ACTIVITY WITH THE PRETENDERS ACROSS THE BORDER.

Nothing Likely to Spring from This Source, However, Beyond Manifestos—Loubet in the Lead for the Presidency, With Meline a Close Second.

DEATH A NATIONAL MISFORTUNE.

[Mrs. Crawford on the French situation, Copyrighted, 1899, by Associated Press.] Paris, Feb. 17.—Everything is very quiet in Paris tonight. There is no danger of a coup d'etat. The favorite candidate for the presidency is Emile Loubet, now president of the senate. Still the ministers whom I saw today think M. Faure's death is a misfortune at the present juncture, and this is the conventional talk. They had all looked forward to his having soon to resign, and they spoke today of the possible effect of his death on the courts of Europe.

If M. Loubet be elected, the European sovereigns would soon transfer to him their friendly regards. He is a good, unaffected, level-headed man of honest, open life and of far more intellectual culture than was poor Faure. He is an advocate and practiced at Mantolbar, in the Department of Rouen. As a precaution against a coup d'etat or any attempts of the sort, the troops have been ordered to keep within the barracks in all the garrisons.

BODY LIES IN STATE.

M. Faure's body is now embalmed and is lying in state in the Salles des Fetes, or the hall of festivities of the theatre, built by President Carnot for concerts and dramatic entertainments. The body is dressed in an evening coat and the immaculate well-known white waistcoat, athwart of which is the broad red ribbon of the Legion of Honor. The eyes are closed and fill out the eyelids. The hands, of the color of ivory, are crossed on the breast. A black canopy, bordered with silver braid, overshadows the couch. The army has been ordered to go into mourning until after the obsequies.

Mr. Lockroy, who was present at the death, thinks it was painless. Dr. Lanne-Longue shares in this opinion, but believes there was in the early stages of the apoplectic seizure agonizing pain. The doctor attributes the breakdown in the president's health to Fashoda, and thinks the consequent anxiety used up his energy. President Faure had fostered the scheme Major Marchand was sent to accomplish, and he was terrified at its possible consequences. Dr. Lanne-Longue tells me that after the Fashoda incident M. Faure lost his appetite. It was then he began to feel so limp in his legs that he feared to ride on horseback. Yesterday the sense of limppness was so distressing that he gave up the idea of a canter in the Bois de Boulogne.

HUMBLE PRIEST CALLED.

Abbe Renault, who gave M. Faure the absolution in extremis, is the humblest of the humble, being chaplain to the house of detention, or lock-up, at the prefecture of police. Yesterday he had dined with some relatives who have a small shop in Faubourg St. Honoré. After dinner he was going home, when suddenly a soldier on a bicycle came up, descended from the machine and caught him, with visible agitation, by the arm, saying, "Come with me." Father Renault went and only learned where he was going at the palace gate. There the soldier said: "The president is dying. Do what you can for him. He is not a bad chap."

At the door a porter met the abbe and conducted him to a sitting room. The president was lying on a mattress upon the floor. He was in a fannel shirt and was covered with draperies, his feet wrapped in a steaming flannel, his nostrils assailed with the mingled smells of mustard and ether and blood flowing from his temples, neck and forehead, for leeches, cupping, hypodermic injection and bleeding had been tried. The face was almost black from congestion.

MEDICAL AID FUTILE.

One doctor had drawn the tongue to keep the lungs alive; another held a bag of oxygen to his nose; another was rubbing his hands, but no sign of returning animation was given. Dr. Lanne-Longue said: "We have done all we can. Let religion console the family." The abbe dropped on his knees, all present doing likewise, and gave the absolution in extremis. He had no holy oil to administer the extreme unction. At the clock on the mantel struck 10, the doctor said, "All is over."

M. Faure's death has calmed, rather than excited the political parties. The situation is grave, and the people everywhere feel this.

MM. LIBOUT AND MELINE WOULD HOLD DOWN THE FRENCH PRESIDENT'S CHAIR.

Paris, Feb. 17.—Premier Dupuy has fixed the meeting of the national assembly, in which the senators and deputies unite in voting for the president of France, for tomorrow afternoon. M. Loubet, president of the senate and a former premier, has been unanimously nominated for the presidency by the Leftist senators, and he is considered to have the best chance of election. M. Dupuy has declined to enter the contest against M. Loubet. The latter gentleman is about sixty-one years of age, and began his political career in 1876. In 1892 he formed the ministry and became

A SUGGESTION TO THE G. A. R.

Boston, Feb. 17.—At 10:30 o'clock today President McKinley and the members of his party, escorted by the First battalion of cavalry, started from the Hotel Touraine for Tremont Temple, in which the G. A. R. encampment is being held.

The president and his associates were received with cheers by the old soldiers, and Mr. McKinley made a brief address, recalling the spirit with which they entered the War of the Rebellion and their loyalty and faithfulness to the Republic. He referred to the stirring scenes of the past year, which, he said, he was glad they had lived to see, and closed by suggesting that the Spanish war veterans be admitted to membership in the Grand Army of the Republic. The suggestion was received with cries of "Good" and applause. In response to calls, Secretaries Alger, Long, Gage and Smith spoke briefly, and the party then proceeded to the state capitol.

VISITS THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. McKinley was received by the legislature in joint session. The floor and galleries were crowded with state dignitaries and other prominent people. The president delivered a brief address, referring in terms of eulogy to the history of Massachusetts and the services of her statesmen to the Union. In closing, he said:

"I am sure that what those great men of the past have secured for us they would have us transmit, not only to our descendants, but to the opposed peoples whose interests and welfare by the fortunes of war are committed to us. We may regard the situation before us as a burden or as a duty. But whether one or the other, it is here and conscience and civilization require us to meet it bravely."

The applause that followed the remarks of the president continued for some minutes. The members of the joint convention were then introduced to Mr. McKinley, standing in front of the speaker's desk. After the members had resumed their seats, there were loud cries for Secretary Long, who gave a brief and humorous talk, and introduced Secretary Gage to the convention, which latter gentleman closed the speech-making.

TELLS OF PROSPERITY.

The party next proceeded to the Algonquin clubhouse, where the Commercial club were assembled. Here the president spoke, in part, as follows: "The past year has recorded a volume of business, domestic and foreign, unparalleled in any former similar period in the United States. Our enormous export trade has made the American balances satisfactory, and almost for the first time the money of the country has been so abundant and the wealth of the country so great that our capitalists have sought foreign investments. We are fast going from a debtor to a creditor nation. I hope nothing will check it. We have quit discussing the tariff and turned our attention to getting trade wherever it can be found. It will be a long time before any change can be had or any change desired in our present fiscal policy, except to strengthen it. The differences on this question which have existed have disappeared. We have turned from academic theories to trade-conditions and are seeking our share of the world's markets. "Not only is our business good, but our money is good. There is no longer any fear of a debased currency; it has been happily dispelled. The highest and best standard recognized by the leading commercial nations has been maintained, and it has been done without resort to loans. The cause of sound money has advanced in the last two years. Honest finance has made positive gains, and I do not think we quite appreciate yet the full measure of its success."

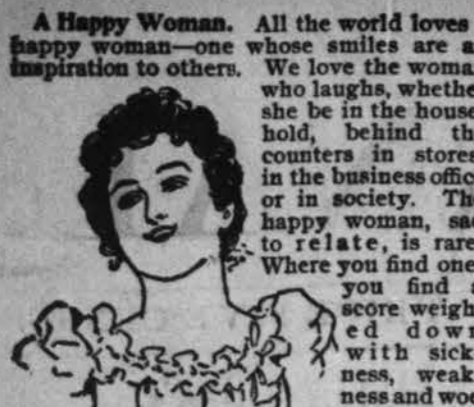

TRADE STEADILY GROWING.

"We have been engaged in war. Two hundred and seventy thousand of our citizens have been in the field and our sailors have been afloat in two hemispheres, and yet the business of the country has been steadily growing. Our resources are multiplying, the energy of our people is quickened, and at the end of our glorious land and naval triumphs we have found our country in a condition of almost unparalleled activity and prosperity. "Our domestic situation is fortunate, indeed, considering the questions which we must meet and solve. That they will be settled on lines of right and duty, I cannot doubt, and that the business men of Boston and the whole country have been an active, helpful force in their rightful solution, I confidently believe." The presidential party left for Washington on their special train at 5:10.

BARON BANFFY GIVES UP.

CABINET OF HUNGARY HAS DECIDED TO RESIGN.

Buda Pest, Feb. 17.—At a meeting of the Liberal party today, Baron Banffy, prime minister of Hungary, announced the failure of his negotiations for a compromise with the obstructionist opposition and stated that the cabinet had, therefore, decided to resign.

A Happy Woman. All the world loves a happy woman—one whose smiles are an inspiration to others. We love the woman who laughs, whether she be in the household, behind the counters in stores, in the business office or in society. The happy woman, sad to relate, is rare. Where you find one, you find a score weighed down with sickness, weakness and woe that proceed from "female troubles." And yet there ought to be and can be a score of happy women to one who is unhappy. Those women whose lives are saddened by the drains upon the system, by prostration, by irregularities, by headache, nervousness and bearing-down pains, can be restored to happiness and health by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine that is beyond question the best in the world for disorders of the womanly organs. Every ailment that besets the girl, the bride and the mother, between puberty and the "turn of life," is cured by it. It keeps the prospective mother in a happy frame of mind, and her good spirits are sure to be inherited by the little one when it comes.

The medicine dealer who urges some substitute for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is thinking of the larger profit he'll make and not of your best good. Mrs. Orrin Stiles, of Downing, Dunn Co., Wis., writes: "I have been intending to write to you ever since my baby was born in regard to what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for me. I cannot praise it enough, for I have not been as well for five years as I now am. In July last I had a baby boy, weight 11 pounds, and I was sick a short time, and since I got up have not had one sick day. I have not had any womb trouble since I got up. I was not only surprised myself but all of my friends here are surprised to see me so well."

For 21 one-cent stamps to pay postage, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., will send you his famous 1008 page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that is easily worth $5 to any family. Clothing 31 stamps.

ATKINSON BILL DONE FOR.

It is reported from Lansing that the Pingree push in the legislature has given up all hope of securing the passage of the Atkinson railroad taxation bill at this session. The governor arrived at Lansing from New York, where he had been for several days, Thursday, and is quoted by the Detroit News as follows in relation to the outlook for the measure: "Well, I observe it is the same old story here. There is nothing new about the reference of the Atkinson bill to the joint committee. That's all in line with the election of Adams, and the appointment of the house committees. The people will be heard from in the next election, and the Republican party will be the sufferer. All this slugging of the Atkinson bill is nuts for any party except the g. o. p., and my honest regret is that the Republican majority in the two houses is so large, for the party will have to stand the entire penalty of its action."

As a matter of fact, the fate of the Atkinson bill was settled in advance when the anti-Pingree forces obtained control of the assembly at the opening of the session. They had control of the senate to start with, but if the Pingree people had organized the house they might have been able to force some compromise. Losing the organization of the house was fatal to their cause, and left the opponents of the Atkinson bill free to work their will on it with impunity. Predictions of disaster to the party unless the bill is passed will have no effect on its leaders in the legislature. They are more anxious to thwart the governor than solicitous for the future welfare of the party. Besides, quite an interval must elapse before another legislature will be chosen, and the people have short memories. It would, perhaps, be better all around if the governor would cease endeavoring to force the legislature to do things it is manifestly disinclined to do, and seek a basis of agreement with the majority controlling it for the enactment of such legislation as the needs of the state call for, leaving it to the people to choose a legislature committed to railroad taxation on the lines of the Atkinson bill some time in the future—when they have fully decided that they really want such legislation.

A flurry in the iron trade is reported, caused by an apprehension of a scarcity of material, according to the Iron Age. This may seem absurd, but what has happened in copper may well happen in iron in consequence of the immensely increased consumption coming as a result of the greater activity in all lines of business. When copper began to approach 13 cents some months ago persons in a position to know all about the market stated that the red metal was sure to advance sharply because demand was growing and stocks were diminishing steadily, but the over-wise ones scouted at the idea of such a thing and claimed there was no danger of consumption out-running production in copper. Yet that very thing happened, and now instead of 13 cent copper we have buyers offering 15 only to have the bid refused. It would not surprise us in the least to see iron take an upward shoot during the year that would upset the calculations of those manufacturers of iron and steel who are endeavoring to hold prices at a point that will enable us to retain the grasp we have gained on the market abroad. But if the consumption at home takes all that we can produce what do we care for the foreign market? As a matter of fact, there was better pay for labor and larger profit for capital in the iron business when not a pound of American iron was sold abroad.

"ESSENTIALLY VICIOUS."

The Engineering and Mining Journal has this comment on the proposed return to the old plan of specific taxation of copper mining properties in this state: "The Michigan legislature has before it several propositions for the additional taxation of copper mining companies, and at least one of these is understood to have the backing of Governor Pingree. The motive for taking up this subject at the present time is doubtless found in the high prices at which copper stocks are selling in the east, and the popular impression of fabulous profits made by those companies. One proposition is to impose a tax on capital stock, based on the selling price of each stock, and not on the par value. Another plan proposed is to levy a tax of one cent a pound on all copper mined in the state. Both these plans are essentially vicious. The copper companies should, of course, pay their fair share of taxation on the valuation of their properties, which should be determined in the same way as that of all other property, but special taxes on industry of any kind are wrong, both in principle and policy, and in the end are sure to be injurious to the state.

This, concerning ore sales, from the Iron Trade Review of Cleveland of Thursday, has a reassuring tone that will please operators of iron mines in the Lake Superior iron region: "The chief feature of the Lake Superior ore market in this mid-February week is that there is no market. It will be substantially twelve months, something less, perhaps, before iron ore sales come to be again a matter of live interest to the trade. The search after non-Bessemer ores is still prosecuted by a few furnacemen who have underestimated the buying movement; and in some instances the question of the source of the next year's mixture has not been satisfactorily solved. In Bessemer ores the condition is not so completely shut up; but it is probable that difficulty would be experienced in getting a 50,000-ton lot. If the regime of alternating feast and famine were still on in the iron trade, there might be some expectation that furnacemen who have made liberal estimates of their requirements and bought accordingly would have ore to sell later in the year. Such re-sales have been known in years of bright early prospects that later had their reactions. If they should come this year they will not affect the ore trade, but only help out some furnacemen—and there are some—as have not yet provided for a year's run.

Representative McCallum of the Delta assembly district has roused the ire of the papers which are accustomed to be favored with tax lists for publication by introducing a bill to cut the price paid per description from 35 cents to 10. The bill would hit a number of loyal Republican organs in the state in a vital point, and it is safe to predict that Mr. McCallum will find it difficult to muster votes enough for it to even give it a respectable death. What would the party do without its organs, and what would the organs do without their tax lists!

Hardwood timber is in great demand at present and those who are fortunate enough to own any hardwood land are hanging onto it. The price per acre is going up rapidly. Mackinac county is well supplied, and, in fact, few districts have a finer body of hardwood than the upper peninsula.

Deputy Game Warden Leighton says in regard to proposed amendments of the law relative to killing deer, that he sees no need of them in Delta, Alger and Schoolcraft counties. During a recent trip he had not seen so many deer or signs of deer for ten years, and all the explorers and woodmen agree with him. From Hay Meadow creek to Long lake the country was tracked up like a sheepyard. There are no wolves, and but little hunting is being done. This winter will finish up about all of the lumbering about Hay Meadow creek, and in five years there will be a jungle that will give the deer all the extra protection needed.

A story is told the Escanaba Iron Port by one of his most intimate friends of how Mr. Underwood, until recently general manager of the Soo Line, came to number his car 999. Mr. Underwood occasionally enjoyed a game of poker with a party of acquaintances, and at one of these sittings there was a great bluffer in the game, which was a stiff one. As the story goes, Mr. Underwood had laid down for him several times, but had tired doing so and proposed to try his nerve. The bluffer raised before the draw, and Mr. Underwood stayed on a pair of nines. The other fellow drew two cards, and Mr. Underwood drew three cards, catching another nine, and although his hand was only a fairly good one, he raised the bluffer's every bet, and finally when called won something like $3,000 on his hand. That's why he numbered his car the three nines.

THE BROWN MAN'S BURDEN.

Labouchere's Truth publishes this clever parody on Kipling's latest popular poem, "The White Man's Burden": Pile on the brown man's burden, To gratify your greed; Go clear away the "niggers" Who progress would impede; Be very stern, for truly 'Tis useless to be mild With new-caught, sullen peoples, Half devil and half child.

Pile on the brown man's burden, And if ye rouse his hate, Meet his old-fashioned reasons With Maxims up to date, With shells and dumdum bullets A hundred times make plain The brown man's loss must ever imply the white man's gain.

Pile on the brown man's burden, Compel him to be free; Let all your manifestoes Reek with philanthropy, And if with heathen folly He dares your will dispute, Then in the name of freedom Don't hesitate to shoot.

Pile on the brown man's burden, And if his cry be sore, That surely need not irk you—Ye've driven slaves before, Seize on his ports and pastures, The fields his people tread; Go make from them your living, And mark them with his dead.

Pile on the brown man's burden, Nor do not deem it hard If you should earn the raucous Of those ye yearn to guard, The screaming of your eagle Will drown the victim's sob—Go on through fire and slaughter, There's dollars in the job.

Pile on the brown man's burden, And through the world proclaim That ye are freedom's agents—There's no more paying game! And should your own past history Straight in your teeth be thrown, Retort that independence Is good for whites alone.

Pile on the brown man's burden, With equity have done; Weak, antiquated scruples Their squeamish course have run, And though 'tis freedom's banner You're waving in the van, Reserve for home consumption The sacred "rights of man!"

And if by chance ye falter, Or lag along the course, If, as the blood flows freely, Ye feel some slight remorse, Hie ye to Rudyard Kipling, Imperialism's prop, And bid him, for your comfort, Turn on his jingo stop.

SALOON A SOCIAL NECESSITY.

Bishop Potter: "I may almost say that I regret these tonight with a retainer for the saloon. We may anathematize it, abuse it and deplore it, but it is a social necessity. I am sorry if I pain some of you when I say it, but the saloon exists in New York because you and I, redeemed by the same master, have given no better thing in its place. There is need of relaxation and diversion among the poorer classes of the city. It is as just and as righteous a want with them as are the diversions from which you and I have come tonight, or to which we shall go tomorrow. The man who defends the saloon on the plea that it is 'the poor man's club' speaks the truth. It is placed thickly along our streets because the men who cannot afford to pay $50 to belong to a club, as Mr. Choate and I do, are more numerous than the men who can.

"Who can wonder, in view of the hard and toilsome life, and often uncomfortable home, of the laboring man, if, after the day's work, he leaves his home, with its crying children and untidy wife, for this place, where he finds light and warmth and often music? Unless we realize these conditions, it is of no use to anathematize the saloon."

FREE PILLS.—Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25 cents per box. Sold by the Stafford Drug company.

For frost bites, burns, indolent sores, eczema, skin disease, and especially piles, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve stands first and best. Look out for dishonest people who try to imitate and counterfeit it. It's their endorsement of a good article. Worthless goods are not imitated. Get DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Stafford Drug Co.

AUGUST FLOWER—"It is a surprising fact," says Professor Houtor, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." SAMPLE BOTTLES FREE at Stafford's drug store. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

MINERAL LANDS CHANGE HANDS. IMPORTANT TRANSACTION IN SOUTH RANGE PROPERTY.

Information was received by wire at Houghton yesterday to the effect that R. R. Goodell had purchased the Hussey-Howe tract of land on the South range near the old highway. The property includes Sections 11 and 1 and 2, Township 52 north of Range 36 West; all of Section 6, Township 52, Range 35, except the northeast quarter and the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and also a couple of forties in Section 36, Township 53, Range 36.

J. H. Chandler, who has been in the copper country for the last few days on business connected with the proposed floating of the Phoenix and St. Clair properties as one mine, left yesterday afternoon on his way to Chicago. The Lake crowd having sold out most of their Old Dominion, that stock is now taking its turn in the upward-shoot business.

A CLOSE CALL. THOMAS DUNSTAN GETS IT FROM A FINLANDER'S FISH-KNIFE AT THE ATLANTIC MINE LOCATION. A Finlander named Matthew Kustola was brought in to Houghton from the Atlantic mine Thursday evening, charged with making an entirely unprovoked attack in the street there on Thomas Dunstan.

DOCKED FOR SLANDER. John B. Maurin was brought before Justice LeGendre at Calumet yesterday on a charge of slander, preferred by Mrs. Josephine Dogren. He pleaded guilty, and because of the aggravated nature of the offense the justice fined him $50 and costs, giving him until 5 o'clock in which to secure the funds or else take sixty days in jail.

HANCOCK'S HOUSE WARMING. NEW CITY HALL OPENS TO THE PUBLIC WITH DUE CEREMONY. Hancock's new city hall, of which Charlton, Gilbert & Demar of Marquette and Milwaukee were the architects, was thrown open to the inspection of the public on Thursday evening, the affair having been postponed from the previous SYRUP OF FIGS NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY. THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only.

week because of the intense cold then prevailing. The members of the village council and the fire department marched over from the old fire hall, headed by the Quincy band, and took formal possession of the new building, after which each gentleman resolved himself into a reception committee of one and proceeded to do the honors of the occasion for as many of the three thousand visitors to the hall during the evening as he could conveniently look after, showing them all that there was to be seen from the municipal lock-up below to the clock and bell in the tower. The assembly hall, recently described in this department, was brilliantly illuminated and produced a profound impression upon all who visited it because of the beauty of its design and the richness of its decorations.

SUCCESS IN CO-OPERATION. COPPER COUNTRY FURNISHES ANOTHER VERY MARKED EXAMPLE IN THE TAMARACK ASSOCIATION AT CALUMET.

In the Northern Michigan Building & Loan association of Hancock, the copper country possesses the largest "home" building and loan association in the state, and it has another great example of success in the co-operative line in the Tamarack Co-operative association of Calumet, which today, Feb. 18, pays its annual dividend to its stockholders, amounting to $40,130. The association was founded in 1891 by the late John Daniell and Superintendent W. E. Parnall, who has always shown great interest in its success and is its present president, while Wm. J. Light has been its general manager from its inception.

The appearance of Clara Thropp, the well known American comedienne, in the copper country is attracting great interest among theatre goers. Tickets for the Houghton performances will be placed on sale this morning at Barry's drug store, and there promises to be a rush for the best seats. The Superior Leader of Thursday morning speaks of Miss Thropp, who, by the way, gave a very interesting talk on Isben before the students of the Normal, Broadway and Nelson Dewey schools there, as follows: "The fashion and culture of the city crowded the Grand Opera House last evening to its utmost capacity to see the first presentation of Henrik Isben's remarkable drama, 'A Doll's House,' as produced by Miss Clara Thropp and a small but especially capable company. In these days when much of the public gauge in advance by the number of people in a traveling company the deservingly qualities of an organization, it seems to overthrow all rules to note the immense audiences before which Miss Thropp appears nightly in her present performance. Tuesday night at Duluth that spacious play house was crowded to its very walls with an interested and delighted throng of fashion, and the experience was certainly repeated in this city last evening. Yet after realizing the tremendous power that Henrik Isben's has in the literary and social world, and after one witnesses a performance by this talented and unique dramatic organization, the wonder as to the magnetism is absorbed in the greater wonder that there are not more companies touring this country of just the sort that the Clara Thropp company is. No attraction has appeared upon the local stage the present season that has given any better, if as good, satisfaction as this one, and a more delighted audience has not in many months ever left the Grand at the close of a stage entertainment. All through the performance of Isben's masterpiece applause came in rushes and torrents. Then there were curtain calls, and it looked at one time as though the spirited little comedienne would be obliged to quiet the vociferous hand-clapping by stepping before the curtain and making a speech."

They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at the Stafford Drug company, only 50 cents per bottle.

THE BOARD OF TRADE CAFE AND SAMPLE ROOM. HOUGHTON, MICH. The Business Man's Rendezvous! MEALS: SERVED: AT: ALL: HOURS. F. S. LEONARD, JOHN UREN, ED. DOLAN, Chefs.

CALL FOR OPERA HOUSE BIDS. The completed plans of Architect C. K. Shand for Red Jacket's improved city hall and opera house have passed muster before the council and it has been decided to accept them and advertise for bids, when if the figures are found to be too high the plans will be cut down and bids again called for. The carpenter work, the stone for the building, the mason work and the plumbing and heating will be bid upon separately, all bids to be in by March 9.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.—The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Stafford Drug Co.

ENERGY ALL GONE? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man or woman of you. A COMMON DANGER.—If you have ever had a cold which you permitted to "wear away" it may interest you to know it was a dangerous proceeding. Every cold and cough which is neglected paves the way to consumption, bronchitis, asthma or catarrh. Otto's Cure, the famous German throat and lung remedy, will cure any cough or cold and save you from consumption. Sold by The Stafford Drug Co. Prices 25c. and 50c. per bottle.

TOUR OF ALL MEXICO. In a special vestibuled train of Pullman compartment, drawing room, library and dining cars, with the celebrated open no-top observation car Chilli, starting from Chicago, Monday, Feb. 27, for a tour of thirty-seven days, the longest ever offered. Tickets include all expenses—railway and sleeping car fares, meals in dining car, hotels, guides and interpreters; no extras whatever. The party will be a select one and limited in number, and will be personally conducted under the auspices of The American Tourist Association, Reau Campbell, general manager, 1423 Marquette building, Chicago. For full information, maps, circulars, etc., call on or address any ticket agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. (2-11-4)

FREE OF CHARGE.—Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Stafford's drug store will be presented with a sample bottle of BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP, FREE OF CHARGE. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only throat and lung remedy generally endorsed by physicians. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by all druggists in this city.

FOR RENT. The store room now occupied by D. Toplin, Lake Linden, will be for rent on and after March 1. For terms, apply to Chas. Therrien, Lake Linden, Mich. (1-17-1)

THE BONE-SETTER COMES AGAIN.

DR. AARONS WILL BE HERE ON MONDAY.

This Wonderful Bone-Setter Comes on the Recommendation of Those He Has Already Cured.

WILL BE AT THE HOTEL MARQUETTE AS USUAL.

MANY ENQUIRIES FOR HIM HAVE BEEN MADE.

Dr. Aarons, the wonderful Bone Setter, telegraphs in response to many enquiries, that he will arrive here on Monday morning and will be at the Hotel Marquette, where he will be glad to have those wanting his services call. He has made many wonderful cures in Marquette and in every case that he has undertaken he has met with success. Any patient who he has been under his treatment stands ready to testify in his behalf, both as an honorable and wonderful doctor. Hundreds of cases of dislocated hips, shoulders and ankles have been reset right here in Marquette successfully and without pain. The work is all done without the use of the knife or other sharp instruments. The doctor has demonstrated what he can do before many of our prominent citizens and professional men. The greatest wonder of all is the very short time it takes to do the work and the little or no pain that is experienced by the patient. He will straighten a club foot so that the patient can walk in ten minutes. Call on the Bone Setter in his rooms at the Hotel Marquette on Monday. He will give you all information gratuitously.

CITY BREVITIES.

Weather forecast: Partly cloudy and unsettled weather; west winds. Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 40 degrees; noon, 42 degrees; 7 p. m., 35 degrees; maximum, 43 degrees; minimum, 35 degrees.
George J. Maas of Negaunee was a business visitor in the city yesterday.
R. C. Williams of L'Anse was in Marquette yesterday on business.
The Biddle Whist club will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Geo. W. Hibbard.
J. M. Brandon, formerly of the Park hotel at the Soo, was a Marquette visitor yesterday.
The ladies of the Degree of Honor will give a card party in A. O. U. W. hall Friday evening, Feb. 24.
Sheriff Carlson was out in Skandia, Choclay and West Branch townships yesterday serving notices on jurors.
Joe Courtney, who was one of the grip's victims, has recovered and is again at his desk in the vessel inspectors' office.
All those who wish to attend Miss Clara Thrupp's talk on Ibsen this afternoon are requested to be at Felix hall a few minutes before 5.
Frank Brown has come back after a two weeks' visit to Cripple Creek. His western trip did anything but lower his belief in Cripple Creek mining properties.
John Manning, formerly located here as United States deputy marshal, has been around town the past few days. He is now making his headquarters in the copper country.
Miss Anna Chandler left last night for Columbus, O., where she will attend the national meeting of school superintendents. She expects to return home by way of Washington, D. C.
J. E. Tobin leaves tonight on an extended visit to Chicago, Cleveland and Washington. He will be gone several weeks and will be accompanied on the trip by his brother, who will join him at Chicago.
The Masons gave the fifth in their winter series of parties last evening in Masonic hall. A special feature of the program was the singing of Miss Minnie Sullivan of Ishpeming. Miss Sullivan sang twice during the evening, giving great pleasure to all her hearers.
A meeting will be held at St. Peter's cathedral Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a court of the Catholic Order of Foresters. Representatives of the order will be present and all those interested in its welfare are earnestly requested to be present.
Tonella & Johnson have announced their intention to move into new quarters within a short time, being compelled to do so on account of the sale of the Masonic building in which they are now located. In order to save the expense of moving the whole stock they will offer any article at a big cut from the regular price for the next few weeks. They carry a complete stock of furniture so that this affords a good opportunity to get something useful at a bargain.
James F. Todd died Thursday at his home in St. Ignace after a brief illness. His remains were brought to this city last night and will be buried at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the residence of his brother J. R. Todd, No. 144 Champion street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the interment taking place at Park cemetery. Mr. Todd formerly represented the First ward in the city council. He was employed by the South Shore as foreman of its South Marquette roundhouse.

AN EMBARRASSING SITUATION.

A Worcester man once had a very disagreeable experience with a pair of trousers; or, perhaps, it would be better to say, without a pair of trousers; or, on more mature thought, it might be still better to say with the wrong pair of trousers, for, outside the fact that his story is about a pair of trousers, there is nothing to shock the tenderest feelings. Anyway you put it, the experience was disagreeable, and it determined the man never again to talk business while dressing to go out. It would not have been so bad if it had been a dinner, for in such case, by dexterous and intelligent management of chairbacks and draperies, and a final graceful disposition of the table cloth, a man can accomplish wonders. As it was, the man was scheduled to take part in a reading, and he was to have no reading desk, so he was really in an unpleasant position. Another man came to see him while he was dressing to go to the reading, and the business on which he came was business that was important to the man with the trousers, as he may be called to distinguish him from other men, so that while he dressed himself perfectly in all other particulars, he neglected to take off the gray striped trousers of his working clothes and to replace them with the black ones of his evening dress. This was not so bad, of course, as if he had remembered the first part of the proposition and forgotten the last (what an unpleasant thought!) but it was bad enough, and so he believed when he reached the house where the reading was to be given and was about to go out on the improvised stage to fulfill his part of the program. It was then that he noticed it. He hastily summoned the hostess, but even when she arrived the situation presented some difficulties. "I must ask you to put off my appearance for a little while," he said. "I have forgotten—my glasses. Can't read a word without 'em." The hostess reminded him with some distress that his home was a long distance away, and that there was no carriage at the door at that hour. "The audience will all be gone by the time you get back," she said. "Can't help it," said the man with the trousers. "What I want to read is in that particular book, and I have brought the wrong one. Must get time to slip home and change them—change it, I mean." "But perhaps I can find you a copy here," said the lady, a little puzzled. "Won't do," said the man, becoming much embarrassed. "I have to use that handkerchief in the reading. Must go back for it." And in his excitement he came out from behind the chair and the hostess believed to have perceived the cause of all the trouble. "At any rate," she said, smilingly: "I'll

MICHIGAN ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION

OF KALAMAZOO, MICH. Begins its second year of existence with a RECORD NEVER EQUALED by a similar association. It has excelled in the following ways the record of the first year's existence of any similar association ever organized in Michigan: It has written more members. It has held more members. It has accumulated a large reserve fund for the protection of its members. It has opened up more territory. AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST It is the only association in the State, regardless of age, that never closed its office at night with an unpaid claim on which it had received proofs on its books. It is writing the most popular plan of accident and sick benefit insurance on the market. A few first-class agents wanted in unoccupied territory. Big money to hustlers. Fire and life insurance men can add many dollars to their yearly income by handling this association as a side line. Address: MICHIGAN ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION, Agent Dept., Kalamazoo, Mich. call my husband. He can supply you, I am sure. "But it must be black ones—a black one, I mean," said the man, greatly agitated. "He has a black one, I am sure," said she, and vanished. When the husband came in he wore a broad grin and appeared to have come to a complete understanding of the matter. It did not take long to arrange things. They went to the husband's room, where they conducted a swap, and the husband gave the man with the trousers what he judged would do his nerves good, and, sure enough, it was just the thing. Then they went down stairs, the reader going out to read, and the husband standing in a doorway, with portieres arranged in the position in which he believed they would do the most good. After the reading they went up stairs and swapped again, and the man with the trousers went home happy.—Worcester Gazette.

KNIFE TRADE BY MATT QUAY.

Deal Engineered by Him When a Boy With a Future Judge. "I see that Judge Harry White, of Indiana county, Pennsylvania, is conspicuous among the workers for the re-election of United States Senator Quay," said an ex-member of the Pennsylvania legislature. "And this, in spite of the way Quay traded knives with him when they were boys together, going to school in Western Pennsylvania. Judge White is about the last of the old school of politicians in that state who is still prominent and influential among the Republican leaders. He was a smart boy, but not quite so smart as Matt Quay. There never was a sharper, more mischievous, successful schemer as a boy than Matt was. He was continually cutting up pranks that no other boy would ever think of. He was always looking for a dicker of some kind, and he never traded a knife or a handful of marbles, or anything else, that he didn't get the better of the boy he traded with, no matter how much the advantage seemed to lie with the latter in the preliminary negotiations. But the transaction in the matter of the knife trade with Harry White was a deal for his knife, and suggested that he might be induced to swap for something. "I haven't got my knife with me, though," said the future statesman, "and if we strike up a bargain you will have to go after it." "All right," said Harry, too much pleased to ask any questions. "How will you trade?" "Well," replied Matt, "if you will give me your knife, the marbles, the twine, and the squirtgun and throw in that horsehair fishline of yours I'll call it a go." "I'll do it," exclaimed Harry, and he produced the articles Matt had mentioned and handed them over. "I'll go up to your house and get the knife." "Matt stowed Harry's knife and the other things in his pockets and said: "You needn't go up to our house after the knife. It ain't there." "Where'll I go after it, then?" asked Harry. "Up to the tannery," replied Matt. "I was fooling around there this morning, and dropped my knife in the old vat. Me and some of the boys fished two hours for it and couldn't find it. But it's there. Go up to the tannery and maybe you can get it." "Harry kicked like a steer, but there wasn't any use. He never found Matt's knife, and it's in that vat yet for all anybody knows. But Quay has stuck by Harry White during all his political career, and Harry White is sticking to Quay in spite of that disastrous deal."

FAKE STATISTICS.

How They May be Used to Give a Man a Great Reputation. "Nothing like fake statistics for giving a fellow a reputation for scholarship in cheap," chuckled an astute citizen. "Statistics are the most impressive things in the world, and the beauty about 'em is that nobody dares to contradict you. I've been working the scheme for several months, and my stock has advanced about 1,000 points a day. How do I do it? Well, to illustrate the thing, I was standing in a crowd on Canal street yesterday watching the big pile driver hammering down the walls for the drainage canal. "Lot of power there," remarked a gentleman at my elbow as the weight came down, biff! "Immense," I replied, "any by the way, I was just making an interesting calculation in regard to it. Do you know, sir, that blow is exactly equal to 9,562 carpenters driving tennenny nails into two-inch oak planks with four-pound steel hammers?" The man looked startled. "You don't say so, professor?" he replied respectfully, and presently I saw him whispering to the others, who sized me up with awe. The other day when it was raining I joined a group under an awning. "Bad day," said somebody. "Yes," I replied. "I was amusing myself a few minutes ago in figuring up the quantity of water that has fallen in the city limits between 6 a. m. and noon." "At that the other fellows got interested. "How much was it, doctor?" asked one of 'em. "Poured into a row of ordinary half pint tumblers," I said impressively, "it would make a line once and two-fifths around the globe; it would fill a thirteen-inch gun barrel reaching from here to a point about nine miles east of Copenhagen; it would quench the maternal thirst of 9,468,941 Kentucky colonels the day after Christmas; it would barely go into a tank 4,562 kilometers long and 2,411 millimeters wide." By Jove! You ought to have seen those fellows' eyes stick out. "When they see me now they all touch their hats. I squeaked a smart Alec at our boarding house by informing him at the table that the pies consumed annually in New Orleans would form a column, piled one above the other, precisely 12,622 miles high. "O! I admit it leaves about sixteen pies over," I said, when he ventured a question, "but that's only three and one-half dekometers and too small to compute." That settled him. Now I'm the accepted authority of the establishment on everything from hash to hydraulics. "I've found it a good idea, by the way, to use the decimal system whenever possible. It mixes 'em up when you begin to talk about millimeters and hectometers and gives a fine flavor of learning to your remarks. I never ran across a fellow yet who dared to question a statement in decimals. If I keep up this statistician racket until summer I wouldn't be surprised if they offered me a chair in one of the colleges."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

CURIOUS BIRTH STATISTICS.

Ratio of Male to Female Is Large In War Times. At the next meeting of the Society for Psychical Research one of the interesting subjects that probably will come up for discussion will be the remarkable increase in the number of births of boys over girls which the vital statistics of New York show in the month of November and up to the present time this month. It will have a direct bearing on the theory of prenatal influence in the regulation of sex, as advanced by Dr. Schenck, and which has been supported and combated by eminent physiologists throughout the world. By those who indorse the Schenck theory it is maintained that the increase in the ratio cannot be simply a coincidence, confined to one particular section, because a similar ratio of increase of births of males over females is shown in the statistics of nearly all the large cities, and it is offered as a proof that, in the grand compensation of nature, the martial spirit aroused by war with Spain is responsible for the production of material for future soldiers. Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis, San Francisco and Chicago all present the same proportionate increase as New York. "And it is natural that it should be so," said a physiologist, yesterday. "A thousand years before Dr. Schenck was born it was observed that after wars the male births exceeded the female in the ratio of 100 to 75 and 100 to 80. In the Alexandrian war this fact was noted and commented upon by the philosophers of the day, and the reverse was true in the decline of the Roman empire, when the people fell into slothful habits and enervating luxuries. The number of girls increased and the boys were not robust. "All peoples who maintained their martial vigor, after losing many men in armed conflict, as the Macedonians did, lived to see the male population brought up nearly to the standard that it had before the natural protector were slain. The martial spirit that develops into activity the destructiveness of man and arouses the latent heroism and self-sacrifice of women has unquestionably an influence on the future race and the division of the sexes. "A people long given to the pursuits of peace and reaching a plane of civilization that renders them effete, become the mothers and fathers of girls. The nearer that man reaches the primeval condition of maintaining life by force of arms, the greater the number of male children that are born. The early American Indian demonstrated this in the extraordinary disposition of the sexes, the male predominating in all the warlike tribes."—New York Press.

ENDED AT A SPANISH GUNBOAT.

Story of Chief Officer McCarthy's Start for the Klondike in an Old Pilot Boat. Tacked to the wall in the stateroom of Chief Officer McCarthy, of the troopship Grant, now bound for Manila, is a photograph of a two-masted schooner with a party of men and women gathered at the stern. In the center of the group is Mr. McCarthy. "I see you are interested in that photograph," he remarked to a reporter he invited to his stateroom a day or two before the Grant sailed. "It is a picture of the schooner yacht Actea and party, taken last spring just before we sailed for the Klondike. Our course lay around Cape Horn, a long trip, you see. The Actea was rather small for such work—it had been a pilot-boat—and there were a number of women aboard, so the papers said a good deal about us when we started. I suppose the people who read of our going have forgotten us, or think we are still on the way; but we are not, by a long shot. I'm here, as you see, and the others—well, heaven knows where they are." "And we got away in great shape, too. We had a fine passage down the coast, and were in such a hurry that we left most of South America to the northwest of us before we thought of stopping. We had kept well out of sea and hadn't spoken a single craft. We needed some fresh water and other things and decided that Buenos Ayres would be a good place to stretch our legs on shore. And so, with Old Glory waving at the masthead, we started to enter the harbor. A British tramp halted us. "Schooner ahoy there," he shouted. "You'd better show those colors." "Why?" I asked, wondering what he Paine's Celery Compound Counteracts the Nervous Strain of the School Room.

"I know of nothing so good as Paine's celery compound," says Miss May Sherman, for the past 17 years principal of the largest public school in Bloomington, Ill., "to counteract the nervous strain incident to a constant life in the school room. "I have myself used Paine's celery compound," she continues, "with most satisfactory results. It is a splendid nerve tonic." The discoverer of Paine's celery compound was himself one of the greatest teachers that ever lived. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., held a famous professorship in Dartmouth college, and was a lecturer in other great universities all the while he was engaged in that momentous study which led to the chief accomplishment of the medical research of this century—the development of Paine's celery compound. The general complaint now among intelligent women is that they are hurried and driven and fretted almost out of their senses by the demands upon their time and strength. No wonder, then, the average woman has lost the capacity for sound sleep, good digestion and the freedom from aches and pains that follow healthy organic functions. Many years of suffering might be avoided, weary months of lost time put to good service, and thousands of lives saved if persons who do not sleep well and those with overworked brains and nerves would take Paine's celery compound. In the cure of nervous diseases this remedy has again and again demonstrated its power to combat these tenacious ailments. It is to general poor health that we are to look for the cause of headaches, rheumatism and neuralgia, and to overcome these troubles it is the general health that must be raised. Sick headaches that recur so periodically with most women and are so grievous an affliction should be treated as due to lowered nervous tone, and a thorough invigoration of the body should be undertaken with Paine's celery compound. The best test of the wonderful value of Paine's celery compound is to use it. Any woman will soon be convinced that it is the one remedy that can make and keep her well and healthful and strong.

WENT BY WIRE.

"It looks a little like snow," said the weather man the other day as he looked first out of the window and then let his eye wander over the great glass map in the senate lobby, says the Washington Star. There was a fine beating snow outside just whitening the ground in places and piling up in drifts several inches deep against the terrace. At west and south and east on the map were great white arrows pointing toward Washington and two great "highs" were racing from different quarters for the capital. From Chicago was reported a record of 10 degrees below zero and from Colorado was reported snow deep enough to cover up small towns. The weather man was figuring on the depth of the snow at Como and Apex and calculating the velocity of the wind, and from this and the general atmospheric conditions outside, concluded that Washington was threatened with snow. "It is no plaything," the weather man said, "when they have snow like this in the Rockies. I had an experience in going from Helena, Mt., over the divide some years ago. It was a beautiful day when my companion and myself left Helena. There was deep snow on the ground and in the mountains there were some immense drifts, but the snow was packed and the sun was bright. Before we got on the top of the divide it began to snow just as it is snowing now, fine drifting snow, and the wind got up to about fifty miles an hour. Within two hours there was no sign of the trail anywhere. We were in a beating blizzard and couldn't tell which way we were going. We struggled along blindly until we got on top of the divide. All we could tell was that we were going down on the other side, and we had no idea where we would wind up. "The horses were afraid and did not want to face the drifts, and we were half dead with cold. In floundering through one drift we got tangled in a wire, and that was our salvation. It was the single wire on the government telegraph line. "The drift was clear up to the top of the telegraph pole at that point, but it was for the most part within three or four feet of the wire. We knew we must follow this line to find our way. We could not do so by sight. One of us had to hook his arm around the wire and hold on to it while the other took care of the horses. He would just slide the wire along in the bend of the elbow, letting go only to pass each pole, and in this way we got into Deer Lodge. It seems strange here to talk about walking on about the level of the tops of telegraph poles, but that's what we did from the top of the divide to Deer Lodge." Where to Stop When in Detroit. GIVES UP FOR GOOD.

MANAGER HELMERT FINDS THERE IS NO MONEY IN THE RINK BUSINESS.

Manager Helmert has decided that running an ice rink in the city of Ishpeming is too hard a proposition to be continued through the remainder of the season, and tomorrow night for the last time for this winter—and all succeeding winters so far as Mr. Helmert is concerned—the Bancroft rink will be available for skaters. Mr. Helmert will give up his lease and the rink will be closed for the season. He has met with nothing but discouragement since the rink was opened and it is a wonder that it has not been closed before now.

On evenings when no special attractions were advertised only children and free ladies were in attendance, and when something special was secured it was a hard job to make both ends meet. Manager Helmert has kept bravely at the thankless task, but now he freely confesses himself whipped, and next winter he will establish a rink somewhere else. There has been absolutely no interest manifested in the sport here and the management has gone a couple of hundred dollars behind in trying to develop it.

For the first two years of the rink's existence skating was the favorite sport here, and the management could count on a good attendance constantly, but latterly skating has fallen out of favor and the people do not patronize the rink. The building has been up for five years, but it will now be torn down. The rink has been owned by the F. W. Read & Co. for the last few years, that company holding a mortgage on it. This will now be foreclosed and the demolition of the building will follow. The structure was substantially built, and lumber in it is quite valuable. This is partly the reason for taking it to pieces, but its removal is also desired by the authorities of the Cleveland Cliffs company.

The new office building being constructed for the company's clerical force is rapidly nearing completion, and it will soon be ready for occupancy. It lies on the banks of the lake very near where the rink stands. If the rink were allowed to remain the view from the office would be materially interfered with. Before the rink was opened in the fall there was some doubt expressed by the mine officials as to the advisability of allowing it to be run this season, but it was finally decided to allow it to run this winter with the understanding that it would be removed in the spring.

The work of demolishing it will be started immediately and soon the Bancroft rink will be a thing of the past.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

FRED BRAASTAD IS BUILDING A NEW STORE ADJOINING HIS MAIN BUILDINGS ON CLEVELAND AVENUE.

Yesterday a large force of men was started at work moving the Braastad bakery building from the position it has occupied near the mine office to a place adjoining the building occupied by the Swedish Salvation army. The change is made to make room for a new structure which will be erected where the bakery now stands. It will require a few days to move the bakery building to its new location, and as soon as the change is made work will be started on the foundation for the new structure. The new building will front twenty-six feet on Cleveland avenue and will lie between the place where the bakery will be situated and the mine office. It will be a frame structure, two stories high, and in its general style will conform with that of the Braastad stores in that vicinity. It will be erected with a view to serving the needs of a furniture store, and when it is completed it will be occupied by the firm of Swanson & Warnberg.

Mr. Braastad is erecting the structure for the purpose of supplying this firm with a building suited to their needs and he does not intend to extend his own business in anyway. For a long time past Swanson & Warnberg have been considerably cramped in the store they are occupying at present, which lies three or four doors below the Braastad stores. Their business is constantly growing and at the present time their quarters are entirely insufficient for its needs.

They will occupy both stories of the new structure and have leased the building for a term of five years. They will be very pleasantly located, as it will be built with an especial view of satisfying their needs and it will be very handy in all its appointments.

Lou Erickson has the contract for the work, and under his direction it will be pushed rapidly and it is expected that the stores will be ready for occupancy by the 1st of April. Swanson & Warnberg will move in at the earliest opportunity. The location of the present mine office will not be changed and it will be used as heretofore. When the improvement is completed the vicinity will be the location of the largest stores in the city.

REAL SPRING WEATHER.

The warm weather continued to prevail yesterday, and if anything the day was more springlike than its predecessor. The temperature was high and the weather looks like being realized. It is generally considered too early for spring weather, but the variety that has prevailed here for the last two days certainly indicates a comparatively early break up. Many have expressed the hope that in view of the extreme cold spell that was endured the spring would be early in arriving, and from the way the weather looks at present it seems as though their wish might be realized.

The business portion of the city was yesterday the scene of an activity that has not been rivaled in several months. Many people were about the streets and a large amount of business was transacted. Every merchant on the main streets took advantage of the mild weather to clean off the slush and snow from the sidewalks and in many localities the boards of the walks were laid bare. The streets were put in very passable condition. Forces of the city's employees were engaged in different places preparing the gutters for the surplus water that will have to be carried away if the thaw keeps on. A great quantity of snow has been melted off the roads in the last few days and sleighing is at present very poor, and unless there is a change in the weather it will all be gone in a few days.

Although it has warmed up a great deal, considerable trouble is still experienced with the water pipes in various parts of the city. The ground is not thawed out yet and men are employed on the frozen mains in a few places.

IS STEAM LOCOMOTIVE DOOMED?

Men who know say that in the next ten years steam locomotives will disappear and electric motors will supplant them. They also say that with the new motive power trains will rush along at a minimum speed of 100 miles an hour. This will prove a blessing to those who wish to go quickly from one point to another, but no more so than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has proved a blessing to those who wish to go quickly from sickness to health. The Bitters act at once upon stubborn cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness and liver complaint. They improve the appetite, quiet the nerves, and induce sound, refreshing sleep. The trial of a bottle will afford convincing proof. Sold at all drug stores.

William Tietz and his wife were in the city Thursday evening. Yesterday Mr. Tietz left the city for his home at Appleton, but Mrs. Tietz will remain here for some time visiting at the residence of J. L. Bradford.

The Republican county convention will be held on Feb. 25 at Marquette. Delegates will be chosen to the judicial convention, which meets at Escanaba on the 9th of March, and the state convention, which meets at Jackson on the 1st of March.

Carl Telfson picked up a valuable ring Thursday evening directly in front of Sellwood's dry good store. The person who was unfortunate enough to lose it may obtain the ring by calling on Mr. Telfson at the First National bank and identifying it.

Superintendent O. R. Hardy left last evening for Columbus, O., where he will attend the annual meeting of the National Superintendents' association, which will be held there during the coming week. The sessions of the association will be held on the coming Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Hardy will be absent for the remainder of the week.

The Sunday school of the People's church will give a necktie social at Anderson's hall this evening. Neckties will be sold at the cheap price of five cents and refreshments will be served for twenty-five cents. The evening will be passed in various amusements and a good time is guaranteed all who attend. The general public is cordially invited to participate in the program.

SHE THANKS GOD.

Gratitude of a Woman Recovered from Suffering.

The Agency Employed to Bring About the Change Declared to be "A Blessed Thing."

Boston, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Terrible backache and sleepless nights rendered life almost unendurable for Mrs. Phillip Weber of this place. The good woman, however, found a cure, and she praises God for deliverance from her awful sufferings. Mrs. Weber says: "I must say this much, Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a blessed thing to me. I have no more backache and I rest good nights, which I thank God for."

Thousands of men and women are suffering untold agony with a perfect remedy in sight. The medicines they have tried have all failed, and the sufferers have resigned themselves to a cruel fate. To all such we say, don't give up. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you, if you will use them. They are the only sure remedy for Backache, Rheumatism, Female Weakness, Dropsy, Diabetes, Heart Disease, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, and all diseases arising from disordered kidneys.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by druggists at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price by Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN ICE-YACHT RUNAWAY.

Some years ago there was a runaway young at Sheiter Island, in which a young girl was left in the boat with a gale blowing. She tried to throw the sheet loose, but it was frozen and her fingers were too cold, added to which the sheet had fouled the tiller, and she could not bring the boat up into the wind to stop its way, the sail being so set that the boat continued running right along at a terrific rate of speed. Occupants of the other boats soon realized the position and made chase, gaining but slowly, one boat finally being far in the lead of the others by the time the end of the island was left behind. Right in front lay the end of the ice, broken short by the action of the tide water, and there the breakers rolled in, throwing up the anchor ice, dashing it down, and then retreating, sucking it under the ice and packing it up for another break. For some time it was a question as to whether the chasing boat would catch up with the girl before she was carried over the edge to certain death. But at last the boats came together for one brief second, the girl was snatched by strong arms to the pursuer's yacht, the sheet was eased off in a flash, and, spinning around in its own length, it was set right before the wind instead of reaching into it, just as the runaway dashed over into the anchor ice. A short, sharp crack gave notice of the parting of the ice beneath the very runners of the now homeward bound savior, and with a long stagger, which only her speed enabled her to withstand, she dashed across the fast opening crack, safe to be brought up into the wind at a distance, while the late runaway danced, a wreck, among the broken ice. It was one of the close calls of ice yachting which, thank goodness, very seldom occur.—Leslie's Monthly.

THE FIRE BUG.

HIS IDENTITY SEEMS TO BE KNOWN AND HIS DEPREDATIONS ARE PROBABLY AT AN END.

It is generally believed that the feeling of uneasiness that has been experienced in Negaunee for some time on account of fires presumed to have been the work of an incendiary need no longer exist. The fire bug, if there has been one, has kept very quiet lately, and it is believed that there will be no more trouble from him. For some time it has been mooted about that the author of the many incendiary fires was known, and now many people here are quietly turning the suspect's name over on their tongues. The matter will simply be allowed to remain quiet if no more trouble is experienced from this source, as the evidence against the supposed incendiary is not entirely conclusive.

This city has suffered not a little from fires during the last two years. Incendiarism was first suspected about the first of March, 1897, and from then until about the same time in 1898 forty fires occurred, according to the records of the fire department, all but three of four of which are attributed to incendiary origin. The estimated loss on the buildings destroyed in this period is $24,307.74, with a total insurance of $14,555.74.

From March 15, 1898, up to date there have been thirty-three fires and the origin of all but nine of these has been attributed to incendiary causes. In all, a total of about sixty fires, supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, have occurred here since the first-named date.

It has been considered strange that the man who has been doing the work has escaped detection, but if the person who is now generally suspected was the criminal this is not a matter to be wondered at, as his position in the community would serve to shield him from suspicion. Many circumstances are now recalled that point to the guilt of the suspected person, and although the details of his crime may never be made public it may be safely stated that a majority of the people here believe him guilty.

The feeling is very general that the last trouble from this source has been experienced. Another blaze of incendiary origin occurring at the present time would cause some sensational developments here, as charges would then probably be made against the suspected party.

MARRIED AT OSHKOSH.

A FORMER NEGAUNEE BOY WEDS AN OSHKOSH GIRL.

Harry Verran is well remembered here. He lived here for many years and his parents still reside in the city. His marriage was unexpected and the announcement came as a surprise even to his parents. The following notice of the event is taken from an Oshkosh paper dated last Tuesday: "At the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Al. Wakeman, corner of Jefferson and New York avenues, at high noon today occurred the marriage of Harry Verran and Miss Jennie Masse. Only relatives of the contracting parties were present at the ceremony. A reception given by the newly married couple at Mrs. Wakeman's at 5 o'clock was largely attended, and afforded friends a good opportunity to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Verran, who received many handsome presents. Both of the parties are well and favorably known in Oshkosh. The groom is employed as motorman by the Citizens' Traction company and has attained much popularity among his fellow workmen and acquaintances. The bride is well known here as a young lady of many estimable qualities who will prove a charming help-mate during life's journey. Mr. and Mrs. Verran will make Oshkosh their home."

LOCAL LAONICS.

George Maas went down to Marquette yesterday.

J. W. Kurroles of Menominee was in the city Thursday.

L. E. Chaussee left yesterday on a business trip to the copper country.

Ed Brandt is employed at D. MacDonald's store temporarily while D. MacDonald, Jr., is laid up.

A force of men is employed in laying a hardwood floor in Frank Beney's office during his absence.

The old soldiers got the flags about the city at half mast on the wrong day, after all their trouble. The 15th, not the 14th was the anniversary of the destruction of the Maine. A mistake in the date was made.

Residents at the Jackson location have been shut off from the water supply on account of a frozen main. They have been getting water from the old well. The warm weather will soon thaw out the pipes now.

A postoffice has been established at the Princeton mine location. The office is not in complete working order yet. Postmaster George Sarasin has received his commission but the cancelling stamp has not yet showed up and until it is received the office cannot run as it should.

There is quite a settlement at the Princeton now and the postoffice meets a need. The office is located in T. M. Wells' branch store, the Emporium.

Yesterday was the finest day that has been enjoyed here in the past few months. A high temperature prevailed all day and the city presented a scene of unusual life. The business men were busy cleaning up the surroundings of their stores.

The members of the Negaunee Dramatic club lately have been besieged with requests from their friends to undertake the production of another drama to enliven the entertainment season. A meeting of the members will be held soon to determine whether the work will be attempted. It is probable that they will decide to produce a play and the friends of the club hope so, as its performances are always enjoyable and have invariably been successful.

A number of the clerks employed by merchants here are protesting against the disposition that has been manifested to evade the 8 o'clock closing agreement in some quarters. A few of the merchants have become lax in the observance of the rule and their places are not closed at the tap of the bell. If the early closing rule is broken it will necessitate a lot of work to get it in operation again, and the clerks and most of the merchants prefer to see it observed faithfully. The demands of the clerks are very modest here. In Marquette there is 6 o'clock closing in many classes of stores, and all are enjoying the innovation, while business continues to be as good as it ever was. All the local employes ask, however, is that the agreement hitherto in force be observed.

KENTON MATTERS.

C. B. Kroll visited Marquette Thursday.

St. Valentine's day here made many happy faces among the little folk.

The local L. O. T. M. have in preparation a drama and afterpiece which they will produce soon.

J. D. F. Pierson and Chas. Butts were pilgrims to the upper peninsula mecca, Marquette, Wednesday.

The stereopticon and gramophone entertainment last Saturday evening was well attended and enjoyed by the children of Kenton.

O. L. Griswold of Painesville is decorating the house to be occupied by David Hope and family. Dr. F. H. Hope will move his office to cozy apartments in his new home.

The old adage, "a fool and his money," W. D. Wetmore is mourning the loss of $17 which he claims was "rolled" from him while he was "boozing" in a saloon Friday night.

Geo. D. Fletcher, state agent for the American Wood Working Machine Co., with general offices at New York, spent Wednesday looking after his company's interests here.

J. Mahusen is harvesting a fine crop of ice and filling his ice house with cakes twenty-six inches in thickness, cut to a size that gives them a weight of three hundred pounds each.

A workman at camp No. 2 of the Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company was too near a falling tree to escape, and had to right side of his face badly lacerated Thursday. Dr. Hope dressed the wound.

The thanks of those living in the west part of the village are extended to Commissioner Pat Elliott for taking the first opportunity of thawing weather Thursday to repair the pump near the hotel York. People as a rule do not appreciate as well as the railroads a "long haul" when it comes to carrying water.

The Trout Creek water tank on the D. S. S. & A. was frozen up during the week and it was with difficulty the engine could take water. One engine made the run to Kenton for water light, and after filling at the Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company's mill returned to Trout Creek for the train.

The following from out of town made the York their headquarters during the week: Jos. Seifert, J. F. Reynolds and J. M. O'Brien, Marquette; Benton Loomis, Clare; Geo. C. Hanford, Syracuse; J. H. Heard, Ontonagon; E. A. Haynes, Kitchi; C. A. Lauries, Calumet; D. H. Gilders, Trout Creek; Geo. Lynes, Marquette; W. A. Currie, Duluth; Guy Homer, Will E. Holben and Jas. Green, Sidsaw; Geo. D. Fletcher, Chicago; J. E. Dalton, Ishpeming; Geo. Gane, Minneapolis, and L. J. Whately, Saginaw.

The Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company is about to install in its mill a new engine, built by the Phoenix company of Eau Claire, Wis. A thorough overhauling and repairing is being given the mill plant under the supervision of Manager Kroll and Foreman Stambaugh, and plans are maturing for an increased capacity of the mill the coming season. The company already has banked and in the pond at the mill over 5,000,000 feet of logs, and has logged thus far this season over 15,000,000 feet. Kenton will experience a busy year.

Ambition in youth is quite commendable if moderately gauged. Every enterprising settlement was ready to take the opportunity afforded by the generosity of The Mining Journal and point out to "the people" the claim it had on the proposed Normal for the upper peninsula. The early settlement of the matter by the legislative committee has curtailed untold benefits to the upper peninsula at large, for the "boomer" would have been a "boomer" for more than one "four corners" that does not possess a copper mine within its boundary. It is to be feared that immigration will entirely cease and outlying suburban property become a drug if an outlet for certain enthusiasm is not provided soon. No more picturesque site could have been selected for the Normal than on the south bank of the East Branch of the Ontonagon as it musically ripples its way between the pine clad hills at Kenton. Then, too, the hum of industry from the mills of the Sparrow-Kroll Lumber company would inspire the very soul of the embryo pedagogues to instill in the minds of the growing generation the bustle and push essential for a true American. Kenton, however, tender congratulations to Marquette on her good fortune.

Heroes of the War with Spain

Thousands of them, are suffering from lingering diseases induced by life in poisonous southern camps, the result of changes of climate, or of imperfect nutrition caused by improper and badly cooked food. Sleeping on the ground has doubtless developed rheumatism in hundreds who were predisposed to the disease. In such cases the Boys of '98 may take a lesson from the experience of the Heroes of the Civil War.

Hundreds of the Boys of '63 have testified to the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in driving out malaria, rheumatism and other diseases contracted during their days of hardship and privation in the army. These pills are the best tonic in the world.

Asa Robinson, of Mt. Sterling, Ill., is a veteran of the Civil war, having served in the 53rd Pennsylvania Volunteers. He went to the war a vigorous farmer's boy and came back broken in health, a victim of sciatic rheumatism. Most of the time he was unfit for manual labor of any kind, and his sufferings were at all times intense. He says: "Nothing seemed to give me permanent relief until three years ago, when my attention was called to some of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had not taken more than half a box when I noticed an improvement in my condition, and I kept on improving steadily. To them I owe my restoration to health. They are a grand remedy."—Mt. WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12. Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved. MISS MARGARET WALSH.

Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

THAT LONG DELAYED RISE.

Old Dominion Made a Spurt and Gained Eight Points on the Day's Trading.

MANY LOCAL SPECULATORS UNLOADED A LITTLE TOO SOON.

Yesterday a Lively Day for All the Stocks—Baltic Regained Lost Ground—Principal Fluctuations Noted.

QUOTATIONS THINGS OF INTEREST.

Old Dominion has gone up, but too late for the great majority of Marquette county holders. The stock has gone up, but it is the speculators somewhere else who are making the money, for this week, particularly Thursday, there was a general unloading of Old Dominion holders by all the speculators in this vicinity.

There are quite a number in Marquette and other places in the peninsula who are still in on Dominion, but their numbers are greatly exceeded by those who dropped out, some of them after waiting months for the long expected and long delayed rise. After its recent slump to 35 1/2 it climbed back gradually to 39 Thursday. That is the highest point it had maintained before for any considerable number of quotations, and many thought it was a good time to let go. Anyhow it is the uniform testimony in the brokers' offices that many of them did let go at Thursday's figures.

All those who did were vigorously kicking themselves yesterday for not being able to see farther into the future. From a close of 39 the night before it climbed up to 47 at yesterday's close, adding $8 a share. The reason for its advance may be explained by the following telegram received at the local office of Hayden, Stone & Co. from the home office: "Old Dominion a mystery. Smelter starting caused advance. Eying is scattering." A bulletin received by Turner & Bro. yesterday forenoon said that the stock was wonderfully strong and looked as if it were going higher, which it did by several points after the telegram arrived.

The advance in the stock was presaged several weeks ago by a telegram received by a local speculator. He wired a Boston broker the question, "Who is buying Old Dominion, Boston or the lake?" The answer came back, "Boston."

While Old Dominion was the feature yesterday the day was a wonderfully good one for the entire board. It was strong at both ends. In the morning a bulletin was posted in Turner & Bro.'s office saying that the coppers were very strong. The last bulletin which was posted by Paine, Webber & Co. in the afternoon said that the market closed buoyant.

The market was not only strong, but it was very active, and an unusually large number of the stocks fluctuated more than a dollar. Out of fourteen which had a range of or greater than a point twelve of them made advances, and in several instances the gains were considerable.

Baltic, which has slipped off four or five points in the past week, recovered and went to 36, an advance from 32. Calumet & Hecla and Centennial made new record marks for themselves, the former going from 75 to 81, and the latter from 48 to 54 1/2. Copper Range was not so strong yesterday as it has been for several days past and dropped from 56 to 55. Atlantic dropped off another point and went to 40. Arcadian went up 2 1/2 to 75; Boston & Montana climbed up another point and closed at 37; Osceola went back from 99 to its high mark of 103 1/2; Tamarack went up four from 24. Quincy advanced a point and closed at 17; Isle Royale went from 53 1/2 to 60 1/2; Old Colony went up a point from 19 1/2.

A bulletin posted in A. B. Turner & Bro.'s office announces a new move on the part of the Transconsolidated. It says that the stockholders have voted to issue 60,000 new shares, bringing it up to the 100,000 limit. Forty thousand are to be disposed of pro rata to present stockholders at $8 a share, and 20,000 shares are to remain in the treasury.

The traders on the Chicago market played a losing board yesterday. Wheat declined and finally closed at 72 1/2. Tobacco took a decided slump and dropped a number of holders out, then came back to its former figure.

Abram Matthews informs The Mining Journal that the stock certificates of the Mass Consolidated company are now being issued and that Marquette subscribers may expect to receive theirs within a week or so. There has been some inquiry here as to when the certificates would be available and Mr. Matthews yesterday wired Mr. Turner at Boston asking when they might be looked for, receiving the above response.

"A DOLL'S HOUSE" TONIGHT.

Ibsen's Masterpiece Is the First Dramatic Attraction in Three Months.

Clara Thropp, supported by a capable company of players will appear on the local stage tonight in Ibsen's great drama "A Doll's House." Barring last night's moving picture show this will be the first attraction in the opera house for three months. This alone should insure a large audience.

The cast of the company is as follows: Torvald Helmer, Mr. Folsom; Nora, his wife, Miss Thropp; Dr. Rank, Mr. Ryan; Mrs. Linden, Miss Ida Marley; Nels Kroghstad, Mr. Mears; little Ivar Helmer and Baby Helmer, the Helmer children; Anna, the nurse, Miss Walker; Ellen, Miss Wallace; porter, Mr. Reade. "A Doll's House" is the play that has created no end of discussion throughout the world. In every town and city where the works of the great Henrik Ibsen are read, are to be found large numbers of Ibsen enthusiasts, therefore the announcement of the presentation here of the great dramatist's greatest play by so famous and talented an exponent as Miss Thropp will be one of exceptional interest. "A Doll's House" has been widely commended by leading dramatic critics throughout the country as a drama that every woman ought to see. It depicts certain phases in the domestic life of a woman that have proven valuable lessons to more than one household. There is a remarkably dramatic scene in the play between a neglectful husband and an impatient wife. Miss Thropp has appeared in the character of Nora in "A Doll's House" many hundreds of times and it was in the Duke of York's theatre in London where she appeared as Nora over 600 nights that she gained a peerless triumph upon the English stage. "A Doll's House" will be followed each evening by the presentation of a farcical piece in one act entitled "A Truant Spouse."

Reports received from Ishpeming where the company played last night are that it is a highly meritorious organization. It gave good satisfaction there. Miss Thropp's singing in the concluding farce is said to have been a very pleasing feature.

MINSTREL PERFORMANCE. Amateurs Will Be Seen in Black Face Washington's Birthday.

The amateur minstrel show which has been arranged for the benefit of the Benevolent society will be given in the opera house next Wednesday evening, Washington's birthday. The gentlemen who have undertaken the performance constitute the best talent in the city. They have been rehearsing for a number of weeks and have worked up a program which will be more than usually tuneful and amusing. One of the promising features of the show is the first part in which a number of new songs will be given here for the first time on the Marquette stage. The end men have provided themselves with a full assortment of the always amusing "Joe Millers," but have taken solemn vows to refrain from all allusions to George Washington and the hatchet.

In the olio program place has been given for a succession of musical and dancing specialties. The performance will conclude with the amusing skit, "The Slippery Day." Seats will be sold at the usual prices. The board will be ready at Bigelow's Monday morning. To accommodate the large number of Ishpeming and Negaunee people who have expressed a desire to come down to witness the performance, arrangements have been made for a fifty cent round trip rate.

BLOCK SYSTEM.

New Method of Teaching Arithmetic Is Explained Here.

Joseph C. Hisey, who is an exponent and lecturer for the school book publishing firm of Ginn & Co., appeared before the school board at a special session yesterday afternoon and explained the merits of what is known as the Speer system of teaching arithmetic. Moderator Neidhart and Director George Barnes are the only members of the board present. Miss Chandler and a Mining Journal reporter constituted the balance of the audience.

The distinctive feature of the Speer method is its use of blocks in connection with books, giving the pupil, it is claimed, his first idea of the subject in concrete form. The claim is made that pupils taught by this method are better grounded in the subject and progress much more rapidly than those taught by the older methods.

The Speer blocks are used at present in some of the lower grades here but in connection with other arithmetics. The teachers in the primary and intermediate grades have purchased blocks and books for themselves and are going to study the system under the direction of Miss Chandler.

Thursday night Mr. Hisey lectured to the teachers at the Ely school on the subject of geography.

MARQUETTE MINNETTES.

When Mrs. Schaeffer's little "Copper Stocks" booklet came out last week F. H. Begole sent several copies to friends in Boston.

Now "Copper Stocks" as those who have read the book know, deals principally with the tribulation of a woman who chased Old Dominion while it was on the rise and finally got it, much to her sorrow, as it immediately slumped and acted so mysteriously that nobody even dared to predict what it would do.

Yesterday Mr. Begole received the following telegram from one of his Hub friends to whom he had sent a copy of the book:

"Julie will get out of O. D. all right. Sales forty-five and a half."

Since the rise in Dominion has the telegram possible "Julie's" nerve has become stronger and she doesn't so much as want to get out. It is likely if she has any tribulations to tell in another book they will refer to an altogether different stock, maybe Arnold.

A theatrical manager the other day was telling of the change in the public taste, and after the general assertion that its taste was getting distinctly better, he went on to particularize.

The day of farce comedies, he said, is rapidly on the wane. They have had their vogue, and plays and companies which once drew big houses have been compelled to quit the boards. Mentioned by name are struggling along from stand to stand playing to inferior business and in constant danger of breaking up.

Asked what was the taking play of the day, he replied: "Good, legitimate plays with wholesome roast beef situations." By "roast beef" situations he meant situations having in them the elements of probability and naturalness, and full of strength and genuine sentiment.

He says the present season in New York has given the metropolis by far the best run of plays it has ever had, in spite of the fact that good plays are very scarce. Good playwrights are in demand and high remuneration awaits the man or woman who can produce something which is really meritorious.

Comic operas, he says, are still holding their own, but the trouble is there is lack of librettists, and he avers there has not been a really good light opera written since Ermeline was brought out. "There is something strange about it," he said. "You can find any number of men who can write the music to a piece, but good librettists are scarce."

Then he proceeded to count them up on his fingers and got as far as three, which were all the first class "book" writers he could remember.

Roberts, West Branch; Charles Wilson, Skandia; George Kindlin, Sands; Gust Johnson, Turin; Frank Sylvester, Forsyth; Frank Bontan, Richmond; James Trebilcock, Tilden; Alfred Chipman, Ishpeming; John Adams, Ely; Chris Mickelson, Humboldt; Grand S. Barber, Champlain; John A. Johnson, Michigamme; Abel Levine, Republic.

TAME SHOW.

American Amusement Company Gave One at the Opera House.

It is a charitable criticism to say that the performance given by the American Amusement company last evening at the opera house was tame. The program was made up of moving pictures, stereopticon views and gramophone music. The former were decidedly the best features in the show, but they were not nearly as good as similar pictures which have been shown here by other companies, and this is taking into account the fact that the electric current was not strong last night. The moving picture fund is one of which the public has rapidly tired and pictures of this character unless they did a year ago. The time is past when people are satisfied simply by seeing something move. It was a dead heat between the gramophone music and the "color effects" in the stereopticon views as to which was the worst. The comic pictures were amusing after a fashion, but they were all long ways back, and most of them a long ways back.

TRIBE OF THE SCRIBES.

Organization's Certificates of Stock Will Be Issued Shortly.

The plates from which the certificates of stock of the Tribe of the Scribes are to be printed are expected very shortly, and as soon as they come the certificates will be struck off and sent to those members who have paid for the stock they subscribed.

The promoters of the tribe, who are mostly Chicago authors and artists, are working among their fellows and are securing a number of new members, so by summer time the organization promises to be one of considerable strength.

Logs and other material have been got out with which to build the club and the work of construction will be begun in time so the club will be ready for occupancy early in the summer.

ANOTHER ONE TO BE DEPORTED.

John Pokka, Insane Finn at the Jail, Is Getting Violent.

Marquette county has another in patient who is booked for deportation. He is John Pokka, who is now confined at the jail. Pokka is a Finn and arrived in this country but a little over a month ago. According to the custom in such cases he will be sent back to his mother country if the examining board is of the opinion that he is really insane.

Of this there is little doubt. Pokka was brought down from Negaunee day before yesterday. Officer Hutala, who brought him down, had a great deal of trouble with him when he took him in custody, and yesterday the man was violent at the jail. He has not yet been examined.

WORKING ON THE CARS.

They Are Being Rebuilt at the Street Car Barn.

The work of rebuilding the lately purchased cars for the street railway is in progress at the car barn, and an extra force of men has been set to work, so that the cars can be carefully rebuilt and refitted before being put in service in the spring.

The two 21-foot car bodies which are yet to come from Chicago are practically new, and after they have been set on trucks will need nothing but repainting and lettering to make them ready for use. These car bodies are of newer models than the others. They are bigger than the cars now in use and have particularly large, roomy platforms.

Miss Nellie E. Powers of Oshkosh will be at the New Clifton on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 21 and 22, with a very fine and complete line of Art Needlework. All those at attention in the new designs in stamped Linens, Battenberg and Pillows are invited to call and inspect the work. (2-18-24)

MISSSES LEDA AND ANNIE SMITH.

Two Sisters Were Sick, Weak and Disheartened—Now They Are Happy, Strong and Well—Each Writes a Letter to Other Women.

In nearly every family there are weak, pale, sickly daughters. Usually the mother has female trouble, too. Such a family cannot be happy. Sickness of women casts a spell of gloom over the entire household. It seems so strange that this suffering should go on. Why in the world is it that women refuse to cure themselves when they can do it beyond the shadow of a doubt? Who can tell why there is so much leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, despondency, loss of flesh and appetite? Why are there so many pallid faces and wasted bodies? It is easy to get the health back. Here are two sisters, Misses Leda and Annie Smith, living at 38 Elmhurst street, Providence, R. I. They used to be sick. Read how each has got well again.

Miss Leda (aged 23) writes: "I work in a mill in this city, and suffered for a long time with headache. I was pale, weak and tired all the time. My attention was called to the wonderful cures being effected by Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, and I bought some at a drug store. They have made me well again, and I can now go through each day's work without pain or suffering. I recommend the pills to all women."

Miss Annie (aged 25) writes: "I suffered ever so much with headache, indigestion and dyspepsia. My trouble all seemed to be in the stomach. My appetite was so poor that I never enjoyed eating. A friend recommended Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, and they have driven out all diseases and made me a well woman."

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women are a most wonderful cure for all forms of female weakness and disease. They are a strengthening, purifying tonic. They act directly on the organs distinctly feminine, drive out all impurities, promote regularity in the menses, and restore hearty, vigorous health. They will positively cure any form of female weakness or disease. They are made from the formula of a celebrated French practitioner, whose great success as a specialist in the diseases of women made him famous all over the world.

They are good for the girl just blossoming into womanhood. They fit women to become wives, and wives to become mothers, without dangers or distress. At the turn of life they help the sufferer through that critical period, and insure happy, healthy old age. If you are in doubt about your sickness, write our specialists about your case, and they will give professional advice by mail without charging a cent. If you prefer personal consultation, call at our Dispensary, 274 St. Denis St., Montreal.

Send your name and address on a postal card for a free book, "Pale and Weak Women." The best doctor book for women ever published.

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills are widely imitated. Beware of all worthless red pills sold by the dozen, the hundred, or at 25 cents a box. The genuine cost fifty cents for a box containing fifty Red Pills, or six boxes for $2.50. They last longer and are easier to take than liquid medicines costing $1. Best of all, Dr. Coderre's Red Pills cure without a bit of doubt.
