GRIM DEATH HELD THE MOTOR LEVER!

Frightful Disaster on a Delaware & Hudson Railroad Crossing at Cohoes, N. Y.

CROWDED TROLLEY CAR IS SEVERED IN TWAIN.

Train Going at High Speed Crashes Into It, With Eighteen Passengers Killed and Ten Others Who Will Die as the Horrifying Result.

Cohoes, N. Y., Sept. 5.—A trolley car on the Troy City Railroad company carrying thirty-five passengers, was struck by a Delaware & Hudson train going at full speed in this city tonight and cut in two. Eighteen persons were killed and at least ten of the remainder will die. The accident occurred at the crossing at the west end of the Hudson river bridge, which connects this city with Lansingburg. The tracks of the street line run down grade from the bridge to the point where the disaster took place. In consequence of this fact, and of the frequent passage of trains, it has been the rule for each motor car conductor to stop his car and go forward to observe the railroad tracks and signal his car to proceed if no trains were in sight.

CRASH HEARD FOR BLOCKS.

It cannot be ascertained whether that rule was complied with on this occasion, for all events prior to the crash have been forgotten by those who were involved. The car was upon the tracks before the train loomed in sight, and no power on earth could have saved it. The motorman evidently saw the train approaching as he reached the track and opened his controller, but in vain. With a crash that was heard for blocks the engine struck into the lighter vehicle. The effect was horrible. The motor car was cut in two, both sections being hurled into the air in splinters. The mass of humanity, for the car was crowded, was torn and mangled. Bodies were hurled into the air and their headless and limbless trunks were found, in some cases, fifty feet from the crossing. The pilot of the engine was smashed, and amid its wreckage were the maimed corpses of two women. The passengers of the train suffered no injury of the violent shock. The majority of the passengers of the trolley car were young people, and they included many women. Many of the corpses are unrecognizable. SIGHTS HORRIBLE TO BEHOLD.

The crash was frightful in its results. Headless women, with gay summer dresses, lay bathed in blood; limbs without trunks, or any means of identifying to whom they belonged; women's and men's heads, with crushed and distorted features; bodies crushed and flattened—these sights constituted a spectacle horrible to behold. The train on the Delaware & Hudson road immediately after the accident proceeded to Troy. The engineer stated he did not see the car until he was upon it. He tried to prevent his train from striking the car, but his efforts were fruitless. His train was going at a high rate of speed at the time. He was some minutes late and was trying to make up the lost time, in consequence of the caution taken by the trolley road to ascertain if the tracks were clear at this crossing the engineers of trains always feeling safe in running at a high rate of speed.

YOUNG QUEEN'S TRIUMPHAL ENTRY.

WILHELMINA JOURNEYS TO AMSTERDAM, WHERE TODAY SHE SOLEMNLY WILL DON THE CROWN IN THE HISTORIC NEW CHURCH — VAST ASSEMBLAGE ROYALLY WELCOMES THE BELOVED SOVEREIGN.

The Hague, Sept. 5.—Queen Wilhelmina and her mother started from the city today for Amsterdam, where the ceremony of enthronement will take place. She was enthusiastically applauded.

AMSTERDAM STREETS THROGGED

Amsterdam, Sept. 5.—Great crowds began thronging the streets at early dawn in anticipation of the arrival of the young queen. The route to the royal palace was lined by workmen's unions and military associations. The queen arrived at 2 o'clock and was enthusiastically received.

After Burgomaster Van Donhoven offered the province's homage, in the course of his speech referring to the ties that bound the province and the house of Orange, the queen replied, saying, "I am happy this great day has arrived."

Six hours before Queen Wilhelmina's arrival, two hundred thousand people assembled in the streets and around the palace. Her majesty appeared at 3:30, preceded by thirty divisions, including representatives of the army and navy, governmental and municipal officials and princes from Holland's East Indian colonies.

REVIEWS ARMY AND NAVY.

The royal coach was of white, ornamented with gold, and drawn by eight black horses. Queen Wilhelmina, who looked pale and tired, bowed and waved her handkerchief continually. In front of the palace the army and navy were drawn up in the form of a great square. The coach passed along the four sides of the square before drawing up at the entrance to the palace.

A few moments later Queen Wilhelmina appeared upon the balcony and bowed repeatedly to the thousands of people who approached the palace waving handkerchiefs, hats and flags. Meanwhile many bands were playing the national airs and chimes and bells were ringing and steam whistles shrieking their salutes to the young sovereign.

TUESDAY QUEEN WILHELMINA WILL BE SOLEMNLY ENTHRONED IN THE NIEUWE KERK (NEW CHURCH), WHICH DATES BACK TO THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, HAVING BEEN FOUNDED IN 1408.

GERMANY'S DEMAND WAS OF NO AVAIL.

CLAIM FOR TARIFF DECREASES SIMILAR TO THOSE ACCORDED FRANCE IS REFUTED BY COMMISSIONER KASSON, IN CHARGE OF AMERICAN RECIPROCIDY TREATIES.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—The government, through Herr Von Hollenbeck, German ambassador to the United States, has demanded that the same tariff decreases granted France in the recent treaty shall be accorded Germany under the "most favored nation" clause. A strong reply by John A. Kasson, special reciprocity commissioner for the United States, refuting the claim, has been presented to Herr Von Hollenbeck, and a copy of it has arrived here. The American contends that the "most favored nation" clause does not apply. The foreign office officials here decline to express an opinion on the subject at present, but will give it later on.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

The Republican congressional convention for this district will meet Thursday at Ishpeming, and in view of the bitter contest for the nomination that has developed between Representative Sheldon and ex-Representative Stephenson, its result is awaited with absorbing interest.

Table showing delegates for Sheldon and Stephenson from various counties: Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Gogebic, Houghton, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Menominee, Ontonagon, Schoolcraft.

Marquette county will send two delegations to the convention, each claiming the right to represent the county and cast its full vote. One of these delegations is solidly for Sheldon and the other for Stephenson.

It will take forty-four votes to nominate, the total representation in the convention being eighty-seven. If Sheldon should get the Dickinson and Iron county delegations he will have the majority of one needed to give him the nomination over Stephenson without the fifteen votes of Marquette county.

The Stephenson managers at Menominee are claiming that they will have the votes of the delegates from Alger, Luce and Keweenaw counties, and of two of the delegates from Mackinac county, in the congressional convention if they should need them, but this we regard as idle vaporing.

It will be seen from an examination of the figures given above that Sheldon has a clear majority of the uncontested delegates, no matter what the result may be in the counties yet to select their delegations.

Under the rule which has uninterruptedly obtained in Republican conventions in this county, and the congressional district as well, until Chairman Young violated it in the county convention at Negaunee last week, the uncontested delegations determine what shall be done in all contested cases.

the fifteen votes of this county by the seating of the delegation chosen by the Sheldon convention at Negaunee, on the showing that will be made in its favor. Taking the situation 'by and large,' Sheldon has decidedly the advantage.

CUBA AND PORTO RICO.

The interest in the business opportunities offered in Cuba and Porto Rico which is felt by the business men of the United States is shown by the large number of letters on that subject now being received by the treasury bureau of statistics.

In general terms it may be said that the imports into Cuba and Porto Rico have averaged about $60,000,000 a year during the past decade. Of this about one-half was from Spain, about one-third from the United States, and the remainder from England, Germany, France and other nations.

THE NEW ALLIANCE.

The report that Great Britain and Germany have formed an alliance, though not officially announced, is worthy of more credence than is generally given rumors of this character.

A cursory examination would lead to the opinion that there is nothing in common between these two great commercial nations, rivals in the markets of the world. But while rivals, yet both are interested in having these markets be kept open for a peaceful rivalry.

The trend of thought in both countries is decidedly against the narrow policy of commercial isolation that the protectionists of these two nations have made the policy of their respective governments.

A "KNOWING" POLITICIAN.

In its report of the proceedings of the county convention at Negaunee Wednesday last, the Ishpeming Ore says: Knowing that an attempt was to be made to defeat the will of the majority by contesting as many delegations as were necessary to give them the power to secure the organization, the county chairman, H. O. Young, issued a call for a meeting of the county committee.

It will not be questioned that Mr. Young is an adroit political boss. He is very "knowing." He knew beforehand that the Sheldon men would bring in contesting delegations from Ishpeming and Negaunee, so decided to get the county committee, of which he was chairman, to help him evade the effect of the rule he insisted on having enforced in the city convention in Ishpeming the night before, and to give his delegations from Ishpeming and Negaunee seats in the county convention.

But the Sheldon men in the county knew something else. They knew that they had the convention, and they did not propose to be beaten out of it by Chairman Young's cunning subterfuge.

Mr. Young's Stephenson convention also went through the form of selecting delegations to the state, congressional and senatorial conventions, but it omitted the necessary proceeding of determining according to the fixed rules of the party the title of those composing it to seats in it as delegates, consequently it was not a convention at all in the proper sense of the word, being nothing more than a Stephenson mass meeting.

Mr. Young knows a good deal about political trickery, but he has yet to devise a way by which he will be able to perpetually swing the Republican party of Marquette county into line against the convictions and wishes of its voters.

The Ironwood Times, hitherto Democratic, announces that the scales have dropped from its eyes and that it will train with the Republicans from this time forward. The Ironwood paper gives its reasons for its change of political faith frankly, and it is only fair to give it credit for sincerity in "fopping" to the majority.

The editor of the Iron Ore of Ishpeming professes great indignation because Democrats attended Republican caucuses in that city last Tuesday evening. We have it straight from an Ishpeming gentleman of excellent reputation for honor and veracity that the editor of the Ore solicited Democrats to go to caucuses in that city last week in Mr. Stephenson's interest.

Yesterday—Labor Day—was observed by a general suspension of business throughout the county. The weather was all that could be desired and outdoor amusements and forms of recreation had the multitude.

During the morning the only question was, "What time will the boys arrive?" as notwithstanding the other events, such as the races at the Hancock Driving park, every one wanted to be at their home depot and swell the throng to welcome them home.

In this connection, it is a pleasure to state that the invigorating Lake Superior air is having a most healthful effect on the sick soldiers who have returned within the past few weeks.

SHAKE-UP OF AMBASSADORS.

PRESIDENT, IT IS SAID, WILL SHIP FOUR REPRESENTATIVES ABOARD LIKE CHECKERS AND MAKE ROOM FOR SENATOR MILLAN AT ROME.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—A special Washington dispatch to The Globe-Democrat says:

"Since the visit of William F. Draper, American ambassador at Rome, to Washington there has been a new suggestion for the filling of the English mission. The suggestion involves some sweeping changes in the American embassies."

"According to the program now set forth by Horace Porter, the American ambassador at Paris is to be sent to London, and Ambassador Draper is to be promoted from Rome to Paris. While the embassy at London and that at Paris are on an equality as far as salary goes the London billet is considered the more desirable, and the change would therefore be in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Porter."

"Mr. Draper, the American representative at Rome, is a full-fledged ambassador, but the Roman post pays but $12,000, which is $2,500 less than the ambassador at London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg receive."

"This shifting would leave the Italian embassy vacant, but the president would have much less difficulty in finding a suitable man for Rome than he is in getting one for London."

"In fact, the man for Rome has been already picked out by those who think the foregoing program will go through. He is Senator McMillan of Michigan."

That the annual school election with only one candidate for the board is a poor attraction here, especially when a reception for home coming heroes is a counter card, was thoroughly demonstrated yesterday.

The vote was most decidedly light. During the whole day only 182 persons voted for George Barnes, who was running without opposition.

The total number of votes on the uniformity of text books under the law of 1897 was only 117, but only tax payers were allowed a ballot on the proposition.

The attempt to have the text books uniform was lost by a vote of 92 to 25. Very few ladies took advantage of their opportunity to vote and the day was certainly one of rest for the election commission.

The number of persons between the age of five and twenty who should attend school in this year is 2,825. This is 110 persons less than last year's census enumerated.

After the ballots were counted the annual meeting was held. The following statement of financial affairs in school district No. 1, which embraces the entire city, was read and approved:

RECEIPTS. Amount on hand Sept. 4, 1897, $ 212.14 Received from city treasurer (taxes) 23,500.00 Received from primary school, interest fund 4,145.00

SINGLES REMAIN. Seymour Golf Club Did Not Finish Its Tournament Yesterday. The tournament which the Seymour Golf club had arranged for Labor Day was finished yesterday with the exception of the singles.

The day was an ideal one for the sport and much interest was manifested by the players, although the number of spectators was cut down by rivaling attractions. The driving contest for the ladies was won by Mrs. A. B. Eldridge and as a trophy of her victory she was presented with a handsome brooch.

A. W. Kilne was the winner in the gentlemen's driving contest. The prize offered for this event was a driver. The prize offered in the foursomes was a set of golf balls.

After an interesting struggle Mrs. A. K. Thiel and Val Green finally won the event. It was impossible to complete the singles yesterday, but they will be played off as soon as possible. The prizes in the singles are medals for both the lady and gentleman who win the event.

TO DIG THE NICARAGUAN CANAL. The war with Spain has demonstrated the importance of a short route between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. By digging a canal a few miles long at the Isthmus of Panama, thousands of miles of travel can be saved.

At the present time ships must go around South America. A short route is always an advantage. It saves time and money. The journey from sickness to health can be quickly made at moderate cost by taking Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

While its action in disorders like constipation, biliousness, indigestion, fever and ague and general weakness is quick, still it does not force a cure. It gives that assistance in carrying off the waste matter the nature occasionally needs. It makes the sick well.

The lake freight market is very quiet all around. There is plenty of business offering in boat coal and ore trades, but boats for early loading have been pretty well cared for.

About a dozen vessels have been placed for Escanaba at the advance and very little tonnage is on the market for Lake Superior ports. Lake Michigan coal rates are strong and on a couple of small cargoes for portage 30 cents was paid, but Cleveland shippers would not pay more than 25 cents.

CITY BREVITIES. Louis Toutloff of Ishpeming spent yesterday in the city. School begins this morning at 9 o'clock this morning in all grades. The regular meeting of the common council will be held tonight.

They will be at home to their friends at 518 North Fourth street. Hiram A. Burt had a novel display of the Cinderella's products about the streets yesterday. It represented agriculture, horticulture, floriculture and wood culture. The products which his wagon contained Mr. Burt distributed among the soldiers and the labor unions.

BICYCLE RACES AT THE PARK.

THEY PROVE REAL EXCITING AND DEVELOP ANOTHER CHAMPION IN THE PERSON OF WILL PEARCE, WHO DEFEATS KENNAUGH AND OTHER SPEEDY RIDERS.

Nearly three thousand persons were at the Union Park yesterday afternoon, when the sports arranged by the local branch of the Mine Workers' union were pulled off.

During the forenoon there was wrestling, but the other sports did not begin until after dinner, when the first event, a three-mile bicycle race for professionals, was started promptly on time.

The next was a one and one-half mile race for boys. This was quite a spirited event. There were four boys in it. Tom Williams won first prize; J. Trombley, second; C. Chapman of Negaunee, third, and Joe Collick of this city, got fourth.

The five-mile professional race brought another surprise, when Pearce again defeated Kennaugh, coming in a little over a wheel ahead. Gust Carlson of Eagle Mills was a close third. Turning the corner on the last quarter Lawry lost his balance and fell, taking a bad tumble, but not hurting himself. The time was 14:28 1/2.

In the five-mile amateur race John Williams won first; Ben Leece, second, and Tom Williams, third.

The races yesterday created considerable excitement, inasmuch as Kennaugh was defeated by Pearce. The former's friends are strongly of the belief that Kennaugh can defeat Pearce, so that there is likely to be another race between them.

The sack race was won by Fred Northey; Ray Baren was second across the line and G. Symonds took third.

Leece and Kane walked off with first in the three-legged race; Karkkeek and Doman took second; Trudell and Isabelle third, and Andrews and Roberts fourth.

EXPECTED MUCH OF HIM.

The following from The Cornubian and Redruth Times of Friday, Aug. 19, relative to the Cornish wrestling match in Redruth under the management of "Parson" Pope of this city, will be read with interest here:

"Speculation is pretty rife in the town and neighborhood as to what the weather will turn out to be on Saturday. The main attraction in Redruth is the wrestling tournament in the Recreation ground, under the management of Parson Pope. This gentleman is a native of Redruth, but has been in America several years, and during his stay there has conducted wrestling matches in the state of Michigan during the last four years.

MANY TO THE ISLAND.

The fine weather yesterday was the means of attracting a great many Ishpeming people to Presque Isle. A special train was run down early in the morning for the accommodation of Negaunee people who had arranged for an excursion, but there were less than one hundred aboard, many of the excursionists having decided to take later trains.

CITY ALMOST DESERTED.

CROWDS OF PICNICKERS BOUGHT RECREATION IN THE SUBURBS AND AT PRESQUE ISLE YESTERDAY.

After the crowds had gone to the Union park, the Maccabees' picnic at Pearce's grove, and to Marquette yesterday, the streets of Ishpeming were almost deserted.

Those who had planned to spend the day at the park began to move early. The weather was perfect for an outing and everyone felt good on this account. All the extra street cars were out before nine o'clock and from that hour until late in the evening big crowds were pulled over the line, every car going either way being crowded.

There were a great many in attendance at the park in the afternoon who did not go down there to take in the forenoon sports, consequently seating room was in big demand from half-past one until six o'clock.

It was not known here until late in the forenoon that all who went to Marquette on the noon train would get there in time to take in the demonstration in honor of the soldiers returning from Cuba. As soon as this got out many hurriedly made up their minds to go down. The Ishpeming City band was sent for to go down and assist in furnishing the music.

When the train pulled in the depot platform was crowded and there was a rush at the office for tickets. Had the fact that the demonstration would not be held until after the Houghton train arrived in Marquette been announced in the Mining Journal Ishpeming would have seen down a very large delegation. It would have been necessary to run a special train for their accommodation as there are hundreds here who regret that they did not go down yesterday.

With two or three extra cars on the Houghton train all were packed. The train was well loaded before it reached Ishpeming but after the delegations from this city and Negaunee got on the conductor had a hard task making his way through the coaches. Even the platforms were crowded as the train pulled out.

They were almost as many standing as sitting. Relatives and friends of the soldiers from every town from Calumet clean through to Marquette were on board. A delegation of nine citizens of Houghton was sent down to receive the boys from that town and to see to it that they wanted for nothing on their way from the Queen City to their home.

Among the former members of the Houghton company were Douglass, Mayworm and Bawden, all of whom were prominent officers of the company when they were in Ishpeming during the strike. Since then they had resigned for business reasons and were not with the boys when they went to the front.

Many of those who did not find it convenient to go to Marquette were at the depot in the afternoon when the special train bearing the copper country soldiers passed through. The depot platform was crowded and the streets in that immediate vicinity were a mass of humanity. The soldiers were heartily cheered as the train pulled through.

WELCOME TO THE SOLDIERS.

RETURNING ISHPEMING BOYS GOT AN ENTHUSIASTIC ONE FROM GREAT CROWDS OF PEOPLE.

There were several thousand persons at the South Shore depot yesterday afternoon when the train pulled in from Marquette. Word had been received that Charley Young and Joe Thomas, who have been to Cuba, would be aboard. The platforms at both depots were jammed and the buildings and box cars in that vicinity were also lined, while the streets were crowded within two blocks of the depot.

A vehicle drawn by four horses was provided and a couple of men led the procession carrying large American flags. The City band came up from Marquette on the same train with the soldiers and the musicians played. A great many men fell in line behind the band, while all the people crowded, following the carriage up Main street and down Division in the direction of the two soldiers' homes.

The soldiers were cheered by everyone on the streets as they passed along. The whistles and bells about the city were sounded and even the whistles at the Winthrop tooted in honor of the boys' return.

Several hundred persons followed the carriage and band up to the doors of the soldiers' homes. Cheer after cheer went up until there were many in the crowd who retired with cracked voices.

Charley Young looks almost as well as the day he went away, having been one of the lucky ones, but Thomas is not the same man he was. He is just recovering from the fever and will need care and rest.

STOPPED IN TIME.

The Standard Oil company's team took fright yesterday morning over on East Pearl street and ran away, turning the corner on First street, and going in the direction of the railroad tracks. Just before they reached the depot Charles J. Byrns ran out and stopped them, taking great chances on being hurt, as they were going at a pretty rapid rate. The tank or wagon were not damaged, but there would have been oil all over the street had the nags continued their flight.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

The banks of the city were closed yesterday in observance of Labor Day.

Ishpeming was well represented at the Maccabees' picnic at Pearce's grove yesterday.

THOUGHT HE WAS A SOLDIER.

A YOUNG MAN TAKEN FOR A SANTIAGO HERO ON HIS RETURN FROM A HUNTING TRIP.

Alvin Greene of this city was given an ovation on a small scale here yesterday morning when the Northwestern train pulled into the depot. Alvin had been down the line hunting and was attired in a costume that looked very much like the army suits of canvas. He also wore a light hat and held a gun in his hand as he stood on the platform of the car waiting for the train to come to a stop, so that he might get off.

There was a mad rush for the entrance to the car and a number yelled "here comes a soldier." Alvin at once was surrounded and those who knew him turned away laughing to see the others so deceived by appearances.

It was a rather embarrassing position for the young man, and he colored up considerably when he saw the crowd around him. He knew the people had made a mistake and was glad to get away from the depot. Even after he had left the train quite a number who still supposed he was a soldier kept close at his heels.

There were no soldiers aboard the train and the crowd seemed very much disappointed.

At no time during the afternoon was the depot or platform free of people. Some remained around there nearly all day, fearing if they did not stay they might miss seeing the special train on the South Shore line bearing the soldiers for the copper country and other points. The employees of the railroad here had the most trying day's work they have had in a long time explaining when they thought the train would be along.

When the train did arrive there were several hundred men, women and children at the depot. The rush for positions to the front of the platform was as great as it was the day John McAuliffe arrived. All wanted to see everything that was going on and if possible to get a glimpse of the returning soldiers.

OLD MAN ASSAULTED.

As William Goudge, an old man living at Cornishtown, was going home Saturday night he was suddenly struck on the head and rendered unconscious. He got away from the depot. Even after he had left the train quite a number who still supposed he was a soldier kept close at his heels.

William Watters of Cleveland, formerly of this county, is in the city visiting Captain Samuel Mitchell and family.

There being no work at the mines here yesterday, nearly all the men employed in the railroad yards had a day off.

George Maas and R. G. Quinn went to Escanaba yesterday to attend the horse races to be pulled off there during the next two days.

A large number of Negaunee people went to Marquette yesterday on the noon train to take in the demonstration in honor of the returning soldiers.

The picnic at Presque Isle under auspices of the young ladies of St. Paul's church yesterday was well attended by local people. There were also a number of Ishpeming people in the crowd. The ladies aroused considerable interest in the affair by getting out selling tickets for the excursion.

A Chicago man spent Sunday in Negaunee looking for laborers to do construction work on a railroad in Illinois. He did not find any who cared to accept his offer of work. He said before taking the train back for Chicago that he guessed there were no idle men up here; at least he hadn't found any.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

ENSIGN BOYD'S NERVE.

Ensign "Davy" Boyd, first officer of the torpedo boat Cushing, is one of the youngest executives in the navy. He was selected for the important place because he has a hard and discriminating head, which he does not lose in time of danger or emergency. He was on the Maine when the ship and her sailors were destroyed on the night of Feb. 15, and risked his life twenty times after the explosion in ineffectual attempts to rescue Lieutenant Jenkins. Mr. Boyd is the ideal midshipman of whom Marryat wrote, careless and joyous off duty or ashore, but alert and brave to recklessness afloat. In young Mr. Boyd's ditty box, which was not raised from the battleship, was a gold watch, valuable as a chattel proposition, but of more worth to its owner by reason of the inscription. Its presentation by a committee of grateful fathers, husbands and brothers came about through a characteristic action on the part of Boyd. He was with a party of women in a steam launch at Newport a summer or two ago. The craft's side was crushed in by a floating spar and the boat began to fill. Simultaneously the women began to scream and prepare to leap overboard. The embryo Farragut signaled a neighboring boat for help and then quieted the stampede in his own launch. He figured the chances quickly. He could save one, and the two sailors could be relied on for one each, which would leave some six young women to drown. The percentage of probable loss was too great, and the cadet decided upon moral effort.

"Ladies," he shouted, "sit still. Stay in the boat; you may get your feet wet, but that's all. It is impossible to sink this launch. She is a lifeboat."

Meanwhile help was approaching, and the rescue boat was presently alongside. Boyd and the seamen transferred their passengers, and just as the last girl stepped over the side the launch filled and went down. The cadet cleared himself from the craft, and drawing himself over the side of the other, remarked with mild surprise:

PICNIC WELL ATTENDED.

Members of the English tent of the Maccabees here could be seen hustling at an early hour yesterday, getting refreshments, etc., up to the park for the picnic in the afternoon. The day opened beautifully and all felt happy.

The members of the order went up on street cars and the band was sent over to Ishpeming to arouse interest in the

HAD SUPPER HERE.

The Escanaba soldiers who came up from Marquette last evening to take the Chicago & Northwestern train home were entertained by Mayor Kirkwood while here. He tendered the boys supper at the Union Depot hotel. The soldiers attracted a great deal of attention, there being several hundred persons in the vicinity of the hotel all the while they were there.

SOME FINE APPLES.

Louis Kellan of this city is very proud of his fruit trees. He has some very fine ones bearing fruit this year. Yesterday morning he went out and picked eight bushels of fine apples from two trees. He says the yield of these two trees has been about twelve bushels but the heavy wind the past few days brought about one-third of them to the ground.

Mr. Kellan has about a dozen different kinds of apples growing at his place, and he has a number of plum and other trees that will bear considerable fruit this season.

LOCAL LACONICS

Nearly all the merchants of the city closed their places of business yesterday at noon.

William Anderson will open a brokerage office today, with headquarters in the Sundberg block.

Charles Thoren has received his fall coats and suitings and is taking orders for fall and winter clothing.

The First National bank of this city did not open yesterday on account of its being a legal holiday.

AN OPEN LETTER

On Four Hundred Baltimore Rye from a Prominent Railroad Surgeon.

Office of G. E. Brown, Division Surgeon, Grand Rapids and Indiana R. R., Michigan Central R. R., Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic R. R. Mackinac City, Mich., July 14, 1898. Crown Distilling Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Gentlemen—The case of Four Hundred Baltimore Rye whiskey arrived, for which accept my thanks. I have submitted your Four Hundred Baltimore Rye to a thorough test, in cases requiring a stimulant, and find it far superior to anything I have used in practice. It is absolutely pure, being free from all deleterious matter; it is mild and of mellow flavor; does not distress the patient, and is a Perfect Tonic Stimulant. As such I take great pleasure in recommending it to my brothers in practice, as a perfect whiskey.

Yours very truly, GEORGE E. BROWN, M. D. It is pure, guaranteed ten years old and of rich mellow flavor. Sold at all first class cafes.

BIG GALA DAY FOR MARQUETTE.

She Welcomes Home from Their Cuban Campaign Her Brave Boys in Blue.

LITERALLY HALF THE TOWN OUT TO MEET THE SOLDIERS.

DEMONSTRATION A DAY COUNTER-PART OF THE FAREWELL.

Parade Stretched for More Than Seven Blocks—Volunteers Rode in Carriages—Empty Seats for the Lost Heroes.

QUEEN CITY WENT WILD WITH JOY.

A solid sea of faces, a deafening storm of cheers, roaring whistles and clanging bells greeted the returning soldiers of Company L as they rolled into town on a special train early yesterday afternoon.

Half the population of Marquette seemed gathered about the depot. The scene was a daylight repetition of the one the night the same men left their homes and started for the front.

Many if not most of them thought when the familiar faces and places were then passing out of sight that they were doing so for the last time. That their friends left behind thought so was evidenced by the dampened ardor of the crowd the moment the wheels of the train began to turn.

In this respect the return of the volunteers was very different from the departure.

EXCITEMENT INTENSE.

Yesterday everybody was in a state of joyful anticipation, for the war has practically terminated and they were to see the boys who had patriotically and successfully staked their lives in support of the nation.

From the time the company left Montauk Point the relatives and friends of its members were under a strain which grew more intense as each hour brought the boys nearer home.

When they arrived in Detroit and the approximate time of their arrival in Marquette was learned, they were under a still greater stress, which kept gradually increasing till the train rolled into the station and the sorrowful but brown soldiers piled out onto the platform to be literally fallen upon by their relatives and more intimate friends and kissed and hugged in such a demonstrative fashion as they would not have believed possible in their joyous assaults a few months before.

The salutations were returned with warmth, for the soldier boys were dying to see good, old Marquette and be once more among friends and surrounded with the privileges of civilization.

"It's hat we lived for," they said. As the soldiers piled out of their car onto the platform they found it fairly well crowded in spite of the best efforts of the police to keep it cleared entirely save for relatives and friends and those whose nearness to the boys by blood or other ties gave them a paramount right to be there.

ALMOST OVERWHELMED.

The more the boys came out of the car the more the people were personally interested and the more of the crowd forced its way onto the forbidden planking. It looked for a moment as if order would never be restored out of chaos, but Chief Maney and his squad managed to make a way between the people through which the volunteers were able to pass to the carriages that were standing in waiting.

In the meantime Colonel Kaufman and his numerous aides were dashing up and down Superior street trying to keep more than a score of societies and organizations in their places in the long line. Ordinarily they would have shown at least a little patience, but in this case they were so anxious to see the boys who had been facing Spanish bullets and braving Cuban fevers that it took herculean efforts to keep them from breaking ranks and crowding down onto the depot platform to swell the crowd that was already there and reaching out to make the hands or slap the backs of the soldier boys.

SOLDIERS IN RIGS.

The difficulty lessened when the volunteers began to get into their carriages and were put in their place in the line, for it was evident that the procession was about to move. Move it did in a surprisingly short time after the train came in, and as the lengthened line got in motion cheers went up for the soldiers, and every whistle and bell in town added its din to the welcome home.

In consideration of the condition of some of the boys the soldiers were not allowed to march, in spite of the expressed desire to do so by others who were stronger and who felt equal to the exertion. Some of the boys are able to walk about all that is necessary, but they are not able to stand long walks or to exert much in the sun.

EMPTY CARRIAGE.

The line of march was a short one, but for the comparatively few blocks the procession passed the sidewalks were banked with people.

The Cadet Greys were at the head and the Ishpeming City band at the rear to furnish music. Between these marched more than a score of the principal civic societies of the city. Some of them made splendid turnouts and not less than a thousand men participated in the parade, which was something over seven blocks long.

All eyes focused on the carriages which carried the volunteers. The boys for the most part rode four in a carriage, to which load some few added their packs. These greatly increased the attractiveness and interest of the conveyances to the minds of the people who thronged the sidewalks and streets.

A feature of the parade which struck the minor chord and brought the suggestion that war is not all a home coming with demonstrations of rejoicing, was a vacant carriage draped with crepe and trimmed with flowers, a memorial to the dead.

It so happens that Peter Vandenberg and Joseph Berry, the only two men from really this city who lost their lives in Cuba, were members of the K. O. T. M. Their fellow knights took this method of commemorating their loss at the same time when so many others were rejoicing in the return of more fortunate soldiers.

The carriage of the dead heroes attracted quite as much attention as any of those loaded with the living heroes of the war. Other particular good features of the parade were the shot gun brigade, the girls' broom brigade and the girls who marched beside the carriages of the volunteers, carrying flowers and throwing the pretty blossoms into the laps of the soldiers.

DINNER WAS READY.

While the parade was following its line of march, the ladies of the city, who had set long tables on the depot platform and were prepared to feed every hungry man in the five companies on the special train to serve dinner to the men of other companies who remained near the train or who were too sick to leave the coaches.

There were 109 men on the train, but the ladies were disappointed in that scarcely more than half of them accepted of the hospitality that was offered. The rest separated and took their dinners at convenient hotels and restaurants. Twenty-nine men of Company F, all who were able to leave the cars, marched to the Marquette and took dinner in a body.

The rest of the visiting companies and quite a part of the Company L boys dined with the ladies. Dinner was served on the cars to those who were too ill to leave them.

After the wait of an hour for the demonstration and dinner the special pulled out for Calumet, the car in which the Marquette company came being dropped off here till 5 o'clock, when it was put onto the regular, hauled up to Negaunee and from there switched over to the Northwestern to be hauled down to Escanaba and Menominee.

FIVE COMPANIES ON IT.

All the upper peninsula companies of the Thirty-fourth came on the special from Detroit as far as Soo Junction. There Company G was set off in its car, and the other five companies, L of Marquette, D of Calumet, F of Houghton, H of Ironwood and E of Iron Mountain, were brought on west.

Of the five companies Company L was in the best condition apparently. All its men were able to sit up and go about, and every berth in the sleeper was made up.

All the other companies had some sick men who were laid out flat in their berths and Company D had a large percentage of them.

MARQUETTE FACES.

Company L was met at Soo Junction yesterday morning by a party of four Marquette people consisting of Captain J. E. Ball, E. J. Rankin, Dr. J. H. Dawson and a reporter for The Mining Journal.

The boys gave every sign of being more than glad to see somebody from Marquette. The meeting there came as a surprise to them, for they had not expected anybody would go so far down the line as that.

Engineer James Bice, who hauled the special clear through from the straits to Calumet, had already effectively distributed some sixty-five yards of flag bunting over the engine. The cars had not been touched, and had it not been for the gay appearance of the iron horse the train might have been mistaken for a tourist excursion outfit.

The sole baggage of the four who went down to meet the train consisted of 195 yards of bunting, and one of their first tasks was to string this along the sides of the cars, giving particular attention to the side which should face the depot when the train should pull up to Marquette.

STARVATION.

"It's starvation that did it," they said in explanation of the weakened appearance of the company, and one after another vied in telling of the hardships of camp life and the scarcity of food.

They celebrated Fourth of July on three or four pieces of hardtack each. That was all they had for the entire day. When they first reached the island, they said, they ate the coconuts, but they found these were not good for them and stopped.

The boys suffered a good deal for food during the several days they were on the firing line before Santiago. They had been given rations for three days, but they obeyed orders and threw their loads away and went in light. Sometimes supplies would be started to the firing line, but there'd come a call for ammunition and if the wagons happened to be hauling food they'd dump it off right where ever they happened to be and rush back after lead.

But even when in camps not on the firing line the boys complain that their diet was limited to hardtack, "cowbells" and coffee, and that it was often hard work to get enough of that limited fare. Cooking it was another task. The boys tell in a very matter of fact way of using solid mahogany for firewood.

After the members of the company began to get sick there was the added trouble of a poor water supply. The fluid had to be packed something like three miles in canteens thrown over the back of a mule, and as if this were not enough the water carrier and the mule both were liable any time to be struck by a stray bullet.

Many was the time that the upper peninsula boys wished for a drink of good, old Lake Superior, clear, cold and sparkling, but whatever visions memory called up they had to go on drinking water that was positively filthy and perpetually lukewarm at that.

ICE WATER WAS POOR.

The boys say that when they struck Montauk Point and got their first ice water it didn't taste right.

The return of the soldiers will change a great many opinions that have been formed by people here on matters and people pertaining to the war.

They have a poor opinion of Shafter. One of them denominated him as a tin horn general, and one of them, a private who had been sent to the general in a detail for something, makes sport of his trousers, which were almost as large and commodious as a pup tent.

General Duffield ranks low in the scale, but they swear by old Joe Wheeler. They say that it was to his disregard of orders and everlastingly pushing on that is due the surrender of Santiago.

They like the Ninth Massachusetts, with which they were brigaded, but cordially hate the Thirty-third Michigan and the Seventy-first New York. One thing that causes their animosity against the Thirty-third is that Detroit newspaper correspondents cracked it up all the time, telling of the hard service it was seeing and the work it was doing, when the boys of the Thirty-fourth claim the Thirty-third had a snap and hardly if ever got on a firing line.

Asked about the colored soldiers the answer always comes, "The coons are all right." The boys have a great admiration for the way that black regiment stormed and captured San Juan hill, and say it was done in defiance of orders by fearsome white officers.

REGULARS SUFFER.

All admit that an improvement is going on in the condition of affairs at Camp Wykoff, but all the boys are not satisfied that it is what it ought to be yet.

The states whose volunteers have been recuperating there have been furnishing large quantities of delicacies and suitable provisions for their own soldiers, so that the volunteers have had an abundance of good food.

The troops that the boys say are suffering there are the regulars. The only donations they get are infrequent ones from the Red Cross society and though they have as many sick and convalescing as the volunteer regiments, their men have little to eat outside the regular army fare.

ALL HATE WHEELER.

The Company L boys entertain high opinions of Colonel Peterman and Bennett, both of whom, they say, made excellent officers. One lower in rank to whom they give the highest praise is Lieutenant Jack Wilson, the first lieutenant of their own company. They had now orders of praise that are too good for Jack.

Contrarily they have no words of censure that are too strong for Wheeler, and not a man in the company speaks of the captain but to damn him.

They charge openly and freely, and claim the information leaked down from headquarters, that he plugged for the job of recruiting officer.

This is a reflection on the captain's personal bravery, but more serious than this they make a charge that reflects on his honesty.

When the boys left Marquette there was raised on subscription and given to Wheeler something over $130 which he was instructed to use in buying things the company might need and which could not be secured by drawing on the regular stores.

The most that is claimed by any of the boys is that out of this fund two kegs of beer were purchased for the company at Camp Alger. It is alleged that when the captain came north on recruiting duty he took the remainder of the fund with him and that he has it yet. The boys say that when the company was about to go to Cuba Lieutenant Wilson wired the captain for $100 or the balance of the fund. Not a cent was ever forthcoming.

Captain Wheeler was at Detroit when his company passed through there Sunday, but though the boys laid over at the Russell house all day and the newspapers announced in glaring headlines that they were in the city, he did not manifest interest enough in the company he was chosen in command to go around and take a look at it.

All these things have so completely disgusted the boys of Company L with Captain Sam Wheeler that he couldn't be elected high private today.

The facts they have given out since their return and a few prior revelations are making the townspeople the same way.

Captain Sam Wheeler had a chance to win honor for himself, his company and his town, but he threw it away.

The man Esselyne from Lansing, who was made first sergeant of the company, is also bitterly roasted by the boys. He is charged with being drunken, incompetent and careless of the interests of his men. Sergeant C. N. Baker of Menominee, who is next in command, is well thought of by his company.

BAND PLAYED.
Cadet Greys Drew Big Crowd to Presque Isle Labor Day.

The Cadet Greys had arranged for an all day celebration of Labor Day at Presque Isle yesterday but the arrival of the soldiers to a certain extent interfered with their arrangements.

No one entertained the idea of starting to the island while the demonstration was on and it was 2 o'clock before the rush began.

When the people turned that way they just swamped the street cars. Every car was packed full. The band furnished music during all the afternoon and there was also an orchestra playing dance music in the pavilion. Many people spent the afternoon dancing, while there were innumerable private picnics and boating parties.

The day was ideal and had it not been for counter attractions it would have been a record breaker for the street car company's island business. As it was the business as a whole was only ordinary.

When the people began to come home there was a general rush and people came in on the top of the cars.

The day as celebrated by the band was concluded by a dance in Fraternity hall last night which was very enjoyable.

RAISED FIFTEEN DOLLARS.
The amount raised at the concert in Felix hall yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the soldiers' monument fund is $15.

There was no set admission price and patrons were privileged to contribute what they pleased. The contributions ranged from $2 down.

The concert was so much of a success that it will be repeated for the same purpose at an early date.
