ROW OVER CREDENTIALS.

Congressional Convention at Ironwood Adjourns Until 9 O'Clock This Morning.

CHARGES OF FRAUD IN SELECTION OF DELTA DELEGATION.

Committee on Credentials Holds an All-Night Session—Two Reports to Be Presented and a Hot Fight Will Follow

NOT ALL SMOOTH SAILING.

Ironwood, Mich., Aug. 27.—[Special.]—The Republican congressional convention was called to order at 10:17 o'clock this morning by Committeeman Humphrey. In the absence of Chairman Smith. Mr. Humphrey thanked the convention for coming to Ironwood and welcomed all in the name of the city. Major W. K. Haviland of Baraga was made temporary chairman and Thomas F. Cole of Negaunee, secretary.

Delegate Bentley of Houghton county moved that the chair appoint as a committee on credentials one delegate from each county. Phillips of Menominee county moved as an amendment that one delegate be selected from each county having a candidate for congressional honors and that one additional member be appointed by the chair. Trudell of Iron Mountain seconded the motion in a speech and Orin of Chippewa county and Miller of Gogebic opposed the amendment. The question was submitted on roll call.

There was a row over the Delta delegation voting on the question. A motion was made that Delta do not vote, but it was lost. The roll call on the amendment resulted in its defeat by a vote of 27 ayes to 35 nays. The original motion was then carried, and the chair appointed as the credentials committee, Shaffer of Alger; Turner, Baraga; Orin, Chippewa; Trudell, Dickinson; Nevin, Gogebic; Bentley, Houghton; Scadden, Iron; Smith, Keweenaw; Hubbard, Luce; Connors, Mackinaw; Rood, Marquette; Phillips, Menominee; Garvin, Ontonagon; Orr, Schoolcraft. Committees were then appointed on permanent organization, order of business and resolutions and the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

At 2 o'clock the convention again met, but adjourned until 8 o'clock in the evening, on the committee on credentials reporting that no finding could be had before midnight, if then.

The Delta county delegation is making all the disturbance. Both sides are ably represented. Charges of fraud in the primaries in that county are made, and the committee will report thereon. There will be a minority and a majority report. A hot fight will occur on the report of the committee.

The convention was called to order again shortly after the appointed hour this evening, but as the credentials committee again reported it was not ready to report on credentials, an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The committee will work all night hearing testimony in the Delta county contest.

The temporary organization of the convention will be made permanent. The resolutions will be strong for the St. Louis platform and the national and state Republican candidates.

The Armory, where the convention is being held, is decorated for the occasion. The candidates and their friends seem hopeful. All Gogebic county citizens are wearing Osborn badges. Many ladies were present today.

CAFFERY WILL PRESIDE.

Louisiana Senator Chosen as Chairman of the Goldbug Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—It has been practically settled that Senator Donald Caffery of Louisiana will be permanent chairman of the national gold Democratic convention to be held in this city next week. He has been notified of his selection and will arrive on Tuesday next, prepared to perform the duties of that office. The question of temporary chairman is not so certain, but it is between Bourke Cockran of New York and Roswell P. Flower of the same state.

It is now believed there will be at least a semblance to a contest over the nomination for first place on the third ticket. Many names have been mentioned as being especially available, and among these is Grover Cleveland. One of the managers of the gold standard movement today said:

However, this will be a convention of Mr. Cleveland's friends. It would not do anything that would offend him. There has not been the slightest hint from him that he would accept another nomination, and under these circumstances the convention will not consider his name.

Chairman Bynum said that every state and territory, except Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah, would be represented. There will be about nine hundred delegates in the convention.

ALTGELD ANSWERS FORMAN.

Denounces the Congressman's Charges in His Recent Letter as Malicious.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 27.—Governor Altgeld tonight gave out an open letter addressed to ex-Congressman Forman in reply to the recent letter from ex-Congressman Forman to him, making charges against his integrity. The governor says he makes it a rule not to notice personal attacks upon himself, as calumniators in time are buried in their own slime. He terms the letter of Forman as being made up of malicious, false and slanderous trash, which has been repeatedly published and branded as false and does not call for any further notice, "but as you are trying to pose before the public," the governor says, "you should step out of the shadow in the sunlight of experience."

The governor roundly scores Forman for dragging into his vituperations John M. Lanehart and ex-Treasurer Ransay, both dead, charging that Forman had not the nerve to make the charges while they lived. The governor states that Forman wanted the position of commissioner of the southern penitentiary, which was refused on account of the governor not having confidence in Forman. This made Forman angry and called for the letter. The reply of the governor is quite bitter toward Forman and he concludes with—

If I cannot look with respect on the commission by virtue of which I exercise the functions of my office, then I do not want to hold it; if I cannot look an honest man in the face, then I do not want to be governor of Illinois, and I repeat what I have heretofore told you—that if my election depends upon your vote then I do not want it.

SAID KHALID'S REIGN SHORT.

British Warships Reduce the Palace at Zanzibar to Ruins.

ZANZIBAR, Aug. 27.—The palace of the sultan of Zanzibar was bombarded by British warships at 9 o'clock this morning and by noon it and the custom house were a mass of blazing ruins. The usurping chieftain, Said Khalid, and the commander of his forces, Said Sales, fled to and were accorded protection at the German consulate. The action of Admiral Rawson was in accordance with the terms of his ultimatum issued last night. Said Khalid refused to surrender at the hour named and the firing began. Inside of an hour the firing began and Khalid's followers, as many of them as remained alive, had surrendered their arms and were corralled.

Hamoud Bin Mohammed Bin Said has been proclaimed sultan. He was saluted by the British squadron and escorted to his house by Admiral Rawson and Premier Matthews. It will probably be a long time before order will be restored and business resume its normal condition. It will be a surprise if the government of Great Britain does not take advantage of the opportunity and abolish Arab rule, suppress slavery and proclaim Zanzibar a British colony.

MANY WERE KILLED.

Riots in Constantinople Are Quelled—A Revolutionary Plot.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 27.—The riots which yesterday caused so much excitement throughout Constantinople are apparently at an end. The leaders of the mob which made the raid on the Ottoman bank have surrendered and will be expelled from Turkey. The riots are attributed to an organized effort of the central committee of the Armenian revolutionists to stir up a revolution. It is known a great many persons were killed but it is impossible to ascertain the exact number owing to the prevalent excitement and a desire on the part of the Armenians as well as the Turkish authorities to keep the identity of the killed and wounded secret.

PLEASANT NEWS FOR WATSON.

Chairman Allen Will Formally Notify Him of His Nomination.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Star says the pressure for a formal notification of Bryan and Watson's nomination by the Populists has become too strong to be resisted, and Senator Allen of Nebraska, chairman of the Populist notification committee, will write a formal letter to each.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—George A. Groot of this city, chairman of the notification committee of the Silver party, has decided that the notification of Bryan and Sewall shall take place at Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 8.

FUSION TICKET COMPLETED.

Bay City Joint Convention Fills in Names and Adjourns.

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 27.—The fusion convention adjourned after 2 o'clock this morning. The completed ticket is as follows:

Superintendent of public instruction—D. E. Haskings (Dem.), Hillsdale; Commissioner of land office—Martin Loennecker (Pop.), Jackson; Member state board of education—F. S. Dewey (Dem.), Alpena.

Secretary of state was left blank for the prohibitionists to fill if they withdraw their ticket. The Democrats have eleven and the Populists three electors.

BUILDERS GET A BIG BONUS.

Cruiser Brooklyn Shows What She Can Do Under Forced Draught.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The Brooklyn on her official trial trip today averaged 21.92 knots an hour during a forced draught run of four hours. On a portion of her course seven knots long she speeded at the rate of 22.9-10 knots an hour. The cruiser by her performance today earns a bonus of $350,000 for her builders.

GREATEST OVATION OF ALL.

Demonstration at Buffalo Yesterday the Crowning Triumph of Bryan's Eastern Tour.

MUSIC HALL PACKED WITH AN ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

Democrats of President Cleveland's Old Home Turn Out en Masse to Do Honor to the Nominee—His Address.

HE TALKED TO THOUSANDS.

BUFFALO, Aug. 27.—Apparently the entire population of Buffalo, the home of Grover Cleveland, turned in footsteps tonight toward Music Hall, where Candidate Bryan addressed 3,000 people, as many as could be packed between the four walls, while unnumbered thousands filled the neighboring streets. The day in Buffalo has been the greatest ovation Mr. Bryan has received in the "enemy's country," and the night meeting which ended it attracted almost, if not quite, as many would-be auditors as the notification in Madison Square Garden.

Upon his arrival in the city from Erie, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were escorted to the Genesee Hotel. There they were quartered in the apartments which had been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland just before the election of the president to his office. A reception was held for two hours in the hotel parlors in the afternoon, where Mr. and Mrs. Bryan shook hands with a constant line of callers. Mr. Bryan was escorted to the hall by the "Cleveland Democracy," the city's oldest party organization, and by the ward clubs bearing torches. When the candidate appeared upon the stage he was greeted by an ovation. Mr. Bryan said, in part:

I cannot express to you the gratitude which I feel when I see the interest the people of the Empire state are taking in the campaign upon which we are just entering. I shall carry back to the people of the west the news that the Chicago platform is endorsed not by the west and south alone, but by the toiling millions of the east as well.

MONEY QUESTION IS SUPREME.

While a platform covers a great many questions necessarily there must be one supreme, and in this campaign there is the supreme issue made between those who believe in a gold standard and those who oppose a gold standard. There is no middle-ground. There are people in this country who had not studied the money question until the Chicago convention—persons who had supposed, of course, that because a gold standard must be all right—but when they got to studying the question they found that the arguments which support bimetalism are based upon the solid rock of truth and they have been coming over to the cause of bimetalism with a rapidity never known before in the history of the United States. The arguments in favor of bimetalism are directed toward the intellect of the man who thinks and to the man who feels. The gold standard argument is directed to the pocketbook of the man who wants to live while others die (Great applause).

But, my friends, when the people turn their thoughts upon a gold standard, when they at last discern from all this confusion and understand its results and the motives that lie behind it, I have no doubts as to what will be their verdict. We propose a financial policy; our opponents propose nothing. Without daring to defend a gold standard, without daring to set the time when you shall escape it, they preach the doctrine of "grin and bear it" and offer no hope to the human race. We ask for the free coinage of silver. We had it in the past, and we ask that the American people shall do their own legislating for themselves without waiting for the consent of other nations.

OFFERS A SUGGESTION.

We believe the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 will maintain the parity between gold and silver. And right here, let me call your attention to something which I have learned since I came into your city. I am told that some of your merchants, in order to give an object lesson to the people, have been offering to furnish Mexican dollars for fifty cents as part of the change when you buy goods. My friends, let me give you an opportunity to test the sincerity of these people. Let me give you a suggestion.

They tell you that if we had the free coinage of silver that the American dollar would be worth as little as the Mexican dollar is now. They tell you that if we had the free coinage of silver silver would not rise in value. Let me give you a suggestion by which you can test them. Whenever anyone offers you a Mexican dollar for fifty cents you take it and then take it to your savings bank or to any other bank and ask them if they will take that on deposit now for fifty cents and give a written agreement to give you a Mexican dollar the next day after the inauguration of the next president.

They say silver will not rise. If not, they can furnish you these silver dollars for fifty cents in American money. We tell you that we believe free coinage of silver will create a demand for silver which will make the Mexican dollar worth more than one hundred cents at the mints of the United States and throughout the world. You ask how it can be done. It can be done by applying to silver the same law that you apply to wheat and corn and oats. If any person in your community would stand ready to take all the wheat brought to his office at one dollar a bushel, nobody in this community would sell his wheat for less than a dollar a bushel.

We complain of a gold standard because the increase in the demand for gold raised the price of gold and lowered the price of all those things which exchange for money, and if that be true, then the restoration of silver to its place by the side of gold will lessen the demand for gold and thus lessen the purchasing price of the dollar, either gold or silver.

NOT FOR THE MINK OWNER.

They tell us that our legislation is intended for the benefit of the mine owner. We deny it. We point to the fact that the strength of bimetalism has always been found among the agriculturalists and among the laborers, who for thirty years have labored to restore silver to its place in our coinage. Remember, that when they tell you this legislation is for the benefit of the mine owner that free coinage cannot

HEAVY FIRE AT THE SOO.

Property Worth $400,000 Is Destroyed, About Half Covered by Insurance.

TWENTY STRUCTURES ARE REDUCED TO RUINS.

National Bank Building, Postoffice and Customs House Among the Buildings Gone—Man Fatally Injured by Falling Wall.

BLAZE FANNED BY A GALE.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—Fire broke out in a row of wooden buildings on Water street this afternoon and before the department could get to the scene it was beyond control. A fresh northwest wind was blowing at the time. The fire had spent itself by 6 p. m., but left about twenty buildings in ruins.

Among the burned buildings are the following: Sault Ste. Marie National Bank building, the Prenzlauer three-story building, postoffice and United States custom office, Perry Hotel, Chipewahouse, Strahan machine shop, Bell Telephone company and the Minnesota steamship supply store, besides fifteen smaller wooden buildings, all of which are total losses.

The News building, the Smith block and the Soo Savings block are all severely damaged by both fire and water. The Western Union Telegraph and the Western Express companies moved out, but their buildings barely escaped. They are open for business again as usual. The loss is estimated at about $100,000, about half covered by insurance.

A falling wall injured one man, and it is feared his injuries may be fatal. Everything is in confusion here tonight. The telephone exchange is completely destroyed and will not resume for several days.

ANNEXATION OF HAWAII.

Question May Be Left to a Vote of the People of the Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The steamer Alameda, from Honolulu, Aug. 20, brings advice that Minister Willis has resumed his duties. It is rumored his recent visit to the United States was for the purpose of conferring with President Cleveland on annexation policy. As a result of the conference it is said Mr. Willis was empowered to enter into negotiations for either annexation, a monarchical form of government, with Kailaana on the throne, or an American protectorate. The choice is to be left to a vote of the people. Nothing definite will be known regarding Mr. Willis' instructions, however, until the return of President Dole, who is on the island of Maui at present.

The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. Every well known arrival, from George Francis Train to the chief guest of the evening, General Harrison, and escort, John Wanamaker and Cornelius Vancott, were greeted with tremendous applause. This reception amounted to an ovation, the audience standing and cheering and waving hats, handkerchiefs or flags for fully five minutes. Chauncey Depew was chairman of the meeting. General Harrison spoke at length on the issue of the campaign, and in the course of his address said:

The defense of the Constitution and the integrity of the supreme court of the United States, and of the president's power and duty to enforce all the United States laws without awaiting the call or consent of the governor of any state, is the important and living issue of this campaign. Tariff and coinage would be of little moment if the constitutional government were overthrown.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. FRANKLIN E. BAY, Controller.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Wheat was fairly active, within a 1/8c range, closing 1/8c to 1/4c lower than yesterday, the former September. The market was firm early on further gold importations, but declined under heavy selling pressure, locally, by New York and foreigners, due to lower cables and tight money in New York. Corn was weak within a 1/4c range, closing 1/4c lower than yesterday. Oats were easy within a 1/4c range, closing 1/4c lower than yesterday. The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

Table with columns: Opened, High-est, Low-est, Closed. Rows for Wheat, Sept., and Corn, Sept.

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Flour moderate demand; spring patents 10c lower. Wheat, easy; No. 2 spring, 55 1/2c; No. 2 red, 60 1/2c. Corn, weaker; 20 1/2c. Oats, lower; No. 2 white, 19c; No. 3 white, not quoted. Butter, firm; creameries, 11 1/2c; dairies, 9 1/2c. Eggs, firm, 12c.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Stocks were exceedingly dull today, the prevailing financial stringency being as much responsible as any other present condition for speculative apathy. Increased gold import orders bringing the total amount engaged and about to $100,000,000 had no effect. The market closed firm.

METAL PRICES.

Pig iron, dull; Southern, $10.25@12.00; Northern, $10.75@12.50. Copper, steady; brokers' price, 10 1/2c; exchange price, 10.65@11c.

GREATEST OVATION OF ALL.

give back to the mine owner a single cent more than demontization took away from the mine owner. And that for every dollar's benefit that demontization has taken from the mine owner, it has taken many dollars of benefit from the farmers and laborers of the United States. And for every dollar that demontization gives to the mine owner, that same law will give many dollars back to the struggling masses of the United States [Applause].

Go out into the mountains and there you will find those men who go down into the ground and toil and climb upon the cliffs, and every ounce worth of silver which they produce, at the risk of their own lives, if poured into the channel of trade would increase the volume of money and help all of us; and if I had the choice between helping them and helping those who, instead of producing money, corner it while the world is in such a straits, I would rather choose to help those who have been bleeding it except for the government to resume its legal rights and use its silver or its gold, whichever it pleases, whenever it has a dollar to pay.

I do not want to be called extreme, but I want to state my position, and I want to emphasize that it will not be mistaken. I believe the American people have the right to have the treasury department administered in behalf of all the people instead of in behalf of syndicates, foreign and domestic.

PROGRAM HAS BEEN CHANGED.

When Mr. Bryan concluded he was loudly applauded. He was then escorted back to the Genesee House, about which the people were packed, and from the balcony he made another speech to an audience larger than the first one.

WORKINGMEN HEAR BRYAN.

He Addresses an Audience of Several Thousand at Erie, Pa.

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 27.—Hon. William J. Bryan this morning addressed an audience of several thousand people, mostly workingmen. He subsequently held a reception, and over two thousand persons shook the hands of the Democratic nominee. In the course of his speech Mr. Bryan said:

Offices cut no figure in this campaign. I have not discussed patronage with anybody, and I shall not discuss patronage with anybody during the campaign. The man who in the midst of a great battle stops to negotiate as to what position he shall assume when his battle is closed is unworthy to hold any position after his fight.

Nor are we satisfied with securing the presidency. The president alone is powerless to secure legislation. He does not express his approval until the senate and house have joined in the measure, and I appeal to you if you are interested in the success of our cause to use your efforts to secure a senate and house, as well as a president, who are in favor of these reforms.

The senate is practically secured. We have no fear but that the senate which convenes on the fourth of March next year will be in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth. But it is necessary we should have the house also. The house today is in the hands of the enemy and we must take possession in the house operation, and I beg you in every congressional district in this nation to see to it that no man shall receive a majority of the votes if you can help it unless he goes there to fight for the money of the country from the first day he takes his seat until the last day he occupies a place in the house.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The Bryan party left Erie for Buffalo. There were few stops on the way and there were no noteworthy demonstrations. Mr. Bryan devoted himself to a perusal of McKinley's letter of acceptance. When asked if he would give his views upon the letter, Mr. Bryan said:

I have read the letter. I do not care to make any comments on it. I suppose it can be considered a golden text of the Republican lesson.

Populists Get Five Electors.

THE RECORD OF THE PAST IS THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR THE FUTURE. THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES. 120 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

DURING the past Thirty-six years the EQUITABLE SOCIETY has accumulated, in the transaction of its business, Total Assets of over $201,000,000, out of which it now holds, for the benefit of its Policy-holders, Total Surplus Funds, or Profits, amounting to over $40,000,000, which exceeds the sum of the Surplus Funds which have been accumulated, and are now held, by any other Life Assurance Company by over $13,000,000.

DURING the past Ten years the EQUITABLE SOCIETY has made Total Surplus earnings of over $46,000,000, which have been larger than those of any other company, and has, after paying dividends to Policy-holders, accumulated during the same period a Total Surplus for its Policy-holders amounting to over $27,000,000, which exceeds the Surplus accumulated by any other Life Assurance Company in the same time by over $6,000,000.

IT would be wise for a person intending to assure his life to study the record of the Assurance Company proposed to him, and learn the facts upon which the promises of future Dividends and Profits are based. In other words, let him ascertain for himself the results that have been secured by the Company suggested, in the accumulation of surplus during its history as well as its average profits in recent years.

IN entering into a contract which may not terminate for thirty or forty years, it will repay the assurer to give the subject the careful investigation that would be devoted by him to any other affair of like magnitude and importance. Due inquiry having been made, let the best Company in which to assure be selected—one whose past record and present financial condition justify the belief that in the future it will afford both the greatest security and the largest profit of any.

THE business of the Society is conducted on the purely mutual plan; all surplus belongs to the Policy-holders.

PERSONS considering the assurance of their lives will find it to their advantage to send for a Prospectus, which contains a full description of the various kinds of policies issued by the Society.

Eldredge Was Nominated. Arthur B. Eldredge has been apprised of his nomination to office on the state ticket of the Gold Democrats, who have been in session at Lansing. The office to which Mr. Eldredge was named was that of lieutenant governor. The office came unsought, so much so that Mr. Eldredge says he will decline the nomination, not wishing to be considered in politics. Marquette still has one chance at the office, however, as H. B. Hatch is making the run on the broad-gauged Prohibitionist ticket.

So in a Blaze. Meager information was received here last night of a big fire in the Soo. Owing to the lateness of the hour at which the news was received here but little was obtained on it. It is known, however, that sixteen buildings burned, including the customs office and the Chippewa Hotel. At 10 o'clock the fire was under control. It was not learned from what it started.

Plucky Newspaper Man. A special dispatch received at Marquette tonight says that the editor of the Ontonagon Herald, before the fire in the village was half over, wired orders for a new press and type, and that he will probably issue a paper on Monday.

Mrs. H. W. Banks, now of Chicago, arrived in the city Thursday to visit old friends. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bigelow. The Ontonagon fire sufferers' fund, under the care of Louis Grabow, has increased $107. Of this $100 was a check signed by Peter White. L. M. Spencer advertises some rare bargains in guns. The shooting season will soon begin and persons wanting to prepare for it should remember Spencer. The delightful Saturday trips by the City of Marquette to Munising and Pictured Rocks will soon be at an end. The boat leaves Spear's dock Saturday morning at eight.

Adolf Narbom of Calumet, brother of the man who was killed by the cars here last Sunday night, was in the city yesterday looking up matters connected with his brother's death. No. 417 won the bicycle offered by Duquette & Metz at the drawing last evening. The holder was not present in the store at the time, but he can get his wheel any time upon presentation of the check. The choir boys of St. Paul's Cathedral choir will be given an outing to Munising and the Pictured Rocks on Saturday, Aug. 29. The steamer will leave Spear's dock at 8 a. m., and any of the relatives or friends of the boys who may wish to accompany them, are cordially invited to do so, by paying the usual fare. Owing to the lecture to be given this evening for the benefit of the fire sufferers the Musical soiree to have been given tonight in the Presbyterian church by Professor Muhlbaur has been postponed until Tuesday, Sept. 1. Mrs. Dorr, the talented soprano singer of Fremont, Ohio, sister of Wm. Harris, agent of the Western Express company in this city, has kindly consented to sing a solo at St. Paul's cathedral next Sunday morning and evening. The lecture on "South Africa" to be given by Richard A. Parker this evening in the Morgan Memorial chapel in aid of the Ontonagon fire sufferers promises to be largely patronized, as it should be, considering the charitable object for which the proceeds are to be devoted. This paper has received a letter from Professor Nap Filion, written from Sudburg. The professor says that he will visit Marquette soon and that he would like to meet any boxer in the upper peninsula in a contest for points. He is a lightweight and says he can furnish the best of records. Vandenberg's dairy cart seems to be the center of attraction on the streets nowadays, for he is delivering from that cart immense quantities of sweet corn of a most excellent quality as well as the usual supply of fresh milk and Jersey creamery butter. TOLD BY THE SURVIVORS.

Ontonagon Refugees Give Vivid and Dramatic Recitals of Their Experiences.

REDPATH AND BEVERIDGE HELPED THE SHERIFF'S WIFE.

Editor Meads Tells of His Escape from the Flames—One-Third the Town Might Have Been Saved.

EXPERIENCES AT THE FIRE.

Survivors of the Ontonagon conflagration are rapidly scattering among friends and relatives living in other cities of the peninsula. All these have stories to tell of the fearful fire, and most of them had narrow personal escapes from the flames. Of those who came to Marquette, perhaps the one who has the most interesting story is Mrs. Corbett, wife of the sheriff of Ontonagon county. She was living with her family in rooms above the jail, which was the place of confinement of three prisoners, two of whom were Duncan Beveridge and Jim Redpath, who are awaiting trial for the murder of Mollie Beveridge, for which John McDonald was convicted on circumstantial evidence and served several years in Marquette prison, being comparatively lately paroled by the governor.

Mrs. Corbett, her mother Mrs. Emmons, and three children were in the living apartments of the jail when the fire broke out. As it came close enough to them so they knew the jail would go, the two women put on their best clothes, and dressed each child in the Sunday go to meeting garments. The prisoners in the jail below were getting badly excited, especially a crazy umbrella peddler who was serving time for a petty offense. There was no deputy about the jail and Mrs. Corbett did not know what to do with the prisoners. Finally the village marshal came, and she unlocked the doors and the marshal took the three prisoners with him. He had no place to put them, and no handcuffs even, so after waiting them to the other end of the village let them go. The strange part of the tale comes now. The two men who were held to await trial for murder did not fly to the woods and try to escape. They came back to the jail and assisted the women and children of the sheriff's family to make their escape. Beveridge assisted Mrs. Corbett with the children, and Redpath assisted Mrs. Emmons to carry away a bedquilt full of clothing that she had gathered together. They helped the two women to a place of safety, and then went back and helped the men out of the jail. They worked among the fire-fighters the balance of the afternoon and night, and next morning they came back to look after their self-imposed charges again.

The sheriff's wife had a comical experience with the third prisoner. This was the umbrella peddler. He was sent up for threatening to shoot some boys who had been annoying him. His fine was $3.50, and although he had $47 in money in his pocket he preferred to go to jail rather than to part with it. He had given the money to Mrs. Corbett for safe keeping, and she had locked it in a wooden desk, there being no safe at the jail. In the haste to leave the building this money was forgotten and burned with the rest of the contents when the building caught fire. As soon as he was released from the marshal's custody he hunted up Mrs. Corbett, and endeavored in every way to make her give him his money, which he could not conceive was out of her power to return. He chased her around the city all afternoon, until she got quite afraid of him, as he had secured all the rest of his possessions, including the gun he had at the time of his arrest.

Alfred Meads, editor of the Ontonagon Miner, the oldest newspaper in the upper peninsula lost everything in the fire. Himself, wife and daughter are stopping here with his brother. Mr. Meads says:

"The first alarm of fire was given from the west side mill at 1:30 in the afternoon. I ran down town and on the way met one of the Diamond Match men. I asked him if there was any danger to the town, and he said, 'No; nothing immediate.' The wind was blowing almost like a cyclone, and in a few minutes a general alarm was turned in. The west side mill itself was soon ablaze, and the three hundred workmen employed there were running across the only bridge for dear life to get to the other side of town.

"We asked them what they were running for and they said the foreman had told them there was nothing to save that part of town and to get across the river and do what they could to save their wives and children.

"By this time the wind had switched around and the flames had leaped across the river, a distance of 350 feet, and had caught in Mercer dock and from there to the lumber piles and plant of the Island mill.

"Nothing could save the town then, and people from every part of it were running for their lives. Hardly any of them had anything except the clothes they wore. Many of them ran to the woods, but the wind shifted again, and this refuge caught fire and they had to make a second escape.

"My wife was sick on the upper floor of our house. My daughter and I dressed her and I helped her down stairs. I opened the front door, but balls of fire rushed in, and I closed it and we went out of the back door into the garden. I have a large garden and I thought we would be safe there, but when we got out there we found the trees were all ablaze. We went to the back of it and I broke down a high board fence, so that we got out that way onto a street. By this time my wife was exhausted. There was a man about a block down with a team. He was helping his family into the buggy. I told my daughter to run down there and tell him to name his price, but to come back and take my wife. He says, 'I don't want your money, but I'll save the woman,' and he came back and took her in. There were four one-story buildings down at the east end of town on the beach. These were left standing, and we took shelter there, and spent the night on the beach. In the morning a relief train from Rockland came down and brought enough for everyone to have breakfast. Soon after breakfast we heard that a train had come in, and that the crew had orders to take out everyone who wanted to leave. I thought the best thing I could do was to come down to my brother's in Marquette with my wife and daughter and then go back. I was just going to start for a team when Sheriff Corbett came along, and said he'd get a team and that there would be room enough for both our families. He did so, and we got over to the depot just in time to take the train at eleven.

"There were two pitiful incidents where death had afflicted families. A Swede named Landon, whose child had died that morning, carried the coffin of his little one down to the beach and buried it in the sand, for fear the flames would burn the corpse. A woman named Mrs. McDermott was not so fortunate. She took her little child, which was dead in the house, and carried it to the Catholic church, not thinking that that would burn, but the hungry flames licked up this edifice and burned with it the body of the little child.

"What I consider the most pathetic incident is this," continues Mr. Meads. "James K. Paul in 1846 platted the town of Ontonagon. He was the first white man to discover copper there. His widow, who had just passed her eightieth birthday saw the town platted, saw it build up and saw it burn. Today she is a pauper, and has nothing to wear save an old calico dress, and that is full of holes.

"There was one boat burned, the City of the Straits. She was above the bridge loading lumber. The people were screaming over the bridge and none would turn it. The captain offered $2,000 to a tug man if he'd get the bridge turned and tow him out before his vessel burned. The tug man replied he wouldn't tow him out for any money, and turn that bridge and cut off the only way of escape to people in that section of town."

So far as Mr. Meads, or for that matter any of the other survivors know, there were no fatalities, though it is thought possible that the female cook of the schooner lost her life. He says it is reported that all of the crew left the boat but this woman, who remained thinking she would be as well off there as anywhere. When the boat began to burn she came out to the door of the cabin, supposedly to go off on the dock, but the flames swept around and caught her dress, and in an instant she was all afire. Seeing no other way of putting herself out she jumped into the river. Nothing has been seen of her since."

Of the extent of the loss Mr. Meads says that there is just one small building standing on the original townsite, which was the main portion of the village. There are two additions to the town in which buildings are standing, not more than thirty all together. These lie on the outskirts. After the Diamond Match company Mr. Meads was the largest property owner in the village and the heaviest loser, though his losses are partially covered by insurance.

Asked about the probable future of the burned town Mr. Meads replied, "Yes, I think Ontonagon will be built up again. The Diamond Match company will probably build one mill, and the United States Tannery company will build it. It is not true that there is only two years' cut left for the mills. There is over two years' cut for both mills in the river today, and there is from five to ten years' cut in the forest."

W. W. Richardson of this city and J. N. Backus of Detroit, who were going to Ontonagon, arrived in the city while the fire was at its height.

According to these gentlemen, one-third of the town might have been saved had the men not been too panic stricken to work. There was a big block of lumber—8,000,000 feet—some 300 feet away from the Island mill and connected only by an elevated trestle which carried a tramway. The fire was over an hour getting across this tramway, as it had to crawl along with little to feed on in the teeth of a gale of wind.

Mr. Richardson and Mr. Backus noted this fact as soon as they arrived on the ground, and did their utmost to get a gang of men together and cut the trestle. Mr. Backus says that the men appeared indifferent, and though he tried every way to get them to follow him none of them would. One man got an axe, which he threw to Mr. Richardson, and then thinking, apparently, that he had done his share shut the door and went back into his house.

With the axe Mr. Richardson and Mr. Backus started for the tramway, but before they reached it there was a swirl of hot air and flame that almost engulfed them, and they were glad to take shelter on their hands and knees behind a pile of boards. When the flames had eaten their way across the rest of the trestle into the lumber the doom of the entire town was evident to anyone.

Many of the refugees sought shelter on the steamer Huron City. This boat was on the lower side of the bridge, and was able to drop down to the end of the pier. Captain Manual was ashore when the fire first started, but he realized what was coming, and hastened back to his boat. So anxious was he to get away that he never waited to cast off the lines, but cut them, and dropped down out of harm's way. Ten minutes after he left his loading place the pier where he had been was all ablaze, and the boat had it not been for the generosity of the captain several hundred people would not have had shelter for the night, or anything to eat in the morning. As many as could pack aboard the craft spent the night there, and in the morning food and hot coffee were free to all, the captain announcing that he would continue to hand out victuals to the hungry people as long as there were any left on board.

A freak of the fire, as reported by Mr. Richardson and Mr. Backus, was that a little building on the hill, apparently an office building about fourteen feet square. This stood between two large dwellings, which burned, yet this was not only left standing, but the paint was not even so much as blistered.

Patented Oct. 8, 1895.

If the root of the dandelion is not extracted it will grow again. The tool is intended to be used as an auger around the root of plant or weed, and when buried deep enough in the ground, by an upward spiral movement of the tool, the weed foliage and root will be removed without cutting the roots, thus effectually cleaning a lawn or other surface from any objectionable plant. The tool is strongly made of 5-16 inch crucible spring steel, nine inches long, in two sizes: 3/4 core for sandy soil, 1/2 core for heavy soil.

It is a fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, has proved, over and over again, that it has power to cure, even when other medicines fail to do any good.

Why is It, if catarrh is a blood disease, as some claim, that physicians frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering? Catarrh is a climatic affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it.

is another one of the things that Pearlina (use with-out soap) does best. With that, the glass is never cloudy—is always clear and bright. Washing it is less trouble, of course—but that is the case with everything that is washed with Pearlina.

And about the sashes and the frames; remember that Pearlina, when it takes the dirt off, leaves the paint on. Haven't you noticed that certain imitations are not so particular about this?

Millions of people use Pearlina. Try it. You will find it the best. It is sold everywhere. Write for a sample case. Telephone No. 212.

VISITED THE PRISON.

Methodist Church Choir Visited for Warden Van Evers's Charges.

The members of the Methodist church choir of Negaunee who visited Presque Isle and the Marquette Branch prison Tuesday enjoyed their trip very much. They rendered several selections at the prison for the special benefit of the inmates. The latter appreciated the singing greatly.

Joseph Andrews, one of the members of the choir, was presented with a watch guard by Jack King, the warden, who is serving a five year term there. King is employed in the prison stable and he made the guard out of hair from a horse's tail. It is a very neat piece of work.

The boys were telling King about the wrestling contest at Ishpeming Saturday and Monday and he became deeply interested in their account of it. He said he would like to have been there just to again show the boys what he is capable of doing in the ring. King is looking strong and healthy.

MUST FILL THE PITS.

Mayor Kirkwood Takes Steps to Bring an Iron Company to Time.

Mayor Kirkwood has given the officials of the Pioneer-Artic Iron company notice to either fill in or cover over the numerous test pits and other dangerous openings at different places on that company's property. The old Elba shaft on Lincoln street is perhaps the most treacherous hole on the company's land. The planks which were placed over the top of it some years ago have all been removed and now the opening is entirely exposed. The shaft is over one hundred feet in depth and is about half filled with water. The mayor has called the attention of the company's local agent to this hole particularly and requested that it be covered over at once. The latter, however, has refused to comply with the mayor's request and now Mayor Kirkwood says he will endeavor to bring the company to time by entering a criminal complaint against its officers.

Bethel Mission Work.

Rev. W. M. Van Slyke of Kalamazoo, general missionary and financial agent in Michigan for The Western Seamen's Friend society, is in the city in the interest of that organization. He will appear before several of the local church congregations next Sunday and make known the object of his visit and he will also give some facts concerning the society.

It is sure enough.

It is not as large as the Mississippi, indeed it is quite small, but a mighty interesting stream for all that. It issues from the sides of a mountain in a thousand tiny rills, more or less, and of almost as many colors. These gather themselves into pools and lakelets on the mountain's side, covering an area of about 200 acres. Overflowing their boundaries they slowly trickle down the sides of the mountain forming small cliffs, the most wonderful in the world. From a distance one can hardly believe what the eyesight reveals—white, black, orange, lemon, terra cotta, green, blue, red, pink, separate and in manifold combinations stare out before him. It is a hill of painted cliffs on the sides of the mountain that rises high above. And the odd part of it is that each of these exquisite colors represents a different temperature. Does that startle your credulity? Even so it is true.

When through with this beautiful painting process, these waters again come together and then, as if full of mischief like a pack of small boys trying to play hide-and-seek, dive down and remain under the ground for a space of two miles and then flow out from the mouth of a canyon as one of the clearest, most beautiful, green streams imaginable. Where these waters emerge from the mountain into the little lakes they are hot, boiling hot. During their dark underground journey they fall several hundred feet and also many degrees in hotness, so that when they again see daylight they are much cooler. This then is Boiling River, an underground mountain stream of hot water.

But you ask, where is it? Where can I see it? It is in Yellowstone Park at Mammoth Hot Springs. It is one of the lesser-known wonders of this land of wonders. Go there and see it by all means but first send to Chas. S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railroad, St. Paul, Minn., six cents for Wagoner's "Boiling River," which tells all about this renowned region. (7-24)

RAIDERS WERE ROUTED.

Attack on Boys' Brigade Encampment at Island Beach a Ludicrous Failure.

TWO ATTACKERS CONFINED IN THE GUARDBOUSE

Ames Much in Evidence at the Glove Contest—Another Marquette Man Nominated for Lieutenant Governor—Soo Fire.

COULDN'T SCARE THE KIDS.

There are six high school boys in this city who will give Camp Spencer a wide berth, and it's a question if they won't turn up a side street whenever they see one of the Boys' Brigade coming their way. They have a healthy respect for the stuff those lads are made of.

The little soldiers have a camp at Island Beach that is a miniature military encampment. There are drills, reliefs and sentries and all the rest of camp functions and functionaries.

Six clever high school boys took it into their heads that they would go out and have a time, scare the "kids," cut the tent ropes and raise excitement generally. Following out this idea they took a 9 o'clock car Wednesday night and went out to the encampment. After leaving the car they had to walk quite a ways before reaching the tents. All was quiet when they arrived at the camp, save for the sentries pacing their beats.

As an opener for the trouble the high schoolers attempted to mob one of the sentries. The little soldier, however, was not taken by surprise, but warned the camp of the approach of the enemy. It seemed but a few seconds till every member of the brigade was up and out of his tent and armed with gun and bayonet.

Then they gave chase to the intruders. One was chased out in a swamp, where he waded into his armpits to avoid capture, a second in his flight received such a severe pricking with a bayonet that he has not taken his meals in his natural attitude since. Two others made good their escape, and the remaining two were captured and ignominiously confined to the guard house, where they stayed until faint daylight, when the powers that control the camp let them go to put a stop to their parents' possible anxiety.

Sparrows Drew Poorly.

If the audience that turned out to witness the "grand glove contest" is any criterion there is very little sporting blood in Marquette. The "manly art" doesn't seem to be appreciated.

There were perhaps a hundred and fifty lovers of this form of amusement who gathered in the opera house last night. There was a bunch in the front center of the parquet, and a fringe in the first balcony. They looked lonesome.

It was 9:15 when the principals in the first match appeared with A. R. U. Organizer Ames as referee and master of ceremonies. Mr. Ames took occasion first to announce the labor address at Fraternity Hall tonight, and when the crowd objected to the delay he remarked that he had often stayed till three in the morning to see a sparring match. The principals in the preliminary go were then introduced. They were "Buck" Price, and a colored fighter named Harry Lennon. The four rounds sparred by them was quite as pleasing as any feature of the entertainment. The Marquette boy made an excellent showing against his antagonist, who is a professional.

This match being over there was another delay, and then Lindholm and Klessner, the heavyweights, made their appearance. Lindholm is a Marquette man while Klessner comes from Chicago. The local man got considerably the best of the go, though Klessner braced up some in the fourth round. At the conclusion of this a vote was taken, and by a good majority Lindholm was indicated the victor. Referee Ames, however, ignored this and gave the decision to Klessner, and announced that the latter would spar for points against Lennon after the hat had been passed for an additional purse. The hat was passed, and a sum of money, by courtesy a purse, was collected. Ames said the amount was so small that if he knew who the individual donors were he'd give it all back. At this a voice from the gallery cried, "Where's my dollar?"

"If anyone in this crowd hasn't got the worth of his money," cried Klessner jumping from his seat. "Just let him come up here and put on the gloves with me, and I'll give it to him, anyone!"

There was no response to this invitation, so the third and last contest was begun. This consisted of one and one-half rounds. The first round was a good one. The second started so well that the crowd got to cheering, and the referee stopped it then and there, threatening to call the match off if quiet wasn't restored. Klessner seemed to suppose that the referee had just done this, and took off his gloves and didn't put them on again, and the match ended in a fizzle, while Referee Ames walked off the stage amid yells of derision.

Eunice Goodrich.

The most popular of popular priced favorites will be with us for one week commencing Monday Aug. 31. Today there are scores of stars who have attained fame and fortune by playing not only one line of business, but one particular part, around which a play is written. It is therefore refreshing to the lover of the drama for the drama's sake, to note the great success and corresponding popularity of Miss Goodrich. Certainly no actress before the public has achieved such marked success in so many different characters, and not one in a thousand of her many admirers have any idea of the versatility of the lady who has won their admiration by perhaps only one of her many artistic impersonations.

TOLD BY THE SURVIVORS.

in the burned village, knew many of the people, and he was much touched to witness their destitution. He says that the morning after the fire he met James Vincent, proprietor of the Continental Hotel. He asked him how his wife was, and in response was asked to come and see her. Mr. Vincent led the way to the beach, and there in a bunk in one of the fish shanties lay Mrs. Vincent, utterly prostrated by the excitement and exhaustion of the previous day. The Vincents lost practically everything and have no insurance.

One man, a lawyer, failed to save any of his goods because he couldn't decide on what to save. He was the only member of the family at home. When the fire was still in the other end of the village and there was time to have gotten out some goods and removed them to a place of safety, he walked into the house, looked all around, then walked out and locked the door. Everything looked equally valuable, and he couldn't decide what to take first, so he left them all to burn and went over and helped a neighbor.

J. H. Comstock had a rare collection of coins, valued at upwards of sixty thousand dollars. By the greatest good luck his wife succeeded in saving these and the jewelry, although the family lost everything else except the clothes they wore.

There was one young woman who escaped in an old calico wrapper and had that torn full of holes climbing through barbed wire fences. She was lamenting her condition, when someone stopped to sympathize with her. "I wouldn't mind if I only had a decent dress!" she wailed.

The sufferings of the people after the fire were intense. Mr. Backus says that at Rockland the succeeding night women and children walked the streets utterly miserable, moaning because of their hunger and cold.

Both he and Mr. Richardson agree with the other survivors that if the conflagration had broken out at night lives would have been lost, possibly so many as a hundred. According to these two gentlemen there are fifty houses left standing within a radius of a mile and a half, but the main part of the town has been wiped clean.

MIDLAKE AND HARBOR GOSSIP.
The Peerless was in Thursday morning going up.
Five carriers took on loads at Presque Isle dock yesterday. In spite of this drain however the dock is getting filled up, and will soon have 40,000 tons reserve ore in its pockets.

Arrived—Wm. Edwards, Golden Age, J. H. Wade, J. C. Lockwood, Vulcan, Cleared—Wm. Edwards, Golden Age, Buffalo; J. H. Wade, Andaste, Cleveland; J. C. Lockwood, Ashabula; M. M. Drake, Fairport; Vulcan, Toledo.

The schooner Phineas S. Marsh, laden with sandstone from Portage to Ashabula, foundered Wednesday in Lake Superior, five miles east of Two Hart river. The crew of the Marsh were all saved by the heroic efforts of the life savers in charge of Captain Small. With her cargo of stone the Marsh, an old schooner, was deeply laden, and the sea, which came up before the heavy breeze boarded her frequently, and the schooner labored in them. Finally she sprung leak, and the water gained on the pumps, Captain William Sommerville of Cleveland, who was in command, hoisted signals of distress, which were answered by the life savers. The lifeboat made three trips in the heavy sea, before the crew of the Marsh, nine men in all, were taken to the beach. Shortly after the last man was taken off the Marsh sank. The Marsh was owned by Joseph Daville of Cleveland, was valued at $11,000 and insured for $9,000, and with $1,200 insurance on the freight list. She was built in 1867, was of 543 tons rating, and was one of the last of the big sailing vessels. The insurance was placed as follows: Reliance Marine, $1,000; Marine, $1,750; Sea, $1,000; British American, $1,000; Greenwich, St. Paul Fire and Marine, and Providence of Washington, $500 each, Union Marine, $2,250. The Marine also had the $1,200 insurance on the freight list. The cargo consisted of 850 tons of stone shipped by the Kerber-Jacobs Stone company of Marquette.
