

FAITH.

Pain would I hold my lamp of light aloft. Like a saint, I built high above the roof...

ROMANCE OF A GLOVE.

"Does it please you, Katy?" "Oh, it is splendid! I could not have suited myself half so well had I been left to choose."

"But you have not seen the wine-cellar yet. It is a treasure of its kind. Let's go down again."

"Why, Katy, you are unreasonable. I did not know you carried your temperance opinions so far as that. Of course I shall keep wine in my house, and entertain my friends with it too."

"But when Arthur closed the door and put the key in his pocket, in the chill, waning light of the December afternoon and gave Katy his arm to see her home, it was all 'broken up' between them, and a notice, 'To Let,' was put over the door of the pretty house the very next morning."

"It was the most foolish thing to do; but then lovers can always find something to quarrel about."

"They parted with a cool 'Good evening' at the door of Katy's lodging-house. She went up to her room to cry; he went home hurt and angry, but secretly resolving to see her again and give her a chance to say that she was in the wrong. He would wait a few days, however; it would not do to let her see that he was in a hurry to 'make it up.'"

"He did wait, nearly a week, and when he called at the modest lodging-house where he had been wont to visit so often he was told that Miss Gardiner had been gone three days."

"He looked at the little glove a long time. He had thought it might belong to one of the factory girls, as he found it near the lodging-house. But it did not look like a 'factory hand's' glove. He would ask Maggie Lloyd, at any rate; so he put it carefully into his pocket until he should make his calls the next morning."

"He had suffered the glove to become so associated with the memory of a past that was sacred to him, that he felt his cheeks burn and his hand tremble as he drew it forth to show it to Maggie, who was sitting, in the comfort of convalescence, in an arm-chair by the window watching the handsome young doctor write the prescription for her benefit."

"By the way, Miss Maggie, do you know whose glove this is?" "Maggie knew it at once. It was Miss Gardiner's glove."

"The name made his heart beat again. 'Is she one of the factory hands?' 'Yes; but she lodges with Mrs. Howell, quite out of town, almost; she was here to see me yesterday.'"

"Oh! I see!" said he, not the most relevantly. "And can you tell me how to find Mrs. Howell's house? I suppose I could go by and restore the glove to its owner."

"Maggie thought this unnecessary trouble, but she gave the required direction and he went out, saying to himself: 'It can't be my Katy, of course, but the glove shall go back to its owner.'" and honest factory girl." She rose, made a little bow and a flourish with her small hands, and we all laughed, although she had said nothing funny.

"Milly," said she, "please light the lamp and get the magazine, while I hunt up my thimble and thread. Ladies, I find myself under the necessity of mending my gloves this evening. Oh, poverty! where is thy sting? A shabby glove, I do believe, for nothing hurts me like that, unless it be a decaying boot."

She sat and patiently mended the little rents, while I read aloud; and when she had finished, the gloves looked almost new.

The next day, was Saturday and we had a half holiday. Katy and I went to make some trifling purchases, and on our way home stopped at the big boarding-house to see one of the girls who was ill.

When we came out, Katy ran across the street to get a magazine from the news shop, and came hurrying up to overtake me before I turned the corner. She had the magazine open and one of her hands was unglued; but it was not until we reached home that she found she had lost a glove. It was too late then to go and look for it. We went and searched the next morning, but could not find it.

Katy mourned for it. "It was my only pair, girls," said she tragically, and it is a loss that cannot be repaired."

What people call a "panic" had occurred in financial circles in the spring after Arthur Craig had lost his Kat, and almost without a day's warning he found himself a poor man. He left his affairs in the hands of his creditors, having satisfied himself that they could gather enough from the wreck to save themselves.

He had been educated for a physician, though fortune made a merchant of him. Learning from a friend that there was an opening for a doctor in Fenwick, he came here and began to practice.

Dr. Sewell had gone off on a visit, leaving his patients in charge of the new doctor, and so it came about that on that Saturday evening he was on his way to visit Maggie Lloyd, the sick girl at the lodging-house, when, just after turning the corner near the news-shop, he saw a brown glove lying on the pavement. He went about to pass it by, but a man's instinct to pick up anything of value that seems to have no owner, made him put it in his pocket. He forgot all about it the next minute.

But when he had made his call and returned to his consulting room, in taking a paper from his pocket the glove fell out, and he picked it up and looked at it with idle curiosity.

It was old, but well preserved. It had been mended often, but so neatly as to make him regard mending as one of the fine arts. It had a strangely familiar look to him. Little and brown and shapely it lay on his knee, bearing the very form of the hand that had worn it.

And as he gazed at it there came to him the memory of an hour, many months past, when he had sat by Katy's side on the green sofa in the dining-room of "their house" (alas!) and watched her put her small hands into a pair of brown gloves so much like this one.

Ever since that never-to-be-forgotten day the vision of the lost love, sitting there in the fading light, slowly drawing on her glove, her sweet eyes filling as they talked—quarreled, we should say, perhaps—had gone with him as an abiding memory of her, until he had come to know each shade of the picture—the color of the dress, the ribbon at her throat and the shaded plume in her hat.

He looked at the little glove a long time. He had thought it might belong to one of the factory girls, as he found it near the lodging-house. But it did not look like a "factory hand's" glove. He would ask Maggie Lloyd, at any rate; so he put it carefully into his pocket until he should make his calls the next morning."

"By the way, Miss Maggie, do you know whose glove this is?" "Maggie knew it at once. It was Miss Gardiner's glove."

"The name made his heart beat again. 'Is she one of the factory hands?' 'Yes; but she lodges with Mrs. Howell, quite out of town, almost; she was here to see me yesterday.'" there are no liquors found on her side-board nor at her table. One day I heard Arthur say, "You were a silly child, Kate, to run away from me. I should have given up the point at last, I know."

"But there would have been a splendid cellar and the ten thousand a year," answered she. "It would have been such a temptation. We are safer as it is, dear."

The latest man who has been made happy through the use of this valuable liniment is Mr. James A. Conlan, Librarian of the Union Catholic Library of this city. The following is Mr. Conlan's indorsement: UNION CATHOLIC LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, 204 DEARBORN STREET, CHICAGO, SEPT. 16, 1880.

The Mining Journal.

ISHPEMING, MAY 14, 1881.

CHOPAT, who is always improving the premises about the Commercial house, has built a new sidewalk on both fronts of the building.

"WHAT LUCK?" cried Jones to a shabby looking individual just in from a fishing expedition. "Lots of bites," declared the other as he stroked his swollen cheeks, "but nary a fish."

THE Nortons have leased a large room on the second floor of McKey's building wherein to manufacture custom made clothing, their former quarters being too small for their growing trade.

MALMBORG, the baker, has given his store and bakery on Division street a thorough overhauling, which has much improved it in appearance. Mr. Malmborg is a first-class baker, as any person can ascertain by an inspection of his goods. He is devoting himself more to the wholesale trade now, and there is no good reason why he should not receive a liberal patronage from the dealers here, as he supplies a better article than the wholesale bakeries below, can furnish to the dealers fresher and in small quantities on short notice and without the cost of transportation. All this he says he will guarantee, which certainly ought to give him the preference to bakers outside the city. The MINING JOURNAL recommends deserving home industries, thinks Malmborg's bakery is such, and cheerfully commends it to the patronage of our dealers.

FIRE POLICE.—There is a provision in our city charter for the appointing of a fire police which has up to this time been a dead letter, but which will not be so considered any longer. By order of the city authorities a force of five fire policemen have been appointed who, during a fire, will be vested with all the powers of the municipal police. The men appointed for this service are: John Jones, Patrick Donahoe, J. Lerreggen, Timothy Hughes and E. F. Schiller. They are to be provided with stars which they will wear during a fire; their duty will consist of saving and protecting goods, and they will have the right to arrest any one caught pilfering. The move is in the right direction, and the police will be of incalculable value when a fire of any magnitude occurs. The force appointed has been well chosen, all the men being such as will be sure to do their full duty.

A CORRESPONDENT from the New England mine writes us a most touching letter, coupled with the request to put his remarks "on our paper." Of course we will; we never refuse such requests. The young man, for such he most assuredly is, although the letter is of the neuter gender so far as the signature indicates, must be a victim of unrequited love. He goes on to tell how a certain miss is not satisfied "with the arts she has broken she is trying to win two gentlemen more." He ought to find consolation in the companionship which he seems to have in his misery. What a terrible time those New England mine young men must have with a regular heart breaker let loose in their midst. Our correspondent complains further of the boasts of this heartless miss over the ruin she has wrought among masculine respiratory organs. One of the young men she declares to have mashed completely "for she actually said he gave her ten cents." Now our informant denies the possibility of such "stuff." He knows the young men out his way, and however badly they may have been mashed, he knows that not one of them would part with the large sum of ten cents so easily. No, sir; she told too unlikely a story and was caught. The complainant calls her soft for trying to palm off such a tale, but still he acknowledges her hard enough to break all the boys' hearts. He says it would be a great blessing to the location if she could be taken away. This is no doubt true, for it is evident that in case she stays there the young men will fill early graves. But he does not tell us how he proposes to get rid of her. Perhaps he wants us to take her away. This we positively refuse to do. We can't afford to have our heart broken; no, sir. We can only advise the young man to subscribe for the MINING JOURNAL, which is an infallible balm to a broken heart, and liable to cure him of his goneness.

THE appointment of Prof. V. B. Cochran, of Negaunee, to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is one which not only does honor to one of the best educators in the state, but one that will be eminently satisfactory to the whole people.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The following decision, rendered and filed in the Supreme Court, on an appeal from the Marquette circuit, is copied entire, as being of important interest to more than one section of the upper peninsula, there being several other similar cases now pending:

SIMPSONS and others vs. WARD and others. Filed April 13, 1881. A graded school district has no authority to attach to it unorganized territory. The only way of dealing with unorganized territory is by organizing it into primary districts.

Appeal from Marquette. Dan H. Bull, for complainants and appellants. W. P. Healy, for defendants. GRAYES, J. The complainants are owners of large bodies of land situated within the limits of the township of Michigan as at present organized.

The district authorities subsequently converted it into a graded school district. Prior to this change of status which was self-elected no enlargement of territory was possible beyond nine sections.

It is now understood that the Northwestern Railway management has decided to build a branch line to the Metropolitan and Northwestern mines, on the Felch Mountain Range, from a point on the main line midway between Ford River and Bark River stations.

SHIPMENTS.—The following is a statement of lake shipments of iron ore for the season of 1881, up to and including May 11:

Table with 2 columns: Location (Cleveland, Jackson, Michigan, New York, Republic, Superior) and Amount (1,394, 1,107, 1,289, 3,684, 871, 1,729). Total: 10,152.

regulated newspapers, and, so far, as the MINING JOURNAL is concerned, it will never be found unwilling to correct any error it may have unwittingly committed.

HENRY CHISHOLM, of Cleveland Rolling mill fame, and president of the Saginaw Mining Company, died at his home in Cleveland on the evening of the 9th inst.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—An adjourned meeting of the Common Council of the city of Marquette was held on May 2nd, 1881, at which the mayor presided, and the roll being called by the recorder, there were present, aldermen Connors, Deasy, Prentice, Mullyaly, Lyons, Williams and Mack.

Finance, Taxation and Gaslights—Aldermen Lyons, Connors, and Prentice. Police, Claims and Grievances—Aldermen Williams, Mack, and Deasy.

STREETS, BRIDGES AND PUBLIC GROUNDS—Aldermen Pickands, Mullyaly, and Williams. It was then moved and carried that the salaries of the several officers be continued the same as last year.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS. The bond of Samuel W. Bailey in the sum of forty thousand dollars, with James M. Wilkinson and James Pickands as sureties, was presented, approved and ordered placed on file.

THE bonds of liquor dealers of the city of Marquette were then presented and approved. A petition was presented from the property holders on Sixth street requesting that Sixth street, between Washington and Bluff streets, be graded, macadamized and have sidewalks laid thereon.

GOOD LORD, how this world is given to lying! The memorial of the county of Ontonagon in favor of the passage of the Ontonagon & Brule River Land Grab, signed by "Timothy Nester, agent for Ontonagon county," says: "Acting upon this grant of this state, this corporation (O. & B. R. Co.) at once entered actively upon the work of constructing this road, and proceeded until interrupted by the winter!"

THE Ontonagon & Brule River land grant bill was to be made the special order in the house at Lansing last Thursday, but we have no information as to the result.

CORRECTION.—In his paper on the Sterling mine the editor stated the width of vein at from 8 to 10 feet. The statement was not based on actual measurement, and he is now satisfied that his estimate was at least four feet short of the mark—Mr. Wright's measurement showing an average width of 14 feet.

regulated newspapers, and, so far, as the MINING JOURNAL is concerned, it will never be found unwilling to correct any error it may have unwittingly committed.

HENRY CHISHOLM, of Cleveland Rolling mill fame, and president of the Saginaw Mining Company, died at his home in Cleveland on the evening of the 9th inst.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—An adjourned meeting of the Common Council of the city of Marquette was held on May 2nd, 1881, at which the mayor presided, and the roll being called by the recorder, there were present, aldermen Connors, Deasy, Prentice, Mullyaly, Lyons, Williams and Mack.

Finance, Taxation and Gaslights—Aldermen Lyons, Connors, and Prentice. Police, Claims and Grievances—Aldermen Williams, Mack, and Deasy.

STREETS, BRIDGES AND PUBLIC GROUNDS—Aldermen Pickands, Mullyaly, and Williams. It was then moved and carried that the salaries of the several officers be continued the same as last year.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS. The bond of Samuel W. Bailey in the sum of forty thousand dollars, with James M. Wilkinson and James Pickands as sureties, was presented, approved and ordered placed on file.

THE bonds of liquor dealers of the city of Marquette were then presented and approved. A petition was presented from the property holders on Sixth street requesting that Sixth street, between Washington and Bluff streets, be graded, macadamized and have sidewalks laid thereon.

GOOD LORD, how this world is given to lying! The memorial of the county of Ontonagon in favor of the passage of the Ontonagon & Brule River Land Grab, signed by "Timothy Nester, agent for Ontonagon county," says: "Acting upon this grant of this state, this corporation (O. & B. R. Co.) at once entered actively upon the work of constructing this road, and proceeded until interrupted by the winter!"

SHIPMENTS.—The following is a statement of lake shipments of iron ore for the season of 1881, up to and including May 11:

Table with 2 columns: Location (Cleveland, Jackson, Michigan, New York, Republic, Superior) and Amount (1,394, 1,107, 1,289, 3,684, 871, 1,729). Total: 10,152.

Mr. James McKecher, of the Spurr, who recently went to Leadville to look after the interests of the Northern Mining Exploring Co., returned home last Tuesday.

Mr. John Minnis is now in the employ of Ishpeming parties, and conducting explorations at Three Lakes.

Mr. A. C. Roll has just finished the papering of the entire interior of his hotel, and will make other improvements.

Mr. William Arenander has taken up his residence in the Blomgren house, which is one of the best in this place.

The "Take-it-easy" base ball club will play the "Pinafores" in this place very soon, the results of which will be made known in this department as soon as practicable.

Mr. A. L. Johnson recently went to Chicago with Peter Sundberg to the end that the latter might regain his eyesight under medical treatment, which he lost in a mine accident some time since.

Miss Nettie Carkeek, of Clarksburg, visited her many friends in this place this week.

Mr. Bassett, who has been in the employ of the school board here for a brief period of time, has taken up his residence in the Holland and Scott building next west of the bank.

A pall of gloom has been cast over our village by the sudden and unexpected death of Annie O'Neil, one of Michigan's most fair and respected daughters.

CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY. Time of departure of passenger trains from IshpeMING, in effect 1881: Leave for Chicago and the East... 1:15 P. M. Arrive from " " 1:35 " " E. D. BRIGHAM Agent.

DR. CARPENTER is away on a western tour, and will be absent about a month.

F. P. TILLSON left on Tuesday for lower Michigan, and will be gone about two weeks.

THE street vender has not yet put in an appearance, but he is sure to come. The organ grinder also is a little late.

BICYCLES are becoming numerous in our streets, and will become as great a nuisance as the boy and dog sled before long.

THE marshal has notified the public in general to remove all garbage to the nuisance ground, or suffer the just penalty of the law.

CLIFFORD had the best troupe, but Herbert had the best houses, and of the two the latter is certainly the most preferable—to the managers.

How it does eternally knock the romance out of any performance to let down that advertising curtain at the close of an act at Austin's hall.

THAT water works scheme wants to be hurried along if it is to be brought to a realization this year. It's a big job, and cannot be done in a day or a month.

THE magnates of the Northwestern road paid this city a short visit Saturday last, arriving and leaving in a special car. They visited some of the mines during their stay.

ONE of the genuine drawbacks of these good times is the facility with which every little hole in the wall can be and is turned into a lucrative rum shop. The saloons are on the increase.

NOTHING so useful and ornamental as these patched up sidewalks with planks varying from two to three inches in thickness. They make the pedestrians look well to their foot-steps at all times.

P. OUDERKIRK & Co. have started their ice wagon on its rounds, and will deliver ice to their customers tri-weekly. The demand for the article promises to be fully as large as the supply.

THE assessment rolls will be open for public inspection at the council room next Monday and Tuesday, when any taxpayer who thinks his assessment is too high can get a hearing from the board.

A PULLMAN car is to be attached to the passenger train on the Northwestern road and run through between here and Chicago. This is another step forward for the division, and shows that the company is not lacking in its appreciation of this town and region.

THE large new stone machine shop of the Lake Superior Iron Co. is now occupied. It is the most perfect and complete building of the kind on Lake Superior. The building formerly occupied for the same purpose is utilized as a carpenter shop.

AND now we are to have a first-class musical entertainment in IshpeMING after all. Remenyi, the celebrated violinist, is coming here with his company under the management of Mr. Blake, of Marquette, next Friday evening, the 20th inst. Of course he will have a full house.

COMPLAINTS are being made that parties out at Deer Lake are transgressing the law by fishing with giant powder cartridges. To such parties the MINING JOURNAL would say beware, for there is heavy penalty on destroying fish in this ruthless manner, and it will not hesitate to expose parties engaged in it.

THE IshpeMING Foundry is turning out a large number of new boilers for mining and other work. They have lately completed and have on exhibition also a couple of Merritt's new wood friction hoisting drums built on the latest and most improved plan, and which are genuine models of mine machinery.

THE Lake Superior company is inaugurating a system of explorations which are to cover all its land in this section. The explorations are to be thorough, and not so much with a view to opening new mines as to determining the exact value of the company's property and laying out work for future tions.

SOME idea of the great demand for buildings and building lots can be had from the fact that the Cleveland company is said to have leased every lot on Cleveland avenue and nearly all belonging to it north of that street. Most of the parties holding leases are to build dwellings as fast as carpenters can be found to put them up.

NOW-A-DAYS, when the enthusiastic IshpeMINGite wants to feel rich, he unfolds the various stock certificates in his possession and figures up for himself fabulous wealth. He builds a castle in the air, with these certificates for a foundation. If there is only iron enough in the foundation the superstructure is sure to stand pretty firm.

SEE Mallanney's new announcement in to-day's paper.

C. H. SEABORG is confined to his room at the Nelson house with a severe bilious attack.

MORE SHOWS.—A legerdemain performer by the name of Signor Rosco will display his slight-of-hand tricks at Austin's hall, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

HERBERT's theatrical troupe is in luck. It seems to have captured the popular heart, and has been drawing large houses all the week. The acting of the company gives the utmost satisfaction, if the demonstrations of the audience are any indication. The troupe is a pretty fair one, although it has no stars.

WONDER if John Jones has ceased to be a philanthropist and put away his sprinkler for good? We hope not. IshpeMING would be an unendurable place without the aid of John and his water cart. But there is no need to fear; John can't stand it himself, and with a little encouragement will be sure to trot it out as soon as the dust settles down to its summer's work.

WHEN you see Mr. Jochim's name in our advertising columns you must be reminded that he keeps as complete a supply of hardware as money can buy—a large and elegant stock, which he sells at the most reasonable prices. No matter what you may want in the hardware line don't hesitate to go there and you will be sure to find just what you want, from a darning needle to a five hundred dollar hotel range.

BUILDERS are making frantic efforts to secure carpenters, but find it almost impossible such is the demand for them on every side. One of our building firms have sent to Canada for carpenters, and find that even there, outside of the home of the free, they are getting good wages and are not anxious to come to this region. Carpenters in other localities who want to strike a veritable boom will do well to come here.

THE best way to raise green stuffs is to raise them off the counters at Outhwaite's meat market. You are then always certain of a good crop, and a prime article. Outhwaite's market is the most productive piece of ground we ever saw. The first of the season, and the best of every kind of fruit and vegetable, grows there in profusion, and can be picked fresh at any time. To be one of Outhwaite's customers is as good as having a garden of your own under cultivation, or an orchard bearing fruit. Mr. Outhwaite will pay particular attention to the cultivation of his very productive market this season, and is sure to have the earliest of everything good on hand at all times.

THE OLD STORY.—A serious accident occurred at the New York mine Saturday last whereby two miners were badly mutilated. It happened the usual way—they were waiting for a charge to go off, and after giving it what they considered reasonable time, concluded to investigate, which they did at a terrible cost—the charge exploded just as the men reached the place—and the men, whose names are Charles Nelson and Charles Ericson, barely escaped with their lives. Nelson received the blast in his face and sustained injuries which may result in the loss of an eye and the disfigurement of his features. Ericson was struck in the abdomen by pieces of rock, and received severe internal injuries. Both are rapidly recovering, however.

STOLE A GUN.—A Frenchman living at the Winthrop, named Delarpantier, stole a gun from J. W. Jochim's hardware store Tuesday, while Mr. J. was waiting on a customer in the rear part of his ware-room. He would have escaped detection had he not been too anxious to realize from his ill-gotten property at once. He offered the gun for sale here in town the same day he stole it, enabling the officers to get clue to him at once. He was called upon early Wednesday morning by an officer of the law armed with a warrant, and brought to town, protesting innocence until cornered with his guilt, when he offered to make any reparation to be let off. Out of sympathy for his family he was allowed to return the gun and depart after paying the costs of his arrest.

THE fire department turned out for practice Monday evening, and threw some water just to keep their hand in. There was a full turnout, with the usual complement of lookers-on to be drenched. Speaking of the fire department reminds us of our omission to mention last week the change in the leadership; at its last meeting the department elected a chief and assistants for the coming year, as follows: Chief, D. F. Wadsworth; first assistant, E. G. St. Clair; second assistant, T. F. Donahoe. From this it will be seen that chief Outhwaite has withdrawn from the leadership of the department, a post he has so long and honorably held. His successor takes equally as great interest in the department, however, and will be sure to keep the organization where Mr. Outhwaite placed it—at the head of the volunteer fire departments of the upper peninsula, if not of the entire state.

ENTERPRISE, thy name is peanuts. A peanut butcher has erected a stand in the lobby of the post-office.

MR. SCADDEN has been imposed upon. Some individual has induced him to take a piano and organ agency.

KULLMAN'S grand opening takes place next week. His store will be the handsomest in the county. Don't forget it.

MRS. J. B. MAAS, and daughter, Miss Ida, left on Thursday for a summer's tour of Europe. A delegation of friends bade them bon voyage at the depot.

THE Jackson house has been filled to overflowing the entire week. The traveling public stand by the Jackson house for they are always well entertained.

THE petition of one hundred and seventy-five citizens, asking for the enforcement of the Sunday law, was placed on file at the last meeting of the council.

L. COHN has let the contract for his new building opposite the M., H. & O. R. R. depot. It will be of brick, two stories high, and the lower floor will be dedicated to the sale of beer.

CHIEF Justice Theophile Roy has neat apartments over the postoffice. The stairway leading to them, is however too steep for drunks and disorderlies, and they will be tried in the alley.

REV. H. E. DAVIS will leave on Monday for Buffalo, where he goes as delegate to the Presbyterian General Assembly. During his absence of some four or five weeks his pulpit will be supplied by visiting ministers.

If we could have a shower every night a street sprinkler for Iron street would not be needed, but we can't gamble safely on the shower; so let's have the next best thing. There's millions in it for the right sort of a man. Will he undertake it?

A NEW school house will be erected in the rolling mill mine district during the next two or three months. The site for the building has not yet been secured, but the board is sitting on it (not the ground, but the subject) now. A school in that locality has long been needed.

AN agent of the Mackinac railway contractors was in the city during the week and hired all the idlers he could induce to go forth and labor for their daily bread. The wages offered weren't high enough, however, to induce steady laboring men to leave their present employment.

THE Tivoli, under the management of P. C. J. Miller, was opened last Thursday evening in grand style. Miller understands keeping a restaurant, and the Tivoli will hereafter be a pronounced success, and a favorite resort for those who like to look on the beery wave when it giveth its color in the schooner.

THE Messrs. Sawbridge have their large stores filled with a fine stock of hardware and furniture. They are the sole agents for Coit & Co.'s ready mixed paints, of any color wanted, which they are selling at the low price of $1.75 per gallon, which includes a first-class paint brush with which to put it on. Their store should be visited.

THE school inspectors have asked permission of the council to move the city library from its present quarters to the unoccupied room adjoining the council chamber. To a man up a tree it would seem that the petition of the board should be granted. The library at present has a one-sided situation, and should be more centrally located. The school inspectors have influence in the council, and we have no doubt but that the move will be made.

JAMES LALLEY, a drover from Oshkosh, received a car load of cattle the other day over the C. & N. W. R'y. The cattle were placed in the stock yards, and in order to avoid the payment of some sixty odd dollars freight which was due for their transportation, Lalley hid them to the yard between two days, broke the lock and drove the cattle to Marquette. The cattle were found missing in the morning, and agent Dougherty followed the man by train, and with the aid of deputy-sheriff Dolf, the man Lalley was persuaded to pay the amount and a little more for trouble. It is safe to say that the Oshkosh boy will hereafter deal in honesty which is said to be the wisest policy.

M. TREANORE, a carriage trimmer in the employ of the Lake Superior carriage works, would like to be the successor of Prof. Cochran in the schools. He has had experience with the young idea, and could show 'em how to 'shoot Toodles.' There have been several other applications for the position, but the school board will not consider any of them before next week, and then our readers shall have the benefit of the decision. It would seem unnecessary to caution the board to go slow in the matter. Such positions should be given to such men only as are adapted by nature and education for the particular calling, and personal prejudice and party ties should be ignored in making the selection.

ON Tuesday the news was received in this city of the appointment by the governor and the confirmation by the senate of Prof. Varnum B. Cochran as superintendent of public instruction, to fill out the unexpired term of C. A. Gower, who lately tendered his resignation to accept the superintendency of the reform school. That the appointment of Prof. Cochran is a wise and thoroughly good one there is not the slightest reason to doubt. As an educator he ranks among the ablest in the country, and wherever he has been employed the schools have been prosperous because ably managed. That he will carry his ability into his enlarged field of usefulness, we know, and that he will leave his office with the high reputation that he has attained in his lesser work, we also feel assured. Prof. Cochran is a Michigan man—born in Michigan, and has always lived within her borders. He entered the state university, in the Latin scientific course, in 1868, and since leaving that institution his time has principally been occupied in teaching. For the past twelve years his work has been confined to the upper peninsula, and during that time he has been county superintendent, superintendent of Marquette city schools, and lastly, of the public schools in this city. He has also been somewhat prominent in institute work, in connection with Prof. McLouth, of the normal school, and others, and his experience and plans of work did much toward making these institutes such pronounced successes. In the social circle Prof. Cochran is a great favorite, and in this regard, also, the people of Lansing, his future home, have much cause for rejoicing. The people of this city, without an exception, regret his loss, but cheerfully part with him, knowing the great value he will be to the cause of education in the state.

MEMBER of this department relieved of rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, says Geo. W. Walling, Esq., Superintendent Police, New York, in one of our exchanges.—Kansas City Mail.

If people who are troubled with colds would make use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before attending church or public lectures, they would avoid coughing, and the comfort of hearing the speaker would be greatly promoted. The Pectoral enables public speakers to speak clearly and without fatigue, having an immediate and wonderful effect in increasing the power and flexibility of the voice.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE: TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, D. C., January 28, 1880. Messrs. LAWRENCE & MARTIN, 111 Madison St., Chicago, Ill.: GENTLEMEN: I have received a "certified formula" giving the ingredients and relative proportions used in the manufacture of an article which you advertise and sell under the name of "TOLU ROCK AND RYE." This compound, according to your formula, in the opinion of this office, would have a sufficient quantity of the BALSAM OF TOLU to give it all the advantages ascribed to this article in pectoral complaints, while the whisky and the syrup constitute an emulsion rendering the compound an agreeable remedy to the patient. In the opinion of this office, an article compounded according to this formula may properly be classed as a medicinal preparation under the provisions of Schedule A, following Section 457, U. S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped may be sold by Druggists, Apothecaries and Other Persons without rendering them liable to pay special tax as liquor dealers. Yours Respectfully, (Signed) GREEN B. RAUM, Commissioner. LAWRENCE & MARTIN, Chicago, Sole Agents for the United States and Canada. 15y JAMES DWYER & Co., Marquette, Agents for the Upper Peninsula

Cathartic Pills Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases, caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal. While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

FUN WITH THE BOYS.

ESCANABA.—The sedate Joker of the Port rises to remark that overcasts will be long this spring—a month longer, at least.

The tug Green makes regular trips between this place and Payette now, and we are troubled no more with delayed mails from that point.

The Part speaks in complimentary terms of the Herbert constellation, which it says gives a good dramatic performance.

The town is overrun with men from outside who have come here to "strike a job" on the railroad.

The stores of W. J. Wallace and Hamacher Bros. were burglarized Thursday last week, while a fire was in progress in another part of the town—the burglars probably being incendiaries as well. Wallace lost about $400 worth of goods, and the Hamachers $50, with no clue to the burglars.

Governor Jerome is sick. Don't wonder—most anybody would be—of being governor of Michigan at $1,000 a year and no perquisites.

Concerning the MINING JOURNAL'S prediction as to the ultimate fate of the Ontonagon and "state line land grant," the legislature passes the Saginaw grabbers' bill, the Port says:

True as Genesis. Congress is not in a very good humor towards land-stealing railroads at best, and this particular steal has some features which make it especially obnoxious. The grant was for twenty-five years considered ratifiable. The state and the railroads did all that the officers of each thought necessary to divest themselves of proprietorship in those lands, and only after private individuals had developed their worth—after the United States had for years treated them as subjects for entry and sale and had received moneys and issued patents therefor—did this new steal take form in the brain of the dishonest politician.

Florence.—The Mining News says that only about $50,000 worth of building is anticipated in Florence the coming season. We have it from Gabe Melsac, that building is going on so lively in Commonwealth, that a man can't pass along the street without getting the bosom of his shirt full of shingle nails.

Ontonagon.—The Herald records the advent in that latitude, of a new moon together with suckers and milk—the last a favorite dish with the Ontonagonites.

Of James K. Paul, the founder of Ontonagon, whose death was recorded in the MINING JOURNAL last week, the Herald says:

He was born near Richmond, Virginia, on a farm in Greenbrier county, on the 29th day of March, 1813, where he resided until he was about 9 years of age, when he went to Elizabeth, Ohio, with an uncle where he lived until he was about 15 years old, traveling with his uncle through Kentucky, Illinois and Ohio, attending the different fairs, after leaving his uncle he went to St. Louis, then up the Missouri river, where he kept a trading post. From there he drifted back to Illinois, making his headquarters at Bloomington, and entered into the drover's business, selling and buying cattle and horses. He also made the first wagon track from Danville to Chicago. At the commencement of the Black Hawk war he enlisted, serving until the close, receiving his land warrant, he located the same on the Maple Grove road, about five miles from Ontonagon. After the war he tried his fortunes at the lead mines, both in Wisconsin and Illinois.

In 1842, hearing the story of the copper rock, he left Plattsville with a wagon and team of mules en route for Ontonagon; getting as far as Wausau, he sold his wagon and team, procured a canoe and the services of some Indians, and after a long and tedious journey he arrived at the mouth of the Ontonagon river. Procuring a bateau he went to work immediately in moving the copper rock, but his resting place, about twenty-five miles up the river, and succeeded in getting it down to the mouth. By means of a rudely constructed log raft, he truck he moved it to his bateau. On arriving at the mouth Mr. Cunningham, a government agent, tried to levy on the copper rock, but he found in J. K. Paul a man not easily imposed on, and he was obliged to desist. He afterwards laid out the present townsite of Ontonagon, and resided here ever since, suffering all the inconveniences of the early pioneer, hoping against hope, that the place where he had stuck his stake would some day rise out of the dust and ashes, and that he would see it the same thriving village it was twenty-five years ago. But Providence decreed otherwise, and on the verge of prosperity he has gone. Still, as long as the present generation remains, the memory of Jas. K. Paul will be green in their minds, and his oft told tales will be repeated time and again around the family fireside.

For the O. & B. R. R. Co., these gigantic brains editors have ground out the name "lumbermen" for our legislature the "granger legislature." What a happy lot of quill drivers, with more quills than brains! Nothing but money or its equivalent, could prostitute men's ability to advocate the claims of those who are now in constructive possession of portions of the Ontonagon state line grant.

Lo and behold, a new light has arisen in Lake Superior Journalism! Now shall there be no more excuse for any of those who have grown gray in the editorial harness to walk astray for the want of a wise, experienced and disinterested guide and mentor!

The Miner republishes its article on the resources of Ontonagon county in order to supply the extraordinary demand. Ontonagon's oldest inhabitant now, Mr. Lathrop Johnson, has been lying very sick, but we are glad to hear he is fast recovering. The same paper promises in its next number a lengthy sketch of the late James K. Paul. The erection of the large, new saw mill, of Rich Bros. is going on steadily. The second story is now being raised, and will be ready for the roof next week. The bare is expected shortly with all the machinery on board, which, upon its arrival will be rapidly transferred to its place, as everything has been made and fitted in the shops below, ready for erection here. Referring to the statement made by the Hancock Journal, that the promoters of the Beule River railroad, having failed to obtain the names of half a dozen business men to their petition, sent it to the Houghton high school, and there obtained the signatures of all the boys who could write their names, the Miner says it is credibly informed that some of the petitions circulated in that county were signed by boys. In this connection the MINING JOURNAL knows of its own knowledge that a large number of the signatures obtained in this city were secured on the representation that it was a petition for a grant of lands to aid in the building of a railroad from L'Anse to Portage Lake. The young man who circulated the petition was himself honest in the belief that such was its purpose, and was not unduly vexed when called on the editor of the MINING JOURNAL for its signature. For ways that are dark, and tricks that are mean, your Saginaw land-grabber is peculiarly peculiar.
