WAR IS DECLARED BY THE TRANSVAAL!

England Replies That It Is Impossible to Comply With the Demands of the Ultimatum.

BOERS CROSS OVER INTO BRITISH TERRITORY;

Both Natal and Cape Colony Are Invaded, Orange Free State Burghers Participating, but There Is No News of Actual Fighting.

Johannesburg, Oct. 12.—War was declared yesterday. The formal declaration occurs at 10 o'clock this morning.

RAIL LINE SEIZED.

Vryburg, Cape Colony, Oct. 12.—Afternoon—A body of Boers have cut the border fence, advanced to the railway and cut the telegraph wires. Two thousand Boers are now occupying the railway line.

FRANCE NOTIFIED OF WAR.

Paris, Oct. 12.—Secretary Vanderhoeven, of the Transvaal European agency, today officially notified the French government that a state of war between the South African Republic and Great Britain has existed since last evening.

FREE STATE WILL FIGHT.

London, Oct. 13.—In reply to a formal inquiry from South Africa, President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, announces that the Free State will make common cause with the Transvaal.

London, Oct. 12.—The following is the text of the British reply to the Boer ultimatum sent by Secretary Chamberlain to Sir Alfred Milner:

Her majesty's government: has received with great regret; the peremptory demands of the; South African Republic, conveyed in your telegram of Oct. 9th. You will inform the government of the South African Republic in reply, that the conditions demanded by the government of the South African Republic are such as her majesty's government deem it impossible to discuss.

A dispatch from Durban, dated 8 o'clock Thursday morning, announces that the Boers seized Albertina station and demanded the keys, which were delivered to them by the station master, who reached Ladysmith on a trolley car. The excitement at Ladysmith is increasing and the troops are ready to act at a moment's notice.

NO ADVICES OF FIGHTING.

London, Oct. 13.—So far the news received thus far (Friday morning) shows that not a shot as yet has been fired.

When the cabinet meets at noon today it is evident the Boer advance will be in full swing. Judging from present appearances, the Boers are preparing for simultaneous invasions at separate points—Laing's Nek, Kimberley, Vryburg, Mafeking and Lobatsi. Therefore it is almost impossible to guess the plan of campaign.

There is no abatement in the anti-English feeling on the continent. The Times Berlin correspondent declares that the German nation as a whole is unfriendly to England, and that there will be rejoicing on all sides if England should suffer disaster or damage. Just as the people were ready to rejoice had America suffered defeat at the hands of Spain.

It is now definitely known that the British government sent no final proposals to Pretoria. The Transvaal's ultimatum forestalled that intention.

MAFEKING THREATENED.

ATTACK IN THE DIAMOND FIELDS EXPECTED HOURLY.

Kimberley, Bechuanaland, Oct. 12.—The authorities at Mafeking are hourly expecting an attack.

Mafeking, Bechuanaland, Oct. 12.—Half a battery of artillery from Kimberley has just arrived. The police at the outlying stations have been ordered to concentrate within the town limits.

London, Oct. 12.—A Mafeking dispatch says that Colonel Baden-Powell has just sent a strong British force toward the border, with field guns, presumably with a view of occupying advantageous defensive high ground.

BOER ARTILLERY WEAK.

Hiram S. Maxim, chief engineer and director of the Maxim-Nordenfeldt Gun & Ammunition company, limited, in the course of an interview in London today said: "As far as I am aware, the Boers possess Maxims, but the British need not fear the Boer artillery, which always has proved a source of weakness, rather than strength, to the burghers."

BRITISH TERRITORY ENTERED.

BOER FORCES POURING INTO NATAL AND CAPE COLONY.

London, Oct. 12.—A Ladysmith (Natal) special dispatch says the Boers occupied Laing's Nek the moment the ultimatum expired; that they are now pouring into Natal, and the Ingogo heights are occupied.

Free State burghers, according to a private message, have crossed Orange river into Cape Colony and occupied Philipstown. It is supposed the object is the railway at Deaar, an important strategic point.

Volksrust, Transvaal, Oct. 12.—President Kruger's son and grandson, as well as half the members of the legislature, are at the front. Men arriving here report that Boers are still streaming from different districts to the Natal frontier, many of whom have been refused by the existing officers but are going on foot.

BATTLE NEAR AT HAND.

Official confirmation of the announcement that the Orange Free State burghers have entered Natal by way of Van Reenen's pass is at hand. It leaves no further room for doubt that acts of war have already been committed, and that the campaign has now begun.

The news of the invasion on the northern border also is generally accepted as reliable. It seems improbable, therefore, that the clash between the British and the Boers can longer be delayed, if indeed it has not occurred already.

NATAL RESERVES CALLED OUT.

FIFTH DRAGOONS ARRIVE FROM INDIA AND GO TO THE FRONT.

Cape Town, Oct. 12.—All the available troops in the Cape district have been sent to points near the northwestern border.

Durban, Oct. 12.—The imperial reserves in Natal have been called out. Everybody has left Charleston, and the exodus from Newcastle continued. The Fifth dragoons arrived this morning from India, were landed immediately and at once proceeded to the front.

STIRRING UP THE BLACKS.

London, Oct. 12.—According to a dispatch from Cape Town it is asserted there the Boers have arranged with Chief Linchove, a prominent chief on the northwestern border, to take up arms against Great Britain.

ATTITUDE OF THE POWERS.

It is now an established fact that Germany's attitude towards England will be one of benevolent neutrality. The other European powers are considering their position. France appears to be in rather an irritated mood, and the French press commiserates the Boers for missing their chance, in not making an early dash across the frontiers. At the same time England is charged with arrogance and brutality.

UITLANDERS JOIN THE BOERS.

The news that many men of diverse nationalities have gone to the borders to fight for the Transvaal is confirmed, and it is said that some Englishmen have joined after taking the oath of allegiance to the South African Republic. Sir Alfred Milner has issued a proclamation to the effect that to abet the enemy is high treason. There are also reports of surreptitious arming in the Dutch districts of Cape Colony.

STRENGTH OF THE BURGHERS.

The latest estimates of the Boer strength put the total at 21,000 men, distributed as follows: On the western frontier, 2,000; against Kimberley, 3,000; on Drakenberg, 2,000; at Volksrust and Utrecht, 12,000; on Portuguese frontiers, 2,000. The Orange Free State has 10,000 men in field, but they are largely neutralized, owing to their lengthy frontier line and the necessity of guarding against invasion by the Basutos, the most formidable fighting natives in South Africa next to the Zulus, and the only Kaffir tribe who go into battle mounted.

UNCLE SAM NOT TO MEDDLE.

POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION IS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The state department today issued a statement to the effect that the president had received many petitions relative to the British-Boer war. It says that some ask this government to tender its mediation; others that we make common cause with England, and others that we assist the Boers.

The statement continues: "It is understood the president does not think it expedient to take action in any of these directions. As to taking sides with either party to the dispute, it is not to be thought of."

The statement says, further, that under international law the United States is not justified in tendering mediation in the absence of a request from either party, and that our efforts will continue to be directed toward the protection of national interests and those of our citizens.

ATTACKS THE UNITED STATES.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The Temps in a bitter editorial against the attitude of the United States toward the Transvaal, insinuates that President McKinley pretended to favor the cause of the Boers and thus led them to believe that he would interfere to compel Great Britain to arbitration, thus holding them off to give England time to prepare for war.

BOER AGENTS FOLLOW M'KINLEY

Minneapolis, Oct. 12.—President McKinley's presence here has also brought three informal commissioners on behalf of the Transvaal in the persons of James O. Belme of New York, J. H. Vanderhooge of Baltimore and J. E. O'Brien of New York. While admitting they have come to see the president, they declined to discuss their mission.

TROOPS FROM CANADA.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The cabinet was in session the greater part of the day considering the question of sending a Canadian contingent to South Africa. At the conclusion Premier Laurier stated he had no announcement to make.

GREENE LEAVES PRETORIA.

NO TRUTH IN REPORT BRITISH AGENT WAS ASSASSINATED—MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

London, Oct. 12.—A Pretoria dispatch dated the 11th and sent via Lorenzo Marquez, as telegraphic communication between the Cape and Natal is undoubtedly interrupted, says:

"Conyngham Greene this afternoon said goodbye to President Kruger and his officials in his private capacity. He and his staff will leave tomorrow by two special trains.

"Martial law was proclaimed at 5 o'clock this afternoon. British residents without permits must leave the Transvaal within eight days."

ON CHARGES OF HIGH TREASON.

London, Oct. 12.—The Sun prints a rumor that the government will prosecute certain Irish members of parliament on the charge of high treason in consequence of their pro-Boer attitude.

CZAR'S AGENT IN PARIS.

EUROPEAN COALITION AGAINST ENGLAND BELIEVED TO BE SECRETLY ON THE TAPIS.

Paris, Oct. 12.—Close watch on the movements of the French diplomats tends to confirm the rumor that Count Mouravieff, Russian minister for foreign affairs, is endeavoring to form a general European coalition against England. In this connection Russia has seemingly taken advantage of the Transvaal crisis to announce that Afghanistan is in a state of unrest, and that a strong hand is needed to restore order. The French foreign office, it is said, has quietly been asked by Russia as to the propriety of the latter sending troops into Afghanistan for the purpose of settling the troubles and establishing a protectorate. Russia has evidently been quietly preparing for this move for several years.

BLAZE AT MINNEAPOLIS.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE BUILDING BADLY GUTTED—LOSS, $100,000.

Minneapolis, Oct. 12.—The Produce Exchange building, First avenue and North First street, burned today. The loss to the building and occupants is $100,000. The principal losses are: Hegna & Co., shirt manufacturer $50,000; A. E. Nott & Co., tobacco dealer 7,000; C. H. Roberts, iron and wire works 5,900; Sunlight Gas company, 15,000; J. K. Miller & Co., tin and sheet iron works, 5,000; H. H. Smiler, butcher and eggs, 5,000; Bradbury & Hall, 5,000.

$60,000 LOSS AT SAGINAW.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 12.—Fire today did $60,000 damage to the plant of the Brewer Lumber company, at Carrollton, a suburb.

VERTIGO ATTACKS H. C. PAYNE.

BADGER REPUBLICAN COMMITTEEMAN IS FOUND PROSTRATED IN A MILWAUKEE STREET.

Milwaukee, Oct. 12.—Henry C. Payne, national Republican committeeman of Wisconsin, suffered another serious attack of vertigo tonight while on his way home from his office. He was found prostrated on the street by two police officers. It is said by members of his family that Mr. Payne will be able to attend to business as usual tomorrow.

M'CLEARNAND VERY ILL.

Springfield, Ills., Oct. 12.—The condition of General John A. McClearnand, who had a slight stroke of paralysis Monday, is reported today as quite serious, pneumonia having developed.

VICTORY FOR THE PARISHIONERS.

IRISH PRIEST TO OFFICIATE AT ST. PATRICK'S, E. ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—It is unofficially announced in clerical circles in East St. Louis that the St. Patrick's church trouble has been settled by Mgr. Martinelli, the papal representative at Washington, who has ordered Bishop Janssen to accept the resignation of Father Cluse, the German-American priest. Father James Sweeney of Tiplon, Ills., is reported to be the successor to Father Cluse.

CRASH ON THE ROME BOURSE.

LOSSES ALREADY HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF LIRE.

London, Oct. 12.—A Rome special dispatch today says: "The position of the Italian bourse, which has been serious for some time, resulted in a crash today. Several banks and large firms are in serious condition. The losses are hundreds of millions of lire, a lira equalling 19.3 cents in American money."

MARQUETTE, MICH., OCT. 13.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Governor Bushnell of Ohio has come out in support of Judge Nash for governor, but Charles L. Kurtz and the Democratic candidate had a two hours' conference at Columbus Tuesday and the Cleveland Plain Dealer continues to be alarmed and distrustful.

And now comes Boston's turn to show what she can do in the way of honoring Dewey. That staid town may not expect to parallel the enthusiasm and magnitude of the New York reception, but it is safe to wager that whatever is done there in Dewey's honor will be done in accordance with the strictest propriety.

The Republican "harmony committee" at Detroit has not yet succeeded in finding a candidate for the mayoralty who will be acceptable to both Senator McMillan and Governor Pingree. The committee has a perplexing task on its hands, and if the gentlemen composing it don't openly say "a plague on both your houses" they are excusable for thinking it.

General White of Governor Pingree's staff thinks Governor Roosevelt of New York will endeavor to break into the presidential arena about nominating time next year. If he does he will have to ride at it harder than he did at the Spaniards at Santiago. The presidential nomination will not be captured with a "Rough Rider" rush in 1900. Roosevelt has realized fairly well on the reputation he made in the Santiago campaign and should be willing to rest on his laurels for a while.

There is a possibility that the war in the Transvaal will cut something of a figure in our elections next year. The politicians will endeavor to make use of it for their own ends, and there is hardly anything they can't make an issue out of when pushed by necessity. The alacrity with which some of them are moving to have our government take attitude indicative of sympathy with the Boer republic in its struggle for life has a suspicious appearance and is open to sinister interpretation.

The Lansing Journal is endeavoring to prove that if Justin R. Whiting had been elected governor in 1896 state taxes would not be as high as they are. In the supposed case Mr. Whiting would have to make a better record than the last Democratic governor and his associate state officers did to justify the Journal's faith in him. In the matter of reckless squandering money wrong from the taxpayers the Democrats have nothing to their credit in the record they have made in Michigan when it has happened that they have had charge of the state's affairs.

General Shafter is to be retired next week with the rank of brigadier general. It is said that his friends are endeavoring to have his rank set up a notch before he goes on the retired list, so that he can draw the pay of a retired major general. It will strike most people that if he is turned out to grass as a brigadier general he will be amply rewarded for the service he rendered at Santiago several miles back from the fighting line, with a detail of soldiers taking turns in fanning him as he lay in his tent, overcome by the effect of the heat on his sweltering corporosity. There is such a thing as having a republic too grateful.

Aguinaldo's proclamation to his followers, assuring them that the Democratic party in the United States is with the insurgents, moves one paper of that political faith, the New York Journal, to deep indignation. Speaking of his rather audacious statement, that paper frees its mind on the subject in this explicit manner:

He should know—and doubtless will know in time—that whenever another country, be it brown, black, red or white, fires on the soldiers of the United States, that act is not directed against a single political party, but against the entire population of this country. Aguinaldo is waging war on the United States. Let him not rely upon the Democratic party for encouragement. Let him come in and lay down his arms while the people of this country fight out the question of imperial or industrial expansion at the polls.

No one doubts the loyalty and patriotism of the great body of the Democratic voters. They are true to the government in every crisis when its honor is at stake. The trouble is with the leaders of the party, who stand ever ready to take up any issue that promises to bring success, and have a most unhappy faculty of getting on the wrong side of it.

There is a plainly discernable undertone of Bostonian complacency in this, from the Evening Transcript of that city:
A New York clergyman said in his sermon Sunday: "He is blind and ignorant who cannot see the American Sunday as lying at the very foundation of our government, and holding the nation's prosperity and perpetuity. Whatever has an influence mitigating against the soundness of this divine institution ought to be slain by press, pulpit, ballot and every element of power in every drop of American blood." Bishop Potter's appeal for a rational and reverent observance of the day and the attention given it by his diocese were strong evidence that there is need of protest against the manner in which Sunday is kept up in the metropolis. If more proof were required, this statement, which formed part of the local news in the New York Monday papers, would suffice: "The threatening weather of yesterday kept many Sunday drivers away from the Speedway, but it had no effect on the regulars, who were out in force with their fast steppers. The road was in excellent condition, and the absence of the crowd gave the pacers and trotters an excellent chance to try their speed, which they did, and the result was many lively brushes between horses with and without records." When the new Boston Speedway was opened about a month ago, it was regulated by pretty strict rules for which the rules of the New York Speedway were probably to some extent taken as a basis. But on this point it did not follow the practice of the older course. There was no room left for a misunderstanding on that point. Sunday driving is distinctly forbidden, and on that day the chains are up to show that the rule is one to be strictly complied with. The difference in sentiment between the two cities seems to be exemplified by this. Sabatarianism is one thing, but a protest against public horse-racing on public ground comes far short of it. It cannot be justified on the score of necessity, comfort, or even rational recreation, and the press as well as the pulpit of New York would be doing no more than its duty in using its influence against it.

It would be absurd to deny that Boston observes the Sabbath more decorously than does her bigger and wickeder sister city, but the Bostonians can put up a smooth stock-jobbing scheme on any other of the six days of the week with a subtlety and attention to detail that the sharpest of the New York operators cannot hope to surpass.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

That the British government intends to put forth an extraordinary effort to crush the Transvaal republic speedily and thoroughly is shown by the extensive preparations it is making for prosecution of the war. If this is accomplished it will be followed by the reduction of all the Dutch states in South Africa to the condition of dependencies of Great Britain.

This, indeed, is conceded to be the real object of the British in forcing the war, though it is ostensibly entered on to secure for the uitlanders rights which it is claimed they have been denied by the Transvaal government. A point has been reached in the political development of the various colonies in South Africa which makes it necessary for Great Britain to establish her supremacy there absolutely, or to recognize the influence of the Dutch states as a force to be counted with in the future. Absolute control is Britain's aim, and she has right shrewdly chosen her time to compel the Boers to decide between a concession of demands which would, if granted, work the destruction of the republic under the forms of law, or the hard alternative of a war that will probably result in wiping it out of existence.

The friendly feeling toward England which prevails in this country at present on account of the helpful attitude of the British government during our war with Spain has been shrewdly taken advantage of by the English statesmen, who rely on that to offset the sentiment hostile to Great Britain prevailing among the other great nations of Europe, and the movement she is making to clinch her power in South Africa is so timed that she is not likely to have the ruthless program she has arranged for crushing the Dutch states on the "Dark Continent" interfered with by any of the other European powers.

But once a fire is started no one can tell what will be the limit of the devastation it will cause, and it is impossible to foretell when two powers engaged in war how or when it will end, or what will be its ultimate consequences. In the case of that on which the British and Dutch in South Africa have entered the advantage of position is with the Dutch and of strength and resources with the British, but there are possibilities of infinite trouble to grow out of it for the more powerful nation in the European situation, and it may develop into a conflict that will have tremendous results affecting the balance of power in Europe.

EMBARRASSING THE PRESIDENT.

The effort being made to induce President McKinley to interfere in the dispute between Great Britain and the Transvaal republic by urging the British government to submit the questions on which the countries in contention are in disagreement to arbitration are indisputably well meant, but it is not so certain that they are well-advised.

It is not easy to see how the president can urge on the British government a method of peaceful settlement of the controversy which that government has already declined to adopt, for to do this would be to assume that in declining to arbitrate the British government was in the wrong, which is precisely the charge the Canadian government makes against us in the matter of the Alaskan boundary dispute. After having refused to arbitrate a controversy in which we are involved with a British colonial government our government cannot with any degree of propriety ask Great Britain to submit a dispute that has arisen between her and the Transvaal republic to arbitration, hence it follows that requesting the president to urge this way of arriving at a settlement of the South African entanglement on Great Britain only embarrasses him to no purpose.

That there is a strong inclination among Americans to sympathize with the Boer republic is plainly discernible from the tone of the press of this country in discussing the Transvaal trouble, and the expressions to be heard from representative citizens everywhere when it is the topic of conversation. But while individual citizens may talk and think as they please regarding the course of the British government in forcing the Transvaal republic to engage in an unequal war in defense of its right to existence, the president and those who, with him, have charge of national affairs have resting on them a great and sobering responsibility which compels them—in their official capacity no less than in the expression of their individual opinions—to subordinate sentiment to their duty as the keepers of dignity and honor of the nation. They, too, may sympathize with the hard-pushed republic created by the Boers in South Africa, but they cannot manifest this in any manner without giving offense to a nation with which we are on friendly terms, and to which we are indebted for a service opportunely rendered us during our war with Spain. We cannot help regarding the movement to force the president's hand at this time, therefore, as both badly advised and lacking in sound patriotism.

It is true that we went to war with Spain to gain freedom for a struggling people who were seeking to relieve themselves of the rule of an oppressing power with which we were then at peace. But Cuba lies near our shores, and the inability of Spain to maintain good order there was a source of unending annoyance to us, and of very considerable loss in the way of business. In addition, Americans owned large interests in Cuba, and the value of these were impaired by the inability of the Spaniards to establish and maintain good government in the island. We had many reasons for taking the course we did in relation to Cuba which do not exist in the case of the Transvaal republic, located as that is in a part of the world remote from us and in which we have no industrial or commercial interests to be safeguarded.

The president would not be justified in taking the action demanded at his hands by some friends of the Transvaal republic in this country who appear to think that because it is a republic we are under some obligation to go to its aid when its existence is imperilled by Britain's greed. But it is not our mission to help struggling republics, or help pull down aggressive despotisms, throughout the world. We are a nation, bound by the laws which all nations have come to respect, and our aim should be in a general way to mind our own business and not get mixed up in rows with which we really have no call to concern ourselves.

James Sligh was sentenced at Marshall Tuesday to fifteen years at Jackson for robbing and attempting to murder Daniel Habertraugh, an old hermit of Assuria, Barry county, on the night of April 13 last. Sligh is only 23 years old. His brother John was convicted in June on the same charge, and is serving a ten years' sentence at Ionia.

W. C. Baty of Pueblo, Co., is creating no end of excitement at Grand Haven in his search for $60,000 in gold which is said to be buried somewhere back of the lighthouse. He has a big force of men at work scooping away the sand, and says his instrument for detecting metal points down directly on the spot where he is now engaged in work.

Mrs. Eliza A. Patton, wife of John Patton, the oldest living ex-mayor of Detroit, died at the family residence in that city Tuesday afternoon. She was fifty-seven years of age. The deceased lady was possessed of unusual talent and was of a most amiable disposition. Her death is a great affliction to her family and friends who were deeply attached to her.

During a rain storm at St. Joseph Tuesday evening an earthquake shock was felt in that city. The first shock was followed by three minor shocks. Many houses in the southern part of the city swayed from the effects of the first shock, and their occupants rushed into the streets, fearing the houses would collapse. The shock was felt for fully twenty miles in a northeasterly direction.

West Branch was the scene of serious accident Tuesday, when a team in a funeral procession became unmanageable and ran away. Other teams took fright, and almost immediately the street was full of overturned carriages and horses running in every direction. Many women were thrown into the street and received serious bruises. As if by miracle no one was killed. When quiet was restored the street was strewn with broken parts of carriages. Several physicians

Mrs. Frank Pearsall of Birmingham was quite badly hurt Tuesday afternoon while driving. The harness became disarranged in some way and Mrs. Pearsall got out of the carriage to adjust it, and, as she was getting back into the vehicle, the horse started suddenly, throwing her to the ground, dislocating her shoulder and breaking her left arm near the shoulder joint, besides bruising her face and other portions of her body.

Benzie county farmers are making an exceedingly good thing this year out of cabbages, which they planted in great quantities. The price has risen from $3.50 to $10 per ton, and as the yield is about ten tons to the acre, the growers figure that they are doing better than they could with sugar beets or anything else, especially as the crop is bought right on the ground by Chicago houses, and the farmer doesn't have to bother with the shipment of it.

Frank W. Gregg, a Grand Rapids printer, is under arrest at Battle Creek, charged with forgery. He had been working at the Review and Herald offices and obtained possession of some of their letter heads, and upon these, it is alleged, wrote orders on three business houses. At A. D. Smith's clothing store he obtained two suits of clothes and a hat; at Sterling's shoe store a new pair of shoes and at Zeigler's music store a piano. He waived examination and will go to the circuit court for trial.

Chase Collinger, contractor on the West Bay City water works, was shot in the leg while out hunting Tuesday night. He was crossing Kawakawin river in a boat when the gun was accidentally discharged, the full charge of shot being received in the calf of his leg, inflicting a ghastly wound. Isaac Muldrough, a companion, bound up the wound with his shirt, and they walked a mile, then got a conveyance to West Bay City, where the wound was dressed. They were followed some distance through the woods by a wildcat.

Electrolysis is again working havoc among the underground water and gas pipes of Detroit, particularly in streets where cars are run. A representative of the Detroit Gas company exhibited to Mayor Maybury a badly-raten piece of gas pipe taken from in front of 565 Jefferson avenue, where it had been under the sidewalk only eight years. He said the destruction was caused by the street railway people not keeping the electricity under proper control, the current escaping in the earth and playing havoc with iron pipes. The mayor will investigate.

Labor Commissioner Cox has received returns from all the registers of deeds of the state in reply to his questions in regard to the number of mortgages filed during the present year. The reports show that up to the present time 3 per cent. fewer mortgages have been filed than were placed on record during the same period last year. There have been 12 per cent. more discharges. The rate of interest and the average amount of the mortgages have been reduced. A majority were given as a part of the purchase price of property rather than for money borrowed.

Probably the largest apple crop harvested in Cass county in twenty-five years is now being gathered. One dealer has purchased over twenty thousand bushels and manufactured for shipment over seven hundred barrels of cider. Another firm has already purchased twenty-five hundred barrels of winter apples, besides over six thousand for cider, which they have shipped. Besides these the apple dryer at Cassopolis is using over the hundred bushels per day. There is also an apple dryer in Vandalia and a cider mill in Dalley. It is not probable that there will be less than fifty thousand bushels of apples marketed at Cassopolis alone.

A case of what is supposed to be smallpox at Benton Harbor was reported to Secretary Baker, of the state board of health, Tuesday. It is supposed to have come from a locality in Kentucky where there has been a good deal of sickness from a disease resembling smallpox. Reports from Maple Grove township, Saginaw county, show that there have been sixteen cases there since the beginning of the outbreak several weeks ago, but that the disease is now well under control. New cases have developed at Battle Creek, the contagion having been carried in some washing which was done several weeks ago by the family which was first afflicted.

The new state medical registration board met at the governor's office at Lansing Tuesday and organized by the election of Dr. Malcolm Sinclair of Grand Rapids as president and Dr. B. D. Harrison of Sault Ste. Marie as secretary. The meeting was something of an informal affair, but the twelve members managed to get acquainted with each other and to discuss plans of operation. The board ordered that all registered physicians in the state send a certified copy of their registration and diploma on which it is based to the secretary forthwith, and at the next meeting of the board, which will be held at Grand Rapids Oct. 26, the work of wedding up incompetent practitioners will be commenced. The members of the board expect the new law will enable them to protect the people against quacks in the future.

BADLY INJURED AT ATLANTIC. FRANK PACKANEAU FALLS INTO THE HOLD OF A STEAMER.

Frank Packaneau, a teamster employed by Mike Messner at the Atlantic mine the last twelve years, fell into the hold of the steamer Pascal P. Pratt, unloading coal at the Atlantic dock at 7 o'clock last night. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Hancock, suffering from concussion of the brain, still unconscious. He was resting easy last night at 11:30 and Drs. Wheeler and Jackson hope for recovery. He was in charge of a shift of Atlantic men unloading the vessel when, in attempting to shove out a bucket as it passed the second deck, he lost his balance and fell.

RAIN KNOCKED OUT THE EXERCISES.

CORNERSTONE LAYING AT HOUGHTON PUT OFF UNTIL TODAY, WEATHER PERMITTING.

Owing to the demoralized condition of the sidewalks in Houghton at present, making it impossible to keep out of the streets with their heavy burden of mud as a result of Wednesday night's rain, the Houghton school board very wisely decided yesterday morning to defer the laying of the cornerstone of the new high school building until this afternoon in the hope of getting better streets for the little people to march on, and if the day should again prove unfavorable the exercises will be postponed to tomorrow afternoon.

In addition to this, a change has been made in the arrangements by which the pupils in the kindergarten and the primary departments are to be assembled on Sheldon street, near the corner of Isle Royale, under the charge of cadet teachers and will fall into line in the procession when it reaches that place instead of assembling at the East Houghton school with the others, the distance being considered too great for the little people to take in the full march, although about thirty of them walked out to Haas' Park the other day just to demonstrate their ability to cover the full distance in the parade.

AWARDED NINETY-SIX DOLLARS

David Haas, F. W. Kroll and Joseph Strobel, the commissioners appointed by Probate Judge Gray to take testimony in the telephone condemnation proceedings and make an award, submitted their finding to the court yesterday, the amount being $96 for the four parcels of land in question, or very nearly the amount offered by the company before the proceedings were commenced. The award will be confirmed by the probate judge today.

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

Colonel Coach went down to Baraga yesterday.

James R. Dee returned from his Chicago trip yesterday.

George Martin of Houghton got back yesterday from Chicago.

"Mitch" DeHaas of Marquette was a Portage Lake visitor yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Demar and son Howard and Miss Henrietta Hoffenbacher of Hancock went down to Chicago yesterday.

Miss Gertrude Lange and Miss Lottie Lean of Houghton left yesterday morning upon the South Shore's excursion to Duluth.

The cornice was put upon F. W. Kroll's new block at Houghton yesterday and the owner is hoping to have it ready for occupancy very soon.

T. F. Lynch, representing the Ingersoll-Sargeant Drill company, arrived in Houghton yesterday on one of his periodical visits to the copper country.

Congressman Sheldon returned from Chicago yesterday, having gone down to meet the president at the laying of the cornerstone of Chicago's new postoffice.

F. H. Begole and F. M. Crouch of Marquette left for home yesterday after a trip through Keweenaw county after their legal business at Eagle Harbor was concluded.

Theo. D. Hall, deputy insurance inspector for the upper peninsula, was in Houghton Wednesday and yesterday rating some of the new blocks now nearing completion.

H. Hoffman, the St. Ignace attorney, and W. K. Prudden of Lansing, a title expert, concluded their business in Keweenaw county Wednesday and left that evening for their homes.

The remainder of the pressed brick for the Copper Range depot arrived Wednesday night, so that Prendergast & Clarkson again had their men at work yesterday rushing up the walls.

The long threatened rain became a reality Wednesday evening, and yesterday managed to effectually spoil the arrangements for the laying of the cornerstone of Houghton's new high school building.

J. H. Blandy left yesterday for his winter home in Riverside, Cal. He expects to return to Houghton when the "use" blows again if his wife and daughter do not decide before on a trip to Europe.

Lieutenant "Jack" Wilson of Marquette has come to the copper country to take a position with Albert Mitchell, the diamond drill expert who has charge of the drills operated by the Fay group of mines. He will be stationed at the Elm River mine to begin with.

The staff decorations for the interior of the "Board of Trade" in the new Dee building are now going into place. They will give a splendid effect to the ceiling, and as the hardwood flooring has at last arrived Sack's "some day" promises to arrive before the robins nest again. A huge sign "Board of Trade" has been painted across the back of the building by Marks & Nancarrow.

Dr. A. J. Overfield and Warren McConnell, son of Mat McConnell, left yesterday for California with J. H. Blandy to spend the winter in a milder climate. Walker McConnell surprised his father at the depot by pulling out a grain sack, cut open, and tendering it to the old gentleman for a handkerchief to wipe tears away. The crowd howled and the departing Houghtonites left in high glee.

NEW EXCURSION BOAT.

STEAMER BON AMI TO PLY BETWEEN DULUTH AND HOUGHTON, VIA THE NORTH SHORE

The steamer Bon Ami, recently purchased by Captain W. H. Singer of Duluth after extended negotiations from the Chicago, Saugatuck and Douglas line, was at Portage Lake yesterday on her way up to Duluth, where Captain Singer intends trying her on a new route from Duluth to Houghton by way of the north shore, Grand Marais and Isle Royale.

The Bon Ami is a first-class steamer of her size, 227 gross tonnage, 150 net, and has a beautifully finished cabin, hardwoods with natural finish being used exclusively, and can accommodate about fifty people in her staterooms. She is 123 feet over all, has a four-and-a-half compound engine, 14 and 28-inch cylinders and 29-inch stroke, and throws a 7-foot wheel. Both engine and hull were built in 1894, and the craft is thoroughly staunch and strong, besides being a very good sea boat.

Since Mr. Singer sold his tugs in the spring to the Great Lakes combine he has been looking for just such a boat, and will make some alterations in her during the winter to more thoroughly fit her for the excursion business out of Duluth and the package freight business between the head of the lake and copper country ports.

The captain has no desire to antagonize either the Booth people or the Howard Transportation company, but feels from his experience that there is tourist travel enough to and from Isle Royale both ways to make such a boat a great desirability, and he is encouraged in this view by the railroads, which are looking out for the welfare of their great rush of excursionists during the summer season.

The Bon Ami will run wild for the remainder of this season, picking up such freight as she can get, and will go on her regular schedule in the spring. She had a load of freight from Chicago for Portage Lake and head of the lake ports yesterday.

NOTES OF MINING NEWS.

MOHAWK DEVELOPMENT TO GO ON WITH INCREASED SPEED NOW THAT THE NEW COMPRESSOR IS ABOUT TO BE STARTED.

The new compressor at the Mohawk is expected to go into service in about ten days, and instead of having compressor capacity for only eight drills, as at present, the mine will be able, with the new twenty-drill compressor and the present compressor working, to run twenty-eight drills and the work of developing the property will go ahead with correspondingly increased speed. The three shafts at the Mohawk are now down 280, 320 and 180 feet, respectively, and all make a showing fully justifying the favor in which Mohawk is held on the Lake. No one doubts now that the Mohawk is a mine, and a rich one, and the question of stamp facilities will have to be settled very early in the coming year.

A correspondent writes the financial editor of the Boston Transcript: "Will you kindly give me, through the columns of your paper, the following information: The per cent. of copper per ton of rock; amount of dividends paid; capitalization, and highest and lowest price of the Calumet & Hecla, Boston & Montana, Osceola, Franklin and Wolverine companies?" Here is his answer:

Shares	Dividend	Highest	Lowest
C. . . 100,000	$63,850,000	*$85	124(1884)
M . . . 150,000	12,275,000	400	15(1893)
O. . . 92,000	2,815,500	105	74(1889)
F. . . 100,000	1,240,000	50	4(1879)
W . . . 60,000	270,000	50	75(1893)

*Par value $25 per. **All in 1899, except record in 1880.

Continuing, he says: "Calumet & Hecla are Boston & Montana and do not furnish figures of copper per ton of rock; the Osceola mineral is 1.569 per cent, but mineral is not copper, running anywhere from 60 to 80 per cent. fine; Franklin 1.124 per cent. fine copper; Wolverine 1.271 per cent. fine copper."

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hager of Marquette, accompanied by A. C. Secrest of San Francisco, arrived at Houghton Wednesday evening after a tour of inspection through the Ontonagon county mines, and yesterday continued their trip by visiting the Quind and Rhode Island. The entire party was greatly pleased at the fine showing made by the Adventure, which they regard with especial favor as a result of their visit to it. Mr. Secrest is interested in mining developments on the coast, especially in the state of Washington.

"The coming $15 dividend on Boston & Montana explains the continued buying of that stock, or that falling, the familiar talk of a consolidation with the Butte & Boston, to be announced 'next week,' will answer," is how the Boston Herald financial writer puts it.

A twelve-ton Burt boiler for the Elm River was loaded on a wagon Wednesday evening and should have been started out to the mine behind ten teams yesterday, but the rain softened up the roads, so that it was thought best to defer the attempt to move it.

Advices from West Superior are that a company is being organized with capital of $2,000,000 to develop the Culligan copper property, one of the oldest in that section of the copper range.

Figuring on the basis of last month's production, 794 tons of mineral, the Quipley Mining company's annual earnings are, with 18 1/2 cent copper, about $19 per share.

TEMPERATURES OF THE LAKES.

INTERESTING STATISTICS COMPILED BY GOVERNMENT INSPECTOR CONGER OF DETROIT.

Inspector Norman B. Conger of Detroit, who has just finished his inspection of the weather stations on the Keweenaw peninsula, is making a special study of fogs and their distribution for the benefit of vesselmen upon the great lakes and has devoted some years to the subject although the past two years have more especially been given to the matter.

This study has shown the importance of a thorough knowledge of the temperature of the surface water of the several lakes and has recalled to Mr. Conger the observations which he and a small party of other observers made in 1894 in connection with the observations collected from vessel masters on the open surface temperatures during 1892, 1893 and 1894. Mr. Conger's party visiting Lake Superior and making many surface observations and also a number of observations at depths of ten, twenty and 100 feet. The following statement of the results of these observations on this lake is contributed to the current number of the Marine Record by Mr. Conger:

"The lake closes to navigation with the closing of the St. Mary's canal about Dec. 1, but ice rarely forms in the open lake before the beginning of January. In some of the harbors it does not form much before Feb. 1. Ice on the open lake may form to a thickness of from one to four feet; it is frequently piled up, however, to a much greater depth. The ice in the open lake breaks up in April and is drifted about by the winds until it finally disappears.

The water temperatures in May in shallow bays average about 40 degrees, being slightly warmer at the western end of the lakes than along the shore from Marquette eastward. In the middle of the month the average temperature of the water over the great body of the lake is about 37 degrees, being slightly lower in a few localities.

"In June the temperature of the surface water along shore, where the depth is not great, averages from 48 degrees to 54 degrees, as before stated, warmest at the western end of the lake. The temperature is lower toward the deeper parts of the lake, reaching a minimum of 37 degrees in midlake, but the area of 37 degrees is less than during the preceding month.

"In July the temperature of the surface water in midlake has risen to 40 degrees, while shore temperatures have risen to 60 degrees and over in some of the shallower bays. The difference between the temperature of the water in midlake and along shore is greatest in July and August, viz., 20 degrees and upward.

"In August the area over which water temperatures of 40 degrees may be found is less than for July and can be found only in the center of the lake. The influence of the warmer air temperatures of June and July is now felt in the general warming up of the waters. Large areas show an increase in temperature from the month preceding, of about 10 degrees.

"The maximum temperature of the water in the great body of the lake occurs in September, about a month after the highest air temperature. It is to be noticed, however, that the temperature of the water along shore has begun to fall, the maximum of the year being registered in August.

"During October the temperature of the water falls from 5 degrees to 10 degrees over the great body of the lake. Shore temperatures range from 45 degrees to 50 degrees, decreasing from those amounts to about 40 degrees in deep water.

"In November the temperature of the water around the shore and in deep bays is about 40 degrees, diminishing to 37 degrees in midlake.

"We have thus seen that the surface temperature of the water along shore and in the larger bays, increases from 32 degrees in winter to about 60 degrees in August, a total range of 28 degrees. In midlake the increase is very much less, from 32 degrees to 40 degrees or 45 degrees, certainly not more than half of what it is for shore waters."

IN THE TOILS AT DULUTH.

Sheriff Lean left Wednesday evening for Duluth after Alexander Columb, who sold his father's team at Houghton, "married a wife" and then skipped from her. The team has been replevined, hence the father has not the interest in the proceedings, which the man who bought the horses has by about $350. However, Columb got only $50 in cash and the balance in a check on the Superior Savings bank, Hancock. It was through his efforts to cash this check at Duluth, the bank there wiring here to find out if it was good, that the young man was located. The payment of the check had been stopped, so that the purchaser of the team is out only $50.

MURPHY CANNOT LIVE.

The physicians now give no hope for the recovery of Patrick Murphy, shot at the Elm River, and the examination of Eric Mackl, the murderer, has accordingly been adjourned until Tuesday morning next, while Under Sheriff McNamara went out to the Elm River mine yesterday to take Murphy's dying statement and to secure other evidence concerning the matter.

Angelo Kelly, taken to Calumet by Deputy Sheriff Thomas yesterday, was dismissed at the hearing for shooting young Matson. He was held not responsible for his death.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at the Stafford Drug company; every bottle guaranteed.

A LIMA MAN'S TESTIMONY.—"I have obtained excellent results from the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. It relieved my backache and severe pain over the hips. It toned up my system and gave me new vim and energy. I regard it as an honest and reliable remedy for all Kidney diseases. It makes no false claims but does what it says when given a fair trial. I certainly recommend it." Wm. Finn, 447 E. 14th St., Lima, Ohio. The Stafford Drug company.

OFFICE OF THE LIPTON-LIMITED.

Business Methods of the Sporting Irish Baronet.

Over 5,000 principal agents directly responsible to Sir Thomas Lipton are scattered throughout the world, representing him and superintending his establishments. City Road, London, is the nerve center of this colossal system. At 8 o'clock the master of all this, who works fifteen hours of every working day, seats himself behind his hour-glassed American roaster, at his home in Southgate, and at 9 o'clock is at his desk in City Road headquarters. On the side arms and top of his desk are piled his personal correspondence—letters, telephone messages, telegrams, cablegrams from all over the world. With the quick movement so characteristic of him, Sir Thomas rolls away the desk top and begins to give a few points. This office fixture is a remarkable affair, calculated to astonish even a world-trotting, inquisitive, inventive American. About every visible portion of this anatomy is covered with contrivances, electrical, automatic, mechanical, for the use of its owner. On its broad surface of polished mahogany are innumerable buttons, numbered and lettered, the pressing of which seem to put him in literal touch with the uttermost parts of earth, sea and sky. While he explains and you gaze at things seen and unseen about that desk, watch the movement of his hands upon it and stare at the long procession of heads of departments and uniformed retainers and bearded and capped messenger boys and strings of attendants garbed in all the bright colors of the Orient, who come trooping at the touch of his fingers, you are treated to one of those sudden surprises which your genial host is fond of perpetrating on unsuspecting travelers, but which always begins with a suspicious twinkle in his merry eyes, if you know where to look for it.

There is a slight movement of the foot underneath the desk. Outside the office a small gown grows. Forthwith enters and advances upon you a person big of shoulder and with a look of strict business in his face. But this one retires at a gesture from Sir Thomas, and you find yourself being quizzically laughed at by your fun-loving host.

"That is my crank gong, and the 'bouncer,'" he explains. "You said you wanted to know all about the desk."

Nobody could help joining in that kind of a laugh, but you conclude you have had enough of one piece of furniture, and your friend leads you through the rest of his wonderful establishment. Space forbids anything in detail of this bee-hive of human activity, and, in truth, one must see, to understand and appreciate, rather than read an attempted description of the whole. Everywhere and throughout are perfect system and clockwork regularity and contented workmanship. Over 10,000 employees are on the payroll. Every one of them may have direct access to Sir Thomas. When England was some time ago shaken with labor troubles he remarked: "I never had a strike and never shall have one. I make it my business to look after the interests of my men, and we live in peace and harmony."—Ainslie's Magazine.

DO ANIMALS REASON?

A little girl fell off the dock at High Bridge yesterday. Her mother screamed for help. A stray Newfoundland dog responded to the call, rushed down the dock and, seeing the situation, jumped into the water, caught the girl and swam with her to the dock. Then a policeman ran down, swung himself over the dock and lifted first the child and then the dog to land.

Not long since an alleged philosopher proved to his own satisfaction, in a magazine article, that "animals do not reason." If this dog, now adopted by the police of the High Bridge precinct under the name of Dewey, did not reason, did the policeman who took him and the girl from the water reason?

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. church, South Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

FINE DISPLAY OF GENERALSHIP.

The movement of the United States troops was a fine display of American generalship and energy, while the Filipinos adopted what General Alejandro terms "our peculiar method of warfare."

In Cavite province, the scene of the hottest fighting and their greatest successes over the Spaniards, the Filipinos might have been expected to make a resolute stand if anywhere.

The marines, while reconnoitering about the scene of Sunday's encounter, find that the trenches already have been recaptured.

SECRETED THEIR ARMS.

At Malabon the Americans corralled two or three hundred natives, supposed to be fighting men. A few were caught with arms in their hands, but large numbers were found in hiding dressed in khaki like the American uniforms.

SPRINGFIELD VS. MAUSER.

The report from the Philippines to the ordnance department on the effectiveness of the two arms used by our soldiers in Luzon, the old Springfield rifle and the new Krag-Jorgenson gun, has been a genuine surprise.

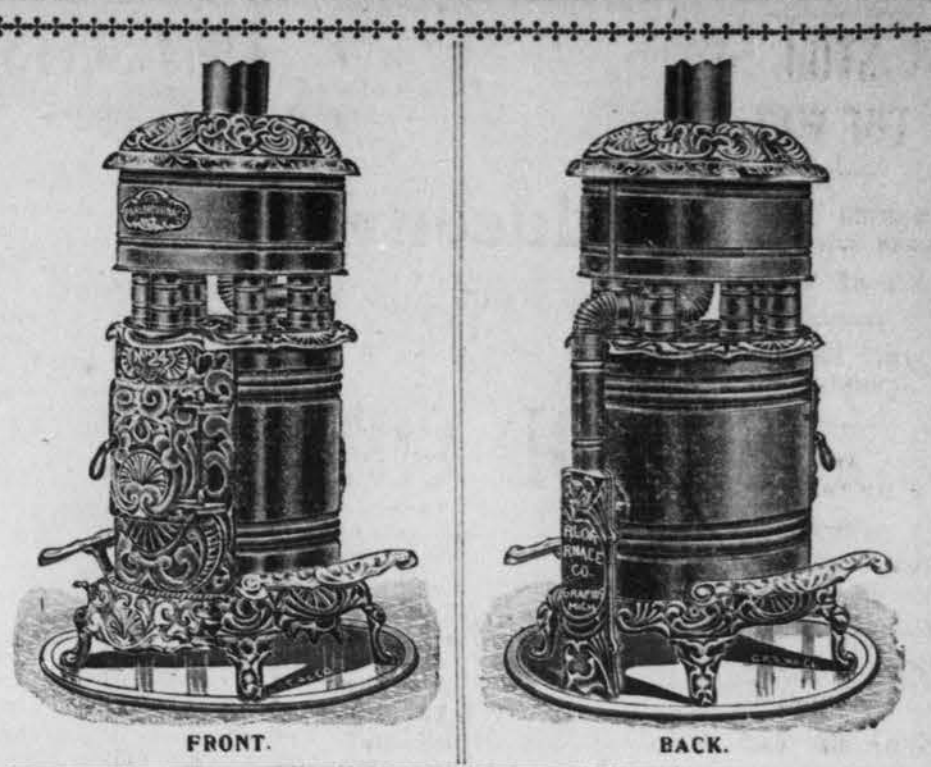

The report shows that for effectiveness in action the Springfield has been fully up to the Krag and that the natives dread the old gun more than they do the new one because of the more serious nature of the casualties produced. The Springfield stands the test of the smokeless powder perfectly and on inspection only three guns were found to have suffered injuries by the charge. The Springfield is by far less complicated in its construction and rarely gets "out of whack" in action.

People who have abused the commanding officer there and the government for letting our boys carry such an old-fashioned and ineffective arm as the old Springfield against the Mauser will have a queer sensation when they read this expert report. The Mauser carries farther, but when you shoot at a man a half a mile or a mile away if you are a Filipino you don't hit him any way, so the great carrying power is of very little advantage. Firing without accurate aim is of little use when your enemy is in the modern, open formation. The Springfield will carry its message as far as its owner can shoot with any efficiency at a mark as small as an individual soldier.—Nebraska State Journal.

DRUM HORSES IN BRITISH ARMY.

In the army of Great Britain the bands of cavalry are mounted, and the honorary position in these musical cavalcades is that of the bearer of the kettle-drums. The horse selected for this high position is often piebald, but this particular coloring is not essential to the office; the animal may be pure white. At any rate, his appearance must be consistent with the show piece he is in the band. His education is severe and persistent, bringing him at last up to that point where his pride and intelligence make him a dignified and graceful bearer of the handsome trappings that surround his high calling. His nerves are severely tried by the booming of the enormous drums he is destined to bear, but in time he becomes as indifferent to the noise as do his brothers to the singing bullets. In the parade his rider has his hands full in the use of the sticks. He controls the steed by means of the reins which are fastened to the stirrup-strap near the foot.

The fame of the drum horse is often won on the field of battle. His duty classifies him with the war horse, and in similar lines lies his path to glory and renown. The horse that wins laurels in

TWO SESSIONS OF THE INQUEST.

MANY WITNESSES EXAMINED BEFORE THE CORONER'S JURY YESTERDAY, BUT WITH PROCEEDINGS STILL SECRET.

The coroner's jury continued hearing testimony in the case of the murder of James Cashen yesterday morning and afternoon. After the funeral of the victim the jury members assembled and took up the work where it was left off Wednesday evening. There was a short session which lasted until after the noon hour. In the afternoon a second session was held which lasted until well along toward six o'clock. During the day several witnesses were examined. They included parties who appeared at the scene of the murder shortly after the crime was committed, the brothers of the deceased, and others who saw the supposed murderer either before or after the commission of the crime.

The sessions of the jury yesterday were held in secret. Only those directly connected with the examination were present. B. O. Pearl of Marquette took the testimony. Prosecuting Attorney Potter conducted the investigation. The cross-examination was very strict and no effort was spared to discover a clue to the perpetrator of the crime. Secrecy was maintained so that the officers might have time to work up any important discovery that might be made before it was widely known. The jury did not conclude its work yesterday, but will finish up today. There has been much discussion of the secret phase of the investigation. Many would like to hear the testimony. It is probable that the step to exclude the public was taken for sufficient reasons.

The police under the direction of Sheriff Carlson and Under Sheriff Bennett were busy on the case all day, but no important development in the search for the criminals had been made up to last evening. Yesterday the efforts of the officers were directed toward the Queen mine location near Negaunee, where it is believed that the murderer, where it is companion were employed. The authorities are suspicious of two men who are known to have worked at that location. They were identified by a Negaunee miner named Jennings, who is employed at the Salisbury mine, while riding on street cars here Monday night.

They were quite intoxicated and did not appear to know where they were going. Jennings had come up from Negaunee to work. The men boarded the car at the intersection of Pearl and First streets and rode toward the terminus of the line beyond Lake Angeline. Jennings identified them as parties who worked at the Queen mines, although he did not know their names. He noticed their appearance. They wore caps and he is tolerably sure that these were identical with those now in the possession of the police which were taken at the scene of the murder. The men did not leave the car at the terminus of the line, but came down town, where they got off.

It was on their return trip that Officer Clermon saw them. He also noticed them and observed that they were caps. It is presumed that when they left the car they started back to Lake Angeline on the supposition that they were headed for their homes. The time that they were seen on the car fits well enough with the time that the murderer was committed to warrant the belief that they might be the guilty parties. Testimony at the inquest, however, shows that after the time the murder was committed the criminals were seen beyond the place where it occurred walking toward the terminus of the street car line, which would indicate that they don't belong in Negaunee, although they may have been too drunk to distinguish directions clearly.

It is the general conviction that the murderer will escape capture. There are many things operating against the authorities in their endeavor to discover the criminal. It has been the experience here that it is a most difficult task to run down a criminal when he is of the Finnish nationality. His trail is usually well covered up by his friends. In the case of the Mullymack murder here two years ago last fourth of July, Mullymack, the murderer, killed his victim in a saloon between the hours of five and six. He left the saloon and despite the fact that there were thousands of people on the streets at the time got clear of the city and was never heard of again. The efforts of the police were unavailing although they tried every means to ascertain his whereabouts.

It is possible that the officers may yet strike a lead that will lead to the apprehension of the murderer. It is devoutly to be hoped that they will. If the search for him should result in his arrest it would, however, surprise a majority of the people here.

TO IRONWOOD THIS MORNING.

The High school football team leaves this morning at ten o'clock for Ironwood, where it will meet the organization representing the Ironwood school tomorrow afternoon. It will be an important game, and the boys will have to win it to assure them the honor of representing the upper peninsula in the high school championship contests in lower Michigan later in the year. The Ironwood team is the heavier one, and four post-graduates are playing with it. It was thought that these men could be protested by Ishpeming, but Ironwood can play them under the rules given out from the state university which govern the game. Ishpeming's team is composed of students who are engaged on work connected with the regular four years high school course, and in this respect it is more representative than the Ironwood aggregation. The regular team and two subs will be taken to Ironwood. There will be a delegation of Ishpeming rooters, most of whom will go over to Ironwood tonight. The local team will put up the best football it is capable of playing.

TWO SAD FUNERALS.

TWO VICTIMS OF VIOLENT DEATHS GIVEN SEPULTURE HERE YESTERDAY.

Shortly before nine o'clock yesterday morning the bells of St. Joseph's church rang out in dull, slow peals, announcing the funeral of James Cashen, who was murdered here Monday night. The funeral cortege proceeded from the family home on Pine street to the church. The procession was very long, as the deceased was widely known. Rev. J. M. Langan read the burial service. At its conclusion the body was escorted to its last resting place in the Catholic cemetery by the large number of mourners who accompanied it to the church.

The second funeral of the day occurred immediately after the arrival of the 12:35 train from Champlain, on which the remains of Captain Simon Kinsman were brought to Ishpeming for interment. The Masons of this city were in charge of the services. Captain Kinsman was a member of the local lodge. The body was borne directly to the cemetery where the Masonic services were held at the grave side. A large concourse of friends and relatives of the deceased escorted the remains. The Champlain delegation was particularly large. Among the number down were Superintendent Walter Fitch, who was with Captain Kinsman when he took the fatal fall from the shaft, M. C. Quinn, D. F. Morgan of Republic, Dr. Beech of Champlain and several other friends of the deceased.

Both funerals were very sad for the friends and relatives, as each of the dead met death in a violent form when it was wholly unlooked for.

HURT IN THE WOODS.

Fred Anderson, formerly a resident of this city, living at Nebraska Hill, was brought in from the lumber camps at Dead river yesterday severely injured. He was crushed by a tree which caught his body above the hips. The weight of the tree was great and injuries to the pelvis were sustained. He was brought to the Ishpeming hospital for treatment as soon as he could bear the journey. He was carried in on a springless lumber wagon but an ingenious arrangement of pulleys was rigged up which made the trip much easier for him than might be expected. Anderson's injuries are quite severe but he will recover. He will be confined to the hospital for an extended period.

PUTTING IN A WEIGH SCALES.

The D. S. S. & A. road has started the work involved in putting in a weigh scales near the transfer sheds of the company beyond Third street. A pile driver from Marquette is being used to put in the foundation. Huge posts are being put down to support the scales. The task is quite difficult and a number of men will be employed on it.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

George Thoney and wife returned from Chicago yesterday.

Miss Clara Martin's fall millinery opening is now on and she will be pleased to receive her customers.

Joseph Hooking of 502 North street lost a three month old child by death yesterday. The funeral will be held Sunday from the residence.

Special Agent Wentworth of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company was here yesterday. He is going to locate permanently in this city.

The household goods of Charles L. Shelden were auctioned off Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Shelden is closing up her affairs preparatory to joining her husband, who is now in the west.

A string band composed of three Italians furnished very good music about the city yesterday. Two played violins and the third, a mere boy, performed on the harp. They attracted considerable notice about the streets.

Kaufman & Hessel will receive a carload of heavy draft horses today which they will place in their sales stables here. The horses will be good stock suited for heavy work. All interested in them are requested to call around to the stables on Pearl street and look them over.

Last evening the parishioners of Grace church tendered Rev. and Mrs. Atwell a reception at A. W. Meyer's residence. The guests came and went during the evening and a large number paid their compliments to the new pastor of Grace church. The reception was a very pretty affair. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Ishpeming ladies who wish a cheap trip to Marquette this week have a grand opportunity now. To all those showing a round-trip coupon at Van Alsty's store, Marquette, will be refunded all the charge over 50 cents, whether they buy or not. Those who purchase $10 worth or over will be refunded the entire cost of the ticket.

There was considerable excitement down town Wednesday night. Some one on Pine street between Pearl and Division let out a Comanche yell. It struck a popular chord and the people about Main street immediately saw visions of murders and all descriptions of unlawful deeds. A large crowd congregated where the noise came from in a few minutes. Nothing out of the way was discovered.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by The Stafford Drug Company.

The teachers' institute, which has been in session this week at the high school with a good attendance of teachers from all parts of the county present, is progressing very nicely. Professor Patterson gave a pleasing lecture in the town hall Tuesday, one at Baraga Wednesday evening and another here last evening. Professor Waldo of Marquette arrived Tuesday and is helping the good work along.

The board of supervisors was in session on Monday and transacted considerable business. A writ of typhoid fever bills from the village of Baraga to the amount of $1,200 was rejected, and a lawsuit is threatened in consequence. The board also cut off one deputy game warden and increased the salary of the other from $40 to $50 a month, also recommending P. Cullin's re-election. Dr. W. R. Stringham was awarded the contract for the care of the contagious cases that fall upon the county. He to furnish the medicines, at $245 per annum. The supervisors fixed the circuit judge's salary at $600 a year. A resolution was next adopted to allow Baraga township to vote on bonding itself for $1,000 for highway purposes, and also provided for the submission to the voters at the spring election of a proposition to adopt the county road system. The L'Anse Sentinel was awarded the county printing, at $150 per annum, and Miss Kate Curry was reappointed school examiner. Sixteen thousand dollars were levied for county purposes for the ensuing year. After the reappointment of H. J. Siefert as one of the superintendents of poor, the board then discussed the advisability of purchasing and maintaining a poor farm, but action was deferred for the present. The treasurer's accounts were examined and found in good shape, there being $6,000 cash on hand and all indebtedness paid. The board instructed the clerk to sell the coal stoves, now in use at the court house and jail, the steam heating plant being about ready for operation. Adjudgment was taken subject to call after the different township rolls had been equalized.

OFFICERS AT QUEEN LOCATIONS. A THOROUGH SEARCH MADE FOR THE CASHEN MURDER SUSPECTS IN THAT VICINITY.

Wednesday and yesterday Sheriff Carlson, who is in charge of the investigation of the murder of James Cashen, and is directing the search for the guilty parties, kept some of his men at the Queen location looking for two men who are suspected of being the pair who were together when the murder at Ishpeming was committed.

George W. Barnes and the twin stars of "Finnigan's Ball", Murray and Mack, are old friends, coming from the same town. George expected to have the gentlemen dine with him yesterday.

The pay roll of the Negaunee and Jackson mines was due yesterday. The several pay days all fall within the next few days and business will brighten up considerably during the coming week.

Several went from here to Ishpeming yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of Captain Simon Kinsman, who was killed at the Champion mine Wednesday. He had relatives in Negaunee and was well known among the older citizens.

Jim Long's "White Spear" Medicine company, which has been holding forth at the opera house for the past ten nights, will conclude its Negaunee engagement at the end of the present week.

Negaunee ladies who wish a cheap trip to Marquette this week have a grand opportunity now. To all those showing a round-trip coupon at Van Aistyn's store, Marquette, will be refunded all the charge over 50 cents, whether they buy or not.

The weather of the past three days has not kept up to the promise of the earlier part of the October month. The fine days during the week gave the farmers an opportunity to finish up by far the greater part of their outdoor work, however.

How a Guatemalan Broke Up the Honduras Junta in New Orleans. After a sojourn of over two months in New Orleans, Major Al Lalande, chief of the national police of Guatemala, sailed for Port Cortez on the Breakwater a short time ago.

The real reason why Major Lalande remained so long has leaked out. While the major was still in the infirmary he received a telegram from President Cabrera of Guatemala, instructing him to investigate a Honduran junta said to be existing in New Orleans, and, if possible, to break it up.

Those who have followed the course of Central American affairs during the past year or so are aware that a movement has been in progress, led by General Vasquez and others, for starting a revolution in Honduras and seizing the government.

Major Lalande is a first-class, all-round detective. He speaks Spanish like a native, has enough sand to start a private desert and was unusually well equipped for the task.

When Lalande got possession of the two rooms he carefully removed a patch of wall paper and dug out the lath and plaster in the partition that separated him from the Vasquez headquarters.

In spite of his precautions Lalande was in imminent danger during this nocturnal spying and on several occasions came within an ace of being discovered.

One of the practical results of Lalande's detective work was the upsetting of a well laid plan to ship a number of guns to Puerto Cortez. The first consignment of the weapons came duly to hand in this city several weeks ago.

Later on the members of the junta were quietly notified that all of their secrets were in possession of the Guatemalan and Honduran authorities and they lost no time in scattering.

THE GAIN IN COAL PRODUCTION. This Country Now Mine 20 Per Cent of the World's Supply.

Thirty per cent of the world's production of coal is mined in the United States and more than one-half of the total production of this country is mined in the single state of Pennsylvania.

Thirty per cent of the world's production of coal is mined in the United States and more than one-half of the total production of this country is mined in the single state of Pennsylvania.

Next in importance to Pennsylvania is Illinois, whose production of anthracite is about 9 per cent of the total, while West Virginia, third in importance, contributed about 8 per cent of the total.

The increasing output of bituminous coal and the lessened cost of mining it, due to the use of machines, has brought about a continuous fall in the price of that product at the mines, and has also compelled a reduction in the price of anthracite.

SAMPLE BEETS CALLED IN.

Citizens' Committee Wants to Know Result of Its Sugar Beet Experiments.

NATIONAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS HAVE CALLED FOR RETURNS.

About Five Hundred Pounds of Seed Distributed Among Some Fifty-Five Farmers in the Central Section of the Peninsula.

FIRST SAMPLES UNUSUALLY SWEET.

Samples of the sugar beets which were grown in the peninsula this summer from seed furnished by the Citizens' committee, will begin to come in about Saturday. Notices have been sent to all farmers in this section of the country who were furnished seed to send in their samples. They are requested to take them to Neidhart's store.

This request for samples is in accordance with the agreement which was made when the seed was given out. The Citizens' committee secured the seed from the department of agriculture at Washington and from the Michigan state experiment stations. Both the national and state governments have now called on the Citizens' committee for reports and the committee has in turn called on the farmers who took the seed and raised the experimental crop.

When the beets are brought in here they will be forwarded to the state and national departments and there be subjected to analysis to determine the percentage of sugar they contain. The results of these tests will be reported back here and incorporated in state and national reports and will go towards establishing the fact that this territory can produce an excellent quality of sugar beets. This fact once thoroughly demonstrated promises to be the foundation of a fine new industry which will benefit the farmer and townsman alike. The project for getting a beet sugar factory at Marquette is by no means dead, though it failed to materialize last year by reason of the late start.

Samples of the beets is not the only thing the farmer is expected to furnish. With the samples a considerable quantity of information is wanted. This is demanded both by the state and United States governments and is necessary in order that intelligent deductions can be made from the experiments. Every farmer bringing in beets will be required to fill out a blank on which will be found the following questions:

Variety of beet planted? When planted? Width in inches between rows? When thinned? When harvested? Average yield per acre? Condition of season whether favorable or not? Character of soil? In addition to this the name and address of the grower of every sample is required.

One fine lot of beets has already come in. It was brought by a farmer down in Chocoday, but he neglected to leave his name at the store and did not know that he would be required to give any information about the way he planted and worked his crop. His sample beets are large and firm in texture and very sweet to the taste. All who have tasted them express the opinion that they will average high in saccharine matter. The taste of the beet is very similar to that of sugar cane, though of course, not so sweet.

All told the committee distributed about 500 pounds of seed. The bulk of it was given to farmers in the vicinity of Marquette, but there was quite a part given to farmers up and down the line of the South Shore. The object of this was to interest farmers all through the country which will naturally be tributary to this place when a sugar factory is established here. The amount given to each varied from two to fifteen pounds, the latter quantity being sufficient to plant an acre.

The test which has just been conducted is the most extensive one which was ever made in this section of the country, but previous tests which have been made by isolated growers show that the sugar beet is well adapted for growing in the soil and under the climatic conditions which prevail in the upper peninsula. It is expected that the returns which are now being sought will show an average yield per acre of not less than twenty tons, and that the experiments conducted by the government and state analysts will show that the beets contain in the neighborhood of sixteen per cent of sugar. The standard required by the state calls for only twelve per cent sugar, and for these factories which accept a bounty are obliged under state law to pay a minimum of $4 a ton.

Where the soil and climate are adapted to it the sugar beet crop is one of the most profitable the farmer can raise. The cost of production has been found to run $30 to the acre; the returns on a yield of fifteen bushels, a low average in this territory, are $60, made so by state law.

J. M. Longyear has been investigating the possibility of sugar beet culture in the upper peninsula for several years.

DON'T LEAVE THE CITY.

Plenty of Proof Right Here in Marquette.

Claim is one thing, proof another. Columbus claimed the world was round. Did people believe it? Not until he proved it.

Unproven claims have made the people skeptics. Every claim made for the "Little Conquerer" is proven. Proven in Marquette by local experience.

Here is one case from the many we have.

Mr. Charles Parr, of 118 East Jackson street, foreman on Pickands' coal dock, says: "I was bothered a good deal for a long time with backache, often very severe. I let it go for a time, thinking it would wear off, but instead it became more persistent. I then began to look for some remedy to give me relief and seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I procured a box at the Stafford Drug Co. and began using them. I had taken but a few doses when I felt the pains were leaving me. Since I finished the treatment, I have had no indications of a return of the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other. Missioner all who did not improve. A

He has succeeded in growing a crop of 24 6-10 tons to the acre. These beets contained 16.43 per cent of sugar. The sugar beet is hardy and unaffected by frosts either at the beginning or end of the season. It is not hard to grow, and here, where climatic conditions favor the growth of root crops, it is sure to become immensely popular once the farmers get in the way of raising it. To make it a profitable crop there must be a factory to furnish the market, but as soon as the necessary acreage can be secured, 4,000 acres tributary to the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad, there are capitalists who stand ready to put up the necessary $400,000 to start the institution at this point. The efforts to secure this acreage, which were begun last spring, will probably be renewed this winter, and with the increased interest which this summer's experiments have aroused among the farmers, stand a good chance of resulting in success.

DROP, DROP, DROP.

Every Active Copper Falls Off—December and May Wheat Decline.

Yesterday was a decidedly weak day for the copper market and every stock which moved at all declined. There was not even a fractional gain anywhere on the list.

Arcadian continued dropping and fell one more to 43. Allouez went off a half to 5. Declines of a half each were made by Arnold and Atlantic, the former closing at 10 and the latter at 27 1/2. Anaconda went to 48, a loss of one. Boston & Montana and Butte & Boston, which have been bullish for some days, both fell yesterday. The first lost four and closed at 356. The close on Butte & Boston was 75, a three point loss. Centennial lost one on the day and closed at 31. Franklin dropped back a half to 17 1/2. Laie Royale fell two to 42. Mass closed at 9 1/2, against a close of 10 the day before. Old Dominion closed off 1/4 at 31. Osceola at 84 was 1 1/2 to the bad. Parrot dropped 1/4 to 45 1/2. Quincy fell five to 155. Tri-Mountain lost a quarter closing at 9 1/2. Utah closed at 35 1/2, losing 1/4. U. S. Mining closed one off at 30. Winona sold down a half all day at 9. Wolverine opened at 42 1/2, but closed at 40 1/2, a loss of a half from Wednesday night.

The stock market was running opposite to the metal. This was not surprising, strong but it scored a gain. Hayden, Stone & Co. reported the opening off at 275. 178, but the close was 276, against a close of 275. 188, 94, the night before. Fred Jones had a rather pessimistic copper letter from Hayden, Stone & Co. yesterday. It read:

"Boston, Oct. 12.—Coppers went astray today. They look rather weak and when anyone sells off they go. As soon as this stops the insiders bid them up but as soon as they meet stock off they go again. The public is loath and cannot buy any more stock and as money money cases they will get tired and liquidate with the result of a big drop in stocks but at present there are few stocks pressing for sale and it remains to be seen if people will hold. There is no news and everyone is disgusted with the dullness. The Lord only knows the outcome."

Paine, Webber & Co. sent the following report of Wednesday's sales: Adventure, 160; Anaconda, 59; Arnold, 209; Arcadian, 75; Baltic, 200; Bingham, 250; Boston & Montana, 3; Bingham, 2; Boston, 4; Centennial, 300; Cochita, 345; Franklin, 165; Mayflower, 200; Michigan, 250; Osceola, 100; Parrot, 120; Pioneer, 50; Quincy, 78; Rhode Island, 75; Santa Fe, 1,300; Tamarack, 50; Tri-Mountain, 310; United States, 1,800; Utah, 450; Winona, 25; Victoria, 25; Wyandott, 50.

Wheat is making a poor response to the warlike situation now prevailing in Africa. Instead of advancing each option fell 1/2 yesterday. December closed at 72 1/2 and May three months. A. R. Jones & Co. had the following to say of the market yesterday in their daily letter to Fred Jones:

"Chicago, Oct. 12.—Wheat.—Liverpool is proving a great disappointment to the bulls for even with war at last a reality that market is dull and heavy and while a little higher at the opening its close showed no advance. The crowd here seemed bullishly inclined but somewhat mystified by Liverpool's action and a weak opening and the consequent decline put the price back to 72 1/2. December, but just here Kauffmann, the St. Louis operator who is short a large line there, tried to cover it in this market and the closing was low and weak. Trade was comparatively light and aside from the spell of active short covering about featureless. No more good news today from the seaboard on the export question though the talk yesterday was that numerous bids were almost workable. Considering the advanced freight rates, Liverpool is acting weak. The price current comments unfavorably on the winter wheat situation, referring especially to the dry weather in most sections at time of planting, and to insects, but anticipates nothing serious from the latter. Our exports this week will aggregate around 5,500,000 which will make large world's shipments and an increase afloat in the next statement; wheat is being shipped from Canada."

CORNERSTONE.

One in Swedish Methodist Church Will Be Laid Sunday Afternoon.

Sunday will be a joyful occasion for the members and congregation of the Swedish Methodist church, for on that afternoon at 2:30 they will lay the cornerstone of their new church building, which is going up at the corner of Ridge and Third streets. The laying of the cornerstone is a forerunner of the dedication of the church, which will probably take place some time in December.

Rev. Klaus Ackermann, the pastor, and members of the congregation have been busy for some months past collecting the necessary funds to erect the building. They do not expect to be able to dedicate the church free from debt, much as they would like to, but the major portion of the money has been already raised and they hope to make quite an addition to it by the collection which will be taken at Sunday's ceremonies.

The services attending the laying of the cornerstone will be in the Swedish language, but there will be several English addresses. This part of the program has not been completely made out and the only speaker now certain is the Rev. E. A. Elliott, pastor of the First Methodist (American) church. Rev. Frank Gustafson, presiding elder of the Lake Superior district, will be down from Ishpeming, as will also the Rev. Andreen, pastor of the Ishpeming Swedish Methodist church.
