"BUSINESS AND POLITICS."

We find this under the above caption n the Grand Rapids Herald:

Senator-elect W. A. Clark of Montana is out in an interview, in which he says that in his opinion there is nothing sure about Bryan being the next nominee of the Democratic party, and he does not believe there is anything certain that silver will be a great issue in the next ampaign. While he calls himself a imetallist, he is content to let the presconfesses his belief to a certain extent in expansion, and is of the opinion that this country cannot do otherwise than reduce the Philippine insurgents to submission. Coupled with this statement of opinion comes the announcement that e will shortly build a sugar refinery which will have a capacity of a thousand barrels & day, and will cost half a milion dollars.

The interview and the announcement of a contemplated business enterprise on a large scale are highly significant, linked together as they are. It apparently make very little difference, these times, the locality where a man resides, his previous belief and all that; if he is quite apt to agree that the ship of state is sailing in the correct course. Clark is the man who corrupted the Montana legislature, and succeeded buying a seat in the senate of the United States with part of the many millions he has made in business. He is a Democrat, ostensibly, but cares nothing for that party save as he can with admiring deference.

The influential Boersen Courier says: 'On the German side, no sensible politician for a moment has attributed any importance to this latest canard. Admiral Dewey is known from his intercourse with German naval officers as a quiet, thoughtful gentleman, incapable of giving vent to such incautious utterances.

SENTIMENT FOR THE BOERS. Events in the Transvaal are keenly watched here. The press comments liberally on the week's news. No doubt a strong undercurrent of sentiment exists, shared by every class, in favor of the Boers against Great Britain. Every German one meets expresses this freely, and the press, except the portion inspired by the government, sides more or less strongly with the Boers. An editorial in The Deutsche Zeitung is significant, as showing the aspirations in Pan-German and colonial circles. It concludes as fol-

"Questionable as it remains, after all, whether England, which, in a war with the Boers, would have to dangerously expose all her threatened points in Asia, is really resolved to fight, it seems settled, judging from concurrence of news from London and Lisbon, that the possibility of war is now being seriously Marquette, furnishing the figures: considered. The near future may show whether the British flag will be unfolded for a fight in which nothing less is to be decided than the question whether Africa is to become English or German-

A further sign of the deep interest in the matter here is in the large number of pamphlets and books on the question which have appeared within a month. All the periodicals also contain articles on the Transvaal question. It seems doubtful, however, whether the government or the emperor will again interfere

It is currently reported in political circles that his majesty, on the occasion of the visit of Cecil Rhodes to Berlin, said: 'The Boers are past saving," adding that "they owed their misfortunes to their own stubbornness," and that they was no intention on the part of Germany to call a halt to England. It is learned that there has been great veering around of opinion in government circles, partly owing to the circumstantity-eight mile course. The M. I. A. aims to be practical and and private and order. It does not propose to dictate to or usurp the functions of the city authorities, but rather to meant suggestion and effort in the practical work of cleaning, improving and beautifying our city. Neither does the association propose to intrude itself into the strictly private affairs of individuals; but when the conduct or the nexligence of individuals affect the public welfare and the reputation of the city for neatness and order, such matters become of public concern, in which the M. It will particularly seek by kindly intimation, or more effective means where necessary, to induce persons whose premises are a discredit to themselves and the town to realize and perform their duty to "slick up."

The M. I. A. gave a very pleasant ten in Felix hall last Wednesday which was well attended by Marquette ladies. A number of gentlemen also showed their sympathy with the aims of the society by their presence. The tea table was very prettily decorated with sweet peas and was presided over by Mrs. F. B. Spear. New names were added to the previous great camp. ist of members, and quite an amount was added to the treasury fund. Mrs. J. M. The association is having a number of barrels appropriately painted and leitered, which will be placed in suitable places in the streets for the reception of waste paper and street rubbish.

Through action initiated by the M. I. A., the street sprinkler may now be seen twice a day laying the dust and cooling the air in east Ridge street; the the residents of that street having liberally subscribed to a paper circulated by the society for the raising of funds for the purpose. It is hoped that the benefits of street sprinkling may be warly realized upon other streets as a result of public or private enterprise.

The M I. A. is providing for the placing of guide boards throughout Presque Isle park, directing travellers to the drives, paths and numerous points of interest. It is expected they will be placed in position by Tuesday next.

The association became responsible for the employment of a man a few days the past week cutting weeks under the direction of the street commissioner. The association is under obligations to Elmer Johnson for the gift of a nicely mounted map of the city.

A MOTHER TELLS HOW SHE SAVED HER LITTLE DAUGH-TER'S LIFE.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Singularly enough no one was seen about any of the first three houses prior

Park Officer Robert Humes drove by the 59 degrees. Pine street ice house about half an hour before. He is always on the lookout for tramps and suspicious characters in his drives to and from town and had his eyes open as usual when he passed the ice house, but he saw nothing around the place and met only two teams on the entire drive. The occupants of both vehicles were known to him and are wellknown to pretty nearly everybody in town over Sunday. town. They are people to whom even

Another thing which lends support to the incindairy theory is that two fires originated while the evening performance of the circus was being given. The fire bug seems to have calculated that a good part of the firemen would be there and in the noise and blare of the performance would not hear the alarm.

FOOTPRINTS DISCOVERED. The only clew to the perpatrator of the fourth atrocity is furnished by some tracks in the soft mud. These tracks lead away from the northeast corner of the building, near which place it was undoubtedly fired. The branch prison pack of bloodhounds was brought up and put on the tracks about midnight.

Had it not been for the quick succession of the two last attacks of the fire flend his Sunday night efforts would have been frustrated. It was the intention of the Werners to put a guard at the house Monday. Having had two fires Saturday night they did not anticipate another so soon. The house by the life saving station is being watched by a member of the station crew.

The ice company has lost about $6,500 as the result of its four fires. The house which burned Saturday night was valmed at $.,500 but was protected by $1,000 insurance. The house which burned Funday night was a modern up-to-date house and was worth $2,500, but being b wond the fire limits was uninsured.

The total fluctuation up to the present writing is only three-eights of a cent. The most that can be said in favor of the price is that the market is getting very stubborn and withstands the hammering by local bears without scoring an additional decline. Primary receipts still continue large. Acceptances are reported heavy from St. Louis. Cash demand, however, is wanting, which accounts for the carrying charges. Absence of cables was felt in this market, as foreign markets as a rule are stronger than ours, as is evidenced by their these vultures of trade out, as their premium over us. DECORATION WORK RUSHING FORWARD. Those who have been remarking on what they chose to believe was the inability of the decorators to get the arches decorated in time for the tournament and needs only to be nailed up. Most of the electrical designs are also in place, though there is some dispute company's big ice houses on Crescent good view of the riders. The track has as to where the big flag ought to be. At present it is on the southwest corner of the arch at Front and Washington streets, but its position there has been criticised because it is almost invisible from Front street. Down at the lower end of the street it is hidden by the Welcome Firemen arch, and going farther up the street the telephone and telegraph poles conceat it. It makes the best show from Washington street. There is some talk of putting it on the Savings bank clock tower and a plan is also being considered of hanging it over the center of Front street on a cable running from the Harlow block to the Savings bank. What will be done with it is a question. as the committee is in almost as many minds as there are members.

LOTS OF WORK DONE. Regardless of this there was an immense amount of work done yesterday, not only by those who are regularly givng their time to the arches, but also by a score of volunteers, headed by the redoubtable John Mangum. The chairman of the decoration committee was clad in a pair of overalls and a big straw hat which made him a close double of the gentleman who rode the bull in the circus. Over at the hose house the firemen were hard at work trimming that up for the tournament. The unsightly lot in which are piled iron pipe, tiling and various other supplies of the water department is shielded by a row of closely set evergreens, and a beginning was made putting the flags and bunting on the hose house itself. Saturday new hydrants were set out at the running track and today or tomorrow the fence will go up to make the enclosure. All the prizes have arrived now and have been collected in one exhibit which has been placed in the windows of Watson & Palmer. It is easier to see now than it was before, when the prizes were scattered around in the various jewelers' windows, what a fine array of trophies has been purchased for the tournament.

The meeting of the tournament committees, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon in the city hall, did not materialize. The members gathered on the postoffice corner, decided there was nothing to do and that it would be useless to hold a meeting.

NEWSPAPER NOTE.

Almost every paper which reaches here now has a notice of the coming tournament. The Western Fireman, of Chicago, a weekly journal devoted to the interests of fire fighters, gives the tournament a column in its current issue and publishes the list of prizes. Its editor, T. E. Smith, who has so far been a regular attendant at the tournaments, is expected here this week.

The Bessemer Herald has the follow-

"The managers of the firemen's tournament at Marquette have gotten out the finest poster ever put out by the association. It is a three sheet poster with showing the advances of fire protection at the present time over the old hand pump used years ago. This has been followed by a handsomely printed halfsheet streamer. Other smaller bills will also be circulated, besides the regular printed program. The Mining Journal company of Marquette is doing the printing for the association and the taste company in its hall at 8 o'clock this and good workmanship displayed shows the company has a first class job departplant."
