GALES ON THE ATLANTIC.

Strong Northwest Wind Is Rolling Up Great Seas Along the Coast.

STORM DISASTROUS TO PROPERTY ON OCEAN LINE.

Hotels and Other Buildings Are Undermined and Piled Up in Masses of Wreckage or Washed Away by the Waves.

ONEY ISLAND IS HIT HARD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The fierce gales which began Saturday continue. There is a strong northwest wind and no sign of abatement. No vessels left port this morning and a number from the South Atlantic are overdue. The sea is very rough along the coast. The old iron pier at Coney Island was cut in two by the waves. The collapse of the Ocean House appears to be a matter of a short time. Large temporary structures of all sorts have been washed away.

At 12:30 a monster wave struck the concert pavilion at Brighton Beach and tore away two-thirds of the structure. The Brighton Beach race track and stables are flooded and horses have been removed from the stables along the boulevard. A rough estimate of the financial loss along Coney Island beach is $200,000.

At Asbury Park every movable thing within reach of the waves was washed away. The great board walk was pounded to pieces in many places. The marble monument which marked the spot where the New Era went down in the early days of Asbury Park was undermined and toppled over into the sea. The Davis studio on the beach was caught up by the waves and carried outward and then shattered by the breakers.

Hog island during the afternoon added another big section to that portion which had previously gone to sea. The ferry house, dock, board walks and pavilion of the Rockaway Improvement company were totally wrecked.

NEW JERSEY LOWLANDS FLOODED.
At Wave Crest, the damage will amount to about $50,000. Nearly all the improvements made near this place within the last two years were washed away, piled up in broken masses or buried by tons of sand.

At Edgemere this afternoon the tide had risen so high as to threaten to undermine the Edgemere Hotel. At Avenel several summer cottages were lifted from their foundations and completely wrecked; several hundred yards of track were also washed away.

In New Jersey all the lowlands are under water and the usual washouts of railroad lying along the coast are reported.

At Sea Isle City the sea attacked the beach in front of the Brunswick Hotel. Early in the afternoon the front of the building began to sag, and in the middle of the afternoon the structure fell in a mass of ruins. The branch of the South Jersey railroad in course of construction to Ocean City was washed away fully half a mile.

At Egg Harbor City, N. J., many houses were unroofed and many people forced into the streets. Among the craft reported sunk or damaged is the schooner yacht Novelette, which was driven ashore and badly damaged; she is likely to go to pieces.

NO SIGNS OF ABATING.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 12.—The storm continues tonight with no signs of abating. Reports from the outlying district show that much damage was done along the coast by high tides. At 6 o'clock tonight the Brigantine steamboat wharf, 300 feet in length, was washed away and the frame building adjoining the ill-fated Casino, which the Elk disaster happened two years ago, was torn down by the waves. The wreck of the schooner Metcalf, which did so much damage at the iron pier, came ashore today.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Fifteen yachts broke from their moorings off South Boston and are high and dry on the marches at Dorchester, while a number were sunk at various points in the upper bay.

MILITIA GUARD THE JAIL.

The Second Sherburne Bank Robber in Custody at Fairmont, Minn.
FAIRMONT, Oct. 12.—The second villain of the Sherburne bank robbery and murder today gave the whole story, but stubbornly refused to give his identity. The young desperado gives as his reason for not divulging his name that he has a mother and sister of high connection and he will never allow them to stand the stigma of such a crime. While there is great danger of him dangling at a rope's end before morning he is as cool and collected as if nothing had ever occurred. Fifty members of Company D were called out tonight and stationed inside the jail enclosure. A report has been received from Sherburne that a mob is forming there to march on the jail here, but the officers declare they will resist an assault to the bitter end and not surrender their man until all are dead, if necessary.

PALMER AND BUCKNER.

They Speak to an Audience That Fills the Auditorium at Detroit.
DETROIT, Oct. 11.—Generals Palmer and Buckner appeared this afternoon before an audience which entirely filled the Auditorium. When they entered the hall the audience rose and cheered. In his address, Mr. Palmer said:

"Bryan claims that under free coinage silver and gold will meet at some point and that will be the standard; but nobody has ever been able to say where that point is. People talk about a fifty-three-cent dollar. I don't know whether it would be a fifty-three-cent or a sixty-cent-dollar, and I know as much about it as anybody. When the American people declare, as they will next election, that public and private debts are to be paid in the money of the contract you will find money plentiful."

After three hearty cheers for Mr. Palmer, General Buckner was presented. A great majority of the delegates to the Chicago convention, he asserted, had been instructed by their county and state conventions to frame a platform in accordance with well defined Democratic principles, but they had been misled into adopting a set of Populist principles which the Democratic party had fought against for a century. While his associate and himself did not expect to be installed at the national Capitol, they did believe they would be instrumental in saving the life of the Democratic party, and they believed it would forever survive even the stabs of its friends.

HIS SPEAKING TOUR IS OFF.

Watson's Throat Is Sore.—Cannot Speak for Ten Days.
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 12.—A dispatch to The Journal says: Thomas E. Watson is still confined to his room and acting under the advice of his physician. Dr. Harrison informed The Journal this morning that while Mr. Watson is improving his throat is still a complete mass of sore, and under no circumstances could he speak for ten or twelve days, and it is very doubtful if he could take the stump again during the present campaign. Information received from prominent Populists develops that Watson had intended to make a complete tour of Kansas and Colorado with the intention of smashing the present fusion arrangements in those states.

CLAIM M'KINLEY'S ELECTION.

The Executive Committee Figures Out 270 Votes for Him.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—At the national Republican headquarters today, after a conference of the entire executive committee, the following statement was given out: "McKinley and Hobart will receive 270 electoral votes and Bryan 110, and there are six states having sixty-seven electoral votes which are doubtful, but the probabilities are these votes will go into the Republican column. This is the status today. We have the election and will hold it. The opposition have abandoned the east. (Signed) M. S. Quay."

TALBOT IS FOR BRYAN.

The Candidate's Law Partner Denies He Has Bolted Him.
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—A. R. Talbot denies he has bolted Candidate Bryan, his law partner, and says: "I have always been, and am now a Republican, but no man has a greater admiration of Mr. Bryan than I have. His honesty, integrity and patriotism cannot be questioned."

Goals On Under a New Title.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—The state board of review today heard the objections filed by Secretary Nelson of the Democratic state central committee to placing the ticket of the gold standard Democrats upon the official ballot under the name of "Independent Democracy." The petitioner alleged the title was an infringement on the Democratic party's title and would be misleading. The title "Independent Gold Standard Democracy" was finally suggested. This substitute was agreed to by all, and the board of review decided to place the ticket on the official ballot under the new title.

Suicides in Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 12.—An unknown man jumped into the water at Prospect point this afternoon and was immediately swept over the American falls. The act was deliberate suicide, for before leaping over the parapet he coolly removed his hat and put into it his money, amounting to forty cents, and laid it on the stone wall. The only witnesses were two backmen. They describe the stranger as a short man about thirty years of age, weighing about 135 pounds, and wearing a cinnamon colored overcoat. His body was not recovered.

Would Have Been Removed, Anyway.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Secretary Olney, in a letter accepting the resignation of Henry Clay Smith of Alabama, as United States consul at Santos, Brazil, says, in part: "It is not deemed a violent assumption that your resignation was tendered in a well-grounded anticipation of the probable action of the president upon numerous charges of personal and official misconduct, all of which have been called to your attention and none of which you either refuted or satisfactorily explained."

Fire in a Coal Mine.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 12.—A fierce fire is raging in the region of the coal workings of Righter & Co. Mt. Carmel mine. A line of pipe was laid to the burning mine in order to extinguish the flames. The fire has been burning since Saturday. The vein is thirty-five feet in thickness.

Held the Assault Justifiable.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Andrew Freeman, manager of the New York baseball club, was found guilty in the court of special sessions today on the charge of assaulting Edward Hurst, a baseball reporter. Sentence was suspended, however, the judges holding the assault justifiable.

Where Bayard Stands.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 12.—In a letter to Every Evening, Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, United States ambassador to Great Britain, repudiates the platform and nominees of the Chicago convention and advises Democrats to vote for Palmer and Buckner.

GOT A WARM RECEPTION.

Bryan Spoke to Four Big Meetings in Minneapolis Last Night.

GREAT EXPOSITION HALL PACKED TO ITS CAPACITY.

There He Delivers His Principal Address and Receives a Gift from the Laboring Class of the City—Off for Duluth.

THOUSANDS GREETED BRYAN.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—William Jennings Bryan came from St. Paul to his sister city this afternoon, and Minneapolis received him with a whoop. Part of the town had gone over to see him and the balance was awaiting his arrival when the special trolley car bearing him and party came to a stop in front of the Hotel West. He spoke to four big meetings tonight—in Exposition Hall; on Bridge square, on the banks of the Mississippi river, just outside the hall; at the Lyceum theatre, to an audience of women, and at Yale place, a public square in the city.

Mr. Bryan held an informal reception in the parlors of the Hotel Ryan at St. Paul, with Mrs. Bryan by his side. When the party arrived here a second reception was held in the West Hotel and then Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were driven to the home of State Senator Howard for dinner. During their absence the Veterans' Bryan club of Minneapolis, 200 gray-bearded warriors, marched to the hotel and formed a circle in the lobby. When Mr. Bryan came they escorted him to Exposition Hall. No such crowd has been packed within the walls of that building since the day when the Republican convention nominated Harrison for president in 1893. It has a seating capacity of 8,300. Outside the hall the crowd was so great that the services of a squad of policemen were required to force an entrance for Bryan.

Ex-Mayor P. B. Winston introduced E. C. Marchard, who, on behalf of a large part of the laboring class of Minneapolis, presented Mr. Bryan with an inkstand made, so the speaker said, "of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1." This brought another outburst of applause as Mr. Bryan stepped to the front of the stage. When the night's speech-making was ended the party retired to its private car, preferring to spend the night there rather than be disturbed early in the morning by its departure for Duluth at an early hour. Congressman Charles Towne, leader of the silver movement in this state, joined the party here and will accompany it throughout the state. In Exposition Hall Mr. Bryan said, in part:

"I have been brought up to believe that all classes which rest upon the producers of wealth can only prosper when the producers of wealth are prosperous. And, therefore, I am not entirely unselfish when I desire such legislation as will enable them to have more than enough to eat and drink. I want them to have enough to be comfortable, because until they produce there is nothing to distribute, and if they simply produce without enjoying, you discourage the production of wealth so they will cease to produce."

"You ask one of those great financiers why he is in favor of the gold standard. Does he give the reason it is good for him? They say they want the gold standard because it is a good thing for the laboring man. Why, the financier says he is in favor of the gold standard, because it is good for the farmer, because it is good for the business man; and you tell him that the laboring man, the business man, the farmer, all are willing to risk bimetallicism, and he says: 'I will ram the gold standard down their throats, whether they want it or not, because I love them better than I love myself.'"

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—W. J. Bryan enters Illinois for six days, three of which will be spent in Chicago, where he is expected to speak no less than seven times in various parts of the city. Madison, Wis., will be visited about Oct. 27 for an afternoon speech. Other outside cities near by will probably be visited during his stay here.

For Bryan and Watson.

DENVER, Oct. 12.—In an open letter to the people of Colorado, ex-Governor Waite, who is the candidate for governor of the middle-of-the-road Populists, declares, "In spite of all the gangs and rings in the state, I will support Bryan and Watson, and most solemnly renounce Charles S. Thomas, Isaac N. Stevens, Thomas M. Patterson and the devil and all of their works." Waite proposes to remain in the field as a candidate until election and then work for the defeat of the Bryan and Sewall electoral ticket.

The Police Take a Hand.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Chief of Police Badenoch today set detectives to work in the Chicago Athletic club prize fight matter today. A determined effort will be made to convict the principals, Dr. Pine and Fred W. Swift. The police say they will also make an effort to take into custody the referee, seconds, timekeepers and everybody connected with the affair.

Cubans Reported Defeated.

HAVANA, Oct. 12.—Advises from the province of Pinar del Rio report another battle between Spaniards and insurgents, resulting in a Spanish victory. It is alleged the insurgents sustained enormous loss. The loss of the Spanish was considerable. The fighting continues.

BRYAN'S WONDERFUL CAMPAIGN. Whether he will be elected to the presidency or not, William Jennings Bryan is making a campaign that will live in history as a marvelous exhibition of human power and endurance.

Another Drop. The American Manufacturer notes another drop in pig iron production, shown by its furnace report for the month of September.

Traveling and speaking almost without rest, it would not be surprising if he occasionally displayed the irritability that fatigue begets in the most even-tempered of men.

Is that all the difficulty that my friend has, or have you some other that I can explain at the same time? (Laughter and applause.) My friends, the gentleman has asked a very simple question, and I am glad that it is asked because it will show you what tiny things can be stumbling-blocks for those who don't want to step over them.

Now, when you have time to think about it, I want you to try to figure out how that can be a hundred-cent dollar long enough for the miner to make fifty cents on it and then become a fifty-cent dollar for all the rest of the people.

Now let us come to the first question that my friend asked, "How are you going to get hold of them?" That is a very common question; I have had it asked before. How can you get this money into circulation? To my mind it is a very absurd one, because I never had any trouble getting my money into circulation.

My trouble has been to keep my money from getting into circulation before I wanted it to. (Renewed laughter.) Let me show you how this gets into circulation. If a man works a week and gets his wages, he puts that money into circulation whenever he buys anything; if he works on a farm for a year and raises a crop and sells it, he puts that money into circulation whenever he buys anything with it.

Our opponents ask us how this money is going to help us. The man who asks that question is always glad to see money come in from abroad. I ask him, is this money that comes in from abroad to be of any benefit to us? "Why," he will say, "the man who sends in money from abroad sends it in to buy something with." The man who says we have enough money in this country now can't consistently be glad when money comes from abroad, because if we have enough now we would have too much if any more came from abroad.

Only a man of grand courage and invincible determination, inspired by a lofty purpose, and with a superb physique and vitality unimpaired by enfeebling indolence, could make the effort Mr. Bryan is putting forth in this campaign. Whether he is successful or not his supporters will have no cause to blush for having followed the banner of such a candidate.

The weekly capacity of active charcoal furnaces continues to increase. The weekly capacity at the beginning of the present month showed an increase of 1,034 tons, although there was no change in the number of active furnaces.

There were ninety-nine less furnaces in blast than there were this time last year, and the weekly capacity is 104,999 less. At the beginning of October last year pig iron production was going up at a rapid rate, hence a comparison of the two periods shows the later figures in rather an unfair light.

The amount of iron ore shipments continues to excite surprise in the trade, in view of the untoward conditions that have operated from the very beginning of the season. It is evident that quite a little ore is being brought down on the chance of doing business from the docks before spring opens.

At last he trembling stood before his honor's office outer door. And to his timorous, trembling knock the door opened wide without a lock. Then forth in panoply of war— Upon his breast a big tin star. There came a great big "polite" man And saw the blue, translucent snow Detroit's St. Peter eyed Droulet And asked him whence he came. "Marquette."

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND and Bob Ingersoll both pleading for the gold standard constitute a spectacle to make men smile and angels weep. But the distress of the angels will not trouble the irreverent Bob. He doesn't believe in 'em.

Your cough, like a dog's bark, is a sign that there is something foreign around which shouldn't be there. You can quiet the noise, but the danger may be there just the same. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not a cough specific; it does not merely allay the symptoms but it does give such strength to the body that it is able to throw off the disease.

You know the old proverb of "the ounce of prevention?" Don't neglect your cough. Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. Put up in 50c. and $1.00 sizes.

L'ENVOI. Now list the tale of George Droulet, "Ex-pounding" of fair Marquette; A worshipping through joy and grief Of Michigan's eyes and industry's chief.

Nor Moslem ever dreamed, or pined To visit Maecia, where is shrined The prophet's bones, and seeing weep Mohammed o'er was put to sleep As George, surnamed Droulet, has wept To see where Pingree ate or slept.

A wise philosopher so states "That all things come to him who waits." Thus George Droulet, whose want of gold Has made his pilgrim's zeal grow cold, With swelling heart saw one bright day, An ad of the D. S. S. & A.

So George bade all his friends farewell, And hastened where the mountains lie, With clamorous tongue at midnight told The train into Marquette had rolled. He vanished in the crowd that poured In aisles and seats when "all aboard,"

Oh, happy day, when George Droulet Saw tower and spire and minaret Of fair Detroit, in beauty risen Before his wondering, startled eyes And saw the blue, translucent snow Her dainty feet with laughter lave, From Huron's reservoir poured down By many a farm and sleeping town.

At last he trembling stood before his honor's office outer door. And to his timorous, trembling knock the door opened wide without a lock. Then forth in panoply of war— Upon his breast a big tin star. There came a great big "polite" man And saw the blue, translucent snow Detroit's St. Peter eyed Droulet And asked him whence he came. "Marquette."

"Me ears," said Mac, "are out of joint; Methought your tongue betrayed Grosse Pointe." And so you would his honor see— You ask a hair of his gotee! Now, by my halldime, or word To that effect I've often heard Before the footlights, on the stage, Where chimney sweeps as knights engage.

Let me a low obeisance make, For far 'twas needed for thy sake, Spoke words of comfort 'ere you let Your servant rise. Said Ping, "you bet! And so you came from far Marquette, My faithful servitor Droulet, Down from the land of iron ore And to my penance penitence more. I want to say you please me much But don't you yet my pocket touch."

Then George went forth with joyous face That in Ping's sight he found such grace. The open sesame from Jim Opened each chamber wide for him. He gazed entranced for hours and hours Upon the face of Charlie Flowers; He knelt before sweet Elder Blades— That pilot to the sky through all the crowd

To touch the hand of A. McLeod; The sturdy Oakman too he sought, Whose strokes have never come to naught; And John the Archer whose sure aim Outrivals Robin Hood's in fame; The Corliss engine, too, he saw That never fails for votes to draw.

Then George the council chamber gained Where, undisputed, Jacob reigned, That pattern to unduged youth Of virtue, honor love and truth. Unselfish for the people's cause The "Voice of Jacob" ever was And working hard to frame the laws His jaws were every day as Egan's. His "single standard" never lowered In any council room or board.

There George, surnamed Droulet, sat down His aching heart with beer to drown, And taxed his wits to solve the riddle Until they shipped him on a dray. A lonely tourist, silent, still, Of politics he'd had his fill.

And George escaped the perils grave That sleep beneath Superior's wave, And wears preserved from field and flood His oriflamme, the Pingree spud, And in the market places high He speaks in scorn the name of Sligh. He asked "Then who's your man, Droulet?" He'll say "For Pingree sure, you bet. Did he not say, 'his health I quaff' When governor 'll be his staff?"

One of Them Nearly Knocked Him Down at the Bottom of Lake Quassapaug. Up in the Woodbury mountains is Lake Quassapaug, which is known to sportsmen as one of the best bass ponds in Connecticut. Its clear waters are so deep in many places that no fisherman has ever seen the bottom, even on the stillest summer day, and it has become a tradition that the water is so deep that fish cannot live at the bottom of the lake.

One day last week the little steamboat which plies up and down the lake lost its propeller and the fresh water sailors were unable to find it. A diver was summoned from Bridgeport. The story that he told when he came up from the bottom of the lake set the fishing cranks wild. He found the propeller in 42 feet of water, and all about it were innumerable fish of great size. He judged from their appearance that they were carp and bass, although among them were some species which he did not recognize. They shot in and out about his legs while he was at work and hindered him seriously. One big fish struck him with such force that it nearly knocked him from his feet.

Valuable Foxskins. The most expensive and beautiful of all fox fur, is that of the American silver fox. The color is usually almost entirely black, except the tip of the tail and certain gray-white markings on the back, thighs and head. Occasionally a completely black specimen is found, and there are also some which are completely gray. The animal was once comparatively abundant but is now scarce, and about a year ago a single fine skin was sold in London for the surprising sum of $875. In 1894 many skins were sold for more than $500 apiece. The cheapest skins are the pale-colored ones, some of which do not command more than $25.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month. So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial bottles free at E. Farnham's Drug Store.

The Darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly saves more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. Every family should keep it in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later. For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

TAMARACK'S NEW SHAFT.

What Mine Inspector [Hall Says Concerning It in His Annual Report.

The report of Josiah Hall, inspector of mines, was read before the board of supervisors yesterday and placed on file. In speaking of the Tamarack's No. 5 vertical shaft, he says: "With but one exception it is the largest shaft in this county and is destined to be the deepest before it intersects the vein. The shaft is divided into five compartments, four for hoisting rock and men, lowering timber, tools and supplies, etc., and one for pumps, air-pipes, ladder-ways, etc. The size of the shaft inside the timber is 27 feet long by 7 feet 2 inches wide. It was started in a wet, marshy spot something over a year ago and is now down about 800 feet. For the first 400 feet progress was slow owing to the excessive inflow of water through seams and openings in the stratus of rock. The water has now been taken up by two large "sumps" cut into the rock around the shaft. From these "sumps" the water is pumped to surface. The water is of good quality and is conveniently used for feeding the boilers and other purposes. The shaft is quite dry at present and men can work comfortably and perform full duty. Recent average sinking has been about 85 feet per month. The exact depth at which the Calumet lode will be struck cannot be ascertained within a few feet, but it will be about 5,000 feet. The Tamarack Mining company has four vertical shafts which have intersected the Calumet vein at various depths. No. 1 Tamarack has been sunk 3,224 feet from the surface; No. 2, 3,000 feet; No. 3, 4,450 feet; No. 4, 4,450 feet. A winze has been sunk 180 feet below the bottom of No. 4 shaft. The rock temperature in No. 3 shaft at the 4,450 depth is 83 degrees Fahr."

MINING FATALITIES.

In regard to accidents in the mines, the inspector says in conclusion: "It will be noted that the number of fatal accidents for this period [year ended Sept. 30, 1896] is less than that of any previous year covered by these reports. The fatalities have numbered only nineteen. There has been continued improvement in machinery and appliances in our mines and every effort made to lessen the danger of what at best is a most hazardous occupation. The broken character of the hanging wall rock in the conglomerate veins is a constant source of danger which can only be obviated in part by a careful and skillful system of timbering. The total number of men employed in the mines of the county for the period is 8,170."

Made Up to Date.

During the past month radical changes have been made at the Red Jacket Opera House. The entire stage has been transformed into one replete in every respect with modern equipment. This work has been prosecuted under the skillful supervision of H. C. Temple of Chicago, one of the best scenic artists in the west. Elegant new scenery has been painted by Mr. Temple, the lighting facilities have been increased and improved; and not only has the stage been brought up to date, but the auditorium has been thoroughly renovated and several hundred new opera chairs, equipped with arm rests and hat racks, have been placed in the parquet. This is a noteworthy improvement and the amusement-loving people will hail with delight all these efforts on the part of Manager Cuddihy to cater to their comfort and pleasure. The opening attraction has not yet been decided upon but Mr. Cuddihy is in correspondence with several leading companies, and announcement of the opening will shortly be made.

Supervisors Meet.

The annual meeting of the board of supervisors was held at the court house yesterday morning, the following members being present: Duncan, Edwards, Fox, Wright, Scott, Smith, Henderson, Parnell, Harris, Bentley and Orr. The reports of the treasurer, clerk and poor commissioner were read and referred. The reports of the judge of probate, mine inspector, jail inspector, county land agent and the soldiers' relief committee were read and placed on file, as was also the report of the bridge committee. The amount of money to be raised for county tax was placed at $98,766.76, and state tax at $79,551.98. The equalization of last June was adopted by the board and an adjournment taken until Friday, Oct. 23. The board made a tour of inspection of the poor farm and county buildings yesterday afternoon.

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

The steamer Jay Gould passed up Sunday.

Sheriff Corbett of Ontonagon was in Houghton yesterday.

Dr. O'Leary closed his course of lectures at Hancock on Saturday evening.

Miss Francis Crogin of Washington, D. C., is expected in Houghton about Nov. 1.

Frank Neville will take charge of the Northwestern Hotel, Hancock, next Saturday.

R. B. Lang of Houghton will give a partridge dinner this evening to his gentlemen friends.

Letters of administration were issued yesterday to M. C. Morin in the estate of Arthur J. Morin.

Hon. T. P. Dunstan of Hancock leaves today for a two weeks speaking tour of the upper peninsula.

Martin Conway has been appointed administrator of the P. B. Rostello estate at Hancock. The administrator will wind up the affairs in a short time.

William J. Bryan will speak at Marquette Wednesday evening. Fare for the round trip has been placed at $2, tickets good going Wednesday afternoon and returning Thursday morning.

Hunting parties returning from the Ontonagon road report that from Eleven-Mile lake to the Winona the territory has been swept by forest fires and as a consequence game is very scarce.

Extensive preparations are being made for a fitting reception to Hon. H. R. Pategill tonight at Calumet. A torchlight procession which promises to eclipse any ever held in the county will be a feature.

There has been an unusually heavy amount of coal coming to the copper country this year, in fact, heavier than for any year in the history of this district. At present four barges are discharging coal at the M. R. R. docks at Hancock.

Mrs. Doyle, mother of Mr. Doyle, the merchant tailor, an old and highly respected lady of Hancock, died at her late home Saturday evening. The funeral was held yesterday morning from St. Patrick's church, and it was largely attended.

The fourteenth annual ball of the Hancock fire department will be given at St. Patrick's Hall, Hancock, Thursday evening, Oct. 29. The best of music will be in attendance, and this dance will be no exception to the former pleasant parties given by the company.

Emma, wife of Joseph Williams of Lake Linden, died Sunday morning after quite a long illness. Mrs. Williams was but twenty-seven years of age and leaves a husband and six small children to mourn her untimely death. Funeral services this afternoon from the M. E. church.

James H. Blandy and family of Houghton leave today for Riverside, Calif., where they will make their future home. Mr. Blandy has purchased an orange ranch at that place and will devote his time to the raising of that fruit. In the departure of Mr. Blandy Houghton loses one of its oldest and best citizens.

In order to give every one a chance to become citizens, Judge Hubbell will hold court Wednesday, Oct. 28, for that purpose. The Mineral Range and Hancock & Calumet railways will sell tickets from Calumet and Lake Linden to Houghton and return for fifty cents, good on regular trains. All those who have taken out first papers since May 8, 1892, must take out second papers in order to vote this fall.

POLLY FOOLED HIM.

The Voice of a Parrot Mistaken for That of an Enemy.

An amusing scene occurred in a quiet uptown street last night. A young Irishman who is courting a rosy-cheeked servant in one of the houses in the thoroughfare called about his usual time in the evening. Just as he opened the iron gate leading into the basement yard he heard a voice say: "Hullo, Pat."

"Hullo, yourself," replied Pat. "Hullo, Pat," said the strange voice again. Pat gazed all around him, but could see nobody, and once again he heard the voice say: "Hullo, Pat."

"Is that all you can say? 'Hullo, Pat? Where the devil are you, anyhow?' answered Pat.

"Pat, you're a fool," said the voice. "Begorra, you're a liar, whoever ye be," shouted Pat, as he looked blindly around for his insult.

"Pat, you fool," again uttered the voice.

"I'm no fool, whoever ye are," called out Pat, wild with anger, "an' if ye will show yerself I'll prove it to ye."

"Foolish Pat," came the reply, accompanied by a hoarse chuckle.

Pat was furious and thoughts of his rival, McCarthy, immediately came in his mind.

"Show yerself, McCarthy, only show yerself, McCarthy, an' I'll punch in the face of ye, I will! I will!" he shouted, as he danced up and down.

"Pat, you fool! Pat, you fool! Ho, ho, ho! Ha, ha!" shouted Pat's tormentor.

By this time Pat's coat and waistcoat lay on the ground, and he had his sleeves rolled up to his elbows and was tearing around like a hen on a hot griddle. There's no telling what would have happened, as it was nearly the time for the policeman on the beat to pass that way, when the basement door opened and Pat's sweetheart came out. On seeing Pat she uttered a little scream and exclaimed: "Are you crazy, Pat? An' what has come into you the night? Put your clothes on, man."

"You spalpeen, Pat! Foolish Pat! Ho, ho! Ha, ha!" Go home, Pat," said the mysterious voice out of the darkness.

"Do yez hear the blackguard? Oh, if I can lay me hands on him!" foamed Pat, as he continued his war dance.

"Ah, you mustn't mind that, Pat," said his sweetheart. "You're a donkey, surely, to be minding the talk of that crazy bird upstairs. Why, it's only one of the young men's parrots which they brought home with them from over the sea. It's an ill-mannered bird, and do swear dreadfully. Mistress won't have it in the house, so the boys hang up the cage out of the window of their room upstairs."

"You're a great gawk, Pat, to be minding the likes of the poor, simple-minded bird like that."

Pat became slowly appeased, and as he put on his coat he said: "I don't mind what a burid says, Molly, but, begorra, I thought it was that sneak McCarthy hiding furninst ther stoop."

—N. Y. Tribune.

TRIFLES OF THE TOILETTE.

What Dame Fashion Is Dictating in Regard to Feminine Apparel.

The "trifles" of the toilette, as the majority of people are pleased to call the necessary things one must have—gloves, collarettes, shoes, parasols, and, indeed all the little adjuncts—are by far the most important part of the costume when one considers the effect they have on the rest of the make-up. It is so hard to keep all these things fresh and sweet, and not to be so mean as the ruination of the entire appearance. Gloves are forever wearing out and really losing all their daintiness before they are worn out and one feels that she can afford to throw them aside.

As to the matter of neck finery, it would mean the entire absorption of one's time to keep pace with all the novelties forced upon one. A dainty finish to a gown is a construction for the neck of a couple of large ruffles in black or white.

In Paris they are being worn, black with light dresses and white with dark costumes; but, of course, this is a matter of taste. Nothing can be prettier or less expensive, if made at home. You will need 2 1/2 yards of black satin ribbon two inches wide. This will serve for foundation, bow, and ends. Mark off enough to go easily around the neck, say 15 or 16 inches; take 1 1/2 yards of fine black chiffon, gather it double, and arrange it about the finger deep on the ribbon foundation, very full, so as to form flutes. Above it sew a similar row, also gathered.

Then turn the ribbon and sew in two more rows pointing upward. The joint in the center where the ruffles meet should not be visible if the ruffles are sufficiently full. The remaining ends of satin ribbon will form the big bow after the ruche is tied about the neck. Tulle may be used instead of the chiffon, but its perishable qualities make it something to be avoided.—Chicago Tribune.

DELICIOUS PINEAPPLES.

The principal article needed is a small, jointed doll, not more than seven inches high. One can be bought for 15 cents. Almost any scraps of silk may be used as a dress. After attending to the undergarments, make the dress skirt double, like a child's old-fashioned creeper. Before sewing it to the doll, stuff (not too full) with lamb's wool. A few stitches to the underskirt will hold it in place. Make the puff sleeves of the bodice very full, after the prevailing style, stuffing them also. One sleeve may hold common pins, the other black pins, while the skirt can be used for the fancy stickpins so much worn.—Good Housekeeping.

A WET DAY AT CANTON.

Major McKinley Addresses Delegations from Pennsylvania in the Tabernacle.

SAYS PROTECTION POLICY WILL RESTORE CONFIDENCE.

That Will Bring Money from Hiding Places and Put Idle Men at Work and Prosperity Will Shine on All.

TALKS TO MANY CALLERS.

CANTON, O., Oct. 12.—Big delegations from Roscoe and the Monongahela valley, Pa., arrived this afternoon. Owing to the rain they were taken to the Tabernacle, where Major McKinley addressed them.

When we are sick, it takes a long time to recover our normal vitality; but there ought to be no question that there rests upon the American people and those in charge of our public affairs to adopt some policy, and that right speedily, which must first provide enough money to run to the government of the United States.

Now that policy wisely and judiciously applied in public law is one of the first and most important acts for the people to perform. They cannot perform it, however, without a Republican congress and administration, and the only power that can make a protective tariff administration resides in the American people.

Money cannot be too good. I do not know what you think about it, but I think you cannot have money too good. When the miner has performed a week's work (I do not know how long it has been since he has performed a full week's work), when the miner in the mines and the glassblowers in the glassworks and the workman in any occupation has performed a week's work and has his week's pay, that week's pay represents the value of his labor for six days.

LEARNING PRACTICAL POLITICS.

Believing that there is no time to teach pupils civil government like a year when politics are hot, Principal Frost of the High school has inaugurated a scheme of politics for his scholars.

This is nothing less than to have nominations and elections in the school for every office from president down to circuit court commissioner. With the exception of the national ticket the candidates will be named from among the scholars themselves.

The girls are not put at a disadvantage as in the real election, as in the High school world equal suffrage is an established fact. Girls stand side by side with the boys in the silver and gold clubs, and in the latter they are said to predominate.

The silverites are first in the field with the county ticket. It was named in party caucuses held yesterday afternoon. It stands:

Judge of probate-Miss Flora McNulty. Sheriff-John McCarthy. Treasurer-Fannie Russell. Register of deeds-Roy Young. Clerk-Edwin Primm.

Prosecuting attorney-Harold Johns. Circuit court commissioners-Leo Russell, Alice Byrne. Surveyor-Walter Juliff.

Representatives-Eastern district, Will Daniels; Western district, Raoul W. Vannier. Congress-Frank Russell.

The only office the ticket lacks is coroner. There is a natural repugnance existing against this office, and no one was put in nomination. From now till election time there will be lively hustling by the candidates of both parties.

The first pre-election debate will be held Wednesday afternoon. It will be held at the high school. The debaters are to be: Raoul W. Vannier, leader for the silver club, and Frank Russell, colleague; Leo Rose, leader for the gold club, and Adolph Carlson, colleague.

New Japan.

T. I. Tamama, the educated Japanese who spoke in the Methodist church Sunday morning delivered a free address last evening to a crowd that had hard work to find standing room in the church. His lecture was on modern Japan, and was illustrated with lantern views.

Mr. Tamama took occasion to impress on his hearers at the beginning of his address how different is the use of the word "ancient" when used in referring to Japanese customs and history than when used to refer to the customs or history of Europe. In the latter instance the word implies at least several centuries. In the case of Japan it means thirty years ago, or before Japan was opened to the commerce of the world by the ships of an American admiral. It was of Japan as it has been since then that he spoke.

He showed first views of the coast as it appeared in the distance when approached by the tourist on a steamer, and then gave nearer views of the first city to be reached, Yokohama. Thirty years ago this was nothing but a fishing village. Today it is a modern city of several hundred thousand people.

One American idea of Japan which Mr. Tamama took occasion to correct was that the people of his country lived in bird cages or bamboo houses. Their dwellings, so he said, were fully as substantial as those in this country, and fully as good, be added with a little geological pride.

After taking the tourists the rounds of the "lions" of Yokohama he passed on to the capitol, Tokio, and thence to other cities in the southern part of the empire. He had a number of views of the beautiful temples, by which he was able to illustrate the three religions of Japan, Christianity, Buddhism and Shintoism. Though himself a Christian he declared that the followers of the other sects were anything but idol worshippers, and compared their adoration of images with the adoration of the Virgin Mary in Catholic churches.

He gave views of the Mikado's palace and several of the government buildings, among which was the war department, from which was so successfully managed the Japanese end of the late unpleasantness between Japan and China.

During the progress of the lecture a collection was taken up for the benefit of the speaker, who is soon to return to his native land, where he has already been assigned to the charge of a church with 300 members.

Bryan's Hour Changed.

Candidate W. J. Bryan will be here one hour earlier tomorrow evening than was expected. This news was received by the chairman of the county committee yesterday. This change is a considerable advantage, as it will enable him to make his address that much earlier. Nothing is said in the communication of how the change in schedule will effect the other towns along the line, but it is likely that their time will be advanced correspondingly.

CITY BREVITIES

Weather forecast: Generally fair; with northeasterly winds. Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 47 degrees; 12 m., 53 degrees; 7 p. m., 47 degrees; maximum, 57 degrees; minimum, 41 degrees.

There will be speaking at the McKinley and Hobart club tonight.

R. C. Young came up from Munising Monday on a short business trip.

Editor C. G. Griffey of Negaunee was in town for a few hours Monday.

A lumberman named Kelly was brought in from Munising last night suffering with a broken leg. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

E. J. O'Brien's raffle for a revolver will take place at Shea's saloon Oct. 25th.

The city was filled with smoke last evening which was said to come from forest fires between here and Negaunee.

Mate Edde, who has been running all season on the City of Marquette leaves this morning for his home in Detroit, as the boat's season is practically at an end.

George D. Sammons, "in medical parlance" found the people of Marquette too unresponsive for him to stay with. Accordingly he packed his saratoga and left for other parts yesterday afternoon.

T. J. Garrick, who has held cases on THE MINING JOURNAL for five years has given up his position, as he has secured a place on the Green Bay Gazette as foreman. He left with his family yesterday.

Albert Wallace made the unusual find in the woods the other day of a strawberry plant with half a dozen ripe berries growing on it. There are instances of similar finds late in the season, but they are rare.

Charles T. Whitney, alias one or two other things, who stole the overcoat from Landlord Hogan, was taken before Judge Byrne yesterday and given a sentence of eighty days in the county jail in lieu of a $25 fine.

Mabel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leroux of 769 West Washington street, died Monday forenoon of cholera infantum. The funeral is to be held this afternoon from the French Catholic church.

A user of the electric light was heard to remark last evening that there ought to be two electric light boards. One to explain why the city was not able to give better light, and the other to attend to the work of furnishing the light.

Arrangements are being made for a return date for the noted lecturer Dr. O'Leary. When here last summer he had large and well pleased audiences during his entire course of lectures. The date of his first lecture will be announced in these columns soon.

"Polly" Reichman is a fit comparison to Solomon in all his glory since he has donned the suit presented to him by the Johnson Clothing company for making the most base hits of any man in the Marquette base ball team during the season. He made his first public appearance in the new togs Sunday.

Thursday evening two foreign speakers are expected to address the crowd at the Silver club. One is ex-President of the international bricklayer's union, and the other ex-President Vaughn of the Denver Trade and Labor assembly. They will be at Negaunee tonight and at Ishpeming tomorrow.

The lease of life for Uncle Tom's Cabin is phenomenal. It is a play that has been backed, and butchered, and gaped unmercifully, and yet it survives because it tells a story which interests and stirs up humanity. It can be truly said of the Cook-Twin Sisters Uncle Tom's Cabin company, that every performer in his or her particular line is an artist. The scenic, mechanical, calcium and electrical effects are truly wonderful.

As Superior tent No. 28, K. O. T. M., was in progress last evening, its members were surprised by the appearance of fifty ladies of the hive who demanded admittance to themselves and their liberally filled lunch baskets. Though a surprise party it was not disagreeable to the Sir Knights. After the ladies had been provided with seats the lady commander of the hive presented the tent with a beautiful silk altar cloth trimmed with gold lace. Appropriate speeches were made on both sides. The ladies also took up the K. O. T. M. march and went through some very pretty evolutions.

The total number of vessels which passed through the Canadian Soo canal from May till September 30, was 4,264, with a tonnage of 3,749,472 tons, and freight to the amount of 3,840,000 tons. The total number that passed through the American Soo canal from the opening of navigation in May to September 30, was 10,431, with a registered tonnage of 9,822,963 tons, and freight to the amount of 10,589,024 tons.

Nearly twenty years ago a schooner whose very name has been forgotten, so greatly has lake navigation changed since then, struck late in the fall or early in December on Chickadee Reef and was abandoned by her crew. She was loaded with grindstones of various sizes and as the ice piles grew upon and around the reef her dark hull showed plainly amidst the surrounding whiteness. When spring had come and the ice floes, driven by the fresh west wind, drifted eastward out of sight, no vestige of the beleaguered craft remained. Yet to this day the most of her cargo of grindstones lies about the reef, largely damaged no doubt in the years that it passed, but still bearing witness of a derelict whose name has passed from memory and only remains perhaps in some old and musty chronicle of the time.

SHE KILLED THE BEAR.

Her Method Was Original But None the Less Effective.

Some Philadelphia sportsmen hunting the deer in the wild portion of Clearfield county, in the center of the mountains of Pennsylvania, were hurriedly called out one morning by the guide, who had discovered two bucks a few miles away, says the New York World.

Hastily starting, the men did not carry a large supply of ammunition and what they had was all used or wasted in bagging the deer. Starting back to camp, they encountered a bear and as they could not shoot they ran, each going in a different direction.

The bear chased the guide and he took the direct course toward the camp house, where his wife was preparing a meal. With a yell he dashed into the house and up into the loft. His wife ran out of the back door, closed it, and as the bear had gone inside she hurried around, closed the front door and made the bear a prisoner.

The intrepid woman then tied a dog to a pole, thrust the howling canine through the door and thus coaxed the bear out. As brain appeared she struck him with an ax and killed him at the first blow.

One of the hunters commented on her manner of fishing for a $50 bear with a dog worth $150, but the woman retorted:

"We generally shoot 'em, but we never runs from 'em."

SILENCED THE "MASHER."

How a New Woman Saved Herself from Unwelcome Attention.

He had a smile as bright as his gay-colored trap as he rode up alongside a demure young woman who was walking in Central park the other morning, upon one of the asphalt paths, reports the New York Herald. She heard the rattle of wheels at her side, yet she turned neither to the right nor to the left.

"Good morning," said the handsome young man as he raised his straw hat with the dizzy band, "wouldn't you like to take a ride with me this morning?"

The girl didn't say "Sir-r-r!" or "What means this intrusion?" She slowly turned around and looked the young man over from head to foot. He bore her gaze without finching, and started to get down from his seat as if to assist her into the trap.

The girl looked at him and then at the pocketbook which she held in her hand.

"I don't know," she said, half aloud, "I don't know, I'm sure. How much would you charge to take me to the art museum?"

There was a whirl of yellow trap, of bright red hat band and flying wheels. "You'll do," the young man said, as he drove rapidly away.

DYEING AND CLEANING.

SEASONABLE SAVORIES.

Pickled Walnuts or Butternuts-Vegetarian Beef Tea.

Now is the time to think of pickling walnuts or butternuts. It is a favorite savory, and there is a marked difference between the bought and home-made to the credit of the latter.

Be careful to secure the nuts when they are young, before they harden and become woody. Prick them all over with a knitting needle, holding the walnut on the prong of a fork, to avoid staining the hands. Next make a strong brine consisting of four pounds of salt to a gallon of water. Drop the nuts in this and allow them to remain there for not less than a week. Then drain them off, lay on dishes or trays and place them in the sun for two or three days till they become black. Next pack the nuts in clean dry jars, being careful not to fill them even with the top.

Put in a pan sufficient vinegar to cover the pickles; allow two ounces of allspice and one ounce of ginger to each quart of vinegar; the spice should be tied up in a small piece of muslin, and placed in a pan with the vinegar. Boil for about ten minutes, then pour the liquid (while hot) over the nuts. When cold, cork and seal. The pickle will be ready for use in three weeks and will keep almost any length of time.

Pickled onions should be made about the end of August. The following is a very simple recipe and furnishes a delicious savory:

Procure some pickling onions. Take off the outside skin with the fingers, then peel with a silver knife; on no account use a steel one, or after all your trouble (for it is a painful job), instead of having onions of a nice yellow color after they are pickled, they will have turned black. Have ready some clean dry jars or pickle bottles, and as you peel the onions drop them in. Pour over enough cold vinegar to cover them, and allow a large teaspoonful of allspice to each pint of vinegar. The spice should be tied up in a piece of muslin, and placed in the center of the jar. Should the jars hold under or over a pint it will be quite easy for you to regulate the amount of spice. Cork and seal. Keep in a dry place; they will be ready for use in ten days or a fortnight. This pickle will keep well for six months, but after that the onions gradually lose their crispness.

Vegetarian Beef Tea.—The following recipe is said to make a very savory beverage, and by vegetarians is declared to be "vastly superior in sustaining properties" to beef tea made from meat.

Half a pound of haricot beans should be washed and put to stew in an earthenware jar containing a quart of hot water. Half a small onion should be added, and the ingredients must simmer steadily for three hours, when about a pint and a half of liquid will remain. The meaty part of the beans must not be allowed to break into the liquid and the beans must be strained off when the mixture is removed from the fire. The remaining half of the small onion should then be sliced and fried with an ounce of butter and sprinkled with pepper and salt. The slices when browned should be added to the broth, which must then be strained again.

Fish Pudding.—Take some cold fish, separate it from the skin and bones, cut it into very small pieces, mix it with a little oiled butter and white pepper, beat three eggs to a froth with half a pint of milk and mix it with the fish. Butter the dish, pour the mixture in, bake gently for an hour. The change of seasoning, especially if it be of a pungent character, greatly alters the taste of the fish.—Cleveland Leader.

ISEHPERING AND VICINITY.

BRYAN IN ISEHPERING.

The Silver Candidate for the Presidency Will Make a Brief Stop Tomorrow Evening.

William Jennings Bryan, silver candidate for the presidency, will arrive in Ishpeming via the Chicago & North-western line tomorrow evening at 6:50 o'clock. He will be escorted to the Nelson House, from the veranda of which he will address the large assemblage which will turn out to greet him.

The local admirers of Mr. Bryan, who are arranging for his reception here, first thought of erecting a platform near the depot from which he could speak. The only objection to this was that the meeting might be disturbed by moving trains. The place selected, however, is the most desirable in the city. The streets and vacant ground opposite the hotel will accommodate several thousand persons. It is certain that all the available space within the sound of Mr. Bryan's voice will be taken up as there are very few people here who have not a desire to see and hear him. There will not be a procession, as the distance between the depot and hotel is too short, and, besides, Mr. Bryan's visit is too brief to admit of a demonstration of any kind. While Mr. Bryan is addressing the assemblage his special train will be transferred from the Northwestern road to the South Shore, and at 7:30 o'clock he will leave for Negaunee, where he will remain thirty minutes, then leaving for Marquette.

ISEHPERING IN BRIEF.

The funeral of the late John Lane, who died Sunday, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Joseph Pope hung out a large American flag, with McKinley and Hobart's names on the bottom of it, in front of his place of business yesterday. The flag is a beauty and was presented to Mr. Pope by Hon. Fred Braastad.

The reserved seats tickets for "Uncle Tom's Cabin" next Thursday evening at the Ishpeming Opera House are now on sale at Tillson's drug store. The prices of admission will be twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents, the latter for reserved seats.

A night school will be started this evening at the High school under the direction of Professor Hardy. The school will be open three evenings—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—of each week. Tuition will be $1.50 per month in advance.

A small blaze was discovered in a closet back of the Murdoch House Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock. An alarm was sounded and the members of No. 1 hose company and hook and ladder companies No. 1 were on hand ready to turn out, but the fire was extinguished with a wall of water. The ringing of the fire bell brought out several hundred persons.

The Virginian, of Virginia, Mesaberrange, gives James H. Knowles, a former Ishpeming boy, the following mention: "James H. Knowles left Saturday last for Denver, Colo., where he expects to reside permanently. Mr. Knowles is one of the pioneers of our city, being one of the first settlers. He was among the first to branch out in the real estate business and was also agent for the Acme Powder Company. In leaving our city Mr. Knowles takes with him the best wishes of his numerous friends in this city and vicinity, all of whom wish him abundant success in his new home. He will enter into partnership with his brother, who is also in the real estate business."

BOYS ALL OVER.

How Two Youngsters Experimented with Poison Ivy.

Superintendent Kimball, of the life-saving service, told a story of two boys, and it is so "boys all over," as most mothers would say, that it ought to be printed. The now accomplished officer says that when he was a boy he had a chum, and both were poisoned year after year while running about the woods by poison ivy. One day, says the Washington Star, they heard or read something to the effect that if persons would swallow two or three leaves of the ivy they would never again be affected by it. To relieve themselves of the regular summer and often-recurring annoyance they decided to take a few leaves of it as medicine. Mr. Kimball was of an investigating turn of mind, and found out that on the under side of the leaf there was a very fine dust. He told his companion that as they were experimenting it would be well to see if it made any difference whether one side or the other contained the poison. He rolled up his three leaves so as to cover the dust, and his friend rolled his so as to leave the dust side exposed. With a glass of water and as little chewing as possible they swallowed their doses. The result was something horrible, especially for the boy who took the dusty side of the argument. For weeks after he could not shut his mouth on account of the terrible condition of his mouth and throat. He had to be fed with liquids by a quill, and it was only a miracle that he did not die. Mr. Kimball fared somewhat better, especially as to his mouth and throat, but there was trouble enough on the inside to make up for it. And there was no cure worked. The next season they suffered as before.

"Now, wasn't that like a boy?" is what everybody said, and what all will say now.

DEATH OF GEORGE SHELDON.

A Veteran of the Late War Joins His Departed Comrades.

The remains of the late George Sheldon, who died Sunday of acute pneumonia at the residence of his sister, Mrs. A. S. Christian, on Euclid street, were yesterday forwarded to Flint, Mich., where the funeral will be held.

In May, 1861, when a lad of nineteen years, Mr. Sheldon enlisted in Company F., Second Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out of the service in August, 1865, as first lieutenant.

He carried a musket in eleven hard-fought battles. While with his regiment in the Jackson, Miss., campaign he served as commissary sergeant. During the series of battles commencing with the "Wilderness" and continuing to "Cold Harbor" he was forage sergeant for a brigade of heavy artillery. During the siege of Petersburg and to near the close of the war he served his regiment as ordnance sergeant.

When the war ended Mr. Sheldon came to Marquette county, where he has resided ever since. In 1873-74 he was the Ishpeming representative of THE MINING JOURNAL. He has since been correspondent for several outside papers and very frequently contributed well written articles to THE PENINSULAR RECORD. The articles bearing the signature of "Drill Hammer" were from his pen.

For several years past Mr. Sheldon has conducted a general store at the Winthrop mine location. About two weeks ago, a few days before he was taken ill, he moved his stock of goods into the city and opened up business in the Clifford building on East Division street.

FOR THIRTY-ONE YEARS

Stephen Pratt Has Made Good Steam Boilers at Detroit.

The work turned out by Stephen Pratt, at his boiler works at the corner of Foundry street and the Michigan Central R. R., has made his name famous throughout the country. The business was established in 1865, and so far thirty-one years his workmen have been busy on steam boilers, smoke pipes, car oil tanks, rendering tanks, and various other descriptions of heavy sheet-iron work. Repairing is also done neatly, thoroughly and promptly. The name "Stephen Pratt" on a steam boiler is a stamp of unquestioned merit, a warrant of first-class material and lasting qualities. Mr. Pratt invites correspondence from new beginners in the use of his goods, and he challenges competition. His references from all over the country should satisfy intending purchasers as to his claims.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman finds ample compensation for her trials and worries and bothers in the soft, clinging little body nestling close to her own—in the trustful clinging of the little hands, and the love light in the little eyes.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Doctor Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo.

"I lost six babies by unjustly births. In the eighth month of my seventh pregnancy, as usual, I was taken ill. The family doctor was called. He said there was no help for me. The baby must be born. I grieved exceedingly. I persuaded my husband, against the physician's advice, to get me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Four doses quieted my pains. That child was born at full time. It is three years old, and I am the happiest mother in the world."

TROUBLES OF A TROUSSEAU.

The Needs of a Bride-to-Be Are Without Number.

Have you ever bought a trousseau, I wonder? It is astonishing the amount of fol-de-rols a bride must have that no one else would think of needing. Garters, for instance, covered with thickly-shirred lace insertion, edged with frills of lace on both sides and finished with a bow, a bunch of violets, a jeweled buckle—a trifle that is wearable hardly a dozen times. Do you think she ever replaces this bauble? Never. A plain ribbon gathered over elastic is its humble successor. One particular outfit that I have in mind is to have a number of unique ideas in its building, more or less practicable.

One of the prettiest of the sets, including pantaloons, chemise, skirt and nightgown, is built of the sheerest white stuff trimmed with yellow lace and insertion and yellow ribbon. The nightgown has a round neck trimmed with a deep bertha cut into vandykes and reaching to a point in the jabot down each side of the front of the waist. Insertion and lace trim these points, and straps of the same extend down the back, laying the fullness there in plaits that fit beautifully. A broad ribbon about the waist passes through the lace straps, blousing the front of the gown. The sleeves are of mull, wrinkled about the arm rather closely, a ribbon laid along the two seams holding the shirrings firmly.

The skirt and drawers are edged with deep vandykes of yellow lace and insertion, and the chemise is trimmed with the insertion only, laid in vandykes running about the bust and waist, and laying the soft fullness of the garments close to the figure. The white petticoats all have many flounces and frills of lawn and lace and tucking, one over the other in a foamy mass, the whole confection held out by a stiffer ruffle of some bright, changeable silk to match the ribbon bows, which is buttoned to the skirt in the midst of the white ones. The effect is charming and so easily accomplished. Just reversing things, silk petticoats have ruffles of mull and lace buttoned below their own flounces to give a dainty touch to the richness of the brocade, a touch which the daintiness need not vanish.—Philadelphia Times.

—No woman smiles as sweetly on her husband as she smiles on her lover.

Forest Fires.

Many acres of the land owned by the Iron Cliffs company between Ishpeming and Negaunee and the Iron Cliffs location south of here have been burned over by forest fires during the past few days. The dry leaves and underbrush furnished excellent fuel for the flames. The fire has killed the growth of no small amount of the fine young timber on the land which it swept over, besides destroying considerable of the large timber.

On Sunday the Cleveland-Cliffs company sent several men out to fight the fires. In places the fire had come to the edge of the lead leading around the Cliffs, and parties driving or wheeling that way had a hard time getting through on account of the dense smoke. Several trees had fallen and were lying across the road.

The fire was worse near the Foster mine than at any other place. During the evening nearly the entire bluff immediately north of the mine was ablaze. The fire came within a few feet of some of the houses there. A team and several men were sent out to haul water to assist in keeping back the flames. The occupants of some of the houses had their household goods ready to move out. Later in the night the wind went down and the danger to residence property was over. Yesterday the fire was still burning fiercely, but it was moving away from the houses.

Back from England.

Rev. T. Cory-Thomas, rector of Grace Episcopal church, got back Saturday at midnight from a visit to England. He was away three and a half months. He says it would have been impossible for him to have had a more enjoyable trip. During his stay in England he spent considerable of his time yachting and bicycle riding. He was accompanied abroad by his son, whom he left with relatives there. The boy will remain in England some time. Mr. Cory-Thomas made the return trip from London to Ishpeming in exactly nine days, which is remarkably quick time. He sailed on the new steamship Canada.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN TRACEY.

A Well Known Mining Man Breathes His Last at Roseland, B. C. Captain Patrick T. Tracey, one of the earliest settlers of the upper peninsula, died last Thursday of pneumonia at Roseland, B. C.

Up to the time Mr. Tracey left the New Burt he was very successful. He had accumulated quite a snug sum and quit the mining business to engage in farming in Kansas. He was there but a short time when he was burned out, leaving him in straitened circumstances.

Again engaging in mining work, he secured a good position as expert with a Chicago syndicate. For a time he confined his work to inspection of mining properties in different parts of the United States and Canada.

Captain Tracey was sixty-nine years of age. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons. He had several relatives and many friends in the upper peninsula.

CULTURE AND KNOWLEDGE.

Their Difference Defined and High Hopes for the Future Expressed. Dr. Edward Caird, the master of Balliol, in addressing a Glasgow audience last winter on "The Relation of Culture to Knowledge," said that the word culture had a certain air of arrogance and pretension, so that one could hardly make use of it without seeming to be a superior person; yet, on the other hand, it expressed an idea for which no other word was quite so appropriate.

No sooner did we provide the opportunities and means of education than we had to encounter the difficulty of so using them as not to overburden the mind. Everyone who had had much experience as a teacher must often have met with cases in which the definition, "overeducated for your intellect," would apply. The root of the evil, however, was seldom overeducation; indeed, it might be doubted whether there was such a thing.

Overeducation was like the bete noir of bad political economists—overproduction, which really meant production that was badly organized, and, therefore, did not supply what was really wanted.

Speaking more particularly of culture and knowledge as the instrument of culture, he said we could not now take the world at first hand. We inevitably saw it as interpreted by great bodies of literature and science, which had been the result of the thought of those who had gone before them.

Having discussed at length the ancient ideas of culture Dr. Caird said that the old Greek idea which combined in one the idea of the increase of science or knowledge with the idea of the development of the mind was as true for us as ever it was.

COMPROMISE ON THE CUTS.

Board of Supervisors Didn't Favor a Big Reduction in County Salaries

TOOK OFF A SIXTEEN AND TWO-THIRDS PER CENT. SLICE.

Hot Fights on the Board When the Slashing began—Haupt Roasts the Game Wardens—Several Minor Officers Elected.

	Present salary.	New salary.
Sheriff	$2,300	$1,980
Clerk	3,000	2,550
Prosecuting attorney	2,000	1,700
Treasurer	2,500	2,125
Mine inspector	2,000	1,700
Second district superintendent	900	765
Commissioner of schools	1,000	850
Abstract clerk	600	510

Burdens of the ever complaining taxpayer were lightened by a cut of 16 2/3 per cent. in the salary list of the county officers at the annual meeting of the board of supervisors held yesterday. Had the committee's report met with the approval of the board the cut would have been nearly twenty-five per cent.

As was expected the carving of the salary roll caused a lively squabble. The supervisors were on hand, almost to a man, and quite a part of them were full of fight. They assembled in the court room in the county building as soon as they conveniently could after the up the road members arrived on the eleven o'clock train.

There was a road petition presented to the board, and a committee report offered. The petition was laid over, and the committee told to meet during and fix up its report, then began the interesting part of the session.

The special committee which had in hand the recommendations for salaries, as it turned out, was not of one mind. Walter Fitch wasn't in for carving things to the bone, and consequently refused to sign the report with his brother committeemen. It was noticeable also that Mr. Fitch behaved as if he had never had the least thing to do with the committee, and combatted it at almost every point. He was a combative verbal minority report during the entire meeting.

The majority report when read by the clerk of the board showed the following recommendations: Sheriff, $1,980; clerk, $1,600; treasurer, $1,800; prosecuting attorney, $1,500; mine inspector, $1,500; commissioner of schools, $750; superintendent of poor in the second district, $800; abstract clerk, $40 a month.

It was evident the minute this report was read that it did not meet unanimous approval. A motion was offered and lost that the entire salary list stand for the new year as it is now. It was pointed out, that the duties of the clerk had been cut in two, and it would hardly be right to continue the salary.

At this juncture the fight started. Ewing moved to adopt the report of the committee. Code amended it so as to nullify its effect and made an excitable speech declaring that he had not been sent down there as the representative of the labor unions to cut the salaries of anybody. He was for keeping up salaries of the high as well as the low. Haupt, chairman of the committee, responded to this that the county officials were getting not pay, but robbery, that they were, as he expressed it, robbing the spare ribs out of the county. They were guilty of barefaced robbery.

After passing a motion that they would vote by ballot on each office separately, the board adjourned an hour and a half for dinner. After the recess they came back and tackled their task. The first office to be disposed of was that of sheriff. Code, who was consistent in his demands all through, moved that it remain at the present figure. Haupt amended and substituted the committee report, which carried, giving the incoming sheriff a salary of $1,000 a year in addition to his fees.

The salary of the clerk was next fixed. As the clerk's office at a recent meeting of the board had had the office of register of deeds taken out of it there was a larger cut proposed than in any other office. The cut proposed was from $3,000 to $1,600. There was the customary wrangle here between the committee and its supporters and the advocates of high wages. A compromise was effected not by consent, but by vote, giving the clerk $1,800.

There was a hot fight over the treasurer's salary. The committee thought the office could stand a cut of $700, and thought in making it, it was doing what the taxpayers of the county generally wanted, but they, through their representatives the supervisors, seemed to be very much divided in opinion. A motion was offered to accept the committee report. Mr. Fitch amended it and placed the salary at $2,000.

The next time the two factions clashed the cutters got the best of it. This was on the salary of prosecuting attorney. Supervisor Fitch moved to give that official $1,800. This was amended by Mr. Haupt to $1,500 in accordance with the report of his committee. The amendment carried, and the chair was about to pass onto the next business when Mr. Fitch demanded the amended motion, thinking it possible, as he said that some of the gentlemen might have changed their minds. The chair couldn't see why it was necessary to take a vote twice, but as the parliamentary authorities on the board declared the report of the objector was well taken, he put the main question as amended.

Here was a mix-up too deep for many of the supervisors to fathom. They were voting all sorts of ways. Supervisors who wanted to have the salary increased were voting for a reduction, and those who wanted to cut all the fat out of the office were casting their ballots for a "good thing." Half a dozen supervisors confessed that they were rattled, and requested the privilege of changing their ballots. Indignant inquiry was made of Mr. Fitch why he hadn't raised the point when the treasurer's salary was under discussion, but he only sat back and smiled, and probably wondered why somebody didn't ask how it was legal to fix one salary by merely voting on the amendment and it was not legal to fix the salary of the next one without voting on the amended motion. After this matter had been made comprehensible to the entire board another vote was taken and the salary placed as before at $1,500, according to the committee recommendation.

A $500 gash in the mine inspector's stipend was too deep for the board, and another compromise was affected by an amendment placing it at $1,800 instead of $2,000, where it is at present. The economy crowd fought hard for this cut. The committee was armed with statistics showing what the inspector got in all the other counties of the state, and was ready with arguments to prove that Marquette was paying too much. But it was no use trying to make the board think the inspector was getting $500 too much, so the salary was set at the figure proposed in the amendment.

The anti-cutters gained a victory in the next brush with their opponents. This was on the salary of the school commissioner. A slash of $250 had been proposed by the committee. Supervisor Haupt was the most insistent advocate of the cut, asserting that the commissioner didn't visit the schools in the county more than once a year, and quoting some supervisors as saying he was worth only a hundred and fifty dollars. He was far from voicing general opinion, as even Supervisor Billings, who had stood right by him on the other cuts, said that if any of them were to be spared he was in favor of giving the commissioner of public schools a salary that would put a good man in office, and if it was necessary to get one that he should be paid a salary which would require his entire time to earn it. Mr. Billings would like to see it done. When it came to the vote the salary was left unchanged.

Having gained one victory the anti-cutters proceeded to signalize it by repeating on the poor superintendent. The cut proposed here was a small one, from $900 to $800, but on a vote the old salary was retained. Forty dollars a month was proposed to be paid to the abstract clerk. This is small, but the committee thought it large enough as the abstract clerk and the register of deeds are to be one. It was moved to adopt the report, then the anti-cutting forces got in with their usual deadly amendment, and altered the proposed wage first to $60 a month and to $50. The amended amendment went through.

This ended the salary changes reported by the committee. But Supervisor Haupt having his knife out was loath to put it up. He started on the trail of the game wardens, and made them out to be a worthless and expensive appendage to the county official list. He thought that these men should draw a salary of $50 a month for doing almost nothing, when as he declared the game laws were being violated with impunity all over the county. As an instance of the way these worthies are attending to duty he said that Game Warden Gustafson had refused to go with an Ishpeming citizen and be shown a place where deer were being killed and fed to the hogs. Mr. Haupt wanted the game warden's reports brought in for examination, but as these were not convenient the matter was laid over one meeting.

One of the many tasks of the board was to make up the list of county canvassers. The board divided on political lines in this. The Republicans took two delegates and the alternate, and conceded the silverites one. The slate as finally made out was J. E. Sherman, W. H. Rood and F. M. Moore, delegates, and J. H. Niedhart, alternate. Three ballots were required to elect a superintendent of the Second district. The plum finally fell to Charles L. Sporeley of Negaunee.

Couldn't Talk Against Bryan. The Loyal Temperance legion has been hard at work for several weeks preparing for an oratorical contest which it had planned to hold Wednesday evening. The contest was for a W. C. T. U. silver medal, and was to have been carried out similarly to the temperance contests made famous by W. Jennings Demorest during his life.

When it was learned that Candidate Bryan would speak in Marquette Wednesday evening the legion of course decided upon a postponement. They have now selected Wednesday the 21st, and that evening at the Presbyterian church seven young people hope to distinguish themselves on the rostrum. A number of tickets have been sold for the contest bearing the date October 15. These, of course, will be good for admission on the new date.

A Man of Hats.

The man of many hats is to be pitied. He evidently can find no thing to suit him for any length of time—and he evidently hasn't been in to see us. There's only one fault we find with our hats—they are so good, they give such genuine satisfaction, that their wearers don't like to part with them even when its time. We want men of fastidious hat tastes to examine our stock. With every 50-cent purchase we give a ticket which entitles the holder to one chance on the $100 bicycle—a "Fowler"—which we give away on October 30 to the holder of the number drawn.
