

The Mining Journal.

ISHPEMING, OCTOBER 22, 1881.

THE addition to the Methodist church is nearly completed.

SIDEWALKS are being raised above high water mark in different parts of town.

SEE the elegant line of robes, blankets and trunks at C. T. Hunt & Co.'s harness shop.

COUNTING his mining stocks at par, the average Ishpeming speculator is worth his millions.

THE projectors of the Catholic fair expect to realize money enough out of it to pay for the new parsonage.

It is a long time since we have had any one-horse theatrical troupes here. What has become of them?

WHEN we get four new water works done there will be no more excuse for imbibing that vicious Milwaukee lager.

HARWOOD expects to occupy his new store as soon as an old man and a boy can finish it, which will be about the next presidential campaign.

C. T. HUNT left for Chicago yesterday to purchase more goods for the Pioneer harness shop. It takes a large amount of goods to supply the customers of the "Pioneer."

NOTHING is impossible with the Almighty, but we believe he would find it deuced hard work to fill up a paper with local news when little or nothing new is going on.

THE advertising columns of the MINING JOURNAL show who our live, wide-awake business men are. Purchasers, everywhere this paper goes, will take notice of this fact, too.

ROBBINS has gone out of the mercantile business, having closed out his store this week. In these days of sharp competition it takes a wide-awake man who advertises to do a successful business.

THE sample trunk is abroad in the land in all its massiveness, and is a shade or two larger than usual. And its owner swells into majestic proportions as he orders the poor hotel porter to carry it up to the fourth floor.

SECOND street, north of the C. & N. W. R'y track, is now a passable thoroughfare, lined with houses on either side. Three months ago it was swamp, covered with brush and stumps. This indicates the growth of Ishpeming.

NEARLY every member of the families of Charles Ham and W. S. Nelson is down with fever, and these two houses are turned into small hospitals. The fever, although very prostrating to those it attacks, is not dangerous, and most of the sick ones are more or less convalescent at this time.

THE writer was recently shown some specimens from the Gogebic range, taken from the property of Messrs. F. W. Merritt and F. P. Mills, which are as fine a quality of hematite ore as one could wish to find. They have a well-defined vein, from all accounts, which will develop into a paying mine when that region is opened up. Their property is located on the south half of the south-west quarter of section 17, town 47, range 46.

JOHN ROSSITER & Co. have leased the store on Main street occupied by Mr. Robbins as a grocery store, and will turn it into a first class oyster house and restaurant. They will occupy both the upper and lower floors, and will furnish them in very fine style. The work of refitting the building will be commenced at once. The new restaurant will be ready for business in about two weeks. A good restaurant is one of Ishpeming's needs, and the MINING JOURNAL is pleased to see one started, hoping to note that it meets with every encouragement from our people.

DONAHOE BROS. have decided to close out their present stock at greatly reduced prices before moving into their new store, which they expect to occupy by Dec. 1st, and hence are offering goods at specially low prices. See their announcement in this and succeeding issues of this paper. Donahoe Bros. do just what they advertise to, and people wanting to buy cheap should go early and secure the first choice, as there will certainly be a rush.

It is not necessary to advertise the White Wine of Tar Syrup, as every bottle is an advertisement for itself, and likely to sell more. Price 50c. Sold by John Crowley.

NO PAPER SENT TO ANY ADDRESS UNLESS PAID FOR IN ADVANCE.

SUBSCRIBERS ordering their papers transferred from one address to another should be careful to give the name of the postoffice to which the paper is being sent at the time, in order to secure prompt attention, as otherwise the mail clerk may have to search through the entire list to find the name.

PARTICULAR NOTICE-The MINING JOURNAL will not be sent to subscribers after the expiration of the time subscribed and paid for, unless the subscription is renewed. Subscribers always know when their subscription expires by comparing the number of the printed address on their papers with the corresponding number on their receipts.

All letters of a business character, such as advertisements and communications intended for the columns of this paper, should be addressed to "THE MINING JOURNAL," and not to the editor personally, as is often the case. If any letters of a personal or confidential nature should be addressed to A. P. SWINBERG.

All advertising sent from abroad must be paid for in advance, whether coming direct from the advertiser or through an advertising agency. Orders from advertising agencies will be accepted, or receive any attention whatever, unless based on our regular rates, less the usual commission and accompanied by the cash. This rule is imperative, and will not be departed from under any circumstances.

Of the total lake shipments of 1,908,908 gross tons up to the 19th, the mines of Marquette county contributed 1,306,197, and those of the Menominee range 602,711 gross tons.

The lake shipments for the week ending 19th inst., are reported at 77,755 gross tons—an increase of 22,735 tons over the corresponding week of last year, notwithstanding the very unfavorable state of the weather.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the New York Iron mine, held at the company's office in New York on the 18th inst., the following directors were selected: Samuel J. Tilden, George W. Smith, Lawrence McCloskey, Chas. J. Canda and Charles F. MacLean.

The reports from the Jim Pascoe continue to be of the most encouraging kind, and shareholders are jubilant, as well they may be. It is undoubtedly one of the largest ore deposits ever unearthed on the upper peninsula, and the strong probability is that those who buy shares at any price below par, and lay them away, will soon find them a very "handy thing to have in the house." THE MINING JOURNAL only wishes it had as many dollars as it has wishes with which to lay up treasures in the shape of Jim Pascoe stock.

IN lake shipments the Cleveland shows an increase of 12,855; the Lake Superior 34,894; the Champion 29,750 the Winthrop, 4,227, and the Chapin 81,465 tons over a corresponding period last year; on the other hand the Republic is 3,113; the Jackson 1,517; the New York, 5,548; the Michiganme, 1,697, and the Norway 67,903 tons behind in a similar comparison. The lake output of the six largest mines so far this year aggregate as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Mine Name, Gross Tons. Includes Republic, Lake Superior, Cleveland, Champion, Norway, and Chapin.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Winthrop Iron company, held at Chicago Oct. 1st, E. G. St. Clair was chosen president and treasurer, and I. N. St. Clair secretary, of the company. By an unanimous vote of the stockholders in attendance it was decided to move the office of the company to Ishpeming. The present management is developing the Winthrop property with excellent judgment, and good results, and each year enhances its value. A heavy undertaking will be the sinking of a 400-foot shaft on the property, work on which will be commenced shortly. The new shaft is to be sunk 300 feet west of the present open workings, and it is expected will open up a valuable deposit of ore. The management expects to get it down in the course of the next eighteen months.

A NATIONAL tariff convention, under the auspices of the Industrial League of America, will be held at Chicago on the fifteenth of November, to take action with a view to procuring from congress "remedial legislation" to correct the alleged injurious effect, on certain home industries, of our present tariff laws, as interpreted by the treasury department and the courts; to deliberate on suitable measures for the restoration of American commerce; to urge upon the government an early reduction of internal taxes, and to consider many other things pertaining to the industrial development of the country. All the industries are invited to representation in the convention—that peculiar to this section among the rest. THE MINING JOURNAL has steadfastly maintained that the ore producers of this country are most unjustly discriminated against by the tariff laws as they now stand on the statute books. It firmly believes that the day is not far distant when the hurtful effects of that discrimination will make themselves deeply felt, unless these laws are adjusted in accordance with the dictates of common sense and common justice. But what is worth having is worth asking for. Would it not be well for the mining interests of the upper peninsula to move toward providing for representation in the Chicago convention? The prosperity of our great industry will depend very materially in the future on how wisely the rights of the ore producer are "protected," and a convention called to deliberate on the tariff question generally, and to recommend changes and modifications in the tariff laws, should afford the natural protection of that industry an excellent chance to declare their grievances and make their demand for redress heard.

SHIPMENTS.—The following is a statement of lake shipments of iron ore for the season, up to and including Oct. 19, 1881:

An increase of 250,105 gross tons.

The following is a statement of shipments made from the Menominee Mining Company's mines by lake, from opening of navigation to Wednesday, October 19, inclusive:

quality, very similar in appearance to that found on the Davids leasehold, some two or three miles further east, and an analysis of which gave 96 1/2 per cent of metallic iron, and not much more than a trace of phosphorus. At No 2, 370 feet east of No 1, and under the wet shaft, the drill penetrated 203 feet of quartzite, 2 feet of slate ore, 5 feet of quartzite, 25 feet of broken rock, and 12 feet of red ore, respectively. In No 3, 497 feet further east, the drill struck slate ore at a depth of 211 feet through which it passed, in boring, 18 feet, into jasper, in which it is still at work. An analysis of drill core made from average sample clear across vein gave metallic iron 66.10; phosphorus .036; silica 3.40. These developments show a continuous run of ore on the Boston extending over a length of 1147 feet, and it is altogether probable that the heaviest part of the vein will be found under the eastward—a question that will soon be determined by the drill. Though the Boston has not done as well in the way of shipments as was anticipated early in the season, shareholders can nevertheless feel well satisfied with the outlook for the future.

At the Sterling drill struck the ore on Thursday last at a point about 800 feet west of the Boston line, but we have no positive information as to its thickness—5 1/2 feet being reported at last accounts and the drill still boring in ore. The Sterling, being continuous with the Boston, this last development shows very nearly 2000 feet of ore, with every probability of its continuing both east and west.

COPPELIDOM.—These items we clip and condense from the columns of our esteemed contemporary, the Hancock Mining Journal:

The shaft of the Manganese mine, Copper Harbor, is down 50 feet, and 60 men are steadily employed on surface and underground. The company has 600 tons of ore on the dock ready for shipment.

The idea has heretofore prevailed that the Copper Harbor manganese contained copper in such quantity as to seriously impair its merchantable value. THE MINING JOURNAL will be much pleased should the work now being done effectually explode that idea.

The Albany and Boston mine has been "forked" to 2nd level and pumping is steadily going on. Test pits on the Peawabic amygdaloid have disclosed a lode which at surface looks decidedly coppery.

This is the property recently secured by a syndicate of gentlemen consisting of Messrs. King, Wheeler, Nelson and Dunn, and under the surface of which the diving rod says there is more copper than would patch the infernal regions a mile and a half! Nonsense aside, however, there is the best of reasons for believing the property a most valuable one, and the MINING JOURNAL will have no tears to shed should it prove a veritable bonanza to the gentlemen in question.

The Calumet & Hecla has declared another dividend of half a million dollars, payable Nov. 15th, to shareholders of record of Oct. 15th. This makes a total of $20,350,000 paid to shareholders since 1870, with three or four millions of surplus remaining undivided.

The noble marquis of Lorne was subjected to a most ignominious scare while on his way back from the west. The luxurious special car that carried his party was the last one of a train which left Omaha at a late hour in the evening, and as it whirled through the thickening gloom some one introduced the recent dynamite explosion at Council Bluffs as a topic of conversation. From that event it easily glided to nihilist plots against the czar, conspiracies to hurl titled victims into eternity generally, and O'Dynamite Rossa's infernal machines in particular. One of the party casually observed that it would be just like those bloody Fenians to make an attempt on the life of his royal highness during his passage through the United States, in revenge for the severity displayed toward their Irish subjects by his imperial mother-in-law. The remark made a profound impression on the noble marquis, and when he retired to his berth it was but to dream uneasily of being shot through space like a comet by the mighty force of a Fenian dynamite clock. All at once a tremendous concussion sent him head foremost from his berth into the aisle. "My God, we're all murdered—the Fenians have done their work!" cried the marquis, as he sank fainting into the coal-box, his waking thought naturally taking color from the disturbed dreams preceding it. A message came from the conductor shortly after, to the effect that the trouble was caused by a wild steer on the track, but they had to show the marquis the animal's mangled carcass to convince him that an attempt hadn't been made by wild Fenians to blow up his car. Then he became calm enough to dictate a dispatch to his absent Louise, worded, "Lorne survives, and the governor-general of Canada still lives," which was forwarded from the next station, and the train resumed its journey. The marquis is a worthy scion of Britain's proud aristocracy.

became an accomplished fact when the haughty Cornwallis yielded up his sword one hundred years ago to the brave forefathers of the republic and their gallant allies, and the manner of its observance was on a scale commensurate with its splendid significance. The president and all the chief officers of the government were present, and participated in the exercises, and the descendants of the brave foreigners whose swords were drawn in the American cause because it was the cause of human liberty attended, the honored invited guests of the republic. With imposing ceremonies, the cornerstone of the monument to commemorate the victory at Yorktown, which practically closed the revolutionary war, was laid. Stirring addresses were delivered by Gov. Holliday, of Virginia, senator Johnson, and others. The harbor was full of naval and other vessels, and the shore covered with regiments of soldiers and crowds of citizens. The affair was a magnificent success, and closes with proper eclat the series of centennial celebrations of revolutionary events ushered in with the monster exposition of 1876 at Philadelphia.

It is the "unknown quantity" in politics that puzzles persons who pursue that fascinating science, and so often negatives the deductions of their most careful calculations. Thus, in the case of Bayard, elected president pro tem. of the senate by the democrats early last week. It rested with senator Davis whether Bayard should be permitted to retain the place—for which his eminent fitness is universally conceded—or be displaced by Davis himself, the republicans having made the latter their candidate as the only hope of forcing the democratic presiding officer to step down and out. The democrats obviously relied on senator Davis' high sense of honor to restrain him from lending himself in any manner to a mere partisan scheme for the discomfiture of the party to which he owes his seat in the senate. In this they were sorely disappointed. Davis complacently allowed the republicans to use him as a cudgel to beat Bayard out of the president's chair, and now sits in the place briefly occupied by the dignified senator from Delaware as president of the senate. His mask of "independence" is laid aside at last, and it transpires that he wasn't at all as high principled a chap as he had led folks to believe. Somehow the republicans estimate such fellows as Mahone and Davis nearer their true value than their opponents, and invariably come out ahead when success depends on a "deal" with political "crooks."

On the morning of Friday, the 14th, Guiteau was arraigned in the criminal court at Washington, to plead to the indictment charging him with the murder that has made his name infamous. His appearance in court occasioned no special sensation, though his manner indicated that he was fearful of being summarily called upon to pay the debt he owes justice. Scoville, Guiteau's brother-in-law, who has charge of the assassin's defense, was present as his counsel. Guiteau pleaded "not guilty" to the indictment, and attempted to supplement his plea with a statement that the court very properly declined to hear. He was then remanded again to jail, attended by the small escort which had guarded him on his way to court. His trial will commence Nov. 7th, when the question of jurisdiction will be argued. The plea of insanity will be set up as a defense in the case; also that the wound of president Garfield was not necessarily mortal, and that his death resulted from malpractice on the part of the surgeons who attended him. This latter ground of defense will open up the question already so much canvassed by the doctors—that of Dr. Bliss' management of the late president's case—and rekindle a controversy that has been slowly dying out. Confound Guiteau, anyway. 'Twill be a relief when the troublesome crank is hanged.

Enough is known of president Arthur's intentions regarding the formation of his cabinet to indicate that secretary Lincoln will be the only member of the old cabinet whose presence will grace the new. Judge Folger, of New York, will succeed Windom as chief of the treasury department, and Blaine's portfolio will be entrusted to ex-senator Frelinghuysen. It was supposed for a time that both postmaster-general James and attorney-general McVeagh would retain their places, but it is stated positively that they decline doing so. The reason assigned for their disinclination to continue in the cabinet under Arthur is not particularly complimentary to the new president, inasmuch as it foreshadows that the star route swindlers will ultimately escape punishment through his friendship for the chief rascals among them. It is hardly conceivable that Arthur, as president, will vigorously punish the man whom he toasted as the savior of Indiana "by the free use of—" at that never-to-be-forgotten banquet, or his associates in the star route transactions.

Ireland is in a ferment over the arrest of Parnell and several other of the land league leaders, and the rearrest of Dillon. The government has evidently decided to "stamp out" the land reform agitation at whatever cost. Meetings of the people are interdicted, and all the machinery of oppression with which centuries of use in that unfortunate country has familiarized its English rulers has been set in motion to grind out the spirit of resistance to the exactions of the landlords in which the land league had its birth. Numerous collisions between the soldiery and populace have already taken place, and a most dangerous state of affairs exists throughout the country. The excitement extends to this country, where Irishmen are intensely moved by the events of the past week, large meetings being held in all the principal cities to express condemnation of the action taken by the British government in imprisoning the land league leaders. It is charged that the British ministry aims to provoke an insurrection, that it may wipe out in the blood of the Irish people the dismal failure of the piece of parliamentary patch work known as Gladstone's land bill.

The Chicago Times thinks Blaine displayed an unnecessary refinement of delicacy in omitting to invite the British diplomatic representatives to participate in the celebration at Yorktown, commemorative of the defeat of Cornwallis. The Times argues that England to-day rejoices as much as does America that the attempt of a "faction" of her people at the time of the revolutionary struggle failed to coerce the colonies into subjection to a tyrannical king's authority—hence that there would be no impropriety in bidding her representatives here to join with us in celebrating the centennial anniversary of the final collapse of that attempt. The Times has been taking "taffy" of British manufacture in sickening doses, evidently. If its knowledge of English sentiment one hundred years ago and to-day is measured by its comments on Blaine's course in the particular case specified the public will suspect that the editorial chief of its "London department" takes his meals at a cheap Chicago hushery and prepares his editorials on European affairs in a back room of the Times building.

An interesting state canvass is in progress in Pennsylvania, over the state treasurership. Silas M. Bailey was nominated by the republican machine men, who captured the state convention. The element which opposes the Cameron rule in state affairs were intensely displeased by his nomination, and Charles S. Wolfe, a brilliant politician of the anti-Cameron wing, led a bolt against Bailey, announcing himself as a candidate. The "bosses" were not much scared at the outset, but Wolfe is making a tremendous canvass, alone and single-handed, with the avowed object of beating the republican candidate by drawing enough republican votes from him to ensure his defeat, and the prospect now is that he'll do it. The state is ring-ridden to an intolerable degree, and Wolfe will serve it well if he teaches the Cameron crowd the danger of trying the patience of the people too far. The democratic candidate is Orange Noble. Wolfe will take Noble vengeance on the machinists if his bolt should give the democrats control of the state treasury.

They seem to be having quite an animated state campaign down in "Ole Virginia" this fall. The heat of the controversy between the Mahone party and their opponents has already borne fruit in two duels between the hostile leaders, in which some powder was burned but no blood shed. The latest sensation of the canvass was the arrest of Mahone at the instance of a friend of his the other day, to prevent him from fighting Gen. Early—who, it transpires, had neither challenged nor been challenged by him. The arrest is said to have been made at the instigation of the Virginia senator himself, for effect in the canvass—but how such a ludicrous proceeding can help him therein the reader will have to imagine for himself. We confess that it beats us.

A monster meeting of Irish sympathizers was held at Steinway hall, New York, Saturday evening. Thousands were unable to gain admittance to the hall. The meeting was attended by Mrs. Parnell, mother of the incarcerated leader of the league in Ireland, and was addressed by T. P. O'Connor, member of parliament from Galway, and Dr. Dillon Egan. Similar demonstrations are being held in all the large American cities. The arrest of Parnell and his associates has greatly embittered the Irish all the world over. If it should eventuate in a popular uprising against the government the insurgents will receive no small amount of aid and encouragement from abroad.

An Ohio paper which goes to press on Tuesdays had this paragraph in its issue of last week: "The state election is taking place as we go to press. The result can scarcely be predicted." That editor wishes to hire a man to kick him four blocks. His paper is the only one in Ohio that can't now remark—"The result is no surprise. From the Hour Bookwater became the democratic candidate we regarded Foster's triumph as a foregone conclusion. The democratic leaders can now see," etc., etc., ad nauseam.

Ever since David Davis has been a member of the U. S. senate he has been persistently lampooned and sneered at by the republicans. Now the republicans of the senate have made him presiding officer of that body. Verily politics breeds strange comradeships. The candidacy of Horace Greeley on the democratic national ticket in 1872 was not a more grotesque exhibition of the insincerity of politicians than was the election of Davis president pro tem. of the senate last week by the opposition party.

signed by him when he entered Garfield's cabinet. The legislature of his state is now in special session, and will have to choose a senator in place of Gen. Edgerton, appointed to succeed Windom by the governor. Edgerton declines to be a candidate against Windom, but there are others less modest, and he will meet with considerable opposition. His election is, however, regarded as certain.

In calling for the resignation of Tyner as assistant postmaster-general president Arthur has done something that will meet the approval of nine-tenths of the American people. There is not a more corrupt barnacle in the service than Tyner, and it rejoices us to know that the hold he has so long retained on the postal department is broken at last, and in a manner that means for him a humiliating dismissal. He retires to a nest snugly feathered at the nation's expense, 'tis true, but it is something of a satisfaction to know that he was kicked out at last.

The dispatches from Yorktown represent the weather there as so intolerably hot that fifty members of the New Jersey battalion dropped out of the ranks exhausted on the march from the landing place Saturday. This agrees with British recollection of the spot. The red-coats found it "blawsted 'ot" there about one hundred years ago—too hot for them to stand, in fact, so they "tumbled" to Gen. Washington's little revolutionary game.

Upon examination, the sanitary condition of the executive mansion at Washington proves to be very vile indeed, and the officer who has conducted it recommends a complete overhauling of the systems of drainage and ventilation. Fortunately the suggestion need not be submitted to a vote of the people for their approval. Were that necessary they would declare through the ballot box to "let well enough alone."

Bismarck confesses to a better opinion of Gladstone since the English premier quit tinkering with reform laws and commenced talking bayonets to the complaining Irish. The bayonet is Bismarck's favorite argument, and its use has made him and his imperial master so popular with the German people that both have to be guarded by armed men when they appear in public. The methods of tyranny always find favor in the eyes of a tyrant.

A Manistique woman started a fund for Mason—whose bad marksmanship saved Giteau's life—but when it grew large enough to think about she changed her mind, and will donate it to the Michigan sufferers. Give her a credit mark. The money will now be placed where it will do the most good. There isn't any sense in paying a premium on such wretched shooting as Mason's.

There will be determined opposition to the confirmation of Dudley as commissioner of pensions by the democratic senators. It is charged that he, instead of Dorsey, is the man who "saved Indiana" for the Republicans last fall "by the free use of—" etc. The public will hardly believe this. President Arthur is on record to the contrary, and he ought to know.

There are four state tickets before the voters of Wisconsin, and yet the politicians complain that they can't get up a particle of enthusiasm among the people. A glance at the tickets explains this. The candidates on all of them are excellently well calculated to make the Badger voter feel thoughtful rather than enthusiastic.

Mrs. Lincoln's health continues in a precarious state, and she will spend the winter at St. Catherine's, Canada, under care of prominent physicians. Her mental unsoundness is quite pronounced, though free from violent manifestations. It is unlikely that her mind will ever regain its strength.

The Appleton Crescent is carrying on the democratic campaign in Wisconsin all alone, and just as vigorously as though there were prospects of victory to encourage it. Few democrats are blessed with Sam Ryan's courage and faith, though all of them need to have both in Wisconsin.

Now the public begins to understand why James wont consent to remain in the cabinet. He is going to be president of one of Vanderbilt's banks in New York.

No more sneers at the "independent party," if you please, gentlemen. It is president of the senate and holds the balance of power in its ample fist.

Can anyone inform us how much Tom Nichol contributed to the Mrs. Garfield fund?

NEWS SUMMARY.

Sixteen states will be represented by delegates named by their governors in the river improvement convention, which is to meet at St. Louis on the 26th, and the boards of trade of all the important towns of the Mississippi valley will also have delegates in attendance. The convention promises to be a large and influential one. Its object, as is well understood, is to move for further improvement of the Mississippi and the more important of its branches with a view to making a water route for products of the northwest to compete with the railroads.

About two hundred coal miners direct from Germany have gone to work in the Corning coal fields of Ohio, at wages one-third less than heretofore paid miners whose places they take. They go to work under a five-year contract.

Five different showmen have tried to purchase the funeral car in which the remains of president Garfield were conveyed to the cemetery at Cleveland. As high as $50,000 has been offered by those "enterprising" fellows. The car is to be placed in a glass case in the cemetery and preserved in memory of the illustrious man whose form it bore to that "bourne from whence no traveler returns."

Illinois reports a short corn crop this year, with a short pork crop as a natural and inevitable consequence.

The last remnants of the centennial exposition have gone under the hammer. The "largest mirror in the world," in size 11 1/2 feet, in one plate, and which originally cost $5,000, was bid in by a saloon keeper for $900; the $20,000 organ for $4,000 and so on to the end of the chapter.

Wm. Keto, proprietor of a grist mill at Carlisle, this state, was caught in the machinery last week, sustaining injuries from which he died Saturday.

Saturday afternoon Charles Howland, a farmer living some five miles west of Paw Paw, in this state, came home intoxicated, and shamefully abused his wife. His son Henry interfered to protect his mother; when the brutal father assailed him with a knife, cutting the boy in several places. The latter at last drew a pistol in self defense and discharged a shot at his father. The bullet entered his body just above the heart. Death resulted in a short time. Young Howland sought a magistrate and surrendered himself. Though the alternative he adopted was calculated to array sentiment against him, it seems to run strongly in his favor, the general verdict being that his own and his mother's peril justified the paternal act.

Some three weeks ago at Cincinnati, Andrew Van Bibber shot his wife, supposing her to be a burglar. The matter was kept a secret until a few days ago, when it leaked out, and he was arrested on suspicion of criminal intent, but was afterwards discharged without examination, it being apparent that the mistake wasn't made on purpose. Mrs. Van Bibber died of the injury Sunday.

One of the three scoundrels concerned in the Fairbanks robbery in Illinois—in which a farmer's house was entered and himself and family maltreated and robbed—was captured at St. Louis, and fully identified by Mrs. Fairbanks. When brought face to face with the fellow the lady exclaimed "That's the man, oh, oh!" and sank in a swoon. The effect on the prisoner was hardly less startling. He is an old criminal, named Henry Myers, alias Muldoon, but claims he can prove an alibi.

Faulkner county, Ark., was the theatre of an affray growing out of a horse trade one day last week, to which all the male members of two families—nine persons—were parties. Knives and pistols were freely used. Four of the contestants are down with bad wounds, and the rest have skipped to avoid arrest. Nice state, Arkansas.

A couple of men attempted to set fire to the steamer Bothnia, as she lay at the Cunard pier in New York Sunday evening. They obtained admission to the vessel from the watchman by representing that they desired to see the boatswain. Shortly after they departed the steward detected a peculiar odor arising from a passage connecting two rooms. It seemed to come from the carpet, which appeared to be wet. On trying to raise it flames burst forth, the friction caused by that simple act producing combustion. The fire was put out, but broke out twice afterward in other parts of the vessel, from the same cause. The substance used to saturate the carpets by the incendiaries is undergoing analysis. The motive of the men who made the attempt is a mystery.

All the little rivers in the northwest are full, and the great ones "booming," in consequence of the heavy and continuous rainfall throughout that section for the past month. The lower Mississippi is beginning to inundate its valleys, and to strain at the levees that confine its pouring tide. The Missouri is also on the rampage, and many of the towns along its banks are being damaged by floods. The waters are still rising, creating wide spread apprehension that unprecedented ruin will be caused in the low lands before the streams subside.

President White is again in the president's chair of the Cornell university—this time to stay at least four years. He has given the trustees bonds not to accept a political office during that time.

Temperance fanatics at Lewiston, Ill., employed a detective to do certain dirty work for them, in a crusade they instituted against liquor dealers, and he induced an elderly man named William Stannard to purchase a small quantity of whiskey at his son's drugstore, to manufacture proof that the young man was dealing in the stuff contrary to law. When the detective's character and object became known to the old gentleman his excitement was great, and he suddenly dropped dead. The detective saved his neck by leaving town suddenly.

A Hungarian loan of 300,000,000 florins is to be placed in this country by the Rothschilds.

A couple of burglars were captured while rifling a hat store at Minneapolis this week, in a manner reflecting credit on the force of that city. They are Chicago professionals, and arrived at Minneapolis about a month ago, securing work as a kind of divers suspicion. Nevertheless the officers marked them as "nerooks," and arranged to have them kept under close surveillance. It was learned that they contemplated a raid on the night the capture was effected, and the pair were taken in the act of robbing the store. They gave their names as Pat. Haggerty and Geo. Tanner.

A Little Rock, Ark., jeweler closed his store to attend an agricultural fair, and it was entered during his absence and robbed of $4,000 worth of goods.

The Michigan Central railroad has completed its extension to Cheboygan.

Nothing has been heard from Prof. King's big balloon since its ascension over a week ago, and fears are entertained that serious disaster has overtaken the professor and his companion, Mr. Hashagen. The airship was last seen over northwestern Wisconsin, sailing low, and pursuing a northwesterly course. It is believed that it came down in some of the forests of that state or Minnesota, in which case the voyagers will have difficulty in working their way to civilization in consequence of the flooded condition of the water-courses.

Woonscock, R. I., is worked up over a case similar to the Jennie Cramer tragedy, the victim being a young girl named Josie Hilton, whose lover, Alfred Thomas, is under arrest, charged with having poisoned her in a clumsy attempt to prevent a criminal intimacy between them from bearing its natural fruit.

Washington gossip mongers are rolling their tongues over a juicy morsel of scandal in high life. One year ago Hon. John B. Clark, a Missouri congressman, married an attractive widow, employed in the treasury department, and the couple lived happily together until some weeks ago. About that time the lady appeared to grow weary of the monotony of home, and began staying out late o' nights, visiting saloons with a male friend, and frequently coming home intoxicated—conducting herself, indeed, very much after the fashion of Washington husbands. A separation has taken place, and a divorce will follow.

The great Bay Cote levee on the Mississippi river, near New Canton and Rockport, Ill., broke about two miles above Scott's Landing, Wednesday, and vast destruction of property is being caused by the flood in the low lands along the river. A number of lives have been lost. Whole farms have been submerged. The danger of similar disasters at other points was imminent at latest accounts, and the people were fleeing from their houses by thousands to places of safety.

Two hundred persons were present at a dog-fight near Louisville, Ky., in eighty-five minutes. The stakes were $1,000, and there was heavy betting.

Charles Clay and John Burrows entered the banking house of Dr. Wesley Park, at Fieldon, Ill., and with drawn revolvers compelled the doctor to give them the contents of his safe, $3,500. As they mounted, Dr. Park killed a horse under one, when both robbers rode off on a single animal. Sheriff Massey is scouring the country with a posse of citizens.

Patrick Egan, treasurer of the Irish land league says the reserve fund amounts to over $20,000, none of which is kept in Ireland, except what is needed for expenses. Large bodies of military and police patrol the streets of Limerick. Forty policemen of Dublin were disabled in the recent riots. Longworth Dalms, who recently inherited estates in Westmeath, reduced rents 20 per cent., when the tenants cheerfully paid up. Miss Parnell cabled her mother not to return to Ireland, as she would be of more service to the cause in the United States. The land league offices in Dublin have not yet been closed. Sir Thomas Steele thinks the reinforcements now on the way to Ireland will be sufficient to preserve order.

FUN WITH THE BOYS.

ESCANABA.—The demand for houses to rent is greater than the supply this fall, the Port states. Tough on those who are in want of winter quarters that, but it's a good sign for the town.

The place is infested by a gang of hoodlums, the same paper states, who practice petty pilfering with an assiduity worthy of a better calling. They should be sternly punished—with a stout halter strap—and the habit broken up before it lands the youths in the penitentiary.

Pauperism begins to assume proportions in the county that call for a more systematic method of extending relief than that now in vogue, and the Port asks that some practical system be adopted by the county board. Heretofore only a few persons required aid from the county, but the number of applicants has increased so that loose management in caring for that class should be no longer permitted.

The remains of Maurice Kelly, a young man who grew up in Escanaba, were brought here last week for interment. He died in Colorado, of consumption.

In one day recently 17,000 tons of ore, making 15 cargoes, were handled at the Escanaba docks. This is the best day's work on record at these docks.

The old Granite State, which became water-logged and was benched at Clay Banks, Door county, Wis., week before last, could not be got by any of the tugs sent to her assistance, and will probably go to pieces.

FLORENCE.—The news announces a new editor—Alex. Sutherland, formerly of the Port Howard Journal, and more recently of the Ontario Reporter. The sheet is well fixed for the sort of talent that adorns a sanctuary.

John McMillen had his leg caught under a falling log while building a camp on the Crystal Falls extension, and the limb was broken below the knee. He is under treatment at the National hotel, and progressing favorably.

S. S. Way sued the C. & N. W. company last week to recover the value of an organ that had the harmony all knocked out of it in transit, and a jury awarded him judgment for $95 and costs. The railway people will appeal.

Some disciple of Dr. Tanner talks of starting a newspaper at Iron Mountain, and the News counsels him to pause. The advice may be intersted, but it's good just the same. The range has a sufficiency of papers.

ONTONAGON.—The Miner touches for it that "Ontonagon whiskey kills at forty rods."

"Would be a blessing if one or two mouthy fell-ws there should fill themselves up with the home article if the Miner's statement will hold water.

A slab saw at Rich Bros.' mill ripped into Thos. Flaherty's foot and tore up a ugly hole in it. The doctors are trying to save enough of it to stump around on. He had only commenced work in the mill the morning of the day the accident took place.

There are several cases of measles in the village. The disorder appears to be spreading.

Work is all but ended on the harbor improvements. The new cribs will not be put in until another season.

Commissioners to report on the necessity of condemnation of lands in the village for railroad purposes, in accordance with the petition for such condemnation, and to estimate the value of lands condemned, have been appointed by the court. They are E. Sales, of Ontonagon, Capt. Chynoworth, of Greenland, and Jas. E. Hoyt, of Rockland. A jury was asked for by counsel representing some of the parties owning lands described in the petition, and granted by the court. A further hearing will be had on the 27th.

HASCOCK.—The Journal tells of an Irishman in one of the mines who fell a distance of 200 feet recently, breaking his leg, and who refused to be taken above for treatment until he was promised that he shouldn't be asked for the loss of time the accident would cause him.

And of Peter Oleson, employed in the Quincy mine, who fell in love with a Miss Maggie Wagner so violently that he persuaded her to elope with him Saturday last, the truant pair taking to water on the steamer Ivanhoe to forestall the objection to their union of the young lady's cruel parents.

Also of Andrew Browdowski, a miner at the Atlantic, who walked into a shaft at nine Tuesday, falling quite a distance and breaking both his legs, one so badly that amputation just below the knee was necessary. So terribly was he shocked by the fall that he walked about on the fractured limbs after the accident, and pulled off his boots without feeling pain. He was a Pole, which leads the paper to remark that "such a Pole as that would make a good liberty Pole to head an army marshaled for his country's deliverance." Which ends the chapter of accidents and incidents.

MEMORINE.—The Herald doesn't take kindly to the project of dividing the county. "Twill make some difference in the value of the county printing, for a fact. But that consideration wont influence the Quinness crusader to let up, and the Herald might as well summon up its resignation and prepare for the inevitable. The dog is going to sever himself from the tail, sure. He's been wagged too much.

In the woods the streams and swamps are overflowing, and the roads to the pierces are all but impassable. The work of putting in camps promises to be attended with serious difficulties this season.

The storm of Monday raised such a commotion on the waters that nearly all the bay shore mills were forced to shut down in the afternoon. The waves interfered with the handling of logs.

The high water has changed the channel in the river, and the dredges will find plenty to do when the stream subsides.

Parties who have examined the "windfall" on the Pine report the damage to timber in that section even greater than reported. Many of the trees were broken off, but most of them were uprooted, and lie generally one way.

The lumbering companies at the mouth of the river, who own most of the fallen timber, talk of building a narrow gauge railway from their mills to the windfall, and also to tap the immense body of pine lying remote from streams in that section. Unless the timber blown down is got out before another season it will be valueless for lumber.

L'ANSE.—On Friday, the 14th, Mrs. Lucy Starr passed away from earth. For the past year she had suffered from a cancer in the breast, which finally caused her death. She leaves a husband and several children to mourn her death, to whom the sympathy of all our people goes out in their grievous affliction. The funeral occurred on Sunday, from the Methodist church, of which the deceased was an active member.

Saturday a delegation of the boys from the slate quarry at Huron Bay came to the village to put the wealth received from the paymaster at the quarry into circulation and enjoy a good time. They had fun enough, but two of their number got more whiskey aboard than comforted their good behavior, and tried to run the town after ideas of their own. The marshal ran them both into the cooler, and they afterwards were fined $3 each and costs by Judge Hendricks. When they come again we opine they won't be so free with their breath.

The Messrs. Shotbolt are working industriously to complete the breaker along the lake shore before the cold weather sets in. We will try and hope this work will be done in accordance with the contract agreed upon between them and the township board.

Our farmers are marketing some of the finest potatoes we have ever seen. They are beautiful, without spot or blemish. Captains of vessels readily pay as high as one dollar a bushel for them, on account of their superior quality. There is money in potatoes for our farmers, the soil in this section being peculiarly adapted to that root.

HOLIDAY goods are already making their appearance at the stores.

Did you see the live Bis(s)on on exhibition at the justice court this morning?

The bachelors' brotherhood of Ishpeming is growing smaller in numbers gradually.

MERCHANTS report the fall trade lively at the present time, especially those who advertise.

PROF. C. A. FOHRMAN sailed from Philadelphia for Europe Wednesday, on the steamer Hecla.

The hematite blossoms even as a full blown rose on our thoroughfares, the same growing redder in color as the mud grows deeper.

They are still struggling with the quicksand at "B" shaft of the Barnum mine, and are making progress, although very slowly.

By the anxiety of people to see them one would be liable to judge the Bisson brothers to be the most popular men Ishpeming ever saw.

WOMEN take their new clothes to church Sunday morning to show them off. Men display theirs at the barber shop at the same time.

Big things are promised for the gold property of the Ropes company before long, and holders of stock are holding on with a tightened grip.

MR. G. R. TUTTLE, recently of this place, is soon to go to Commonwealth, where he will take charge of the store to be started at the Commonwealth mine by the company.

It's safe to challenge a base ball club to play a game for money in this weather. Between snow and rain and cold winds there isn't an hour when a game could be played, or a foot of ground dry enough to play it on found.

The defrauded creditors of the Bisson brothers might get back some of their money by placing the captured Bis(s)on in a cage and exhibiting him for twenty-five cents a look. It would draw as good as a circus.

Boss carpenters, who have large gangs of men under pay, are putting in a good deal of their time swearing at the miserable weather. And as for mining men, swearing does not fit their case at all; it's too mild.

The city authorities are coming down to business in regard to the alleys at last. Property owners have been notified to fill their share of the alleys where the latter are impassable or below grade. A good move.

DANCING will be indulged in as much as usual the coming winter in this place. A club which is to give a series of hops is about to be formed, with the view of beginning at once, and holding their first dance next week.

EVEN the urchins at the mining locations have quit running about barefooted. This is an unfeeling sign of wintry weather, as the aforesaid youngsters don't put on their shoes while there is a ghost of a show for a mild day.

The all-important question to Ishpeming people, whether or not to raise money to build water works, will be decided on Tuesday, Nov. 1st. The tax will probably be voted without much opposition, which ought to be the case.

WORK has been commenced on the new wholesale cracker bakery of Malmberg, Carlson & Co. The buildings are going up on Cleveland avenue adjoining Mr. Malmberg's residence. The bakery will be pushed to completion with the utmost despatch.

The most difficult thing one of our business men ever attempted was to explain satisfactorily to his better half how a hair pin came to be found on the floor of his private office. He has found out that you can't tell from the size of a hair pin how much trouble it may make.

F. P. TILLSON calls attention in today's paper to his new stock of fancy goods, which is of the most elaborate description. For the past three or four weeks he has been busily engaged unpacking and marking new goods for the fall and holiday trade. He has never before, nor has any other dealer ever, ventured to place such a large and fine stock of fancy goods on sale in this region. In every line his assortment is complete, from the cheapest to the most expensive. His announcements in the MINING JOURNAL should be read and remembered by all our readers, and acted on by visiting his store. His stock is so far above the average as to merit special mention, but it would take every column in this paper to enumerate the novelties in the various departments of the store. People from every part of the county should make it a point to look over his stock with a view to selecting goods for the holidays.

THE fair by the ladies of the Catholic congregation, which has been open at Austin's hall since Monday evening, has proved to be quite successful. Large numbers of people visited the hall each night, and enjoyed themselves hugely. Music and dancing has made the affair nightly more enjoyable than usual. The receipts are fully up to the expectation of the most sanguine projectors of the fair. This is the last night, and probably the most interesting one of the week, as the votes are to be counted and many of the fine things finally raffled off.

E. HILL'S new store in Heineman's block is the slickest place for the sale of groceries ever opened in Ishpeming. The handling of groceries is Mr. Hill's trade, and he excels in it. His store is stocked with the completest line of goods ever offered for sale here, among which are all the delicacies of the heart, or stomach, could wish for. Hill keeps his store and stock scrupulously clean, and every thing on hand is fresh, of the best quality, and, what is more, can be bought cheap. He will soon have a coffee roaster in operation, when he will roast every day and be able to supply his customers with coffee warm from the roaster. Don't fail to give him a call.

VERY seldom has a person the privilege of seeing his own coffin, but Ralph B. Dunn came quite near achieving this novel experience. He has been spending most of his time up the road recently, taking orders for sewing machines. Last Monday morning his brother here received a telegraphic dispatch which he understood to announce that Ralph was dead. Mr. Dunn immediately communicated the sad news to his friends at this place, and preparations were at once made for the removal of the remains to Ishpeming, and their interment here. A couple of Main street merchants interested themselves in the matter, and arranged with an undertaker to send a coffin for the supposed dead man. The coffin was selected and sent up to the depot, and in the course of half an hour more would have been on its way up the road to receive the mortal clay of Ralph Dunn. But, luckily, all parties were undeceived, and learned that Ralph was still in the land of the living just in time to keep the coffin off the train and spare the supposed victim the trouble of protesting against being buried alive. Ralph Dunn is better than a dozen dead men yet, and it will probably be many years before he is ready for the wooden overcoat designed for him. For all of which Mr. Dunn and his friends are very grateful, and no one has any reason to complain, except, perhaps, the undertaker, who lost a sale outright by the failure of the man to die as advertised.

CAPTURED.—It is a matter of great satisfaction to the large number of victims of the notorious Bisson brothers to know that the disreputable trio have come to grief and are in a fair way to receive their just deserts. After swindling everybody who had anything to do with them, they went to St. Paul, where they leased the Chipewa house and engaged in the hotel business. Having the only French Canadian hotel in the city, or, rather, the largest, they did a big business, and their house was the resort of most of their class residing in St. Paul. They were enjoying their ill-gotten gains quietly and in fancied security until last Saturday, when the officers of the law swooped down upon them, armed with a requisition from the governor of Michigan, closed the house, attached all the property, and placed the shackles on Narcisse, the elder one. As soon as the necessary process of the courts was gone through with, sheriff Jeffrey, who did the arresting, started for home with his prisoner. He lodged his charge in the jail at Marquette yesterday, and brought him here for examination to-day. He was arrested at the instance of D. F. Wadsworth, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The whereabouts of the thieving gang was discovered by the merest chance. A man by the name of Boden, who had been in St. Paul recently, casually remarked some time ago that he believed he saw the Bisson brothers in that city. This was taken as a clue and successfully worked up until the cheeky vagabonds were discovered. If there is a swindler under the sun who stands a good chance for a long term in the state's prison, Narcisse Bisson is the one, as his transactions were the most open and barefaced, and at the same time the most reckless, ever perpetrated. There is very little liberty in store for him in the near future, for as soon as Mr. Wadsworth gets even with him there will be half a dozen others ready to get in their work of retributive vengeance.

Now then—plant your mince pies and give notice of the fact to your family physician.

The sidewalks on Main street are being patched up, and new ones laid where necessary.

It is now time to take out your winter overcoats and swear at the work moths have done.

MORSE BROS. & Co., call especial attention to their advertisement to their stock of overcoats.

MILLER BROS. is the name of the new grocery firm doing business at the old O'Neil stand on Jackson street.

The base ball match has been called "off," and the Ishpeming boys will hold the championship through the winter.

YOUNG McDonald and Sullivan sentenced in 1879 to two years each in the Ionia reformatory, have been released, and are now in the city.

C. A. DUNBAR, of the Detroit Post and Tribune, was in the city during the week in the interest of his paper, which is the leading republican journal of the state.

THE annual renting of pews took place at the M. E. church on Wednesday evening. There are several pews yet on the market, and if you want one you can pay your money and take your choice.

A SHOOTING gallery is in full blast in the corner store of the old New York building. To-night a prize of five dollars will be awarded to the person making the best individual score during the week.

THE marshal has his eagle eye after the saloon-keepers and will see that the ordinance relative to closing is strictly enforced. Last Friday Dan Manning, convicted of violation of this ordinance, was fined $51.75.

AN oyster counter will be erected in P. C. J. Miller's Tivoli, and this succulent bivalve will be served at all hours of the day and night in every style. The oyster department will be run by Mr. C. S. Barnes, who is said to be a man of large experience as a caterer. To-night is the opening.

THE friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winter gave them a complimentary party at the hall last evening, the affair being somewhat of the nature of a surprise. This event was an occasion of much social interest, as most of the leading people of the city indulged in the festivities.

THE several school buildings in the city have been provided with lightning rods. Under the provisions of the contract made with the company, the school board will receive the full value of the buildings should they be destroyed by lightning. The company, evidently, has faith in its rods.

KRAEMER is out this week with an announcement that will be of special interest to the ladies, if not to every person far and near. It won't hurt any one to read an advertisement—the contrary it may be of great financial benefit. People with an eye for a beautiful stock should not fail to visit Kraemer's store.

YESTERDAY morning Batty Lean, a young man employed as brakeman on the M. H. & O. road, fell from a box car while his train was crossing the bridge, going through the bridge, and striking on the track of the C. & N. W. road below. His injuries are serious enough to render his recovery doubtful.

OWING to the inadequacy of the pumping machinery to keep the water out of the mine, work at uncle Luther Beecher's Rolling Mill mine has been shut down. Two large pumps have been in constant operation for over a month, yet the water gained so rapidly as to make the stopping of work a necessity.

MISS ELLA PENNOYER, heretofore assistant in charge of the post office, is about to retire from the position to accept a clerkship under the register of deeds and county clerk at Marquette.

In the capacity of postmistress Miss Pennoyer has served in a most acceptable manner both to her employer and the public, and her retirement is a matter of general regret. She will be succeeded by Miss Delia Kruse, a young lady of ability and culture.

THE head Sawyer at Johnson's Teal Lake saw mill, T. C. Bellstrom, met with a serious mishap last Saturday afternoon, and one which may yet prove fatal. While engaged in removing the sawdust from behind the buzz saw, while it was in motion, with a hand spike, that tool in some manner got caught in the machinery, and was wrenched from his hands, and the end thrown around so as to hit him in the head just above the eye. His head was frightfully cut and his skull fractured.

DURING the summer the city has been over-run with sewing machine repairers, all of whom have shown themselves to be "quacks" in everything except in the matter of charges for their work. These fellows are, in the majority of cases, shrewd tramps, and are much like the printer who wanted to go from Philadelphia to Chicago, and not having any money started on his journey as a repairer of clocks, and finally reached his destination.

tion wealthy enough to start a saloon. The city engineer, who is a practical machinist, has had plenty to do in undoing the mischief of these tramp machine repairers, and when it becomes known that he can and will repair broken down sewing machines, it is quite likely the city will be an unprofitable stopping place for these sharks.

ALMOST every day emigrants in waiting at the Union depot board the wrong train and are carried in the opposite direction from that in which they wish to go. This mistake is not only common with foreigners, but is frequently made by women who live in the county. If there is anything in the world that will excite a nervous woman beyond all control of reason it is to place her at a depot three miles from home with several squalling infants to care for. Men can hardly appreciate the situation.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases, caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. AYER'S PILLS are especially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular locality action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal. While gentle in their action, these PILLS are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

TUMORS, erysipelas, mercurial diseases, scrofula, and general debility cured by "Dr. Lindsey's Blood Searcher."

AUSTIN, Tex. has a female deputy sheriff, and when she tells a man she has an attachment for him he don't know whether to blush and try to look sweet or to light out for the woods.

"SELLERS' Liver Pills" have been the standard remedy for malaria, liver complaint, costiveness, etc., for fifty years.

"I DOTE upon that girl," said Smith. "That makes the twentieth girl you have doted on within a month," remarked Fenderson. "It is about time you had sown all your wild dotes, Smith."

FELL DOWN.—Mr. Albert Anderson, York street, Buffalo, fell down stairs and severely bruised his knee. A few applications of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil entirely cured him.

"JAMES, I insist upon knowing what you have been drinking. Your voice is husky, your walk unsteady, and your neckerchief is twisted round to the back of your neck. What have you been drinking, sir?" "Kick-kick-koo-miss!"

AN ENTIRE SUCCESS.—It has been proved by the most reliable testimony that Thomas' Electric Oil is an entire success in curing the most inveterate cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back, and wounds of every description.

A WIDOW at the west, intending to succeed her husband in the management of a hotel, advertises that "the hotel will be kept by the widow of the former landlord, Mr. Brown, who died last summer on a new and improved plan."

TIME TRIES ALL.—So it does, and in cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, kidney and liver complaints, biliousness, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters have been proved by many a trial to be a reliable cure. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

"WHY are you late?" asked an Austin school-teacher of a little girl, who hung her head and said "We have got a little baby at our house." "Don't get it happen again," said the teacher fiercely, and the little girl said she would not, and took her seat.

AN OLD FRIEND.—He was afflicted with a lame back and general debility: he was recommended Thomas' Electric Oil which cured him at once. This famous specific is a positive remedy for bodily pain.

A CHICAGO man visiting Cincinnati was being shown round by a citizen, who said: "Now let's go and see the widows' home." The Chicago man put his finger by the side of his nose and winked, and then said: "Not much, Mary Ann. I saw a widow home once and it cost me $15,000. She med me for breach of promise and proved it on me. No, sir; send the widows home in a hack."

THE LAW OF KINDNESS is universal: it affects all the human family, all animals, and may be even found in patient medicines. Some are drastic, and the patient is obliged to suffer pains worse than the disease; but in cases of obstinate constipation, dyspepsia, there is no remedy so kind, so gentle in its effects, and yet so satisfactory as Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1.00 trial size 10 cents.

PEA BLOSSOM, a young saddle-colored youth, was up before the Austin recorder for stealing a pair of shoes from Moss Schauer's store. "Don't you know it was not right to take those shoes?" "Yes, sah, I knows I didn't take de right shoes. My mudder told me dey was not de right ones as soon as I bring 'em home. De high-priced ladies' shoes on de shelf was de right ones, but I couldn't reach 'em, sah."—Texas Siftings.

INCREDIBLE.—F. A. Serath, druggist, Ruthven, Ont., writes "I have the greatest confidence in your Burdock Blood Bitters. In one case with which I am personally acquainted their success was almost incredible. One lady told me that half a bottle did her more good than hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine she had previously taken." Price $1.00, trial size 10 cts.

THERE is nothing like it in appearance, or will cure a cough, bronchitis, asthma or weak lungs, as quick as White Wine of Tar Syrup. Price 50c. Sold by John Crowley.

A LADY in Milwaukee has twin sons of whom she is very proud, both being handsome, sprightly and precocious little fellows. A short time ago a gentleman sent the lady a pair of "Colorado jacks," which, of course, tickled their fancies immensely after they had learned the important lesson of non-interference with the business end of the animals. One of the boys was giving a lady a glowing description of the pets, which led to the query: "Are your jacks gentle, Frank?" "Well, yes, sah," said Frank. "They are awful tame in front, but you bet they're a wild wild behind."

IN THE SACCHARINE FUTURITY.—She was a dainty blonde, and was robed in spotless white, relieved only by a cerulean blue knot at her throat and a double-barrelled sunflower at her belt, and as she tripped into Ellis's she looked just too sweet to live. Harry Ellis smoothed down hair No. 79 as she came forward, and asked: "What is it, Miss?" The voice was as musical as an aolian harp, and its dulcet tones vibrated upon his auditory nerve with frightful rapidity. She turned her heavenly blue eyes upon him and said: "Have you the song 'Saccharine Futurity'?" "I beg pardon," said Ellis. "I didn't exactly catch the title."

"Saccharine Futurity," repeated the beautiful vision, and as she uttered the words her lips looked so tempting that the young man immediately turned around and sank down a folio marked 5 in great trepidation. He looked all through the list but failed to find the song, and he ventured upon one more question: "Is it a solo or song and chorus?" "Yes I think it is," replied the dame, who seemed a little mixed by the question. Just then Frank Becker came in the back door and Ellis rushed up to him with the interrogatory: "What the devil does she mean? She wants a song called 'Saccharine Futurity.'" "What!" exclaimed Becker; and then, as he gazed at the asthetic creature, he took it all in and said: "Go get her the 'Sweet By-and-By.'"

The familiar song was rolled up for her, and, smiling her thanks, she passed out.—Graphic.

SWEET'S PATENT Common Sense Sleigh.

The Strongest, Most Durable, AND MOST PERFECT SLEIGH IN USE.

RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of Lumbermen to this cut, showing Sweet's Logging and Supply Sleighs. We are now making eight different sizes, suitable for all kinds of work, both double and single, and of any width of track desired. It is a well-known fact that these sleighs will draw larger loads, with more ease of draft, than any other sleigh produced. They are built loose jointed, so that each runner will act independent of each other, and will not tip over in bad places, as the common stiff-jointed sleigh is sure to do. They also have a Patent Shoe, Concave Heel, so as to prevent the sleigh from slewing or sliding sideways, so that the sleigh is bound to keep the track, which is a large item to every man that drives a team. I keep on hand all sizes of Logging, Light and Heavy Teaming and Delivery Sleighs, all warranted to give perfect satisfaction. Parties will please send their orders in time for the coming winter, and not wait until the rush comes. All orders promptly attended to. SOLD CHEAP FOR CASH.
