The Telephone

When you consider this fact, don't you think you are mistaken when you say you "don't need a telephone in your home?" What you have most precious in the world is there, and in the event of accident or danger you would need it even more at your home than at your office. And that is saying a good deal.

ENEMIES OF DREYFUS ARE DISAPPOINTED.

Former Minister for War Freycinet Fails to Confirm the Mysterious Syndicate Story.

PROFESSES IGNORANCE OF GENERAL MERCIER'S ALLEGATIONS.

KNOWS NOTHING OF FOREIGN MONEY RAISED FOR DEFENSE.

Expectations of the Prisoner's Friends Also Shattered by the Failure of Colonel Cordier to Throw Light on Henry's Manipulation of the Bordereau.

Paris, Aug. 29.—The police claim to have found at the residence of a French artillery officer at Nancy a commission in the German army and valuable French army maps. The suspected man belongs to an old Alsatian family, other members of which are suspected of complicity in the affair.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Major Tavernier, acting under the rogatory commission issued by Colonel Jouaust, questioned Colonel Du Paty De Clam yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon and will continue the examination today. According to the Matin, Du Paty has made sensational revelations.

Bennes, Aug. 29.—Paul Meyer, head of Ecole De Charless, was the first witness before the Dreyfus trial this (Wednesday) morning. His testimony begins favorable to the accused.

VICTORY FOR NEITHER SIDE.

Bennes, Aug. 29.—Neither side is pleased with the outcome of today's proceedings.

The Dreyfusards expected that Colonel Cordier, deputy chief of the intelligence department under the late Colonel Henry, would testify that the bordereau was received directly by the late Colonel Sandherr. Had this expectation been realized, the testimony would have been strongly in favor of the accused, because it would have been in reply to the Anti-Dreyfusards, who all along have contended that Colonel Henry received the bordereau and forwarded it to Sandherr, a thing he would not have done had the bordereau been, as the Dreyfusards assert, written by his accomplice, Esterhazy, for, in that event, Henry would have recognized the handwriting when he received the bordereau from the German embassy and would have suppressed it instead of forwarding it to Sandherr.

Colonel Cordier, however, testified that he was absent from the intelligence department when the bordereau arrived, and that he believed it was received by Henry. Naturally, this statement elated the anti-Dreyfusards, but the remainder of Cordier's testimony was wholly in favor of Dreyfus.

MERCIER'S ARREST DELAYED.

On the other hand, the procession of generals and officers of the general staff who demanded opportunity to confront Cordier was a good piece of tactics from the point of view of the Anti-Dreyfusards, because all the points they contested were not of the first importance, yet their very appearance on the stage and their contradiction of some of Cordier's statements left a disagreeable impression.

The appearance of General Mercier to question Cordier came as a surprise to many in the audience, who had supposed that after last Saturday's scenes when Mercier was confronted with Captain Freyzaeter he would remain quiet. But Mercier is game to the death. The part he played in 1894 lays him open to arrest. There appears, however, to be good reason why the government will not take any such serious step until the trial is over. Colonel Jouaust could adjourn the trial indefinitely if Mercier, who is an important witness, were arrested. If the trial were adjourned for more than forty-eight hours it would lapse and the proceedings would have to be gone over again from the beginning.

DE FREYCINET ON THE FENCE.

Today's attendance was the largest since the opening of the trial. Everybody was on the qui vive to hear the testimony of Charles De Freycinet, senator, former premier, former minister for foreign affairs and former minister for war. This aloof politician—the "white mouse" of French politics—sat upon the fence as well as he could. His expression of fear that the Dreyfus agitation would injure the discipline of the army greatly annoyed the Dreyfusards, as calculated to influence the judges against the accused. But he followed it with an eulogy of the pioneer of the Dreyfus campaign, M. Scheurer-Kestner, former vice president of the senate, whose character, he said, he held in the highest esteem.

M. Labori then secured another concession favorable to Dreyfus, by getting M. De Freycinet to admit that he could not recall a single fact going to prove that money had been sent into France from abroad to promote the campaign in favor of Dreyfus. This statement was a great disappointment to the army people, for it was expected that the witness would throw much light on the subject of the alleged famous syndicate. But the clever De Freycinet expressed entire ignorance. He apparently knew nothing, or pretended to, of any such syndicate. General Mercier having sworn that General Jamont told him De Freycinet had said there existed one through which England and Germany had already spent thirty-five millions of francs. The general feeling also is that neither has the defense been materially helped by the appearance of the ex-minister on the witness stand.

SATISFIED OF HIS INNOCENCE.

Colonel Cordier, the first witness of the day, having been released from his oath of professional secrecy since his former appearance, gave the history of the bordereau. He said that after the verdict of the first court-martial he believed Dreyfus guilty. Then he told how his suspicions were aroused by the infamous campaign against Colonel Piquart and by other events until now he is absolutely convinced of Dreyfus' innocence. The witness declared that the Henry forgery could have no other object but the ruin of Piquart with a view of giving Henry his place.

Ex-Premier De Freycinet, the next witness, was expected to throw light on the alleged foreign collection of the millions for Dreyfus' defense as asserted by General Mercier; but he had only a most general remembrance of the conversation on the subject with General Jamont. The remainder of the ex-minister's deposition consisted of a patriotic speech, exhorting his hearers to work for the pacification of the country and especially to avoid doing anything to weaken the confidence of the army in its generals.

A couple of unimportant witnesses followed, and the court adjourned.

DEMANDS IMMEDIATE TRIAL.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Paul Deroulede, founder of the League of Patriots and a member of the chamber of deputies, who was arrested charged with being involved in a conspiracy to accomplish a change in the form of government, has written a letter to President Loubet violently protesting against the "gross calumny involved in sending me for trial as a royalist conspirator" and demanding to be tried without further delay.

Paris, Aug. 29.—M. Lissajoux, who supplied the Eclair with the information from which the "Cete canaille de D—" article was concocted, was arrested today. The prisoner declared the article made up from information received from several persons, not from the documents; that he knew nothing about its origin.

DEMANDS ON BOERS ENLARGED.

A REPORTED MOVE BY BRITAIN THAT INCREASES ACUTENESS OF THE AFRICAN SITUATION.

London, Aug. 29.—The Pretoria correspondent of The Chronicle, telegraphing under date of Tuesday, says events have taken an alarming turn.

"Great Britain, at the request of the uitlanders' council," he says, "has enlarged the original demands of Sir Alfred Milner and is adopting the view of Cecil Rhodes that Kruger will never withstand the ultimatum. I have, however, high authority for asserting that Kruger, the volksraad and the nation will unconditionally and unconditionally demand for the giving effect to the Milner program, but will concede reforms on the conditions already reported."

NEUTRALITY SPEECH DISLIKED.

Cape Town, Aug. 29.—The members of the Progressive party of the Cape house of assembly freely declare their dissatisfaction with the speech of Premier Schreiner last evening [given in yesterday's dispatches]. They announce their intention of organizing public meetings to protest against the premier's course.

Dispatches today from Pretoria and Durban show that the uitlander women are preparing a petition to Queen Victoria in favor of peace.

JOUBERT LOOKING FOR WAR.

Johannesburg, Aug. 29.—The Standard and Digger News [the Boer organ] credits General Joubert with the statement that, although personally he desires to do everything to preserve peace, the situation is such that the republic must be prepared for war.

WHEELER TO RELIEVE FUNSTON.

"FIGHTING JOE" NOW TO COMMAND THE FAMOUS BRIGADE.

Manila, Aug. 29.—General "Joe" Wheeler has been ordered to report to MacArthur. He will be given the command of Funston's brigades.

NO THOUGHT OF SURRENDER.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—De Mariano Ponce, private secretary of Aguinaldo, is here enroute from London to Manila. In an interview he said: "My country still fights and will fight for its independence, because it is fully convinced it is a duty imposed by Providence. The Philippines will become an American possession only when there are no more Filipinos."

AGUINALDO AGAIN A CORPSE.

Hamilton, O., Aug. 29.—A copy of a Japanese newspaper dated July 22, just received here, asserts that in the latter part of June, near San Fernando, the insurgent General Pio del Pilar killed Aguinaldo in a quarrel.

MORE VOLUNTEERS REACH HOME.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The transport Grant, bearing the Idaho, Wyoming and Dakoto regiments, was sighted shortly before 11 o'clock tonight.

FOREMAN HAS DISAPPEARED.

CORONER'S INQUIRY INTO THE COLISEUM DISASTER BRINGS TO LIGHT SENSATIONAL FACTS.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The coroner began today an investigation of the Coliseum disaster to ascertain who is held legally responsible. The discovery was made by the coroner that when the iron frame fell it was being used to support the pulleys for hoisting the heavy timbers. This knowledge was withheld the day before and caused a sensation when obtained. The search for John J. Johnson, foreman, developed the fact that an hour after the accident he disappeared. John Marshman, who was injured yesterday, died tonight, bringing the total deaths to ten.

NOT PERMANENTLY CRIPPLED.

LONDON SPECIALIST CAN CURE WELLMAN'S INJURED LEG.

London, Aug. 29.—A specialist consulted by Walter Wellman reports that the injury to Wellman's right leg, which was seriously hurt by a fall into a snow-covered crevasse, will not be permanent; that he expects Wellman will be well in a few months. He will, however, have to undergo two operations.

DREYFUS CASE HERE AT HOME.

Captain Carter Put on the Pedestal With the Much Abused French Officer.

LAWYER FRANKLIN M'VEAGH IS SURE HE IS INNOCENT.

ATTACKS THE WHOLE SYSTEM OF MILITARY COURT-MARTIAL.

In a Brief Prepared for the Attorney General's Opinion It is Declared the Engineer Was Wrongfully Convicted of Stealing Government Funds.

ANOTHER TRIAL DEMANDED FOR HIM.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Frank P. Blair, counsel for Captain Oberlin M. Carter, of the United States Engineer corps, in the court-martial which convicted that officer of robbing the government and sentenced him to dismissal from the army, to a five years' term in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000, recalled today the brief prepared for his client by Wayne MacVeagh of Pennsylvania.

LIKE THE FRENCH CASE.

The brief is addressed to Attorney General Griggs, who is expected to review it and present an opinion on the case to the president. The brief places the convicted man on a pedestal with Dreyfus, MacVeagh arguing that there is the closest analogy between the cases of the two men. The attorney also devotes considerable space to attacking the members of the court-martial.

He expresses his personal view of the case in the following words: "I began the examination of the record of the trial with the strongest impression produced by what I had read in the newspapers, that Carter must be guilty. A most careful study of the evidence has completely satisfied me that Carter is as innocent a man as I am." MacVeagh declares his client will not ask for "mercy" from the president. It is not a pardon he is demanding, but a fair trial.

MILITARY TRIALS DENOUNCED.

MacVeagh follows with a severe arraignment of the whole system of trials by court-martial and asserts that they follow no recognized rules of evidence. As a rule the officers composing the court are untrained by their training for sitting in a judicial capacity.

CHINA AFTER YANKEE CAPITAL.

IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT BACK OF A SCHEME AIMING TO SECURE THE SUPPORT OF UNCLE SAM.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The Call tomorrow will say that a Chinese-American corporation is in progress of organization with a capital of twenty millions for the purpose of establishing large enterprises in China. The prime mover is said to be the Chinese consul general at San Francisco, Ho You. It is understood the Chinese government is back of the undertaking. It is surmised that the object of the Oriental statesmen is to induce the investment in China of American capital in such large amounts as will influence the United States government to take an active interest in Chinese politics and indirectly resist the aggression of the European powers and prevent the dismemberment of the Chinese empire.

SHOCKING CRIME IN MANITOBA.

FREDERICK JOHNSON OF GILBERT PLAINS SLAYS HIS FAMILY OF FOUR AND HIMSELF.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 29.—Details of a horrible Gilbert Plains tragedy have just been received. Frederick Johnson for some time past was low-spirited and spoke of hanging himself. On Sunday with a single-barreled breach-loading gun he shot his wife below the heart. Beside her the body of her babe was found with the head blown completely off, while Arthur, aged five, and Clifford, three, were shot just below the left ear. Both of their heads were blown partly off. The murderer was found lying near with his throat gashed in two places.

A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

That the administration intends to prosecute a campaign of great vigor in the Philippines when offensive operations are resumed late in the fall is shown by the activity now displayed in getting troops and war supplies there.

Hence there was some indecision as to the effort that it would be necessary to put forth, or that it would be wise to put forth, to subdue the insurgents.

Now no doubt exists on that point. The insurgents intend to fight to the bitter end against having our supremacy established in the Philippines, and our government has finally learned that to whip them is no summer's day picnic.

The duty of all good citizens is to stand loyally and heartily by the administration in what it is doing to bring the trouble in the Philippines to a termination that will cast no discredit on our government.

A FARMERS' TRUST.

Now we are in for it in earnest. The farmers have become infected with the trust contagion, and are organizing to control the prices of what they produce.

With sufficient capital, it is possible that this could be done for a time, but it is doubtful if the Topeka farmers who have embarked in the movement considered will succeed in bringing the world to their feet as easily as they expect.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of School District No. 1, of the City of Marquette, Mich., for the election of two school trustees, and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it, will be held at the City Hall, on Washington street, in said City of Marquette, on Monday, the 4th of September, A. D. 1909, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The Light & Power commission has arranged with Mr. Frank Pendill to sell incandescent lamps at his drug store, corner Front and Washington streets, at the following prices: 8 and 16 candlepower, 21 cents; 22 candlepower, 30 cents; 25 candlepower, 50 cents.

UPPER PENINSULA NEWS.

Charles Juttner, aged fifty-five, an old resident of Menominee, dropped dead at the station Monday. He had just returned from a fishing trip.

The Soo water power people are having a great deal of trouble just now in obtaining laborers on the works. There seems to be an unusual scarcity of laborers all over this year, and especially so in the upper peninsula.

The E. D. Smith Co., water power contractors at the Soo, are hustling operations at a lively rate. The company is employing about 700 men. It is working five steam shovels and ten locomotives and a scene of great activity is presented all along the right-of-way of the canal.

During the storm Saturday, lightning played a queer freak at C. G. Reid's boarding house at Brimley. A bolt struck the chimney, ripped paper off the walls near by, smashed a lot of bottles into smithereens, bulged out the side of the house on the exterior, and wound up its pranks by taking the legs off from a child's bed in which the two-weeks-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Reid was sweetly sleeping.

Several times this summer George T. Arnold has had to order whitefish (packed in ice in a fish car) from Chicago to supply the St. Ignace market. On one day in particular his boat from the Soo and intermediate fishing stations brought in eighteen cars of lake trout and less than 100 pounds of whitefish.

A deposit of fine pottery clay has been discovered on the farm of Arch'd Reavie, just outside of St. Ignace, many acres in extent, which has been tested by B. J. Collins, a potter as well as painter by trade, and is by him pronounced to be of the best quality for the manufacture of earthenware he has ever seen.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad company has taken its entire Michigan land grant off the market temporarily. This is done for the purpose of "taking inventory," or in other words, to have the lands looked over.

At the close of this season Deer Park will be practically deserted and, save for the life saving station and the ruins of a few houses, nothing will be left to mark the site of what was once a busy little burg. E. E. Bradley & Sons have stripped the pine from their holdings in that section and this season the mill will saw its last stick of timber.

A nery jail delivery occurred at the Soo about 7 o'clock last Friday night, when Frank Whalen, who was confined in the county jail awaiting trial at the September term of court, coolly walked out of his cell, through the front door and to the street before his escape was detected.

From many portions of Chippewa county come reports of great damage to spring wheat by the midge. The injury to the cereal by this pest seems to be quite general throughout the county, though some farmers are of the opinion that the damage is greater in wheat grown on what is known as the burnt lands than it is on bush lands.

AMERICAN HORSES IN EUROPE.

Thousands Bought for Cavalry Service—How the Trade Started.

There is one business that has not been crushed by the war, and that is the export trade in horses. In fact, Europeans are buying more American horses than ever, if anything, and it now seems probable that more than half of the old world's cavalry will ultimately be supplied with American mounts.

European faith in the American horse for any purpose is, comparatively, a new thing. It was born of the slump in horse flesh on this side of the sea that came with the trolley and bicycle booms. Before that American prices were invariably too high for the European pocket, but then the surplus of horses soon became so great as to cut prices two or three times in half, reducing them below the European figures, in fact.

Nearly 70,000 horses were sent abroad from the United States last year. Of these 42,670 were shipped from New York alone, and at the present rate the total shipments from that port will be larger this year than last.

"Most of the horses shipped here," said a man who is intimately connected with the export trade in horses to the writer recently, "are sent through two well known stables, one located in the borough of Manhattan and the other across the river in Hoboken. Seven thousand went from the Hoboken stable last year and 26,207 from the one in Manhattan, while 8,800 were sent from scattering stables or put aboard ship direct from the cars as they came from the west."

"At the present time shipments are going forward in greater numbers and with greater steadiness than ever before. Regularly on Saturday the Atlantic Transport Line of steamers, plying between this port and London, carries a cargo of 250, while a like number is also taken each Saturday by the Wilson-Furness line, sailing direct for London. On Tuesdays regularly 300 to 500 are taken by the big White Star freighters, and on Saturday there are shipments of almost equal proportions by the Hamburg-American boats. Besides, irregular shipments go by the Wilson line to Hull, Glasgow and London, fortnightly shipments are sent by the Phoenix line to Antwerp and tramp steamers often include horses in their cargoes.

The biggest dealers in these horses on the other side are, probably, William Cruit, of Liverpool, and Pritchard & Moore, of London. They hold weekly sales, Cruit's being Tuesdays and Pritchard & Moore's on Wednesdays, and the number of horses disposed of by each every week is about 250. Adam Machatti, of Glasgow; Henry A. and Charles Fleischmann and W. Schlesinger & Co., of Vienna; Morganstein Ruszka, of Berlin; Berman Bros., of the same place; Grandi Bros., of Bologna, Italy, and George Watson, of London, are also important factors in the American horse trade abroad.

"It would not be easy to find out how large a proportion of these horses are bought for cavalry service," the speaker continued, "but I have no doubt that a larger number of those going to Australia find their way into the cavalry than elsewhere. Unquestionably the cavalry service of the country now includes thousands of horses bred on this side of the water.

"Austrian cavalry horses are undoubtedly selected with greater care than those of any other country. Horses with hoofs pointed inward or outward are invariably rejected. To be acceptable the hoofs must point straight to the front, since horses with such hoofs are rarely subject to 'interference' or 'over reaching,' two vices which are considered detrimental in cavalry mounts. Horses with ewe necks and unduly sloping shoulders are also thrown out, while, of course, the animal with a deep chest, high withers and an arched neck is always in demand. American breeders have lately been paying special attention to these points, and if the good work is continued right along the demand in this country for European cavalry horses is sure to increase almost indefinitely.

France and Russia probably come next to Austria as buyers of American horses for the cavalry service. Russia buys them in great numbers, openly, the same as Austria; but not so France. Such a course, as the writer was informed by the horseman above quoted, would raise the biggest kind of a row among the Gauls. They hold that everything bought by the government should be produced in France, if possible, and that French horses are second to none in the world.

"This is unquestionably true with regard to heavy animals for draught purposes, but the French product of horses fit for cavalry falls far short of the demand. American horses get into the service, however, through the hands of speculators; who buy them at sales in Vienna, Bologna and Brussels and then take them to France, where they are turned out and kept for a season and then sold to the government as genuine French bred animals.—Philadelphia Times.

could say. She has been playing at Fort Sheridan, Park for two weeks past, under the name of Enid Delle, and while there she met Corporal McAndrews, of the cavalry, and they have fallen in love and been married. She told me last night that she was going to the Philippines with him, and I am sure she is on the train. I cannot bear to think of her going alone with all those men—and to such a distant country. Can't you keep her from going, sir? I'll bless you all my life. She is not yet fifteen years old, just a child yet, and doesn't realize what she is doing. She is mad with love for the corporal. Not but what he is a brave young fellow, but they are young and foolish. She must not be allowed to go."

Captain Thorpe told her there was no possibility of her going on the train; the officers would not allow it. To satisfy the mother, the train was searched, but the girl was not found either in or under the seats.

The mother was not satisfied, and appealed to station Agent John J. Condon, and he, together with conductor Simmons, made another investigation. But the girl could not be found.

The anxious mother suggested going through the baggage cars, which were packed with saddles, blankets and camp equipment. Conductor Simmons laughed, but climbed about through the cars to satisfy her. Just as he was about to give up the search he saw under a pile of saddles a bit of muslin fluttering. More out of curiosity than from any belief that the print had an owner he removed the saddles and boxes and found the girl. She had hidden herself away in this little corner with the hope of evading the officers until she was out of the city, when she hoped to win their permission to accompany her corporal lover across the seas.

When the train arrived at the Chicago & Northwestern depot the patrol wagon of the East Chicago avenue police station was sent for, and the young Mrs. McAndrews was taken to the dormitory of the Harrison street police station.

"Never mind," pretty declared the girl, with a defiant toss of her head, "I love him and I will go to him yet. He is my husband. We were married in Waukegan last week. I was to have met my brother, James H. McAndrews, in Milwaukee. He was to take me to Meskanch of my husband's father, H. P. McAndrews, who has extensive holdings near Hamilton, Mont. There I was to live with his folks, who are wealthy, until my husband returned from the Philippines."

"No, I guess there will be no prosecution," said Dr. Wetzel, the girl's stepfather, last night, "but just let me get my hands on Mr. Corporal McAndrews."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

STOCK SHARKS WROTH. PROTEST AGAINST GOVERNOR MURPHY'S EXPOSURE OF THE ARIZONA MINING SWINDLES.

Governor Murphy of Arizona recently exposed some of the copper mining swindles in that territory which have been so liberally advertised the past year or so. His statement must have hurt the stock dealings in these wildcat ventures, for news now comes that a protest against the executive has been sent to the secretary of the interior. It was in Arizona that the second famous Wahnita was discovered with its copper running 55 per cent. Here is the wall that goes up from those who would do their mining on the stock boards: "Governor Murphy constitutes himself a court, jury and executioner to pass, without being asked to do so, upon the merit of the industrial enterprises in the territory. If the governor of a territory is to be allowed to commence to do such things, there is no telling where the end will be and no man can safely engage in the business of mining, or any other business, in the territory without consulting the governor beforehand as to the position he will take in relation."

Governor Murphy secured reports from experts on the various properties before denouncing them, and being disinterested and having the welfare of the territory at heart, his purpose evidently is to kill off the illegitimate projects.

OPERATIONS AT THE TUCUMSEH.

At the Tucumseh, the shaft on the Oscuela lode has been sunk to a depth forty-seven feet below the seventh level. At that level drifts twenty feet in length have been extended north and south. Sinking will be continued to the tenth level, the main drift being similarly started at the intervening levels, after which the work of extending all the drifts will be pushed rapidly. In this latter work eight drills will be employed, while sinking below the tenth level will be continued with two drills. During the last 170 feet of sinking in this shaft excellent stamp rock was encountered, and in cutting the drifts much trouble was experienced, the chippings being largely of copper. It is now looked upon as probable that the east shaft on the Tucumseh is on the same lode that developed the Centennial management, for owing to its location it was believed to be the Kearsarge belt and much time was lost before the Kearsarge was located some 150 feet west of it. The Tucumseh people will profit by the new knowledge regarding these formations, and will now endeavor to locate the Kearsarge lode west of the shaft above referred to.

IMPROVEMENT AT CENTENNIAL.

The shaft to be started to encounter the Kearsarge lode at the Centennial is well under way, having already attained a depth of over thirty feet. It is being sunk at an angle of 42 degrees. In this connection it might be interesting to note that a change for the better has taken place in No. 1 shaft on the Oscuela lode at the Centennial. The last 100 feet sunk in this shaft was not too encouraging, but a few days ago, at a depth of forty feet below the ninth level, a very rich chute of copper rock was encountered which has since been blasted into considerably and shows heavy in stamp and barrel work. The vein matter is of a changed character, the lode being full of epidote. The company is engaged in building a roadway from the old mine workings to the location of the new shaft on the Kearsarge lode.

TRI-MOUNTAIN'S FINE SHOWING.

The rich showing at the Tri-Mountain has become a matter of local gossip, and is said by those who have visited it within the past few days to be fully equal to the original discovery pit on the Copper Range lands adjoining to the south—and this is saying a good deal. The lode was reached by a shaft sunk twenty-seven feet through sand. A derrick hoist has been installed and the sand is being hoisted with a bucket preparatory to shaping a three compartment shaft which will be 19 by 4 by 7 feet within timbers. The shaft operations will henceforth be conducted with every dispatch, and it will be cribbed up and enclosed for successful winter operations. The lode shows a width of from sixteen to twenty feet.

ELM RIVER SHAFTS DOWN 50 FEET.

At Elm River two shafts have been sunk and cribbed to respective depths of fifty feet, and sinking was resumed at each Friday morning. Both shafts are equipped with boilers and hoisting plants, and the work is being conducted under the most favorable auspices, as all the heavy machinery necessary until the property is furnished modern facilities for transportation is at hand.

M'NAMARA GETS THE REWARD.

DRAFT FOR $400 SENT THE DEPUTY SHERIFF FOR THE ARREST OF CALUMET POSTAL THIEVES.

The full reward for the capture of the Calumet postoffice robbers, Foster and Manning, goes to whom it rightfully belongs—Deputy Sheriff John T. McNamara, who secured the first clue to the robbery and followed it up until the principals were lodged behind the prison bars. Yesterday's mail brought Mr. McNamara a draft for $400, accompanied by the following letter, dated Washington: John T. McNamara, Houghton, Mich.

Dear Sir:—I have the honor to hand you herewith postoffice department warrant No. 4348, drawn in your favor on the assistant United States treasurer at Chicago, for $400, the amount awarded you by the postmaster general as a reward for services in the arrest and conviction of Wallace C. Foster and William Manning on the charge of burglary of the postoffice at Calumet, Mich., on Aug. 6, 1897. Please date and sign the accompanying receipt and return to this office.

FOURTH ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL ACCUSED OF STEALING $17.

John Tate and Joseph Almshol of the Franklin, Jr., were lodged in jail yesterday morning on complaint of Frank Madgsl. The trio boarded with Joseph Durick, and Madgsl claims that some time Monday afternoon Almshol opened his trunk and stole $17 in cash, two razors, a coat and various other articles

FOOD FOR WASTES: Wonderful Manner in Which the Mother Provides for Them. The wasp is not a vegetarian like the bee, and our cement maker has before her the problem of supporting her young with meat, rather than with bread. As her eggs are laid out in hot weather, and as enough food must be stored in the cell with the egg to mature the young insect, the question is how to preserve the meat fresh for so long a time. She meets the difficulty thus: After a tube is finished at one end, which is left open, she flies off on a hunt for spiders. She finds a fat, healthy one, pounces upon it, strings it and carries off and places it in the mud cell. She repeats this process until she has placed as many spiders in the tube as, according to her judgment, will be needed. She then lays an egg in the cell and walls up the opening. The remarkable thing about this performance is the magic effect of her sting, whether it is the result of a subtle poison or whether it is a special spot in the spider's nervous system where the sting is inserted we do not know. Certain it is, that after thus stung the spider lives on in a paralyzed condition for weeks and even months. It can move only slightly, and remains helpless in its mud sepulcher until the wasp egg hatches into a voracious grub, which at once falls to and eats with great relish the meat thus miraculously preserved.

Whether the wasp sting renders the spider insensible to pain or not is a question not yet settled. However, the chances are in favor of the theory that it does. Anyway, we need waste no sympathy on the spider, the most bloodthirsty of all the little people of the fields and woods. There is a sense of retributive justice in the thought of a spider helpless and at the mercy of a small insect which it would have mercilessly devoured were it able. So we need not accuse our alert, industrious cement maker of any unreasonable cruelty if she, like us, insists upon a meat diet for her young, nor need we have any fear of her sting, for the seldom uses it as a weapon of offense or defense.—The Chautauquan.

DIAMOND MINE WAS BOGUS. Swindling Game That Fooled Many Wealthy People Thirty Years Ago. "I saw a reference the other day to the great Arizona diamond field swindle," said an old jeweler of this city. "It was sprung on the public just thirty years ago and well I remember the excitement it created. The originator of the scheme came from New Orleans. He was a brilliant man, a chemist, geologist and natural diplomat, but he lacked moral counterpoise. He and his associates procured a number of uncut stones from Holland and 'salted' a canon in the mountains south of the Gila river. Then followed the 'discovery' and the organization of a company, and in a few months nearly $200,000 worth of stock was sold. It was several years before the exact character of the swindle was developed, and by that time the affairs of the company were so confused that nobody cared to undertake a prospectus. I saw the 'professor,' as he was called, at Ogden, Utah, in 1884, and he described the whole affair with great glee. Afterward he was mixed up in two other shady enterprises. One was a device for refining sugar by electricity. Both were fakes, but he made a lot of money out of them, and as usual escaped punishment. It was the old story, however, he went broke in the end and died a few years ago in the charity ward of a Chicago hospital. A good deal of the diamond mine stock was taken in New Orleans, and I dare say some of it is kicking around here to this day."

MICHIGAN'S METROPOLIS.

THE GREAT AND GROWING CITY OF THE STRAITS.

All Roads Lead to Detroit—Practical Applications Worth Weighing by Our Readers.

In 1897 the conventions held in Detroit brought that city 100,000 visitors. Last year the number reached 75,000, and this year it will amount to probably 250,000. These visitors are charmed with Detroit and very many will come again. At each recurring visit they will note improvements, progress, and continued growth in everything that makes up a great city.

Of the 15 largest cities of the country, Detroit stands second in percentage of growth from 1880 to 1890. It being exceeded only by Chicago. Its percentage of increase in that decade was 76.9-10 per cent. The present assessed value of Detroit's real estate is over $100,000,000 and of her personal property over $38,000,000. Detroit is a beautiful, enterprising and solid city. Her merchants and manufacturers keep abreast of the times in their displays of stocks and staple articles, and buyers need seek no farther than her hospitable limits to find anything they want, and of the best.

The firms below, leaders in their lines, invite the trade of our retail dealers and all others interested. The promptness and courtesy which have built up these establishments is the best recommendation we can offer for them to our readers.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womenly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

IRON STREET FLOODED.

SEWERS WERE UNABLE TO HANDLE THE FLOOD MADE BY THE HEAVY RAIN MONDAY NIGHT.

The need that exists for the sewer which is being built to carry away the water of Partridge creek when rains or freshets swell that stream was demonstrated Monday night. The sewer connection proved inadequate to handle the flood resulting from the rain, and the iron street crossing of the Northwestern railroad was flooded for a couple of hours yesterday morning. The depot was surrounded with several inches of water and it took a couple of hours for it to drain away down the tracks.

LOCAL LAONICS.

A. G. Johnson of Sidnaw was here Monday.

Louis Goodrich has resigned his position with Philias Bernard.

C. L. Sporely left yesterday morning for a trip down the Menominee range.

William Hocking, who returned from a year's visit to England a few weeks ago, is about to start handling farm produce about the city.

Louis Miller has resigned the position which he has held at the Savings Bank. He has been proffered several places in local stores and intends to continue his residence here. It is probable that he will enter Rosen Bros' store.

"A Royal Prisoner," which appears at the opera house this evening, is a good show. The company presenting it gave a performance at Ishpeming Monday night which was very satisfactory. True S. James appears to great advantage as the star, and the members of the supporting company are capable performers. The piece is a high class comedy founded on a dramatic incident in Russian history, and is put on with fine stage accessories. Reserved seats are on sale at the usual place.

BATTLE OF SEA MONSTERS.

Strange Sight Witnessed by a Ship's Crew on the Pacific Ocean.

Captain Peabody of the bark Willscott, just arrived at Victoria, B. C., tells of having seen a gigantic octopus fight with, vanquish and feast on a sunfish of about 3,000 pounds weight in the Pacific some hundreds of miles out from San Francisco in the course of vessels sailing from Honolulu to Nansimo. In his log entry in relation to the deep-sea monster he says:

"In latitude 39.30 north, longitude 136 west, my attention was called by the quartermaster, Frank Bostock of San Diego, to a terrible commotion in the water about three points northward of the lee beam. While we were watching the breaking of the water ceased. Then we could distinctly see the outline of two objects on the surface. We got our telescopes to bear on them and discovered the smaller of the two was a very large sunfish, a curiously shaped fish all head and no body. It appeared to be fully twelve feet in diameter and must have weighed 3,000 pounds. Its adversary was a huge octopus, the length of whose body was certainly forty feet and the breadth about twenty-five feet, with eight tentacles. We advanced sufficiently close to make an accurate examination. The octopus' eyes were large, of a greenish tint and somewhat protruding; its mouth, however, was not so very large, and it appeared to be shaped like a parrot's bill. Its tentacles were tapering, and like its body, of a grayish color, covered with spots. It appeared to possess the chameleon-like power of changing the color of these spots as fast as the eye could detect the changes. Suddenly the octopus discharged a huge jet of dark-colored fluid full in the eyes of the sunfish and then, rushing forward with the rapidity of an arrow, it encircled its prey with the long tentacles, and in a moment the victor and vanquished had disappeared below the surface. In a few moments more we had sailed right over the scene, and found the water was colored almost black for a space of fully 200 feet in diameter, and we noticed an odor slightly resembling iodine rising from the water. About twenty minutes later we saw the huge creature again on the surface enjoying its meal of sunfish."

BLACK SNAKE VERSUS RATTLER.

Vivid Description of a Fight Between Them Witnessed in the Australian Bush.

It was in Australia and in the fall of the year. My friend and I were returning from a tour which had carried us far into the bush, as the forests of gum trees and scrub are there called. We were walking through a clearing, when the unmistakable rattle of a snake arrested us and in a few minutes we saw the beginning of a fierce encounter between two deadly enemies—a black snake and a rattler. These two branches of the snake family are hereditary and implacable foes. The black snake is much smaller than the rattler, but he is a terribly formidable foe, and as science is superior to mere size or strength, he generally comes out of the fray victorious. He gives himself no rest until he gains a point of vantage from which he can make a sudden swoop upon the noisy foe. On this occasion we did not see the black snake until he leaped on the rattler's throat, nor could we afterward make out how he had got so near without being seen. That power of silent, stealthy, rapid movement gives the black fellow an immense advantage over the rattling enemy. It is that, indeed, on which his hope of victory mainly depends. Let the blacky by a sudden leap grasp the throat of the unwary rattler and the chances are he will never let go again "until death does them part," but if that first chance be lost and the two meet in fair fight, after fair warning, the fangs of the rattler are pretty sure to gain him the victory.

LAKE WATERWAYS AND CANALS.

The correspondence of the president and secretary of the Lake Carriers' association with the war department, which has been partially given out by the department, relative to certain canal enterprises in progress or projected, indicates the attitude of the lake shipping interests toward all such projects.

The protests are, so far as can be judged from the extracts given out, specifically directed against the water power canal now approaching completion at the Sault and the projected ship canal connecting Lakes St. Clair and Erie by a cut across Canadian territory. The proposition is that an international commission be appointed to consider whether permits should be granted for those and other works of similar character which may affect the depth of water in the channels connecting the lakes.

In the case of the Sault water power canal, the United States engineer in charge of that district, Colonel Lydecker, strenuously urged that no permit be granted for such works without the approval of an international commission, but for some reason his suggestion was ignored and the representative of the company obtained the necessary sanction to begin the work. Connection has not, however, been made between the waters above and below the rapids, so that there is yet time for government interference.

The Sault water power canal lies wholly within United States territory and the projected Lake St. Clair and Erie ship canal entirely within Canadian territory, but it is claimed that the water diverted by the water power canal may affect the depth in both the United States and Canadian ship canals at the Sault, while the diversion by the Lake St. Clair and Erie canal may lower the water at dangerous points in the channel between the two lakes. The question, therefore, becomes an international one and the lake marine interests on that account suggest the advisability of an international commission of engineers to pass upon the probable effect of the proposed works on existing waterways.

Although, so far as given out, no allusion is made in the correspondence to the effect of the Chicago drainage canal on the lake waterways, it is evident that the shipping interests are not friendly to that enterprise. Without question the whole subject will come up in some form in the coming congress and the Chicago people may as well prepare for strong opposition from the lakes, as well as from St. Louis and the people along the proposed course for mixed lake water and Chicago sewage.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"This telegram was brought to Captain Clay as he was cooling his brain with wet towels after a hard engagement with the officers of a Georgia company on the night before. Great was his indignation, and he hastily dispatched his orderly to the telegraph office with his reply: "There is not a word of truth in the story. Must have been started by my political enemies. I acknowledge I am not a total abstainer, but did not buy the pajamas last week, or any other time."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A MOTHER TELLS HOW SHE SAVED HER LITTLE DAUGHTER'S LIFE.

I am the mother of eight children and I have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

BROUGHT A FINE PREMIUM.

New Issue of School Bonds Awarded to Detroit State Savings Bank Yesterday.

BEST SALE EVER MADE OF SUCH SECURITIES HERE.

Premium Reduces The Net Rate of Interest to About Three and Three Sixths Per Cent—Very Low Considering Rate and Time.

SCHOOL BOARD REFUNDS OLD BONDS.

The school board yesterday accepted the bid of the State Savings bank of Detroit for the new issue of school bonds. The premium was $1,515, which will make the net rate of interest the board will have to pay on the issue about 3 3/8 per cent. This is the best sale of municipal or school bonds ever made here, and the successful negotiation of the sale at this handsome premium is a matter of great congratulation among the members of the board.

BIDDERS AND BIDS.

Following is the list of bids received: Mason, Lewis & Co., Chicago, $30,817; Kent County Savings bank, Grand Rapids, $30,610; W. H. Harris & Co., Chicago, $31,134; Farson, Leach & Co., Chicago, $30,913; State Savings bank, Detroit, $31,515; Lamprecht Bros. & Co., Cleveland, $30,957; Denison, Prior & Sons, Cleveland, $30,795; W. J. Hayes & Co., Cincinnati, $30,610; H. M. McGill, Cincinnati, a portion at $1,950 each; Royal Trust Co., Chicago, $29,100; Rudolph Kleyboite & Co., Cincinnati, $30,707.

The sale was undoubtedly helped by a circular which was issued by the board setting forth the bonded indebtedness, actual and assessed valuation and general financial standing of the city. Marquette's financial standing is most excellent and purchasers of its securities have invariably found them good property. Not alone has the city never defaulted on the principal of a bond but it has never missed a single interest payment.

Shortly after the circular had been issued and sent out to various banks and bond brokers Hon. Peter White, who is assessor of the district received a bid from H. M. McGill of Cincinnati, general agent for the Phoenix Fire Insurance company, offering a premium of $50 a thousand for a portion of the issue. His letter was incorporated in an advertisement published in The Mining Journal. Copies of this were sent to prospective bidders, and as shown in at least one instance, had an influence in raising the bids.

COMPLIMENTARY LETTERS.

Accompanying his formal offer for a part of the issue Mr. McGill sent the following personal letter to Mr. White:

"Cincinnati, Aug. 12, 1899.
"My Dear Mr. White—Was very glad to receive your esteemed favor of the ninth inst., and in reply thereto have brought to the attention of the Fourth and Citizens of the Marquette school bond proposition.

"Fifty years treasurer of the school district in September next—a record of which any man might be proud. How the years fly! What wings they have! You have been agent of the Phoenix in the city of Marquette for forty-one years, and during these years not a cloud has come between us. Indeed the period has been to us as Grover Cleveland might say, 'One grand song.'

"As ever,
"H. M. McGill, general agent."

Accompanying the formal offer of the successful bidder, the State Savings bank of Detroit, was the following from the president, George H. Russel:

"Detroit, Mich., Aug. 25, 1899.
"My Dear Mr. White—Last Monday we received The Mining Journal of the fourteenth inst., containing an advertisement of the Phoenix insurance company of Hartford, Conn., referring to certain bonds which you, as assessor, were to issue.
"I brought the matter up before our board and they considered that the bond of a school district of which you had been assessor several hundred years, which you were willing to commend to this bank, and which bonds were further endorsed by the Phoenix insurance company of Hartford, Conn., ought to be a good investment for the State Savings bank of Detroit, Mich. I was instructed to make a bid for the whole or any part of the issue named in the insurance company's advertisement, which I take pleasure in submitting herein.
"I trust that we may be successful in

THEY TELL IT HERE.

Tell It in the Streets of Marquette and Elsewhere.

Some things cannot be told too often. Repetition gives them added strength. The same old story is pleasant to hear.

When it brings happiness to the home, Brings joy to the afflicted, Tells how burdens can be raised, How the back can be relieved, All the pains and aches removed, Marquette people tell this story, Friends and neighbors talk about it, They tell about their kidney ills, How they suffered, how the cure came, What they think of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is what a citizen says: Mr. Fred Price, of No. 324 Third street, says: "From the result of a strain of my back when at heavy work I was troubled a great deal with dull, aching pains through my loins and kidneys. It was particularly painful if I did any stooping or lifting; at night I could not rest comfortably in my position and rose in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and procured them at the Standard Drug Co. They relieved me promptly and I was soon entirely rid of the trouble."

getting these bonds under our bid, and that you may be continued assessor of that district many centuries after this proposed issue is paid. I am,
"Very truly yours,
"George H. Russel."

WITHIN NARROW LIMITS.

Coppers Slow of Sale and Devoid of Sensation—Wheat Slops Falling.

Boston reported the sales of coppers yesterday more than double what they were the day before but still very small. The market was absolutely devoid of sensation and such stocks as moved at all did so within narrow limits.

Atlantic fell off a point to 27. Boston & Montana made the largest gain on the board and advanced three to 353. Mohawk went up another point to 22. Osceola fell two to 87. Quincy and Tamarack each went up two, the former to 159 and the latter to 227.

The metal continued advancing. Hayden, Stone & Co. reported the London market opening at 276, 113, 34, and closing at the same figures. The previous close was 276, 28.

In their daily copper letter to the local house Paine, Webber & Co. said yesterday:

"Boston, Aug. 29.—London copper opened strong this morning and closed unchanged. Up to 12:30 p. m. 4,521 listed shares changed hands; 8,260 shares of Bonanza changed hands, 2 1/2 being the highest price. The stock was raised about noon and declined to 2, recovering later. There was more of a demand for Mohawk, all the 22 stock being absorbed as quickly as it was offered. During the afternoon the market was quiet and made few changes, fluctuations being within narrow limits. The market closed dull but fairly steady. Sales of active coppers yesterday: Arcadian, 430; Arnold, 65; Atlantic, 85; Baltic, 138; Montana, 50; Calumet & Hecla, 10; Centennial, 150; Cochita, ex-rights, 2,300; Franklin, 50; Mohawk, 275; Old Colony, 100; Parrot, 50; Quincy, 4; Rhode Island, 210; Santa Fe, 2,700; Tamarack, 9; Teconese, 445; Trumountain, 615; United States-Minns, 4,000; Utah, 625; Victoria, 15; Washington, 25; Wolverine, 63; Wyandotte, 50."

After five days of decline wheat rallied and both options closed at the same figures they did Monday. The close was 70 for September and two cents better for December. Both options were weaker on the opening, September starting in at 69 1/2 and touching low an eighth below that. December opened at 71 3/4 to 3/8 and later touched the latter mark, but it rallied and closed at its highest at 72.

F. G. Logan said yesterday in his daily wheat letter to Paine, Webber & Co.:

"Chicago, Aug. 29.—Wheat—Liverpool fell and 3/4 lower, the explanation being the break in the American market and the rather poor spot demand. Weather in Great Britain and Germany is unsettled. Antwerp came 1/2 lower and Paris 1/4 lower. The world's visible decreased according to Bradstreet almost 2,000,000. The market opened easy with considerable liquidation but there was fresh buying under 72 for December which steadied the market and when the report came from the Hungarian minister on the world's estimate of crop showing 87,000,000 bushels under the requirement a still further small advance was scored. Weather was pleasant for harvesting in the northwest and the primary receipts were 593,000, being slightly above fifty per cent. of last year's, while the clearances were only moderate at 290,000 bushels. Receipts from the northwest at St. Louis and Kansas City were considerably below last year, but Toledo overran. Flour sales at Minneapolis by two firms yesterday were 35,000, one-fourth for export. There is considerable evidence from the northwest that the heavy rains are going to affect the quality of the crop and may prove a loss in many places. We think, on this break there has been what may be termed good investment buying, the class of people who usually confine their operations to securities looking upon this commodity as cheap at the price, and we think it is their buying which has taken the wheat sold by professionals the last few days. Beside that the fifth day of a decline usually ends it and a turn for the better is in order whatever the final outcome may be."

F. W. READ RETURNS.

Arrives Home After a Visit to England—Willie Waldorf Astor.

F. W. Read arrived home on the late train night before last from England. Mr. Read left seven weeks ago to go across the pond and returns having enjoyed his visit hugely. He says people over in England are quite as much inclined as their American cousins to poke fun at William Waldorf Astor for expatriating himself, and has brought home several clippings taken from English newspapers showing the feeling there. The following is one of the poetical jibes Willie has had to bear up under:

Mistakes were made when I was born,
I entered in the wrong division;
The butt of democratic scorn,
The mark of journalists' derision,
I've shaken off my country's dust,
New York's Four Hundred cannot hold me,
No matter now for their disgust,
I am an Englishman—behold me!
Chorus.

He is an Englishman!
For he himself has sworn it
That old England he'll adorn it,
And he's not American!
For he might have been New Yorker,
Or Boston-beans-and-porker,
And still American!
But he's tired of his relations,
And he longs for new sensations,
So he's now an Englishman.
Hurrah!

For the new-made Englishman!

"MR. PLASTER OF PARIS."

Popular Price Farce Comedy at the Opera House Saturday Night.

Manager Alfred J. Busby brings to this city the latest success in farce, "Mr. Plaster of Paris," a play with nothing but fun in any of its situations. The company presenting the piece of suggestive yet confusing title comprises the best actors and cleverest actresses in light roles on the stage today. They are all young and the natural vim of youth is infused into the lines of the play, which scintillates with wit. "Mr. Plaster of Paris" will be seen at the opera house, Saturday night. The piece will be played at popular prices, 25, 35, 50 and 75.

TICKLED TO DEATH.

Theater Goes More Than Pleased With Hoyt's "Black Sheep."

Without doubt the best farce comedy which has been seen on the local stage in several seasons is Charles Hoyt's "A Black Sheep," which was presented at the opera house last evening by a most capable company including several prominent members of the original cast.

The show is decidedly Hoyeresque. It has a plot, but it is not remarkable for its depth or intricacy. Its principal purpose is to allow the introduction of a large number of thoroughly good specialties, for which space is made in every act.

William Devere, "Big Bill" Devere, the tramp poet of the west, appears in the part of the Arizona editor, which was written for him by the author and around which the rest of the play was built. All Devere has to do is be natural, but there is so much good natured originality in his makeup that the audience finds his naturalness always pleasing and at times decidedly hilarious. Hot Stuff, the black sheep, was well portrayed by George Allen, whose comedy is of the bubbling over and infectious kind. The masterly characterization of the show is done by Harry Devere in the part of Under Dog, though the role of the bartender is played with a scarcely less perception of its requirements by Thomas Beeson. It would be hard to improve on the work of either.

Mattie Keene in the part of the queen of the burlesque introduced a number of very taking vocal numbers. Lulu Beeson and Lillie Kenwick did some clever dancing, the turn by the former being something unusually good. William Devere sang a capital laughing song, and the audience joined involuntarily in the chorus. In the last act Gilbert Girard introduced a number of animal imitations which made a great hit, calling for repeated encores.

Throughout the show was thoroughly good. The "Black Sheep" is truly a relief from the things which commonly come this way masquerading under the name of farce comedy. In spite of the very warm weather the theater was filled. This is something to cause satisfaction, as on the success of the "Black Sheep" depended whether "The Contented Woman" and the "Trip to Chinatown" would be brought over this circuit. The engagements at the 800 and Marquette were very satisfactory from a box office standpoint and if the towns up the lake patronize the "Black Sheep" with the same liberality the other shows will certainly come this way in the near future.

CAMPS GOING IN.

Dead River Mill Will Put In Five Large Ones This Season.

The equipment went up Dead river yesterday for five camps which are being put in by the Cleveland Sawmill company, which operates the Dead River mill. The company has about 30,000,000 feet of pine still standing up the river and will cut half of it this season. That will give the mill enough logs so it can be run night and day next season. The mill has been changed from a four band to a two band mill and can now be run more economically and satisfactorily than before. About 300 men will be given employment in the camps.

LOCAL MARINE NEWS.

No liners were in here yesterday.

The Thomas Friant left early yesterday morning to continue her journey to Houghton.

The Tuxbury is at the Dead River mill loading lumber for Tonawanda. She was towed here from Baraga.

The Mitchell has finished discharging her cargo of coal and has given her place at Pickands' dock to the Manola, which is now unloading a cargo of about 2,900 tons.

In a day or two the Lake Shore Iron works will launch the big life boat which has been equipped with one of its twelve horse power gasoline engines. The boat and engine are to be thoroughly tested and if the test results as the builders of the engine believe it will probably lead to equipping many of the great lakes with boats which have power of this kind. One of the requirements is that the engine shall continue to operate the boat upside down.
