CLIMBERS.

The meek looking undertaker smiles with ghoulish gladness...

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Just gaze on that noble mansion...

—Plunkett wants you to give him "a rael guide puff." If Mr. Plunkett, wants to be puffed up...

—Thank the Lord and the United States congress it will be a hundred years till the next Centennial...

—We are asked by an exchange to believe the following story: "A cunning Kentucky hog chews off grape vines growing from a tree..."

—We have received the "Monthly Report of the Department of Agriculture for August and September, 1876."

—The queen's English, as taught in this country, was illustrated on Washington street last Sunday evening...

It is true the poor Indian is uncultivated and does not know much about politics...

—A friend sends us the following exquisite lines, which we gladly give a place in our columns...

There's the true poetic alliterus for you; a rhyme with some solid sense to it...

"I've tramped from Dan to Beersheba, Chicago to New York; My heart's as light's my wallet...

—A few weeks ago one of "the boys" left ostensibly for the Centennial, and as time rolled around, it began to be whispered about that he had "aid."

—Having a bye to spare, and being invited by Mr. P. Plunkett several times, we resolved to visit that gentleman's mammoth clothes cleaning and merchant tailoring and repair establishment...

notable feature about this apartment is that all the machinery is run by steam, and made such a buzz that we had to put our fingers in our ears...

Mrs. A. Mathews left this city last Thursday for Ripon, Wis., where she will spend the winter.

Mr. C. G. Collins returned to this city last Thursday from Silver City, Ontonagon county.

Shaw & Green's grocery and crockery establishment on Washington street is doing good business.

Hon. Joseph H. Kilbourn, democratic candidate for congressman from the 9th district, who has been "stamping" the Upper Peninsula, left for southern Michigan last Thursday.

Mr. B. F. Childs, the photographer, has recently finished an excellent portrait in India ink.

A call for a democratic county convention, to select delegates to the senatorial convention, will be held in another column.

The Bismark, (D. T.) Tribune, of the 21st of September, says: "Geo. Bending & Co., of Marquette, Mich., have rented the old postoffice building for a wholesale liquor establishment."

The sojourner at Calumet or Red Jacket will find the Provincial House, in that village, one of the best county hotels in the state.

Big Turnips.—Dr. Humphrey left in our office one day this week two monstrous Swede turnips or ruta-bagas, weighing respectively 9 3/4 and 12 pounds.

The second social hop under the auspices of the Chasseurs came off on Thursday evening last, at their armory, and was attended by a goodly number of the lovers of the art terpsichorean.

A Card.—The subscriber would express his gratitude and appreciation to those of his friends who so nobly and generously labored to save his property from the fire on Lake street last Wednesday morning.

At the republican caucus held last evening to elect delegates to the senatorial convention to be held at the Barnum house, Ishpeming, next Monday, at one o'clock p. m., the following gentlemen were chosen:

First ward, C. Y. Osborne, Geo. M. Sackrider; Second Ward, Sam. Hopkins, Geo. Freeman, Dr. Desjardins; Third ward, H. A. Downs, J. Dwight Palmer; Fourth ward, Walter Finney, E. S. Hardy, W. A. Jellison, Henry Noble.

To the credit of our fire department be it said that at the recent conflagration on Michigan street, on Monday evening, the fire was subdued with a promptness and energy which proves that our system is not a failure.

First ward, C. Y. Osborne, Geo. M. Sackrider; Second Ward, Sam. Hopkins, Geo. Freeman, Dr. Desjardins; Third ward, H. A. Downs, J. Dwight Palmer; Fourth ward, Walter Finney, E. S. Hardy, W. A. Jellison, Henry Noble.

where not a bird sung and all the little trees stood up so straight and still with rustling leaves, like children whispering when some one is dead.

PERSONAL.—Rev. D. Stuart Banks left Thursday morning to attend a meeting of the Presbyterian synod at Waukesha, Wis., and will be absent about one week.

T. MEADS, M. H. Maynard and D. H. Merritt are down among the Badgers, near Fort Atkinson, slaughtering ducks.

CHARLES E. WRIGHT, C. E., assistant geologist for the state of Wisconsin, returned to this city from his exploration of the Penoka iron range, in Wisconsin, on last Monday evening.

JUST at this time it may be well to call the attention of sporting Michiganers to the fact that there is a law upon our Michigan statute books which says any person who shall directly or indirectly bet, wager or hazard any money or other property upon the result of the election of any officer of this State or of the United States, shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a fine at least equal in amount to the amount of the money or the value of property so bet, wagered or hazarded...

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—A republican county convention is hereby called to meet at the Barnum house, Ishpeming, on Monday, October 16th inst., at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting ten delegates to the senatorial convention, 31st District. The several townships and cities will be entitled to representation as follows:

Table listing delegates from Michigan and various townships and cities with their respective counts.

POLITICAL.—Colonel C. H. Dennison addressed a republican meeting at republican headquarters, Opera house building, in this city, on last Wednesday evening.

At a meeting of the board of supervisors held in the city of Marquette, on the 28th of September, it was resolved, that the committee on the poor be and it is hereby instructed to confer with the superintendents of the poor and report to this board at its next meeting their conclusions as to the best method of supplying medical attendence to the poor, and respectfully recommend that the best method in that each township and city meeting the medical wants of their own poor.

On motion of supervisor Wassner, the meeting then adjourned.

On Tuesday morning, at 9:30, the board met, and the roll being called, a quorum was present.

On motion of Mr. Maynard, it was voted that the special order fix d for ten o'clock be postponed until 2 P. M.

The special committee appointed to examine the annual report of the superintendents of poor, reported in writing as follows:

Your special committee, to whom was referred the annual report of expenditures for the last year in district No. 1, beg leave to report that they met in the court house on October the 9th, and looked over all his receipts and vouchers with his report, and could not find anything wrong in said report, and your committee did not go any further into the investigation.

Resolved, That the report be accepted and placed on file.

Resolved, That the sheriff receive no salary, but that he be hereafter paid the fees allowed by law.

tween $300 and $300 worth of hay. John Parker had several hundred dollars worth of fishing nets burned, and John B. Johnson lost two small boats. As there had been no fire about the premises this fall, the suspicion generally prevails that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—At the annual meeting of the board of supervisors of Marquette county held at the court house, in the city of Marquette, in said county, on Monday, the 9th day of October, A. D. 1876, the chairman being absent, the meeting was called to order by the clerk, and, on motion, M. H. Maynard was chosen chairman pro tem. Roll called—quorum present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

S. S. Ellsworth presented his credentials and took his seat as supervisor pro tem. from the township of Tilden, in place of George C. Houston.

The monthly reports of the superintendents of county poor of the first and third districts, and also the annual report of the board of superintendents of county poor were presented and referred to the committee on poor.

Sundry claims and accounts were presented and referred to the appropriate committees. The board then took a recess until 1:30 p. m.

At 1:30 p. m. the board was called to order by A. P. Swineford, chairman. Roll called—quorum present.

H. H. Milton presented his credentials and took his seat as supervisor pro tem. from the first ward, city of Ishpeming, in place of W. C. Uren.

The various committees to whom were referred sundry claims and accounts, having recommended payment of the following, they were each separately allowed and ordered paid, as follows:

Table listing various expenses and payments such as Marquette Gas Co. gas for jail and court, D. S. Desjardins witness fees, John Crowley stationery, H. S. Taft, M. P. Swineford, sundries, F. M. Moore, county clerk, presented a statement of the expenses of the county as allowed and ordered paid by the board on the 1st day of January last to September 30th last.

The special committee, composed of the committee on poor and the superintendents of poor, to whom was referred at the last meeting the matter of furnishing medical attendence to the poor of the county, made report in writing, as follows:

At a meeting of the board of supervisors held in the city of Marquette, on the 28th of September, it was resolved, that the committee on the poor be and it is hereby instructed to confer with the superintendents of the poor and report to this board at its next meeting their conclusions as to the best method of supplying medical attendence to the poor, and respectfully recommend that the best method in that each township and city meeting the medical wants of their own poor.

On motion of supervisor Wassner, the meeting then adjourned.

Edwin Sterne, Secretary. Report accepted and ordered filed.

On motion of Mr. Cook, the annual report of the superintendents of the poor was referred to a select committee of five. The chair appointed as such committee supervisors Cook, Maynard, Hussey, Muloney and Blomgren.

The purchasing committee made a report, which was accepted and ordered filed.

Mr. Maynard offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the fixing of the salaries of county officers for the term commencing January 1st, 1877, be made the special order for to-morrow morning, ten o'clock.

On Tuesday morning, at 9:30, the board met, and the roll being called, a quorum was present.

On motion of Mr. Maynard, it was voted that the special order fix d for ten o'clock be postponed until 2 P. M. and order paid the bills of the Marquette Gas Co. at any meeting of the same.

Resolved, That the county poor does not give general satisfaction, and

Resolved, That each city and township throughout the county take care of the poor in their respective districts.

Mr. Murray offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the board of supervisors of Marquette county, in the event of no money being in the county treasurer's office all county orders drawn on said treasurer do draw interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, from the presentation thereof to said treasurer until the 15th day of December following.

On motion, the board took a recess until 1:30 p. m. The board met at 1:30 p. m. The roll was called, and a quorum was present.

Mr. Pascoe was excused from further attendance at this meeting.

The committee on finance and taxation made the following report in writing, which was read and laid on the table, except that portion relating to rejected taxes—Which was adopted:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Marquette County.—GENERAL: Your committee on finance and taxation would respectfully recommend that the following sums be raised on the taxable property of the county for state and county purposes, for the year 1876:

Table listing various financial items and taxes such as State tax, Poor fund, Highways and bridges, Repairs on public buildings, Current expenses and charges, Your committee would further report that they find the sum of $5,651.81 charged back by the Auditor General to the county as rejected taxes, and would recommend that the same be charged back to the several townships and cities as per schedule hereunto annexed.

On motion of Mr. Maynard, the vote by which the resolution offered by Mr. Tracy providing that each city and township take care of its own poor, was reconsidered.

On motion of Mr. Maynard, said resolution was amended by adding thereto the words, "Provided this resolution does not take effect until the first day of December next."

Mr. Maynard moved the adoption of the resolution, which was lost; two-thirds of all the members elect not voting therefor.

On motion of Mr. Blomgren, voted that the chair appoint a special committee of five to examine into and report at the next meeting as to the best method of providing for and taking care of the county poor, taking all matters connected therewith.

The chair appointed Messrs. Blomgren, Maynard, McDonald, Milton and Hussey.

Mr. Morley offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the several supervisors be, and are hereby authorized to reassess so much of all the taxes rejected and charged back, as can be entered upon the assessment rolls of the several townships and wards against the same descriptions of land upon which said rejected taxes were originally assessed.

Mr. Kirkpatrick introduced a resolution relating to the reassessment of certain taxes upon a certain list of lands heretofore illegally assessed and rejected—Which was adopted.

Mr. Maynard offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the county treasurer shall receive a salary of—dollars per year quarterly, and an allowance of fifty dollars, payable quarterly, for his necessary stationery and postage. He shall also be repaid all disbursements for necessary express charges for which vouchers are furnished. He shall receive no other compensation or allowance whatever.

And moved to fill the blank with the words "one thousand." Mr. Muloney moved to amend by inserting the words "twelve hundred," which amendment was carried. The resolution was, on motion of Mr. Maynard, adopted sensu voce.

Mr. Maynard offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the sheriff receive no salary, but that he be hereafter paid the fees allowed by law.

AN OLD STORY. I never meant to wrong you--this is true. Although you were a book of unbelief; No wonder, either, knowing all you do. But you may trust me, for my time is brief. These are the last words I shall speak with you. And then the evil tale of shame and grief. Come to the ending. It will all be done before the shining of another sun.

and Kransler's hand sixty guilders. "Thanks to heaven," he said, "there is something I have saved." She was going to push it aside, when he gazed at her in such a way that she saw he was wounded to the heart. "When you had money you gave it to me," he said, "and now that you have none, I give it to you."

MADAME KRANSLER. A SKETCH OF A SOLDIER'S WIDOW. Near the corner of a small street that intersected the Jager Strasse, and within a dozen yards of the spot where the porters used to congregate, there stood, in the days of Frederick the Great, a quaint old building, the upper portion of which was inhabited by the renter's rooms, while the ground floor was a china shop.

THE SNOW FLOOD. AN ADVENTURE ON THE CHINESE FRONTIER. "They're up, I tell you, and out in force, and there will be blazing roofs, and blood spilled all along the Chinese frontier, from Kara Sou to Doet-vernik. We are safe enough, of course, in Kiachta, behind our strong stockades and brass cannon. But there is scarcely a post to the eastward that can be called secure, now the Mongols are over the border."

A. KIDDER and J. C. Morse, of Marquette, were here on Wednesday, making arrangements for the coming election.

"HAVE you heard how Indiana has gone?" is the salutation that greets your ears about a thousand times a day, just now.

BETTING on the result of the recent elections has been quite lively among our curbstone sports during the past few days.

FOR reliable political news we refer our readers to the Negaunee Herald, which is edited by that prince of elongated veracity, Griffey.

FRANK HALE, formerly of Negaunee, has opened out a liquor store in Heilman's building, in the rooms formerly occupied by H. Jacobson.

MESSRS. Archer and St. Clair gave a fifth-rate parlor concert entertainment at Austin's hall on Monday evening to a sixth-rate (in point of numbers) audience.

THE crop of candidates for office in this county is unusually large this season—about one to every ten voters. The nominating conventions will find it difficult to please all.

MESSRS. John P. Outhwaite and H. Morley arrived home from the Wisconsin state fair, which was held in Oshkosh, on Sunday. They report the exhibition as being immense.

J. MULLANEY, who has recently opened out a store in Robbins' building, is seemingly doing a land office business. He has as his assistant James Clark, who is well qualified in every respect for the position.

SEVERAL of the most prominent members of the Hayes and Wheeler club were out for drill in their new uniforms on Wednesday evening, under the command of Dr. Fiske. They made a very creditable appearance.

JACOB FREL, of Marquette, has opened out an elegant boot and shoe store in Mark Matthews' building, on Main street. It is to be under the supervision of his son Fred. Frel, who is in every way well qualified to fill the position.

WE were highly amused a few evenings ago by one of our young business men, who, having ransacked the whole of his room for a pin, and not being able to find one, dropped into a chair in disgust when he was immediately rewarded for his search.

THE democrats are evidently highly pleased over the result of the Indiana election; while the republicans, on the other hand, are equally as well pleased with the result in Ohio. Glad to see you feeling so good, gentlemen; hope you will ever continue so.

WE would advise our friends to keep an eye on their windows, doors and clothes lines. A number of suspicious looking characters have arrived in town, and if our citizens do not keep well on their guard, they may be called upon to regret the loss of valuables.

FRANK LESLIE'S Popular Monthly for October is on our table, and is, as usual, an excellent number. It contains several interesting articles, and a goodly number of fine illustrations. It should have a place on the reading table of every intelligent family.

MISS HOLLISTER, who, while here, made considerable local fame as a reader and elocutionist, gave a reading on Monday evening to the citizens of Hancock. This young lady is a true American girl, and her marked talent is a source of gratification to her numerous friends.

DR. WENSTER, while on his way home a few evenings since, was violently assaulted by a person whom he calls Bradley. The doctor, instead of making complaint before the police justice, has laid his case before his friends, whom he claims will regulate things. Lively times ahead.

J. E. VAN DYKE, who sways the destinies of Outhwaite's livery stable, arrived home on Sunday from Depere, Wis., accompanied by one of the fair daughters of Eve, whom he has taken unto him as a helpmate for life. We wish them an unalloyed happy future.

DIED.—At Cascade, on the 10th inst., of congestion of the lungs, Ole Waiseth, aged 53 years and 4 months. Mr. Waiseth was the father of Ole Waiseth, Jr., of this city. His remains were brought to Ishpeming for interment on Wednesday, and the funeral procession was unusually large and imposing.

Now that you are in need of some nice flowers to adorn your windows during the coming winter, you ought to step into Wood's drug store and order some of those hyacinth, crocus, and tulip bulbs. They are, when carefully cultivated, among the most beautiful and fragrant of flowers.

A WELL-KNOWN business gentleman in this place grew weary of his wife's absence on a visit to her parents in the southern part of this state, and hurried her to return by having a photograph of the house which he had rented taken, with himself and a neighbor's wife standing on the porch. This he sent to his better half, and she returned by first train.

A HUNDRED years ago, when you called on a girl she kissed you good-bye. Now, if you suggest anything of the sort, her father calls you into the library and asks you what you are worth. This, at least, was the experience of one of our Ishpeming bloods on Sunday evening last.

M. CASSION, who for a long time has been in the employ of H. S. Eison & Co., of this place, severed his connection with these gentlemen and left for Topeka, Kan., on Sunday last, where he expects to go into business in company with John Henrietta, who, it will be remembered, left here about two weeks ago for that place. We wish him unbounded success in his chosen field.

MESSRS. Curtis, Mansfield & Prime's tailoring department opens for the fall trade with a fine stock of fashionable goods, and their fashion plates

April 28th, 1876,

CURTIS, MANSFIELD & PRIME

WILL OPEN A

Millinery and Dressmaking Department,

Upon which interesting occasion the ladies of Ishpeming and vicinity are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Brown, who has had much experience in Millinery and Dressmaking, will have charge of this department, and we bespeak for her and ourselves that success that we KNOW she will prove worthy of. PLEASE give this department of our business a careful examination before making your spring purchases.

Our Merchant Tailoring Department,

In charge of Mr. Voight, who has been in the business for over 30 years, is already a success, and we ask our friends to stand by us in our efforts to build up this branch of our business, so that they may be able to do as well, at least, at home as through non-resident and non-tax-paying traveling tailors. Support home institutions if you can do as well. PRICE, QUALITY AND WORK GUARANTEED.

In Dry Goods, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Hats,

AND CAPS, &c., our stock is full and very attractive, and all will be sold at popular prices. We take pride in showing our Stock of Boots and Shoes.

It is unusually attractive and choice. We call special attention to our custom made goods, both for ladies and gentlemen. In ladies' wear you will find everything from the cheapest GRAIN to the best GOAT and finest French kid boot. NO one will be allowed to undersell us. Our motto is THE MOST OF THE BEST GOODS FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

The new firm of CURTIS, MANSFIELD & PRIME cordially invite the citizens of Ishpeming and Marquette county to give them a call, assuring them that they shall be well treated and furnished with everything in their line at the lowest prices. To our prompt paying customers a reasonable credit will be granted when desired. We shall be glad to see our old friends and hope to make many new ones.

the latest issued, present some very attractive styles. In a word, these gentlemen seem to have the faculty of correctly anticipating the wants of the male community, and hence they may reasonably expect to have a full share of the trade of both the city and county. Give them a call.

To those of our citizens who contemplate a trip to the Centennial, we would say do not be in too great a hurry, as the small-pox has made its appearance in Philadelphia. A contemporary says that notwithstanding the efforts of the Philadelphia-ns to keep it a secret, it has at last reached the papers to the detriment of the Exposition. Many cases of the loathsome disease contracted there have been reported in different parts of the country.

THE zinc corinthian monuments, for whose sale in this county Mr. H. Kretschmar has the general agency, does not seem to be affected by the dull times. The demand for them rather increases, inasmuch as they are greatly superior to marble, both as to beauty and durability. While they are the best article of the kind yet invented, the price of them is so low as to place them within the reach of all. Those of our citizens who intend to erect monuments in memory of departed ones should call and examine them at his store, corner First street and Cleveland avenue.

STATE TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.—At the close of the literary and musical entertainment given in Ishpeming on Friday evening, October 6th, by the teachers in attendance at the Institute, the following resolutions were adopted:

First.—That we highly appreciate the scholarly and efficient aid that Prof. Bigely has rendered the Institute in conducting the Institute. We welcome him to our midst as an enthusiastic and experienced educator, and congratulate the people of Ishpeming upon the acquisition of so valuable a leader in the school work, and one so eminently successful in the field of letters.

Second.—That we highly appreciate the scholarly and efficient aid that Prof. Bigely has rendered the Institute in conducting the Institute. We welcome him to our midst as an enthusiastic and experienced educator, and congratulate the people of Ishpeming upon the acquisition of so valuable a leader in the school work, and one so eminently successful in the field of letters.

Third.—We are under obligations to the ladies and gentlemen who have favored us with essays and other literary exercises, and to those who have contributed to our enjoyment by furnishing music during our day and evening sessions.

Fourth.—Special thanks are due to the mayor and citizens of Ishpeming for the cordial welcome and generous hospitality extended to us; to the board of education of this city for the use of their comfortable and elegant school building for our day sessions; to the trustees of the Presbyterian church for the use of their building, and to the citizens generally for the interest manifested in all the exercises of the week.

Fifth.—As teachers, we believe that this Institute has been of marked benefit to us, and that we carry away from it valuable suggestions and practical aids for future work.

With repeated thanks to all who have helped to make this week a full of interest and instruction, we bid them and each other farewell, believing that the recollections of these pleasant associations will brighten our winter's work, and trusting that the friendships here formed may be renewed and strengthened in coming years.

of gloom pervaded the assembly when it was discovered that their chief was absent. Brother S., P. W. G. M. (Past Worthy Grand Mogul), called the meeting to order and said, "Brothers, it pains me to announce the sudden and perhaps fatal illness of our beloved chief B.—n. In his zeal to make himself worthy of his high position of chief of the Lying Club, he exhausted his already limited supply of phosphoric caloric of the brain by composing for the MINING JOURNAL, a highly ingenious dog-gored entitled 'George's (not Lucifer's) Fall.' Happily for our order he did not bend his entire energies to the task, but drew liberally on Marquette talent for the poetry and on his fancy for the rest, otherwise the Lying Club would have lost one of its most brilliant members. His physician thinks by confining him strictly to fish diet, and keeping a herring poultice to his ear, or as much of that member as can be conveniently covered, that they can inject, so to speak, enough brain power as to yet save him.

The meeting is now open for any business which may properly come before it. Gentlemen, what is your pleasure?" Bro. Phil. took the floor. "Chief and fellow truth stretchers, I have been thinking during my lay overs at Pensaukee the past summer that our order, rich in associations, with a history dating back to the ante-diluvian age, still lacks an insignia or appropriate badge which would aptly illustrate the object or aim of the craft. I would therefore suggest for your prayerful consideration as such badge, the musical instrument of the mythical god Apollo—the ancient lyre. (Tremendous applause and cries of "good! good! give us the ancient lyre!") A brother who, under the soporific influence of the orator's eloquence, had been in a drowse, raised on his elbow and muttered: "That's right—give us the ancient lyre, where's the lyre? Let's 'nitate 'n now! less have nole hand in the biz! (hic). Bully fur the laneshunt niar!" He was promptly put out with a Babcock fire extinguisher. Order had scarcely been restored when the outside guard gave the alarm and reported a pair of boots coming round the corner. The chief immediately detailed a squad to reconnoiter. They returned in the course of half an hour and reported. We started at the toe and followed the general course of the boot our objective point being the heel, thinking that might be the only valuable point of the enemy, and that the owner would probably be at that end. Our surmises proved correct; it was a reporter for the Iron Home starting out for an item. He wished to join the order; his natural qualifications are good, but owing to our limited room we would report adversely, unless he can be persuaded to rent us one of those boots for an ante-room. The feeling throughout the iron district is very encouraging, and everyone seems to consider that the worst is over and that an era of better times is before us. Explorations are being resumed, and partially abandoned mines are being started up again.

The turbine wheels, to be run by the water from the new canal at the Republic mine—mention of which has been made in these columns—have arrived and will be placed in position soon. This experiment is a novel one in this district, but undoubtedly it will prove a success.

The Lake Superior Iron company of Ishpeming is attempting to file a claim of $100,000 against the estate of the late E. B. Ward, of Detroit, and with that end in view has petitioned the probate court of Wayne county to re-open the case so as to allow said filing. What the claim is based upon we did not learn.

The bark Constitution, bound for Hancock with a cargo of coal, went ashore on Friday last week at Whitelash Point. There was a heavy gale blowing at the time, and the men found it impossible to avoid the catastrophe. The Constitution is owned in Buffalo by Peter Wex, and is insured for $10,000. She is of about 700 tons burthen.

Mr. D. E. PATTERSON informs us that the siding to the Cambria and Bessemer mines is now completed, and trains are being run daily over it. He describes the work as being well done, and as giving the best of satisfaction to all parties concerned. The branch will probably be extended at no distant day to the newly discovered hematite mine on the Cleveland company's property, worked by Messrs. Curry & Nelson on a lease, and to Patterson & Schadt's new opening near the Cambria.

ONE of the most successful institutions in the district is the Lake Shore Nitro-glycerine company, whose works are located near Ne-gaunee. In the face of great prejudice, they have established the fact that this explosive is, when properly handled, as safe as powder, and that in very many cases it is far more potent and much cheaper. They now sell the article to nearly every mine in the district. Mr. C. M. Wheeler, the resident partner and manager, thoroughly understands the business. The company have recently received their stock of oils and acids for winter use.

The Marquette Brownstone company, as will be seen by the following report furnished us by the manager—Mr. S. Brownell—shows that they have not been idle this season, having shipped in all over 30,000 cubic feet of their fine building stone. The following is the exhibit:

Table showing stone shipments: To Chicago 1,610, To Detroit 98, To Milwaukee 79, To Erie, Pa. 48, To Houghton, Mich. 68, To Prince Arthur's Landing, Ont. 18, To Oaksho, Wis. 30, To Appleton, Wis. 10, To Ishpeming, Mich. 40, To Dayton, O. 150, To Port Huron, Mich. 11, To Sarnia, Ont. 10.

In a memorial of 'The International Association for obtaining a uniform decimal system of Measures, Weights and Coins,' presented to Hon. Benjamin Disraeli, Chancellor of Her Majesty's Exchequer, in March, 1859, it is estimated that the adoption of the Metric System would save in the management of the London & Northwestern R. R. £10,000 ($50,000) a year; and in the various departments of Her Majesty's Government not less than $500,000 ($2,500,000) every year.

The rural citizens still through Centennialward, and cheap railroad fares and the additional excitement of "State days" continue to keep the average attendance at the Exposition up to 100,000. The railroad companies are making immense profits, and it experience teach the railroad kings that their past policy of high rates does not bring in as much hard cash to their coffers as cheap fares which stimulate travel, the public can thank the Centennial for it.

On the other hand it was represented by friends of the company that if the creditors took any hasty action it could not fail to injure their own interests, as well as inflict great misery on hundreds of families dependent on the company for the means of livelihood.

Mr. Wheaton, representing two very heavy creditors for coal and coke supplied, expressed full confidence in his ability to raise such a company, and McClure pledged himself to assist in the scheme, should it be deemed best to carry it into effect.

WHEREAS, The Milwaukee Iron company has suspended payment, and its officers represent that it is unable to pay its debts, and are desirous of having the company put into bankruptcy, and

WHEREAS, It is expedient that an organization can be formed that will take the property of said corporation and pay its debts in full, and

WHEREAS, The expenses of bankruptcy can be saved by a voluntary conveyance and transfer by said corporation of its property to such organization;

Resolved, That the officers of said corporation be and they hereby are requested to call a meeting of the stockholders for the purpose of considering and acting upon a proposition to transfer its property to such trustees or trustees or to such person or organization as the creditors may direct.

Resolved, That each creditor make an effort to have all the creditors represented at such adjourned meeting in person or by attorney.

On motion, the following was afterwards adopted:

Resolved, That M. H. Haas, E. W. McClure, D. W. Blanchard, W. L. Wetmore and F. Lambie be and are hereby constituted a committee, and are authorized to institute proceedings in bankruptcy against the corporation whenever in their judgment it may be deemed necessary.

It was explained, in reference to the last resolution, that friends of the company will probably attempt to take legal steps of some kind to get possession of the company's property, and it might be necessary to give power to a committee to anticipate such a flank movement.

The committee appointed to wait on the directors of the company did so, and on their return reported to the creditors that they had not been more successful than the meeting itself to obtain a proposition from the directors, but on the contrary were informed that the creditors had no right to assume the company to be in the position they stated, and the board had no proposals to make.

It appeared, also, from what followed in a conversational form, that the committee put some questions that were considered of an "impertinent" character to some of the board, among others, to Hon. Alexander Mitchell, who promptly left the room, giving as a reason that he had to attend a wedding. [The reporter's little bird here whispers that the formality of the creditor's meeting was at this point interrupted by considerable laughter and other signs of indecorum.]

ed up by a Sentinel reporter, and it was learned that they had strong hopes of coming to an amicable settlement with the stockholders, and if they are met in a proper spirit, will agree to anything reasonable in the shape of a compromise, even extending their paper one, two, three and four years, upon adequate guarantees; but on the other hand, a fear was expressed that no other mode of settlement might be open to them but to seek the protection of the court of bankruptcy. Confidence was expressed in the ability of the creditors to form a new corporation strong enough to pay all existing indebtedness, and float the company in such a manner as will insure a prosperous future.

The proceedings at the directors' meeting were not transpired, but it is understood that Mr. Hagerman is quite confident of the ability of the company to make a satisfactory settlement with the creditors and to manage their own affairs without interference, if ordinary forbearance is shown. The directors say they should not be blamed for not making a proposition to the creditors, since they are not authorized by the stockholders to do so. They are trustees for an important property, and must be careful to do nothing unauthorized that may jeopardize the interests of the company. Until the views of the stockholders can be obtained, nothing definite can be done. The board have given the creditors a full and detailed statement of the affairs of the company, and everything under their control is open for inspection. This, they think, with a full determination to do everything in their power to secure a satisfactory settlement of their difficulties, ought to be sufficient. The directors promise to give the papers the fullest statements of their affairs as soon as it is desirable to make them public.

CENTENNIAL LETTER.

A LESSON ON CHEAP RAILROAD FARES—A STATUTE OF CHRISTOPHE COLUMBUS—SOME PECULIAR AWARDS—PHILADELPHIA WANTS A PERMANENT SHOW—"NOTHING BUT FUZZ"—CLOSING PROGRAMMES.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11, 1876.

The rural citizens still through Centennialward, and cheap railroad fares and the additional excitement of "State days" continue to keep the average attendance at the Exposition up to 100,000. The railroad companies are making immense profits, and it experience teach the railroad kings that their past policy of high rates does not bring in as much hard cash to their coffers as cheap fares which stimulate travel, the public can thank the Centennial for it.

ment citizens was held a day or two ago, to consider the propriety of organizing a company to purchase and retain the Main Building for the purpose of either making a permanent institution, or for giving occasional displays. It is contended and expected that a large collection of curiosities and exhibits will be left behind and possibly devoted to the city if the building should be preserved, and this will form the nucleus of something like the Crystal Palace and South Kensington Museum in London. It was resolved to organize a stock company, and a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions and to confer with the city authorities in reference to the transfer of such of the Centennial property as was needed for the purpose. It was first proposed to secure Machinery Hall, but it was afterwards concluded that it was not as available as a portion of the whole of the Main Building. One of the speakers said he had spoken to numbers of exhibitors, all of whom expressed a willingness to enter into the plan, and allow their exhibits to remain. After successfully accomplishing what they have done it is not at all improbable that the present movement will also be consummated.

The live stock display is closed, and the neat-cattle owners have folded their tents and departed. The show has been a great success. The yard remains vacant only a few days, as the exhibition of sheep, goats and swine will open on the 10th. Among the entries for the show are those of many of the breeders in this state, New York, Connecticut, Maryland, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Virginia and Canada, besides a number of foreign exhibitors, who are to bring over some of the finest breeds known to Europe. The first shipment of sheep and swine from Canada has already arrived. It comprises about forty swine, of the breed of Suffolk, Yorkshire, Berkshire, Essex, and Chester-white, and about eighty head of sheep.

Soda water is not in such active demand as it was during the hot weather, and the fountains in the Main Building and elsewhere about the grounds are more ornamental than useful, notwithstanding the immense crowds of people. But there is now and then an incident in connection with them, as usual.

The other day a young woman, from parts unknown, observed another drinking a glass of soda. "What is that?" she asked the dealer. "Soda water. Will you have some?" "Don't care if I do," responded Miss Verdant. Before she set down her glass the prompt seller suggested the payment of ten cents. "What for?" she asked with an amazed stare. "Why, for your soda water," was the response. "I didn't ask you for it," replied the indignant damsel, "you asked me to have some. Here, take your soda water; it's nothing but fuzz, anyway," and pushing toward him the remains of the "fuzz," she coolly walked off, wiser than when she came, and leaving the soda man a trifle sad.

It is proposed to conclude the State-day observance at the grounds with a reunion of all the governors of the states and territories on the 10th of November, or upon a later day, at which the outgoing and incoming presidents of the United States will be present. The tournament of the Knights, on the 19th, also promises to be one of the greatest days of the season. A curious circumstance connected with the disposition of awards at the Centennial Exhibition is that some countries, which held a high position in the popular estimation as being in the front rank in educational matters, have taken very few honors, while other nations, which most people have thought of as sunk in ignorance, have risen to the highest places.

The company of one hundred and fifty stone masons who left New York a few weeks ago, as mentioned in this column, to take service in Scotland, have come to grief through the machinations of the Greenock Trade Union. The expedition of Stanley to Africa has taken on a fresh significance. It turns out now that he has not gone so much for the purpose of exploration, or as a missionary to the gentle savage, but that he is, in reality, an ivory speculator, and has gone prepared to barter beads, brass wire and other trinkets held in great value by the natives, for the much coveted ivory.

The Japanese Educational commission, after having spent four years in examination of the various systems of education in Europe and America, has selected the Boston system as the model which it will represent at home; a collection of furniture, diplomas, maps, blanks, globes, text-books, books of reference, and in fact a specimen of everything used in the schools from the lowest to the highest department.

The wonderful advance in petroleum during the past few weeks is one of the marvels of the world. Crude oil has advanced from $1.50 to $4.00 per barrel. The United States is to have a special Centennial day. When each of the original thirteen states has had its turn in a special jubilee, there is to be held on the ground, perhaps on the 10th of November, the last day of the big show, a grand united reception of the governors of all the states.

Among other features which indicate an improvement in trade is the increased activity in literature. Booksellers expect this season to be one of marked encouragement. Books are a luxury and not a necessity, and when the trade in them is good it is a sure sign of better times.

An Englishman named Stotts has a flying machine. He assures the British public that he intends, shortly, to perform the journey from Dover to Calais on wings, in the space of sixty minutes. One share of the invention is still for sale at $30,000. After the feat has succeeded, $1,000,000 is the price of the invention.

Promotions in the medical corps of the army, in accordance with the act of the last session of congress, are now being made. Under the new law surgeons will take rank as colonels in the order of seniority, the number of that rank being four, while the whole corps of assistant surgeons is limited to one hundred and twenty-five.

The vessels which arrive from Europe carry, at present, very little freight beyond the luggage of the passengers, who are numerous. On the other hand, our exports have largely increased of late, eight steamers having left New York one day, lately, which were forced to leave behind a full third of the freight that was offered.

A curious circumstance connected with the disposition of awards at the Centennial Exhibition is that some countries, which held a high position in the popular estimation as being in the front rank in educational matters, have taken very few honors, while other nations, which most people have thought of as sunk in ignorance, have risen to the highest places.

The company of one hundred and fifty stone masons who left New York a few weeks ago, as mentioned in this column, to take service in Scotland, have come to grief through the machinations of the Greenock Trade Union. The "Union" men seduced them from their allegiance to their employers, and the result is that the American and the Scotch masons are starving together.

When the original Thames tunnel was constructed, it was one of the wonders of the world. Now, the river is tunneled every few months at different points, and the fact scarcely furnishes more than a brief paragraph in the newspapers. A tunnel is now being made at Woolwich almost exclusively for the convenience of two manufacturing companies on the other side of the river.

The expedition of Stanley to Africa has taken on a fresh significance. It turns out now that he has not gone so much for the purpose of exploration, or as a missionary to the gentle savage, but that he is, in reality, an ivory speculator, and has gone prepared to barter beads, brass wire and other trinkets held in great value by the natives, for the much coveted ivory.

The Japanese Educational commission, after having spent four years in examination of the various systems of education in Europe and America, has selected the Boston system as the model which it will represent at home; a collection of furniture, diplomas, maps, blanks, globes, text-books, books of reference, and in fact a specimen of everything used in the schools from the lowest to the highest department.

The wonderful advance in petroleum during the past few weeks is one of the marvels of the world. Crude oil has advanced from $1.50 to $4.00 per barrel. And the comforting part of it is, while some of the growth may be speculative in character, it has, for the most part, grown out of perfectly legitimate causes. There has been an immense in-

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11th, 1876. Our city is beginning to assume its winter style, and though Ulsters and gum shoes had not yet become fashionable, blankets and feather beds are not unbecomingly common. The President and Mrs. Grant returned to the city yesterday morning. His time was occupied most of the day in receiving centenarian visitors.

The nineteenth of October is fixed for the District day at the Centennial, and the city government have been endeavoring to have some other day assigned, as the grand excursion of the Army of the Tennessee and the unveiling of the McPherson statue takes place on the 18th, and the circumstances and surroundings of this event will necessarily occupy a day or two. Thus quite a number of our citizens will be deprived the privilege of pleasure to a trip to Philadelphia, as they will be compelled to remain to entertain their friends who may be among our visitors on the occasion referred to.

The Exposition, judging from the present indications, will prove to be the most successful of any which has yet been held. Last Saturday was the 11th day; at that time 4,071,313 paying visitors had been present. It is stated as a fact that on Pennsylvania day a patriotic citizen of that state, after paying his own fee at the gate, handed the gatekeeper a three dollar bill, and turned the style around half a dozen times, remarking "that his six children couldn't come, but he was representing them. The Vienna Exhibition was open 186 days, and the total number of paying visitors only reached 3,402,622. The Vienna proceeds at the gate were $904,025.23, while at Philadelphia, on Saturday, $1,884,534 had already been received, a sum nearly double the Vienna income.

There is an article going the rounds of the papers headed "Hints to Centennial Visitors." These hints seem to come rather late, but as there appears to be much good sense in them, they may be of service to some among the many who will yet visit the Exposition. The hint, or hint, or whatever he may be, says: "Do not attempt to visit Philadelphia without engaging rooms in advance, by telegraph, or otherwise. If you carry a trunk (and you will do best without one, as you will have no opportunity of displaying finery) you will have no difficulty in getting it promptly delivered by giving your check to the baggage agent in the cars; but if you don't know where you are going to stop, your trunk will go to the baggage room, and there is no telling when you will get it. You can have small baggage checked to be called for in the Centennial depot, of the Pennsylvania railroad, and at several places within the Exhibition grounds.

Ladies should provide themselves with rubber shoes, or better still, with rubber boots. Take plenty of half-dollars with you to prevent delay in getting change at the gate. The gates are open half an hour before the exchange offices. It is cheaper for a party of three or four to mess together than to eat separately. If you wish to take meals inside the grounds or outside, either one dish of meat is usually enough for three or four persons, and divide the expense. Don't attempt to see the sights in company, but go alone, and meet by appointment for meals or for leaving. Days before you start buy a guide and study it well before you visit; and in conclusion, beware of all sorts of imposture. There has been a slight newspaper war in relation to the manner in which the rifle teams who recently visited us were entertained, some claiming that they had to pay their own hotel bill, and others stating that all pecuniary arrangements had been made before the teams came on, and that the gate money they received more than defrayed any expenses they may have incurred. The question now seems to be definitely disposed of by a letter from Mr. Geo. S. Schenck to Jos. A. K. Shepherd, thanking him, Col Burnside, president of the Washington Rifle Club, the U. S. government officials, and the citizens of Washington generally, in behalf of the National Rifle Association of New York, for the kindness and hospitality shown the various teams during their recent visit to this city. A writer signing himself Sec'y of E. W. R. T., whatever that may be, rifle team of some kind I suppose, makes some very sensible remarks about the ridiculous positions assumed by the rifle men of the day. He says the style of shooting is none other than a farce, a real burlesque on military tactics, and adds that there is a team about to visit the city who will exhibit their skill an upright, manly attitude, and not squirm and twist on the ground like harlequins.

"Lessons in singing and voice building" are advertised by a Boston music teacher.
A New York jury has recommended the taxing of dogs, to prevent attack of hydrophobia.
Many marriages are announced for this month. It is a good time to marry, as the fall of man is typified by the fall of the leaf.

Necessity is the mother of invention. A Minnesota man has invented a patent horse power machine for killing the gentle hoppers.
Good news. The leaders of fashion have decided that next season false hair and pearl powder are to be considered "bad style." Amen.

The National association of pork packers met in Indianapolis, Ind., on the 4th inst., and after transacting a deal of business shook their shoulders and sides at a convivial banquet gotten up for their special benefit.
It is said that the reason the Prohibitionists nominated only five candidates for the legislature from the Detroit district, instead of seven, is because there are not enough members of the party in the city to fill the offices.

It appears, from the number of chairs "that Washington sat in" now on exhibition at the Centennial, that the father of his country sat down 29,876 times during the revolutionary war, and each time in a different chair, many of them being patrimonies of 1875.
—Wm. M. Everts recently sent to the historian Bancroft, at Newport, a present of pork and a copy of his celebrated Centennial oration, and expressed the hope that the historian would enjoy both products of his pen. Pretty good joke that for a man like Everts.
The new New York scientific journal adopts the name of Prometheus. This title is rather hackneyed. The poor fellow who stole fire from heaven has been very roughly treated since from the fate originally assigned him. In addition to the vulture at his vitals, he has had to endure the attack of the literary world throughout subsequent years.

A western judge recently constructed the longest sentence on record. He sentenced a murderer for life, and afterward added two more years to the sentence, because the prisoner called him "no gentleman."
"The melancholy days have come,
The saddest in the year;
It's cold enough for whisky,
But quite too cool for beer."
And yet there are no new saloons opened out.
—A life insurance agent was shot and robbed in Missouri last month, and when the perpetrator of the crime was tried, the jury decided the killing justifiable homicide, and excused the robbery by saying that the poor man had a right to take the money to defray his legal expenses in case of arrest. The life insurance business has fallen off some in that locality since the trial.

This is the way a Missouri parson puts a religious point. It sounds rather queer, but it has the merit of originality: "Harken, my beloved brethren; hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the Kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?" James 2nd chap, 5th verse.

BELOVED:—
We, sons of toil, do not presume
To enter Jesus' drawing-room;
'Twould make the congregation stare,
If some of us should enter there!
The parson might exclaim aloud:
'How poor the poor are to be proud!'
And think, why my discourse will be
Beyond their weak capacity.

INDUSTRIAL AND SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

The production of raisins in California is assuming the proportions of an important industry. The San Francisco Call says that the grape crop now maturing is probably the largest that the State ever produced, and with an overstocked market, both for table and wine, more than usual attention is directed to the manufacture of raisins.
An invention which is expected to revolutionize the tinware trade of the country has been perfected, after some years of labor, by a young Bostonian. It consists of a series of dies by which boxes of all sizes, from the small box to the preserved fruit and oil cans, are pressed from a single piece of tin, the corners being doubly folded, in the process, and no solder being required, though the cans are perfectly air tight.
—Railroad building goes so rapidly and quietly forward in California that before the public are aware that a line has been commenced they hear of its completion and being in running order. The latest instance of quick work is the construction by the Central Pacific company of a branch road from Galt to Iron Valley, the point so long desired to be reached with railroad connection by Stockton.
—Professor John D. Bunkle, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been appointed by the Secretaries of the United States Navy and Treasury chairman of the commission created June 2, 1873, "to make such experiments and collect such information as may be useful and important to guard against the bursting of steam boilers."

The work of opening and developing the North Carolina gold mines is progressing vigorously. The modern idea of sinking deeper is now the order of the day there as on the Pacific coast.
—One more encouraging sign of the revival of trade is found in the resumption of work in the Lehigh coal region, not only in the mines, but also at the various iron foundries and furnaces.
—We are producing coal at the rate of 27,000,000 tons per annum, with prospects of even increasing for a time the output per week. The low prices of coal have greatly increased the demand.

APPROPOS of the refining of old Vulcan, Smith's able lines concerning him may be quoted:—"Lo! in Lemnos, limping lamely, Lags the lowly lord of fire." Graphic.
"Roared the fire before the bellows; glowed the forge's dazzling crater;
Rang the hammers on the anvils, both the lesser and the greater;
Fell the sparks around the smithy, keeping rhythm to the hammer.
To the ponderous blows and clanging of each unrelenting hammer
While the diamonds of labor, from the curse of Adam borrowed, Glistered like a crown of honor on each iron-beater's forehead."—T. D. English.

American eagles to the value of $125,840 were withdrawn from the bank of England on the 27th ult. for shipment to the United States, and on the previous day $200,400 worth were purchased from the same bank at 76. 5/4d. per ounce, for transmission to New York. The Financier says further remittances are expected, because the shipments of wheat and cotton from America are large, and the absorption of the United States funded loan in Europe is steadily increasing.
The agent of the Associated Press telegraphs the eastern papers from Cincinnati that iron matters in that city have a decided upward tendency; that pig iron men look for an advance; that there has been much spirit in iron matters generally. Pittsburgh will likely hear of any change that takes place in the west in these matters, and so far, we have no news here that such a lively condition exists there. That a better feeling is indulged is all that can be said concerning western iron matters.—Am. Manufacturer.

The manufacture of wrought iron tubes was begun in this country by English workmen. Russell's patent of 1824 is the one under which the business was originated in England. Since that time it has grown to be an enormous business and still increases. An English exchange tells us that Andrew Liddell introduced the manufacture of wrought tubes in Scotland full forty years ago and that they soon came to be used for gas in most of the large towns. Lately the Scotch tube trade has divided into two branches, gas tubing and steam tubing, the former being but-welded and the latter lap-welded. The first maker of lap-welded tubes in Scotland was J. Baker, who began it in 1834. It is said that there has been no improvement worthy of mention within the past thirty years in the manufacture of lap-welded tubes, although frequently attempted. The present producing power of the Scotch manufactures is said to be 24,000 to 25,000 tons per annum, but that this can be increased to 40,000 tons should trade press them. Scotch tubing is widely used throughout the world, but for a long time past has been growing less in this country owing to increased facilities for its manufacture here. At present little or none is imported by this country.—Am. Manufacturer.

MASONIC.—The National Grand Orient of Spain has appointed Brother, the Marquis de Seoane, to the dignity of Grand Master, in succession to Brother Calatrava, deceased.
Gen. Guiseppe Garibaldi has been created Honorary Grand Master of the Grand Orient of Egypt, by a decree issued at Alexandria, by Grand Master A. S. Zola, dated May 27th, 1876. Brother Garibaldi acknowledged the honor in a very fraternal letter addressed to Brother Zola from Caprea, his present residence.
On the 15th of March the three lodges at Rome the Chapter of Rose Croix, several members of the Grand Consistory and Grand Orient, met together for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of the foundation of the Masonic Temple at Rome.

The Grand Orient of Italy has granted constitutions to ten new lodges situated in the Orient's of Capua, Naples, Viterbo, Castellamare, Mineo, Prato, Bari Gurguio and Bucharest.

The number of affiliated Masons in Texas at the present time is 18,200.
The annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of New York will be held in the Asylum of the Temple within two weeks.

The General Assembly of the Grand Orient of France met on Monday, September 11th. Vacancies in the order had to be filled, said vacancies having been caused by the retirement of one third of its members.

The British association for the advancement of science held its session this year in Glasgow, commencing on the 6th instant. The retiring president, Sir John Hawkshaw, in opening the proceedings, referred to the fact that he had just returned from the United States. He had seen a great deal, and could say that if the scientific men of England are supine, those of America would soon be in advance. Professor Sir William Thompson, who had also recently returned to England from this country opened the Section of Physical Science, on the 7th, with an address largely devoted to his observations here. He said: "I wished to write an address of which America should be the subject. I came home, indeed, visibly impressed with much that I had seen in the great exposition at Philadelphia, and out of it, showing the truest scientific spirit and devotion, the originality, the inventiveness, the patient, persevering thoroughness of work, the preceptiveness and the generous, open-mindedness and sympathy from which the great things of science come." Professor Thompson gives a flattering resume of American scientists.—The Bulletin.

THE young men of Humboldt met Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, 1876, and organized a club, naming it the Humboldt Dancing Club, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, M. B. McGee; vice president, W. A. La Rue; secretary, A. J. Mead; treasurer, J. Schaller; corresponding secretary and manager, C. S. Mitchell. We intend giving our first hop Tuesday, Oct. 24th, in the building formerly occupied by R. T. McKay, as a store. CORRESPONDING SEC'Y.

HUMBOLDT, MICH., Oct. 12, 1876.
THE DETROIT LIGHT GUARDS.—In consequence of the full and ample apology made by Captain Twombly, Lieut. Max Hochgraf, and Sergeant Grant, of the Detroit Light Guard, the following orders have been issued:

HEADQUARTERS THIRD REGIMENT, MICHIGAN: STATE TROOPS, ELINT, Sept. 21, 1876. GENERAL ORDER No. 17. PAR. I. Capt. L. C. Twombly, Co. "A," 3rd Reg't, M. S. T., is hereby relieved from arrest, and will assume command of his company.
PAR. II. First Lieut. Max Hochgraf, Co. "A," 3rd Reg't, M. S. T., is hereby relieved from arrest, and will assume his station in his company.
PAR. III. Tros. L. Grant, Co. "A," 3rd Reg't, M. S. T., is hereby relieved from arrest, and is hereby reinstated 1st Sgt's Co. "A," 3rd Reg't, M. S. T.
By order of Colonel commanding.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT, MICHIGAN, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, DETROIT, Sept. 27, 1876. GENERAL ORDER No. 31. FUGITIVE.—A complete apology having been made by Captain Lewis C. Twombly and First Lieutenant Max Hochgraf, Company "A," Third Regiment Michigan State Troops, to Colonel O. F. Lochead, commanding the regiment, for the absence of their company from the encampment at Grosse Isle in August last, he has withdrawn the charges against them, and returned them to duty.
If the Commander-in-Chief believed that these two officers had acted with the deliberate intention of disobeying Colonel Lochead's authority, he would not have consented to the withdrawal of the charges.
But viewed in the most favorable light, it was a breach of discipline that cannot be passed unnoticed. Captain Twombly and First Lieutenant Hochgraf are hereby reprimanded for insubordination and a violation of good order and military discipline.
By order of the Commander-in-Chief. J. G. ROBERTSON, Adjutant General.

was, it seemed, soon to be taken from me, for the gossips of the colony were unanimous that the ensuing winter was the last that would see the Mer- tonian resident in Siberia.

And then, preceded by certain threatening rum- ors, to which scanty credence had been attached, there had occurred the Mongol incursion, prompted, as there was reason to suspect, by the Chinese au- thorities, of whose sentiments towards the rival empire pressing yearly closer to their extensive frontier, few doubt could be entertained by even the most optimistically disposed of the motley European community, Russian, German, Polish and British, whose task it was to develop the great natural resources of this long neglected corner of the earth.

On the fourth day after the outbreak of hostil- ities, there arrived in Kiachta a group of English- men, engineers and Cornish miners, from a valuable mine on the farthar bank of the Amour, the whole plant of which had been wantonly destroyed by the Mongol raiders. They reported the station of Chersinsk, with all its factories and dwellings, to be in flames, while the European residents, with such of their property as they could contrive to save, were slowly retreating, under the protection of a military escort, towards Irkutsk.

"Towards Irkutsk!" I exclaimed, incredulously; "you mean, surely, towards Kiachta. It would be running into the lion's mouth to attempt the long march over the open plains that lie between the northern end of Lake Baikal and the mountains at the head waters of the Amour. No one in his senses would give such an advantage to the fleet- footed enemy."

But my informant was positive as to the route which the caravan of refugees from Chersinsk had adopted. A Cornish miner, dispatched thither to purchase powder for blasting purposes, immedi- ately before the inroad, had rejoined his comrades with the news. It appeared that the decision, perill- ously unwise as it seemed to me, to select the longer and more northern line of march, had been formed by Count Annenkoff, who commanded the troops, and who was a young man, new to the country and over-confident in his own judgment.

Hitherto, it was added, the Mongol horsemen had contented themselves with hovering, like hawks on the wing, around a heavily-armed and well-kept camp, at respectful distance from the rifled muskets of the soldiery; but there could be no doubt that they were waiting the opportunity, in some unguarded moment, of swooping down upon the camp, while the movements of the fugitives, encumbered as they were by a heavy baggage train, and accompanied by several ladies and children, were of necessity slow. That Ellen and her father were of the company was all out certain.

I could no longer endure the safe inaction of life at Kiachta, and accordingly I formed a resolve which to many of my friends appeared rash and un- willful. This was, to make my way, as best I might, to persuade Ellen and her father rather to trust themselves to my guidance back to Kiachta, than to persevere in the arduous march that would lie before them. Thanks to my love for field sports, and to a certain restless spirit of adventure, I had an acquaintance with the country for many a league around, having repeatedly accompanied Tartar hunters on their expeditions in quest of the elk, the bison and the antelope of the plains. I was ex- cellently mounted, and had a heavy baggage train, and the weather was as yet fine and mellow, although the season was winter.

The first long day's march brought me to a cluster of black tent tents, couched in shape, pitched on the bank of a shallow brook, while hard by grazed the sheep and buffaloes that made up the only wealth of the horse. I rode up to them without fear—for these ramblers through the plains of Eastern Siberia have little harm in them—and recog- nized in the headman of the camp an old acquaint- ance, who spoke a little Russian, and often brought in lambskins, yarout and wild strawberries to the market at Kiachta.

"I would not push on, were I you, Gospodin," said the white bearded patriarch, as he set before me the simple fare—milk, cheese and mutton ha- baubs, skewered on a twig of the arbutus—that he had to offer. "They were here with us yesterday, some hundreds of the light-fingered rogues from across the frontier, and it cost me ten fat sheep and many far words to coax them into good behavior. They had two white men's heads, set on spear points, for their standards, and their leader swore by the Holy Tooth not to go back to Mongolia with- out silver enough to plate the shirases of his horse. They're after the poor folks from Chersinsk by this time; not that they've any more fancy for the whistle of a leaden bullet than other people have."

The gift of a golden eagle and the promise of two more coins of the same mintage, induced the headman to send with me a barefooted lad of his tribe, who would, I was assured, prove quite com- petent to conduct me to a place whence I could easily overtake the caravan, and also to keep up with my horse at any pace short of a gallop. And young Kazim (how he came by his Moslem name I cannot tell, for all these tribes of the border are Badonists, like the Mongols beyond it) ran gallantly beside my stirrup over weary leagues of grazing grounds, and stretches of stony barrenness, till at length he stopped, pointed triumphantly to a number of footprints of horses, oxen, camels and men, stamped into the half dried mud of a shallow water course, and with a barefooted lad of his tribe in his distant wreath of blue smoke, sure sign of a bivouac fire, he received from mine the glittering eagles, wrapped the gold in a scrap of raw sheepskin, and thrust it into the salt gourd that dangled by a thong from his waist, and then, with a grin of leave-taking, trotted off homeward.

The rest of our ride, half a mile towards the camp fire, before I saw approaching me, at a lumbering amble, ungainly enough, but swift and silent, some two score of laden camels, urged on by four horse- men, whose lances and the black Tartar caps they wore suggested their nationality as Mongolian. Two of them, as soon as they espied me, dashed at me with loud execrations and cries of "Feringhee! Rusk! kill! kill!"

My revolver was out in a moment, and the sight of it produced some effect on the wild riders, for they wheeled off to right and left, galloping round me in circles, still brandishing their spears, until a third horseman spurred forward, calling out some- thing which seemed as if by magic to suspend their murderous intentions, and then rode quietly up to my side, and held out his bony hand for me to shake.

"Brother!" he said, in a strange jargon of mingled Turkish and Russian; "very good friend, Batuschka! Has English lord forgotten poor Sing Si?" I looked at the man's broad, flat face, and did indeed recognize a Tartar of the name above men- tioned, whom I had a year before bought off at an expenditure of some six shillings sterling, from a Cossack patrol about to hang him on a dwarf oak for being captured, redhanded, as a sheepstealer. He had since then worked for us, as a porter, for some months in Kiachta, but the vagrant instinct was too strong in Sing Si, and he had thrown up his employment and fled to the steppe.

The other three Tartars became amiable enough when they found that their companion hailed me as a friend, and I gathered from the rascal's talk that they had been acting as guides to the Chersinsk car- avan, and had seized an opportunity of making off with forty camels and their loads, with which, as I made out, they intended to join their cousins the robber Mongols. All this Sing Si, whose moral fibre was of the coarsest, related as an excellent joke; but when he learned that I was on my way to join those when he had just deserted, his countenance assumed a graver expression. "Hark ye, English lord," he said, cautiously, as the others began to gound on the camels with blows and lance pricks, "we of the steppe love a friend as we hate a foe. Sing Si does not want his former protector to leave his bones to bleach on the plains, with those of yonder unblesed ones;" and he shook his fist at the far off smoke; "and sure as death their thrond is spinning fast."

"What do you mean?" I asked, anxiously. "I mean," hissed out Sing Si, putting his ugly face close to mine, "that we of the old Tartar stock have no cause to be fond of the Muskov, and a pretty trick we have played them. "Hist! did you never hear of the snow flood?"

"I had, in the course of my residence in Siberia, heard vague stories of such a phenomenon of the far northern steppes, and I nodded, waiting to hear more.

"The Russians will feel it soon," chuckled Sing Si; "the blind moles! I already the wind is from the north, already the threads of the Fatal Spinners span the sky, and we have led where there are no mountains to break the fury of the blast; no barrier to check the rush of the white way that shall overwhelm man and beast. Away, English- man, whip and spur, as you love your life, for even here you are not safe; and ride to the left, mark me, westwards to the shelter of the hills. As for me, I go."

And, spurring his rough pony, off he clattered in pursuit of his party. I rode at a brisk hand gallop towards the camp fire. The snow flood! There crowded on my mind all the tales that I had ever heard, of caravans, of solitary hunters, or of detach- ments of troops, overladen by the resistless drift of those illimitable plains, where not a tree, not a hillock, existed to stem the violence of the wind. And as I sped on, I felt convinced that Sing Si's warning was a true one.

On reaching the encampment I found my predic- tions of impending evil received very much as were those Cassandra in old Troy. Count Annenkoff, a vain young officer, a supreme scorn for civilians and foreigners, ridiculed my advice, and declined to re- port my informant Sing Si as anything but a scound- rel who had absconded with a portion of the bag- gage.

"Excuse my incredulity, mon cher," he said coolly, "but your snow flood, as you phrase it, appears too nearly related to Stabat in Valley of Diamonds, and the other contes of the Thousand and One Nights, to command credence; and I shall use my own discretion as regards the route to be followed."

The other Europeans, if less superstitious, were almost equally deaf to all the arguments which I could urge. Some of them had witnessed, though all of them had heard of the fell force of that snowy tempest to which the Asiatics had given so picture- esque a name, and none were willing to run the gauntlet of the prowling Mongols in order to elude a danger which might prove mythical. But Ellen, who believed in me because she loved me, used all her influence to bring about with like good effect that Mr. Merton yielded a reluctant consent to have his own and his daughter's horses resaddled, and to set off, under my guidance, in the direction indicated by Sing Si.

As we left the camp, lighted by a broad full moon that bathed the steppe in a soft brightness, I observed that the northern sky was growing very dark, and that the long filaments of gray cloud had become kilt together, as though the Valkyrs were indeed busy at the loom of death. The wind also, blowing in fitful gusts, had become piercingly cold, and our very horses snorted and snuffed the air, as though they scented the approach of some viewless peril.

By the time we had ridden, as I guessed, some two miles from the halting place, the northern sky had darkened still more, and the low sobbing of the desert wind had swelled into a shriek, while the temperature was perceptibly lowered, so that Ellen shivered more from cold than fear. We pressed on. Mr. Merton, as I have said, had been unwilling to take my counsel, in opposition to the scoffs and remonstrances of his friends, but now he said, in an altered tone:

"I begin to think, Richards, that you and the Tartar were right. God bless you for your unself- ish kindness, my boy, whatever comes of this."

Before I could reply, a terrified cry from Ellen's lips made me turn my head, just as the first quick snowflakes came whirling down, and there, belidit us, throwing before us, as it came, a ghastly gleam of light, came from the north a shapeless whiteness rolling pitilessly on.

"The snow! the snow!" we exclaimed, as with one voice, urging on our affrighted horses to their fullest speed, while behind us, like the tide rising fast over the sands of the seashore, swept on the white wave, burying beneath it, as it advanced, bush, and mound, and watercourse, and blotting out every feature of the landscape to the north- ward.

Then began a race indeed, the alarmed horses straining every sinew to outstrip the pursuing fate; but with an air speeded the drift gained upon us, and presently we found ourselves plunging and floundering, up to our saddle-girths, in snow. The moon's radiance was now totally obscured, but afar off, to westward, my eye had caught the ruddy glow of a fire such as charcoal burners' kindle among the hills, and I had my horse cling tightly to my horn's mane, for the third time breathed the cur- rent, and, half swimming, half wading, we got through, though on the farther bank my noble horse reeled and fell, with a faint, low neigh, and so died. The carcasses of the others were already buried beneath the driving snow.

The rest of our story—how, after some fatigue, we scaled the rocky ravine where stood the hut of the charcoal burners, and how these rough but kindly beings warmed and fed us, and finally enabled us to reach Kiachta in safety—is a tale of mere commonplace hardship. I have been for years the happy husband of Ellen, and a junior partner in the thriving house of Merton & Paulov- ick, although our sphere of business has been re- moved to a less romantic region than that of eastern Siberia. Of the fate of Count Annenkoff and the caravan under his charge no survivor ever returned to headquarters to tell the tale.

NEGAUNE.

GRAND opening at Heyn & Co.'s to-day—Saturday. New goods till you can't rest.

DAN McKINNON, who has been to the Centennial, returned home last Monday. He expresses himself as having had a big time.

H. J. COLWELL and family have returned to Negaunee for the winter. They have resided at the Walthrop mine during the summer.

MR. ED. C. ANTHONY and family returned home last Friday from a visit to Sault Ste. Marie. They were detained ten days there, waiting for a boat.

FIRE BELL.—We are going to have one of these useful articles, as the common council authorized the purchase last week. The matter is in the hands of mayor Mitchell.

From a letter recently received in this city, we learn that Hon. E. Breitung and family are now in Colorado. Whether they will remain there this winter is not stated.

MANY of our grangers complain bitterly of their losses by the recent cold weather and attendant frost. Hundreds of bushels of potatoes were still in the ground.

NEW PHYSICIAN.—Dr. M. C. Belknap has located in Negaunee, where he proposes in future to reside. His office is over Taylor's City Drug store. The doctor comes well recommended.

The Negaunee shooting club which has been rather dormant of late, shows signs of reviving. A business meeting was held at the office of Neil Campbell Esq. last Wednesday evening.

HEYN & Co.'s store is a sight to see. It is a small Centennial in its way, and anyone who has not visited this mammoth establishment since they have received their new goods, is decidedly behind the times.

GEORGE RUDOLPH, whom we mentioned last week as having recently returned from the far west, is prepared to give instructions on the cornet or violin, at reasonable rates. Apply at Dr. Schalm's.

READ Wetzstein's "Wizard's Warning" in another column. It is worth reading as a literary production alone, and besides, it tells a vast deal of truth. Wetzstein is a public benefactor, and should meet with the cordial co-operation of our citizens.

H. E. MANN & Co.'s store presents a lively appearance. During his absence, Mr. Mann has purchased by far the largest stock of dress goods and ladies' articles, generally, that was ever brought to Negaunee. Look out for their fall announcement.

COL. C. H. DENISON was announced to speak in Winter's hall last Thursday evening, but our reporter sent in his manuscript Thursday morning, so we are unable to give the proceedings. Undoubtedly, he had a good house, being an able exponent of republican politics.

The Hayes and Wheeler club of this city will visit Marquette to-night in a body to participate in a grand torch-light procession in that city. Special trains will run from all parts of the county, and the republicans are going to try and muster their full force. The democrats will hold a monster meeting in Ishpeming some time next week to celebrate their recent victories.

The smiling countenance of that prince of good fellows—Henry E. Mann—again illuminates our streets, he having returned last Saturday. He has, during his absence, visited Milwaukee, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, and other eastern and southern cities. He says the Centennial is the boss show, and does not regret his visit. While he was absent he combined business with pleasure, and purchased a big stock of goods for the Negaunee Bazaar. Take a look at 'em.

ANY one in want of books or bookbinding should send their orders to Charles A. Eggers of Marquette. Mr. Eggers is turning out some of the handsomest work that we have ever seen, and his prices are as low as can be had in Chicago. The advantage in patronizing him is that you can get the work done much quicker and at the same time have any desired ruling done. He also binds magazines, sheet music, rebinds old books &c. Give him a trial. Office in MINING JOURNAL building, Marquette.

The Olympic club held a regular meeting on Friday evening of last week, and elected the following officers for the ensuing term:
President—Gershom Jones;
Secretary—Byron D. Jones;
Treasurer—Norman McLeod;
Executive Committee—Hon. J. Q. Adams, and Messrs. T. M. Wells and F. E. Saww.
The Herald says: "We learn from the secretary that, financially, the club is in splendid condition; that they have recently purchased land paid for a new billiard table, while their reading table continues to be replete with choice literature, newspapers, magazines etc., and that they enter upon their second year free from indebtedness. This is a good showing, and augurs well for the future prosperity of the club."

It was at Negaunee. She was a fair maiden of twenty-five summers, exceedingly anxious for matrimony, as all ladies who find themselves single at that age are supposed to be. He came from Fayette, and he didn't want to get married at all. The parties were brought together by a mutual friend, and after a little "sparkling," were spliced by a bogus J. P. late in the evening. They retired. *** About three o'clock in the morning the quondam bridegroom appeared at his lodging house and said to his friend—the mutual—that he "couldn't sleep. She stuck to him like pitch," etc. The lady, thinking things were not all O. K., called in an officer, but the gay lothario, getting wind of what was on the tapis, "got up and dusted," and at this writing is non est inventus. He is probably unaware that he is in a bad boat. The lady is deserving of every sympathy.

WORKING PEOPLE.

The Panic, it is admitted, has proved a blessing in disguise. It has taught us how to live on little, to restrain our evil inclinations, to provide for the morrow and give more time to reflection and more thought to our higher and better interests, and has accustomed us to lead frugal and industrious lives. It has cured us of our suicidal mania for extravagance and high living, for wild games of hazard and speculation, and has led us to trust less to visionary schemes of chance than to actual work and straightforward pursuits. It has banished trickery and trumpery and given the death-blow to avarice and cupidity, and last, but not least, has brought immoderate prices and profits of commodities down to a level with their intrinsic value. Who so depraved amongst us as not to be thankful for this vast change for the better, and who with so little regard for decency or as not to rejoice in the greater decency of friends and kindred!

have rescued us from the crooked course of moral degradation, and developed true man and manhood amongst us, but till now have been called upon to pass through the ordeal which will clearly show the mettle we are made of. Hardly have the first signs of the stir and bustle of reviving trade and the resumption of mining operations gladdened every heart, but the winds may be noted at work on every hand to arouse the slumbering passions, to stir up greed and covetousness, to devise ways and means to entrap the unwary, to extort huge profits and profits, and lead us back to the old regime of maudlin immorality generally. Shall we then, fellow-workers, supinely look on while the return of prosperity threatens to overwhelm us again with fraud and corruption? Or will we profit by the lessons learned and prove ourselves "made of sterner stuff" by putting our heel on the viper wherever we find the pest!

To illustrate: the profits on jewelry, though notoriously exorbitant, were the least of all reduced by the stringency of the times, and yet we have positive evidence that they were about to be driven up again, far beyond the means of the laboring classes. A few things, with the prices of which the public is somewhat familiar, are still offered low (!) merely as decoys, that all the more may be asked for other goods.

WILL PEOPLE SUBMIT TO THESE THINGS

while wages and other prices are still below par, and pay tenfold higher profits on finery than on the necessities! No, never! Down with them! Down, where they belong, is the popular verdict, and the undersigned means to carry it out to the letter. But only by extremes can extremes be remedied, and only by forcing prices down, down, for once below a living rate, can they be established on a basis of reason and justice. This he has attempted to accomplish at the risk of having his motives misconstrued and the quality of his goods drawn in question, and down he means to keep them during the coming winter and holiday season, rain or shine, until better times have brought better wages and all can afford to pay a fair profit on the wares they want.

CITIZENS, CITIZENS, BEWARE OF THE DAY

when the mongrels will meet you with jew'ry array! Beware of those who depart from their legitimate sphere and sell jewelry to make money! It will always be found that when a man gets to be too lazy to work his way slowly and honestly, he either takes to vending liquor or to selling jewelry. It is in this class solely which have brought such reproach and discredit upon the business. A goldsmith, devoted to his art, cannot be imposed upon and is above imposing on others. "A real jeweler rarely deceives those that trust him and are helplessly at his mercy; it goes against his grain," said one but yesterday upon expressing his indignation that this community should ever be cursed with interlopers dragging the trade into the mire.

And this, at last, brings up a subject which strikingly illustrates the matter, and which, like Banguo's ghost, will no longer down. The United States Watch Co., Marion, N. J., flooded the market with a worthless abortion, a watch of absurd construction, poor material but showy exterior, and the entire watchmaker craft rose as one man and denounced and tabooed it. The company quickly succumbed to this sweeping judgment and went under, and the outcast movements were disposed of to auctioneers, backwood granges, and untutored "jewelers." Not a watchmaker can be found unprincipled enough to endorse or sell one, yet during the last two years these flashy and flimsy bankrupt affairs have been disposed of for twice, yes, quadruple their value, to scores of Negaunee, Ishpeming and Republic dupes. The undersigned did not expose the imposition for various reasons. The dispraiseful motive had been imputed to him of agitating from jealousy, or of trying to raise himself up on the ruin of others; it seemed to him people wanted to be humbugged, and that a word to the wise was not sufficient when fools and their money went to be parted; and finally, because the imbecile that does not know enough to see that a large hole and dirt trap out into the top plate of a movement and exposing the escapement, cannot possibly be an improvement, is a hopeless idiot, and deserves to be galled; But Down with Fraud, is his war cry now. Will others take it up and do their share in the good work? G. A. WETTSTEIN

It is celebrated for its advantages, in that it is one of the largest sewing machines manufactured—adapted alike to the use of the family or the workshop. It has the largest shuttle, with a bobbin that holds almost a spool of thread. The shuttle tension is adjustable without removing the shuttle from the machine.

This machine is so constructed that the power is applied directly over the needle, thus enabling it to sew the heaviest material with unqualified ease. It is very simple in its construction, durable as iron and steel can make it, all its wearing parts case-hardened or steel, and ingeniously provided with means for taking up lost motion; so we are justified in

TO SHAKE, OR NOT TO SHAKE?

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague, or to bask in the atrocious disease by a course of that standard anti-malarial remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the malarial-stricken who inhabitants are tormented with the shivering plague caused and eradicated of malarial fever by science. The dimensions of fever and ague districts well know how utterly inadequate to do more than give a brief respite are the so-called remedies of the faculty. Quinine, arsenic, bismuth—what are these but poisonous palliatives, which cease after a time to produce any beneficial effect whatever, and if persisted in, wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons, and that genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent disease, Hostetter's Bitters, substituted in their place.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.—Hattie A. Smith vs. Charles S. P. Smith. Twelfth Judicial Circuit—in Chancery, suit pending in the Circuit Court for the county of Schoolcraft, in Chancery, at Onota. It is satisfactorily appearing to me by the affidavit of Hattie A. Smith, on file in this cause, that the said defendant Charles S. P. Smith is absent from and is a non-resident of the State of Michigan, and is a resident of the State of Wisconsin, on the date of this order, and it is ordered that I do order that the said defendant do appear in this cause to be entered within six months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that the said complainant's bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendant Charles S. P. Smith; and it is further ordered that the said complainant, within twenty days, cause a copy of this order to be published and printed in the Mining Journal, a newspaper published and printed in the county of Marquette and state of Michigan, and that the said publication be continued one in each week for six successive weeks, or that they cause a copy of this order to be personally served on the said defendant Charles S. P. Smith, at least twenty days before the time prescribed for his appearance.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, MARQUETTE COUNTY, vs. Lyman Little vs. Sarah G. Hibbert and Edmund G. Hibbert, in attachment.—Notice is hereby given that on the fifth day of August, A. D. 1876, a writ of attachment was issued out of the Circuit Court for the county of Marquette, at the suit of Lyman Little, the above named plaintiff, against the lands, tenements, goods and chattels, money and effects of Edward G. Hibbert and Sarah G. Hibbert, the defendants above named for the sum of six hundred and twenty-one dollars, which said writ was returnable on the fifth day of September, A. D. 1876.

EXECUTION SALE.—By virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of and under the seal of the circuit court for the county of Marquette, in favor of Conrad Knauer, plaintiff, and against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements, of George Thoney, defendant, for the sum of one hundred and eighty-nine dollars and forty-seven cents damages and costs, I have levied upon the right, title and interest of the said George Thoney, defendant as aforesaid, of, in and to the real estate herein-after described, and shall sell the same, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy said fieri facias, with interest and expense of sale, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Marquette and State of Michigan, that being the place for holding the Circuit Court for said county, on the 20th day of November next, at three o'clock in the afternoon of said day. Said lands so levied on by me as aforesaid, and hereby advertised for sale, are particularly described as follows, to wit: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate and being in the township of Marquette, and hereby advertised for sale, are particularly described as follows, to wit: All that part of the south half of the southwest quarter of section twenty (20), in township forty-eight (48), north of range twenty west, lying south of the center of the road as now in place laid out across said tract, said road crossing the east line of said southwest quarter at a point sixty-four (64) rods north of the southeast corner thereof, and running diagonally across said quarter, and ending at a point (9) rods north of the southwest corner—containing in the tract above described about thirty-four acres of land, reserved to Daniel Welland and his assigns, and situate in the township of Marquette, and county of Marquette, and State of Michigan, and described in a plat included in lot number two (2), of section twenty-three (23), in township number forty-eight (48), north of range twenty west, commonly called the "Thirty-Six Acre Plat" of the village (now city) of Marquette, a map of which is on record in the office of the register of deeds for said county, which land is situated in the city of Marquette, in the county of Marquette and State of Michigan.

Dated Marquette, Oct. 4th, A. D. 1876. Deputy Sheriff, Marquette County, Mich. WILLIAM H. PARRIS, Plaintiff's Attorney. 42977

MICHIGAN STATE LAND OFFICE, LANSING, September 27, 1876.—Notice is hereby given that the following described primary school and swamp lands, situate on Isle Royale, and on copper ranges of the Upper Peninsula, heretofore withheld from market as copper locations under the Mineral Law of 1846, and by virtue of Act 145, Session Laws of 1865, will be offered at public auction, at the City of Marquette, on the 15th day of November next, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the minimum price affixed by the Governor and State Treasurer. Full payment will be required at the time of sale. A large portion of these lands are mentioned in Jackson's geological report to the first session of the Thirty-first Congress in 1849-50, as being valuable for minerals. The remainder were selected and reserved on account of their nearness to and having the same topographical and geological appearance as the mineral lands mentioned in Jackson's and Foster and Whitney's geological and mineralogical reports.

CHANCERY SALE.—In pursuance of a decretal order made by the circuit court for the county of Marquette, in chancery, on the thirteenth day of November, A. D. 1876, in a cause then pending wherein Edward Breitung was complainant and Charles T. Harvey and Sarah V. Harvey were defendants, there will be sold by the undersigned, one of the circuit court commissioners for said county, at public auction, at the front door of the court house in the city of Marquette, in said county of Marquette, on the 13th day of November next, at one o'clock P. M., the following described real estate situated in said county with the appurtenances, viz: All that part of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter and the south half of the southeast quarter of section number six (6), which lies two hundred feet south of the tracks of the Peninsula Division of the Chicago & North-western railway, as the same were August 18th, A. D. 1875; all of section number seven (7), except the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the south half of the northeast quarter thereof. All of section eight (8), except the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter, and the south half of the northeast quarter thereof; all of said tracts being situate in township number forty-seven (47) north of range number twenty-six (26) west.

Landed Sept. 27th, A. D. 1876. JAMES E. DALLIBA, Circuit Court Commissioner. MARLOW H. CROCKES, Solicitor for complainant. 42897

CLOSING OUT SALE! $30,000 WORTH OF HARDWARE AT LESS THAN COST! As the present outlook for business in the Upper Peninsula is not very encouraging for keeping on hand a general assortment of Hardware, we propose to dispose during the fall and winter months, of our entire stock, consisting of COOKING & HEATING STOVES! Tinware, Builders' and Mechanics' HARDWARE AND TOOLS, Table and Pocket Cutlery, Shovels, Glass, Wagon Woodwork, Thimble Skells, Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, and Ammunition, All of which we will sell at present wholesale rates, as quoted in New York and Chicago markets, making only a small addition to the cost to cover freight, our intention being to withdraw from the business, and close out our entire Hardware stock at prices much below the original cost at which we purchased. While we do not intend to add to our stock now on hand, we will order from manufacturers anything in our line not on hand, charging only a small commission, which will make the cost much below the retail prices at which the same can be obtained elsewhere. This advertisement is not intended as a catch for the purpose of effecting sales of an accumulation of worthless goods, for our stock is good and saleable in any but such a time as this, but is what it purports to be, a closing out sale, which fact we will fully demonstrate to any who will favor us with their patronage.
