MARKWELL has been absent this week, buying goods for the spring trade in eastern markets. He prefers to select his stock in person, knowing that "goods well bought are half sold," and is thus always prepared to please his patrons in quality and prices. His stock is no arriving daily. It is immense and elegant. Markwell knows what this market requires, and aims to provide it. The compositor and pressman are the ones upon whom the press of Canada relies for its tone and vigor.

"Honors are easy" in the new county of Florence, Wis., we take it. Anyway J. F. Atkinson, of the News, has been appointed county judge of that recently born bailiwick. If those who "shuffle off" in Florence and vicinity died possessed of real estate as a rule friend Atkinson would have his hands full of probate business, but Florence "stiffs" are apt to have no interest for any one but the coro-ner. Still, Cinders tenders his condolences.

In sorting out and sizing up the contents of the contribution box after service one Sunday recently a clergyman of the city found a coin that has puzzled him greatly. He spent several days studying the strange piece of metal, and finally brought it to Cinders to see if our and finally brought it to Cinders to see if our numismatic knowledge could throw any light on its age, character, etc. But we have to admit that it swamps us, and everybody about the concern. There isn't a man connected with the MINING JOURNAL who can recall having ever seen anything like it Perhaps some of our readers might be able to "place" the strange coin? In that hope Cinders appends a description: It is of copper, somewhat smaller than the old-fashioned copper cent, with the words "Good for 5 cts. in Trade. H. H. Mildon." plainly stamped on one side, the other bearing a finely executed female head with an inscription surrounding it that we are unable to interpret. The coin is a rare numismatic novel-try, which somebody—unaware of its value, doubtless—dropped into the contribution box, and our clerical friend is anxious to know more regarding it. His opinion is that it is a Roman coin. Cinders coincides—it was plainly a rum-un that put it in the collection box.

ONE of the saddest of the many fa-

the mines of the county, was the one that occurred at Republic some two weeks since. The victim, John Johnson, was an old employe of the com-pany. He had recently determined to quit mining and live on a farm, and to accomplish this he purchased some land in Iowa. A week or so before his sad fate overtook him he notified the captain of his intended departure, and made all arrangements to move with his family to the west. His last day in the mine was Thursday, and on that evening he intended to lay down the mining tools forever, but not the way he did. In the last working hour of the day, and just before quitting the mine for good, a small piece of rock fell from above, hitting him on the roads met Tuesday afternoon in the Brunswick house parlors at Detroit, to give a hearing in the matter of the ap-plication for an order directing the M., H. & O. railway company to at once commence the construction of its line from the village of Ontonagon, and to take action upon the same. A full board was present, with governor Jerome in the chair. Both the petitioners and those opposed to having the order issue were represented by counsel, and the question in all its bearings was fully, if not ably, argued by the champions of the opposing sides to the controversy. On behalf of the petitioners, Dunham, Nester, Howell, and others from Ontonagon, were heard, while the case of the remonstrants was presented by supervisors Hooper and Parnell, of Ontonagon; J. L. Stackpole, of Boston, secretary and treasurer of the M., H. & O. railway company; S. F. Seager, of Lansing, and senator J. H. Chandler. The arguments lasted until 11:30 P. > COUNTY BOARD MEETING .- The county board met in special session at the court-house in this city Thursday forenoon at ten o'clock, pursuant to call, and organized with supervisor Pascoe in the chair, a quorum of members responding to the call of names. Considerable business of a routine character was transacted, such as auditing claims, receiving and acting upor communications and petitions, etc. only the more important of which will be noted in this report, which the crowded state of our columns forces us to make as brief as possible. The most important action taken had reference to the late treasurer's defalcation, and consisted of (1) the approval of his successor's bond; (2) the adoption of the report presented by the special committee appointed to confer with the bondsmen of the late treasurer, Jno. E. Ward, in relation to their liability as such bondsmen to the county. The re-port recited that said bondsmen submitted to the committee a proposition to pay into the county treasury $10,000 on condition of their full and absolute release from any further liability in the matter of the late treasurer's defalcation, they to retain for their own use and benefit all the property, real and personal, placed in their hands by Ward, the estimated net value of which was placed at $6,000. The committee recommended that the proposition be not entertained, which recommendation was concurred in by an unanimous vote of the board; (3) the adoption of a resolution authorizing the prosecuting attorney to employ additional counsel in the case of The People vs. Jno. E. Ward, if he deems it advisable, also empowering the county treasurer to settle with the expert employed upon the books of the late treasurer, and directing the clerk to have said expert's report published in some paper of the county. On the petition presented by O. O. Welch and others, asking that a new township, to be named Crystal Falls, be created from territory described in said petition, to be detached from the township of Ely, the special commit-tee to which the matter was referred made favorable report, in which the board unanimously concurred, and the prosecuting attorney was directed to draw the necessary papers. A resolution was also offered and adopted authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee of three from the members of the bar of this county to conter with tal accidents which ever happened in similar committees from Delta and Menominee counties in relation to arranging for special compensation to the judge of this judicial circuit by the counties composing the circuit. J. Q. Adams, Wm. P. Healy and D. H. Ball were named such committee, and in-structed to report on action taken at the next meeting of the board. "IT is well to be off with the old love tainer; jury trial, pending A WORK just published by Chas. F. Folsom, M. D., secretary of the Massachusetts state board of health, shows some facts that will surprise people. It is a compilation of the mortality statistics of that state, from 1878 to 1878, inclusive, showing the causes of death between the ages of 20 and 80 years, the tables being arranged to make a comparative exhibit of these, and being also illustrated with charts. The tables were compiled and the charts prepared by John W. Guiteau, brother of the president-killer. They establish some strange and startling facts. Thus it appears that, even in staid old Massachusetts, self-destruction ranks as one of the leading causes of mortality. Of "all the ills that flesh is heir to," but nine diseases, and old age, harvests each a greater crop of victims each year. In other states the proportion of suicidal deaths is conceded to be greater. The significance of this fact, in connection with life insurance, is of importance. Most companies have a "suicide clause" which relieves them from payment of insurance on the life of any policy holder who destroys his own life, even under influence of an insane impulse. The New York Life has no such clause. Remember this when deciding in what company to insure.

[To the Editor.] CLARKSBURGH, Mar. 30th, 1882. Sir! allow me to give circulation to what we Clarksburgh voters consider a piece of gross injustice. At the election in Ely township next Monday there promises to be considerable opposition, and much of it comes from this place. In order to be assured of a fair election we requested the township board to allow one of our men to represent us on the election board. This was refused us, point blank. Not caring much to have a man on board so long as we had him at the polls, we then asked that he be allowed to have a place in the room where the voting and counting was done, and this too was refused us. Perhaps the township board have the right to keep our man off the board, but we consider it utterly unjust not to give us an opportunity to have a representative at so public a place as the ballot box. If the manipulation of the Ely township elec-tions are honest, which I have no reato doubt, why is it that the opposition party is given no chance to see the ballot box opened?

The break-up is, appgrently, farther offthan it was two weeks ago, and the rage for betting on the opening of navigation has sensibly diminished.

The People vs. John E. Ward; embezzle-ment; respondent arraigned and pleaded not that the MINING JOURNAL job office has unsurpassed facilities for turning out tickets, and in the quickest time. us, and if you're running to win, don't delay sending in your order, Mr. Candidate. A person seeking a public trust can in no way so surely recommend himself to the public that he asks to trust him than by displaying good judgment in his own affairs. Hence an excellent way to prove yourself fit for an office is to get your ballots where they can be quickly, promptly and accurately printed. All this is intended only for those who want and expect to be successful. The chaps who know that they ought to be-and feel that they're going to be-defeated, will favor us by going elsewhere. They're not the kind of customers this office likes to have on its books.

> A GLANCE at the interior window of the postoffice revealed to us a large number of MINING JOURNALS that are being held for postage. These papers were evidently intended to be sent away by persons interested in the growth and prosperity of our city, and who recognize a live newspaper as the best and cheapest way of attracting the attention of strangers to the superior advantages here afforded. Hundreds of copies of the MINING JOURNAL are sent out every month, but our friends and subscribers would do well to bear in mind that each paper mailed requires a one cent postage stamp; that the paper itself weighs just enough to go for that price, and anything else put into the same wrapper makes extra postage necessary. There are at least a dozen copies of this paper in the post-office window now that are held for postage.

> RELIGIOUS services are to be held in the Methodist Episcopal church each evening during the coming (Passion) week, consisting of a series of sermons on the chief concluding events in the Savior's life and ministry, accompanied by appropriate services. The list of speakers and appointments for the week is as follows: Monday and Tuesday evenings, Rev. W. E. Bigelow, of Ishpeming; Wednesday evening, Rev. H. E. Davis, pastor Presbyterian church, of Negaunee; Thursday, Rev. Jno. Russell; Friday, Rev. L. E. Lennox, Negaunee; Saturday, Rev. P. R. Parrish. An appropriate Easter service is being arranged for, announcement of which will be made next week.

OUR young friends of the Home Social club announce a dance at Mather's hall for the evening of April 10th-Easter Monday. Derago will furnish mu-sic for the affair, and the members of the club will see that everything else needful to ensure a good time is provided. The invitation is general and the price of tickets $1.00-two things which put it in the power of every young man to attend and take his girl. The members of the club have behaved nicely during Lent, and the MINING JOURNAL hopes they will realize enough out of this dance to enable them to declare a dividend when the club goes out MACK's grocery store on Washington street has been moved into the small building formerly occupied by small building formerly occupied by Tapken's gun shop, and the rooms vacated by the grocery store in the brick building are being fitted up for a meat market. In the latter enterprise Mr. J. E. Mack will be associated with A. Manthei, proprietor of the market which has hitherto done business in the basement shop of the same building. The new firm will have a fine market when the place now being prepared for them is ready for occupancy.

The regular township caucus was held on Monday evening, when the following ticket was put in nomination: For supervisor, Capt. Peter Pascoe; for clerk, John McGuire; for treasurer, Geo. Wilson: for school inspector, two years, P. W. Pascoe; for school inspector, one year, Frank D. Verran; for justice of the peace, E. G. Dungey; for highway commissioner, James Dower; tor constables, Wm Rundle, James McGraw, Wm. Anderson and Nicholas McGree. There was a rumor in the air early in the week of an opposition ticket, but as none has been announced it is supposed to have fallen through. Should no opposition present itself this will be a tame election; but there's time enough for trouble yet.

The social event of the coming week will be a Good Friday festival, given for the benefit of the new parsonage fund. Supper will be served from six until nine. Remember the time-Good Friday in the evening changed wonderfully in Ishpeming, or one of its residents, an old one, too, and celebrated, has fallen. John Mills. Honest John, orator, statesman and politician, is now behind the bars of the county jail, or was at this writing, (Thursday.) A hard hearted officer of the law came up from Marquette, and, nabbing Old Honesty, transported him to the home of the transgressor. John has been in hard luck recently, and all on account of one drunk, and that not much of a drunk either. After all his big sprees in the last two dozen years, none of which resulted in anything more serious than a headache, that he should at last be ruined by a comparatively small spree, must be truly galling. The circumstances of John's incarceration are as follows: He was moving a house last summer. Now house moving is John's forte. He never feels so good as when he is blocking up the streets with some old shanty and bossing a gang of men whom he makes do all the heavy work. Well, to return to the house moving of last summer: This particular house was a large one and had to be moved across Main street. When he got it well under way toward the intersection of two streets, he suddenly got dry. That settled it. When John gets dry, everything has got to stop until his inner works are properly lubricated. This is a formidable operation and often takes several days to perform. On this particular time, it being warm weather. it took John a number of days to get irrigated enough to go out and brave the summer's sun. Meanwhile the house stood on the street and travel was obstructed and profanity became epidemic in that neighborhood. In the course of time John sobered up and moved the house away, but not before the city fathers got on their ears and had him arrested for violating the ordinance. As it proved a clear case against John, he was fined for his caper. Now it is beneath John's dignity to pay a fine. "By the lop-eared hen," says John, "I'll fight the city of Ishpeming in the circuit court," and he

In this connection it is proper to say that the product of 1881 was all mined during the winter, the mine having lain idle during the whole of last summer. Recently, acting under the advice of Messrs. A. Kidder and Capt. Jas. Pascoe, of the now celebrated Champion mine, Messrs. Spear and Case secured a these pits are properly opened up and lease of the property, and at once arrang- supplied with the necessary skip-roads, ed for its thorough exploration with a we can see no reason why a daily prodiamond drill. This drill hole, which the record kept refers to as No. 1, runs horizontally north from a point about 20 48, range 29, where there is, apparently, feet east of the skip-road. No. 2 was started from nearly the same point, and run northeast with the same gratifying results. No. 3 is directly under the skip-road, and cut about the same thickness of first class and 11 feet of second class, boring due north. Nos. 4 and 5 were started from the east end of the pit and run north and northeast, thought to be large bodies of clean ore. cutting about 4 feet of clean and 36 feet of second class ore. No. 6, which easterly opening, went down through has a more easterly direction passed 30 feet of mixed stuff before striking through 67 feet of ore, most of which, however, is second class. The drill is now boring due south and is in mixed ore. These explorations will be continued until every part of the property is thoroughly tested, it being the intention to bore the next hole perpendicudisplaces the ore on the second level of No. 2. The discoveries already made, taken in connection with the fact that larly through the horse of rock which there is 7 feet of clean ore in the bottom of No. 2, and that the needle shows an attraction of 85 over the quartzite west of the old workings all the way to the Champion line, gives reasonable assurance that a valuable deposit will be found at no great 'depth below the old bottom, or at least, as soon as the miners get into settled groundthe formation thus far giving evidence of having been subjected to and in stock about 7,000 tons, in addiunusually great disturbance. Case, F. B. Spear and R. P. Travers being named as directors for the first year. Five thousand shares of the capital stock were set aside to be sold for working capital—2,000 to be sold immediately, and the balance as the necessities of the company may require. It is more than probable that the sale of the first two thousand will supply all the working capital required, as it is positively certain the mine can be made to more than pay expenses from the start. > These remarks apply only to the Dalliba mine proper-i.e. to the openings referred to in our last annual review. Since then an important discovery has been made about half a mile north, on the south half of the northwest quarter of section 29, town a very large body of ore, which is now being prepared for mining. The workings on this part of the Dalliba, now familiarly known as the "North Dalliba," comprise two open pits about 250 feet apart, and numbered respectively 2 and 5, in which the surface drift has been removed from what was at first A shaft in No. 2, which is the most clean ore, in which last it was continued 10 feet. This fact is only important as showing that the deposit is rather mixed on top, though a shaft just commenced in No. 5 shows exceedingly well, both as to quantity and quality of ore. To count on nothing but clean ore in such a large deposit as the North Dalliba, would be expecting too much, and the fact that some parts of it are capped with mixed ore is a matter of trifling importance so far as the ultimate value of the property is concerned. This part of the Dalliba is to be supplied with a hoisting plant, consisting of an engine and two 30-inch drums, which is now on the ground and ready to be set up. The mine gives employment to a force of about 90 men, which will be increased very considerably in the near future. There is now mined close of navigation last fall, and an esnounced as forthcoming at the close of | been done during the past winter.

DEVELOPMENTS at the Indiana mine Lake Michigamme, instead of the loop are of the most satisfactory character. A new find has recently been made about 450 feet east of the main workings, where the ore is covered by only 7 feet of drift. This, together with the great improvement in the outlook at the Illinois, where they are now crosscutting in ore at a depth of nearly 100 feet, would seem to prove beyond the contingency of a doubt, that there is a large body of ore extending nearly the whole length of the Indiana 80-acre tract. Ore is now being hoisted at the Indiana over the new skip-road, active mining has been commenced, and a large output the coming season may be confidently expected. The ore is a soft blue specular of the very best quality, analyses showing it to be exceptionally well adapted for "fix" purposes, and as such it will demand and receive the highest market price. The present indications are that this will prove one among the most valuable properties on the Menominee range.

SEVERAL parties have recently examined the Norwich mine with a view to purchasing, and we learn that negotiations are in progress which will most certainly result in the sale of the property—the only question apparently being which of the negotiators will be the first to close on a really advantageous bargain. It is, in the opinion of the MINING JOURNAL, the cheapest mining property ever offered in this district-one which can be made to pay for itself by the time it is placed in condition for economical work-after which time, being in fee, it can be profitably wrought when other mines to suspend operations—the saving in royalty being in itself a fair profit. The MINING JOURNAL congratulates in advance the party or parties who bid successfully for the ownership of the Norwich, than which, it honestly believes, there is no more valuable hematite property in the whole region.

Or a noted manufacturer of mining machinery at Chicago, whose famous diamond drill has made his name a familiar one in all mining districts of the United States, we find this mention in the Industrial World, of the 23d:

and Brush Electric plant for lighting an entire town, amounting in all to nearly $50,000. He is furnishing a similar outfit for Butte City, Montana territory, is busily engaged on m ining machinery to go to Lake Superior, and is oper-

Senators Sawyer and Cameron, of Wisconsin, with the representatives of their party from that state in the lower house, made a ridiculous exhibition of themselves last week. There were two plans of redistricting the state before the Wisconsin legislature-one of which was known as the "Price" and the other as the "Spooner" plan. The latter was in accordance with the wishes of the two senators and their co-partisans in the house of representatives, while the former was not, though it met the approval of a majority in the legislature. The friends of the "Spooner" plan accordingly notified the bosses at Washington that the objectionable measure was likely to pass, unless something could be done to kill it. It wasn't long before a message came from the two senators and the six representatives informing the faithful in the legislature that the "Spooner plan" was the one that should pass; that "we disapprove of the committee (Price) plan!" This brazen attempt at dictation from Washington was properly resented by the legislature, which promptly passed the Price bill. Governor Rusk seems to share the independence of the legislature, and defied the ponderous "we" that represents the machine element in Wisconsin politics at Washington by at once attaching his signature to the bill as it came from the legislature.

The lunatics who have been frothing with indignation against the court that sentenced the crank Mason for a gross breach of military discipline, and an attempted crime which was wholly without justification, might find food for thought-were they in the habit of thinking-in the action of president White of Cornell university. recently minister to Germany, when he was asked to sign a petition for Mason's pardon. He declined, remarking that Mason's crime "is one of the most dangerous known, either from a civil or military point of view;" adding that 'the readiness of individuals to take life on the slightest pretext is one of the most serious symptoms in this country-there is no civilized land in which murders are committed with such impunity." Very many papers in this country have been shooting wild on this matter of Mason's crime and punishment. The character of Guiteau should not figure in the case-nevertheless all that many editorial writers have been able to remember when raving about it was that the wretch whom Mason tried to murder was an assassin himself. Luckily the court and government officials having jurisdiction in the matter were less accessible to demagogic impulses than their scribbling critics in the trashy prints which have affected to be stirred by so intense a sympathy for Mason.

Another of America's great poets has gone to his eternal rest. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow died at his home in Cambridge, Mass., on Friday afternoon, of last week, and his remains were laid away in the family vault in Auburn cemetery on Sunday. He had completed his seventy-fifth year on the 27th of February preceding, when he was the recipient of messages of greeting from all quarters of the country, felicitating the good old man on having lived to complete threequarters of a century, and wishing him yet many years of usefulness and happiness-wishes that, alas, were not to be realized. Perhaps no American author has obtained so strong a hold on the affections of the American people as Longfellow; certain it is that to-day he occupies the warmest place in their hearts. The purity, elevated tone and sympathetic quality of his poems rank him as one of the foremost bards of his age and generation, and have made his name familiar wherever literature has lovers. His soul has passed away and his mortal form will soon mingle with the dust, but the heritage of his name and the beautiful creations of his genjus will last while time endures, for "One of the few immortal names That were not born to die."

Gen. Bragg, of Wisconsin, may safely conclude that his congressional career will come to a close with the expiration of his present term. His district, under the new apportionment, consists of the counties of Fond du Lac, Dodge, Washington and Waukesha, and the plucky "little general" might as well try to be elected governor of Wisconsin on the prohibition ticket as to be returned from the district constituted from these four counties. The congressman from that district to succeed Gen. Bragg will come from Dodge, and he will which pay a royalty may be compelled | be a chap just about the size of state senator Delaney, who may have had a hand in shaping the bill which re-districted the state in a way that disappoints many of the old politicians, but that promises to give some good new men a chance. Delanev is a brilliant young lawyer, full of ambition, energy and ability. He will get to congress one of these days, and then the country will wonder why it hadn't heard more of him before.

THE bloody First ward is where all the boss caucuses are held. There is always a circus at the engine house on caucus nights, and Thursday night was no exception. They have their own set of parliamentary rules in the The outgoing common council held First, which are always adapted to its last meeting Saturday evening suit the occasion. By this morning the pins are all up for the city election on Monday next. The caucuses were held Thursday night and the city convention yesterday. As the MINING JOURNAL goes to press Friday afternoon, we are, of course, unable to say positively who is running and who isn't, and for what offices the candidates are looking, but from what has been said and done during the latter part of the week we can nearly place them to a certainty. The Scandinavian movement has developed a great deal of feeling and antagonism, and awakened an unusual interest in city politics; more so, in fact, than has been known here for a number of years. By yesterday morning the slates were mostly made up, and unless a compromise was agreed upon since this writing, are about as follows: The ticket spoken of as the "American ticket" will be headed by the old veteran, John P. Outhwaite, for mayor, with Hon. H. O. Young for recorder and John Dillon for treasurer. The Scandinavians will go into the field under the leadership as ever, all of which the MINING of John W. Jochim, for mayor, and Conrad Carlson for recorder. From this it will be seen that both tickets are good ones, and worthy the heartiest support of the friends of the candidates. Under ordinary circumstances it would be hard to choose between the two. The ward caucuses have all been held and good candidates put up. In every instance there will be opposing candidates, however, with the chances about equal between them. The Scandinavians held a mass meeting at Nora hall last night. There will be lots of the county, and is now ready for all excitement Monday; in fact there is ISHPEMING, -- MICHIGAN legal business. PIERRE FOLEY has returned from the Mt. Clemens mineral springs, completely cured of rheumatism, yet troubled with something akin to heart disease-probably brought on by frequent and prolonged vapor baths.

MR. GERSHAM JONES, whilom bookkeeper, attorney, publisher, and the Lord knows what else, of this city, but now of Chicago, has been among us during the week, and all his old friends have been glad to grasp his "fin."

SEASS, the cigar manufacturer, has employed a first-class man to look after his business, so that he will be enabled to give his whole attention to the management of the Breitung house-which same he intends shall be the popular hotel of northern Michigan.

THE local dramatic association has been invited to entertain an Ishpeming audience, which the members will do in a royal manner on the evening of the 12th inst., presenting the drama, "The Turn of the Tide, or Wrecked in Port," tween 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening and concluding with the negro farce, "Black Statue." The Ishpeming people will not regret meeting the association in full force.

THE city convention was held last evening, too late for us to give the results. The First ward caucus was also held last evening. The Second ward caucus held Thursday evening put Con. Gorman in the field for supervisor and Jacob Schneider for alderman. nominee for supervisor, and Capt. Henry Merry has been re-nominated for alderman.

THE Breitung house management is to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Edwin Jeffrey as clerk. There is no more popular hotel clerk on the peninsula than this same Jeffrey, and Mr. Seass will find in him all the "business" that can well be crowded into one human system, and if we mistake not the Breitung will also find in him a sort of something that attracts and holds custom.

THE MINING JOURNAL has no desire to bring any man's name into the political arena without first having his consent. The city is full of politicians now, and a good many of the politicians are full. In using the name of Mr. Thomas M. Wells as a candidate for city recorder, it is but justice to that popular gentleman to say that we did so without his consent. Mr. Wells had no thoughts of running for the office; in fact, says he wouldn't run under any circumstances.

THE annual financial statement of city recorder Byron D. Jones, just published, shows a balance of cash in the treasury, exclusive of the school fund. of $8,857.21. This snug sum ought not to scare any one, because it's no more than the city requires for present needs. After looking at these figures the inebriate will go home and try to figure out how many glasses of "budge" he could buy if he had all this money in his pants; but the wise and provident citizen—the man who has an eye to the best interests of the city-will say, "Surely, we are now in a condition to lay out something for improvements-a better city lock-up, frinstance." HELL'S BRAVE QUARTETTE.-Of the series of dastardly outrages which have served to give our city an unenviable reputation during the winter, the affair of last Monday evening, wherein four able bodied rowdie jumped upon and nearly killed an inoffensive man, takes the lead. The quartette was composed of the same material that has figured in the previous like attacks, and that three of them have been caged in the county jail, where they are now waiting trial, is a matter of relief. The facts in connection with this attack are about as follows: Bea party of young roughs, who had congregated in the saloon of Phil. Madden, were attracted to the bar by the efforts of a half drunken young man named John Gallagher to induce a companion to accompany him home. Gallagher's efforts to get his companion out proved unavailing, owing partly to the fact that the crowd of bummers urged him to remain. As Gallagher was bent on going home, four of the company, whose names are Mike Shea, Bat Teehan, Nathaniel Hibbert is the Third ward Johnny Casey and Jimmy Dunn, stepped up to him and offered to accompany him, at the same time by seizing hold of his collar and telling him to come along. The party thus organized started up the northwestern track, and when just beyond the Case street crossing, without warning, Gallagher got a rap over the head with a "billie" in the hands of one of his escort. The blow sent Gallagher senseless to the ground, and he had no sooner dropped than this brave quartette jumped upon him and proceeded to pound him. After satisfying themselves that their victim was thoroughly pummeled the scoundrels were ready to retire, but the disturbance had called out the officers, and after a little skirmish three of the guilty ones were arrested and lodged in the lock-up, together with John Shea, another member of the gang, but who, on investgation, was found to have been absent when his comrades did their work. Dunn had made his escape and hasn't been heard from, except that it is known he has left the city. The man Gallagher was picked up insensible, and taken to his board. ing house at the Bessemer location, where he was shortly after attended by the mine physician, who has hopes of his recovery, although some of his injuries are internal, and liable to prove fatal. The young villains were brought before justice Byron D. Jones on Wednesday evening for examination, who bound them over for trial in the circuit court. No cause can be shown for the cowardly act of these roughs, other than a desire to render themselves notorious as thugs. If this was their object it has been gained, for the prosecuting attorney assures us he has a case against them that will result in their incarceration in the state prison. They are of the most abandoned stripe of depraved humanity, resembling idiotic devils, but their appearance at the THOMAS SHEAN, a young street Arab | depot Thursday afternoon to take the train for Marquette brought together sympathy, thus showing that the city

Some weeks ago I was violently attacked with sciatic rheumatism, and hour by hour I grew worse, and nothing my family or the doctor could do gave me any relief: I began to think in a few days that my case was hopeless and that I was doomed to be an invalid and helpless cripple for life. But at last I thought of that picture which I had so often looked at with but little interest, and then Mr. Hall came to my bedside, and telling me how St. Jacobs Oil had cured him of a worse and longer standing case than mine, urged me to use the same remedy. I did so that very night, directing my wife not to spare it but to apply it thoroughly according to the directions; this she did with a large piece of flannel cloth saturated with the Oil, and then bound the cloth to the affected parts. is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair,

The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilct it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Permit me to make a correct statement of the amount of life insurance held by the late president James A. Garfield. In the month of April, 1881, I visited Washington and wrote his application for $25,000 in the New York Life Insurance company. In answer to the application query, "Has the party any other insurance on his life?" he replied, "ten thousand in the Equitable." He afterwards presented me with a note of commendation, of which the following is a copy:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, May 3, 1881. "Executive Mansion, Washington, May 3, 1881. "L. C. Hopkins, Washington:
"Dear Sir.—I have examined the several plans of insurance proposed by the New York Life Insurance company and authorize you to prepare for me a policy for $25,000 on the fifteen year tontine plan.

Yours truly,

JAMES A. GARFIELD." JAMES A. GARFIELD." From the foregoing you will perceive that the president had at the time of his decease insurance on his life amounting to $35,000, of which $25,000 was in the New York Life and $10,000 in the Equitable. Hs had no other insurance.

Indianapolis, October 1.

Doubtless the question will be asked, why it is that the New York Life is the only company that had both a larger income and a larger amount at risk in 1880 than in 1873? The answers are many. Some you will find by reading carefully this page, others can be given by any of our agents.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 14, 1881. L. C Hopkins, Esq.

DEAR SIR—I have this day received a check from the New York Life Insurance company in full payment of proceeds of policy No. 149,056 for twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) on the life of the late James A. Garfield. This sum, together with the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) received from the Equitable Life Association of New York, being the full amount of the insurance on his life. Please accept my thanks for the prompt payment of this sum without discount and before the expiration of the allotted time. LUCRETIA R. GARFIELD. Yours very truly, "I HAVE NEVER KNOWN RELIABLE INSURANCE ON ORDINARY LIFE PLAN FURNISHED AT SO CHEAP A COST." Doctor A. Everett, of the well known firm of Everett, Weddell & Co., bankers, of Cleveland, Ohio, having become the owner of a "Tontine Investment Policy," issued by the New York Life, writes in regard to the actual settlement of said policy as follows:

Banking House of Everett, Weddell & Co., CLEVELAND, OHIO, March 6th, 1882.

William H. Beers, Esq., Vice-President and Actuary New York Life Ins. Co., New York:

Dear Sir:—Having become, by assignment, the owner of "Tontine Investment Policy" No. 88,070, issued by your company on the life of a citizen of Cleveland, you ask me to state the results at the expiration of its ten-year Tontine period. I find, by referring to your "tables of rates," that the annual ordinary life rate on policy above mentioned is $214.80, a total in ten years of $2,148.

You now return in cash $1,897.15, so that the party's insurance of $10,000 for ten years cost him a total of $250.85, or $2.50 per thousand per year at ordinary life rates. This result is eminently and entirely satisfactory, and demonstrates the superior and economical manner with which the affairs of the old "New York Life" are managed.

I have never known reliable insurance on ordinary life plan furnished at so cheap a cost. rk Life" are managed.

Thave never known reliable insurance on ordinary life plan furnished at so cheap a cost.

A. EVERETT, Yours truly, If you desire to secure a policy that combines in one form the greatest number of advantages obtainable in a life insurance policy you must come to the New York Life. A STRONG ENDORSEMENT. The following letter from one of the foremost and most successful business men of Wisconsin, indicates his high appreciation of Tontine insurance as practiced by the New York Life. Mr. Sawyer insured under a twenty-payment life policy with a ten-year Tontine period. The ten years having expired he makes his selection from the five different methods offered in settlement, and expresses his satisfaction in unmistakable language. Walker Buckner, Esq., Manager New York Life Insurance Company, Milwaukee, Wis.:

Dear Sir-Ten years ago I insured at the age of 29, for $5,000 on the Tontine investment planpremiums to be paid for 20 years, and Tontine period 10 years. The ten years having expired, I find the results very gratifying, as for instance: I have been insured for ten years-$5,000-for nothing, the value in cash of my policy being $64.50 more than I have paid out in premiums. Such results, it seems to me, speak for themselves. Yours truly. Mr. Sawyer's policy was for $5,000 on the 20-payment life, 10-year Tontine plan. Annual premiums were $148.50 Having paid for ten years, the following options—as provided in the contract—were offered him, Opposite to each of these is set down the corresponding estimate, taken from the published estimates of New York Life Insurance Company: ESTIMATE. RESULT. 1st. Cash on surrender of policy.

2nd. Annuity for life, on surrender of policy.

3d. Paid up policy on surrender of policy.

4th. Surplus in cash—policy remaining in force. Ten more premiums, less dividends, to be paid.

5th. Surplus payable thus: One year's premium—$148 50 and nine installments of $69.00 each applied to pay premiums—policy being kept up. $1,550.00 $1,295.00 114.00 4,300.00 4,000.00 650.00 393.25 462.20 In each and every case thus far our results have largely exceeded the estimates made ten years ago. If this can be done the first ten years, what will be the result in the future, when we will have fifty insured on the tontine plan where we have had one the last ten years?

Late decisions of the courts are in favor of the company and against the widow where the question of The New York Life policy does not contain even a "suicide clause." LET ME ASK YOU Of what account are the opinions and statements of the anti-Tontine agents in the light of such results and acknowledgments as you find upon this page?

It reminds me of a scene in court:

Young Attorney—(His first case):—Why, Judge, pardon me, but you can't send this man up for six months for so trivial an offense: the tull extent of the law would only be sixty days.

Judge—(Peering over his glasses)—Can't! Can't! Can't!? Well, young man, you will please understand that I have done it. A FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENT AND AN INSURANCE FOR NOTHING! Mr. E. M Levey, general agent New York Life Insurance company:

Dear Sir.—On the 6th of January, 1872, I took a policy in your company for $2,500, ten year endowment ten year dividend plan, and now on this date the settlement of policy with dividends gives me $3,451.16, which, as an investment gives me over 5 per cent. and ten years insurance without any cost, which is so very favorable and satisfactory, that you may write me for another policy.

Yours truly Yours truly, JAMES R. TURNER, 5 State street, New York. THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. Probably in the whole history of modern insurance there is no example of undisturbed prosperity more remarkable than the records of this company afford.

Conducted on honest business principles, it has secured independence for thousands, and stands to-day firm and impregnable, with assets amounting to over $43,000,000.

Among the many instances which might be cited, of the benefits which have accrued to holders of Tontine policies in this company, we will merely call attention to the following:

Mr. W. E. Veitch, of Jacksonville, Illinois, having held a $5,000 policy for ten years, was offered at its expiration a choice of methods of settlement. He accepted a cash surrender value, and having paid in $1,045.50, the company returned him $915.04, so that the $5,000 insurance cost but $131.46, or $2.63 per thousand, per year, for the ten years.

Mr. Veitch at once secured another $5,000 policy on their twenty year endowment, fifteen year Tontine plan. plan.

Mr. Daniel S. Baright, of Von Wagners, New York, speaking of an ordinary life policy, with ten year Tontine, taken in 1871, says that the surplus paid is nearly forty-five per cent. of the amount paid in the ten years.

Mr. W. Howard Thompson, the well-known live stock dealer of Jacksonville, Illinois, carried $18,000 in this company for ten years and got back his entire premium within $405.41, so that he got his $18,000 policy for $40.64 per annum.

It is no wonder that we learn Mr. Thompson applied for another policy of $15,000 on the twenty year plan, tontining it for fifteen years.

We could go on indefinitely with these testimonials to the value of the tontine policies in the New York life, but have said enough to prove that any praise we may bestow is well deserved by a company which has secured the confidence of the entire commercial and financial world.—From the Argus for November, 1881. Accidental death or murder may give rise to the suspicion of self-destruction and thus a policy excepting death by one's own hand would either be valueless or the occasion of long and expensive litigation. Every policy in the New York Life if kept up by the owner, is as certain to be paid as human society is to last; to the extent of his insurance in the company every member has made the wisest and safest possible provision for the future.—Christian Intelligencer, February 24, 1881. "THE BEST INVESTMENT I EVER MADE." Mr. Morris Steinhardt, weli-known as a successful merchant and business man at 55 White street New York, writes the management of the New York Life Insurance company as follows: New York, December, 23, 1881. William H. Beers, Vice-President and Actuary:

Dear Sir—Ten years ago I took a ten year endowment policy for $5,000 with your company, and tontined it. To-day I draw it out receiving $7,028.26.

The result, I am bound to say, has surpirsed me very much, far exceeding, as it does, any expectations formed. I can only say that I regard it as the best investment I ever made, and shall commend tontine Yours truly, If you desire to become a member of the company where the amount returned to the policy holder, plus the amount on hand (not reckoning one dollar for expenses), is $8,785 289, you must come to the New York Life.

The New York Life.—The 37th annual statement of this well-known insurance company is given to the public. A careful perusal of the same will show a large increase in everything that contributes to strength and prosperity; in assets the increase has been over $4,000,000; in surplus at four per cent. over $800,000; in payments to policy holders, about $600,000. This concern is, in the best sense, conservative, preferring to do a sure and steady business rather than to resort to any sensational methods to made a "boom" in it. As it is a purely mutual life company, all surplus belongs to the policy holders, as there are no stockholders to share in it, and the policy holders can manage their own business without fear or favor. The best evidence of what the New York Life is doing will be gained from its report, which may be found in another column.—Rural New Yorker, February 18, 1881. A FIVE PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST INVESTMENT AND $10,000 LIFE INSURANCE TEN YEARS FOR NOTHING. Lewis Roberts, Esq., a prominent flour merchant of New York, on settlement of his policy, has favored the New York Life Insurance company with the following acknowledgment:

New York, December 5, 1881.

In 1871 I took a policy in the New York Life Insurance company for $10,000 on the ten year endowment, ten year dividend plan. I have this day (it being the date of the completion of the endowment period) made settlement on the above policy, having received the sum of fourteen thousand and ninety-two dollars and thirty-eight cents ($14,092.38) being the amount of policy and Tontine profits. This is eminently satisfactory and exceeds my expectations. The result is an actual investment of the money paid of about five per cent. compound interest, and the cost of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) insurance for ten years—nothing.

LEWIS ROBERTS, 3 Broad street, New York City.

If you desire a policy that divides the advantages equitably between those who die early and those who live long and which no other does, you must secure a Tontine in the New York Life.

THEY ALL LOOK SICK.

C. W. Moore, manager New York Life Insurance company, 92 Griswold street, Detroit, Mich.:

Dear Sir.—Your valued favor of December 30, relative to my policy in the New York Life, is to hand, and when I say that I am surprised at the offer you make, I express only a part of what I feel. My neighbors have often told me that I was a very foolish man to pay out so much for insurance when it could be obtained for so much less, but I think I rather have the laugh on them now, and I enjoy it hugely. "What." they say, "had your insurance ten years and now the company returns to you in cash $57.58 more than you have paid in?" Yes, that is just it, and how does your cheap insurance, I ask, compare with this? and they all look sick. I assure you, Mr. Moore, I am well pleased with the result. I am convinced that the best is the cheapest, certainly in life insurance. If there is anything I can do for the New York Life please let me know. You will please procure for me another policy for $2,000 on the 20 year endowment 15 year tontine plan, soon as possible, and oblige.

If you would like to secure the cheapest policy in the "wide, wide world," you must come to the New York Life, because it issues the best.

C. W. Moore, Manager New York Life Insurance company, 92 Griswold street, Detroit:

My Dear Sir.—It gives me pleasure to reply to your request as to result of my endowment policy in the New York Life, taken out sixteen years ago. During the time the policy was in force I paid the company $2,222 38, and at maturity, October 6th last, the company paid me $3,045 24, being $792 86 more than I paid the company in the sixteen years after having $3,000 insurance during the time. This is certainly very satisfactory to me.

Respectfully yours,

The endowment policy combines insurance for one's dependents with savings and investment for one's self, and the benefit takes the form in which time shows it to be most needed. If one dies, the policy is paid at once as a death claim: if he lives, it comes back to him at the end of the endowment period as an investment.

Since above was written Mr. Stirling has taken out a $2,000 20 year endowment 15 year tontine.

LETTER FROM REV. A. J. RICHARDS, PRESIDING ELDER OF THE ALPENA DISTRICT.—STATE-MENT RELATIVE TO HIS INSURANCE IN THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE CO. Dr. J. H. Jerome, Agent for the New York Life Insurance Co., Saginaw, Mich.:

DEAR SIR—In answer to your request for a statement of my insurance in the New York Life, I beg leave to return you the following, to-wit: I was insured for the term of fourteen years on the endowment plan for $1,000. During that period my premiums amounted to $700, and at its expiration the company paid me, within five days, $1,000 in cash, by which you will see that my premiums earned me 4 per cent, and in addition thereto, my risk was carried for the entire time, and at my decease, had it occurred during that period, my heirs would have been entitled to the amount of my policy, $1,000. The advantage of this precedution, especially during the middle and active portion of life, to a man of family, is very apparent to me.

A. J. RICHARDS, P. E., Alpena District.

At $50 per year his policy returned him over four and one-half per cent., compound interest.

The New York Life has a special claim upon the good will of every policy-holder in every company in the country, since it was the sole originator of the non-forfeiture feature of life insurance.—Chicago Tribune. During the last twenty years the interest received by the company on its investments has more than paid its death losses. At the beginning of 1882 the amount of interest uncollected, including that accrued but not yet due, was less than one per cent. on the investments of the company—this promptness in payment of interest showing the high character of these investments. These features of its business have been widely noticed by the press as evidences of extraordinary prosperity, and of great skill and energy in man-

There is no object so pitiable as an old man without money, and especially is this true if he once had money and knew the luxury of it. A Tontine policy in the New York Life provides against this and also protects the family during the time they need protection.

"I WOULDN'T HAVE ANYTHING ELSE."

Mr Albert Frankenthal, of the well known firm of A. Frankenthal & Bro., St. Louis, believing the results of Tontine polcies in the New York Life Insurance company would be favorable to the holders, took a ten year Tontine policy for $10,000, at ordinary life rates, in March, 1872. His Tontine period having expired, he writes as follows:

william L. Hill and Frank Block, General Agents New York Life, St. Louis:

Gentlemen—As a policy-holder in your company I desire to express my entire satisfaction in the results of my Ten Year Tontine policy for $10,000, taken out March 5th, 1872. Of the options offered I will take cash, $1,984 88. I find that during the ten years I have paid in premiums $2,270.00, which makes (after deducting the $1,984.86 paid me) the total cost of $10,000 insurance for ten years only $285 14, or $2.85 a thousand per year. This is certainly the cheapest insurance I ever heard of, and speaks volumes for the management of your company. You'need not "solicit" me, but send around your examiner, and I will take more of the same kind, as I wouldn't have anything else, or in any other company.

Yours truly,

ALBERT FRANKENTHAL.

*TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE."-UNEXPECTED ENDORSEMENT OF TONTINES BY A PROMINENT AGENT OF THE "MUTUAL LIFE."

Mr. R. Holmes, agent "Mutual Life" at Reading, Pa., in a letter to a Philadelphia insurance agency, alludes to the New York Life's settlement of Mr. W. E. Veitch's Tontine policy as "too good to be true." It is "good," and it is "true," so true, that it doesn't suit agents of rival companies, and so good that shrewd business men everywhere are taking Tontines in the New York Life, faster than ever.

"CHEAPER THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.

William H. Beers, Esq., Vice-President and Actuary New York Life Insurance Co.:

Dear Sir.—Ten years ago, I insured my life in your company for $5,000 on the ten year dividend system. The term having now expired. I select of the options offered me the return of the entire dividend in cash, in preference to the annuity. This dividend amounts to $1,131.71—about thirty-five per cent. of the premiums I paid you, and leaves my policy of $5,000 fully paid up and participating in future dividends. Such a result is gratifying inasmuch as you have thus given me insurance cheaper than any other company, and I shall take pleasure in commending your company to my friends.

Yours truly,

L. LEVENSON.

"MAKE IT $10,000 THIS TIME!"

Cincinnati, O., January 21, 1882. Capt. Carl A. G. Adae, Gen'l agent New York Life Insurance Co., Cincinnati, O.; Sandary M., 1888.

Dear Sir. - I acknowledge receipt of your communication of this day regarding the settlement of my policy No. 90, 391, ten year endowment, 10 year tontine, for $1,000, which I took out in your company in 1872 on looking over my books I find that my total payments in these ten years have been $1.045.80 and you tell me that I can now terminate the policy by withdrawing $1.300 in cash, thus giving me $124 for every $100 paid in. As a professional man I am not strong on financial problems (not even on that most difficult one of collecting bills); but a friend of mine has figured up for me, that, considering the average time of investment, this is equal to 4 per cent. compound interest.

Had I invested with Uncle Sam ten years ago I should not have done as well as this and at the same time I should not have had my life insured, though, happily for me, the death feature of the business did not come into play this time.

time I should not have not my fire insured, though, happiny for me, the death feature of the business did not come into play this time.

I have done well financially by this life insurance venture and I still live, both of which are sources of congratulation to me, and your are at liberty to publish the result, to me most satisfactory, of this tontine policy. Prepare me another policy, 10 payment life, 15 year tontine, and make it $10,000 this time. Yours very truly.

W. R. WOODWARD, M. D.

"THE RESULT IS FAR BEYOND MY EXPECTATIONS."

The following from one of the most successful lumbermen in the Saginaw Valley will be both interesting and instructive reading:

C. W. MOORE, Manager New York Life Insurance company, 92 Griswold street, Detroit, Mich.:

Dear Sir—I have received and examined the memorandum you gave me of the five options given me by the New York Life Insurance company for my 10-year Tontine policy which is now paid up.

Whilst I am not prepared, on so short notice, to say which one of the five i will take I wish to express at once my surprise and grateful acknowledgments.

at once my surprise and grateful acknowledgments.

The result is so far beyond my expectations that I am holf afraid there is some mistake about it. To reassure, or correct myself, if in error, I will state it as I understand it, and you will please correct me if in error. Ten years ago, March 15 next. I took a 10-year Tontine investment policy in the New York Life, and I have paid $202 II per year, or $2,021 II in all for a $3,000 policy. Your company offers my wife choice of the five following se tiements:

First. A paid up policy of $3,000 payable at my death and an annuity of $58 during my life.

Second. A paid-up policy as above and $600 in cash.

Third. Cash in hand March 15, 1882, $2,170, which is $148 90 more than I have paid.

Fourth. A paid up policy for $4,130.

h. A paid up policy for $4,130. An annuity for life of $210.

Fifth. An annuity for life of $210.

I have always 'considered life insurance a game at which one must die to win, and, whilst the policy holder has a sure thing in the end, as far as dying is concerned, the thought is not consoling and there is nothing, so to speak, cheerful in the contemplation. Some men, lucky ones, have made as much by living, and it is a far more pleasant manner of conducting business. Why, I am even offered money to live. I have been paying over $200 per year for the past ten years and the New York Life now offer to pay it all back, and more too, and don't ask me to die. This is the first time I ever got life insurance through my head in a satisfactory manner. It has all been explained to me more than'a thousand times. I have looked wise and held my ear at the proper angle, listening with a grim determination to grasp the subject until I thought my slightly bald head would split. I have said "yes" at intervals and my conscience called me a liar. I have followed the agent's finger up and down tables, figures and schedules with assenting nods, when all was as incomprehensible as the dying speech of (Edipus or the announcements of a railroad brakeman. But these five options, quoted above, I can understand. I can even get it through my head that there is a well conducted, safe and honest life insurance company. There may be iots of them. There is one certainly, the New York Life. As soon as my wife and I get through congratulating one another we will tell you which settlement we will choose. Any one of the five is good enough, but we may have a choice.

In the meantime I am gratefully yours,

A. H. MERSHON.

East Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 20, 1881.

Mr. Mershon's policy was issued upon the 10 premium life plan, payment being the same as he would have paid any company for a 10 premium life policy payable at death only, with a reversionary dividend, and is the first Tontine issued by the New York Life maturing in Michigan. Mr. and Mrs Mershon have concluded their congratulations and now we receive the following:

Mr. and Mrs Mershon have concluded their congratulations and now we receive the following:

C. W. MOORE, Manager, 92 Griswold street, Petroit, Mich.:

Dear Sir—As Gen. Andrew Jackson remarked to Mr. Packingham 69 years ago this evening, both being quietly seated on a cotton bale a few miles north of where Capt. Eads was cutting a trench for his jetties, in reply to Mr. P.'s question if "Nothing shorter would answer?" "Unconditional Surrender," said Andrew. You may pay my wife the money on that Tontine policy, and you may write me another 10-year policy as near like the old one as you can find ink to match the shade for the same amount. I waive the courtesies of the field, such as retaining my side arms and burying my dead, etc., as I find upon calling the roll that no one is dead and my side arms are empty. Joking aside, I will take another policy in the New York Life for $3,000, as you propose. The result of the one just matured is so eminently satisfactory that I am anxious, even at my age, to increase the benefit. I can't tell you without iong, and probably to you, uninteresting detail, how much this helps me at this particular time; in short it saves me not less than three times the whole amount of premiums I have paid. It comes in the nick of time to save a great sacrifice that I had made up my mind to make. You will please furnish the necessary forms and have it. (the new policy) commence at once. Respectfully yours, A. H. MERSHON. East Saginaw, Mich., January 7, 1882.

Now They Come.—The results of our Tontines have opened the eyes of some of the poor fellows who have been carrying those old life policies where one has to die to win, and now they come in and want to know what they can do about it. Of course we shall do the best we can for such, for we pity them. They might now be reaping the results of a Tontine but for listening to the silly twaddle of anti-Tontine agents. A little reason mixed with common sense is a good thing to use just before making an application for life

"GREATER ADVANTAGES."

Mr. Proctor Taylor, of Pontiac, Ill., concluded, ten years ago, that it was reasonable to suppose that tontine policies would pro e more profitable than other forms of insurance. Accordingly he selected the New York Life as the company to insure in, and took a $10,000 ten year tontine at ordinary life rates. He paid $214.80 a year for his insurance. His tontine period having expired, he has chosen a method of settlement, and his letter below shows that after ten years' exporience and a careful examination of other companies and their plans, he still regards the "tontine policy issued by the New York life as securing to him greater advantages than he can obtain from any other company."

Advantages than he can obtain from any other company.

Pontiac, III., Feb. 14th, 1882.

Mr. E. P. Burlingham, Gen'i agent New York Life Insurance Co., Springfield, III.:

Dear Sir.—In reply to your letter I would say, that I have decided to accept the cash surrender value which your company offers me for my tontine policy.

I have paid during the past ten years $2,148, in premiums on a tontine policy for $10,000, and now the company returns me $1,330 in cash, making actual cost of a $10,000 policy for ten years only $218.

I have carefully examined the various plans offered by other companies, and have concluded that the tontine policy issued by the New York Life secures to me greater advantages than I can obtain from any other company. other company.

I have therefore taken another $10,000 tontine investment policy with you, which I hope will terminate as satisfactorily to me as the one I now surrender.

Respectively yours,

PROCTOR TAYLOR.

Respectively yours,

You will please remember that the New York Life originated the non-forfeiture plan and issued the first policy upon it; that a larger paid policy is given by the orignator than by any other company to-day, and also one-third larger than the state law requires.

The New York Life Insurance company presents its thirty-seventh annual report, showing the large and prosperous business during the year 1881. The showing is exceedingly satisfactory, and must be a matter for gratification on the part of the policy holders. Everything that makes for strength and prosperity seems to be on the increase, and the sums annually received and disbursed by the company show that it has become a great and beneficent power in our complicated civilization. That it is fulfilling its mission is evident from the large sums paid every year in death claims; over eight million dollars during the last five years. This must have gladdened many thousand homes made dark by death, but saved from poverty, no doubt, in many cases, by the life policy. Over three million dollars were paid last year to living policy holders, and over four million added to the fund for the security of the fifty-three thousand outstanding policies. by it our membs out, doubtless, vhee 1873?

The New York Life has ever been held in esteem by the public on account of its conscientious and fair treatment of all having dealings with it as well as for the wisdom and economy of its management. The company is growing rapidly, having more than doubled its assets during the past ten years. Its assets are invested chiefly in United States bonds, city stocks, and first mortgages on real estate. Great care has been exercised in this matter, and the consequence is the company has suffered little by the fall in real estate. A handsome dividend to participating policies has been declared, and will be available on the payment of the next annual premium. Quite a number of notable claims were paid in 1881, including one on president Garfield's life for $25,001.—Baptist Weekly, February 16, 1882.
