USEFUL "BOX-CALF" SHOES.

A genuine "Box-Calf" Shoe has many points of excellence for Fall and Winter wear. To begin with, the genuine is a new process, chrome tannage, which strengthens the leather and at the same time makes it soft and pliable. It is "shined" with patent-leather polish and becomes almost waterproof after a few polishings. This makes "Box-Calf" specially excellent for street wear during the damp and rainy season. They retain their polish longer than any other shoe, and can be reshined by rubbing over with a woolen cloth without additional polish for a long time. We are showing the genuine "Box-Calf" at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

FIGHT AT LADYSMITH.

White Sallies Out and Meets the Forces of Gen. Joubert.

CASUALTIES ARE HEAVY.

Engagement inconclusive, but Boers Hold Own and British Object Is Apparently Unattained.

MASTERLY DUTCH TACTICS

London, Oct. 31.—A dispatch from Cape Town announces the arrival in Table bay of the Dunattar Castle late last (Monday) evening, with General Sir Redvers Buller and staff, who are expected to land this morning. They will meet with a tremendous ovation in Cape Town.

London, Oct. 30.—The war office has received a dispatch which says that General White has fought an engagement, presumably with General Joubert's force, which was pushed back after several hours of fighting. The British lost about a hundred men, while the Boers losses are much greater. The Boers were in larger numbers and had the better artillery.

ENGLISH BATTERY "LOST."

General White's dispatch, which was dated 4:30 o'clock p. m., today, reads: "I have employed all the troops here except an obligatory garrison, before the works. I sent a mountain battery, the Royal Irish fusiliers and the Gloucesters to take up a position on a hill to clear my left flank. The force moved at 11 o'clock yesterday evening, and during some night firing the battery mules stampeded with some of the guns, which, however, I hope to recover. These two battalions have not yet returned, but are expected this evening.

"I detailed two brigade divisions of field artillery and five battalions of infantry, aided by the cavalry, under General French, to attack the position upon which the enemy yesterday mounted guns. We found the position evacuated, but our forces were attacked with considerable vigor by what I believe were General Joubert's troops. They had many guns and showed in great numbers.

ENEMY PUSHED BACK.

"Our troops were all in action and we pushed the enemy back several miles, but did not succeed in reaching his laager. Our losses are estimated at between eighty and a hundred, but those of the enemy must have been much greater, the fire of our guns appearing very effective. After we had been in action for several hours I withdrew the troops and they returned unmolested to their cantonments. The enemy are in great numbers and their guns range further than our field guns.

"I now have some naval guns which have temporarily silenced and I hope, will permanently dominate the enemy's best guns, with which he has been bombarding the town at a range of over 6,000 yards."

POWERFUL JACKIES THERE.

London, Oct. 31.—It is believed that the naval brigade which arrived Monday at Ladysmith consists of a hundred men from the British cruiser Powerful with some of the Powerful four-inch quick-firers, which have a range of ten thousand yards, firing a forty-five pound shell. The battery that was lost probably is one consisting of six two and a half-inch muzzle-loaders and thirty-six mules.

SITUATION VIRTUALLY UNCHANGED.

YESTERDAY'S ACTION EXTREMELY INCONCLUSIVE AND DISAPPOINTING TO ENGLISH PUBLIC.

London, Oct. 31.—Yesterday's (Monday) engagement at Ladysmith, which despite the rather heavy losses, must be regarded as an extended reconnaissance or skirmish than battle, seems to make little change in the actual position.

It is disappointing to the British public, as again revealing tactical skill of unexpectedly high order on the side of the Boers. In addition to the possession of a number of heavy guns, the transport of which causes wonderment here, they have available marvelous ability. Unless commanded by skillful European officers, it is hardly considered probable the Boer farmers would have assumed a feigned position, as they evidently did, in front of the right column, with the intention of retreating from it to their real line of defense and of inducing the British to attack over a fire-sweep zone.

WHITE'S DISPATCH GARBLED.

The special dispatches describing the engagement again fall far short, confirms General White's official account that the Boers were pushed back several miles. When it is considered that the censorship is very severe, the only conclusion that can be arrived at is that the action was extremely inconclusive. It is quite certain that General White failed to accomplish the object he intended, and the day's proceedings are an instructive example of the difficulty of operations when the enemy holds an extended position from which he is able to make sudden unexpected developments and changes of front.

Sir Redvers Buller cannot arrive at the scene of the fighting until the end of this week. In the meantime, General

White will need all his resources to prevent the Boer around Ladysmith from linking their forces. The omission of all details likely to give a true idea of his position from General White's dispatch may be due to his reticence, but this editing by the war office officials is likely to be again severely commented upon.

PEN PICTURES OF THE FIGHT.

STORY OF THE LADYSMITH ENCOUNTER AS CABLED BY THE PRESS CORRESPONDENTS.

Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—Noon.—Firing commenced at 5:20 o'clock this morning, the Boers shelling Ladysmith with forty-pounders. After seven shots the British guns succeeded in silencing the Boer fire. A force of Boers is now advancing on the British left flank.

Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—12:50 p. m.—The naval brigade arrived this morning at 9:30 o'clock and has just commenced firing with six quick-firing guns with great precision. The Boer forty-pounders, which again began to shell the town, were temporarily disabled at the third and fifth shots. Brisk fighting is in progress on the right and left flanks.

BRITISH TROOPS ADVANCE.

Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—[Evening.]—An advance was made at dawn with the object of shelling the Boers from their position, where yesterday they had mounted a number of guns. On reaching the spot, however, it was found they had evacuated the position. The British continued to advance, and the movement developed into a reconnaissance in force. The Boers were posted on a range of hills, having a frontage of about sixteen miles.

The British force was disposed in the following order: On the right, three regiments of cavalry, four batteries of the Royal field artillery and five battalions of infantry; in the center, three batteries of the Royal field artillery, two regiments of cavalry and four infantry battalions; on the left, the Royal Irish fusiliers, the Gloucester regiment and the Tenth mountain battery. This latter force had been detailed to guard the British left flank at a late hour last night.

FOUND THE ENEMY GONE.

General White's plan of operations was that, as the movement developed, the force constituting the center, which was disposed under the cover of a kopje about three miles from town, should throw itself upon the enemy while the left flank was being held by the fusiliers and Gloucesters. The scheme was well devised, but failed in execution, owing to the fact that the Boer position which formed the objective point was evacuated. The British artillery quickly reduced the volume of the enemy's fire; but the attack delivered on the British right flank was the principal one, and the column was compelled to change.

The Boer guns had been silenced for a time, and then the British infantry advanced, covered by the cavalry. The Boers now began to develop a heavy counter attack, and, as they were of great numerical superiority, General White gave orders for the infantry to be gradually withdrawn. The movement was carried out with great steadiness and deliberation, under cover of the guns, which made excellent practice, during which the artillery fire on both sides had been almost incessant.

SWEEPING BOER RIFLE FIRE.

The engagement lasted several hours and resulted, on the British side, in casualties estimated at from ninety to a hundred. The Boer losses must have largely exceeded this total. The attack was admirably delivered by the British right, and the Boers were fairly driven out of one of their strongholds near Lombard Kop. It was not possible, however, to push the success much further, as beyond that point lay a long broken ridge, affording every kind of natural cover. Of this the Boers took the fullest advantage.

The British shells failed to dislodge the Boers, and as the British infantry moved forward in extended order they came under a heavy, well directed rifle fire, the effect of which was soon apparent. General White, who was with the center, seeing that the troops on the right were somewhat pressed, sent to their assistance the whole center column, with the exception of the Devonshire regiment. The battle had then lasted four hours, during which the artillery fire on both sides had been almost incessant.

NAVAL GUNS GOOD WORK.

The Naval brigade, which landed at Durban, had arrived on the scene toward the end of the fight and immediately brought its heavy guns into play. Their practice was magnificent. At the fourth shot the Boers' forty-pounders had been knocked out of action. The town is now freed from the apprehension of bombardment.

Throughout the engagement the Boers held their ground with courage and tenacity and, considering the intensity of the British artillery fire, they must have suffered severely.

BRITISH WHO FELL BACK.

London, Oct. 31.—The correspondent of The Times at Ladysmith, says: "The action seemed to be proceeding most satisfactory when, at 7:15 a. m., the enemy, in large numbers, with field guns, Maxims and other rapid-fire guns, began to develop a heavy attack on Colonel Grimwood's infantry. The cavalry brigade had moved upon our right, holding a parallel ridge over against Colonel Grimwood's position and practically acting as infantry. In the meantime our batteries kept down the siege gun fire upon Ladysmith with shrapnel.

"At 9 o'clock there seemed to be a lull as our reserves were moved up, but suddenly the engagement reopened, as the enemy on our right brought further artillery to bear. Colonel Grimwood, who with three advance battalions, had held the ridge for five hours, suddenly fell back across the open upon our guns. "The Fifty-third battery pluckily pushed forward to cover this withdrawal. Severe casualties occurred at this phase. The Fifty-third battery held on against a cross-fire of rifles and quick-firing guns until the infantry was clear. The TRACK AROUND THE TOWN.

London, Oct. 31.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail says he learns that Colonel Baden-Powell, British commander at Mafeking, has laid a railway in a complete circle around Mafeking and is running trains around the town ready to meet the Boers at any point.

BRITISH CHARGE REPULSED.

Lorenzo Marques, Dalagoa Bay, Oct. 30.—A dispatch received here today from Pretoria, under date of the 28th, says that General Cronje, the Boer commander, has announced that the British garrison at Mafeking made a bayonet attack on Command Louis' laager, near the grand stand, but were repulsed, leaving six dead on the field and it was believed many of the attacking party were wounded. The dispatch adds that on Saturday morning Colonel Baden-Powell asked for an armistice in order to bury his head. General Cronje consented, the Boers assisting in placing the dead in a wagon and going to Mafeking.

FIGHT IN RHODESIA.

London, Oct. 31.—A Fort Rull dispatch dated the evening of the 24th, says: "Blackburn's force, in a skirmish at Rhodes' drift, killed twelve Bers. A Kafir spy reports many Boers dying in the drift, dying. Blackburn died of wounds on returning to Fort Rull. Scouts report the Boers concentrating strongly on the Rhodesian border, with Maxims."

Rhodes' drift is on the river Limpopo, which forms the Rhodesia-Transvaal (north) boundary; it is about twenty miles south of Fort Rull, in Rhodesia, and in a bee-line from Pretoria is 240 miles distant, lying a little to the east of north of the Boer camp.

SPYING ON THE BRITISH.

DUTCH IN NATAL SAID TO BE GIVING INFORMATION TO THE TRANSVAAL FORCES.

London, Oct. 31.—According to a despatch to The Daily Mail from Durban, it has been ascertained that the Natal Dutch have been actively assisting the Boers by carrying information regarding British movements. It seems that although the landings and departures of the troops are effected by night and the greatest secrecy is maintained, yet the enemy somehow gets information despite the severe censorship. It is also believed in Durban that the Dutch have assisted the Boers by pointing out the British officers in the battles.

PORTUGUESE ON DECK.

STRONG FORCE DESPATCHED TO DELAGOA BAY, IT IS STATED.

London, Oct. 30.—A special dispatch from Lorenzo Marques says a strong force of Portuguese troops has arrived on the Transvaal border from the Mozambique territory, owing to fears regarding hostilities between the British and Boers.

WOUNDED ENGLISH REMOVED.

London, Oct. 31.—It is reported from Pretoria that 200 of the British wounded from Dundee have arrived there and been furnished accommodations in the state school building.

"LADYSMITH TAKEN."

FAKE REPORT YESTERDAY OF HOLLAND MANUFACTURE.

Berlin, Oct. 30.—A report received this morning from Holland states that the whole British army at Ladysmith has surrendered, and that the troops are now prisoners of war.

As Great Britain controls the two cables leading from South Africa—the one on the east coast as well as that along the Atlantic water line—the above report undoubtedly did not come by cable and was a canard on its face, in view of the much later bona-fide African cablegrams.

FOUR WIVES IN BALTIMORE.

MORE WOMEN CLAIM FARNSWORTH AS THEIR SPOUSE.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Chief of Detectives Collier received a telegram from Baltimore today stating that Walter L. Farnsworth, the confessed bigamist now in jail here, who is said to have forty-two wives, is wanted in that city for marrying four women under the name of Sterling or Villothomas. This is said to be his real name, and the prisoner does not deny it. Marie Larson of Philadelphia also thinks she is one of Farnsworth's wives and has written for a picture of the bigamist.

BRUNEAU GETS THE CONTRACT.

HE WILL BUILD THE NEW HOUGHTON CEMETERY ROAD.

The new cemetery road contract was let last evening by the Houghton village council to Charles BrunEAU, the lowest of three bidders. The clearing is at the rate of $75 per acre and the grading twenty-four cents per yard.

PORTAGE LAKE VICTIM PRESUMABLY A DULUTH MAN.

No answer has been received as yet by the Hancock authorities to their telegram to the town of the lake asking for information concerning Jonas Anderson, the supposed name of the man found in Portage lake late Saturday afternoon, judging from a Duluth employment agency card showing that he had been engaged for Balsch & Peppard's Aradian camps. Justice Oliver has adjourned the inquest until today in the hope of hearing something concerning him.

WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN GONE.

JOSEPH KASPER, THE HOUGHTON PLUMBER, PASSES AWAY.

Joseph M. Kaspers, the Houghton plumber who was married only about two months ago to Miss Nellie Finnegan of that place, died at 2:30 yesterday afternoon from jaundice, aged about thirty-five years. He was a son of John Kaspers of Hurontown, where he was born and raised, his bereaved parents still living there. Mr. Kaspers was chief of the Hurontown fire department, which will have charge of the funeral. Every one speaks highly of him; his death is a great shock to the community.

BUSINESS MEN FAVOR IT.

QUINCY STREET, HANCOCK, LIKELY TO BE PAVED IN 1900.

President Scott has interviewed the property holders on Quincy street, Hancock, from Reservation street, the eastern boundary of the town, west to a point past the city hall, and finds them almost unanimously in favor of paving the street as early as possible in the spring with vitrified brick, hence it is probable that Hancock will be the first of all copper country towns to put on metropolitan airs.

James R. Dee has completed Hancock's Gamewell fire alarm system, or so nearly so that the new system will be tested for the first time today.

SUPERINTENDENT KIDWELL DENIES A RUMOR CIRCULATED.

Superintendent Kidwell, of the Arcadian, denies the report that the mill will shut down indefinitely because the heads are sinking. The rock fins have been repaired, and both heads are running, as can be seen by anyone visiting the mill. The mortar for the third head has at last arrived.

BRIDGE WORK RUSHING.

Messrs. Paine and Gilbert, president and vice president, respectively, got back yesterday from the Mass end of the Copper Range road. They say the Phoenix company has forty men on the Fire Steel river bridge work, and that the first and highest span should be finished by Wednesday night.

The office of the Sheldon estate at Houghton has been removed into the new quarters in the remodeled building next to Graham Pope's, though Messrs. Sheldon and Calverley are surrounded by carpenters and finishers in the new place as yet. This is the first move since the death of Mrs. R. Sheldon in 1887; the little building which has been the Mecca of upper peninsula politicians and would-be postmasters in recent years will soon be lost from sight as the walls of the new Postoffice block rise and leave it shut in by the new block and the Deeb barn in its new position in the rear of the old stand.

RAILROAD CONTRACTOR MISSING.

J. H. GREGORY NOT TO BE FOUND—HAS BEEN PAID $7,000 BUT LEAVES A VALUABLE OUTFIT OF TEAMS, ETC.

J. H. Gregory, the Chicago sub-contractor who had a contract on the Copper Range road near the Hancock mine, seven miles east of Mass City, has skipped out leaving his men, C. E. Lass & Co. and the Copper Range Railroad company in the lurch to the tune of about $7,000. Part of this sum was paid him on an estimate on the work which he had done and part is understood to have been in the nature of an advance. Mr. Gregory is understood to have been in Houghton about the 18th inst. for the last time, his name appearing on the Douglas House register under date of Oct. 17. Soon after it was reported that he was missing, and upon investigating Lass & Co. found the report to be true, although it was kept quiet in the hope that he could be secured.

The sheriff of Ontonagon county recently served an attachment upon Gregory's outfit, consisting of thirty teams, scrapers, shovels, camping outfit, supplies, etc., and when Mr. Partenhimer, of Lass & Co., got over to the Mass City end of the work late last week he found the men in Gregory's camp fairly starting, and it was only after he had made a strong kick that the sheriff would lose up and give them supplies until Lass & Co., who immediately assumed the work of their sub-contractor, could get a new stock of supplies in. Mr. Partenhimer immediately paid off all the labor claims left unsatisfied by Gregory, and the work will be pushed through as if nothing had happened.

In the opinion of other contractors Gregory must have suddenly gone crazy to skip out with $7,000 when it rains his reputation for all time to come and will make his continuance in railroad contracting impossible, while he left behind him a very valuable outfit which diminishes greatly the amount of the "net" with which he eloped. He is understood to have secured an advance of $2,500 in addition to about $3,500 as an estimate on the work he had accomplished.

REMOVING WOOL FROM SKINS.

An Electrically Heated Blade Does the Work with Neatness and Dispatch.

It has always been a problem how to get the wool off the skins of the many millions of sheep which are annually slaughtered in Australia, South America and on the continent of Europe. An electrical apparatus for the purpose has been patented, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The invention, the first idea of which is said to have been struck by a lady, consists of an electric cautery or fleshing knife, by which the wool may be shorn from the skin rapidly and without injury either to the wool or the pelt. The knife has a very short and very wide blade, which is fitted on a handle electrically connected. To remove the wool the cautery is simply pushed along the surface of the skin. The red-hot knife instantly mows down the wool, and the speed at which the work can be done is governed by the deftness of the operator. The heat need not affect either the skin or the wool, provided that the knife is properly manipulated. With a few hours' practice, it is estimated, a girl can dewool from eight to a dozen skins per hour, and the cost of the current should be not greater than one cent for 18 hours' work. The advantages of the system are that the wool need not be injured by lime, chemicals or other deleterious influences, and the mere singing of the end of each fiber is imperceptible. It is claimed that the skin, which presumably has been sun dried in Australia or South America, immediately after the slaughtering of the sheep, is in a more perfect condition for the purposes of the tanner. The estimate of the cost of such operations shows the great economy of the electrical method of dewooling. It now costs the fellmonger eight cents a skin to wet down, limestone, or sweat the skin into condition for the puller, and the pulling wages range from 11 cents to 17 cents per dozen skins.

THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

A Missouri Woman Suggests That When It Becomes a State It Shall Be Called Jefferson.

Mrs. Robert H. True, of Clinton, Mo., writes to the St. Louis Republic suggesting that when the Indian territory shall become a state it be admitted to the union under the name of Jefferson. She says:

"I have made the suggestion to several prominent citizens of the territory in my recent trip through that important section, and they view the proposed name of Jefferson with enthusiasm. They think it would be acceptable to the entire territory thus to honor the memory of Thomas Jefferson, under whose direction the Louisiana purchase was made. Jefferson's name is forever associated with the history of the central state.

"Since the purchase of the original territory of Louisiana in 1803, many states have been formed, numbers of which have been named for individuals who have achieved greatness. No state has been named in honor of Jefferson, who opened and closed the negotiations for the purchase. The only remaining portion of the purchase in the union is the part known as the Indian territory. Progress will demand that a state be formed of this territory.

"The only opportunity of honoring Jefferson by naming a part of the original purchase for him is in naming Indian territory 'Jefferson' when it is made a state."

ROCKING BEAUTIFIES WOMEN.

How an English Scientist Accounts for the Symmetry of American Limbs.

The rocking chair, according to an English scientist over here for the purpose of writing a book of travels, deserves even a higher place in American esteem than it now holds, for it is responsible, this eagle-eyed observer claims, for one of the greatest beauties of the American women, the beauty of her lower limbs, says the Philadelphia Record. "If you will think," he said at a dinner party the other night at Atlantic City, "if you will think of the exercise one gets on a rocking chair, you will see that I am right. How many times, on these broad, wind-blown piazzas, does a young woman rock herself in her chair in the course of a morning? In fancy it would take a calculating barber to tell you that. At any rate, the exercise she gets is excellent and ample. That push which the toes gives to keep the chair in motion, repeated and repeated, makes the instep high, the calf round and full, and it keeps misshapening flesh off the ankle, keeping the ankle delicate and slender. Such delicate ankles under such robust calves made me fear, when I first came down and saw your women in their bathing dresses that the pneumatic stocking, so popular in my own land, had gotten a foothold here. I am convinced now that it is not so."

RATTLESNAKE EATER.

A Georgia Negro Who Captures and Sells the Reptiles Sometimes Makes a Meal of Them.

Moses Henderson is a sable son of Africa and lives two miles from Americus in a rocky field where rattlesnakes are most plentiful, says the Savannah News. Moses makes a living by capturing snakes and selling them. This is the snake, strange as it may seem. One day lately he killed a large one with 11 rattles on it. This was a fat snake and Moses ate it. The other day he brought a very large snake to the city, trying to sell its hide. There were 23 rattles on it. The snake was very poor, and Moses said it would not do to eat, and he stuffed its hide and sold it for a good price. Every year Moses makes a good deal of money selling snake oil. He says right down the vertebrae of a rattlesnake is a fatty streak of flesh that makes an oil, when fried, that will cure any case of rheumatism. It is strange to how many people he sells this rheumatic snake oil. He has a long list of certificates from people he has cured. Some of them are from intelligent whites, who declare that the oil has cured them when all other remedies have failed. He sells a vial of the oil for one dollar and guarantees a lasting cure.

Moses says his father was an African voodoo doctor and taught him how to cure all aches and pains with snake oil. The negroes of Sumter county venerate and fear him as a mysterious doctor who can cure when all else fails, and look upon his snake oil as something enchanted.

THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

A Missouri Woman Suggests That When It Becomes a State It Shall Be Called Jefferson.

Mrs. Robert H. True, of Clinton, Mo., writes to the St. Louis Republic suggesting that when the Indian territory shall become a state it be admitted to the union under the name of Jefferson. She says:

"I have made the suggestion to several prominent citizens of the territory in my recent trip through that important section, and they view the proposed name of Jefferson with enthusiasm. They think it would be acceptable to the entire territory thus to honor the memory of Thomas Jefferson, under whose direction the Louisiana purchase was made. Jefferson's name is forever associated with the history of the central state.

"Since the purchase of the original territory of Louisiana in 1803, many states have been formed, numbers of which have been named for individuals who have achieved greatness. No state has been named in honor of Jefferson, who opened and closed the negotiations for the purchase. The only remaining portion of the purchase in the union is the part known as the Indian territory. Progress will demand that a state be formed of this territory.

"The only opportunity of honoring Jefferson by naming a part of the original purchase for him is in naming Indian territory 'Jefferson' when it is made a state."

FIGHT AT LADYSMITH.

teams of two guns were damaged, but the battery eventually retired, made-up teams being sent to extricate the two guns. The cavalry, remaining unsupported, were forced to fall back also.

GENERAL RETIREMENT.

"Then began a general retirement on Ladysmith, and the guns, which had been covering the Devonshire regiment, stoutly covered the final withdrawal. The enemy did not press, but showed themselves on their position in great numbers only to find that the naval brigade from the Powerful had arrived. Two quick-firing guns were at once placed in position under cover on a re-entrant and in five rounds they had silenced the enemy's forty-pounders.

"The troops were back in Ladysmith by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The casualties caused by the enemy's artillery were not serious. The mountain battery on the left has reported it has suffered through a stampede of mules. Our artillery, cavalry, mounted infantry and volunteer cavalry behaved splendidly in the difficult circumstances.

YULE'S RETREAT FROM DUNDEE.

Correspondent writes vividly of that masterly move.

Unsung, Natal, Oct. 29.—[Delayed in transmission.]—The story of General Yule's retreat from Dundee is one of thrilling interest.

The enemy's guns were throwing fifty-pound shells with constantly increasing regularity from their commanding position on Impati mountain and they were alighting among the British cavalry stationed near Rowan's farm. There was no reply from the British gunners and no attempt was made to drive the enemy from their position.

The British dead and wounded from Friday's battle were still lying in temporary hospitals on Smith's Hill, where early on Sunday morning it became evident that the British camp was being struck, with a view to the removal of the forces elsewhere. At the same time it was observable that the Boers had taken up their position on the hill west of Dundee and were about to begin shelling the camp and town.

SHELLS FALL IN TOWN.

When the shells from the Boers' heavy guns began to fly again it was apparent that it was necessary for the British to evacuate the camp, and General Yule ordered the preparations made in all directions. All the while the shelling continued and the projectiles were falling into the camp. The British forces retired quickly out of range, leaving behind them the camp, the hospital, and a great quantity of stores and equipment.

The retirement of the imperial forces created much excitement among the townsfolk of Dundee, and when the report was circulated that General Yule advised the chairman of the local board to see to the immediate evacuation of the town the excitement was greatly increased. During the evening a report was received at Dundee that General White had arrived at Glencoe, and that he would probably join the Dundee forces in the morning and would order a combined attack on the Boers. But even this news, which afterward proved untrue, did not stay the exodus.

Nearly all the inhabitants of Dundee got ready to leave during the night. Among those who joined in the flight was Harry Escombe, the ex-primier of Natal. It was pitch dark, and a heavy rain fell incessantly. The people fled from the town on horseback, hardly knowing whether they were going. Some found their way to Rowan's farm and others made for Dekeher's farm, both under the Inhambane mountains.

FLIGHT BECOMES A PANIC.

The refugees reached these places in a most miserable plight. Both homesteads were crowded, many of the Dundee town guard being sought safety there during the flight. The riffling of the town rifled the bindeleros on the way, distributing the loot among themselves. At Dekeher's farm some of the detachment of the imperial forces were found bivouacked. Their position there was several miles south of the old camp.

At about midnight Mr. Riley, the chairman of the Dundee local board, arrived at Dekeher's farm with the information that General Yule had advised the refugees to retreat instantly upon Ladysmith, as the Boers were all around Dundee.

The excitement then gave way to a panic and hurried consultations were held. As a result, small bands of flying people commenced the long, weary tramp toward Ladysmith, walking throughout the night and drenched to the skin by the torrent of rain which continued to fall without cessation. There were about 300 Dundee refugees in the retreat, several of them being women.

The refugees formed a long line, plodding hour after hour over the sodden veldt. A few stopped at the foot of the Inhambane mountain, passing the night in the Kaffir kraal. Others made their way around the mountain to Umsiga, thence traveling to Greytown and Pietermaritzburg. It was an awful experience.

A few shells were thrown into Dundee at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening without accomplishing much. On Monday morning the few inhabitants who believed that the British troops were still to be found in the neighborhood discovered that the column had retired during the night and was falling back quickly upon Ladysmith. By this time the Boers were to be seen swarming the surrounding hills. They were in great force upon Smith's hill, whence they had been driven on Friday by the British.

The enemy opened fire again from Impati mountain. One shell struck among the hospital tents, which were still standing upon the site of the old camp. Thereupon a small party was sent out from the hospital with a flag of truce and informed the commanding officer of the Boers that they were shelling the hospital, which contained Boer and British wounded. The commanding officer, General Erasmus, expressed his regret, and immediately gave orders that the firing should cease.

DUNDEE STORES LOOTED.

At 10 o'clock a small party of Boers entered Dundee and were followed almost immediately afterward by a large number, all of whom were mounted and armed. A riotous scene followed, the burghers shouting, yelling, and rushing through streams, seizing every horse they could find.

Soon, however, the more disciplined contingent of the Boers arrived, carrying the Transvaal ensign, and proceeded to the court house. They took possession of the building, and planted their flag outside the door. Dundee was now in the hands of the enemy, and the Boers informed the few inquiring residents that they would harm no one, but that they needed provisions badly.

It was not long, however, before the burghers got entirely out of the control of their commanders and wholesale looting was commenced. Stores were broken open and the contents either appropriated or scattered about or handed to on-lookers with impartiality, irrespective of nationality. Among the things taken in this way were bags of biscuit, women's clothing, drapery, and parasols while almost every man had a bottle of liquor slung on either side of his saddle.

One Boer who, after loading his pony with every conceivable kind of plunder, endeavored to pack a bicycle in front of him, and actually succeeded in doing it. All Monday afternoon the Boers came empty-handed and went off laden with loot. No exception could be taken to the behavior of the Boers who formed the town guard. No one was molested, and only the stores were looted.

British spirits were further dampened in the evening by the news that General Symons had succumbed to his wounds and was now dead in the camp hospital. He had passed away at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, dying as a soldier should. He had fought a good fight. He was buried in the cemetery attached to the English church at 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning. There was no coffin. His body simply was enshrouded in a Union Jack, the emblem for which he had fought so gallantly. There had been a short burial service in the English church, held an hour previously, which was attended by only a handful.

BOERS PROMISE PROTECTION.

Meanwhile the Boers had established some semblance of government for the town, and appointed guard patrols, who moved around continuously. A proclamation was issued promising safety to the well-behaved, and ordering all the inhabitants within doors at 8 o'clock at night.

The Boers also appointed a magistrate. His first duty was to deal with some Kaffirs who had been arrested the previous day for looting. Whatever was permissible to the white man was certainly allowable for the Kaffir, and accordingly Boer justice was meted out to them.

The Boer commander had been by no means idle. He blew up with dynamite the railroad bridge close to the British camp. Scouts were sent to General Erasmus, informing him of the turn of events, and in response he brought the men who had been so badly thrashed on Friday back to Dundee to reinforce General Erasmus.

The Boers again came into town on Tuesday afternoon in large numbers and secured more liquor. They became excited and quarrelsome and started parading the streets, singing derisively and mocking the British.

Having witnessed the occupation of the town, I started with two friends to leave for the British camp, but this was again easily concluded than carried out. We were stopped attempting to leave the town and were told that we could not depart without first securing a permit from General Lucas Meyer.

MONEY RATE SOARS UPWARD.

TOUCHES 30 PER CENT AND EFFICIENTLY CHECKS ADVANCE IN STOCKS THAT WAS ON.

New York, Oct. 30.—The prices of stocks moved upward in the early dealings today, according to the general anticipation; but, contrary to expectations, a serious obstacle to the advance was met in a violent raise in the rate for call money. The advance did not extend into the session when the market began to drift downward and it met no effectual check, until the close was at about the low point and with the prices still giving way to pressure. No serious net losses are shown in the railroad list, but the earlier gains, which amounted to a point and upward in many cases, were pretty generally wiped out.

The market opened strong and animated and with a large volume of outside buying orders, invited by the unexpected strength of Saturday's statement. The demand was particularly large for the granams and the Southwesterns and for some of the Southern railroad stocks, notably Louisville, which was up 1 1/2 points at one time. This stock resisted the later depression with some success, but closed 3/4 below the best. Even the much-hammered industrials had some share in the early strength. Sugar rose an extreme of 2 points before yielding to the pressure, and the iron and steel stocks had a short-lived period of vigor. Pressure promptly developed against Steel & Wire, and it was weak for the rest of the day, affecting other members of the group by sympathy. Federal Steel was exceptionally firm. The Leather stocks continued to be largely dealt in, but the gain in preferred was entirely lost before the close. Rumors coming from Holland of the fall of Ladysmith were without much effect, as London seemed disposed to discredit them. The September statement of St. Paul had a discouraging effect on the speculators and the effect was especially marked upon all the grain-carrying roads.

The day's events in the call money market showed that the extent of the recuperating by the New York banks had been grossly exaggerated in the first enthusiasm over Saturday's statement. The rate opened at 8 per cent, and after dropping to 7 1/2 per cent rose violently, in the late dealings, to 30. Bids were made for 40 per cent, but the closing transaction was at 20 per cent. It was a striking demonstration of the unflinching condition of the money market to maintain speculative speculation.

CHICAGO MARKETS LOWER.

TRADING DULL IN ALL PITS WITH BEAR NEWS RULING.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—It was a very dull day in wheat, the market ruling quiet and easy, lower prices predominating early. Near the close the market recovered and December closed a shade lower, with May unchanged. The local temper was bearish, liberal world's shipments, a large increase in the local supplies and the continued absence of cash demand outside interest tending to create such sentiment. Shorts covered in the closing hour, causing a rally.

Corn was moderately active and easier. December closing 3/4 lower and May unchanged. The cables were easier, wheat was weak early and the receipts were better than expected, all of which were factors. Liverpool was unchanged to a quarter of a penny lower.

Oats were steady, with fair trading. Shippers bought December and speculators sold May, narrowing the spread. The prices had 3/4 range and closed at a shade decline for May, with December steady.

The leading futures ranged as follows:—December Wheat.—Opening: Highest, Lowest, Closing. 69 1/2, 70, 69 1/2, 69 1/2

December Corn.—Opening: Highest, Lowest, Closing. 31 1/2, 31 1/2, 31 1/2, 31 1/2

Receipts and Shipments. Receipts—Flour, 23,000 barrels; Wheat, 112,000 bushels; corn, 450,000 bushels; oats, 366,000 bushels.

Shipments—Flour, 16,000 barrels; wheat, 10,000 bushels; corn, 357,000 bushels; oats, 388,000 bushels.

TO SHOW OFF THE CANAL.

ILLINOIS DRAINAGE COMMISSION PLANS A BIG EXCURSION.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A big excursion down the drainage canal, to include engineers, surveyors, national representatives and federal, state and city officials has been planned by the sanitary district trustees for a week from tomorrow. It is intended to be the final exhibition of the big ditch before Lake Michigan's waters are turned into it. The previous official trips down the channel are to be eclipsed by the magnitude of the approaching event, the trustees predict, and it is expected to arouse such enthusiasm for the canal among the national legislators and influential men from various states that any opposition to the vast enterprise will dwindle into insignificance.

"About 600 people will attend the excursion," said Trustee Wenter today, "and we hope to make an impression which will have an effect when congress comes to consider legislation relating to the big ship canal. There will be invited the governors of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin and possibly some other states, the senators of those states, all the Illinois representatives, the congressman from St. Louis and the river district of Iowa, a number of Wisconsin and Indiana congressmen, the senate and house committees on rivers and harbors, the state officials, all the park commissioners, the state canal commissioners, the members of the state board which is inspecting the drainage canal, the executive committee of the Illinois River Valley association, just organized at Peoria, the school trustees, the members of the library board and men of prominence in Chicago as well as outside the city. We may attempt to have representative men from the East as we propose to have the occasion the one big event before the canal is opened."

LIQUID OR SOLID?

Upon This Question Regarding Asphalt a Trial in a Trinidad Court Hinged.

Down in Trinidad, where most of the asphalt used in paving the streets of Chicago is produced, opinion is divided as to whether the substance may be classed as a liquid or a solid. Upon this issue, says the Chicago Chronicle, a recent trial in Trinidad turned. The stratum of pitch in that island is usually from four to seven feet below the surface, and, when cut through, the pitch melts and oozes out. So, if a man dug down near his neighbor's lot, he would be able to collect pitch coming from under his neighbor's land. The plan was described by one of the witnesses as "the plan adopted when you want to dig your neighbor's pitch." It "bulges out," he explained, "and you shove it off each morning." But suit was brought by one outraged neighbor whose pitch had thus been shaved off in adjoining land. The defense was that an underground stratum of pitch was like so much water, no man's property until appropriated. But the court held that pitch was a mineral, and that you had no more right to abstract it from a neighbor by the oozing process than you would have to tap his deposit of iron or silver.

Ishpeming and Vicinity.

RETURNED YESTERDAY.

KNIGHTS OF THE GRIDIRON DISPLEASED WITH THEIR ADVERSE FORTUNE.

The members of the football party that left for Escanaba so joyously Saturday morning straggled home Sunday and yesterday, the members of the team coming in yesterday morning after spending Sunday in the Sandy city. The Ishpeming boys were constantly reminded that the score was seventeen to nothing during their stay in Escanaba, consequently were feeling blue over their defeat. Their downheartedness was, however, coupled with a stern resolve to "do or die" a week from next Saturday, when they meet the Escanaba team at Union park.

Five years ago football was introduced in the Ishpeming high school. From the date of the first game to last Saturday the organizations representing the school have won an uninterrupted series of victories. It remained for Superintendent Ewing of Escanaba to coach the first high school team that has defeated an Ishpeming organization. It is remembered here that the same Superintendent Ewing did a great deal to give Ishpeming its fame as the home of speedy football on the peninsula. A record like Ishpeming's can be duplicated by no other high school team. All of which goes to make the local men regret their misfortune in dropping Saturday's game.

Without detracting from the credit due the Escanaba team, the execrable luck which pursued the local men may be mentioned. In the first place Ishpeming was unfortunate enough to have to kick off, giving Escanaba the ball. If it had been the other way it is believed the final result might have been different, as the Escanaba team would have been surprised as was that of Ironwood in the game played there. The unusual fumbling has already been mentioned. Escanaba also fumbled, but an Escanaba man got the ball every time, irrespective of the team which dropped it. The result might have been different had Ishpeming scored when the ball was forced to Escanaba's three-yard line. The costly fumble at this point not only lost a touchdown but it took the heart out of the local men and encouraged the Escanaba players to renewed exertions which brought two more touchdowns.

Ishpeming is not whining. It admits a fair and square defeat. As yet, however, local players and enthusiasts are not prepared to admit the complete superiority of the Escanaba team. Better things are hoped for from the next game. If Escanaba can come to Union park and take the second contest Ishpeming will gracefully doff her chapane to the best football team that has ever been organized on the upper peninsula. At present that chapane is pulled down over the ears of the local players while their minds are occupied with a consideration of the chance to retrieve their defeat still remaining to them.

The local men were pretty badly battered by Saturday's game. Repeated contests with heavier organizations have told on them as well as bad luck experienced in practice games. Captain Gourdeau lined up Saturday with a very bad leg. He played until disabled and was compelled to return home on crutches. Several of Ishpeming's men had to limp onto the field for the first line up. The second game with Escanaba will be played a week from next Saturday. The interim will be devoted to practice.

LIVERIES REAP A HARVEST.

Fine weather caused broad smiles to wreath the faces of the liverymen Sunday. Their stables were taxed to their full earning capacity and in the afternoon it was impossible to get a turnout. The funeral of Frederick Richards created a large demand for rigs. It was very numerous attended. The Courts of Peace and the Superior Court were out, as well as the Sons of St. George. The Ishpeming city band accompanied the remains to the church and cemetery, playing impressive dead marches. Equipages not used by mourners and friends of the deceased were taken by parties that had planned trips to the woods. The favorite drives in the vicinity were visited by many. The day was perfect and in marked contrast to the weather that has prevailed during most of the month.

AT THE SHAMROCK.

The above is the name by which the Griffin exploration in Township 48, Range 28, Section 15, is now known. Whether it was suggested by Sir Lipton's ill-fated sloop or the national emblem of Ireland is a matter of conjecture. Up to ten days ago work at the property had been pushed energetically, and will be resumed as soon as an outfit of machinery now on the cars at Negaunee can be put in position. The old logging road which leads to the vicinity of the exploration is dilapidated to such an extent that the D. S. & A. road will not send an engine over it, so the machinery will be transferred to push cars at Bagdad and hauled in with horses. The work will be done next week. Two shafts twenty-two feet deep are down and the showing is fair. Sam Collins will direct all future work at the property. It will proceed rapidly when the machinery is in place.

TAMPED WITH A WINDOW.

The upper light of glass in one of the doors of P. H. Donahoe's liquor store was attacked some time Saturday night by some person who, presumably, harbored burglarious intentions. A part of the putty was removed and it looked as if an effort had been made to remove the light and enter the store. The building is plainly exposed on Division street and the person who tried to obtain an entrance took big chances of detection. No damage was done and it is possible that burglary was not contemplated.

IN A REFRIGERATOR CAR.

A TRIO OF ISHPEMING YOUTHS MADE A TRIP TO MILWAUKEE IN ONE.

Three young boys of this city were returned to their homes on the Chicago passenger of the Northwestern road yesterday morning after a wild trip to Milwaukee. The youngsters boarded a refrigerator car standing in the Northwestern yards Friday. It was closed and attached to a Chicago freight. At Milwaukee the car was taken from the train and there the youngsters made their escape, wandering about until picked up by the police. When inquiry had disclosed where they belonged they were placed on a Northwestern train bound for this city, and got in yesterday morning. The boys were hungry and dirty and could hardly have been greatly pleased with their escapade. While there are elements of the ludicrous about the adventure, still it has grave aspects. The trip shows a wild spirit in the youngsters which will have to be curbed if they are to make good citizens of the community. Christmas and New Year's are quite popular with the Ishpeming youth and this latest expedition is not the first of its kind. The boys had better avoid such adventures. The authorities down the line are getting tired of returning refractory youths to their homes and hereafter any runaway who is rounded up in a Wisconsin city will stand a good chance of being placed for safe keeping in an institution of a public nature where the fare will not be to his liking and his freedom of movement will be restricted. The three boys who participated in this dash into the outer world caused no little annoyance to their parents. They are not at all vicious youngsters, but they have need to brace up and try sticking to the path of duty.

LEAVES THIS MORNING.

If nobility were an institution in this country the New Yorkers would certainly think that they had drawn the Duke of Presque Isle when Parson Joe Pope hits the big metropolis in his pugilistic battle between Jeffries and Sharkey. Joe left this morning decked out with a silk hat, swell top coat and clothes which Bath House John or Hinky Dink would envy. He will represent Ishpeming at the big mill and will cut an imposing figure—one that will lead the metropolitan sports to believe that the upper peninsula is all his. Joe has some good friends in New York who keep him in touch with sporting events and he will be shown the ropes in the proper style. He will be away several days.

TOOK OUT MACHINERY.

A small steam winze and a gasoline pump engine were taken out last week to Iron Mountain Lake, where Laughlin & Co. of Pittsburg are having exploring done under the direction of Mr. Howard Kidder. Work has been pushed steadily but with the aid of this machinery it will henceforth proceed more satisfactorily. The prospect at the exploration is highly encouraging. A force is working on a tract hitherto unexplored. The showing there to date has been very good, some rich ore having been uncovered. Everything at the location is in readiness for severe weather and exploring will be continued through the winter months. About fourteen men are employed.

BLUE EYED MEN GOOD HUNTERS.

Recorder Small has a table of the deer licenses which he issued as deputy for the county clerk last year which shows that light-haired, blue-eyed men are the most persevering hunters. In a list of fifty almshouses there were thirty who had blue eyes. The larger part of the fifty also had light hair. The average age of the hunters was about thirty-two years.

PASSENGERS LOVE HIM.

A Street Car Conductor Who Charms His Fares with His Mellow Whistle.

There is a conductor on the Indiana avenue trolley beloved by every passenger who travels on the line. He is no better looking than other conductors. Nor is he more polite. Nor does he allow people to ride free. But he can whistle with his fingers, and the patrons of the line love him, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

One of the annoyances of street car travel is the whistle used by the conductors for giving signals to the motorman. The conductor goes along on the footboard with his whistle within a few inches of a passenger's ear. He wants to stop the car. He blows on the instrument of torture—that's what the nervous people call it—that he carries between his lips. A shrill blast that would wake the dead is the result. The car stops. Then he blows two more. The car starts. Of course a man can get used to almost anything in this vale of tears, but there are many who feel like jumping out of their skins whenever that blast sounds in their ears.

It is very different with this conductor, who learned when a boy to whistle on his fingers. He wears no whistle of nickel or celluloid between his lips. When he wants to stop or start a car he crooks his first finger, sticks the crook in his mouth and gives out a mellow note that is celestial music compared with the din of a nickel whistle. Consequently all the passengers love him.

Forgot He Was a General.

One of Funston's men writes that in the latest engagement, near San Fernando the general went into battle at the head of his brigade, composed of Kansas, Montana and Utah troops. When the fight started, however, Gen. Funston forgot that he was in command of a brigade and, leaving his staff, orderly, horse and all, he joined the Kansas boys on foot and personally gave them orders as he led them to the charge.

INSPIRATION INSTITUTION THIS WEEK.

COUNTY SCHOOL TEACHERS WILL GATHER HERE IN LARGE NUMBERS THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Negaunee will be the Mecca of the instructors in the Marquette county schools Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, when the annual inspiration institute will hold its annual meeting. County Commissioner of Schools Davis has completed arrangements for the meeting, which promises to be the most successful ever. Principal Waldo of the upper peninsula normal will conduct it. Miss Flora E. Hill of the department of English, and Mr. Louie F. Anderson of the department of psychology and pedagogy, of the new normal, will act as instructors.

State Superintendent of Instruction Jason E. Hammond, Perry F. Powers of Cadillac, president of the state board of education, and President John P. Ashley of Albion colleges will also be at the institute. They will participate in its sessions and deliver addresses. The first session will be held Thursday evening at McDonald's opera house. The program will consist of several short addresses, following a principal address delivered by Mr. Powers. Friday and Saturday there will be two sessions daily in the high school building, for which the programs will be announced later.

Friday evening the feature of the "meeting in McDonald's opera house will be President Ashley's address on Savanarola. The public is invited to attend the evening sessions and a large gathering will assemble to hear President Ashley's address. The program for Saturday evening has not been fully arranged. The attendance at the institute will reach the highest mark Friday, when all the county school will be closed to allow the teachers to be present. Saturday's sessions will also draw large numbers. The programs for the day sessions will be entertaining and instructive.

Principal Waldo has had much experience in handling institutes and it is expected that his direction of the meeting will render the results unusually valuable. The establishment of the new normal will add greatly to the interest and value of the annual institutes, as it has brought a thoroughly competent corps of instructors to a point where they can be obtained by any one of the principal cities of the county at a moderate expense.

There is considerable interest in the institute here and the evening sessions will be largely attended by people outside the ranks of the instructors directly interested. The local committee is busy making arrangements for the reception of the visitors, the majority of whom will be quartered in private homes. The Marquette teachers will stay here while the sessions are on. The Ishpeming contingent will use the street cars, coming down in the morning and returning after the evening sessions, and will not have to be accommodated here.

HAS ORDERED A DRILL.

Joe Sellwood, of the American Steel & Wire Co., which has an option on the tract north of the Jackson exploration on Section 12, has ordered a diamond drill from the Sullivan drill company at Chicago which will be started at work as soon as it is received. Mr. Sellwood has contracted to have the Sullivan company to a specified amount of drilling with its operators. A small force of men is now preparing the ground for reception of the drill. Mr. Sellwood has much faith in the northern tract and thinks it is as good as, if not better than, that which the Jackson company is working on every promise of developing a valuable mine.

WILL MINE THIS WEEK.

It is expected that it will be possible to start mining at the Negaunee this week. The erection of the shaft house was begun Sunday and was pushed yesterday. It will go up rapidly today and it is thought that it will be half built by tomorrow. If this progress is made a temporary shelve will be fitted in the top of the partially built structure and hoisting will be resumed. Mining will be carried on with full shifts before the end of the week. The length of the tie-up will be reduced by the use of the temporary shelve.

PEDDLERS TOO PLENTY.

Numerous pack peddlers are working the city and surrounding locations these days. The fair weather has brought them out. Yesterday on an early train one of the street cars carried four of these itinerant purveyors who got off on the outskirts of the city. People report that they are bothered at all hours of the day with fellows who are vending cheap merchandise at high prices. The peddlers injure legitimate business when they become as numerous as they are at present.

BAZAAR NEXT MONTH.

Rev. Langner announced on Sunday the dates of the bazaar which will be given by the ladies of St. Paul's church next month. It will be held on the 23rd, 24th and 25th of November. The ladies of the congregation are already preparing for it. It is expected that a goodly sum, to be applied to church purposes, will be realized. Misses Schwartz, Morissette and McAuliffe will enter a contest for a diamond ring.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.—"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. E. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had cured her more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and his further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at the Stafford Drug Co.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mrs. Joseph LaCombe is dangerously ill.

George Laughnane of Escanaba was here yesterday.

Frank Sharon added three new horses to his livery equipment Saturday.

J. M. Perkins tendered a number of his friends a sumptuous supper at the Bretung Saturday night.

The halls and stairs of the postoffice block have been freshly oiled and now present quite a polished appearance.

President Ashley of Albion college delivers an address on "Boomerangs and Mirrors" at the M. E. church this evening.

Yesterday was an ideal autumn day. October, which has been in the main tempestuous, is being wound up with a succession of typical fall days.

Every rig in the city was out Sunday. The fine weather was responsible for the rush. Only a small percentage of the number looking for turnouts could be accommodated.

The funeral of John Moe was held Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Scandinavian society. It was attended by a large number of former friends of the deceased.

The Negaunee club held its regular monthly meeting last night. The organization is highly prosperous. It has ducats in the treasury and the members are much interested in it. Every Monday night a house warming is held which is attractive to the members.

THE HUMAN BODY.

Science is paying more attention to the mechanism of the human body than ever before. It has found that all achievement, success, or failure, happiness or misery, is controlled by the body. The lesson is obvious. Improve the body. This can only be done through the stomach. If it is weak, it produces poisonous refuse, and debilitates every organ in the body. It may be made strong and kept strong by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This is a natural stomach remedy which acts quickly and gently. It will cleanse the system, wake up the liver, stimulate the kidneys and improve the general health. Ask your druggist for it, and see that a private Revenue Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

FUNSTON AVENGED HIS HORSE.

Col. Funston sat on his horse, watching his Kansas boys fire at the enemy at Calocan, when an orderly came up with the commanding general's compliments, and an order to stop firing. "Cease firing!" shouted the colonel. Only a few of the nearest men heard him, and the firing kept on. "Cease firing!" ordered the colonel again, and this time the bugle gave forth the peal and the firing, after scattering, stopped altogether. Just then a ball from the insurgents drilled the neck of the colonel's pony. Quick as a flash Funston whirled around, fire in his eyes. "Commence firing!" he shouted, at the top of his voice. "Give 'em— at 900 yards!" It took three or four rounds of ammunition all along the line to avenge that horse, though the colonel still rides it.—Leslie's Weekly.

LONGEVITY OF POPE LEO.

Leo XIII. bids fair to be the oldest of the popes. The scars of the operation performed by Dr. Mazzoni on the aged pontiff are said to have thoroughly disappeared. Some time ago, when the physicians removed the last bandages, the pope said, jokingly, to his doctor: "Now, Dr. Mazzoni, how many years of life can you promise me?" "I believe, confidently," replied the physician, "that you will live to be over a hundred." "No, no," answered the pope, "you are stretching my years a little too far." The doctor may prove a true prophet, as Leo XIII. exhibits signs of most extraordinary mental vigor and his memory seems absolutely unimpaired.—Chicago Times-Herald.

COFFEE TIPS.

How the First Plants Were Brought Over to This Side of the World.

A pretty story of the introduction of coffee into the western hemisphere is quite to the point since our new possessions have so bountifully produced it in the past, says the Philadelphia Record. There was a time when this "assisted emigrant," though so nobly self-supporting when it has the opportunity, was a tender slip and likely to perish of thirst. In 1714 Louis XIV. was presented with a single coffee plant for his botanical garden by an Amsterdam magistrate. It was nourished tenderly and in time slips from it were sent to Martinique—no doubt sub-rosa to the Dutch—the Dutch having long controlled the cultivation of coffee and guarded it jealously lest it be cultivated on islands not under their control. On the way to Martinique the botanist in charge, the ship's supply of water getting low, shared his own daily allowance with the precious plants. Responding to his kindness, they were soon growing nicely in Martinique. In due time these slips produced their fragrant white flowers—they grow at the roots of the leaves—and these presently changed into berries, each with its two grains of coffee. From Martinique the coffee journeyed to Porto Rico and Cuba.

Now Porto Rico alone annually exports about $9,000,000 worth of this highly esteemed bean. The plant grows wild in some parts of Africa.

DOG BAROMETERS.

Sailors Place Implicit Reliance in Their Weather Signs—Afraid of Storms.

Sailors generally show an inclination for pets, but the dog is a valuable member of the crew. He is considered as trustworthy as a barometer in giving notice of an approaching storm. Most dogs are cowards in storms. Occasionally a captain finds a dog that is not afraid of heavy weather, and seems to enjoy the rolling or pitching of the ships; but as a rule dogs are as afraid of a gale as a woman passenger, and at the first sign of a storm hunt for a hiding place.

"I had a dog that was as much like a woman as it was possible for an animal to be," said a captain who has carried a dog with him for nearly a quarter of a century. "He could tell when a storm was coming long before I could, and often before the barometer changed. He would come to me whining and crying, and I couldn't keep him from my heels. He seemed to be asking me to put him ashore, or to find a comfortable place for him. I used to feel sorry for him. When a storm struck he would be out of sight, and we often found him hiding under the bunks and in corners where he could not see anything and could not be easily seen."

WISE ANIMALS.

Some That Seem to Do Some Thinking When They Get into Trouble.

A naturalist found black ants were devouring the skins of some bird specimens on a table, so he made tar circles on four pieces of paper and put one under each leg of the table. Ants will not cross tar. Pretty soon he found the ants busily at work again, and looking at the tar circles, found each one was bridged by bits of sand which the clever ants had brought in from the street.

On one occasion, owing to excessive heat, one of the combs of a beehive became detached and was in great danger of falling. The bees at once set to work and erected a shoring pillar between the endangered comb and the one next to it. The pillar braced the comb and kept it from falling. Then they rebuilt the wax cells, fastening the comb to the wall, and afterward removed the pillar.

A Capuchin monkey was given some walnuts, which he tried to crack with his teeth, but found he was not strong enough. He then seized a stone which was near by, held the nuts on the ground with one hand and used his stone hammer with the other, with excellent results. Other monkeys have been seen to utilize nutpicks.

SAMOAN GIRLS.

Native Belles Pick Their Party Dresses, Nearly Ready Made from the Trees.

Party gowns for Samoan girls grow on the tropical trees and almost ready to wear. When a native beauty of Samoa decides to go to a special entertainment she enters the forest to look for her gala attire. The native kiki, or kiti, is the only addition to her ordinary costume that the Samoan girl provides for special parties. The material for the kiki grows on the tree. It consists of a ribbon of bark a few inches wide that is stripped from the tree easily. While damp the bark, which is very thin, is crinkled so as to form wavy outlines, and the ribbons are colored all sorts of bright hues. The Samoan girl then plaits a waistband from the same kind of bark and hangs the ribbons on it. Handmade flowers of the same material are often added also. When the kiki is completed the dusky belle puts it on over the scanty lava-lava, or waistcloth, and goes to the dance or other entertainment. The girls thus make their own party dresses, and some of them show great taste and skill in fashioning the odd garments.

FINE SCHOOL FOR U. P.

New Normal Will Compare Well With any School Building in Northern Michigan.

HOW THE BUILDING WILL LOOK WHEN FINALLY COMPLETED.

Dr. Albert Leonard Slated for Presidency of the State Normal System—Brief Sketch of This Leading Educator's Career.

STATE BOARD IS MOVING SLOWLY.

The Mining Journal this morning presents its readers with a cut of the new Northern normal, now being erected in the north part of the city just west of the old fair grounds. The cut is from an unadorned sketch by the architects of the school, Charlton, Gilbert & Demar. The picture gives a view of the building as it will stand when completed. The wing in the foreground is the part now being constructed. The middle portion and southern wing will be built when the attendance on the school has increased to a point which calls for more room and warrants the legislature in appropriating additional money. The estimated cost of the entire building is $125,000. The part now under way will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. Lipsett & Gregg of Sault Ste. Marie have the contract for its construction.

TO BE READY JAN. 1.

Practically all the masonry work on the building is completed and it is now being roofed over. The most of the interior work is yet to be done but the contractors are pushing it forward with all speed possible and expect to turn the

BETTER OUTLOOK.

Coppers Start the Week Showing a Considerably Better Tone.

This week's copper market starts out somewhat better than last week ruled and gives encouragement to speculators that the long looked for bottom has been reached, at least with the better stocks, and that what movement there is in these securities for a time at least will be upwards. In most cases yesterday the close was fractionally weaker than the opening, but even at that the close was considerably better all around than it was Saturday.

Paine, Webber & Co. said yesterday in their daily copper letter to the local branch:

"Boston, Oct. 30.—London opened weaker with spot off 38. 94., and futures is 3. It closed weaker, spot off 10d. and futures 10d. Liquidation on copper stocks seems to have ended for the present and stocks are in better demand with few in sight at current prices. Copper stocks opened stronger this morning and people are evidently coming to the belief that a good many stocks of the better class have reached bargain prices. Up to noon 6,902 listed shares changed hands, the most active being United States Mining, Utah, Santa Fe, Centennial, Butte & Boston, Bingham, Arcadian, Baltic and Parrot. The market for copper has shown more activity all day than for some time and although prices as a rule have not held at the highest point reached, yet in most cases they closed higher than they did Saturday."

For some time back wheat has been a poor commodity for long holders. This AFTERNOON ON THE TRACK.

Shaw and Fassbender Horses Win the Two Events at Yesterday's Matinee Races.

EXCITING FINISH IN THIRD HEAT BETWEEN JOE AND SALLIE D.

Pair of Match Races Made Up the Program—Time Was Slow but Both Events Were Spirited—Ideal Day but a Slim Crowd.

HORSEMEN HAVE A LITTLE SPORT.

Slow but even going and one or two exciting finishes were the features at the racing matinee given at the fair grounds race track yesterday afternoon.

The weather was superb and the day was a beautiful one, one of the kind which would have made glad the hearts of the directors of the Agricultural society if they could have had it during fair week, but in spite of this propitious circumstance the crowd was very slim. About 150 people were on the grounds and of this number about a third were legitimate and legitimate deadheads. As usual the races did not start till long after the advertised time and as a consequence when the final heat was run it was almost too dark to see the horses across the track. The crowd dwindled to about half its size after the conclusion of the first race.

GOOD BIT OF MONEY WAGERED.

There were two events on the program, both match races. The first was for a purse of $200 between Maud S., owned by George W. Shaw, and Nellie R., owned by Robert French but entered by William Stewart. The second race was be-the gap so there was only six lengths between them. Between the half and the three-quarters he passed Sallie D. and was leading her there two lengths. The Ishpeming horse showed signs of tiring from the third heat, and in this heat as soon as Joe passed her she laid right down and just pattered around the course. Joe came in a winner by a good fifteen lengths; time 2:43. This heat decided the second race.

Both horses in the second event were driven by their owners. In the first race Maud S. was driven by F. W. Menhennet of Ishpeming and Nellie R. by Frank Shackett of Hancock.

STILL IN THE BALANCE.

Kindergarten Plan Will Be Settled at School Board Meeting Thursday.

The scheme for the establishment of a free kindergarten in connection with the public schools still hangs in the balance. The board held a meeting yesterday afternoon and it was expected this matter would be settled one way or the other, but as F. O. Clark, one of the trustees, was absent, so the matter was deferred till his return to the city. The board will hold another meeting Thursday when it is expected the matter will be decided one way or the other.

Miss Chandler was present and submitted her estimates for maintaining a kindergarten for the rest of the year. She figures two rooms for seven months will cost $1,045; for three rooms for the same length of time the expense will be $200 greater.

NORTHERN NORMAL AT MARQUETTE.

Wing in the Foreground Is Now Being Erected—Additions Will Be Made In Accordance With This Design When Growth of the School Demands It.

complete building over to the state board not later than the first of next year.

When the entire structure is completed it will unquestionably be the finest school building in this part of the state, or anywhere in the north, barring possibly Duluth, but the part which is now being erected will compare favorably with any school building in the upper peninsula. It will make a fine home for the new educational institution and will accommodate it for several years without any addition, though with the fine start which has been made by the school, and with the rapid growth which seems in sight, it will not be a great while till more room will be imperatively demanded.

WELL QUARTERED NOW.

As it generally known the normal now occupies temporary quarters in the city hall building, occupying most of the second floor. The rooms are large, light, warm and airy and well adapted to the purpose. It is quite possible the state board will decide to leave the school where it is for the rest of this year and not open in the new building till the fall term of 1900.

As announced in The Mining Journal last week Dr. Albert Leonard, dean of the literary department of the University of Syracuse, N. Y., is reported slated for the position of president of the Michigan system of normals of which this school is one. The board is proceeding with great deliberation in the selection of the man for this important office and will not vote on the matter till its meeting next month. State Superintendent Hammond and E. F. Johnson have visited Dr. Leonard in Syracuse and believe he is the man they want, but before the vote is taken Members Platt and Powers also propose to take the trip and see the candidate.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

The following sketch of the prospective president is found in The Detroit Free Press: "Albert Leonard, Ph. D., is a native of Ohio, in which state he was born a little more than forty years ago. After completing his elementary education, he entered the Ohio university, where, in addition to the work of the regular college course, he made special preparation for the profession of teaching.

"For five years (1888-1893) he was principal of the high school at Dunkirk, N. Y., from which position he was called in 1893 to the principalship of the Central High school, Birmingham, N. Y., one of the best institutions of its kind in the country. Here he made a reputation that brought him numerous offers of places of responsibility and honor.

"In June, 1897, he was elected professor of pedagogy in Syracuse university, and made dean of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts, in which post his work has won the admiration of fellow teachers and students alike.

"Dr. Leonard is the editor of the Journal of Pedagogy, an educational magazine recognized in this country and in Europe as one of the ablest publications in existence on the subject of teaching. "Personally the doctor is a gentleman of genial and agreeable temperament. He is plain and unassuming in manner, generous in disposition and obliging to an unusual degree. Having worked his own way up in the field of education, he thoroughly understands how to sympathize with the struggling student.

"As an executive officer and discipli-week it seems to be worse than ever. Prices were below Saturday's and within very narrow limits all day. December closed at 70 and May at 73 1/2. F. G. Logan said yesterday in his letter to Paine, Webber & Co. that unless political complications should ensue he could not see much that was encouraging in the outlook for the cereal. He says, however, that there has been little liquidation below 70.

HALLOWE'EN.

Staid Citizens Should Look Out for Their Movables Tonight.

Tonight is the last of October, much better known as Halloween. The youth of the city are planning to observe the occasion in good, old fashioned style, so the staid citizen who doesn't want to get his gate down from a tree tomorrow morning will do well to see that it is securely fastened.

Some hard-hearted wretches have started a baseless rumor among the small boys that every one the police catch indulging in Halloween antics will be fined $4. As Christmas is coming and expenses must be kept down it has been the cause of some hesitation among the juveniles, but most of them can be expected to get brave when it gets dark.

tween William Fassbender's Joe and Sallie D., owned by August Jacobs of Ishpeming. This was for a purse of $100. In addition to the stake money a considerable quantity of coin changed hands on side bets. Between nearly every heat the betting element would adjourn to the stables and put up more money.

The horses came onto the track for the first heat of the first race at 3:30. David Murray officiated as starter, while Dr. O. G. Youngquist and Dr. Hudson, of Negaunee, completed the number of judges. Lots were drawn for position and Nellie R. got the pole.

The pole horse started well. She was ahead at the quarter, three lengths ahead at the half and was maintaining about the same lead when the three-quarters was passed. Maud, however, rapidly closed up the distance between them and passed her rival on the stretch considerably above the wire. Nellie broke just before the horses went under the wire and Maud came in leading by half a length; time 3:00.

TREW A TIRE.

For the first heat of the race between Joe and Sallie D. the former got the pole on the draw. This heat was a fiasco, for before the first quarter was reached Fassbender's sulky threw its tire. He had to leave the track while Sallie D. finished in her own time in 3:12.

In the second heat of the first race Maud S. started at the pole but Nellie shut her out on the first turn. The horses were going even at the quarter and held pretty well together the next quarter, coming down the stretch neck and neck. When they made the next turn Maud S. led out. She was a length ahead at the three-quarters and came down the stretch and under the wire an easy winner with two lengths to the good; time, 2:47.

BEST FINISH OF ALL.

The second heat of the second race Sallie D. had the pole. She was ahead at the first turn but Joe passed her at the quarter. Then Joe broke and Sallie went ahead, but when he caught his feet again he made up ground and the two finished the half neck and neck. Joe broke at the three-quarters and lost ground, but he closed up at the three-quarters and the two horses came down the stretch close together. Joe passed under the wire about half a length ahead; time 2:42. It was an exciting finish and the small crowd cheered enthusiastically.

In the third heat of the first race both horses broke at the first turn but Nellie forged ahead. She was leading at the quarter and at the half had still three lengths the best of it. Maud closed up the distance between them at the three-quarters and entered the stretch a length ahead. Nellie broke a little on the stretch. Maud won by three lengths in 2:45. This ended both heat and race. Maud S. winning in three straight.

EASY RACE FOR JOE.

Attention was now given undividedly to the race between Joe and Sallie D. The third heat of this race was Joe's from start to finish. He was a length ahead at the quarter, two lengths at the half, six lengths at the three-quarters and finished about the same distance in front of Sallie D. in 2:43.

In the fourth heat of this race Joe broke badly at the first turn but lost eight lengths by the time the quarter was reached. Then he settled down to business. At the half he had closed up
