RIOTING AT LEADVILLE.

Striking Miners Make Night Attacks Upon the Coronado and Emmet Workings.

DRIVEN OFF WITH THE LOSS OF SEVERAL KILLED.

They Succeeded, However, in Firing and Blowing Up a Shaft House—Troops Called Out and No More Trouble Feared.

MARTIAL LAW IS PROCLAIMED.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 21.—The bloody phase of the great miners' strike has come. Five dead bodies are lying at the morgue, half a dozen men are wounded and the Coronado mine shaft house, with the machinery, is in ashes as a result of an attack by parties as yet unknown last night. It is believed when all is known the list of dead and injured will considerably exceed those figures. Everything is quiet now, the camp being practically under military rule.

The people of the city were aroused by a fusillade of shots, followed by a terrific explosion and the bursting of flames from the Coronado shaft house. The fire department on arriving at the scene were met by men who leveled rifles at them and ordered them not to proceed to the work of extinguishing the flames. Foreman Jerry O'Keefe attempted to turn on the water and was shot through the heart. By this time hundreds of armed citizens had arrived on the scene and under their protection the firemen proceeded with the work.

Later an attack was made on the Emmett mine. The story of the defense of this shaft is a thrilling one. Easily accessible and surrounded only by a light board fence it seems wonderful that it was not quickly overwhelmed, but the rioters were met by such a hot fire that they lost stomach for bloody business and retired, carrying away their dead and wounded. Had this mine been blown up the great pumps which drain many of the other mines would have been destroyed and the ensuing damage would be frightful to contemplate.

The sheriff called on Governor McKinley for troops to quell the riot and before daylight the entire military force of the state was en route for the scene.

Today hundreds of miners expressed an intention of going to work at once. They bitterly denounced the extremists and say their action has lost the miners' strike.

At a largely attended meeting of representative citizens this afternoon stringent measures were decided upon. It is the general belief there will be no further trouble unless the managers begin importing miners.

DERVISHES MAKE A STAND.

Preparing to Oppose the Advance of the British Land Force.

EL HAFIR, via Kerma, on the Nile, Sept. 21.—[Copyrighted by the Associated Press]—It is reported that Wad Bishara, in command of the dervish force, has reached the vicinity of Dongola on the retreat from this place and is preparing to oppose the Egyptian advance. The dervish troops are deserting in large numbers to the Egyptians.

THE CAPTURE OF DONGOLA.

The following official details of the capture of Dongola, the dervish stronghold, have been received. The three gunboats engaged in the capture of Dongola have returned here. Commander Beatty reports:

"We arrived at Dongola early in the morning and began bombarding it at 300 yards range. Perceiving that Dongola was not defended a force was landed which captured a quantity of treasure, all the dervish books and also seven grain-laden boats."

The main body of the Anglo-Egyptian troops, under Sir Herbert Kitchener, have started for Dongola.

AN INSURGENT DEFEAT.

Spanish Advances Chronicle the Usual Victory for the Dons in Cuba.

HAVANA, Sept. 21.—Volunteer troops to the number of one hundred set out from the village of Calabazar, Havana province, and at the farm Lage they were attacked by five hundred insurgents under Castillo and Delgado. In repelling the attack the troops caused an insurgent loss of over one hundred. Spanish forces then reinforced the volunteers, compelling the insurgents to retreat. The troops report they suffered a loss of thirty-one killed. It is reported both insurgent leaders were wounded, Castillo seriously and Delgado slightly.

Two steamers have arrived here from Spain with reinforcement of eighty-one officers and 3,000 men.

HE HACKED HIS WIFE'S THROAT.

Excited Citizens of Bedford, O., in Pursuit of James McMillan.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21.—A highly sensational attempt at murder yesterday has aroused the citizens of Bedford, a suburb of this city, and the entire surrounding territory. James McMillan, who had separated from his wife, kidnaped her and drove her to the woods, where he hacked her throat with a knife. Pursuers frightened him away. He then stole a horse and buggy and started across the country, followed by a dozen men in bugles. This afternoon he had not been captured. The woman is alive, but in a precarious condition.

A GIFT FROM HOOSIERS.

Battleship Indiana Gets a Silver Service—Gen. Harrison Talks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Governor Matthews and a party of seventy Indians boarded the battleship Indiana today. The purpose of the visit of the delegation was to present the officers of the Indiana with a silver service and library, which had been purchased by contributions from citizens of Indiana. Governor Matthews made the presentation speech, to which, on behalf of Captain Evans and the officers and men of the Indiana, Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo responded. When Mr. McAdoo had finished there were shouts for General Harrison. Very reluctantly the ex-president walked into the center of the crowd and delivered an entertaining and humorous speech. He said, in part: "Today America stands abreast of all other nations in gun-manufacture and ship-building. England's bulwarks of old were walls of oak, but today she must of necessity have a navy fully three times stronger than any other power in the world. We do not need such an enormous navy, but still we must take care of our people. We have them scattered here and there throughout the world and a million men could not take care of them; but with ships such as this one we can easily declare our power and if necessary all the commanders in our navy will have to clear their decks to protect Americans and their interests."

"Our foreign policy has been a sentimental one, but our sympathy has gone out with every country in the world which has been or is struggling for freedom. We don't want to seize other territories, but we want kindly relations which will be profitable to them and to ourselves. We have a watermelon here, and if it is to be sliced we are not going to let anybody on the outside cut it up. Our people are holding congresses of arbitration, which are all very well in their way, but you will agree with me when I say that demands for indemnity are never made from a country which has battleships like this. These ships, how they do reinforce a diplomatic note."

Then, turning to Captain Evans, Mr. Harrison, pointing with his left hand towards the silver service, said: "With Governor Matthews of Indiana in favor of the white metal and our distinguished editor, Chas. R. Williams, in favor of a gold standard I am glad to say here is a mixture which will never reach the mint. This, Captain Evans, is free, and in all that this means Indiana is surely a free silver state."

A hearty peal of laughter and hand-clapping followed the last remarks of the ex-president, and while they might be misconstrued it was very evident Mr. Harrison was not in earnest when speaking of Indiana as being in favor of free silver. Throughout, his speech was brimful of wit and humor.

MCKINLEY GETS A PRESENT.

A Polished Stump of a Tree from a Southern Admirer.

CANTON, O., Sept. 21.—Mr. McKinley received by express today a finely polished and embellished stump of a tree. It is intended for use in delivering his front porch addresses and is of convenient height for the purpose. The stump was sent by Jesse C. Grover, sheriff of Knox county, Knoxville, Tenn. Accompanying the stump was a letter, in which Mr. Grover said: "Since we cannot have you on the stump in the south this fall we hope you will do us the honor to deliver your home speeches from a southern stump."

The major was kept busy in his library all day. There were no organized delegations to see him, but a large number of individual callers.

GOVERNOR PARDONS BARDSELY.

Ex-City Treasurer of Philadelphia Who Stole a Million.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Governor Hastings today signed a recommendation for a pardon for John Bardsley, ex-city treasurer of Philadelphia, who in 1891 was sentenced to fifteen years for embezzling nearly a million dollars of city and state money. The governor gives no reason for his motion, although it is thought his decision was hastened by the fact that Bardsley was stricken with paralysis on Thursday last. The pardon was mailed tonight to the warden of the penitentiary and Bardsley will be set free tomorrow. Agitation for the Bardsley pardon had been going on a considerable time at the instigation of prominent citizens who believed Bardsley was more sinned against than sinning.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—Francis A. Coffin, who was found guilty of complicity in wrecking the Indianapolis National bank and refused a new trial by the United States supreme court, was today taken to the penitentiary at Michigan City to serve out his sentence of eight years. Since the second trial of his case, in which he was found guilty and his brother Percival acquitted, Francis Coffin had been out on a supersedeas issued by Judge Woods.

GIVEN HEARTY RECEPTION.

Candidate Bryan Addresses Two Large Audiences at Wilmington, Del.

CROWD WILDLY DEMONSTRATIVE OVER HIS SPEECHES.

He Talks About Bond Issues and the Manipulation of the Treasury for Private Gain—Of Philadelphia.

BRYAN DAY IN DELAWARE.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 21.—Tonight an audience that filled the Auditorium here to its utmost capacity, sitting and standing, became wildly demonstrative over a speech by Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan was presented by Irving Handy, Democratic candidate for congress. In introducing the Nebraska orator Mr. Handy referred to Major McKinley, and there was an outburst of cheering and some groans and hisses. More groans and hisses but no cheers followed his reference to the third ticket—the decoy ticket, as he called it. Mr. Bryan's reception was flattering in its enthusiasm. When he finished his speech he went on a platform on an open lot near the Auditorium and addressed a large crowd composed of those unable to gain admission to the principal speech. Mr. Bryan will leave here tomorrow morning for Philadelphia.

In his speech at the Auditorium, Mr. Bryan took up bond issues and went on at great length to show what was possible to be accomplished under the aforesaid system, saying he did so because he had so much confidence in the ability and patriotism of the people that he believed a clear understanding of the workings of the great gold syndicates in connection with our treasury would open the eyes of the people and arouse a unanimous protest against it. Continuing, he said:

"If this government is going to admit that it depends for its financial existence upon banking firms, one foreign and one domestic (referring to the Rothchild and Morgan syndicate), then it puts itself where those people can charge this government with whatever they please. My idea is not much of a financier, but I am not of an other man tried who conspire against the government and punish them for conspiracy against the country."

"The people of this country desire a government which is no respecter of persons but will deal as heavily with the great transgressor as with the petty criminal and which will not confer special favors upon the few people who control legislation for private gain. If you believe in government in that way you have a right to your thoughts at the polls, but if you believe it safer to trust the destinies of this country to syndicates and corporations of America and Europe, then you have an opportunity to so decide this fall."

"I am called an anarchist because I am opposed to trusts and syndicates which would manage this country. I am glad to have the opposition of these men. I am glad if I am elected there is not a trust or syndicate that can come to me and say, 'We put you there; now pay us back.'"

BRYAN AT DOVER.

Silver Candidate Talks to Large Crowd at Fair Grounds.

NEWARK, Del., Sept. 21.—Candidate Bryan left Baltimore for Dover at 6 o'clock this morning. At his destination he was met by a committee and escorted to a hotel, where he held an informal reception. In the afternoon he began his speech-making in Delaware by addressing a large crowd at the fair grounds. Mr. Bryan said, in part:

"I want to read you an extract from a speech made last Saturday by the Republican candidate for president at Canton. He said:

"Under a Republican protective policy we enjoyed for more than thirty years the most marvelous prosperity that had ever been given any nation in the world. We not only had individual prosperity, but we had national prosperity."

"Now there is a statement made within a week by the presidential candidate on the Republican ticket pointing back for thirty years, from 1860 to 1890, and telling the people that during that period we enjoyed the most marvelous prosperity of any nation in the world, and that we had both individual and national prosperity. I want to show you how distance lends enchantment to the view. I want to show you by this same witness, his very testimony given six years ago, that after thirty years of his kind of policy the farmers of this country were not prosperous. If you will take the report filed with the McKinley bill on the 15th of April, 1890, you will find the words which I wish to quote:

"That there is widespread depression in this industry today cannot be doubted."

"Speaking of agriculture, that is what the presidential candidate said when he deliberately wrote the report and filed it with his proposed legislation—that there is widespread depression in this industry today cannot be doubted." Again, in that same report, he said:

"One of the chief complaints now prevalent among farmers is that they can get no price for their crops at all commensurate with the labor and capital invested in their production."

"That is what he said after thirty years of the kind of policy which the candidate of the Republican party says

DAILY MINING JOURNAL. A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED). Issued daily except on Sundays. Contains Associated Press dispatches and is especially devoted to Upper Peninsula interests.

A GREAT ado was made by the gold-crat organs over the announcement made by one J. W. Ross of Washington that he would not support Bryan for president. Mr. Ross is one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia by appointment of President Cleveland, and would be pretty certain to lose his job if he refused to oppose the candidate whom the administration is trying to defeat.

CONCERNING copper production, the Engineering and Mining Journal says: The copper production of the United States in August, as reported by Mr. John Stanton for the producers, showed only a comparatively small increase over that of last year, indicating some diminution in activity at the mines. For the eight months ending with August, the total production of copper in this country has been, according to the same authority, 134,775 long tons, an increase of no less than 26,049 tons, or 24 per cent, over the corresponding period of last year.

THE MINNESOTA IRON RANGES. A mining paper published at Duluth gives this gloomy account of the condition of the iron mines on the Minnesota iron ranges: Mining operations on the ranges are now practically at a standstill so far as taking out ore is concerned. Nearly all of the mines on the Mesaba range have shut down and will remain so until there comes a better demand for ore in the east.

AN OPINION FROM BISMARCK. At a meeting held Saturday night at Dallas, Texas, Governor Culberson read the following correspondence between himself and the great German ex-chancellor bearing on the financial problem which is now exciting such universal interest in this country in connection with the pending presidential election:

Prinze Bismarck—Sir: The great question of finance is now of supreme interest to the people of the United States. It is presented in various forms, but in a general way it may be said to be, first, whether the United States shall adopt the single gold standard, or second whether they shall adopt bimetalism with both gold and silver as the standard, or primary money.

Which, in your judgment, is the best policy to adopt, the gold standard or bimetalism, giving your reasons? What effect, in your judgment, will the immediate adoption of bimetalism by the United States have on the cause of bimetalism in Germany and other great commercial nations.

of bimetalism, I cannot but believe that such action would exert a most salutary influence upon the consumption of international agreement. BISMARCK. THE OPPOSING STANDARDS. ANSWER TO MR. CULVER.—"Investigator" is a young man who, at the opening of this campaign undertook to study the question of free coinage from a historical standpoint and to investigate the facts as well as the theory of the controversy.

Will you kindly give space to the following article, which I clip from the columns of the Detroit Free Press? C. R. BROWN. In looking over the "History of the United States Mint, Edition of 1892," I find that between the years 1835 and 1839, inclusive, no silver dollars were issued.

At the time his order to the director of the mint was given silver was worth more than its face value, and consequently it went abroad or out of circulation. The ratio between the value of silver and the value of gold was not appreciably less than it is now, and it is not to be denied that silver was worth more than its face value at that time.

It seems, while it was worth as bullion more than its face value, the mints were not pressed with it, same as in 1805-6, and that this suspension had no more to do with its fall in value than its suspension by Jefferson long years before.

It looks like a plot of the silver mine owners to unload, at far beyond its market value, the products of their mines. But to return to the heading of this article, where were the Bryans, Joneses, Stewarts, Tellers, between the years 1805-6 and '39, when Jefferson so arbitrarily demonetized silver without even asking the consent of the people?

BUILDINGS GOING UP. COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

About One Hundred in Course of Construction at Ontonagon. Patrick Nester of Baraga was a visitor at Houghton yesterday.

Henry Powers and a party of friends drove over from Ontonagon Sunday. From these gentlemen it was learned there are about one hundred buildings in course of construction at that town, giving it an appearance of unusual activity.

The Michigan Mining school opened for work yesterday morning with the largest freshman class in the history of the school, showing that the school is increasing in reputation and popularity each succeeding year.

The options held by Nathan Leopold of Chicago on the mining properties situated south of Houghton will expire tomorrow. Mr. Leopold, who is at present in the copper country, stated yesterday that renewals have been secured, extending the time until some weeks after the coming election.

Proper Employment of the Lungs Means Health and Long Life. From the frequency with which panacea for so many earthly ills are discovered and adopted, it seems strange that there should still exist sickness and sorrow, sighing and dying.

Mr. A. C. Ditton, writing to the London Globe, draws attention to the fact that many persons can only sleep well when lying north and south, and others lying east and west.

The coming institute is the second one held in this section of the peninsula, and if a success is achieved like that of last year it will be the banner institute of the state. Though last year's meeting was the first ever held here it surpassed in numbers and interest any held in either peninsula during the season of 1895-1896. There are several hundred in the surrounding country and city who hold membership in the institute. It is officered as follows: President—Robt. Blumhuber. Secretary and treasurer—Lewis J. Lavoy. Vice presidents—A. M. York, E. W. Allen, L. J. Lavoy, Henry McLaughlin, Henry Kepp, Louis Corbit, R. J. Mahaffey, E. F. Bradt.

Marquette Knows the Groom. Under the caption, "McKey-Fulmer, a pretty home wedding," the Mansfield, Ohio, News has an account of the marriage of D. M. McKey and Miss Zella Fulmer. The groom has made many friends here through his frequent visits to the home of his sister, Mrs. H. J. Payne. The News account follows: A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fulmer, 217 South Main street, Wednesday evening, September 16, when the eldest daughter, Miss Zella, was united in marriage to Dwight Milroy McKey of Duluth, Minn. Promptly at 9 o'clock the wedding party entered the east parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. P. Fulmer, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dustin Kemble. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk with pearl trimmings. The bride has been for nearly two years past a teacher in the public schools of Duluth, Minn., while the groom is a wellknown civil engineer. After a dainty wedding supper the happy couple left for Niagara Falls and other points of interest in the east. The best wishes of a host of friends follow the bride and her genial husband.

Thank You. Monday there was received at the city hall a package which contained, engrossed and framed the thanks of the Detroit aldermen and supervisors for the trip they made through the upper peninsula as the guests of Mayor Jacobs.

The resolutions were passed at a meeting of the board of supervisors held Aug. 3. This arrangement was probably made as all the aldermen, by virtue of their office, are members of the board of supervisors, and all supervisors are not aldermen. The visiting party was made up of aldermen, supervisors and city officials, and from each class the members of the committee on resolutions was chosen.

The resolutions are finely gotten up, and mounted in a neat, narrow, oak frame, behind glass. The preamble and resolutions read:

Whereas, The mayor, board of aldermen and the citizens of the city of Marquette, the Queen City of the upper peninsula of Michigan, royally entertained the board of supervisors and other county and city officials of the county of Wayne and the city of Detroit; therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend to the city of Marquette, its public spirited, cordial, generous and progressive officials and citizens our heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome received, and the kindly manner in which we were entertained; and be it further

Resolved, That they will ever have our kindest remembrances and most grateful recollections of the occasion of our visit to the upper peninsula of this state, so rich in its advantages and natural resources; and be it further

Resolved, That the clerk of this board be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to the clerk of the city of Marquette.

WM. RICKERT, HENRY M. REYNOLDS, JACOB GUTHARD, NOBLE ASHLEY, JOHN A. SCHEIDT, Committee on resolutions.

The resolutions will be presented to the council for acceptance the next meeting. At present they are hanging in the office of Controller Bay.

To Double the Service. Patrons of the street car living along the loop will rejoice to learn that the service on that portion of the road is to be much improved. During the summer the demand for cars on the Presque Isle division has been so great that the loop has had but a single car which made a round trip every fifteen minutes.

Beginning today there will be two cars on the loop and one on the Presque Isle division. This will cut the time of the loop service in two and give a car every seven and a half minutes. Running the second car on the loop is an experiment, but the management thinks it will do considerably more than pay expenses, and is inclined to do a little experimenting after the success of the five cent fare.

That the five cent fare has been a winner is attested by the crowds that went to Presque Isle every fair day during the summer season, and especially on Sundays and holidays. The street car officials themselves admit that they have had more business many days than they were able to handle. An increase in the equipment is contemplated for next season. Thursday night the bids will be opened for the new car barn, and the contract let.

Man Lost Overboard. The Canadian steamer Bannockburn, with tows Melrose and Selkirk, came in behind the breakwater late yesterday afternoon for protection. The boats were grain laden from Port Arthur to Montreal. The Melrose, the second of the tows, carried a union jack at half-mast, which was mistaken for a flag of distress by many. The boat had experienced rough weather, lost her bulwarks, and had got water on her wheat through the hatches. She also reports a sailor washed overboard during the gale. The Bannockburn refused the assistance of a tug in handling her tow and brought both boats around behind the breakwater all right. The new additions raised the fleet lying in for shelter to five.

Valuation Cut Deep. Marquette county was favored by the state board of equalization by a five million dollar cut in its assessment for state taxes. Heretofore this county has been assessed at $23,000,000. Now it is rated at only $18,000,000.
