GEN. MILES MAY BE DISCIPLINED.

Commander of the American Forces Is Talking Too Much About Embalmed Beef.

PRESIDENT DETERMINES TO HAVE AN INQUIRY MADE.

EITHER MILES OR THE PACKERS WILL SUFFER FROM IT.

Miles' Charges About the Beef Will Serve as the Basis—Interviewers Find Miles Without a Word to Say About It.

TWO METHODS OF INVESTIGATION.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Most of the time of the house today was consumed in filibustering against the relief bills on the private calendar. The filibuster was finally successful and the house adjourned without taking up the bills. The conference report on the diplomatic appropriation bill was adopted.

The purpose of the president to terminate the unsatisfactory state of affairs that has existed for some time as a result of the numerous charges and counter charges and interviews respecting the character of the army beef, by instituting a formal inquiry into these matters and endeavoring to place the responsibility where it belongs, was made known today. The inquiry will not be undertaken before the commission to investigate the conduct of the war has made its report to the president.

The purpose of this new inquiry has not been defined but it will certainly embrace the allegations made by General Miles as to the character of the army supplies and will involve that officer to the extent that he must make these charges good, and to that degree will be on trial himself in a preliminary manner. Should the charges be found well established a heavy load of responsibility would be placed upon packers and other persons concerned in the meat inspection, and perhaps others. Should they fall unsupported General Miles may be obliged to answer to a court-martial for reflecting upon the character of other officers.

There are two methods by which such an investigation may be conducted according to established military usage. The first is by the appointment of a court of inquiry, and the second by the appointment of what is known as an officers' inspection board. In the former case it would be necessary to name some officer who is to be the subject of the investigation. In the latter the board is charged to inquire into the state of facts, or alleged facts, without reference to any particular person and to place the responsibility, if possible, for anything of which the complaint is made. Their findings may serve as a basis for court-martial quite as effectively as the findings of a court of inquiry and this plan has some advantages in that it does not begin with the presumption of a court of inquiry. Where the court of inquiry is ordered, it is said there is conveyed a distinct reflection upon the officer named.

Up to the close of the day General Miles positively declined to discuss in any manner the events of the day so far as they relate to himself, or to discuss any statements contained, in any of the interviews attributed to him.

COPS GUARD GERMS.

OMAHA HEALTH OFFICIALS QUARANTINE A HOTEL FULL OF GUESTS.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—A special to the Record from Omaha says: The spectacle of an entire hotel full of guests being quarantined and armed policemen standing at every door and window to prevent people from escaping is presented in Omaha tonight. This morning three well defined cases of small pox were discovered at the Vendome Hotel located in the center of the city. The health department was notified and plans were quickly decided upon for quarantining the place. A squad of armed policemen raced to the scene and when the guests started on their accustomed morning duties they were driven back into the house by force. Traveling men begged to be permitted to get away from quarantining to leave the city by the first train or afoot if necessary. Several daring fellows, who preferred any sort of adventure to being shut up for ten days, slipped out a skylight scaled adjacent roofs and, making their way through snow and ice over house tops, managed to reach the ground in safety after many narrow escapes.

HOT CONTROVERSY.

ATTEMPT IN EXECUTIVE SESSION TO GET VOTE ON ONE OF THE RESOLUTIONS INTERPRETING THE PEACE TREATY.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The controversy in the executive session of the senate over the vote upon the various resolutions interpretive of the peace treaty took an acute turn today. Opposition to the vote first came from friends of the treaty who held to the theory that it could not be ratified without a compromise. Those who apparently were then willing that vote should be taken today held opposite views and absolutely refused to allow time for taking the vote.

An hour and a quarter was spent in the vain endeavor on one side to get an agreement on a vote on the resolutions, and on the other in a more successful effort to bring the day's session to a close without allowing anything to be accomplished in that direction. The gallery doors had no sooner been locked than Senator Davis preferred a request of the treaty supporters for unanimous consent, naming tomorrow as the day for the vote. He said the desire on his side of the chamber was that there should be an opportunity to vote on all resolutions of a declaratory nature, all of which have been offered by senators who are opposed to the treaty without modification.

The opposition was prepared for the request, but it did not fail to create some excitement. Simultaneous objection was made from three or four sources but as if by common consent to Senator Gorman was left the task of making the principal statement of reasons for the opposition. His main objection was based upon the brief time that must intervene between the time of taking a vote on the resolution, and the time fixed for voting on the treaty, 3 o'clock next Monday.

The essential part of the demands of those who desired a modification of expression in the treaty, he said, was that the house as well as the senate must act upon the resolution. Manifestly it was too late to secure a vote by the house, even if action in the senate should be favorable, hence the absurdity of the proposition. He for one would object, and he had no doubt others would feel as he did. So long as there had been any possibility of securing a vote in both houses of congress the members of the senate who opposed the treaty in its present form had made no opposition. But to consent to a vote upon the question at this late hour, after a debate of so many days, would create the impression that the opponents of the treaty had been posing for effect and had allowed themselves to be tricked, either ignorantly or knowingly.

Cockrell and Bacon also avowed opposition on grounds practically the same as those of Gorman. Cockrell gave notice he would resist any effort for a vote upon the resolutions up to 3 o'clock Monday, when the vote on the treaty must be taken.

Friends of the treaty declared they were acting in good faith. They cited that all the time of the senate the past week had been occupied in performing its duties under orders or consent from the senate and there had not within that period been a time when a vote could have been taken. They charged the opposition with afraid to allow an opportunity to vote on the resolutions because of apprehension that some of the resolutions would be agreed to and the chances of a ratification of the treaty thus improved. This meant, as they regarded it, that they did not want any treaty ratified.

The objectors stood firm, however, till the last, refusing to yield. These objections were of course effective.

MAINE VICTIMS' MONUMENT.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE AGREES TO APPROPRIATE $10,000 FOR IT.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Senator Hale today presented the conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It was agreed to. A joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for the erection of a monument in the cemetery at Havana for the sailors killed in the Maine disaster was adopted.

Senator Harris of Kansas offered a resolution disclaiming for the United States any intention to exercise permanent sovereignty over the Philippines. Senators Money of Mississippi and Daniel of Virginia spoke against acquiring the Philippines. The house agreed on a conference report on a diplomatic appropriation bill.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The house committee of commerce has directed a favorable report on Hepburn's Nicaragua canal bill. One hundred and fifteen million dollars is appropriated for the purpose.

Indications are that the work of the Canadian high joint commission are drawing to an end. The treaty may go before the present congress.

MANILA HEALTH CONDITIONS.

GEN. OTIS REPORTS ON HEALTH OF PHILIPPINE TROOPS.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Responding to the resolution of inquiry, the secretary of war sent the senate today General Otis' report on the health conditions at Manila, giving the number of deaths among the troops in the Philippines since the arrival of February first, seven months, at 220. Of these forty-one were due to wounds and accidents. Of the remaining 179, sixty-five died of typhoid fever, forty-three of small pox and twenty-two of dysentery or malarial fever. He added that small pox was causing apprehension, saying the sickly March, April and May.

HAS GOMEZ POWER TO DISBAND CUBAN ARMY?

Other Insurgent Chiefs Cannot Believe He Has Agreed to This Arrangement.

SAY HE IS BOUND TO CONSULT CUBAN ASSEMBLY FIRST.

THREE MILLION DOLLAR GIFT WOUNDS THEIR PRIDE.

Commissioner Porter Says There Must Be no Delay in the Work of Reconstruction—Put Cubans on the Police Force.

POSSIBLE HITCH IN M'KINLEY'S PLANS.

Havana, Feb. 3.—Among the Cuban leaders who have given expression to their views on the subject, it is asserted that Gomez was not authorized to agree to a disbandment of the army without first consulting the Cuban assembly and obtaining its permission.

Indeed, when the report arrived, Gomez had accepted Commissioner Porter's proposition on behalf of President McKinley, many doubted it, refusing to believe he would act in this fashion. A prominent Cuban said:

"If the news is true, the Cuban assembly will have grounds for proceeding against Gomez. The idea of three millions as a gift from the United States to the Cuban soldiers is repugnant and wounds the pride of the Cubans."

A number of interviews obtained today with prominent Cuban generals go to show the feeling in higher military circles. General Mayia Rodriguez, second in command of the Cuban army, said:

"I cannot think Gomez would take this resolution regarding a matter of such transcendental importance as the payment and disbandment of the Cuban army without consulting the other Cuban generals. Gomez does not hold the power to disband the army without the authorization of the Cuban assembly and until after consultation with generals." Generals Leyte Vidal and Perraza concur in these views. All the generals interviewed were inclined to be guarded in their statements, pending receipt of word from Gomez, which, up to tonight, was not at hand. Still the general feeling in Cuban military circles is that the commander-in-chief will have to make an explanation upon his arrival here of his conduct, which to many is remarkable and even incomprehensible.

While there promises to be trouble with the assembly, some declare Gomez will be able to sway the deputies to his will and secure the disbandment of the army.

PORTER URGES ACTION.

Robert P. Porter, before sailing for Miami, made the following statement to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "While the situation has been improved and simplified by the declaration of Gomez that he will immediately take part in the pacification of Cuba, the advantage thus gained should be followed up by the American authorities. The entire policing of the island should be done by the Cubans themselves.

"Real police work is, in fact, now in the hands of the Cubans, and law and order are well maintained. There should not be a moment's delay in the organization and equipment of these civil guards."

"The bulk of the American soldiers must be taken out of Cuba by April. There really is no necessity for more than two regiments in each province to serve as a back ground support for the Cuban police. In giving the best of these people employment all the more will be left to the relief fund for those who must be helped back to the land.

The feeling of distrust between the Cubans and the Americans has been temporarily checked by the message of Gomez to McKinley and the president's reply. If the military elements of both armies will now get together and complete the several schemes for policing the provinces which are at this moment awaiting crystallization, the problem can be solved."

CAST IRON PIPE.

THIS COMMODITY ADDED TO THE LONG LIST CONTROLLED BY TRUSTS.

New York, Feb. 3.—A combination of cast iron pipe and foundry interests into one concern seems to be an accomplished fact. It proposes to unite into one company eight firms which are said to control the larger part of the cast iron pipe business of the country. The company will be capitalized at $30,000,000. The present annual output of cast iron pipe is stated to be 600,000 tons per annum, of which the new company will be able, it is said, to supply 450,000 tons.

UNION PACIFIC PLACES A RECORD BREAKER FOR WESTERN RAILROADS.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 3.—The Union Pacific railroad has let contracts for $1,500,000 worth of new equipment, supplying every deficiency in the company's rolling stock. This is said to be the largest individual order for equipment ever given by a western road. The contracts include forty-eight locomotives of eighty and a hundred tons each, thirty passenger coaches, and a thousand steel coal cars.

TIN PLATE AND BILLET STEEL.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—According to a local financial news agency, capitalists who are largely interested in the American Tin Plate company are behind the organization of the new billet steel combination and that they will work in harmony. The Tin Plate company has also effected an agreement with Carnegie and the Federal Steel company to supply no one with billets excepting it, thus affording a practical monopoly.

SUDDEN DEATH IN CAMP.

Adam Kappel, Sander for Clement & Beauman, Meets His End Without Warning.

IS THOUGH TO HAVE BURST A BLOOD VESSEL.

Coroner Crary is Trying to Locate a Sister of the Deceased in Buffalo—No Suspicion of Foul Play and no Inquest Held.

WILL INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF DEATH

Adam Kappel, lumberman, residence unknown, is dead. His remains are now lying in the undertaking rooms of Tonela & Johnson while the health officer and the coroner attempt to determine the manner of his death and find relatives who will claim the corpse.

Kappel died under peculiar circumstances Tuesday morning at Clement & Beauman's camp on Lake Independence, and his body was brought here late night before last.

The dead man was one of the five sanders employed by Clement & Beauman to sand the road on one of the hills where they are hauling logs. He got up at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning and went to his work as usual.

Soon after he had got to his station, which consisted of a little brush house beside the road where a fire was kept for drying the sand, the sprinkler passed by on its first trip.

Kappel stepped off the road to allow the sprinkler to pass. As he did so the driver noticed that the man was acting strangely and appeared to be nauseated.

"What's the matter, Kappel?" he cried. "Are you sick?"

Kappel did not answer, but thinking nothing serious was the matter with him the man drove on. The helper who was following on foot behind the sprinkler also noticed that Kappel appeared to be sick and asked him the same questions the driver had. He also got no answer, but being nearer to the sick man than the driver he could see Kappel really was ill.

He took hold of him to help him back onto the road, but Kappel had no sooner got onto it than he fell face forward into the snow with blood streaming from his mouth and nose. The helper did what little he could to stop the flow of blood, but it was no use, and before help could be secured to take him to the camp Kappel was dead.

It is thought probable that he died from the bursting of a blood vessel. Kappel was a man forty-five years of age and had no relatives in this part of the country. He is believed to have a sister in Buffalo, N. Y.

Coroner wired yesterday to the chief of police in Buffalo, asking him to locate the woman. A reply came back from the chief a few hours later that no such party was known, but that he had advertised for her and if she was in the city he would probably be able to get track of her.

As there is no suspicion that Kappel met his death by foul play there will be no inquest held, but the health officer will make an examination of the remains this morning and find the cause of death. If the dead man's sister can be found, or other relatives, the remains will be turned over to them if they wish, otherwise the body will be buried at the expense of the county.

DAY OF STRENGTH.

Favorite Copper Stocks Were Both Active and Bouyant Yesterday.

The coppers appear to be developing strength through weakness. After Wednesday's recession they took a firmer grip of the coppers and proceeded to do a little more forging ahead, a thing which was greatly to the joy of all the local holders.

Baltic and Centennial caught the limited express. These were the most active of the entire list yesterday, the former making three points and a half and the latter four points gain on the day's trading. Calumet & Hecla was not riding in a slow coach either. It made another of those $25 jumps, causing it friends to make a few more remarks about the near approach of the thousand dollar mark. A prediction made by Lawson a number of months ago that Boston & Montana would be selling for $50 was made good yesterday. The stock stopped there at the close.

Stocks which fluctuated a dollar or more on the day's transactions were: Baltic, 33 1/2 to 37; Boston & Montana, 24 1/2 to 25; Butte & Boston, 9 1/4 to 8; Calumet & Hecla, 75 to 77 1/2, and at one time touching 75; Centennial, 35 to 38; Mohawk, 27 to 28; Meadow, 2 to 3; Tamarack, 245 to 247 1/2; Union Land, 8 to 9; Quincy, 180 to 182.

Copper continued to make its big strides toward an indefinite big price, variously called by the knowing ones at from twenty to twenty-five cents. It opened at 72, 2 and 6, and closed at 73 flat. Wednesday the close was 70, 7 and 6.

A. B. Turner & Bro. were the only brokers posting bulletins yesterday, and those were of a hopeful turn. They read:

"Copper up one fifteen. No decided change in the coppers. Boston & Montana and Isle Royale look very strong. "Coppers are strong. Centennial particularly strong and active."

"Mass sold at fifteen. Centennial the feature today. Mass had a good day also."

Among the visitors to town yesterday was W. B. Jeffs of the Jeffs estate, the original owner of the Michigan mine. Mr. Jeffs is just as full of faith in the property as he was when he was here immediately after it was floated. He says the stock is good for twenty-five before spring.

A rumor, foundation unknown, was going around "Wall street" yesterday that Old Dominion is to be hammered down again. Thirty is said to be the mark this time.

ALSO THANKFUL.

Last Lot of Legislators Pass Pleasant Resolutions.

Members of the fish committees of the house and senate, who composed the last junketing party, followed the example of the larger junket which preceded them and passed resolutions thanking the people of Marquette for their hospitable reception. They went one step further than the first crowd of legislators and promised to give full consideration to their suggestions.

Following are the resolutions as they were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The people of the upper peninsula of Michigan have received us, the visiting members of the legislature, with open arms, giving us freely not only the information we are seeking, but an overflowing measure of entertainment, and

"Whereas, the citizens of Marquette have shown themselves the kindest of hosts, as well as enterprising people, working for the interests of their section and of the whole state; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we tender them our thanks and our earnest respect, individually and collectively, with the promise of the fullest consideration of all their suggestions."

The correspondent of the Detroit Tribune, who was with the first party wired out from Houghton the statement that the appropriation asked for by the branch prison board would probably be cut. He says:

"The prison board is asking this year for a little less than $25,000 for improvements, and because of the fact that the board has the habit of asking for more than it needs, the committee looked into the items very carefully. The requested appropriation is likely to be cut."

C. E. McCrone.

Ex-Marquette Dun Manager Is Organizing a Business Men's Club.

On account of a prospect of the disappearance of the pine forests in the vicinity of Menominee, a business men's club is being organized there to promote the business interests of that city so that the place will suffer with the end of the lumber business.

The promoter of the new organization is C. E. McCrone, formerly manager of Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency here. Since locating at his new post Mr. McCrone has observed that some of the lumber mills there will exhaust their stock of lumber within the next two years and will have to go out of business. The others will follow rapidly as the available supply of pine is diminishing rapidly. The sole support of the town in times past has been the lumber industry and as other industries are decided the club is being formed to secure them.

The work of collecting the necessary funds has been going on quietly and systematically, but has not been completed yet. Nothing definite will be done until spring, when it is expected that the club will be incorporated.

NO EXTRA PAY.

Recently Passed Law Doesn't Affect Soldiers of Thirty-fourth.

Soldiers of Co. L and other commands in the Thirty-fourth, who have been expecting one or two months' extra pay under the provisions of the act just passed by congress are doomed to disappointment.

The law is not retroactive. It applies solely to troops mustered out of the service after Jan. 12, 1899. A section of the act reads:

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that in lieu of granting leaves of absence and furloughs to officers and enlisted men belonging to companies and regiments of United States volunteers prior to muster out of the service, all officers and enlisted men belonging to volunteer organizations hereafter mustered out of the service who have served honestly and faithfully beyond the limits of the United States shall be paid two months' extra pay on muster out and discharge."

One month's pay is provided for those who are hereafter discharged who do not leave this country.

This will be a great disappointment to some of the soldiers who already were planning just what they would do with the two months' extra pay.

GOOD TOWN.

Marquette Was Certainly on Its Best Behavior in January.

Marquette is establishing its reputation as a good moral town. Anyhow its inhabitants are moral within the law, and a remarkably few of them find their way for even a short time behind the bars.

The police report that the town was even quieter than usual in January. In the entire thirty-one days there were but three arrests, and these were for trivial offenses.

INJUNCTION IS SECURED.

Michigan Land & Iron Co. Can't Dispose of Ontonagon & Brule Grant Lands.

NO MORE TIMBER CAN BE CUT OFF OF THEM.

Body Blow to the Michigan Land & Iron Company—United States Attorney Covell Makes a Gallant Fight on the Case.

TIMBER ON SECTION SEVEN IS CUT.

An injunction has been granted by Judge Severens stopping the Michigan Land & Iron company from disposing of any more of its lands claimed under the Ontonagon & Brule grant and stopping its assigns from cutting the timber off lands in the same territory.

News of the outcome of the hearing, which was held Tuesday before the judge in his chambers at Grand Rapids, was received here yesterday in a letter from Rush Culver, who is assisting the government in the prosecution of the case.

The injunction secured is a preliminary injunction, but it will stand till the case comes to trial on its merits, which will probably be at the next sitting of the United States court in Marquette. The case is of record in this division, and though it was necessary to go to Grand Rapids to secure the injunction, the trial, whenever it is held, will be in this court.

The lands which the present suit concern are in Iron county. Irwin H. Jackson purchased of the Michigan Land & Iron company an entire section and parts of two others in 46-45. He sold the lands to August Spies, the big Menominee lumberman, who jobbed the contract for the logging to Herman Holmes and Roger Jackson.

When notice was served on them to stop work prior to a hearing before the judge the jobbers were operating on Section 7, on which all the sixteen forest were held by Spies. Eleven forties in Section 9 and three forties in Section 3 were being held in reserve.

The lumbermen were aware of the suit that was to be brought against them and rushed their work cutting the timber to the fullest capacity of a large force of men. Two weeks before this notice was served on them to stop work and show cause why the injunction should not be issued they are known to have had the section nearly tripped, and they are believed to have completed the job before the notice of the court compelled them to quit work.

The court's order compels them to put up bonds for the timber they have already cut, and under this security they are allowed to go ahead, manufacture the lumber and dispose of it. Parties here who are interested in the government's side of the case are well satisfied with this condition of affairs. They had much rather have all the timber taken than have most of it cut and only a small, isolated piece left. This would probably never be sold to advantage, and the returns to the government and the settlers represented on that side of the case will be greater, if the suit against the company and the lumbermen is won when it comes to trial on its merits, than if a small part of the timber were left standing.

Mr. Culver in his letter says that George C. Covell, United States attorney, who was handling the government's side of the case, made a gallant fight and is entitled to great credit for the victory won.

WANTS THE NORMAL.

Sidnaw Has an Itching Mit for the New State Institution.

One of the claimants for the new normal school which the upper peninsula has in prospect is the village of Sidnaw. W. S. Prickett, the exceedingly energetic mayor of the small municipality was in town yesterday and dilated at length on the good points of the burg and the location for the school.

Sidnaw is on the junction of the South Shore and the St. Paul railroads and has the best railroad facilities of any town in the race, so the mayor says. Then he says that it is the center of population of the district, and that more people can be found within a radius of a hundred miles than in any similar sized circle drawn from any other town in the peninsula.

One of the strong points is the exceeding healthiness of the place. It is ten years old and has a grave yard with no occupants. It has several churches and the mayor says the villagers stand ready to build more just as fast as there are people to attend them.

The only thing which keeps Sidnaw from reaching out for the fish hatchery also is the extent of the pipe line it would have to lay to tap Lake Superior.

STREET CARS HERE.

First Lot of Newly Purchased Rolling Stock Comes from Chicago.

Three cars, the first consignment of rolling stock which was recently purchased in Chicago for use of the street railroad here, arrived yesterday. The flat cars containing them were run in on a siding by Pickands' coal office, and after the regular cars stopped running at night the new ones were taken off the cars, put on the track and hauled out to the car barns. They will be overhauled and painted and made ready for service on the line as rapidly as possible.

Three more cars which were purchased in Brooklyn are expected to be here very shortly. At a later date another consignment of two cars will arrive from Chicago.

GEN. MILES MAY BE DISCIPLINED.

Commander of the American Forces is Talking Too Much About Embalmed Beef.

PRESIDENT DETERMINES TO HAVE AN INQUIRY MADE.

EITHER MILES OR THE PACKERS WILL SUFFER FROM IT.

Miles' Charges About the Beef Will Serve as the Basis—Interviewers Find Miles Without a Word to Say About It.

TWO METHODS OF INVESTIGATION.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Most of the time of the house today was consumed in filibustering against the relief bills on the private calendar. The filibuster was finally successful and the house adjourned without taking up the bills. The conference report on the diplomatic appropriation bill was adopted. The purpose of the president to terminate the unsatisfactory state of affairs that has existed for some time as a result of the numerous charges and counter charges and interviews respecting the character of the army beef, by instituting a formal inquiry into these matters and endeavoring to place the responsibility where it belongs, was made known today. The inquiry will not be undertaken before the commission to investigate the conduct of the war has made its report to the president.

The scope of this new inquiry has not been defined but it will certainly embrace the allegations made by General Miles as to the character of the army supplies and will involve that officer to the extent that he must make these charges good, and to that degree will be on trial himself in a preliminary manner. Should the charges be found well established a heavy load of responsibility would be placed upon packers and other persons concerned in the meat inspection, and perhaps others. Should they fall unsupported General Miles may be obliged to answer to a court-martial for reflecting upon the character of other officers.

There are two methods by which such an investigation may be conducted according to established military usage. The first is by the appointment of a court of inquiry, and the second by the appointment of what is known as an officers' inspection board. In the former case it would be necessary to name some officer who is to be the subject of the investigation. In the latter the board is charged to inquire into the state of facts, or alleged facts, without reference to any particular person and to place the responsibility, if possible, for anything of which the complaint is made. Their findings may serve as a basis for court-martial quite as effectually as the findings of a court of inquiry and this plan has some advantages in that it does not begin with the presumption of a court of inquiry. Where the court of inquiry is ordered, it is said there is conveyed a distinct reflection upon the officer named.

It is not possible, at present, to learn in which the president leans, but he has been in conference on the subject with the secretary of war and the attorney general and the matter has been discussed in the cabinet to some extent. Up to the close of the day General Miles positively declined to discuss in any manner the events of the day so far as they relate to himself, or to discuss any statements contained, in any of the interviews attributed to him.

COPS GUARD GERMS.

OMAHA HEALTH OFFICIALS QUARANTINE A HOTEL FULL OF GUESTS.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—A special to the Record from Omaha says: The spectacle of an entire hotel full of guests being quarantined and armed policemen standing at every door and window to prevent people from escaping is presented in Omaha tonight. This morning three well defined cases of small pox were discovered at the Vendome Hotel located in the center of the city. The health department was notified and plans were quickly decided upon for quarantining the place. A squad of armed policemen raced to the scene and when the guests started on their accustomed morning duties they were driven back into the house by force. Traveling men begged to be permitted to get away from quarantining to leave the city by the first train or boat if necessary. Several daring fellows, who preferred any sort of adventure to being shut up for ten days, slipped out a skylight scaled adjacent roofs and, making their way through snow and ice over house tops, managed to reach the ground in safety after many narrow escapes.

HOT CONTROVERSY.

ATTEMPT IN EXECUTIVE SESSION TO GET VOTE ON ONE OF THE RESOLUTIONS INTERPRETING THE PEACE TREATY.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The controversy in the executive session of the senate over the vote upon the various resolutions interpretive of the peace treaty took an acute turn today. Opposition to the vote first came from friends of the treaty who held to the theory that it could not be ratified without a compromise. Those who apparently were then willing that vote should be taken today held opposite views and absolutely refused to allow time for taking the vote.

An hour and a quarter was spent in the vain endeavor on one side to get an agreement on a vote on the resolutions, and on the other in a more successful effort to bring the day's session to a close without allowing anything to be accomplished in that direction. The gallery doors had no sooner been locked than Senator Davis preferred a request of the treaty supporters for unanimous consent, naming tomorrow as the day for the vote. He said the desire on his side of the chamber was that there should be an opportunity to vote on all resolutions of a declaratory nature, all of which have been offered by senators who are opposed to the treaty without modification.

The opposition was prepared for the request, but it did not fail to create some excitement. Simultaneous objection was made from three or four sources but as if by common consent to Senator Gorman was left the task of making the principal statement of reasons for the opposition. His main objection was based upon the brief time that must intervene between the time of taking a vote on the resolution, and the time fixed for voting on the treaty, 3 o'clock next Monday.

The essential part of the demand of those who desired a modification of expression in the treaty, he said, was that the house as well as the senate must act upon the resolution. Manifestly it was too late to secure a vote by the house, even if action in the senate should be favorable, hence the absurdity of the proposition. He for one would object, and he had no doubt others would feel as he did. So long as there had been any possibility of securing a vote in both houses of congress the members of the senate who opposed the treaty in its present form had made no opposition. But to consent to a vote upon the question at this late hour, after a debate of so many days, would create the impression that the opponents of the treaty had been posing for effect and had allowed themselves to be tricked, either ignorantly or knowingly.

Cockrell and Bacon also avowed opposition on grounds practically the same as those of Gorman. Cockrell gave notice he would resist any effort for a vote upon the resolutions up to 3 o'clock Monday, when the vote on the treaty must be taken.

Friends of the treaty declared they were acting in good faith. They cited that all the time of the senate the past week had been occupied in performing its duties under orders or consent from the senate and there had not within that period been a time when a vote could have been taken. They charged the opposition with afraid to allow an opportunity to vote on the resolutions because of apprehension that some of the resolutions would be agreed to and the chance of a ratification of the treaty thus improved. This meant, as they regarded it, that they did not want any treaty ratified.

The objectors stood firm, however, till the last, refusing to yield. These objections were of course effective.

MAINE VICTIMS' MONUMENT.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE AGREES TO APPROPRIATE $10,000 FOR IT.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Senator Hale today presented the conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It was agreed to. A joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for the erection of a monument in the cemetery at Hallowell for the sailors killed in the Maine disaster was adopted.

Senator Harris of Kansas offered a resolution disclaiming for the United States any intention to exercise permanent sovereignty over the Philippines. Senators Money of Mississippi and Daniel of Virginia spoke against acquiring the Philippines. The house agreed on a conference report on a diplomatic appropriation bill.

NICARAGUAN CANAL.

HOUSE COMMITTEE REPORTS FAVORABLY ON HEPBURN'S BILL TO CONSTRUCT IT.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The house committee of commerce has directed a favorable report on Hepburn's Nicaragua canal bill. It authorizes the president to acquire by purchase from Nicaragua and Costa Rica the territory necessary to build the canal, then proceed with the construction of the canal. One hundred and fifteen million dollars is appropriated for the purpose.

Indications are that the work of the Canadian high joint commission are drawing to an end. The treaty may go before the present congress.

MANILA HEALTH CONDITIONS.

GEN. OTIS REPORTS ON HEALTH OF PHILIPPINE TROOPS.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Responding to the resolution of inquiry, the secretary of war sent the senate today General Otis' report on the health conditions at Manila, giving the number of deaths among the troops in the Philippines since the arrival of February first, seven months, at 220. Of these forty-one were due to wounds and accidents. Of the remaining 179, sixty-five died of typhoid fever, forty-three of small pox and twenty-two of dysentery or malarial fever. He added that small pox was causing apprehension, saying the sickly March, April and May.

HAS GOMEZ POWER TO DISBAND CUBAN ARMY?

Other Insurgent Chiefs Cannot Believe He Has Agreed to This Arrangement.

SAY HE IS BOUND TO CONSULT CUBAN ASSEMBLY FIRST.

THREE MILLION DOLLAR GIFT WOUNDS THEIR PRIDE.

Commissioner Porter Says There Must Be no Delay in the Work of Reconstruction—Put Cubans on the Police Force.

POSSIBLE HITCH IN MCKINLEY'S PLANS.

Havana, Feb. 3.—Among the Cuban leaders who have given expression to their views on the subject, it is asserted that Gomez was not authorized to agree to a disbandment of the army without first consulting the Cuban assembly and obtaining its permission.

Indeed, when the report arrived, Gomez had accepted Commissioner Porter's proposition on behalf of President McKinley, many doubted it, refusing to believe he would act in this fashion. A prominent Cuban said:

"If the news is true, the Cuban assembly will have grounds for proceeding against Gomez. The idea of three millions as a gift from the United States to the Cuban soldiers is repugnant and wounds the pride of the Cubans."

A number of interviews obtained today with prominent Cuban generals go to show the feeling in higher military circles. General Mayla Rodriguez, second in command of the Cuban army, said:

"I cannot think Gomez would take this resolution regarding a matter of such transcendental importance as the payment and disbandment of the Cuban army without consulting the other Cuban generals. Gomez does not hold the power to disband the army without the authorization of the Cuban assembly and until after consultation with generals." Generals Leyte Vidal and Perraza concur in these views. All the generals interviewed were inclined to be guarded in their statements, pending receipt of word from Gomez, which, up to tonight, was not at hand. Still the general feeling in Cuban military circles is that the commander-in-chief will have to make an explanation upon his arrival here of his conduct, which to many is remarkable and even incomprehensible.

While there promises to be trouble with the assembly, some declare Gomez will be able to sway the deputies to his will and secure the disbandment of the army.

PORTER URGES ACTION.

Robert P. Porter, before sailing for Miami, made the following statement to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "While the situation has been improved and simplified by the declaration of Gomez that he will immediately take part in the pacification of Cuba, the advantage thus gained should be followed up by the American authorities. The entire policing of the island should be done by the Cubans themselves.

"Real police work is, in fact, now in the hands of the Cubans, and law and order are well maintained. There should not be a moment of these civil guards.

"The bulk of the American soldiers must be taken out of Cuba by April. There really is no necessity for more than two regiments in each province to serve as a back ground support for the Cuban police. In giving the best of these people employment all the more will be left to the relief fund for those who must be helped back to the land. The feeling of distrust between the Cubans and the Americans has been temporarily checked by the message of Gomez to McKinley and the president's reply. If the military elements of both armies will now get together and complete the several schemes for policing the provinces which are at this moment awaiting crystallization, the problem can be solved."

CAST IRON PIPE.

THIS COMMODITY ADDED TO THEIR LONG LIST CONTROLLED BY TRUSTS.

New York, Feb. 3.—A combination of cast iron pipe and foundry interests into one concern seems to be a accomplished fact. It proposes to unite into one company eight firms which are said to control the larger part of the cast iron pipe business of the country. The company will be capitalized at $30,000,000. The present annual output of cast iron pipe is stated to be 600,000 tons per annum, of which the new company will be able, it is said, to supply 450,000 tons.

LARGEST SINGLE CONTRACT.

UNION PACIFIC PLACES A RECORD BREAKER FOR WESTERN RAILROADS.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 3.—The Union Pacific railroad has let contracts for $1,500,000 worth of new equipment, supplying every deficiency in the company's rolling stock. This is said to be the largest individual order for equipment ever given by a western road. The contracts include forty-eight locomotives of eighty and a hundred tons each, thirty passenger coaches, and a thousand steel coal cars.

TIN PLATE AND BILLET STEEL.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—According to a local financial news agency, capitalists who are largely interested in the American Tin Plate company are behind the organization of the new billet steel combination and that they will work in harmony. The Tin Plate company has also effected an agreement with Carnegie and the Federal Steel company to supply one with billets excepting it, thus affording a practical monopoly.

"With pleasure I write to let you know the great benefit I have received from your medicines and self-treatment at home."

"When you kindly advised me to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery' for my trouble, I followed your advice and received great benefit. I am over fifty years of age, and for over a year I suffered with pains in stomach, headache, irregular periods, constipation, indigestion, and had no appetite at all, and could not sleep. So it went on for months, till one day all at once I got dizzy, and I felt like fainting. My heart beat 120 or 125 times a minute. I went to the doctor; he gave me medicine, but it did no good. I thought I had to die. Every night when I went to bed I feared I would not be alive in the morning. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He prescribed his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' At first I thought the medicines did no good, but I kept on taking them as advised, and when I had taken five bottles I was so well that it seemed I did not need any more, but still I took the sixth bottle. I was then perfectly well. The headaches, pains in stomach, heart trouble and all left me. I have had a good appetite ever since, and can sleep well and do all my work."

If you are not sure what ails you write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., stating your symptoms fully, and he will prescribe for you free of charge.

WE NEED TRAINED CONSULS.

It is generally conceded that our consular service should be put on a business basis if it is to be made as effective as it should be for the promotion of our trade abroad.

President Angell of the state university makes the question of reforming our system of filling consular positions the text of an article published in the number of the Michigan Alumnus for this month, and what he has to say on the subject is well worthy of serious consideration.

To discharge the duties of the consular office successfully one should have had a special training and a degree of permanency in his position.

He should, therefore, have an acquaintance with business methods, and at least a fair knowledge of law.

One congress made an appropriation for a few Americans to go out as consular clerks to China and prepare themselves for the public service.

But the next congress failed to make an appropriation for their support, and the experiment came to an end.

If we are to administer Cuba and Porto Rico, and still more, if we are to administer the Philippines, we ought to adopt some plan for training young men for the administrative service in these possessions.

Great Britain could lay her hands at once on fifty or 100 young men well fitted to discharge the duties of administrative offices.

For she has been training men for such work. Fortunate West Point men are available, when military rule is called for.

IRON ORE OUTPUT IN 1899.

The editor of The Marine Review of Cleveland is quoted as predicting that the output of the Lake Superior iron mines in 1899 will reach the enormous quantity of 18,000,000 tons.

he says, will not meet the requirements of the furnacemen. The output would be greater if the operators of mines up here could obtain all the miners they will want, but the scarcity of labor will to a considerable extent limit production.

The dock facilities at lower lake ports are not of sufficient capacity to permit of more than that quantity of ore being handled, and to handle the estimated output the docks will have to be operated to their fullest capacity night and day.

A production of 18,000,000 tons will be a large increase over that of last year, which was the largest achieved to date in a single year by the Lake Superior iron mines, but the condition of the iron and steel industry at this time leaves little room to doubt that it will be readily taken up if the mines are able to send out that quantity of ore.

We take this, relative to sales and prices of ore from the Iron Trade Review.

The statement was made in this column a week ago, in connection with the announcement of the quotations for 1899 on old-range Bessemer ores.

hand buyers for the most part have secured their year's supply. Business heretofore drawn out over weeks and months has been covered in a week, and any expectation that the pace will be kept up even another week will be disappointed. A Well-Known Dressmaker in Providence, R. I., is Well and Strong Again, After Being So Weak that She Could Not Walk Without Help.

Four out of five women in America are not perfect women in the sense of being perfectly healthy. Nearly every one has some peculiar ailments of the menstrual organs. Just look around when you go along the street. You will see the pale, the weak, the run-down and the sorrow-faced everywhere.

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women are a positive specific for all female weakness and disease. They may be depended upon to purify and strengthen the organs distinctly feminine, to soothe all inflammation, and to stop pains and debilitating drains.

Mrs. Charles St. John, 255 Charles St., Providence, R. I., testifies as follows: "For six years I suffered from female weakness, headache, pains in the back and in the legs. At times I was so weak that I could not walk without help. For two months I was under special treatment in the hospital, but came out as pale and as weak as I was when I went in there. Having seen so many women cured by Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, I tried them, and was at once greatly benefited. My doctor afterwards told me to keep on taking them. I am a dressmaker, and am well known to many women in Providence, who have frequently remarked how much better I am now looking." (Signed.) Mrs. CHARLES ST. JOHN, 255 Charles street, Providence, R. I.

LOWER MICHIGAN NEWS.

The voters of Mecosta county are to have a chance at the spring election to show whether they believe in good roads or not.

John Keep was arrested at Lansing this week for failure to support his little ten-year-old son. The boy claims he has been left quite alone for days at a time in a tumble-down shanty in the outskirts of the town, and he has a famished appearance.

W. C. Mason and Gies Roberts, two young men who have been held at Battle Creek and other places on a charge of swindling, have been turned over to Lansing officers.

Chas. Starcross, a lad seventeen years old, fell through a hole in the floor in the barn of C. C. Helling at Jackson Wednesday afternoon, striking on the manger in front of a horse.

There have been several special elections at Schoolcraft in the past year or so, on the subject of bonding for a municipal electric lighting plant, and each time the proposition has been defeated.

Shelby is negotiating with a large canning factory in New Jersey for the erection of a branch establishment in the center of the Oceana fruit belt, and a Michigan concern is also contemplating the erection of a cannery to use up the soft fruit of the Shelby region and to put up tomatoes and corn.

Frank Harding, who was a prisoner in the branch state prison at Marquette and was released on parole, broke his parole last spring, since which time he has been in the east. He came back to Michigan recently, and was heard of in Ionia county about New Year's.

Eli Cuddeback, a baggage man on the Ann Arbor railroad, was arrested at Ann Arbor Wednesday on the complaint of his son, Walter, who came from Arizona for the purpose. Young Cuddeback has been living with his mother and the two have been receiving frequent letters from the husband and father threatening to kill them.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Albion college trustees held Tuesday it was announced that the estate of Wm. Scott Brown, in Chicago, is now ready to pay $6,000 to the college. In the last issue of The Soo Democrat appears the copy of a petition which will be presented at the March meeting of the board of supervisors asking for the incorporation of the village of Detour. The petition is signed by forty-seven citizens, all property owners and representing the largest interests in the village. A census of the village was taken during January and shows a population of over 600. In the summer season this number is largely increased, a thousand or more people making their homes there. The petition of the Detourites will no doubt be granted, and so sure are they of this fact that they will go right ahead and prepare for a boom next spring. Their idea is, so soon as a village organization is perfected, to make such improvements as will warrant them going ahead and advertising to the world their advantages as a summer resort.

MICHIGAN COLLEGE OF MINES. ITS REQUIREMENTS FOR NEXT TWO YEARS, AS SET FORTH TO LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEES.

The needs of the Michigan College of Mines for the next two years, as expressed in the request of the acting president, Prof. F. W. McNair, and of the board of control, for an appropriation from the legislature of 1899, were presented in extenso to the members of the two parties of legislative visitors who examined the building and equipment of the college, the one Thursday morning and the other Thursday afternoon. It must be remembered that the legislature of 1895 appropriated funds only for the current expenses, refusing all asked for additions to buildings and equipment. That of 1897 granted a portion of the estimate for the construction of an assay building, but cut three times that amount from the appropriation for the current expenses for '97 and '98, seriously hampering the college in its work during the past two years; accordingly more is needed now than would otherwise have been necessary.

Table with 2 columns: Item, 1899, 1900. Current expenses... $53,310, $52,865. Less tuition receipts... 7,000, 7,000.

This makes the total appropriation called for from this legislature $170,530. In this connection it may be of interest to note a few facts concerning the College of Mines and the revenue to the state from this part of Michigan. The total cost to Michigan to date of the College of Mines has been $569,000, from the first appropriation in 1855 to the last, covering '97 and '98; in that time Houghton county alone, to say nothing about the upper peninsula, has paid into the state treasury according to official figures a total of $648,308.32. During the last four years the total cost of the institution to the state has been $165,000 while the state taxes paid by Houghton county alone in that period amount to $360,788.14.

The Michigan College of Mines does not lay claim to any of the laurels of the university or of any other educational institution in the state, but the claim is made that since 1885, when Hon. Jay A. Hubbell secured the first appropriation for it, there has been built up on the shore of Portage Lake the largest mining school in the world. In this connection some figures prepared for the visiting committee Thursday are of interest. The average annual enrollment of the last four years and the graduates since 1886 of the leading mining schools of the country, with the date of organization, are here given:

Table with 2 columns: Enrollment, Graduates. 1877 Univ California... 29, 1874 Col. Sch. of Mines... 86, 1864 Columbia Sch. of Mines... 113, 1866 Lehigh University... 73, 1866 Mass. Inst Technology... 56, 1871 Missouri Sch. of Mines... 14, 1886 Michigan Col. of Mines... 110.

The record is a proud one, surpassed by one school only in enrollment, and that one including students in mechanical and other forms of engineering, and surpassed by only one in the number of graduates and that the famous Columbia College School of Mines, with twenty years of prestige behind it when the Michigan institution started in, yet today its lead in graduates in the last twelve years is only three. Of the 112 graduates of the Michigan College of Mines only two are now engaged in professions or occupations foreign to those for which they were fitted during their course of instruction at Houghton, a fact which proves that the institution does its work wisely and well.

Of the class which last entered it may be said that one-third came from the upper peninsula, one-third from the lower part of the state, and the remaining third from other states, the proportion of the last being rather larger than usual. Of the entire enrollment 45 came from the upper peninsula and 28 from the lower while Illinois comes next with 10, New York with 5, Ohio, 5, Wisconsin and Utah 3, California, Montana and Pennsylvania, two each, and New Hampshire, District of Columbia, Indiana, Iowa, Canada, Japan and Russia one each. By counties the upper peninsula students are divided as follows: Houghton 29, Marquette 6, Ontonagon 3, Keweenaw and Menominee 2 each, Baraga, Dickinson and Delta 1 each. The lower peninsula students come from the following counties: Wayne, 7, Kent 3, Crawford, Saginaw, Genesee and Washtenaw 2 each, Cheboygan, Alpena, Clare, Muskegon, Gratiot, Ionia, St. Clair, Hillsdale, Allegan and Kalamazoo 1 each.

The cost to the state per student per year in the institution during the last three years has averaged $342.77. The average in the technological schools of the country is placed by the United States commissioner of education at $344.75, including agricultural colleges and all varieties of technical schools. The figures for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology are $466.66. In these data four terms are figured in, the Michigan College of Mines compressing four terms work within the year and virtually completing a four years' course within the three years curriculum.

Speaker Adams in his pleasing address at Calumet, and in the equally pleasing talk which began at the Ontonagaming Yacht club, practically said "Ask and ye shall receive" - provided you ask for what you expect to receive and for what you need." It is on that principle that these appropriations are asked of the state legislature, and to those who have watched the course of this institution steadily toward the front in reputation and in attendance, who know of its work and of what its graduates are doing in the world, it would seem that money can be devoted to no better purpose. "The lower peninsula gave us Edison," said Senator Blakelee in his response at Calumet - "aye, and would not two years only be amply repaid by the production of his equal in benefits to mankind and in the addition to the wealth of his native land?"

STILL ANOTHER ONE. THE WAHNTITA COPPER MINING COMPANY IS THE LATEST TO START WITH $350,000 IN THE TREASURY.

The Wahntita Copper Mining company, upon which Mr. Frederick H. Clark has been engaged during his visit at Houghton, will be organized under the laws of the state of New Jersey. Mr. Clark left for Chicago yesterday afternoon to catch the Pennsylvania limited for Philadelphia and New York. Before his departure he had interviews with representatives of the E. P. Allis Mothers whose daughters grow debilitated as they pass from girlhood into womanhood should not neglect the pill best adapted for this particular ill.

TREATY FIXES THE NATIONAL POLICY.

Determinations Made After the Ratification Are But Mere Clerical Details.

ANTI-EXPANSIONISTS HAVE A DAY IN THE SENATE.

DANIEL CRIES OUT AGAINST COLONIAL GREED.

Says Ratification of Peace Treaty is to Wed the Americans to the Philippines—Prays Liberty's Spirit to Forbid the Banns.

HE DOESN'T WANT WHOLE EARTH.

Washington, Feb. 3.—For more than five hours today the senate listened to arguments in opposition to expansion and in opposition to the ratification of the treaty of peace. The speakers were Senators Money (Miss.) and Daniel (Va.). The former's address was comparatively brief, as he did not enter into constitutional phases of the question. Mr. Daniel made an exhaustive argument, in which he covered all points in the controversy. His speech was a brilliant oratorical effort, and he was warmly applauded at the conclusion.

FIXES NATIONAL POLICY.

The treaty fixes the policy of the government. What may be done afterwards is merely a clerical detail. The treaty is the thoroughfare over which eight millions of American citizens will march into this union. It is the marriage of the nation. Henceforth and forever the Philippines and the Americans will be one. I trust that yet before the marriage is consummated the spirit of American constitutional liberty will arise and forbid the banns. Let us treat the Philippines as we treat Cuba. We are now in military occupation of the islands. Let us remain in military occupation until we have assisted them with kindly offices and force or arms, if necessary, until they have established such a government as their destiny may have fitted them for.

BAD LUCK WITH ALIENS

"Contemplating the hundred and twenty-five years of our nation's history, we find but one impediment to its progress and that was in the effort to introduce the colored race, which was not assimilable with the Anglo-Saxon. The occurrence has been said and most tragic. It had effect of turning brother against brother and was the only element that had prevented the Americans from being an homogeneous people.

Senator Daniels also attacked the plan of acquisition as unwise strategically. The ratification of the treaty, he declared, meant the utter destruction of all tariff laws between us and the Philippines; the destruction of all immigration laws relating to the United States and the Philippines and accorded to Asiatics, Negroes, Malays and other inhabitants of the islands the right to come into the labor markets of the United States on exactly the same footing and under the same protection as the American workmen.

At the conclusion of Daniel's speech the senate went into executive session and soon afterwards adjourned.

ON THE BOARD.

RESULTS OF THE DAY'S TRADING IN WHEAT AND THE COARSER GRAINS.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Wheat opened active and fairly steady; later broke sharply, but reacted. There it held firm by professional buying, early offerings being well taken for a time, but the selling pressure increased and the market yielded. There was further selling for southwestern and northwestern account and the market acted later as if New York had liquidated a considerable line. Foreign markets were easy and Argentine shipments larger with leadings for Europe increasing. The fear of a severe break in cotton and of stocks in Wall street was also a factor. There was a good deal of covering by shorts at the decline and the market firmed up.

Corn opened fairly steady and rather tame, but as the session progressed wheat was the principal bear circumstance, and there was quite a general liquidation of that property by bull interests. There was some good buying by shorts around the bottom and some investment buying.

Oats were steady at the start but weakened in sympathy with the other grains. A liberal volume of business was transacted and there was a small rally at the last.

The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

	Opened	Highest	Lowest	Closed
Wheat	73 3/4 @ 74 1/4	74	72 3/4	73
Corn	38 1/2	38 3/4	37 3/4	37 3/4

Closing Cash Quotations:

Wheat, active; No. 2 red, 71 1/2; No. 2 spring, 70 3/4; No. 3, 69 1/2; No. 2, 36c. Oats, active; No. 2 white, 29 1/2; No. 3 white, no sales.

ALMOST A PANIC.

BROKERS HAVE A WILD DAY ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Feb. 3.—Stock values received a severe test today, the market at one time bordering on the paralytic stage through the enormous outpouring of stock from professionals and commission houses, but the day left off with irregular changes of a fraction either way and with the tone strong. The market opened rather irregular, grangers showing moderately good tone on St. Paul's increase of $161,000 for the fourth week in January. The specialties were included the same and the commission house support was moderate. There was an absence of support from large interests, and realizing set in which gave bears encouragement for vigorous demonstrations, which, after a feeble rally, resulted in many stop loss orders being caught. It was said on the floor that the heavy selling came from Washington and the rumor gained currency that the ratification of the peace treaty was in jeopardy. The market felt the effect of the heavy realizing that took place last week and this. The lowest prices of the day were shortly after noon. The declines were very general and embraced almost everything of consequence. Large orders appeared when the bear movement had apparently lost its force, and liquidation quickly ceased. Bull traders took hold of their various specialties and helped in the recovery, which continued practically to the close with only a momentary slight recession on profit taking.

UPWARD MOVEMENT CHECKED.

METALS NOT SO STRONG BUT LAKE COPPER HELD STEADY AT 17.50.

New York, Feb. 3.—There was a halt today in the upward movement in metals and more or less hesitation was manifested by buyers. At the close the metal exchange called warrants nominal at 8.50; lake copper, unchanged, with 17.50 bid and 17.75 asked; brokers' copper, 18.

SUGAR ADVANCES.

New York, Feb. 3.—The American Sugar Refining company and the National and Mollenhauer refiners have advanced the price of grades number 5 and 10 of refined sugars one-sixteenth cent a pound. This is the first advance in several weeks.

TRANSPORT SAILS.

New York, Feb. 3.—The transport Sherman sailed today for Manila with the Third regulars and one battalion of the Seventeenth, together with a large quantity of ammunition.

JANUARY BUSINESS BEYOND PRECEDENT.

Dun Feels Elated Over the Volume of American Trade for Year's Opening Month.

INCREASE IS IN SPITE OF MATERIAL DECLINE IN PRICES.

WEEK'S REMARKABLE FEATURE IS WHEAT'S BIG DROP.

Thinks the Foreign Demand Will Cause the Cereal to Recover—Number of Business Failures Was Surprisingly Few.

REPORTS ON THE NATIONAL MARKET.

New York, Feb. 3.—R. G. Dun: Failures in January were smaller than in any previous month except August 1898 and July 1897, and the proportion of solvent payments to clearing house exchanges is smaller than in any other month of which records exist. In January they were but eighty-six cents per $1,000 of clearing house payments; the smallest in any previous month had been about $1.08 per $1,000. Defaulted liabilities were $7,721,897, against $10,451,513 last year, decrease of twenty-six per cent. Manufacturing failures were also the smallest on record, excepting August 1898. Considering that January is usually one of the largest months of the year in failures, this return is surprising as well as encouraging.

The volume of business in January has been far beyond all precedent. It is pertinent to note that this remarkable expansion in the aggregate of business payments comes in spite of a material decline in prices during the past seven years so great that payments $82,000,000 would cover about as much business as payments of $100,000,000 in 1892.

It is not strange that European exchanges are disturbed and alarmed, and a rise in sterling, even when gold is being shipped this way, is one of the interesting features. The most remarkable feature of the week has been the decline of five cents in wheat, with only half a cent in corn. The government estimate of the wheat crop at 675,000,000 bushels has had more influence than any other estimate from that source for a number of years, because it is recognized as the result of great efforts to get at the truth, and is therefore considered about the lowest estimate admissible.

LOOKS FOR HIGHER WHEAT.

With ordinary consumption and the present exports of a hundred and fifty millions bushels from the crop of 1898, flour included, there will be less than a hundred million bushels for replenishment of stocks, for farmer holdings and for export in the next five months, and exports of 4,942,436 bushels, flour included, from Atlantic ports, against 3,095,000 last year, and 1,495,604 from Pacific ports against 777,000 last year, besides 309,855 from Duluth and Portland, Me., shows the stress of the foreign demand which may well excuse some recovery in prices. The iron industry is advancing in the prices of its products rather than of its materials. Pig iron has remained without change this week. Anticipating that six or seven furnaces will be put into blast as soon as possible the demand is strong, but not apparently urgent at the chief markets. Eastern bars and plates have advanced, with very heavy demand, and cut nails have been hoisted by the association of makers. The rush of orders for the future does not cease and the works are generally covered for months ahead with orders for ships, street cars and for exports.

In the minor metals the speculative fever at London has caused considerable advances, and the tin plate combination has advanced prices twenty-five cents. As yet prices of these products do not seem to disturb the foreign demand which is yet strong, but in all minor metals the London market is singularly uncertain.

BRADSTREET'S OPINIONS.

Bradstreet's weekly review says: The strength of the metals continues a feature, heavy advances being reported in copper, tin, spelter and lead. The strength of the lumber market is also a feature, and the scarcity of hardwood is still complained of. Leather is firmer on a light improvement in the tone of the boot and shoe trade. Cold, stormy weather, while interfering to some extent with the wholesale distributive trade, has been beneficial to retail lines, which have made good sales of heavy clothing and foot wear. Spring trade has shown a further advance at a number of markets and the outlook is regarded as a favorable one. Wheat, including flour, shipments for the week aggregated $88,419 bushels, against 4,998,000 last week; corn exports for the week aggregated 3,689,000 bushels against 3,696,000 last week.

BAKERY FIRE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—Fire this morning gutted the bakery of the Stewart Cracker company, and damaged other property to the extent of over half a million.

SHOT A BANKER.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 3.—W. S. Pardee, assistant secretary of the Pacific States Mutual Savings bank, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by Christian Reis, Jr. Reis and Pardee quarrelled several days ago. Reis' father is a prominent merchant and was city treasurer at one time.

THE COLONEL'S DAUGHTER

My friend Wilmore told me a surprising story the other day. Doctors—and Wilmore is one—do meet with surprising cases at times.

I had not seen my friend for some time when he invited me to spend a few days with him at his pretty villa overlooking the Royal Gardens at Kew. On the first evening of my visit I sat with him on the balcony of an upper room.

Close to us was the great palm-house. Wilmore pointed to it.

"Whenever I look at that house," he said, "I think of the events of a night that I spent in it with a man who would have committed a murder had I not been instrumental in preventing him. I did not know anyone else would have done—asked Wilmore to tell his story.

"Don't mind if I do," he replied, "only I must not be too long about it.

"Well, it is almost twenty-five years since I settled here near this wonderful garden. I put up my brass plate and waited for patients. I could do this with little anxiety, for I had a slight income to keep me going.

"There came to Kew about the same time a colonel, his wife and his daughter. Apparently they did not intend to reside here permanently—they took a furnished house by the quarter.

"I met the three of them in the gardens constantly. Like myself, they had obtained a private pass, and used to enter by that little gate opposite to us. They were seldom in the gardens when the general public were admitted.

"To be candid with you, the beauty of the colonel's daughter was to me far more enchanting than the beauty of the gardens. Yes; it was a case of love at first sight.

"I am not going to describe her except to say that every man, before he reaches my age, experiences the sort of intoxication that I did then, and to him the beauty of the loved object is incomparable.

"The girl, I must tell you, was one of the most healthy looking girls I have ever seen. We doctors know at a glance where health has its abode.

"I took a dislike to the colonel—naturally, perhaps, for he seemed to guard his daughter with exceeding sternness. He disliked me, too, it was plain. I shall never forget how he used to watch me and frown. Though I was in love, I was not quite devoid of reason and could find many excuses for the man's apparent antagonism. Doubtless he wanted a quiet time, as I did. Besides the colonel might well have imagined at times that I followed them. It had reached that stage with me that I felt despondent when I could not see them.—she seemed to be an unusually modest, quiet, even timid, woman.

"For two weeks I had to be absent from Kew on business.

"On returning, my first visit was to the gardens—to the rhododendron walk. They were a splendid sight; but I saw nothing of them—I was looking for a face. Just as I reached the open I saw three figures coming from the direction of the gateway of bamboo.

"I fancy I betrayed my feelings a little—I could not help it. I was shocked, almost paralyzed, to see the girl, upon whose image every fibre of my brain had dwelt, supported by her mother, pale, sickly, utterly broken down in health.

"She looked at me—oh, what a pitiful look! Her eyes were unnaturally large and unnaturally bright. Her face had become thin, the color had deepened. She was plainly suffering from some sort of slow fever—a fever that was consuming the strength little by little.

"Later in the day I was at the railway station, getting some books from Smith's library. I saw the colonel at the ticket office; he was inquiring for a ticket to Holyhead. He did not see me.

"It occurred to my mind all at once that I might see his wife and daughter by themselves next day. Perhaps I should have a chance to introduce myself in my professional capacity. That night I concocted all sorts of plans. In the morning I was in the gardens early. As the time drew nigh that those who I wished to see arrived, I was close to their customary gate. They came somewhat late—and I followed them. I felt mean—very mean—in doing so.

"When I reached them in the quietest place in the gardens—the rhododendron valley. There is a fountain beside the path to it. They stopped at it. I saw the elder lady take a handkerchief, saturate it at the fountain and apply it to the girl's forehead as she stood beneath the arching shade of a yew tree, leaning against a branch of it. Presently they proceeded slowly, I following. Fortunately there were no others at that early hour to see me. The two disappeared round a turning into the valley. As they did so, I saw something white fall. When I reached it I found it to be the handkerchief.

"Well, as I am telling the story, I had better tell it all. I put the handkerchief to my lips and kissed it. To my amazement an odor came from it that I had smelt once before and had never forgotten. It was the odor of the 'Thug-plant.'

"It was a fortunate thing that I had traveled in the east. While doing so I met a lady—the wife of a Madras artillery officer—who told me that she was on the point of death. She described her sickness most carefully. None of her doctors had been able to cure her. She had done some service to the 'medicine man' of the station—he was noted among the caste for skill in curing by means of herbs. He begged that he might see the lady, and at last was allowed. He entered the room, looked at her, went about in an amazing manner—smelling everything on the bed, the upholstery, the rugs, curtains, blinds—and reached the window. There he pounced upon a plant that the officer's wife had had for many years, having brought it from her own English home. The 'medicine man' plucked from the pot a small weed that had not been attended to.

"With a cry of delight he said that the lady's wife would live.

"I sought out the 'medicine man,' continued Wilmore, after a pause, "and after some persuasion he told me that the weed he had found was of the sort supposed to be used now by Thugs in its odor of their former strangling cord. Its odor was poisonous—was emitted only at night; must be inhaled from the plant or from some article saturated with it; that the Thugs covered the plant during the night and collected the poison.

"Now, in the handkerchief I had picked up in the gardens I recognized the odor of the plant—unmistakably it was the smell of the 'Thug-plant' that the 'medicine man' had made me acquainted with.

"The girl, it seemed, was dying from the effects of the poison. Who could be administering it, and why? Where had it been obtained? What was I to do? These questions absorbed my attention.

"I did not follow the ladies further. To save the girl, I felt that I must not lose a moment.

"That evening the director of the gardens was to hold an 'at home.' I decided to go, to confide in the director. It came to me like an inspiration that the 'Thug-plant' might be in the gardens. I found the director's house crowded—it was an old-fashioned place, partly in the gardens. When the host saw the urgency of my case, he arranged with some special friends to take his place in entertaining the guests. Then he listened patiently to all I had to say, making particular inquiries concerning the 'Thug-plant.'

"We have a specimen," he said. "If you come with me we will obtain more information about it."

"In a few moments we had crossed Kew Green, and entered the herbarium having with us the curator, one of the guests. We consulted there a ponderous book and read all about the 'Thug-plant' and its properties. Then we went to a department containing a multitude of drawers, labelled and numbered. An envelope of 'capsule' was produced. As the curator opened it, I exclaimed:

"That's it! I smelt it from here!"

"Has any one lately inquired about this plant?" asked the director.

"The curator again consulted the books.

"There is an entry here—yes—Colonel—called, made special inquiries about the 'Thug-plant,' and was taken to see it in the palmhouse."

"The director asked its number.

"'9663,' was the reply.

"We will go to the palm house," said the director, "and have a look at '9663,' and see if it has been disturbed. I believe it is a good size—it is some time since I saw it on its arrival."

"He procured a dark lantern, and the key of the palm house. We started for it. The director told me what he knew of the colonel and his family. It has occurred to me many times how little the girl resembled the colonel. She was his step-daughter, I was now told. The director's wife knew the girl's mother; she had married a second time. In a few months, on coming of age, the girl would inherit a considerable fortune—the reversion of her property, in case of her death, would be to the mother—and that," said the director, "means the colonel."

"We were going through the herbaceous garden, and just emerged into an avenue, when we saw a figure passing rapidly into the cypress walk.

"Who's that?" said the director, in a low tone.

"The colonel!" I answered, grasping his arm.

"What is he about?" he asked.

"Let us follow," I said, "and carefully. He may be after the plant."

"Down through the avenue of cypresses we kept the colonel's shadow in view; then we watched him passing along the margin of the ornamental water. The shrill cry of a startled seagull made us clutch one another.

"Let us stand here," said the director, "we can watch the house well. We stood by a magnolia. The colonel, with rapid strides, made for the great house of glass. He had to pass a wide unsheltered space. My companion has his doubts—but the identity of the figure was now too clear.

"It's he!" he ejaculated.

"The colonel went round to a side entrance. We glided round also, to keep him in view.

"Why," said the director, "he's in, without a key! Somebody has been bribed. We will go to the opposite door. I know where the key is."

"We went. Outside the door we removed our boots. Taking them with us, we crept in like burglars.

"In a few moments we reached the foot of a winding iron stairway, partly hidden by creeping plants and the surrounding palms and shrubs. We ascended noiselessly.

"Presently the director caught my arm, stopped me, and pointed below. There was the colonel. He was leaning against a palm-trunk, looking down intently at a bush covered by a white cloth.

"For five hours we remained there, stirring only to ease our positions.

"As morning approached we saw the colonel look at his watch—which he had done many times—then remove the bandage from the plant, fold it, place it in what was plainly an oilskin case, and put it in his pocket. He left it as stealthily as he came. So did we.

"We followed him to his house. He opened the door with a latch-key.

"Before he could close it, we were on the step—he had no time to refuse us admittance.

"Colonel," said the director, we must speak with you."

IS TELLING ON HIM.

Admiral Dewey Beginning to Feel the Strain of His Great Responsibilities.

A Scripps-McRae league letter from Manila gives the following interesting information regarding Admiral Dewey:

Those who knew Admiral Dewey in the United States say that in the past fifteen months he has aged fully fifteen years in appearance. Whether this is true or not, there is certainly a wide difference between the pictures of the admiral circulated in the United States just after the Cavite victory, and his features today. The hair is thinner now and the mustache is solid white. There are lines about the eyes and the corners of the mouth that were not there a year ago. But no change is apparent in the sparkle of the eyes or in the gentle expression of the mouth with which his old acquaintances were familiar, but which were never successfully portrayed in his lithographs. The genial nature of the man is amply reflected in his face, but a suggestion of the firmness of his character is there, too—evidences of the commander as well as of the diplomat.

Old friends say that he did formerly exhibit some of those little symptoms of nervousness noticeable now, the shifting from one position to another, his manifest impatience when the servant is a little slow, and other evidences of restlessness. Although there has been no physical break, in fact, he has grown stouter by several pounds than he ever was before, he impressed one as being a man who has worked hard and is in need of a good rest. Admiral Dewey has been confronted with several more trying propositions since he has been out here than the one he tackled on the 1st of May. Outside of his diplomatic dealings with the Germans and other foreign powers, his efforts to keep the insurgents within bounds, and his co-operation with the army in the attack on Manila, there has been an immense amount of detail work in superintending the raising and renovating of the destroyed and captured Spanish vessels, besides attending to an enormous mail consequent upon his suddenly acquired fame.

Letters from and mothers who have named their 1898 hopefuls for him, musical composers with Dewey marches, Dewey quicksteps and Dewey hodowns, pianomakers, cartmagnets, watchmakers, shoemakers, candymakers and cranks of all description have come in for their share of his personal attention, though in this matter he is assisted by a corps of secretaries. Articles bearing the Dewey trade mark have been received by the gross, and the admiral's cabin on the Olympia presents the appearance of a veritable curiosity shop.

Manila, too, has fallen into line with the Dewey craze, and now the worst enemy in the Philippines sports the name and portrait of the hero of Cavite.

It has been said that the admiral is a woman hater, but the author of this libel would have felt ashamed of himself had he been present on the Olympia yesterday afternoon, at a dance given by a flagship's junior officers. The "old man," as he is affectionately but surreptitiously dubbed by his subordinates, enjoyed the affair even more than the youngsters themselves. Although he took no part in the terpsichorean exercises, he made himself agreeable with the ladies present without favor or distinction, and was voted by all to be a jolly good fellow. It was the first social affair of the kind since the fleet has been here, all the fair guests, with two or three exceptions, being the wives of the army and navy officers.

The admiral impresses visitors as being extremely thoughtful of others as well as thoroughly appreciative of the kindness shown to him. A mail had arrived in Manila one morning and in the ordinary course of events the fleet down at Cavite could not have received its share until the regular trip of the ferry, but Lieutenant Baumgartner, captain of the port, thoughtfully sent the sacks down in his own private launch. As the boat put off from the Olympia after delivering the news from home, the admiral, who was sitting on the afterdeck chatting with several of his officers and your correspondent, remarked: "Well, now, isn't that kind of the captain of the port? He's a real good fellow."

At times, Dewey fairly bubbles over with good nature, but those who are under him say he is a lion when the occasion demands it. He is a practically tireless worker, scarcely a tour in his launch among the other vessels of the fleet, the arsenal and navy yard in Cavite, or to the resurrected Spanish ships, Isla de Cuba, Isla de Luzon, and Don Juan de Austria, which will soon be ready to go into commission under the Stars and Stripes.

Open the door, let in the air. The winds are sweet, the flowers are fair. Joy is abroad in the world for me. Since taking Rocky Mountain Tea. Stafford Drug company.

with flattering prospects. Mr. Clark states that New York and Boston capital is already in the market on subscription for more than the entire capitalization. The vein is 8 feet wide, grayish amygdaloid, comparing favorably with that of the Quincy and Osceola in the language of the report submitted upon the property. The walls are well defined and remarkably smooth, the vein matter breaking out easily. The property is said to be especially rich in mass and barrel work.

LAST OF THE VISITING LEGISLATORS.

THE FISHERIES COMMITTEE CAME, WAS ENTERTAINED, SAW MUCH AND HEARD MORE AND WENT AWAY WELL PLEASED.

The fisheries committees of the legislature arrived in Calumet at 6 o'clock Thursday morning and were entertained there during the day, visiting the most interesting mining sights of the bonanza town and then, after a banquet at the Arlington, leaving for Lake Linden where the stamp mills and smelting works were looked at. The party, some sixteen strong, arrived in Houghton in time for supper at the Douglas House and later the visiting members of the legislature were driven out to the Michigan College of Mines, where Acting President McUlar and Professors Koenig, Sperr and Hord devoted the evening to showing them over the buildings and explaining matters connected with the college, its equipment and its needs. In spite of their weariness the members of the party were so thoroughly interested in all the work of the institution that the buildings were all lighted up for them and they visited every department in turn, not even forgetting to call on Professor Lane, assistant state geologist, at the building occupied by the state geological survey. It was quite late when the party returned and they immediately sought their berths to dream of bottomless shafts, stamp mills, big machinery and colleges. Yesterday morning their car was attached to the east bound passenger train and they started on their return trip.

BALTIC AND ADVENTURE.

THEY ARE SAID TO BE SLATED FOR FURTHER RISES-BULLS HOLD FAST TO THE MARKET.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 3.-Baltic and Adventure are slated for further rises. The situation is strong and the feeling buoyant. Temporary set-backs are liable to develop any hour, but the bull movement speedily recovers from such reactions and carries prices to new high levels. Twenty-cent copper is in sight. The Copper Range company is slated for $60. HORACE J. STEVENS.

SKIP ACCIDENT AT ISLE ROYALE.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning the engineer at A shaft of the Isle Royale gave two miners, a Pole and a Finn, a ride up through the top of the shaft house. They got into the skip and rang to lower but the engineer either misunderstood the signal or had forgotten the way the valves of his engine were set and hoisted. One man jumped, striking on his head and cutting it open badly. The other was caught between a timber and the skip and badly squeezed, injuring his back severely. Both men are under the care of Dr. Wheeler; they will pull through all right.

ENGINEER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

H. J. Payne, chief engineer of the D. S. S. & A. road, got both feet and his hands badly frosted in the storm this week, while trying to locate Frank Brotherton's party. He did not find it, and after wandering around all day managed finally to reach a homesteader's cabin, fighting hard against the drowsiness which was overcoming him. The affair occurred in the Sturgeon river valley, where Mr. Payne was looking over a route for a road to Baraga. He had a very narrow escape from death.

FUNERAL OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

The funeral of Mrs. DesRochers, who died at her home in Houghton Monday night, took place Thursday morning from St. Ignatius' church. Mrs. DesRochers was seventy-four years of age and had been a resident of Houghton since 1860, when she came to the copper country from Detroit with her husband, the late Francis Xavier DesRochers. She leaves six children, five sons and one daughter, to mourn her loss.

JANUARY MINE PRODUCTS.

The January product of the Quincy mine was 510 tons, 1,225 pounds; of the Atlantic 229 tons, 110 pounds, and of the Wolverine 213 tons, 1,700 pounds. The figures were given out yesterday, and as the result of a little figuring and the present selling prices of copper in London the crowd of speculators are looking for more stock at present prices.

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

General Manager Wm. F. Fitch of the D. S. S. & A. was in the copper country yesterday.

W. W. Walker, of the South Shore road, returned to Duluth last evening after a day in the copper country.

Ed Mitchell, of Powell & Mitchell, came up to Houghton from the entry yesterday. He goes down to Marquette today.

The copper country having entertained two bodies of visiting statesmen within forty-eight hours now echoes the barber's call, "Next!"

The Terrible Experience of a Railroad Conductor.

Mr. Buck was Compelled to Give up His Position, Happy Ending of the Story a Godsend.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 30.-Palmer E. Buck is one of the best known railroad men in the west. For many years he had been a conductor on trains of one of the great railway systems, but on account of a terrible misfortune he was compelled to give up his position. He relates a remarkable experience.

"I had been troubled for two years with rheumatism and lame back," says Mr. Buck, "and I could hardly get around. The men on the car and around can vouch for what my case was. I had to leave my position as conductor and take flagman's job, my pain was so great. I tried almost everything, but no use. I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I purchased two boxes and have used them, and am now cured. I would not be without them. I am a new man. Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a Godsend to me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a Godsend to every sufferer from diseases that arise from disordered kidneys.

Don't be discouraged because other medicines have failed. Dodd's Kidney Pills are sure to cure.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by druggists at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price by Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Travelers' club has nothing to do with the project for a new hotel recently considered at a meeting of traveling men in Marquette. In fact the chief promoters of the new scheme are not connected with L. S. C. T. C. in any way.

The meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building at Hancock Sunday afternoon will be addressed by Mr. L. O. DeCamp, of the Dollar Bay schools, a special musical program being given. Miss Mayme Henwood giving an instrumental solo. The meeting will be held at 4 o'clock and all men are cordially invited to be present.

A dog race will be the event of the day today in Calumet, $100 in prizes being offered. This will be the only genuine, all-wool-and-a-yard-wide dog race on the peninsula this winter and the winner of "Two Strike" at the Ishpeming raffle won't be in it for pride and satisfaction with the victor in this afternoon's contest.

IS A GREAT HUNTER STILL.

REV. T. J. JOSLIN, FORMER PASTOR OF THE DIVISION STREET M. E. CHURCH, STILL A ZEALOUS NIMROD.

It is some four years since Rev. T. J. Joslin filled the pulpit of the Division street M. E. church to the benefit and satisfaction of all its members, but he is still well remembered here. Rev. Joslin had a host of friends while he was in the city, and they are always glad to hear how he is getting along. He is noted among his friends as an indefatigable Nimrod and he intensely enjoys the wild life of the woods. He is fond of all field sports, but particularly delights in hunting deer, and every open season finds him in the woods seeking this game. Although quite an old man, he retains all the fire and strength of youth, and his activity in camp was proverbial. Before the younger members of the party would even consider leaving their beds he was off in the woods for an all day hunt. He accompanied many hunting parties on trips in this vicinity and his cheery presence was always desired in the camps. He is now located at Quincy. The following song was written in commemoration of a trip that he made last year. It may be sung to the tune of "Suwanee River." It has excited considerable interest among his old friends here, and is published for their edification:

HAPPY HUNTER'S SONG.

Away in the wilds of Northland The Otter flows; 'Twas there on his banks a camp band At evening sought repose; Repose for the dark hours only, Not for the day; For then we tramped the forest lonely, But the deer kept far away.

Chorus. All the hours were bright and cheery, As they swept along, Not one grew sad or dreary, Filled with tramp and rest and song.

We brothers four of cordial mind, I'm glad to tell, Would only seek our four hearts to bind In mutual service well, Nor can we soon forgetful be Though cares may throng, How fairly did words and ways agree On Otter, though the game went wrong.

O Otter! O bright, swift Otter! Too far away, For our hearts still clamor for they water; And on thy banks to stay; But home and duties forge the fetters We have to bear, For wives and children seem our betters, And thy joys they cannot share.

O tell me, Sparkling Otter, can We brothers meet Where thy waters ran as then they ran, When with unwearied feet We met and tramped and happily tented In festive glee; Or, is the goodbye cheer we vented To be heard no more by thee?

WILL BRANCH OUT.

Kahn & Skud will shortly add a stock of dry goods to the lines that they are handling at present. The new stock will be placed in the south store, now occupied by a part of the gentlemen's furnishing stock and the shoe department. The size of the stock of furnishing goods will not be curtailed. If anything, it will be enlarged. The firm intends to use the store that fronts on Pearl street, which is now being used as a store room, for the shoe department and that portion of the gentlemen's goods that cannot be handled in the north store.

The changes that will be necessary in the arrangement of the stores will be started immediately, but it will be some time before the new department is in running order. When the improvements are all completed the firm will have one of the finest stores in the city. The firm has been established here now for eighteen years and its business has been uniformly large and successful. A branch house has been run at Bessemer for the last three years. Good business and a constant inquiry for articles, with property belongs in a dry goods stock leads the firm to add the new line. Mr. N. E. Skud leaves for New York in a few days, where he will buy stocks for both departments.

WILL BE A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Next Saturday, Feb. 11, from 5 to 11:30 p. m., the teachers of Grace church Sunday school will give an oyster supper and social at Anderson's Hall. Oysters will be served in three styles, with the usual side dishes. The charge will be twenty-five cents for either style. Ice cream and cake fifteen cents. Coffee and pop corn will be sold. Candy and tea will be served. All are cordially invited.

COMMUNICATED.

Notice to the Public: Mrs. Elizabeth Brazil, my wife, has left me, Thomas Brazil, without cause, and has served me with a writ of replevin to recover household goods, a thing entirely unnecessary. She was offered the goods the day before she took them and also invited to stop home in presence of her son Thomas. My wife, I really believe, is a little off. I have been painted by her as one of the greatest scoundrels that ever crossed the earth with his presence, and I believe I am. For this reason I have given her every dollar I earned for sixteen years and have been a steady worker and a temperate man for nine years. For the last two years I have been in Butte and in that time have sent her $345 cash (what a scoundrel). THOMAS BRAZIL, Ishpeming, Mich.

RHEUMATISM.

No disease that attacks the human body is so universal as rheumatism.

Almost everyone is liable to suffer from it, in some form or other.

Exhaustion of nerve force is the underlying cause. The immediate cause is the presence of certain morbid waste material in the blood and tissues.

Rheumatism occurs in several forms; there is acute rheumatism, or rheumatic fever; there is what is termed sub-acute rheumatism. This is chronic, muscular, inflammatory, deforming rheumatism, and there is rheumatic gout.

Over-work, or whatever induces an undue exhaustion of nerve force, will aggravate the disease, or hasten its appearance.

The aches that accompany the disease in its incipient stages are often, for a time, attributed to other less serious causes.

The cure for so deep-seated a trouble never can be an ignorant preparation that will only dull the pain or give temporary relief. There are a thousand and one so-called medicines for rheumatism that not only never effect a cure, but unfortunately are often the means of discouraging people who use them.

Paine's celery compound is as little related to these worthless preparations as an honest gold coin is to a clumsy counterfeit.

Paine's celery compound is a specific for the cure of rheumatism in any of its forms.

The first "friendly pain"-friendly, because it gives early notice before serious mischief has occurred, should send you at one to the druggist's for a bottle of this remedy. It will cure your rheumatism. It will so cleanse, invigorate and rejuvenate the blood that every organ of the body will share immediately in the healthier condition. It will build up and make you strong. Its peculiar ability to increase the amount of blood and stimulate the action of the liver and kidneys has made it the regular prescription of the best physicians.

Thousands of people have been cured of rheumatism by Paine's celery compound.

Mrs. H. C. Danolds of Rochester, N. Y., writes: "Last season I had a severe attack of muscular rheumatism. At first I used a good deal of liniment, but in spite of it the rheumatism increased. I then began using Paine's celery compound, and the second bottle cured me completely. I recommend Paine's celery compound most heartily as an invaluable remedy to all who are afflicted."

Other people--scores of them in every town of any size in the country, have written similar letters, appreciative and grateful, to the proprietors of this wonderful remedy--the best of all blood purifiers and nerve restorers, the discovery of Dartmouth's greatest professor.

Whoever has used it has recommended it to others. And that is the reason that the demand for Paine's celery compound is greater today than for any other remedy in the world.

THE TEXAS RANGERS.

Colonel "Rip" Ford's Story of One of Their Indian Fights.

"What was the most desperate fight you can remember, colonel?" The question was addressed to Colonel "Rip" Ford of the old time Texas rangers. The colonel--a very old man, with a wealth of snow white hair and beard--hesitated, for the question asked for quality, not quantity. After much study he told the story of a fight which occurred in 1851, and Frederic Remington repeats it in his "Crooked Trails":

"My lieutenant, Ed Burleson, was ordered to carry to San Antonio an Indian prisoner we had taken. On his return, while nearing the Nueces river, he espied two Indians. Taking seven men, he ordered the rest to continue along the road. The two Indians proved to be fourteen, and they charged Burleson up to the teeth. Dismounting his men, he poured 't' into them from his Colt's six shooting rifles. All but two of the Indians were killed or wounded, some of them dying so near the rangers that they could put their hands on their boots."

"All but one of Burleson's men were wounded--himself shot in the head with an arrow. One man had four 'dogwood switches' (arrows) in his body, one of which was in his bowels. This man told me that every time he raised his gun to fire the Indians would stick an arrow into him, but he said he didn't care a cent. One Indian was lying right up close, and while dying tried to shoot an arrow, but his strength failed so fast that the arrow barely left the bowstring."

"One of the rangers in that fight was a curious fellow. When young, he had been captured by Indians and had lived with them so long that he had acquired Indian habits. In that fight he kept jumping around while loading, so as to be a bad target, the same as an Indian would under the circumstances, and he told Burleson he wished he had his boots off, so he could get around good."

Here the colonel paused quizzically. "Would you call that a good fight?" he asked.

ADVANCE IN MINE WAGES.

Increase in Pay to Be Given All Grades of Labor in Mines from March 1.

THREE THOUSAND MEN IN TWO CITIES AFFECTED.

Fine Outlook in the Iron Trade Is the Cause of the Advance—It is a Voluntary One on Part of Mine Owners.

MORE PROFITS GO TO THE WORKERS.

It has been learned from authentic sources that there will be a considerable increase in the wages of the men employed in the mines of Ishpeming and Negaunee the coming season. The raise will go into effect March 1 and will affect not less than 3,000 miners who are employed by the iron companies of the two cities. The managers of the mines have little to say about the prospective advance and the percentage of increase is not known, but whatever it is it will be equitably apportioned among the workers of all grades, both underground and surface men. The advance is based on the bright outlook for the iron industry the coming season. With prospects for the trade so much improved there has been a feeling among the men for some time that they ought to share in the prosperity. The justice of their view appears to be conceded by the mine owners, and the price of ore this year has been based on the expectation of an advance in wages. The increase in wages will be a good thing for the business interest of the two towns and they can hardly help but feel a great benefit from the date of the first pay day under the increased wage roll. The miners will have thousands of dollars more to spend than they have had for some time back. Nearly all of this sum will find its way to the business houses of the city and through them it will be distributed to all the people. Ishpeming and Negaunee never had a prospect of a brighter season than the one they are about to enter upon.

THE FISHERIES COMMISSIONERS WERE DINED AND SENT REJOICING ON THEIR WAY. Without officially notifying the city authorities or citizens of their coming, the members of the fisheries committee of both houses of the state legislature quietly stepped off their special car yesterday noon and unannounced made their way to the Nelson House. It quickly became known that they were in the city and before it was time to dine a number of the citizens gathered in the corridors of the hotel and welcomed the visitors. The visitors enjoyed dinner and for a time after leaving the tables they were entertained at the hotel. They were then conducted from the hotel to the high school building, which they inspected in detail. The various departments were visited and a very pleasant hour was spent about the building. The visitors were surprised with the completeness of the appointments of the building as they did not expect to find such an up to date school in a region so far north. Carriages were in waiting for them, and they were driven to the Cliffs Shaft mine. The surface workings were thoroughly inspected, and a few members of the party took advantage of the opportunity to make the trip underground. This was the first experience some of the gentlemen had ever had in the underground workings of an iron mine, and the trip was very interesting to all. After the inspection of the mine the party was driven back to the hotel, where it remained until supper time. After eating supper the legislators boarded their car, which had been connected with the evening Northwestern train, and bade a final farewell to this section of the country. Although they came on very short notice the arrangements that were hastily made for their reception were quite thorough, and every member of the party passed a pleasant afternoon. The party has completed its business, and is now bound directly for Lansing, where it will arrive Monday.

The fish commission did not travel with the main party of legislators, as the nature of its business was different, and the places that it had to visit were widely removed from those which the main body intended to inspect. The commission traveled in a special car, which was pulled by the regular trains, or by a special engine as occasion demanded. The main stops of the party on the peninsula were made at the Soo, Marquette and Houghton, yesterday being spent at the latter place. There were fifteen members in the party, and since starting on their tour they have picked up a great quantity of valuable information concerning the industry they are expected to provide for. H. K. Gustin of Alpena, chairman of the committee to investigate fisheries, stated yesterday that two sections of the peninsula were making strong fights for the hatchery that is to be established during the present year. When the commission was at Marquette a strong sentiment in favor of having it located there was found, but the feeling was equalled if not excelled in the copper country, where every one connected with the industry was very decided in urging the claims of that section for the institution. The place that gets the hatchery will be named in a canvass of the upper peninsula representatives. The hatchery is almost guaranteed, and the only question seems to be one

In and About Negaunee

DINED AND DEPARTED.

THE LEGISLATORS FAVOR NEGAUNEE WITH A VERY SHORT VISIT THURSDAY.

This year's junket of the state legislature has been successively entertained by the three cities of the county. Negaunee was the last place to offer hospitality to the strangers, and they were entertained at the Breitung house preparatory to their departure for Madison Thursday evening. Thursday morning a telegram was received from Senator Alexander Maitland by Mr. Seass informing him that the junketers would be in the city that evening, and requesting him to make all arrangements necessary for their reception. In the short space that was allowed for preparation Landlord Seass worked diligently, and when the time for dinner arrived he had a fine banquet in readiness for the visitors.

In accordance with the program that had been arranged by the citizens who have interested themselves in the work of securing the location of the proposed Normal school at a point between the twin cities, the party was met on its arrival at Ishpeming with a number of street cars and the trip to the proposed site for the school at Union Park was made. The lateness of the hour and the depth of the snow prevented any extensive examination of the grounds and the attention of the visitors was especially called to its central position between the two cities and the ease with which a water and light supply could be brought there.

It was about 4:45 when the train bearing the strangers arrived at Ishpeming, and when the party finally arrived at the Breitung house at 5:20. The visitors were immediately escorted to the dining room and in company with a number of the prominent citizens of the city they sat down to the tables. The dining room was a perfect bower of beauty and no pains or expense had been spared in arranging the decorations. The tables were arranged in banquet style and were heaped with a profusion of potted plants, ferns and palms which had been furnished by Mr. Redfern. The dinner display was the finest that had ever been seen in the city, and the visitors and citizens were surprised and delighted with the effect. After their experience with the copper country billiards the legislators were not prepared to find potted flowers in the greatest profusion in this section at this time of the year.

Time was very limited and without much ado the party began to enjoy the good things that Landlord Seass had provided for the occasion. A sumptuous course dinner was served in the finest style and the legislators disposed of the edibles in a manner that bespoke their appreciation of the fare. They were scheduled to leave about 6:30 and time did not permit of toasts and speeches so when the dinner was finished the farewells were begun and the members of the party were escorted to the depot where their train was waiting. They were entertained here by Alexander Maitland and the efforts of the local citizens helped to make the affair a great success. Every member of the party expressed himself as delighted with the reception and the train carried away a thoroughly satisfied body of men.

This was the last place visited in the upper peninsula and after a flying trip through Wisconsin and a visit to Chicago the party will return to Lansing and resume the regular business of the session. This year's junket has been a complete success and in every place that the party has been received it has been delightfully entertained. The personnel of the present contingent of the legislative body has been of a higher order than heretofore and no doubt exists but that the trip has been of great value to the interests of this section.

The party was here for such a short time that it was practically impossible to judge what effect the efforts of the gentlemen who endeavored to impress the visitors with the advantages that would result from situating the school between here and Ishpeming had on their minds but it is hoped that it was favorable.

The movement to bring about the desired step is now well under way and every effort that will conduce to its ultimate success will be made. At the meeting held Thursday morning at Ishpeming it was decided to push the campaign in favor of the twin cities vigorously and the work is now going on. A general committee composed of prominent citizens of both cities was selected which will have full charge of the work. It will be final in all matters pertaining to the campaign and it will appoint whatever secondary committees are necessary for the success of the scheme.

The general committee is as follows: M. M. Duncan, chairman; Philip B. Kirkwood, F. D. Davis, secretary; Joseph Winter, Wm. Andrews, D. McVichie, Sam Redfern, C. T. Fairbairn, Richard Hardy, Frederick Braastad, W. H. Johnston, G. A. Newett, Sam Mitchell, C. G. Griffey, T. M. Wells, Wm. Sedgwick, A. B. Miner, Ed. Anthony, Theo. Walter, H. O. Young, E. F. Bradt, Geo. Hayden, John Jones, John Q. Adams, Fred J. Egan.

At its meeting Thursday the general committee appointed Messrs. Miner, Braastad, McVichie, Davis, Hardy, Fairbairn and Andrews as a committee to look after the reception of the visitors and they attended to all the details of Thursday's entertainment. Messrs. Miner, Bradt, Hayden, Redfern and Johnson composed the committee on sites. This committee will correspond with the various mining companies and will endeavor to fix on some suitable location which may be obtained. The park site may be purchasable and the committee will correspond with President Mather of the Cleveland-Cliffs company concerning it. This is the best site in the vicinity, but an endeavor will be made to obtain options on other suitable places.

A committee on statistics was also chosen by the general committee. It is composed of Messrs. Davis, Hardy, Newett and Fairbairn. They will collect whatever information and statistics they deem useful to the men who are working in the interests of the two cities.

The committee on sites is the most important of the minor committees and its labors will be watched with a great deal of interest. As soon as they get the question of suitable locations well in hand Chairman Duncan of the general committee will be notified, and a meeting of the main committee will be called, at which it will be decided what further steps had best be taken. What will be done then will depend entirely on the report of the committee and the temper of the citizens present.

The movement to obtain the institution for a place midway between the two cities has many enthusiastic supporters in both places, and there is a decided possibility of its ultimate success. It is generally thought here that the institution belongs in this county, owing to the central position it occupies on the peninsula and it is the opinion that the plus and minus of the state has to give should be equitably divided among the different cities of the peninsula.

BUYING RIGHT OF WAY.

There seems now to be little doubt of the coming installment of the long distance telephone line, as steps in the direction of active work have already been taken. For the past week F. M. Terry of Minneapolis has been in the city, engaged in the preliminary work of buying up rights of way along the lines of the proposed system. Tuesday was spent on the road, and Frank Sharon drove Mr. Terry clear to Turin, right up to the Delta line looking up the lands. Thursday the men were down the line as far as Sands and Cascada. The trip was a very rough one, as the cold was intense. For a distance of about five miles it was necessary to drive on the railroad track.

The company is obtaining a narrow strip of ground three feet wide on the land skirting the tracks. The strip is taken just fifty feet from the center of the track and down the line from here it was taken out on the west side of the track. All the necessary ground in this vicinity has now been obtained, and Mr. Terry will transfer his operations to other fields. It is the intention of the company to run the line from here to Escanaba, thence to the city of Menominee and through Wisconsin to the nearest long distance wire. It is understood here that a second line will be run south of Marquette to St. Ignace, connecting this section with the lower part of the state. If this is done the peninsula will have two long distance telephone connections with the outside world.

Construction work will be started as soon as the spring breakup opens the country between here and Escanaba. There is a large message to be connected, and the work will employ quite a force of men for a considerable time.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Joe Suss spent yesterday at Marquette.

Cyril Houle, who has been laid up for the last few days, is now on the mend.

Teams were engaged in hauling the superfluous snow off Iron street yesterday.

Nicholas Laughlin has bought out the meat business of Thomas Collins at Ishpeming, and will continue it there.

It was necessary to turn water on the ruins of the Winter ice house yesterday morning, as the flames broke out again.

Frank Bashaw, who has been at Hibbing for the past six months, arrived home Wednesday night. He intends to locate here permanently now.

Frank Sharon's hearse which was badly damaged in a runaway a few weeks ago, has been fully repaired, and it is once more ready for service.

Senator Lyons of Hillsdale was missed at the dinner Thursday night at the Breitung House. He contracted the grip in the copper country and was unable to attend.

Ferdinand Winter, who was burned out Wednesday night, is at present living in the Adelphi rink. He does not know what he will do, and will probably remain at the rink for some time. The fire did not affect his condition much, as he is in pretty hard circumstances. It is generally believed that the fire was caused by an incendiary.

While the 6:30 train was standing at the down town Northwestern depot Thursday evening the steam connection between the baggage and express cars broke and permitted the steam to escape. It rushed forth with a great noise and the attention of the people on the street was drawn to the spot. The damage was repaired at the D. S. S. & A. depot and the train was not delayed.

of location. When asked what the general sentiment of the legislators was regarding the location of the proposed Normal school, Mr. Gustin stated that Marquette seemed to be the favorite place at the present stage of the matter. This county is generally regarded as the central point of the whole peninsula, and there seems to be little question but that the school will be situated somewhere within its boundaries. Mr. Gustin had nothing to say relative to the site between the twin cities, as the idea was new to him and he had not considered it.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na For Colds

in His Family and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON. A Letter From the Executive Office of Oregon.

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every state in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Pe-ru-na is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Pe-ru-na not only cures catarrh, but prevents. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it continually in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says: State of Oregon, Executive Department, Salem, May 9, 1898. The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio: Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Pe-ru-na medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments. Yours very truly, M. W. Lord.

It will be noticed that the governor says he has not had occasion to use Pe-ru-na for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold. Using Pe-ru-na to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against other ailments. This is exactly what every other family in the United States should do. Keep Pe-ru-na in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, la grippe and other climatic affections of winter, and there will be no other ailments in the house. Such families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book entitled "Winter Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

William Trembath, a former resident of this city, but who, for the last few years, has resided at Ironwood, was here yesterday bidding his friends a final goodbye before his departure for Canada. He will return to Ironwood and on Tuesday next he will leave for Roseland, British Columbia, where he will settle.

Representative Watters has not accompanied the legislative junket on any of its trips. He came home sick with the grip but expected to recover sufficiently to join the party before it went to the copper country. He continued to feel sick and did not make the trip. He will not return to Lansing until he is fully recovered.

Ensign Miller and Captain Coulin will hold a series of special meetings in the army hall on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 4th, 5th and 6th inst. ## WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14. No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

UGHT TO BE ABOLISHED.

Fish Committees Which Visited Here Thursday Have Reached This Conclusion.

ARGUMENTS FOR THE OPEN SEASON WON THEM OVER.

Marquette Fishermen Made a Good Impression on the Visitors—Figures on Industry in Michigan Waters of Great Lakes.

GOOD NEWS IN A PRESS DISPATCH.

Local fishermen were delighted with a piece of news which was wired out from here to one of the Detroit papers by a special correspondent who was with the fish committees on their visit here.

From interviews and inquiries among fishermen the committees have about reached the conclusion that the closed season for commercial fishing should be abolished; that fish should be propagated artificially and that the expense of this work should be paid by a license fee on the fishermen, graded according to the catch, so that the big fishermen of the trust will bear most of the expense of the hatcheries.

The fishermen are devoutly hoping that this is a correct epitome of the committee's opinion, for their report is certain to have a great deal of weight in determining what is done about the matter when the bill for abolishing the closed season comes up in the legislature.

The good woman was appalled. "Henry! What did possess you?" she cried. "We can never eat it. I've asked you over and over again to consult with me before you go buying things, but you act as if you thought my advice was of no account and go right on in the same foolish way."

At Marquette and fifty miles up and down the shore either way there are at least a hundred families depending upon the fishing industry for their sole support. At present the fishermen claim they are barely making a living, and two who have been fishing out of this port have found the returns so poor they have quit the business and gone into something else which promised a better support for themselves and their families.

They claim that with the present law abolished they will be able to catch enough more fish so the business will be fairly remunerative. Another side of the question which is presented by them is if they have the long season again they will be able to supply the local market just that much longer with a cheap and palatable article of food.

The fishermen here are quite insistent that the tax, if one to support the hatcheries is determined upon, shall be levied upon the catch, as they claim that is by far the fairest way which can be devised. A bill was introduced in the legislature a number of years ago calling for two cents a fathom tax on the nets. The measure was killed, but had it not been it would all but have killed the industry. To pay a tax of two cents a fathom would take the gross receipts of the catch of many of the fishermen.

When he was here with the fish committees, President Davis of the state fish commission gave the fishermen some interesting figures on the magnitude of the industry in the Michigan waters of the great lakes. These figures include all the fishing conducted from Michigan shores in Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron.

Following are his statistics on the pounds of fish caught for the years named: 1891—8,110,387; 1892—6,347,535; 1893—5,345,890; 1894—4,469,765; 1895—3,353,187; 1896—12 per cent. gain; 1897—20 per cent. gain.

Following are his net statistics: 1885—25,839; 1891—36,514; 1892—38,283; 1893—42,073; 1894—42,231. The figures represent the number of nets.

TURNED THE THREE-SORE.

Captain C. D. Blanchard has turned his sixtieth year, and last evening a party of his gentlemen friends had a very pleasant time with him at his home celebrating the event. They had a most enjoyable evening, the captain and his good wife exerting themselves with entire success to make the hours pass happily for their guests. Card games kept the party interested and deeply occupied until 11 o'clock, when a dainty lunch was served, after which cigars and conversation filled in the time until "the clock spoke the hour for retiring," when the party broke up after engaging to spend another similar evening with the captain when he adds another ten to his well carried three-score of years.

MARQUETTE MINNETTES.

Marquette has a good many men who take care of their families well. The New England expression is that they are "liberal providers."

One of these is not only a liberal but a wholesale provider, and a store room he has in his house contains enough groceries and wearing apparel to stock a country store. He buys canned goods by the gross, shoes six dozen pair at a time, dress goods by the bolt, and clothing on the same liberal scale.

His wife has got used to having him come home and say he has just purchased six barrels of sugar or three dozen hats, assorted size for the boys. She doesn't think anything of an announcement like that, but moves the boxes around in the store room and makes a place for the new acquisitions. But one time she got an announcement that staggered her.

Pork was down, and her good providing husband thought it offered an opportunity for profitable speculation, so he went to a broker and bought fifty barrels on a margin. Coming home that evening he announced:

"Wife, I've bought fifty barrels of pork." The good woman was appalled. "Henry! What did possess you?" she cried. "We can never eat it. I've asked you over and over again to consult with me before you go buying things, but you act as if you thought my advice was of no account and go right on in the same foolish way."

"Well, I suppose we'll have to try to do something with it, but it will be awful. We'll have to have pork steady every other day, right along."

When she had run the length of her recriminations the good provider managed to get in a few words and explain that he had not bought the pork for home consumption.

She was somewhat mollified with the explanation, but with a voice of evil prophecy she exclaimed, "You'll lose the money anyway." And he did.

Along with its good providers Marquette has a full quota of degenerate small boys, and they pick up the vices of their elders at remarkably tender years.

Inhaling cigarettes seems to come as natural to them as inhaling ozone, and they rapidly become addicted to the use of the weed in stronger forms.

Shooting "snipes" is one of the ways in which they can keep themselves supplied with the necessary quantity of the weed, but begging "butts" from lumberjacks and ore trimmers is another source of supply. Some of the little rascals have more taking ways or are more persistent in their begging, and succeed in getting not only enough for their own uses but have some to trade to their friends.

One day this week one little fellow was hauling a playmate on a sled. He seemed to be tiring of the amusement but the boy on the sled wanted him to keep on.

Finally the "horse", who was about three feet six and who could not have been over ten years old, turned around to his driver and said:

"Say, Jim, you get me a chaw of tobacco from that lumberjack down there and I'll pull you all afternoon."

WHEAT AND THE COPPERS.

Two Commodities Now Divide the Attention of the Local Speculating Crowd.

CEREAL INVESTORS HOPEFUL BUT BACKING UP DEALS.

Dividend Paying Copper Stocks Declined on Break in the Metal—Several of the Nonproducers Make Good Advances.

FEATURES OF THE DAY'S TRADING.

Wheat is dividing with copper the attention of the local speculator, just now, and most of those who have invested money in former commodity are putting up more money to make their first investments good.

A short time ago when wheat was around seventy-eight cents a large number of them marked it for a good buy, and straightway invested on margins all the way from one to five cents. Since then it has been dropping and even the heaviest margined ones have had to come up with more money.

Yesterday May wheat closed at seventy-three, and during the day touched a quarter of a cent lower. It may still drop a few cents and this possibility is causing a good many some anxious hours. The drop which has been experienced already has taxed the staying power of part of the crowd, though it is reported that very few have been shook out.

Nearly all the speculators here believe in higher prices, though there is quite a difference in the top figure they set. Some are looking to see the cereal at ninety cents or a dollar before the first of May, while some of the conservatives put the top price as low as seventy-eight cents. An advance even to the latter figure will enable all the crowd to quit even, and those who have got in at the low prices prevailing the past day or two will make some money.

Yesterday's trading had quite different effects on the producing and non-producing coppers.

Calumet & Hecla was the only stock in the first class which made an advance exceeding a dollar. The rest were either stationary or dropped from one to five points. The non-producing list was generally strong and several of them made quite strong advances. The feeling among the speculators was that all the stocks held very firm considering the slump in the metal.

Copper lost a pound between yesterday and the day before. This is the first considerable slump it has experienced since it began its rapid rise, but even at this price it is still above the close of Wednesday.

London copper as given by Hayden, Stone & Co., opened at 74 pounds, 7 shillings and 6 pence, and closed at 72 flat. The close the previous day was 73 flat. Stocks which fluctuated a dollar or more on yesterday's transactions were: Adventure, 10 1/2 to 12; Arcadian, 72 to 71; Allouez, 10 to 11; Atlantic, 43 to 42; Calumet & Hecla, 72 1/2 to 75; Centennial, 39 to 45; Mass, 13 1/2 to 15 1/2; Osceola, 10 1/2 to 10 3/4; Quincy, 182 to 180; Isle Royale, 58 1/2 to 57 1/2; Old Colony, 17 1/2 to 18 1/2.

Following are the bulletins displayed by the brokers: A. B. Turner & Bro.: "Copper up seven and six. Copper stocks particularly strong in the face of the general market. Centennial is the active feature." Paine, Webber & Co.: "Copper off. Market weakening on account of that and in sympathy with the New York market."

Years of Suffering Brought to an End in Less Time Than It Takes to Tell How It Is Done.

DR. AARONS IS KEPT BUSY ALL DAY LONG.

SEE HIM AT HOTEL MARQUETTE TODAY.

Dr. Aarons continues to demonstrate the wonderful progress made in the art of bone setting. He is kept busy in his rooms at the Hotel Marquette from early morning till late at night with patients seeking relief that they heretofore have not been able to get. Some with dislocated knees, hips, wrists, ankles or elbows. Ever so many stand ready to tell what the Bone-Setter has done for them and they stand ready to do so with pleasure, which is evidence enough to satisfy the most skeptical person.

Dr. Aarons has been in Marquette off and on for nearly two months, remaining two and three days at a time. This trip he has found it necessary to stay a week, having had so many seeking his services. Unless through some unforeseen circumstance he will leave for his home tonight to return next week, so that if you wish to see him it would be well to call at his rooms at the Hotel Marquette before 5 o'clock this afternoon.
