GERMANY HAS OBJECTIONS.

Said to Be Dissatisfied With the Course of Great Britain in Zanzibar.

DECLINES TO SURRENDER THE ALLEGED USURPER.

Rumors That It Is the Intention of the German Authorities to Reinstate Said Khalid to the Throne Cause Uneasiness.

BRITISH REQUESTS ARE IGNORED

ZANZIBAR, Sept. 11.—[Copyrighted by Associated Press].—A belief is prevalent here that Germany does not intend to acquiesce in the action taken by the British government, through Rear Admiral Henry Rawson, in appointing Hamoud bin Mohammed bin Said sultan of Zanzibar. Said Khalid, the alleged usurper, has been at the German consulate ever since the fall of the palace Aug. 27, and in spite of the request of the British consul for his surrender there has been no disposition manifested on the part of the German officials to give him up. Rumors are now in circulation that it is the intention of the German authorities to reinstate Said Khalid on the throne from which he was deposed. These rumors have caused great uneasiness here.

THIRD ONE IN THE WEEK.

Bank of Commerce at New Orleans Falls—A Run on Another.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The Bank of Commerce, a state institution, has failed as a result of inability to convert its assets to meet a run. The assets are $800,000; liabilities, $400,000. There was a large crowd outside the bank, but everybody was orderly. This afternoon there was a lively run on the People's bank. Depositors flocked to the institution and formed into line before the paying teller's window. So many people were in line that it extended clear into the street. There was considerable excitement but no trouble of any kind. The officials of the People's bank do not seem to be worried over the run.

BOOKKEEPERS IN THE TOILS.

Frank B. Lefe and Louis Colombe, bookkeepers at the Union National bank, have been arrested by the United States marshal. The charges are unknown. Colombe was not taken into custody, as he was too sick to leave home. He is under arrest, however, at his house. Lefe was arraigned and held under $3,000 bonds for hearing. He refused to make a statement. Two sets of books were kept. The defalcation is reported to be in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

The arrests were made in order to hold the men pending further investigation. The total defalcation so far as discovered amounts to over $470,000, and the falsification of the books, if not done to cover up the actual losses of the bank by the failure of a prominent commercial firm eight or ten years ago, shows the stealing has been going on for some years.

Bookkeeper Colombe took a dose of morphine this morning and has been unconscious all day.

SUPPORTED AT THE PRIMARIES.

Eastern Massachusetts Democrats Will Stand by Bryan.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Democratic primaries for the selection of delegates to the state, congressional, councillor, senatorial and county conventions were held pretty generally in the cities and towns around Boston tonight, as well as in this city. The result of these shows the eastern Massachusetts Democracy declared for Bryan and Sewall and for the ratification of the Chicago platform and is determined for George Fred Williams as its standard bearer in the coming gubernatorial campaign.

LOWERED ROBERT J'S COLORS.

Fifty Thousand People See Agan Again Defeat the Great Pacer.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 11.—For the third time, Robert J was beaten by the New England pacer, Frank Agan, today. It was at Narragansett Park, and 53,000 people saw the great battle between the pacers. Robert J took the first two heats, and then commenced to give evidence of being just a trifle off form. It was but a trifle, and yet sufficient to lose for him the best race ever paced in New England. The next three heats went to Agan. Best time, 2:03 1/4.

TRAVELING MAN SUICIDES.

Ira C. Whitney of Green Bay Kills Himself at Houghton.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Sept. 11.—[Special.]—Ira C. Whitney of Green Bay, traveling salesman for the Smith-Wallace Boot and Shoe company of Chicago, committed suicide this afternoon by discharging a revolver into his head and body. Whitney was the oldest traveling salesman visiting this section, having been coming here the past twenty-five years.

ARE SICK OF WAR.

Matabelo Chiefs Accept the British Terms of Surrender.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 11.—Advices from the Matopos Hills say that on Wednesday last seven chiefs and forty headmen were present at a conference with British officials. The natives were offered peace on the surrender of their arms and on giving up those who had been guilty of murdering settlers and others in cold blood. The chiefs agreed to this, saying they were beaten and sick of war.

WANTS BRITAIN TO ACT.

Henry Asquith Thinks the Sultan Should Be Called to Time.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Hon. Henry Asquith, formerly secretary of state for the home department, has addressed a message to The Chronicle, in which he says:

"I shall shortly address my constituents, when I shall express my views at length, but I am in entire accord with the conviction that the time has come when Great Britain should refuse to hold further terms with a government which has become a mere instrument for executing the purposes of a will either criminal or insane. The European powers, by whose favor the sultan holds his throne, cannot condone his past crimes or ignore the future dangers without sharing the guilt of one and the other. I hope we shall witness such a manifestation of opinion here as will save Great Britain from any such complicity and will give strength and authority and decided action on the part of our government."

The Chronicle in an editorial applauds Mr. Asquith's strong message. The Chronicle, Daily News and other newspapers publish columns of protests from public bodies and churches, and of influential men, and also an appeal from Frances Willard to the ten thousand Woman's Christian Temperance unions in the United States and Canada to raise their voices against the massacres of Armenians. A dispatch from Constantinople says:

"An official communication to newspapers has caused a sensation. It contemplates the certainty of Armenian risings in the provinces, but holds all officials responsible if the matters develop into massacres, pillage or destruction of property. At the same time soldiers are authorized to use their arms in self defence against all who attack them. This is the first time an official communication has mentioned massacres and pillage."

SMOKED THE PIPE OF PEACE.

Sioux and Chippewa Indians Bury the Tomahawk at Ashland.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 11.—This afternoon an important historical event occurred in this city, when the Sioux and Chippewa, two of the most powerful tribes of American Indians and bitter enemies for centuries, smoked the pipe of peace. The chiefs of both tribes were present. Chief Cloud of the Chippewas made an address, in which he said:

"In times gone by we have been enemies, but now we come with good feelings, and our hearts are as pure as the flags we carry. While we love our forefathers, we are proud of our advance in civilization and greet you in the dawn of a new era as friends."

Rocky Bear and Flat Iron responded for the Sioux. The action will be officially ratified by the different tribes of the Sioux in the west.

OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION TODAY

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 11.—All the principal figures in tomorrow's notification ceremonies have arrived except Senator Caffery of Louisiana, who is expected tomorrow. General Buckner came up from his home today in order to be on hand to welcome Palmer to Kentucky. General Palmer arrived this evening, a reception committee of three hundred, comprising local national Democratic leaders, meeting him at the depot. From 8 to 10 tonight the two candidates held an informal reception at the Gall House.

LETTER CARRIERS' OFFICERS.

Parsons of New York President—At San Francisco Next Year.

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 11.—The letter carriers today directed their chairman to appoint a committee to visit the postmaster general in the interest of substitute carriers. At the evening session the convention selected San Francisco as the convention city for 1897 and elected the following officers: President, John N. Parsons of New York; vice president, John Atkinson, Fall River, Mass.; secretary, Alex. McDonald, Grand Rapids.

DENIED BY TEXAS POPULISTS.

Will Not Fuse With Republicans on the Electoral Ticket.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11.—The Populist state executive committee adjourned late night after adopting a resolution recognizing Bryan and Watson, and denying the published charges of a deal between the Republicans and Populists to carry the state offices for the latter and the state for McKinley.

They Couldn't Agree.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Sept. 11.—A special to The Times from Topeka, Kas., states the middle-of-the-road wing of the Populist party of Kansas, which came out yesterday with a call for a bolting Populist convention to nominate Bryan and Watson electors, has developed a split before it could affect an organization.

High Jump by Horses.

NEW BRIGHTON, S. I., Sept. 11.—The outdoor record for high jumping horses was broken today at a fair in West Brighton, Staten Island. The record was 6 ft. 2 in. Amherst, owned by P. A. Hart, cleared 6 ft. 8 in. and Vulcano, owned by Charles L. Hart, cleared 6 ft. 6 in. They are both prize winners and cross country hunters.

Earle the Nominee.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 11.—The Democratic executive committee tonight officially declared Judge Earle the senatorial nominee, his majority over Governor Evans being 3,300.

A GREAT DAY IN CANTON.

Thousands of Callers at the McKinley Home to Pay Their Respects.

TERRIFIC CRUSH TO GRASP THE EX-GOVERNOR'S HAND.

Vermont State Officials and Big Delegations from Erie, Pa., and Lorain County, O., Are Addressed by the Nominee.

VISITORS FROM A DISTANCE.

CANTON, O., Sept. 11.—This has been a day of crowds and crushing in Canton. Three people fainted and were carried away from the McKinley porch, where they had joined in the crush of thousands to grasp the Republican nominee by the hand. After traveling nearly seven hundred miles, the Vermont delegation reached Canton early in the morning and marched to the McKinley home and paid their respects before 9 o'clock. After the formal presentations and responses, Governor-elect Grout, Senator Proctor and others made brief addresses of congratulation. In replying to their congratulations, McKinley said, in part:

TRUSTS ALL TO THE PEOPLE.

"To me the question of free trade is a question of humanity, the voice of labor pleading for its own; and the question of free silver is a question of public morality, honor and good faith, and its success would be a blot on our hitherto spotless national credit. The American people as a nation, like those of the state of Vermont, are entirely above so unworthy an imputation. The people that could as a weak, struggling confederacy of less than five million inhabitants emerge from an eight years war of blight and destruction and proceed immediately to gather up and pay off its enormous revolutionary debt, including the independent debt of all the states and aggregating one hundred and thirty-five millions, or $37 per capita, will not falter at the present temptation. The people who could tax themselves most heavily to equip and maintain the army and navy of the Union and continue the most expensive war in history will not turn their backs on the soldiers of that war, not seek to pay their pensions in dollars worth only half their face value. The people who emerged from that war, with an interest-bearing debt of $2,322,000,000 or $70 per capita, will not now, after having honestly paid three-fourths of that great debt, ever seek directly or indirectly to repudiate one dollar of it, or to cheapen coin payment."

The victory in Vermont, Major McKinley said, signified that the people of the United States wanted protection and reciprocity.

FARMERS AND WORKMEN CALL.

The Lorain county delegation, composed of 2,000 farmers and also the workmen from Tom Johnson's iron works at Lorain, joined the representatives of the Pennsylvania Republican league and the Erie (Pa.) Lincoln club in the public square and marched with them together, nearly 5,000 strong, with half a dozen bands and scores of banners, to the house about twenty thousands had gathered daily. Judge J. W. Steele of Oberlin spoke for the Lorain county people, voicing thoughts like these:

"This delegation of 2,000 people is composed mostly of farmers, workmen and quarrymen. Four years ago the Democratic doctors diagnosed the national condition; they mistook the ruddy bloom of health for the hectic flush of disease, and prescribed free trade. We took the bolus, and are sick. Eight weeks ago the Democratic quacks met at Chicago; they turned down their doctors and, with rampant and vociferous deliberation, they prescribed for the national ills a compound of anarchy, repudiation and free silver. Shall we take the dose? From 1890 to 1893, under the benign policy of protection to home industry, we revealed in prosperity such as no nation had ever enjoyed. We propose to secure a return to like prosperity, and to that end we are here to pledge an earnest and untiring effort to reinstate the Republican party in power and place the champion of protection in the executive chair of the nation."

For the Republican league of Pennsylvania and the Erie Lincoln club, Judge J. F. Downing immortalized Lincoln at length, and then turning to Major McKinley said:

LINCOLN'S BELIEFS ARE HIS.

"We are convinced that no mistake will be made in placing McKinley—the boy soldier of 1861 and the well-experienced statesman of 1896—in the presidential chair; and let me say, we are going to do it. Lincoln believed it was wise policy to protect our home industries, to endeavor to bring the farmer's market nearer and nearer to the farmer's door; and so do you. Lincoln believed in a financial system which would at once protect labor against the evils of vicious exchanges; and so do you. Lincoln believed in suppressing a rebellion against the peace and dignity of the United States, whether in the south or in the north, and protecting all the people in their inalienable rights under the Constitution and laws of the country; and so do you."

The united Pennsylvanians and Ohioans cheered and cheered again as Mr. McKinley mounted a chair to respond. He said, in part:

"You are here from different sections of the country; you are here representing different occupations and callings in life, but you are all here with a common purpose, all here with a common

MARQUETTE, MICH., SEPT. 12. Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The gold Democrats of Wisconsin have concluded not to set up a state ticket of their own, but will make a vigorous campaign as they can for the national ticket representing their views.

Richard Mason of Gladstone has been placed in nomination for state senator by the Republicans of the Thirtieth senate district, which is composed of the counties of Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce, Schoolcraft, Menominee and Delta.

Mr. George D. Chippen of Iron county has been nominated for member of the assembly by the Republicans of the representative district made up of the counties of Baraga, Dickinson and Iron.

The Republicans of the district displayed good judgment in objecting to Moriarty, but the nomination should have gone to Mr. Roger C. Williams of L'Anse, as a matter of fair play between the counties of the district, and also on account of the excellent qualifications of Mr. Williams for the office.

Those who seek to participate in the discussion of the monetary issue in the space set apart for that purpose in THE MINING JOURNAL are reminded that mere assertion is not argument, and that papers advancing propositions and failing to give argument or facts in support of the same will not be used; also that articles of great length will not be printed.

With the decadence of the movement that brought them into being, the A. P. A. papers are going to the wall all over the country. It is but a few weeks since the most pretentious and ably conducted of their number, the Boston Standard, (which was a modern daily and backed by considerable money), was forced to suspend publication for want of patronage.

generosity was designed to influence the action of the convention. But this week, and since his defeat for the congressional nomination, he was informed that houses to shelter the homeless will be greatly needed at Ontonagon immediately and that the relief committee there is unprovided with means to build them.

It is not true that the gold standard in this country was the fruit of a conspiracy; it is a fact that labor and its products in the United States are partially demoted by reason of it.

These questions, it is believed, suggest the honest—shall I say innocent—convictions of a majority of free silver disciples and an affirmative answer to each of these questions constitutes the foundation of their faith.

NOTING the remarks that Sam Stephenson made at Ironwood after the nomination of Sheldon, regarding his experience with the "leg pullers" and as a builder of churches in the district, the "Soo" Democrat indulges in reminiscent comment, as follows:

After his defeat at Ironwood for the Republican nomination for congress from this district Hon. S. M. Stephenson addressed the convention and said that one advantage he would have would be "getting away from 'leg pullers,'" and he further said: "I hope my successor won't have as many churches to build as I had."

He further said: "I hope my successor won't have as many churches to build as I had." We do not know how many churches Sam has built, but if the other counties in the district are as prolific of church building during a presidential campaign as Chippewa he must have assisted in a goodly number.

THE OPPOSING STANDARDS.

CAUSES OF THE BUSINESS DEPRESSION.—George Rudy, in THE MINING JOURNAL of Sept. 10, asks the following questions:

Is it not true that the gold standard in this country was the fruit of a conspiracy? Is it not a fact that labor and its products in the United States are partially demoted by reason of it?

These questions, it is believed, suggest the honest—shall I say innocent—convictions of a majority of free silver disciples and an affirmative answer to each of these questions constitutes the foundation of their faith.

power you have the value, and further inquiry serves no purpose. I am glad to learn the uttermost of your love is for the laboring classes.

Regarded from their sources of revenue men may be divided into three classes: laborers, employers of labor, and money lenders.

But he kept ahead of the train that was pushed by an earthquake. He said he felt tender about it because he had figured prominently in it himself.

The story concerned a habit engineer on the Vandalla and the Ohio & Mississippi roads had of racing. Just east of East St. Louis is the crossing of a belt railroad, and from there on to the bluffs, seven miles away, is a straight streak of parallel track.

The outgoing passenger trains all leave East St. Louis at about the same time, it was the regular thing for Ohio & Mississippi and Van engineers to hammer for their lives over the seven miles, while the passengers yelled defiance at one another and whooped and got excited.

Boothby straightened up for the race of his life. Tenderly, notch by notch, he opened the throttle, while the fireman kept the old kettle just off the popping point.

To his joy, Boothby saw he was inching away from his opponent. Like a statue he sat, coddling the machine, and at the first mile he was two coach lengths to the good.

Suddenly the Van engineer saw something was happening. Looking over his shoulder he found the O. & M. train only half a car length back and surging along like lightning.

Right at her shoulder was the 60. Boothby gave her more. They were both going within a mile a minute.

Boothby said he never saw a locomotive go like the 60, but he knew his machine was as good as the best. They plunged forward more furiously than the wind.

At Collinsville Hank Hibbard, white-faced, came rushing up to the 182 as she lay under the water tank getting water.

"Great heavens, Boothby!" cried the conductor, "do you know what you've been running against?"

"The O. & M.'s hottest stuff, and I cooled it for 'em."

"Yes, you have. You've been running against an earthquake. The O. & M. train was picked up by it just out of town. A hill 20 feet high followed her last Pullman and she was running down hill the entire way, being pushed forward all the distance."

"Say, Hank," said Boothby, "did that earthquake help us any?"

"No; we were 100 yards ahead all the time."

Boothby climbed back on his box and Hibbard returned to the train. But although Boothby's achievement brought glory to his roundhouse, he would never race again.

These are the two instructive stories told by Engineer Boothby to David Lawrence and myself—two trusting cyclists who stopped to rest with him.—Chicago News.

Politics in Keweenaw County. The local political situation in Keweenaw county is becoming decidedly interesting, there being a lively scramble for all the offices. Candidates for Republican nominations are as follows: Sheriff, Jackson, Sebisky and O'Brien of Allouez, Dodge of Delaware and Harvey of Eagle Harbor; treasurer, Bolly of Copper Falls and Goldworthy of Allouez; clerk, Bennetts, the present incumbent, and Frank Bowden, Eagle Harbor; prosecuting attorney, O. J. Larson and W. A. Bateman, Calumet. The voting population of the county scarcely exceeds 400, and the apportionment of delegates to the Republican convention to be held the latter part of the month is as follows: Allouez, three, and Eagle River, Eagle Harbor, Delaware and Central one each.

Studies at the Seminary. The following studies will be taught in the Finnish seminary, recently opened at Hancock: Religious doctrine, United States history, arithmetic, geography, English language, Finnish history, Finnish language, Latin, zoology, penmanship, drawing and bookkeeping and also vocal and instrumental music. A minister is expected from Finland to succeed Rev. J. K. Nikander who resigned his church duties to devote his whole time to college work. Professor Jacob Holmquist, a noted musician, is expected at Hancock in a short time and will have charge of the musical department of the college and also act as choirmaster at the church.

The Ideal Panacea. James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years. To the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions of other preparations."

Boiling River it is sure enough. It is not as large as the Mississippi, indeed it is quite small, but it is a mighty interesting stream for all that. It issues from the sides of a mountain in a thousand tiny rills, more or less, and of almost as many colors. These gather themselves into pools and lakelets on the mountain's side, covering an area of about 200 acres. Overflowing their boundaries they slowly trickle down the sides of the mountain forming small cliffs, the most wonderful in the world. From a distance they can hardly be believed who the eyesight reveals—white, black, orange, lemon, terracotta, green, blue, red, pink, separate and in manifold combinations stand out before him. It is a hill of painted cliffs on the side of the mountain that rises high above. And the odd part of it is that each of these exquisite colors represents a different temperature. Does that startle your credulity? Even so it is true.

When through with this beautiful painting process, these waters again congregate and then, as if full of mischief like a pack of small boys trying to play hide and seek, dive down and remain under the ground for a space of two miles and then flow out from the mouth of a cavern, one of the clearest, most beautiful, green streams imaginable. Where these waters emerge from the mountain into the little lakes they are hot, boiling hot. During their dark underground journey they fall several hundred feet and also many degrees in hotness, so that when they again see daylight they are much cooler. This then is the boiling river, an underground mountain stream of hot water.

TRUE WHEN WRITTEN. But Time Brought Changes at the Summer Resort. I was attracted to a place in Virginia, near the Atlantic ocean, where the combined advantages of surf bathing and an absence of mosquitoes were advertised, says a writer in the Washington Star. The surf bathing was there, but there were never more or larger mosquitoes than infested the place. The landlord was a leader in the church and made a great point of his conscientiousness, so I questioned him about the insects: "Mosquitoes worse this year than usual?" I asked. "Reckon not. They gen'ally bite purty sharp this season of the year." "Are there always this many here?" "Erhout—some gits killed, but don't seem ter make no difference." "Didn't you advertise that the place was free from mosquitoes?" "Sartin. I allus do, an' ef ter war a single skeeter here I'd say so. I never lied yit, an' I never shall. No, sir; when I say a thing, it's jest that way. I would be willin' to giv' you a $100 fer every skeeter you could hav' foun' hyar when I writ that thar 'ad.' las' January. Ef you stay till frost you'll fin' that thar ain't one lef. In July an' August it stan's to reason thar mus' be skeeters."

Smoked Before the King. Li Hung Chang seems to be but a slight respecter of court etiquette, for, we are told, he absolutely broke down the rule of the Belgian court etiquette by the simple process of taking out a long pipe, which, after handing it to his secretary, who filled and returned it, he smoked with infinite deliberation. King Leopold was a good deal astonished by the occurrence, but he rose to the occasion admirably, and at once caused cigarettes to be handed round, with the result that Li Hung soon found his position no longer one of "splendid isolation."

British Rule the Cables. Nearly four-fifths of the submarine cables of the world are in the hands of British companies, who own a length of more than 150,000 miles of cable, laid at a cost of over £30,000,000. Of 14 cables across the Atlantic to America, France has one and Great Britain ten, while so popular are the British cables that nine out of every ten telegrams are dispatched over British lines.

OFF ON ANOTHER TOUR.

Candidate Bryan Starts on His Trip to Southern and Eastern States.

LARGE CROWD AT THE STATION TO SAY GOODBYE.

Says Democrats Are Sure of Nebraska and That the Silver Cause Is Growing Stronger Daily—Where He Will Speak.

BRYAN'S VACATION WAS SHORT

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 11.—The Silver clubs of this city, headed by a brass band, escorted Mr. Bryan to the depot this evening, where a large crowd had gathered to say good-bye to the nominee, who started tonight on his campaigning trip through the south and east. There are to be demonstrations along the route.

Mr. Bryan, when he reached the car before leaving Lincoln, was called upon to make a speech. He said he did not know whether he would return to Nebraska again until just before election or not, but he went away feeling it was not necessary to stay in Nebraska. Continuing he said:

"From reports which I have been receiving I do not believe that there is a single county in this state that the Republicans are sure of carrying this fall. And more than that, every day finds our cause stronger throughout the Union than it was the day before [Great applause and cries of hurrah for tomorrow]."

NEBRASKA CITY, Sept. 11.—There were short stops at Elmwood, Wabash, Weeping Water, Nehawka and Union, where crowds shook hands with the nominee. In this city Bryan was given an ovation by thousands of people and made a short speech.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—William J. Bryan will deliver eight speeches in southern Illinois Monday from the platform of a special train which is to carry him from St. Louis to Henderson, Ky., over the Louisville and Nashville road. He left Lincoln tonight, going direct to St. Louis, where he is to speak tomorrow. He will spend Sunday at Salem, Ill., his old home. Monday night Bryan is scheduled to speak at Louisville, and from there he goes through Kentucky and North Carolina to Richmond, Va., Washington, Baltimore and Brooklyn. Three days will then be spent in the New England states. The eastern tour will be wound up Sept. 27 at Bath, Me., where he will be the guest of Arthur Sewall.

Quits the Ministry.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Rev. E. W. Drew, of the Union Avenue M. E. church, who was recently expelled from the Rock River conference on the charge of immoral conduct and whose case was remanded back for trial by the board of appeals, has surrendered his ordination papers to Presiding Elder Burns and decided to retire from the ministry permanently. Mr. Drew gives as his reason for withdrawal that he desires to engage in other pursuits.

Gold Men Have a Ticket, Too.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 11.—After the Republican convention last night had nominated a state ticket, headed by A. C. Botin for governor, the silver men withdrew to allow the gold men to adopt a platform and nominate congressional candidates and McKinley electors. O. F. Goddard of Yellowstone county was nominated for congress. The convention endorsed the St. Louis platform and declared for woman suffrage.

New Hoo Hoo Supreme Officers.

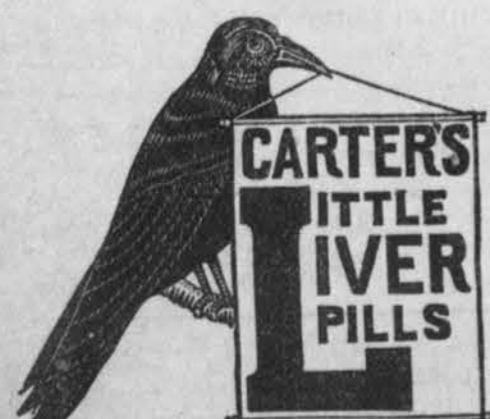

NASHVILLE, Sept. 11.—The Hoo Hoo convention held a business session today and elected supreme officers as follows: H. H. Hemingway of Wisconsin, snark of the universe; senior hoo hoo, J. J. Martin, Detroit; junior hoo hoo, A. A. White, Missouri; bojum, P. B. Walker, Jr., Minneapolis; scrivener, K. H. Baird, Nashville; jabberwock, E. B. Preston, Louisville, Ky. The convention adjourned tonight.

Silverites and Pops Fuse.

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 11.—Bryan and Sewell electors and fusion with the National Silver party with a Populist for governor is the result of a three days session of the People's party convention. Morton S. Bailey, judge of the district court at Canon City, was nominated by acclamation for governor this afternoon.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

What Dun's Trade Review Finds as Features This Week.

New York, Sept. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade will tomorrow say: Better prospects and the relief from the monetary anxiety do not yet bring larger demands for finished products, though large buying of pig iron, wool, leather, hides, cotton and other materials continue to show by the growing business that a general movement upward in prices will come with the replenishment of dealers' stocks this fall. Most prices are extremely low, so that nothing more than an extraordinary demand would advance them, but the bank failures at New Orleans cause temporary hesitation, crop returns indicate disappointment in some cotton and some spring wheat states, the prices of corn and oats make it unprofitable to sell at present, the number of manufacturing works and mines in operation does not gain but rather decreases, reductions in wages are somewhat numerous and occasionally resisted by strikes, and all these conditions diminish for the time the buying power of the people. While many think general improvement cannot come until election has removed political uncertainties, others expect soon to see the result anticipated.

The weekly output of pig iron decreased 26,578 tons in August to 130,500 tons, against 217,300 in November, a shrinkage of 40 per cent. Other works still have stopped since September began. The unsold stocks increased 62,067 tons in August, exclusive of those accumulating in the hands of the great steel companies. Strictly not half the iron-making or iron-working capacity is now employed and the demand for finished products does not grow, but heavy speculative purchases of pig, especially from southern works, has sustained prices. If the extent of private concessions could be known, perhaps there are less to secure orders than there were two weeks ago.

The output of Connellsville coke was $5,997 tons weekly, against 166,000 Oct. 6 last year, and 5,640 tons as at work, against 13,511 open, with 10,000 workers now idle. Sales of wool for the week have equalled the normal consumption for the first time in some months, not because manufacturers have more orders or are doing more work, for no gain is seen in demand or output, but the buying is mainly speculative, based on a belief that prices must advance.

No considerable decrease appears in the enormous stock of print cloths, although the output has been reduced about half for two months. Prices advanced 3-16 c. during the week. For other goods there is a better demand and manufacturers have advanced prices because of the rising cost of material, the average for all cottons having risen 5.3 per cent. since Aug. 6, but stocks of many kinds are large.

Wheat declined a cent, but then advanced, closing a cent up for the week. Western receipts still exceed last year's. Accounts of disappointing returns in the spring wheat states are numerous, but it is difficult to reconcile short estimates with heavy marketing at low prices. Corn is almost wholly out of danger, and the yield is generally expected to be the largest, as the price here is the lowest ever known.

Failures in the United States for the week have been 315, against 187 for the same week of last year.

THE BANK CLEARINGS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A statement compiled by Bradstreet's shows the total bank clearings of the principal cities of the United States for the week were $750,029,234, a decrease of 24.2 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

At the Point of Death.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 11.—Major General James D. Morgan, division commander under Sherman, and the most prominent civilian-soldier in the state, is at the point of death and cannot last through the night. He commanded a battalion in the Mexican war, and is president of the Army of the Cumberland, and treasurer of the Soldiers' Home.

On the 15th Inst.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Chairman Butler, of the Populist national committee, today received a letter from Senator Allen, chairman of the notification committee, informing him that his letter of notification will be delivered to Bryan on the 15th inst. Mr. Butler's letter to Watson will be delivered on the same day.

Burned Out Again.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 11.—Since the asylum for feeble-minded children burned last month, these wards have been cared for in the annex. This building burned tonight, but all the inmates were rescued. They were brought scantily clad and barefoot into this city and are being cared for at the Army. All are believed to be safe.

At Philadelphia Next Time.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—The great sun council of the Improved Order of Red Men today voted to hold the next council at Philadelphia. A ritual was partially adopted and the rest referred to the council of great chiefs. Changes in the ritual of the Degree of Pocanontas was deferred until the next council.

Charged With Embezzlement.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—Oskar Schutter, director of the Norddeutscher Handels Gesellschaft, has been arrested on a charge of embezzlement. It is reported his defalcation will amount from two to three million marks. Other arrests are pending.

Won't Speak in Nebraska.

IOLA, Kas., Sept. 11.—Thomas E. Watson will not go to Nebraska, as he expected to do when he left Georgia last week. From Abilene, where he speaks tomorrow, he goes to Colorado to spend a week in the campaign there.

College Professor Dies.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Professor Francis J. Child of Harvard University died today, aged seventy-one.

A GREAT DAY IN CANTON.

aim and all marching under the same glorious old flag. I know much of my own fellow citizens of Ohio who do me honor by their visit today. I know something of the great resources of Lorain county and its industries, but above all I know and value the splendid spirit of loyalty and patriotism of its people.

"I bid the Lincoln club of the city of Erie a welcome to my home. You bear the most honored name in Republican annals, and none is more illustrious in the annals of our country—a name which belongs not to a single city, or single state or any aggregation of clubs, but to the whole American people. It is not the property of any political party. It belongs to ages. It is full of inspiration, and embodies every Republican doctrine and represents the best aims and purposes of American citizenship.

TRIBUTE TO MARTYRED PRESIDENT. "I doubt if there is any other name in American history which more fully typifies the possibilities and triumphs of American opportunity than that of Abraham Lincoln. His life and career so insidiously promulgated that there is a class of divisions in the United States. It is gratifying to know that on the great questions which are dividing us this year Lincoln stood from the beginning of his early manhood where we stand today. We have the satisfaction of knowing that in the present struggle we are close to him and have his approval of the great principles we advocate. No man has shown more thorough knowledge of the tariff and its influence upon domestic prosperity than he.

"I am glad to meet the young men of the Republican league of the state of Pennsylvania. There is no surer safety for our institutions than the manifestation of an intelligent and patriotic interest by the young men of the United States. America is a country of the greatest and freest opportunity. We have no hereditary titles and we will have no hereditary poverty. There are two great incentives to American manhood—realization of individual ambition and patriotic devotion to country.

"The more active and intelligent the participation of every citizen in state affairs, the freer and purer and greater will be the government. In a discussion such as we are having here, a sober and intelligent use of the ballot is the greatest foundation upon which our institutions can rest and takes the place of a revolution in a despotic government. The source of all power is from the people themselves. That is everywhere accepted as the foundation of our political fabrics.

"The Republican party has always been a party of lofty purposes. It has never waged a contest in all of its glorious past which more strongly appeals to the best sentiments and noblest aims of both young and old as today. Its past is illustrious with great deeds, but it does not stop with its past achievements. It does not rest its claim for confidence upon them alone. It deals with problems and issues of the day which are vital to the welfare of the country, and maintains the lofty purpose which has characterized it from the beginning. It stands for country now and will guard with sleepless vigilance its honor as it guarded its life in the mightiest crisis in our history."

THE CRUSH WAS TERRIFIC.

After Major McKinley had responded to the combined Erie-Lorain delegations, Governors Lippett of Rhode Island and Bushnell of Ohio arrived. McKinley was personally welcoming his thousands of callers. The crush was terrific, and three persons succumbed and were carried away. All this time thousands were pushing up to the McKinley porch. Governor Bushnell was enthusiastically received as he stepped on a chair. He said, in his address:

"We are glad to come and call on McKinley because he is the representative of the principles of the great party that we adhere to, the party which has done so much for humanity. We call to see him because we believe, as he does, that the employment of one man at fair wages in an American shop is worth more to the Republic than the employment of a thousand men in a British shop. We are glad to call and see him because he believes, as we do, in maintaining revenue collectors at the ports of the nation rather than at the doors of citizens. I congratulate him on the fact that so many loyal people from all over the country are coming here to pay him their respects; and, my fellow citizens, I need not tell you that he is worthy of any honor that the people of America can confer upon him.

Governor Lippett responded to repeated calls. He said his state, in proportion to his size, would do as well as Vermont.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11.—Pearce, Atkins & Co. and Henry Pearce Sons company, owners of the Franklin Cotton mills and extensive dealers in cotton, have failed. Assets, $240,000; liabilities, $163,000.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Wheat, was in better trade, within a 1/8c. range, closing 1/8c. below the top and 1/8c. higher than yesterday. The market was weak early on heavy northwestern receipts, New Orleans bank failures and indifferent cables. At the decline several large shorts started to cover and St. Louis turning strong, prices began to move up and before the demand was satisfied top figures were reached. The government report had no effect on prices.

Corn was quiet, within a 1/8c. range, closing 1/8c. from the top and 1/8c. higher than yesterday. The advance was due to the government crop report, frost in Nebraska and cooler weather predicted for Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Wisconsin, with higher cables.

Oats were active, within a 1/8c. range, closing at the top and 1/8c. higher than yesterday. The advance was caused by the bullish government crop report.

The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

Table with columns: Wheat, Dec., 58 1/4, 59 3/4, 57 1/2, 59 1/2; Corn, Dec., 31 1/4, 31 1/2, 21 1/2, 21 1/2.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Although the volume of business in stocks today was moderate, the speculative temper was cheerful and prices, with momentary exceptions, worked toward a higher plane. Outside buying, however, was chiefly conspicuous by its absence. The tone in financial circles is becoming unambiguously bullish. The gold arrivals today footed about $4,297,000, and there was deposited at the sub-treasury $5,000,000, of which sum $3,500,000 will accrue to the treasury gold reserve. The actual treasury gold holdings at the close of business tomorrow are expected to come close to $113,000,000. Rumors are current of preparations in London to ship about $20,000,000 of additional gold to this country. The extreme gains in prices extended from 1 to 3 per cent. in the general list, with Lackawanna on light dealings rising 7. The closing was strong, at about the best prices of the day.

The following were the closing prices of United States bonds and railroad stocks, etc.: U. S. regular, 115 1/2; Mo. Pacific, 19; U. S. 4s cp., 115 1/2; Nor. Pacific, 12 1/2; U. S. 5s reg., 110; Nor. Pacific pfd., 19 1/2; U. S. 5s cp., 110; Northwestern, 98; U. S. 4s reg., 107 1/2; N. Y. Central, 92; U. S. 4 1/2 reg., 91; Peoria, D. & E., 92; Pacific 65, 100; Rock Island, 60; Central Pacific, 13 1/2; St. Paul, 142; Chi. & Alton, 13; St. Paul pfd., 130; C. & Q., 67 1/2; St. Paul & O., 37 1/2; Del. COPPER STOCKS. BOSTON, Sept. 11.—The following were the closing prices of copper mining stocks: Allouez, 50; Atlantic, 16 25; Boston & Montana, 79 50; Butte & Boston, 1 25; Calumet & Hecla, 303 00; Centennial, 8 50; Franklin, 10 25; Kearsarge, 23 50; Oacoola, 23 50; Quincy, 105 00; Tamarack, 72 00; Wolverine, 6 50.

HUMOROUS. Boardman—"Don't you think Footlight is a clever actor?" Hashley—"Clever? Well, I should say so! He hasn't paid the landlady any money for six weeks!"—Yonkers Statesman.

"Did yez say yer health is bad, Mr. Donovan?" "Yis. O've bin walkin' in my slape." "Och, begorra, if Oi cu'd only have done that same, Oi wou'dn't be of the force now."—Harlem Life.

"Imitation am de sincerest flattery," said Uncle Eben, "but 'tain' nuffin but flattery alter all. Most folks show dah admiracousness ob er great man by copyin' his weakest p'int."—Washington Star.

Adolphus—"I wonder if Miss Sharpe is guying me, or if she is really gone on me?" Theodore—"Why, what did she say?" Adolphus—"She said I would always be fresh in her memory."—Boston Transcript.

"What's this I hear about the plumber and the paperhanger in the next square? Have they been exchanging houses?" "Not exactly. They did a lot of work for each other, and each had to take the other's house for his pay."—Tit-Bits.

Fuddy—"Hello, got back from the mountains? They tell me you stopped at the Little Head. Was it homelike there?" "Yes; that is why I left it. Babies squalling from morning till night, and not a room in the house where a fellow could have rest or quiet."—Boston Transcript.

Taken Literally.—Horton—"What would you do if I should ask you to lend me ten dollars?" Bixby (who thinks it is a conundrum)—"Give it up." Horton—"Thanks, old man. That's very good of you. I'll pay you back at the first possible moment, 'pon honor."

Make the Most of Yourself. It is the duty of every man to make the most of himself. Whatever his capacities may be, he is sure to find some place where he can be useful to himself and to others. But he cannot reach his highest usefulness without good health and he cannot have good health without pure blood. The blood circulates to every organ and tissue and when it is pure, rich and healthy it carries health to the entire system, but if it is impure it scatters disease wherever it flows. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier. It cures salt rheum, scrofula, catarrh, dyspepsia and rheumatism because these diseases have their origin in the blood.

YANKEE ENTERPRISE NEEDED.

Good Field in Central America for American Pluck and Ingenuity.

Taken as a whole, Central America offers a fair field for foreign enterprise, says the North American Review. By young men of self-denying and sober habits, possessing a capital of from $5,000 and a tolerable knowledge of the Spanish language, success either in commerce, agriculture or mining may be confidently counted upon, but they must avoid all interference in local politics. In these, as in all other countries, the foreigner whose character and mode of life command respect, will very seldom, if ever, suffer molestation at the hands of the authorities. The Nicaragua canal, if once commenced in earnest, will open up the almost inexhaustible resources of that republic, and the engineering works alone will offer lucrative employment to thousands of foreigners. Its physical difficulties are insignificant compared with those which Lesseps never overcame on the Isthmus of Panama; and perhaps the greatest obstacle to contend with is the silting of the alluvial deposits at the mouth of the San Juan river, the Atlantic entrance to the canal. Its whole length will be 194 English miles, 110 of which are included in the great lake of Nicaragua, 134 miles above the sea level, whose total superficial area is 3,668 English square miles, being 50 miles long and 25 miles broad, with an average depth of five fathoms.

CONSCIENCE HIS TYRANT.

Voices of a Young Man Who Always Filled His Promises. There was an anxious, doubtful look on the young fellow's face as he paced up and down the aisle in a Broadway cable car the other evening. There were half a dozen seats, yet the young man took no notice of them, and continued his restless pacing to and fro, says the New York Herald.

"Seats in front, plenty of 'em," said the conductor, brusquely. The young man continued his patrol. A benevolent old gentleman pulled him by the coat and said: "Here's a seat, sir." The young man shook his head.

A newcomer entered the car, and being an altogether officious person, pointed to the vacant seats. The young man still walked. "Hello, Henry!" exclaimed a dapper young fellow, an acquaintance of the perpetratee, who just then bounced into the car. "Why don't you sit down? What in the world makes you walk up and down like that?"

"Conscientious scruples," said the young pedestrian. "You see, I promised her that I would walk down to the florist and get some roses for her. I would much have preferred to ride, you know. It's hot and dusty, and so I'm compromising with myself by walking and riding at the same time."

He turned on his heel and passed up the car. According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 5,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of juice, weakness of glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial Natural, because it supplies the materials needed by the glands to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the glands and the stomach, until they are able to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. It does so by natural means, and therein lies the secret of its wonderful and unvaried success. At druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

COMING TO MARQUETTE. Monday, Sept. 21. Owing to the great number who called upon the Boston Specialists at the Urban House, Ishpeming, the past week and could not gain admittance they have been obliged to postpone their visit to Marquette one week. The doctors will be at the Marquette Hotel, Marquette, Sept. 21, and will remain until Sunday evening, Sept. 27.

Dr. Biggins and staff of physicians, of the Boston Electrical Medical and Surgical Institute, Boston, Mass., are making a tour through Michigan and will visit the important cities. This being an advertising trip and to introduce their new system they will give consultation and advice, surgical operations and one month's medicine free. All that is asked in return is that every patient treated will state to their friends the result obtained by their new system of treatment. All diseases and deformities treated. It is not more than once or twice in a lifetime when a community so situated as the one in which we live is placed upon a level with the greatest medical centers of the world, such as London, Paris, Vienna, Rome, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. The sick and afflicted should take advantage of the opportunity here offered. They may never again have the privilege of consulting such skillful physicians so near their homes. Go then and have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is curable they will treat you; if incurable they will give you such advice as to prolong life.

Dr. Biggins is said to be the greatest catarrh and lung specialist in America. If you have weak lungs or consumption do not fail to be examined. It will cost you nothing for a thorough examination. Remember the doctors treat all diseases and deformities. Their new discovery of absorbing medicine by electricity in paralysis, loss of power, rheumatism, and all diseases of the nervous system, is a Godsend to suffering humanity. Medical men stand appalled at the marvelous cures that are being effected wherever this system has been introduced. Thousands who have given up all hope of ever being cured have now an opportunity of a lifetime, to consult without charge, doctors of a national reputation. Remember the doctors' knowledge of medicine combined with electricity gives them control of diseases that others do not possess. If you have weak eyes, if you are hard of hearing, if you are lame and can't walk this new system will cure you quickly. The doctors locate your disease without asking you any questions. Go early, as their offices are always crowded. If you are improving under your family physician do not come and take up our valuable time.

N. B.—Cancers, tumors, ulcers, all blood, skin and scalp diseases cured by an entire new method. Pills cured in from 5 to 30 days without the knife. Office hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Cripple

The iron grasp of scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing dreadful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

"Nearly four years ago I became afflicted with scrofula and rheumatism. Running sores broke out on my thighs. Pieces of bone came out and an operation was contemplated. I had rheumatism in my legs, drawn up out of shape. I lost appetite, could not sleep. I was a perfect wreck. I continued to grow worse and finally gave up the doctor's treatment to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon appetite came back; the sores commenced to heal. My limbs straightened out and I threw away my crutches. I am now stout and hearty and am farming, whereas four years ago I was a cripple. I gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla." URBAN HAMMOND, Table Grove, Illinois.

PERSONALITY OF THE POPES.

Two or three bad men responsible for the Evil Spoken of Them.

Two or three bad men are responsible for almost all the evil that has been said and written against the characters of the popes in the middle ages. Farnese, of Naples; Caraffa, of Maddaloni, another Neapolitan who reigned as Paul IV.; and Rodrigo Borgia, a Spaniard, who was Alexander VI., are the chief instances. There were, indeed, many popes who were not perfect, who were more or less ambitious, avaricious, warlike, timid, headstrong, weak, according to their several characters; but it can hardly be said that any of them were like those I have mentioned, really bad men, through and through, vicious, unscrupulous, and daringly criminal. Paul IV. outlived most of his vices, and devoted his last years to ecclesiastical affairs, but Alexander died poisoned by an accident.

According to Guicciardini, the pope knew nothing of Caesar Borgia's intention of poisoning their rich friend, the cardinal of Conero, with whom they were both to sup in a villa on August 17, 1503. The pope arrived at the place first, was thirsty, asked for a drink, and, by a mistake, was given wine from a flask prepared and sent by Caesar for the cardinal. Caesar himself came in next and drank likewise. The pope died the next day, but Caesar recovered, though badly poisoned, to find himself a ruined man and a fugitive. The cardinal did not touch the wine. This event ended an epoch and a reign of terror, and it pilloried the name of Borgia forever. Alexander expired in the third room of the Borgia apartments in the ravine of a terrible delirium, during which the superstitious bystanders believed that he was conversing with Satan, to whom he had sold his soul for the papacy, and some were ready to swear that they actually saw seven devils in the room when he was dying. The fact that these witnesses were able to count the fiends speaks well for their coolness, at all events.-F. Marion Crawford, in Century.

THE MATEBELE BUGABOO.

No Man Ever Saw Him, But He Gets All His Priests' Wages.

The following is an extract from a private letter lately received from a young Englishman who was farming at Matabeleland at the time of the outbreak:

"The Makukukapane and Matoppo Hill district, where the rising commenced, form a very difficult country. The natives living in the hills there were always a nuisance to Lo Ben, and when the columns came, in they would not fight for him. The company never disarmed these men or took their cattle. They have been a great trouble ever since, and the native commissioner could never go out that way without six or eight police with him, and was constantly getting fired on. Twice it was announced that a large patrol with big guns and Maxim's was going to knock them into shape and clear the hills, but it never came off.

"In the Matoppo hills, in a cave in a krenal of this own, dwells the M'limo, a Makaklaka god, and though the Matabele heartily despised these people, their slaves, they feared their god very much, though many professed to disbelieve in him. He was always a thorn in the flesh to old Lo Ben, and to Mozellkatze before him.

"There is not, I believe, any such person as the M'limo. It is merely a swindle, run by a circle of men who wear their hair long and call themselves his-sons. No one, white or black, has ever seen the M'limo. The method of procedure is that the sons go round the people and drum up presents for the god to insure good crops, etc. These presents, or offerings, are placed in the mouth of the cave and disappear. He is consulted from the mouth of the cave, and whether it is a whispering gallery or ventriloquism is used no one knows; but the niggers are immensely impressed by receiving answers from an apparently empty cave. Ever since the occupation of this country by us the natives have attributed all their ills to us. They said we brought the locusts, regardless of the fact that they were here two years before, and so on; but what roiled them most was the drought and consequent famine for two years past. They said we stopped the rain by shooting the crocodiles. The M'limo then, who is at the bottom of the rising, had an easy task. He told the people that when the white men's blood was shed the rain would come; that Lo Ben was alive and coming with an impi from the north, and that he had made a spell which would turn all the white men's bullets into water. He took advantage, too, of the eclipse of the moon a short time back, saying he had done it as a sign to them, as also he had brought the rinderpest; but for some obscure reason he forbade the people to loot. The rising was planned for the 29th of March, the day of the full moon. The plan was simplicity itself. Every nigger was to rise and murder his master in the night; but the plan was spoiled by the murder of a native policeman, causing the district I named before to rise prematurely. Curiously enough, on the 29th the rain came at last in deluges. The natives are grumbling terribly about the M'limo not having kept his contract about the bullets turning into water, and he replies that they spoiled his spell by looting when he told them not to do so."

Being unable to procure a hall for John Enander's meeting here this evening, the officers of the Swedish McKinley club have secured F. W. Mineral Products in 1895. An Increase of Over $80,000,000 in the United States—The Gain in Gold. According to official statistics just issued by the director of the geological survey the total value of mineral products of the United States for 1895 increased over $80,000,000 beyond the value for 1894, or from $527,365,594 to $611,795,290. This increase is considered a long step toward recovery from the depression to which the mineral industry, like all others, has been subjected. The total value is slightly less than the greatest recorded, which was over $648,000,000 in 1892. In terms of quantities produced, instead of value received, 1895 is greatest, prices being lower. The director declares that if the record of the total values since 1880 be considered, the increase from $350,319,000 to $611,795,290 is significant, and gives a fair approximation of what the normal mineral product should have been half way between these dates, or in 1888. The great products of 1892 and 1895 show the ease with which the mines can respond to any unusual demand; also, that the capacity is greater than the ability to market the product. With slight encouragement the product takes a phenomenal stride. In 1892 and 1895 the product most difficult to hold in check was iron.

While the coal product is great, it is much steadier, in spite of the extra demand for it in order to produce any extra supply of iron. The increased output of iron in 1895 was necessary because of the great retrenchment in 1894. The railroads ordered as little iron as possible in that year, but ordered freely in 1895, to take advantage of prices while they were still low, but advancing.

The United States shared in the general increase in gold production, the increase coming principally from Cripple Creek and other new camps in Colorado. The gain in the quantity of petroleum and the increase in its price formed one of the good features of the year.

Another notable feature was the profitable producing petroleum districts in the Appalachian range. Natural gas showed a decline, the pressure decreasing in all the fields, thereby shortening the life of each well and greatly reducing the product, especially in Pennsylvania.

Almost all the other minerals show substantial improvement.—N. Y. Tribune.

Ishpeming and Vicinity.

A LARGE ENROLLMENT.

Encouraging Attendance at the Public Schools of Ishpeming.

The total enrollment at the Ishpeming public schools up to Thursday afternoon was 2,334, an increase of over one hundred since Tuesday, the opening day. The high school enrollment is 210. Of this number 123 are boys and 87 girls. The attendance at the high school is somewhat larger than expected. Superintendent Hardy figured that there would be about 200 in the high school. Last year the total enrollment there was 152.

In the eighth grade 116 are enrolled. The boys are in the majority there also, there being 65 of them against 51 girls. There are 264 pupils in the sixth and seventh grades. Of this number 145 are boys and 119 girls. The increase of boys over last year is much greater in proportion than of girls. A number of the young men of the city who are out of employment are entering the schools. Others who left several years ago are talking of going back for the winter. The larger boys and young men of the city all have a desire to attend school. The male teachers in certain of the departments have a tendency to attract them there. Among those who have applied for admission to the schools are some of the members of the Ishpeming baseball team. A majority of the boys are idle and have asked Mr. Hardy to find them places in the schools. The young men are all in earnest and they mean to take advantage of the chance offered them to spend the winter studying, provided they are unable to find employment.

The total enrollment at all the schools last year was 2,490. The year previous 2,105 pupils were enrolled. Mr. Hardy thinks that before the end of the present year the enrollment will be from 2,500 to 2,600. The total number of persons in Ishpeming this year of school age is 3,707. The boys are slightly in the minority, there being 1,848 of them, while there are 1,859 girls. The number of boys between the ages of eight and fourteen years is 900. The girls of similar ages are not far behind them, their number being 871. When it is considered that there are over 300 children attending the parochial school and also several attending private schools in the city, the percentage of attendance at the public schools is certainly quite large.

Old Folks' Day. Tomorrow will be observed as "Old Folks' Day" at the Division street Methodist church. In the morning at 10:30 Rev. A special program having been arranged. The church will be nicely decorated. All are cordially invited to both services. A committee has been appointed from the league to see that all the old people belonging to the church and congregation receive a special invitation.

FOUND THE WRONG GENTLEMAN.

Mistake of a House Page Which Brought Three Bills Before Congress.

A funny thing happened, involving three of the Illinois members during a recent session of unanimous consent in the house. The difficulty in securing recognition for the attempted passage of any bill cannot be exaggerated, and Mr. Burrell, of Illinois, had realized this fact to the full measure of sorrow while trying to secure action on a little private bill which he had in tow for one of his constituents. He had been to see the speaker a number of times, beseeching him to let the bill come up, and finally Mr. Reed yielded and told him to be on time the next morning with his bill in his hand standing somewhere so that he could catch the speaker's eye.

Mr. Burrell did not neglect the advice to be conspicuously on hand, so he stood in his seat, and at the first available opportunity waved the bill in the air. The speaker had not forgotten his promise, and when a suitable opening came, said: "The gentleman from Illinois is recognized."

A page started frantically up the aisle to get the bill and bring it to the clerk's desk, but seeing Mr. Connolly standing in his place, holding a bill in his hand, and as he came from the state designated, the page rushed up to him, took the bill and hurried it to the desk. The speaker did not in the least relish this error, as Mr. Connolly would probably be one of the last men he would favor with a recognition, but making the best of a bad bargain the measure was allowed to pass.

Mr. Reed then looked over in the direction of Mr. Burrell and again said: "The gentleman from Illinois." Another page started to follow the direction of the speaker's eye, but ran into Mr. Graff, also of Illinois, who had been haunting the first seat of the middle aisle for more than a month, waiting to bring a bill up, and this was taken to the desk and read. The speaker looked considerably annoyed, but persisted in the original intention of seeing that Mr. Burrell was given a chance to slip his bill through, and for the third time said: "The gentleman from Illinois."

This time the page found his way to the proper person, and Mr. Burrell's bill was passed. But several members smiled to themselves as they reflected on the fact that two unexpected bills had received attention on the strength of the recognition promised Mr. Burrell.—Washington Times.

HOT WEATHER IN EARNEST.

One Spot on Earth Where the Mercury Reaches 250 in the Shade.

The statistics below, showing the highest and lowest temperature which man can endure, may prove interesting. To begin with, the difference between the highest and lowest limits is estimated at 25 degrees Fahrenheit. French troops in Algiers must frequently march and maneuver at a heat of 122 degrees above zero. A French professor has, during a stay in the Sahara with a tribe of Tuaregs, observed a heat of 153 degrees. Attendants in Turkish bath establishments work ten hours a day in rooms where the air is artificially heated to 155, 175 and even to 185 Fahrenheit. A scientific gentleman in Paris not long ago spent 15 minutes in a hot air room of the Paris Hamman, in which the dry air had been heated by his order until the thermometer registered 250 degrees Fahrenheit. Issuing from this room he plunged immediately into a bath filled with water of about 53 degrees, a difference of almost 200 degrees Fahrenheit, which his body passed through in less than a minute.

On the other hand man will stand greater cold than any of the other mammals. For instance, during the journey of Prince Henry of Orleans through the central Asiatic highlands the party had frequently to withstand a temperature of 40 degrees below zero. The quicksilver in the thermometers had frozen solidly at this temperature, and even the alcohol in the alcohol thermometers became thick. Horses and camels died from exposure, while none of the men in the party suffered in the least. In North America intense cold is frequent. A Capt. Burn once measured at Fort Reliance a temperature of 70 degrees below zero, while Capt. Dowson, at Fort Rae, saw the thermometer down to 88 below zero in the month of April. The lowest temperatures known, however, have occurred in Siberia, where a temperature of 50 below zero is not uncommon, while at Verchojansk a temperature of 93 degrees below zero has been observed. It appears, therefore, that men can stand a cold of 90 degrees below zero, while a heat of 160 and even 180 degrees Fahrenheit appears to be the extreme limit in the opposite direction. No animal is known which is able to resist such changes of temperature.—London Mail.

VARIOUS TEAS. The Tartars Drink a Sickening Mixture Flavored with Mutton Fat. Lovers of the fragrant cup of tea, as we know it in Britain, would scarcely recognize their favorite drink were they invited to partake of it with their Thibetan brethren, who are, no less devoted to tea made after their own particular fashion. Brick tea, made at best of the offscouring and dust of tea leaves and stems of the tea plants (though more often of any worthless plant dust), is used by them instead of the crisp, curly tea leaves we employ. It derives its name from the dust being pressed into hard solid, brick-shaped lumps, from which pieces are chipped when tea is made. The infusion obtained from brick tea is harsh, intensely strong and stimulating, and instead of being served with milk and sugar, it is commonly flavored with mutton fat and salt. However nauseous the resulting liquid may seem to European nations, the Tartars themselves drink large quantities with great relish and after finishing their cups of tea, they end by eating up the residue of tea dust as a dainty.

Substitutes for tea have been found at different times by settlers in out-of-the-way places. Thus, in Tasmania and the Falkland Islands the leaves of certain myrtles have been used to make "tea" and from this fact have received the name of "tea trees." The Tasmanian "tea tree" is usually a shrub. The leaves are too aromatic to produce a really satisfactory infusion. The "tea tree" of the Falkland Islands has less aromatic leaves, which, therefore, give a more palatable beverage. The leaves of another variety were used for a similar purpose by the crews of Capt. Cook's ships, who found this "tea" passable, though if made too "strong" it had an emetic tendency, as has what we call green tea. These leaves, if added to spruce leaves, in equal quantities, modify the stringency of the beer brewed from the spruce leaves and much improve its flavor.—Chamber's Journal.

Telling Time in India. The Hindus look upon our clocks as ornaments and curiosities. Many are found in India, but they are not employed as timepieces. They are the luxury of the rich. The old-fashioned way of telling the hour of the day in India by calculating the number of bamboo lengths the sun has traveled above the horizon is entirely satisfactory to the natives. In the country police stations in India, where the European division of the hours is observed, time is measured by placing in a tub of water a copper pot in which a small hole has been bored. It is supposed that it will take one hour for the water to leak into the pot so as to fill it and sink it. When the policeman sees that the pot has disappeared he strikes the hour on a bell-like gong. If he is smoking or dozing the copper pot may have disappeared several minutes before he discovers the fact, but the hour is when he strikes the gong.—Chicago Chronicle.

Clans Among the Boers. Here and there an old Boer patriarch, called by such a name as Nickerk, Vanart or Du Plessis, will appropriate a whole river valley, fill it with his descendants and form a kind of clan. But he does not rise really to clan organization; his property is subdivided by the Dutch-Roman law of inheritance, the numerous progeny quarrel bitterly among themselves and frequently intermarry, with the worst possible physical results. To compare any known Boer community to a Swiss canton in its orderly and self-sacrificing government is to misread the truth of affairs altogether and to call up an utterly false analogy.—N. Y. Sun.

E. FITCH, A. A. SCHWANTZ, G. F. A. St. Ignace, Mich. Detroit, Mich (5-14-1f)

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder that if left to itself will go on and on till it develops seriously.

When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. The time to cure a disease is at the beginning and better than all is to so watch your health that disease will never come. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold.

That is the principle on which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood; it puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order. Makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health.

"I got a cancer on my tongue and had it cut out. I consulted fifteen different physicians without deriving any benefit. At last I turned to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and persisted in its use and my health is better than ever before. Formerly every accidental wound I received began to fester, would not heal, now such lacerations heal themselves."

Respectfully yours, Peter J. Schroeder, Inman, McPherson Co., Kas.

GREAT BRITAIN'S CHEEKINESS. Englishmen Themselves Seem to Partially Realize It.

We English go our own way, so far as we can see, with very little regard for anybody's susceptibilities and we must suffer other powers to go theirs, interfering only when the injury becomes serious enough to require something more dignified than shrill remonstrance. The other powers suspect us at least as hotly as we suspect them, and with this extra justification that, as they see quite clearly, our power reaches everywhere, our broad road is always open and though we protest that, except as regards ships, we are a feeble folk, yet whenever need arises in Europe, Asia or Africa there are the troops ready to march forward and, as a rule, execute their orders with the kind of precision that generals admire.

We are not little Englishers by any means. On the contrary, we hold that the future of the world depends greatly upon the strength of the British empire and its ability to take a leading part in controlling and guiding Africa and Asia; but if we are to carry out such ideas as we are now carrying out in eastern Africa we must suffer the equal powers of Europe to carry out theirs. It is folly to claim East Africa, as we are practically doing, from Alexandria to the Cape, and at the same time worry about France on the Niger or Russia in northern China and Mazanderan. We are getting into a position in which we seem to our neighbors to lie around the world like the serpent of the Norse mythology, and then we are angry because they watch us jealously and try to do little enterprises on their own account.

It is like a quarrel among neighbors about foot paths, and we cannot honestly say that it is we who display either the patience or the fearlessness of the best caste, much less the tranquillity of those who are sure alike of their rights and of their power to enforce them. Fancy Great Britain on one day summoning the Sikhs to garrison Suakin and on the next screaming around because a Russian ship-owning company has bought some swampy land at Chefoo and stopped or not stopped some English owner's access to the sea.—London Spectator.

The Pearl. The pearl is the one gem that comes to us perfect from the hands of nature, and to this its great antiquity as a gem is largely due. Precious stones whose beauty and brilliance depend on polishing and cutting would naturally be discovered and utilized later. The discovery of the diamond, for instance, probably dates within historic times. Though known earlier, it was not generally included among the gem treasures of royalty even as late as the seventh century. The modern cutting of diamonds in regular facets was invented as recently as 1456. Indeed, it is quite probable that the pearl was the first gem known and treasured by prehistoric men—since the search for food must have been the first occupation of the earliest of the race, and the shining pearl would thus have been discovered in river mussels if not in marine oysters. Certain it is that the Old Testament and the ancient written histories allude to pearls, and that remoter evidence is found in the tombs and excavated cities of still earlier eras. The Egyptians, Babylonians, and Assyrians held the pearl in an esteem verging on reverence. —Appleton's Popular Science Monthly.

Working Over Stale Candy. Stale candy can generally be worked over by reboiling it. In the case of acid candies, such as lemon drops, the candy is boiled, the acid is withdrawn by the use of lime or chalk, and the sirup may then be used in the manufacture of that, or any other species of candy.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

CLEAR CASE OF GET OUT.

Winter Threatens to Overtake Ontonagon Villagers in Their Dire Destitution.

MANY MUST BE MADE TO SEEK NEW HOMES.

School Board Plums Apportioned—Rev. Mallett Made a Dean—Cheap Excursion to Detroit—Sunday in the Churches.

THEIR CONDITION SAD INDEED.

Since the great conflagration which swept the town of Ontonagon off the map of the upper peninsula, information as to the condition of its inhabitants has been scrappy and unsatisfactory. All reports reaching here, however, agreed that the sufferings of the villagers had only been temporarily ameliorated by the aid sent them.

These reports were confirmed by Alfred Meads, editor of the Miner, who arrived in the city Friday. He came here with his wife and daughter the day following the fire, and leaving them in the care of returned to look after his property. He gave a MINING JOURNAL reporter a vivid description of the present aspect of affairs.

"The scene is desolate indeed," he said: "Today I could wish never to go back there. There was never a place more completely wiped out, and none can realize it who was not there before the fire.

"A farmer on the outskirts of the village is building a two-story building, but aside from that and a store in the town itself, there are nothing more than a couple dozen shacks and the tents. There are 200 families living in tents. The entire village is a camp and it is controlled and governed by the militia. They keep order in the camp and if there is any work to be done they make the men do it, if they have to prick them up with bayonets. There is very little work, though and it is nothing a decent man should refuse to do.

"What the people are going to do if they stay there this winter I don't know. They have got to move, if they have to be made to do it, and that is what they are coming to. The second appeal is being very poorly responded to and supplies are coming in slowly. There is some beef left, and some flour, but coffee, tea and canned goods are getting very low. I don't believe the relief committee has a single box of matches. A census taken last Monday showed that over 1,500 people were being fed by relief supplies. The relief committee was the only ones from whom supplies could be gotten and they had no authority to sell. Everybody had to go with his little basket and get his daily supplies.

"There will be a store opened Monday by James Donnelly, successor to John Hawley, and then everybody who has money will have to buy his supplies. It won't make any difference if he has only a little which he would like to save, the committee will say to him, 'We are sorry for you, but we haven't enough provisions to give you and you will have to buy for yourself.' Measures will have to be taken by the authorities to force many of the people to leave the town. There is absolutely nothing for them to do, and it is so late I am confident the town will not be rebuilt this fall. The railroad has cut off its passes, and those who have no money will have to be assisted by the committee, but this will be cheaper than keeping them there over winter. What people who remain will require assistance all winter.

"It is pitiable. The people do not seem to realize their condition, and they won't until cold weather strikes them. Intelligent men say to me, 'Oh we'll get along somehow.' One man, sixty-eight years old has had a little lumber given him, and is roofing over the basement to his house, and he and his wife are going to move in there and live through the winter! This is only one instance.

"Everybody who can leave the town, skilled mechanics and people like that who have reason to hope they can get a living elsewhere, are leaving town as fast as they can. The town will be practically deserted for the winter. Probably many people will become attached to other places, and not come back when once away, but I think the town will be built up next spring."

"Will the Diamond Match company build even one mill?" Mr. Meads was asked. "I think I am safe in saying it will not," was his answer. "I had a talk with the local manager, Mr. Comstock. He has come back with orders to build an office and settle up the affairs of the company. Diamond Match has gone into new hands, though, and they may rebuild. No one can tell. The company has 13,000,000 feet of logs floating in the stream. "Everything in the village will be in a chaotic state for at least a year. Property has been wiped out. The people cannot pay the taxes assessed against them. They have nothing to pay with. There is no way to raise the running expenses even. They will have to go before the legislature and ask for relief from the county and state taxes. The village and township records are all gone, and the county treasurer's safe proved practically worthless. The books for the last month's business are gone. There is a duplicate for all the back months filed with the state auditors, and all reports except for the month just preceding the fire can be hunted up."

School Board Organized.

Yesterday afternoon the first meeting of the new school board was held in the office of F. O. Clark. The chief, and almost the only business of the board was organization. The slate as arranged by the board is somewhat different than many supposed it would be.

In the temporary organization J. R. Neidhart was chosen chairman and George Barnes was made secretary. F. O. Clark then made three successive motions which the board concurring, resulted in giving the plums around in this manner: J. R. Neidhart is made moderator; Peter White, assessor; George Barnes, director; F. O. Clark and J. L. Johnson are trustees.

Peter White's election to the assessorship starts him upon his forty-fifth consecutive year in the office. He has been holding the school funds ever since 1852, a record for continuous service which he asserts cannot be beaten in the state, and hardly anywhere.

It was decided by the board to have a regularly monthly meeting. All business not sufficiently important to call a special for will accordingly be transacted the last Saturday in the month. F. O. Clark's office will continue to be the place of meeting.

To Detroit for $5.

Of all the cheap excursions the South Shore road has offered to the public, its first annual excursion to Detroit is a record breaker. The round trip ticket from here to St. Ignace by rail, and thence to Detroit by steamer is advertised at the ridiculously low figure of $5. From Negaunee and Ishpeming the rate is $5.50, and from Humboldt, Republic, Champion and Michigamme, $5.75. These figures include transportation both ways on boats and trains, but does not give either berths or meals on the steamer. Excursionists have the option of leaving here by the day express of Tuesday, or by the morning express Wednesday. An exception is made, however, in the case of Republic. From that station tickets will be sold for the excursion only for the morning train of Tuesday.

The lake trip will be made in the City of Alpena. Excursionists will leave St. Ignace on the 16th, after the arrival of the express from Marquette and the west. They will be returned on the same steamer, leaving Detroit either Monday, Friday, or the following Monday. Reasonable rates for berths and meals will be charged on the boat.

Called to Be Dean.

Rev. F. J. Mallett, late rector of St. Paul's cathedral, has accepted a call to be dean of the cathedral at Laramie, Wyoming. The church is the seat of the missionary diocese of Wyoming and Idaho, which is presided over by Bishop Talbot.

Rev. Mallett writes to the bishop places all things pertaining to the church and parish in his control. Attached to the church are a handsome bishop's home and deanery, while in connection is St. Matthew's hall, a military school for boys. This school is in charge of a clergyman who assists also in the cathedral services. Accompanying his letter is a newspaper cut of a large and elegant cathedral. It is in process of erection and nearly finished. One of its appurtenances is a $4,000 pipe organ.

The dean expects soon to return to Marquette, and remove his family to his new parish.

Sabbath Chimes.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday all are cordially welcome, both strangers and residents. The subject of the sermon in the morning will be, "The Power of Social Judgments." In the evening there will be a traveling men's service under the auspices of the Sunday club. Miss Josephine Gaffney will sing once more before her departure.

St. Paul's Cathedral—Holy communion at 7:30 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon at 10:30. Evening prayer and sermon at 7:30.

Nothing to Be Proud Of.

A lady reports a conversation she heard between three girls as she passed along the street the other day. It may be of interest to a good many school girls and their parents.

"I have to show my report to my father every night," remarked the girl on the outside.

"You do?" replied her comrade. "I've got a snap. I don't have to show them to father unless I want to. When they aren't good I show them to mother, and she never looks to see how I am marked but signs the report. I was out three weeks running in the Spring and had three zeros, and no one ever knew it."

"You have got a snap," was the returned comment.
