PROCEEDINGS OF THE MEETING OF THE therefore, the board does now declare this canvass and vote to be as follows:

The whole number of votes cast is 2,501. COUNTY SUPERVISORS, HELD IN THIS

The number cast for the tax is 1,279. The number cast against the tax is 1,222.

Mr. Connors- I support the motion. Mr. Pascoe-On my way down to this city, I talked with several members of this board, and a great many were of the opinion that Marquette city polled a very large vote at this special election; now, sir, before I would vote to adopt that resolution, as a member I want to do my whole duty; I want to see these returns myself, I want to see that they are properly signed. I don't want to vote on that resolution until I see them. I believe the committee is fully competent, it may be all right, and then I want to vote understandingly. I believe this whole board should canvass those returns. Mr. Maynard-I entirely concur with the gentleman. Every member of this Board has heard myself that there was some doubt about the vote. As a member or as a citizen I know nothing about it myself.

Mr. Pascoe-I want to see the returns. Mr. Maynard-I move the returns be passed around. (Resolution withdrawn until the returns are passed around.) Of course, the the unanimous vote of the board was declared board may act its pleasure about levying the elected. This gentleman from Forsyth, in taking his seat briefly thanked the board for tax, whether or not they will do it. Mr. Sedgwick-I move the board take a recess of one hour to enable the auditing committee to have a report ready. Adopted. After an hours' recess the board was called

Mr. Pascoe-Is it necessary to find whether there is a quorum present? adopted as the rules of this board, until fur-ther ordered. Adopted.

Roll is called and a quorum present.

Chairman reads the resolution offered by Mr. Maynard. "That motion has been seconded, what is your pleasure?"

Mr. Sandberg-Owing to me being a foreigner I may not be able to express myself with so much elegance in the English as might be ex pected from a member of the board of supervisors, but I want to say a few words about the feeling of the people up the road. It is that Marquette carried too large a vote, and I heard from men that they can prove that men which was not voters of this town, neither have their paper, voted. Even I heard some say that some of the Ishpeming men were down here to see how the vote, to see the registration vote, how it compare with the vote cast and they could not see it, they didn't want to pay any attention to that, whether they had any right I leave it to the rest. It seems to me they did not cast so many, but when the court. house is to be repaired then they all turn out. During the election a man from up the road told me, I can give the names if necessary that he see a man vote what was from Ishpeming, if that is the case I should say that the vote ought to be called illegal. Mr. Chairman-Any further remarks? Al those in favor of this resolution say ave. Ayes-Messrs. Broad, Christopher, Connors. Cummings, Dwyer, Ellis, Harvey, Hibbert, Johnson, Kirkpatrick, Maas, Peter Pascoe, Maynard, Read, Sandberg, Seigle, Sedgwick, Sproul and chairman. Auditing committees report given in.

By the auditing committee. Your committee to whom was referred the claims and accounts herein enumerated, having had the same under consideration, beg leave to report the same back to the board, with the recommendation that the sums set down in the last column, opposite the names of the respective claimants, be allowed and ordered paid, viz.:

at which was submitted the question of raising a tax for repairs and enlargement of the court-house, and find the said certificates in proper form. The said certificates show 2,501 votes cast upon the question submitted, of which 1.279 were cast "for the tax," and 1.222 were cast "against the tax," as appear by said returns. Mr. Harvey-The sheriff has some leisure Sheriff-The fence around the field is rotten and broken down, and if you are going to fix up the place it is of no use unless you fix the fence to keep the cattle out. The cattle must be kept out or else it won't be no good to do it. Mr. Maynard - How much will it cost -$25 ?

Sheriff-I don't think $25 will do it. Mr. Maynard-I move it be referred to a specified committee to attend to it. Chairman-The committee on supplies and expenditures as a general thing attend to such matters.

Mr. Maynard-I move that the committee on procure proper repairs to be made upon the court house lot, and such sums of money as are necessary to be allowed for such repairs.

Mr. Sedgwick offers the following: "I move that a special committee of three be appointed by the chair to advertise and receive propo sals for repairs upon and to the court-house contemplated by the resolution of March 10th." The Chair appoints Mr. Sedgwick, Mr. Sproul

Mr. Pascoe offers the following resolution: Resolved, That the auditing committee of this board be and are hereby instructed to meet some day previous to the full day to ar-range their business so as to expedite matters. Mr. Maynard-I support it.

Chairman-There is such a rule: (Reads the printed rule.) Mr. Pascoe withdraws his resolution.

Chairman-Before you move to adjourn I wish to say to the board that I distinctly and emphatically refuse to sign any orders for money on this $5,000 claim. I have my reasons for doing so and I will state that within three or four days I have been told that it would interfere with our tax role, and it is the intention to raise trouble, and therefore I take this stand. I will not sign an order unless compelled by law, but if I am compelled I will, but

Mr. streets, Ishpeming. Outhwaite was seventy years old, but hale and hearty up to the time of his last illness. He was in this city two weeks ago, at which time there was no indication of approaching sickness. Deceased has been for many years interested in Lake Superior mining property, and was a heavy mine owner at the time of his death. He was a frequent visitor to our city, where he will be much missed and his sudden death deeply regretted. His remains were taken to Cleveland for interment.

FATAL ACCIDENT .- A fatal accident world. occurred at the Salisbury last Saturday afternoon, the victim being a young miner named John Barkle. Barkle was tending skip in the bottom of No. 1 pit at a place which was considered entirely safe, when a scale of rock slid off the almost perpendicular foot wall, burying him beneath twenty tons of rock. He was killed instantly. The accident was one no human foresight could avert, and the blame can not be attached to any one about the mine. The remains of the unfortunate man were sent to Portage Lake on the following Monday, where his relatives reside.

CLIFFORD .- Edwin Clifford is coming down on Lake Superior people all of a sudden, as it were, this season. THERE is a little pond on the top of Lake Superior hill, which is so modest that very few of our residents know of its existence. This pond got the "swell head" Friday night, the 22nd inst., and finding its banks too narrow to hold it, ran over and came down the hill in a raging torrent, emptying its waters into the Superior hematite mine. Superintendent Hall heard the water rushing into the mine while going home in the evening, and surmising that something was wrong, investigated the matter. He found the water running into the open pit and making its way into the underground levels very fast. He gave the alarm at once, calling all the men out of the mine. When the miners became aware of the danger, there was a scramble to get to the surface, during which some of them lost their lights and were unable to get out until rescued by others. The whole force were strightway set to work to turn the course of the water, which they succeeded in accomplishing before morning. The volume of water which thus suddenly took possession of the mine, covered the bottom level to the depth of

ANNUAL REVIEW

IRON MINING AND OTHER INDUSTRIES OF THE UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN.

THE WINTHROP MINE is in the south-west quarter of section 21, town 47, range 27, and was first opened in the summer of 1870, by Messrs. A. B. Meeker, A. G. Clark and H. J. Colwell, who subsequently organized the Winthrop Iron Company For several years subsequent to this the mine was worked under a lease by Meeker & Colwell, to whom the St. Clair brothers became successors in August, 1877. The leasehold is now the property of the Winthrop Hematite Company, of which J. O. St. Clair is president, E. G. St. Clair, secrethe eleven years that the mine has been wrought, the annual product has been as follows:

The ore is a very rich brown hematite, yielding by analysis from 60 to 65 per cent. of metallic iron, low enough in phosphorus for Bessemer purposes, and therefore eagerly sought after by smelters. The present workings consist of one large open pit, which has been worked out to a depth of 190 feet on the second and third levels, while mining is in progress on the fourth, or 220foot level-and what is called the west end pit, which is being Iron, Copper & Silver wrought on the underground plan. From the third level, in the main or open pit, two drifts have been made northward 70 and 80 feet, respectively, all the way in ore, and connected at the outer ends by a similar drift, 90 feet in length, which likewise is all the way in ore; while another to the north-west opens up a 25-foot stope, the whole showing an immense body of ore lying to the north and north-west of the open pit. There appear to be two lenses which lap each other about midway between the workings, where there is a solid body of ore at least 160 feet in width. The aggregate length of these lenses is about 500 feet, varying in width from 6 feet at the extreme ends, to 160 feet where they lap each other or form a junction. The west end pit is wrought on the underground plan, and is the best of the two. There is certainly a very large body of ore in this part of the mine, and it is being worked in the most approved and systematic manner. The Nevada, or California, system of timbering has been adopted, by means of which the necessity of leaving any considerable number of pillars is obviated, and a much larger product obtainable than would otherwise be possible. The timbers are placed in 12-foot sections, forming perfect cubes, thus constituting a very firm and perfectly secure support. A perfect forest of MINES AND OPTIONS BONDED timber has already been placed in this pit, which is a very large one, and, of course, year by year growing deeper. The Winthrop, from a comparatively small mine, has grown to majestic proportions and will probably mine and ship more ore the present year than any other hematite mine in the Marquette district-the product being estimated by the management at not less than 60,000 tons, about 26,000 tons of which were raised during the winter

Pig Iron, Rails The machinery embraces one upright and one horizontal Crane engine, the steam for which is supplied from three boilers, and which operate five drums, two of which are three feet in diameter, and the others four feet. There are on the location, in addition to the engine house, 35 good and substantial dwellings, and the mine affords employment to an average of about 130 men.

THE COLUMBIA MINE,

Formerly known as the Kloman, was first wrought in the fall of 1872, though no ore was shipped till the succeeding year. The fee of the lands on which the mine is located is owned by the Kloman Iron company, which was organized in December, 1872, with Andrew Kloman, William Coleman, Thos. M. Carnegie, Jacob Houghton and T. B. Brooks as corporators. That company operated the mine till the spring of 1875, when it was abandoned and the several pits allowed to fill with water, in which condition it remained until the spring of 1880, when it was leased to Messrs. Shumway, Wicker & Co., under whose auspices the Columbia Iron company was organized August 16th of the same year, with A. B. Meeker, W. L. Brown, P. B. Shumway, S. C. Bartlett, W. H. Bartlett, and C. M. Wicker as corporators. The present officers of the

The company's leasehold embraces 437 acres of land adjoining and lying north-west of the Republic, on both sides of a branch of the Michigamme river, in sections 1 and 6, Town 46, Ranges 29 and 30. During the years that the Columbia has been wrought, the product has been as follows:

The trend of the ore formation at the Columbia is from southeast to north-west, and the ore belt has been opened and traced for a distance of three-fourths of a mile from the most south-easterly of the company's workings. The dip of the vein is almost vertical and its width varies from four to say 22 feet. The pits are numbered from 1 to 6, respectively, No. 1 being located at the extreme south-east corner of the company's tract, and only about 150 feet north-west of the Kingston pit of the Republic mine. It was at this point that work was originally begun in 1872, the developments having gradually been extended under the old regime over a length of about 1,000 feet of the vein. This pit is 170 feet long and 110 feet deep, between almost perpendicular walls, and about 15 feet wide at its widest part and 5 feet at the narrowest point, its size representing that of the ore body. Work was resumed in No. 1 in the spring of 1880, after it had been filled with water for a period of six years, and from it was mined almost the entire 1880 product of the mine. No work was done, however. during the past winter, operations having been suspended from December until March, when they were resumed. At the time of our visit to the mine a daily average of about sixty tons was being raised from this one pit. The ore is of about the same quality as that of the Republic's Kingston pit, and analyzes as follows:

In his report for 1880 Mr. Wright, commissioner of mineral staphorus is due to the contact of the ore with surface water."

Seventy feet north-west of No. 1 is No. 2 pit, which is from 5 to 6 feet wide, 50 feet long, and 60 feet deep. The ore in this part of ore will be trammed to the skip roads in the former, the vein of the latter being too small to warrant working as a separate pit.

Nos. 3 and 4 are located about 500 feet still further to the northwest and on the upper level constitute one pit 160 feet long and from 6 to 22 feet wide. Near the center, however, the vein is cut by a crossing or horse of rock, thus dividing what would otherwise have been a pit of goodly proportions. No. 3, or that part of the pit lying east of the rock crossing, has been worked out to a depth two engine-houses, one of which contains two boilers, one 34x18 W. Bingham, H. C. Blosom, CLEVELAND, O. 168v Specular an analysis showing 66.06 per cent. of metallic iron.

No. 6 is 300 feet still further to the north-west, in a vein or lens 10 feet in width, and which has been opened over a length of about 40 feet. The ore is a soft red specular, carrying 66 per cent. of metallic iron, but too much phosphorus for Bessemer purposesthough it is but fair to say that the analysis showing this result was made from ore taken out of the pit soon after it had been unwatered by the present lessees, and Mr. Wright, in his last report, makes the same comment in regard to the amount of phosphorus as in the case of No. 1. The strong probability is that when greattary and treasurer, and G. A. St. Clair, superintendent. During er depth is attained in both these pits the percentage of phosphorus will be found much less, if, indeed, the quality of the ore in other respects does not improve. That has been found to be the case at the other mines of the district, and it is fair to suppose that the rule will held good at the Cclumbia.

> The ground to the north-west of No. 6 is lower, and will be fully explored the coming summer with one of Bullock's diamond drills. The present mine workings are located in a range of hills extending along the river, while about 600 yards to the south-west, on a similar range, the company's buildings are located. These are all of the most substantial character, and collectively, constitute a very pleasant little hamlet. The branch track of the M., H. & O. R. R., tramways, docks, pockets, etc., are located in the intervening valley, together with the main engine house and company's office. The machinery consists of a boiler, engine, and one of Merritt's interior gear drums at No. 1 pit, and two boilers, one upright and creherizental engine and four drums-two of Merritt's improved internal friction, one internal gear, and one pinion friction-situated in the main engine house, and which are amply sufficient to meet all the present requirements of the mine.

The Columbia gives employment to an average of about 90 men. for the comfortable housing of whom there are 27 neat frame dences; the other buildings embrace two engine houses, large 1880...... 13,297 frame store, barn, glycerine house and powder magazine. The Columbia has not hitherto been considered a very valuable mining property, a fact mainly due to its abandonment by the old company in 1875; but it is not only possible but probable that the present lessees may succeed in demonstrating the fact that there is much more wealth lying beneath its floors and behind its present walls than can be seen except with the aid of the diamond drill. Explorations with one of Bullock's improved machines have been in progress most of the time since last November, on the stretch of ground north-west of No. 6 pit, and the vein has been traced for a distance of about one-sixth of a mile. The ore was struck in three drill holes at a depth of 80, 120 and 150 feet, respectively, but unfortunately in no place where it was over 41 feet wide. The drill is now at work boring into the hanging walls of the old workings with a view of cross-cutting and thoroughly testing every foot of ground where there is the least probability of finding new lenses. The writer will not be in the least surprised to hear, at almost any time in 'the' near future, of new developments at the Columbia which will amply reward the patient perseverance of the present lessees by making the Columbia one among the most promising of our new mines.

C. M. Wicker, Esq., the general manager, is new to the business. having had but a little more than a year's experience, but seems to have taken hold with a determination to possess himself of a thoroughly practical knowledge of the science of mining, and bids fair to achieve the reputation of a most successful manager.

THE NATIONAL MINE

Is a part of the Lake Superior Iron Co.'s estate, worked under a lease for a term of years by Capt. Samuel Mitchell, of the Saginaw mine, and A. G. Stone, Esq., of Cleveland, Ohio. The leasehold embraces 240 acres in Section 16, Town 47, Range 27, and is situated about one mile and a half south of the city of Ishpeming. Work was commenced the first of April, 1878, since which time the shipments have been as follows:

The ore is a hard granular carrying a small per centage of lime and alumina, but yielding, by analysis, 65 per cent. of metallic iron. It works unusually well in the blast, and for that reason commands a ready market as a first-class ore.

To give the reader anything like an intelligible view of the National the writer must take him over the ground, starting at the most southerly opening-the old Section 16 mine formerly wrought by the Lake Superior Iron Company. This is a large open pit, and is designated as No. 1. At this point, the deposit, at a depth of 120 feet, has narrowed down to 8 feet of pure, and four feet of mixed ore. The trend of the ore belt is nearly north and south, curving a little to the east towards No. 2 pit, about 300 feet distant. No work has been done in No. 1 since the extreme cold weather of the past winter, during which time the water pipes were so badly damaged that it was not deemed expedient to attempt their repair until spring, and the pit was allowed to fill with water. It will, however, be pumped out and work resumed at an early day. No. 2 which, as stated, is about 300 feet almost directly north of No. 1, was opened in July, 1878. At this point the vein takes the form of a concave or curved line, and has been opened over a length of about 150 feet, the width between walls being from 6 to jasper and quartzite forming a very irregular hanging-wall. At the north end of the pit the ore gradually narrows until it pinches out altogether. In this pit the deposit has been mined out to a depth of 300 feet, though there is still a good face of ore remaining in the bottom, with no signs of exhaustion. Continuore was found too lean to justify the expense of mining, and work

The vein, which extends from north to south nearly the entire length of the tract, takes a sudden turn to the west near the northern line-about 1,800 feet distant from No. 4. At this point is located the newest, and, in the writer's opinion, the most promising of the Company's openings-No. 5. There is here a body of clean, pure ore, at least 50 feet thick, with a southerly dip, though the exact extent of the deposit has not yet been determined. In the west end the ore was rather mixed on the upper or open level, but at the time of the writer's visit an underground stope immediately underneath showed nothing but pure ore, and it is now believed that the deposit extends further east and past the point where the north and south vein was supposed to have taken a sudden turn to the west-the theory being that No. 5 is in a separate and distinct vein or deposit, of which the other is but a lateral branch or tribtistics. expresses the opinion that "the high percentage of phos- utary. No. 5 is down 112 feet at the deepest part, and another 25foot level has been commenced.

The system of operations in vogue at the National is based upon is at first necessary to place them in position above the docks. A substantial dock extends along the front of No.'s 2 and 3, on which at the time of the writer's visit, was stocked the winter product of these two pits-about 7,000 tons. At No. 5 there is 300 feet of ties for the handling of ore, as exist at No.'s 2 and 3. There are ing the past dozen years?

50x8 feet, the ore from which is raised through a shaft 135 feet in ery, built by the Webster Camp & Lane Machine Co., and which depth. The ore is a choice red specular, of which the following is consists of two 31x14 tubular boilers, one 16x36 engine, and two 5-foot drums. Only two pumps are required to keep the mine dry -a No. 6 Norwalk in No.'s 2 and 3, and a No. 4 Cameron in No. 5

-the water power afforded by a small stream being utilized to operate that in No.'s 2 and 3. Very little trouble is experienced in keeping the mine comparatively dry, and if all the water could be concentrated in one place, a single No. 4 pump would be sufficient to raise it. The mining force averages about 100, and there are on the location 27 comfortable dwellings for the accommodation of the men employed. Everything about the National betokens a most careful management, and, indeed, it could not be otherwise with Capt. Sam. Mitchell in general charge, assisted by a skilled miner like Joel Williams as local superintendent. The National promises well for a largely increased product in the near future, and there can be but little doubt that it will ultimately develop into one of the best mines of the district.

THE MITCHELL MINE.

is located on Sections 21 and 28, Town 47, Range 27, and embraces a tract of 200 acres leased from the Lake Angeline Iron Company, by the Mitchell Mining Company, of which last the officers are as

President-Samuel MITCHELL;

Vice-President-IGNATZ FREDERICHS: Secretary and Treasurer-Charles Merryweather.

The first work at the Mitchell was done in 1872, in the fall of which year the Shenango Iron Company was organized and became the lessee, the mine being known as the Shenango until 1877, when it passed into the hands of the present owners. The ore is a rich, blue hematite, an analysis of which shows 67.62 of metallic iron, .60 of silica and .172 of phosphorus. The annual product has been as follows:

Year. 1872..

The old Shenango opening was located within a stone's throw of the most easterly workings of the Winthrop, but about a year and a half ago it was entirely abandoned, and filled up with drift from a new pit some distance further east, and which now constitutes the mine proper. This newer pit is in a lens of ore 250 feet long and 40 feet wide, lying between very nearly perpendicular walls. It was wrought as an open pit to a depth of about 80 feet, when an underground stope was started, since which time little or no work has been done on the upper level. Work, however, will be resumed in the open pit at an early day, if, indeed, it has not already been. The south wall is apparently of soapstone, though the greenstone formation is some 300 feet further to the south, between which and the pit it is believed there will be found another and possibly larger lens of pure ore. The general trend of the formation is east and west, the strike being to the east. Twentyfive feet east of the open pit a drift cross-cut has been made to the south through 93 feet of soapstone, at which point an apparently large body of ore was struck, the extent of which, however, has not yet been determined. Drifts have been made eastward in the vein a considerable distance from the main pit, showing an unbroken run of ore in that direction. A shaft 350 feet east of the open pit, is down 70 feet, 10 feet of which is in ore. Though the Mitchell has during the past two years gradually increased her product, it is fair to say that operations have been mostly confined to exploring and opening up new ground, with a view to a more successful prosecution of the work in the future. That policy is still being pursued, and as the mine is being wrought in an irregular kind of way until the new shaft can be utilized, it would be difficult for the writer to give anything like an intelligent description of the workings. It is sufficient to say that the lens in which the work is being carried on carries a width of about 40 feet, over a length of about 250 feet, with the ore still continuing in the east end. The management confidently expects not only to raise an increased product the present year, but at the same time, to place the mine in the best possible condition for perma-sume at an early day, a most prominent place among the hematite mines of the district. The machinery consists of one boiler, 54 inches in diameter and 24 feet long, one 14x24 engine, and three of Webster, Camp & Lane's 4-foot drums. The mine gives employment to about 75 men, and is under the direct superintendence of Capt. Thomas Walters. There are 20 comfortable houses on the location, and the mine enjoys the advantage of competing lines for the transportation of its product to the lake-side.

> On Sunday night, the 17th inst., the east and west branches of the Fond du Lac river overflowed their banks and inundated that portion of Fond du Lac lying between the east branch and the C. & N. W. R'y track, the water being in some places three and one-half feet deep. Many residents were driven out of their houses and had to take refuge in barns and vacant houses east of the river, though the report circulated Monday morning that seven men were drowned proved to be false. The ice moved down the torrent, striking the bridges such terrible blows that it was expected they would be torn from their very foundations, and almost all traffic between the two sides was suspended. Wednesday morning the water began to subside, and by 5 o'clock had gone down two feet. The bridge near St. Cloud on the Cheboygan & Fond du Lac railroad was washed out on 19th, and the narrow gauge road was flooded for some miles, thus suspending allt rafficover these two roads for a time.

MARK the prediction! Just as surely as the legislature attempts to confer upon any railway company lands embraced within the old Ontonagon and State Line grant which have been sold by the government, and for which individuals and corporations ing north we cross 25 feet of "dead ground," beyond which lies hold government receipts and patents, just so surely will never No. 3 pit, where a shaft was sunk to a depth of 100 feet, from the any part of that defunct grant be applied to the building of a railbottom of which the ore was stoped out to the surface over a road to Ontonagon! Congress can nor will pass no law or permit length of about 100 feet. The vein at this point is small, and there anything to be done to impair the obligation of contracts which is not much ore remaining to be taken out. A short distance the government has entered into, and if the contemplated robnorth of No. 3 is what was to have been No. 4; but in sinking the bery is persisted in that body will have no other alternative than to take such action as shall be necessary to complete the torfeitare of the whole grant. As usual the wise heads of Ontonagon have bitten off more than they are able to chew.

> Considering that the State of Michigan has already received 50,000 acres of land in excess of the amount granted by the act of 1856, in the way of exchange, won't somebody please tell us how she can now honestly lay claim to any part of the old Ontonagon grant! The fact is, the state consented to an exchange of the old Marquette and State Line and Ontonagon and State line grants for other lands, through which exchange it profited largely, and any attempt to possess itself of the lands so exchanged, more particularly of those which have been sold and which have paid taxes to the state for a dozen years or more, cannot be regarded by any honest man other than a bald-faced scheme to rob private individuals in behalf of a thieving corporation.

THE daily papers all over the west chronicle accounts of damaging floods all along the Missouri river, with no signs of the best approved and most practical methods; in fact, so far as abatement. At Montevido, Minn., many buildings are surthe mine is a good, if not strictly first-class, red specular, but, as the handling of the product is concerned there are few, if any, rounded and some have been carried away. The water has may be inferred from the dimensions of the pit, the vein, or lens, mines in the district possessed of equal facilities. The lay of the invaded the businesss treets and threatens to undermine is quite narrow. It is the intention of the management to drive a ground is such that the side-tracks in front of all the openings are costly buildings. At Granite Falls bridges were carried drift from No. 1 into No. 2, on a lower level, through which the laid on a gently descending grade to the main track, so that a away and the highest point reached yet known. At Mankato whole train of cars can be loaded without any other shunting than and St. Peter the water is above the levees and track, and still rising.

Work will be resumed on the Iron Cliffs stone engine house early next week, and continued till the structure is finished.

THE country roads, which have been are drying up fast and will soon be in excellent condition.

THE rumbling of the ore trains is growing perceptibly louder. It will soon be incessant, and then all hands will be happy again.

THE hematite mud has behaved itself surprisingly well this spring. The in that direction, however. C. W. TAYLOR, the Sands woodman,

THEY are already playing Presbyterian billiards in this place. The balls sometimes get lost in snow drifts, but aside from the delay in looking for them this causes no inconvenience.

AND now comes the time when the tinerant street vender will light his lamp of an evening on the Partridge creek bridge and become a millionaire through the gullibility of our mining population. PEOPLE who have garbage on their premises which they want to remove, complain that the city has provided no ground on which to dump the same. Even a nuisance ground is hard to get in our town. A SPECIAL meeting of the common council was held Wednesday evening for the purpose of electing a mayor protem. Mr. O. E. Downing was elected for the coming year. No other business was transacted. If the new court-house is built beween this place and Negaunee (an old project) it is hoped they will make it a movable one in order to enable them to change it about with the wind, and slaughter house.

DICKENS PARTY.—The ladies' reading club have issued invitations for a Dickens party to be held at Austin's hall Monday evening next. All those invited are assigned some character in Dickens which they are expected to dust will make up for all shortcomings represent in costume. The party will be a unique affair, and certainly very entertaining. PAT LYONS has quite politics and left town. Regarding his prospects of making a living as a politician he declares that "a bird in the hand is the noblest work of God, and a rolling stone is worth two in the bush," hence his determination to let politics alone. And furthermore he says that "Gladfield's" death made him fear a like fate if he kept in the political field.

"UNCLE Robert" Nelson still persists in his determination to sell his hotel to the highest bidder on June 10th if not previously sold. Uncle Robert must be somewhat off the right track, or his good sense has gone off and left him entirely, to offer to sell this elegant house for so much below the cost, merely in order to get rid of it. If he disposes of it he may be sorry, and we hope he will regret it sorely, too.

THE city library is constantly being supplied with new books, which is having the effect to overcrowd its quarters. The present council room ought to be set aside for library purposes. In their present quarters the books are so crowded that it is next to impossible to keep them in their proper places, and besides, they cannot be BRUSH up your old felt hat, put on properly taken care of when pilled up your water tight top boots and get so closely. > THE right way to treat the press for past favors is to carry your job printing to any but a newspaper office. This seems to be the principle which some people in this place practice now, but which they may find to their disadvantage some day. We do not speak for the MINING JOURNAL alone now, but for the press in general. One good turn deserves another, and turning your back on those who favor you is not a good turn by any means. GOLD street is taking precedence over Silver street, as the latter is lined only with ruins and the former will soon have a number of fine buildings.

Work has been commenced on Edward Lobb's new building on Gold street near the depot. It will be a two story frame with brick on the outside.

Jos. Kirkpatrick, Esq., is away on a trip to Pittsburgh. He will return in the course of a week equipped to run the Palmer mine under a new name and organization.

AMUSEMENTS have been scarce for the last six months. We are to have Austin B. Morse & Co. a big dose next month, however, as Herbert's theatrical combination will play here a week.

A GRAVEL walk has been built from D. G. Stone's store west, along the road passing No. 7 pit. It is a much needed improvement, as people from the Jackson location will not have to wade in the mud coming to town if they don't want to walk on the railroad

THE removal of the Ganey building leaves a gap, but large as it is, the gap is not near so unsightly as the building was. We could afford to make a few more such gaps in this place. There is them with heavy draught, and good driving nothing so wholesome to a town as the horse tearing down of such old rookeries.

NEGAUNEE is undergoing a sort of awakening in a business sense. There 652tf is more activity in mercantile business circles this spring than has been seen for several years. New stores and firms are seen on every side, and there is an old time appearance of things in general about town which does one's heart good to see.

If the railway management is not careful it will have a bill of damages to settle one of these days. There has hardly been a day during the past fortnight that fire has not been started by sparks thrown out by locomotives while ascending the grade. The locomotives ought to be provided with spark arresters, in order to avoid the ever present danger of a serious conflagration.

The circuit court was in session last Tuesday just long enough to turn out two full citizens of the United States, after which it adjourned until May 17th.

Look out for the marshal; he will be around before long with the suggestion that all the yards and alleys be cleaned and the rubbish carted outside the village limits, on the penalty that if you don't do it yourselves he will do it for you. He solemnly asseverates that he will enforce the village ordinance in behalf of cleanliness if it costs him a leg.

Mr. C. F. Conrad, of Dexter, Mich., is here looking after his iron interests on section 16, town 49, range 33, which was explored during the past winter, by Judge Hendricks. If the ore proves to be of merchantable quality, he will at once proceed to open the mine. The ice in the bay is rapidly breaking up.

There are several bad holes in the sidewalks on Railroad and Third streets, which if not repaired sooner or later will cost some one a broken leg, and the village a suit for damages.

MICHIGAMME. - Hostis honori invidia.

A chimney sweep has been making himself rather numerous about town the past week. The remains of an infant son of Mr. Rich were buried in our cemetery last Sunday.

School superintendent E. H. Fowle gives notice that he will hold a teachers' examination in this village Saturday, May 7th.

From the numerousness of "game" fingers noses, darkly complected eyes, etc., it may be supposed that the base ball season has been properly inaugurated. A very enjoyable party was participated in last Thursday evening at the Michigamme house, under the auspices of our Waltz club. The Odd-fellows held a social at their hall last Tuesday evening, which was participated in by the fraternity of this place and many from Negaunee.

Navigation will soon have opened, on our lake, and we understand some of our' young people in anticipation of the fact; have ordered a supply of boats, which, it is said, are to be models of beauty.

Our streets are becoming quite dry, which fact is relishable to those necessitated to pedestrianize them to any great extent.

The parties who have fallen into the reckless habit of conveying dead dogs across the line into Spurr township and leaving them unburied by the side of the public thoroughfare, will doubtless be soon proffered the opportunity of repenting of the "errors of their ways," as it were. Ce monde est plein de fons.
