TWO MORE TRANSPORTS SAIL

In the true happenings in the everyday life of every-day people are materials for most thrilling novels. There are every day stories of suffering heroism, and the final triumph of good over evil - of happiness finally crowning endeavor. Here is a case in point:

In the county of Escambia in Alabama is the little town of Flomaton and there lives Mrs. Mollie Grimes. She was a good wife and mother but several years from her. She realized that this meant the inevitable nervousness and irritability that would surely lose for her the affection of her children and husband, and that as her health declined discord and misery would appear in her home. She was filled with the loving motherly instinct, but two miscarriages in succession almost broke her heart. She had almost lost hope when the clouds rolled away and the light of health and happiness returned.

She tells her story in these words: "I was almost heart-broken to think I could not raise any more children and had to suffer as I had lost two children by miscarriages and I fully expected to lose another when, in August 1897, I learned of and began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Pre-scription and took it un-til after baby was born in November. With my other children I had suffered everything that flesh could suffer but this time I was in perfect health and had a very easy time. I was in labor only a short time. I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines enough for I maybe my own life as well. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets.' The 'Pleasant Pellets' act like a charm.

A publication "devoted to the interests of practical advertising" gets in this whack at the life insurance companies. and though there may be a business motive behind there is a heap of point to it: Life insurance companies do a whole lot of advertising among themselves. Take lots of space in those "trade papers" of insurance whose circulation is limited entirely among insurance men. Sort of a select exultation society over surplus and bigness, but not a cent of productiveness from it all. The man who wants insurance never sees these papers, and if he did he could not get any intelligible information. Some of these days a live man will breathe the spirit of printers' ink on the dead bones of life insurance, and then there'll be "heap much fun" with some of these big surplus companies.

THE TRANSVAAL.

SITUATION OF THE SOUTH AFRI-CAN REPUBLIC IN RELATION TO THE POWERS.

The Transvaal is so called because it is Boers, or Dutch farmers, who left the Boers moved out again from under the aegis of Great Britain, going over the dependent state. For twenty-two years the republic had hard work defending itself againt the Kaffir tribes, and in 1877 than the right of the Transvaal settlers. This time, however, the Boers, who had grown into quite a nation, made up right of a prior occupation." their minds that if anybody was to vacate the premises it should be the English, as they themselves had shifted their quarters often enough. So they quietly got ready, and on Dec. 16, 1880. they started in to whip the British and kept up this amusement until, after the famous battle of Amajuba, they compelled the lion to take off his paws. The Boers were obliged, nevertheless, to pendence and a promise of peace by granting to England a suzerainty over the country.

Swaziland is simply a separate colonial settlement of the British.

The Portuguese territory embraces Delagoa Bay, which indents the coast at its nearest approach to the boundary ameson's raid.

To the east of this lies the Island of Madagascar, of which the French have recently completed their conquest.

The Orange Free State was founded by Dutch emigrants from Cape Colony, was proclaimed British territory in 1848, and was declared free and independent on Feb. 23, 1854. It is chiefly a pastoral and grain-growing country, as distinguished from the Transvaal, where there are extensive industries of metals and It has diamond deposits, however, and ostrich farms.

German rule in Africa dates from 1884, when the German flag was hoisted at various places on the west coast. Elizaeth Wormeley Latimer, in her book, Europe in Africa in the Nineteenth Nile. Century," just from the press of A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, thus tells of German occupation and administration in the Dark Continent.

'Germany, besides large possessions in East Africa, has now settlements on the Atlantic: Togoland, a small district on the Gulf of Guinea, and the Cameroons, a large territory lying between the pos-French Congo, and extending northward to Lake Chad. There is also a large 'sphere of German influence' south of Portuguese Angola. This has been in German possession since 1884, and apparently has not proved profitable, since its development has been recently leased of Transvaal, Orange Free State and

It was agreed in 1885, by the Euopean powers, that the east coast of three spheres of influence among Italy, England and Germany. 'Each power ize and administer it, as opportunity offered, upon a civilized basis.' The three powers did not propose to conquer or annex their 'spheres of influence.' The plan was to charter companies which should by lease obtain authority from kings or tribal chiefs over certain districts, for which they should pay, as rent, an annual subsidy. The principal object of the partition among Italy, England and Germany was that each should confine its operations to its own field, uninterfered with by the others. A German company accordingly, in 1885, rented from the sultan of Zanzibar the long line of coast upon the mainland including Bagamoyo, the African port opposite the Island of Zanzibar, The company was to pay the sultan an annual rent for the acquisition, and was entitled to appropriate the collection of customs.

"This arrangement did not last long. The agents of the company used their authority with masterful Teutonic hands. The Arabs were exasperated and commenced hostilities. They murdered an English missionary who was making his way to the coast on his re-

In 1890 the latter made an agreement 1877, turned what was left into a British with the Imperial British East African company, which was not assumed by the British government until 1894. By it the Congo Free State was to extend braces the conquests over Matabeleland north to Lado, on the western bank of the Nile, north of Lake Albert. When the British government took the territorial jurisdiction of the East African company off its hands it leased to the Congo Free State, during King Leopold's lifetime, the equatorial province available capital. In making this arrangement England had consulted neither France nor Germany. It had seemed to her foreign office that it was a matter between herself and the Belgian state. Both powers, however, intervened, and so successfully that King Leopold asked leave to retire from his engagement. The road from Tanganyika northward has likewise been given up, and Congo Free State retains only a small part of the territory she would gladly have taken upon lease, and which she would have developed jointly with England, giving both countries access to the Albert Nyanza and the equatorial waters of the

Germany respects boundaries, and, since she would not give her assent to the above arrangement, it was felt that it was neighborly and prudent, as she occupies land closely bordering on the "sphere of English influence," to avoid a cause of quarrel. Since 1884 the continent has been di-

This will probably be ready by Nov. 1 and will be the first experiment of the kind in the copper country, although Superintendent Kidwell is introducing the same ecconomizer at the Arcadian mine and mill.

Two Frue vanners-one with a smooth pelt and the other with a corrugatedhave also been ordered from Fraser & Chalmers, as well as a Wilfley table pany of Denver; these machines will be in two years there will be 12,000. The tested against one another in treating the tailings from the mill, and the one increasing the steam pressure and making a number of minor changes they have now been brought up to 300 tons per head, an increase of 33 1-3 per cent.

est week it has had since its rock began there. to go to the Atlantic mill, the old stockpiles having about been cleaned up and the rock coming direct from the mill.

Preparations for the erection of a mill for the Baltic are now under way, and the work of construction will commence the spring. As had been supposed, the mill will be erected on the Salmon Trout near the Atlantic's mill and the prelimrailroad are now in progress.

As it would be necessary to strip about water farther, with a consequent loss low a certain depth it flattens out and is of head, while by building on the other side directly across from the Atlantic mill there would be only about three feet of stripping necessary, it is extremely probable that the latter site will be selected for the new mill; 'n fact, to 2,200 feet deep. The mill will take its water from the Atlantic dam on the Salmon tailings wheel, exactly as the sand is Trout, about 2,000 feet up-stream, and an auxiliary pump will be put in at the at Lake Linden. Forty additional heads lake shore, about 400 feet distant, to are now being put in the mill and eighty supply whatever defficiency may be during the two months of lowest water to stand the additional expense. This year, however, there has been so much rain that both mills could have been each 100 heads in service. The water supplied without trouble from the Salmon Trout alone.

The new mill will be of the most modern type throughout, and its construction would be commenced this fall were t not for the inability to secure material which is experienced on all structures of the kind now going up in the Lake Superior district.

Tawny Metal Stocks Again On the Decline-Wheat Goes Lower.

Under the baleful influence of a tight money market the past few days the poor coppers have been going from bad to worse. Yesterday the list was decidedly saggy. The exceptions were Anaconda, Isle Royale and Winona, each of which advanced a point, and Butte & Boston, which advanced three. All other stocks which moved within equal range went downward. There were also number of fractional losses.

Anaconda's advance of one closed it at Calumet & Hecla fell five to 790. Copper Range opened at 37, but closed closed a point up at 421/2. Old Dominion dropped one to 31%. Winona closed up one at 9. Wyandot suffered a loss of one from Tuesday's close and fell to 3, the owest price ever known for the stock.

The metal market was quite the reverse from the stock market and scored good advance. Tuesday's close, acording to Hayden, Stone & Co.'s quotations, was £75, 11s., 3d. The market was stationary yesterday at £75, 18s., 9d. Paine, Webber & Co. said yesterday in their daily copper letter to the local

A FAIR QUESTION TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS.

DULD you give two cents or two and a half cents for immediate and positive relief from the exhausting and nerve-racking asthma from which you suffer? One dose of Foley's Honey and Tar is positively and unconditionally guar-anteed to give relief, and there are ten doses in a 25 cent bottle-twenty-five doses in a 50 cent

Foley's Honey and Tar will cure asthma if not too far advanced, and always will bring relief. Remember, one dose means relief from the terrible wheezing and choking-up. Is our guarantee worth the price of a trial to you? "Foley's Honey and Tar" is the name.

Louise Prickett, 509 Bryan Ave., Danville, Ill., writes:
"I had suffered several years with Asthma and after trying a great many remedies I had given up all hope. I was advised to try Foley's Honey and Tar. It immediately stops the coughing spells and I get my breath more freely. It is the only medicine that ever gave me relief."

FINE AUTUMN WEATHER.

BUT IT COMES A WEEK TOO LATE TO HELP OUT THE MARQUETTE day. COUNTY FAIR.

The weather of the past few days has een the finest that has been experienced here in considerably over a month. It could not be bettered. Negaunee peo- ing. ple are taking advantage of it to get outside work done in preparation for the last night for a visit of a week or ten winter, and all is bustle about the city. The farms are the scene of great activity when the work of digging the potato crop is in full swing. The farmers are assisted by their wives and children and much extra help. So great is the deabout the city.

PRIME MINISTER AND THE EARL.

A well known earl, who was for a term once had with a long headed prime minister. The latter brought in a certain measure calculated to make the government popular with the working classes, much that representations were made to the imperial authorities on the subject. A dispatch was accordingly sent out to the governor to veto the bill. He sent for the premier.

"I'm sorry, old man," said his excel-lency, "but I've just got orders from LOGGING CONTRACT. home, and I shall have to block that

The premier replied, "Look here, guvnor, I don't care a hang about the imperial guyment or about the queen as far as this thing is concerned, and what's more, I don't care a hang about you. I've made up my mind to get that Il through, and I'll bring it through.

The governor, who was politic, asked the "old man" to have a drink, and dropped the subject. The measure in question became law in due course .-London Chronicle.

STONE-BALL WEDDING A SWELL AFFAIR. Ball to John Grover Stone took place yesterday at noon in St. Paul's cathedral, and was a very beautiful and impressive ceremony. The parents of both bride and groom are prominent residents of Marquette, the bride being the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan H. Ball, and the groom being the son of Judge and Mrs.

All the world believes that "happy is yesterday was one of the most perfect of autumnal days, bright, warm and cloud-

The cathedral was very effectively decorated with ground pine and asters, yellow being the predominating color note. An arch of ground pine and yellow and white asters spanned the front of the chancel, while from above fell a filmy veil of ground pine. The altar was a blaze of candle-light.

On the stroke of 12, the organist, Mrs. Andrew W. Klein, began the famillar strains of the Lohengrin march, the signal for the entrance of the bridal

The ushers were four in number: John Green of Milwaukee, Fred Champlin of Grand Rapids, Edgar MacPherran and any section in the country." Frank Spear of Marquette. The master of ceremonies was James Everett Ball. The bridesmalds were Miss Wetherbee of Detroit, Miss Emily McConnell of Madison, Miss Edith Stone, Miss Merritt and Miss Watson of Marquette. They were gowned in white organdie over yellow taffeta, trimmed with valenciennes lace, and they wore white hats trimmed with yellow, and carried bouquets of yellow roses. The maid of hat and gown and carried a bouquet of

The bride looked very lovely in her gown of white satin, trimmed with point lace, as she came up the aisle leaning on her father's arm. Her veil was the conventional white tulle, fastened with a white aigrette, and she carried a prayer book of vellum.

The groom met her at the chancel, accompanied by his best man, Harrison Green of Milwaukee, and the ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. G. Mott Williams, bishop of Marquette.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan H. Ball, gave a reception for the bridal couple to a large number of invited guests at their home, No. 411 East Ridge

The wedding party was grouped in the reception room, which was very artistically decorated with white roses and smilax. A canopy of smilax veiled the large bay window of the room, and there Mr. and Mrs. Stone received the congratulations and hearty good wishes of their friends, while many telegrams bore testimony to the thought of those with beautiful and artistic gifts which you. showed the high regard in which the

ITS FIRST MEETING.

Baptist Missionary Socity Plans Work for the Year.

The Baptist missionary society held its first meeting this fall yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. S. Burroughs, Mrs. W. W. Walker presiding. The meeting was opened by a responsive prayer service after which the ladies proceeded to the discussion of business. The ladies decided to divide their funds equally between home and foreign missions. They also decided upon eleven meetings to be held during the year at the homes of various members of the socieyt, and chose the hostesses and leaders for each meeting. It was decided that the society should secure some one to give a course of lectures during the winter on the same plan as the Stoddard lectures, the proceeds to be used by the society in its work.

About twenty-five ladies were in attendance on the meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

She was owned by Samuel Slingerand of Manistee.

Inasmuch as the engine is a Marquette production and the tests referred to were made here the following from the marine columns of the Evening Wisconsin of gines will soon be one of the most important appliances in the life saving service. These engines will be used to operate the life boats on the great lakes and the surf boats along the coast. The experiments made a few weeks ago at Marquette, Mich., were so successful that Superintendent Kimball will recommend to the board on life saving appliances that the engines be made a part of the service. A thorough test will be made, however, but the superintendent and Lieutenant Charles H. McLellan, a life saving inspector on the New Jer-
