COURT SPECTATORS CHEER DREYFUS.

Threatening Demonstration Against General Mercier Furnished a Sensation Saturday.

HIS PROMISED "STARTLING REVELATIONS" FAIL TO MATERIALIZE.

HOURS ON THE STAND AND NOTHING TO SHOW PRISONER'S GUILT.

More Thrilling Incidents Scheduled for Today, When Casimir-Perier Will Confront His Former War Minister and Deny Some of His Statements.

Rennes, Aug. 13.—Tomorrow's session of the Dreyfus court-martial is awaited with the greatest anxiety in view of the confrontation of General Mercier by Casimir-Perier.

A dramatic scene is inevitable, and it is understood a more thrilling incident than ended yesterday's session is expected by the counsel of Dreyfus. Dreyfus had declared his determination to slap General Mercier's face before the whole court if he brought up the story of the relations of Dreyfus with "Mme. B.," whom some newspapers asserted acted as a go-between for Dreyfus and the attaché to whom he is alleged to have made treasonable revelations.

The Petit Journal today accused the foreign pressmen of being the authors of the demonstration against General Mercier when he left the court, and it was stated measures would be taken to exclude the foreign correspondents from the court. About sixty reporters met this evening to protest against the charge. It was then learned that no steps against the foreign press was contemplated, and the meeting decided to ignore the French press.

HISSED BY THE AUDIENCE.

During the trial Saturday, a tremendous sensation was caused by the testimony of General Mercier, formerly minister for war under President Casimir-Perier. His attack on Dreyfus was so savage that the audience hissed him and made a threatening demonstration against him.

The sensation came at the end of his evidence. General Mercier had spoken nearly four hours in ruthless denunciation of Dreyfus, who had listened unmoved until Mercier concluded by saying that if he had not been convinced of the guilt of Dreyfus and if the latter's conviction had not been fortified since 1894, he would admit that he had been mistaken, stating that he believed the only motive of Dreyfus' treason was that Dreyfus had "no feeling of patriotism."

This cruel utterance brought forth hisses from the audience, whose blood had been sent up to fever heat by the witness' savage attacks on Dreyfus, while the prisoner jumped to his feet as though the words had galvanized him into life and shouted in a voice which resounded through the hall like a trumpet note, "You have lied, scoundrel!"

WARM APPROVAL GIVEN.

The audience burst into a wild cheer, whereupon the ushers called for silence. But, when Mercier replied that he would admit Dreyfus was innocent if there was any doubt, the prisoner shouted again: "Why don't you then? That is your duty." At this there was another outburst of applause.

General Mercier, after a pause, when the excitement had partially calmed, said: "Well, no. My conviction since 1894 has not suffered the slightest weakening. It is fortified by the deepest study of the dossier and also by the inanity of the means resorted to for the purpose of proving the innocence of the condemned man of 1894, in spite of the evidence accumulated and in spite of the millions of money expended."

Colonel Jouaust then announced that the sessions of the court-martial would be resumed Monday morning. M. Casimir-Perier thereupon rose and said: "After the deposition of General Mercier I shall ask the court to hear me, and I would prefer it to be in confrontation with him."

VIOLENCE THREATENED.

This announcement of the ex-president, that he wanted a chance to deny some of his former minister's statements, caused a sensation, and then followed a thrilling demonstration against General Mercier. As he turned to leave the court the audience rose en masse and hissed and cursed him, those at the back of the court standing on chairs and benches in order to better hound him. The gardes placed themselves between the general and the audience, which showed a strong disposition to maltreat the former minister for war.

General Mercier hurried out of the court room through a side door. On emerging into the street the crowd cheered the general and cried "Vive l'Armee." "Ah," cried a spectator of the scene in court, "if they had heard the human monster speak they would not cheer him now."

One newspaper man in court was arrested for calling General Mercier, as he passed by him, a murderer. But, later on, the man was released. Dreyfus was hurried out by gardes, who immediately cleared the court room.

PRESIDENT WAS HOODWINKED.

The examination itself of M. Casimir-Perier and General Mercier developed nothing new, and the "startling revelations" the latter has oft announced he would make were notable for their absence from utterance.

The proceedings served to develop, however, that Casimir-Perier, president at the time of Dreyfus' condemnation, was successfully hoodwinked all through the affair. When questioned on the subject of Captain Lebrun-Renaud's statement that Dreyfus had confessed to him, Casimir-Perier said emphatically that he had never had from the captain any communication such as a confession during his visit to him. He added that he was not prepared to deny that General Mercier had told Captain Lebrun-Renaud to communicate this alleged confession, but he affirmed that the captain did not speak of it to him.

M. LABORI ASSASSINATED.

ATTORNEY FOR DREYFUS SHOT AT FROM AMBUSH EARLY THIS MORNING AND WILL DIE.

Rennes, Aug. 14.—Two men have ambushed Maitre Labori, counsel for Dreyfus. One shot was fired, hitting M. Labori in the back; he is still alive.

Rennes, Aug. 14.—M. Labori left his house alone for the court at 6 o'clock this [Monday] morning. His residence is about a quarter of an hour's walk from the Lycee college, the route being along a solitary road.

Half way on the journey two men, who evidently had been lying in wait for him, rushed out of a narrow lane. One of them fired a single shot from a revolver.

The murderous fellows were only a couple of feet behind their victim, and the bullet struck M. Labori in the back. The wounded man uttered an agonized cry and fell flat to his face. The murderers escaped.

At 7:30 o'clock it is announced that the bullet entered the stomach. There is no outward bleeding, and the physicians believe M. Labori will die.

REVOLUTIONISTS ROUNDED UP.

FRENCH POLICE ENDEAVOR A CONSPIRACY DATING FROM JULY OF LAST YEAR—DETAILS.

Paris, Aug. 13.—Paul Doroleude, founder of the League of Patriots and a member of the chamber of deputies for the Angouleme division of Charente, was arrested at 4 o'clock Saturday morning at his estate at Croissey, near Paris. Twenty-four members of the Anti-Semite, Young Royalist and Patriotic leagues were also arrested. A semi-official note issued in explanation reads as follows:

"A certain number of arrests were made this morning as the result of a magisterial inquiry and by virtue of Article 89 of the Penal Code regarding a conspiracy organized for the purpose of accomplishing a change in the form of government. The persons implicated belong to the groups of Royalist youth and the Patriotic and Anti-Semite leagues. At the trial of the Neully barrack affair facts relating to that incident alone were used as the basis of the prosecution, but searches were then made and documents were seized which led to the discovery of an organization dating back to July, 1898, and of a plot to seize the government by force. The documents leave no room for doubt, either in regard to the existence of the plot or as to the chief actors therein. After very close watch proof was obtained that the same groups were preparing for a fresh attempt at an early date, the proof being such as to enable the disturbances to be averted by immediate measures. The investigation of the affair is intrusted to M. Fabre, examining magistrate."

ANTI-JEWISH DEMONSTRATION.

A demonstration occurred this evening outside the office of the Anti-Semite league, where M. Jules Guerin, president of the league, and Max Regis, the former Jewish-hating mayor of Algiers, against whom orders of arrest were issued yesterday on the charge of conspiring to bring about a change of government, are still besieged by the police. Fifty anti-Semites in a restaurant opposite were harranged by M. Guerin from a window. The police closed the thoroughfare to prevent the demonstration becoming more serious. M. Godfrey, president of the committee of Jewish Royalists, was arrested this evening, and a dispatch from St. Louis announces the arrest of M. Lemenuet, secretary of the League of Patriots.

The reported arrest of M. Mariel-Habert is incorrect; he is still at large. Out of thirty-seven warrants issued, twenty-five have been executed.

DOUBLE MURDER AT DENVER.

RECRUIT OF THE 34TH VOLUNTEERS SHOOT TWO POLICEMEN.

Denver, Aug. 13.—Two policemen were murdered here early this morning by W. C. Llewellyn, a recruit of the Thirty-fourth volunteers, stationed at Fort Logan. Three soldiers had been raising a disturbance in a saloon at Market and Twentieth streets, and Officer Tom Clifford was notified and followed them. He was about to accost the soldiers, when one turned and, placing the muzzle of a revolver to his breast, sent a bullet through his heart. Two of the soldiers were captured, but Llewellyn ran, with Officer Griffith in pursuit. The latter fired twice and the soldier returned the fire, mortally wounding Griffith, who died in an ambulance a few minutes later. The double murderer is still at large.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 13.—Policemen Rawlings and Charles Daniels were killed in a sensational street duel this morning. Rawlings was intoxicated and abused Daniels before the shooting began.

REINFORCEMENTS ARE HUSTLED UP.

Manila, Aug. 14.—3:40 a. m.—The insurgents have taken the aggressive in the neighborhood of the railroad.

Saturday night they unsuccessfully attacked San Luis, on the Rio Grande, near Calumpit, which was garrisoned by two companies of the Twenty-second infantry. The Americans had one sergeant killed and two private wounded. Yesterday morning a similar affair took place at Gringua, six miles west of Malolos, where another small garrison was stationed.

A special train has taken reinforcements to Malolos and Guiguinto, just north of Bulacan.

Word has been received from Lieutenant Gilmore, who, with fourteen members of the crew of the gunboat Yorktown, was captured by insurgents last April. The message, which comes through a Spanish prisoner, is to the effect the officer and men are at Viganon, west coast of Luzon. All but two are well. Gilmore is allowed a horse and servant and is well treated.

LOST THREE MEN KILLED.

Manila, Aug. 13.—3:10 p. m.—A reconnaissance yesterday by the troops of General Young's brigade near San Mateo, northeast of San Juan, resulted in about ten miles from Manila, resulted in the occupation of San Mateo. The American loss was three killed and thirteen wounded, including a lieutenant of the Twenty-first infantry.

The Americans, four hundred strong, approached San Mateo in three columns, under command of Captain Rivers, Fourth cavalry; Major Cronin, Twenty-fifth infantry, and Captain Parker, Twelfth New York. Captain Rivers encountered strong resistance among the southwest hills and withdrew under cover of a heavy volley. He lost a sergeant killed. Captain Parker found the enemy strongly entrenched on the far side of some rice fields about a mile wide and covered with deep mud. Pushing forward rapidly he routed the Filipinos after forty minutes of fighting and then continued the march upon San Mateo, which was entered without serious resistance about 1:30 in the afternoon. Major Cronin entered the town three hours later. The Americans still occupy the place.

Twenty-three of the enemy are known to have been killed. It is estimated the Filipinos numbered between three and four hundred.

FIGURING ON MORE VOLUNTEERS.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Secretary Root has under consideration the question of calling for more volunteers. While he has not decided definitely to do so, preparations are being made for the call should it be decided to issue it when the thirteen regiments now being organized are completed.

It is said that additional troops may be needed to relieve those who have served some time in the tropical countries. It is also suggested that it may be deemed advisable to increase the army of General Otis.

BIG RISE IN MANILA HEMP.

London, Aug. 13.—Manila hemp rose 10 shillings in London Saturday, being quoted at £29 10s. Large quantities were bought at this price on the prospect of a further rise, in consequence of the unexpected resumption of hostilities in the Philippines, and the belief that the military operations will drive the natives from the fields, and that the world's supply will be practically cut off. The price at Manila is £49, the highest on record, and the stock of hemp in the Philippines was reported Aug. 3 to be 95,000 bales, compared with 135,000 bales in 1898.

DEWEY AT LEIGHORN.

Leighorn, Aug. 13.—The cruiser Olympia arrived at noon today from Naples, and was received with salutes. The commander of the Italian cruiser Tripoli and the captain of the port both visited Admiral Dewey.

WORLD'S GREATEST WARSHIP.

GREAT BRITAIN TO BUILD A CRUISER COSTING $6,000,000.

London, Aug. 13.—At the moment Emperor William was telling Congressman Fross that the best peace conference is a strong navy, plans had just passed the British admiralty for an entirely new class of warship. Great interest is taken in the new vessel, which was designed by Sir William White, director of naval construction, who has given the following particulars:

"We believe she will be the greatest triumph in naval architecture, both for speed and fighting. She will cost ready for sea about £1,250,000, her speed will be a knot in excess of any British battleship, and her guns, turrets, torpedo tubes, masts and booms, will embody ideas which experience and experiment have proved far beyond anything yet attempted in this or any other country. Her displacement will be 13,000 tons. The new vessel, which will be laid down in November at Devonport, immediately after the bulwark is off the slip, should be ready within a year. She will be the nearest approach yet attained to a perfect combination of the fighting capacity of a battleship with the mobility of a cruiser of that type advocated by one of the highest naval authorities in the world, Captain Mahan."

IS CUBA GETTING AWAY FROM US?

Right after the Spaniards had been driven out of Cuba there was a great pother made by several of the newspapers of this country over the alleged purpose of wealthy Americans who were said to be favored by the government to secure valuable concessions there. It was asserted that the favored ones designed following this up by making large investments in Cuban lands and building railroads, etc., to promote their development and render them productive. But the fear of these papers that Americans were going to get hold of some of the good things lying about in Cuba was unfounded, for we have not heard much lately concerning concessions granted Americans or investments of American money in Cuba.

What we do hear is that British investors are putting money in Cuban lands freely, and that they have already secured quite a foothold there. It is stated that there has been $10,000,000 of British capital put into tobacco plantations alone on the island, and that a representative of these capitalists has boastfully declared that hereafter those who want Cuban tobacco must buy from the British owners of the tobacco plantations or go without.

If it would seem that it would be much better for us if Americans owned these plantations than to have them owned by foreigners. If we do not have control of the industries of the island it will do us but little good to have control of its government. Taking this view of it, it would appear to be the duty of our government to encourage Americans to take hold of the work of rehabilitating Cuba's industries, in order that we may obtain a good hold on the trade there. The island is rich in resources, and with American money and energy engaged in the development of these, and life and property secure under a stable government, it is certain to furnish a valuable market for many of the products of our factories, while if British capital gets the start of us we will not have anything like the trade there that would be ours if we had a good share in the control of its industries.

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The fifth annual reunion and tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association is over; the city no longer resounds to the tread of the multitudes attracted here during the three days of the meeting; firemen's uniforms have ceased to give life and color to the moving pageant on the streets, and the city has resumed its normal condition in all respects. But there is a feeling of great satisfaction among our people over the general result of the tournament. They feel that the city acquitted itself creditably, and that our guests were sent away well pleased with the entertainment given them.

The tournament was a great success in every respect. It brought as many outsiders here as were expected. The weather held fairly good on the whole, though it kept threatening to take a turn for the worse constantly while the tournament lasted. The visitors were orderly, easily pleased and appreciative of every courtesy and attention paid them. The few unpleasant incidents recorded in our reports of the affair were of a kind that it is impossible to guard against when large crowds are assembled for a good time, and they were not numerous enough to militate greatly against Marquette's well-deserved reputation for orderliness and good government.

The tournament cost the city a goodly sum in money, but it was well invested and there is no regret over the expenditure. It was worth many times what it cost in the demonstration it gave of Marquette's ability to do whatever it undertakes in a large way, and the good will toward the city it fostered among those who enjoyed its hospitality.

LITTLE DANGER OF AN IRON FAMINE.

The American Manufacturer is not much disturbed by the apprehension that the country is going to experience an "iron famine." Noting the statement that one is imminent, it says in comment thereon:

It has frequently been reported that a pig iron famine is imminent. Taking the figures of the weekly production of the country compiled for the month of July, and it seems almost incredible. All the available furnaces in the country are now in blast. Now and then a number of those running will have to be taken out of blast for repairs. New furnaces of enormous capacity are under construction, and these will add 3,600 tons per week as each is put in blast, while many other furnaces are being enlarged.

The weekly capacity is 269,032 gross tons, which multiplied by 50 running weeks gives a total capacity of 13,451,600 gross tons. Taking the losses of pig iron while it is being reworked into finished shapes, which is sometimes estimated at 10 per cent., and there still remains something over 13,000,000 net tons of finished material. Is the country consuming and exporting this amount of finished material? Estimating the price of material at $35 per ton, and the 13,000,000 tons of finished material will approximate $455,000,000, but at ruling prices it will be found that $500,000,000 for steel and iron products will be nearer the correct figure, providing present prices continue for one year. It is doubtful if a pig iron famine will result in this country, although it is well known that under present conditions there is none to spare for export.

Nobody questions the right of Editor Newett of the Iron Ore to criticize Governor Pingree, or to call him a "double-barreled ass," if he feels that way. But it is queer that the Ore's editor didn't discover the fraudulent nature of the governor's statesmanship until the latter manifested a disinclination to continue him in office. Mr. Newett kept his disapproval of Pingree very carefully to himself while holding office under him, and uncorked his little vial of wrath very promptly after he was allowed to retire from the position the governor gave him soon after he was installed as chief executive of the state. The Mining Journal is not at all concerned about the antagonism of the editor of the Ore to Governor Pingree, nor does it feel that it has any special call to defend the governor from the Ore's attacks. It merely called attention to the coincidence between the retirement from office of the Ore's editor and the outbreak of his paper on the governor as a curious instance of the gratitude of office seekers, who are, as a rule, exceedingly grateful for favors expected but marvelously forgetful of those received and enjoyed.

The Chicago board of review is carrying on a merry war against the tax dodgers of that city, and from the figures presented it would seem that it is a just one. The sworn returns of the residents along the south side boulevards was $69,639,370, but the board has marked the valuations up to $195,006,000. Other neighborhoods show corresponding increases, and the dodgers are giving up in despair. Marshall Field was raised a few days ago to $500,000, but the board has since found another $100,000, so that this eminent citizen will have to pay on the latter sum instead of $21,000, which was all he had in 1898. Schedules, are doubled, trebled, quadrupled. That the board of review is not placing the assessments too high few will maintain; but will that body be able to make its valuations stick in the face of the opposition and influence that will be brought to bear? That's the vital question and, with New York's experience in mind, it is greatly to be feared that it will fall in this. In Gotham, the "swearing off" process cut down the personal property assessment from $7,000,000,000 to $500,000,000 and press and public opinion were unable to prevent this.

We find this in the Detroit Tribune: The most significant thing from Manila that has been published this summer is the mention in General Otis' latest dispatch of captured letters of the insurgents. The letters exhort the inhabitants of Luzon to hold on a few weeks longer and not surrender, because there is expectation of help from the powers as early as Aug. 31. Reliance upon such a broken reed as this indicates the last throes of desperation. The rebels have not won a single battle or a skirmish; they will find the fruits of their diplomacy exactly like the fruits of their fighting. There must have been great rejoicing at Bluff Point, Plattsburg, when the president heard this story direct from the pen of Otis, for he can now cease to worry over Senator Burrow's "significant" utterances about the dangers to the Republican party.

If General Otis has reduced the insurgents to such straits with the comparatively small force under his command, what is the necessity for sending an additional army of 40,000 men to the Philippines, and replacing him with Miles?

A Philadelphia judge has just decided that the Salvation Army, as it has appeared in that city, has, in several instances, proved a disturbance to the public, of which it is in the province of the courts to take cognizance. Complaints were made that its meetings interfered with the running of the trolley cars, that they obstructed the business operations of retail merchants, that they made unseemly noises by their drum beatings on the Sabbath (the latter particularly obnoxious to the quietude of Philadelphia), and that they collected offensive crowds about the churches.

The judge before whom the suits were brought held that zeal for religion afforded no excuse for violating the law, and Philadelphia is not to be troubled by the Salvationists in the future in these ways, unless they appeal to a higher court and procure the reversal of the present decision.

The Detroit papers tell of a piece of financing by Edwin Gould which proves him to be a worthy son of his crafty father. He organized the Continental Match company some time ago, and established a factory at Detroit, which he filled with old machinery, just enough to show that the concern was really a match factory and eligible for absorption in the match trust. So the trust got after it and Edwin sold it to the "octopus" for about three-quarters of a million dollars. The factory has been shut down and will in all probability never be started up again. In fact it was started only to be sold to the trust, and that having been accomplished it has fulfilled its mission, which was to add half a million to young Gould's already large surplus. It was a great scheme of Edwin's, but if all the trusts are as easily worked as this one was they will be bankrupt at a not very distant day.

Hon. S. M. Stephenson was in Ishpeming a few hours Monday, and the Hon. John Jones hasn't slept a wink since. He says there is some deep conspiracy going on which he hasn't been able to fathom yet, but hopes to in time to save the country.—Iron Ore.

The Board reserves the right to reject any bid by its terms not satisfactory to the Board.

The Bonds will be ready to be delivered on August 31st, 1899, and must be paid for that day to the Assessor.

The Bonds will be in denomination of $1000 each, with coupons attached. They are issued to refund same amount of District Bonds maturing September 1st, 1899.

Estimated actual value of all property in the District $6,250,000.00 Assessed value for taxation, year 1899, as equalized 2,438,080.00 Total Bonds of the District 30,000.00

This School District is almost fifty years old; its property is worth $200,000. It has never been sued and it has never brought a suit. It has never failed to pay any indebtedness of any kind on demand when due.

The total bonded debt of the city for all purposes is $264,000.

Population, census of 1894, 9,724; estimated now, 13,000.

This proposed issue of School Bonds has been authorized by a vote of the tax-payers of the District at a special, duly and legally called and held, election, without one vote against.

This $30,000 in Bonds, when issued, will constitute the entire indebtedness of this School District.

The first response to it came yesterday, as follows:

Cincinnati, Aug. 7, 1899.

Hon. Peter White, Assessor, Marquette, Mich.

Dear Sir: I will take two bonds in the sum of $1,000 each of School District No. 1, City of Marquette, Michigan, dated September 1st, 1899, and pay therefor $2100.

Respectfully, H. M. MAGILL.

Mr. White says that Mr. Magill is the General Western Agent of the Phoenix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in Cincinnati. That Mr. Magill has held position for more than forty years and Mr. White has represented that Company in this county for more than 42 years.

That the Phoenix has paid out in this county for losses by fire more than ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS in that time and expects to stand by the people here the balance of this century and all of next, if not longer.

Sam some sleep-murdering anxiety last summer, if we remember rightly.

A hail storm which swept over portions of North Dakota and Minnesota last week destroyed a wheat acreage the estimated crop on which was 2,000,000 bushels. The crop was ready for harvesting. The farmers are charged with being much addicted to grumbling, but it must be admitted that they frequently encounter mighty hard luck.

A Methodist church in an Indiana town has put the ban on Kipling's books, adjudging them 'not to be fit literature for a Sunday school library. The objection is well taken. Kipling's works are entirely too entertaining to belong in a Sunday school collection.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at The Starford Drug Co. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

WARNING.

We warn the trade that certain unprincipled salesmen try to sell an imitation of our famous FOUR HUNDRED BALTIC RYE, holding out as an inducement to the customer large profits for him to deceive the public. A NICE LITTLE ELOPEMENT.

"There's a rather funny circumstance connected with an elopement here last week," remarked the loquacious landlord of the tavern in a remote Sussex village, addressing a cyclist who had stopped for refreshment.

"A young man who hadn't known her so very long ran away with the squire's daughter, and a day or two later the old gentleman sent this message by letter to his new son-in-law:

"All is forgiven. Come home."

"To this the young fellow telegraphed the reply: "All won't be forgiven until I have kicked you well for letting me elope with your daughter. You'd better not be at home when I come, that's all."—English paper.

FRESH DISPATCHES OF THE FEARFUL HAVOC IN PORTO RICO.

ONE FIFTH THE BUILDINGS ON THE ISLAND TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Thousands of Food Will Be Required Weekly for Several Weeks to Sustain the Hundred Thousand or More Destitute People.

BELIEF STORES IMPERATIVELY NEEDED.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Dispatches from Governor General Davis, of Porto Rico, giving additional details of the fearful havoc wrought by the hurricanes of last week, were received at the war department today. These state that over the total destruction of all telegraphic connections, not more than one-fourth of the towns have yet been heard from, but that enough is known to warrant the statement that one-fifth of the dwellings of the island were totally destroyed and the owners are without shelter or food beyond what has been saved from the debris. The deaths from falling walls and drowning number more than a thousand, and may be several times this number. General Davis states the distress is great, and when the green fruits saved from the debris are consumed the suffering will be very intense. Food of all kinds and cheap cotton and clothing are needed, also medicines. General Davis estimates that at least a thousand tons of food will be required weekly for several weeks to sustain the hundred thousand destitute people.

TWO EMPIRES AT ODDS.

FEELING NOT VERY CORDIAL BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND GERMANY

Berlin, Aug. 13.—Germany's relations with Austria-Hungary are the theme of most newspaper comment. The fact that Prince von Hohenlohe, contrary to custom since he became chancellor, has not met Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, this year to talk over the foreign policy of the two empires, and the further fact that Emperor Francis Joseph in passing through Aussee did not find time to get off the railroad train to welcome the German chancellor, but contented himself with hurriedly greeting the chancellor from the car and chattering with him only seven minutes, are regarded in political circles here as proof that the relations between Germany and Austria-Hungary, despite the continuing of the nominal alliance, have ceased to be really intimate. Popular sentiment throughout Germany has been for some time most bitter because of the growing Slavic ascendancy in Austria-Hungary, and it is asserted that Emperor William shares this view since the persecution of the German element has become a part of the settled system. A large influential portion of the press has reiterated these sentiments, and the government organs do not confirm or deny the above statement. Several facts have come to the surface which tend in the direction indicated. Thus the Prussian government has forbidden the lengthy stay, especially in the frontier districts, of Czechs and other Austrian Slaves. The Austrian press protests against this measure. The Saxony ministry of the interior has issued a decree that all communications sent to Hungary must bear only the German names of the towns to which they are sent. To this the Hungarian press strongly demurs and is also much stirred up over the sending of Emperor William's court chaplain, Rogge, to unveil the German monument at Hermannstadt. The ceremony is regarded as a protest against the Pan-Magyar movement.

COLUMBIA AGAIN DEFEATS DEFENDER, BY NEARLY 2 MILES.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 13.—The 1899 cruise of the New York Yacht club came to a close yesterday with a twenty-two-mile run from New Bedford, the Columbia defeating the Defender by a little less than two miles and 19 min. 4 sec. to the good. The new boat's victory was perfectly legitimate and she showed herself a marvel in light weather. The wind was light throughout and at one time failed altogether, but it treated both boats alike, barring a short spell just before the finish when the Columbia caught the breeze a few minutes before her rival. It was a spinnaker day almost from the start and the yachts carried their light sails throughout. Few mistakes were made on either boat and both were certainly sailed for all there was in them. The Columbia's sails were shifted frequently to catch favorable breezes and the men handled the great sheets of canvas quicker than ever before. In fact, the new boat was very lively throughout the day and seemed to have a surprising faculty of picking up a breeze and keeping it on all occasions. The leading grain futures ranged as follows:

A NICE DISTINCTION.

The other patrons of the fashionable restaurant felt sure the two at the corner table were father and son, and were from the rural districts. Their table manners were such that any polite jury would have brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide had the head waiter fallen upon the two as they sat side by side at the little table, whose snowy cloth they were sadly disfiguring. Vigorously they wielded knife and fork—very little fork, but much knife. At last the way in which the son spread his elbows interfered with the free play of the father and brought about a loud rebuke from the old man. "Look a-her, Jefferson," said the father, sternly, "draw in them elbows and eat in a narrower circle. Ain't you ever told you it warn't polite to shove others with your elbows when you dine out? It is powerful bad manners to make your old father cut his mouth at the table."—Waverly Magazine.

FORCED TO TRIM.

Dockmen at Lower Ports Helping Out Their Up Lake Comrades.

For the past several years the business of ore trimming has been upon the wane, but now, thanks to the stand taken by the lower lake dockmen, the business is becoming better and a very remunerative industry is being sustained in all the upper lake ore ports, Marquette among them. The way the dockmen at the lower ports have taken to compel the boats to trim is by refusing to unload them unless they pay the extra 2 1/2 cents trimming charge. Last week a boat which went down from here without trimming was held up two days and then had to pay the charge the same as if she had trimmed. With this state of affairs existing all boats will prefer to trim, as they will be much less liable to a strain in bad weather.

THEY MANNED THE BRAKES.

It is evident the Detroit Free Press editorial staff includes a man who was once a volunteer fireman. In Saturday's issue of that paper there was an editorial on tournaments, the editor taking the one in progress at Marquette as his text. It is written in a very appreciative vein and is calculated to be read with interest by every fireman. Here it is: "Every veteran who served in the days when fire companies were volunteer organizations, reads with interest the reports of that tournament at Marquette and heaves a regretful sigh as he recalls the good old days. Then there was sport at a tournament, and rivalry as fierce as in bouts of valiant knights in the age of chivalry. And there were maidens as fair to look upon as the prowess of the red-shirted heroes with their double-peaked helmets, ornamented belts and high heeled boots. They depended on neither steam nor horses, but on bone, muscle and spirit such as make an invincible soldiery. "If you never saw an old-time 'hub-and-hub' race, you have a very meager conception of the heights to which excitement can attain. The hoarse shouts of the trumpeters made horses run away and deafened the delicate. Opposing captains had a basilisk glare, and thought nothing of opening the scalp of a humbler or a recalcitrant member. Lieutenants were bigger men than the commander-in-chief of a general muster, while the hosemen, the cool chap at the nozzle and the big fellows with the murderous-looking axes were envied as is no cabinet officer in these degenerate times. "And when the word was given by the red-faced man on the platform the men at the ropes strained every nerve and all the rest of the surging crowd strained every lung. Hub-and-hub it would be for a time, till one or the other of the lumbering machines drew away and then confusion doubled right up on itself. If a man went down at the rope he must either spring to the work again or roll out of the way of the approaching juggernaut, for to have dragged along as a dead weight would have been disgrace and social ostracism. "When the brakes were manned then came the tug of war. Backs, arms and legs were called upon to the last ounce of strength. Eyes protruded, faces crimsoned and chests heaved. The primitive pumping machinery that worked like a walking beam was made to gallop at a dizzy speed. The first stream thrown was a signal for the opposing juveniles to fall foul of one another in violent hostilities and their elders too often vented their local pride in the same way. To throw the 'farthest' stream was the next grand test and then the hook-and-ladder men put up a sham fire-fight that covered the timid with goose flesh. After this came the shouting, the claims of fouls, the excuses, the renewed challenges and the awarding of prizes that will be cherished trophies so long as they endure. Then a supper and a dance, no matter how broiling hot, for the volunteer fireman was a salamander and his best gift as loyal in August as in January. What resplendent glories have been eclipsed by the obtrusive genius of invention!"

A WONDERFUL LIST.

Names of Works that the Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia Take the Place Of.

The Milwaukee Sentinel, in its announcement in another part of this issue, gives a list of works of special reference that the Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia takes the place of in private and public libraries, and this list represents only a portion of the publications that the Century has superseded. There is no better way to appreciate the remarkable value of this great reference library than by reading this list of thirty works. They practically cover the whole range of human knowledge. Mining Journal readers who have any desire to be kept abreast of the times and who want to take advantage of an opportunity that comes but once in a life-time should investigate The Sentinel's offer. It is open to all Mining Journal readers, but only a few can take advantage of it, as the number of sets of the Century for distribution in the northern peninsula is necessarily very small.

OPENS TUESDAY.

Supt. Hammond's Examination of Teachers for State Certificates. The examination of teachers who are applicants for state certificates to be conducted by Superintendent of Public Instruction Hammond will open Tuesday morning at half-past 8 o'clock in the city building. Some of the upper peninsula papers have incorrectly given Thursday as the date the examination will open, probably confusing it with the county examination, which begins here that day. Applicants should be here Tuesday morning to get the benefit of the state examination.

M. I. A. COLUMN.

The M. I. A. heard with mingled feelings of grief and indignation of the cowardly attack on Park Officer Humes last Thursday night and bespeaks from its members their sympathy and hope of a speedy recovery. Mr. Humes has won the respect and consideration of the association in many ways. His uniform courtesy and kindness have endeared him to many who have had occasion to go out to Presque Isle. "There is no reason why you should be troubled so much by mosquitoes here in Marquette," said a gentleman from the east while sojourning in the city a few days ago. Upon further inquiry, he stated that a barrel or two of kerosene distributed over the swamps near Presque Isle in the spring would abate in large measure this annual plague; that the experiment had been made in its vicinity with great success. This statement should be given special weight when it is known that the visitor in question resides in New Jersey, the home of the pioneer mosquitoes. This is not a costly experiment and should at least be given a trial. We respectfully offer this suggestion to the park commission. $5.00 Reward.—The owners of the Grace furnace have authorized the M. I. A. to offer a reward of five dollars for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons dumping rubbish, such as old clothes, decayed matter and scrap iron, on their property on Lake Street. Speaking of Lake street the association notes with pleasure the work done on the D. S. S. & A. premises lately. The weeds on Lake street have been removed and under the direction of C. E. Lytle several corners have been transformed into attractive parks—needed and lasting improvements.

Unlike the war now raging in the Philippines, our warfare against weeds is not one of pacification but one of extermination. No quarter must be given and every man, woman and child in Marquette should willingly bear arms against this rapidly increasing army. The weeds will become less arduous each succeeding year if the destruction of these unsightly plants is carried on systematically and patiently. It is necessarily assumed that every resident takes pride in the appearance of his home and city.

Now that the tournament is a thing of the past and Marquette is settling down to work-a-day affairs, will not someone take in hand the cleaning up of Front street between Ridge and Bluff streets? This will not be effectual unless the resident patrons of pop corn and peanut stands and others refrain from carelessly throwing paper bags in the street as they wind their way up the hill. It is hoped that the receptacles for waste paper placed about town will remove the cause of this just complaint. Several times this summer remarks by tourists to this effect have been heard: "that the need most in Marquette is a little park within walking distance where people can sit comfortably and look out on the lake." No better situation for such a place suggests itself than the properties of the water works and the lighthouse, overlooking the lake in all directions but one. A little clearing out, a board walk and a few permanent benches would accomplish this end. At some future date, a part of the grounds might be sodded, flowers planted and a fountain erected, making the entire point one beautiful park and a credit to the city.

SHE SPOILED HIS BLUFF.

The pure innocence of prattling babes is a sweet thing to the father and man whose days are spoiled with the scordid contact of commerce and the wiles of the world. Yet that purity of mind sometimes assumes such poignancy of penetration as to startle the fond father. Such was the case with a bright 4-year-old daughter of Wilbur K. Cuddy of West Walnut street. While Mr. Cuddy and his family were on their way to Atlantic City one day last week they came upon a number of Mr. Cuddy's old college friends. After personal experiences while at college, and since, grew tiresome as a subject of conversation, one of the party suggested a game of poker. Mr. Cuddy was winning with his old-time luck until, drawing two cards in a jack pot, his smiling youngster perched herself on his knee. Two of the players had dropped out and the third was wavering whether to call or not, when the tot cried: "Oh, papa! you have two mammals and one papa." The bluff was called and the irritated father lost with his pair of queens and a king.—Philadelphia Record.

CAPTURING A STATUETTE.

In the course of my long and eventful career I have had the honor of planning various schemes which have taken a conspicuous place in point of audacity in the records of crime, but perhaps in none of these transactions was such audacity more prominent than in the incident of the carrying off of the Apollo statue from the residence of Sir Titus Blyades, bart.; the statue in question being the work of the famous sculptor Apelles, and being valued by experts at $250,000. One evening I was sitting in a restaurant finishing an after dinner cigar when a short, foreign-looking man, expensively dressed, came and sat down beside me. "Excuse the liberty I take in addressing you," he began courteously, speaking with a strong foreign accent, but in perfect English, "but your fame has indirectly reached my ears. I trust I have the honor of addressing Mr. Godfrey Vince?" "That is my name," I returned, much amazed. "May I ask what you desire with me?" "He came very close, and sinking his voice, said in a whisper, 'I want you to carry off for me the Apollo statue from the house of Sir Titus Blyades at Longworth court.' One glance at the card told me all. It bore the name of Count Antonio Delarocca, the famous millionaire collector of the antique, whose gallery at Milan commanded priceless glories of ancient designs." "I chanced to be present at your trial over the Wigmore case, when, as you remember, you escaped with a light sentence, though the evidence showed you to be an artist in crime. I kept my eye upon you, resolving to offer you this delicate mission directly the government no longer required your services." "I shall be delighted to do all in my power for you, count, but first of all, you must tell me in detail what you require done." "Most certainly," he made answer, as he offered me a cigar and relit his own. "During the past four years I have made countless offers to Sir Titus Blyades for his Apollo, the offers being made through secret agents of mine, for naturally the baronet would not part with the statue to a rival collector such as myself. My last offer was no less than $250,000, but this also was unhesitatingly declined." He paused and blew a great cloud from his cigar, then he resumed: "I am a man of iron will, and what I set my heart upon I always obtain. Sir Titus has proved unamenable to fair means—I will now assail him with the only alternative—stratagem. Yes, merely stratagem, not robbery, for on the day that you hand over to me the Apollo statue I shall forward him anonymously the sum of $250,000. And, Count, is the bait sufficiently tempting?" Before we parted he gave me his address in Milan, for which place he was leaving on the morrow, and it was to his address that I was to convey the statue if my efforts proved successful. I may add that he left with me the sum of $2,500 as a guarantee of good faith. On the following Monday I journeyed down to Longworth court, and mingling with the crowd entering the spacious mansion, I soon gained admittance to the gallery. The more I contemplated the business the farther away did the count's reward seem, and by the time I reached London I was in a despairing mood. I retired to bed, resolved to think no more of the matter, though on the following morning I visited two of my oldest chums, Jack Grimes and Tom Harris, and put the case to them. They sneered at the affair, declaring that it was impossible. "It therefore came about that the matter passed out of my mind until the end of November, when it was brought back to me in a curious way. I happened to enter a theater one night when a play was being enacted in which a distracted dressmaker, being pursued by a statue which had been miraculously endowed with life, suddenly conceived the idea of painting her face and dressing her in modern attire, so as to render her appearance more conventional when she was tracking his steps. An idea flashed through my brain when I witnessed this incident. I did not wait for the end of the play, but leaping into a hansom drove to our den, where, by a lucky chance, I found Grimes and Harris ensconced in arm-chairs and smoking peacefully. They both looked up quickly, but did not speak. "My plan is this," I went on, speaking very slowly, so that their rather sluggish brains might follow me. "I suppose that we three disguise ourselves as police officers, you two as constables and I as inspector. We arouse Sir Titus Blyades one night, and inform him that we have reason to believe that burglars are in the house. "Whist! he is waiting and I am there to keep him company, you two fellows make tracks for the gallery, and when you get there, you proceed to make up the statue in the guise of a modern burglar, by means of coat, trousers, muffler, overcoat, cap, shoes, beard, whiskers and grease paint, all of which you can conceal about your persons. "Directly the disguise business is completed you fire a revolver. Hearing the report, I rush up to the gallery with a long face, to tell Sir Titus that the burglar, a desperate ruffian, has been accidentally shot. You two men will then carry down the supposed burglar, whose face will be covered with a handkerchief." Grimes drew a long breath. "Well, I'm knocked," he exclaimed, hoarsely, as he bowed the ashes from his clay. "If that ain't the rummest an' the cutest dodge as ever I came across. Yer'nd dodge as ever I came across. Yer'nd commit a felony with a bloke like yer to boss it." The evening of Dec. 1 was a typical foggy night. By the time St. Giles' church struck 12, a cab containing Grimes, Harris and myself was on the way to Longworth court. The dressing of the statue had already been rehearsed a dozen times on a plaster Apollo which I had bought in Euston road and there was therefore little to fear in the way of a breakdown unless Sir Titus insisted on accompanying the supposed constable in search of imaginary burglars. However, in all probability he would do nothing of the sort, at worst, if he did so we would simply abandon the business and go home. Longworth court was some 15 miles from London, and therefore it took us the best part of three hours to reach our destination. We alighted at the end of the lane leading to the mansion and bade Flowers (one of my oldest and smartest chums) to wait till he heard our whistle before driving up to the door. This precaution was taken in case any local police chanced to be hanging about the house while we were engaged inside. We then marched boldly up the drive and rang the bell. After an interval of five minutes there was a sound of heavy bolts being drawn, and the door swung open, disclosing a white-haired old man, whom I took to be the butler. He gave a cry when the light from his lantern fell on our faces and uniforms. "Calm yourself, my good man," I said, assuming an official voice. "You have nothing to fear. From information received, we believe that burglars are in the east wing of this house, and we have come to catch them. Arouse your master immediately." Sir Titus Blyades, a thin, pinched-up little man, appeared quickly. He was evidently quite as scared as his butler, and when we told him our mission he wrung his hands. "Be quick, officers, he screamed, his face blanched with terror, 'and I will wait here in the hall till your return. Stay, inspector. You might stop with me, in case the blackguards should come this way.' "During their absence, Sir Titus, with chattering teeth, conversed with me, telling me how he had always dreaded such an attack and now it had come to pass. His reflections were interrupted by a loud report, which rang out sharp and clear through the still house. I darted from the hall and an instant later returned with a gloomy mien. "I regret to say, Sir Titus," I cried, "that the man has been shot dead. There was only one of them, but he made terrible resistance and in the struggle his own weapon went off, the bullet entering his brain. We will take him away at once." I thought my heart would stand still when, after the supposed corpse had been brought toward the door, Sir Titus came forward and exclaimed in a quick hurried tone, "Stop! Set it down. Strangely enough in all my life I have never seen the face of a dead man. Let me see the face of this one." There was nothing to be done but to let the morbid baronet have his way and trust to luck and to the deception of the wig, paint and beard. The baronet knelt beside the statue and raised the handkerchief from the blood-stained face. Then a look of disgust crossed his patrician features and he rose, having carefully replaced the handkerchief. "Take it away, officers," he said, "a more repulsive and ruffianly looking countenance I never saw. Crime is stamped on every feature." And that was how the millionaire collector of the antique characterized a statue for which he had refused $250,000.—London Tit-Bits.

WORTH MILLIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Jenks of Brown's Corners are taking life very easy. Mr. Jenks used to be wealthy, but through an unscrupulous partner, lost everything he had. One thing, however, was saved, and that was an endowment policy in the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company for $10,000, payable in thirty installments of $500 each. This makes $15,000 altogether, but it is the way this company does. Ten of those installments have been paid, and as Mr. Jenks is 65 years old, he will not receive the last installment until he is 85. Once a year they receive a check for $500 from C. W. Pickell, manager of the company at Detroit, and as they live in a quiet, inexpensive way, this lasts until the next payment. No worry about investments, no anxiety about daily bread, no fear for the future—verily they are to be envied. We would rather be Jenks than—well, the richest man in Michigan. (8-14-11)

SAVED BY A TORNADO.

In 1789 Grenada, in the West Indies, was visited by a tornado with singular effects. Unlike similar phenomena this was to the inhabitants a providential deliverance from a pest which threatened their economic ruin. Some time previously the formica saccharivora, a species of ant, appeared in such numbers as to make the cultivation of the sugar cane a question of a few weeks only. After in vain trying many expedients and offering large rewards for a remedy against the plague, the helpless people resolved to abandon their homes in a body and betake themselves to another island. By this famous tempest Providence accomplished in a few moments what man, with all his appliances, had failed to overcome. The ant was exterminated. MUSIC STUDENTS. TWO GAMBLERS JAILED. Warrant Out for Another Who Can't Be Found—Witnesses Released.

Two gamblers are in jail and a warrant is out for a third man, the leader of the gang, but so far he hasn't been found. The two who are in jail are John W. Fletcher of Chicago and Edwin Ellis of Kansas City. The one who is wanted is Pearce of Hancock.

As soon as a warrant was made out for Pearce Sheriff Carlson wired to the copper country to arrest him, but as far as heard yesterday this was not done. The sheriff supposes that Pearce has temporarily left town.

Fletcher and Ellis were employees of Pearce and came here to conduct gambling games. They were unable to give bonds of $250 as required and had to go to jail. As soon as they can communicate with their friends they will probably be able to give cash bonds and will be set at liberty. Then they will not trouble Marquette any more, even when they are wanted for trial.

A number of others who were caught in the raid, some of them having a hand in the games, have been booked as witnesses but let go on their personal recognisance. They will probably also be missing when their testimony is required. The Mining Journal has no hesitancy in expressing the opinion that not one of the numerous gamblers who came here to operate and opened up for that purpose will ever be convicted. There has been grave weakness in the manner of dealing with them all through.

A colored man named Charles Kendall, who is alleged to have helped himself to half a dozen silver spoons in Bigelow & Co.'s last Thursday and who was caught in the raid, was bound over to the circuit court on the charge of larceny from a store. He waived examination.

The most satisfactory thing about the city's recent experience with the gambling fraternity is the small amount of coin which the gentlemen of the green cloth succeeded in taking out of the suckers. It is doubtful if any of them who didn't pick pockets on the side covered his board bill. Ninety per cent. of the money which was got crookedly here was taken by pickpockets, and it must be admitted they made quite a haul. Though that is no more of a disgrace to the city than if the money had been taken from the victims by the gambling sharks.

MAX HEINRICH.

Famous Baritone Will Be Heard Here in a Ballad Recital.

Max Heinrich, the famous baritone who has appeared in this city twice before in chamber concerts, will be heard here again Wednesday evening in the opera house. The opera house has been selected this time on account of the number who have expressed a desire to hear him and who have previously had no opportunity.

Herr Heinrich is now an instructor in the Chicago conservatory of music, but for some years he conducted a studio of his own in Boston training those seeking to fit themselves to appear in oratorio or on the concert stage.

His entertainment here will be a ballad recital; the program will be high class but not classical. Herr Heinrich is his own accompanist and plays brilliantly, and as for his vocal efforts there is no more artistic performer now before the American public.

The seat chart will go on at Bigelow & Co.'s today. The concert will begin promptly at 8:15.

CITY BRIEVITIES.

Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 54 degrees; noon, 54 degrees; 7 p. m., 54 degrees; maximum, 56 degrees, minimum, 54 degrees.

Beginning this afternoon and continuing during the week, we shall have with us two ladies from Chicago, who will exhibit a fine collection of art needle work and hand painting. The ladies of Marquette are cordially invited to visit our salesrooms and inspect this work.

HARD LUCK AT MARQUETTE.

ISHPEMING'S TEAM DID NOT DO AS WELL AS WAS EXPECTED AT THE TOURNAMENT.

The fifth annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association is over. It was a most successful meeting, one of the pleasantest in the history of the association. The local department, and also the people at large of the city, were well represented at the meeting. The home team did not do as well as was expected. While there is no cause for dissatisfaction, it is undeniable that luck seemed against the boys. One race that certainly belonged here was lost through an unfortunate crossing of threads in making a coupling. It was the regulation hose race. If the coupling had been made properly the association record would have been bettered.

Ishpeming's only first was won by Walter Trewick and his team mates. The race was run in superb style. They were the last to run, and as they had an easy mark to beat it was certain that they would win if no accident happened. They wanted more than the victory. They were looking for the association record. After careful preparation the men took their position on the line and were off with the gun. The run and the coupling were made in handsome style and when the time was marked on the board it was 2-5 seconds, a new record for the association. Ishpeming took second place in the novelty hose race and third in the firemen's foot race. The novelty hub and hub race was lost on the tie run to Lake Linden. Third place in the ladder climbers' contest also came here.

The record of the local team with the times made are as follows: Regulation hose race, no time; regulation hook and ladder, 2-5 seconds; coupling race, first place, 4-5 seconds; regulation hose race, No. 2, no time; novelty hose race, second place, 4-5 seconds; flag race, second place, 6-8-5 seconds; novelty hook and ladder race, 4-3-5 seconds; ladder climbers' contest, third place, 6-3-5 seconds; firemen's foot race, Harry Johnson, third place. In the novelty hub and hub race the team was defeated by Lake Linden, although making by far the best run.

The team was very swift on the track and was fully as fast as the best of them. The regulation hose race was made in record-breaking time and Marquette's record of last year would have been bettered if the nozzle had gone on the proper distance. The boys wanted this race more than any other on the program and felt great disappointment that it had been lost. They took much satisfaction out of the victory in the couplers' contest, however, as Trewick has lost the race in past years when it seemed as if he should have been given the best time. The boys were in fine condition and stood the heavy work on the track very well.

The tournament is generally discussed by those who spent any of the time at Marquette. Those who went down express themselves well pleased with the arrangements at the Queen City. The Ishpeming visitors all spent pleasant days at Marquette. The after discussion of the 150-yard professional race, which was won by Charles Duette (2) of Au Train Friday afternoon, has been long and loud here. Many people were interested in this race, as Daniels, who was defeated, has resided here the past few weeks. The prevailing opinion is that the event was as crooked as the usual professional foot race. There is little doubt of that.

The only questions are how the fake was arranged, and the identity of Duette, who certainly did not come from the sand dunes of Au Train. It is doubtful if he ever saw Au Train. Some money was lost from this city, how much is not known. The firemen deny that they backed Daniels with a pool. That hardly proves anything, as they would not admit going up against a game like Friday's race if they dropped money. It is known that at least $100 was dropped by people here who put up their money in good faith.

The race in itself was a fine exhibition of fast running, although it hardly was decisive as to the merits of the contestants. The men are both wonderfully fast runners and a straight race between them would be a most interesting exhibition. Developments at the track Friday prior to the race opened the eyes of the local men to the fact that there was something wrong about it, or there would have been quite a little money lost from here. Ishpeming was the place that was relied upon to furnish the victims, but as the local sports were very canny Friday afternoon it is not believed that the parties who negotiated the race made as much as they expected out of it.

People here think that similar events should be discouraged in connection with the tournaments in the future. They have nothing in common with the amateur spirit of the association and are always in the hands of men who are ready to throw down their friends and unsuspecting betters. The race Friday was swift, but it was not a necessary adjunct to a program which was already complete. Professional events would in time damage the association, and they should not be allowed on association tracks until the regular program is entirely run off.

ROY WALTON HURT.

Hard luck pursued the Ishpeming track team at Marquette Saturday. It was knocked out of time in the novelty hub and hub race by an injury to one of the team which was serious enough to necessitate his removal to the hospital. Walton was running as a substitute for one of the regular men. The run was made all right. The track was rather narrow for the two teams and when it was time to start uncoupling Walton dropped out of the line to assist in the work. He did not have much room between the cart and the fence and, striking a spectator, was thrown out under the cart, which passed over him. The wheel crossed his chest and for a time it was feared that he was seriously hurt. He was removed to the hospital where an examination failed to find any broken bones. Walton was badly bruised and it was feared that some internal injuries might have been sustained. Mrs. Walton went down from here on the 6:25 train. Walton rested easily last night and it was apparent yesterday that there would be no lasting injury from his mishap, although he will be sore for some time.

BIG LOSS REPORTED.

It is stated that a Mrs. Reardon of Lake Angelina lost several hundred dollars at Marquette last week. In company with a daughter she went to the tournament. She did not wish to leave a sum of $700, which she had saved through several years, at home with no one to guard it, so decided to take it with her. In a second pocketbook she placed some change to be used at the Queen City. She intended to place the pocketbook with the larger sum in the bosom of her dress, where she considered it would be safe. In preparing for the journey she in some manner changed the pocketbooks, putting the one with the small change in the safer place and carrying the purse containing her savings openly, where it invited the attention of the pickpockets. It was stolen some time during the afternoon. On examination of the second purse, which presumably held the larger sum, it was found that it contained only the small amount of money which had been laid aside for use at Marquette. It was an unfortunate and expensive mistake.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT ENGAGED.

J. E. NeCollins of Baraboo, Wis., is to have charge of the public schools here, beginning with the fall term. The school board settled this at a meeting held Thursday night. Mr. NeCollins has been in the city recently and met all the members of the school board. They were greatly pleased with his personality, as were all the other people who met him. Mr. NeCollins is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and of the State Normal. He is a gentleman of broad culture and liberal education. His experience in school work covers several years. At present he is the superintendent of the Baraboo schools. In every way he is fitted for the position he is about to take here, and that his management of the schools will be entirely successful need not be doubted. He will arrive here some time before the opening of the fall term.

ISHPEMING LADY HURT.

Mrs. Thomas Brazil of this city was hurt by a fall at Marquette Friday afternoon when the rain came up. She, in company with many others, left the track and took shelter on a balcony of a neighboring house, which was a little above the level of the street over a basement room. The veranda was so crowded with people looking for shelter that it finally gave way and dropped all on it into the crowd beneath. There was a bad mixup in which Mrs. Brazil received quite serious injuries. Several Ishpeming people were among the number involved but all save Mrs. Brazil came out all right.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Albert Harris of 227 Angelina street lost an infant child by death Friday. The funeral was held yesterday.

Sam M. Stephenson of Manominee paid Ishpeming another visit Saturday. He met quite a number of his friends while in the city.

The marriage of Nellie, eldest daughter of Mrs. Della Bright of this city, and Patrick F. Small will take place at 7:30 Wednesday morning, Aug. 15.

A large number of Ishpeming ladies went to Champion Saturday to attend a party given by Mrs. Dr. Beech. It was a most enjoyable affair and all who made the trip were delighted with their entertainment.

A number of people went to Marquette yesterday to see the foot race between Daniels and Duette. They went down with the expectation of seeing a fast exhibition of running and did not bank much on the racing part of the proposition.

Persons residing on Division street have made a practice lately of turning their cows out to graze nights on the grass of the Division street school yard, disregarding warnings to stop it. In the future there must be an end to the practice. It damages the grounds and surroundings of the school. If it is persisted in there may be trouble in store for the parties who own the cows.

A STUDY IN HEARTS.

She was a woman, therefore to be wooed. She was but twenty, and that kind are not easy.

He was a young man of fashion, full of promises and the smell of cigarette smoke and he loved her with the entire purpose of his life.

Perhaps that wasn't a great deal, because he had too much money to have a great deal of purpose, but what there was of it was all for her.

And she didn't care a continental for him.

He was neither of brilliant intelligence nor of masterful mind, and his innate vapidities bored her so that at last, in self defense, she firmly but respectfully declined to marry him.

"I shall put an end to my miserable existence," he said, in terrible earnestness.

She did not apply for a stay of execution and he went forth into the cold, gray afternoon.

Half an hour later her dearest friend came in.

"Oh, Alice," she exclaimed, hurriedly, "what have you ever done to Harry? He looked the very picture of desolation when I met him, and he told me he was going to drown himself."

"I think not," replied the authoress of all his woes.

"But he will, I am sure," insisted the visitor. "I could see it in his eyes. I'm positive he will go right down and jump into the river."

"Perhaps," admitted the other, quite freely.

"Then you think as I do—that he will drown himself? Oh, you—"

"I beg your pardon," interrupted the other. "I am sure that he won't. He can't, he is too light to sink."

Thus does a woman play rag-time on the strings by which she holds man's heart in thrall.—Washington Star.

THE AWAKENING OF RUSSIA.

Under the rule of Czar Nicholas II, the Russian nation is making rapid strides in civilization and enlightenment. The great peace congress, originated by him, is one of the most hopeful signs of the times. Nicholas is inaugurating great reforms at home, as well as trying to better the condition of the world at large.

One of the latest conclusions is to abolish the notorious Siberian exile system that has existed in all its horrors for over three centuries. During that time a million and a half of convicts have tasted its bitterness. Two of the predecessors of Nicholas II considered the reform, but failed to accomplish it; possibly because the time was not ripe for it. But the present czar believes in action, and has already decreed that this blot shall be removed.

Russia now invites her millions of subjects to go into Siberia and redeem it. A great railway has been two-thirds completed in that country, river navigation has been improved, large areas of agricultural and mining lands have been opened and hundreds of thousands of settlers have already poured in and begun the work of transformation.

In four years 600,000 emigrants have settled there, increasing the population to 6,000,000. The new-comers are chiefly peasants, transferred thither by the assistance of the government in order that they may have larger estates. Sensational stories and dramas of "Darkest Russia," and the horrors of Siberia, appear to be out of date. Russia's motto is onward and upward. The great empire is moving forward in the column of the progressive nations.

COURTSHIP IN GERMANY.

"When a girl has arrived at what is considered a marriageable age in Germany her parents invite young men to the house," writes Charlotte Bird of "The Life in Germany," in the Ladies Home Journal. "Two or three are invited at the same time so that the attention may not seem too pointed. But no young man is ever invited to the house until after he has called at least once, and thus signified his wish to have social intercourse with the family. If he calls several times in too close succession it is taken for granted that he has 'intentions,' and he may be questioned concerning them. Generally an engagement is made public as soon as the arrangements can be made. This is done by means of the newspapers and formal announcements on cards. The man supplies a plain gold band ring for each. This is worn during the engagement on the ring finger of the left hand. From this time the contracting parties are bride and bridegroom. Among conservative people even the affianced couple is scarcely allowed to be alone, a chaperon being provided whenever the young people go out. A betrothal may last several years, until the bridegroom can become settled in life, but in most cases the marriage soon takes place. Just before the marriage the banns are published in the church, either on two successive Sundays, or, if the time be short, twice on the same day. In the latter case a notice is posted in a public place notifying all concerned of the wish of the couple to marry."

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

FREE OF CHARGE.—Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Stafford's drug store will be presented with a sample bottle of BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP, FREE OF CHARGE. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only throat and lung remedy generally endorsed by physicians. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by all druggists in this city.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerette, N. Y.

A Young Girl's Experience.

My daughter's nerves were terribly out of order. She was thin and weak; the least noise startled her, and she was wakeful at night. Before she had taken one package of Celery King she was as well as ever. She could hardly be taken for the same girl. She is rapidly growing well and strong, her complexion is perfect, and she sleeps well every night.—Mrs. Lucy McArthur, Brush Valley, Pa. Celery King cures Constipation and all diseases of the Nerves, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Sold by druggists, 25c and 50c. Sold by The Stafford Drug Company.

BETTER THAN FIFTY LIBRARIES.

Have you "a thirst for knowledge?" Of course you have. Not to want to know things; not to desire to be wise, is to live one's life under too heavy a handicap.

Size, weight, appearance, tact. These we can inherit--or buy. But knowledge doesn't come that way. It must be patiently dug from the books of your mental superiors. Book after book--hour after hour--that's one way, and a good way it is. There is another way, though--a short way--our way, which we open up to the readers of The Mining Journal. Get the book which is the epitome of all books--get the 9,000 pages with 8,000 illustrations--the essence of things worth learning--The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia.

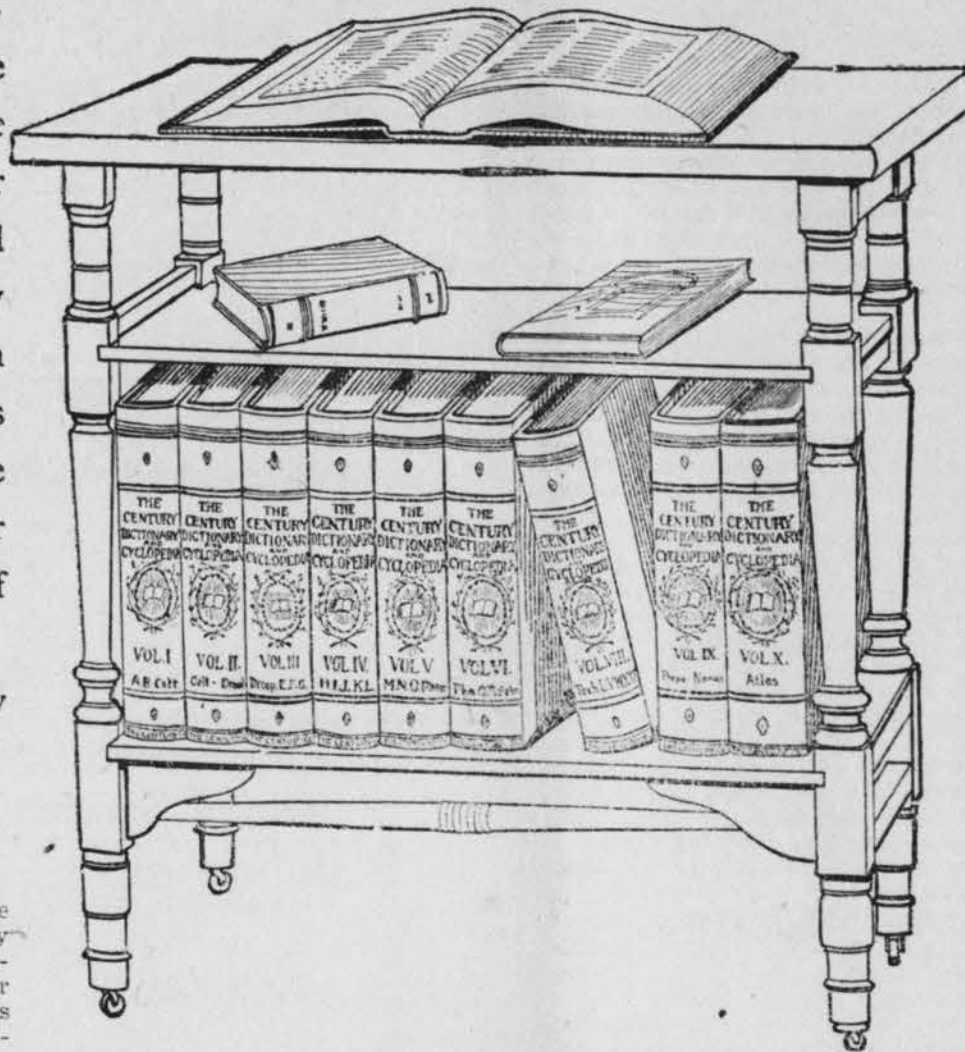

The Milwaukee Sentinel has paved the way for knowledge seekers in the Northern Peninsula to own this great work and it is now for the last time offering it to The Mining Journal readers at special wholesale prices and terms. Only a rich man can buy a library, but the most modest purse will suffice to purchase The Century through the Co-operative Century Club.

The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia is not a cheap unreliable work. It is a new work from beginning to end, and cost over one million dollars to complete. Five hundred of the world's best scholars made it--it was printed by DeVinne; the paper was made specially to show the beautiful illustrations; the leather is the best imported morocco. The embossing and gilding are done with consummate skill. The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia is the most perfect work in the world from the standpoint of scholarship as well as from a mechanical standpoint. Everybody will have to buy it some day, and now is the last chance for Northern Peninsula citizens to get it at a saving of many dollars.

The Greatest Book Offer Ever Made--The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia at Wholesale Price and On Small Payments.

FOR MINING JOURNAL READERS.

The Milwaukee Sentinel is forming a co-operative Century club, whose members secure The Century at about half the regular price and on easy monthly payments. As the number of sets to be subscribed for is comparatively small, those persons desiring further information should write at once, or send in coupon below. By a special newspaper courtesy this final offer is open to the readers of The Mining Journal in the Northern Peninsula. All letters of inquiry will be answered as promptly as possible.

Here Is a List of Works of Special Reference That The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia Takes the Place Of.

- 1--An Encyclopedia of Common Things, with 7,678 illustrations of birds, animals, plants, buildings, tools, machines, musical instruments, statues, etc.
- 2--A complete defining dictionary.
- 3--A complete Atlas of the World, containing the most perfect and beautiful maps ever published.

In and About Negaunee.

WON THE HUB AND HUB. NEGAUNEE DEFEATED CALUMET SATURDAY IN A FINELY CONTESTED RACE.

The people turned out with a brass band Saturday afternoon and welcomed the fire department and the running team home. The reception was occasioned by the news that the boys had succeeded in defeating the Calumet team in the regulation hose race and in capturing one of the greatest honors of the tournament. The handsome clock which was the trophy of this race will be given a prominent position in the fire hall.

Saturday's victory places the local team in third place among those competing at Marquette. It scored two firsts and a second. Lake Linden comes first, Calumet, having taken two firsts, a second and a third. Our firemen were delighted with their victory in the hub and race. The contest is described as being very close and exciting. The teams left the mark simultaneously. Calumet pulled away from Negaunee and was some fifteen feet ahead when the hose began to unroll. At this point the Negaunee men began to cut down the lead.

The couplers started their work almost simultaneously and the nozzles were dropped within a small fraction of a second of each other, Negaunee making a little the best time. On examination of the couplings it was found that Calumet had only two turns on the thread while the Negaunee nozzle was up snug. The race was given to Negaunee. The time was 31 2-5 seconds. To say that the Negaunee men were overjoyed is putting it mildly. The honor is one of the highest to be obtained. Furthermore, the Calumet team was quite confident of the victory and wanted the big clock to tick off the seconds in its hose house.

The Calumet aggregation offered to trade the punch bowl for the clock but the Negaunee team wouldn't consider the proposition. Negaunee carved out an enviable position for itself by hard work and careful training. The men and Trainer Curley are to be congratulated on the result. If the team chose to protest the regulation hose race it would be awarded a third first by the officers of the association, as the Calumets ran a man who had no right on the team. Negaunee will not protest, however. The boys are game and only are looking for prizes won by their skill and muscle. They do not ask the assistance of the officers of the association in getting their share of the trophies.

MINING AT THE BARASA.

The Barasa may now be considered a mine, as ore is being hoisted daily and shipments will probably be made before much time has passed. There are about 200 tons of ore in stock. The present force is being increased, as the mine is being opened up. Everything at the mine looks promising and Manager Mack is pleased with the progress. Since the main body of ore was located a few weeks ago the miners have been working constantly in a good grade of ore. Cross-cutting has established the fact that there is a big body of it. No time is being lost in pushing development of the mine. It is expected that some of the ore will be smelted at the Carp furnace at Marquette, which is being prepared for a resumption of operations. This plant will be ready to go into blast about the first of September.

A MOTHER TELLS HOW SHE SAVED HER LITTLE DAUGHTER'S LIFE.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

FOR SALE.

My 40-acre farm north of Negaunee, seventeen acres in grass. Farm implements will also be sold. A great bargain offered. James F. Foley, Negaunee. (6-13-1f)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?--If not, drink Grain-O--made of pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. OFFICER STRANBERG RESIGNS.

HE DID NOT LIKE CRITICISMS PASSED ON HIS CONDUCT IN ARRESTING A MAN THURSDAY.

Officer Stranberg resigned his position as a member of the police force Saturday. He resigned under a fire of criticism passed on his conduct in arresting a drunk and disorderly character named Michael Cary. Cary had been ejected from one of the saloons and was about to re-enter through the windows when Stranberg took him up. The officer dragged his man off toward the lockup. When the pair arrived near the Northwestern depot the drunken man either slipped or fell on the ground and caught hold of Stranberg's legs. Stranberg used a soft billy on Cary, and in the opinion of many people who witnessed the occurrence he was unnecessarily cruel. The man was placed in jail. The officer did not use a hard billy, but a soft affair, which, when wielded with little force, is capable of doing no great damage. This fact was not taken into consideration, and Stranberg was generally roasted for hitting Cary, who was too drunk to be responsible for his actions.

The fire of criticism was so heavy that Stranberg became tired of his job and resigned Saturday morning. His place will have to be filled by a new man. In justice to Officer Stranberg it must be stated that when Cary was brought before Justice Trathen he was questioned as to whether he was hurt by the clubbing or not. He answered freely that he felt no evil effects from it. Notwithstanding this, it would appear that Stranberg took measures which were not required by the circumstances. It is doubtful, however, if he has deserved all the censure passed on him.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Willfred Jandron has taken a position with J. M. Perkins.

Mrs. Joseph Shaynor of Mt. Clemens and her two children are visiting in the city. Mrs. Shaynor formerly resided here.

J. H. Sawbridge is absent at Stephenson, where he is attending the funeral of his brother, who died at an early hour Friday morning.

E. E. Grip of Ishpeming is a constant visitor here lately. He is looking after the work on the new M. E. church carefully. A good start has been made on the foundation.

The regular county teachers' examination will be held at Marquette next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Examinations for admission to the state agricultural school will also be held.

Many words of praise are heard lately for the City band. Under competent leadership it is producing some very pleasing music of a higher class than the ordinary band selections. Whenever the band appears it makes a hit, and it deserves the notice it attracts.

Mrs. A. Broad of this city was one of the victims of the pickpockets at Marquette last week. She was in the tournament city Thursday and came to grief. She had with her a purse containing $87 in currency, which was taken. It is thought that she was the victim of a woman operator. There is no clue to the thief.

Two trick bicyclists entertained hundreds of people on the city square Saturday evening. Their work was marvelous and the performers were complete masters of their wheels. The most difficult feats imaginable were accomplished. The crowd was pleasantly entertained and rewarded the riders by chipping into a collection which was taken up.

SPAIN'S GREATEST NEED.

Mr. R. P. Oliva of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. Calumet was the big prize winner of the tournament. In addition to having that place selected as the city to entertain the sixth annual its running team carried home the very best of the tournament trophies, chief of them the big silver punch bowl, to win which was the fond aspiration of every team entered Calumet, Lake Linden and Hancock between them carried home more than half the prizes and the best half of that. Of the eleven towns entering teams in the tournament only two, Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie, failed altogether to win recognition.

On the tournament grounds hardly an incident occurred to mar the harmony. Everything was done in accordance with the rules of the association and in the spirit of impartiality. Judges, starters and timers were uniformly efficient and there was very little kicking from contesting teams. The chief criticism made upon the proceedings at the track comes from the crowds which sat in the grand stands. The waits between races were

SHALL WE DISPUTE.

The Opinions of Scores of Our Fellow Citizens?

Residents of Marquette like other American citizens, if making an investment want to be sure of getting the worth of their money. They want to know all the whys and wherefores and in a direct ratio to the value of the investment the burrow and ferret until satisfied with the collateral. Take an instance in the realm of proprietary articles. If we know of a friend who has been cured, we have some faith in the preparation; if we know of two or three our faith increases. If the cures reach scores, all well known citizens, and anyone who still maintains that there is nothing beyond ordinary merit in the said preparation can safely be left to the care of his fellow tax-payers. If he wishes to pick a quarrel with them on the question of their judgment and veracity, he has ample opportunity in Marquette to do so. Begin with this case:

Mrs. Wm. Warren, 220 Jackson St., says: "I had constant pain through the small of my back at night was very restless, could find no position to lie in that was comfortable and consequently rose in the mornings feeling tired and worn out. The secretions from the kidneys were unnatural and greatly in excess. I also suffered from persistent headaches and had intense thirst, feeling as though I could not drink enough. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended so highly for just such troubles and I procured them from the Stafford Drug Store. The treatment promptly relieved me of the trouble." Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50c. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

too long. This applies with double force to couplers' contests; couplers ought to do their practicing at home and leave the adjustment of the couplings to the judges.

FINAL RACES.

Saturday forenoon the two closing races of the tournament were witnessed by small crowds. These were the regulation hub and hub race and the novelty hub and hub race.

In the regulation hub and hub race the competitors were Negaunee and Calumet, the two teams which made the fastest time in the regulation hose race. Calumet made the best run, but Negaunee excelled on the coupling and won in 31 2-5.

Ishpeming and Lake Linden competed in the novelty hose race, the latter team winning in 45 2-5. In this race occurred the only accident of the tournament. The teams were coming down the track at a hot pace and running very even when Walton of the Ishpeming team fell. He had neither time nor chance to roll out of the way and a moment later the hose cart struck him. The outside wheel was lifted as high as the fence. Walton was picked up white and limp and carried back to the dressing room. A physician arrived, and on examination announced that no bones were broken but that he had a number of bad bruises and cuts.

Members of the Ishpeming team claim that the accident was due to the narrowness of the track. Their explanation is that the cart veered against the fence and as it did so gave Walton a jerk which threw him. All of the teams which competed in hub and hub events were afraid of the track on this account.

VISITORS LEAVE TOWN.

Afternoon trains took home most of the remaining firemen and their supporters, though perhaps a hundred or two remained over Sunday. The fifth annual tournament of the association is ended, and the next thing the firemen have to look forward to is the one in 1900, which Calumet promises to make the biggest and best.

Compared with the excitement prevailing here last week Marquette looks like Choccolay. The crowds have gone home and the peace which follows as well as precedes a storm has settled down upon the city. As far as the tournament itself went it was a big success, but the epidemic of lawlessness which it brought with it is something which is regretted by every decent and respectable citizen. The firemen were all right. Fully 500 of them were here and not a man did anything to disgrace his uniform or make the city regret extending its hospitality to the association. The regrets come because of the hoard of gamblers, thugs and crooks which descended upon the city attracted by the big meeting.

MESSIER'S MUSCULAR MAIDENS.

Lady Bicyclers Finish Their Fourth Night on the Board Track.

Manager Messier's "magnificent" mélange of muscular maidens made mammoth merriment for a good crowd at the bicycle track Saturday night, it being the fourth night of the six-day race. The large audience in attendance was evidence that the people of this city are taking great interest in the race as it draws to a close. The rain of last week caused two evenings lost time, so the race will resume tonight and the close will be tomorrow evening.

Saturday night the riders quite surprised the spectators by their marvelous speeding. Many who had never seen women ride races upon a board track thought that their contest would not amount to much from a standpoint of speed, but it did. Three of the ladies, notably Glaw, Ward and Harp, made wonderful fast time and the way they went the sharp banked curves of fifty degrees at a 2:30 clip was a caution, and as each one would forge to the front to set her share of the pace cheer after cheer was brought from their admirers that could be heard a block away.

Miss Fiering rode a game race, but owing to her bad fall last week she was unable to keep up with the leaders and lost two laps during the evening. Miss Woodworth, the Negaunee rider, is as game as a pebble. This is her first race upon a board track and she is making a record for herself. Although lacking in the same experience in rounding the sharp banked curves as the other riders who have had years of experience she has managed to hold her own with the others and Saturday night she lost only one lap, and that was after she had received a fall. Although she was dazed for a few moments she was not hurt.

As the race drew to the close for the one and one-half hours Glaw made several attempts to gain a lap on her rivals but she was unsuccessful and in a hair rising finish Glaw came in first by less than a foot, with Ward second and Harp third. It was the best finish of the week.

During the first hour Glaw, Ward and Harp rode 20 miles 10 laps; Woodworth, 20 miles 9 laps, Fiering 20 miles 8 laps. The 100 miles were made in 5 hours and 6 minutes. Glaw led with Ward second and Harp third. The total score for four nights, six hours, is as follows: Glaw, 116 miles 15 laps; Ward, 116 miles 15 laps; Harp, 116 miles 15 laps; Woodworth, 116 miles 10 laps; Fiering, 116 miles 5 laps.

The management has completed arrangements with Peter M. Gaspar of Menominee and Irwin Williams of Ishpeming for a five-mile race, best two in three heats. The first heat will be run off at the track Tuesday night at the close of the ladies' race and the next two heats will take place on Wednesday night. This race will decide the championship of the upper peninsula and will be the greatest racing event ever brought off in this city. Gaspar is now in the city in training and Williams will arrive tomorrow. The management offers a purse of $50, all to go to the winner. This race should attract a large crowd. Many friends of Williams will come down tomorrow from Ishpeming to take in the race and back their man for any amount. As Williams is looked upon as invincible in this section of the country, Gaspar's admirers will also back him heavily.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN.

Match Hundred Yard Dash Between Doucette and Daniels Shaves it Very Slightly.

RACE TAKES PLACE SUNDAY AFTERNOON ON TOURNAMENT TRACK.

Start is by Mutual Consent—Daniels Comes Over the Tape About a Yard to the Good—Very Little Money Changes Hands.

WOULDN'T BUY TICKETS ON STREET. Two or three hundred people who were present on the tournament track yesterday afternoon witnessed the breaking of the world's 100-yard dash record.

Daniels made 9 2-5 in a match race against Doucette. The authenticated world's record is 9 2-5 has been made on a track slightly down grade and with the wind at the runners' backs; this record is, however, not quoted by sporting authorities.

Yesterday's match sprung from a dispute between Daniels and Doucette regarding the start which the former had in the professional 150-yard dash run off Friday. Daniels claimed that Doucette beat the gun and beat him off the tape. A race was arranged for Sunday.

QUITE A CROWD.

Word of the event quickly passed around and soon after 1 o'clock men and boys began to gather on the track. Fisher, of the copper country, acted as master of ceremonies and made a vigorous effort to sell tickets, but the crowd roared him. The running track is a public street and while it is still fenced in there was no way of putting anybody out. The crowds kept coming in, refusing to buy tickets at the gate and refusing to buy them after they got inside.

By and by the runners appeared on the track, then the announcement was made that all who wanted to see the race must go up to the far end of the track and pay a quarter when they passed the end of the grand stand. This bluff was good for about $1.75, which Fisher later returned.

Finally the matter was put to the crowd on another basis, that unless a purse of $50 was raised there would be no race. This did the business, and the same people who had resented being told that unless they bought tickets to stay in the street they would have to get off, dug down in their pockets and bought a pasteboard or else chipped in the coin when the hat was passed. In about ten minutes the amount had been raised.

By agreement between the runners the purse was to be divided thirty, seventy. A few bets were up, the biggest wager being $100.

START THEMSELVES.

As the disagreement before was concerning the start, the start in yesterday's race was by mutual consent. In this both men stand on the line, each watching the other for a chance to get off. When one man is over the other is at liberty to leave, and when both get off at once the race is on. This gives a wide range for jockeying and in many professional races hours are consumed in getting a start. Yesterday the start was pretty prompt, the runners not being on the line to exceed ten minutes.

During this time the crowd, which was bunched at the tape, was craning its necks and keeping its eyes constantly on the starting line. When they did start there was hardly time to say "Here they come" before Daniels had broke the tape and won the race. Looked at from the finish the start appeared to be very even, with the advantage, if any, in favor of Daniels. There was small distance between them any of the time, though Doucette closed up a little in the last twenty-five yards. Daniels came over the line about a yard ahead.

NOT VERY ACTIVE.

Few Coppers Move Slightly and the Tendency is Downward.

As reflected by the quotation sheets Saturday's market was not an active one. There was only a small number of the coppers which moved at all, and with most of these the direction was downward. With the exception of Isle Royale, which fell 2 1/2 from Wednesday, the last previous day when it was quoted, there were nothing but fractional changes.

Atlantic and Baltic both continued to drop, the former going off an eighth to 27%, and the latter falling another half to 27 1/2. Isle Royale dropped to 50%, a loss of 2 1/2 since Wednesday. Osceola, Tecumseh and Winona gained fractionally.

Wheat fell Saturday, though the drop was not as great in either option as the rise the day before. September went off 1/8 to 70 and December fell 1/8 to 72 1/2. E. G. Logan said in his Saturday wheat letter to Paine, Webber & Co.:

"Chicago, Aug. 12.—Wheat in spite of disappointing cables our market has ruled firm with the opening prices the lowest made at present writing. We are of the opinion the sharp advance yesterday of two cents following such a quiet market as we have had shows the tendency of prices for some time. The fact that the price adjusted itself so strongly would seem to prove that short selling had forced values too low and we look for a gradually hardening market with a good rise next month. Around 500,000,000 is all that can be expected, we think, for the total crop, and threshing may still further reduce this estimate. That we will have a good foreign demand goes without saying with conditions as they are in southeastern Europe. We think it will pay to buy wheat on the soft spots and hold for good profits. St. Louis millers say the export demand is from continental markets, Bremen, Hamburg and other north Europe points. Wheat exports for the week were 3,000,000 bushels; 4,700,000 last week. Northwestern receipts were 228 cars, 240 last week. Minneapolis sold 45,000 barrels of flour yesterday, mostly for domestic account. World's shipments are estimated at 5,500,000 bushels; clearances, 314,000 bushels of wheat and 50,000 barrels of flour."
