placing submerged guns in harbors in the time of war and doing great damage to the vessels which an enemy might dispatch to such points for the purpose of shelling cities.—St. Louis Republic.

Facts About Acetylene.

M. Moissan has found that when acetylene is allowed to impinge upon pyrophoric iron, which has been reduced by hydrogen at the lowest possible temperature, the gas is decomposed with incandescence into its constituents. At the same time condensation takes place and a liquid hydrocarbon, rich in benzene, is produced. The same result is obtained if pyrophoric nickel, or cobalt, is substituted for the iron. No gaseous compound of either metal is obtained, and he concludes that the decomposition is due to physical causes.—N. Y. Sun.

ARE YOU DEAF?

Do you have Noises in your Head or Ears?
Do you have Catarrh or any disease of the EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT?

A progressive, wide awake, up-to-date specialist is in your midst. The most successful treatment known to science brought right to your doors and hundreds are taking advantage of it. Why not you?

The Noted Chicago Eye and Ear Specialist,

Dr. Oren Oneal

can be consulted free of charge

At the Hotel Marquette,

Wednesday, Thursday,

Friday and Saturday,

AUGUST 19, 20, 21 AND 22.

Dr. Oneal is making this visit to Marquette for the purpose of introducing his NEW METHOD OF STRAIGHTENING CROSS EYES, which he does without pain, chloroform or bandage, or loss of time to the patient, also his NEW CURE FOR DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES, by which many are cured by one treatment and all benefited.

The first case of cross eyes calling at the hotel Wednesday morning will be straightened FREE OF CHARGE.

Dr. Oneal cures Catarrh of no matter how long standing. Straightens Cross Eyes in one minute by a painless method. Impaired Eyesight restored. Disease of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat treated scientifically and by the new and modern methods and late discoveries known only to the most advanced men in medicine. Deaf Mutes made to hear and talk. These startling and seemingly improbable feats are every day occurrences at Dr. Oneal's parlors.

No incurable cases treated. An honest opinion given in every case examined, and if you are incurable the doctor will tell you so and not take your money. During the year Dr. Oneal has visited many Michigan cities, and the papers have been full of praise for his wonderful work among the deaf and blind. At the earnest request of many patients and leading citizens he has consented to visit Marquette. His facilities in connection with his enormous experience and skill enable him to perform cures of

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT DISEASES

That other specialists have pronounced incurable. Investigation of his evidence of cures will remove all doubt.

Deafness Cured—If you are pronounced incurable do not despair, as he cures 90 per cent and benefits all after all other means and measures have failed. It is not the years you have been deaf—but the condition—that renders your ears curable or incurable. DR. ONEAL can tell you in five minutes whether you can or can not be cured. No charge for examination or opinion.

Head Noises—Ringing noises in the ears are alarm bells announcing the certain approach of deafness. Heed their warning and go to DR. ONEAL, the only specialist that cures without a failure. DISCHARGING, FOUL SMELLING EARS—a positive cure guarantees in every case.

MADE TO HEAR AND TALK. DR. ONEAL is the only specialist that performs this seeming miracle.

Catarrh in its most loathsome and obstinate form yields easily and quickly and with the utmost certainty to the doctor's treatment. He cures every case.

Cross Eyes Straightened in one minute without pain, chloroform or bandage. Thousands of cases cured by his new method. No mistake or failure.

It is quite evident that if there was only half the demand for ore now that existed a year ago this time, the condition of lake freights, under the present movement of grain, would be such as to allow a liberal profit to vessels. During one day of the present week (twenty-four hours) there was received at Buffalo 1,294,773 bushels of grain, and during three days ending Wednesday night the receipts aggregated 3,090,170 bushels.

The temperature of the water in the deeper parts of the great lakes differs little from the mean annual temperature of the air, the variation with increased depth being quite insignificant for points more than 400 feet below the surface.

In Lake Superior the temperature of the body of the water never rises above 46 degrees F., at depths over 200 feet it varies but slightly from 39 degrees F., going sometimes as low as 33 degrees F.; the same applies to Georgian bay.

In Lake Michigan at the Chicago water in-take crib the annual average temperature of the water was 47 degrees F., when that of the air was 48 degrees F.; the total variation from the minimum (February) to the maximum (July, August) monthly temperature being for the water 34 and for the air 52 degrees.

For Lake Huron during the summer the temperature of the air was 64 degrees F., of the water at the surface and at a depth of 300 feet, 52 degrees F., while at a depth of over 600 feet it was 42 degrees F.

For Lake Erie in August the temperature at noon of the air was 76 degrees F., of the water at the surface 73 degrees F., and at the bottom, at a depth of 80 to 100 feet, 53 degrees F.

CITY BREVITIES.

F. W. Worden, of Grayling, was in the city Sunday.

J. W. Spear of Houghton, was in the city Saturday on business.

Ed Dolan of Red Jacket arrived in the city Sunday to circle around among old acquaintances.

Melvio Youngs returned Saturday from a three weeks wheeling trip through Wisconsin.

Miss Clara O'Leary of Negaunee, who visited friends in this city last week returned home Saturday.

A party of young fellows, alleged to be in the stage known as "half shot," had a smash-up with a lively rig at Presque Isle Sunday.

E. S. Wheeler, superintendent of the locks, and Captain Hursley, mayor of the Sault, were in the city Saturday. Mr. Wheeler went on to Houghton.

Arthur Mitchell, who started according to expectation for the gold fields of South Africa Saturday, stopped over in the Sault one day to see his brother.

The tug Edward Gillen now has a telephone connection and can be reached over the county wire any time when lying at its berth beside No. 3 dock.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson died Sunday of cholera infantum at St. Mary's hospital. The funeral will be held from there at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Louis Lavy of Chocology has been chosen secretary of the county farmers' institute in place of Secretary Vandenberg, who recently resigned. Plans are being made to hold another institute this fall.

Members of the Superior orchestra returned from filling a date in the copper country on the early morning train Sunday. They have made arrangements for several other dates there the first of next month.

It is doubtful if the Marquette representation at the postponed St. George celebration will be as good today as it was Saturday, as there are a good many who went up who will find it harder to get away the first day of the week than the last.

Officer Sparling arrested a drunk and disorderly character near Front and Superior yesterday, and in taking the fellow to the lock-up met with some opposition from the man's brother, who objected to the family disgrace. The prisoner refused to give his name.

DISASTERS OF THE YEAR.

In Five Months 1896 Acquires a Terrible Record.

Hundreds of Lives and Millions of Dollars Destroyed by Fire, Flood and Railway Accidents All Over the Land.

Disaster has been a frequent feature of the current year. With but five months to its credit, 1896 has written a record of destruction that will stand. It cannot be surpassed.

St. Louis was the scene of the first horror of the year. Compared with the present black misfortune that rests on the city it was as nothing. January 5 a great stock of fireworks stored at 30 North Second street exploded. The building and adjacent structures were ruined and some six persons were killed outright or suffered such injury they died later. Thirty-two were seriously, although not fatally, hurt.

Early in February a great storm whipped the eastern United States coast. The greatest loss was to property on shore, as the warning had been fluttering from signal stations so long in advance that the sailor men had hugged the docks. Four or five vessels were destroyed. Hundreds of houses and other buildings were wrecked. In the state of New Jersey the damage was the heaviest. Bridges and buildings of all kinds were destroyed. Bound Brook, a small town near the ocean, was flattened as if some monster rock crusher had trundled over it. The loss of property was great, the fatalities comparatively few.

February 10 in Madrid several residents of the town were killed and much property destroyed by the explosion of an aerolite. The sky traveler went into fragments just over the city with the deadly destructive effects of many bombshells. In one factory which was immediately below the center of the explosion 19 workmen were killed.

Of accidents in mines there have been three in this country marked by great sacrifice of human life. In South Carolina 150 men were killed. This was followed by the caving in of a Tennessee shaft which resulted in the loss of 37 lives. Sixty men were killed as the result of a gas explosion in the Vulcan mine at Newcastle, Col. This accident occurred February 10. Three days later 76 workmen in a Grecian stone quarry were killed by the blowing up of the magazine wherein was stored their grain powder. It was at the noon hour and the men were gathered at the sheds getting their pay. They were crowded and took the full force of the dynamite.

The same day an explosion of gas in a mine in Wales killed 19 men, and 17 more were buried by the falling earth which was loosened by the explosion.

A great flood that came down the Oequabuck valley in Connecticut March 1 swept away hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of mill property and houses and drowned many persons. Similar floods in eastern New York and other Connecticut streams entailed property losses aggregating several millions.

March 28 a cyclone left a trail of death and ruin across southern Illinois. Alton was a heavy sufferer. April 19 northern Ohio was visited by a cyclone. The loss in Sandusky county was great. Few persons were killed.

Cripple Creek, the wonder mining camp, was destroyed by fire the latter part of April. On the 25th of the month the fire broke and destroyed nearly all the business part of the city before it was quelled. The damage was about $1,500,000. Four days later the remainder of the town was wiped out. The total loss was nearly $2,500,000. May 4 an explosion of gasoline in a business block in Walnut street, Cincinnati, wrecked two buildings and killed 11 persons. More than 20 were seriously injured. Five days later fires at Ashland, Wis., destroyed five lives and many buildings and lumber. May 11 forests in the southern part of New Jersey burned. The flames swept over great areas of Cape May and Atlantic counties. Houses and barns and live stock also burned, but no loss of human life was reported.

The cyclone season opened May 13 with windstorms in Wisconsin and Illinois. The principal damage was to crops, buildings and animals. In the two states six deaths only were caused by the storms, so far as known. The wind in this section was but a zephyr compared with that which blew at Sherman, Tex., May 15. This was a true cyclone, and in its path was the local baseball grounds, wherein were gathered 1,000 or 2,000 people of Sherman and neighboring towns. More than 100 were killed and several times the number were injured. The day following, Scioto, Ill., a small town near Bushnell, was wrecked by a hurricane, and May 17 Kansas towns suffered similarly. Sabatha, Kan., was the most heavily injured. It was a mass of ruins. Afterward came the windstorms in Michigan, the Elgin and Rockford and northern Illinois cyclone, which had not exhausted its fury in Iowa. Another and less extensive cyclone passed over southern Illinois. Thirteen persons were drowned at Cairo by the swamping of a steamer which lay in the path of the wind. The next day but one St. Louis was in ruins. From May 13 to May 27 it is probable that 1,200 persons lost their lives in the storms which have raged in a radius of 450 miles of Chicago. The property losses will aggregate upward of $75,000,000.

In the cyclone excitement three other disasters passed almost unnoticed. Blue Island, Ill., nearly lost its place on the map as a town. Fire destroyed 26 houses and business blocks May 17. On the same day the schooner Ayer and steamer Onoko collided off Racine. Five sailors were drowned. The other day a weak railroad bridge at Victoria, B. C., permitted a loaded passenger car to fall through. Nearly 100 persons were drowned.—Chicago Times-Herald

DEAF MUTES ARE PROFANE.

They Swear with the Wave of the Hand with the Greatest of Ease.

Several frantic passes of the hand in front of a companion's face, and a man who never had spoken a word and never will speak a word had sworn at the other as plainly as if the articulate words had been shouted. It is something of a puzzle to many how persons who cannot hear a sound acquire a profane vocabulary, but the solution is easy. The average deaf mute, educated by the most approved methods, can tell what a person is saying by the movement of his lips, provided they be visible. Deaf mutes who can read the movement of the lips or the sign language study the Bible, and in consequence they are as familiar with the phrase consigning sinners to everlasting perdition as are those gifted with speech and hearing.

Following this line of argument, one of the most successful teachers of the deaf and dumb in this city said recently: "It is not at all difficult to see how the deaf and dumb learn the use of profanity. It is a strange thing, perhaps, but they rarely make their profane signs except under circumstances which provoke any ordinary person to the use of profanity. On the other hand, deaf mutes vary in temperament as widely as other people, and where one has a seemingly complete vocabulary of profanity, others seldom or never give expression to such sign language."

Said another instructor: "It is something which we cannot explain any more than can parents, as a rule, tell how their little children, brought up among all the refining influences of home, learn to swear almost before they can talk plainly. Like other things which we have taught, the pupils pick up profanity in the streets from seeing men swear at one another, and when one learns the use of profanity the others soon pick it up."

There is no greater authority in the country upon the subject of deaf mutes than Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, who has been a preacher to and teacher of those without speech or hearing for half a century. His father, Thomas M. Gallaudet, in 1817 founded at Hartford, Conn., the first school for deaf mutes in this country, and in 1859 Rev. Thomas Gallaudet began his mission work among them.

Dr. Gallaudet said, when asked about deaf mutes and their ways: "Aside from their inability to speak or hear, deaf-mutes are in no wise different from other persons. They have the same feelings and the same passions, and in their way express themselves just as forcibly as those who speak and hear. As a matter of fact the sign language used by these people is, in many cases, more expressive than any spoken words, and in cases of anger the deaf-mutes find no difficulty in expressing themselves or making those with whom they are angry understand exactly what is meant."

"To express sorrow for anyone the deaf-mute will assume a sorrowful countenance, and rub his hand over his heart in a circle, meaning thereby that sorrow is grinding his heart. In anger what is more expressive than an angry countenance and the clinched hands shaken above the head?"

"The sign language for deaf-mutes was invented about 150 years ago by Abbe De l'Eppe, a teacher in a French school. He noticed the signs which the children made to each other and understood. He elaborated these signs and as a result what is known as the manual sign language was evolved. The oral system, or that of understanding by means of watching the lips of the speaker, was a late invention. There are to-day between 75 and 80 schools in this country for the instruction of the deaf and dumb. There is also a college for them at Washington, D. C. Most of the schools teach what is known as the combination system, which is both the oral and manual systems combined. There is a church mission in this city for deaf-mutes and the Gallaudet Home for Deaf Mutes, on the Hudson river, just below Poughkeepsie."—N. Y. Recorder.

THE CHIEF'S DOG.

Magician McAllister's Trick Cost the Poor Bruke His Life.

Nothing so completely mystifies an Indian as to witness the operations of some itinerant sleight-of-hand performer, many of whom find their way into the sparsely settled portions of the northwest, where they are always sure to reap a good harvest. Prof. McAllister, the magician, once visited a camp of River Crows on the Yellowstone, and after extracting various packs of cards and other articles from the ears, necks and noses and garments of the astonished Indians, was invited to a big feast of roast dog and other delicacies. Chief Two Belly was so impressed with the great medicine powers of the professor that he took him to his daughter, Miss Wicista-Neets (meaning Wild Cat) and offered her for a wife at the low price of two ponies. The feast and daughter were both declined, but as McAllister was leaving the tepee he spied a lean, yellow cur. He asked Chief Two Belly how much he would take for the dog, at the same time stroking the brute down the back to his tall length and each time taking a handful of money from the end of the tail.

"Him very valuable dog," said McAllister, picking a coin out of the dog's eye and another out of his nose. "Two ponies for him, chief?"

"The Indians, with eyes as big as saucers, stood in awe and astonishment, and shook their heads. After McAllister had gone they carried the poor dog down to the river side and cut him open, but the goose had no golden egg, and they went slowly back to camp as completely dumfounded and as solemn as human beings can possibly be.—Buffalo Express.

IT RAINED SATURDAY.

Frequent Heavy Showers Interfered With the Sons of St George Celebration.

ATTENDANCE FROM OUTSIDE POINTS WAS LARGE.

Program of Athletic Sports and Races Will Be Continued Today.

The eighth annual celebration of the Order Sons of St. George of Michigan really began Friday evening, when the grand lodge officers and delegates held their business session and partook of a banquet at the Nelson House.

The banquet prepared by Landlord Outhwaite was the fine spread always put up by him on such occasions. Everything the market affords was at the command of the guests.

It was 12:30 o'clock before the pleasures of the banquet terminated. The speeches were all interesting and were thoroughly appreciated.

The copper country, Menominee and Gogebic ranges, also Marquette, sent large delegations. The number of visitors here was fully as large as expected.

The program arranged for the day was practically knocked out by the rain. The parade was postponed until 2:30 and then only about half of the members in attendance turned out.

As the marching column received the order to break ranks all the bands present united and started down Main street playing the "Washington Post" march.

Just before the shower following the parade the committee on sports announced that at least a portion of the athletic program would be carried out.

The 100-yard dash for men was next called. There were eleven contestants, including many of the speedy runners of the upper peninsula.

In the ball game yesterday between the Ishpeming and Houghton teams the home team won by a score of 9 to 4.

athletic contests were postponed until today.

At 5 o'clock the sun peeped through the clouds for the first time during the day. The wrestling contests were immediately started and between that hour and 7 o'clock a number of the best men attending the tournament came together and some very exciting bouts were had.

The next exciting match was between Lawrence and Thomas Stevens of Osecola. The latter tips the scales at 153 pounds and he is every inch an athlete.

The judges of the wrestling are H. H. Milton of Ishpeming and Jas. H. Bough and William Allen of Negaunee, and the sticklers are Joseph Martin, Peter Kaline and William Prin, all of whom have had considerable experience in Cornish wrestling.

The road bicycle race will take place this morning at 11 o'clock and the other sports will start promptly at 1:30 this afternoon.

The concert Saturday evening at the opera house was largely attended and the program rendered was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The parade of the "Hampatogrobbins" at 10 o'clock was a pleasing wind-up of the festivities.

A majority of the visitors returned home Saturday night and yesterday many have remained here to witness the sports today.

The most popular of popular priced favorites will be with us for one week, also giving a Saturday matinee, the engagement opening this evening.

In the ball game yesterday between the Ishpeming and Houghton teams the home team won by a score of 9 to 4.

Major General Walker of the Sir Knights of the Sons, with his wife and children, will leave tomorrow for points in the vicinity of Munising where they will enjoy a weeks' outing.

will enjoy a weeks' outing. They will return to Ishpeming before leaving for their home in Chicago.

PUNISHMENT OF CHILDREN.

How Best to Rebuke Misbehavior of the Little Folks.

In a recent number of Science, Prof. J. F. Morse, of the Wisconsin university, in Madison, outlined a series of tests which he wants to have parents make with very young children, with a view to finding out the best way to secure respect for authority, and then a report of the result is solicited for comparison with similar statements.

Prof. Morse suggests that most of these experiments be tried on children whose ages are between two and six. Various offenses are specified, like naughtiness at table, sauciness, taking a playmate's toy, misbehavior while the father has been away from home, and lack of cleanliness.

Prof. Morse will send instructions to those who are willing to cooperate in this investigation, and asks people to send him their names and addresses for that purpose.

Those who participate would be assisting in a cause of great value, and would be doing philanthropic service.

BARAGAS QUIT THE GAME.

DISPUTE OVER A DECISION AT HOME PLATE.

Man from Calumet Killed by the Cars—Brotherhood Excursion a Marked Success—Fistic Debate Was Not Puled Off.

HOW ON THE BALL GROUNDS.

By the decision of the umpire Marquette 9, Baraga 0; by actual score up to the seventh inning Marquette 6; Baraga 8. The cause of this discrepancy was a row. Baraga had the doubtful distinction of being the first club to quit a game on the Marquette grounds, and Umpire Charlie Hanck gave the game accordingly to the home club.

Denny McCarthy, Marquette's old second baseman, was in the trouble, and many of the rosters side with the umpire in his decision and say he was the cause of it. McCarthy was running for home, the ball was thrown and caught by Rivers, who was just a trifle on the line. McCarthy ran into him and knocked him down, and the ball was knocked out of his hands. The question was whether that was accidental or done with purpose. The latter was the construction the umpire put on the act.

His decision was no sooner rendered than the majority of the players on both sides surrounded him with angry gestures and excited voices, while the crowd in the grandstand and bleachers kept up a persistent roar of "Play Ball!" Hanck stuck to his decision in spite of arguments and everything else, and Captain Shepard called his men off the diamond.

Before the game began the Baragas had a little internal squabble, and two of the players, the Koubillard boys, quit, substitutes were soon secured and the game proceeded.

The game itself was the best thing that has been seen on the ball ground for two months, barring out the first inning when the Baragas started out with five runs mostly due to Marquette's rank errors. The game was exciting, or at any rate there was lots to yell about, and the crowd which numbered fully 700 persons didn't save its vocal cords at all.

In the second half of the first Marquette got in two runs, credited to Ploof and Quinn. Then followed two innings in which neither side made anything. Baraga was the first to break the monotony and pounded out three in the fourth, leaving the dismal prospect and a score of 8 to 2 when Marquette came to bat. Smith came to the aid of the team with a two-bagger, which came within an ace of going over the home run fence. Rivers struck out and then Larson and Larson made the circuit while Ploof and Quinn were engaging the attention of the Baragas at the plate.

The fifth inning there was a shutout for the visitors, but Marquette got two in the second half. Smith planted another two base hit in center field. Neither side made a run in the sixth, and the third stickey was up for Baraga in the seventh when McCarthy made the break for home, ran into Rivers and broke up the game.

The score by innings as far as played was:

Marquette	2	0	2	2	*-6
Baraga	5	0	3	0	*-8

B. of L. E. Excursion.

As far as numbers go at least the excursion run to Marquette by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was the most successful of any that has come into the city this season. There were two specials, one which started from the copper country and the other from Republic, having respectively nine and six cars. Standing room was at a premium on both trains. At this rate there was close to fifteen hundred people brought in.

The trains arrived around 12 o'clock within a few minutes of each other. Probably the majority of the excursionists started immediately for Presque Isle, as the idea of the excursion was that most of those who came would picnic. The dinner basket crowd was the principal element, but still there were enough left over to make all the hotel and restaurant keepers beam with radiant smiles as they fled into the dining rooms and sat down before well laden tables.

For all that it was a Sunday excursion the crowd brought down was a most orderly one, and contented itself with viewing the sights of the city, going out to Presque Isle and attending the ball game. The street cars had all that they could carry, and the City of Marquette, which ran to Partridge Island with the privilege of a stopover at Presque Isle, carried good loads.

By 5 o'clock the excursionists, tired of walking about the city, began to gather at the depot, and by 6 o'clock the platform was full of weary sightseers waiting for the return train. The first section left at 6:30 and the second a few minutes afterward both bearing loads of people who had spent a jolly Sunday in Marquette.

Cars Ran Over Him.

John Norborn, a Calumet miner, married, having a wife and two children, was run over by a switch engine and several cars in the South Marquette yards yesterday evening and had both legs cut off just below the knees. He died from the effects of his injuries a half hour later.

Norborn was one of those who came down on the excursion from the copper country. He missed the last special and was expecting to go home on the regular at 11:30, as it was imperative to him to get there Monday morning.

engine. Neither the engineer or fireman saw him at the time of the accident, nor were they the ones to dis him afterwards.

A person who was walking along the sidewalk heard the man groaning on the track, and told night yardmaster Steve Kemp, who possibly prevented his being run over a second time, by signaling the engine to stop as it was then coming back on the same track.

The man was badly hurt and could only groan out words that were scarcely articulate, and soon he could not talk at all. Emil Gustavson, president of the local Swedish society, was the first to shed any light on his personality. Gustavson had made the acquaintance a few hours before and talked with him on the depot platform. He said that the man was from Calumet and belonged to the Swedish society there.

They exchanged addresses and the stranger wrote both names on a sheet of paper, and gave Gustavson his half. This Gustavson had unfortunately misplaced, and the body was not identified until taken to Tonella & Johnson's morgue, where two young men from Calumet identified him. In addition to telling his age and of his family they said he was a prominent man in the Swedish church, and was considered to have most exemplary habits. They were much surprised to learn that a half pint whiskey flask had been found on him, as they had supposed him to be a total abstainer.

In addition to the flask his pockets contained a return ticket to Houghton, a jack knife, some change, a Swedish newspaper and several pieces of paper with writing on them, but none with his name.

Didn't Come Off.

Lindholm and Klessner did not discuss twenty-five subjects at arm's length Saturday night, as they and quite a part of the local sporting fraternity had expected. It was planned that the match should be pulled off on an island in the bay, the party being taken out to the "mill" by boat. There are two tales out which purport to account for the failure of the match to come off. One is that there were not enough tickets sold to make the match a profitable venture, and the other is that the owner of the steamboat decided at the last minute not to allow his boat to carry the party out. It being the only vessel available there was nothing for it but to declare the match off.

Which ever one of these explanations is correct the sparrers didn't get together, and all the sports were around Sunday looking for their respective little two dollars.

Orchestra at Church.

Presbyterian church was filled to the very doors last night on account of the extra attraction, the Hotel Superior orchestra, which conducted the musical program. The soloist of the evening was Miss Agnes Templeton, of London, Ont., a sister of Mrs. John Hager. Miss Templeton has a full, rich, contralto voice and sang very pleasingly her two selections, "Jerusalem" and "Oh, Lord be Merciful!" Both pieces were rendered with full orchestral accompaniment. The musical numbers were a violin solo by Lothar Narnburger, and a string quartet. The congregational singing with the support of the orchestra was excellent.
