MACEO SLAIN BY TREACHERY

Cuban Commander Was Lured Into an Ambush and Deliberately Shot Down.

HIS PHYSICIAN AND WEYLER PRINCIPALS IN PLOT.

Proposed a Conference to Arrange for Cessation of War and the Insurgent Leader Was on His Way to the Meeting Place.

PATRIOT WAS ASSASSINATED.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 13.—The Citizen prints the following: Justo Carrillo, a well-known Cuban of this city, brother to the Cuban General Carrillo, has received the following letter from a trustworthy correspondent in Havana confirming the reports of the death of Antonio Maceo, and showing that he was killed by treachery:

"Havana, Dec. 9.—Dear Friend Justo: Our brave general, Antonio Maceo, and the greater part of his staff have been murdered by the Spaniards, the Spanish major, Cirujeda, acting the part of assassin, with Dr. Maximo Zertucha as an assistant in the horrible drama.

"Convinced that, notwithstanding his enormous army, he could do nothing against our gallant leader, who had so repeatedly defeated the Spanish generals in Pinar del Rio, Weyler conceived the idea of appealing his beastly instincts by cold blooded murder; and making the best of the secret relations between Dr. Zertucha and the marquis of Ahumada, he planned with the latter his hellish scheme.

"Weyler took the field and in his absence Ahumada proposed, through Zertucha, a conference with Maceo to take place at a certain point in the province of Havana, with the view of arranging plans for the cessation of hostilities. The basis was to be Cuba's independence and a monetary indemnity to Spain, together with certain advantages that should be agreed upon for Spanish commerce and the Spanish capital invested there.

"To carry out the plan the agreement was that orders should be given to the detachment of troops stationed on the trocha in the section between Mariel and Guanajay to allow Maceo with his staff to pass the military line unmolested. Time was required to mature these arrangements, and to give them all the appearance of truth Ahumada feigned that before acting he must make them known to Weyler for his previous approval. This explains the sudden arrival of Weyler in Havana and his prompt return to Pinar del Rio.

FELL INTO THE AMBUSH.
"The conditions and place of the meeting having been agreed on, Maceo crossed the trocha over the road to Guanajay without being molested by the forts, but as soon as he arrived at the place decided upon, he and his party were greeted by a tremendous volley from the troops under Major Cirujeda, who lay conveniently in ambush. Most of the officers on his staff fell with General Maceo. Zertucha is alive because he was aware of the scheme and remained in the rear.

"The Spaniards know where the bodies are, but are bent on feigning ignorance, to blot out the vestiges of the crime.

"Havana and all Spain are rejoicing because, in their stupidity, they hope that the war may end with the death of this leader. Far from it, the spirit of the Cubans has grown more ardent and today they are resolved to make every sacrifice before surrendering their arms to their relentless tyrants. In this very province of Havana, in which our army is least numerous and has the least means of defense, the Cubans are operating with greater and greater activity, and not a day passes that we do not hear in this city the firing on Guanabacoa.

"The Spanish may treacherously murder some of our patriots, but so earthly power can annihilate the spirit of liberty floating, now as ever, over the Cuban people.

CORROBORATES THE LETTER.
Joaquin Fortan pointed out yesterday the following facts, which, in his opinion, corroborate the statements in the foregoing letter and indicate that Maceo is really dead:

"La Lucha published an article last Saturday in which it was stated that on the previous day Major Cirujeda had had an engagement with an insurgent force and had killed thirty-two Cubans, not named, at precisely the place in which General Maceo was murdered. The first dispatch sent from Havana reporting Maceo's death, which was received on Tuesday, stated that Major Cirujeda had previous knowledge of the horse that General Maceo was to ride. How did he acquire that knowledge? Weyler publicly attributes the glory of the event to the marquis of Ahumada, who has not been away from Havana. Why should not the glory be given exclusively to Major Cirujeda, who had the good fortune, the encounter was an accident, to come unexpectedly on Maceo's party?

"From the first, even before convincing proofs had been offered, such assurance was expressed at the palace as indicated a preconceived plan. Zertucha's previous conduct, it now appears, is not altogether free from blamish. A manifest contradiction appears between what is said by the authorities in Havana and what the Spanish minister of foreign affairs announces in his confirmatory telegram to Minister de Lome at Washington. The Havana authorities distinctly say they have been unable to cure the body of Maceo, while the telegram from Madrid states that the body has been identified. This version was transmitted to Madrid to give the home government full assurance of the fact, while it was later thought fit to conceal the truth from the press in Havana in order to conceal the dastardly crime."

MEN AND ARMS FOR CUBANS.

Filibustering Steamer Commodore Preparing to Leave Port Today.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 13.—Every indication points to the departure tomorrow morning of another Cuban expedition. The steamer Commodore has received permission to leave port and is lying at one of the railway wharves preparatory to taking on cargo early in the morning. After loading arms the owners of the steamer will demand clearance papers for a Cuban port on the authority of the decision of Attorney General Harmon, and the custom house officials are expected to grant clearance. If the steamer shall then be seized by a revenue cutter the owners will turn the vessel over to the government and then institute a suit to recover the value of the vessel and cargo. The Three Friends and Dauntless are expected to follow the example of the Commodore, so there are indications of considerable activity in filibustering during the coming week. A large number of Cubans arrived in this city today.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 13.—Sixty-seven men left here this morning on the regular Florida Central & Peninsular train in two private coaches for a point near Jacksonville, where they will embark tonight for Cuba. They form one of three combined expeditions now en route to Cuba. General Carlos Roloff has sailed from some northern port in the steamer Bermuda. It is said he is to be met by two of these expeditions as he comes south. The Bermuda carries ammunition, which is given as follows: Six thousand rifles, four million cartridges, four Hotchiss guns, two dynamite guns, six hundred hand bombs, projectiles for cannon and medicines. General Gomez has promised an active and aggressive winter campaign and he sent General Roloff over to the states to secure the material necessary for it.

RECRUITING FOR THE INSURGENTS.

KANKAKEE, Ill., Dec. 13.—A representative of the Cuban junta has been in this vicinity the past few days superintending the forwarding of recruits for the insurgent army. Sixty recruits passed through here last night on the Illinois Central. They were gathered in from Chicago and Wisconsin points. During the night twenty-five more arrived from Streator, Spring Valley and other points and were furnished transportation to New Orleans.

LARNED, Kas., Dec. 13.—A man representing himself to be a recruiting officer for the Cuban army and to hail from St. Louis has enlisted fifteen or twenty young men of this town and county under the promise of good pay and free transportation to New Orleans.

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 13.—A stranger declining to give his name opened headquarters here today to recruit volunteers for the cause of Cuba. He succeeded in interesting a number of people and hopes to muster a full company in this vicinity.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Dec. 13.—A company of twenty-five young men of this city have organized and will in a few days start for Cuba to join the rebel army.

OFFERS OF ASSISTANCE.

The Cuban Junta Receiving Many Since Maceo's Assassination.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The headquarters of the Cuban legation in this city were the centre of interest to a number of callers today who had come to express to Senor Quesada their sorrow at the death of Maceo and offer their sympathy and, in some cases, help for the Cuban cause. These callers included a number of congressmen and two senators, whose names the Cuban representative declined to disclose, but who told him of their desire to see some action by congress that would be of assistance to the insurgents.

Senor Quesada says he has received the past few days many letters, many of which came from persons and organizations offering to send men to assist the Cubans in fighting for liberty. It is said offers of assistance from abroad were received. The Paris agent of the junta says that not only Cubans but French people, after hearing of the assassination and death of Maceo, are collecting all they can to send an expedition to be called "the expedition of General Maceo" to Cuba. Senor Quesada states that from San Domingo and Mexico also come assurances and contributions to the cause.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 13.—A rousing Cuban mass meeting was held in the city hall this afternoon. Two thousand people were present. The resolutions adopted declare Spanish domination in Cuba should be at once ended.

CHEERS FOR WEYLER.

A Demonstration at Havana in Honor of the Captain General.

HAVANA, Dec. 13.—There was a grand demonstration at the palace tonight in honor of Captain General Weyler. The streets were packed with a moving mass of people. More enthusiasm was shown than on the day General Weyler returned to Havana. Colonel Bameas, as representative of the volunteers, made an address to the captain general, congratulating him upon the success of his plan in the campaign. General Weyler displayed much feeling as he returned thanks. Maceo's death, he added, had taken place while the volunteers were preparing their arms to strengthen the trocha. Maceo, finding he was not safe on the other side of the trocha, had taken to precipitate flight. When the captain general concluded he was greeted with great vivas of the crowd.

HAVANA, Dec. 13.—The steamships San Francisco, Monserrat, Buenos Ayres and Saritrustegui have arrived here with reinforcements of six thousand men.

TREATY OF ARBITRATION.

Negotiations Between the United States and Great Britain Are Almost Completed.

CONVENTION MAY BE SIGNED WITHIN THREE WEEKS.

Treaty Limited to Five Years and Will Cover All Differences With the Exception of Behring Sea and Venezuelan Questions.

GENERAL FEATURES OF PLAN.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The negotiations between the United States and Great Britain for a treaty of general arbitration, covering all subjects at difference between the two English speaking nations, present and prospective, have advanced to a stage of completeness far beyond what the public had reason to believe. The purpose of Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote is to conclude the negotiations within the next three weeks. All the substantial features of the treaty are agreed on. From the present status of the negotiations it is believed the following will be the important terms of the treaty:

First—The treaty shall be operative five years.

Second—A court of arbitration of six members, three to be drawn from the judiciary of the United States and three from the judiciary of Great Britain.

Third—The submission to this tribunal of all differences between the two nations now pending or to arise within a period of five years, this not to include the Behring sea question or the Venezuelan question, now before independent commissions, but to include the question of the boundary between Alaska and British North America.

The completion of this treaty will mark an important epoch in the relations between the two English-speaking nations, and in the judgment of those who have been most identified with its consummation it will be the most important document of a peaceful character in the history of their mutual dealings. The president made a passing allusion to the subject in his recent message. It is understood, however, that the main purpose of Mr. Olney was to reach an agreement as to Venezuela, and that having accomplished this, the larger question of arbitrating all differences would require considerable time for its complete development.

But the negotiations have proceeded with surprising unanimity, so those engaged in the work confidently believe it will be fully agreed upon and the signatures of the contracting parties placed to the documents within three weeks. This will give fully two months for the consideration and ratification of the treaty at the present session of the United States senate, and unless some unexpected obstacle should arise in that quarter there is every reason to anticipate the treaty may be made effective before the close of the administration. At least this is the confident hope and expectation of those most concerned in the negotiations.

Aside from the previously referred to points it can be stated in a general way the terms of the treaty are such as to "clear the board" of all vexatious questions which have arisen between the United States and Great Britain. These have been numerous in recent years and some of them have threatened serious consequences. The main purpose of the treaty is to guard against future differences threatening rupture, and in this the negotiators believe the terms of the instrument will be such as to avoid all possibility of an international conflict for the future. This is regarded as the main achievement. It is one said to be peculiarly advantageous to the commercial interests of both countries, assuring them against rumors of war or serious prospects of war. The reasons for limiting the treaty to five years are doubtless to extend a fair trial, after which, if the results are as good as anticipated, the treaty can be renewed or made permanent.

SENATORS BY DIRECT VOTE.

The Bill the Special Order in the Senate Today—The Week's Program.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Ldge immigration bill, an "unfinished business," will have the right of way in the senate each day after 2 o'clock until disposed of. After the immigration bill comes that providing for free homesteads on lands formerly occupied by Indians as reservations. The question is a vital one to many portions of the west. The bill will be vigorously opposed, as it is claimed its enactment into a law would cost the government no less than twenty-five million dollars. A bill providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people is the special order for Monday, but it may go over to a future date. The Cuban question may furnish the topic for a sensation at any time. With the exception of tomorrow, which is District of Columbia day, the house this week will devote most of its time to the consideration of the army and legislative appropriation bills. It is the expectation of the leaders that both of these bills can be passed before the holiday recess.

Sent the Forts a Note.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 13.—The ambassadors of the powers have sent a joint note to the forts demanding the recall within forty-eight hours of the port's special envoy to Crete. Said El Bin Pasha, who is accused of thwarting the reforms projected there.

HOSPITAL IN NEED OF FUNDS. SISTERS AT ST. MARY'S APPEAL TO A GENEROUS PUBLIC.

An erroneous impression has prevailed in Houghton and Hancock as to the deal which resulted in the establishment of St. Mary's hospital at Hancock. At the time the hospital was opened it was understood and so published that the site and building were donated, and as there was no denial of the story it was accepted as being correct.

Last week the Sisters made an appeal for funds, for the first time, and as those who were called upon understood the money was to be used in the payment of merely the running expenses, they made their contributions accordingly.

The second number of the Hancock Y. M. C. A. star course is booked for next Friday evening, when James Hedley will deliver a lecture on "What is a Man Worth?"

REMARKABLE ENTERTAINING. THE HOST FURNISHED EVERYTHING FOR HIS GUESTS.

RECENT DEATHS.

William H. Rickards died at his home in Calumet Friday, aged forty-four years. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, with services at the M. E. church, Rev. J. W. Kerridge officiating, and it was attended by the local lodge of American Foresters, of which the deceased was a member.

A LIBERAL-MINDED LOSER.

His Experience Was Expensive and He Didn't Have the Fun. "What is that big book in the corner?" said the young man who had called at young Mr. Easy's apartment, says the Detroit Free Press.

"That's my scrap book." "Full of pictures and poetry and stuff, I suppose?" "No. Souvenirs. Take a look into it."

Lifting the ponderous volume to a table the visitor opened it and exclaimed: "Why, this looks like a collection of lottery tickets."

"That shows you never played the races. They're tickets that the book-makers gave me in exchange for a liberal percentage of my income. They're certificates of stock in enterprises that never declared a dividend. They're receipts for a liberal fee in a long course of tuition in the school of experience."

"Most people tear up things like these, do they not?" "Yes. But I saved them. I wanted them to remind me of the good times I paid for and never had. They represent experiences that belong to the poetic past and which will never be repeated."

"You mean that you are going to stay away from the race track hereafter?" "Yes."

"That shows your good sense. It costs a lot of money in the end." "I don't begrudge the money so much. It wasn't my cupidity that rebelled. It was my pride."

The infant child of J. W. Johnson of Laurium died Saturday. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Eloheim. The remains were interred at Schoolcraft cemetery.

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Holland of West Hancock succumbed to diphtheria Friday afternoon.

Inspected the Rolling Mill. The Carroll brothers of Hancock visited the rolling mill property at Houghton, recently purchased by them, Friday afternoon and examined it in detail as to what repairs and changes would be necessary to convert the property into a foundry plant.

A TIMELY HINT. One by Which the Housekeeper May Profit.

Some one has said that, armed with a hairpin and a buttonhook, the average woman could bid defiance to most of the minor ills of life. If to these were added a quantity of paper, some paste, and a few household chemicals, there are women who would work wonders.

An old newspaper office in the town was piled with exchanges and old papers, and these were secured for the merest trifle of cost. A rather thick waterproof paste was made, and the experiment was tried first on the hen house.

The inside of the house was then taken in hand. The walls and partitions were lathed, and there were doors, casings and baseboards. Paper was pasted over the laths, and a fine, firm wall was made by repeated applications.

Of course the walls were not perfectly smooth, but they were thick and firm, and very much warmer than those of the average house.

All of the buildings about the place were finished in this manner, and although the winter was cold and the winds were high, water placed on the floor of the barn and henhouse froze only on exceptionally bitter nights.

Only those who have experimented are able to appreciate the possibilities of a roof made of old newspapers. Waterproofed with inexpensive preparations, it is fully equal to tar paper and far ahead of most roofing papers in the market.

Paper placed between walls is greatly conducive to warmth, and even well-to-do persons would find its general employment a great advantage. Paper floors are easily made and wholly practical.

Cotton Crepe Gowns. Cotton crepe in the hundred and one colors in which it can be had makes marvelously pretty house gowns. It is rather cool for winter wear, but a thin flannel lining obviates that difficulty.

THREE MURDERS IN CHICAGO

'Tall Man and Short Man' Hold Up the Hotel LeGrand Bar-Room.

SHOOT BARTENDER WM. JAHNS THROUGH THE HEART.

Ex-Convict Morris Is Killed in a South Clark Street Saloon and William Keenan Is the Victim of a Drunken Row.

SUNDAY'S CRIMINAL RECORD.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—The bar room of the Hotel LeGrand, on Wells street, was the scene of a murder this morning at 6 o'clock. Two men, a "tall man and a short man," as usual, entered the saloon. The "short man" pushed the porter behind a door and held him there with a revolver pointed at his breast. The "tall man" advanced to the bar and demanded of the bartender, William Jahns, the money in the till. Jahns reached beneath the bar and accidentally knocked over a number of glasses, which fell to the floor with a crash. The "tall man," evidently thinking the bartender was reaching for a pistol, drew a revolver from his overcoat pocket as quick as a flash and fired two shots, one of the balls passing through Jahns' heart. The men had no trouble in making their escape.

In a saloon on South Clark street tonight, William Morris alias Ely, who was recently released from the penitentiary, was shot and instantly killed by Joseph Speagel, the bar-tender. A quarrel over Speagel's sister led to the shooting.

During a drunken quarrel at a christening in the home of William Keenan this evening, Keenan was fatally shot by John Meenan, proprietor of the child, and died at a late hour tonight. The murderer was arrested.

MURDER IS ALLEGED. KNOX, Ind., Dec. 13.—The body of Ed Fetters, a horse dealer, was found buried with the carcass of a mule near here Friday and today Fetters' partner, William Sutherland, was arrested, charged with murder. The grave had been carefully dug and the animal's body placed so as to conceal that of the man in case the grave had been carelessly opened. It is claimed by the authorities that several people are implicated in the crime.

A LYCHING IS PROBABLE. MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Dec. 13.—An drew Hart, aged twenty-five, son of a pioneer farmer of this county, was shot dead this morning by an unknown man who entered the house, presumably for the purpose of robbery. A desperate struggle ensued. The murderer escaped, but hundreds of armed citizens, with bloodhounds, are in pursuit and a lynching is probable.

GOV. PINGREE'S REFORMS.

Michigan Railway Officials Do Not Think They'll Go Through.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Michigan railway officials do not seem to be seriously alarmed regarding the antagonistic legislation which Governor-elect Pingree promises to carry through this winter. The manager of a leading Michigan road, who is in the city, laughed when asked whether the Michigan roads were scared. "Not in the least," he said. "No doubt the governor would like to bring about the reforms he talked about. But, fortunately for the railroads, he cannot make the laws himself and the legislature may not be as pliable as the governor thinks it will be. The radical views expressed by Mayor Pingree will not be shared by the legislature, and I am willing to bet that few of his proposed extreme measures will be enacted into law."

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM CURED BY Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from rheumatic twinges. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

ALL RECORDS SMASHED.

Close of the Six-Day Bicycle Race at Gotham—Hale the Winner.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden ended at 10 o'clock last night, "Teddy" Hale winning the contest and smashing all previous records for that time. The final scores are as follows: Hale, 1,910; Rice, 1,882; Reading, 1,865; Forster, 1,829; Schoch, 1,766; Smith, 1,754; Pierce, 1,758; Taylor, 1,732; Ashinger, 1,673; Moore, 1,661; Maddox, 1,644; Cassidy, 1,605; Gannon, 1,566; McLeod, 1,350; Glick, 1,206.

Hale showed signs of breaking up during the day, and there is no doubt another twenty-four hours would have put him out altogether. His face had sunken away till his cheek bones stuck out, and his complexion was like putty. He worked his pedals with apparent effort. His limbs were stiff and he was saddle-sore.

Enthusiasm reached fever heat early in the afternoon when Hale and Rice with less than twenty-seven miles between them began to ride in dead earnest. The contestants, fagged out as they all must have been, took new courage in the applause of the crowd and even Glick made an occasional spurt. Forster made a desperate effort to regain his place ahead of Reading, but the soldier held him safe.

The closing hours of the race were marked by the greatest enthusiasm ever displayed at such a contest in this country. Nearly ten thousand persons were in the garden at 8 o'clock and in many of the boxes were elegantly attired women. The throng in the arena was so great that the services of the police were required to prevent the spectators from pressing too close against the railing around the track.

MUCH BAD ARMOR PLATE FOUND.

Construction Work on the New Battleships Will Be Delayed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The special board appointed by Secretary Herbert to investigate the charges that plate of inferior quality has been furnished for the battleships now building at Newport News will resume its inquiry at that place tomorrow. As far as it has gone, the inquiry indicates that the amount of defective plate supplied is much larger than was at first supposed, and that the consequences may be very serious in the way of delaying the work of constructing the battleships, in which the department is much interested. As it is, the inquiry has caused the suspension of work on the hulls of the battleships, and 300 workmen have been laid off, a disagreeable outlook for the Christmas tide. The hardship is said to be great in the case of the Construction company, which has accepted the plate upon the report of the government steel inspection board, and is now facing the probability of being obliged to remove a good deal of the plating which has already been placed and riveted, besides being under the necessity of suspending actual construction. It is likely that the outcome of the inquiry will be a complete change in the present inspection system, and if congress can be induced to make the necessary provision a corps of civilian expert inspectors will replace the naval officers who are now detailed for inspection duty.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

Two Prominent Free Thinkers Are Killed by Escaping Gas.

BOSTON, Dec. 13.—Samuel P. Putnam, president of the Free Thought congress, and Mary L. Collins, both of Chicago, were found dead upon the floor of an apartment in St. Botolph street, in the fashionable Back Bay district of this city, yesterday. The woman was twenty years of age and Putnam fifty. A gas cock in the room was wide open and the fumes of the gas had been the cause of death. The bodies were both completely clothed. A whiskey flask was also found in the room. Miss Collins and Putnam were lecturers, and the man accompanied the woman home last night. After looking into the matter the police discarded the suicide theory. They found that Mr. Putnam and Miss Collins were to have gone to New York in the afternoon to attend a farewell banquet to be given by a number of their club upon the eve of their departure for the old country. It was also found that the gas escaped from a valve at the back of the regular valve which had been placed there for the purpose of attaching a lamp tube, and it is thought that the second valve turned on when the other was lighted.

GROVER TAKES A LAY-OFF.

Goes to South Carolina Waters on a Shooting Trip.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—President Cleveland left Washington this evening for a shooting trip in South Carolina waters. He was accompanied by Captain Evans, Commander Lamberton and Dr. O'Reilly, his physician. The president is considerably fatigued from the labor involved in the preparation of his message and is in need of recuperation. It is probable he will be absent a week. The party started by rail for Georgetown, S. C., where they will board the lighthouse tender Wistaria and proceed to Winvah bar, where they will be guests of the Annandale Shooting club.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The Times Berlin correspondent says: An explosion occurred Saturday in the house of the scientist, George Isaac, who was experimenting with the manufacture of acetylene gas. Mr. Isaac and three assistants were blown to atoms. It is stated Emperor William had intended to visit Isaac's laboratory, as his experiments had attracted the emperor's attention.

MORE FIGHTING IN THE SUBURBS.

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 13.—Advices from Havana state that more fighting is reported in the suburbs, and the insurgent forces are reported as numbering several thousand. The work of entrenching is being pushed to the utmost and many pieces of new artillery have been mounted. The anti-American feeling is growing and several American correspondents have been warned to be careful of their dispatches on pain of being deported.

TO BRING ABOUT A WAR.

Object of the Visit of the Steamship Laurada to Spanish Ports.

MADRID, Dec. 13.—It now transpires that the semi-official statement published by the government organ, Imparcial, on Nov. 9, that the American Cuban filibuster steamer Laurada, recently loading at Messina, Italy, would not touch at Valencia, Spain, but that her cargo was intended for Valencia, Venezuela, was made with the view of calming any excitement which might have been aroused in Spain upon the subject. The circulation of the report that the Laurada's cargo was intended for Venezuela, and not Spain, had an additional object in view. Beside calming the feelings aroused at Valencia by the announcement that the noted filibuster steamer was to put into that port, the statement regarding the shipment of the cargo to Venezuela was planned for the purpose of giving the Laurada people an opportunity to reconsider their determination to put into the Spanish port of Valencia, the report having been widely circulated that the Laurada was to be taken to Spanish ports with the object of provoking a demonstration and bringing about trouble between the United States and Spain.

Efforts were made to persuade the Laurada people from carrying out their project of landing at Valencia, Spain. But in spite of representations made to those interested in the Laurada and her cargo, she appeared off Valencia on Friday and has continued maneuvering about the coast. Her captain, apparently, was undecided whether to enter the harbor or not. In the meanwhile, it is further stated, Mr. Taylor cabled Washington for instructions. Dispatches from Valencia announce that the merchants and ship owners of that place, including the foreigners, had resolved not to assist in discharging the cargo of the Laurada. The newspapers there and in the city have expressed the opinion that the voyage of the Laurada to Spain was deliberately undertaken with a view of provoking a clash between the United States and Spain.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The trouble arising from the attack of the American steamship Laurada to enter the port of Valencia, Spain, has been fully communicated to the authorities here. The officials of both governments will act to prevent sensational developments and to keep the Laurada from an enforced entrance into a Spanish port. As an evidence of the supposition that the Laurada's movements to a Spanish port is designed to precipitate some indignity to the American flag which she flies, it is pointed out that she has chosen to go to the Spanish port which has shown the most excitement during the present trouble. It was there that student riots were aroused and an excited mob threw stones at the American consulate, and allegations are made that a Cuban, formerly connected with the Cuban junta at New York, headed this demonstration at the American consulate with a view to stirring up a conflict between the two governments.

TO CRUSH REBELLION FIRST.

Spain Will Then Discuss Cuban Reforms—Plan of the Premier.

MADRID, Dec. 13.—Those conversant with the plan of the Spanish premier state that since the debate in the chamber of deputies the government has not thought of proposed reforms in Cuba, being solely occupied with providing means for the success of the war. While they consider the death of Antonio Maceo is a great blow to the insurgents, it is pointed out that some time must elapse before it can be fully felt. When Maceo and Gomez were asked at an earlier period of the insurrection whether they would order their followers to lay down their arms in the event that autonomy were granted to Cuba, they refused, and said they would only consent to a complete independence and a republican form of government.

Spain, therefore, is convinced that the rebellion must be crushed by force of arms and that to discuss reforms at the present moment would be equivalent to proposing an arrangement with the insurgents which almost would secure a peace that would not last six months. It is maintained that so long as the slightest doubt of the superiority of Spain exists in Cuba the war will continue but that when her superiority is established, Spain will consider the advisability of granting such reforms as she may think necessary.

GENERAL LINES OF REFORM PLAN.

As the proposed plan of reform will be an enlargement and extension of the home rule proposition of some months ago, the latter becomes important as indicating the general lines of the plan. This was drawn in due form as a law, beginning: "Alfonso XIII, by the power and grace of God and the constitution, king of Spain," etc., and following with a complete re-adjustment of the administration of the island of Cuba. The feature of home rule was secured under Article 2, of the document, providing for a council of administration, or Cuban legislature. The council was to consist of Cubans, fifteen of them to be appointed by the crown, and fifteen elected by the people for the terms of four years each. The council was given power over "the management of the whole island, of public works, post and telegraph, railways and navigation, agriculture, manufactures, trade, immigration and colonization, public instruction, charities and health department," these powers to be exercised under the supervision of the Spanish government.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

On the question of framing the tariff, the article specified that the Cuban council should have advisory power, submitting an annual budget during the month of March to the minister of the colonies at Madrid. While the details of the extension cannot be given, yet in substance the change is said to give Cuba complete, instead of advisory power, on this subject.

TURKEY IS FAR FROM PLEASSED.

No Protest, However, Has Been Made Against the President's Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Positive denial is made at the state department of the published report that Mustapha Bey, the Turkish minister, by direction of the sultan has entered a protest against the language of the president's message to congress in its treatment of the Turkish question. It is probably true that the government of Turkey was far from pleased of what Mr. Cleveland had to say concerning Turkey, but the rules of international law on this point are now so well settled that it is regarded altogether improbable that official attention will be paid to them. The communications of the executive to congress are domestic matters with which other nations have no concern.

POWER FROM MELTED SNOW.

Swiss Towns Utilize the Mountain Streams for Manufacturing Purposes.

Besides a considerable number of large water-power installations, Switzerland is full of small power plants, nearly every town in that land of mountains and waterfalls being well supplied with power from the "white coal," as the melting snow on the mountain sides has well been called. When there are no large streams, says Cassier's Magazine, many small ones are impounded and collected in reservoirs on the hillsides, and it is rare to find a place of any size which is not well lighted by the power of some mountain stream. At Montreux the electric tramway gets its power in this way, and from the old Roman town of Vevey to the medieval castle of Chillon one may ride in a trolley car propelled by the power of an insignificant little stream which may or may not be noticed when climbing up the hillsides just above.

England's Coal Supply.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The report of Leneve Foster, the mineralogist, brings England face to face with the fact of possible coal exhaustion. He says that the supply will not stand a yearly increase of 3 1/2 per cent. in the output, and that signs of decline probably will become apparent within a lifetime. Prof. Evans' estimate was that a century of the present rate of progress would exhaust English coal mines to a depth of 4,000 feet, which is 1,500 feet deeper than the deepest mine.

NO USE FOR LEATHER APRONS.

Samantha Mann Declines to Trade Jelly Cake for Cold Breadwaters.

When the children used to go to Possum Walk schoolhouse the dinner hour was a time when they gathered together and compared the contents of their dinner baskets and traded with each other. Two doughnuts for a piece of pie, one cookie for a red apple, etc. Some of the scholars were children of the poorer class of tenant farmers and their baskets were not filled with anything like so appetizing an outfit as the baskets of the others. Mary Jane Spurling, for instance, used to come to school with buckwheat cakes for dinner. They were of the large kind, about 16 inches round and a quarter of an inch thick. They had been buttered thinly while hot, but the butter would melt quickly and the cakes would be as cold as tombstones by the noon hour.

Work of a Clever Forger.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—The Chronicle says: Messrs. Ames and Carvalho, the New York experts who came out here in the interests of the Fair children, have made a report in which they declare the pencil produced by Mrs. Nettie E. Craven to be a clever piece of forgery. The deed to the half a million dollars worth of property held by Mrs. Craven and her contract marriage with the late Senator Fair are also placed in the same category.

THE LADY BURGLAR.

Entertainingly Explains How She Happened to Burgle.

"Yes," said the lady burglar, as she ran a dainty gold-tipped jimmy through her back hair and toyed idly with a dark-lantern, "it is somewhat of an innovation, I confess, and I rather pride myself that I am the first real lady who has ever made a serious study of the science of burglary. Other ladies have tried it, but it was a mere fleeting fad, like roller skating and hoop skirts.

"They never took up the calling in earnest, and I believe I am correct in my assertion that I am positively the only lady who has adopted the profession as a means of livelihood. How did I happen to enter it? No, don't say what was the first misstep. That is mere sentimental gush. There was no misstep. I took up burglary deliberately and, if I may say it, with malice aforethought.

"All the legitimate professions were overcrowded, and I was far too proud to ever think of becoming a housemaid or a waitress in one of those quick and dirty lunch places. And there was no money in typewriting. Once," and the lady burglar laughed a merry, reminiscent laugh, "I remember entering a gentleman's house by way of the second-story window—he was a personal friend of mine. O, no; I never let such trifles stand in the way of business. In fact, if I am not much mistaken, he was an old sweetheart or something on that order.

"Well, I was just gazing in the glass to see if my hat was on straight preparatory to going through his jeans and whatever other articles of furniture he had, when he awoke with a violent 10, 20 and 50 per cent. popular price start. 'My Gawd, Mag, is it you?' he ejaculated in a low, sad voice; 'what are you doing here at such an hour? Think of what the neighbors will say!' 'I am here to rob,' I replied in a hard-boiled Barbary coast voice.

"He seemed surprised, but contained himself with remarkable self-possession. 'If you will promise to go home and shed those bloomers forever you can have anything I have got,' and he gave me the key to his wife's bureau drawer on the spot. Yes, I have found that, as a rule, men are gallant. I always make it a point to disturb them as little as possible, but whenever I do arouse them they receive me in a courteous and kindly manner.

"I recall an instance of my early days when I was little better than a second-story novice. I had entered a bachelor's apartment, and was hastily separating the wheat from his unpaid bills, when he unexpectedly opened his eyes and gazed long and earnestly at me.

"'Do you find anything that strikes your fancy?' he asked, in a gentlemanly way.

"'Nothing,' I replied, 'that will enable me to live in ease and luxury.'

"'Well,' he answered, 'in that lower drawer you will find a pair of pink silk pajamas. If you will be so good as to take them I think you can use them when your bloomers have gone into dry dock.'

"'O, no, I was not offended. We lady burglars have to put up with a great deal of risque remarks, and, besides, the pajamas, I found, made excellent shirt waists for the seaside. Would I recommend other young women to follow in my footsteps? No, not unless they were willing to put up with all manner of unconventional things.

"Sometimes I almost envy Billy Fly, Davy Dare Devil and those other ladies who hang by their toes from 18-story buildings at seven dollars a column. It is a great deal more genteel than to go through a pair of gentleman's trousers with the horrid dread in your heart that his wife has already been through them."—San Francisco Call.

LIBERAL, BUT DISCREET.

A Man Who Had Had Experience with Expensive Timepieces.

"I want something handsome in the way of a clock," he said to the jeweler.

"We have a very fine line of goods," was the response; "and the prices are very moderate."

"I don't care anything about the price. I want something that will show at a glance that it cost a whole lot of money."

"Certainly. We have some beautiful imported goods."

"That's the idea; something that came from abroad. I want an onyx pedestal and ornate trimmings and a statue on top of it."

"Here's a veritable work of art."

"That's pretty well; but I'd like something more attractive than that. It's to be a birthday present to my wife. We haven't been keeping house very long and she's been worried for fear people would think we were going without a clock because we couldn't afford one. I'm going to see that she has something so handsome that it'll dazzle everybody who comes into the parlor and so precious that it has to be kept under glass like a specimen in the museum."

"How is this one?" the jeweler inquired, as he lifted a massively ornate article from a shelf.

"That's the very thing. That'll please her almost to death. Pack it up and ship it out to my house and send the bill to my office."

"It'll cost a hundred and twenty-five dollars," the jeweler mildly suggested.

"That's all right. It looks as if it were worth it."

He started for the door, but came back and said: "By the way, you'd better give me another clock—one of these small nickel-plated affairs that cost about a dollar and a half, so that we can stick it off in an obscure corner to look at when we want to know what time it is."—Washington Star.

His Reasons.

"You are over 40; why don't you marry?"

"Because I do not care to marry an elderly woman, while a young girl would be foolish to marry me and I don't care to marry a foolish girl."—Fliegende Blaetter.

PRETTY PETTICOATS.

The New Styles Are Gotten Up Very Attractively.

Petticoats are a most essential feature in every costume, and it is quite as necessary that they should fit and hang well as that the gown itself should be well cut. Again and again a costume is seen which, in itself very smart, yet looks somehow exceedingly dowdy and quite lacking in style. Just what the trouble is it would be at first difficult to say. Apparently it is well cut and hung, and the materials used are of the best, and yet it will not have the same appearance of being in style as will some costume that has cost a third the money. The real reason for this is that the petticoats worn beneath it are not well cut. Women who are really in other ways neat never seem to realize how much thought and care should be bestowed upon this particular article of dress.

The new styles in petticoats are bewilderingly pretty; better still, they are eminently sensible in material and cut. Silk is the favorite material, and as there never was a time when silk could be bought so cheap, it is quite possible, even for the woman who has to consult economy, to have several. Fashion requires that the linings of the cloth suits this year shall be of contrasting silk, and one of the newest fads is to have a petticoat to wear under the gown made of the same color as the gown itself, but just a shade or two lighter. All these are fuller than they were, but the fullness is gathered into a small space at the back, quite like the skirts of the gowns, and the fit over the stomach and hips is carefully attended to. A deep Spanish flounce is still the fashion, but the skirt itself extends under the flounce now. One or more ruffles to trim the flounce, and just as many inside ruches or little flounces as can be put on, are added. Lace insertion is very much used—black lace on the flounces of petticoats to wear with street gowns, white lace on those to be worn with light gowns in the house. In all the petticoats there is some attempt at wiring, either with a feather-bone run through just above and just below the flounce, or the dress-extenders, which are really capital, put into the back breadths so that the petticoat hangs out full and wide. The objection often raised that silk petticoats are too cold for winter wear is quite done away with by lining them with thin flannel as far as the knee; this does not add to the weight, and yet gives sufficient warmth.—Harper's Bazar.

ANGERED DELINQUENTS.

Property Owners Whose Places Were Sold for Unpaid Sewer Taxes Much Incensed.

Have an Idea There Was Something Crooked About It, and That Purchasers Sought to Rob them.

Several of the property owners here who had not paid their sewer taxes have learned within the past two or three days that their places were disposed of at the sale held early last week at Marquette. Some of those who were behind in the payment of their sewerage assessments were greatly surprised when they were advised that their properties had been sold. A couple of these were seen Saturday. They were very much stirred up and could not understand how their properties could have been put up for sale without their knowledge. The man who bought the places was roundly denounced by them, their idea being that he was seeking to take an unfair advantage of them in some way.

Another man who learned that his place had been sold called on the purchaser Saturday. The latter came in for an overhauling that he will not soon forget. The excited taxpayer would not listen to an explanation. He intimated in very strong language that the purchaser was trying to rob him of his property.

The four church properties which the Rev. T. Cory-Thomas referred to in Saturday's issue as having been sold for the delinquent sewer taxes are the English Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Presbyterian. The trustees of these churches will take immediate steps to redeem them. A representative of one of the churches said Saturday that he did not think the trustees would wait for the council to take action on their petition.

Lodges Choose Officers.

At the last meeting of Rose of England lodge, Daughters of St. George, of this city, the following officers were installed: Past president, Mrs. M. A. Atwell; president, Mrs. Emma Trewhick; vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Marty; financial secretary, Mrs. Mary Swan, recording secretary, Mrs. Phillip Trathen; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Uren; chaplain, Mrs. Margary Verran; first conductress, Mrs. Mary Tallon; inside guard, Mrs. Sarah Dyer; outside guard, Mrs. Sophia Hooper; trustee, three years, Mrs. Mary Moyle. The installation was conducted by Grand Deputy Mrs. E. A. Trethewey, Trelawney lodge, No. 399, Sons of St. George, will be officered as follows for the ensuing term: Past president, John Healy; president, Heady White; vice president, Fred Richards; recording secretary, W. Williams; messenger, N. Weaine; assistant messenger, Richard Coles, trustee, eighteen months, George Bodenna.

Went Over the Route.

Paul McK-y, chief engineer of the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railway company, spent Saturday in Ishpeming going over the route of the extension to be put in here during the winter. The survey was made some time ago, but some detail work will need the engineer's attention before construction of the roadbed is begun.

Charles Johnson, who has been removing the dwellings from the right-of-way through the Lake Superior Iron company's property, has a little more work to do. His men have been idle for the past few weeks, but resumed work Saturday. The contractor will clean up his work by the time the railway people are ready to begin the extension of the line.

Plans Completed.

The local officials of the Cleveland-Cliffs company have completed the plans for the new shaft which will be put down at the Salisbury mine and preparations for beginning the work are now under way. It will be about three months before the shaft will be started, however, as there is considerable preparatory work to be done. It is the purpose of the management to put in the shaft on the raising plan, commencing at the bottom of the mine instead of on surface. The machinery to be used in handling the dirt is now being installed. The opening to the shaft will be between the Salisbury Methodist church and the open pit.

Christmas Market.

The ladies of Grace Episcopal church society are making extensive preparations for their annual Christmas market, which they will hold on Wednesday and Thursday of this week in the Wilbur block on South Main street. An unusually fine assortment of fancy articles have been prepared for the sale. These will be disposed of at very low prices. Every article displayed will make desirable Christmas presents. The ladies will be pleased to have their friends call and see them.

Christmas Exercises.

The teachers and pupils of the public schools are preparing for the annual Christmas exercises. A program is being arranged for each room. In the kindergarten and lower grades the visit of Santa Claus will be the main feature of the exercises. The little ones will all be remembered by the old gentleman.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Mrs. August Thoney is up from Marquette on a visit to friends. John Gloss of Cadillac, Mich., did business in the city Saturday.

John Rogers of Menominee spent Saturday with Ishpeming friends.

Professor J. B. Montgomery of Champion spent Saturday in Ishpeming.

Miss Essie Fisher is home from down the line, where she has been teaching school.

The regular meeting of the Ishpeming Snowshoe club will be held this evening.

F. E. Haines came down from Champion Saturday and spent Sunday with his family.

F. W. Read & Co. have begun the erection of a barn in their wood yard on Third street.

The stereopticon lecture given Saturday evening at the Salvation Army barracks was well attended.

Will Schaeffer and wife returned to Munising yesterday, after spending a few days with relatives here.

There will be an election of officers of the local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America tonight. There will also be initiations.

A meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union and the Loyal Temperance legion was held Saturday afternoon in the Grayerock building on East Ridge street.

T. J. Mudge has rented one of the store rooms in the Heard building at the corner of Division and First streets and will put in a stock of furniture and stoves there. He expects to open up this week with a complete new stock.

BAD FOR BURGLARS.

Thief Traced by the Marks of His Teeth in the Pumpkin Pie.

Burglars would do well when ransacking a house to refrain from taking a bite out of any pumpkin pie they may find lying around. Dr. R. L. Taylor, of 1209 Wylie avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., was awakened the other morning by the striking of a match. He saw a colored man peering into his room from behind the portieres. He sprang from his bed and chased the burglar from the place. Before arousing the doctor the thief had ransacked the lower part of the house. After he had packed the silverware in a bag he decided to sample a nice, juicy pumpkin pie which he found in the refrigerator. The negro apparently did not like pumpkin pie, as he took but one bite of it. The bite was a big one, and the marks of the man's teeth were plainly seen by the doctor. The latter preserved the pie until he could make a mold that would fit the indentation in the pie. After making the mold he had a perfect impression of the thief's teeth.

Frank Washington, of 55 River avenue, who was near the house the night of the robbery, was arrested on suspicion. An examination of his mouth clearly showed that he was the man who had taken the bite out of the pie. At the hearing before Magistrate McGarey the evidence was presented, and Washington, who made no defense, was held for trial at court.

NAVAL CADET SENT ABROAD.

Will Study Marine Architecture at the University of Glasgow.

Secretary Hobart, in recognition of the urgent need of more naval constructors to design and supervise the building of new warships, has granted the application of Naval Cadet William G. Grovesbeck, of Indiana, to enter that corps of the navy, and the young officer, who is one of the honored men of his class, has been detached from duty on the armored cruiser New York and has sailed for Europe to study marine architecture at the University of Glasgow under Prof. Bilas. It is customary to send three or four men from each class of the academy abroad to study ship design, but Cadet Grovesbeck is the sixth man so selected from his class and he will have the advantage of being associated with two of his own classmates at Glasgow, Assistant Naval Constructors Evans and Adams. Two others are at Greenwich and one at Paris. At the end of two years they will all enter into active service at the navy yards and shipbuilding establishments, where their services are already urgently needed. Chief Constructor Hichborn will endeavor to secure eight or ten men from the next graduating class in the hope of increasing his staff to meet the enormously increased demand made upon it by the rapid growth of our naval force.

PRINTING OFFICE FOR SALE.

A small job printing office, completely equipped for the usual run of commercial work. The office was gathered together by H. W. Harvey, who was a cripple and who took this means of occupying his time and adding to his income. He has since died, and the office is for sale. It contains a fine assortment of plain and fancy type faces; leads, slugs, rules, etc., in sufficient quantity; a first class Gordon press (foot power), a power paper cutter, lead cutter, tabling press, etc., together with cabinets and various other aids to the work of a job printing office. The press is new, not 10,000 impressions having been made on it, and the material all in first class condition. The parties holding the office can make no use of it, and it will be sold at a great bargain. It is a fine chance for some young man who has a taste for printing to procure a good working outfit at a nominal figure. Address inquiries to L. D. Harvey, Chocolay, Mich. Mr. Johns of the Marquette Mining Journal may be referred to as to the value and condition of the office. (12-7-1f)

TO UTILIZE CITIES' SEWERS.

Scientific Dream Suggested by the Underground System of Paris.

The mention in Postmaster-General Wilson's report of the desirability but enormous cost of pneumatic tubes for mail service in cities suggests a scientific dream. As is well known, the sewers of Paris are great underground galleries, the main ones large enough to be traversed by men in boats, and in them electric wires are hung and all necessary tubes arranged. If that could be done in Paris, as it was many years ago with the old-fashioned costly appliances, why not much more readily in Philadelphia, says the Ledger, with all the advantages of modern economical methods, and in a subsoil so well adapted to the work as we have here? There is no difficulty in conceiving a harmonious system of sewers under this city, fulfilling the same functions as those of Paris, solving the problem of overhead wires by taking them all underground, carrying gas, water, pneumatic and any other desired pipes and tubes in a position where they would be out of the way and yet would be always within reach, and there would be no difficulty in constructing the same without disturbing the surface, except perhaps for the smaller branches. It is only a question of money. Some day, no doubt, the city will have the money, and will see its way clear to make this great improvement.

LOVES LONGFELLOW'S POEMS.

Chicago Woman Gives Boston Library $10,000 to Establish Memorial Collection.

The Boston public library is in receipt of a benefaction the identity of the donor of which is surrounded with some mystery. The giver is Miss Victorine Artz, of Chicago, and the amount of the bestowal is $10,000.

About a month ago Herbert Putnam, the public librarian, received a letter from Miss Artz, saying she wished to donate money to the library for the purpose of establishing a Longfellow memorial collection. Other letters were received in which Miss Artz declared herself to be an ardent devotee of Longfellow. She said that she loved his verse above that of any other writer and for years had studied the life, the style and the characteristics of the poet with a fixed purpose not revealed. Ill health forced her to abandon the purpose, but she had determined, however, to found an enduring memorial to her beloved poet. Miss Alice Longfellow, the poet's daughter, never heard of Miss Artz.

Miss Artz never lived in Boston, nor ever visited there. And her antecedents are not such as to indicate the sort of expression which her munificence took.

Little is known of Miss Artz in Chicago. She is a woman of wealth and lives in seclusion at the Metropole.

HE RESIGNED.

How the Postmaster at Pony Closed Up His Accounts.

In the early days of Pony, a mining camp in Montana, the post office consisted of an old tea-box, into which all the letters were dumped, the citizens helping themselves, says an exchange. There were only 40 citizens in Pony, and, there being no money in the office, it was with considerable difficulty that the storekeeper was persuaded to accept the postmastership.

One day a stranger rode into camp and called on the postmaster.

"Don't you know," he began, sternly, "that it is illegal to allow people to pick out their own letters like that?"

"Waal, stranger," said the postmaster, "I don't know that it is any of your business how this office is run."

"But I am a United States post office inspector."

"In this case," said the postmaster, "we will finish up this post office right now."

He took the tea-box, placed it in the middle of the road and, with a good run, kicked it clear across the gulch.

"Now, then," he resumed, "you go right back to Washington and tell the department for me that the accounts are closed and the postmaster at Pony has resigned."

SUBMARINE SENTINEL.

Successful Test of a New Apparatus in France.

The "submarine sentinel" is the name of a new apparatus which has quite recently been experimented with by the French navy. The final tests were made in San Juan bay by a special commission, consisting of Capt. Fort, commander of the French armor-clad Magenta; Lieut. Serres, the adjutant of Admiral Gervais, and a number of officers from the French Mediterranean squadron. The apparatus, which was operated from the torpedo boat Sarrazin, succeeded in exploding two automatic torpedoes which had previously been placed in the channel of navigation, but without the knowledge of the commander of the Sarrazin. The successful result of this official test has been submitted to the French minister of marine and the adoption of the submarine sentinel by the French navy was strongly recommended by the commission to the higher authorities. In the report Capt. Fort stated that it was the only apparatus so far known offering the advantage of being able to clean the bottom of channels of hostile waters from explosive obstructions placed therein by the enemy. Details of the construction of the new apparatus are carefully withheld from the public.

Germany Posing as Cornishmen.

A curious accusation of German imitation of British goods comes from the Transvaal. Cornish miners are in great demand in the gold fields on account of their skill, and receive higher wages than others. It is asserted that Germans there assume Cornish names and imitate the Cornish accent well enough to pass themselves off for the original article.

And About Negaunee.

FIRE THE PEDDLERS.

A Couple of the Fraternity Summarily Dealt With by Marshal Rough.

Marshal Rough arrested two pack peddlers Saturday. One gave his name as Paradise and the other as Sorensen. The former was selling underwear and the latter sold patent medicines and other truck. Neither was provided with a license. Both were jailed, but they were released after being confined a few hours and were ordered to get out of the city as quickly as possible. The strangers were glad to get off so easily, as they fully expected to be sent up for at least thirty days. They lost no time in taking the marshal's advice. They did not wait for a train, but started on foot toward Marquette.

Marshal Rough says he will not be so lenient with the next peddler he catches selling goods without a license. He has instructed the other police officers to be on the lookout for the fellows with packs and to take them in every time they get a chance. In this way he hopes to bring the peddlers to time, as very few of them have been taking out licenses of late.

Cheap Apples.

A representative of a Grand Rapids firm was in Negaunee Saturday endeavoring to sell first-class winter apples at $1.35 per barrel, delivered. This was a little below what he intended asking, but after arriving here he found that he could not get a better price. He succeeded in getting orders for one carload. All the merchants have their winter stock in, so that the man had a hard time disposing of any of his stock here.

Speaking of the potato crop in the lower peninsula, he said that many of the farmers in his section of the country had lost heavily on this year's crop. Early in the season thousands of bushels of potatoes were sold at ten cents per bushel and even now they are selling at from twelve to fourteen cents. The man offered to put potatoes in here in carload lots at thirty cents per bushel, but he did not sell any, as all the merchants are supplied.

Annual Dog Race.

The local lovers of dog racing propose to have a contest for the boys and their dogs here on New Year's day. The members of a committee chosen for the purpose will soon be around to collect sufficient funds to pay for the prizes to be given the winners. A member of the committee said Saturday that it is proposed to make the race this year one of the most interesting ever given here. Larger prizes than usual will be offered, so that some of the boys who have good sleigh dogs will not fail to enter them for the contest.

Church Entertainment.

The members of the Negaunee Methodist church choir will give a musical entertainment in the church New Year's night. The program will be an interesting one. A small admission fee will be charged.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

The Fact That Doctors

frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from catarrh is proof that catarrh is a local and climatic disease. Therefore, unless you can leave home and breathe in sweet air, you can possibly derive relief from the use of the Balm. Applied directly to the seat of the disease, it effects instant relief and a satisfactory cure after short continuance. No mercury nor injurious drug is contained in the Balm.

Boiling River

It is sure enough. It is not as large as the Mississippi, indeed it is quite small, but it is an interesting stream that issues from the sides of a mountain in a thousand tiny rills, more or less, and of almost as many colors. These gather themselves into pools and lakes on the mountain's side, covering an area of about 200 acres. Overflowing their boundaries they slowly trickle down the sides of the mountain forming small cliffs, the most wonderful in the world. From a distance one can hardly believe what the eyesight reveals—white, black, orange, lemon, terra cotta, green, blue, red, pink, separate and in manifold combinations stand out before him. It is a bill of painted cliffs on the sides of the mountain that rises high above. And the odd part of it is that each of these exquisite colors represents a different temperature. Does that startle your credulity? Even so it is true.

When through with this beautiful painting process, these waters again come together and then, as if full of mischief like a pack of small boys trying to play hide and seek, they dash and remain under the ground for a space of two miles and then flow out from the mouth of a conyonia as one of the clearest, most beautiful, green streams imaginable. Where these waters emerge from the mountain into the little lakes they are hot, boiling hot. During their dark underground journey they fall several hundred feet and also many degrees in hotness, so that when they again see daylight they are much cooler. This then is boiling river, an underground mountain stream of hot water.

But you ask, where is it? Where can I see it? It is in Yellowstone Park at Mammoth Hot Springs. It is one of the lesser, but not the less wonderful, wonders of this land of wonders. Go there and see it by all means but first send to Chas. S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railroad, St. Paul, Minn., six cents for "Wonderland '96," that tells all about this renowned region. (7-24)

PHOTOGRAPHIC FAD.

Used as Ornaments of Menus and Other Souvenirs.

The camera is queen at present, and the fad for photographs comes close second in the minds of fashion's votaries. Photographs are everywhere, upon everything. From letter paper to china, from book covers to door panels, from gloves to garter clasps, the photograph is placed in every position which ingenuity can devise. The latest in this line is the fad for menu, dinner, luncheon and invitation cards, each with a tiny photograph of the fair hostess in the upper left-hand corner. These pretty trifles cost from seven dollars a dozen upward, and they can be used but once, of course, but they make charming souvenirs of an occasion, and as they are quite beyond the reach of the woman of moderate circumstances they are bound to be popular.

This is the mode of placing them upon the cards or stationery. The prettiest photograph which you have is taken to the half-tone man, reduced and made ready for printing. This costs from $1.50 to $3, according to personal taste and the quality of the work. Only good, smooth, fine paper can be used, and this adds to the cost. The first lot of letter paper (five quires) costs nearly five dollars. After that the cost is increased by the cost of producing the half-tone.

One clever Chicago girl who dabbles in photography made for herself some new menu cards which cost a great deal less and look quite as pretty as the seven-dollar ones. She first induced a sister to take a tiny portrait of her which she developed and printed in the regular way. Then she cut out the photograph, using a delicate oval outline as a margin, and afterward covered the finishing line with a fine tracery of pen and ink work. The result resembled a fine half-tone with a border of etching, and the effect was so satisfactory and charming that she has since filled many an order for her friends.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. Trial bottles free at E. Farham's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

I always recommend it, and have frequently administered it to my guests in the hotel, and in every case it has proven itself worthy of unqualified endorsement. For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

OLDEST INHABITANT'S OXEN.

Wherein They Excel Mules and the Joys of a "Stone Boat."

The oldest inhabitant just admires to work with oxen. "They do beat all." He is willing that them that favors mules should keep to mules, but for his part give him oxen. You don't see 'em now. But then you don't see such work 'z us ter be done. A man with a yoke of middlin' oxen an' nuthin' ter eat us ter start out before light 'n' work 'n' work till plum night. That is, he did when he could catch his oxen. They're the curioust critters, though you wouldn't think it ter look at 'em. A nox has more tricks. Well, the tricks a nox has would just surprise you. He met his match, however, in the oldest inhabitant. When he was a boy there was a nox in the neighborhood that us ter hide out, regular. All winter the ox would stuff an' stuff. Dinged if you'd b'leave a critter could stuff ex ther critter did. But when it come time to plow in the spring, the critter would hide in the timber, an' nary a sign of his hide would show. 'Twas the bell ox, too. Sho! now, you don't know what a bell ox is?

The oldest inhabitant feigts that a timber kentry is different from flat prairie. Hez different ways, more'n you'd s'pose. When they turn out oxen ter feed, they bell one on 'em, so's ter find the critters. That bell ox gits ter be just as smart, never makes no sound ter show where they be. The cutest ox the oldest inhabitant ever see was named Ball. The yoke was Ball and Brandy. Ball never did a stroke o' work. Us ter keep one eye on the barn, the critter did, an' when th' plow come out Ball jist disappeared, like a' he'd been swallowed up. They hunted him far and near in the timber, an' offered rewards. The oldest inhabitant hadn't put his mind on the matter, thought likely th' critter would turn up when least expected. But the thing got exciting, every man you see'd pass th' time o' day an' ask: "Heerd anythin' o' Ol' Man Pettigrew's ox?"

Finally the oldest inhabitant got mad. Seemed like th' dum critter was smarter'n th' hull neighborhood. He didn't tell that he was going into the search, not he, but jist took ter santer in 'round easy like in the timber. He even went up to the bars where Ball had stood to keep an eye on the forthcoming plow. "An', by jinks! there come an idee" in his head that th' blamed critter was watchin' him. He never said a word, sly fellow that he is, the oldest inhabitant, but jist naterally santered down ter the creek. There was some marshy land with some little thin willers growin' on it, between th' creek an' th' house. "Fore he knew it, the oldest inhabitant stepped plump into soft mud, an' while he was flounderin' round an' swearin' low, 'cause 'twas Sunday an' he hed on his meetin' close, he jist happened ter lock inter a clump o' them willers, an' dingied! of er foolish, too." The oldest inhabitant jist roared. Then he floundered over an' got on the critter's back, an' rode right up inter th' farmyard. "My! you ought ter heerd th' fellers laugh." Th' critter never offered no resistance, but jist seemed ter think he wuz cornered an' so gove up. That's th' way with a nox, he knows enough ter know when he's beat.

Speaking of riding the ox reminds the oldest inhabitant that now nobody uses a stone boat. Yet fer 'pleasure ridin' a stone boat drawn by oxen 'z better'n a wagon—a sight. Jest slips along easy, 'stid of bumpin' on th' infernal ruts in a road. Talk about yer bisiekle ridin', why ev'ry dum fool looks worried an' tuckered out. You can't fall off'n a stone boat, an' ef you did, you c'n ketch up an' git on. Unless th' oxen 'z runnin' away. Never heerd of oxen's runnin' away? Well, now, it does beat all how little people see nowadays. Oxen run away like all fired possessed. The Ball now, when they put him ter the plow, jes' started an' run an' run, draggin' Brandy an' the plow right with him. Went straight over everything in sight, an' never stopped till they was all stuck fast in the mud by the creek. But they made him onderstan' 'twas his trick ter work, an' th' critter finally come to it, same's human bein's. The oldest inhabitant s'poses its all ter the best, but land! lookin' at things 'z they are, 'n' 'z they us ter be is awful discouragin'.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Game of Numbers.

Very interesting is the game of "Numbers." Each participant writes a number on a scrap of paper. All the papers are gathered, folded, shaken into a basket and drawn or distributed. Each player reads aloud the number received and instantly gives some fact introducing the number—as, for example, seven—"the seven sleepers;" there are seven days in the week, seven colors of the rainbow, seven wonders of the world, seven sciences, seven wise men, seven virtues. Twelve—a dozen; there are twelve months in the year; there were twelve apostles; twelve "Knights of the Round Table." Four—the Fourth of July; the four seasons; the four sons of Aymou. Ten—the council of ten. Two—it takes two to make a bargain; two is company, three's a crowd. Fifty—jubilee; "Better 50 years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay." One hundred—Napoleon's 100 days. Thirty—Thirty days hath September, April, June and November.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Cocoon and Almond Cake.

Take 2½ cupfuls of powdered sugar, a cupful of butter, four cupfuls of prepared flour, the whites of seven eggs beaten stiff, a small cupful of milk, a pinch of soda, a grated cocoon, half a teaspoonful of nutmeg, the juice and half the grated peel of a lemon. Cream together the butter and sugar, add the lemon, the nutmeg and the milk, mingling perfectly; then the whites of eggs and flour, a little of each alternately, and finally the grated cocoon, stirred in quickly and thoroughly. Bake in four layers, as for jelly cake.—Good Housekeeping.

HYSTERIC.

Women Should Understand This Strange Nervous Derangement.

A Symptom of Something Far More Serious—Mrs. Barris, of Beaver Springs, Relates Her Experience.

The spasm at top of wind-pipe, or in bronchial tubes, the "ball rising in the throat," violent beating of the heart; laughing and crying by turns; muscular spasms; throwing the arms about, etc., tell of a derangement of the female system.

Any female complaint may produce hysterics, which must be regarded as a symptom only. The cause, whatever it may be, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It acts at once upon the organ affected, and the nerve centers; removes the cause, and dispels effectually the symptoms.

Mrs. Barris relates her experience for the benefit of others.

"I had been sick with ulceration of the womb, causing all kinds of disagreeable experiences, such as irritability, sleeplessness, faintness, and at times hysterics. My physician said it was the worst case he ever had. My back ached, leucorrhoea very profuse, and I had a severe bearing-down pain. The physicians thought I should never recover, and as the last remedy, they procured your Vegetable Compound. I had not taken more than one-fourth of a bottle, before I was more comfortable. I continued its use, also the Sanative Wash, and Liver Pills. After using four bottles, I was able to be out, and do almost all my work. I think the Vegetable Compound is the only medicine that will cure female complaints, and it will reach the worst cases in a very short time. I know it saved my life."—Mrs. M. BARRIS, Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania. All druggists.

FIVE GO OVER THE ROAD.

Quintet of Criminals Dealt With by the Circuit Court Last Week.

CIVIL ACTIONS NOW OCCUPY TIME OF THE COURT.

Street Car Company Will Have More Power Next Summer—Two More Lumber Camps Going In—Christmas Displays.

COURT AND POLICE MATTERS.

Circuit court has finished its first week's sitting, and Judge Stone says that ten days more will probably be required to finish the work of the term. The reason of this is that the present docket is really a double docket, an unusually large number of cases having been carried over from last term on account of the judge's son's death.

All the criminal cases were attended to in the first three days, but in some of the cases sentence was deferred by the judge till Saturday. Charles Wells and John Doran, who held up the Dennis brothers in a local saloon, were each given one year at hard labor in the branch prison. Charles Gallagher, who ran a notorious house up the road, got four years in the same place. The judge was particularly scathing in his remarks when he sentenced Gallagher. John Toutloff, who burglarized his father's saloon in Ishpeming, was given the good stiff sentence of five years at hard labor behind the branch prison bars. He took the judge's sentence without a sign that it touched him.

The principal civil case on Saturday was one brought by Essie D. Fisher, a young woman, against school district No. 1 of Tilden township. Her suit was for breach of contract, and the jury awarded her $450 with a year's interest.

It seems that she had taught one year in the school, and made the board a proposition to teach a second year of ten months for $50 a month. The board offered her a position at a cut of five dollars, which she accepted. There were some complications brought about by the fact that the original clerk's minutes were lost, and had been reproduced by memory in a new book, and also a question as to whether her certificates were regular. The board at any rate hired another teacher, Miss Essie, who was unable to get another school, and therefrom sprung her suit for damages for the amount of the contracted salary. The judge's instructions were that she should have all or nothing, and the jury, believing that she had the best end of the controversy, awarded her the sum she asked. District No. 1 now has the salaries of two teachers to pay.

MINOR NOTES.

Both surety cases brought by Florin DeCramer went in favor of the defendants. In the first case they were W. F. Anderson and Abraham Boulson, and in the second Oscar Field was the defendant.

The five prisoners who have been sentenced at this term of court will be taken to prison this forenoon.

Malignant diphtheria has broken out in the home of Mr. Deegan on Superior street just across from the sheriff's residence. Health Officer Harkin has ordered a strict quarantine to be kept, and in order to do this Marshal Emmons has placed officers at the house day and night. Mr. Deegan is a guard at the branch prison.

Ole Hakkonen, the insane Finlander who has been in the jail six or seven weeks, was Saturday taken to Newberry by Judge Clifton and Deputy Sheriff Jammerson. There are no insane patients in Marquette jail now.

The police have not had a prisoner to take before the justices for over a month. Aside from a few lodgers every night the lockup has been empty.

Street Car Improvements.

The new street car barn is now being occupied by the company for the storage of its cars. This barn is well built, large and commodious, and has ample room for twelve cars, which is more than are now on the line. The cars may be run in on three tracks, four on each, and as the tracks are on an incline, lowest at the street, to get a car out is necessary only to open the door and release the brake. This is a handy arrangement for handling the cars every day and in case of fire it would be invaluable.

One of the three tracks is arranged with a ditch so a workman can go underneath a car to repair it and have room to work. One side of the barn is fixed up as a repair shop. It is the intention of the company to add some new cars before spring and put up an additional generator, so there will be no difficulty in handling the traffic of the road next season. The present generator is but eighty horse power, but it is worked up to 125. The new one will probably be one 125 nominal horse power. This will be the one in daily use, and the present generator used merely as an auxiliary power to help out on big days. With this contemplated change trailers can be taken up the hill, and the increasing summer business handled to the satisfaction of the company and the public.

Lumber Camp News.

Louis Girard, a lumberman, accompanied by his landlooker John Dugan, has just returned from Sauks head. They have been looking a piece of property up there belonging to the Iron Cliffs company on which Mr. Girard has an option. In case of purchase he will get out about three million feet this winter. His camp of forty men will be located twenty miles from here.

Barney Goodman has chartered a tug to take an outfit up to Pine Lake the fore part of the week. He will put in a small camp of about twenty-five men and take out timber for himself.

Dan Curry came home Saturday after spending most of the week in the lumber woods. He went up with a gang of ten men and built an eighty-foot bridge across the Yellow Dog for the convenience of his stage and freight line. He says for twenty miles up the road is as bare as they are in town, but from there up there is plenty of snow and good sleighing. Mr. Curry now has two teams working alternately on the stage.

Mail is being taken up to the lumber camps on Pine river and the Yellow Dog twice every week and sometimes three times.

Christmas Windows.

Holiday times are the times when the window dressers put their art to its greatest test and try most to catch the public eye. For holiday times are buying times; no matter how hard the year there are more or less presents given as evidences of friendship and deeper affections. It is this trade the merchants try to catch. Several Marquette merchants are making winning bids for custom with their displays.

The Johnson Clothing company has given over one of its big windows to a realistic reproduction of a lumber camp. The ground is covered with snow, and in the back of the view a mountain rises covered with pine and hemlock trees. In the foreground is a comfortable looking log camp. Brownie lumbermen are seen in all the operations connected with the logging business.

Goodspeed, the shoeman, has a Christmas window of the Santa Claus kind. His entire window seat is everhung with a canopy of tarlatan covered with evergreen. Snow is on the ground. In one corner is a reproduction of the Goodspeed store, its windows ablaze with light. In the other corner is a smaller and more fancifully designed building in the door of which stands generous old Santa Claus with a pack on his back laden with toys for the good little girls and boys.

Jacob Rose has an elaborate window, devoted chiefly to showing his large stock of neckwear. Ties and silk handkerchiefs are displayed against individual backgrounds of colored crepe paper arranged in a semicircular decorative form. In the foreground is a ragged little newsboy carrying a copy of THE MINING JOURNAL advertising the great stock of latest novelties just arrived for the holiday trade at Jacob Roses.

Annual Elections.

Sunday afternoon the local branch of the Order of Railway Conductors held its annual election and chose the following to serve for the new year:

Chief conductor—Charles A. Sundberg. Assistant chief conductor—Fred Jones. Secretary and treasurer—S. H. Gibson. Delegate to grand division—Dennis Gleason. Alternate delegate—Thomas Smith. Crouch, Dennis Gleason and Charles A. Sundberg.

At its annual election Presque Isle lodge No. 130, Knights of Pythias, chose the following to office for the new year:

Chancellor commander—E. J. Sink. Vice chancellor—A. C. Bishop. Prelate—W. T. Ward. Master of work—W. A. Ross. Master of records and seals—F. H. Board. Master of finance—J. H. O'Meara. Master of exchequer—W. A. Brown. Master at arms—J. Frank Rice. Inner guard—J. B. Mason. Outer guard—Harry Gibbs. Trustee three years—O. D. Jones. Trustee two years—Abel F. Agnew. Representative grand lodge two years—Trowbridge Johns. Alternate representative grand lodge two years—F. E. Bay.

Sports at a Dog Fight.

Marquette is getting some of the undesirable attributes of a metropolitan city. The latest acquisition in this line is a dog pit.

Friday night fifty sports paid half a dollar a head and crowded themselves in a fisherman's icehouse on lake front to watch a fight between two much vaunted local bull dogs. The dogs were evenly matched, both full of sand, and the battle was a hot one. It lasted for an hour and a half till finally one of the dogs could not be induced to come to scratch when time was called on a new round.

The winning dog belonged to Frank Fassbender, while the losing bull was owned by Phil Pellissier. There was no purse up, but the winner got the door receipts.

Another evidence of Marquette's metropolitan sporting taste was the cock fight brought off in a pit in South Marquette the fore part of last week.

Santa's Proclamation.
TO THE CHILDREN WHO EXPECT A VISIT FROM SANTA CLAUS:

My Christmas headquarters will be at the rooms of the MARQUETTE FURNITURE CO. in the Nester block, where I shall build me an elegant house in which to entertain my little friends, and from which my nicest presents will be distributed.

Write me, care of the Marquette Furniture Co., Marquette, Mich., JUST WHAT YOU WOULD LIKE FOR CHRISTMAS. Write very plain as I am getting old and cannot see as well as I could a few hundred years ago. Give name of your street and number, so that the driver of my reindeer team will make no mistake.
