FILIPINOS BURNED MUCH OF ILOILO.

Entire Chinese and Native Sections of the Town Destroyed Prior to the Evacuation.

NOT A SINGLE AMERICAN HURT IN THE BATTLE.

NAVAL BOMBARDMENT SPEEDILY WON THE VICTORY.

Shots from the Boston and Petrel Cleared the Trenches and Paved the Way for the Unopposed Landing of the Force of Marines First Ashore.

MILLER'S ULTIMATUM WENT IGNORED.

London, Feb. 14.—A dispatch received at the Lloyds office today from Manila reports there was serious fighting at Iloilo Saturday, Feb. 11, and that much property was destroyed. The insurgents were driven out of the town. The correspondent expresses the opinion there is not likely to be further trouble and that foreign property is safe.

ULTIMATUM DISREGARDED.

Manila, Feb. 14.—Particulars of the capture of Iloilo are to the effect that on Friday morning General Miller sent an ultimatum and the non-combatants were warned to leave within twenty-four hours, the rebels also being notified to suspend further belligerent preparations.

Saturday morning at 2 o'clock the lookouts on the gunboat Petrel discovered the rebels working in the trenches. A warning shot was fired, to which the rebels replied with a harmless fusillade, and later the cruisers Boston and the Petrel bombarded the trenches, driving the enemy out in very short time. The rebels started fires in various parts of the town, and thereupon forty-eight marines were landed from the Boston and a company was sent ashore from the Petrel. These detachments marched straight into the town and hoisted the stars and stripes.

The capture accomplished, the troops were landed and began the saving of the consulates and foreign mercantile property. The entire Chinese and native sections were destroyed, but the other sections escaped with slight damage. Not a single American was injured. General Miller was in complete control when the Petrel sailed for Manila.

PRESIDENT IS FOR PEACE.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The confirmation of the press reports detailing the capture of Iloilo was received at the war department today with considerable satisfaction.

What the future will bring, however, it is scarcely safe to say. The president, from the inception of the Spanish war, has been earnestly in favor of a most humane policy, and it is not intended to follow the severe check to the Filipinos with a war of subjugation if the insurgents will allow this government to avoid it. They have had a stern lesson at Manila and Iloilo, and if they are content to profit by it and come peacefully into camp they may do so without fear of further chastisement. Still, it is recognized that Admiral Dewey and General Otis have a much better grasp of the local situation than is possible here, and the administration does not purpose to tie their hands with unnecessary instructions.

Nothing of importance developed at today's cabinet meeting. A telegram was read from General Otis saying that 180 officers and 1,800 men, Spanish prisoners of war, had left the 12th and 13th for Spain.

FILIPINO DELEGATE DEPARTS.
Montreal, Que., Feb. 14.—Senator Luna, of the Filipino delegation, has departed for Liverpool. He will sail from St. John tomorrow on the Numilian.

DOZEN MEN CARVED.

BLOODY FIGHT AT A DANCE IN A WISCONSIN HAMLET.

Diamond Bluff, Wis., Feb. 14.—A fight between two factions at a dance late last night resulted in a dozen men being wounded, some seriously. Knives and revolvers were used. Frightened women jumped from the second story of the building and a number were injured. When the riot ended a horrible scene was presented. Lying unconscious in pools of blood were a dozen men. One had his arm literally carved to pieces, another had ugly cuts in the scalp and another had his face badly mashed. The other men escaped with broken limbs and minor cuts.

SUE THE PLUG TOBACCO COMBINE

MISSOURI OFFICIALS TAKE ACTION TO SMASH THE TRUST.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 14.—Attorney General Crow filed a suit tonight in the supreme court to break up the plug tobacco trust. He instituted quo warranto proceedings against the Continental Tobacco company, the J. G. Butler Tobacco company, the Brown Bros. Tobacco company, the Drummond Tobacco company and the Wright Bros. Tobacco company, the latter four of St. Louis. The petition charges a combination to control the output and price of plug tobacco in violation of the state anti-trust law and against public policy.

A TRUST NOW IN PAPER BAGS.

ALL BUT 5 PER CENT OF THE MAKERS ARE IN THE DEAL.

Milwaukee, Feb. 14.—A special dispatch from Appleton, Wis., tonight says that a paper bag trust has been floated with a capital of over twenty-five million dollars. One of the firms involved is the Western Paper Bag company of Batavia, Ill., which operates a big paper mill at Kaukauna, Wis. The trust was organized to allow the joint use of patents owned by one of the interested companies. The combine will embrace 95 per cent of the paper bag manufacturers of the country.

BROOMS TO COME HIGHER.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—At a meeting of broom corn holders and dealers in the Illinois growing districts in this city today it was decided, in view of the shortage in the visible supply, that an immediate advance of $30 per ton be made. It was stated there is a shortage in all the leading markets of the country, and that many broom manufacturers have but a meagre supply on hand.

COAST STEWN WITH WRECKAGE.

DISASTERS GALORE FROM GALE SWEEPING THE BRITISH ISLES.

London, Feb. 14.—Numerous announcements of wrecks are pouring into the Lloyds office as the effect of the gale of Saturday and Sunday. A great quantity of wreckage is strewn along the Waterford coast. A portion of a steamer's lifeboat has been picked up off An-nistown. It bears no name.

A dispatch from Brest says that many fishing boats and coasters were lost along that section of the French coast during the storm and that twenty-six shoremen belonging to Ardiere, in Finistere on the bay of Aude, have been drowned.

TWO BOATS STILL MISSING.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 14.—The steamship William Lawrence, of the Merchants & Miners' Transportation company, is a total wreck off Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. When the ship began to break up Capt. Willis and crew took to the four boats. Yesterday the boat in charge of Second Assistant Engineer Morrissey, with seven men, reached Paris Island. A second boat, in charge of Second Officer Beale, with six men, was picked up in pitiable condition. The men were in pitiable condition. Chief Engineer Roach, Steward Dingle and Second Officer Beale had their feet and legs frozen stiff and their hands frost-bitten. All three may lose one or both feet. The other two boats, with fourteen men, are still missing and it is believed they are lost.

NEW HOPES FOR THE BULGARIA.

St. Michaels, Azores, Feb. 14.—The captain of the tank steamer Weehawken, which rescued twenty-five women and children from the steamer Bulgaria, 800 miles from the Azores islands on Feb. 5, now reports that two other steamers, the names of which are not known, were standing by the Bulgaria when he met her. The crew of the Weehawken, the captain says, were obliged to abandon further efforts to rescue those on board the Bulgaria, it being impossible to return to the Bulgaria, owing to the Weehawken's boats being wrecked. The crew of the Weehawken say there is a possibility the Bulgaria did not founder.

OVERDUE LINERS ARRIVE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—The American line steamship Belgeland, from Liverpool for Philadelphia and more than a week overdue, was sighted off the Delaware breaker late this afternoon. The ship is covered with ice.

MILES CHARGES BASELESS.

New York, Feb. 14.—The American liner Paris arrived safely today from Southampton after the most tempestuous voyage of her career.

DR. CONNOR DEFENDS THE WORK OF THE WAR INVESTIGATORS.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14.—Dr. P. S. Connor, after his long service on the war investigating commission, having returned to his home, was complimented by a dinner at the Grand Hotel tonight by his friends and neighbors. The chief guest spoke freely of the work of the investigating commission, which he said had been assailed from the beginning as one created to veil the truth. He declared the commission labored earnestly to find and to declare the truth. Its work, he said, would have been closed much sooner but for the remarkable charges promulgated by the commanding general of the army. The doctor sketched the investigation of that statement made by the commission, and said he hoped the court of inquiry which is to examine the same matter would probe it to its depth; he hoped they might get more light than the commission found. The doctor was sure that if the court inquiry found the charges as the investigating commission found them the high officer of the army he named would be dismissed from the service.

ENGINE MEN BADLY SCALDED.

DISASTROUS COLLISION ON THE CHICAGO & GREAT WESTERN.

Dubuque, Ia., Feb. 14.—A passenger train on the Chicago & Great Western ran into a locomotive on the main line at Dyerville today. The passenger engine and three cars were derailed and badly damaged. Engineer Snyder and Fireman Atlinger were seriously scalded and three passengers slightly hurt.

MICHIGAN MAN KILLED.

Charleston, N. C., Feb. 14.—A construction engine was wrecked by spreading rails on the South Carolina & Georgia railroad near here today. Two men—M. B. Jackson of Atlanta and Fred D. Forbes of Ptsilanti, Mich., employees of the Bell Telephone company—were killed, and eight others seriously injured.

CITIZENS ON SHORT RATIONS.

SNOWBOUND COLORADO TOWNS VERY SHY OF PROVISIONS.

Denver, Feb. 14.—Men on snowshoes arrived at Leadville today from Kokomo. They say that Kokomo, Carbonville, Robinson, Climax and the surrounding towns are entirely out of supplies, except flour and potatoes, which are doled out sparingly. The coal supply is exhausted. While the people are not yet starving, they are in serious straits. Provisions will be taken from Leadville as soon as possible.

BANQUET OF BRYAN.

St. Paul, Feb. 14.—Colonel W. J. Bryan of Nebraska was the guest of honor at a banquet given by Minnesota Democratic and Populist politicians at the Ryan Hotel tonight. Over five hundred guests were present. Mr. Bryan's subject was "Democracy." Other speakers were Governor Lind and Mayor Bowler.

FIRE HOLDS HIGH REVEL IN THE WINDY CITY.

Property Valued at Over a Million Dollars Goes Up in Smoke in Chicago.

BUSINESS BLOCK OF SIX STORIES IN ICY RUINS.

PAPER HOUSE AND APARTMENT BUILDING ALSO DESTROYED.

In Cincinnati a Hat Factory and Adjoining Structures Burn, Causing a $500,000 Loss, and Knoxville, Tenn., too. Gets a Costly Scorching.

OILS AND PAINTS FED THE FLAMES.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The six-story building at 10 to 24 West Water street occupied by the Traders' Warehouse company and a large number of smaller concerns was destroyed by fire this morning, the total loss being estimated at $780,000. The origin is unknown.

The building was occupied by a large number of business concerns, and goods of every description, from lead and iron to oils and paints, were stored there. The latter made good material for the fire. The steel, iron and lead goods weighed heavily on the floors, and they fell in rapid succession, and the walls also fell, blocking the St. Paul railroad tracks. Within an hour after the fire was discovered the building was nothing but a pile of smoking debris.

LIST OF CHIEF LOSERS.

The principal losers are:
Edward B. Butler, owner of the building... $75,000
Manufacturers & Merchants' Warehouse company... 100,000
Thomas Cobb, Paine's celery compound and color dyes... 100,000
James O'Donnell, iron and steel... 25,000
John W. Bokert, flour... 150,000
Raymond Lead company... 100,000
Moser-Burgess Paper company... 50,000
Traders' Warehouse company... 50,000
Sprague, Warner & Co., flour... 25,000
Lane & Co., dry goods... 45,000
Waterbury Rope company... 50,000
All the losses are covered by insurance.

TWO MORE BAD BLAZES.

Later on, an explosion in the ruins caused a blaze in the building occupied by the Groth & Klapper Wall Paper company which caused a damage of $65,000.

Tonight fire destroyed the Arlington apartment building, at 428 Forty-first street, one of the most fashionable buildings of its kind on the Grand boulevard. The nineteen families who lived in the structure were all, with the exception of one family, accounted for after the building was destroyed. The missing are: Fred Marke, mail carrier, and his wife and infant. The total loss is $150,000.

PROBING THE FIRE HORROR.

Yankton, S. D., Feb. 14.—The coroner's jury is still investigating the insane asylum fire. W. L. Dow of Sioux Falls, architect of the building, was on the stand today and gave expert testimony. The engineer and his assistants also were called. Nothing new was elicited. Several portions of charred bodies were recovered from the ruins today.

HEAVY LOSS IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14.—A fire starting the loss of half a million dollars caused this morning in the hat factory of the Vah-Fallehmer company and communicated to adjoining property.

SCORCHING IN TENNESSEE.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 14.—The plant of the Greer Machinery company and the Whittle Trunk company building burned tonight. The loss is $100,000.

NAVAL CANTEN ABOLISHED.

NO MORE SALES OF LIQUOR TO JACK TARS ABOARD SHIP.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The canteen aboard ship is a thing of the past. It never had obtained a stronghold in the service and of late the only vessels in the navy permitting the sale even of beer aboard are the New York and Indiana. It cannot be gathered that the operation of the canteen aboard these ships has been a subject of ill-report, but even there the sales of beer have been ordered stopped in an order by Secretary Long just published.

DIPLOMATS WIDE APART.

ANGLO-AMERICAN NEGOTIATIONS, IT'S ASSERTED, WILL END IN COMPLETE FAILURE.

London, Feb. 15.—The Washington correspondent of The Daily Chronicle expresses the belief that today's session of the Anglo-American high commission will result in complete failure. The American commissioners, he says, have refused to answer the questions asked by the Canadians.

MARQUETTE, MICH., FEB. 15.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

A VALUABLE PUBLICATION.

The publishers of The Mining Journal are preparing to issue a book that will be found of great value by all who are in any manner interested in the copper mining industry of Lake Superior.

It will be our First Annual Review of the Lake Superior Copper Mines, and will contain between 250 and 300 pages of carefully prepared matter giving in concise form a history of copper mining on Lake Superior; a description of the geological conditions existing in the copper belt; the statistics of copper production of the developed mines to date; descriptive chapters on the countries through which the copper formation runs, their population, resources and development generally; also a full and complete account of the new properties now being exploited, their location, stage of development, prospects as indicated by exploratory work, etc.

Competent men have been secured to have charge of the different divisions of the work, and the book will provide those who desire to inform themselves regarding the copper properties whose stocks are now so eagerly sought by investors with reliable information concerning them.

This Review will supply a want that has been keenly felt since the recent wonderful manifestation of interest in copper set in, following sharply on the increased demand, and resultant advance in price of the metal, and which so marvelously stimulated the exploitation of new copper properties in the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon. So eager were those in any manner interested in copper mining to avail themselves of the information the work will place before the public that within two weeks after the publishers had announced their intention of getting it out orders for 10,000 copies had been placed in Boston and Detroit alone.

To meet the demand for the Review an edition of not less than 15,000 will be printed.

The Review will contain a complete and accurate map of the copper belt, showing the location of every mine and prospect; views of the towns and great mines, and many illustrations of value in enabling those not familiar with the copper district to obtain an idea of its extent and what has been accomplished toward its development. It will be issued about the first of April, and orders for copies should be placed at once to ensure having them filled, as the size of the edition must be determined when the first form goes to press.

Single copies will be sent by mail prepaid to those ordering them for fifty cents. A limited number of pages will be devoted to business announcements, and as the work is sure of a large and active circulation it will afford advertisers a very inviting opportunity to reach a wide circle of readers. Advertising rates can be ascertained by applying to the publishers.

It is the intention of the publishers to make the Review a handbook of the Lake Superior copper mining industry that will be of very great value, and expense will not be considered in the accomplishment of that purpose.

A Duluth clergyman wants the people of that city to send a committee to Andrew Carnegie to request him to provide the city with a public library. We don't see why the line should be drawn at a library when there are so many other things Duluth needs that Carnegie could easily provide her with if he could be brought to feel that way.

Instead of trusting to a committee of weak mortals why doesn't the dominie get the Lord to assist, and arrange a praying bee for the purpose? That might save the committee the humiliation of going on a fruitless begging mission, and would afford an excellent test of the efficacy of prayer besides.

A member of the legislature is quoted as saying that Governor Pingree recently made a proposition to the attorneys of one of the big railroads of the state to drop his program of railway taxation if the roads would aid him in getting a law through imposing a heavier tax on mining properties in the upper peninsula. We doubt the statement, but if the governor should attempt a dicker of this kind he would be pretty certain to fall between two stools.

The Times-Herald of Chicago is understood to be a reflector of the president's views. Its editor, Mr. Kohlsaat, being very close to McKinley. Hence this utterance of the paper on the question of what should be done with the Philippines is regarded as possessing special significance as indicating the policy of the administration with reference to these islands and their people.

The Philippines are not so much rebels as children. They are not savages holding a land which it is our duty or desire to possess. In taking over the sovereignty of the Philippines from Spain we owe a duty to the nations of the world for their pacification, and to the natives for guidance for independent government. What we have promised to Cuba we will give to the Philippines. And in giving it we will have far less temptation to procrastination than will be the case in Cuba. Where there are geographical, political and sanitary reasons why we should annex Cuba, with the consent of the Cubans, there are none why we should exercise a permanent protectorate over the Philippines. We ask and want no permanent dominion in the Philippines beyond such a naval depot as shall preclude the possibility of some future Dewey being forced to conquer a base and refuge for the American navy in Asiatic waters.

Mr. Thompson, stout, prosperous and middle-aged; slender, blonde and lovely, with "bride" written large all over her attire, from the picture hat, the fawn traveling cloak, lined with white satin, and the watch bracelet set in turquoise down to her new patent leather shoes.

"Will you go upstairs and wait, my dear?" he said, turning to her. "Oh, no, this will do," she said indifferently, and pushing open the door of the waiting room she walked in.

There hasn't so much been heard of Teddy Roosevelt since he became governor of New York, and the impression begins to prevail that he made a mistake when he started after that office. It is so big that it seems to have completely swallowed him.

LOWER MICHIGAN NEWS.

Experienced fruit growers in the peach belt claim that 16 degrees below zero will kill the buds. In the winter of '76 the temperature was as low as 28 below and it killed the buds, and many of the trees. The freeze will be a hard blow to the fruit growers throughout the peach belt, as they depend wholly upon fruit raising for a living.

Patrick O'Rourke is a farmer of Union township, Branch county, whom it would be hard to convince that "farming doesn't pay." A year ago he went in debt to the amount of $2,100 for land, and has now nearly paid for it; besides which he has $1,000 bushels of wheat yet to dispose of. Now he has bought forty acres more for $1,400, and expects to pay for that the coming season.

Mrs. Helen F. Crittenden attempted suicide Sunday afternoon at Vicksburg by cutting her throat with a razor, but did not cut deep enough to sever the jugular vein. Physicians sewed up the wound and she will live. She has been blind and sick for over two years and this, together with the destitute circumstances of herself and husband, were doubtless the cause of the act.

Twenty-five years ago C. A. Pendleton, of Jackson, was running a grocery store in Chicago, and sold a bill of goods amounting to $36 to a certain man who paid $10 down and promised to pay the balance in a short time. Shortly afterward the man moved to New Mexico, and nothing more was heard as to the payment of the $26. The other day, however, Mr. Pendleton received a check for $26 from his debtor, who is still in New Mexico, and with it a letter offering to pay interest on the debt for all the years it had run, if desired.

A disastrous fire occurred at Flint at an early hour Sunday morning. The flames were discovered in the First National bank building. Before the fire department arrived the fire had reached the second story and made havoc among the rooms upon that floor. The flames soon reached the third story and were burning fiercely when the firemen began operations. The fire originated from the furnace in the back building. This building was completely flooded with water and the interior was badly scorched. The total loss is about $5,000.

The farm house of Anton Bader, in a little settlement fourteen miles northeast of Big Rapids, caught fire Saturday morning last, the cold being intense at the time, and burned down, Mrs. Bader and an infant child perishing in the burning building. Bader had got his wife and the child out in their night garments, there being no time to dress, and was busy saving what he could from the building when the woman rushed back into the house with the child, presumably to get some money out of a trunk in her room where she kept it. The attempt to get the money cost the lives of both woman and child, as they were overcome with the smoke and heat and could not be rescued.

AT THE COST OF A LIFE.

"It is really very unfortunate. I really don't know how it can have happened. Nos. 20 and 22 are both engaged. If you would step into the drawing room a moment I will inquire."

The manager of the Sealiff Hotel rubbed his hands together and smiled ingratiatingly at the couple before him; Mr. Thompson, stout, prosperous and middle-aged; slender, blonde and lovely, with "bride" written large all over her attire, from the picture hat, the fawn traveling cloak, lined with white satin, and the watch bracelet set in turquoise down to her new patent leather shoes.

"Will you go upstairs and wait, my dear?" he said, turning to her. "Oh, no, this will do," she said indifferently, and pushing open the door of the waiting room she walked in.

Away from her husband's eyes she drew her breath hard, her gray eyes looked the look of a child awakened. She clasped her hands together with a gesture of nervous dread. A man, the solitary occupant of the room, turned his head at the soft rustle of her silk-lined skirts, and as their eyes met both uttered a cry.

"Charlie! My God! Is it you? I'm not too late—say I'm not?" he cried. "I was married this morning. We were on our honeymoon; but what has that to do with you?" said she, almost fiercely. "You—you broke off my engagement. I would have been true to you in spite of every one."

"Then there has been foul play. I was sure of it. Look, Annie, I had such faith in you that when there was no answer to my letters I knew they must be tampering with you. And then came the news of your engagement—my sister wrote to me, she always was jealous of you—and I got leave somehow. It was the colonel who managed it for me, and I have needed day and night to be in time. I haven't slept or eaten since; and I meet you here, married."

He was close to her now, his handsome face flushed and quivering, his strong hands clinched in a masculine impatience of suffering. Anne shrank away from him, white and trembling. She could hear her husband's voice speaking to a waiter outside.

"Anne, haven't you a word for me? Tell me why you have done this hideous thing. Was it his money?" he demanded. "His money? No, no! I never heard from you; I was so lonely and miserable," she faltered. "Oh, Charlie, Charlie! What shall we do?"

She held out her hands to him with a little gesture of appeal, but he did not take them. He was beginning to see that it had been better for them both if they had never met again. What could he do but harm to Mr. Thompson's wife?

"I don't know—God help us!" he said brokenly. "To meet you like this! Is he—does your husband—"

The door swung open—Mr. Thompson was entering. It was such a stale device by which they had been parted it seems almost impossible Anne could have been taken in by it. But, after all, a well brought up girl does not lightly suspect her mother of such an extreme measure as suppressing letters from an intelligent lover; and Mrs. Carruthers' daughters were eminently well brought up, so, when Charlie Dacre's letters suddenly ceased, she began to believe that the popular opinion as to his inconstancy was well founded.

She suffered a good deal under the belief; her wrists grew so slender that her bangles were too big; the roses faded out of her cheeks, and the once ready smile came and went infrequently, and Mrs. Carruthers was genuinely sorry for her child. She supported herself, however, by the reflection that it was all for Anne's ultimate good.

Mr. Thompson was obviously all too ready to marry her and endow her with his $20,000 a year, his big country house, his moor in Scotland, and his share in the business of Thompson, Goodrich & Co., and Mrs. Carruthers was sure that Anne would be happier in the long run as his wife than to marry a young man with nothing but his pay and good looks. Mr. Thompson was forty-five, rather bald, but personal experience had taught her that after a few years a husband's banking account is of infinitely more importance than his looks, so she felt justified on high moral grounds in putting a stop to one engagement and doing her best to bring on another.

At first Anne resolutely avoided Mr. Thompson, but by degrees the kindness of his manner and the sense that other women would gladly have had his attentions gratified her; and then a feeble longing to be revenged on Charlie, to show him she was not wearing the willow for his sake grew upon her. Moreover, she was of an affectionate nature and the disgrace in which she felt herself with her mother during the time she had held herself bound to Charlie had weighed on her heavily, and she turned eagerly to the approval which graciously to Mr. Thompson brought her.

So it is not to be wondered at that less than a year after Charlie had gone west with his regiment Anne found herself awakening on the day of her wedding to Mr. Thompson.

She lay on her little white bed looking dreamily around the room, littered with all the paraphernalia of packing. Her going away dress was stretched across two chairs, a huge trunk, gaping open, gave a glimpse of dainty cambric and lace, and across the passage she knew her wedding gown was displayed on the spare room bed, but her imagination refused to realize that she was indeed going to be married, though the previous night she had seen the drawing room blocked up with costly presents, such as Mr. Thompson's wife was likely to have, and the dining room already laid for breakfast. Smart clothes, diamonds, and excitement are sometimes very effective in drugging the mind, and for the past week Anne had simply refused to let herself think of it now.

She sprang out of bed and dressed herself quickly. There was something she wanted to do before her mother came to her; so when she had put on her plain white dressing gown she unlocked a trumpery rosewood desk and took out a package of letters, a bunch of faded violets and a photograph. She slipped the last two into an envelope and went swiftly down stairs, for, it being June, there was only the kitchen fire available.

The cook had just gone to the side door for the milk, so there was no one to witness her holocaust. She did not feel any pain over it, only a desire to get it done before her mother came, and she even laughed a little as she heard the cook boasting to milkman of the number and value of the wedding presents.

The morning seemed to pass with her like a dream, in which her share was only imaginary. Her mother's kisses, the crowd in the church, the service, the wedding breakfast with its endless speeches, the fussy officiousness of the bridesmaids who helped to array her in her traveling gown, the smiling farewells and good wishes, were all indifferent to her; but when at last she and Mr. Thompson were in the carriage that was to take them to the train, and he laid his hand on her arm, she suddenly awoke to realities.

"At last I've got my dear little wife to myself," he said; and passing his arm around her, turned her face up to his with one plump hand, and laid his lips on her forehead for the first time.

"Don't! don't! you mustn't!" cried Anne. Her words seemed to fall over each other in her haste; her heart was beating like some caged wild thing.

"Did I frighten you, my darling? Come, you mustn't be so shy of your husband!" he said, smiling at her indulgently.

"I—I don't like being kissed. I—I am tired," faltered Anne. She suddenly seemed to have become aware that she belonged to this man. His short, blunt fingers, on one of which was a big signet ring, his double chin, the big creases on his cheeks when he smiled filled her with repulsion.

"Are you tired, dearest? Does your head ache?" he said, kindly, solicitous at once. She shut her eyes and leant back in the corner while he fussed over her with her smelling salts and eau-de-cologne.

They had engaged rooms at the seaside resort, but there had been some mistake about them, and it was while he was talking to the manager that Anne went into the writing room to wait.

"Oh, yes, that will do quite as well!" said Mr. Thompson, coming briskly in, and speaking over his shoulder to a waiter. "Anne, my dear, it is all right now. We have three rooms on the first floor; they are taking up our things. Why, my dear, what is the matter?"

"I have made a mistake," said Anne, hardly knowing what she said. "This—is this Charlie Dacre?"

Mr. Thompson had heard a sketchy outline of his wife's previous love affair from Mrs. Carruthers. "Boy and girl affairs"—"mere fancy"—"quite unworthy young man"—the phrases seemed to ring in his brain now. A dull flush rose slowly to his face; he laid his hand on Anne's arm.

"I have heard of Mr. Dacre," he said, coldly; "I think you had better come with me."

"You have stolen her from me. You know best yourself by what means!" said the younger man, savagely.

The situation was insupportable. A primitive emotion was out of place in the commonplace room, with its writing tables littered with directories and hotel stationery.

"I gained my wife by no means of which I need be ashamed," said Mr. Thompson, with a certain dignity.

"But it was all a mistake. He wrote, only I never had his letters. He was coming back to me," said Anne, helplessly.

"I don't understand, perhaps I am dense. You mean to say that you only married me, believing Mr. Dacre was false?" began the elder man, confusedly.

ing round her tiny ears, the depth of her eyes darkened by coming tears.

"You ask too much," he said, with sudden anger. "I love you, you are my wife, and very beautiful."

He had both her hands in his now, and was drawing her nearer.

Anne did not speak, only looked at him with a white face of terrified repulsion. He could see the pulse in her throat beating furiously.

"You would not be the first wife who has lived down the fancy for another man, and has been happy with her husband," he said, slowly; and then the girl broke down into a storm of wild hysterical weeping, covering away from him with bent head.

"My poor child! my poor little girl! you are quite overcome," she heard his voice saying in quite a changed tone. "Come and sit down, and let us think what is for the best."

She suffered him to lead her to a couch and sat down, burying her head in the pillows.

Mr. Thompson was not accustomed to women, and her long-drawn sobs, and the piteous heave of her shoulders went to his very heart.

"You ask me to let you go, Anne; but what would you do then? Would you go to your mother?"

"Oh, no, no, no."

"I thought not; and as you bear my name in common fairness to myself I could not let you go alone into the world."

She said something incoherent, between her sobs, of wishing she was dead.

"For God's sake, child, don't treat me as an enemy," he said, bitterly. "Listen, you must share my home, there is no help for that; but in all other respects I will leave you entirely free; only I ask you for your own sake, not to see that man again."

Through her own distress the sense of his generosity reached Anne's soul.

"You are very kind to me," she said, faintly.

"I think it out. I will see whether I can think of anything better; but you must give me time," he said. "I will let you know tomorrow. Perhaps you would like to go to your room now; the waiter might be coming up with the dinner."

Anne complied, thankful to be alone, and sent word by the maid that she did not want any dinner, so that the bridegroom dined alone under the watchful eyes of the waiter, who formed his own conclusions on the situation.

Anne was lying on her bed, worn out with the emotions of the day, when, about 9 o'clock, she heard a rap at the door, and her husband's voice asking if he might speak to her.

She got up and went to him, looking at him with eyes full of apprehension.

"I am going out for a stroll and smoke, and I thought I would just come to see how you were."

"Oh, I am better, thank you," said Anne, quickly.

He paused, looking at her with an expression she could not interpret. Stoutness, a bald head, and a florid complexion cut one off from much comprehension by one's frowns.

"Well, good night, then," he said, awkwardly.

"Good night," said Anne. He held out his hand and she laid hers in it. He could feel the nervous twitch in the slender fingers.

"I am going to think it over, you know. Good night," he said, once more, and turned away.

He lighted a cigar, and strolling along the shore, proceeded to think it over.

What conclusions he came to can never be certainly known, but the next day the following paragraph appeared in the evening paper:

"Fatal accident to a bridegroom. A most lamentable occurrence took place at Marquette last night. Richard Thompson, senior partner in the well known firm of Thompson, Goodrich & Co., and who had just started on his wedding trip, was washed ashore a few hours after he had left his hotel. His body was discovered by some fishermen, and was easily identified by the papers in his pockets."

It was nearly a year later before his bride-widow married Charlie Dacre. His voice and looks, when he had bidden her farewell at the door of her room, haunted her. It was absurd to suppose that a well-to-do mercenary could carry love to such a height as to lay down his life to make a woman who did not love him happy, and yet—no! she dared not let herself believe it. Such a love would have demanded a life-long fidelity to its mere memory.

So she married the man she loved, with whom she was happy enough; but the memory of her brief honeymoon never quite faded from her mind.—Fall Mall Gazette.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—That by a decree of the Circuit Court for the County of Marquette in chancery, the corporation known as the Iron Mountain Mining Company has been dissolved, and I have been appointed a Receiver of the assets of said corporation for distribution, according to the statutes of Michigan in such case made and provided. That the debts have been fully paid and the corporate interests have been closed, and the assets that have come into my hands as such Receiver are now ready for distribution to the original stockholders, their heirs or assigns, as their interest shall appear. It is to notify all who claim interests under and through the present stockholders of record that they must notify me within thirty days from and after this date of the interest which they claim, and through whom, as I shall at the expiration of said time distribute the said assets to the stockholders as they appear of record on the books of the company.

MORE MINING SQUABBLES. 'T WAS A HUGE SUCCESS.

SUITS ARE FILED INVOLVING THE BELT CONSOLIDATED AND THE EAGLE HARBOR PROPERTY

It is reported that a lis pendens has been filed at Ontonagon by R. C. Flannigan of Norway as attorney for certain parties in matters pertaining to the Belt Consolidated, and that in consequence matters regarding the floating of a portion of the lands of the Belt under a new name are at a standstill. It is not known in Houghton whether the action thus commenced is another Weatherby-Henwood affair, similar to that which tied up the Pawnee recently and also the Eagle Harbor property, or whether it results from the recent foreclosure and sheriff's sale of the Belt property. It is understood, however, that Marquette parties are interested in the litigation.

CLAIMS PRIOR OPTION. It is learned that the sudden cessation of work on the Eagle Harbor property, in Keweenaw county, is due to the commencement of an action by Tim Nester and other Munising parties against the present holders of the option—F. H. Beagle of Marquette and Paine, Webber & Co. of Boston—on lines resembling those in the Weatherby-Henwood case, Nester claiming that the property belongs to him under a prior option.

NO SIGNS OF A BREAK. James R. Dee, who has just returned from Boston, states that there are no signs there of a break in copper shares, nor does he see how there can be with the metal at its present price. The feeling is that stocks are good for present prices or better, for this year at least, and the brokerage houses which have deluded their customers into pulling out of the market in order to avoid the crash which they insisted was due to the now suffering the odium natural under the circumstances when the customers' lands' being capitalized at high figures vance in value.

NOT WELL POSTED. The firm of Boston brokers which has had much to say of late about "farm lands" being capitalized at high figures in new copper companies in this vicinity will before long be reduced to the necessity of turning its attention to farm lands in very truth, if it persists in its present course. Lake people know the value of the new propositions as well as anyone can, and they have yet to learn of an instance where the property included in a new proposition was not located on the range and did not contain copper-bearing lodes with a fair and honest chance of becoming a producing mine; they naturally resent the advice, somewhat freely bestowed from the source in question, to sell out and stay out.

A GOOD CITIZEN GONE. SUDDEN DEMISE OF SAMUEL GILLESPIE OF WEST HANCOCK.

Samuel Gillespie, for over twenty years an employe of the Detroit & Lake Superior Smelting works, died at his home in West Hancock at 8 o'clock yesterday morning of congestion of the brain, having been sick only since Friday last. He leaves his wife, two sons—Mrs. O. D. Bentley of Chassell—to mourn his loss. Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Hancock lodge of Masons, of the Hancock chapter, R. A. M., and of Montrose commandery, Knights Templar, of Calumet, and he will be buried under Masonic auspices in the old cemetery, the time for the funeral not having been decided upon at this writing.

Mr. Gillespie was a man thoroughly respected by all who knew him; in all his long years of residence in Hancock no appeal of help in times of sickness or bereavement was ever neglected by him, and his neighbors one and all unite in expressing their grief at his sudden demise, as "no better neighbor ever lived." He was sixty-three years of age at the time of his death.

CALL FOR RAILROAD TIES: NEW COPPER RANGE LINE WANTS ABOUT 137,500 OF THEM.

The Copper Range Railroad company yesterday issued a call for ties, to be delivered upon the company's right-of-way at points to be designated by the chief engineer, not later than July 1 next. All ties are to be of hemlock, tamarack or cedar, eight feet long and seven inches thick, with a face not less than 8 nor more than 12 inches wide. All ties not filling the specifications will be regarded as culls, the company paying 20 cents each for accepted ties and 10 cents for cull ties, all ties delivered to be inspected monthly beginning April 1, payments for the same to be made within thirty days after inspection. Figured at 2,500 ties to the mile, the new road will require fully 137,500 ties under this call.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING.

The Houghton county board of supervisors met at the court house yesterday morning, those present being John Duncan, chairman, and Supervisors W. E. Farnall, George W. Orr, Chris. Fox, S. B. Harris, W. S. Prickett, Z. W. Wright and A. D. Edwards. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and the large number of bills included in the report of the auditing committee were ordered paid.

The bond of Casper Brand of Houghton, as coroner, was accepted, and the committee on public buildings and lands was authorized to select a competent man to search the records and see what lands the county owns; the committee was ordered to investigate the matter thoroughly and report to the board, which then adjourned to meet on Tuesday, March 14.

WINE OF CARDUI. Woman's Crowning Virtue. Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

 Miss Minnie Sullivan, whose pleasing concert was noted in the Isaping columns of The Mining Journal yesterday, will be present at the Masonic social Friday evening and will render two selections. Miss Sullivan is a soprano who is reputed to be of much artistic skill and ability.
 The ladies of the auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers gave the brotherhood a surprise last evening at the residence of Albert Ellstrom on North Fourth street. The evening was spent in card playing. James Charlesworth and Mrs. McCarthy won the first prizes. The booby prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Poland.
 J. Sharland, of North Third street, was agreeably surprised Monday evening by about forty of his friends who pounced upon him unawares, the occasion being his forty-third birthday. The evening was very agreeably spent in card playing and other amusements, and an elaborate lunch was served at midnight. The assemblage broke up about 2 a. m. Mr. Sharland was the recipient of several elegant gifts, testimonials of the esteem in which he is held by his friends.

WILL PUBLISH THE REPORT. THE FIREMEN WILL PRESERVE THE RECORD OF THEIR WORK DURING THE PAST YEAR. CHIEF MENNIE AND SECRETARY PEARCE OF THE LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORTED ON THE OPERATIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1898 AT THE LAST MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL. THE REPORT WAS QUITE LENGTHY AND INCLUDED A DETAILED REPORT OF EVERYTHING PERTAINING TO THE VARIOUS COMPANIES. IT HAS BEEN SINCE DECIDED BY THE FIREMEN TO HAVE THE REPORT PUBLISHED IN PAMPHLET FORM AND IT IS NOW IN THE HANDS OF THE PRINTER. IT WILL SOON BE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION.

The record of this city for 1898 was a very clean one as far as fires go. During the whole year the department responded to twenty-seven alarms, which necessitated trips amounting to about twelve miles to answer the alarms. The firemen laid 18,950 feet of hose at the various fires and worked in all about eleven and a half hours. In addition, the chief engineer and eight men worked for eight hours with a fire engine and 1,000 feet of hose at a fire in a swamp west of the Cliffs Shafts mine on the fourth of September. The total loss resulting from the various fires was $4,509.95 and the insurance on the structures involved was $3,081.95. The expenditures in behalf of the department for the year amounted to $5,237.25, from which should be deducted $39.58 hire for an extra team of horses, leaving the net cost of the fire protection that the city enjoyed last year $4,537.77. The first fatality that ever resulted from a fire in this city occurred during the past year, when Richard Vincent received burns in the fire in his photograph gallery which caused his death. The record made in 1898 was exceptional for a city of the size of Ishpeming. There was not a single fire of any material importance, and most of the alarms were turned in for very slight blazes. The city was singularly fortunate in this respect during the year. Chief Mennie in his recommendations to the council urged the purchase of new hose for the department and the necessity of providing it with new quarters. "The present headquarters," he says, "originally built and designed for the requirements of a small village, have yearly become more and more inconvenient and are now entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the department."

One of the most pleasing selections on the program was a rendition of Morning's "Legends" by a quartet composed of Misses Sullivan, Paige, Porterfield and Bettison. The selection is in itself a beautiful thing and the interpretation given it by the ladies has never been excelled here. It was sung a short time ago here by a male quartet, whose authority it was in the hands of professionals it was not given with any better effect than it was Monday evening. The ladies' voices harmonized beautifully and the number was the hit of the evening. Each lady composing the quartet added to the successful production of the selection, but Misses Porterfield and Bettison are deserving of special credit. A Ben LaLonde sang a coon song with a banjo accompaniment in a style that captured his auditors, and he was compelled to respond to an enthusiastic encore. Mr. Johnson and Miss Sullivan sang "On Mossy Banks" most effectively, and Miss Sullivan finished the program with a rendition of "Tell Me Not," by Crucifix, which received the heartiest encore of the evening. She responded with "Shawus O'Brien."

Every number on the program was produced in a highly creditable manner, and those in attendance had only words of satisfaction and praise for the efforts of the various singers. The concert was an artistic and a financial success and those who assisted in giving it are much pleased with the result. As soon as the last number had been sung the floor was cleared of chairs and the Twin City orchestra struck up stirring dance music. A large number of people stayed to the dance and the fun was kept up until about 1:30. The ladies of the Episcopal Sunday school served a light luncheon at moderate price to all who wished to refresh themselves and the evening was passed most pleasantly until the party finally broke up.

CLARA THROPP. All who miss seeing the famous comedienne who will present Ibsen's masterpiece, "A Doll's House," at the Ishpeming Opera House next Friday evening will miss the theatrical event of the present season. Miss Thropp has received flattering press notices all over the country and the play is one of the classics of the American stage. The great success of Richard Mansfield in "Cyrano de Bergerac" and Miss Clara Thropp in "A Doll's House" has caused a half score of persons to spring up and claim the authorship of those remarkable plays. The latest claim is that Henrik Ibsen had a predecessor in the use of the theme of Nora, so wonderfully depicted by Miss Thropp. In 1872 a play called "The Actress" was produced in Stockholm. It is claimed that the author handled the questions that arose between man and wife just as Ibsen does in "A Doll's House."

WORK HAS STARTED. The improvements that have been instituted at Kahn & Skud's store with a view to providing a department for the line of dry goods to be carried in the future are now well under way. The wall between the main stores and the store fronting on Pearl street has been broken and an arched doorway will connect the two rooms when the work is finished. A force of men is employed in laying a hardwood floor in the Pearl street store, which will answer for the shoe department, and the work is nearly finished. The south store has not been touched yet but the work there will be begun soon.

The firm has decided on a manager for the new department and Mr. Charles G. Senecal of Marquette has been engaged to take full charge of it. Mr. Senecal is a specialist in that line and a very successful manager. At present he has charge of the Emporium at Marquette, and has been at different times with the best Marquette merchants. He is a hustler and will run the new department in a first class shape. Kahn & Skud are also preparing to put a dry goods department into their Bessemer store and Mr. Kahn has spent the past week at Bessemer making arrangements for the change. Mr. N. E. Skud left yesterday for New York, where he will purchase stocks for the departments of both stores. The firm enjoys a material advantage in buying in such large quantities.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF. J. L. Lipsett of the Soo was in the city Saturday. Alexander Richardson of Menominee was here yesterday. The funeral of the late Patrick Small will be held this morning from St. John's church at 9 o'clock. The funeral of Thomas Johns was held afternoon. He was a Forester and that society attended in a body. Dr. Conley returned yesterday from Champion, where he spent a couple of days on professional business. Harvey Nelson returned yesterday from Ironwood, where he had been attending to business for a few days. L. W. Atkins and company are advertising a special sale of winter overcoats. A 25 per cent. discount is offered on all the winter goods in stock.

H. P. Adolph is at present employed in filling the Nelson House ice houses with the usual supply of ice. It is of a fine quality this year and is unusually thick. The greater part of the supply is now in. Ten degrees below zero was registered at the Nelson House yesterday. Monday's promise of warmer weather did not turn out very well and yesterday was one of the rawest days experienced here in some time. A race, open to all skaters in the county, will be held at the Bancroft rink this evening. A few entries have been received and the event promises to be interesting. A gold medal has been provided to reward the winner. P. J. McGinty has been attending to the business at the recorder's office for the last two days while Recorder Small has been engrossed with matters requiring attention growing out of his father's death. At Grace church today, being Ash Wednesday, there will be a celebration of the holy communion and sermon at 10:30 a. m., and litany, penitential office and address at 4:15 p. m. During the remainder of the week, litany and address at 4:15 p. m. A degree team of Maccabees will come up from Marquette this evening for the purpose of exemplifying the new ritual to the members of the local tent. The meeting will be held in Anderson's Hall. About forty visitors are expected. They will be entertained by the members of the local tent while in the city.

The funeral of Mrs. William Lucas will be held from the Episcopal church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Lucas is survived by her husband and eight children. A ninth child is dead. Of the children Robert L. Lucas, Mrs. Thomas McKee and Mrs. W. H. Wright will not be able to attend the funeral on account of the distance of their homes. Mrs. Alex Harrison of Marquette will be present. Today is Ash Wednesday, and it marks the commencement of the season of fasting and abstinence from the more lively social amusements. The social world here has been quite busy during the last few weeks and the rest will be a welcome change. Special services will be held today at the Catholic and Episcopal churches of the city, and the whole Lenten season will be liberally sprinkled with special services. The delivery sleigh belonging to the Columbian Furniture company, which was wrecked in the runaway Monday afternoon, is now at August Jacob's shop awaiting repairs. It was badly damaged and will have to be all but rebuilt. The cutter with which the sleigh collided will also be repaired in the same shop.

Infants are effected by foods taken by the nursing mother. Prof. W. B. Cheadle, of St. Mary's Hospital and author of a treatise on the feeding of infants, has shown by experiments that wasting diseases, will result from depriving children of fats and hypophosphites. Dr. Thompson says Cod-liver oil is what such mothers and infants require. "Scott's Emulsion" is pure Norwegian Cod-liver oil with hypophosphites.

CHANCE TO SPECULATE.

Bulls and Bears Got at It Again Yesterday After a Three Days Vacation.

LITTLE DOING IN BOSTON ON ACCOUNT OF THE STORM.

Early Quotations Were Incomplete but the Majority of the Coppers Were Stronger—Nothing on the Curb Stocks.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE WHEAT PIT.

Things looked natural around the brokers' offices yesterday for the quotations were coming in again for the first time in three days, and the range of prices was slightly higher than when the market closed last Friday night.

The quotations, particularly the early ones, were by no means complete yesterday, due the brokers said, to the big storm which was raging in Boston. A number of the curb stocks were not quoted at all during the day.

It was told around yesterday that the large number of local holders of Mass will receive their certificates some time this week. If the certificates do come this week it will be an instance of unusually quick work in listing a stock as the allotments in Mass were not made till Dec. 20. If Michigan is listed with the same celerity its certificates will be along shortly. Nothing has, however, been heard regarding the date of the arrival of the Michigan certificates.

The Copper Range railroad stock showed up strong yesterday. At 3 o'clock Paine, Webber & Co. reported a sale at 60, which is an advance of thirty points over the subscription price. According to reports there were some in Marquette who had the stock allotted to them who refused to take it up. They are now possessed of a splendid opportunity to chide themselves for their short sightedness.

Out of ten stocks which fluctuated a dollar or more on the day's trading eight made considerable advances, while the two which did drop fell only slightly when their size is considered. These stocks with their fluctuations between Friday's and Tuesday's close are:

Adventure, up 1/4 to 14%; Arcadian, up 2 to 75; Baltic, down 1 to 33; Boston & Montana, up 2 to 350; Butte & Boston, up 2 1/2 to 88; Calumet & Hecla, down 5 to 780; Osceola, up 1 1/2 to 99; Tamarack, up 10 to 24; Tecumseh, up 1 1/2 to 9%; Isle Royal, up 2 1/2 to 55A.

The brokers did not, agree as to the course of the metal market. A. B. Turner & Bro. received a telegram during the forenoon which read, "Copper off sixteen and three," but Hayden, Stone & Co. reported it as opening and closing at seventy-four pounds, ten, which is a gain of exactly a pound since Friday.

Gossip was scarce yesterday, the only bulletin being received by A. B. Turner & Bro. That read: "Miners 42 to 43. Coppers very quiet. Little trading on account of the tremendous storm. Rhode Island, 11 1/2 to 12; Victoria, no market."

The action of wheat yesterday was erratic. It gave opportunity for scalping, but afforded no chance to those who look for good profits before closing their deals. It touched the high point of 74 then dropped in the last end of the day to 72 1/2.

WHAT TO DO.

Relatives of Dead Soldiers to Be Returned from Cuba Instructed.

Some weeks ago when the legislature first convened a joint resolution was put through authorizing the sending to Cuba of a Michigan representative who should assist the United States officials engaged in the work of exhuming the bodies of the dead United States soldiers and act as an intermediary between these officers and the families of the Michigan dead.

The representative is now in Cuba with the government expedition, which has as Michigan members besides himself two men, one each detailed from the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth regiments. This renders inoperative certain sections of the following sheet of information to the relatives of dead soldiers, which has been promulgated by Governor Pinglee. Other sections are still in operation and are of importance, notably Section 4. To give this information to the relatives of the dead soldiers of the upper peninsula companies the governor's bulletin is herewith published:

"In all cases, correspond direct with Charles E. Kiplinger, Michigan's representative, who will reply to all inquiries. All information should be sent to him at once, as it is probable that the work will be commenced in Cuba during the first part of February.

"Address all communications to Chas. E. Kiplinger, care Executive Office, Lansing, Michigan, and they will be forwarded to him, wherever he may be.

"The information which Mr. Kiplinger should have is as follows:

1. Name of deceased soldier in full.
2. Company and regiment to which he belonged, specifying whether volunteer or regular.
3. Place where body is buried, describing it as completely as possible. Send maps of the country, giving roads, trails and every detail, no matter how trifling, which will assist in locating the grave. Indicate how grave is marked.
4. Cause of death, giving name of disease, if any.
5. Height of soldier and color of his hair.
6. Indicate to whom and to what place, village, town or city and county to which body should be shipped. Write this information very distinctly.
7. Any other information of any kind which may enable Michigan's representative to perform his duty.

"Address inquiries as to the scope of the work, and which need immediate reply to H. S. Pinglee, Governor, Lansing, Mich."

SIX WEEKS MORE.

Loggers Will Be Out of the Woods by the Last of March.

Work in the woods is nearing its end at the different lumbering camps in this vicinity, and in six weeks more at the outside, it is thought the last of the loggers will be ready to break camp. This will bring the date of their suspension of operations to a time when the spring

STORIES OF THE STREET.

Marquette People Are Talking About It On Every Corner.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long, they are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled, another skeptic is made. Skepticism is allowable when reading in a home newspaper about some incident occurring in San Francisco or Maine, but the circumstances are entirely different when it refers to someone right here at home, friends and neighbors, people you know, whom you can see, and with whom you talk it over. This is the kind of evidence at the back of Doan's Kidney Pills—home statements by home people, and the astonishing local work they have been doing has caused more talk among our citizens than the doings of any other modern wonder. Read the following:

Mr. Chas. Parr, of 118 E. Jackson street, foreman on Pickands' coal docks, says: "I can very highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone troubled with kidney disorder or pains in the back and loins. I was bothered a good deal for a long time with backache, often very severe. In looking after and keeping my hoists in working order, I often have to do a great deal of climbing on the derricks, and I must have strained myself. I let it go for a time, thinking it would wear off, but instead it became more persistent. I then began to look for some remedy to give me relief and seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I procured a box at the Stafford Drug Co., and began using them. I had taken but a few doses when I felt the pains were leaving me. Since I finished the treatment I have had no indications of a return of the trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

breakup is imminent. Some of them will be ready to quit before that and in a very few weeks the lumberjacks will begin to come into town.

The season, so far as the weather is concerned, has been a favorable one for the loggers. There was very little snow till right at the time to begin hauling, then when it was needed it came in large quantities. The recent long continued cold spell has enabled all the operators to build good ice roads which will last quite a time after the snow begins to go off, and will enable them to get their full cut out of the woods.

MARQUETTE MINNETTES.

Everybody who makes money by taking a chance, whether it be on horse races or the stock market, has a system. "I believe the proper way to play the coppers," remarked a speculator yesterday, "is to do as I heard an old poker player say was the way to play poker. 'Cut your losses short,' he says, 'and let your winnings run.'"

In the stormy time last fall, along near the end of the season of navigation, a little Miss, who with her parents boards in a house on the hill, and whose papa has a deep, rich, sonorous bass voice, came down stairs while her father was seated at the piano looking over a new song.

The child did not notice him. As he scanned the song over whenever he came to the lower double B he would softly sound the note with his voice. "Ch. there, I hear the fog horn," cried the little Miss to the boarding house keeper, who was standing near the foot of the stairs.

"No, dear, that's not the fog horn," she replied. Just then the double B sounded again. "Why, yes, it is the fog horn," insisted the child. "Didn't you hear it then?" "No, dear," said the lady again. "That's your papa at the piano." The child's face as she turned and encountered the gaze of her father presented a comical appearance as may be imagined.

Years ago in Merrie England good old St. Valentine Linked himself with Cupid to comfort hearts that pine.

In England where in February buds begin to ope And with their fragrance scent the air of every country slope. There with spring life all awakening the countless longing hearts Were skewered by cunning Cupid with his fatal little darts, For the arrows that he shot with they never missed their aim But to the parish rector the skewered hearts all came.

Had St. Valentine and Cupid lived along Superior's shore They shovled the mating holiday in February o'er And put the date in May or June, or maybe in July, When buds were really opening and the blizzards blown by. For what a sight 'twould be to see St. Valentine in furs On February fourteen as the winter girl wears hers! And Cupid, little Cupid, in his "altogether" dress The little rascal 'd freeze to death these zero days, I guess.

INVITED IN VERSE.

Baptist Ladies Send Rhymed Invitations to Their Measuring Party.

A number of people received yesterday little bags containing the rhymed announcement of the measuring party which will be held in the parlors of the Baptist church this evening. The verse, which is as follows, explains the nature of the affair: "A measuring party is given to you; 'Tis something novel as well as new, The invitation is in the sack, For use in bringing or sending back. Three cents for every foot your tail, Measure yourself on door or wall; An extra cent for each inch give, And show thereby how high you live. With music and song, recitation and pleasure, We will meet one and all at our party of measure."

All those who received the verse and the little silk bag which contained it are supposed to measure themselves and pay a tax according to their size.

Notice—Life insurance companies will reduce the rate 33 per cent. to all who will take Rocky Mountain Tea. A wise measure. Stafford Drug company.

SEASON OF SELF DENIAL.

Lent Begins Today and Lasts Forty Days Till Easter Sunday the 26th of March.

SPECIAL LENTEN SERVICES HELD IN BOTH CATHEDRALS.

Bishop Vertin Promulgates His Rules for the Government of Catholics in Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette.

LENTEN PROGRAM AT THE ST. PAULS.

Today begins Lent, the forty days of fasting and self denial, which are observed the world over by Christian people who adhere to the Catholic and Episcopal faiths. Lent always terminates Easter Sunday, which this year falls on March 26. During the period there will be special services in both the Marquette cathedrals.

Bishop Vertin has promulgated the following Lenten regulations to govern the Catholics in the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette:

1. All the days of Lent, Sundays excepted, are fast-days of obligation, on which but one full meal is allowed.
2. The use of flesh-meats is allowed, by apostolic dispensation, at the principal meal only, on all days except Wednesdays and Fridays, and also Saturday of ember-week, and of holy week. (Those who are exempt from fasting may more than once partake of flesh-meat on days not enjoining abstinence.)
3. The use of eggs, butter, milk and cheese is by custom allowed throughout Lent, and also the use of lard instead of butter for cooking.
4. Fish and flesh-meats are not permitted at the same meal.
5. A collation or repast may be taken in the evening, but it ought not to exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal; and a cup of coffee or tea, with a little milk and a small slice of bread, may be taken in the morning by those who need it.

Besides Lent, there are, during the year, the following days of fast and abstinence: "1. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of every ember-week. "2. The vigils of pentecost, of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin, of all saints, and of Christmas; likewise the Fridays in advent; fast and abstinence is recommended on the Saturday during the octave of St. Peter and St. Paul App., or on the Saturday before the feast, if it falls on a Sunday. "3. All Fridays during the year are days of abstinence from flesh-meats; on Saturdays the use of flesh-meats is allowed again for this year, by apostolic dispensation, except in case a fast day falls on Saturday.

"All must consider themselves as strictly bound to this fast; those only are exempt from fasting (though not from abstinence) who are under the age of twenty-one, or above sixty years, and such persons as are sick, infirm, convalescent, or otherwise of a delicate constitution, nursing, or by hard labor. Such as are seriously sick are also exempt from abstinence. Those who entertain any reasonable doubt about their obligation to fast or to abstain, ought to have recourse to their respective pastors for advice or dispensation, whom we empower herewith.

"By virtue of special faculties granted by the holy see, we also dispense from the law of abstinence all those that perform physical hard labor, and we permit them the use of flesh-meats once during the day on all days, with the exception of the Fridays during the entire year, Ash Wednesday, the vigil of Christmas, and those of the holy week on which the other faithful are not dispensed. This dispensation is to be so understood that at the common meal the whole family may avail itself of the dispensation. However, it is never allowed to eat fish and flesh-meats at the same meal.

"Moreover, the faithful ought to perform some other works of penance, e. g., abstain from intoxicating drinks on the days on which they make use of this fast dispensation. Likewise, all that eat flesh-meats on the Saturday during the year are counseled to do other good works, e. g., give alms or say some prayers for the grace of that dispensation."

Lenten services at St. Paul's will be as follows: Today, Ash Wednesday, holy communion at 8 a. m.; morning prayer, penitential office and sermon at 10:30; evening service at 8 o'clock. Services every day at 12:05 p. m., with address; services every day, Wednesday and Friday excepted, at 4 p. m., with instruction; services Wednesday and Friday at 8 p. m., with lecture, and Thursdays at 8 a. m., with holy communion.

All week day services will be held in the chapel and the Sunday services also in the chapel. The church services are completed. It is hoped, however, to have the church ready for next Sunday. Confirmation classes will meet on Monday afternoons and Friday evenings.

MINING LANDS SOLD.

Rees Sells Interest in Lucky Star Property to Mrs. Mary Kaufman.

One of the largest transactions which has shown up in the county register's office lately is that of an undivided quarter interest in what is known as the Lucky Star mining property at Negaunee.

The transfer is made by W. D. Reer and wife of Cleveland, O., to Mrs. Mary Kaufman of this city. The property of which the undivided interest is sold is a little over ninety-one acres. The deed bears $55 in revenue stamps.

THE MODERN WAY commends itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches, and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. Made by California Fig Syrup Co.
