who, through habit, have come to the conclusion that if they want anything especially nice in the way of clothes, haberdashery or hats they must send to the Metropolis for it. Now, for years we have worked hard to establish in this town a shop that would supply these wants of the most critical and difficult to please men.

In the Clothing Department, we have succeeded beyond measure, with the Clothing of the STEIN-BLOCH Co., Wholesale Tailors, Rochester.

Our Haberdashery Department is replete with the most beautiful productions of the most fashionable neckwear, shirt and glove makers, and we show everything worthy in underwear, hosiery and the hundred and one other things which are usually found at a first-class New York Haberdashery establishment.

Our Hat Department

offers all the swell hatters' shapes in derbys, soft hats and straws, but at considerable lower prices than exclusive hatters can afford to sell.

All we ask of our fellow townsmen, is the opportunity to serve them. They will find by experience, that we can do so to their entire satisfaction, and in many cases at a saving to them at metropolitan prices.

Corbett Puts Up a Battle That Surprises the Thousands of Spectators.

FASTEST, PRETTIEST AND CLOSEST FIGHT IN YEARS.

Knock-Out Comes in the 23d Round After the ex-Champion, Alone Inferior in Strength, Had Out-Boxed His Man at Every Point.

Seaside Club, Coney Island, May 11.—In the fastest, prettiest and closest heavyweight ring battle ever fought in New York, James J. Jeffries has reaffirmed his right to the championship in the arena of the Seaside Sporting Club. He has decisively defeated James Corbett, once champion of the world, after twenty-two rounds of scientific fighting.

It was a clean knock-out that came so quickly that it dazed the thousands of spectators and left them in doubt as to just how the winning blow was delivered. It was a wicked left hand jolt to the jaw, but Jeffries himself and Referee White, who stood at his side, say it was a right-hand swing.

GREAT CREDIT DUE EACH.
There is credit for the victor and credit for the vanquished in this clearest of ring battles. Jeffries must be awarded the laurels of victory, yet his opponent is entitled to all honor for a most wonderful fight.

Corbett emerged from his years of retirement from the ring rejuvenated and fresh. He was as fast and clever as back in the days when people marveled at his skill. His foot-work was wonderful and his defense perfect. He out-boxed his man at both long and short range, and if he had the strength necessary he would have gained an early victory.

A hundred times the former champion ducked under left swings that would have ended him just as did the punch that knocked him out. At times he made the massive Jim look like a beginner in the art of boxing and defense with hands. His strategy was to jab and get away, and when Jeffries stood awaiting the final count his face showed the marks of the punishment he had received. Corbett went down to defeat that was regretted by a vast majority of the men who filled the hall.

VICTOR'S STRENGTH WON.
Jeffries won with strength—both that strength that lies in the power of massive muscle and that strength which is the essence of vitality. He made the pace for most of the distance and at the end was still strong and effective.

It is improbable that there ever was a more orderly affair under the Horan law.

There was order in the assembling and handling of the great crowd and order in the contest. The crowd gathered slowly, and there was little betting on the outcome of the battle. In the small sums placed Jeffries was a clear favorite at odds of two to one. These odds varied at different times, but five to two probably was the highest and five to three the lowest offered.

The contestants were slow to go to the ring, and the fight, promised for 9:45, was nearly an hour late. Despite the long delay that intervened between the arrival of the men and their entrance into the ring, the crowd was scarcely restless.

It was made up of representative elements of the business, professional, theatrical and sporting world, and seemed concretely dignified and critical.

The reception of the men at the ring-side was warm, but not demonstrative. The men came almost together and they and their seconds exchanged handshakes. Jeffries looked brown, rugged and strong; Corbett clean, white and trim. The crowd showed its first enthusiasm over the announcement that Stanley White would referee the fight. There was a brief wrangle over the bandages on Corbett's hands, but he finally was allowed to wear them, the gloves were quickly slipped on and in a moment the gong clanged out loud and clear.

STORY OF THE FIGHT.
In the preliminary sparring Corbett showed to wonderful advantage. He was panther-like on his feet, and darting in and out with confusing speed, he whipped his left into Jeffries' face and was either inside or away from the punch. Jeffries kept going in, however, but seemed awkward. He kept on making the pace, but Corbett slipped away from him. It made a superb exhibition, and there were murmurs of approval that at times grew into broad cheers.

When Corbett had saved the ten-round money there was a strong change in sentiment toward him. Jeffries, grim and resolute, kept at his man relentlessly. He knew at that stage of the game that he had been out-pointed and that his only chance was to rush in and mix it. To the man who loves the strength and play of a giant athlete, he made a splendid picture. Here was youth and strength, with a fair measure of skill, pitted against a master of the sport. The pace was one that would have told against a man not perfectly prepared.

By the seventeenth round, Jeffries, maddened by danger of marring his reputation, began a series of desperate rushes. He seemed angered by the jabbing at his face and wanted to end it all with a swing from his left or right. Corbett contented himself with avoiding punishment.

LOOKED LIKE THE VICTOR.
At the twentieth round, it looked as if Corbett would stay the limit, and popular judgment awarded him the victory. His defense was still perfect, and he was smiling and confident.

The end came with the suddenness of a shock. Suddenly there was the report of a sharp blow, and Corbett dropped. It needed no count to tell that his hopes for the championship again were in vain.

The excited spectators sprang to their feet, but the confusion was momentary and in silence most remarkable the fallen fighter was carried to his corner.

Some one called for cheers for Jeffries, but the almost sudden crowd refused to give them. Then a moment later, when a friend of Corbett put the question thousands re-echoed the kindly response. His skill had made it the best fight they had ever seen.

Coney Island, May 10.—At 6 p. m. a great crowd, which had been gathering all day, lined up in front of the club house to make a rush for the general admission.

The odds are lengthening a bit, three to one having been laid. There is even money in sight that Corbett will stay fifteen rounds. A strong "tip" is about that Corbett is to stay the limit.

Corbett entered the clubhouse at 9:30 and was greeted with cheering. Jeffries, followed by his seconds, entered five minutes later.

10:24 p. m.—Jeffries has entered the ring, Corbett following a moment later.

10:25 p. m.—Both men greeted each other cordially and shook hands before the referee had a chance to introduce them. Then they examined each other's gloves.

10:32 p. m.—Referee White climbed through the ropes and immediately went to Corbett's corner and compelled him to take off the gloves. Jeffries objected to the thickness of the bandages. Corbett took off one layer from the left hand.

BATTLE BY ROUNDS.

Round One—Jeffries rushes, Corbett breaking ground and sprinting. The champion forces Corbett to the ropes, landing a right to the body. Corbett sends a hard left to the face. Jeffries lands a right to the face. Corbett is still shifting, breaking ground, but hooks a left to the nose. Jeffries tries a left and right, but Corbett has blocked cleverly and hooks another left to the face. Jeffries puts one to the body. Corbett counters with a left on the head. This is Corbett's round on points.

Round Two—Corbett is the quicker on his feet; he lands a left on the jaw. Jeffries sends Corbett's head back with a left on the head, but Corbett has straightened up and quickly backed away. Corbett keeps sprinting; he hooks another left to the face, but Jeffries has got back with a hard right on the body. Jeffries lands a left to the body which has made Corbett more cautious. Corbett's foot work is wonderful. Jeffries has led a left to the head, but Corbett pressed with a right which sent the champion's head back. Corbett danced away until the end of the round.

CHAMPION PICKS UP.

Round Three—Corbett has hooked a right leg to Jeffries' head. Jeffries guards his face cautiously and has forced Corbett to make four circles of the ring. The champion sends a left and a right to the body. They have exchanged light lefts on the head. Jeffries sends a hard left to the body, driving Corbett to the ropes. Corbett has endeavored to feint Jeffries out of position, but gets a right on the body for his pains. Jeffries sent a stiff left to the ribs as the gong sounded.

Round Four—Jeffries has hooked a left to the head. Corbett has tried a right to the body, but it fell short. Jeffries sends a right to the head; he forces Corbett to the ropes, sending a left to the body. A moment later he repeats the blow; Corbett looks worried. Jeffries puts his right to the head, bringing it to the body. A right and left from Jeffries to the head now jars Corbett. Jeffries follows with another terrific left on the neck. Corbett was very tired when the bell rang.

Round Five—Corbett has resumed the contest with evident relief, but is very anxious. Meanwhile Jeffries has got to him at close quarters with a light left to the body. Corbett falling to reply, Corbett has feinted with his right. Jeffries

CHIEF CLERK OF INDIANA SOLDIERS' HOME UNDER ARREST.

Marion, Ind., May 11.—Chas. E. Webster, chief clerk of the National Military Home, was arrested today by the United States marshal on charges of embezzlement and grand larceny growing out of the mysterious disappearance of $1,700 from $25,000 of pension money sent to the home for disbursement and placed in a safe to which only Webster and the treasurer had access.

DETROIT WELCOME SOLDIERS.

BATTALION OF U. S. REGULARS FROM PHILIPPINES COMES TO REST UP AT FORT WAYNE.

Detroit, May 11.—A battalion composed of 220 members of the Fourteenth United States Infantry arrived at Detroit today after a long and weary journey from the Philippine Islands, where they have been in active service. Although it was raining steadily, the veterans were warmly welcomed by Mayor Maybury and other citizens. Then, escorted by local volunteers who saw service in the Spanish war, the battalion marched to the Light Guard Armory, where refreshments were served and speeches of welcome delivered. The battalion later proceeded to Fort Wayne, which has been assigned as their station.

ANTI-TAX RIOTS IN SPAIN.

MOBS AND POLICE CLASH AT BARCELONA AND OTHER CITIES

Madrid, May 11.—Dispatches just received show that disorders, due to anti-taxation agitation, occurred last night at Valencia, Barcelona and Seville. In Barcelona a crowd threw up barricades in the streets and exchanged musketry fire with the gendarmes. Several of the latter were hit. A number of rioters were arrested.

Later in the province of Barcelona, claimed in the provinces of Valencia and Valencia. At Seville, where the shops are still closed, the excitement continues. There has been further rioting. Notwithstanding the solicitations of the anti-taxation press, there was a complete absence of the labor element in yesterday's manifestations at Barcelona's gloves.

RELIEF FOR MAFKING.

Strong British Column but 100 Miles Away on Thursday.

MOVING FROM THE SOUTH.

Hunter's Main Body Following After 50 Miles to the Rear—Buller's Van Guard in Action.

ROBERTS NEAR KROONSTAD

London, Friday, May 11.—Lord Roberts telegraphs the war office from Riet Spruit, the 10th, as follows:

"We had a successful day and have driven the enemy from point to point. My quarters are now eight miles north of the Zand river. The cavalry and mounted infantry are at Ventersburg road station. Tucker's division is at Deelfontein Nord. Jan Hamilton's force and Broadwood's cavalry brigade were making for the crossroads near Ventersburg when last heard from. Hamilton's column has met with stubborn resistance. Casualties reported: Killed, rank and file, four; wounded, five."

SITUATION REVIEWED.

London, Saturday, May 12.—4:30 a. m.—A British column, three thousand strong, had arrived at Vryburg, a hundred miles from Mafeking, Thursday; and, although harassed by the Boers, was pushing swiftly forward. Fifty miles south of Vryburg, at Tlams, is Hunter's main body, moving slowly, although opposed by considerable forces of the enemy.

Lord Roberts' narrative closes with Thursday evening, but he continued his march yesterday toward Kroonstad, twenty miles distant, and by this time must know whether the Boers intend to fight there.

Winston Churchill says that there were only two thousand Boers who opposed the British at the Zand river. Another estimate is that six thousand Boers, with six guns, made a rear guard action, while many other thousands, with the convoys, retired without firing a shot.

STEYN IN THE FIELD.

President Steyn and the leaders of the several thousand Free Staters in the Ladybrand and Ficksburg districts determined to submit to the men the question of continuing the war or not at a great open-air meeting. The fighting men decided to fight on. Steyn, who appears to be in active demand, began an advance toward the British and came into contact Thursday with Campbell's brigade of Brabant's Horse twenty miles northeast of Thabanchu. A combats engagement ensued, with no success on either side except that the Boer advance was stopped. General Rundle has disposed of his ten thousand infantry along a twenty-mile front in such a way as to bar a Boer advance toward Lord Roberts' communications.

BULLER HAS A SKIRMISH.

According to a Pretoria telegram, General Buller is moving from Elandsbaagte in the direction of Helpmakaar and the British van guard engaged a Boer patrol on Thursday. Twelve British are reported as routing fifty Boers.

A Cape Town dispatch says that at the closing of the volks road on Monday, President Kruger cried out: "God of the volks road! Shall this be the final act? No, it shall not. God will be successful and strengthen the right. Ours is the right." The president added that he had proofs of a "devilish conspiracy to annihilate the republic."

STRONGLY POSTED IN THE HILLS.

FREE STATERS STILL IN FORCE IN THE REAR OF ROBERTS' COLUMN—RUNDLE AFTER THEM.

Masere, Basutoland, Thursday, May 10.—The Free Staters are concentrating strongly in a good position on Korannaberg hills lying eastward of a direct line from Thabanchu to Winburg. President Steyn was with them yesterday, but is believed to have gone northward after inspecting the burghers with predictions of approaching Boer successes through the assistance of thousands of foreigners which, he said, are pouring into Delagaa Bay.

General Rundle's division was camped last evening on the banks of the Little Langa river between Thabanchu and Ladybrand.

Later—the British forces from Thabanchu, under Generals Rundle and Brabant, are reported to have advanced towards Clocolooan and Platberg.

A large commando of Boers has returned from the Korannaberg hills and is in readiness to meet the British; but the Boers are puzzled to know by which route the British will appear.

BRYAN AND TOWNE.

By reason of the action of the Populist convention at Sioux Falls in nominating Towne for the vice presidency, it is tolerably certain that the Democrats will have to give the Duluth man the second place on their ticket.

Mr. Towne is a bright man and a brilliant platform speaker, but it is doubtful if he will bring any element of strength to the ticket which Bryan would not give it without him.

The wise thing to do would be to give the second place on the ticket to some Democrat who would add to its strength by interesting in it the element in the party which is inclined to be lukewarm toward Bryan.

It was not known before that the Populists took any special interest in Mr. Towne, so their proceeding in nominating him may be assumed to have some motive apart from any desire to express special confidence in or admiration for that budding statesman.

But if one lies down with a sweep he must expect to get up smutted, and as the Democrats have courted the alliance with the Populists of which the arrangement in advance of their national ticket is the first fruit, they have only got what they invited.

A Homer man named George Farrell tried to commit suicide by shooting himself Tuesday night. The bullet found lodgment in his body near the heart but did not touch a vital part and he may recover, the doctors having succeeded in removing it. No cause for his act is given.

J. Wallace Hutton, a well known resident of Farmington, met with a painful accident while engaged in demolishing a barn on the Osmus estate. The bent opened, causing six heavy overlays to fall. One struck Hutton on the head, doubling his head over on his chest. Hutton is pretty well used up, but will suffer no permanent ill consequences from his injuries.

While stringing barbed wire fence on his farm four miles north of DeLton, Barry county, Daniel Bagley walked into a den of blue snakes. The snakes attacked him vigorously, and one of the reptiles succeeded in coiling itself about his person. A hired man came to the rescue, and after a hard fight dispatched some of the snakes and released Mr. Bagley. One of the snakes killed measured over six feet in length.

There is great indignation among the taxpayers at Ludington over the action of the members of the city council in voting themselves a salary of $50 annually. Heretofore the aldermen got no pay, and the people seem to think that such service as they give the city is not worth anything. If it isn't worth $50 a year it isn't worth having. The mistake the aldermen made was in not voting themselves enough while they were about it.

The Michigan crop report for May states that on the whole the condition of wheat is fully 10 points lower than one month ago, and that much of it will be plowed up on account of being winter killed. Fully 30 per cent of the crop is destroyed by the Hessian fly. A year ago the damage from the same source was 6 per cent. The average condition of the meadows in the state is 88. Information in regard to fruit is on the whole favorable.

The power house of the Grand Rapids Electric Light & Power Co. was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, the building and machinery being a total loss. The origin was in the boiler-room and the loss will exceed $20,000. This company has for years furnished the city lighting, but upon completion of the municipal lighting plant a few months ago the circuits were transferred and since then the business has been confined to private lighting.

Wm. Ranney, a convict at the Jackson state prison, took the part of a peacemaker Wednesday afternoon and as a result he is now laid up with a fractured jaw. Two of the convicts in the trip hammer shop engaged in a fight and Ranney attempted to separate them, when he was struck on the side of the face with an iron plate. The jaw was so badly fractured that it was necessary to wire the parts together. He will have to be fed through a tube.

The prosecution is making a strong case against Colonel Sutton. The testimony of the witness Smith, who was an employee of the military board in a clerical capacity, was very damaging to the defendant, and other new evidence being produced by the prosecution goes to prove that Sutton was in entire collusion with White and Marsh in the deal to defraud the state through the deal with the Henderson-Ames company. The case begins to have an ugly look for Sutton, and his conviction is more than probable unless the witness Smith can be shown to have perjured himself.

A Homer man named George Farrell tried to commit suicide by shooting himself Tuesday night. The bullet found lodgment in his body near the heart but did not touch a vital part and he may recover, the doctors having succeeded in removing it. No cause for his act is given.

J. Wallace Hutton, a well known resident of Farmington, met with a painful accident while engaged in demolishing a barn on the Osmus estate. The bent opened, causing six heavy overlays to fall. One struck Hutton on the head, doubling his head over on his chest. Hutton is pretty well used up, but will suffer no permanent ill consequences from his injuries.

While stringing barbed wire fence on his farm four miles north of DeLton, Barry county, Daniel Bagley walked into a den of blue snakes. The snakes attacked him vigorously, and one of the reptiles succeeded in coiling itself about his person. A hired man came to the rescue, and after a hard fight dispatched some of the snakes and released Mr. Bagley. One of the snakes killed measured over six feet in length.

There is great indignation among the taxpayers at Ludington over the action of the members of the city council in voting themselves a salary of $50 annually. Heretofore the aldermen got no pay, and the people seem to think that such service as they give the city is not worth anything. If it isn't worth $50 a year it isn't worth having. The mistake the aldermen made was in not voting themselves enough while they were about it.

The Michigan crop report for May states that on the whole the condition of wheat is fully 10 points lower than one month ago, and that much of it will be plowed up on account of being winter killed. Fully 30 per cent of the crop is destroyed by the Hessian fly. A year ago the damage from the same source was 6 per cent. The average condition of the meadows in the state is 88. Information in regard to fruit is on the whole favorable.

The power house of the Grand Rapids Electric Light & Power Co. was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, the building and machinery being a total loss. The origin was in the boiler-room and the loss will exceed $20,000. This company has for years furnished the city lighting, but upon completion of the municipal lighting plant a few months ago the circuits were transferred and since then the business has been confined to private lighting.

Wm. Ranney, a convict at the Jackson state prison, took the part of a peacemaker Wednesday afternoon and as a result he is now laid up with a fractured jaw. Two of the convicts in the trip hammer shop engaged in a fight and Ranney attempted to separate them, when he was struck on the side of the face with an iron plate. The jaw was so badly fractured that it was necessary to wire the parts together. He will have to be fed through a tube.

The prosecution is making a strong case against Colonel Sutton. The testimony of the witness Smith, who was an employee of the military board in a clerical capacity, was very damaging to the defendant, and other new evidence being produced by the prosecution goes to prove that Sutton was in entire collusion with White and Marsh in the deal to defraud the state through the deal with the Henderson-Ames company. The case begins to have an ugly look for Sutton, and his conviction is more than probable unless the witness Smith can be shown to have perjured himself.

Spring sales of furniture have been a disappointment to the furniture factory people of Grand Rapids. A few of the factories have shut down on account of slow orders while others are working only nine hours a day, or five days each week, in the effort to prevent stocks from growing too heavy. A crew that is driving piles for the viaduct by which an overhead crossing of the Michigan Central railway is to be made at Galesburg had a singular experience Wednesday morning. A pile had been driven into the ground for a distance of about twelve feet when a stream of water suddenly poured forth from a knot hole in it about fifteen feet above the heads of the workmen. At first the men could not understand the phenomenon, but the explanation of it was soon found. It was discovered that the pile, which seemed to be sound, was hollow for a portion of its length, and it happened that it was driven into one of the powerful springs that serve as feeders to the river, with which they are connected by subterranean water courses. When the hollow pile tapped the spring the water was forced up through it and broke through the knot-hole. That this was the case was shown by the presence in the water of a number of river fish, which were scattered over the ground where the water struck and sank into the earth. The strength of the underground current was shown by the fact that no little difficulty was experienced in forcing a sound pile into the ground against a column of water in place of the hollow one.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by the Stafford Drug company.

MINE SUPERINTENDENTS CONFERENCE.

LEADING PROPERTIES EXCEPT C. & H. REPRESENTED—DOINGS SECRET—STRIKERS STILL OUT AT QUINCY AND OSCEOLA.

A meeting of all the leading mine superintendents, except of the Calumet & Hecla, was held at Houghton yesterday afternoon. The proceedings were not made public.

The mines represented at the meeting were the Atlantic, Arcadian, Baltic, Centennial and the Fay group, Quincy, Franklin, Wolverine and Mohawk, the Tamarack-Osceola mines and the Isle Royale.

There was no change in the situation at the mines yesterday where strikes are in progress.

At the Quincy the men held a meeting at 8 o'clock in the morning and decided not to alter their plans, although there had been some talk of submitting to Superintendent Harris a statement that a 10 per cent. increase would be accepted provided it carried with it a 12 o'clock day on Saturdays.

The men, however, voted to remain out steadily for a 15 per cent. increase and a 12 o'clock day Saturday and adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning, so that further developments cannot be expected earlier. During the day the rock trains on the Quincy & Quincy Lake road carried rock to the mills as usual and will probably continue to do so without hindrance as long as any rock remains in the rock bins at the mine, as the men appear contented to let the affair adjust itself in the natural course of things and without any show of force.

At the Osceola the striking trammers gathered at the shafts at the usual hours for the change of shifts and either as a result of such assemblage or of sympathy with the strike the miners made no attempt to go down, and Superintendent Parnall appeared perfectly willing to let the mine remain closed down pending a settlement of the difficulty. The Hancock & Calumet railroad had to set one crew at work because of the shut-down at the Osceola, but otherwise its business was not affected.

At the Kearsarge the men were at work as usual yesterday and it was rumored that an amicable arrangement had been concluded between the dissatisfied ones there and Superintendent Parnall, and the appearance of things at the mine during the day certainly bore out the rumor.

At the other mines of the county there were no signs of disturbance during the day and it is hoped that the trouble will blow over without affecting them.

Later—Supt. Parnall, speaking of the Kearsarge men, states that they have been granted a 15 per cent. increase and are at work satisfied. From today the miners at the Kearsarge will get $60 and the trammers $54 per month, an increase of $2. At the Quincy the men have readily agreed to keep the shafts free from water and the usual pump gangs are at work.

ISLE ROYALE NOVEL PLAN.

HOW ROYAL FOUNDATIONS ARE TO BE OBTAINED FOR THE HEADS AT THE STAMP MILL.

The Isle Royale is working seventy-five men and eleven teams excavating for its new mill directly across from the Tamarack-Osceola coal docks. The mill will be 137 by 157 feet in size, with possibly an additional twenty-eight feet in depth. Three steel cylinders, supplied by the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron works, will be put down to bed rock for the foundations for three heads. Each will be ten feet in diameter, seventy feet long, and of five-sixteenths steel. They will be filled solid with concrete. The excavation within the cylinders will be carried on with a derrick and hoist engine now being placed in position and it is expected to be an easy task in sinking them to the ledge. The idea is new in stamp-head foundation. A duplex pump has been placed on the lake shore and a three-inch pipe run up to the mill site to furnish water for the concrete and the machinery.

MILL TEST HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL.

FRANKLIN NOW TO OPEN UP ALBANY & BOSTON CONGLOMERATE FROM THE SURFACE.

At the Franklin Junior preparations are being completed to open the workings on the Albany & Boston conglomerate and to develop that part of the mine from the surface as a result of the recent favorable mill tests of the conglomerate taken from the lode where it was reached by the crosscut driven from the Pewabic lode.

VASTNESS OF THE C. & H.

The Calumet & Hecla is not only the largest and richest among Lake Superior copper mines, but it also ranks among the oldest, having entered on the second third of its first century of existence. Vast as the mine is—and it is the deepest as well as the richest mine ever opened by man—it is only within the past three years that any attention has been paid to developing any but the first lode opened, though it has been known for a quarter of a century or more that other lodes, rich in copper, traversed the Calumet & Hecla lands. The Osceola lode is now being opened on a large scale, with five shafts, and will keep a six-stamp mill supplied with rock as soon as it can be constructed and equipped.

The Kearsarge lode, in turn, underlies the Osceola, as the last-named does the Calumet conglomerate, and the recent development work of the Centennial has thoroughly proven that lode to be rich right up to the Calumet & Hecla line. The development of the Kearsarge lode will follow the opening of a mine on the Osceola, by the C. & H. people, in due season, with every promise of making an even richer mine. In addition to these three thoroughly tested lodes, the Calumet people have other mineral bod-left alone in the house in their absence and there by himself. The verdict was that the man—Eric Tepponen—came to his death from natural causes, but it was considered from a wound on the leg that blood poisoning had really finished the unfortunate man when left alone by the family with whom he had lived, as he had been entirely without medical attention and his condition was frightful.

District Superintendent of Construction Short, of the long distance telephone service, was a Houghton visitor yesterday and left in the afternoon for a drive out towards Chassell to observe the progress of the work upon the line to the copper country. Mr. Short states that the long distance circuits are now nearly at Baraga and that a gang of men is at work near Chassell resetting the poles through the Sturgeon swamps and getting ready for the forces which are stringing the wires. He states that the circuits will be in working order between the copper country and the East and South probably by the first of June. An effort is being made to have the new telephone headquarters in Houghton in the new De Postoffice building ready by the time the new service is commenced, although the work may be delayed by the failure of the new switch boards to arrive in time.

HE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 13 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by the Stafford Drug company.

Upper Peninsula News.

The recent sale of delinquent taxes in Dickinson county netted $8,350, the largest amount ever taken in there.

Fifty-two Menominee saloonkeepers have filed liquor dealers' bonds. There are but a few changes since a year ago. The city will derive over $25,000 from this source.

The residents of Mackinac island have long been seeking the protection project contemplated the construction of two breakwaters, the estimated cost of both being $80,000. Colonel Lydecker, chief of engineers, states that the harbor is worthy of improvement to this extent.

Wednesday a traveling hypnotist placed a subject in a Menominee show window. He is giving exhibitions there and the fellow was in the window all morning and presented a ghastly appearance in his hypnotic slumber. Mayor Erditz finally ordered the curtains drawn and the fellow taken out of the window.

The Menominee city council meeting Monday evening practically decided to pave the Frenchtown and paper mill bridges. The bridges are in bad shape. Preparatory to paving the bridges new playing will be put on. Street Commissioner Johnson will soon commence to plank the Frenchtown bridge. Square cedar blocks will be used. This work will require several weeks.

A rather peculiar contest took place at Menominee a few days ago. It was nothing more or less than a post peeling contest, and lasted one hour. A fellow named Joe Bawlak peeled seventy-two posts and got first money, $15. The other contestant was John Zadio and he peeled sixty-eight posts and got $10 for his work. This is said to be the best record in this part of the state.

Thos. Flood, driver for the United States Express company at Menominee, had a narrow escape from being killed Tuesday afternoon in Finntown. While driving eastward near the Crawford Manufacturing company plant the St. Paul switch engine crashed into the wagon hurrying it twenty feet away. Mr. Flood was thrown out and sustained some bad bruises and cuts. His wrist was sprained and leg bruised. The wagon is a complete wreck.

The thirtieth semi-annual apportionment of primary school interest money was made by Superintendent of Public Instruction Hammond at Lansing Wednesday. There are 712,389 children of school age, between five and twenty years, included in the apportionment, and the total amount apportioned is $26,194.50, the rate being 50 cents per capita. The following shows the sum each county in the upper peninsula will receive: Alger, $880; Baraga, $988.50; Chippewa, $2,696.50; Delta, $2,215; Dickinson, $2,797; Gogebic, $2,678; Houghton, $9,249; Iron, $987; Luce, $228; Mackinac, $1,152; Keweenaw, $391.50; Marquette, $6,292; Menominee, $4,421; Ontonagon, $614.40; Schoolcraft, $1,095.50.

There will be a gentlemen's driving race at the Hancock Driving park on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The admission being 25 cents. Each participant entering a horse is expected to take his own driver, and as the park is in good condition this spring some good races are expected to result.

Montrose commandery, Knights Templar, and John Duncan lodge of Masons at Lake Linden had charge of the funeral of the late Will J. Uren at that place yesterday afternoon, while Myrtle lodge of Odd Fellows from Hancock also attended in a body and other lodges were present from various parts of the county. The interment took place at Calumet.

Dr. A. M. Wheeler returned yesterday from a trip to Ishpeming to attend a meeting of the committee of the Upper Peninsula Medical society charged with the duty of establishing his own district, and as the park is in good condition this spring some good races are expected to result.

Justice Casper Brand and Deputy Sheriff MacNamara of Houghton went down to mortgage Entry yesterday morning on the Annie R. Hennes to hold an inquest upon the remains of a man found in a house there near Jacono which had not been occupied by the family which had lived there for fully a week or ten days. The man was a Finlander who had been in poor

TO STRIVE FOR PEACE.

Filipino Leader Takes a Hand in Ending the War.

BUENCAMINO THE IMAN.

Becomes Reconciled to Yankee Sovereignty and Sends a Communication to the Reds.

ASKS AGINALDO TO YIELD.

Manila, May 11.—Senator Buencamino, at one time a member of the so-called Filipino republican cabinet and who recently was liberated by General Otis, announces that he has become reconciled to American sovereignty and that he will devote his influence to promoting about peace.

YANKEE PROTECTION NECESSARY.

This platform declares that it is impossible for the Filipinos to exist as a nation without the protection of the United States, that consequently they must recognize American sovereignty and strive to attain, under a constitution, the utmost liberty possible.

"In our independent government the most predominant notes were abuse and immorality, the offspring of ignorance, by which the Filipino regime was rendered odious to our own people."

"Therefore he contends that American control is necessary to prevent civil strife. He recommends to the National Filipino party the following features:

THESE HIS PEACE TERMS.

- First—Recognition of the sovereignty of the United States, the cessation of hostilities and the co-operation of the present Filipinos in the prosecution of the bandits who continue depredations in the name of independence.
Second—Request for a declaration by the United States government guaranteeing to the Filipinos personal liberties and rights under a constitution.
Third—A Filipino representative delegation to present to the American congress and public the desires of the Filipinos with respect to political status.
Fourth—The application of part of the public funds to the maintenance of hospitals for sick and wounded Filipino soldiers and for the establishment of schools.
Fifth—The transfer of the insurgent funds to the American treasury.
Sixth—The establishment of a permanent system of Filipino representatives to the civil commission.
Seventh—The exclusion of friars from the administration of parishes.

PENSION FIELD DAY.

180 BILLS ARE PASSED BY THE HOUSE—SENATE DISCUSSES ARMOR PLATE: TO VOTE TODAY.

Washington, May 11.—This was private pension day in the house under the rules. Some routine business was transacted before the regular order was demanded. Mr. Esch of Wisconsin called up the bill to amend the law so as to provide for the commutation of the travel and subsistence allowance of discharged officers and soldiers.

The house then went in committee of the whole to consider private pension bills. Exactly 180 bills were passed. Among them was the senate bill to pension the widow of the late General Guy V. Henry at the rate of $100 per month. This was reduced by the house to $50.

ROOSEVELT VISITS THE SENATE.

Governor Roosevelt was on the floor of the senate today and was greeted warmly by friends on both sides.

Consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed, the pending question being the amendment of Senator Tillman providing for a straight price of $900 per ton for armor and the building by the government of an armor plate factory at a cost not to exceed four million dollars.

ST. LOUIS STRIKE SITUATION.

St. Louis, May 11.—As a Park avenue car was going into town this afternoon a crowd of 250 persons, assembled at Mississippi avenue, began to stone it. A policeman on the platform fired several shots into the crowd, but as far as known, no one was hit.

BADGER BOY KILLS WIDOW.

SAYS SHE HAD TAKEN FATHER'S AFFECTIONS FROM HIS FAMILY.

Sparta, Wis., May 11.—Early this morning Elmer Benjamin, aged twenty, shot and killed Mrs. Emma Priest, a widow, aged thirty-eight. Benjamin accused the woman of alienating the affections of his father from his family. Benjamin surrendered.

STATE OF THE NATION'S TRADE.

THIS WEEK'S SUMMARIES OF DUN & CO. AND BRADSTREET'S.

New York, May 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Trade Review tomorrow will say: "With wholesome promptness the country is recovering from the embarrassment of unnaturally high prices. In some lines great manufacturing associations have taken the initiative in reducing prices, and in others the entire producing capacity is engaged at high prices for some months to come; in others still, it comes in spite of the resistance because buyers hold back orders for their own protection until material concessions are made."

"The proportion of the works and hands unemployed is quite small, while the volume of business transacted is larger than ever before at fifty-four out of sixty-three clearing houses in the entire region west of Pennsylvania, reduction is still deferred because of the high prices, which is retarded by them."

"Bessemer pig at Philadelphia is quoted at $22 per ton, and market wire has been reduced to $1.10 per pound. A considerable increase in business is reported, as resulting from the recent reductions, but demands for higher wages, also the policy of closing some iron works two months in the year whether there is business or not, causes some hesitation regarding further contracts."

"Wool yields a little, more chiefly in the finer grades, owing chiefly to the continued abstention of manufacturers. Cancellations cause some trouble and slow payments some, and the prices of many grades are irregular. Cotton goods also are irregular and in unsatisfactory demand."

"The shipments of boots and shoes from the East for the first week in May were smaller than in the corresponding week of every year save one since 1894. The prices asked are practically as high as they were on Jan. 3, though leather averages 4 per cent. lower and hides about 10 per cent. lower."

"The failures this week in the United States were 192, against 165 in the week of last year."

AS NOTED BY BRADSTREET'S.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will state: "The trade situation this week may be summed up in the phrase, inactive demand and weaker prices. While in many respects the industrial situation is easier than it was and settlements in the building trades continue marked, reflex action is being exhibited in an unsettled demand for building material and weaker prices for lumber and other building products used in the building industry."

"Iron and steel buyers are still holding off, most of the business done being for small lots for immediate consumption. Further declines are noted in steel billets and for some finished products, while synthetic weakness is reported in other metals, such as copper, lead and tin."

"In the speculative markets dullness has been a feature. Wheat, after considerable steadiness, has weakened on the favorable government crop report, which indicates a yield of winter wheat of 100,000,000 bushels more than a year ago notwithstanding the immense damage from winter killing in the Central Western states, which is apparently offset, however, by the high condition in the states west of the Mississippi. Corn has been weaker than wheat, reflecting less active export demand and sympathy with the lowered price of provisions, the latter being due to heavier receipts of hogs and a lessened demand for pork and lard."

"Relatively good reports come from the wheat crop in most centers, but withstanding the backward spring, but as yet the volume of re-order business from wholesalers and jobbers has proved disappointing. Relatively the best trade reports still come from the Pacific coast markets, but better weather conditions at the South have tended to brighten the trade reports from that section."

"The wheat shipments this week total 3,481,000 bushels, against 3,284,000 of the week of last year; those of corn are 4,638,000 bushels, against 2,768,000 a year ago."

"The total of the bank clearings at the principal cities of the United States for the week is $1,651,891,839, a decrease of 18 per cent. compared with the corresponding week of last year."

METHODISTS WARMLY DEBATE IT BUT POSTPONE ACTION.

Chicago, May 11.—At today's session of the Methodist general conference, consideration of the question of admitting women as delegates was taken up and a heated discussion ensued, but before any action was taken the motion was postponed.

WOMAN DELEGATE QUESTION.

The joint committee appointed to consider plans for the consolidation of the Church Extension society, the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational societies presented a report which, in effect, was that consolidation was neither advisable nor practicable. The bishops, however, were directed to nominate a commission to submit a plan of consolidation at the next general conference.

CONTINUES FORCING MATTERS.

CORBETT TAKES TO SPRINTING.

Round Six—Jeffries leads a straight left to the face. Corbett has made all ineffectual try for the head. Three clinches follow, with the honors in Jeffries' favor. Corbett is compelled to shift continually to avoid the champion's leads. Corbett sends a right to the end of the round without having the semblance to a blow.

Round Seven—They rush to a clinch. Jeffries gets a light left on the wind. Another clinch occurs; in the break Jeffries throws his left over to the ribs. Corbett plays for the body. Jeffries has blocked nearly, Jeffries sends right and left smashes to the body which almost send Corbett off his feet. Jeffries gets wild, swinging both hands to the body. Corbett is sprinting to avoid punishment. Jeffries lands a left and a right to the body. Corbett hooks a left to the head, which Jeffries counters on the stomach. Corbett hooks a left to the head and gets away clean. Jeffries has made a rush, sending a left to the head without return. Jeffries keeps forcing the pace; he has landed a left on the neck. Corbett counters with a right hook to the head. Corbett has stepped in and got in a corking good right to the ribs; he ducks Jeffries' counter.

CHAMPION LOSES GROUND.

Round Nine—Both have led lefts to the head; they clinch. Corbett has hooked a left to the head and swung a right to the jaw, staggering Jeffries. Corbett follows up with another right swing to the jaw, Jeff coming in with a left to the body. In the breakaway Jim swings a terrific right to the jaw which has made Jeffries look groggy. Corbett puts his left and right quickly to the head; now he hooks another hard left to the jaw. Jeffries sends back a hard left swing on the neck. Corbett counters with a right and left to the head. Corbett is lighting regularly on Jeffries' face. This is certainly Corbett's land.

Round Ten—Corbett lands a left to the head and ducks in return. Again he hooks a left to the head and counters Jeffries' left to the body. Quick as lightning Corbett sends a right and left to the face; he has the big fellow going. Corbett still keeps forcing; he lands another left to the nose, which makes the boiler maker's nasal organ bleed profusely. Jeffries is very wild; he has made several rushes, but to no purpose. Corbett is lighting with provoking regularity on Jeffries' face. This is certainly Corbett's land.

Round Eleven—Corbett opens with a left to the body. Jeffries rushes him to his corner, but fails to land effectively. He has tried a left swing for the head, but Corbett has dodged and sent a left and right to the body. Corbett sends two lefts to the jaw, Jeffries coming in with a mouth, bringing a lead from the champion's lips. Jeffries seems to be rattled, Corbett finding no difficulty in getting his left to the face. Jeffries has tried several left swings, but Corbett has got under them, hooking his right hard over to the body. Jeffries jabs Corbett in the face under the jaw.

BETTING IS EVEN NOW.

Round Twelve—It is even money in the betting. Corbett ducks Jeffries' left to the head and clinches three times without a blow. Jeffries gets in a right to the body and a left to the chest. Corbett has hooked a straight left twice to the face. In the breakaway Corbett jabs his left twice to the face without return. Jeffries assumes a crouching position. But Corbett straightens him up with a right and a left on the nose, which brings the blood afresh; but in the break Jeffries has crossed his right to the head, Corbett putting a light left to the chest.

Round Thirteen—Jeffries has tried his left half a dozen times, but Corbett blocks them all. Jeffries hooks a left to the neck and rushes Corbett to the ropes. They clinch twice without injury. Jeffries sends a left to the body and a right to the head, putting Corbett to the ropes and staggering him. Jeffries forced the pace in this round.

Round Fourteen—Both rush to a clinch. In the breakaway Corbett sends two straight lefts to the mouth; Jeff has responded with hard lefts to the body. Now he sends back a hard left smash on Corbett's face, but Corbett has retaliated with a straight left to the nose. Jeffries bleeds copiously from the nose. Corbett sends two more lefts to that organ. Corbett had the call at the end of the round.

KNOCK-OUT BLOW STRUCK.

Round Twenty-three—Jeffries swings a right to Corbett's jaw; he rushes him across the ring. At close quarters Corbett hooks a left twice to the face, sending the blood spurting. Jeffries throws two hard lefts into the body and smashes his left again on Corbett's face, knocking him down and out.

The time of the round was two minutes and twenty seconds. Jeffries crowded Corbett to the ropes and, with a full swinging left smash on the jaw, sent Corbett rolling, down and out. Corbett's head struck the floor heavily and he rolled over in a vain attempt to regain his feet, but was too far gone to recuperate within ten seconds. A moment after Referee White had counted him out he was able to regain his feet and soon revived.

GRIFFO-LEWIS A DRAW.

Chicago, May 11.—Young Griffo and Jack Lewis fought six rounds to a draw at the Star theater tonight.

WOMAN DELEGATE QUESTION.

The joint committee appointed to consider plans for the consolidation of the Church Extension society, the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational societies presented a report which, in effect, was that consolidation was neither advisable nor practicable. three wild swings for the head. At close quarters Corbett tries to evade a left lead for the head and slips, but although the blow has landed he recovers and stands upright. Corbett's work is wonderful. The Jeffries people look wooed.

Round Sixteen—Corbett has sent a left to the body and hooked a light left to the face, but he receives a hard setback on the body from Jeffries' right fighting; he has sent a left to the face and body with telling effect just as the bell sounds.

Round Nineteen—Jeffries has tried two lefts for the body, but they were blocked. Jeffries hooks a left to the head. Corbett sends back a left swing to the jaw. Jeffries rushes Corbett to the ropes, knocking him down with a right smash to the ear. Corbett gets up like a flash. Jeffries keeps crowding in, using his left to the ribs and neck. Corbett counters with straight left jabs to the face. In the clinch Jeffries sends his right twice to the kidneys; he has had all the better of this round.

Round Twenty—Jeffries rushes like a mad bull, but Corbett sidesteps and sprouts out of harm's way, sending a straight left to the ribs. Jeffries rushes again, but Corbett gets inside the lead and throws his body against the champion's chest, blocking every blow. Corbett has stepped to either side every time Jeffries tried to land, and dodges two hard left swings. Jeffries lands a left on the neck. Corbett counters on the ribs.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

Round Twenty-one—Corbett has opened with a left on the face. Jeffries rushes him into the first accident occurring on the Dundee line. One day the little locomotive got the better of the engineer. When approaching the station at the end of the route the engineer discovered that he could not shut off the steam. The locomotive went headlong into an embankment, but fortunately no one was hurt. The engineer and fireman escaped by jumping and the trainmen saved the passengers by uncoupling the coaches from the engine before the end of the line was reached.

One of the greatest achievements in those early days, he relates, was the construction of the two great bridges over the Tay and Forth rivers. In order to connect by rail the Scottish capital, Edinburgh, with the city of Dundee, the bridges were necessary. A short time afterward a fall train-load of passengers went through the Tay bridge. It was then rebuilt more substantially than before. The Forth bridge was opened by the Prince of Wales. Its spans are one-third of a mile in length and they stand 150 feet clear of the water.

In 1847 Mr. Miln began his railway career in the locomotive department of the Dundee & Perth railway, twenty-two miles in length, but the longest running out of Dundee at that time. He worked on a couple of other lines over there until the spring of 1853, when he began to go down as a result of a strike of the engineers and firemen, in which they were unsuccessful.

Hearing of the great railway projected in Canada, he and his brother, who was also an engineer, concluded to cross the ocean. The brother was the first to land in Canada. Subsequently the advance of John Bull fell the good fortune of being selected to run the first locomotive in Canada. John took the second one. Both pulled construction trains. The first work done was on the Quebec and Richmond branches of the Grand Trunk line. Subsequently the line was connected with an American line called the Atlantic & St. Lawrence. This was afterwards absorbed by the Grand Trunk. Late in the fall of 1853 the construction of the Great Western line began. The first locomotive used on the work was manufactured in Boston and was brought down the St. Lawrence river on a small barge. The first engine was named "Governor Carver."

During the first winter the line had to remain closed, as the locomotives would not take the trains through the snow. The brothers got full pay during the months they were idle. Their salary at that time was $60 per month. The spring of 1854 saw a great boom court heard arguments in the case for two days and yesterday reserved judgment. The great fortune is intended to assist the emigration of Russian Jews to America, and the association declares that any business it transacts in England is purely formal, all meetings of the council being held in Baron Hirsch's Paris home.

RELIEF FOR MAFEKING.

says that the Mafeking relief force has passed through Vryburg. A special dispatch from Pretoria, dated the 10th, says: "It is announced that a British relief force of 3,000 is advancing along the Bechuana railway by forced marches night and day. It reached Vryburg yesterday."

SOME HARD FIGHTING.

The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Lourenzo Marques says: "The Boer papers report severe fighting on the western border. The facts are very much confused, probably by a design to conceal the truth from the burghers, but there is enough to show that the Boers admit the British occupation of Taungas."

A special dispatch from Christiana published Wednesday by The Standard & Diggers News says: "Six hundred British cavalry crossed the Vaal Friday at Kalbong, eighteen miles below Fourteen Streams, and went to Taungas, followed by the commandoes. A second detachment of British crossed at the same place Saturday. The Griqualanders, under General Aswoong, after being reinforced repulsed the British forces and sent them back in the direction of Taungas. General Aswoong was killed. The other Boer casualties were seven wounded. The British loss was heavy. Everything was brought away from the laagers except a few tents, left to attract the enemy's shells. Taungas is occupied by about three thousand British."

MORE HEAVY LOSSES ALLEGED.

A special dispatch from Pretoria, Monday, in the same paper records the British seizure of Fourteen Streams and says: "The British force at Witrand was overwhelming. Subsequently the enemy moved their line toward our positions, bombarding them with such effect that the burghers were compelled to retreat, which they did in regular order. Today the forward movement of the British was checked by our forces, who drove them back in two places."

"Another telegram from Pretoria, dated Tuesday, in The Standard & Diggers News says: "The British, in their passage along the Stellaland border toward Mafeking, were engaged by Commandant Bissell near Taungas with great success. Hundreds of British troops met water graves while attempting to cross the Vaal. A second advance was made upon Taungas Sunday morning by fifteen hundred British troops and six guns. Communication with Taungas was cut Sunday afternoon."

Referring to the operation of the first railway train ever moved in the world, Mr. Miln records as a strange fact the circumstance that the first person killed by a locomotive was John Hoskinson, who had persuaded the British house of commons to pass the railway act authorizing George Stephenson to move his first locomotive and train from Stockton to Darlington. Hoskinson was run over by the locomotive before it had been operated very long.

He also mentions the first accident occurring on the Dundee line. One day the little locomotive got the better of the engineer. When approaching the station at the end of the route the engineer discovered that he could not shut off the steam. The locomotive went headlong into an embankment, but fortunately no one was hurt. The engineer and fireman escaped by jumping and the trainmen saved the passengers by uncoupling the coaches from the engine before the end of the line was reached.

TWO SHIPLOADS OF MULES.

THEY LEAVE NEW ORLEANS FOR THE BRITISH AT CAPE TOWN.

New Orleans, Friday, May 11.—The steamer Monarch sailed today for Cape Town with 1,500 mules and the steamer Corinthia cleared for the same port with 1,450 mules. All the animals are consigned to the British army officials.

BAD DAY FOR THE CEREALS.

WHEAT AND CORN OFF OVER A CENT; OATS LIKEWISE WEAKER.

Chicago, May 11.—Wheat today was rather active, with the trade spasmodic, the range being 1 1/2@1 3/4. The feeling was weaker and lower prices ruled. May selling off to 64 1/2 and July to 65 1/2. The close showed May off 1/4 and July off 1/4. Favorable weather, present and prospective, with showers for the Northwest, and the government report apparently were the main weakening influences. The receipts at Liverpool the past three days were liberal, while cash values were steady to 1/2 penny lower, with the futures off 1/2@1. There were ten cargoes off the English coast. The clearings were liberal and New York reported fifty-five bondloads accepted. As the session advanced there was quite general scattered liquidation by holders and the market weakened.

There was a very large speculative trade in corn, the market ruling quiet active and the range being 34 1/2@35. A rather steady tone was prevalent at the start, but weakness developed later, the close of May being 1/4 lower, with July off 1/4@1 1/4. Liquidation by tired longs was the main feature. The weather evidently was one of the main bear influences, though the decline in wheat and irresponsible cables had some effect on values. Spot at Liverpool was steady to 1/4 penny higher, with the futures unchanged. The clearings were large and country offerings small. New York reported forty-one bondloads accepted.

Oats were active, weaker and lower. The prices declined 1/2@3/4 and closed at the inside. September showed the most weakness. The largest buyers yesterday were sellers today. The break in corn also had a depressing influence. The crop reports were favorable.

The engineer and fireman escaped by jumping and the trainmen saved the passengers by uncoupling the coaches from the engine before the end of the line was reached.

One of the greatest achievements in those early days, he relates, was the construction of the two great bridges over the Tay and Forth rivers. In order to connect by rail the Scottish capital, Edinburgh, with the city of Dundee, the bridges were necessary. A short time afterward a fall train-load of passengers went through the Tay bridge. It was then rebuilt more substantially than before. The Forth bridge was opened by the Prince of Wales. Its spans are one-third of a mile in length and they stand 150 feet clear of the water.

In 1847 Mr. Miln began his railway career in the locomotive department of the Dundee & Perth railway, twenty-two miles in length, but the longest running out of Dundee at that time. He worked on a couple of other lines over there until the spring of 1853, when he began to go down as a result of a strike of the engineers and firemen, in which they were unsuccessful.

Hearing of the great railway projected in Canada, he and his brother, who was also an engineer, concluded to cross the ocean. The brother was the first to land in Canada. Subsequently the advance of John Bull fell the good fortune of being selected to run the first locomotive in Canada. John took the second one. Both pulled construction trains. The first work done was on the Quebec and Richmond branches of the Grand Trunk line. Subsequently the line was connected with an American line called the Atlantic & St. Lawrence. This was afterwards absorbed by the Grand Trunk. Late in the fall of 1853 the construction of the Great Western line began. The first locomotive used on the work was manufactured in Boston and was brought down the St. Lawrence river on a small barge. The first engine was named "Governor Carver."

During the first winter the line had to remain closed, as the locomotives would not take the trains through the snow. The brothers got full pay during the months they were idle. Their salary at that time was $60 per month. The spring of 1854 saw a great boom court heard arguments in the case for two days and yesterday reserved judgment. The great fortune is intended to assist the emigration of Russian Jews to America, and the association declares that any business it transacts in England is purely formal, all meetings of the council being held in Baron Hirsch's Paris home.

REPUBLIC.

In Canada. Emigrants came in by the ship load, all having their passage paid, to work on construction of the railroads. Just before winter set in two trains got through to Richmond, but with great difficulty, so that the road was not fairly opened until the spring of 1855.

Mr. Millm mentions that in 1854 there were ten engineers employed on the line, and in 1850, when he wrote his sketch, he was the only one of these still living.

Drifting from his railroad work, he gets mixed up in some of the military operations. He saw the British forces just before they engaged in a battle in which the English conquered the French. It gave him a great deal of pleasure to find a Scottish regiment at the front, as he found there several of his boyhood companions. After the war broke out he never heard further of them, most of his friends having been killed in the fighting.

One of his remembrances of the early days in Canada was the visitation of the cholera over the bridge, and later during the summer of 1854. Mr. Millm was right in the midst of it, but he escaped the disease, continuing at work steadily. Several vessels loaded with emigrants were anchored in the river for many weeks while the plague continued.

In 1855 he went to Hamilton, where he remained until last fall, when he bid the steam horse farewell forever.

He was almost an eye witness of one of the most distressing railway accidents that had taken place in the world up to that time. It was on March 12, 1857, when a whole train of passengers went into the river at the draw bridge on the Desjardins canal, one mile west of Hamilton. This bridge stood forty feet clear of the water. Twenty minutes before the accident Mr. Millm had a train over the bridge, and later he was called back to assist in recovering the bodies of the fifty-four persons drowned. Every person on the train, with one exception, was lost.

Up to 1850 Mr. Millm had seen six different general managers of the road and come and go, and he had worked under nine different superintendents, and nearly all of these men were dead at the time he wrote.

One of the most remarkable things in his career is the fact that he spent all these years on the road without receiving an injury of any kind and without ever having an accident in which anyone was either killed or hurt.

Concluding, the old man gives an elaborate setting forth from his own experience of what, in his belief, should be the aim of a young man entering the employ of a railway company in the capacity of engineer or fireman. He tells of the many narrow escapes he had in a most entertaining way. He reviews many of the errors often made by train dispatchers, operators, conductors and engineers, citing a number of instances in which accidents were due to the carelessness of some of the employees mentioned.

The life of a railroad man, as he pictures it, is one not to be desired, though his entire thought was upon his work and the locomotive. He tells of how happy and contented he was at times when seated in his cab with his hand on the throttle.

He wrote entertainingly of the advantages afforded the railroad man of today compared with what they were in the early days. He referred to some instances where men started at the bottom of the ladder and gradually climbed to high positions in the management of railways. With him his only ambition was to guide a locomotive and do it to the satisfaction of his employers and with an ever-vigilant regard for the safety of those riding behind him.

Shortly after the old man wrote the sketch of his life and sent it to his son in this county representatives of Canadian newspapers who heard of it tried to get it from him, but he would not consent to giving it up. His son had a number of letters from the papers asking for it, but he was under instructions from his father to not have it used in any way until after his death.

Mr. Millm was at his work when he was taken ill last fall. His son John immediately went for him and brought him to his home here. The old man hated to give up, so great was his love for his occupation. During the winter just closed he was several times thought to be dying before the end came, as he was quite feeble and continued failing rapidly.

Shapely Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is very destructive to the mother's shapeliness. This can be avoided, however, by the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND before baby comes as the scientific hygienic medicine prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of form. MOTHER'S FRIEND also obviates all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing, and thousands gratefully tell of the great good it has done them. Sold by all druggists at 25c per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this great remedy, will be sent free to you, address by THE BRADFIELD KIDNEY CURE COMPANY, Atlanta, Georgia.

DESJARDINS' PHARMACY, 417 N. THIRD ST. (5-2-0)

will come together. It is understood here that the visitors will procure a special train, as they have already been assured of being accompanied by a large delegation of rooters.

The Ishpeming team is made up of some first-class players and the local men realize that they will have their hands full. A victory for either team cannot be predicted, but the local men have the strongest organization the town has had in the past twelve or fifteen years, and they can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves. The boys are practicing a great deal and are now in fine trim. The Ishpeming team will have a practice game with the Negaunee club next Sunday.

The people of Republic are so thoroughly interested in the game, and particularly in the home organization, that there will be a large crowd out to the opening contest. The grounds are not enclosed, so that all will be at liberty to take it in. A collection will be made up to defray the expenses of the visiting players.

LOCOMOTIVES RUN WITH OIL.

One of the largest railroads on the Pacific Coast has decided to substitute oil in place of coal as fuel on its engines. But whether the experiment will prove a success remains to be seen. In this respect it differs from the famous Fissetter's Stomach Bitters which has made a decided success in its fifty years of curing of stomach ills such as dyspepsia, indigestion and biliousness. Do not experiment with unknown remedies when this safe and reliable medicine can be had of any druggist. Try a bottle and be convinced. It will build up your debilitated system, strengthen your weak stomach and make it capable of digesting the food taken into it, and when this is done health must naturally follow.

GAVE UP THE CONTRACT.

Fred Carston, who had the contract to build the proposed addition to B. Levine's store, has thrown up the job. After taking the contract he found that he could not get competent men to do the work, and not having the time to do it himself he concluded to relinquish it. Mr. Levine is now figuring with parties down the line. He is "badly in need of the room which the addition will give him, and for that reason is quite anxious to get the work under way.

"Thou changest not-yet, I am always changing," said the substitute to Rocky Mountain Tea. Made by the Madison Medicine Co. 35c. The Stafford Drug company.

THE LOGS HAVE PASSED.

The logs cut during the winter season some distance up the river passed through here this week. They were not moving very rapidly, though there were no jams to hold them in check. A dozen or more men were working on the drive under the direction of the Frazer company, which has the contract for getting the logs to their destination. It will take two or three weeks at least to get all the logs down, as there is quite a distance to cover between here and Menominee. The drivers are working from daylight until dark, and are being paid well for their labor. The timber is owned by the Girard Lumber company of Menominee.

STAGE WILL BE STARTED.

It is understood that a Republic man will start a stage line between the village and the Riverside mine next week. A majority of the thirty or more men working out there are living in town and since the snow left the ground they have been covering the distance to and from the mine on foot, and the walk is too severe a task on them.

The diamond drill is still being operated at the Riverside, though mining work has not yet been started. It is the purpose of the company to ascertain just what is in the mine in the way of ore before operations are resumed on a large scale. The extension of the railway to the property will not be started until some idea of the extent of the deposit has been obtained.

SNAP SHOTS.

Miss Mollie Gibson spent Sunday with relatives at Champion.

James Clancy was up from Ishpeming Monday, and spent the greater part of the day at the Riverside mine.

Miss Edith Broad of Ishpeming, who is filling a vacancy in the school here, visited her folks Sunday.

F. D. Davis, county commissioner of schools, visited the Republic schools Wednesday.

Thomas O'Brien's hotel has been supplied with a Marquette County telephone.

Dr. E. E. Lamb has been on the sick list the past few days. He expects to be around again very soon.

John Whilmen recently purchased Peter Watson's house, which his family will occupy as soon as it is vacated by the present occupants.

J. H. Taylor has his art gallery about ready for business. He found a number of repairs necessary on account of the building having stood idle so long.

The Sewell Stock company is filling a three nights' engagement in Republic this week. The company is giving good satisfaction and playing to fine houses.

Matt Sampson, Jr., has taken a position as clerk at B. Levine's general store. Matt talks the Finnish language and he is quite a popular young fellow with all classes here.

The shooting of ducks, etc., on School Lake has been prohibited by the township board. The practice is considered too dangerous to admit of its being continued in the future.

Louis Laforia has taken a logging job in Minnesota. He will take several up with him from here. The work will be started very soon, as Mr. Laforia is already organizing his force.

D. McDonald was down Monday from the copper country. He spent some time in Ishpeming, where his father is very ill at the home of Duncan Campbell. George McDonald was also down to see the old gentleman.

A traveling orchestra rendered some sweet music in Republic Wednesday. Some of the young people made an attempt to get up a crowd to give a dance in the hall that night, but a sufficient number to make a go of it did not respond.

Some of Charley Munson's friends insist that he did not make the very best of times with that nag of his between here and Champion last Sunday. In spite of this the owners of fast stock in Republic are invited around to test speed with Charley's trotter.

Thomas O'Brien announces his opening for Saturday night of next week, May 19. He will issue special invitations to his friends to call and partake of a fine lunch he will serve on that occasion. Since opening his place Tom has been doing a good business.

An ice cream social will be given next Friday evening at the town hall under auspices of the local lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. A large attendance is certain and a good time will be had by all who attend.

Our big closing out sale is still booming. And all on account of the great inducements we are offering all who want dry goods, clothing or furnishings. Money is saved on every article you buy at our store. Spring and summer goods going at ridiculously low prices. F. BRAASTAD & CO.

THEY SHOT A DEER.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN DOWNING HAS ENCOMPASSED THE ARREST OF TWO GAME LAW VIOLATORS.

Andrew Juntila and John Floor, both residents of the Winthrop location, will have to answer in Justice Kennedy's court this morning the charge of having illegally killed a deer on the Escanaba river last Sunday.

The case against the offenders is clear and Deputy Downing has no doubt of their conviction. The deer was shot Sunday last, Juntila, Floor and a third man, who is believed to have skipped the county to avoid arrest, are the parties who killed it.

The principal witness identifies the two suspects absolutely as belonging to the party that hid the sack of venison. In addition, young men from the city who were fishing the Escanaba are prepared to swear that they saw the accused carrying the sack, in which the venison was found, at the Escanaba river the day the deer was killed.

The guilty parties have been very obstinate in their denial of the offense, but in the face of the evidence against them their protestations of innocence will count for nothing.

Ishpeming sportsmen are congratulating Deputy Downing on his success in making a case against these offenders as their arrest and punishment cannot fail to have a salutary effect in reducing the amount of illegal hunting in neighboring game country.

BICYCLE RACES MAY 30TH.

Irwin Williams and other Ishpeming bicycle riders are arranging for a racing meet to be held at Union Park Decoration day, May 30. The program will include a two and one-half mile lap race for amateurs, a half-mile professional race, a mile handicap for amateurs, a 220-yard foot race, a two and one-half mile bicycle race between Carlson of Eagle Mills and William Pearce of Ishpeming, a five mile handicap for amateurs and, lastly, a five mile professional handicap.

The speedster riders in the county have signified their interest in participating in the sport, and there should be some close and exciting races. The prizes will aggregate a neat sum. Merchandise prizes will reward the efforts of the amateurs.

A GOOD PRODUCTION.

The Kenosha Evening News of April 30th printed the following notice of a performance of "Quo Vadis" by the Carpenter Dramatic company:

"Quo Vadis" which is making one of the most successful dramatic sensations of the season, had its first presentation in Kenosha Sunday night at the Rhode Opera House.

"Quo Vadis" as presented Sunday night was a pleasant surprise. The theatrical actor who attended last evening and who expected to see a performance of barn stormers was happily disappointed, for while the production was not as elaborate as the Chicago production, the company was very good and the interpretation of the story of Nero's persecution of the Christians was worthy of commendation.

A great snap Saturday. Go early before all the hammocks are cleared out at the Grand Union Tea company's store.

SWEDISH REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The proposed Scandinavian Republican league for the upper peninsula will be organized at a meeting of prominent Scandinavians from all sections of the peninsula this afternoon. The business session will begin at the Swedish Home hall at 2 o'clock and it is expected that the details of the organization will be completed without a hitch.

"OF A GOOD BEGINNING cometh a good end." When you take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood you are making a good beginning, and the good end will be health and happiness. It never disappoints.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills.

The Grand Union Tea company has given patrons many presents, but the hammock to be given Saturday, May 12, with every can of baking powder purchased, is the best thing ever sent out in that way by the firm.

Now is the time to buy spring goods at Braastad's. An extra reduction in prices has been made in dry goods, clothing, shoes, neckwear, etc.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Tom Bennett is laid up with a siege of tonsillitis.

Charles Eichenbaum, the Champion cigar dealer, called on his trade here yesterday.

J. D. Gilchrist of Duluth, assistant superintendent for the Oliver Iron company, was here yesterday.

J. M. Hayden and H. F. Nickerson of I. E. Swift & Co. left for the copper country yesterday morning.

The big bridge over the Escanaba river which was damaged by the spring freshets was repaired Thursday.

Mrs. Deadman announces her summer millinery opening for next Wednesday. A full line of pattern hats will then be shown.

Miss Beatrice Sedgwick, who has been visiting Mrs. W. B. Nason at Ripon lately, is expected home the early part of next week.

J. Hammel & Co. of Appleton have a three years' lease of the Jones barn. They will give up their former quarters on Pearl street.

The street car employees have received new uniforms and caps, which have just been donned. Their appearance is very neat.

Marshal Farm yesterday took to Marquette two vags who were run in Thursday night. They will serve time in the county jail.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company will pay its employees at the Salisbury mine Monday, at the Hard Ore Tuesday and at the Lake Wednesday.

Samuel Peck, an old resident of the Lake Superior country, and grandfather of H. P. Bronson of Ishpeming, lies seriously ill at his Florida home.

Captain E. H. Brown of Girard, Kan., a well known railroad contractor, was in Ishpeming on business Thursday. He left for Chicago the same evening.

A number of residents of the New York hill are improving the appearance of their homes by liberal applications of paint. Additions are also being built to several houses.

John Salo, who decently sold out his interest in the furniture business to his partner, Frank Backs, has taken a position as salesman with the Singer Sewing Machine company.

J. Sellwood & Co. yesterday received a couple of live Japanese mice, which will be placed in one of the windows of the grocery store. The little things will attract all sorts of attention.

Water broke into the Salisbury mine from an old shaft early this week and caused much inconvenience and some delay. A number of miners escaped being caught by a narrow margin.

Andrew Kemppla, a resident at 534 Jasper street, lost a young child aged one year and six months by death yesterday. Its death was caused by whooping cough. The funeral will be held today.

William Watson, A. W. Pierce and Fred E. Norton, prominent mining men from Johannesburg, S. A., have been in Ishpeming the last few days, during which time they have inspected neighboring mines. They leave shortly for Deadwood, S. D.

The Cliffs Shafis mine employees will be paid off today. The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company settles its other pay rolls next week. As the 20th falls on Sunday this month, the Lake Superior Iron company will not settle with its men until a week from next Monday.

C. I. Smith, who represented J. M. Smith & Sons of Green Bay here last summer, has recently arrived in the city to look after his firm's business during the next few months. Smith & Sons are well known dealers in fruits and vegetables. C. I. Smith is now staying at the Urban house.

"A Spring Chicken" was presented to a fair house at the Ishpeming theatre Thursday evening. Some of the specialties introduced during the action of the piece were good but as a whole it was not up to the standard of a number of farce comedies which might be mentioned among plays that have pleased here.

Manager Butler has booked Murray and Mack in "Pinner's Ball" for a performance next Friday evening. This play was produced here last year with great success, the record for gross receipts of the Ishpeming theatre being broken. The comedy is funnier than ever this year and is duplicating its former successes.

Ishpeming people are already manifesting much interest in the Carpenter company's production of "Quo Vadis" at the Ishpeming opera house next Wednesday evening. The play has been one of the big successes of the season and theatre goers here are fortunate in being able to see a good road company appear in it.

Work at the new golf links of the Ishpeming club is well advanced and it will be possible to use them soon. Considerable money has been spent in preparing the greens and clearing out stumps. The ground is naturally suited to golf, however, and in a few seasons the Ishpeming club expects to possess very superior links.

Representatives of the Michigan Telephone company who were here Thursday superintending the opening of the long distance line left for Iron Mountain yesterday morning, where they formally opened their new central office yesterday. Thursday evening Mildron's hall was crowded during the hours of the exhibition. Besides the curious listed to the Schultz Palm Garden orchestra discoursing sweet music. Many ladies and gentlemen held independent conversations with friends in distant cities.

The death of Miss Tillie Larson, a young lady of sixteen years who has resided with her sister, Miss Annie Larson, on North Sixth street, occurred yesterday morning after a protracted illness. Her sister has a position with Kahn & Skud. Her brother, Gustav Larson, has managed the City drug store here. He now has a position at Marquette. The parents of the deceased young lady died a couple of years ago in Florida. They formerly resided at Marquette. The funeral will be held Sunday, with services at the Swedish Lutheran church here and with interment at Marquette.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung troubles, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at the Stafford Drug company.

KENTON CATCHES.

Wm. Kroll visited Duluth during the week.

D. E. Leroy has leased his liquor business to D. Lemere.

Rev. John Best organized a Sunday school at the school house in district No. 4 Friday night.

Emil Johnson, an employee of the South Shore, moved with his family to Marengo Thursday.

W. G. Van Slyck of Sidsaw was here on professional business before Judge Ormsby Thursday.

Abbreviated skirts, rubber boots and fishing tackle announced the fact Tuesday that trout season had arrived.

The children of the village are to give an entertainment Tuesday evening, the 15th, at the Congregational church.

August Nordine has the new addition to Hotel York enclosed and expects to have it ready for occupancy by June 1, possibly earlier.

The D. S. & A. section crew improved the depot premises here greatly during the week by a general cleaning up and burning of the refuse.

A. B. Kennedy has sold his residence on Conklin street to A. E. Clumpper. Mr. Clumpper and family are now occupying their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will reside at the York.

Commissioner Elliott is giving the village streets a thorough cleaning. Several places out of repair have been repaired. Together Kenton now bears a tidy and attractive appearance.

A miscellaneous order for thirty cars of building material was received from one firm by the Sparrow-Kroll Co. recently. A full loaded train going out from here is almost a daily occurrence.

Euclid Largeness moved Tuesday, with his family, to Calumet, where he will assume the proprietorship of the American hotel. He will also engage in the liquor business at Mass City. A brother will be in charge of his Calumet place.

The officers of the Congregational Sunday school were elected for the ensuing year Sunday as follows: L. A. Baker, superintendent; C. B. Cushman, assistant superintendent; L. J. McInnis, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Best, organist.

Isaac Washburn, knot sawyer for Faught & Pringle, narrowly escaped losing a hand Wednesday morning. The fingers on the left hand were clipped to the bone, but after they had been carefully dressed Mr. Washburn pluckily resumed his place at the saw.

Opera Hall was jammed to the doors Tuesday night with a gathering that turned out to witness the performance by Dave Pickett's troupe of colored celebrities. It is reported that several members of the company became too intoxicated to perform their parts creditably and the evening's entertainment was a disappointment.

Chas. Totten, fireman on the K. & H. line, missed his calling when he began setting logs on the mill pond Monday. Not being an expert swimmer, he was unable to extricate himself from the muddy water into which he had fallen, and but for the dextrous movement of faithful John Whalen, who, with pike pole in hand, fished him out after he had gone down the third time, his might have been an untimely end. It was fully a quarter of an hour before Totten recovered sufficiently to be about.

A Mother's Peril

It Seemed Certain that Her Death Would Follow the Birth of the Child—How Help Came After the Doctors Despaired.

The sacrifice of a woman at the altar of motherhood is not an unusual event, but how unnecessary such sacrifices often are will be seen from the following interview with Mrs. C. R. Simmonds of 140 Mineral Springs Ave., Pawtucket, R. I. Mrs. Simmonds, whose husband is a well known and popular grocer of Pawtucket, says:

Mrs. C. R. Simmonds.

"When my child was born on April 22, 1899, I suffered such an excessive loss of blood that I was utterly prostrated and had no strength whatever. Blood poisoning set in and my life was despaired of by two of the prominent physicians of this city. "Before my marriage I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People with good results in building up and purifying my blood and when the doctors gave me up, I decided to give the pills a trial, although the case was desperate. "My husband bought some of the pills and by the time I had taken three boxes I had gained so much strength that I was able to leave my bed for the first time in two months. I continued taking the pills and in another month could go about as usual. My appetite was good, the color returned to my cheeks and I gained rapidly in weight. "I very gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to anyone afflicted as I was."

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of August, 1899. THOMAS W. ROBINSON, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People expel impurities from the blood, and supply the material for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues. It has performed hundreds of almost miraculous cures in severe cases, many times after doctors had given up hope.

Look for this trade mark on every package.

Sold by all druggists, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.

In and About Negaunee.

FOR FIRE FIGHTING.

DEPARTMENT TO BE SUPPLIED WITH A HOSE WAGON TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE HOSE CART.

The purchasing committee of the common council is corresponding with several manufacturers of vehicles for fire departments with a view of contracting for a new hose wagon to take the place of the hose cart now in use. No figures have yet been obtained, but it is thought that the new vehicle will cost between $200 and $300. It is anticipated that it can be delivered ready for service within a few weeks.

In all progressive departments hose wagons are replacing the old reel hose carts. In the wagons the hose is folded the length of the box, an arrangement which for practical purposes is found more satisfactory. Like the hose cart, the wagon will have tool boxes for axes, bars, spanners, wrenches, etc. If desired, it could be provided with an arrangement for carrying chemical tanks, but that ordered for the Negaunee department will not be so fitted. A hose wagon has one great advantage over a cart in that it can carry a greater number of firemen, an important consideration in a medium sized city which does not boast a fire patrol. A goodly portion of the membership of the department can ride in it and thus reach the blaze as soon as the hose.

CHERRY-STREET TO BE CARED FOR.

STREET COMMITTEE WILL DO SOMETHING TO IMPROVE THAT THOROUGHFARE THIS SEASON.

Alderman R. G. Jackson, of the committee to which the petition of Cherry street residents asking that something be done to improve that thoroughfare was referred, states that their request will receive attention this year. It is likely that the water pipes will be lowered and that the street will be properly finished and graded. The residents on the street who petitioned the council may be called on to do something individually to assure a completion of the desired work.

Several of their number have petitioned for sewer connections, the system not extending along that street at present. It is likely that a canvass of the property holders will be made and if a majority want the sewer it will probably be extended at that expense. This work should be done before the road is graded and put in good trim, and as, in any event, it will be necessary to do considerable digging to lower the water pipes to a depth which will make them safe from frost, it could be done now at a reasonable cost. The committee has also considered the petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Silver street, but has not decided whether to put one down. The value of the proposed improvement is not questioned, but there is a limited amount of money to be expended on the streets this year, and it is desired to use it to the best advantage. It is quite possible that work more pressing than the Silver street improvement will be looked after first.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Oscar Busch of Calumet was a visitor here Thursday.

Clark Kirkpatrick and wife arrived in the city yesterday morning.

Clark Kirkpatrick and F. M. Beney went down to Swaney for a couple of days fishing yesterday morning.

Dr. Sheldon left Thursday evening for Chicago, where he will remain some time.

August Schorlemmer has an eight-pound hen which laid an egg weighing only 1/2 of an ounce. This is the record for diminutive size.

Thursday a Northwestern crew replaced the telegraph pole on Case street which was cracked in two by the first team Monday night.

A number of foreigners came in yesterday morning. They will have much difficulty in finding work here if their friends have not already provided for them.

While absent in Chicago T. H. Harris arranged to represent a well known wholesale grocery house of that city in this section. He will take the road "on" it once.

The "ice man" is now making regular trips. His chief customers are the saloon men, as the weather has not yet been warm enough to create much of a demand for his commodity in the residence districts.

The purchasing committee of the council has ordered 15,000 cedar blocks from John Larson. They will be used in building several crosswalks about the city. Larson cuts them to the proper size in his wood yard.

It is said that the Michigan Telephone company could not obtain a suitable room for a long distance demonstration here. Negaunee people regret that the city has been passed by. Many would be pleased to test the new service.

The Sewell Stock company will play a three nights engagement at the opera house, beginning Thursday evening of next week. It is a popular attraction, the admission prices being 10, 20 and 30 cents. It comes well recommended.

The addition of a Prescott, throwing about 800 gallons of water a minute, to the pumps at the sand shaft at the Negaunee mine allowed a resumption of the work of sinking Thursday. It will be continued steadily until the ore body is reached.

The purchasing committee of the council has awarded C. Honle the contract for supplying the city coal for the next twelve months. His bid was $4.30 a ton. The committee saved a nice sum by rejecting the first bids and calling for new ones.

Henry Thiele has his new house at the corner of Clark street and Brown avenue well under way. John Erickson has just started work on his new building on Case street. His original intention to erect a dwelling has been modified. He will build a business block, with a suite of rooms on the second floor for living purposes. It is understood that he will occupy the store on the lower floor himself.

C. O. Hansen, formerly employed at the Negaunee mine, has left for Minneapolis, accompanied by his wife and his family. He has sold his Lincoln street residence property to Mrs. C. Larson and will make Minnesota his home. He does not anticipate remaining in Negaunee long but will soon probably engage in farming.

It is stated that many former employees of the Negaunee mine who failed to find other ranges.

Shoes, clothing, neckwear, carpets, rugs, beds, etc., at less than cost at Branstad's.

"I had stomach trouble and gave up hope of being cured until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has done me so much good that I call it my savior of my life." W. J. Bay, Kinison, Albany, Tenn.

MRS. SALLIE E. SELLARS, Littleton, Colo.

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the ailments of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffer and of other women that thousands of other women recommend it. They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

ENGINEERING IN CHINA.

As a field for the future, of course, China stands pre-eminent on account of its size, its population and its well known but undeveloped mineral wealth. It is easily seen that the Chinaman was once an engineer of no mean ability, and the question now is whether he can become an engineer in the future, especially in transportation methods.

Reasoning by analogy is our only means of answering. The Japanese, in his essentials, does not differ radically from other Orientals. He is poor, accustomed to do his work by the most laborious of manual methods, even to transporting his produce to market on his back. Starting from a point much inferior in the way of commercial development to the Chinese, he has, however, the greater part by his own individual, unassisted efforts, a railway system that can take rank with the railways of any other country, and has demonstrated his ability to operate them successfully. What he has done other Orientals can do and will do.—Engineering Magazine.

Good Business in Tax Titles at Recent Sale—Amount Received is in Excess of Returns from Any Previous Sale in This County.

COURT HOUSE BUDGET OF NEWS.

Notice was received at the county clerk's office yesterday of the thirtieth semi-annual apportionment of the primary school interest fund. The disbursement is fifty cents per capita for each child of school age, the same as last time, and the amount which Marquette county schools will receive is $4,202. Allowances are made for 12,404 children, but the last school census shows slightly more. Tilden township being cut down in the apportionment from 139 children to 121.

The amount allotted to each city and township and the number of children on which the allotment is made is as here given:

Table with 3 columns: Place, Children, Amount. Lists various townships and their respective child counts and funding amounts.

The tax sale of lands delinquent on the taxes of ninety-seven, which was brought to a close the latter end of last week, has just been figured up by County Treasurer Kansas and is found to have been much more of a revenue producer than the sale the year before, and it is probable, although the records of the office have not been consulted, that it was the largest sale ever held in this county.

Mr. Kansas' computations show that the amount realized from the sale was $14,202, against a little over $8,000 a year ago. Such a sale indicates the increasing value of property in this county, particularly as there was very little speculative buying. Most of the purchases were for the purpose of clearing up titles on property which had heretofore been considered of small value, but which is now deemed well worth looking after.

Things will be lively at the court house the rest of this month, for beginning Monday Judge Stone will go on the bench and the May term of circuit court will be in session. The calendars which have just been issued show enough business to keep the court engaged for several weeks.

The criminal docket shows seven cases the most important of which is that of the Larson boys, who are charged with the murder of Joseph Lique, which crime was committed in Negaunee a few months ago. Albert Zelen, who is thought to have been the ringleader in the recent attempt at jail delivery here, will go to trial for larceny, and George Wilson, who was also in the plot, will answer to the charge of burglary. The case of the Embles against Avery L. Thompson, for embezzlement, is scheduled again, but may go over the term as it has done a number of times before.

The most important of the civil cases which will be tried by jury is that of Frank Dollar against the City of Marquette. Mr. Dollar wants $10,000 for alleged sidewalk injuries and apparently does not intend to allow the fact that he was recently appointed poundmaster influence him to pull the suit off.

WANT TO SPLIT IT.

Renewed Efforts to Cut Up the District of Superior.

The old fight over the subdivision of the district of Superior seems about to be renewed. It has been tried for many years without success, but those who advocate it keep bobbing up with perennial determination.

The latest champion of the movement is T. B. Mills of West Superior, a man in whom the act seems particularly graceful, inasmuch as he is an appointee of Collector John Quincy Adams, whose territory he would thus reduce.

A telegram from West Superior to the St. Paul Dispatch says that Mr. Mills, who is the deputy collector at that port, is now in Washington in the interest of a bill which has just been introduced by Senator Spooner, the effect of which is to make Superior and Ashland ports of entry. The bill provides that the ports of Northern Wisconsin, on Lake Superior, be taken from the district of Superior and placed in the district of Milwaukee, and the same bill provides that these two cities be ports of entry.

The telegram further recites the fact that while Marquette is the port of entry, Superior does more business than all the rest of the district combined, and complains that Duluth being a port of entry in another district, has an advantage thereby over West Superior, while the port collector's figures show that the latter city has the heaviest lake business.

When Senator Spooner's bill gets up in congress it will certainly meet with strong opposition from all the Michigan congressmen, and undoubtedly with the same fate similar bills have met before.

"A CONTENTED WOMAN."

Second of Hoyt's Farces Plays Here to Big Business.

The success scored here by Hoyt's "Black Sheep" some months ago was repeated last evening by the "Contented Woman" with Belle Archer in the title role.

The piece is more refined than some of the Hoyt productions but it bears the earmarks which attach to everything Hoyt writes, plenty of frolicsome hilarity and with it all some good, homely truths which will bear taking home and pondering upon at one's leisure.

"A Contented Woman" deals with politics, and it is in plays woven around this subject that Hoyt points his best morals. Some of the things about politics in the lines of "A Contented Woman" and "A Texas Steer" are as true as the gospel.

The company which presented the piece here last night is strong and well balanced. Belle Archer, in the title role, lacks some of the delicate beauty of Caroline Miskel Hoyt, for whom the piece was written, but she is a great improvement as an actress over the original and makes, withal, a very captivating candidate for mayoral honors.

Arthur F. Buchanan, as Benton Holmes, had the leading male role and rose equal to the demands upon him, but the best characterization among the male members of the cast was that of Charles P. Morrison as Cutting Hintz. Miss Henrietta Lee, as the notorious Mrs. Ebo-smith, was cleverly bright and vivacious in the part.

During the progress of the play, but particularly in the third act, a number of good specialties, mostly vocal, were introduced. Miss Bonnie Lottie made a hit with her dances. The piece was well staged and costumed throughout and well deserving of the packed house which witnessed it.

Manager Rice has booked Miss Archer for the coming week.

WANT HER RETAINED.

Friends of Miss Chandler Are Circulating Remonstrances.

Remonstrances against the action of the school board in voting to retire Miss Chandler and hire a man in her place will come before that august body when it meets in session again. Friends of the deposed superintendent were busy yesterday circulating such papers and are hopeful that by making a strong showing they will be able to get the board to reconsider its former action. A large number of signatures have already been secured.

SHORT LIVED RALLY.

Copper Stocks Much Weaker Again Yesterday—Grains Take a Drop.

It looks very much as if the rally which was predicted in copper stocks was over and as if the old sagging back process had begun again. Yesterday the market was decidedly weaker and nearly all the stocks which were active took drops.

Arcadian fell off 1/4 to 1/8; Boston & Montana dropped two to 2/8; Butte & Boston fell two points to 64; Calumet & Hecla furnished the sole exception and advanced two to 75; Isle Royale fell 1/2 to 1/4; Oseola dropped off another and closed at 65; Tamarack fell two to 178.

W. A. Paine said in yesterday's letter to the local branch of Paine, Webber & Co.:

"London copper opened firm this morning, spot being up 1/8, and futures 1/4. 61; closed quiet at unchanged quotations. Copper stocks have been extremely dull this morning, prices not showing much change. Up to noon but 1,691 shares changed hands, the most active being Baltic and Parrot. The News Bureau had rather a bearish article on copper this morning. I am unable to find that any amount of the metal can be purchased at this time for less than 17 cents per pound. May and June and into July is always a dull time in the copper metal market. My advices however are that the mines are pretty nearly sold up to July and have no particular interest at present in the market. During the afternoon coppers continued very dull."

The grains took the worse slump yesterday, having been seen for months. A. R. Jones & Co. tell the story thus in their letter to Fred Jones:

"Grain markets were weak yesterday, but not a marker to what they were today. The government report last night, while showing the expected improvement in condition, more than offset this feature by a good decrease in acreage. Trade started slow with weak cables, but apparently all bearish features were discounted. But when corn broke wheat holders and short sellers turned loose and prices suffered the worst decline for many weeks. July sliding off from 64 1/2 to 65 1/2, and closing at 65 1/2, a net loss of 1/4 cent from last night. While some features of the news were bearish, the fine weather particularly so, the decline was due rather to an over-bought market with not enough new buying to absorb a quarter of the offerings. The statistical situation is as strong as before, though speculative position of wheat is not encouraging. Today's break loosened up much of the buying power and it looks reasonable to believe that these figures will bring in heavy buying. Minneapolis advices report that rain and cold weather last week killed off great part of the bugs."
