CITY AND COUNTY.

THE number of drunks on Sunday were less numerous than for many Sundays past.

IMMENSE quantities of whortleberries and red raspberries are being shipped from this port daily.

M. R. MASHARD is having a new barn built in the rear of his residence in which to stable his Roger—Roger is a horse.

The Marquette Chasseurs will leave for Kalamazoo via Detroit, on the steamer India next Thursday, unless otherwise ordered.

THE break in the Merchandise pier, caused by the falling through of pig iron early in the season, has been thoroughly repaired.

THE stars and stripes were unfurled on the pole in front of the opera house last Tuesday in honor of the Houghton firemen.

REV. F. J. CRISP will preach a sermon to young men at the Baptist church, to-morrow evening, to hear which all are cordially invited.

THE L'Anse items came too late to insure their publication this week. Our readers in that place will therefore have to excuse their non-appearance.

FIVE cargoes of coal were discharged at this port last Monday. With the streets full of idle men it was difficult to get enough help to unload the vessels.

ANOTHER Mackinac railroad laborer named McDougal was pretty seriously chastised last Saturday night, in a drunken row on Superior street. No arrests.

It was John Oudotte's yacht and not Sam Handford's, that won the yacht race last week. Sam, has a very good boat, but don't care to run against Oudotte in a good breeze.

MR. H. S. SWIFT, our Portage Lake correspondent, is the authorized agent in the copper country of Eggers' Marquette book-binder. All orders given him will receive prompt attention.

HENRY WARD BEECHER lectures on "The reign of the common people" at Mather's hall next Thursday night. Tickets for reserved seats can be had without extra charge at Conklin's.

LECTURES.—Dr. O'Leary will begin a course of free illustrated lectures at Mather's hall this evening, which will be worth a hundred of Beecher's threadbare discourses. See advertisement in another column.

THE commons, or grove, at the corner of Ridge and Front streets, has more the appearance of a bone-yard than anything else. Scavengers should be notified to cart their rubbish to some more distant place, and outside the city limits.

REV. J. B. ANDREWS, of Appleton, Wis., will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church to-morrow morning and evening, the pastor, Rev. D. Stuart Banks, having been called east on account of the severe illness of his mother.

THE light houses are now burning mineral in place of lard oil, the change having been recently ordered by the light house board. The keeper at this port finds the coal oil a great improvement, it giving a better light and requiring less attention.

THERE was discharged from vessels into cars on the Merchandise pier during the week 2,850 tons of coal, all of which was shipped to the mines up the road. Mr. Miller says that the amount of work done on this dock thus far this season is greater than that of any former year.

WE are informed that the president and directors of the D., M. & M. R. R., together with his excellency, Gov. Crosswell, and the commissioner of the state land office, will arrive in this city by special car next Friday, and proceed from here on a tour of inspection down the line of the new railway.

JUDGE O'KEEFE has a novel way of dealing with tramps. The marshal brings in the man, then goes up to the jail and estimates the number of days it will require to cut, split and pile up the wood on hand. After reporting, the Judge gives the tramp the number of days estimated, and it always has a good effect.

THE First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school of this city, gave an excursion to Little Presque Isle last Wednesday, for the benefit of the scholars, having chartered the tug J. D. Dudley, which towed a lighter full of children and some grown people. A pleasant day was spent by the excursionists in running over the rocks, fishing and other recreations. The party returned in the evening well satisfied with the day's sport.

CINDERS.

SEVENTY five cents a head—and yet they grumbled, just as if they were used to something better at home.

A press of other matters this week has compelled Cinders to make room for a few locals—none to his regret, be it remarked, all the same.

THE census of Marquette was taken a month too early. Since the enumeration the festive watermelon has begun to double-up our population.

Marquette ought to be proud of it—the reception it gave to the Houghton firemen last Tuesday. There's nothing like an excess of friendly neighborliness on such occasions.

J. C. Buchanan, the howling idiot of the Lemars, (Iowa) Sentinel, was once editor of a paper here in Marquette. He appears to have been "getting fooler and fooler" every day since he left these shores.

THE MINING JOURNAL will be sent to new subscribers during the existing presidential campaign at regular rates. The fact that it won't boom for any of the candidates—neither tell the truth nor lie about either Harfield or Hancock—will make it a refreshing alternative to the great mass of those who are certain to become politically constipated.

THE Detroit Free Press tells the story of a squeezing match between lovers, and after a short season of hand pressure the uncomfortable swain says, imploringly: "Simatha, I'm going to let go of your hand for a minute, but you won't let go till you did, only some sort of a bug is crawling down my back, and I can't keep my mind on you and bugs at the same time!"

"Beer makes the head heavy," says the Lancet. Its editor must have been indulging in a glass or two of the Milwaukee abomination—he certainly couldn't have come to such a conclusion after a trial of the pure malt beverage brewed by Meeske & Hoch—it makes the head neither heavy or light—only imparts buoyancy to despondent natures, and a doncareadamitiveness that enables a man to meet and overcome any sort of human trouble.

SHE is a gay and handsome widow. If she had been one of the homely kind, Cinders might take some stock in the cruel statement that she fell aboard merely to test the devotion of a certain young man who went out with her on the Sunday school excursion last Wednesday—but Cinders doesn't believe she is compelled to resort to any such expedients. She did fall overboard, nevertheless, and when she was taken apart and hung up to dry in the engine room, to the fellow who risked one eye on it, the sight was simply wonderful to behold—if not more so.

EVERY statesman is necessarily a politician; but every politician isn't a statesman. What the country wants is more statesmen and fewer politicians. A partisan press that is able and honest enough to distinguish the one from the other wouldn't be a bad thing to have, either. In this country, however, the honest politician seldom gets a chance to distinguish himself as a statesman—so the distinction with a difference doesn't signify much, after all. Now, there's our Michigan congressmen—smart, shrewd politicians, all of 'em—but who'd ever suspect them of being guilty of the least particle of statesmanship!

STILL they come—immigrants on every boat.

AN excursion out over the line of the D., M. & M. R. y is on the tapis for the coming week.

A LARGE number of Iowa editors will arrive here this afternoon. Look out for them.

NOTWITHSTANDING the quick despatch given to ore vessels this season, the harbor has been full of 'em the past week.

A YOUNG lady from Negaunee, named Quinn, while walking up Front street towards the Summit house last Monday, fainted and fell prostrate to the sidewalk. Some gentleman near by picked her up and carried her into a store where she was revived by the application of cold water. The young lady was very much annoyed when she discovered what had happened.

JOHANNA Powers and Nora Flinn, two "ladies" living on Fisher street, have been having a war of words. The tongue of Johanna was a little too many for Nora, so Nora has had Johanna arrested for abusive language. The case will come up before Judge Hardy next Monday morning. This Johanna—well, she's a good one, with her tongue, boys—she's always there.

LIEUT. W. A. Glassford, the supervising inspector for the northwest district of the U. S. signal service corps, was in the city Monday and Tuesday of this week, looking after the affairs of sergeant Gilligan. It is needless to remark that Gilligan had the office in good order, and that his chief went away satisfied that the observer for Marquette was doing thorough work and keeping his office and instruments in excellent order.

A SWEDE girl, employed as cook at the residence of C. H. Call, Esq., while out walking last Saturday evening with her lover, when coming down the stairs from Ridge to Lake street, slipped and fell, rolling down three flights, spraining her wrists and cutting a bad gash in her forehead. She was taken to her home, where her wounds were properly dressed. We would suggest that hereafter she take firmer hold of her lover's arm, or let her lover clasp her more tightly. Those steps are not the proper place for lovers, anyhow, and we are surprised that such accidents are not of more frequent occurrence. The breaker affords an excellent place for them; indeed, the walk was fixed up on purpose for them, and thither they should go for their evening strolls; then, if the girl falls, there will only be a splash and all will be over.

IT is said that dead flies in the ointment of an apothecary sends forth a stinking savor, but we doubt if the stench can compare with the odor emitted from the sewer at the corner of Superior and Front streets. The stench is horrible, and should be remedied at once. There are many other equally bad odors arising from other sewers, and piles of garbage in the alleys and back door yards of the city, and a properly authorized health officer could find plenty of work to do. Will not the city council look after this matter?

A fire was discovered on the long dock last Monday noon, about the center of the structure, by Mr. H. A. Burt, who gave the alarm at Merritt's foundry. Water was carried in pails from the foundry, and after some hard work the flames were extinguished. The fire originated from a lighted cigar stub which some passer-by had carelessly thrown upon the dock, and had it not been for the timely discovery, a fire of some magnitude would have been the result, as the planks are old, dry, and covered with splinters.

TO CORRESPONDENTS AND REPORTERS.—Again we ask you to write proper names plainly and distinctly. Several items sent us from Republic and elsewhere this week have been omitted because names of persons were so illegibly written that they could not be made out with any degree of certainty. In some of the items inserted we have been compelled to guess at the names of persons, and we don't like to take such chances of being interviewed with shot guns for calling people "out of their right names." Write names plainly, or don't write them at all.

THE principal amusement on the streets the past few evenings has been the throwing of the sledge, at the corner of Front and Superior streets. The sport has been indulged in principally by the hard-fisted sons of toil who make this corner their evening resort, and has had at least one good effect—it keeps the men off the sidewalk, and gives pedestrians its free way. Jack Lawlor makes the best throw, by several feet, and as he lays his little cudgel down, it is pleasing to see the satisfied expression of his countenance—he is the hero of the hour, and his beer don't cost him anything, you know.

JOHN FRANK, "a poor crippled beggar, with a wife and ten small children," was arrested and brought before Judge O'Keefe last Monday charged with the crime of begging from door to door. The marshal found him just as he was coming out of the bank, where he had just traded ten dollars worth of nickels and pennies for a bank note. The Judge was satisfied that he was a fraud, fined him six dollars and gave him 30 minutes in which to get out of town. He went, and is now supporting the wife and ten small ones by doing honest labor on the Mackinac railway.

THOMAS J. Dundon, Edwin Sterne, J. C. Kinsman and several other residents of Clarksburg, have lodged a complaint before judge of probate Hardy, in which they charge Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Moyle, of that place, with cruel and inhuman treatment of a little orphan girl, aged nine years, named Lillie Rule, whom they have adopted. The court is asked to take charge of the child and turnish her another home. From the evidence of several witnesses at the examination last Wednesday, the judge became satisfied that the request of the gentlemen named should be granted, and he has accordingly taken charge of the child, turning her over to the superintendent of the poor until such time as another home can be procured for her.

IT is not probable that the time will ever come when the majority of people will be endowed with sufficient sense to protect themselves from the traveling quack and impostor. Almost every week brings to light some fresh imposition successfully practiced on our people, in which they have been gulled out of their hard earned cash, and yet the very next tramp that comes along is equally as successful as his predecessor, and no amount of warning or talk will bring about a change. One of the most successful frauds that has been practiced upon the people of this community in many a day, has just this week been discovered, but not until the perpetrator had made good his escape with the dimes, quarters and half dollars of one half the people of the whole town, and leaving debts unpaid at many of the business houses which may as well at once be placed to the account of profit and loss. Last week the city was flooded with dodgers, saying that "Prof." Pearce, D. C. G., was in the city with his great English tooth-ache remedy—a remedy that had gained favor with the people of England and Wales, and all over the continent—and which would cure any and every case of tooth-ache for time and eternity. After a thorough distribution of the dodgers the "professor" made a personal visit to most of the houses in the city, making sales, as he afterwards boasted, of more than one half of the places he called. After "doing" the city pretty thoroughly, the marshal thought it about time to see about a license, but it was too late; the "professor" had done his business—and "skipped" as soon as he found that the marshal was after him. At the hardware store where the powder was bought to make the tooth dust, the great and only "Professor" Pearce, "D. C. G.," admitted that his remedy was a first-class fraud, made out of equal parts of gun-powder and common wheat flour, but boasted that he would sell to nine-tenths of the people—which he did.

PETER G. LINDQUIST, Ishpeming's chronic drunk and disorderly, was on last Monday sentenced by Judge O'Keefe to twelve months in the Ionia state reformatory. For the past two or three months Peter has been living in Marquette, where he has frequently figured in the police court. Last week he made a solemn promise to reform, but his appetite was too many for him; he yielded to it again on Sunday, and was arrested and sentenced, as above stated, on Monday. That he will keep sober the next twelve months there can be no reasonable doubt.

LAST week a warrant was issued for the arrest of Johnson, the notorious vagrant and husband of "Dutch Mary," but the old vag, getting wind of the fact, quietly left the town for the public good. It is supposed he has gone to the woods, where he will be able to get both food and drink out of the plentiful huckleberry. Miss Josephine Lattin has also lodged a complaint against Johnson, charging him with the theft of money from her house. When caught, Johnson will be forwarded to Ionia, where he can bask in the smiles of his wife, Mary—where he can look but musn't touch, as it were.

DR. P. B. SPEAR who has been connected more than a generation with Madison University at Hamilton, N. Y., is again in our town, under pretense of visiting his two sons, but really to breathe the pure and invigorating atmosphere of Lake Superior. For what are sons and daughters, and grand-sons, unless they come up under a genial sky? And what can give more delight than to see health and vigor, and increase accompaniments of children; and what can give more of heart and inspiration for new work than the ever fresh and ever attractive scenes of Marquette? Children come in to boot.

MISS FLORA A. WEBSTER, of the Chicago Newsboys' Home, and editress of Appeal, has been in the city this week, in the interest of that institution, which, by the way appears to be doing splendid work in the cause of charity. The lady informs us that Master Chas. Deitrich, a crippled inmate of the Home, will be in this section next week, for the purpose of securing new subscriptions to the Appeal, and the renewal of old ones. It is to be hoped that he will be most liberally received by the charitably disposed people throughout the upper peninsula.

WHILE some of the boys attending the picnic at Little Presque Isle, last Wednesday, were in bathing, one of Marquette's small bad boys, named Fred Van Iderstine, went through the pockets of one of the lads and took a watch and chain, which he hid. Some Indian boys present saw and reported the act, and after some threats the thief was persuaded to restore the watch to the rightful owner. Young Van Iderstine is but twelve years of age, and is already under sentence to the State Reform school at Lansing for six years, on complaint of his father, Jeremiah Van Iderstine, who claims that the boy is beyond his control. The lad will probably be taken to Lansing to-morrow—at any rate, before the middle of next week. He can't go any too soon.

IN the selection of stewards and persons in charge of the cabin and culinary departments of steamboats, the management generally strive to find men of pleasing and gentlemanly deportment—men who, when occasion requires, may play the part of host, looking after the comfort and pleasure of passengers and seeing that nothing is wanting to make them feel at ease in the enjoyment of their trip. On the gallantry and attention of the steward more than any other officer of the boat, depends the enjoyment of the passengers. He is expected, aside from his duties in assigning berths, and seeing that the passengers are fed, to act the part of host and floor manager in the evening dances which always form a pleasant feature of steamboat travel. The class of passengers who are at this season of the year coming to and going from this and other Lake Superior ports, are for the most part among the most refined, cultivated and wealthy people of the land, and the steward of a steamboat in the discharge of his duties has opportunities to get acquainted with society people and people of culture from all parts of the states. In the performance of his duty as host and leader in all sports the steward has the best opportunity in the world to make himself disagreeable as well as agreeable, and when the former is done, much of the pleasure of the trip is lost to the passengers. Occasionally, when in conversation with visitors in this city, we hear complaints of ill-usage on boats while on the trip up, but never did we hear of more bearish or ill-mannered treatment than was enacted toward a party of gentlemen and ladies on board of a Chicago steamer, while on her last trip up, by the steward, who forgot himself and his position so far as to conceive and display a jealous dislike to the party on account of his inability to attract to himself the admiration of certain lady passengers. The gentlemen of the party we well know, and their story of ill-usage from the steward is as good to us as if made in the shape of an affidavit; and while it is not properly the province of a newspaper to redress private grievances, yet we cannot avoid holding the steward of that craft up to view as an unmanly bear, unworthy to hold the position he fills. If the management of the line is wise it will see to it that he hereafter so conducts himself as to give no further cause for complaint.

CONTINENTAL fire company of Houghton, came to the city in a special car over the M., H. & O. R. R. at 12:45 last Tuesday, and spent the afternoon of that day looking over the city, returning as far as Ishpeming at 5:20 p. m. No official notification of their coming was received here until about an hour previous to their arrival, and in consequence our hose companies were unable to get together and give them the welcoming reception they would have been glad to extend. However, the boys of No. 3 were ordered by their captain, M. H. Manhard, to get in readiness and give the visiting fire department as fitting a welcome as they could under the circumstances, and they accordingly met at the train and escorted the Continentals, headed by the Hancock German National Band, to the Summit house, where dinner was served. In the afternoon the visiting firemen, some sixty or more in number, occupied the time in visiting the various places of interest, including the MINING JOURNAL office. Their appearance on the street in uniform attracted considerable attention, and by four o'clock in the afternoon the streets presented quite a holiday-like appearance. No. 3 hose company of this city gave an exhibition of our mode of extinguishing fires, but the exhibition, though good, failed to attract the attention of visitors as much as desired; in fact, the Continentals didn't seem to give a continental about seeing how Marquette put out her fires. The Hancock band, numbering fifteen pieces, discoursed some very fine music in front of the Summit house, and won many compliments from our people. Just previous to the departure of the train the visitors, escorted by No. 3 of this city and the band, paraded through principal streets, and the orderly conduct of the visiting company called forth many expressions of admiration. They are, indeed, as fine a looking fire company as one is often privileged to see, and we hope that they may find it convenient to visit the city again. The company and band went to Ishpeming on the evening train, and after spending the night and next forenoon in looking over that burgh, wended their way homeward pleased, we hope, with the reception accorded them here in iron-dom.

COMPLETED.—The last rail on the first twenty-mile section of the D., M. & M. railway was laid at six o'clock last Sunday evening, the editor of the MINING JOURNAL being accorded the honor of driving the last spike. The company, contractors, and all concerned, are to be congratulated on the rapid progress which has been made since the commencement of work—the contractors most especially upon having been able to complete the first twenty miles of the line within the time specified by their contract with the company. A number of our citizens went out on Sunday morning's train to look on and stand around in the way of the workmen, during the laying of the twentieth mile of track, and returning in the evening were treated to a ride of "forty miles an hour" over the ballasted portion of the road, which embraces about sixteen miles of the line. The work of ballasting the remaining four miles has been prosecuted with vigor during the week, and it is safe to say that the first section is now ready for the inspection of the state authorities as fully completed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the company's contract. The bridges and culverts are all A No. 1, and the track in the best possible shape for any amount of freight and passenger traffic. A great deal of the grading on the second twenty-mile section has been done, and the contractors confidently expect to be able to lay the rails the present year. There are, however, some heavy cuts and fills to be made, and it is barely possible that the contractors, despite their well known energy, may find themselves a little out in their reckoning. The vigor with which they have pushed the first twenty miles forward to completion is, however, a sufficient guaranty that the work on the remainder of the line under contract to be built by them will not be allowed to lag a single day beyond the limit within which it can possibly be completed. Mr. Ross, the superintendent of construction, and the foremen under him, are all workers, and if the same rate of progress is made at the other end as we feel reasonably certain will be observable at this, the completion of the whole line will not be delayed beyond the 1st of September, 1881. The country is most fortunate in that the contract for building a line of such vital importance to its material prosperity finally fell into the hands of a company whose movements thus far give the best possible assurance of an early consummation of the project.

REPUBLIC.—The Ishpeming and Negaunee Temples of Honor arrived here on an excursion last Saturday, and had a grand good old time.

The White dramatic troupe gave four entertainments here last week to slim audiences, but they are first-class, nevertheless, and would have had crowded houses, but for the fact that our town had been "showed to death" previous to their coming.

The wrestling match here last Saturday was largely attended, many of the heel and toe players of Humboldt, Champion, Michigan and other localities being on hand. Tom Carkeet was present, but was unable to floor his man, so he gave his back to him. Prizes were awarded as follows: John Gorrie, of Republic, first prize, $20; William Paston, of Champion, second $15; R. Rickard, of Republic, third, $10; John Rickard, of Republic fourth, $5.

The Negaunee base ball club came up here with the Temple of Honor excursion last Saturday with the avowed purpose of gobbling up the Republic nine and taking home a very soft purse of $25. Our boys proved to be stronger antagonists than they had figured on, however, and the umpire being determined to make them win the game (if they won at all) by fair and square playing, and not by talking and disputing, they concluded to break the game up in a row, which they succeeded in doing in the last half of the third inning—Republic at the bat, one run ahead, two men on the bases, and none out. Corbett, of the Republic, having gained his first, started for the second base; the catcher in endeavoring to cut him off, threw the ball to second, but it fell short; the second base picked up the ball with his right hand and touched Corbett with his left, as he was running in, and then claimed that he had touched him with the ball. The umpire saw the thing as it really occurred, and decided "not out," whereupon the Negaunees rushed in from the field, and refused to engage in a quarrel, decided to yield the point rather than have the game broken up in such a disgraceful manner, but the Negaunees could not be induced to play it out. The umpire thereupon decided the game 9 to 6 in favor of the Republic club. We learn that since then the Negaunees have challenged the Republics to play a game for $100 a side on the grounds of the latter, Saturday, August 7th, and that the challenge has been accepted. Our boys say the Negaunees may possibly defeat them, but they can't talk them out of a game, nor bluff them, either. In the game last Saturday the Negaunees perpetrated several tricks for which they ought, and undoubtedly would have been declared out, had not the umpire been a resident of this place, and known them for what they really are—the worst "kickers" in the state. They have never played a game with any club, in this or any other county, in which they have not quarreled with both the players and the umpire—generally claiming that the umpire worked harder to beat them than did the players. It seems to be second nature with them to dispute and quarrel, and make themselves generally disagreeable during the progress of a game.

Mertz, our popular jeweler, is negotiating with F. W. Read & Co., for the erection of a new store, 182 1/2, to be located directly opposite the town hall.

Mr. Oscar Weiser and Miss Louisa Gremord, were married at Ishpeming last Saturday. One young lady made Weiser! May they both live long and be happy.

E. E. Weiser has purchased the Brier carpenter shop, and transformed it into a neat residence. It has been leased to N. Talbot, Esq., who will occupy it on or about the first of the coming month.

SUMMER TOURISTS.—If you desire information as to the best fishing grounds, or want to know what game or pastime will give you the most pleasure, then go to the red sign saloons, where they sell nothing else but Philip Best Brewing Co.'s Milwaukee Lager Beer. 624-tf

NOTICE.—To the citizens of Marquette and vicinity: Having secured the services of a first-class upholsterer, we are now prepared to do anything in that line, and at prices as low as possible for first-class work. Samples of coverings sent on application. HAGER & JOHNSON, Marquette, Mich. 625-tf

Its editor must have been indulging in a glass or two of the Milwaukee abomination—he certainly couldn't have come to such a conclusion after a trial of the pure malt beverage brewed by Messrs. & Hoel—it makes the head neither heavy or light—only imparts buoyancy to despondent natures, and a dour carelessness that enables a man to meet and overcome any sort of human trouble.

She is a gay and handsome widow. If she had been one of the homely kind, Cinders might take some stock in the cruel statement that she fell overboard merely to test the devotion of a certain young man who went out with her on the Sunday school excursion last Wednesday—but Cinders doesn't believe she is compelled to resort to any such expedients. She did fall overboard, nevertheless, and when she was taken apart and hung up to dry in the engine room, to the fellow who risked an eye on it, the sight was simply wonderful to behold—if not more so.

Every statesman is necessarily a politician; but every politician isn't a statesman. What the country wants is more statesmen and fewer politicians. A partisan press that is able and honest enough to distinguish the one from the other wouldn't be a bad thing to have, either. In this country, however, the honest politician seldom gets a chance to distinguish himself as a statesman—so the distinction with a difference doesn't signify much, after all. Now, there's our Michigan congressmen—smart, shrewd politicians, all of 'em—but who'd ever suspect them of being guilty of the least particle of statesmanship!

STILL they come—immigrants on every boat.

AN excursion out over the line of the D., M. & M. R. R. is on the tapis for the coming week.

A LARGE number of Iowa editors will arrive here this afternoon. Look out for them.

NOTWITHSTANDING the quick despatch given to ore vessels this season, the harbor has been full of 'em the past week.

A YOUNG lady from Negaunee, named Quinn, while walking up Front street towards the Summit house last Monday, fainted and fell prostrate to the sidewalk. Some gentleman near by picked her up and carried her into a store where she was revived by the application of cold water. The young lady was very much annoyed when she discovered what had happened.

JOHANNA Powers and Nora Flinn, two "ladies" living on Fisher street, have been having a war of words. The tongue of Johanna was a little too many for Nora, so Nora has had Johanna arrested for abusive language. The case will come up before Judge Hardy next Monday morning. This Johanna—well, she's a good one, with her tongue, boys—she's always there.

LIEUT. W. A. Glassford, the supervising inspector for the northwest district of the U. S. signal service corps, was in the city Monday and Tuesday of this week, looking after the affairs of sergeant Gilligan. It is needless to remark that Gilligan had the office in good order, and that his chief went away satisfied that the observer for Marquette was doing thorough work and keeping his office and instruments in excellent order.

A SWEDISH girl, employed as cook at the residence of C. H. Call, Esq., while out walking last Saturday evening with her lover, when coming down the stairs from Ridge to Lake street, slipped and fell, rolling down three flights, spraining her wrists and cutting a bad gash in her forehead. She was taken to her home, where her wounds were properly dressed. We would suggest that hereafter she take firmer hold of her lover's arm, or let her lover clasp her more tightly. Those steps are not the proper place for lovers, anyhow, and we are surprised that such accidents are not of more frequent occurrence. The breakwater affords an excellent place for them; indeed, the walk was fixed up on purpose for them, and thither they should go for their evening strolls; then, if the girl falls, there will only be a splash and all will be over.

It is said that dead flies in the ointment of an apothecary sends forth a stinking savor, but we doubt if the stench can compare with the odor emitted from the sewer at the corner of Superior and Front streets. The stench is horrible, and should be remedied at once. There are many other equally bad odors arising from other sewers, and piles of garbage in the alleys and back door yards of the city, and a properly authorized health officer could find plenty of work to do. Will not the city council look after this matter!

A fire was discovered on the long dock last Monday noon, about the center of the structure, by Mr. H. A. Burt, who gave the alarm at Merritt's foundry. Water was carried in pails from the foundry, and after some hard work the flames were extinguished. The fire originated from a lighted cigar stub which some passer-by had carelessly thrown upon the dock, and had it not been for the timely discovery, a fire of some magnitude would have been the result, as the planks are old, dry, and covered with splinters.

TO CORRESPONDENTS AND REPORTERS.—Again we ask you to write proper names plainly and distinctly. Several items sent us from Republic and elsewhere this week have been omitted because names of persons were so illegibly written that they could not be made out with any degree of certainty. In some of the items inserted we have been compelled to guess at the names of persons, and we don't like to take such chances of being interviewed with shot guns for calling people "out of their right names." Write names plainly, or don't write them at all.

The principal amusement on the streets the past few evenings has been the throwing of the sledge, at the corner of Front and Superior streets. The sport has been indulged in principally by the hard-fisted sons of toil who make this corner their evening resort, and has had at least one good effect—it keeps the men off the sidewalk, and gives pedestrians its free way. Jack Lawlor makes the best throw, by several feet, and as he lays his little cudgel down, it is pleasing to see the satisfied expression of his countenance—he is the hero of the hour, and his beer don't cost him anything, you know.

JOHN FRANK, "a poor crippled beggar, with a wife and ten small children," was arrested and brought before Judge O'Keefe last Monday charged with the crime of begging from door to door. The marshal found him just as he was coming out of the bank, where he had just traded ten dollars worth of nickels and pennies for a bank note. The Judge was satisfied that he was a fraud, fined him six dollars and gave him 30 minutes in which to get out of town. He went, and is now supporting the wife and ten small ones by doing honest labor on the Mackinac railway.

THOMAS J. DUNDON, Edwin Sterne, J. C. Kinsman and several other residents of Clarksburg, have lodged a complaint before Judge of probate Hardy, in which they charge Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Moyle, of that place, with cruel and inhuman treatment of a little orphan girl, aged nine years, named Lillie Rule, whom they have adopted. The court is asked to take charge of the child and furnish her another home. From the evidence of several witnesses at the examination last Wednesday, the judge became satisfied that the request of the gentlemen named should be granted, and he has accordingly taken charge of the child, turning her over to the superintendent of the poor until such time as another home can be procured for her.

It is not probable that the time will ever come when the majority of people will be endowed with sufficient sense to protect themselves from the traveling quack and impostor. Almost every week brings to light some fresh imposture successfully practiced on our people, in which they have been gulled out of their hard earned cash, and yet the very next tramp that comes along is equally as successful as his predecessor, and no amount of warning or talk will bring about a change. One of the most successful frauds that has been practiced upon the people of this community in many a day, has just this week been discovered, but not until the perpetrator had made good his escape with the dimes, quarters and half dollars of one half the people of the whole town, and leaving debts unpaid at many of the business houses which may as well at once be placed to the account of profit and loss. Last week the city was flooded with dodgers, saying that "Prof." Pearce, D. C. G., was in the city with his great English tooth-ache remedy—a remedy that had gained favor with the people of England and Wales, and all over the continent—and which would cure any and every case of tooth-ache for time and eternity. After a thorough distribution of the dodgers the "professor" made a personal visit to most of the houses in the city, making sales, as he afterwards boasted, at more than one half of the places he called. After "doing" the city pretty thoroughly, the marshal thought it about time to see about a license, but it was too late; the "professor" had done his business—and "skipped" as soon as he found that the marshal was after him. At the hardware store where the powder was bought to make the tooth dust, the great and only "Professor" Pearce, "D. C. G.," admitted that his remedy was a first-class fraud, made out of equal parts of gun-powder and common wheat flour, but boasted that he would sell to nine-tenths of the people—which he did.

PETER G. LINDQUIST, Ishpeming's chronic drunk and disorderly, was on last Monday sentenced by Judge O'Keefe to twelve months in the Ionia state reformatory. For the past two or three months Peter has been living in Marquette, where he has frequently figured in the police court. Last week he made a solemn promise to reform, but his appetite was too many for him; he yielded to it again on Sunday, and was arrested and sentenced, as above stated, on Monday. That he will keep sober the next twelve months there can be no reasonable doubt.

LAST week a warrant was issued for the arrest of Johnson, the notorious vagrant and husband of "Dutch Mary," but the old vag, getting wind of the fact, quietly left the town for the public good. It is supposed he has gone to the woods, where he will be able to get both food and drink out of the plentiful huckleberry. Miss Josephine Lattin has also lodged a complaint against Johnson, charging him with the theft of money from her house. When caught, Johnson will be forwarded to Ionia, where he can bark in the smiles of his wife, Mary—where he can look but mustn't touch, as it were.

DR. P. B. SPEAR who has been connected more than a generation with Madison University at Hamilton, N. Y., is again in our town, under pretense of visiting his two sons, but really to breathe the pure and invigorating atmosphere of Lake Superior. For what are sons and daughters, and grand-sons, unless they come up under a genial sky? And what can give more delight than to see health and vigor, and increase accompaniments of children; and what can give more of heart and inspiration for new work than the ever fresh and ever attractive scenes of Marquette? Children come in to boot.

MISS FLORA A. WEBSTER, of the Chicago Newsboys' Home, and editress of Appeal, has been in the city this week, in the interest of that institution, which, by the way appears to be doing splendid work in the cause of charity. The lady informs us that Master Chas. Deitrich, a crippled inmate of the Home, will be in this section next week, for the purpose of securing new subscriptions to the Appeal, and the renewal of old ones. It is to be hoped that he will be most liberally received by the charitably disposed people throughout the upper peninsula.

WHILE some of the boys attending the picnic at Little Presque Isle, last Wednesday, were in bathing, one of Marquette's small bad boys, named Fred Van Iderstine, went through the pockets of one of the lads and took a watch and chain, which he hid. Some Indian boys present saw and reported the act, and after some threats the thief was persuaded to restore the watch to the rightful owner. Young Van Iderstine is but twelve years of age, and is already under sentence to the State Reform school at Lansing for six years, on complaint of his father, Jeremiah Van Iderstine, who claims that the boy is beyond his control. The lad will probably be taken to Lansing to-morrow—at any rate, before the middle of next week. He can't go any too soon.

IN the selection of stewards and persons in charge of the cabin and culinary departments of steamboats, the management generally strive to find men of pleasing and gentlemanly deportment—men who, when occasion requires, may play the part of host, looking after the comfort and pleasure of passengers and seeing that nothing is wanting to make them feel at ease in the enjoyment of their trip. On the galantry and attention of the steward more than any other officer of the boat, depends the enjoyment of the passengers. He is expected, aside from his duties in assigning berths, and seeing that the passengers are fed, to act the part of host and floor manager in the evening dances which always form a pleasant feature of steamboat travel. The class of passengers who are at this season of the year coming to and going from this and other Lake Superior ports, are for the most part among the most refined, cultivated and wealthy people of the land, and the steward of a steamboat in the discharge of his duties has opportunities to get acquainted with society people and people of culture from all parts of the states. In the performance of his duty as host and leader in all sports the steward has the best opportunity in the world to make himself disagreeable as well as agreeable, and when the former is done, much of the pleasure of the trip is lost to the passengers. Occasionally, when in conversation with visitors in this city, we hear complaints of ill-usage on boats while on the trip up, but never did we hear of more bearish or ill-mannered treatment than was enacted toward a party of gentlemen and ladies on board of a Chicago steamer, while on her last trip up, by the steward, who forgot himself and his position so far as to conceive and display a jealous dislike to the party on account of his inability to attract to himself the admiration of certain lady passengers. The gentlemen of the party we well know, and their story of ill-usage from the steward is as good to us as if made in the shape of an affidavit; and while it is not properly the province of a newspaper to redress private grievances, yet we cannot avoid holding the steward of that craft up to view as an unmanly bear, unworthy to hold the position he fills. If the management of the line is wise it will see to it that he hereafter so conducts himself as to give no further cause for complaint.

CONTINENTAL fire company of Houghton, came to the city in a special car over the M., H. & O. R. R. at 12:45 last Tuesday, and spent the afternoon of that day looking over the city, returning as far as Ishpeming at 5:20 P. M. No official notification of their coming was received here until about an hour previous to their arrival, and in consequence our hose companies were unable to get together and give them the welcoming reception they would have been glad to extend. However, the boys of No. 3 were ordered by their captain, M. H. Manhard, to get in readiness and give the visiting fire department as fitting a welcome as they could under the circumstances, and they accordingly met at the train and escorted the Continentals, headed by the Hancock German National Band, to the Summit house, where dinner was served. In the afternoon the visiting firemen, some sixty or more in number, occupied the time in visiting the various places of interest, including the MINING JOURNAL office. Their appearance on the street in uniform attracted considerable attention, and by four o'clock in the afternoon the streets presented quite a holiday-like appearance. No. 3 hose company of this city gave an exhibition of our mode of extinguishing fires, but the exhibition, though good, failed to attract the attention of visitors as much as desired; in fact, the Continentals didn't seem to give a continental about seeing how Marquette put out her fires. The Hancock band, numbering fifteen pieces, discoursed some very fine music in front of the Summit house, and won many compliments from our people. Just previous to the departure of the train the visitors, escorted by No. 3 of this city and the band, paraded through principal streets, and the orderly conduct of the visiting company called forth many expressions of admiration. They are, indeed, as fine a looking fire company as one is often privileged to see, and we hope that they may find it convenient to visit the city again. The company and band went to Ishpeming on the evening train, and after spending the night and next forenoon in looking over that burgh, wended their way homeward pleased, we hope, with the reception accorded them here in iron-dom.

COMPLETED.—The rail road on the first twenty-mile section of the D., M. & M. R. railway was laid at six o'clock last Sunday evening, the editor of the MINING JOURNAL being accorded the honor of driving the last spike. The company, contractors, and all concerned, are to be congratulated on the rapid progress which has been made since the commencement of work—the contractors most especially upon having been able to complete the first twenty miles of the line within the time specified by their contract with the company. A number of our citizens went out on Sunday morning's train to look on and stand around in the way of the workmen, during the laying of the twentieth mile of track, and returning in the evening were treated to a ride of "forty miles an hour" over the ballasted portion of the road, which embraces about sixteen miles of the line. The work of ballasting the remaining four miles has been prosecuted with vigor during the week, and it is safe to say that the first section is now ready for the inspection of the state authorities as fully completed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the company's contract. The bridges and culverts are all A No. 1, and the track in the best possible shape for any amount of freight and passenger traffic. A great deal of the grading on the second twenty-mile section has been done, and the contractors confidently expect to be able to lay the rails the present year. There are, however, some heavy cuts and fills to be made, and it is barely possible that the contractors, despite their well known energy, may find themselves a little out in their reckoning. The vigor with which they have pushed the first twenty miles forward to completion is, however, a sufficient guaranty that the work on the remainder of the line under contract to be built by them will not be allowed to lag a single day beyond the limit within which it can possibly be completed. Mr. Ross, the superintendent of construction, and the foremen under him, are all workers, and if the same rate of progress is made at the other end as we feel reasonably certain will be observable at this, the completion of the whole line will not be delayed beyond the 1st of September, 1881. The country is most fortunate in that the contract for building a line of such vital importance to its material prosperity finally fell into the hands of a company whose movements thus far give the best possible assurance of an early consummation of the project.

REPUBLIC.—The Ishpeming and Negaunee Temples of Honor arrived here on an excursion last Saturday, and had a grand good old time.

The White dramatic troupe gave four entertainments here last week to slim audiences, but they are first-class, nevertheless, and would have had crowded houses, but for the fact that our town had been "showed to death" previous to their coming.

The wrestling match here last Saturday was largely attended, many of the heel and toe players of Humboldt, Champion, Michigan and other localities being on hand. Tom Carkeet was present, but was unable to floor his man, so he gave his back to him. Prizes were awarded as follows: John Gerrie, of Republic, first prize, $30; William Paston, of Champion, second $15; R. Rickard, of Republic, third, $10; John Rickard, of Republic fourth, $5.

The Negaunee base ball club came up here with the Temple of Honor excursion last Saturday with the avowed purpose of gobbling up the Republic nine and taking home a very soft purse of $25. Our boys proved to be stronger antagonists than they had figured on, however, and the umpire being determined to make them win the game if they won at all by fair and square playing, and not by talking and disputing, they concluded to break the game up in a row, which they succeeded in doing in the last half of the third inning—Republic at the bat, one run ahead, two men on the bases, and none out. Corbett, of the Republic, having gained his first, started for the second base; the catcher in endeavoring to cut him off, threw the ball to second, but it fell short; the second base picked up the ball with his right hand and touched Corbett with his left, as he was running in, and then claimed that he had touched him with the ball. The umpire saw the thing as it really occurred, and decided "not out," whereupon the Negaunees rushed in from the field and refused to continue the game. The Republics not wishing to engage in a quarrel, decided to yield the point rather than have the game broken up in such a disgraceful manner, but the Negaunees could not be induced to play it out. The umpire thereupon decided the game 9 to 0 in favor of the Republic club. We learn that since then the Negaunees have challenged the Republics to play a game for $100 a side on the grounds of the latter, Saturday, August 7th, and that the challenge has been accepted. Our boys say the Negaunees may possibly defeat them, but they can't talk them out of a game, nor bluff them, either. In the game last Saturday the Negaunees perpetrated several tricks for which they ought, and undoubtedly would have been, declared out, had not the umpire been a resident of this place, and known them for what they really are—the worst "kickers" in the state. They have never played a game with any club, in this or any other county, in which they have not quarreled with both the players and the umpire—generally claiming that the umpire worked harder to beat them than did the players. It seems to be second nature with them to dispute and quarrel, and make themselves generally disagreeable during the progress of a game.

Mertz, our popular jeweler, is negotiating with F. W. Road & Co., for the erection of a new store, 1823, to be located directly opposite the town hall.

Mr. Oscar Weiser and Miss Louisa Gremord, were married at Ishpeming last Saturday. One young lady made W(e)iser! May they both live long and be happy.

E. E. Weiser has purchased the Brier carpet shop, and transformed it into a neat residence. It has been leased to N. Talbot, Esq., who will occupy it on or about the first of the coming month.

SUMMER TOURISTS.—If you desire information as to the best fishing grounds, or want to know what game or pasture will give you the most pleasure, then go to the red sign saloons, where they sell nothing else but Philip Best Brewing Co's Milwaukee Lager Beer. 624-tf

NOTICE.—To the citizens of Marquette and vicinity: Having secured the services of a first-class upholsterer, we are now prepared to do anything in that line, and at prices as low as possible for first-class work. Samples of coverings sent on application. HAGER & JOHNASON, Marquette, Mich. 626-tf

ESCANABA.

WHERE is the court house?
 WHERE is the county board?
 TEACHERS institute August 23.
 NEW sample room at the Tilden.

THE captains of the rival bay shore steamers, having finished their struggle for superiority of speed, are now engaged in a newspaper war, accusing each other of various high crimes and misdemeanors.

THE repairs on the Merchants' dock are nearly completed, and make it as good as new. The Railway Co. have every facility for doing such work in the most expeditious manner, and are usually very thorough in their workmanship.

THAT fence on the bay shore is to be taken up and placed in the other direction; that is, from the sidewalk to the beach. The view of the bay will thus be uninterrupted, and it is hoped that this arrangement will effectually prevent further drifting of the sand.

FRANK DOTON, already wearied of the great city, has returned to his desk, which for some months has been occupied by C. H. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds left for Chicago on Saturday last to take the position in the west side shops left vacant by Mr. Doton's transfer hither.

THE clouds that announced the thunder storm of last Sunday afternoon presented a curious spectacle. Above the rolling cumuli, that forged up to the zenith like billows of ink, were several stratified wind clouds that looked much like a gigantic agate. The meteorological phenomena of the past two weeks would bankrupt the most graphic pencil in Meads' show case, and if you wish a more detailed description of the scene you must call at Adler's block, second floor, first door to the left.

CAPT. James Dalton, of Jas. Dalton & Bro., Montague, Mich., is looking through this portion of the peninsula for a mill site. He is at present examining the vicinity of the Fish dam river, a stream upon which a large amount of pine of good quality is reported. The captain is one of the pioneers of the northwest, having been engaged in the lumber business on Lake Michigan over forty years. Should he build a mill it will be a most important addition to our industrial interests.

THE practice, which obtains in Escanaba, of making no selection of teachers for the coming year until nearly time for the fall opening is one which works much injury to the schools as well as to the teachers. Apart from the fact that the best teachers will have provided themselves with schools earlier in the summer, it is a manifest injustice to those who, having already served the district well, reasonably look forward to a re-engagement. In these cases, at least, a selection could as well be made in June as in August, for the board is at least presumed to be thoroughly acquainted with their abilities, while nothing can be added to their knowledge during the vacation. In the case of new teachers, who are engaged on the recommendations of former employers, the same rule is good, for testimony may be obtained at one time as well as at another. The only reason we have heard offered for this unnecessary delay in providing the school with a corps of instructors is that it is the "custom." It certainly is one that were more honored in the breach than in the observance, for it causes dissatisfaction to everyone who is sufficiently interested in the schools to know the facts. The annual examination should take place immediately after the close of school, and be followed by the selection of teachers for the ensuing year. This would give the board a larger list to select from, and would also give the rejected teachers an opportunity to try their fortunes elsewhere.

THE NEW ORE DOCK.—This dock, a model of convenience and workmanship, was begun on the 20th of Oct., 1879, and completed March 31st, 1880. It has a capacity of over 20,000 tons, and is the most admirable structure of its kind in the United States. The dock is 1,200 feet in length; the approach 1,402 feet; 3,620 piles were driven, and 3,720,741 feet of pine, 290,380 feet of oak, 83,537 feet of hemlock, 400 feet of elm and 200 feet of maple, a total of 4,065,258 feet, were used in its construction. There are 201 bents in the dock, and 75 in the approach, the height of the dock above the water being forty feet. The first ore shipped from the new dock was loaded May 11, 1880, into the schooner S. J. Tilden. C. Bruley was master carpenter, in charge of the work, and D. E. Glavin foreman of the laborers employed. Mr. George H. White, supt. of buildings and bridges, Pen. division, superintended the work, giving a large portion of his time to it. Many improvements over the old docks were made in the construction of the new one, the most noteworthy being the substitution of iron for wood, in the chutes that convey the ore from the pockets to the vessel's hold. These were made entirely of plate iron, and were put together in the R'y Co's. shops at this place. For most of the above information we are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. C. H. Reynolds, until last week book-keeper of the company's shops.

This dock, as well as the two older ones, are lighted by the Brush electric light, and from the harbor present a most brilliant spectacle, well worth the pains necessary to obtain a view. Since the facilities for loading have been so increased, but little delay is occasioned to vessels that come here for cargoes, and, as a consequence a large fleet is seldom seen in the harbor. Many vessels arrive, load and depart in the night, and the offing is always full of sail going and coming.

LET me but make the boots for a people, and I care not who don't build the sidewalks.—J. P. D.

P. MATHEWS will build a house on Ogden avenue near Wolcott street; Frank Doton, we learn, will occupy it.

NAUGHT is naught, and five times twelve is sixty—it'll take four months more to gravel Ludington street.—City Engineer.

THREE thousand yards of gravel will make a roadway 25 feet wide, from Wolcott street to the depot. Shall we make it next year?

CAPT. Hammer, of the Fawn, made an all rail trip to Marquette last week after his sheepskin, and is now a regularly licensed pilot.

LEAF by leaf the roses fall, plank by plank the sidewalk goes; in the darkness one and all on the spikeheads stub their toes.—J. H. H.

A MAYOR and a board of alderman would cost no more than a village board, and would expedite affairs considerably. Let us be a city.

A ROAD from the west end of Ludington street direct to Maple grove, is one desirable improvement that might be made in the county highways.

LARGE numbers of passengers on the north bound train every day. Many of these are summer guests of places on Lake Superior. We should have a large share of them ourselves.

THE Presbyterian church is always more than full, and there are many applications for pews which were long since rented; a larger building or an addition to that now in use, is an imperative necessity.

FRANK KELLY was arrested on Saturday charged with larceny of $50 and some clothing from parties stopping at the Oliver house. After his examination on Monday Justice Glaser committed him to the county jail to await trial in the circuit court.

THE large tug, Alanson Sumner, Capt. H. J. Daggett, which formerly plied in New York harbor and was brought to the lakes last spring, on Monday night brought in the schooners T. W. Ferry and Melvin C. Bacon. The Sumner will probably tow to this port the remainder of the season.

Two parties are at work on the preliminary survey of the route to the Felch mountain district: one in charge of E. Powers, starting from the railroad in 35-38-24, and pursuing a north-westerly course. The other party, starting from the other end of the line, in 42-20, is in charge of Charles Palmer.

GEO. LEWIS, brakeman, had his foot crushed under a car wheel Tuesday night while working on the dock unloading a train. He had jumped from one car and was about to board the next one, but missed his footing and stepped on the rail, when the wheel passed directly over the anterior portion of his foot mangleing it so badly that it was necessary to amputate several of the toes.

PERSONAL.—Will Brown is first officer at McKay's, vice Eugene Warner who is clerking on the ore dock.

Mr. D. W. Moon, who has represented the Washington Life insurance company here for some months, and who made our Fourth of July oration for us, departed for Elk Rapids on the Leland, Wednesday night. He will have much hand-shaking to do when he returns next summer.

A ROBIN and a squirrel were at war near the Tilden the other day. The robin seemed to be the aggressor, and the squirrel acted only on the defensive; the bird had chased him from limb to limb and down the trunk of the tree, around about, and across the street to the feet of the pencil shaver, where he crouched, wholly exhausted. The robin then flew away and the squirrel, after a few moments of palpitation, ran under the sidewalk. This last may seem, to natives, the only doubtful portion of the narrative; but squirrels are good at burrowing, and Hart has had a scraper at work on the avenue.

A QUESTION which agitates many minds in this neck o' woods is "How shall we obtain a divorce from our granger friends?" We may plead incompatibility, diversity of interests, nature's decree of separation, but what court will hear our cause? Who will file our bill and argue it to a successful decision? Inuendo, slur and caustic denunciation of our frugal neighbors will not avail us. We may say, as we would have said were we present when the unrighteous union was consummated, "we entertain for you a profound affection; we love you devotedly, but it is the love of a sister state, the affection which we hold for all mankind. We will gladly make any reasonable sacrifice to contribute to your happiness, but we cannot be yours in the way that you wish." It is now too late to make this declaration, and we were not consulted when the nuptials were proclaimed. Our only hope now seems to be in retaining an Indianapolis lawyer to procure a divorce, unless our native statesman can make the "riddle" for us. Shall we not hear from them on this question?

A COUPLE of pleasure seekers started on an excursion last Sunday with a noble steed harnessed to a buckboard just as the blue-black clouds were rolling magnificently toward the zenith. The noble steed, wiser than his human engineers, after casting a wild glance toward the northern sky, refused to proceed further in the direction of the wilderness, and expressed his unfavorable opinion of the attempt to excure under so threatening a cloud by endeavoring to run the hills into the rear end of the vehicle. Being vehemently urged onward by the gentleman in charge of the expedition, he became more agitated and stood erect, beating the air furiously with his fore feet, gnashing his teeth and weeping the while. His conductor, after endeavoring for a time to soothe him by caresses and fondand endearing epithets, lost his temper, and muttering objurgatory interjections which were visible to the naked ear at least four squares, began to fondle the noble animal with a heavy whip; this so enraged the sagacious quadruped that he started up the street at a 2.16 gait and halted at Coan's bar for a glass of beer. With consummate cruelty the refreshing beverage was refused him, and, overpowered by numbers, he was backed again into the street. The windows of heaven having been long since opened, and the gentle dew falling rapidly upon the excursionists, they, after a hurried council, resolved to continue the war no longer. The animal, after being undressed, was borne triumphantly stabled on the shoulders of his oppressors. Moral—don't travel with a balky horse when the "thunder-heads" are mounting the sky at the rate of sixty miles a hour.

NOTES ALONG THE LINE.—John Blossingham is at work cutting out a township road from Spalding north to the county line—a distance of eight and one half miles. The road, so far as it is completed, is fearfully and wonderfully made. A ride over it in a long-gearred buck-board would rival H. G's. famous journey with Hank Monk.

The Carp River Iron Co. is building a set of kilns at section 46, and Mr. Blackwell informs us they will be filled inside of two months.

The din of the conflict has ceased at Sec. 59, which hereafter will rejoice in the more euphonic name of "Deloughary." Friend George, having prevailed in the final appeal to Uncle Sam, will hereafter stamp his own patronymic on the mail matter from this place. The mail is, as yet, brought from Barkville by a carrier, the trains not stopping at the new postoffice.

Crops will be very large all along the line. Hay and oats were never better. Napoleon Barry is doing a rushing business at the Spalding house, which looks neat and pleasant with its double tier of green balconies.

A photographer has pitched his tent opposite the depot, and is doing a flourishing business in sun pictures of Spalding youths and maidens.

QUINNESEC.

Dennis Bruno, who was temporarily incarcerated in the cooler until he could be transported to the county jail to await his trial at the fall term of the circuit court, concluded that the wild beasts of the forest would be more merciful than a jury of his peers, and skipped for the wilderness a short time before the train left. An extra tenpenny might add to the security of the caged malefactor.

Dr. North, so long ill with typhoid fever, is yet suffering from the effect of the injuries received when thrown from his carriage six weeks ago, and will probably be confined to his bed for weeks.

H. J. Bebeau has been absent for some time in Wisconsin.

The republican electors of the township of Breitung met in caucus on Monday, and delegated John L. Buell, Carl L. Wendel and Chas. Boyington to represent their interests at the county convention to be held in Menominee to-day. Politics have engrossed the minds of the rangers for the past two weeks, to the exclusion of mining matters and minor topics of every description. Quinnesec and Norway have buried the hatchet, and united to further the county booms, the congressional booms and the booms in the big puddle. The question is no longer, "how does your mine pan out," but "what's your political bias." Politics makes strange bed-fellows, and operates as often as a peace-maker as an incentive to war.

Felch's Commercial hotel is still lossoming as in the glad spring days, and increased trade has made it necessary to enlarge the dining room and office accommodations. The Commercial is largely patronized by commercial travelers, and maintains steadily the reputation which it has honestly acquired.

Capt. John Armstrong, who had the misfortune to break his right arm in placing the diamond drill at Breitung's exploration on 13-4-2. (Penoka range) and came here for surgical aid, returned Monday to superintend the explorations.

At the McKenna mine the contract has been let for taking out and stocking the ore; it will be moved with teams about three-fourths of a mile, or to within half a mile of the track. A spur will be built to the stock-pile, and shipments will be made as soon as possible. This ore analyzes 69.64 per cent. of iron.

A boiler shop is building on the south side of the track, which will afford facilities to mining men, for which they heretofore have gone abroad.

James Corcoran, who runs engine No. 142, left his vest hanging in the cab while he was away from the engine. A man named Grover, who has been for some time connected with a disreputable house a few miles from town, chanced to step upon the engine, and seeing a pocket-book protruding from a pocket of the vest, made off with it. The fireman saw him upon the engine, and when Corcoran missed his wallet, which contained $50, he immediately made search for the thief. Grover was soon taken into custody, and surrendered the money, less eleven dollars with which he had purchased a revolver and other goods.

The upper peninsula, with its 85,000 inhabitants, coupled with other considerations, will entitle itself to a career of statehood.—Chicago Times.

The weather still continues to display its whole assortment of goods every twenty-four hours, and the friction in the thermometer tubes is tremendous.

NORWAY.

At the Norway mine, during the week ending July 24, was taken out 6,445 tons of iron. This is the largest week's work yet done at this mine, and was accomplished with a smaller force than has been usually worked. Capt. Oliver says that this product will be increased a thousand tons within two weeks.

D. E. LaRue returned on Friday from a week's visit to Chicago and points in Wisconsin. Though he has one of the finest jewelry stores on the peninsula, his trip to the metropolis has fired his heart, and inspired him to nobler deeds. He is about to enlarge his store and increase his stock of jewelry and silverware.

Miss C. B. Vaughn, of Ishpeming, is in town with her sister who has been ill for some time.

August Cook, attorney, formerly of Marquette, is in town to stay, and probably will engage in mercantile business.

Rumor has it that the imaginative editor of the Weekly Hotel Reporter has at last succumbed to the wiles of the little god, and is about to contribute to the noose of the weak.

The Dufresne brothers, Albert and John, have established themselves in as fine a barber shop as can be found in seven days' ride by rail, and are ready to shave, shampoo, shingle, or do any other species of work pertaining to the art tonsorial.

Dr. McLesord returned on Monday from a short trip down the road.

Our jovial little friend, A. C. Hager, was looking pale and wan on Monday, and seemed but a shadow of his former self, having suffered a severe surgical operation at the hands of Dr. Rogers. We trust that before this he will have recovered fully, and be able to greet us with his old familiar smile on our next visit.

John Mulligan has fully launched out on his political campaign, and has the support of many friends in all parts of the county. There seem to be many candidates for the shrievalty of the bailiwick of Menominee. The poll list will be badly cut up, for those who do not succeed in obtaining a "regular" nomination will probably nominate themselves and "run wild," after the fashion in Delta.

The second story of the opera house rises; it is 46x80 feet in size, with two fine stores on first floor, and will be supplied with a convenient stage for the production of any ordinary drama.

The sidewalk on the west side of Main street will shortly be built.

A house divided against itself politically will be the scene of much verbal warfare.

Mulligan will build a store and dwelling on the lot next to his billiard room. The lower floor will be occupied by Pope as a barber shop.

O'Callaghan's mill is steadily engaged in the manufacture of lumber, cutting nearly 25,000 feet per day. Most of it is sold at the mill for the new buildings here.

A green grocer is one of the pressing wants of Norway.

day forenoon. He was engaged in running a new "heading" from one of the shafts, and had drifted only a few feet away from the shaft at the time. The drift is being run through hematite ore, and consequently the greatest precautions were necessary to avert accidents. When Swanson went into the drift Monday morning he was warned by his fellow workmen of the dangerous condition of the ground overhead, and some advised him to bar or shoot down the roof before venturing in. Swanson, ordinarily a careful man, did not comprehend the danger, and went directly under the shaky roof. He had not been in long before the roof directly over his head gave way, and crushed him, the weight of the ore, about two tons, causing his instantaneous death, the tunnel being no more than five feet high, and therefore the falling roof could not have struck him with very great force. Swanson was a middle-aged married man, and the father of three small children. He had been in the employ of the Cleveland company for nearly ten years, and was considered by his employers as one of their very best men. He was much thought of by all who knew him, and his untimely death is much regretted on all sides. A coroner's inquest was held over his remains on the day of the accident, a verdict of accidental death being rendered. Deceased was a member of the Scandinavian society, which organization attended his funeral in a body on Tuesday.

THE VISITING FIREMEN.—Continental Fire company, of Houghton, arrived here on their excursion through the county Tuesday evening. Preparations had been made by our fire department to give them a hearty reception and entertain them to the best of their ability while here, and all the flags in the city were flung to the breeze in their honor when they passed through here at noon on their way to Marquette. When they arrived from the latter place on the evening train, the department, in full uniform, with flags and band, were at the depot to meet them. Large crowds of people were there also, which showed the visiting firemen that the city took an interest in their coming. After stepping from the cars the visitors formed in line, and headed by their band, the German National, of Portage, were escorted down to the city by their hosts. The parade of the two departments, with their excellent music, drew nearly everybody out of doors, and the streets were soon a perfect jam of people. After breaking ranks the visitors partook of supper, half of them being quartered at the Nelson and half at the Commercial house. After supper both bands discoursed music in the streets. The evening's entertainment closed with a dance tendered to the visitors at Austin's hall, where all joined in and enjoyed themselves hugely. Wednesday morning the department was called together, the engine and hose brought out, and an exhibition drill given. Three large streams were drawn from the engine at one time and kept up for half an hour, giving the visitors an opportunity of seeing what our engine could do. Much admiration was expressed by them over the perfect working of our apparatus. During the forenoon the German National band, which discourses really excellent music, treated our citizens to several fine selections. Not a stone was left unturned by our department to make the stay of the visitors a pleasant one, and the latter departed for some on the afternoon train highly pleased with their reception and treatment, and carrying with them the best wishes of the Ishpeming fire department.

BULLOCK'S LATEST IMPROVED DIAMOND-POINTED ROCK DRILLS.

Prospecting, mining, shafting, tunneling, draining, quarrying and sub-marine blasting. The accompanying cut represents my new drill, "The Little Champion," for shafting or underground prospecting. This machine has ALL OF MY LATEST IMPROVEMENTS, Including Trunk Engines, with balanced side valves to use either steam or compressed air economically. It has also my "Pat. Hinged swivel Head," "Pat. Thrust Register," for indicating the thickness of each strata, "Pat. Roller Thrust Bearing," and "Pat. method of changing the feed while the drill is running." The drill rods are all fitted with "Pat. Bayonet clutch couplings," which couple by giving the rods one-fourth of a turn. THE HIGHEST TESTIMONY AWARDED THEM FOR RAPIDITY OF EXECUTION AND ECONOMY OVER ANY OTHERS IN USE. For prospecting, these drills accomplish the most IMPORTANT RESULTS otherwise wholly unattainable. By their use only a few minutes are penetrated to a depth of from one to TWO THOUSAND FEET through the HARDEST ROCK, at any angle, taking out a core the entire depth, fully developing the strata passed through. Tunnels driven and shafts sunk in from one half to one sixth of the usual time, by using these machines in connection with our Pat. Long Hole Process.

DR. THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL
 ALFRED CARPENTER, Ansonia, Conn., writes: Please send Oil C. O. D. I first learned the value of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil while living in Ohio, and I think it is the best medicine in use for man or beast. WILLIAM BOLAND, Jr., 14 E. Swan street says: "In the past two years I have had occasion to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil quite frequently for violent Neuralgic pains and sick headache. I have found it to be an absolute monarch over pain, subduing it in a quiet, soothing manner, and yet acting almost instantly." Mrs. MARY GRIMSHAW, No. 112 Main street, Buffalo, was cured of a violent attack of Rheumatism of the hip, confining her to her chair, by a few applications of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. She says: "Less than a bottle cured me entirely. My son was troubled with Rheumatism of the knee, and was cured entirely in twenty-four hours." Sold in Marquette by JOHN CROWLEY. Price, 50c. and $1.

THE MINING JOURNAL.

NO PAPER SENT TO ANY ADDRESS UNLESS PAID FOR IN ADVANCE.

Subscribers ordering their papers transferred from one address to another should be careful to give the name of the postoffice to which the paper is being sent at the time, in order to secure prompt attention, as otherwise the mail clerk may have to search through the entire list to find the name.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—The MINING JOURNAL will not be sent to subscribers after the expiration of the time subscribed and paid for, unless the subscription is renewed. Subscribers can always know when their subscription expires by comparing the number of the printed address on their papers with the corresponding number on their receipts.

All letters of a business character, such as advertisements and communications intended for the columns of this paper, should be addressed to "THE MINING JOURNAL," and not to the editor personally, as is often the case. Only letters of a personal or confidential nature should be addressed to A. P. SWINFORD.

All advertising sent from abroad must be paid for in advance, whether coming direct from the advertiser or through an advertising agency. Orders from advertising agents will not be accepted, or receive any attention whatever, unless based on our regular rates, less the usual commission and accompanied by the cash. This rule is imperative and will not be departed from under any circumstances.

ONE of the best indications of the present prosperous condition and future promising prospects of the mining industry of this county is found in the large number of mine improvements made and being made, especially at the mines in and around Ishpeming. These are on a grander and more elaborate scale, and of a much more permanent character than any ever before attempted in that quarter. The improvements begun and finished this year amount to more than all others of the kind consummated during the last half dozen preceding years, and have added largely to the facilities for rapid and economic mining which a few years ago were thought to be all that could possibly be desired. Notable among these many additions to the equipments of the several mines in the locality spoken of is the large new stone engine house at the Cleveland, which is now nearly completed, if not entirely so. The new machinery, which has already been described in these columns, is nearly all in place, and will soon be ready to be set in motion.

At the Lake Superior, improvements of a substantial character are the order all over the location. The new machine shop, commenced early in the spring, is now receiving its roof of corrugated iron, and a boiler shop has been added to the other buildings. The new Rand duplex air compressor has been placed on its foundation adjoining the old one which has been doing good service during the past eighteen months, a stone building is being erected over it, while a new boiler is being added to the battery at the stone engine house, which is being enlarged for its accommodation. A new engine house, which will be placed a 50-horse power engine and four new Webster, Camp & Lane hoisting drums. At the new opening over A shaft one of the largest steam derricks in the district is employed for hoisting purposes, being operated by an engine and drum located in a building near by. Besides these improvements, new shaft houses, skip roads and tramways are noticeable on every side.

At the Barnum the principal improvements to be seen are at A and B shafts, where the large duplex air compressor of the Rand pattern is in operation. It is a little ahead of its time, however, and will not be worked to its full capacity until A shaft is down to the ore and mining is commenced. Here two of Merritt's interior-gear drums, one in each shaft, do the hoisting. The buildings here are not of so permanent a character as the new ones at the other mines, but they probably will be made so as soon as the shafts reach the ore.

As soon as the New York company secures an extension of its lease, if, indeed, it hasn't already secured it, we shall expect to see some substantial improvements made there, also.

The MINING JOURNAL does not expect to see the Norway exceed 300,000 tons this year. The management never expected to see these figures, and since the depression they have been reduced about 25 per cent, but with a very liberal reserve to draw upon in case of emergency.—Menominee Herald.

The management certainly did boast early in the year, that it would raise over 200,000 tons from the Norway, and one of the officers, more enthusiastic than the others, placed the product at 260,000. When the depression came they were perfectly willing to and did surrender contracts, while others held purchasers to their contracts but made a concession in prices. But that is no matter—the Norway is huge enough in all conscience, and nothing was further from overthoughts that a desire to detract a single iota from its immensity. The Norway management isn't the first, by any means, that has fallen short in its calculations.

THE MINING JOURNAL says that the Menominee County mines will reach their maximum production this year. We will wager the editor of that paper a suit of clothes that the Menominee Range will ship 50 per cent, more ore in 1881 than it does in 1880.—Menominee Herald.

Wait and see, Mr. Herald. The MINING JOURNAL made no positive remark of the kind, but ventured to predict that the mines at present developed, in Menominee county, would probably reach their maximum of production the present year. It is perfectly willing to allow that prediction to go on record, though it will not be sorry to find itself mistaken, the worse the better. As to the proffered wager we should prefer to first have the Herald tell us what, in its opinion, constitutes the "Menominee Range."

NORTH CHAMPION.—Just one mile due north of the Champion mine, the company of that name is opening a new mine, which will probably be given the name suggested in the caption above. The deposit is on the south-east quarter of section 36, town 48, range 29, where two parallel veins of a very good quality of hard hematite have already been found, the intervening ground being a black plumbaginous slate. These veins have an east and west trend, and are about 400 feet apart, the one on the south carrying a width of 33 feet at the widest part, the other being 24 feet in width, and both apparently nearly vertical. The ore in the south vein has been traced by trenches and test-pits some 1,200 feet east of the point where it was first opened, where it narrows down and finally pinches out. Still further to the east, however, the ore is again found in place, thus showing either that the ore-formation dips under or is cut off by a rock crossing. The north vein has been traced over a length of 500 feet to the east. The theory is that the deposit lies in the form of a basin, the two outcroppings representing the upturned rim. The ore gives, by analysis, a little over 60 per cent, of metallic iron, and it is believed will find favor with consumers at the price at which it can be mined and laid down in lower lake ports. A force of men are now at work stripping preparatory to the commencement of mining operations, a branch will at once be built from the main line of the M., H. & O. R. R. to the location, and it is the intention of the management to mine and ship several thousand tons before the end of the season.

THE STANDARD.—The MINING JOURNAL most cheerfully gives place to the following from the manager of the standard ore company: OFFICE OF STANDARD ORE CO., REPUBLIC, July 27, 1880. A. P. Swinford, Esq., Editor Mining Journal: DEAR SIR:—An item in your issue of the 24th inst., regarding this company, unintentionally, no doubt, does great injustice to the present management, and, knowing your desire to give as correct information as possible on all mining topics, I venture to ask you to say that since the 10th of May last very active operations with one of Bullock's (Champion) diamond drills have been in progress without interruption; that one hole 27 feet deep has been sunk with very satisfactory results, indeed, and another is now in progress, all of which is preliminary to engaging in active mining operations as soon as the proper machinery is on the ground—that which was purchased by a former management not being regarded as suitable. Should you deem it proper to visit the location you can verify the foregoing and satisfy yourself that the present management of the Standard Ore Co. is at work faithfully to develop their property in the most thorough manner, and also that it is a valuable one. Very Respectfully, H. C. DEMING, Gen'l Manager.

Concerning which statement the MINING JOURNAL only desires to say that it will be exceeding well pleased if the work in progress shall finally result in the development of a first-class mine. Nothing but active and successful work will suffice to put to rest the widely circulated and derogatory reports affecting the present and prospective value of the property. While the MINING JOURNAL is very loath to print anything calculated to injure a legitimate mining enterprise in this district, it believes even Mr. Deming will agree with it when it says that there never have been any developments at the Standard to justify the sale of its shares on a basis of over a quarter of a million of dollars! We shall not be sorry if the work now being done by that gentleman shall ultimately enhance the present nominal value of the mine to ten times the amount of the basis upon which the original owners "cleaned out" their shares; but candor compels us to say that at present it possesses the value of an undeveloped property only and nothing more. It may be unkind to remind the owners of the fact that they paid in the aggregate nearly, if not quite, a quarter of a million for the privilege of trying to find a mine on the Standard location, but the reminder certainly does not carry with it any reflection upon their honesty, nor is it so intended. Nor does it preclude the MINING JOURNAL from expressing the earnest hope that the developments yet to be made may show that the would-be biters have themselves been severely bitten.

SHIPMENTS.—The following is a statement of the season's shipments of iron ore from the upper peninsula, up to and including Wednesday, July 28:

Table with columns: MARQUETTE, Mine Name, and Tons. Includes mines like McCumber, Lake Superior, Winthrop, etc.

Table with columns: L'ANSE, Mine Name, and Tons. Includes mines like Champion, Keystone, Republic, etc.

Table with columns: WHERE FROM, 1879, 1880. Shows total tonnage for Escanaba, Marquette, and L'Anse.

Showing an increase of 308,126 gross tons.

A REPORT has gained circulation recently that the Cleveland Hematite mine was about exhausted, and that the body of ore was "pinching out". There certainly was some foundation for the report at one time, as it looked for all the world as if the bottom of the deposit had been reached; but later developments have brought to light large deposits of good hematite on the property, and the show at the mine to-day is fully as good, if not better, than any time since it was first opened. William J. Officer and Capt. Gordan Murray have taken a contract to work the entire mine, and have done a large amount of exploring and preparatory work during the last month. They now have the mine in splendid condition, and are shipping 20 cars per day. In No. 1 pit they have been removing large quantities of rock, which at one time looked like work thrown away; but they now have a large face of good ore which can be wrought profitably. Immediately south of this pit they have stripped the ledge and uncovered another and new body of ore that bids fair to prove a repetition of the deposits in the first openings. At a depth of 8 feet from the surface lies a fine body of hematite 20 feet wide and of uncertain length, with a southern trend. From this place alone they are raising eight cars per day with only half a dozen men. Pit

No. 2, in which the ore pinched out entirely in the bottom, was considered exhausted until explorations revealed another large body of good hematite. At the east end of the pit the ore narrowed down to a few feet, and it was thought the end had been reached; but in running a drift from the bottom of the pit east a deposit of ore has been penetrated which promises to prove fully as large as the old one before being worked out. This drift runs fifty feet in solid ore. A stope has been commenced here, and stoping and drifting will be carried on at the same time. This deposit looks like another pocket similar to that which formed pit No. 2, only that it lies a little deeper. Taken altogether the showing at the Cleveland Hematite is excellent, and the promise good for several years of production fully up to that of last year and this. A force of 25 men is employed on the location, some of whom are exploring and stripping. With this force 20 cars per day are being mined and shipped. A new plant of hoisting machinery has been put into place this summer, consisting of one steel boiler 16 feet long, with 48 flues, one 20-horse-power engine, two 3-foot interior gear hoisting drums, and three derricks. The management of the mine is thorough and energetic, making it a source of profit alike to the owner and contractors. Whatever may have been said of the Cleveland Hematite, a visit to the location will convince any one that the present and prospective value of the property is fully as promising as ever.

An earthquake at Manila shook the life out of over three hundred persons. Manila is in the Philippine islands.

SOME men are hard to please. We know several who were in favor of a third term of four years each who are just everlastingly down on a fifth term of only two years.

THE first issue of a comic weekly at Denver would have been productive of a dozen libel suits against its editor, but for the fact that other aggrieved parties hunted him out of the reach of a civil or criminal process with shot guns.

THE Democratic Convention to nominate a candidate for congress, whose duty it will be to wrestle manfully against the candidate to be named at Cadillac, whether for a first or a fifth term, will be held at the city of Manistee on the 25th of August.

THE delegations from Marquette county to the state and congressional conventions, appear to be a sort of half and half mixture—half for Palmer and Breitung, and half for Stockbridge and Hubbell. It is understood that Delta and Menominee counties have chosen delegates favorable to Stockbridge for governor and Breitung for congress.

ON Friday night of last week, the steamer Garland ran into and sank the steam yacht Mamie, on Detroit river. On board the latter was Father Eleyenbergh, with a party of acolytes, all of Trinity Roman Catholic church, Detroit, returning from their annual excursion to Monroe. Nearly all on board were drowned, the captain, priest, and four others only, being saved.

AT Cincinnati the other day a white man named John King stoned a negro named Paul Smith, the latter trying to avoid the flying missiles by running away, and the former pursuing. When the thing became monotonous, Smith finding it impossible to escape, turned and, seizing his assailant by the throat, literally choked him to death. Smith was arrested, but ought to be discharged at once with a long credit mark.

HON. EDWARD BREITUNG, of Negaunee, has been brought forward by his friends as a candidate for the republican congressional nomination, and, it is claimed, will go into the convention with the support of at least half the upper peninsula delegation. THE MINING JOURNAL refers to the matter merely by way of giving the news—it might injure one candidate or the other by indicating a preference, you know.

HON. EDWARD BREITUNG, of Negaunee, will have all the Marquette county delegates to the Republican congressional convention, except three, who are in favor of the re-nomination of Mr. Hubbell. Hon. Seth Moffatt, of Grand Traverse, is said to be the most popular candidate in the lower part of the district, and if the upper peninsula cannot unite on some one candidate, it is more than probable that Mr. Moffatt will receive the nomination.

THE REPUBLICANS.—Pursuant to call, the republican county convention, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state and congressional conventions, assembled in the parlors of the Nelson house, Ishpeming, at 2 o'clock last Monday afternoon. Mr. J. F. Stevens, of Forsyth, was elected chairman, and H. E. Warner, of Marquette, secretary. A committee on credentials, consisting of C. G. Grifey, C. Y. Osburn and W. H. Rod, was appointed, who reported the following delegates present and entitled to seats: Marquette city, C. Y. Osburn, L. P.

Crary, A. J. Otterson, P. C. Miller, W. A. Jellison, J. E. Ward and H. E. Warner; Negaunee city, Edward Breitung, C. G. Grifey, John Jeffrey, James F. Foley, Norman McLeod and George Berringer; Ishpeming city, H. O. Young, H. H. Mildon, E. E. Osborn, W. T. Carpenter, B. W. Wright, Ole Eckre, W. H. Rod and Hagan Aasgard; Ishpeming township, Charles Merryweather and Samuel Mitchell; Michigamme, Sylvester Kinney; Republic, Samuel Santhony; Champion, Chas. T. Thorpe; Forsyth, J. F. Stevens; Ely, E. A. Maas and J. B. Fitzpatrick; Tilden, R. F. Ellis. On motion a committee of three—H. O. Young, Edward Breitung and C. Y. Osburn—was appointed to suggest the names of eleven delegates to attend the congressional convention. The committee reported the following persons, who were elected: Jas. Pickands, C. Y. Osburn, H. E. Warner, W. H. Rod, E. E. Osborn, Wm. Sedgwick, C. G. Grifey, James F. Foley, J. F. Stevens, C. Merryweather and Peter Pascoe. A resolution authorizing the delegates who attend the state convention to cast the full vote of the county was passed. The following named persons were elected delegates to the state convention: C. G. Grifey, Edward Breitung, H. O. Young, H. H. Mildon, Edward A. Maas and Wm. Rowland. The following persons were added to the county committee to fill vacancies: Jas. F. Foley, Phillip B. Kirkwood, Edward A. Maas, Frank Wheeler, Phillip Jones, R. F. Ellis and B. W. Wright. On motion the convention extended a unanimous vote of thanks to Mr. Nelson for the use of his parlors, after which the convention adjourned.

COPIER MINING NOTES.—From the Ontonagon Miner we glean the following concerning the mines of that region:

MASS.—A very fine mass of copper has been taken out from this mine, and is now on the way to weighing between three and four tons. It was encountered right in the breast of the drift in the third level, going east from No. 1 level, and the miners were compelled to stop and work around it to get it out. The drift is still going through good vein matter but producing considerable copper. A mass will insure a good product for the month of July; besides this the general appearance of the mine at the other points of working is good, the vein producing well, in both mass and barrel copper; the rock sent to the mill continues to produce well—three per cent, and over, and sufficient to keep the six rollers running steady. The addition to the stamp mill has been erected yet, but will not be ready for use by fall. This mine is also in want of miners. Twenty good miners could find employment at once.

NATIONAL.—There has been little of importance to report at this mine; so far the work has all been repairing and cleaning up. Capt. Parnell found everything in a very disappiated condition, and "cleansed" every corner where there was any stick of timber found safe for future use, consequently everything has been repaired and cleaned up. The No. 2 shaft is now being re-erected, and the main hoisting shaft, and here is the centre of operations. Capt. Parnell found the shaft completely filled with ice and loose rock, and the ice is as firm today as it was last February. The shaft has had to be made larger, and it is now completed within forty feet of the top, and nearly two hundred feet from the surface. The foundations for the pump and engine are being built, and it is expected they will be completed and ready for use by the end of the month. The old National will be commenced.

MINESOTA.—The diamond drill was got to work at this mine, under the directions of Mr. Harrington, a practical drill man sent up by Mr. Bullock, the manufacturer of the drill. The drill is one of the largest, and is doing its work admirably. The first hole put down was one diagonally across the drift, and the vein was struck at a depth of 120 feet, and has cut a good vein, carrying considerable copper in chunks of 10 and 20 pounds each. The vein is composed of amygdaloid and spar, and is certainly a very promising looking vein for copper, both barrel and stamp work. This drift on its way to the surface, it is intended to cut, will also cut several other veins, which outcrop on the surface above.

The upper drift, which is driving toward the same shaft, will probably soon cut the same vein as that cut in the lower level, if a good party of men can be induced to take a contract and push it through.

The drift on the north side of the bluff started completed about two weeks ago, and is about 40 feet through the surface to solid rock, it is all well and permanently timbered up, and the superintendent is desirous of letting a contract to a party of miners to drive to reach the vein. The great want of the mine just at present is good miners, as the surface work is laid out ready for the drill and powder. It is to be hoped the management will be able to secure them at once, so as to have the work pushed along as quickly as possible.

FUN WITH THE BOYS.

SALUTE STE. MARIE.—The News evidently has lost its lexicon, or else in the absence of the regular proof-reader the devil has been promoted to that position. The last number is what might be called an orthographical abandonment—something unusual with this really well-edited, neatly printed little paper.

The hay crop is unusually heavy this year owing to the dampness of the early part of the season. Such is fame! The News has this personal mention: Chip Beef. Hon. G. A. Hubbel, M. C. for this district, passed through here Saturday on his way home.

The question naturally arises, who is G. A. Hubbel? and what relation exists between him and whoever he is, and chip beef? And here is another personal mention that needs explanation: Generals Weitzelman and Poe were in town during the week inspecting the government works here. They went from here to Stannard rock on the Warrington.

It has just occurred to us that possibly the News may have had reference to Hon. Jay A. Hubbell and Gens. Weitzel and Poe, but possibly we may be mistaken. Work on the new canal will be pushed forward vigorously through the coming season. Everybody at the "800" cuts chip-beef, according to the News. Private Fisher of company B, 10th inf., Major Bush's company, deserted on Friday night. He was an old soldier, and his reason for the act is not definitely known, but it is supposed there is a woman in the case. One of the circular saws in Seymour's mill burst the other day, the pieces flying in every direction. Luckily no one was hurt. Hay harvest is now in full blast and some very fine crops are being cut near town. Thos. Ryan will cut over 100 tons, and H. W. Seymour has a square forty acre lot of timothy mowder such as cannot be beaten in Michigan.

Some lately arrived immigrants at the Sault brought several hives of bees with them, the first ever brought to the upper peninsula, so far as we have any knowledge. We can see no good reason why the experiment should not prove a success.

The late commissioner of the D., M. & M. R. Y. has contributed one hundred dollars towards defraying the expenses of Chippewa county's exhibit at the coming state fair.

DELUTH.—The News, in its last issue, has a funny article telling how iron is made in the Duluth blast furnace. It is the funniest thing we have seen in that paper for some length of period.

The first shipment of pig iron from the Duluth blast furnace was made yesterday, two cars, which went to St. Paul and Stillwater.

A fellow named Snell tried to descend the St. Louis river to Fond du Lac from a point three miles above, in a canoe, but was cast away on a lone rock in the rapids, 250 feet from either shore. He hugged the rock all night and until he was rescued the next morning.

The brownstone quarry at Fond du Lac is being worked on quite a large scale. Between forty and fifty men are at work, and stone is being got out for five or six different institutions—the Westminister, Minneapolis, a church at Winona, (trimmings) the foundation of high trestles Nos. 2 and 3, the new freight depot at Rice's Point, and for Taylor, Fish & Haupt's mill at Rice's Point. A track 1,600 feet in length is being laid down the river, to reach water deep enough for scows to land, and another track has been laid across the river, as the wire cable was hardly equal to the business.

Duluth is threatened with an inundation of Canuck editors. Its people ought to capture and domesticate one of 'em.

OSTONAGON.—The Miner says that the county poor farm is still without a tenant.

Swinford, of Marquette, and Mitchell, of Duluth, have begun a war of words, and we can't tell who is right, or who is wrong.

Oh no, brother M.; it was only a little skirmish, and is wholly ended so far as we are concerned. We only wrote what we did to show the red-headed, lop-eared cuss who never washes his feet and is a terror to decent journalism, how very easy it is to call names and say mean things—that was all. If he doesn't take the hint thrown out we can't help it—we'll simply and quietly permit him to go to the hell he doesn't believe in over his own road.

There'll be no war of words from this quarter, such as Mitchell seems to court. We yield him the victory without a struggle—we can, but won't, out of regard for our readers, fight with the weapons Mitchell chooses.

Several miles of railroad have been built this week, on the street corners, over the counters, and around the streets. Talk is cheap.

The Miner says the survey of the Northern Pacific east to Ashland has been completed, and that grading is soon to be commenced. Without questioning its authority for the statement, and only hoping that it speaks by the card, we leave it to settle with the Duluth papers the veracity of its further aversment that the extension "will start from the Junction, 24 miles west of Duluth, and take a due easterly course to Ashland."

No, thank you. We may be inclined to ornament that court but we may have no mortgage on it with an observatory, but no mortgage. We pay as we go.

Exactly: that probably accounts for the fact that you haven't got anything. Marquette has a debt and an equivalent to show for it. Escanaba has no debt, nor nothing else worth speaking of.

The JOURNAL might have added "and no taxes worth mentioning." We supplement its work, to that extent, and rest.

Yes so, Colonel; it is much easier to enumerate what Escanaba has than what it hasn't. A town can't expect to be taxed for nothing, you know. Escanaba has no debt, with nothing for an equivalent—"no taxes worth mentioning" and nothing to show for those she does have. We rest.

Among all the disagreeable consequences that follow the decay of the teeth, an impure breath must be the most mortifying, and it is the most pleasant to its possessor, and it is the most excusable and offensive in society; and yet the cause of it may easily be removed by cleansing your teeth daily with that justly popular dentifrice, Fragrant Soudodont. It purifies and sweetens the breath, cools and refreshes the mouth, and gives a pearl-like appearance to the teeth. Gentlemen who indulge in smoking should cleanse their teeth with Soudodont, as it removes all unwholesome odors of the weed. Ask your druggist for it.

The Mining Journal.

Ishpeming, July 31, 1880.]

[A. HORNSTEIN, Editor.]

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Communications for the Ishpeming columns must be sent to the editor of this department to receive any attention in the future.

A LARGE number of our residents are entertaining summer visitors.

MINING has been commenced in the opening at the head of Main street.

A FEW more new dwellings have been started during the past week or so.

AN Ishpeming cow has no rights which a poundmaster is bound to respect.

THE blueberry crop is very large this year, and the marshes are swarming with pickers.

CONCERT.—Phillip Phillips, the singing clergyman, will give a concert at the Methodist church to-night.

THERE is no end to the excursions to and from here. They are very acceptable as they make things lively.

MR. and Mrs. D. McVichie had the misfortune to lose the second twin baby, which died Friday night, the 23rd inst.

THE Iowa Editorial association will spend next Monday in Ishpeming, and looking at the mines and other attractions here.

Lo, the tourist with untutored mind, Wanders off to the rock pile specimens to find; And gathering up some useless bits of rock, Stores away his treasures under key and lock.

THAT irrepressible waltz club gave another party at Austin's hall last night. Like all previous ones it was a pleasant affair.

TAKE notice of what A. Titcombe has to say in his advertisement this week. Titcombe always comes out fresh and new.

THE hematite dust lies in wait on the back streets now-a-days and goes for people whenever they leave the sprinkled thoroughfares.

THE Nelson house is overcrowded almost every night. It would have to be one-third larger to accommodate all who want to put up there.

W. H. WATERS has sold out his store at the Keystone mine to Dousman & Watkins, of Champion, and retires from the mercantile business.

THE dog trotters' association will in all probability be forced to take a back seat now that the horse trotters' association has been fully organized.

FOR $1.75 you can go to Marquette next Thursday evening, hear Rev. H. W. Beecher's lecture and return home. Quite a number are going from here.

MALMBORG, the baker, has a new and nobly delivery wagon which will enable him to better accommodate his increasing business, and deliver bread at his customers' doors.

"You can't almost always tell what you may last expect first," as the fellow said who held a telephone to his ear during a thunder storm and got hit by a stray bolt of lightning.

ALTHOUGH immigration to this region has almost entirely ceased, the up trains are crowded nearly every day. Tourists, visitors and commercial travelers are the ones who come now.

IT's no small job to make three or four columns of interesting local news out of half a column of actual news items, but that's just what newspaper writers have been compelled to do lately.

A DIAMOND of rare value was found at the Lake Angeline location Wednesday morning. The finder is none other than the captain himself, and the rich find has b(u)oyed up his spirits wonderfully.

DR. ODELL, who has been practicing at Stoneville until recently, left for the Commonwealth mine Tuesday to accept the doctor's position at that place. The sick and disabled at the Commonwealth will receive good medical and surgical aid as long as he is their doctor.

THE only fault a certain well-known railroad man has to find with the table of a hotel down the road is that "when they make fly hash they don't put in quite enough hair to keep the flies together." It is certainly a mean landlord who will let his boarders off on a short allowance of hair.

WE'D rather be a livery horse on a fine Sunday afternoon, with a couple of drunken fellows driving, than be the man who was detected the other night by his wife occupying a reserved seat at the theater between two girls, after refusing to take her there on account of urgent business. He will probably survive.

SEE here, you theatrical fellows, do you think Ishpeming is made of money? It would seem as though you did by the way you come and stay. Two nights is as long as the best troupe can make it pay here, and you will surely lose money if you stay longer. Only a limited portion of our population patronizes the theatre, and they don't want to be doing it all the time.

FIVE steers belonging to John P. Outhwaite broke out of their pasture a few days ago, and started on a tour of observation down the Cleveland mine. They had got quite a distance down the open pits before discovered, and were driven out with the greatest difficulty. They succeeded in climbing over places much too steep for the men.

PERFECTION.—This is the name of a baking powder which Mr. T. M. Bigelow, representing Sprague, Warner & Co., of Chicago, is introducing in this region. By a notice in another place it will be seen that they guarantee it to be pure, and of the very best quality. The powder is manufactured by Sprague, Warner & Griswold.

MESSRS. T. & P. J. Norton have engaged the services of Mr. Lind, of Milwaukee, a fashionable cutter, who will superintend the merchant tailoring department of their store. Mr. Lind comes recommended by some of the best merchant tailors of Milwaukee, and is no doubt high up in the art. Norton is now prepared to suit the most fastidious with custom made clothing.

THE car load of ladies and gentlemen who went down to Cascade Junction to pick berries last Monday, had a fine day for their picnic, and came home late in the day with berry baskets full and lunch baskets empty. Several of the gentlemen had their fair complexions darkened a little by exposure to the sun's rays, but aside from that sad feature they had the jolliest kind of a time, and came home delighted with their day out.

SOMEBODY told a young man from below, who was wandering around the mining locations, that the ground on which he was standing at the time was undermined. "What! do you say that the ground on which I stand is not solid?" excitedly asked the fellow as his face became livid with fear; "is it liable to cave in with me on it?" "Not if you walk carefully," was the reply. And the frightened individual stole away on tiptoe for fear his tread would cause two hundred feet of solid rock to cave in.

PERSONAL.—The family of Mr. B. W. Wright are rusticiating at a farm house near Chocoma.

Mrs. H. B. Latourelle, of Fentonville, Mich., sister of C. L. Sheldon, is a guest at the latter's residence.

MR. Emmonson, formerly of the firm of Prime, Emmonson & Co., of this place, is here on a short stay among his old friends.

MR. N. C. Warner, of Rockford, Ill., spent a few days in this city the present week. He left Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. W., who has been visiting here during the past month.

NEW JUSTICE OFFICE.—In another place in this paper will be found Squire Mildon's card notifying the public that he is ready to attend to all business in his line. His office has been fitted up with an eye to neatness and comfort. Parties having civil business to be attended to will find it a pleasure to call on him, and those having criminal—why it almost makes a person long to be brought up before him in his new office and listen to the song of the "lyers" before him. Mr. Mildon has administered justice in Ishpeming before, and was always acknowledged to be one of our ablest magistrates. The cause of justice will be well guarded at his hands.

WHITE's theatrical troupe returned to Ishpeming Saturday, and appeared before a very slim house. Monday night they played for the benefit of Miss Jennie Kimball, the actress of Billy Marbie's troupe who was taken sick and left here a few weeks ago. The generosity of the troupe in thus trying to help the forsaken girl was fully appreciated by our people, and a crowded house was the result. The actors all tried to do their level best on that evening, and the plays were rendered in such a manner as to elicit repeated applause from the audience. Mr. White and his company have won the good will of the Ishpeming public, and they can count on being well patronized whenever they come this way again.

RUN OVER AND MAIMED.—A shocking accident occurred at the Main street crossing of the C. & N. W. R'y at about 12 o'clock Tuesday night. Frank Cahill, an employe of the road, but off duty at the time, was down town that evening and started to go to his home at the New York location at that late hour. He tried to board a passing locomotive, with the view of riding as far as the mine, but missed his hold and fell with one foot beneath the wheels, and had it crushed in a shocking manner. He was conveyed to his home and surgical aid summoned, when it was found that his foot was injured beyond recovery, and that amputation was necessary, which operation was performed next day. Cahill is a young man. The family of which he is a member has been an unfortunate one, his father having been killed on the railroad only a few years ago.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.—Peter Swanson, a miner at the Winthrop, met with a sudden and horrible death last Mon-

NEGAUNEE.

The liveliest thing about town nowadays is the dust. PICNIC.—A German picnic is to take place on the shore of Teal Lake next Sunday. CYR street has received a fine coat of gravel, by which that avenue has been very much improved.

OTHER TOWNS get the benefit of many excursions from here, and they ought to send some of 'em to this place to even things up a little.

THE apartment in the town hall used as a school room is to be fitted up with new benches and desks similar to those in use at the school houses.

CHARLES THOREN'S new building is entirely bricked up, and the interior is rapidly approaching completion. As a builder, Charley is a success.

MR. GRAY, the banker, has been below the past week. There is a hope that when he returns he will be able to effectually solve the hotel problem.

UNDER an improving iron market the owners of idle hematite mines are becoming more hopeful, and there is at last a faint prospect that we may have another small boom in the near future.

NEGAUNEE is filled with summer visitors, many of our people being at present engaged in entertaining friends or relatives. All express themselves pleased with our city.

EVERY day's train brings tourists to and through this city. That they come to this city is very gratifying, but that they go through without stopping is exactly the reverse. It probably will not be so another season, but it's awful long to wait.

THE Houghton firemen slighted Negaunee during their visit to this county. Why they did so we have failed to learn, for many of them expressed a desire to call here even though they should be compelled to stay over another night to do so.

A SPECIAL train will leave here for Marquette Thursday evening to give people in this place and Ishpeming an opportunity to attend the lecture of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Tickets for the round trip and lecture are placed at $1.75.

ANOTHER EXCURSION.—The Jackson Aid society, of this city, will run an excursion train from Ishpeming to Escanaba next Saturday. The train will leave Ishpeming at 6 A. M. and Negaunee fifteen minutes later. An excursion to Escanaba is just long enough, without being tiresome, and as a good time is anticipated there will no doubt be a large crowd in attendance.

EXCURSIONS are becoming more numerous on the peninsula every year. Half a dozen years ago an excursion here was a genuine novelty; and now we have them nearly every week. They are certainly very enjoyable, and should receive every encouragement. With so many places of interest to visit as there are on the peninsula, you certainly do yourself an injustice in not taking a day off and going out to enjoy yourself away from home. This is being generally acknowledged, and the excursion trains that leave here are usually well filled.

WE learn that it is the intention of the fire department to remodel the new engine house somewhat, and add some much needed improvements. The improvements in question will be a smoke-stack and a pit so as to enable them to fire up the steamer in the building. These improvements are highly necessary, and the only wonder is that they were not thought of when the building was first erected. It was a serious oversight, and the only way to remedy it now is to put them in as soon as possible. This will probably be done; at least, such is the intention.

PERSONAL.—Mr. C. E. Carr arrived home last week to make a short stay at the house of his parents, and shake hands with all of his old friends again. Charley looks natural, and his residence in other climes seems to have agreed with him. When he returns to Elgin, his present home, it will not be alone; he will be accompanied by a bride, a Negaunee young lady, of course. In this respect Charles never went back on his own town. To be continued in our next.

Miss Minnie Sweet, of Chicago, is rusticiating in this city, the guest of Dr. J. C. Johnston.

CAUTION.—DO NOT BE DECEIVED by unprincipled dealers who try to palm off upon you Rock and Rye in place of our TOLU ROCK AND RYE, which is the only MEDICATED article made, the GENUINE having a "OVEN-BREAST" STAMP on each bottle. Extract from Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, D. C., January 26, 1880. GENTLEMEN: I have received a "certified formula" giving the ingredients and relative proportions used in the manufacture of an article which you advertise and sell under the name of "TOLU ROCK AND RYE." This compound, according to your formula, in the opinion of this office, would have a sufficient quantity of the BALSAM OF TOLU to give it all the advantages ascribed to this article in pectoral complaints, while the whisky and the syrup constitute an emulsion rendering the compound an agreeable remedy to the patient. In the opinion of this office, an article compounded according to this formula may properly be classed as a medicinal preparation under the provisions of Schedule A, following Section 1457, U. S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped may be sold by Druggists, Apothecaries and Other Persons without rendering them liable to pay special tax as liquor dealers. Yours Respectfully, (Signed) REEN B. Ayer's Hair Vigor, FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brassy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair, The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
